

EXAMINERS PROFUSE WITH COMPLIMENTS TO LOCAL BANKS

ANNOUNCEMENTS

W. A. TITTLE ASK FOR OFFICE OF COUNTY CLERK

I take this method of announcing myself as a candidate for the office of County Clerk for Terry County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary in July.

I feel I am qualified to fill the office and if elected, pledge my very best efforts, to fill the place in a worthy, acceptable and efficient manner. Your vote and influence will certainly be appreciated.

W. A. TITTLE.

J. A. FORRESTER ANNOUNCES FOR COUNTY CLERK

To the Voters of Terry County: In announcing myself a candidate for the office of County Clerk, I want to say that I have considered the matter very carefully and am convinced that none have better claims for their candidacy, and I do not think they have as good.

Friends, I am a farmer and still love the farm, but you know that the only work that is satisfying is the work you do with your own hands.

You could not give me an office at a more opportune time and it will mean more to me than any other candidate offering for the office and you may be sure that no other candidate can appreciate the office so much.

I have lived here in your midst, a little over eight years, so you see I am not a stranger in Terry county. Since I believe my education is quite sufficient, I do not hesitate to promise to conduct the office efficiently and with satisfaction to all, believing I am competent, capable and qualified to hold the office if elected.

But friends there is not anyone, in all the world, who realizes, better than I, how I need your good-will and support in this race.

Friends I believe "it is my turn now." But if I did not think you were a good, fair minded people, I would not ask for office at your hands. It is my purpose and desire to meet every voter in Terry county, but whether I shall have the pleasure of knowing you well or perhaps not so well, I'll surely need your vote and help, and pardon me for saying once more, I believe "it is my turn now."

Sincerely yours,
J. A. FORRESTER.

MALCOLM THOMASON FOR SHERIFF AND TAX-COL.

To the Voters of Terry County: I take this means of announcing my candidacy for the office of Sheriff and Tax-Collector of Terry county, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries in July. I have been a citizen of Terry county several years, and personally know most of our citizens. Those whom I have not met personally, will try to see before the primary.

I beg a due consideration of your vote and influence in that you give my candidacy full investigation before you decide to cast your ballot. If elected I promise the very best of service I am capable of giving.

Very truly yours,
M. M. THOMASON.

M. H. BALLEW ASKS FOR OFFICE OF COMMISSIONER

I take this means of announcing to the voters of Precinct No. 4 of Terry county that I am a candidate for the office of Commissioner of this precinct. I have been a citizen of Terry county and the Happy community for the past five years as manager of the J. W. Turner farms. During that time I have met many of you, and the majority of the voters of Prec. No. 4 probably know me.

I believe that I am by education and experience qualified to fill this office, and will try to see all of you before the primary in July. Will state that if I am successful, I will try to render you the very best of service.

Yours very truly,
M. H. BALLEW.

TO THE VOTERS OF CITY OF BROWNFIELD

I herewith announce that I am a candidate for re-election to the office of City Marshal, I have served you in that office for past two years, and have been continually on the job, giving my entire attention to it. I feel that with my experience, as a peace officer, and with the knowledge gained by experience, with the City's affairs generally, that I can render even better service in this

TERRY COUNTY PEOPLE IN GOOD SHAPE FOR 1932

Just a Few Comparative Statements of Conditions Here and in Other Sections of the State. No Crops for Two Years. Many of their People are in Actual Want.

The Herald has no desire to boast about this or that and overlook the fact that many of our people had a hard time getting by in 1931, or that everything will be absolutely rosy hued in 1932. We know that some of our farmers, especially among the newcomers who had established no credit and had to go on their own resources, had a struggle to provide food for the family, and that in many instances their children could not dress well enough to go to school or out in society. But we also know that not having borrowed from local banks the Federal Farm Loan or bought on credit from the stores, their outlook for the new year is much brighter than last year. Most of them have paid back obligations, have some money in the banks; their children are in school now; the pantries are full of good food, and the yards and pens have cows, hogs and chickens—all their own.

On top of this, the two banks of Brownfield have lots of money on deposits, almost twice as much as some places we know of that have much more population than Brownfield and Terry county. More than $450,000 is on deposits here, and while we have not seen the statement of the Meadow bank, we are sure it will put the amount over the half million mark. This money belongs to the people of Terry county and the Brownfield trade territory, and it will buy almost as much goods as a million dollars would two years ago when we had some $750,000 on deposit. All the well established mercantile establishments are in good shape financially, and most of the credit houses have collected as well or better than some years when cotton and corn were much higher. The people have a huge feed and corn crop that will mostly go into fattening cattle, hogs and sheep, which in turn will be put on the market in the spring as finished meat.

Contrast this with conditions in other places: A gentleman told us this week that conditions in Oklahoma where he had been visiting was much worse than here. He informed us that two church organizations in the town where he visited had lost their buildings for foreclosure. One of them cost $18,000 and the other $20,000.

office next term. I am very grateful to my many friends, who have stood by me in the past, and shall do my best to serve in such a manner you will not regret re-electing me which I will appreciate very much.

E. (GENE) BROWN.

ASKS FOR THE OFFICE OF CITY MARSHAL

To the Citizens of Brownfield, Texas: I take this method of announcing for the office of City Marshal. I have been a citizen of Terry and Yoakum counties for the past 28 years, but have never asked for a public office, but the occasion has arisen that I need the job, and if elected I promise to make you a faithful official.

Your vote and influence will certainly be highly appreciated.

Very truly yours,
C. E. (CLIFF) FITZGERALD.

TO THE CITIZENS OF TERRY COUNTY, TEXAS

I take this method of announcing for re-election to the office of District Attorney of the 106th District, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in July.

In asking for this office for another term, I do so mindful of the grave responsibilities of the office, and of the enormity of the work connected therewith.

I believe that it will not be questioned but that my past experience in the office gives me such thorough insight into the many perplexing and responsible matters connected therewith, that by reason of this I will be in position to carry on the work of same perhaps more efficiently and economically than I could if it were not for this experience.

It will be my duty and my pleasure if returned to this office for another term to devote my entire time, just as I have always done, to the business of the office that is in the enforcement of your laws to the very best

We cannot imagine such conditions here. Another man who visited in the eastern part of that state said the condition of the people was pitiable as they had made no crops in two years. Their valley lands that once brought $150 to $200 per acre was offered now at $25, and the uplands that used to sell from $50 to $100 could now be bought from $6 to $10, but no buyers.

A gentleman was in the Herald office recently who used to make Brownfield regularly while traveling for a Dallas paper house. Up until recently he traveled for the same house out of San Antonio and in the Valley. His sales did not pay expenses and he was taken off the road. Banks were closed, mercantile houses made assignments, and many papers were suspended. He cited many instances in which the products of citrus fruits and vegetables from the famed irrigated valley lands would not pay the taxes, much less go any way toward supporting the family on these farms.

Is it any wonder that thousands of people are trying to get in shape to leave their present surroundings and get a place or a foothold on the Safe Farming Section of the South Plains? Who can blame them. It is easier to make a living right here than any place we are aware of. There are less people per population out of employment here than anywhere we can hear of. There is less distress among the people. In fact we know of no farm people who were here and made a crop last year that are in want or anything like it. Some like it. Some who have moved in to pull cotton are in hard shape as we have had so much bad weather. But this is not the case of people who have been here a year or more.

So brother, if you have a place and there is any chance whatever of your holding it, you'd better do so. The rush has already started. There are more people than places by far. Let us also drop another gentle hint. From this on, there is going to be such a demand for places in this section that a man that does not work a lot when he has it will not have an iota of a chance to get one. Get of my ability. My record for the past several years as an officer is before the people and upon this record I am submitting my candidacy for re-election. I appreciate the support shown me in the past and will be grateful for the consideration shown me in the coming election.

Sincerely yours,
T. L. PRICE.

HOGUE ASK FOR OFFICE OF ASSESSOR AGAIN

To the Voters of Terry County: I want to thank each and every one of you, for your vote and gave me two years ago. And am asking you for a second term. I will certainly appreciate your vote and influence in the coming election. If elected will try and make you a better assessor in the future than I have in the past, as I know more about the duties of the office.

Your friend,
T. C. HOGUE.

TO THE VOTERS OF PRE. NO. 1 TERRY COUNTY, TEXAS

I wish to announce to the voters of Precinct No. 1, that I am a candidate for re-election subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in July. I have in the Court room represented my corner of the County into the very best of my ability. Being fair to all and showing no special favors to any one. I have been as careful with your funds, as with my personal funds. And in helping to represent the county in larger circles, I have been as careful as possible for me to be. I have tried to divide up the road work equally over the precinct.

But for like of funds I have been greatly handicapped in doing what I would like to have done. I am very grateful to each of you for your past favors, and I now promise if elected to make you a better representative in the future than I have in the past. I feel that my knowledge of your

To Hold County Wide Seventh Grade Exams.

At the Teachers Institute held here in December, the subject of a County Wide Seventh Grade Examination was discussed, and soon afterward some of the rural school teachers met and planned a program for schools who wish to join in the movement.

The seventh grade is the most important of the pupils school work, and it is believed that this movement will stimulate an interest on the part of the pupil, will raise the standard of teaching and will unify the school system in the county.

The graduation exercise for seventh grade pupils in each school holding the examination will be in Brownfield. At this exercise there will be an outstanding speaker to give the graduation address, and each pupil will be awarded a certificate of promotion. There will also be special awards to pupils making the highest grades.

