CHISHOLM BROTHERS OPENING UP NEW STORE

One of the Finest and Most Convenient Grocery Stores in This Section of the Country to Be Formerly Opened Tomorrow. Receiving Congratulations of Many Friends.

Carpenters, painters and plasterers are working extra hours this week in order to have the new Chisholm Bros. store ready for their customers Saturday and Monday. The new store was made by taking out the partition between the present store and the corner store formerly used as a dry goods store. Two entrances will be provided in the front and one on the east side, making it convenient for the customers to get in or out at all times. This is one of the best lighted stores in this section of the country, having 68 lineal feet of plate glass, or 484 square feet.

Room For Customers To Visit
Customers who come in long distances and don't see their friends often will have room in this big store to stand and talk to each other without being in anyone's way, or having to move. It also gives plenty space for everything to be so displayed that customers can see and examine what they are buying without being crowded. The front part of the store will have a floor space of 2500 feet, and no stands, counters or racks will be so jammed together that it will be hard to move about them. Each kind of groceries, fruits, vegetables, confection, etc., will be departmentized, as it were, and one will be able to find what he wants instantly.

Rest Room For The Ladies
In the rear of the store proper, and against the wall that separates the ware rooms from the store, in this balcony will be located the offices and bookkeeping department of the store. From this balcony it will always be easy to see customers when they come in and see that there is some one on the floor to wait on them instantly. This was not possible with the offices in the rear and cut off by a wall. Under this balcony a rest room has been provided for ladies where when they become tired can retire with the children. It will be provided with a lounge and chairs.

Modern Meat Cutting Department
A thoroughly modern meat cutting department is being installed, including one of the latest electric slicing machines, and a full line of fresh and cured meats will be kept at all times. This will be in charge of Lester Clements. Mr. Chisholm informed us that cattle and hogs as well as feed were too cheap now to try to give anyone anything but the best meats, and that it was their intention to supply their customers with the very best.

An effort will be made to provide all the little folks who visit the store with a souvenir. Everyone, old or young are cordially invited to visit this big new store whether they wish to buy or not. They will expect you either Saturday or Monday.

Highway-Railroad Meeting Here Tues.

A meeting of representatives from towns through which the proposed Texas Pacific Northern was to have passed, was held here Tuesday at the Hotel Brownfield, following a banquet given by the local Chamber of Commerce. While only Big Spring, Lamesa, Levelland and Littlefield had representatives here, some of the other towns sent letters and agreed to have a part later. A temporary organization was formed with Arthur P. Duggan of Littlefield as President, and J. E. Shelton of this city, Secretary.

One of the points of the meeting was to get State designation for the Panhandle North and South Highway, from Big Spring to Vega to pass through all the towns which the T. P. N. was to pass. It is believed this can be easily secured as it has already been tentatively designated, we understand. Of course connections will be made at Lamesa with an already designated highway.

Another object of the meeting was to start an organization to later be made statewide if possible to try the constitutionality in which the I. C. C. can arbitrarily stop proposed railway building all of which is to be built in any one state. This move will seek endorsement of all the regional chambers of commerce, and when sufficient force is behind it, a test case to remove the Interstate Commerce Commission will be filed.

New Phone Directory To Go to Press Soon

Mr. F. A. Robinette, district manager of the Southwest Associated Telephone Co., was over this week from Tahoka, and while here completed a deal with the job department of the Herald to put out 300 copies of New Directory. Meadow and Ropes will be left out of the Brownfield directory this time.

As soon as special material can be received from Dallas, this directory will be printed. In the meantime, if you do not have the correct listing of your firm, or if your initials or the spelling of your name is wrong, get in touch with the local telephone people, and it will be corrected in the new directory.

It has been the policy heretofore to have all these directories printed in Dallas. But Mr. Robinette says they have found that they can have them printed in the shops of most of the larger towns in which they operate just as cheaply and as good jobs as they get anywhere.

Veterinarian Locates Office In Brownfield

Dr. I. L. Vaughn and J. T. Maxey, of Lamesa, were over this week looking out a location for the offices of Dr. Maxey, who will have charge of the office here. Both men have had years of experience in their chosen profession, and have practiced in some of the best animal and dog hospitals. Dr. Maxey will be located at the Smith Hotel, two blocks north of the square, and his phone No. will be 23.

They will keep on hand at all times a full line of serums and medicines for livestock, and treat all curable diseases of animals. They also keep a supply of dog vaccine, which will immunize your dog against hydrophobia, which in turn is a protection for your entire family. There is no known cure for this disease after it has taken hold.

They also treat animals for so-called "sand colic" of which there is so much in this country. They do this by cleansing the system of the animal before he gets down with colic.

Light Rain Fell Here Last Friday Night

A light rain fell in this section last Friday night, beginning about ten o'clock, which according to the government gauge amounted to 41 hundredths of an inch. From reports received over this territory, this was more than was received in some places and less than in some others. In fact, some reported that they must have received toward three quarters of an inch, while others said they did not have more than enough to run off the house.

The rain was followed by two days of as hard sandstorms as have blown this year, and so far as the good the rain did, it might as well not have come, as the two days of raging wind dried out all the moisture. Monday was a nice day, but as we write this on Tuesday morning, it is blowing quite hard from the southeast and may be trying to stir up some more rain clouds.

A rain that measured about a third of an inch Wednesday noon, was still misting as this goes to press. A strong wind is coming from the southeast, and heavy rain clouds are floating over. It is believed we will get a good season before it is over. Much cooler, and a fire feels good.

STILL LATER: The rain came Wednesday afternoon, beginning about six o'clock, and lasting more than an hour. The government gauge here showed two inches from that rain alone. Rain earlier in the day gave us 2.25 inches this week.

Jarrott Brothers Ship Out Some Fine Lambs

In conversation with Dick Jarrott here last Friday he informed us that he was shipping that day to the Kansas City market one of the finest cars of fat lambs that they had ever fed out, and that he expected to get the top of the market for them. He had been shipping mostly to Fort Worth, but the market at that point seemed to be pretty well supplied.

Dick informed us that as matured ewes were rather low on the market in range condition, he had about decided to ship in several cars of them and try fattening them, as he still has lots of feed and nothing to eat it. It was reported here that day that hog buyers had orders not to ship in any more hogs from here to the packing centers as the market was glutted. Good hogs were reported to be bringing only 3.60 at Fort Worth that day.

Brownfield Population Is About 21 Hundred

Just for his own knowledge, Rev. J. M. Hale, pastor of the First Baptist church has been making a canvas of the city of Brownfield, and he believes that he has very accurate figures on the matter, especially of the white population. He did not get out of the incorporate limits of the city for any family listed, and he believes his figures are entirely reliable. He found that a total of 1986 people lived within the incorporate limits.

