CHICKEN THIEVES GETTING RAMPANT HERE AGAIN

Not Satisfied With Taking $4 From One Farmer, Thieves Return and Wipe Him Out. Sub Staff Jurist and Suspended Sentences Injuring Law Enforcement.

We thought when chickens became cheap that thievery would stop, but thieves seem to be climbing again and thieves are taking advantage of the matter to rob homes of a chance of making a living for the family until times get better. About a month ago a chicken thief went into the premises of John Smith and took $4 of his birds, and Friday night came back and put him entirely out of the chicken business, he reported Saturday. Mr. Smith informed us that as it was, with the chickens, it will be a hard go to make both ends meet and keep the family in food and clothing until the next crop is made, and without them, it will be mighty hard.

It is the hardest thing in the world to identify chickens at produce houses because there are so many identically alike, but we believe produce men can help in the matter some by taking secret notes of how many of a certain kind they buy, who from and what day. Of course stolen chickens are not usually marketed in the home county, but by doing this and paying special attention to strangers, it might be the means of catching Lubbock, Lynn or Dawson county thieves in Terry county, and Terry county thieves over there. There is now a process of branding chickens by which they may easily be identified, but Mr. Smith doesn't know from whom the instruments and dies can be obtained. If there is any reader of the Herald who does know, will they please notify the Herald by phone or mail at once. Just call No. 1.

Another good way to rid the county of thieves is for the jurists to try and dry up their little nest funds. When a "hawking" lawyer tells you from this on about the heartaches that sending a chicken thief to the pen causes his family, just dry your swears and forget there is such a thing as a suspended sentence law. All chicken thievery is premeditated.

Another County in Old Arkansas Heard From

Boy, we didn't know there were so many poets in existence until we started skimming. The latest addition is from a Methodist preacher over in the Ozarks who "lived" here some years ago. He rather hands us a lemon, however about our style. We have one friend and comrade out at Harmony. The rest seem to be somewhat jealous. But bear the yells from Yellville.

Mrs. Rambo and Sons To Carry on Work

In conversation this week with Mrs. C. R. Rambo, she informed us that she and son, Bruce, would take up the work of the insurance and abstracting business where her late husband left off. Both have been out for several months and she informed us that it would take them sometime to get the go of things and get the business straight until they understood it. She remarked however, that she was sure the people would be patient with them, as they have already proved so nice and sympathetic in the past few weeks.

Brownfield Holds 2nd Place in Field Events

Swapping four first places, one second, one third and two fourth places, the Lamesa High School thirty clubs amassed a total of 29 points to win by a margin of six points the annual District I track and field meet of the interscholastic league here yesterday.

Brownfield 6th In The Literary Events

Although failing to place in the athletic events, Lubbock high school by winning a large share of the honors in literary events won the all round championship of district No. 2, at the interscholastic meet held here Friday and Saturday.

Nearly 500 Take Part

Approximately 500 athletes from South Plains counties, first and second place winners in their respective county meets, competed for honors and the right to go to Austin for the state interscholastic league meet in two weeks.

McCAMEY COUNTY SEAT OF UPTON VOTERS DECIDE

McCamey, Tex., April.—Voting 502 to 471, Upton county citizens today decided to move the county seat from Rankin to McCamey.

Just One Failed to See Name in Herald

Clyde Lewis remarked this week that he was certainly getting good results from his constant advertising in the Herald. It has been weeks and weeks since a paper went to press without his ad, and he says he is getting new customers all the time, good ones at that. He believes that the dry goods man as well as the grocery man, must keep everlastingly behind the hat to get results in advertising. He says that he doesn't want his customers to forget him for even just one week.

Heckley Co. Singing Convention Sunday

We are requested to announce that the Heckley county Singing Convention will be held at Withersall, the 1st Sunday in May, which is the coming Sunday.

Time in all the races was slow due to the heavy wind, that of the 100-yard dash being 10.1 seconds, one-tenth of a second slower than the preliminary round Friday. It was won by Nowell of Slaton, with Neill of Brownfield running a close second.

While the official height for the pole vault went down to 18 feet, six inches, won by Cobb of Dickens High school, two men, Parker of Brown-

SATURDAY IS OFFICIAL STRAW HAT DAY HERE

Many To Be Thrown From the Top of the Alexander Building Into the Crowd Below. Everybody Will Wear a Straw Sunday. Merchants Have Your Sins.

Well, we had a great day here last year when we pulled the official straw hat day. We tied up traffic on the main drag while the thing was in process, but we all had fun. That is, as older guy that stayed out at the edge of the crowd and laughed at the other fellow catching them in the air was great fun. The day was windy, and when a long, lank guy thought he almost had the prize and gone with it, a sudden puff of wind carried it up and out to some, short sawedoff fellow some ten feet in some other direction. Well, in order to get the old fur and wool outfits put in the closet and start the sale of light, cool straws for the summer, the start will be repeated Saturday afternoon at about 1:30 from the top of the Alexander building, as it is near the middle of the business section.

We have already asked the consent of the City Marshall. Of course the idea did not appear funny to him, as he has a time with the traffic, but Gene is a good sport—so is Nague Jozegovan—and they are going to let us stop the traffic on Main again and will keep the big cars from running over the "little ones." There is going to be a lot of them called off too. There will be some for men, some for the ladies and some for the boys and girls, and the fellow who calls them off will announce whether it is for a man, woman, girl or boy, and the stronger men and boys will not be allowed to scramble for the ladies and girls hats. So the girls will get a great kick out of it too. After the show is over you are invited to go in one of the stores listed below and get a straw sky piece so that you will be in fashion Sunday morning, for everyone will be wearing a STRAW. Be in the push.

Every dry goods man in Brownfield is participating in this fun, and are listed herewith: W. G. Terry, man and boys store; Clyde Lewis Dry Goods Store; James Dry Goods Store; Clements & Co. 11.00 Store; Cobb Dept. Store; W. E. Legg Dry Goods; Collins Dry Goods Store. These boys are all home fixtures and wanting to help make a great country of this. They are throwing away all profits they may hope to make Saturday in the FREE hats that will be tumbled off the roof of the Alexander building. So don't expect them to exchange if the hat don't fit, but find a man in the crowd that has one that don't fit him and trade. This trading and trafficking after the affair is over is going to be great fun.

