Not Too Late to Plant Maize Says Zorn.

Prof. H. C. Zorn, who was at one time Superintendent of the Brownfield schools, was in town yesterday, talking about the very fine crops that are to be seen in his section of the county and during the conversation, he remarked that he had planted maize as late as August 15th and that it matured before the freeze and that if he had any blown out land, which he has not, that we would plant either maize or higeras and preferably maize. Mr. Zorn, has been farming in the Meadow section for the last several years and has always made a good crop.

Farmers the Least Hurt

The writer listened in on a conversation between two farmers last week, in which they were discussing the present "depression" and they agreed with each other that the farmer was perhaps in a better position to ride it through than were those engaged in other professions, especially if he had a few cows, hogs and chickens and that they believed that most of our farmers were in that condition. The writer did not venture an opinion, but he thought that they might have an advantage over the salaried man, who was either afraid that he would lose his job or that his salary would be cut. And the latter remedy seems to be the one most applied, not withstanding the fact that it further restricts buying power and lack of buying power appears to be the main cause of the present depressed condition. Conditions are said to be on the upgrade however and it is believed that this will become noticeable as the major crops begin to come on the market.

No Report From I. C. C.

No news from the Interstate Commerce Commission, concerning our railroad up to this time and none expected under thirty days, as some of the members are off for their annual vacation and of course matters will ride until their return. Speaking of vacations, reminds the writer that he hasn't had one for about fifteen years and he used to think that he had to have at least two weeks off every year. Well, we live and learn.

Alabamans May Carry Banners on Wagons.

Last week, we gave the information that thirty or forty families of people from Alabama, would begin a trip to Terry County, for the purpose of finding homes and that the trip would be made in wagons. The notice attracted a lot of attention and Everett Michie, advanced the idea that it would be a pretty good plan for us to have signs painted and sent to them to tack on their wagons, stating where they were from and where they were going. The idea was such a good one that the writer immediately took it up with the man in charge of the caravan and if he will agree to use the signs, we will have them made and send to him. It will mean big advertising for us whether the people ever reach here or not. Once in a while a man's wife advances a bright idea and mine says, that we should have a moving picture made of them after they get started on their way, so we will see if Arnett Bynum and Earl Jones, can work this up for us.

Remedy to Kill Fleas.

Several times, we have given recipe's and remedies in this column and we now have one for "fleas" which appear to be more numerous than for several years. For hen houses or garages, spray or sprinkle the walls and floors with Cresote oil, or cover the ground with salt and thoroughly wet it down or house or cellar, common moth balls are as good as anything. Sweep all floors in garages and chicken houses before applying. For lawns and shrubs, which sometimes harbor fleas, sprinkle with the following. One part water, two parts kerosene, one fourth part soap. Heat the water, then add the soap and dissolve it, then slowly add kerosene and stir to mix properly. Use soft water where possible. This will not injure grass nor shrubs. Get rid of the animal that is harboring the fleas or give a bath in a very weak solution of the kerosene emulsion.

TERRY CO. FARMER BRINGS IN A LIVE BOLL WEEVIL

W. L. Howell Finds One on His Place That it Very Much Alive.
Don't Think They Will Ever Amount to Much Here.
Summer Too Hot—Winters Too Cold Here.

W. L. Howell, who has a good farm five miles northwest of Brownfield, called on the Herald Saturday morning, and had in a small phial a live specimen of the pure deo old Mexican cotton boll weevil, or is it (weevil.) The gentleman was kicking around and seemed to be very much alive, and was apparently trying his bill on the sides of the bottle with the intention of drilling his way to liberty.

W. L. was not trying to be pessimistic over the matter. In fact, he was laughing about the matter and as unconcerned as you please. They will never amount to anything here is his candid opinion. Probably the egg was shipped in with some cotton seed, but he and his mates will go up Salt River when old zero hits his hide this winter. Too hot and dry for them in the summer here, and too cold in the winter. If they ever intended to get a foothold here, this would have happened years ago.

So far as anyone knows, they have never damaged to amount to anything in Central West Texas, much less on the crop. We believe they were once quite fierce in Comanche and Eastland counties until they began to raise peanuts and such like in self defence, and so far as we know, they are not damaging much in that section now.

From boll weevils the conversation drifted to shooting jack rabbits. Mr. Howell remarked that he wished a lot of our town fellows had come out when his oats were getting ripe as hundreds of jack rabbits congregated there from everywhere, and even after they were cut and shocked, one could have had fine sport driving their cars over the field and shooting them by car light. They would hardly get out of your way at night.

All we have to say about the matter is that we wished we had known about it. Let us know next year, W. L.

The Baptist Revival Starts at Tabernacle

The Big Tabernacle is seated and lighted and all physical equipment is well nigh complete. I am hoping that our eyes are open to the greatest need of Brownfield at this hour. A real old fashioned, heaven born, Holy Ghost revival of old time religion. To this end let every christian pray and lay himself out to be used of God to the glory of His name and the salvation of the lost in our town.

Our singer, Brother J. D. Riddle will be here Friday and is very anxious to meet every person who will help us in the song services. He wants to organize the choir for some real work. Wont you for Christ sake be there at the first service and let us make this the greatest meeting that Brownfield has ever had. A real old fashioned revival will not hurt anything that ought to be in Brownfield that will help to solve social problems and will help every thing that is good.

MR. J. D. RIDDLE

Of Fort Worth, who will have charge of the music during the Baptist revival.

We will have our Sunday school at the church as usual. We are pulling for 450 Sunday come help us realize our dream and break all records. The contest is going well and we have a fine chance of nosing Tahoka out, but the battle is not nearly over yet let us stay on the job till the very end.

9:45 A. M. Sunday school, E. H. Awbrey, Gen. Supt.

11:00 Song service of the Tabernacle led by J. D. Riddle.

11:30 preaching by the pastor.
7:30 P. M. All B. Y. P. U.'s will meet at the church and to go to the Tabernacle for the evening service. Don't forget the hour.

If you sing or play any kind of a musical instrument come and bring what ever you can use for the glory of God. We need you and you will find a welcome.

Remember our Church Aim. "A Worthy Task for Every Member."

San Antonio-Wacoans Speak to Rotarians

John Drennon of Waco and Ed Drennon of San Antonio, were guests at the last meeting of the Rotary club, and helped to make the hour a very pleasant one. Both are chief clerks in the store keeping department of the M. K. & T. Ry., and were able to give us some mighty fine pointers in their particular work, and to enlarge upon the matter, Mr. John explained quite clearly why railroads must have less competition from trucks and buses that use free public built roads, or get a raise in rates, or cut wages of employees. He also pointed out that they were heavily taxed to help pay for roads for their competitors to use.

After the address, Mayor Jerry Clements, of Lubbock remarked that he believed the Katy railroad was showing poor judgment in keeping John in the clerical department when he would be worth more to them in presenting their side of the argument for rate increases and heavier taxes on trucks and bus lines. By the way, Mayor Jerry invited the whole club up to Lubbock in the near future when they will stage another intercity meeting of clubs. They had fourteen represented at the last meet but Jerry says they have an ambition to entertain at least twenty clubs this time. He believes that at least two past and the present district governors will be on hand. And they promise another one of those famous chicken barbecues as a feed.

Two members of the Levelland club were on hand, and Mr. Rhea was induced to make a few appropriate remarks.

W. W. McGee Calls To Get Acquainted

A fine young Irish-American farmer from the Meadow section called on us Saturday afternoon. Said he had never met us and just wanted to get acquainted with the editor of the paper he reads with pleasure each week. We are always pleased to have our readers call around and see what is hashing out the news to them each week.

Mr. McGee and his father came out two years ago from the good old state of Arkansas, and bought a quarter section west of Meadow about three miles. His was divided, and it was found that as his father is becoming a little aged he has all the land he needs to work, but W. W. being young and supple, he has rented some land on the Faulley place.

This makes two crops Mr. McGee has made in Terry county, and he says both have been good ones, and that neither he nor his dad ever have any idea of ever returning to their native state other than to visit.

It costs 16 Kleberg county poultry demonstrators 7 1-4 cents per dozen eggs for feeding during June. There are 6783 hens in these flocks and the average production for the month slightly above 18 eggs per hen.

John Gilliland Hitting It Up For Arkansas

John Gilliland dropped in Friday to tell us to stop his Herald until he decided where he was going to land and then he would write us where to send it. What has come over you, John? We inquired. Have sold out, lock, stock and barrel to T. I. Poor, and I'm headed for old Arkansas just as fast as I can get there. Boy, you are off like a jug handle, we says. Yep, this is no farming country, says John. In fact, I don't think there is any farming country now days.