He tried to get the colored population too, but ran into a snag, as he says they thought he was trying to run some kind of "shenanigan" on them, and questions were ignored or inaccurately answered and he gave it up as a bad job. However, he turned this over to the negro teacher and other colored leaders, and he believes they will get a fairly accurate report. Inasmuch as they have some 40 scholastic, he believes their population will run about 120 or enough to put the total population of Brownfield to about 2100.

Rev. Hale says that he did not try to give his or any other denomination any preferences in his report, but when a predominant number of the family was for any church preference, he put it down that way. He listed them as families and found them to be as follows:

Denomination	No. Families
Baptist	96
Methodist	94
Church of Christ	68
Presbyterian	29
Christian church	16
No. Preference	33

Singing Convention Is Well Attended

Despite the fact that one of the worst sand storms of the year held away Sunday, a good crowd attended the quarterly Terry county Singing Convention at the high school auditorium Sunday, and had one of the best singings in the history of the convention, which is now more than ten years old.

Many good singers from a distance, as well as local people were on hand. A good start was not had until the afternoon, as bad weather kept people from gathering early. But good progress was made in the afternoon.

U. S. Highway To Be Favorite Of Tourists

Lubbock, Texas, April 29.—U. S. Highway No. 62, that runs from Niagara Falls, N. Y., to El Paso, Texas, via Brownfield and Lubbock, Texas, goes through nine states having a population of 46,573,000 and through 88 counties having a population of 4,305,258, figures compiled by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce indicate.

The highway just designated in 1931, crosses every national highway in the United States with the exception of three.

With an all weather road now from Altus, Okla., east to the Niagara Falls, with the exception of a fourteen mile stretch in Arkansas, the highways offer usual inducements to motorists all along the line. In Texas, several unpaved strips are rapidly being put in shape and when present paving projects are finished next year, a forty-five mile stretch from Brownfield west to the New Mexico line will be the only unpaved link in Texas.

Scenic attractions on the highway rival those offered by any other federal highway, including the Niagara Falls at the east end, the Mammoth Caves of Kentucky, the Ozark Mountains of Missouri and Arkansas, the famous Plains of Texas, the Carlsbad Caverns of New Mexico and the International city of El Paso, Texas, and Juarez, Mexico.

Seven Attended Bankers Meeting From Here

President R. M. Kendrick, of the First National Bank and two sons, Clovis and "Speck," also Cashier Dick McDuffie of that bank, and W. H. Dallas, President, Leo Holmes, cashier and James H. Dallas, Assistant cashier, of the Brownfield State Bank all attended the South Plains Bankers Association at Lubbock last Thursday. San Jacinto Day, at the Hilton Hotel. They report a good session and a wonderful time.

The principal address of the day was delivered by Pres. John Owens of the Republic National Bank, of Dallas, and his subject was "Government in Business." While the speaker took no sides of the question, he gave the facts for the listeners to draw their own conclusions, and was reported to be worth going miles to hear.

After a banquet at the Hilton and a short round table business session, a dance the rest of the afternoon was provided. B. Reagan, of Big Spring was elected president, John Doyle of Levelland, vice-president and Paul Hardwick of Lubbock was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

GREAT CROWDS EXPECTED HERE AGAIN MONDAY

Good Rains Have Now Fallen and Prospects are Flattering for Another Bumper Crop. Much Trading Expected. Merchants Ready With Many Bargains.

Well, the time for the Trades Day has rolled around again and your friends are all going to be here Monday and expect to meet you at that time. They tell us that they are all going to have on their trading clothes, and not only that, but are going to have some nags and other things here that day to trade. So bring in what you don't need. You may meet the very fellow that needs what you don't need and will take it off your hand. On the other hand, he may have just what you have been looking for—a bargain.

There may be an added feature this month. Some of the farmers who have extra good breeding stock, such as stallions and jacks may bring them in for inspection. We hope that a little purse may be made up among the farmers and others who like good stock, for a little free for all contest to see who, according to judges have the best stock. A little later, probably the first Monday in June, there ought to be several colts, and perhaps we can have a colt show and a calf show. The Herald is in on it each month a dollar—two if need—two help put over this feature. Just send a man around to collect it. However, we believe this feature should be worked up by the farmers and entirely under their management unless they call in help from others to judge.

Then too, the merchants tell us that they are going to have some real bargains for that day such as you have never seen before. They are now well stocked up on spring goods and such prices! You have not seen such dry goods and grocery bargains since the nineties. Practically every kind of business in the city is going to have some kind of special concessions in prices on that day whether they advertise them or not. Even the barbers will give you an extra smile, for faces are not quite so long as formerly.

Everybody says business is getting better, especially in the east. Bad business hit them first—us last. They will naturally feel a change for the better a little while before us. But merchants tell us it is better here too, already.

Meet us on the square of Brownfield, Trades Day.

Buy From The Herald— Bawled Out by Peddler

City Secretary Roy Herod was over this week to get some printing done, and he showed him a sample of the 20,000 run of receipt books that the Herald is finishing up for the city this month. Roy was well pleased with the work, saying that it was just as good, nice and substantial as the order was that was put up by the big printers in the big town somewhere in the U. S. A.

But, boy! say Roy, I sure got a good bawling out for that. Thought sure was going to get pitched right out on my ear. One of the printing peddlers wanted to know what in h—l I didn't hold that order for him again. Roy said he finally bristled up with enough courage to tell him that anytime the city of Brownfield felt that they could not run any longer without his advice that they would send for him. He left the office in a huff.

But Roy don't seem to be bothering his mind over the loss of this Friend (?) any. Roy knows full well that the Herald will be boosting and pulling for Brownfield and Terry county many days when this guy is far removed from here across the state perhaps. He knows the Herald will be working for the good of Terry county perhaps far into the night lots of times when this bird is playing dominoes in some big city hotel.

Brownfield and Terry county looks no better nor receives no more considerations from these big city firms than any of the other 254 counties of the great state of Texas. All they are after is the money they might receive from orders. On the other hand, the Herald does not divide its allegiance; it is 100 percent for its home towns and its home county.

More People Are Buying Goods From Home Folks

People are fast learning that the safest thing for them to do is to buy from the home merchant. He knows that if anything is not right with the purchase that he can take the goods back to the place where he bought it the next time he is in town and either get his money back or an adjustment. This seldom happens, but will sometimes happen, for the best of manufacturers will occasionally make a shoe or a garment that defects in the material or workmanship does not show up till it is worn awhile.