Remember the time and place, and especially remember that each of the above named merchants hopes you will get a hat. If not, they have them in stock that will fit your head and your pocket book. They are in line with be cotton and 40c corn, and don't forget they have a lot of other nice spring wares that they want to show you and prices that will remind you of 1914-15 and along about that time. Go to church Sunday morning, and be sure it's a STRAW you wear.

Mr. Plant Cultivating 1000 Acres This Year

J. E. Plant is another one of the "small farmers" of Terry county, as he is preparing to work a number of 1,000 acres of Terry county soil this year. Of this, about half is his home place, and he has rented a section from R. C. Burleson. Mr. Plant informed us that a great deal of the Burleson land was a hard nature, and that he had some 100 acres of corn already planted on it, and the first of the planting was coming up to a nice stand. That was Friday when he last saw it.

Inch and Three-Quarter Rain Here Tuesday

One of the greatest rains we have ever seen fall here at this time of year fell practically all the forenoon Tuesday. It was a good steady fall with every drop penetrating the soil. Reports coming in over the territory tell us that the rain has been general all over this section, and the Brownfield trade territory is surely wet. Grass will now hustle along, and the weather will remain warm, and planted fields or those planted soon will come jumping.

To Have Princess and Home Town Speaker

Brownfield will be well represented at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention this month with both a princess and a Home Town Speaker. Miss Louise Brownfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Brownfield has already been chosen as Princess Brownfield. She will also take part in the Hibernian Pageant of Texas.

A Week of Revival at The Church of Christ

As announced last week, the Methodist revival will close Sunday night. The Methodist pastor, Rev. Geo. H. Turentine is doing the preaching, and Mr. Goodhue is directing the song services and helping with the young people work. Rev. Turentine informed the writer that very little life was gotten into the meeting until last Sunday, when it was filled with considerable enthusiasm. They had two wonderful services Monday. He reports, one an early morning prayer service. They hope to do much good this week.

Good Humor is Good

Mrs. Ivy Savage brought her class of fifth grade down last Friday to go through the Herald plant and to watch "Peck" produce the linotype. They seemed to think it a complicated piece of machinery, and got a great kick out of having their names linotyped on lead almost instantly. They were shown "typelines" by "Red" Bryan.

RICH MEN'S TROUBLES

One of the penalties of being rich and famous is that one so afflicted has to set up a sort of wall around himself to avoid being importuned for money, for good causes and bad ones, at every turn. That has never happened to us, but we can easily understand it might become a nuisance after the novelty of being asked for a million dollars had worn off.

The rich man travels on his own yacht or in a private railroad car not so often because he does not desire to mix with the common people as because he knows from bitter experience that they will not let him mix with them on equal terms. One of America's wealthiest men said, somewhat sadly, not long ago, that he did not know how to carry on a conversation with a group of friends because they referred to so many schoolboy and college customs of which he knew nothing, since he had always had private tutors. That man is not subjecting his sons to the handicap of not knowing how to act among ordinary folks; he sent them all to public schools and to colleges where they had to live like other boys.

All of which is suggested by the remark of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., that the six weeks he recently spent in Mexico where nobody knew him was the happiest vacation he had ever had. He did not have to be on his guard, but was just another Gringo tourist. But because he did not travel in the customary state of a multi-millionaire the customs guard at the border wouldn't believe him when he handed that official his card.

"John D. Rockefeller, Jr.," he read, and looked Mr. Rockefeller over appraisingly. "That's what they all say, bo!" Which, as Mr. Rockefeller remarked, gave him more inward amusement and real satisfaction than any amount of kowtowing could have done.—Lovington (N. M.) Leader.

DIED AT LUBBOCK

Funeral services for Mrs. Wilma Lewelling, 30, who died at 3:30 a. m. yesterday at a Lubbock hospital following a five days' illness, will be held at 10 a. m. today in the Bynum-Morgan Funeral home, with Rev. J. O. Haynes, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiating.

Mrs. Lewelling came to Lubbock with her husband, Jesse M. Lewelling four years ago from a ranch they had operated at Plains for 10 years. The Lewelling residence is at 1407 Sixth street.

Besides her widower, Mrs. Lewelling is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Blankenship, of Plains; three brothers, Lonnie Blankenship, of Tatum, N. M.; Bill and Allen Blankenship, of Plains, and four sisters, Mrs. A. C. Sanford, of Tatum; Mrs. Clarence Travis, of Floydada; Mrs. Randolph Houston, of Bronco, and Mrs. Clyde Perry, of Hot Springs, N. M.—Lubbock Avalanche.

Prominent Abstracter Insurance Man Passes

After a lingering illness of more than a month, as soul of C. R. Rambo passed on to the great beyond late Saturday afternoon at near 8 o'clock, thus relieving the pain racked body that had suffered much in his late life. He had another serious spell about a year ago, at which time his life was despaired of, but he finally rallied. But his poor weak and crippled body was not able to stand this last attack.

Funeral services were held at the Baptist church at 10:30 Sunday morning, conducted by Rev. J. E. Vinson, an old and tried friend. Rev. Vinson was assisted by the other pastors of the town as all churches dismissed their preaching services for the funeral. The body was immediately laid to rest in the Brownfield cemetery.

Clint had many, many friends in and around Brownfield who will miss him and his wheeled chair on our streets. He was always jolly and good natured when feeling well and would put on a smile lots of times when his body was tormented with pain. We are indebted to his good wife for the information below:

C. R. Rambo was born in Comanche county on March 6, 1889, died April 25, 1931. He was the oldest child of Mrs. R. W. Rambo.

He came to Terry county in November 1907 and has lived here ever since. He was married to Willie King in December 1906 who died October 1909 leaving one child, Horace, to cheer him on this road of life.

In April 1913 he was married to Onie Winn and to this union one child was born, R. W.

He had the misfortune of getting his spine broken while moving a house in July, 1915, and was a cripple the rest of his life. Everything being done to restore him that could be done, at the time, but nothing could make him able to walk.

He ran for tax-assessor in 1916, and was elected to which office he was re-elected for 3 terms. He has lived in Brownfield ever since. At the time of his death he was engaged in the Abstract and loan business.

He leaves behind to mourn his death his wife, two sons, mother, sister and one brother, E. W. Rambo, of Wapata, Washington. All were at the funeral except the brother who was unable to attend.

Wellman Notes

Rev. A. L. Burnett did not fill his regular appointment at the Church of Christ Sunday as he preached at Tahoka.