Well, if not, what are you going to do, John? I am hunting a country where there is water, wood and grass. I don't think I'll ever try farming again. Going to get a little bunch of cattle where there is plenty of fire wood, good water, and plenty of grass. Also, I want a few acres where I can raise alfalfa and other feeds on a few acres to feed the cattle in bad weather. We understand that John is an old Parker county boy. Doubt if he was ever in Arkansas, but we bet he has a mental picture of just what he wants and what he's going to make out of it.

Just so it happened that a native Arkansawyer dropped in on us Saturday afternoon for a chat, and we broached John's plan to him. This man was raised and spent a lot of his life in about the section John is seeking, and he laughed heartily about the matter. He says that where you find good grass in Arkansas that the land is entirely too high to graze, and in the mountain woodland, a three or four week's drought will burn it up. Right in this section where John is going, continued the native of Arkansas, more people had to be fed by the Red Cross than any section that I know of. I have been in Terry county two years on land in the Meadow section, and I'm not anxious to go to Arkansas.

But we told John last Friday to be sure not to burn his bridges, and he probably won't.

True patriotism makes those who have been vicious strive to continually control themselves.

Brownfield Auditor's Report Good Showing

We call your attention to Mr. W. R. McDuffie's report of the condition of the city of Brownfield in this issue. It will be found that the city is not only in good shape financially in every department, but that they are taking up the bonds against the city at a rapid rate, and have actually bought some county bonds, which, they are holding as an investment.

This shows that good management of the city has accomplished much, and we may, with good management in the future reach the state, like some other cities we have heard of, where such a thing as city taxes will be passed up, and the city utilities pay everything. This may be several years in advance, but we believe it is coming.

The only thing we have to watch is to keep good, honest business men at the head of city utility affairs.

Negro Wedding at Legion Hall Amusing

A large crowd gathered at the American Legion hall Tuesday night where a "negro wedding" was performed with Arnet Bynum acting minister. Some fifty other buck privates took part in the proceedings. After the wedding many jokes were told, and there was tap and toe dancing by some of the men and ladies and old buck and wing dancing by others.

Music was furnished throughout the evening by the Brownfield Stringed Orchestra. It is reported that a neat sum was taken in which will be added to the charity fund. We understand the Legion and Auxiliary are keeping up a widow woman here.

Lecturer (in a loud voice)—I venture to assert there isn't a man in this audience who has ever done anything to prevent the destruction of our vast forest.

Man in audience (timidly)—I've shot woodpeckers.

RAIN WE DIDN'T GET— SOME CROPS WE'VE SEEN

Part of Terry County Received Nice Showers Friday Night. But Much of it Received None. Many Weedy Crops Are Found. These Need Rain Badly.

We'd a bet a Stetson hat last Friday night when it was pouring down rain here that we were at last getting that general rain all over this section that we have been looking for so long. Indeed we were already figuring out a head line across the top of the front page to read something like this: "Half Million Dollar Rain Visits Terry." What was our disappointment next morning to have farmers from a few miles west and north tell us that they didn't get any rain. Then they begin to come in from other directions and we found that it did not rain any farther south than at Union.

We understand they had a very nice shower in the Meadow section that gradually got heavier as it came this way; also from Brownfield to the county line east, but the hardest part seemed to have been centered here. About three quarters of an inch fell here, according to Mr. Shelton, and probably made the moisture meet in the fields. Very good rains were received southwest to Lahey.

As to some of the crops we have been seeing of late, will say that for the most part, they are badly in need of rain, and this applies especially to old corn, and more especially where the weeds have been allowed to take it. Much of the maize would be better off with a rain, but some that is just beginning to boot would probably be injured by blasting. The cotton don't seem to be suffering in the least, and we generally make more cotton here when it is dry than of a wet year anyway. The bugs and worms get it if it rains too much. We have noticed a few patches however, where it has not been cleaned out that a rain would help the cotton some and the weeds a great deal.

We often wonder why people allow their lands to become so fowl. Do they think they are slipping one by on old nature? If they do, they are badly fooled. They are not only cheating themselves, but they are either ruining their own or some one else's land. They are cheating themselves out of hard labor they put in planting the field, not to mention the cost of the seed, for whereas, a field that is fowl will hardly pay, possibly a field that was cleaned would make enough difference in production to pay a profit on the work. Besides, who wants to gather corn, head maize, or pick cotton in weeds and sand burs? We have had almost an ideal year for cleaning crops. Why not clean them?

Driving leisurely along the highways and byways, one sees what apparently is a lot of vacant ground, but when you get even with the rows you soon see that there is a lot of late maize or corn, mostly the former from four to eight inches high that is looking good, and by the middle of August, there will not be so many vacant looking spots in Terry county fields, for by that time this maize will be waist high and some of it booting, and these spots that look bare now will be waving fields of headed grain by the middle of September. It sure will make a vast lot of difference in the looks of the country, too.

The crops that appear to be suffering more than any we have seen are along the old and new highways from Gomez to Tokio. After one passes Tokio, they seem to have had rains recently and the crops look fresh and green. From Brownfield southwest to Lahey and from Lahey to Gomez all look good and fresh as they have had some showers. This section make good crops the past two years, and they seem to be about to repeat the process.

It seems to us that about the only thing that now stands in the way of prosperity for the major part of our farmers is price. But dry goods and groceries are getting lower, and it looks like wagons and implements will have to tumble.

1600 ACRES UNDER ONE MANAGEMENT INSPIRING

If There Ever Was an Ideal Farm in the World, Perhaps the Heath Farm Would Classify as Entrant. Crops Are Clean and Uniform. Live Stock Are the Best.

Preacher Has A Vision

Some ten or twelve years ago a Baptist minister had reached the age of 58. He had spent his entire life, the cream of his manhood in the work of the church, and while he did not feel the creeping of age upon him, he knew that he was gradually growing old, and he knew that the day was approaching when he would have to appeal to the Old Minister's Relief Board to sustain himself and his life companion through their declining years. Therefore he sold his little town home and put it in on a piece of land in Lynn county, and became a preacher-farmer.

Spends Best Part of Life in Ministry

This preacher had entered the ministry when only 18 years of age, and had devoted the best part of his life to the cause, but he knew as all must know that there is an age limit in which the old must retire and give place to the new. He had held some of the best charges in South and West Texas, and when the Baptist denomination thought to put their first college in Southwest Texas at San Marcos, this preacher took the road and raised $75,000 among his brethren to start the college. This minister now says that if he had his life to live over, he would do just as he did before—preach the gospel.

He Beholds The Promised Land
It was while on a farm in Lynn county that this minister first beheld the great valley in Yoakum county upon which are now situated his great farms. He was making a trip to Plains, and the old road led through what is now known as the Stanford Valley section. It caught his eye. It made him want to possess it. It reminded him of old Moses who was allowed to view the Promised Land from the top of a mountain, but not allowed to enter, as he had no idea that he could ever possess it. Yet he made inquiries when he reached Plains, and found that it belonged to a man in Kentucky. He later made further investigations, as he could not get this beautiful valley and its deep rich soils off his mind, and after selling out in Lynn county, he finally negotiated for three sections of this land at $10 per acre, with $6 per acre due the state of Texas.

Spend Sunday At These Farms
For the benefit of those readers who have not guessed who this preacher is so far, we will say that it is Rev. H. D. Heath, and in the conduct and management of these big farms, he is ably assisted by a true and tried helpmate. The editor, wife and daughter spent last Sunday at this farm, and we don't know when we ever spent a more pleasant, profitable and interesting day anywhere. There was something new and interesting to see and hear at every turn. We left Brownfield about nine in the morning, drove slowly in order to see the crops along the route, and reached the charming home of the Heaths about 10:30, found the morning's chores done, and the host and hostess ready to show us over the big farms. Miss Esta Dee, granddaughter, who once went to school here with Miss Sallie T. had two horses ready, and they spent most of the day in the saddle.

Hard Boiled Postal Inspector Hits Town

Once in a while a postal inspector hits the town like a ton of brick and a cyclone all combined, and he makes the little ones take to tall timber and the big ones jump ten wire fences. Then maybe next time one will come in like a lamb, and you'll never know he is on the place. He will inspect the office quietly, sympathetically instruct the force if he wants some changes made, and then tell a few jokes with them and depart, leaving the whole force in a good humor and ready to turn off better work than ever for Uncle Sam.

But the one here last week was one of these "Authority Showing" kinds, that probably got up on the wrong side of his bed that morning and after irrigating a nettle or two, came into Brownfield with tail and bristle up ready for battle. A man like this is usually made up of two-thirds conceit, one-sixth bragadocio, and one-sixth common sense. They leave a force of workmen with a dark brown taste in their mouth, and probably with no incentive to put forth any special effort to better work and service.