But people have in the past when conditions were more prosperous gone to other towns to buy goods, especially to the larger cities. It seemed quite the thing to tell a friend that this or that came from Phillymayork or Dallfortus. Others ordered from mail order concerns, and neither condition was confined to the rural people—not by a jug full. In fact, merchants tell us that people who have businesses and cars and have to make frequent trips to the larger towns were the greatest offenders in this line.

Now a suit of clothes costs a dealer just as much in a big city as it does the little city dealer. The only difference is that the big city man buys a somewhat larger stock. But his overhead is greater and he can sell no cheaper than the small town man. If your local dealer does not have what you want in a suit—for instance in color, he will be glad to order for you, and with air mail now in vogue, he will have order in from even St. Louis in about three days, and its costs you no more than if you had selected it from stock.

Ned Self of the Collins store informed us this week that the people were giving the local merchant more breaks on suits this year than ever before since they had been in business, and other dry goods men here have varied this in the past few months. Sure he gets a profit—so does the big town man. The only difference is that if Collins, Legg, Jones, Cobb or Clyde Lewis gets the profit, it remains here and is spent for something they need with you and you and you. But if you spend it in Sanfrancalla, it is good-bye forever.

RODEO PERFORMER SHOT TO DEATH AT ODESSA

Odessa, Texas, April 25.—Lucien (Lam) Dunne, 28, well-known rodeo performer, was shot to death early Sunday.

Howell Reincier, cafe owner, surrendered to police but refused to make a statement. He will await action by the grand jury next month.

Dunne, who was living with relatives here, was shot once in the forehead.

TOLERANCE

John F. Grant, Republican candidate for the governorship of Texas recently made the rounds of west and north Texas. He visited every newspaper office on the round and was accorded no end of courtesies with a lot of free publicity thrown in for good measure.

Had such a candidate made such a visit not many years ago, democratic publishers would have waved the "bloody shirt" and called the people to arms. The victim would have been a fit subject for mob law. Instead of courteous mention, he would have been viciously condemned on general principles.

Not so today. Mr. Grant is an affable gentleman filled with a patriotic spirit and a desire to serve his state where he has made his fortune. Many newspaper men as well as voters to a large extent, believe the state would be infinitely better off with two contrasting parties strongly entrenched, each keeping a watch on the exponents of the other to the resultant good of public weal. We are at least more tolerant if no better.—Clarendon Leader.

The Home Going Of Miss Anna Long

When Miss Anna Long went home to be with Jesus on April 19th there passed from the walks of men one of the greatest Christians that it has ever been my privilege to know.

Miss Anna Long was born in Clifton, Bosque County, Texas. She was educated in the two Baylor's, having received her A. B. Degree in Baylor college at Belton then her Master Degree at Baylor University at Waco. She served twelve years as a Foreign Missionary in Old Mexico. She then returned to the states and taught three years in the Spanish department in Baylor University, then one year in Buckner Orphans Home and had been teaching here in Brownfield four years at the time of her death.

I count it a genuine joy to have had the privilege of touching her great life. Our church doors never opened for any of our regular services but that she was there. Her religion was as real to her as her own existence and was so to the end. Two days before she went away she asked me to read to the church for her the 23 Psalm and said that she was learning a new meaning to that beautiful Psalm. She said that she was holding communion with her Lord that He came and talked to her face to face. And I believe that it was so. Surely He whom she loved so devotedly and served so faithfully came in that last hour and put His everlasting arm beneath her and held her fast. David said He would Psalm, 23:4. Stephens experienced it and so did Miss Long.

She was a Missionary in faith and practice. When she had to leave Old Mexico she adopted a Mexican girl and educated her out of her small salary and prepared her to carry on the work that she so much loved. She was a liberal contributor through our regular church budget and when she would get a little money ahead we would find a check for $20.00 or $25.00 designated to Foreign Missions. She gave all to Him who gave all for her. She gave her life in beautiful consecrated service; she gave all she made to her church and to missions and in death she left her life insurance plicy of $3,000.00 to the Foreign Mission Board.

She sleeps in God's acre, the city of the silent but her beautiful life will be forever cherished in the heart of those who knew her.

Her Pastor, J. Matt Hale, A. B. 26, Brownfield, Texas.

Sell 17,452 New Chevrolets in 10 Days

Chevrolet dealers sold 17,452 new and 26,573 used cars during the first ten days of April, H. J. Klingler, vice-president and general sales manager, announced.

The performance was the best for any ten-day period this year and exceeded sales during the first full ten-day period following the announcement of the present line of cars on December 5, Mr. Klingler said.

He reported that the April sales mark was 4,000 new cars higher than for the previous ten days, and 88.7 per cent above the corresponding period for March.

Improvement was general throughout the country, many zones more than doubling their sales performance over the first ten days of March, and a number of dealers reported selling more cars in the first ten days of April than during the entire month of March. Mr. Klingler said.

In the month just ended, Chevrolet dealers conducted a used car campaign which resulted in the sale of 85,298 cars to retail buyers.

Chihuahua Interested In U. S. 62 Highway

The State of Chihuahua, Mexico, is becoming very much interested in U. S. highway 62, which begins at Niagara Falls and extends to El Paso, where it will pass through Juarez and on to the city of Chihuahua. Work is already being pushed on the extension of this road from Juarez to Chihuahua.

This week Luke Roberts, president of the 62 Highway Association, received a letter from Capt. E. H. Simonds, manager of the El Paso chamber of commerce, in which it is stated that the cities of Juarez and Chihuahua have elected members of the board of directors of the association and that work is already being done on the highway extension into Mexico. The following from Capt. Simonds' letter will be of interest to the readers of the Leader, since highway 62 passes through Lea county: "After many days' delay I am enclosing herewith letter received today from the Chihuahua Chamber of Commerce relative to the appointment of Mr. Manuel O'Reilly as representative of U. S. 62 Carlbad Caverns Highway Association in that city."—Lovington (N. M.) Leader.

Dr. G. W. Graves, Sheriff Mon Telford, Lawrence Stewart and Jack Holt got in Monday night from a fishing trip to old Mexico, some 110 miles south of Eagle Pass, Texas. They sure got a lot of them. Some report that they never saw the like of bass in all their lives. When they got home, they distributed fresh fish to exactly 38 families here in Brownfield. The Herald family got a big portion, which were fine.

Rattlesnake Time is Here; Warning Issued

San Antonio, April 16.—Rattlesnake time is here.

Colonel M. L. Crimmins has issued his annual warning to those who spend much of their time outdoors.