The examination questions will be standard tests furnished by the state, and the examination will be held in each local school, June 2nd and 3rd. Pupils passing this examination will be entitled to enter any High school in Texas without any question as to their previous training. Pupils will be examined in arithmetic, English, history, spelling, civics, geography and writing, and in either agriculture or hygiene. Promotion will not be based on the examination alone. The pupils daily grades and note book work will count 50 per cent toward promotion.

Teachers are asked to report to the County Superintendent each month the names and grades of pupils making an average of 90 or above, and this honor roll will be published in the Terry County Herald.

Some time near the close of school a picnic or some other form of entertainment will be given to all seventh grade pupils participating in this examination.

Schools who have not joined in this movement are urged to do so at an early date. For further information you are requested to apply at the office of the County Superintendent.

W. E. Thompson, A. P. Bowerman and Lee Fulton, Committee.

Rotarians Have Annual New Year Banquet

One of the most enjoyable meetings of the Rotary Club was staged last Thursday night at the Wines Hotel, when Mr. and Mrs. Terry excelled themselves by preparing a splendid dinner for the Rotarians and their wives. This was the annual New Year banquet in which the club members honor the Rotary Anns. All were on hand except Robert Drennon and wife who were visiting relatives in Grayson county.

The affair followed the printed programs closely, but several numbers were left open and these were used for various diversions in the way of cross questions and silly answers, etc. Among the numbers most enjoyed was the piano solos by Miss Fay Brown; reading by Miss Lenore Brownfield, and a couple of popular songs by Lee Brownfield, Mrs. Jackson at the piano. We had no idea that Lee could carry a tune in a sack, but he has quite a fine voice which will improve as he matures.

President Homer Nelson's address of welcome was short but to the point. Mrs. Tom Cobb responded in a very pleasing way, and we are sure that all the Anns feel as she does toward the club. Dick McDuffie responded to requests for a short address. Tom May read some poetry on the Hoover administration. Those present were: May, Ida and Tom; Bowers, Elizabeth and Bob; Nelson, Polly and Homer; Bynum, Lucille and Arnett; Shelton, Lillie and Ed; Stricklin, Texie and Jack; Cobb, Edna and Tom; McGowan, Elizabeth and Joe; McDuffie, Maureen and Dick; Collier, Ellen and Roy; Sanders, Fay and A. B.; Graves, Icy and George; Michie, Lillie May and Everett and Miss Flache and Royal Parish.

business affairs will be worth more to you than it has in the past. I earnestly solicit your vote and influence. Very Resp.

S. Plains Counties Are Producing Cotton

The Herald is giving herewith another report of ginnings of the same South Plains counties that we have been giving all fall, which combined are nearing the 450,000 mark and will likely run around the half million bale mark before the season is over. Some of the counties are getting further and further away from this county in the total number of bales, but Terry has held its place since the last report.

Indeed it has climbed up on Crosby considerably. When the last report was printed of Dec. 8th, Crosby was still more than a thousand bales ahead of Terry, but this report, of December 21, shows that Terry has crawled up to within 686 bales of Crosby, and will very likely pass them on the January 8th report. Herewith is the last report of the 17 South Plains counties:

County	1931	1930
Bailey	13,556	4,244
Cochran	2,808	(1)
Crosby	26,745	8,187
Dawson	42,612	31,399
Dickens	23,519	10,225
Floyd	10,187	6,913
Gaines	3,147	3,536
Garza	13,681	5,646
Hale	24,482	15,398
Hockley	47,245	25,079
Howard	24,739	15,889
Lamb	57,213	32,229
Lubbock	59,579	31,131
Lynn	42,134	26,085
Martin	11,639	6,379
Midland	6,695	(1)
Terry	26,059	21,620

The (1) indicates that only one gin ran in Cochran and Midland counties last year, and they were classed with (all other counties.) Gaines is the only county with report both years that is behind the 1930 ginnings.

Thormley Establishes His Own Repair Shop

J. G. Thormley this week in the columns of the Herald announces the opening of the Gulf Garage in the Spear building across the street west from the Tudor Sales Co. He invites all old friends for whom he did repair work while an employee of the Carter Chevrolet Co., to continue their business with him, as he says he is in a position to save them money on their repair bills.

He has made arrangements for a space in the Herald each week in which he will run special prices on some kind of repair work or washing and greasing, which will be good for the week following the appearance of that paper. All work will be done by Mr. Thormley personally, and will be guaranteed to give you the service you have a right to expect.

J. T. Auburg was in this week and said it was time to begin pruning the trees and vines. Says he has a fine little orchard started in the backyard.

KELLY SEARS BRINGS A FINE BOAR TO TERRY

Prize Winning Show Hogs on Both Sides of Ancetors. From the Best Herds on American Continent. Show Hogs For Local and Regional Fairs Expected.

Last week the Herald had the pleasure of telling you of a very fine bunch of turkeys brought to Terry by Frank Bozeman. This week we have the opportunity of telling you of another importation of blooded stock that is equally important to the growth and development of our matchless county. This week we are going to tell you about a fine boar that Kellie Sears has brought to Terry. In another part of the Herald Kellie tells you more about the purpose of this blooded swine. Read it.

Last week Kellie visited the fine herd of Mr. Thomas of near Hale Center, who breeds some of the best hogs on the Plains, or for that matter anywhere. Negotiations were completed, and Kellie returned here with one of the best year old boars in the herd, one that just suited him, and that tips the beams at 350 pounds. Kellie did not disclose the figures of his purchase, but when one reads the papers on this offspring of real show hogs, they do not have to guess that Kelly laid down quite a neat sum in order to

BROWNFIELD BANKS PRODUCE FINE STATEMENTS

One of the Best Balanced Statements Ever Shown By Banks in Brownfield. The Envy of Bankers of Other Sections Of the State. People Proud of Them.

Both the First National and the Brownfield State Bank put out statements this week as of December 31, as the Comptroller of Currency has made a call for statements of all National banks on that period for the past 14 years, we understand. All State banks in Texas, being members of the Federal Reserve system also make their statements conform to the same date. With that in view, the two banks here have issued condensed statements of their condition at that time.

We presume that next week the full statement of all resources and liabilities will appear in these columns but the boys were so anxious to get their statements before the public, corresponding banks and the other financial institutions, showing their splendid statements that they are out this week with condensed statements.

Recently when examiners were here they reported that the two banks here were in the best shape of any he had examined this fall and winter, and that he wished that all other banks were in the same shape. The people of this section have utmost confidence in their banks and the men who run them, and we have no stocking leg banks in this section.

True, the people as well as the banks have been instrumental in the good statements. The people have made fair to good crops here when failures glared them in the face further east. As a consequence, our people have not borrowed the huge amounts of money they have east of us, and none from the Federal governments. Of course the deposits are not so high as last year or two years ago when cotton brought from 10 to 15c and corn from 40 to 60c, but you will note that they have a very low loan at this time while the cash and deposits are high. Indeed, we cannot remember when the loans were as low as they are right now. What a contrast to some of the banks below the cap where loans in many cases are as high as the deposits.

The Herald gives you herewith the combined condensed statement of the two banks of Brownfield:

Total loans	$170,226.62
Total cash exc.	323,686.13
Total resources	569,598.52
Total deposits	456,184.52

You will note that their cash and exchange is almost twice that of loans, and that their resources are more than a $100,000 more than their deposits. No wonder they are proud of their statements. No wonder that the bank examiners were profuse in their praise. The Herald wishes it could make such a statement. We wish every business firm and farmer in Terry county could make such a statement.

Hunters Move Back—Buy Brownfield Dairy

J. C. Hunter has moved back to Brownfield from Lubbock to make it his home and has bought the Brownfield Dairy which was formerly owned by Tankersley & Sons. Hunter says he believes he can make a go of the dairy with the help of the citizens of Brownfield. He will sell and deliver to your business or residence, at the old price.

No matter what you pay for milk, if you get clean milk, you get cheap milk.

MARRIED

Last Wednesday night, December 30th, after prayer meeting, Elder A. L. Burnett spoke the words that joined in holy wedlock, Mr. D. R. Hester, of Bronte, Texas, and Miss Daisy Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bennett of the Needmore community.

Jake Warnick, who for several months has been with the Hunter Drug Store, has accepted a position with the Corner Drug store, to replace Walter Bond, who we understand will enter a medical college.

School Opens With a Swing After Holidays

After nearly two weeks of vacation, the Brownfield schools went into action again Monday morning of this week with a new vim and a new determination, not only to make every moment count, but to renew all efforts to hold the schools up to the high pinnacle that has been reached, and on which they have been placed by hard work and cooperation of all faculty members, students and patrons of the school, and so recognized by school authorities everywhere.

Several new students were found in most every room, but we have built well, and there is lots of room and lots of teachers and room for more if needed. These new pupils have all been duly welcomed and seem to have entered the spirit of the school to help all they can to make Brownfield one of the leading school towns in this section of the state. Let the good work proceed.

Let us again urge you to pay your taxes, this week—today. Your cooperation in this way is badly needed in order to keep the school going without a halt. Go over to the office of J. L. Cruce in the National Bank building today and do your part by the school. You'll feel better by so doing. What would the city and county be without their splendid schools?

Plainview Mayor is Injured in Accident

According to information received here Monday, Boyce Cardwell, mayor of Plainview, was injured in an accident which occurred near Vernon, last Monday afternoon. He and Walter Royalty of this city had been to Vernon on a business trip, and were returning to Plainview. They were on the highway, when a mule started across the road in front of them, and as they came closer to the animal he suddenly turned back, and ran into the side of the car on which Mr. Cardwell was riding. The side of the car was caved in and Mr. Cardwell received bruises about the body, and bad cuts on the face.

He was taken to a hospital at Vernon, and last reports indicated that he would be released from that institution and return home in a few days.

Mr. Royalty luckily escaped without injury.—Plains Progress.