We were informed that the force got a general eating out, we don't know what else was the matter, but one thing was that he found the Herald owed for four issues on the Herald postage. Once in awhile a good kind of inspector will come along and tell them that if they know their publisher and that his accounts are good, not to collect more than every three month. During that time, the postage will amount to several dollars, and it all can be collected together with less trouble than collecting every week. This arrangement suits most postmasters, and has been practiced here for the past 22 years except when a "hard boiled" inspector appears on the scene.

These guys are no better than anyone else, but they realize that they can give a postmaster a lot of trouble if they want too, and to avoid trouble, a postmaster will do most anyway to make it alright with these petty inspectors. Some one ought to forget they are inspectors some time and give them a chunk of a cussing.

Transfers Must Be Attended to Today

If it is your intention to transfer your children from any common or any of the lesser independent school districts to the Brownfield or Meadow districts, where they may have advantages of the full eleventh grade instruction, that must be attended to today, as tomorrow will be too late.

So if you have anything in that in your mind, better come in today, as tomorrow will be the 1st of August and too late to make the transfer. Have a chat with Luther Bruce, secretary of the local school board today about the matter. You will find him in his office in the First National Bank building.

THE OLD MEDICINE SHOW

Fairmont (Minn.) Sentinel.

Remember the ancient medicine shows where they had music, maybe a magician and a ballyhoo by a leather-chested "professor" who then tried to sell you Kickapoo Indian vermifuge, liver purifier and lightning rods? That is what the radio programs of 1931 have developed into—perhaps we should say degenerated. Twenty-four hours a day, relays of announcers ballyhoo everything from "peanut butter endorsed by the American Medical Association" to "Hellova" watches. In the morning, before the musicians can be dragged from the feathers, the phonograph record is called upon to provide the medicine show music. Between each record the announcer expatiates on the virtues of tank heaters, sanitary swill barrels, brooder stoves, maybe a ride on the bus. The records are often announced as "special electrical transcriptions." A local house is selling them for ten cents. Later in the morning a cargo of sopranos they sing cheaply—is imported, and the records are shelved until next morning. The would-be Galli Curcis yodel a few minutes, then the announcer does his stuff for pancake flour. Along in the afternoon the tenors and baritones take up the burden of selling yeast cakes, tooth paste, hog purifier, horse collars, oleomargarine, what not. But it's in the evening that the medicine show bursts into glory. The nation-wide chains are hooked up and the big noises of the musical world, with much dog on the introductions, exchange their talent for the medicine man's money. The orchestras and soloists go into high speed, but between every selection, no matter how notable the performer, comes the plea, "buy this, buy that." There aren't enough channels to hold all the super-salesmen. It's the old medicine show.

STARS AND STRIPES FLY AGAIN OVER RUINS OF FAMOUS OLD FORT

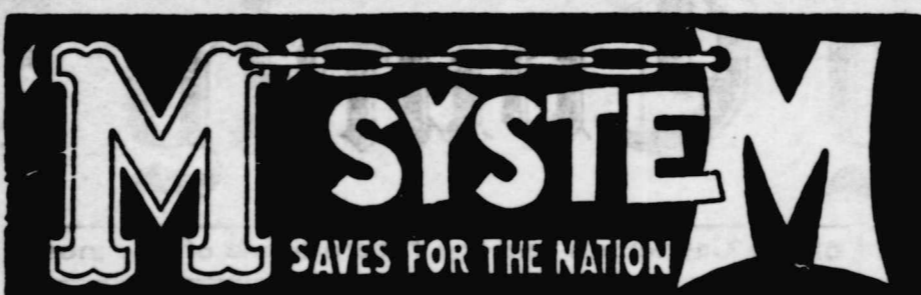

Pecos, July.—The Stars and Stripes waved again over the ruins of Old Fort Davis the other day, just as they did in the days when Robert E. Lee and others guarded its palisaded walls from the attacks of the Indians. This time, however, the gathering was entirely peaceable. It marked the convention of the Davis Mountain Association of American Legion posts. Harry Lambert of Pecos was elected district commander of the association. C. D. Barlow of Balmorhea has been named district adjutant. Dewey Richburg is the Pecos committeeman. The association includes the posts of Pecos, Wink, Balmorhea, Van Horn, Iraan, Sanderson, Fort Stockton, Marfa, Alpine, McCamey and Manahans. Next convention time is September 12-13, at Wink.

PLENTY ICE WATER

A BACHELOR'S LAMENT

I'm clean "regusted" with this world, It's all lopsided, I should say— Distorted, topsy-turvy, warped, And tangled, twisted life's pathway.

Perhaps you wish to know just why I rant and pine the way I do. All right, I'll tell you of my aches, Then you'll agree my tale is true.

Back when I was a barefoot lad, And skirts held out for men no charm, Fair damsels then would fondle me With dimpled, soft encircling arm.

They'd pat my cheeks and stroke my hair, Plant kisses on my youthful dome, While I, abashed, would squirm and flee, Alone in fields and woods to roam.

But now that I'm a man full grown And crave to crush some lovely frames,

They pass me up in proud disdain— No circling arm, endearing names.

Now only tots will linger near With smiling eyes upon me gaze, And stroke my hair or pet my dome, How all reversed from former days!

A few years back I had a girl, The fairest in this land I know; O how I longed to wed her then, But I had not the needed dough.

Today I've salted down a mite, As I pursued life's winding lane; But what's the use, dear friend, I ask— Another guy has copped the jane. —W. A. Bynum, In Farm and Ranch.

THE BETTER JOB

By Edgar A. Guest If I were running a factory I'd stick up a sign for all to see, I'd print it large and nail it high On every wall that the men walked by,

And I'd have it carry this sentence clear: "The Better Job that you want is here!"

It's the common trait of the human race To pack up and roam from place to place; Men have done it for ages and do it now,

Seeking to better themselves somehow; They quit their posts and their tools they drop For a better job in some other shop.

It may be that I'm wrong, but I hold to this— That somehow something must be amiss

When a man worth while must move away For the better job with the better pay;

And something is false in our own renown When a man can think of a better town.

So if I were running a factory I'd stick up this sign for all to see, Which never an eye in the place could miss:

"There isn't a better town than this; You need not go wandering far or near— The Better Job that you want is here!"

Fitting Signs For Foolish Drivers "Go on and Take a Chance. You're unimportant."

"Step on it—for the Last Time." Rush On—the Country's Overpopulated."

When you want others to be brief do not talk too much yourself.

EQUIPPED U. S. RADIO BROADCASTING STATION

Installation of equipment will be started this week in the U. S. Department of commerce radio broadcasting station located north of the City Park. The building and towers have been completed and ready for complete installation. The 2,000 watt plant which will broadcast on a frequency of 1,100 kilocycles will represent an expenditure of $65,000. The plant will provide 24 hour meterological service. The equipment is being installed as an auxiliary to the air mail and aerial transportation companies, however data will be available to the general public. The construction has been in charge of W. L. Breniman.—Big Spring News.

LOTTERY BROADCASTING

(A worth While Editorial Selected by the National Editorial Association)

This is newspaper shop talk but it might be of general interest anyway. It's all about a discussion that is taking space in the newspaper trade publications relative to the lottery laws.

It is well known to postmasters, newspaper men and most advertisers that the postal laws are exceedingly strict in forbidding publication of news or advertisements pertaining to raffles, games of chance, guessing contests or any other scheme that Uncle Sam has always regarded as falling under the general heading of lotteries. Such schemes are declared by the post office department an "inimical to the public interest." No newspaper is permitted to go thru the mails if it contains either news or advertisements pertaining to any of the above.

Recently the attorney general of Iowa, had issued orders to all county attorneys that merchants in any town, for instance, dare not give away prizes such as automobiles to the persons holding what is known as "the lucky number." And it is just too bad for any newspaper that should attempt to boost such a gift giving enterprise thru its columns.

But does Uncle Sam take similar steps to put a quietus to lottery advertising via the radio? Verily, he does not! Any radio listener-in knows that local lotteries are being advertised over the air in increasing quantity. Not only that but fake mediums, numberologists, fortune tellers, clairvoyants and grafters are working overtime, thru broadcasting stations, on programs "sponsored" by this or that concern. No reputable newspaper would be permitted to carry fake advertisements of this sort if it should desire to do so.

Manifestly, there is an injustice here. A bill which was introduced in congress recently read as follows:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the last sentence of Section 29 of the Radio Act of 1927, as amended, is amended to read as follows: "No person within the jurisdiction of the United States shall, by means of radio communication, (a) utter and obscene, indecent or profane language, or (b) announce, advertise, or conduct a lottery, gift enterprise, or similar scheme, offering prizes dependent in whole or in part upon a lot or chance or announce or advertise any list of prizes drawn or awarded by means of any lottery, gift enterprise, or similar scheme."