April is the month rattlesnakes mate and run about in pairs, and so extra precaution should be taken by everyone, the Colonel declares. School children will be warned by Colonel Crimmins as they come to the Witte museum to see the six-foot live rattler of 1932 vintage which Colonel Crimmins is exhibiting there. "Snakes come around houses only to look for food. Home owners should clear up trash piles and other places likely to harbor rats, which snakes eat. Houses raised from the ground should have a screen of wire netting around them.

Be here Monday for Trades Day.

Scholarship In Tech For Attendance

Lubbock, Texas, April 29.—Two scholarships for the Texas Technological College, valued at $100 each, will be awarded by W. L. Ellwood of the Ellwood Farms here and R. J. Murray, Dallas, manager of the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association, to the two counties having the largest attendance at the District 18 convention of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation here May 5 and 6.

The number of delegates multiplied by the mileage from Lubbock to the county seat will determine the winner and Lubbock county, as host to the convention, will not compete for either scholarship. The winning delegation will give the scholarship to some boy or girl in their county.

Ellwood's scholarship is limited to the 53 counties in District 18 and can be used in the school of Agriculture or Home Economics. Murray's scholarship is open to any county in Texas and is to be used in the School of Agriculture for a major in agronomy. In case the two high counties are in District 18, Murray's scholarship goes to the lower of the two.

From 500 to 1000 farmers and farm women are expected for the two day convention. The program follows:

Burkett For Reducing Taxes And Expenses

Joe Burkett, former State Senator from West Texas and well known in this section, now a candidate for Congressman-at-Large, Place Number Three, was in Brownfield, Saturday of last week in the interest of his candidacy. While here he called upon the editor and force of The Herald and visited a few minutes. Senator Burkett was once a printers' "devil" and later editor of some country newspapers, hence he feels at home around a news office.

In the opinion of Senator Burkett the drastic deflation of currency has caused our present financial troubles, and he does not think times will be any better until our money in circulation is increased thereby making labor and commodities higher and money cheaper. But the rapid increase in governmental expenses and taxes are alarming, he said, and expenses must be reduced by half and taxes cut accordingly.

"Since 1914 our population has increased 27 percent, or at the rate of 1 1/2 percent per year, while during the same period our expenses and taxes have increased 338 percent, or at the rate of more than 18 percent per year. This means bankruptcy and ruin, if continued," he commented. "It is stated on reliable authority that one out of every nine persons in this nation depend on government jobs for a livelihood. Our taxes go up and our earnings go down. Congress is trying to 'balance the budget' by hiking taxes and adding more taxes. What it should do is to cut expenses in half and reduce taxes instead of increasing them. All our higher governmental officials—and many of the lower ones—should have their salaries cut by 25 percent. The ten thousand dollars a year salary of the Congressmen and Senators should be reduced $2500 per year instead of $1,000 as has been proposed. The people have reduced their expenses to conform to their earnings, and why shouldn't the Government do the same," Senator Burkett concluded.

Don't forget that Monday is Trade Day.

The attorney-general's decision to appeal from the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission as to the construction of the Texas

Pacific Northern railway. Unless the consent of J. P. Morgan and other banking interests can be secured there is little use bothering their dummies the members of the I. C. C. —Big Spring News.

Arthur P. Duggan, candidate for the State Senate, has compiled some relative figures of a few west Texas and east Texas counties showing how much more some of them get back from the state in school money, more than they pay in. Also, some of the west Texas counties with about the same school population that get back much less than they pay in. Every west Texas senator and representative should align with redistricting, make this matter their main work at the next session of the legislature. West Texas demands a square deal and should have it.

Robert Quillen, that gifted philosopher who writes in The Dallas News each day, said the other day that the best thing for the United States to do is to learn that Santa Claus is not coming, and to buckle down to meet situations as they present themselves. The big trouble, he says, is that we have been kidded by "the big boys" into believing that prosperity was just around the corner, and that lower taxes were sure to come, when, in truth, prosperity may be afar off, and lower taxes will probably not come in our generation. That sounds like pretty good 1932 philosophy to us.—Snyder Times.

Tom Hunter of Wichita Falls is making a decided ripple on the gubernatorial waters. Even the little news letters from the utilities of the state are admitting it, whereas they almost scoffed when he first announced. Unless the complexion of things change, the West Texas man will probably carry this section of the country. He was reared in Kent County, and afterward taught school and married in Terry County. Besides, he is stealing some of Jim Ferguson's appeal to the farming class—and he has some Sterling qualifications. He may surprise some politicians, just as Sterling surprised them.—Snyder Times.

While apparently Tom Love appeared to not be greatly riled at the supreme court's decision against him, he qualifies his part in taking the pledge with the words, "not to be bound beyond his conscience and good faith." So far as we know, Senator Love is a good man; we have been told as much by his close friends, but he and the Democratic party has drifted apart, and the Herald believes that such as he and Mrs. Van Watts should be divorced from the party and allowed to organize one of their own, and one to their liking. Judging by the election four years ago, they will have plenty material to draw from.

Reports from many postoffices in this section show that the receipts have taken a tumble downward, and it is noted that most all the loss is in the money order department, showing that people are trading more and more at home and with home merchants. The big mail order concerns that have put in so many retail stores in the last few years are finding that they do not always pay. Indeed, three, belonging to one firm in west Texas, have been closed in the last few months, which were reported not paying. People are fast learning that if anybody is their friend it is the home owned store—people he knows and can call by their first name. These people are keeping up the other institutions of the town and community, including the home county papers. It takes all to make a real county of good people, and a real trade center in their reach.

Tom Hunter is making a determining fight for the government, but he is recruiting his strength from the "forks of the creek" and other traditional Ferguson strongholds. Probably Hunter himself does not hope, in this campaign, to do more than get his name before the electorate. Meanwhile, however, he is tapping the channels of already weakened Ferguson strength. Without accumulating force enough to make his own candidacy threatening, he destroys the very foundation upon which Fergusonism is reared. He is stealing a lot of Farmer Jim's thunder, he is a new Moses come to lead the hosts of Fergusonism out of the wilderness of defeat and despair.—Texas Opinion.

Of course Texas Opinion may be right in its conjecture. So far, none of the BIG politicians anywhere have taken much thought of Hunter, but is that any sign that they may not wake up the "day after" and find that the governorship has gone to a stranger, to them? Most all elections so far this year, which of course have been municipal and school, have brought more or less upheavals. In other words, the people seem to be out for a change. It may just so happen that the BIG political leaders do not have the hold on Texas voters this year they have had in former years. In fact, another Jim Hogg may stand before the electorate with the bosses giving their attention to a Clark and thereby lose the election. You can't sometimes always tell by the early dope.