Rev. Claude Allen filled his regular appointment Sunday at the Missionary Baptist church, preaching Saturday evening and Sunday morning. Rev. Hale from Brownfield brought an inspiring message at the evening hour.

There was singing at the Missionary Baptist church Sunday afternoon. It was decided that there would be singing on the first and third Sunday afternoons at 3 o'clock.

Several from Wellman attended the B. Y. P. U. Zone meeting at Brownfield Sunday afternoon. A splendid program was rendered by the local B. Y. P. U. of Brownfield.

The Wellman B. Y. P. U. is playing "An Old Fashioned Mother," at the Wellman schoolhouse Wednesday, April 29, and at Seagraves, Friday May 1, 1931.

A fine program was rendered by the Senior Union Sunday night. The other programs were not heard by the reporter but they are doing splendid work.

Mrs. Bill McTehaney and Mrs. Castle of Lubbock spent Sunday night with Mrs. Schroeder and little Jo Catherine McTehaney is spending the week with Rose Schroeder.

Miss Lucille Oliver of Brownfield visited her sister Mrs. Lindley last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Lite of Big Spring were employed by the school board to teach our school next term and Miss Hazel Woodard a local girl was also employed for 3rd and 4th grades. Miss Moon was retained for the primaries and Mrs. Wilkins for principal.

Our old friend, E. W. Harlan, was in for a nice long chat with us Saturday afternoon. He is domiciled in the Heath house here in town as he has sold his Terry county farm and rented the one out in western Oklahoma. Mr. Harlan and the writer are pretty well agreed politically and get along fine together. He had a big cord along with him that looked so small to hang himself with, but more like a trot line. He would give out no information, however. Mr. Harlan says he believes that old Terry is in for her banner crop year this year—1931.

Noah Bell was among the big crowd here Saturday from his fine stock farm in the Needmore community.

A large bunch of the grade school children took in the Carlsbad Caverns the past week-end, and report a great time.

Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Bynum carried their little daughter, Dorothy to the Carlsbad sanitarium the past week end for examination. They were advised to bring her there for three of four months. Mrs. Bynum will move down there and rent an apartment for that time.

The Ralls Banner sent us a green paper the past week. Dick seems to be celebrating the return of spring with the true color.

Some business is looking up fast. According to the daily press the Southern Pine Association report a gain of more than 5 percent in manufactured lumber in March. This also shows a look up in building operations.

Authorities tell us that school children should have a hot breakfast before going to school. This will be good news to many of us "Old Hets" who have to trot off to town for "koffie" or a "stack" if we get anything hot—except words—mornings.

Dr. Fosdick says: "The century from 1830 on was lighted in by tallow-drips and out by electricity; rode in on horse-back and out in an airplane; came in talking as the Neanderthal man did and went out using microphone." What will 2030 go out on? The youth of today and their grand children will write this history.—Shanks Vangard.

Our poetical efforts were drowned out with the big rains this week. We got no cigars either. We were informed by some that they didn't give a hoot how much poetry we wrote, they didn't have to read that part of the paper. That is where the paper exceeds any other advertising medium. In the radio, you have to listen to all or none, but the reader is his own boss "what he sees by the papers."

The weather hasn't just exactly suited us the past week, as there has been a near approach to mid-winter in temperature and little sunshine the past week! As a consequence, our rheumatism has been worse than usual, upon which we predicted the good rains of Tuesday. We have worried along with the weather about as long as we care to, and have decided to turn it all over to J. E. Shelton, lock, stock and barrel. So, if he don't give you just the variety you are looking for, cuss Ed and let us rest.

A 6-year old boy, in North Carolina, who had placed rocks on a railroad track and wrecked a train, was haled into court and the judge sentenced him to have his adenoids and tonsils cut out. Criminal tendencies have been charged to many things, but it is the first time we have heard of tonsils, being rapped by a court. This editor never has had his tonsils out, and we begin to suspect that is the cause of our addiction to the strong drink of "cokes."—Rotan Advance.

Lucky Amarillo. She gets another big cut in gas rates, yet Mayor Thompson is not satisfied, but proposes yet to put the city in the gas business. Their rates were never as high as here, perhaps, but they are near a gas field, and gas rates have dropped to a mere 27c per thousand cubic foot. It may get cold in Amarillo, but they'll be prepared with two gas lines and a cheap rate when the blizzard strikes. Hot dog! Well, we hope the company gets generous with us and shaves off a bit of our rates. We'll be thankful for any saving with 9c cotton and 40c corn on our hands.

Sam Braswell has just completed the nerve-wrecking, back-breaking job of moving his printing plant—not that we surmise that Braswell did such of the hefty work. Even so, such a job is to be approached with fear and trembling and a plentiful supply of cuss words to give it the proper atmosphere. We don't know who Braswell got to do the cussing for him but whoever it was must have been a specialist of no mean calibre since Sam reports that everything was moved without breakage or accident of any kind. This week's Clarendon News will be issued from the new quarters which are more commodious, giving room for better arrangement and more equipment which will shortly be added. The News is one of the Panhandle's best newspapers and everybody knows that Panhandle newspapers are the best in Texas—or the Nation.—Southwest Plainsman.

It is hard for us creatures down here on the good South Plains to believe it, but our Uncle Sam has become the "Old Money Bags" of the world, and he is hated of other nations very thoroughly. Not only has he some 80 percent of yellow gold of the world, but is expecting soon a big shipment from France, the next big gold nation, when our proportion will become more and the rest of the world less. But what good will this gold do us with our high tariff wall, nobody buying our goods and their goods excluded from us? No wonder Alexander Legge recently told wheat and cotton farmers that in the future they must plant only for domestic markets. Many are predicting that the next war will be a money war, and that it will be the rest of the world against us. It may come true unless we can get in enough Democrats next year to ease off a large chunk of the present high tariff and let the American manufacturers eat out of the same spoon we poor folks take our nourishments "outen."