Newspapers are on the whole in favor of the passage of that act. Or, they desire permission to carry the same brand of advertisements thru their columns that now goes over the air.

Newspaper men cannot see why, if Uncle Sam permits this sort of advertising to clutter up air currents, he cannot permit the merchants of their own towns to compete with there big concerns thru guessing contests, raffles or similar gift enterprises.

We believe the public sees the injustice of the present situation both to the newspapers of the country and to the local business houses who are the goats in the long run—Register Storm Lake, Iowa.

WOMAN AND CHEVROLET WIN GAS CONTEST

Seattle, Wash., Aug. — Another record in the long list of victories hung up for six cylinder car economy was added here when Mrs. W. B. Robertson drove her new Chevrolet six coupe to an official AAA performance of 27.18 mile per gallon in the 212-mile Lake Crescent Tavern run from this city.

The record brought her the Gilmore Lion Head sweepstakes trophy, symbolic of the champion economy driver of the Pacific Northwest, in a run entered by 42 women at the wheels of 42 stock cars, sponsored by the Gilmore oil company.

In bettering a field of 21 different makes of cars, Mrs. Robertson's Chevrolet rolled up 41.58 points, the scoring being based on ton miles, arrived at by multiplying the distance traveled by the weight of the car in tons and divided this by the gallons of gas consumed. Penalties of ten points for each pint of oil and two points for each pint of water consumed were levied. Mrs. Robertson's car was officially credited with using no oil or water.

Kansas Town Again to Levy No City Taxes

Chanute, Kan., July.—Chanute city commissioners announced Tuesday that, for the second successive year, there will be no city taxes.

They adopted a budget calling for expenditure of $122,610.50, which is $3,000 more than last year, and said the gas, water and electric plants owned and operated by the city will yield $102,560.50 profits. Additional income from other sources than taxes will permit them to balance budget.

Chanute retired $90,000 of bonds last year and has $220,000 cash in its treasury. Last year also the municipality purchased a $10,000 fire truck and began construction of an underground conduit system for electric power. The water system is the only municipal utility with bonded indebtedness.

Bro. Allen filled his regular appointment here Sunday morning and Sunday. Rev. Robert Webb delivered an interesting message Saturday night.

Two new members united with our church Sunday, one by letter and one by baptism. Others are expected during the meeting that will begin here August 28th.

Mr. Goza of Brownfield was present Sunday night, and gave some interesting figures on how the Brownfield Sunday school enrollment had grown since they entered the contest with the Tahoka Baptist Sunday school. He also gave us a good talk on Sunday school and church work that will help those that are interested in carrying on this good work.

Mr. Lonnie Reatherford and Lawrence Edwards left Sunday morning for Corpus Christi, for a few weeks visit.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Goddard of San Angelo, Texas visited his parents and other relatives here the first of the week.

COSTS LESS TO FEED COWS; PROFITS STATIONARY

Kingsville—While the average profit per cow above feed costs has remained about the same during the five months beginning January 1931, the average feed cost per cow has declined and the average return per dollar spent for feed has increased, official records on 600 cows in 33 Kleberg county dairy herds disclose. According to W. L. Winginson, county agent, feed cost per cow dropped from $3.71 in January to $2.40 in May, while the feed cost per pound butterfat declined from 19.5 cents to 11.8 cents. Milk flow increased from 323 pounds to 402 pounds during the period, and where the owner got back $2.30 from each dollar spent for feed in January, he received $3 in May.

Farmers Cooperate To Get Fresh Meat

Cuero—DeWitt county farm families never lack for fresh beef during summer and fall, thanks to their "meat rings" or beef clubs of which there are at least 16 in the county, says J. A. Oswald, county agent. Two of them, those at Gruenau and Guilford have been in continuous operation for more than 39 years, and the Krauge club has operated 25 years.

The first animal is killed on the first Friday in May and cut up at a central place Saturday morning into 24 equal-weight pieces exclusive of soup bone and neck. Each of the 24 members comes to the meeting place for his meat each Saturday morning during the season, which lasts 24 weeks. In addition to the choicer portions of the carcass each member is given a soup bone one week and a piece of neck the next. All pieces are numbered and the numbers rotated so that the members receive a different cut of meat each week.

Each member must kill a yearling at his allotted time, to dress out not less than 200 pounds nor more than 315 pounds exclusive of the soup bone. The penalty for underweight is 10 cents per pound for every pound short, or if overweight the excess is sold and the receipts go into the treasury. The membership fee is 25 cents and the meat cutter who is also the bookkeeper, is paid about $1.50 per animal.

NEW YORK THEN AND NOW

Mr. Frank E. Gannett, one of the best known newspaper owners and publishers in the East, says this in regard to his observation of the workings of prohibition in New York City, where everything possible is done by certain politicians to encourage violation of the law:

Let's take New York as the standard symbol of the failure of prohibition. I go to New York very frequently. I stop at a good hotel, travel in the subways, walk through the most crowded streets, and, being a newspaperman, I try to keep my eyes open. I don't know whether there are 30,000 or 300,000 liquor shops in New York's backyard, but I do know there's an enormous amount less of liquor's human products on New York's front streets. I almost never see evidence of intoxication or of the liquor traffic. I don't know what has happened to the memories of the folks who talk so much about the horrible results of prohibition. Believe me, it's something if we've driven the liquor business out of sight. That's quite a lot to expect for the first ten years."

Mrs. J. A. Gibson who underwent an operation at the Lamesa Sanitarium, is doing fine. Rev. Gibson came home Friday.

Miss Julia Burns is visiting her parents at Rotan this week. Mrs. O. M. Parker has charge of the Bob Owens store in her absence.

Cong. Jones Asks I.C.C. Not to Raise Rates

(The following protest was filed by Marvin Jones with the Interstate Commerce Commission urging that the application of the railways for a general increase of freight rates be denied.)

Amarillo, Texas, July 23, 1931. Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D. C. Gentlemen:

I desire to file a protest against the general 15 percent increase in freight rates as applied for by the railway companies of America.

This protest is not filed in any spirit of hostility to the railroads. Naturally, we would like to see them prosper. Transportation is essential. However, a period of depression, such as that through which we have been passing, when practically all business are taking a loss, is not, in my judgment, the time to ask an increase in railway rates. The times are abnormal.

The prices of practically all commodities have been materially reduced during the two years. Agriculture is prostrate. The major products of the farm are selling far below the cost of production. Present freight rates are in many instances already prohibitive. To use present conditions as a basis for an application to load on these already overloaded commodities is, in my judgment out of the question.

Besides, I doubt very seriously whether an increase in rates would increase revenue. It might do so temporarily, but would not increase them in the long run. I believe, therefore, it is a short-sighted policy even from the view point of the roads themselves to ask for an increase in freight rates at this time.

An illustration: the freight rates on wheat from the Panhandle of Texas to the Gulf ports is at present an average of more than 33 cents per hundred or 20 cents per bushel.

What is selling today at the elevator in Amarillo and other Panhandle points at 25 cents per bushel. The cost of transportation of this commodity is already taking so large a percentage of the total value that not more than half of the commodity is moving, and a large percentage of that which has been moving has been distress wheat that must be sold.

I realize the sharp and in some instances unfair competition to which the roads are subjected. Undoubtedly these inequalities should be corrected and competition placed on an even basis. But this will not be corrected, on the other hand it will be aggravated by an increase freight rates which are already too high. The trucking, the feeding, the use of water ways and even the use of the commodity for fuel would be increased by such a policy.

If the freight rates on wheat as given in the illustration, which now range from 30 to 37 cents per hundred from Panhandle points to Gulf ports, and which under the new rates to be made effective August 1st will range from 29½ to 34 cents per hundred, had been reduced to range from 20 to 25 cents per hundred, I believe the increase in tonnage would have made up the difference and would not only have created a better feeding, but would have left conditions in far better shape for future operations.

If the 15 percent increase should be allowed it would not only wipe out the small reduction above referred to, but would make these rates even higher than at the present time. What is true in this section would probably be true in most sections of the country.

There come times when all businesses must shoulder a loss during an emergency period, or any concern, whether transportation or otherwise, during such a period to undertake to recoup such a loss by saddling a heavier burden on the struggling agriculture and business interests of the country, is an improper course of procedure, and one that will complicate the difficulties and eventually work against the interests of both the roads and the public.

I earnestly urge that the application for these increases be denied.