CARRYING ON

Farmers of Donley county in the main are in much better condition financially right now than during the past two years. Actual cash is scarce but they have a bit more than that of the past two years at the opening of spring.

During 1930-31, farmers had lost their bearings in many instances like men of other trades and professions. He was temporarily halted in his recovery by listening to a lot of ballyhoo about the government going to take charge of his case. The moment the farmer made up his mind that his help was to come within himself, he got right in the job and began to come out of a serious predicament.

Every time the government dabbled with the farmer's business, it got him in bad with himself. The sensible farmer expects the government to do nothing more than merely umpire the game and see that he gets a square deal which is more than he has had for a good many years.—Clarendon Leader.

SIGNS OF BETTER BUSINESS

Arthur Brisbane: "It is a pleasure to state positively that general business and financial news is better. Under the heading of 'small blessings thankfully received' comes the news that in March, bank closings fell to a low ebb and were more than made up for by the opening of banks bigger than those that closed."

B. C. Forbes: "Extremely important progress has been made since the year opened notably in banking and monetary conditions, rather than in trade or industry. The stopping of bank failures, the reappearance of hoarded money, the erasing of interest rates, the establishment of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the passage of the Glass-Steagall bill, are achievements of basic importance. Betterment of financial conditions was a necessary preliminary to betterment of business conditions; The first has been accomplished; the second should follow."

Hunter The Man

To The Dallas News.
Must the greed of a few destroy the whole of the people? Is not time we look into our welfare and to the welfare of the coming generation? Is it right to place upon our children a debt which we have so foolishly permitted to grow under our stupid eyes?

Interests not concerned in the welfare of Texas other than what they might take, or drain us of our resources and manipulate the handling of our products to where we are not our own, but the servants of the trusts.

If we do not dissolve the tax burden and regulate our taxes on the farm and home owner we need not expect to go farther than our generation, if that far.

No public official with advance understanding with large combines can deal fairly with the masses. These are matters that only the Legislature can regulate by having a God fearing and not a man fearing Governor.

It is my candid opinion that Tom F. Hunter is the logical man possessing the necessary qualifications.

MARIE DRESSLER and JEAN HERSHOLT in "EMMA"

Am I Right, Or Am I Wrong About It

Let everybody join hands and hollow hurrah for the editorial columns and writers in the good old Terry County Herald of April 22. I am truly glad that we have a few red blooded men that have guts and backbone enough to stand up for our rights in the west and south in regards to the T. & P., the Bonus Bill and other things that I could mention. Am I right, or am I wrong?

We have two factions as I see it; how about you brother? We have the rich and the poor. The poor are striving with all their might to meet their obligations, the rich are striving to hold their riches and striving still harder to accumulate more.

The above brings to mind a story I heard of a Jew and his son. The son became of age and his father said to him: "Son, you are 21 years old today; you are going out in the world for yourself. I want to give you a little advice. Be honest in all your dealings, and treat your fellow man right, but be d—n sure you get the money."

Listen brother: Our creditors make us pay our interest or we give up our property. Are those people across the pond any better than yours? Why not collect some of the money or interest they owe us and pay our soldiers if we haven't got it in the treasury already? Read between the lines here if you please. You notice we have had lots of writups about helping the big corporations and foreign countries, but it seems like some of the big men at the head of the government are inclined to want to ignore most anything that would help the poor and needy. Am I right, or am I wrong?

Say for instance, the Bonus Bill. It looks to me like that would help the entire U. S. A., as far as it went, as most of the money would be spent to meet obligations for food and raiment. Of course we know that the capitalists would not receive much from the payment of the bonus bill. But why should they? They are not entitled to receive anything. Ask yourself the question. I say the boys who were wading through much mire and mire and going through shell shock and hell over yonder, while somebody over here was saying, "go get 'em boys," and now want to veto the bill.

I would pay the bill myself if I was able. Listen! If you will give the farmer something for what he produces and the day laborer employment and a reasonable salary, the rest of the world will take care of itself. More different kinds of businesses have been forced to close in the last 12 months than ever before in the same length of time. Why? If the unemployed had been given steady work at reasonable salaries, and the farmers paid a reasonable price for his products, would the business man have had to close his doors? I say no.

Put on your thinking cap, pick your man and be darn sure to go to the polls when election day rolls around and VOTE. Don't stay at home and say they will elect who they want anyway. Your staying at home makes that so. When you go to the polls, lay aside prejudices by all means and vote for the man who will divide right from wrong and stand up for the right, be he wet or dry. The man that will stand and fight for the rights of the poor, is your man, for the poor are in the majority.

I guess I had better make it clear before some high collared bird lays this at some soldier boy's door. I am not an ex-serviceman, but I tried to help all I could by living on corn bread and a small amount of flour and sugar and buying Liberty Bonds and War Saving Stamps, and sold them later for less than I paid for them to buy bread and feed my family. I don't regret it a darn bit if it helped the boys.

Now when voting day rolls around, you fellows who have been on the fence fall off on the Democratic side and cast your ballot for the South. I have always voted a straight Democratic ticket, and am rearing to do so again. The last three years ought to be a lesson to the south. Am I right, or am I wrong?

An old subscriber, and a Constant Reader of the good old Terry County Herald.

Marie Dressler as "Emma" at Rialto

Popular Star's New Talkie Deals With Vivid Phase of Stepmother Problem

American family life, its comedies and tragedies told in intimate style, furnishes the basis for one of the most dramatic stories of the screen in "Emma", which brings Marie Dressler to the Rialto Theatre for 3 days in her newest role.

The story deals with an engrossing phase of the "stepmother problem" with Miss Dressler playing the role of a devoted family servant who mothers the children of a rich inventor as though they were her own. Her subsequent transition from housekeeper to stepmother gives rise to a number of dramatic problems which reach a climax in a sensational courtroom sequence.

Dramatic Courtroom Scene

Miss Dressler, whose peerless talents in the straight dramatic field were first made apparent when she played the drunken hag in "Anna Christie", which was succeeded by her remarkable performance as the disreputable waterfront woman in "Min and Bill", is reported to have an even more forceful and stirring role in "Emma". Information is here scene in the courtroom episode is the finest piece of acting in her entire screen career.

CUB REPORTER

 Make-up Editor — Bob Carpenter

Reporters—Mary Jo Neill, Mabel Perry, Manard Smith.

Editorial—(Of especial interest to the other clubs, and the class organizations.)