Mr. R. C. Lott, of Lamesa, has accepted a position as pharmacist at the Hunter Drug Store. He informed us that he had a family, but they would remain in Lamesa for the time being.

Co. School Teachers In Big Basketball Meet

One of the most interesting ball games of the season will be played at the local gym next Thursday night. Two teams, one captained by the diminutive "Shorty" Hayhurst, Coach of the local High School, and the other one by Coach Bowerman of Sudday. The teams are composed of Terry county school teachers and coaches.

- Hayhurst's All-Stars: Hayhurst, Redford, Hooten, Ledbetter, Atkins, Lawlis, Jackson, Martin, Earhardt. Bowerman's All-Stars: Bowerman, Watkins, Snodgrass, Day, Scott, Dennis, Penn, Molycheck, Fulton.

These teams are chosen well enough to provide plenty of thrills and amusement—if they last. But it is certain that they can last long enough to furnish a few thrills at least. This game is being played to give the teachers practice in order to compete with other all-star teams from nearby counties.

Walter Bond entered Tech College Monday of this week, where he will complete a pre-medical course. He will later enter a regular medical college we understand, and complete his work as it is his intention to be a physician.

Shipment of Turkeys From S. Plains High

Seventy-three carloads of turkeys, averaging 20,000 pounds of dressed goods to the car, were shipped from Lubbock's trade territory during the 1931 season, according to the three wholesale poultry dressing plants here.

Birds Held Over Poultry dealers report a large number of farmers have held over birds, either for sale in January and February or for a larger farm flock due the coming season.

Last year there was a good sale of turkeys in January and February, lasting up into March. The market was equal to the holiday market and birds that were not properly fattened out before January 1, were fattened later and sold for good prices.

Turkey prices this year were higher than last, W. T. Johnston of the Titman Egg corporation, explained. "I think the average price this year was five cents a pound greater than last year."

No Increase Seen "I do not look for any higher poultry market than at present. I do know that farmers are making more in proportion on their poultry than they are on their cotton."

Tokio Talks

Our school reopened December 28. It seems as though the weather man has decided to give us another rap.

Miss Lena Roper has moved to Liberty in Yoakum county where she has employment for several days. Quite a few are through with their cotton for this time and seem to be proud of the fact.

Mr. J. A. Parks has fed a bunch of cattle for the last sixty days. They have made excellent gains and will soon be ready for the market. Rev. C. A. Allen filled his appointment at the Baptist church Sunday and Sunday night.

He announced that the Workers meeting for this district would meet with the local church Tuesday, Jan. 5th.

"THEY"

"THEY" ought to do something about the grade crossing where the whole family was wiped out yesterday.

"THEY" ought to clean up the streets and alleys in this town.

"THEY" ought to see about paving the streets and building sidewalks.

"THEY" ought to get more factories and industries located here.

"THEY" ought to be doing something towards improving living conditions in this town.

"THEY" ought to build more churches and schoolhouses.

"THEY" ought to provide better fire protection, and obtain reduction in insurance rates.

"THEY" ought to get the people to paint up this property, plant more shrubbery and beautify their premises.

Do you know why "THEY" are not doing all of these worth-while things? "THEY" are waiting for YOU to use a little of YOUR time and energy; waiting for YOU to loosen the strings of your pocket book a little and aid in the civic enterprises of the community. YOU are one of the representative men in your community. What have YOU done?—The Hub.

THE MACHINE AGE SPOILS A PROPHECY

By H. L. RUSSELL, Advisory Council, Agricultural Commission, American Bankers Association.

A NOTED British scientist forecast thirty years ago that by 1931 all available wheat land in the world would be under cultivation, and if the yields per acre could not be increased beyond that which then prevailed there would be a world shortage.

H. L. RUSSELL

The 73 cars totaled 1,460,000 pounds. At an average price of 19 cents, the turkeys brought $277,400.

Wheat farmers have shown no great inclination to curtail materially their output; perhaps a 10% decline compared with 70% reduction in steel. This unwillingness, or perhaps inability, to adjust production to current needs makes the problem all the harder to solve.

Not only are we now growing more wheat per unit of land, but acreage has been very greatly extended. In twenty years Canada has increased acreage 250%. Australia almost as much. Another significant fact is the materially lessened use of wheat. A much more diversified diet has developed. More vegetables and fruits are used than formerly.

Machines Increase Supply The factor that has exerted the most potent influence in this rising world flood of grain has been the rapid development of the machine.

Where it used to cost ten cents a bushel merely to thresh the grain, the modern combine cuts and threshes at a cost ranging from 3 to 5 cents a bushel. With this reduced cost of production, the possibility of acreage expansion is tremendous.

The Russian Effort Within the past two or three years another disturbing element has come into the picture. Soviet Russia is at tempting a comeback fraught with possibility that cannot yet be fully evaluated.

It is of more than passing interest that the wheat yields reported on the huge trust farm known as the "Giant" ran last year as much as 15 bushels to the acre. On this single farm the crop harvested is reported to have been 3,965,000 bushels.

There can be but little doubt that the Russian situation may yet assume quite a different attitude from what obtained even in pre-war days.

Work Begin on Negro School This Week

Bill Smith, negro leader in this community, was in this week to tell us that as soon as the weather dried up, they would be ready to put lumber on the ground for their new school building.

Their teacher, J. C. Coger, of Dallas came in last week, and will be ready to take charge as soon as the building is completed. He appears to be efficient and was well liked.

WEST TEXAS WOMEN ENTERS LITERARY FIELD A Texas woman begins 1932 by winning recognition in current magazine literature.

The Love Miser, a story by Mrs. Pearl Sullivan, wife of Hon. J. L. Sullivan, of Big Spring, prominent in the West Texas bar, and former district attorney, is featured in the leading place in All Story Magazine of January 15th, out Jan. 9th.

Oliver Hazard Perry gave the following message to General Harrison after his victory on Lake Erie in 1813. "We have met the enemy and they are ours,—two ships, two briggs, one schooner and one sloop."

Texas has wonderful resources—oil, cotton, lumber, wool, wheat, mohair, and others too numerous to mention. She has produced great authors—O'Henry's works now rank among the world's classics.

Mrs. Sullivan is a true Westerner. She learned to ride before she could spell. Her father is an honored citizen of the thriving Winter Garden city, Carrizo Springs.

Judge and Mrs. Sullivan have a wide circle of relatives, connections, and friends who will rejoice at the success that has come to this daughter of West Texas.

It would be a splendid thing if all automobile drivers would adopt a set of New Year's resolutions—and keep them. A few suggestions follow:

(1) I will make it a practice to drive prudently and carefully at all times.

(2) I will give due regard to the rights of others, who are as much entitled to the use of street and highways as I am.

(3) I will not be a road hog, nor drive on the wrong side of the road, cut corners or drive at high rates of speed when conditions are not favorable.

(4) At all times I will keep my lights, brakes, steering gear and horn in the best of condition.

(5) I will be watchful to do my part to prevent an automobile accident in 1932.

Many more suggestions will come readily to mind. Our annual toll of automobile fatalities is rapidly approaching the 35,000 mark—35,000 lives destroyed because of negligence and carelessness.

SWEETWATER GETTING READY FOR W. T. C. CONVENTION Sweetwater, Tex. Jan. — Preliminary plans for the 1932 convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in Sweetwater will be made at a meeting here January 11th of directors of the organization.

CORPORATIONS CANNOT PAY TAXES!

In spite of all the political bunk to the contrary, the giant corporations do not, in the exact sense, pay taxes. They cannot.

Our gigantic corporations have no magical means of producing money the air. They can get it only from the people to whom they sell their commodities or services.

Consequently, next time you hear political demands for taxing the rich to help the poor, dismiss them for what they are usually worth—nothing. It would be pleasant if it were possible, but the inexorable laws of barter rule otherwise—and they are laws that politics can't appeal.

Oliver Hazard Perry gave the following message to General Harrison after his victory on Lake Erie in 1813. "We have met the enemy and they are ours,—two ships, two briggs, one schooner and one sloop."

ROAD TAXES NOT BAD WISELY USED

Tax reduction and stimulated road building are not necessarily antipathetic. Only a small fraction of money spent by government goes to the cause of good roads.

We must beware, of course, of so-called "political roads"—those arteries which are built with public funds in areas where there is no need or excuse for them. We must beware, also, of building extremely high-cost pavements where low-cost surfaced roads will give good service.

Rural communities are being provided with weatherproof, year-round roads with bituminous wearing surfaces, at a cost of less than five thousand dollars a mile.

These are being built without unduly burdening the taxpayers and without plunging communities into debt. Their construction is a testimonial to the fact that good roads need not cause excessive taxation and unreasonable cost of government.

AMERICA'S WORLD RESPONSIBILITIES

By H. J. HAAS

President American Bankers Association WE are in a changing world, with many new financial problems for which we have no precedents, and many old problems which have so changed as to be unrecognizable.

Let us look to the future with confidence. Every one has experienced a great sorrow some time, perhaps so great we felt we could never overcome it, but time is the great healer and eventually we have come out of it.

I venture to state that in each of these periods there were those who had doubts of the future just as we have them today, but what happened after each depression? Our country recovered, to be better and stronger than ever.

Surely our people are better prepared, financially and intellectually, to cope with even greater problems than they have been in the past.

Confidence is not established by any one thing but by an accumulation of things. If we can get confidence started on its way, gathering a little here and there, it will accelerate its speed as it goes along.

BUY AT HOME—ALWAYS?

"Buy at Home" is an empty slogan unless the merchant practices what he preaches and not only sells at fair prices, but through advertising and other means lets his townsmen know they can do as well at home as in the neighboring city.