I am furnishing copies of this letter to the presidents of the three railways which operate in this section, to wit, the Santa Fe, the Rock Island and the Burlington System. Sincerely yours, (SIGNED) MARVIN JONES.

| TAXES AGAIN When we begin to think about voting more taxes upon ourselves, we might visit the bankrupt farms of the middle states, and then give those European countries close study. Taxes in Texas have in some instances almost reached the stage of confiscation. Taxes are mounting each year. More tax money is being wasted each year and more is being expended needlessly. Right here in Clarendon many home owners are prevented from beautifying their homes for fear of increased valuations for purposes of taxation. Some are making needed improvements on the inside of the home where it is obscured to public view lest they be penalized. Others are offering for sale good homes at two thousand dollars less than the assessed valuation for tax purposes. No town can grow where such conditions obtain. New people will not invest in such a town. The valuation for purposes of sale have been lowered more from taxation than from the depression is the opinion of many.—Clarendon Leader. An improvement in three years of 100 percent in workmanship—and appearance of street dresses made by home demonstration club women in Wheeler county is the claim of the judge in a recent county dress contest held there. | NEWSPAPER LOYALTY The explanation given by John Esten Cooke as to why, his issue dropped from the usual eight down to six pages recently, calls to mind the fact that a weekly paper such as he prints, is much like a passenger train—it must go out on time regardless of the amount of passengers (advertising,) even though the man at the throttle knows the run must be made at a loss. The weekly papers of Texas have set a fine example for other groups in the face of declining revenue the past few months. Except in a few instances, there has been no decline in the service rendered their communities. Railroads may increase their rates. Many public utility companies are guaranteed a reasonable return on their investments. The weekly paper serving the community can do neither. It must continue to "carry on" despite the fact that revenues have decreased from 20 to 40 percent over the past 18 months.—Clarendon Leader. One Eastland store reports the sale of over 100 pressure cookers within the last 2 1-2 months, and a store manager in Cisco declares that 2 1-2 carloads of tin cans have been sold within a 30-mile radius of town. The home agent says interest in canning is greater than at any time during the last eight years. | O'Donnell Child Hurt In Street Collision If its news when a man bites a dog, it certainly must be news when a child runs over a car which is exactly what the eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Isaacs did Saturday afternoon, according to witnesses of the accident. Besides a bad scare and a hard fall, she was uninjured. The accident occurred about 5:30 Saturday afternoon when the child started to run across the street. Being in a considerable hurry, she didn't take time to stop, look, or listen, or even sound a warning—just trotted right out and ran over a Ford sedan, which had the misfortune to be in her path at that particular instant. One of the wheels evidently struck her on the ankle, throwing her off her feet and against the fender with considerable violence. She was immediately taken to the office of a local physician for first aid, and was soon able to laugh about the whole matter. The car was uninjured, the little girl only comparatively so, and now she is probably the only child in this part of the country who has the distinction of having run over an automobile.—O'Donnell Index. Repose is the mother of a good story. | TEXAS SECOND STATE IN EXPORT VALUES IN 1930 Washington, July.—Raw cotton again led all export commodities from Texas during 1930 with a value of $301,055,127, against $426,713,260 in 1929, reports the department of commerce. Total value of all Texas merchandise exported was $506,083,298, compared with $657,559,600 in 1929. New York was the only state exceeding Texas in export values, with a total of $698,659,077. Value of other leading exports in 1930 was: Gasoline $79,342,939, wheat $23,361,046, illuminating oil $18,183,590, lubricating oil $12,787,418, crude sulphur $11,993,758 gas and fuel oil $11,197,301, crude petroleum $4,510,081, and wheat flour $3,740,988. Among other leading export commodities from the state agricultural commodities included meat products, eggs, hides and skins, barley, corn, rice, oil, cake and fresh vegetables. Mr. and Mrs. Dave Trammell and son, H. We saw a cartoon recently in a number of exchanges wherein a force of workmen and housewives with spades, hoes, rakes, brooms and mops were mopping up on old man "Depression" to a fareyouwell. But if he can be run off so easily, why have we waited and waited?

They used to tell the farmer the way out was to grow two blades of grass where one grew before. Now they tell him to grow one bushel of wheat where two grew before. The next thing, says the Deepwater World, they will be telling him to find the corner prosperity is hiding behind.

A Crosbyton pastor has suddenly become in a very jolly frame of mind and allows that the depression must be lifting. He recently married the first couple he has joined together since the new marriage law went into effect. If we were a pastor, we believe we would establish a branch office across the border to be used during week days.

We hadn't heard of a bread and soup line in Africa until last week, and had supposed that the "repression" had not reached the dark continent. But it seems that a bunch of the natives recently caught a nice fat Belgian commissioner in the Congo section and feasted upon him after cooking him to a turn. Well, as long as fat Belgians hold out, they'll probably not go hungry.

James L. Dow, pioneer editor and publisher of Lubbock, and who pioneered the Avalanche from a small five column, four page weekly to a daily, is back in Lubbock on the job as editor of an excellent new paper, comparatively speaking. It looks natural to see Jim Dow's name at the masthead of a Lubbock paper. He has tried Ralls and Lamesa, and appears to be tickled to be back newspapering in Lubbock.

The Miami Chief is now 33 years young, and has been growing and boosting for the past 5 years under the able direction of our good friend, R. B. Haynes, or "Happy Haynes" as we always want to designate this smiling, ever evenly balanced writer and printer. May there be many, many more useful years for Editor Haynes and his good paper for the upholding of Miami and Roberts county.

We have often heard the expression, "jumping out of the frying pan into the fire." It seems that some people can actually do that in this section without even making the jump. After planting over several times this year to be blown out by high winds some farmers on Duck creek near Spur finally got a stand only to be washed away by a raging headrise on this creek. West Texas certainly lends a great deal of variety by doing the unexpected. A great country—a great country!

A Big Spring man is said to have a unique way of curing himself of the blues when an attack comes on. He drives about two hours to his old home town where he hears so much more bellyaching than he hears in Big Spring, that he is soon cured and returns home satisfied and a well man. Don't suppose he comes to Brownfield, surely? Yet, we are in about that much drive of Big Spring. We certainly hope it is not the case, yet we do have a few very proficient bellyachers.

Gov. Alfalfa Haywire Cocklebur Bill Murray of Oklahoma certainly is keeping himself before the public with various and sundry displays of radicalism, not the least of which is the carrying of a big boss pistol to lay low the citizens and officers from a neighboring state if they dare molest the "Great Horatio at the Bridge." Gov. Murray will go down in history along with such characters as Jeff Davis of Arkansas, Vardaman of Mississippi, Jeems Ferguson of Texas, Tomheflin of Alabama, and a bird over in South Carolina we can't recall just now, but who was retired last year. But history won't waste many pages on any of them.

If you love to read statistics, you can get quite a kick out of marriage and divorce figures recently released by the census department at Washington for Texas and incidentally Terry and other counties individually. And one can figure out in his own mind just how much effect the new marriage laws are having on the pocket books of Texas preachers and justices. Taking Terry county for 1929, the last half of which the new marriage law had gone into effect, there were 76 marriages compared to 47 in 1930. But there was no such disparity between the divorces, being 12 in 1929 and 11 in 1930. The rate of decrease for Texas as a whole in marriages was not as great per 1000 as was the case of counties nearer the borders of other states.

It is not often that reward comes in a material way for a simple kindness, but the newspapers the first of the week told the story of how William F. Martin of York, Pa., has become the recipient of $25,000 in cash and a $9,000 home, all because he showed a willingness to assist an elderly woman six years ago in Norristown, Pa., who had fallen on the ice and broken her leg. Martin is now a widower with one child and has been out of work for three months; so the bequest from the lady's will comes most opportunistly.—Merkel Mail.

Mr. McLeod of the Brownfield Laundry came up this week and got a few of the writers shirts and did them up in good style and returned them next day. Boy they were some clean and faultlessly ironed. They know their okra at the Brownfield laundry.—Brownfield Herald.

If our laundryman were to get a few of our shirts to laundry we would have to stay in bed until he brought them both back.—Rotan Advance.

We expected you to read between the lines, Bro. Shelton. Most of the shirts belonged to our son.

The tragedy which happened at Clovis some three week ago in which a father and two of his children were burned to death by the explosion of a gasoline stove. It seems that one of the children was filling the tank of the stove while it was still burning, and the gasoline was ignited from the burners. It should be remembered that gasoline handled carelessly is a sure ticket to the cemetery, and more dangerous than dynamite or T. N. T.

All the caution possible is too little when handling this highly combustible liquid around an open fire. As little as you may believe it (and we've seen it demonstrated) a lighted cigarette will cause an explosion when placed over a can containing gasoline.—Ropes Hustler.