The Press club has boosted the school since September 10th. We have praised our school, we have praised our faculty and have stood by the other clubs. This editorial is not to praise the Press club, it is a protest against the lack of co-operation on the part of the above mentioned organizations, students, and even faculty members. No club in this high school can say we haven't stood by them; having crammed our paper with short monotonous reports, always the same, from all the other clubs. We have done this because you have given us nothing else. Now you are giving us nothing. Has the senior class or any other class a reporter? If so, where are they; are they sleeping, or just tired? This paper is for your own benefit. It is your paper not ours. If it were, we would do better advertising ourselves than you do. A few of you have turned in reports this week (very few), we appreciate this. There will be three more editions of our school paper after this, and we would like them to be good. We want and insist on bigger and better reports and earnestly beg the assistance of every student and teacher in high school to the end that we make the last issue of our school paper worth while.

It has come to us through some unknown channel that there are some very talented poets among our student body. This is to let you know that we would welcome these valuable words of art, if you would submit them to us.

What we do get a lot of, is criticism. The Cub Reporter has been accused of never mentioning the things of importance that occur concerning our school. Here we are misjudged, and just this word of explanation is offered. Whenever a school event is of enough importance to be mentioned in the main part of the paper, our article on the subject is left out of the Cub Reporter, regardless of whether the two articles are written from the same viewpoint or not. This gives us the effect of failing to take notice of anything of real importance pertaining to school affairs. This is mentioned not as a criticism of anything or anybody, but simply as an explanation of a condition that exists.

Mention has been made to the effect that the winner in the district essay writing was "coached" for the contest as are those who compete in all other contests of the Interscholastic League. But there is no special coaching done for this event; and it is for this reason that the essay writing contest is perhaps a fairer test of the schools efficiency than any other of the events in the meet.

Instead of being selected with a few students and given a lot of intensive training which other pupils did not receive. Otis Spears, who represented our school, was simply notified the day before the contest to appear at the proper time with pen and paper and to do his best. He received no coaching at all for the contest other than the training in theme writing which all students regularly receive in the English department.

This is the second time in the last few years that Brownfield has won first place in the district essay writing contest.

Simmons Musicians Reader Program

Monday afternoon, April 25, the Simmons University Choral Club from Simmons came to the high school auditorium and put on a program.

The boys choral club sang a few classical songs followed by the girls quartet. There was also a boy's quartet and a girl's choral club.

They gave us a good program and we enjoyed it very much.

This program was sponsored by the junior class. The profit that they received goes for entertaining the seniors at the "junior, senior banquet."

Girls Quartet Sings at Convention

The High school quartet consisting of Mary Dee Price, Evelyn Pippin, Martha McClish and Dora Dean Neill were asked to sing at the singing convention Sunday, April 24. The Science Club

The Science Club met Tuesday, April 26, 1932. Each member answered the roll call by naming some scientific event. The program consisted of a debate which was very interesting. The question was, "Resolved: That the automobile is more important to the progress of the people than electricity." The debators were Bill Savage and Kenneth Moore on the affirmative and L. T. Brinson and Boyd Moore on the negative. The judges were John L. Cruce, James P. Davis and Wilton Smith who gave the decision in favor of the negative.

The Spanish club met April 19th and carried out the plan of the program although Miss Long was not present. The roll call was answered with naming some number above a thousand. Several members gave special numbers. The club regrets more than can be expressed the loss of their leader, Miss Long.

HUNTER NEWS

Believe it or not, the sand has blown again for two days. That's all right though, because we sail like sand, but we can't seem to get over the fact that we'd like it better still. The most disagreeable part is the spring house cleaning that has to be gone through with every other day. By rights, spring house cleaning should come about once a year. I declare, it doesn't give one much of a chance to develop spring-fever, or maybe it's a continuous process. Anyway, one could feel better with a little more spring in the air, and not quite so much sand. Well, so much for that.

A delightful party was enjoyed by a group of young people at Mr. and Mrs. John Jenkins' home on Friday night. There was also a party at Mr. Williams' Saturday night.

Mrs. Joe Smith and family spent Sunday at the teachers' with Mr. and Mrs. Scott.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan and family made a visit in Mexico Saturday and returned Sunday. Mrs. Butler's baby is very sick with measles.

Rotarians Stage Debate On The Jury System

Quite an interesting debate was had at the noon luncheon of the Rotary Club last Friday, when a debate was had between Judge W. W. Price of the Lions Club and Rotarian Joe J. McGowan, both lawyers. The subject, as stated, we believe, "should the present jury system be abolished." Judge Price had the affirmative and Mayor McGowan denied.

At the outset, Judge Price stated that he actually believed just what he was proposing, and that a much more satisfactory system would be a body of three judges to make the circuit as our district judge now does. He not only believes that it would be the less expensive route, but a better one, and one that could dispense with technicalities, delays and appeals.

Judge McGowan maintained that the jury system was better; that juries were not supposed to pass on either law or technicalities but to base their verdicts on facts as brought out in the trial; that the judge was supposed to pass on points of law. He believed that technicalities were good things in that it would be better that they save one just man from unjust punishment even if a half hundred escaped who were guilty. He believes that three hard boiled judges would show little mercy.

Two of the high school athletics who made district records at Lubbock recently at the field meet were present and introduced, "Tight" Graham and Jim Neill. Both will go to Austin, and Brownfield people hope they will repeat at Austin what they did at Lubbock. "Tight" set a district record with the javelin and Jim on high hurdles.

Great Plains Wheat Crop Is Hurt

Plainview, April 16.—Serious damage to the growing wheat crop in the Texas Panhandle, the Oklahoma Panhandle, western Kansas and Nebraska, is reported by L. T. Mayhugh, of Runningwater, a widely-known wheat farmer and active in the Texas Wheat Growers association, who recently made a tour of the great plains country.

Freezing weather, followed by high winds, has wrought most of the damage, as far as can be determined. There seems to be moisture in the ground, down from four or five inches, he explained. Apparently little serious damage has been due to dry weather, because the wheat has rooted well in the Texas Panhandle.

THE GOVERNMENT PRINTING PLANT

An old, bone of contention has been dug up in the midst of the moves for departmental economy in Washington. A plan to curtail the activities of the government printing office by taking it out of competition with private business has been given a favorable report in the senate, and is likely to be the center of an interesting fight.

The government printing office prints stamped envelopes at a price far below that which private printing plants can meet. Millions of dollars that might be spent in print shops throughout the country are sent annually to Washington for this government printed stationery. The government makes no profit on the contrary, its loss on this work is said to have contributed a tidy sum to the deficit.