Senator Connally's Speech before the joint session of the Texas House and Senate on Wednesday was as timely an utterance from an outstanding leader of the Democratic Party as has been made in this State in years. Put into a sentence it was to the effect that if prohibition is made a party question by the next Democratic National Convention it will destroy all chance of Democratic victory in 1932. "The Republican Party," declared Senator Connally, "would be most happy to see the Democrats tearing their hair and flying at each other's throats over the prohibition issue." Senator Connally's utterance was notable for the reason that it will reach far—even to those leaders in the East who seem determined to put the party on record in favor of repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. Those leaders know that Senator Connally is no fanatic on the prohibition question and that he speaks as a Democrat rather than a prohibitionist. And his declaration that the prohibition issue should be kept out of the platform should have the effect of helping to convince those Eastern leaders that it is the deliberate opinion of a majority of what may be called the "liberal" Democrats of Texas that any attempt to commit the party to repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment would be disastrous. In any event it is more than probable that they will give attention to this declaration with more respect than that with which they have received similar pronouncements by leaders who supported Mr. Hoover in 1928. It should be remarked in this connection that National Committeeman Jed Adams has taken a similar position, and has informed Chairman Raskob to that effect. It is the position of the great bulk of Texas Democrats, irrespective of what may be their view of the Eighteenth Amendment itself, and if the truth were known it is probably the view of a majority of the rank and file of the Democrats of the entire country.—Texas Weekly.

TOO MANY SPECIALISTS John Knott, cartoonist on the Dallas Morning News, recently depicted a situation which is rapidly coming to pass in our cities. He drew a picture of a Medical Arts building. A porter was out in front sweeping the sidewalk. The windows all displayed signs of specialists. A man, apparently ill, approached the porter and asked him the following question: "Boy, where can I find a doctor?"

At a national convention held recently in Dallas, a very eminent physician said: "We are getting in the habit of trying to parcel out the body of a patient between us." To the layman who is unfortunate enough to require the attention of a physician the situation is most confusing and expensive. Generally he postpones consulting a physician until he becomes desperate. Someone advises him to go through a clinic, and thus he submits to a process of being shunned from specialist with the result that the cost of finding out the source of his trouble, if he ever does, precludes any possibility of receiving further treatment. Most laymen recognize the need of specialists. It is conceded that there are certain diseases or ailments requiring the services of physicians or surgeons who have received special training, and who, from their adaptability in the treatment of such cases, are qualified to wear the title. Hanging out a sign, however, does not make a specialist out of any man, and that term is now so often misused and misapplied that it fails to inspire the patient with that degree of confidence necessary to his quick recovery. The impression that specialization is a "racket" is becoming too general for the good of the profession. The tendency to assume the title of specialist is not confined to the practice of medicine of surgery. It is getting hold in the ranks of the dentists. All-round dentists capable of completing a job are less plentiful than formerly. Now we have men who are dental X-ray specialists. He furnishes the picture. You go to another to have the tooth pulled and still another who puts in fillings and bridges, and his neighbor will treat you for pyorrhea. It is probably not for a layman to criticize the acts of men in professions of which he knows so little. After all, the public is interested because the public pays. When the public begins to feel that it is being taken advantage of, and when men of high standing in the profession publicly agree that such is the case and call upon their brother physicians to mend their ways and revise their code of ethics, there may be some justification in a few words of comment.—Farm and Ranch.

Hi-School Happenings

By Sophomore Class By—Kathleen Hardin

Well, since "spring is come" the class strife is beginning. When we got to school Monday morning what should greet us but a blue and yellow flag a much honored possession of the Juniors. This was waving on a wire stretched from the top of the school building to a light post. After several scrambles Jim Neill proved that he had not forgotten his basketball training as he threw a rock and broke the strings that were holding it to the wire. At this point we had a real fight and we, who were looking on, wondered if so much as a thread of the flag would be left for us to put in our memory books. Soon Soph Neill and Soph Parker demonstrated their track ability when they got the flag and started toward town but were halted by a bright idea as they passed "Walt's Service Station" or the "Little Store." They had to do something quick as "the enemy was approaching." They saturated it with gasoline and struck a match and that was the end of a perfect flag. "Ray for the Sophs. Well before long the Sophs will try their luck at putting up a flag and woe be unto the person who takes it down.

Meadow Deaths

"But Oh! When death comes in its terrors at last, its hand on the future, its nail on the past."

Two of our oldest men and respected citizens, have passed on in the last ten days to the haven of rest for those who have lived out the span allowed by the Master and that have kept the Faith.

A. C. White aged 85, borned in Calloway county Missouri, February 28, 1846. He was a Confederate Soldier and served from 1862 to 1865. The only one of his kind, so far as I know in this section. He married Miss Fannie Woody at the close of the War and moved to Young County, Texas in 1879 and to Brownfield, Texas in 1924.

Was the father of seven children. Three of whom survive him and were at his bedside during his last illness. He died April 15, 1924, after an illness of several months. He was buried at the Meadow cemetery, near his wife who had preceded him nearly two years.

Such in brief is the life cycle of this excellent man and citizen. It does not tell of his services as a soldier nor his many disappointments, his struggles and self denial in the battle for existence, these are common attributes of the average man.

William W. Simpson was borned in Grapson County, Texas, January 8, 1860. His parents were from near Louisville, Ky. He came to Meadow some three years ago, purchasing a farm a few miles South of town. He died there on April 22, 1931 and was laid to rest in the Meadow Cemetery.

Both these men had much in common. They were old friends and related by marriage. They were both members of the Primitive Baptist church, Simpson was a minister in that church. The death of Grand Pa White was a great shock to him as he was ill at the time and probably hastened his death.

His wife and eleven children survive him and were present at his death. He had one brood.

"Is there beyond the silent night, An endless day?"
"Is death a door that leads to light?"
"We cannot say."

Each of them believed there is, and beyond the horizon of man's vision, or his wise calculations there is a realm of repose where the chimes of The Father shall find necessary. May they have the rest at home tonight life has earned for them, with the companionship of friends and loved ones gone before.

NATURE IS WONDERFUL ON SOUTH PLAINS

Nothing like it folks. Just draw on your imagination and see if you can think of anything so pleasing and cheerful as a real pleasant winter, where sunshine and spring breezes stir your soul to a most spring-like realization. That's life, and that's just what happened on the South Plains east of the so-called past winter.

Now, on the other hand, draw on that same imagination and see if you can picture in your mind a spring with a bad sandstorm now and then and with the thermometer hovering around the freezing point on several occasions. Well, that's just what is happening on the South Plains at present. It should be warm and pleasant all the time, but instead the sandstorms howl, the sand covers the floors and estate moves in a very fast way, cars are drained, nighty, water is cut off for fear of freezing, all fruit is killed, and overcasts are in vogue nearly every day. That's springtime on the South Plains, not in the Rockies.