Such are the conclusions of Paul W. Horn who presents the "pro and con" of community loyalty in the December Rotarian Magazine. He writes:

"It seems to me to be perfectly clear that when all things are equal, it is better to buy your clothes and groceries and hardware and other things you need from the folks at home.

"On the other hand, it behooves the local merchant to see that you can do just as well at home as you can do elsewhere. He cannot reasonably expect you to patronize him if by doing so you are making a considerable sacrifice.

"For instance, if you are willing to pay fifty dollars for a suit of clothes, it is far better to pay that amount to your local clothier than it is to pay it to the merchant in a distant city, provided, of course, you get a suit that is in every way just as desirable.

"I would go even further and say that I would rather pay fifty-two dollars to the local merchant than to buy the identical article from a man in a different place for fifty dollars.

"But, on the other hand, if the local merchant asks me fifty dollars for the suit, and if I know that I can buy the identical, same suit in the neighboring city for thirty dollars, I should be very much inclined to pay the thirty dollars. Wouldn't you?

"And, if the local merchant really can sell me any clothing at as good a price and as good a quality as can anyone else in the world, I think it is up to him to make it perfectly clear to me that he can do so."

"OVERPRODUCTION" HIS THEME SONG

Secretary Hyde has a theme song. It is "Overproduction." He signs it without variation in every public speech and in every release from his office to the press.

We wonder if it has ever occurred to our Honorable Secretary that a great deal of our overproduction is a direct result of underconsumption, and that underconsumption is the product of a selfish interpretation to govern in our dealings with each other and with the Nations of the world.

Secretary Hyde, in our opinion, is correct in his conclusion that other industry will not prosper until agriculture is revived, but we do not agree with him when he lays stress upon his only solution, and that is: Reduced production.

JUAREZ MAY OFFER DIVORCE IN ONE DAY

El Paso.—Lawyers in Juarez Mexico, were informed today the Chihuahua Legislature had passed a bill which permits divorce in one day when both husband and wife agree.

Attorneys predicted Juarez will become a rival to Reno, Nev. when the new law goes into effect. They pointed out travelers may cross the line from El Paso and dissolve the bonds of wedlock between trains.

It was reported the law also facilitates divorce on other principal grounds—adultery, desertion, cruelty and incompatibility.

Every man succeeds in finding a satisfactory reason for his follies.

PUBLIC INJURED BY BANK GOSSIP

National Association Declares Community Interests Demand Protection Against Idle Rumors

BOTH in their advertising and in their direct contacts with customers and others, bankers should "consciously and persistently devote more time and thought to keeping people mindful of the fact that while the bank has many obligations toward its customers, equally it is true that the depositor also has certain obligations to the bank to enable it to properly maintain its position in the community."

"A bank admittedly is a semi-public institution and there is a mutuality of obligation resting upon both the banker and his customers to maintain the effective functioning of that institution that is superior to the personal interests of either," it says.

Bankers might well consciously devote greater effort to building up the public viewpoint in their communities that due to their public obligations and burden of public interest, the banks are entitled to protection against ill-informed or malicious gossip and rumors, the statement says.

"As to banks in some states, bank slander laws afford this protection," it points out. "We recommend that this protection be availed of by definite action wherever practical both as a matter of immediate expediency and also to awaken public opinion as to the dangers of idle gossip about a community's banking institutions."

What Can Be Done Farmers should rid themselves of any false hope of outside aid from legislation. The only recourse left for the producer on a reduced price level is to produce his goods at reduced costs, and nearly every farmer can likely put into force a few economies in production. Farmers must produce as largely as possible the materials they use, and get away from cash purchases until prices come down proportionately on the things they buy. The cheapest way in the farming business is to raise your own feed and not let the other man get your dollars.

It looks like the Herald is always getting in bad and can never suit all people. For instance Supt. A. B. Sanders was not the least bit suited about our report on their latest arrival. Instead of a girl it was a boy, and instead of Christmas day, it was the 27th of December. The treat is ours.

An exchange received this week says the reason he isn't making any effort for a railroad is that they don't need them, as there have trucks and busses. We are sure that editor was really joking. We are also sure that the trucks and busses are rendering his town a good service. But if the tracks of all the railroads on the south Plains were torn up tomorrow, what would we look like in six months?

We had a long letter from Mr. Harvey Firestone this week giving us his version of his fight with mail order tire dealers. Harvey intimated that we could use all or any of his stuff if we cared to. We don't care to do so Harvey. You are spending your money with the big magazines advertising your tires. Perhaps they will use your letter, too. Anyway, our space is worth 30¢ per inch if you wish to use it. You and your methods don't look any better to the Herald than the mail order methods.

No expense should be spared by our government to locate and bring to justice the low down measley anarchists who planted the bomb that wrecked the Easton, Pa. post-office, and took the lives of two postal employees. A bunch of lowdown freign curs who will take such steps to kill their own countrymen who have different political affiliation and endanger the lives of real Americans, have no business of life, liberty and pursuit of happiness. They ought to be hunted down like rats and hung as high as Haman.

Many of us bemoan our hard luck. We make ourselves and our friends miserably with our hard luck stories, when lots of us have had no hard luck. We've just merely had to lay off luxuries for awhile and confine ourselves to necessities of life, and we think we have been badly mistreated by Lady Luck. We read this week of a completely paralyzed and totally blind man in Oklahoma who was formerly music instructor in a university of that state, but who had not given up as helpless. Indeed he still teaches quit a class in voice, although he can hardly get his mouth open enough to take food. Several times in the past year he has successfully put on Handel's Messiah at local churches in his town. Isn't this enough to forever silence some of us big bellyachers.

William Randolph Hearst tried to hand Texans a package lately over a radio hookup from Los Angeles that was not very graciously accepted. While the package contained a bouquet for John Garner, it also had a brickbat for Woodrow Wilson, whom millions of Texans will admire. In complimenting Champ Clark, who was also a great Democrat, Hearst had, he thought, to slander Wilson. Even if Mr. Wilson had not been greatly admired, Texans who not have appreciated slander of a dead man. Southerners as a whole forget men's deeds when they pass on and let their ashes rest in peace. Of all the slanderous things that have been said about the late President Warren G. Harding, it was all dug up in the north. The south will hardly repeat it, even though Harding was a political opponent to most people of the southland. No, Mr. Hearst, Texas loves John Garner, but it hates a slanderer, and your sop is handed back to you unopened.

M. C. Chambers dropped in this week to renew for his Herald and had it sent a year to his landlord—the best one in the world according to Chambers—at Austin, Texas. Although hailed out in July and had to replant, Mr. Chambers is gathering 25 bales of cotton off about 50 acres.

Ben Bilyard was brought home Tuesday of this week, and while a little worse for the wear, is doing nicely. We also note that Ben is off a number of pounds.

Voter's Calendar Show Important Tex. Dates

Editor's Note: All candidates as well as others who may be interested should clip this out and file it away for future reference.

Operation of election machinery, with its regulation of the qualification of voters, methods of nominating candidates, rules for the nominees themselves, and provisions for balloting, is of especially wide interest during presidential campaign years.

For this reason, Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, Secretary of State, has prepared for the Associated Press a voter's calendar for 1932, listing all the important political dates. The significant dates given for the year are as follows:

Jan. 31—Last day to secure poll tax receipts and certificates of exemption for 1932 voting.

Feb. 8—Election judges appointed by Commissioners' Court.

March 10—Last day for tax collectors to make reports to county clerks showing poll tax payments.

April 1—On or before this date tax collectors furnish county election boards with lists of poll tax payers and exemptions.

May 7—Primary (presidential) conventions held in precincts for election of delegates to county conventions.

May 16—County (presidential) conventions held for election of delegates to state (presidential) convention.

May 16—State executive committee of any party which cast as many as 10,000 and fewer than 100,000 votes in next preceding gubernatorial election shall meet and decide if candidates for state, district and county offices are to be nominated by convention or primary election, and shall certify such decision to the Secretary of State.

May 24—State (presidential) convention held to name delegates to national convention.

June 6—On or before this date, candidates for party nominations, including candidates for county chairmen, file applications for place on primary ballot.

June 9—Chairman of the State Executive Committee notifies members to meet June 13.

June 13—State Executive Committee meets to select place of meeting of state convention and to attend to other matters.

June 14—Republican National Convention meets in Stadium in Chicago. (Date for Democratic National Convention will be determined in January.)

June 18—Last day for candidates for offices within counties, including districts within confines of any single county, and candidates for county chairmen to file for places on primary ballot.

June 20—County executive committees meet to determine order of names on ballot, estimate cost of primary and apportion cost. A ballot, or primary, subcommittee of five is appointed.

June 23—First day to file first statement of campaign expenses.

June 25—Last day for candidates to pay ballot fees.

June 27—Last day to file first statement of campaign expenses.

July 2—Primary committee meets to prepare ballot.

July 8—First day for absentee voting.

July 10—First day to file second statement of campaign expenses.

July 14—Last day to file second statement of campaign expenses.

July 18—Tax collector delivers to county executive committee chairman list of voters.

July 19—Last day for absentee voting.

July 21—County clerk sends absentee votes to presiding judges.

July 23—First primary.

July 23—Precinct conventions.

July 27—Returns made to chairman county executive committee.

July 28—First day for filing first expense account for second primary.

July 30—County conventions held and county executive committees meet to canvass returns.

Aug. 1—Last day for candidates to file first expense accounts for second primary.

Aug. 2—Last day for candidates to file last expense accounts for first primary.

Aug. 4—Presiding election officers seal and deliver ballots to county clerk.

Aug. 7—First day for absentee voting in second primary.