For many years printshop proprietors throughout the country have been resentful of this invasion of their sphere of business, but the practice was too well established for them to dislodge it. They may be expected to rally now to the support of the move to eliminate Uncle Sam as their competitor. There is no more reason why the government should compete with printing plants than there would be for its competing with hot dog vendors.—Wichita Falls Daily Times.

The patient assistant in the boot shop had tried hard to suit his stout woman customer. Nearly everything in the shop had been brought down for her inspection, but to no purpose. Still another pair of shoes was produced.

"No," she said, "I don't like these. They tend to get wider as they get older."

"Well, madam," said the exasperated assistant, "didn't you?"—Tit-Bits.

Eli Perkins and family were visitors with his brother-in-law, Allan White and family, at Lamesa, over the week-end.

PLAINS STOCK IS BEING PURCHASED FOR CHINA

Slaton, April 19.—(Special)—South Plains beef on dining tables in Shanghai is not an improbable picture if the announced destination of some shipments of fat yearlings and two-year-olds are correct.

The Santa Fe railroad has handled a number of shipments of fat cattle from near Plainview and Hereford destined for San Francisco and the Orient, according to officials. Just the number of cars of cattle bound for Shanghai is not known to railroad men but it is thought between 75 and 100 cars of two year old Herefords will eventually reach that port.

"We were told the Chinese government was the real purchaser of these cattle," said one official. "Of course we don't know, but according to the stories told us by the buyers the cattle were for that government."

"They bought the fattest cattle they could find. Most of them were well finished stuff."

All those who have taken membership in the new golf course are going out each evening and helping to put it in shape. They are sure going to have a nice course when it is completed.

What Does Boys' Week Mean To You?

Next week, April 30 to May 7, is Boys' Week.

What of it? Does it mean anything to the average man that thousands upon thousands of boys are looking forward to next week as a time that has been specifically designated as their "week"? Will Boys' Week be a success if the celebration provides merely for the gathering together of groups of boys for their own enjoyment and pleasure?

Youth is naturally enamored of play; it loves romance; it craves adventure. It is not necessary to set aside a particular period of the year for the stressing of these traits in the life of a boy. Week after week, month after month, the normal boy has the privilege and opportunity of engaging in many of the activities that make up the program for Boys' Week. Next week will be no different from any that precede or follow it unless it affords an opportunity for the boy to establish a closer relationship with the adults of the community in a way that will serve as an inspiration to both in the weeks to come.

Boys are essentially the same as they were a generation ago; they like the men who like them; they respond to the men who demonstrate an active interest in their welfare. Many of the great men of today are frank in acknowledging that a large share of their success has been due to the friendly interest of some man during some period of their early development.

Every boy should be encouraged to participate in the activities of Boys' Week, but the men of the community will overlook an opportunity to do a vast amount of good if they do not supplement the regular program with an increased personal interest in the boys with whom they come in contact. There should not be a single boy in this community next week whose life has not been enriched by a more intimate contact with men and their world.

Tentative Date For Opening Federal Bldg.

Although hope is entertained that the new federal building here can be occupied by June 1, date is tentative, and an approximation of the length of time necessary to complete the imposing structure will not be reliable for another two weeks, John L. Vaughn, postmaster, said Saturday. It depends on building materials.

Although federal authorities will not arrange dedicatory or other ceremonies in connection with opening of the building, no objection would be voiced against such a program by local groups, the postmaster said.—Lubbock-Avalanche.

Lubbock, Texas, April 29.—N. H. Payne of Lubbock, for the past eleven years field representative of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association and the Texas Cooperative Association, has been named district manager for the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association, taking the place left vacant since the resignation of Chas. A. Davis, Jan. 15.

Formerly of Erath and Comanche counties, Payne served the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association from its organization in 1921 until it was succeeded by the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association two years ago. He lived in Lubbock since 1926.

Fourteen branch offices and four sub-offices in Northwest Texas, scattered over a territory nearly three hundred miles square known as District No. 2, will be under the supervision of the new manager. The branch offices are located in the following towns: Lubbock, Levelland, Brownfield, Littlefield, Childress, Paducah, Plainview, O'Donnell, Lamesa, Tahoka, Memphis, Vernon, Chillicothe, Wellington. The sub-offices are at Anton, Turkey, Amherst and Ralls.

R. J. Murray, Dallas, manager of the Texas association will be in Lubbock this week to confer with Payne regarding the office and the plans for the association for the coming season.

Tough Job

This is Robert Cooper, first city manager of Port Arthur, Texas, assuming office April 18. His job will be to put city finances in condition so employees, including himself, can be paid. He was named after Port Arthur voted recently to adopt the city manager form of government by a vote of almost 5 to 1. Port Arthur is now $350,000 in debt, and its former Mayor, J. P. Logan, is under indictment charged with paying poll taxes for others.

LESS MERCANTILE FAILURES IN MARCH THIS YEAR

Austin, Texas, April.—Not only did the number of firms which went into bankruptcy during the month of March decline by 3.7 percent from the month previous to a figure 15 per cent below that for the corresponding month in 1931, but the total liabilities of the failing concerns also showed substantial declines, according to the report on commercial failures from the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Average liabilities per failure of the 89 firms which failed during March amounted to only $16,316, or 23 per cent less than during the previous month. Average liabilities per failure in March a year ago amounted to $19,000. The small size of the firms which failed during March is reflected in the total liabilities, for they were only $1,289,000 as against $1,734,000 in February and $1,767,000 in March, 1931. The average weekly number dropped from 21 in February to 20 in March.

Groceries and meat markets accounted for seventeen of the failures for the month, while dry goods and clothing stores included in the bankruptcies numbered eleven. There were eight each of drug stores, men's wear shops, and automobile supplies and garage shops; and seven general stores closed their doors.

Dun's Review reports that during the month of March 2,951 firms went into bankruptcy in the entire United States; these firms had total liabilities of $84,900,000, which in March 1931 there were 2,604 failures owing $60,390,000.

TODAY

With the setting sun, your hopes of yesterday died out. All right. That was yesterday.

Things didn't materialize the way you dreamed they would. All right again. Now—the present hour—it's today. Yesterday bears no relation to it, except perhaps, the relation that a nightmare bears to the morning after.

Forget all about yesterday—it is dead and buried in the cemetery of Time.

Today is alive. Are you? Well then, get busy! Fling from your shoulders the depressing weight of those hopes that haven't come true. Stand erect. Man, the world is yours! You have just as much claim on its good things—on the things you've longed for and prayed for and worked for—as the other fellow has.