We can have more different kinds of weather here in 5 minutes than in any other part of Texas in 5 months. If you don't believe it, ask somebody that's been roasting here for one year. It comes every year. Heat, steam, sunshine, rain, snow and sandstorms, all in five minutes. It changes very quickly, and makes us think of some people who are always changing their minds in the twinkling of an eye. But ever black cloud has a silver lining, so they say, and the South Plains is no exception to the old rule. It is a veritable paradise for farmers. Anything will grow, and when the spring days do come, it seems like heaven—we imagine. Nights are cool and pleasant in the hot summer days around July and August. Life is really worth living after all when these beautiful days and serene nights are upon us.—Anibest Arpus.

AT TURN OF DAY

"What time is yourget up in mornin'?"
"As soon as the first ray of sun comes in at my window."
"Isn't that rather early?"
"No, my room faces west."

We note in the Athens Daily News that Miss Vivian Winston of this city, has been awarded a stipend in the James A. Garfield Chapter of Scholarship societies of the south along with several other pupils in the A. C. C. Now what kind of a stipend? Is it a stipend, a stipend like law-pers law, a stipend, or is it an old fashioned stipend to "ambush the kids"?

TILLS HOW TO MAKE AMERICAN CHEESE

Littlefield — A profitable home market for part of the low-price milk on the farm has been demonstrated by Mrs. B. E. Hunt of the Spots Home Demonstration Club, Lamb county, in the manufacture of American cheese. Out of 29 gallons of milk worth $5.61 for butterfat, she and her husband have made 29 pounds of cheese worth $7 at store prices, at a cost of 15 cents and an expenditure of seven hours of labor. Valuing the milk at market prices and the labor at 25 cents per hour the cheese cost about 17 cents per pound. It makes a nutritious food that varies the diet and profitably disposes of part of the surplus milk, Mrs. Hunt claims.

The method of manufacture as demonstrated by Miss Emily Washburn, home demonstration agent, consists in heating the milk to 80 degrees temperature, adding 1/2 cup of table dissolved in two tablespoons of water 1 1/2 gallons of milk, and then adding 1/4 of a coloring tablet. The mixture is left for 30 minutes for the curd to set and then out into small cubes and again heated, this time to 100 degrees, after which it is allowed to set until the curd and whey separate. The whey is strained off and the curd pressed in flour sacking and pressed for 24 hours under 45 pounds pressure in a strap bucket or similar container, the sides of which have been punched full of holes. The cheese is then dipped in unsalted melted butter, put in a cool place and turned once a day for 10 or 12 days. It is next dipped in melted paraffin and put in a cellophane of about 40 degrees temperature, to ripen for six weeks to 90 days.

TENNESSEE HONORS REVOLUTIONARY HERO

Washington, D. C.—Representative of the State of Tennessee recently unveiled a statue of John Sevier, Indian fighter, Revolutionary hero, Mason, and first Governor of Tennessee, in the National Statuary Hall in the Nation's Capital.

John Sevier, born in Harrisonburg, Va., in 1745, is credited with laying out the present village of New Market. When the frontier moved westward he migrated to what is now eastern Tennessee. He served in the Revolutionary Army and in the famous Battle of Kings Mountain, the turning point of the Revolution. Sevier led the first charge of the famous left wing. It was here that he made famous his battle cry: "Here they are! Come on, boys, come on!" Later he served as Brigadier General in the U. S. Army. He was a member of U. S. Congress from North Carolina 1795-97. He was first Governor of Tennessee 1796-1801 and served another term 1805-06. He also served as a member of Congress from Tennessee 1811 to 1813, the year of his death.

MOTORISTS WARNED OF GIVING STRANGERS LIFTS

Washington, D. C.—A general warning to motorists against giving hitch-hikers and pedestrians "lifts" has been issued by the legal department of the American Motorists' Association.

"The primary argument against such practice," it is pointed out by the Association, "is that the motorist, in most states, assumes a financial responsibility for the safety of the passenger. The fact that the passenger is being transported without compensation does not change his legal liability."

"Another argument is that off-timers the motorist becomes a victim of his guest by assault and robbery. The hitch-hiker motorist has much to lose and nothing to gain from such practice," the A. M. A.'s warning declares.

HOBBS HATES PROPRATION

How propration has robbed a booming oil field of that prosperous fringe and left it in its wake ruin and discontent may be seen at Hobbs, in south-eastern New Mexico.

When the Hobbs field opened it blossomed forth like a big major area. The town grew into a city and many wells were drilled and conditions were happy and bright. Then the field was propprated.

A large theatre building was built at Hobbs, and a hotel that cost over $150,000. Both are now closed. On the door of the theatre is this sign:

"Closed."
"Why?"
"Proppration."
Many store buildings are empty and or, one building, with its window soap coated, has been written so it can be read from the front:
"We came in with the boom, and now we fall down and go home."

PLAN NATIONAL EFFORT TO INCREASE USE OF COTTON

Citizens of Texas were urged to join in the nation-wide movement to increase the use of cotton, by J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture, in a statement announcing chambers of commerce would be asked to form the nucleus of the movement.

The association for Increased Use of Cotton was organized at a recent meeting in Atlanta, Ga., with Harry D. Wilson, commissioner of agriculture of Louisiana named president, and McDonald vice-president. The plan is to organize local groups in each community, these to be welded into a state group, and the state groups to make up the national organization.

The aim is to encourage the use of cotton in every practical way, an attempt to relieve the south of at least a part of an enormous surplus, estimated to be 8,000,000 bales, enough to virtually supply the domestic demand if not a small export market in 1931.

Extensive diverging any use of cotton which may be developed to meet the pressing need for increased consumption, consumption may be increased by every individual handling certain goods, McDonald said.

Bob Griffith was over town the past week-end to see his old friend Clint Harris, and attended for the funeral after Clint passed away. Bob was with Clint when he was hurt several years ago.

SON DIES HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Longley of the Meadow country recently had the misfortune to lose their oldest son, Raymond, of an attack of pneumonia. He was brought here to be under the immediate attention of a physician, and the family took apartments at the Commerce Hotel, but the little fellow had a bad case and died within a few days after arriving here. This should have happened last week as he passed away Sunday 12. We failed to hear of it until the press day following, and expected Meadow friends of the family to chronicle it the next week.