Aug. 8—State executive committee meets to canvass returns and commissioners' court may form additional election precincts.

Aug. 8—On or before this date, publication of proposed constitutional amendments must begin.

Aug. 18—Last day for candidates to file second expense accounts for second primary.

Aug. 22—Tax collector delivers list of voters to chairman county executive committee.

Aug. 25—County clerk sends absentee votes to presiding judges.

Aug. 27—Second or run-off primary.

Aug. 31—Returns made to chairman county executive committees.

Sept. 3—Date for county and precinct chairmen to assume respective offices after declaration of result of run-off primary by county convention by out-going committee.

Sept. 6—Last day for candidates to file last expense account for second primary.

Sept. 8—Presiding election officer seals and delivers ballots to county clerk.

Sept. 10—County clerks certify to Secretary of State the nominees in one-county districts.

Sept. 12—State executive committee meets and canvasses result of run-off primary.

Sept. 13—State convention meets.

Oct. 1—Poll tax payment begins for following year.

Oct. 19—State committee chairmen and secretary certify to Secretary of State names of candidates for president and vice-president.

Oct. 19—Absentee voting for general election begins.

Nov. 2—Last day for voters who have moved to obtain corrected poll tax receipts.

Nov. 3—Tax collector furnishes lists of voters to chairman county executive committee.

Nov. 4—Last day for absentee voting.

Nov. 8—General election. Polls open at 7 a. m. and close at 7 p. m. in counties of 150,000 or more and open at 8 a. m. and close at 7 p. m. in other counties.

Nov. 11—Returns made for president and vice president of the United States count as votes for presidential electors.

Nov. 14—Commissioners' court canvasses returns and county judges certify to Secretary of State election returns.

Nov. 18—Last day to file final expense account reports.

Nov. 18—Secretary of State, Attorney General and Governor canvass returns for presidential electors.

Dec. 18—Secretary of State, Attorney General and Governor canvass returns for state and district offices.

Jan. 9, 1933—Presidential electors meet.

ADVERTISING ON THE AIR

Commercial broadcasting in Canada have entered into an agreement permitting no advertising over the air "other than the mention of the sponsor's name, address, and nature of his business or product." This decision, it is well to note here, was only reached after an investigating commission had recommended government ownership of all radio facilities.

The United States may have to follow Canada's example. Those who predicted a bright future for the radio as a medium of education and entertainment are beginning to entertain serious doubts. It is true that the Ohio School of the Air, and other educational projects have been successful, notwithstanding opposition on the part of those who saw in such interference with the commercial advantages to be gained by using the time for expounding the advantages of So and So's toothpaste, interspersed with crooning lullabies.

The most desirable "listening hours" for the radio-owner are from 7 to 11 in the evening. Naturally this period is most sought after by advertising sponsors of programs. A few discriminating advertisers use good taste by confining their appeal to the name of the company and the product. Others, by far in the majority, go to greater lengths, until an evening's twirling of the dial brings forth a devastating medley of jazz combined with a narrative of the merits of products or service.

The judicious advertiser is already beginning to wonder if his programs really are based on what his audience likes. He is also beginning to wonder if the regard for his product on the part of his audience is not often in inverse ratio to the number of times it is mentioned on the program.

Some far-sighted advertisers are even revising their methods with favorable results already apparent.—Rotarian Magazine.

CITATION
 THE STATE OF TEXAS,
 To the Sheriff or any Constable of Terry County Greeting:

You Are Hereby Commanded to summon Lee Haywood by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day thereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest County where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Terry County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Brownfield, Texas, on the 3rd Monday in January A. D. 1932, the same being the 18th day of January A. D. 1932, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 15th day of December A. D. 1931, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 1621, wherein S. J. Treadaway and Elsie L. Treadaway, Executives of T. L. Treadaway Estate, are Plaintiffs, and Lee Haywood is Defendant, and said petition alleging:

That on or about the 1st day of December A. D. 1931, plaintiffs were lawfully seized and possessed of the following described land and premises, situated in Terry County, Texas, holding and claiming the same in fee simple, to-wit:

The Middle 40 feet of Lots 4, 5, and 6 in Block 2 of the original town of Brownfield, Terry County, Texas, being 40 feet East and West by 140 feet long North and South.

That on the day and year last aforesaid defendant unlawfully entered upon said premises and ejected plaintiffs therefrom, and unlawfully withheld from them the possession thereof, to their damages $500.00.

That the reasonable annual rental value of said land and premises is $200.00.

That on March 26th, 1931, the defendant Lee Haywood, made, executed and delivered to T. L. Treadaway his one certain installment Vendor's lien note for $347.45, payable to the order of T. L. Treadaway, at Brownfield, Texas, in monthly installments said note provided that when default is made in the payment of any installment when due should at the election of the holder mature all of said note, and also providing for 10 percent attorney's fee if placed in the hands of an attorney for collection, and bearing interest at the rate of 10 percent per annum, and secured by a Vendor's lien on the above described property.

That defendant defaulted in the payment due for the months of May, June, July, August, September, October, November and December 1931, and the plaintiffs in their capacity have declared the same due and payable, that the plaintiffs have placed said note in the hands of an attorney for collection, and have agreed to pay him 10 percent attorneys fees specified in said note.

Plaintiffs pray judgment of the Court, for the title and possession of said above described land and premises, and that of execution issue, and for their rent, damages and costs of suit, and for such other and further relief, special and general, in law and in equity, as they may justly be entitled to receive, and they will ever pray.

Herein Fail Not, and have you before said Court at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given Under My Hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Brownfield, Texas this 15th day of December A. D. 1931.

GIVES NATIONAL ECONOMIC PLAN

By ROME C. STEPHENSON Former President American Bankers Association.

R. C. STEPHENSON

WE hear much of future economic planning to save the nation from a repetition of depression and promote more stable business activity. I know no better plan to suggest to insure future better times than that every wage earner, every family and every business throughout the country lay down as soon as they are able a program of proper savings as the foundation of their financial policy.

I know of no better plan than this to build for the nation as a whole a stronger economic situation, that is, through a common structure of individual working, earning and saving. And I know of no better plan to revive activity in a depression than to spend a proper volume of past savings to keep the momentum of business going. But unless there are savings in prosperity there cannot be spending during depression.

Those who practiced this plan during the past period of prosperity have a security and a protection against present adversity that could be provided in no other way. Those who did not are the ones who are now most dependent upon others. If there had been more preaching of this doctrine when it was more feasible to put it into effect than it is now, there would be less depression and less financial insecurity today.

However, while there should have been more emphasis on savings during prosperity, a measure of the emphasis today might properly be the other way—at least to the extent that those who can safely do so may well increase their spending instead of overdoing their saving. While many have seen their earnings fall, there are millions who have not suffered so seriously in respect to the real purchasing power of their incomes. If we listened to all the scare stories of the day, one might get the impression that everybody was out of a job and nobody's business was earning anything. Many of our people who are able to continue a normal program of prudent buying are curtailing their expenditures beyond reason.

A Business Stimulus

The sum total of this unreasonable curtailment of spending is an economic influence contributing to the stagnation of trade. By the opposite token, I believe the resumption of normal spending on the part of those who are able to do so would be an important tonic toward the stimulation of trade. I do not mean by this that we should have indiscriminate spending merely for the sake of spending, but the very motive power of our economic life is the interchange of goods, and unless we have that we cannot have prosperity.

I strongly believe that we are at that point in the depression stage of the business cycle that any sound stimulating influence will start a real movement in the direction of a return toward prosperity. So much of the weakness of the old state of affairs has been liquidated, so many misadjustments corrected and such large volumes of our consumers' goods have been used up or worn out that the pressure of necessitous purchases must sooner or later be felt. When that time definitely comes we may consider it the first impulse of a new era of normal business.

When Government Aids Agriculture

Demand for relief, agricultural or otherwise, comes naturally from those who feel most keenly the impact of economic pressure. Those most affected by quickly to government for aid. But too frequently agencies set in operation by governments simply postpone inevitable readjustments. The basic laws of supply and demand have never been permanently and successfully set aside. So in general governmental intervention that artificially stimulates prices or even maintains them when the prevailing economic situation obviously shows that readjustments are inevitable are expedients that yield only temporary relief rather than permanent cure. Porous plasters may relieve pain for the moment but they rarely get at the seat of the real trouble.—H. L. Russell.

When army worms threatened the crops of Marshall County, Tennessee, information concerning the pests was made available by the College of Agriculture, and bankers immediately took steps to organize a war against the common enemy, calling mass meetings in their communities where complete facts and helpful recommendations for eradication could be put before the greatest number of people possible. This timely action saved the destruction of many fields of crops.

Our good friends, Aesculapias, of Meadow, has been sending in some renewals of late. But take them at one dollar Aesculapias until we notify you, as we are sending it to all Terry county and Yeakum county people again for a dollar until times are better. Those you have sent in at one-fifty, however, have been credited for 18 months on their papers. We hope this is satisfactory.

Clark Gable Garbo's New Leading Man

Pair's Romantic Interludes Highlight of "Susan Lenox"

The answer to many a maiden's prayer is to be found in the teaming of Greta Garbo and Clark Gable in "Susan Lenox, Her Fall and Rise," which opens Sunday at the Rialto Theatre.

It was a happy and wise decision that made the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer officials cast this engaging newcomer opposite the famous Swedish star. Gable is right at the top of the ladder in the estimation of fans and his work in the Garbo picture would seem to assure his early bid for stardom.

Garbo is magnificent as the heroine of the David Graham Phillips story which Robert Z. Leonard directed. The famous novel was adapted for the screen by Wanda Tuchock with dialogue written by Zella Sears and Leon Gordon. Modernized as it is, the dramatic regeneration theme makes ideal material for Garbo. In the opinion of most reviewers she accomplishes the greatest individual characterization of all her talkie efforts.