We note that the state sheriff's convention in session in Houston last week recommended the abolishment of the fee system and the payment of straight salaries to all peace officers. We believe that the time is soon coming when this reform will be adopted. The lure of fees in little misdemeanor cases has tempted many a petty official from the paths of rectitude and caused him to tip the scales of justice in favor of his own pocketbook. Probably most officials try to be absolutely fair regardless of the pecuniary gain to be reaped from a conviction or a plea of guilty, but the fee system offers a constant temptation to them, and too many have yielded. We believe that justice like religion should be pure and undefiled.—Tahoka News.

At the close of the World War the Republican party fought the proposal for the United States to enter the League of Nations on the ground of entangling alliances. They succeeded in keeping the United States out. They have since stood aloof as far as was possible. But now they find it necessary to send the Secretary of State, Stimson, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, and Ambassador Dawes to an international conference to be held in London to try to help solve the economic problems of Europe and to save the nations with which we trade from absolute bankruptcy. They cried Woodrow Wilson because he had sufficient foresight to see that the nations of the world must cooperate to prevent war and to recover from the effects of the last one, but now they are coming to see that Wilson was right after all. History will probably write Woodrow Wilson down as the greatest President this country has had thus far.—Tahoka News.

REVIVING SILVER

The mining problem has become of international importance. The decline in the value of silver coinage is a prime reason for the continuance of unsatisfactory world economic conditions. Country after country has gone to the gold standard, though there is not enough of the precious metal to carry on the commerce of the world. Only a revival of silver can offset the situation. The efforts now being made, in many nations, to effect such a revival are worthy of the support of all peoples, all governments.

D. 1930, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 1536, wherein Brownfield Independent School District, a public corporation, duly incorporated and created under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Texas, and situated in Terry County, Texas, is Plaintiff, and J. G. Loudin is Defendant, and said petition alleging:

That the defendant is the owner of that part of Section No. 127 in Block "T" in Terry County, Texas, lying east of the S. P. & S. F. Ry. Co. right of way, containing about 200 acres of land, more or less, and was the owner thereof during the year 1928 and 1929; that said land premises is situated wholly within the limits of said plaintiff school district, and as such was subject to taxation for the years 1928 and 1929; and that in due course of law said property was levied and assessed for taxes for the years mentioned by plaintiff and that by virtue of said levy and assessment for the years mentioned defendant became liable and bound to plaintiff for such taxes for the years mentioned, which are as follows:

For the year 1928 principal taxes in the sum of $57.00; For the year 1929 principal taxes in the sum of $61.56; and that the defendant has failed and refused and still refuses to pay the same or any part thereof; and by virtue of such failure and refusal a penalty of 10 percent has accrued on said taxes, together with 6 percent per annum interest on said amounts as is provided by law.

That by virtue of said assessment and levy of taxes as aforesaid said debt is secured to plaintiff by tax lien on said property hereinbefore mentioned, and that the same is still a valid and subsisting lien on said property to secure plaintiff's debt for taxes as aforesaid.

Wherefore plaintiff prays that defendant be cited as required by law, and that it have judgment for its debt, principal, penalty, interest, and attorney's fees as provided by law, and costs of suit, for foreclosure of its tax lien, order of sale, and such other and further relief as it may be entitled to receive.

1917, B. Tidwell made, executed and delivered to plaintiff his certain promissory note for the principal sum of $1,000.00, payable to the order of Plaintiff at Brownfield, Texas, on or before ten years after its date, bearing 8 percent per annum interest from date, interest payable annually, and providing for 10 percent attorney's fees if placed in the hands of an attorney for collection, which note was given in payment for a part of Sec. 102 in Block "T", Terry County, Texas, described as follows:

10 acres lying just North of Small Street and just East of "D" street in the East addition to the town of Brownfield, Terry County, Texas, being 300 yards in length East and West by approximately 162 yards wide North and South, and bounded on the North by a 10 acre tract that was theretofore deeded to Chas. C. Triplett by A. M. Brownfield and wife, and the Vendor's Lien was retained in said Deed to secure the payment of said note, and acknowledged in said note.

That by conveyance from B. Tidwell and wife to O. T. Holley, and from O. T. Holley and wife to R. O. Wilson, and from R. O. Wilson and wife to W. H. Dallas and by W. H. Dallas and wife to the defendant, Robert Holgate, the defendant Robert Holgate became the owner of said property and assumed the payment of said note and that said Vendor's Lien is now and has been since its inception a valid and subsisting lien to secure said note, on all of said land, except that a tract 150 feet in length running north and south, and 65 feet in width running east and west out of the extreme northeast corner of said 10 acre tract was by plaintiff released from the operation of his lien at the request of defendant, Robert Holgate.

That said note is now long since past due and unpaid, and that there is now due and owing on same the sum of $1822.02, and account of having had to place same in the hands of an attorney for collection 10 percent has been added to said amount, to all of plaintiff's damage $2,000.00.

That the defendants, Louise Holgate, Phillis Holgate, May Holgate, Richard Holgate, Shelby Holgate, and Zellica Holgate are claiming some interest in and to said property, but what ever interest they may have in and to same is subject to the Vendor's Lien of plaintiff securing said note.

Wherefore plaintiff prays for citations to issue to defendants, for judgment for his debt, principal, interest, attorney's fees and costs of suit, for foreclosure of his lien on said land securing said note, for order of sale, and such other and further relief, special, general, in law and in equity, to which he may be entitled, etc.

turning gave them a breathing spell. These are used to get about on the farm either in a car as we did, or horseback. Mr. Heath uses a saddle horse, and tells us that he is kept pretty busy riding from morning till night each week day while farm operations are going on. He now has 1600 acres under the plow, of which 1000 is in cotton, and 600 about equally divided between corn and other row crops of feed. So you see he is rotating pretty well.

His Ambition A Well Farmed Place

Mr. Heath informed us that it was his ambition to have the best farmed, and the cleanest large farm in this section. He stated that there were perhaps some small farms that were kept in better shape, but he was competing with the large ones. Personally, we have not seen any better farmed small farms. There may be some, however. Let us state right here that he has the most uniform size of feed, corn and cotton we have seen this year, as well as the most uniform stand. There was only one place on the farm where there was a bad stand, and Mr. Heath told us that one renter wanted to have his own way about how deep to plant the cotton seed. There was perhaps not more than 20 acres of this. Talking about cleanliness, there is only one place where any weeds are found, and few of them, and this is where the third row is skipped in the feed and corn crops. These will all be run out this week with knife go-devils, and the last thing will be that every foot of this farm will be gone over with hoes, and every weed in the rows cut that cannot be reached with plows. There will be few of them, and hundreds of acres can be gone over in a day when the whole force stretches out across the fields.

That prior to exhibiting the petition therein for a period of 12 months plaintiff has been an actual bona fide inhabitant of the State of Texas, and has resided in Terry County for at least six months next preceeding the filing of this suit; that on September 23rd, 1927 plaintiff was lawfully married to defendant, and continued to live with him until on or about the 30th day of January, 1930, when by reason of the improper conduct and harsh treatment of defendant toward plaintiff she was forced and compelled to permanently abandon him; that of said marriage there was born to plaintiff two children, Alen Martin Taylor, a boy 2 years old, and Faye Ellen, a girl, less than 1 year old; that plaintiff is the proper person to have the care, custody and education of said two children. That on account of defendant's actions and conduct toward plaintiff their further living together has been rendered insupportable, premises considered.

An Inspiring Sight

It is an inspiring sight to get on some of the high points on the farm and look across miles of waving grain and big fields of cotton knee high and better that looks as if it might have been greased. They had a fine rain some ten days before we were out there, and the effect of the rain was magic. There you are with miles of farm products growing and hardly a weed showing. Not only are weeds not allowed to grow in the fields and driveways, but even the fence rows are as clean as a hound's tooth. The cotton is full and still fruiting. Most of the corn is tasseling, and a silk can be seen now and then. The corn has a large, wrist shaped stalk that indicates two large ears to the stalk. Forty acres of this corn has peas planted in the third row. The maize and higeras are now heading and give promise of an abundant yield.

All Must Have Truck Patches

One of the most noticeable things about the farm is that every renter has a truck patch. This is not, we understand, part of the contract, but Mr. Heath insists very determinedly that each and every family on the place have them. This might be a good tip to other land lords as well as renters. He maintains that a well fed family is a contented family. We noted that they all have a small irrigated garden around the wind-mills, and then an acre or two in the field nearby which is devoted to stuff that usually requires no irrigation here, such as Mexican beans, black-eyed peas, squash, potatoes, both fresh and sweet, and melons of all sorts. What the family cannot use, is canned.

When The Canning Season Opens

They have a big steam pressure cooker and a sealer on the farm, and it is used by all. Canning is under the direction of Mrs. Heath, and the corn, beans, peas, or whatever they aim to can on a certain day is brought off the farms by the farmers, and all hands as well as the cooks get busy, and when the season is over, the cans are equally divided around. More than 2000 cans were put up last year. A whole beef or several hogs are canned at one time, supplying fresh meat as well as fresh vegetables to the farms the year round.