The little boy was carried to Meadow on Monday 12th, where he was laid to rest. Beside the parents, four brothers and sisters younger than he are left to mourn his departure. The family are old timers here, and have the sympathy of their many friends.

The new trustees took their place on the school board last week. We understand that 14 of the old teachers have been indicated their place for next year. Seven or eight others are to be elected soon. We also learned that salaries were shared on an average of $10 per month per teacher.

Mrs. E. F. Stevenson came in last week after spending some time at Lamar, S. C. for an operation and treatment. Her husband, Dr. Stevenson says Dr. Trumbull is one of the best surgeons in this section.

PARTY FRIDAY 17TH

This report should have been in last week's paper but the Club Reporter and Society Editor failed to get together on the subject. So on the assumption that "Better late than never" is still a true saying and applicable in this instance the report follows:

On Friday, April 17th, the Friday Forty-Two Club and several other guests were entertained at the home of Mrs. G. S. Webber. Embroidered Luncheon sets were given as high and low cut prizes for club members and went to Mrs. Brothers and Mrs. Kendrick. Mrs. Robertson cut high for guests and received a pretty tea towel. Others present were Mesdames Downing, M. C. Bell, Hamilton, Gore, B. L. Thompson, Hurst, Kendrick, H. W. McSpadden and Miss Olga Fitzgerald. A refreshment plate consisting of sandwiches, potato chips, congealed salad, olives and ice-tea was passed.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. McDonald are leaving Thursday if the weather will permit, for Houston. Mr. McDonald will take a six weeks course on cotton grading while there. They will visit en route with their daughter Mr. Ross Samms at Waco.

Susan and Jane Brownfield, who are attending school at Lubbock, spent the week-end with relatives at Brownfield.

Mrs. Wenford Swan returned this week to her home in Amarillo. She has been visiting here about two weeks.

The club meets next Wednesday with Mrs. Rickles.

His father was sick and unable to attend the funeral, which was conducted at the Church of Christ at Meadow by Bro. A. L. Burnett. The remains were laid to rest in the Meadow cemetery. Mr. L. T. Anderson is now visiting relatives in Dallas, where he is under treatment of a Doctor.

Mr. and Mrs. Weaver Lovelace and Miss Margaret Joe Denton attended the B. Y. P. U. Zone meeting in Brownfield last Sunday.

There will be a program for this community at the Baptist church on Mother's Day, May 10th.

BAPTIST CHURCH

We have been unavoidable disrupted in our church services for the past two Sundays, but we are hoping for a great Day Sunday, May 3rd. Let us start the new month right by being in our places at both Sunday School and church services. There are two reasons we should do this.

First: We should co-operate with the church and Sunday school in maintaining the A-1 Standard for which we worked so long. They tell us that the standard is hard to get but harder still to keep. Now I am sure that we want to prove that the Baptist church of Brownfield can keep the standard once we have gained it.

Second: Now that God in His love and mercy has given us good rains all over this part of the country, which gives promise of a crop, I feel that we all want to come to the house of God and return that devotion and thanks that are so justly due Him for His manifold blessings upon us.

9:45 A. M. Sunday school, E. H. Awbrey, Gen. Supt.

10:50 A. M. Song service led by W. W. Price.

11:10-11:20 Praise service Ps. 148-1:5. Read it.

11:30 Sermon by the pastor. Subject, "He said he wouldn't but he did, He said he would but he didn't."

Remember we have a Union for every member of the family.

J. M. Hale on behalf of the church.

REVIVAL AT METHODIST CHURCH

Instead of the trial by fire we have trial by water and sand, and competition, but the spirit of the faithful has only been strengthened. Some have come to every meeting in spite of the weather. We are getting out of the services in proportion as we have put into them sacrifice and devoted effort. If you have come but once the next service may be what you most need. Friday night we preach on confession. Do you want to be recognized as one of God's elect at the judgment, then confess Him here and now. Our singing under the able leadership of Bro. Goodpaster increases in volume and zeal. Bible reading is increasing, and some are asking "What must I do to be saved?" Can God count on you to work as a Christian for souls or if unsaved to make the full surrender during this campaign? Bro. Goodpaster meets the young people at 7:30 each evening.

Geo. E. Turrentine, C. L. Elder was in from Gaines county Saturday shopping with our merchants. C. L. says what money he had was tied up in the Seminole bank which was closed recently. Mr. Elder is a fine citizen, and we regret this misfortune.

The party given by Mr. and Mrs. John Jenkins Friday night for Mrs. Jenkins R. Y. P. U. Pupils was greatly enjoyed. Refreshments consisting of cake, hot chocolate and sandwiches were served to some 35 of 40 young people.

 Mr. and Mrs. Lee Lyon spent Sunday with relatives and friends at Brownfield.
 Several farmers in this community are having their cotton seed culled. School will be out May 28th. A good two night program is being planned.

Harmony News

We are very sorry that Bro. Vick Allen could not fill his appointment Sunday on account of illness.
 "The Eighteen Carat Book" was presented at Lahey Saturday night to a very good crowd.
 Several of the Harmony folk took chickens to the Sears Roebuck car last week. They got what seemed to a fair price—fourteen cents for light hens and sixteen for heavies. The car seemed to be filling right up.
 Oh boy! Do we eat eggs? Well we had eggs for breakfast—several of them—in fact we had four apiece. Then we had pudding and salad for dinner—each dish requiring several. For supper we will also have eggs, boiled. We have this menu of eggs at least seven days of every week.
 We surely seem to be getting our share of carbohydrates, vitamins, fats and minerals. There is not a family around here, to my knowledge that doesn't do the same. Occasionally we grow tired of eating just eggs, so we go to buy a box of salt and pepper to sprinkle over them, or sugar to sweeten our pudding. Of course we have to take the surplus in to sell. If the eggs last long enough, we can get these seasonings. If they don't, we eat dry boiled eggs. We have heard eggs, and eaten eggs now until we can't say "howdy" to a rooster when we meet him.
 By the way, speaking of the cream proposition. We can't eat all of that either. One of my neighbors took some butter to one of the grocery stores to try to sell. The grocerman asked him why he didn't try eating some of it. When told that he had eaten butter until he couldn't, the grocerman asked why he didn't feed some of it to the hogs. The neighbor felt that it would be a great consolation to feed the cream to six cent hogs, when they already have all the skim milk, corn and scraps they need.
 You may think by reading this that times are hard around here, but they are not. We all still have plenty to eat, for we are still going the cow, sow and hen way.
 We are very sorry to report that Buford Hobbs is no better, but hope by the next week he will be greatly improved.
 Scot Walker of the Needmore community, was down Saturday shopping with our merchants.