Leonard's fine direction keeps the picture moving at a rapid tempo, reaching a gripping climax after a most novel cross-section showing the disintegration of the girl who climbed from obscurity to power due to her consuming love for the man who first led her astray.

THE OLD YEAR

Time, which is eternal, again prepares to change the number plate over its door. Rusted by the rains of depression and often through with the acids of adversity, the numerals that identified 1931 will be torn down and in their place will be fixed the bright and shiny, "1932."

Human beings, who are neither so wise nor so far-seeing as they pretend to be, will celebrate the death of the Old and the birth of the New Year according to their established custom. Every thinking one of them will entertain the hope that by some sort of mysterious magic the New Year will restore prosperity and happiness.

Stripped of all the artificialities that have been introduced by man, 1931 would have been a year of splendid prosperity. Nature did all that nature could do. She filled the world's granaries with wheat and corn, and piled warehouses high with cotton and wool; but man has devised a system which decrees that people shall starve in the midst of plenty. Man is never so poor as when he produces most, never so hungry as when his larder is full.

He has deified gold which he can neither eat nor wear. His currency is valued not by the wheat and cotton in government warehouses, but by the gold in government vaults. In one part of the world miners of coal starve for want of bread, while in another growers of wheat shiver for want of coal. Yet of coal and wheat there is so much that governments pass laws restricting production and planting. Thus has man's wisdom made want of natural plenty and depression of natural prosperity.

1931 was a year for which the people of earlier times would have thanked their God. It was a year in which we sophisticated moderns resorted to bread lines and community kitchens.

Perhaps years like 1930 and 1931 are necessary to prove to us the error of our ways. Perhaps they will teach the futility of hoarding gold and burning wheat, of starving in the midst of plenty. Certainly these years have provoked people to thought and compassion; certainly they have narrowed the gulf that lies between this man and that; certainly they have proved the utter fallibility of arbitrary, artificial economic standards.

Out of the experiences of years like 1930 and 1931 comes the knowledge that should make years like 1932 and 1933 really prosperous and really happy. Unless, in the e trying years, we lost faith and hope, we lost nothing that really matters.—Editorials Of the Month.

W. A. Tittle was in this week to go in his announcement and reported that Mrs. Tittle was doing fairly well at present.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

The New Year started off fine last Sunday. The attendance was better than it was the first of last year. We are hoping, planning, working and praying to make this the best year yet in the work of the Lord. The young people made wonderful growth last year and we are expecting greater this year.

A fine resolution for every member to make: "I will attend every service this year that I possibly can."

We hope to reach fifty in attendance at the mid-week Bible study this month. The "Acts" is the book we are studying. Come and be with us.

The Sunday morning combined service begins promptly at 10 A. M. and closes at 12 P. M. I will preach at Union school house next Sunday at 3 p. m.

Come to the friendly church and worship.

R. P. Drennon.

STERLING MAY BE CANDIDATE AGAIN

Austin.—Governor R. S. Sterling left the impression that he would be a candidate for re-election in the Democratic primaries next July in an interview with newspapermen today.

He would not say directly that he was a candidate but his replies to questions were all but a clear-cut declaration.

"One sentence in your Christmas greeting statement to the people of Texas left the inference that you would be a candidate, that declaration being that you expected to get out and see the people during the coming year."

AMERICANISM SAVED BY PUBLIC SCHOOLS

During the past twenty years the public schools have practically eliminated illiteracy and materially raised the general level of intelligence.

They have supervised the health and safety of the Nation's children to a much greater extent than ever before, and to their great good.

They have absorbed the great flood of immigration which inundated the country, and kept it American.

Through courses in vocational education they have prepared young people for specific trades and have increased the earning power of those thus educated.

Our great advance in material prosperity can be ascribed in part to the higher educational levels and thinking to which the work of the public schools has raised the masses.

—Roger W. Babson.

Mrs. J. M. Tinkler and two daughters have moved here from Fort Worth, and are occupying a farm just south of this city. Her brother, Ralph Byrum will cultivate the place. They will read the Herald and Star-Telegram.

Marvin Jones on the Issues of the Day

Radio Address of Marvin Jones Delivered Over NBC Network

Our government has passed through the formative period. Its foundations were properly laid. The past at least is secure.

But the present and future hold the things that are real moments to those who are living today. It is fitting and proper that we should study the lessons of the past, and that we should profit by the experience of those who have gone before.

But with these lights before us we must meet present day problems.

This is the strangest time in American history. With only six per cent of the world's population and one-twentieth of her geographical area, we produce one-half of the world's finest steel, sixty per cent of her cotton, sixty per cent of her automobiles. There is an abundance of food, feed and clothing within the four corners of this fruitful land.

And yet business is at a standstill. Many people are in want, and millions tramp the streets in idleness. The prices of farm products are far below the cost of production. It is a time to analyze, to take stock, and to endeavor to find what is wrong with our system of distribution. We cannot blame all of our troubles on the world conditions.

Centralization
It is apparent that there has been too much centralization in government. It is growing top-heavy. It is too expensive. These expenses must be cut. Bureaus must be eliminated. The same applies to state governments and subdivisions thereof. Some of these have increased in even greater proportion. There must be a revival of old-fashioned economy all along the line.

There has been much talk of this over-centralization in government, and properly so. I am glad to note that there is a swing back in sentiment.

But there has been an even greater centralizing in business. It has outstripped the centralization in government. In fact, the ever narrowing control of money and business has been largely responsible for the centralizing of government. At least the two have gone hand in hand.

This has tended to destroy individual initiative. It is gradually taking away personal opportunity.

The philosophy of Alexander Hamilton, carried to the extreme by the Mellon financial regime, is responsible for much of our present day conditions.

There has been too much talk of doing something for foreign countries, of moratoriums, loans and financing, and not enough of placing our own house in order. Our primary responsibility is to ourselves and our own people, although of course the contacts cannot be ignored.

Special Advantages
For many years the manufacturing interests of America have been laboring under the banner of protection. During all these years the farmer and the ranchman have had very little protection.

We produce a surplus of cotton, a surplus of wheat, and a surplus of other major farm commodities. No direct tariff can place these commodities on a basis of equality with other tariff-laden articles.

The entire system should be re-adjusted in such a way as to remove, in so far as possible, this inequality, and restore to the farmer what is now taken away from him in the form of increased prices on tariff-laden articles.

When you destroy the purchasing price of agriculture, a slow creeping paralysis will naturally begin to effect other portions of the economic body.

There are discriminations in our freight rate system. When industrial commodities are shipped abroad, the freight rate is reduced to encourage exportation.

One of two courses should be pursued: Either agriculture should have similar reduction, or the reductions now accorded industries should be removed, so that the entire freight structure may be readjusted, and thus all commodities treated alike.

If it is right to encourage the exportation of iron and steel and farm implements by reducing the railway rates on exportation, why would it not also be wise to make these reductions apply to wheat and cotton?

A long-established wrong does not become a vested right.

Behind tariff discrimination, behind a discriminatory freight rate system, in the shadow of a non-functioning Department of Justice, in the presence of a silent Chief Executive, this country has developed too many mergers, combinations and trusts. The law is being flouted and almost wholly disregarded. These are not idle words. They are cold facts.

Financing
Too much of the financing of the country has been by the issuance of excessive bonds, excessive common stock, the pyramiding of holding company upon holding company and the selling out of these stocks and bonds in such a way as to require excessive changes if returns are to be paid on this system of financing. Some of these stocks and bonds have been sold throughout the country, which complicates the situation.

The decentralization of business as well as of government, the restoring of individual business opportunity, the placing of small factories in the outlying sections alongside the farm community, the uniting of the two in mutual interest, the stopping of excessive short selling, the entire revamping of the money system so as to do away with the control and dictation of a few men are some of the things that must be brought about. Here lies the sheet anchor of our Republic.

In the readjustment, there should be a greater amount of local control of local ownership, and local production of the needs of the country. This statement is not made in hostility to any business concern or institution, big or little, but the large concerns, as well as the smaller ones, should comply with the laws of the country in carrying out their business operations.

Immigration
We decry Communism, and properly so. Any person, who being unable to persuade the majority to accept his theories, advocates the use of the bomb or the torch or other violent means of forcing his ideas upon an unwilling majority should be deported. The further admission of such characters should be prevented under Immigration laws, which should be strengthened in every possible way. About either of these propositions there is no difference of opinion among good citizens.

An Equal Chance
But while doing this without stint or limit, we should use every effort to remove from our laws those injustices which are sometimes a fruitful cause of discontent. A country in which every citizen has equality of opportunity is not a fertile soil for wild theories.

The gravest danger of our country is not the soap-box orator—bad as he sometimes is. Let us not mistake the form for the substance. The most insidious danger is the selfish, complacent men who undertake to get an unfair advantage in the economic fabric of the country.

These matters are not mentioned for the purpose of discouragement, but to stimulate thought. All of us have been in some degree responsible. We have been living in a jazz age, with a spirit of "Sally in the Moonlight, by the watermelon vine." But people are thinking and are becoming more interested in the principles of government. This is encouraging, as governmental affairs are always better administered when the people take an interest.

However, if all discriminations were removed, the problems would be half solved. After all, people must work out their own salvation.

Artificial methods usually fail. This is the experience of our own as well as other lands.

After equality is established a real contribution can be made toward the solution for the farm problem by the promoting and finding of new markets for farm products and the waste products of the farm. The great packers have made most of their money out of the by-product of their industry. The same program can be applied to farm production. Local factories should be established throughout the Nation near the centers of production of our great raw materials, so that these may be put into the finished form without expensive long shipments. Industry and Agriculture will thus dovetail into each other and will furnish an immediate market for each other.