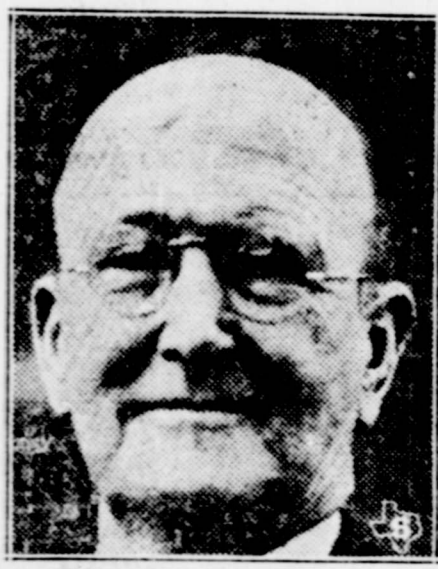

This hour has been handed to you as a gift from the overflowing storehouse of Eternity.

What are you doing with it? Answer that.

Moping? Growling? Despairing? For shame! God has favored you with another chance to make good. He has given you Today. Prove your appreciation by making it a stepping-stone to a happier, worthier tomorrow!—The Imprint, St. Paul, Minnesota.

Two Texans Have Important Roles In Drive for Business Recovery

Jesse H. Jones of Houston, Texas, a Director of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and Melvin A. Traylor, President of First National Bank of Chicago.

TEXAS has a double interest in the success of the new Reconstruction Finance Corporation which has become an important business factor under the leadership of General Charles C. Daves, former Ambassador to Great Britain. Selection of Jesse H. Jones of Houston as a director of this $2,000,000,000 credit corporation is generally regarded as recognition of Mr. Jones' talent for tackling large business problems. Of equal interest to Texans and many others in the Southwest is the fact that Melvin A. Traylor, a native of Kentucky and a former Texan, made one of the most important contributions to the organization of the Reconstruction Corporation. Mr. Traylor, who is now a Chicago bank president and often mentioned by his friends throughout the country as a potential Democratic candidate for the Presidential nomination, went to Washington and gave a Senate Sub-Committee the benefit of his exceptional experience in agricultural banking. One of his outstanding suggestions was that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation be authorized to make loans to the receivers of closed banks as a means of alleviating distress of thousands of depositors in small financial institutions throughout the country. Mr. Traylor's suggestion made such an impression that it was embodied in the Bill as finally passed by Congress. He, more than any other man, is responsible for the timely assistance that will now be possible for many depositors of small banks throughout the country.

San Jacinto Day

That was a rather forlorn group of men, under Gen. Sam Houston, who gathered about their leader Thursday, ninety-six years ago. The little army was footsore and worn, and fate seemed to be against them. They were about to face a well equipped army nearly twice their size, flushed with previous victories. In memory was the massacre at Goliad and the battle without quarter at the Alamo, where so many of their friends had died, face to the foe, dying for freedom's sake.

Some eight weeks earlier, March 2, a ringing Declaration of Independence had been passed, but of what avail are empty words without action? Independence must be won by brave hearts willing to battle for freedom with gun and sword. Houston's companions in arms, fortunately, were men used to look death in the face. Within sight of the enemy weariness turned into concentrated human energy at the thought of a possible victory. They charged, with Goliad and the Alamo as war cries, inspired by the thought that paper independence would soon become real. The result made history. A new State established itself, the Lone Star Republic, and the battlefield of San Jacinto became henceforth sacred ground.

It was a great honor that those warriors won for themselves and their fellow patriots, living and dead. The birth of a new State, a mighty empire in area, is epoch-making itself and doubly so when it is founded on noble principles and with the privations and blood of its sons. Texas has its real destiny yet before it. For many thousands of years it will flourish as the Empire State of this glorious Union. Its citizens, in those distant centuries, on April 21, will honor the memory of the "Fathers of Empire" who died at the Alamo and fought at San Jacinto.—Dallas News.

PAPERS CALLED BEST MEDIUM OF ADVERTISING

New York, April 20.—Newspapers are called the dominant advertising medium in the United States by Kenneth Collins, executive director of R. H. Macy & Company, in his book, "The Road to Good Advertising," published today.

"Few business ventures in America requiring the stimulus of advertising could live without the newspaper," said the department store executive.

"In it we spend more than one-half of the entire budget for all forms of publicity. We do so rightly."

He held that advertising could help greatly in ending the business slump by the use of absolute frankness as to conditions and showing how values are the greatest in many years.

Mr. Collins said newspaper advertising had not produced results to the full extent of its capability only because of "fearful mishandling of advertising by the advertiser." He emphasized that newspapers of today are much better than those of other times and called upon advertisers to take advantage of the superior facilities now offered.

TECHNICALITIES

According to the Vernon Reporter the Court of Criminal Appeals recently reversed a case because the defendant made his confession to a sheriff who neglected to warn that "anything you say will be used against you." "Irrigated Ike," of the Iowa Park Herald, recalls an instance where a trial was stopped and proceedings begun all over again because the defendant was indicated for committing a crime on a Mills Street, whereas the testimony proved the criminal act was done at an address on Mill Street.

After defying anyone pronounce "Mill Street" so that it doesn't sound like "Mills Street," the Herald columnist inquires: "What difference does it make whether the crime was committed on the street, in the alley or in the baseball park? If it was something for which the defendant should be tried, why the technicalities?"

Thousands upon thousands of Texas citizens are asking that question with Irrigated Ike. And with reason. First, there can be no equality before a system of criminal jurisprudence that is more concerned with the dotting of i's and the crossing of t's than with the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth. Second, technicalities make a bold mark upon our annual tax bills.

Technicalities have made one law for the poorman and another for the rich man. Many a penniless beggar has gone to the penitentiary after conviction in a trial as full of errors as our anti-trust law is of loopholes; but they didn't have the money for cost bonds and additional attorneys' fees. On the other hand, many a rich man has escaped the chair after conviction in a trial so free of error as to defy the search of all save high-priced lawyers equipped with bank-roll microscopes.

Save for technicalities, the rich man would stand no better chance before the bar of justice than his poorer neighbor. And save for technicalities, the administration of justice would cost the people but a reasonable sum each year.

If 10 or 20 millions of citizens would unite and let the congressman know they are getting darned tired of their representatives toadying to the rich—passing only measures which are for the benefit of the wealthy class and demand that the unemployed be given some consideration—we might see conditions improved. We have been patient so long that Congressmen imagine everything is fine and dandy with everyone back home. When we begin to make a howl that can be heard at Washington we are going to get action.—Big Spring News.