Keeping Vigorously Alive and Healthy

By Grace Marian Smith Agricultural Extension Department International Harvester Company
 Miss Smith's Health talk emphasizing vigorous health—not just keeping out of the doctor's care. She thinks our annual bill of $1,000,000,000 for sickness might better be spent in educating people to keep themselves well. Charts showed the increase or decrease of some of the more common diseases in the past five years.
 The speaker explained that "heart disease, at the head of the list, is usually due to an injury resulting from overtaxing the heart, perhaps to fever which accompanied a common cold, measles, scarlet fever, or whooping cough. All fevers and all eruptive diseases are hard on the heart."
 "Never knowingly allow the children to come in contact with any contagious disease."
 "Pneumonia frequently means overeating and lack of exercise and fresh air. Notice the number of deaths from this disease which follow Thanksgiving and the Christmas holidays."
 "Tuberculosis is easy to cure in its early stages, but difficult if not impossible when infection has spread over a large section of the lungs or other organs."
 "Don't wait for a doctor to tell you you have T. B. Its prevention, and remedy are correct living habits, and correct habits are just plain common sense."
 "Rest, sleep, abundance of pure air and sunshine, plenty of good clean milk from healthy cows, along with liberal amounts of eggs, vegetables, fruits, starches and meats will remedy practically any but the most advanced cases of T. B."
 Our judgment ought to lead us to get plenty of rest. One of the most stupid and dangerous habits I know is always to stay up a little later than we should in the evening."
 Continuing, she defined typhoid fever as a fifth disease. The community must get rid of flies, watch the milk, water and food supply to prevent contamination. Look out for a typhoid carrier. We should keep ourselves protected by vaccination against typhoid and all other diseases for which we have vaccines and serums.
 "Do It Now. If we neglect them, heart, lung, stomach, teeth, eyes, ears, crooked limbs and spines may get beyond the stage where repair and correction are possible. Later on may be too late."
 "We have made some progress but much remains to be done."
 "Drs. Wood and Rowell, noted physicians, after a wide survey announce that unless there has been special health work in the community, half to nearly all the children will have defective teeth, 36 to 40 percent nose and throat defects, 20 to 30 percent will be undernourished, 10 to 13 percent will have defective visions. (Eye troubles increase in an alarming degree between the ages of 7 and 12 years. Have we given enough attention to correct lighting in our schoolrooms?) Five to 7 percent will show traces of tuberculosis and 7 will have defective spines."
 "If these children fail to make their promotions, don't accuse the teacher of favoritism and don't blame the children. Look to what we have left undone. The increase or decrease in preventable disease is in an almost direct ratio to the attention given to education and preventive measures."
 "Any group of interested mothers can take a high-weight rate card and a pair of scales and find which children are under par. A physician will locate and help correct the cause."
 "Employment of a full-time Public Health Nurse—better still, a County Health Unit, with regular examination of all children and follow-up service when needed is more than a humanitarian measure. It is

Terryites Make Visit To Eastern Texas

(Delayed.)
 To the Herald and Readers—
 I want to tell you a little about the visit of my father, Mr. C. H. Hester, my brother, Heard, and my own to my three brothers in east Texas, H. B. and J. L. of Corsicana, and Howard and family of Marshall, Texas. We also visited a close friend, Mrs. Agnes Eaves, of Marshall, a sister to Mrs. Howard Hester. We arrived home, Saturday, April 11.
 We had a great time. The men folks went fishing several times and had very good luck one day. They hunted some. The ladies went fishing also, one day. Mrs. Hester, Agnes and I went out one afternoon and just roamed around in those east Texas woods. We had a great time sitting on pine straw, gathered dogwood blossoms and waded the branch.
 Everything there looked lovely with the pretty green trees, grass and vines, but with all that, I had rather live in good old Terry. It looked funny to see the people plowing and planting with single stock plows.
 We also spent the night with a nephew of father, Mr. J. R. Hester and family of Milford. Had a little bad luck going and coming as we were caught in a rain and hail storm four miles from Eastland, on our way down. We stopped and went into a storm house and were glad to find it. It rained on us all the way to Milford, and then coming back we had some awfully slick roads between Snyder and Tahoka—about 60 miles. It took four hours to come from Snyder to Brownfield, 103 miles, and couldn't hardly stay in the road at that. We traveled 1850 miles on the trip and had a great time.

Tonight Ladies Night At the Rotary Club

Tonight is Rotary Ann night at the Rotary club, and as the ladies have been asked to have a share in making up the program, we are expecting a good time. The meeting last week was spent in just a round table discussion of the recent convention at Plainview in a heart to heart talk. No one got up to orate, just talked it over. Three of the boys were in attendance and admitted that one tried to stay sober all the time and attend the sessions. Tom Cobb said he was busy looking at the high buildings most of the time. Dick McDuffie had to leave on Tuesday for the bankers meet at Big Spring, and Arnet Bynum said he denied being the fellow that had to be put to bed. Among them, however, they had a dandy report to make.

But the discussion almost led to politics—but not quite—when the subject of how thoroughly the United States is hated by other nations, and what a disadvantage and international service club had to work in keeping harmony among delegates. Our high tariff wall was suggested by most members of being the immediate cause, added to the fact, that we the United States, hold almost two thirds of the world's gold. This was strenuously denied by Joegowan, however, who suggested that European nations hated us because they owed us and we wanted the money. He was suggested as a candidate to fill any opening in Hoover's cabinet in the future.

But there was one thing all the boys were agreed on. The Hancock Cafe voluntarily lowered the price of the noon feed from 75c to 50c from this on, which met with a hearty appreciation of all. Also, the feed was just as good or better than under the old price. He got a vote of thanks.

To People of Brownfield and Territory

I drove 2200 miles looking for a place to make my home, and I picked Brownfield because I like the town, and I like the people in it still better. I don't think there ever was a better bunch of people in the state than there is in this town and county.

I have come here to stay, and to help all in my power to make Brownfield a better town if possible. I will appreciate your business and co-operation.