A Mule Power Farm

There is not nor never has been a farm tractor on the place. One company proposed to send a tractor there this year and farm it free of charge for demonstration purposes, but Mr. Heath says he is in the stock farming business. His argument is that he can raise the power on the farm and the where-with-all to keep them going, but that he can neither raise tractors or gas. He has something like 2500 acres of grass just north of his place under lease, and has some 200 head of mules of all ages, mares, etc. It takes some 36 head of big mules to work the place. No mule under 4 years of age is ever worked. From 25 to 30 mule colts are raised each year. They have their own Kentucky jack on the farm for breeding purposes. The mares are Percheon bred.

Cows, Hogs and Chickens

There are about 32 head of cows on the Heath farm at the main headquarters, all well bred cows, and most of them with papers. The herd is headed by a line bred Jersey bull that comes from some of the best dairy stock in the United States. One of his sires captured the grand prize three years in succession at the National Dairy Show. These cows are under the management of one milk boy, who begins his operation at mid afternoon and finishes toward dark. He again starts about 4 o'clock in the morning and finishes about sunup. They are selling about 20 gallons of cream a week, besides having all the milk, cream and butter they want on the farm, and feed skimmed milk to the hogs. Mr. Heath says the present hand is the best he has had to care for his dairy herd. Coming on down to swine, they like the cattle are good stuff, and he has the papers on them. Mr. Heath even has papers on his grey hounds and rat terrier dog. He believes in having the best. He has three of as fine Duroc breed sows as we ever looked at. One of them raised 10 pigs this year already that brought him $50, and will farrow again in October. Mr. Heath has sent several truck loads of hogs to Brownfield already this year that topped the market. He will have another load in this week. Rhode Island Reds seems to be the favorite breed of chickens on the big farm, as we saw but one of another breed, and like the animals on the farm, they seemed to be well cared for and had for both meat and egg production.

Splendid Farm Dinner Served

Mr. and Mrs. Heath are both remarkably well preserved for people their age, showing they have lived clean lives, had regular hours for sleep and meals, and by observing the laws of nature are happy in their afternoon years. Both are good hosts,

"WHY SHOULD THE CHURCHES RUN THE MOVIES?"

"Every once in a while the public is given a document that reveals an institution's point of view with an utterly unconscious clarity. Such a self-revelation is found in the report on the movies made by the Department of Research and Education of the Federal Council of Churches.

"In effect the report reveals the calm assumption that the determination of the kind of moving pictures the people of the United States are to see is of right the belonging of the Federal Council of Churches.

"The right to censorship the report accepts as something too well established to spend much effort upon. It is urged that the brethren be 'alert to discover and eliminate objectionable scenes,' but this is only the negative aspect of the problem.

On the positive side: "The industry should be made to feel a demand for more socially useful pictures, for pictures that will contribute to the effort in which the churches are engaged to promote responsible citizenship, inter-racial understanding, industrial justice and international goodwill." The Council here assumes, as all our church organizations do, that because it bears the label of 'church' it is the voice of God. It is not His voice nor has it His wisdom.

"What, for instance, would it include under the obligations of its first objective, 'responsible citizenship'? Would it not demand championship of Prohibition? And suppose that under 'industrial justice' it demanded the five-day week or that under 'international goodwill' it stood for the abolition of our army and navy. Would it be the moral duty of the movies to take up these particular propaganda? And are the Council's own agents morally pure enough to interpret infallibly its holy purpose?

"We do not see why the movies should be bent to the service of the Federal Council any more than to the Federation of Labor or the Association of Retired Organ Pumpers. They should not furnish forth anybody's propaganda."

—The New York Evening Post, June 29, 1931.

Dr. Millard F. Swart was down Wednesday from Lubbeck fitting glasses. He reports that he has just returned from a fine fishing trip.

Mrs. E. W. Loyd and children, of Plains, are visiting with home folks here this week.

for they anticipate your every want and supply it. This couple is one that all the farm hands respect, and what strong boys and beautiful girls love to call dad and mother. The noon meal consisted of fried chicken cooked to a turn, with cream gravy. Fresh beans with Irish spuds, "ham what am" produced on the farm and cured in the old time style. Man, you could smell the aroma of that ham cooking all over the place, pickled onions and cucumbers, iced tea and any kind of milk. This was followed by cake and real good old home made ice-cream. What better could you ask? What better could you get anywhere?

The Seventh Crop

This year is his seventh crop on the place, and he has made good feed crops each year. Last year most of his cotton was hauled out late, and he only made 100 bales of cotton. Right here we want to give a few notes on sale of corn and maize. You know the old saying that if you produce something worth while, your customers will beat out a path to your door. Mr. Heath did not wait for them to make a path, but assisted some by the county of Yoakum, he built a road some five miles south to the Plains-Brownfield state highway. Not an ear of corn or a head of maize had to be hauled to market last winter. People came in trucks and hauled it as far west as Roswell, and below the cap rock east of us where they failed. In fact this has been the history for the past two or three years. A wonderful feed crop was made last year.

Recreation

While the city man enjoys his golf both cowpasture and Tom Thumb, as well as tennis, croquet, etc., the Heath farm is not without its form of recreation. What is more fun than to stridle his prancing bay, Dan Moody, Jim Ferguson, Ross Sterling or some of the other saddle horses and follow those three long wolf hounds in a coyote chase? Mr. Heath tells us that if they ever get in 300 yards of Mr. Wolf in an open pasture, he is their meat. They had been in a battle early Sunday morning with a skunk and didn't smell like a rose, however.

Farewell To The Heaths

But the most pleasurable of days must come to an end, and so we had to part with our good host and hostess near the lank end of the afternoon, not before however, they had slipped a supply of their canned meats in the cars, and not before they had insisted several times that we come back in about a month and load up with a car of melons, roasting ears, beans and peas. Will we? Sure.

LEARNING AND BATTLESHIP

The cost of a modern battleship is roughly $40,000,000—perhaps a little more exactly $37,000,000 or $38,000,000,000. The McKinley High School in Washington, finished September, 1928, cost $2,022,301.91. Therefore, the cost of a modern battleship would build nineteen or twenty of these up-to-date city high schools.

The aircraft carrier that is now being built is estimated to cost $19,000,000, with armor and armament. The 10,000-ton cruisers now building are to cost $17,000,000 each. The new aircraft carrier proposed in the bill which failed of action at the last Congress was to cost $27,500,000. It is interesting to compare these with the endowments of several great universities, and listed in the World Almanac for 1928. The endowment of Princeton University is exactly the amount which one of the 10,000-ton cruisers will cost. Radcliffe College would not quite pay for the new submarine. The endowment of Smith College is just about enough to cover a destroyer. Duke University would just build the proposed new aircraft carrier. Chicago University would just build a modern battleship, or two of the aircraft carriers now building. The endowment of Yale University is two million dollars short of the cost of the 11 destroyers appropriated for in the last Congress.

The endowment of Columbia University would not be sufficient to build a modern battleship and one of the proposed new aircraft carriers. The endowment of Harvard, the most richly endowed university, is just enough to have paid for the 5 8-inch gun cruisers which have been completed within the last year.

According to Dr. Abraham Flexner, internationally renowned educational authority, in a letter to the New York Times, the endowment of all the privately endowed institutions of higher learning in the United States is less than $815,000,000. This is only about $100,000,000 more than the expenditure for national defense during the year 1930.

ON VACATION

He was standing on the corner, paying absolutely no attention to anyone. He shook his head and mumbled to himself: No, no, no—no, no, no!" He paid no attention to the crowd that gathered but just kept on saying: "No, no, no!"

An officer shook him by the arm and said: "What's the matter, my friend?"

"Nothing at all," came the reply, "I'm just a 'yes man' taking a day off!"—Exchange.

WHY NOT SHOOT HIM?

Once more the relievers are at Austin to "conserve" the soil by making a misdemeanor for the owner of the soil to plant on it what he wants to plant, where he wants to plant it when he wants to plant it. The summary of the bill, as The News gets it, indicates that the idea is to make it unlawful next year to plant more than 50 per cent of the cotton acreage planted in Texas this year, and following next year it will be unlawful to plant cotton on the same land for more than two years consecutively.