It will do no good to whine about conditions. We have the resources the production, the genius and the energy. There is no shortage of labor or supplies. We have mastered the machinery of production. The problem of this day is the mastering of the machinery of distribution. I have implicit faith in the history, traditions and institutions of America, and in the mettle and stamina of her people. She will meet this problem face to face and solve it.

Economic Policy Commission of Bankers Association Points Out How 22,000 Banks Protect Public Interest

OVER 22,000 banks all over the United States are "quietly and efficiently serving their communities, helping tide many business enterprises over their difficulties, helping create the economic activities that mean payrolls and spending power in their homes of influence, and faithfully keeping guard over the working capital and savings funds of their depositors," the Economic Policy Commission of the American Bankers Association says in a recent survey, adding:

"It surely stands strikingly to the credit of the banking profession that, during a period of unparalleled international economic depression, this vast majority of bankers have so competently, so courageously and so successfully met their difficulties and obligations. The effects of the drought, the demoralization of agriculture, the stagnation of industry, the breakdown of trade, the inability of so many heretofore desirable customers to meet their obligations to the banks, the impairment of public confidence by mob-scares and false rumors resulting in unreasoning runs, the abnormal depreciation of quoted security values even in the most wisely conceived investment accounts, the utter collapse of real estate values—all these things have occurred on a nationwide and worldwide scale with unprecedented severity."

"The effects of every one of them have assailed the banks with destructive force because they are of the very essence of a bank's economic substance. Yet, as we have shown, the great bulk of our banking deposits has been protected without harm, and our banks in a vast majority have continued to serve, support and strengthen their customers and their communities with unflinching and unconquered devotion."

WOULD ALTER OUR FINANCIAL HABITS

By ROME C. STEPHENSON
Former President American Bankers Association

THE most constructive action that can be taken toward bringing about greater stability in our business life is the development of a more balanced attitude in the minds of all of our people in regard to the right relationship between saving and spending. There is more practical, workable economics in the sentence: "Save during prosperity so as to be able to spend during depression," than in a whole library full of charts and tables and books on political economy.

I do not believe it is an impracticable dream to bring about an era of more intelligent saving and spending on the part of our people. It is not impossible to change the habits of the population. It has been done in many lines. The habits of our people have been improved and the health of the nation promoted in many ways by consistent programs of advertising and education that have brought about better hygienic understanding and practices.

The medical profession has virtually banished the scourge of some diseases by persistent, intelligent campaigns of preventive sanitary measures and inoculations, requiring new understandings, new habits among many millions of our people. Also a large part of this evolution of public health improvement has naturally developed through the intelligent advertising of many products that have to do with bodily care. I refer to the manufacturers and distributors of such things as more healthful shoes, more effective toothbrushes, food products with more wholesome values of nutrition and countless other practical ideas that have become commonplaces of our daily business life,—and that have become a part, too, of the very texture of the personal habits and health of great masses of our people.

If it has been good advertising and good business for so many of our national producers to spend millions of dollars thus to inculcate new habits of personal hygiene and personal care, is it not good business and good advertising for our banking interests to lay similar stress during the next period of prosperity upon better financial habits and customs of our people?

Bankers above all are interested in stable, wholesome business. They have much to gain by a state of sound financial health among the people, and most to lose by epidemics of economic maladies such as have swept the country during the past two years.

The man who has in better times been favored with too much credit rather than not enough is finding it is hard to pay his interest now with low prices for his products or labor.

THE NEW SPANISH FLAG
The new Spanish Government has added a band of violet to the red and gold of the old Spanish colors of the monarchy. The band of violet was placed in the flag according to popular rumor, because this color is the symbol of Castilian liberty.

WELLMAN

Having just passed over the line into a new year we are wondering what this new year will bring us and very few are thinking about what we are going to bring to this new year. We are wishing it will be a Happy New Year and we think it will if every one will keep smiling.

Sunday Rev. Claude Allen filled his regular appointment with the Wellman Missionary Baptist church. There were five additions to the church.

Monday was given as a holiday to the schools. Those who spent the holidays out of town returned home reporting they had most enjoyable holidays.

Mrs. C. A. Wilhite visited her parents of Dallas.

Mr. C. A. Wilhite visited with his brother-in-law of Lubbock.

Mrs. H. T. Wilkins and children spent the holidays with her parents who live at Ackerly.

Mrs. Brown of Fort Worth, who spent the holidays with her daughter, Mrs. W. M. Schroeder of Wellman, will spend a part of the winter here. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Crews entertained a large number of young people at their home Monday evening. Entertaining games were played and everyone enjoyed the evening.

Tuesday school opened after the holidays with few of the pupils attending. Parents, when taxpayers and others think enough of your children's education to make the sacrifices they do to provide schools and keep them going, isn't there something you can do to help your boy or girl take advantage of this opportunity?

Friday evening the boys and girls played Seagraves teams and lost by scores which were not so bad considering that some of the team were unable to go and others got in from the boll-patch just in time to get there and suit out.

Thursday Mrs. Bowers from Bledsoe with her married daughter visited their sister and aunt, Mrs. W. D. Moon.

Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Hudson purchased a piano from a Lubbock music man. Friday evening the Juniors and Intermediates met at the home of

Register Your Car In Your Home County

In the last issue of the Hockley County Herald, printed at Levelland, Editor Baldwin said something great. He is always writing something good, but this was so well said that we are passing it on to Terry county people, for it applies to them as well as to Hockley county people. Here it is:

"According to recent regulations, the fees for registering cars and trucks go to the road fund of the Commissioners' precinct in which you live, if registered in your own county. Register your car in your home county and help build and maintain roads in your immediate locality."

Deputy Sheriff E. L. Cannon spent several days at Anton and Ropesville last week registering cars, many of which have been registered in other counties in previous years, to the detriment of the road funds in their own locality.

While it may be some trouble to visit the county seat sometimes, it pays to be loyal to your own community. Increased property values in your own county means decreased taxes. Counties like men, have a reputation and the better it is the more pride we take in telling strangers where we live. Land values are increased convenient to good towns and markets, good churches and schools, and good roads. Let every citizen feel that he is one of the many who has moved here to help make Hockley County the best in West Texas. Patriotism, like charity, begins at home, and it is the co-operative effort of the people that make a country great."

Crowell—Rialto Theatre opened. Gracie Moon and played games. The Bible Study Class met at the Church of Christ Friday evening. Rev. Drennon from Brownfield is conducting an interesting class there every Friday evening.

Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Alva Christopher entertained the young people at their new home west of Wellman.

Conoco Says Newsp'r Ads the Backbone

The Continental Oil Co. is one of the biggest newspaper space users, especially in the country newspapers, being a runner up of Chevrolet and other big users. They have spent much money advertising in the Herald the last few years, which is highly appreciated, as this money in turn is turned into the channels of trade here in Brownfield by the Herald on groceries, dry goods, wages, taxes and other necessary things. Whereas if it were all spent in radio and magazine advertising like some of the big oil companies are doing, Brownfield people would never get a penny advertising money from them.

Nearly every home dealer would much rather have their share of advertising appropriations spent locally, as this helps them in selling their products here. Very few people read the oil ads in the big magazines, as few of any magazine have any circulation to amount to anything here.

We have talked with a number of local dealers, and know whereof we speak. In the last several years, the Continental has spent several hundred dollars for ads in the Herald. Their local dealer appreciates this, and shows his appreciation by inserting his paid ad directly under the regular continental ad. This fact has been favorably commented upon by the company officials who have written the Herald that they note their local dealer is tying up with their ads.

That the Continental people are pleased with their local newspaper space is verified by the following quotation in a letter received from them recently from the company:

"We consider our newspaper advertising the backbone of all of our advertising activities and when some reduction was necessary we trimmed everything else long before we touched the newspaper list."

We might also add that while the Continental Oil Co. is one of the youngest of the big oil companies, its sales are now close to the top. This shows what advertising in local papers have done for them and will do for others.

The Public's Interest In the Railroads

The newly published year book of the United States Department of Commerce contains an interesting diagram showing the disposal of the average railroad dollar in 1930. Of this dollar, taxes took 6.6 cents; fuel for locomotives, 5.4 cents; materials and supplies, 18 cents; while into the pockets of labor went 44.6 cents.

No other illustration, perhaps, can so convincingly show the tie-up that exists between the railroad problem and the general problems now affecting the public. Millions of men, women and children depend for their livelihood directly on the railroads. Millions of others indirectly receive part of their livelihood from the rails through gigantic purchases of supplies from other industries—purchases totaling more than $1,000,000,000 a year. An appreciable part of our unemployment is undoubtedly due to the fact that railroad employment is now below normal.

The unregulated or partially-regulated competing transport systems which have developed during the past decade, have caused a great decline in rail business. Here is something for the intelligent public to consider—not merely out of sympathy for the railroads, but in justice to itself. Unless taxation and regulation are equalized for all forms of transport, the greatest employer of labor and purchaser of materials and supplies we have, may come to ruin.

A. C. Copeland of Yoakum county, was in Saturday and reported that the prairie chickens were destroying a lot of his feed. He says there are not less than 300 in his field.

One Dose German Remedy Ends Gas

"I was sick and nervous with indigestion and stomach gas. One dose of Adlerika helped. I eat anything now and sleep good."—Henry Dodd.
You can't get rid of indigestion or gas by just doctoring the stomach. For gas stays in the UPPER bowel. Adlerika reaches BOTH upper and lower bowel, washing out poisons which cause gas, nervousness and bad sleep. Get Adlerika today; by tomorrow you feel the wonderful effect of this German Doctor's remedy.—Alexander Drug Co. Inc.