Yours truly,
V. B. WARD,
WARD'S SHOE SERVICE
East Side Square

Let's Raise Better Cotton in Terry Again

Since the first of the year there has been considerable agitation through the County wanting to get a better grade of cotton raised here and more especially a longer staple.

Several of the business men of Brownfield and Meadow have visited the Commissioner's Court and expressed themselves as believing that Terry county was losing from one to two cents per pound on her cotton by letting the staple run down to where it is now and letting the cotton all get mixed more or less with half and half.

One of our largest cotton buyers said that a few years ago you could take a bunch of samples of our cotton to any Cotton Exchange near here and tell them they were from Terry county and the buyers were eager to see them and would pay a premium to get the cotton.

At the present time it is just the other way. Cotton from nearly any county around here brings a better price than from Terry county.

About a month ago the Commissioner's Court got a chance to buy a car of State Certified Cotonseed at $1.35 per bushel F. O. B. Brownfield and after discussing the proposition with the bankers here and a number of business men and farmers decided to buy 700 bushels of the following kinds and amounts:

- Acala 200 bushels
- Kasch 200 bushels
- Mebane 200 bushels
- Wacona 100 bushels

These seed will be sold as long as they last to farmers at $1.40 per bushel cash and $1.50 per bushel on fall time with a mortgage on the farmers first bale of cotton and the landlord of rented land must sign a waiver of lien on said first bale.

The Commissioner's Court is doing this for the benefit of the farmers of the County only and there is no profit as it will cost practically five cents per bushel to put the seed in the Courthouse and those sold on time will run an extra cost of about ten cents per bushel.

These seed all have three State tags on them as well as the certificate of the breeder covering State Supervision on growing, germination and purity and were recommended by the Lubbock Experiment Station as the best adapted to the Plains country.

None of these seed were grown under irrigation and have been under State supervision for more than three years.

Lets raise better cotton and make Terry what she used to be.

"That's the cat's pajamas," remarked Mr. Henpeck, as he picked up his wife's sleeping-togs.

Notice to Car Owners And to Car Dealers

Article 1435 of the Penal Code of Texas, as passed by the present Legislature, places the following penalties on the TRANSFER of a second hand car. Bills of sale must be made in TRIPLICATE, and immediately after the bill of sale, and not to exceed 10 days, YOU MUST carry a copy of this Bill of sale to the Collectors office and get a transfer. If you do not have this transfer made in the State records, you will have to pay a Penalty of $2.50 for your neglect, instead of a Dollar as here before. AND if you do not have this transfer made before 20 days you will be charged a Penalty of $5.00. This Law is now in effect. That you may have the advantage of this Knowledge, I am taking this means of warning dealers in Automobiles of this Penalty to save you money.

West Texas Editors To Be Banqueted

Lubbock, April—All newspaper publishers and editors in West Texas are to be guests of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon at noon on Friday, May 14, the second day of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce annual convention, according to Chas. A. Guy, of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal.

Details of the affair for the newspaper people is in charge of a committee of which Mr. Guy is chairman. Special invitations to the luncheon and the program that will be given in connection with it will be sent out within the next week, he says.

Ford Factory Doctor Pays High Tribute To Sargon's Powers

"Sargon is one of the most powerful strengthening, reconstructive tonics and body builders I have known in the 30 years I have engaged in the practice of medicine," declared Dr. P. K. Drummond, for 12 years factory physician at the Ford Motor Co., Detroit, who was retained to examine the formula. "At this season of the year, especially, people who are in a run-down condition, due to simple anemia, thin, watery blood, poor digestion or elimination, should benefit richly from the Sargon treatment." Dr. Drummond's straightforward endorsement of Sargon is typical of the unstinted praise it has received from scores of other outstanding physicians and explains why Sargon is having the largest sale of any tonic of its kind in the world today. Lovington-Tatum Urge Yoakum Road Bonds

At last Friday's meeting of the chamber of commerce, Luke Roberts, New Mexico president of the Carlsbad Cavern Highway 62 Association, called to the attention of the chamber the importance of urging upon Yoakum County, Texas, the necessity of a road bond issue at this time.

The present routing of the Carlsbad Cavern Highway from Brownfield is thru Tokio and Bronco in Yoakum County, and from Bronco to Tatum and south thru Lovington. Texas border counties paralleling Lea county from Tatum to Hobbs and Eunice would like to re-route the highway south thru Gaines and Andrews counties. Terry, Gaines and Andrews counties have all voted bonds to build improved roads from Brownfield south thru Seagraves and Seminole.

Roberts told the chamber that the state of Texas was soon to issue a state road bond issue that would take up all the outstanding bond issues of the various counties in Texas. He said that Yoakum county could vote road bonds now and that they would be taken up by the state. If they delayed, it was not likely that improvement of the Carlsbad road thru Yoakum County could be expected in the near future. Without such improvement re-routing of the highway might be possible. Roberts suggested that the county commissioners of Yoakum county be urged to impress upon their people the importance of voting such road bonds this year. It is certainly to the interests of Yoakum county people, as well as to Lea county to keep the routing from Brownfield to Tatum as this routing will soon be one of the most important in the country.—Lovington (N. M.) Tribune.

Correction: Terry county has voted no road bonds.

New Railroad Seen Thru Lea Co., N. M.

Lea county may get a new railroad if the plans of Edward Kennedy of Houston, Texas, to build the Brownfield, Roswell & Albuquerque railroad materialize.

Mr. Kennedy now head a railroad property known as the Corpus Christi, San Angelo and Roswell railroad, and has applied to the New Mexico corporation commission for information relating to a charter for the proposed extension to Albuquerque.

If this proposed road should be built, it is likely that the line would cut directly thru Lea county, as either Lovington or Tatum would be in a direct line between Brownfield and Roswell.—Lovington, (N. M.) Tribune.

NO POOR HOUSES IN NEW MEX.

Santa Fe, April. New Mexico may have some people rather hard hit in the present period of depression, but it has no poor houses. Attorney General F. K. Neumann has advised W. B. Holland, superintendent of charities in Los Angeles, that there are no poor houses in this state. He told Mr. Holland that most of the people who have to be taken care of by counties and charitable agencies are transients who have become stranded in the state.

N. R. Marchbanks came through recently with another dollar fifty to keep 'er comin'. Mr. Marchbanks has been a constant reader almost ever since he has been in the county.