All this is to conserve the soil, mind you. But if the farmer wants to bring in a steam shovel and sell the soil itself off his land and clean down to bedrocks, that is another matter. At least wire accounts of the bill make no mention of its giving consideration to such a phase of soil depletion. Conserving the soil by growing less cotton to get a higher price for cotton, however, is so well intended and so benevolently designed that it is a shame to see its purposes defeated by the inadequacy of the means adopted. Disobedient cotton croppers are subject, it seems, merely to a fine of $10,000 or less. Manifestly it would be better to make the crime capital. By shooting the farmer the State would make sure that he would not pick his criminal crop. Moreover the total number of farmers would be reduced by each shooting. As there are too many farmers, and no jobs for excess farmers in town, the logical thing is to shoot them and put them out of their misery. As genuine farm relief, shooting cotton farmers would not be kind—but it sounds as if it would be permanent in individual cases, anyhow.—Dallas News.

THE PEOPLE'S PROBLEM

No other industry has wider distribution of ownership than the railroads.

Renewed railroad prosperity would mean renewed general prosperity. One-fourth to one-third of the reserve funds of life insurance companies and about 15 per cent of deposits in saving banks are invested in railroad securities. There are about two million individual owners of railroad bonds and stocks. Endowed schools, colleges and hospitals are commonly dependent for part of their income on funds invested in the railroads.

There are hundreds of thousands of railroad employees, and hundreds of thousands more who are indirectly employed by the railroad through the industry's vast purchases of materials of all kinds.

Are railroad problems "the people's problems?"

If you are a day laborer, an investor of savings or a bank president—it's a problem you must help solve.

The colored Baptist church is now under way with perhaps its third revival of the season.

T. A. Smith of south Terry, was in last week to get us to order an egg stamp for him. He reports good showers Friday night, and that his crop is doing nicely.

May the big surprise of his life be not his last!

THE gentleman shown above had his car all tuned up... went out to see what it would do... touched 65 and strove for 70.

And then... the big surprise of his life!

Because, although no bolt was left unturned to put body and motor in A-1 condition, he tried to economize with inferior tires... and one of them gave out.

A skid or blowout at high speed is a big enough surprise for anybody. Indeed, tire failure—even on a smooth road—is more than likely to cause disaster.

Nowadays it isn't necessary to take such chances. Our prices for trustworthy new U. S. Tires are so low that risking old tires is mighty poor economy. For any speed on any road, it will pay you to join the Big Swing to U. S. Tires. Why not make certain of maximum safety? Drive in today and let us check your tires. Be sure and be safe!

"We Are Satisfied Only When You Are"

Dr. Webber informed us this week that two farmers living on his place southwest of the city, were recently offered about $10 to $12 for two yearlings. He told them to borrow some steam pressure canners from neighbors and a sealer, and put them in cans. They were fed crushed corn for a few weeks until the fat became hard, and now these families are living high on good fresh canned beef, as well as stuff now coming out of their gardens and truck patches.

Wheat is being retained by local feed men at 90c per 100 pounds. It is said to be an excellent chicken feed. It is brought here from the Abernathy section.

J. L. Warnich, prescription druggist at the Hunter Drug store, with his wife and baby, were visitors in Lamesa Sunday and Monday. He reports excellent crops in Dawson county, especially east of Lamesa.

John and Ed Drennon and families of Waco and San Antonio left for home Saturday. They were accompanied home by Grandma Drennon who has been visiting her son, Robert, here since Christmas.

Lions Score Communism at Toronto, Can.

Toronto, Ont.—Julien Hyer of Fort Worth, Texas, the new president of Lions International is in Chicago this week formulating and working out details of policies adopted by the board of directors at their meeting in Toronto. One change occurred in the International Constitution and By-Laws, permitting one active member of the Board of Directors from any country with forty-five or more clubs in that country. As a result of the amendment, Jack Connell of Toronto, Canada, was voted on the Board to represent Canada in the International Association.

The Lions International convention at Toronto, Canada, July 13-18 proved to be the largest and most eventful in the history of Lionism. The approximate 10,000 Lions in attendance failed to follow the platitudes of complete pacifism typical of the present day service club, but adopted a platform of active economic resistance to the methods and policies of Soviet Russia. The resolution passed by the convention is as follows:

"Be it resolved that the delegates of this Convention go on record as being opposed to the practice of any of the citizens from the countries represented in this association lending their aid and assistance to the communistic and soviet policies of Russia."

The resolution was in part prompted by the brilliant address of Colonel Alvin H. Oswley, of Dallas, Texas, Past Commander of the American Legion, in which he lamented the fact that American industrial specialists and engineers were selling themselves to Soviet Russia and making it possible for that country to compete with us through our own methods and the added advantage of conscript labor.

Bob Bowers is entertaining a case of mumps. More mature people have had them here recently than we have ever heard of before.

Pampa—Local grain dealers estimates this area will produce 1,300 cars of wheat.

AGED GRIST MILL TO BE USED AGAIN

Denison, July.—A 75-year-old grist mill that came to Texas in an ox wagon and ground meal for corn-pones to feed Confederate soldiers will soon be in operation again near Denison. The property of J. T. Williams, it is located between Denison and Carpenter's bluff.

The millstone were brought from France by Williams' father, T. R. Williams. They came from a famous French quarry long since exhausted. The machinery for the mill was constructed in Philadelphia. It was sent to Shreveport by water and thence to Bonham, where the older Williams then lived, in a wagon drawn by three yokes of oxen.

The older Williams joined the Confederate army soon after the outbreak of the Civil War and was made a captain. Within a short while, however, he was sent back to Bonham, an expert miller being considered more valuable than a single fighting man. Williams was also instructed by the government to establish a distillery and manufacture whisky for the soldiers.

Several years after the close of the war the mill was moved to Anthony. It was in operation there for a quarter of a century.

The millstones are the hardest available. Fine steel is worn away rapidly when used on them. After several years of operation, the surface of the stones becomes glazed. It is then necessary to chip off the paper-thin film with fine steel picks. The stones have outworn three wooden frames.

Originally propelled by steam, the mill will be operated now with a gasoline motor.

LUDENDORFF GUILTY OF LIBEL, COURT FINDS

Berlin, Germany.—Count zu Dohna, a former Grand Master of German Masons, was successful in a libel suit against General Ludendorff. The latter was fined $120 by the court and Count zu Dohna was authorized to have the court's decision published in various newspapers at General Ludendorff's expense.

The case arose through the facts that at a public meeting in February, 1928, General Ludendorff had stated that through his connection with Freemasonry the count had known of the intended murder of the Austrian Archduke as a signal for the outbreak of the World War and had refrained from warning the proper authorities and was, therefore, guilty of high treason.

Counsel for Count Dohna spoke of General Ludendorff's obsession about Jews, Jesuits and Freemasons, and suggested that "only a neuraesthenic like the General was capable of bringing a charge of treason against a man of such unquestionable integrity as Count Dohna."

The court found that it had not been proved that the term of high treason had actually been used, but that General Ludendorff had reproached Count zu Dohna with lack of patriotism and with placing his duties to the Fatherland second to those of Freemasonry. The defendant had not, the court found, succeeded in bringing evidence to prove this allegation, and that he had uttered a serious slander which was likely to damage the Count's reputation.

INTERENTAINMENT FOR FOOTBALL COACHES

Lubbock, Texas, July.—Four popular athletic coaches are making plans to handle instructions at the first football coaching school held in West Texas here at the Texas Technological College, August 3 to 15, however, the officials of the college and of the city of Lubbock have worked out an entertainment program which is on a par with the athletic program of the school. R. T. "Dutchy" Smith, assistant coach at the Tech declares.

A golf tournament will be held the first week with the Lubbock Country Club and the Meadow Brook Club courses being free to the coaches who attend the school. All Texas sporting houses are offering prizes to winners in the tournament. Among the coaches from the middle west will be Jess Harper, coach of Notre Dame and former coach of Knute Rochne.

CANNY CHARLEY CURTIS

(New Mexico State Tribune)

If Charles Curtis, vice president, has decided that his political future is safer as a candidate for senate from Kansas than as a running mate of Hoover the president has good cause to be worried.

Mr. Curtis, whose life is politics, knows Kansas, a typical middle western state. If he has decided to desert the Hoover banner to look after his own political interests it means that Kansas is in a state of revolt. For Curtis knows Kansas.

And Kansas is in rebellion. Wheat farmers are harvesting 27 cent wheat with still expensive combines. Many of the combines with which they are harvesting bear the imprint of the International Harvester company, of which Chairman Legge, lately of the farm board, is chairman. Kansas farmers brood about these things.

When the Kansas wheat farmer has no money no one else has money. The wheat farmer blames the farm board on its threatening stores of wheat for part of his difficulty. Kansas has even begun to question the tariff that serves to keep up the price of commodities without benefiting either the man who produces them or the laborer who assists in the production.

Charles Curtis, the canny politician, has sensed the way the wind is blowing and is preparing to raise his sails in its wake.

Curtis is too smart a politician ever to try to sail a loyalty against the wind.