What's New in the New Chevrolet Six

When you read what's new in the new Chevrolet Six, you, too, will agree it's the Great American Value for 1932: Syncro-Mesh and Free Wheeling combined for the first time in a low-priced car! Engine and chassis improvements that raise performance to new heights of power, speed and smoothness! The finest Fisher bodies Chevrolet has ever introduced. And the same qualities of reliability and economy that have won the approval of millions of Chevrolet owners. All these you will find in the new Chevrolet Six at one of the lowest prices in the market! That's why the new Chevrolet Six is called the Great American Value for 1932.

Syncro-Mesh Transmission
This well-known feature of high-priced cars brings new handling ease and car control to the low-price field. Syncro-Mesh permits you to shift gears with marvelous quickness, quietness and ease. As a safety factor, it is especially valuable. For it enables you to shift rapidly from high back into second, any time you want to use the engine as a brake.

A Safer, Improved Six-Cylinder Engine
New thrills await you in the Chevrolet Six—new power, pick-up, smoothness and speed. For Chevrolet's valve-in-head engine now has down-draft carburetion, a new cylinder head, new manifold, a counter-balanced crankshaft and rubber mounting, features that increase power 20 per cent to 60 horsepower.

Simplified Free Wheeling
Chevrolet Free Wheeling is a new and advanced type, extremely simple in construction. You may take advantage of its thrills by simply pressing a button on the dash. Until you pull the button out again, you are "in" Free Wheeling. You coast along on momentum, when your foot is off the accelerator. And you shift with magical ease.

65 to 70 Miles an Hour and Faster Acceleration
New features in Chevrolet's six-cylinder engine enable it to develop 65 to 70 miles an hour and give it a stop-watch acceleration from 0 to 35 miles in 6.7 seconds.

Distinctive New Front-End Appearance
A new chromium-plated radiator, built-in radiator grille, double tie-bar, trumpet-type horn, and bullet-type headlamps form a striking front-end ensemble.

Stabilized Front-End Mounting
A new method of mounting front fenders, lamps, double tie-bar and radiator to the frame—exclusive to Chevrolet—gives a fine feeling of steadiness on rough roads.

Smart New Fisher Bodies
The new Fisher bodies are the smartest ever to appear in the low-price field. Their famous wood-and-steel construction is even stronger and quieter. All occupants enjoy greater vision.

Down-Draft Carburetion
The down-draft carburetor is a big factor in Chevrolet's finer performance. An intake silencer and heat control device are combined with it for greater quietness and efficiency at all speeds.

Finger-Touch Front Seat
An interesting convenience in the Fisher Bodies is the new adjustable front seat. A touch on a lever enables you to move the seat to any position. This is exclusive to Chevrolet in its field.

And the following Chevrolet features that have won the approval of millions of owners: Powerful Four-Wheel Brakes... Hydraulic Shock Absorbers... Semi-Elliptic Springs... Full Length Frame... Insulated Driver's Compartment

EXTRA! Complete Picture Story of Slayers of 6, Who Met Death in Houston Tuesday!

"WE'RE DEAD, COME ON IN!" These were the last words of Harry and Jennings Young, who were found, Jennings dead and Harry dying, on the floor of the bathroom in the house where Tuesday Houston and Harris county officers besieged them. Escaping after mowing down six officers in a massacre at a farm fortress near Springfield, Mo., the Young brothers fled to Houston, their old home. The exclusive photo above shows Harry Young, mortally wounded, being rushed to a hospital. He died five minutes later.

Escape Car of Young Brothers

First intimation that Harry and Jennings Young had fled to Texas after ambushing and killing six Springfield officers and wounding three more Saturday came Monday, when this car overturned near Streetman, Texas. H. D. Carroll, above, farmer living near by, offered to aid the two men who were in the car, but they had caught a ride when he returned with his mules. Investigation proved that the car, bearing Missouri license plates, was stolen. The two men appeared wounded, Carroll said, and the guns Carroll holds were found in the car.

House Where Slayers Made Last Stand

Here is the home of J. F. Tomlinson, Houston carpenter, where Harry and Jennings Young, slayers of six officers in a pitched battle near Springfield, Mo., Saturday night, either shot each other or themselves rather than give up to Houston and Harris county officers who surrounded the house Tuesday. Tomlinson rented the fugitives a room Monday, and after seeing Harry's picture in a Houston paper Monday night, took his family elsewhere for the night and reported his suspicions to police. The photo above was taken just as officers entered the house, armed with machine and riot guns.

Jennings Young

He refused to leave his brother's side, and the two of them held a farm house fort against 500 officers and civilians who sought to arrest or kill them Saturday near Springfield, Mo. They escaped in the mules, but either killed each other or themselves three days later when cornered at Houston, Texas.

Harry Young

Wanted for murder, Harry Young, with his brother, Jennings, barricaded themselves in a farm house near Springfield, Mo., shot it out with officers who attempted to arrest them, killed six and wounded three. Their subsequent escape to Houston, Texas, and their deaths are told in the other photos.

Dr. G. S. Webber was brought home the latter part of last week. He is doing quite nicely now although confined to his room.

Rev. O. E. Johnson of Tahoka, was in our city Tuesday in company with three other Tahokaites we failed to recognize.

Bill McDonald was down from Meadow the first of the week to pay his taxes.

J. W. Rentfro, prominent citizen of Meadow, was down Monday.

Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Bell and family have moved back to Brownfield to make this their home. They have tried other places two or three times but always return to their first love. Welcome.

Mrs. Butler, of Lubbock, was here over the week end visiting her mother, Mrs. Bert Shepherd and family.

We have it on good authority that W. E. Henson has finally capitulated and joined the local coffee club.

It seems that some have not learned that Joe McGowan has moved his office to the Hotel Brownfield building. He is on the ground floor and first door west of the Corner Drug Store.

K. B. McWilliams reported the first of the week that the Co-ops had received 6,562 bales here this season.

C. A. Armstrong, of Seagraves, was a visitor in the city the first of the week.

Glen Akers believes that we had our coldest weather Monday night and Tuesday for the winter.

YOUTHFUL NOTABLES

Foreign Minister Grandi, who made such a favorable impression during his stay in the United States, has been a leading figure in Italy for several years, although he is now only 35. His youthful ability has been the subject of much comment, and has recalled notables of the past who attained great fame at an early age, a few of which may be mentioned.

Alexander the Great had conquered virtually the entire known world before his death at the age of 32.

William Pitt became prime minister of England at 24. Viscount James Bryce finished his great historical work, "The Holy Roman Empire," before he was 24. Ruskin wrote "Modern Painters" at 24.

Michaelangelo did his statute of David at 26. Keats died at 25, Shelly at 30, and Byron at 36.

Newton was only 24 when he formulated the law of gravitation.

Hume shocked the Christian world with his writings before he was 28. Mendelssohn wrote the incidental music to "A Midsummer Night's Dream," including the famous wedding march, at 17.

All these, and many more illustrate in greater or less degree that elusive quality called genius, which neither science nor philosophy has ever satisfactorily explained.

Mr. and Mrs. Balk of Plainview, were here the first of the week looking after the property of her father, W. T. Bakley who died suddenly recently at Wellman.

Tom T. Thompson says he believes he has finally secured a place suitable to him in the Harmony community, just west of the one his brother, Ed, is on.

Bryan Lane wants his many friends to know that he is back from the hospital and wants them to call and see him. Good, we'll tell 'm Bryan, and hope they give you the grand rush.

By the time a man has been in a pantry five minutes he has uttered sixteen complaints about the way the house is managed.

Stinnett—Contract to be let Jan. 15 for improvement of road through Hutchinson County from Hansford County line to this city.

SHERIFF'S SALE

STATE OF TEXAS, COUNTY OF TERRY.

Notice Is Hereby Given That by virtue of a certain order of sale issued out of the Honorable County Court of Terry County, on the 19th day of December 1932, by Rex Headstream Clerk of said Court of the sum of six hundred eighty-six and 79/100 Dollars and costs of suit under a foreclosure of attachment lien in favor of W. H. Burden in a certain cause in said Court, No. 481 and styled W. H. Burden vs. Clyde Briley, W. G. Briley and H. H. Winn, and placed in my hands for service, I, J. M. Telford as Sheriff of Terry County, Texas, did on the 3rd day of January, 1932, levy on a certain Real Estate, situated in Terry County, Texas, described as follows, to-wit:

The East fifty feet of Lots 7, 8 and 9 in Block 2, of the Original Town of Brownfield, Terry County, Texas, and levied upon as the property of H. H. Winn and that on the first Tuesday in February, 1932, the same being the 2nd day of said month, at the Court House door of Terry County, in the town of Brownfield, Texas, between the hours of 10 A. M. and 4 P. M., by virtue of said levy and said foreclosure of attachment lien I will sell above described Real Estate at public vendue, for cash, to the highest bidder, as the property of said H. H. Winn.

And in compliance with law, I give this notice by publication, in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale, in the Terry County Herald, a newspaper published in Terry County.

Witness my hand, this 4th day of January, 1932. J. M. Telford, Sheriff Terry County, Texas. 23c.

TAKE A LOOK Inside This Bread

"Open the door and peek in." So goes the childhood rhyme, which we're stealing for this occasion. We want you to peek inside one of our loaves of bread. Notice its even texture, its lightness and freshness. That's because its made of only the finest of ingredients in the finest of bakeries. And the crust is, of course, unbeatable—crisp, browned to a turn, and firm. Bread like this spread with butter makes a delicious meal all by itself.
