

Valuation Of Lynn County Reduces

County Commissioner Bob Finley of Wilson was in town Monday and called our attention to the fact that the commissioners court sitting as a board of equalization recently scaled down property valuations in this county. Renditions on land were reduced one dollar per acre below the rendition given in last year, he says, while the valuations of town property were reduced 15 per cent.—Lubbock News.

Lions To Lubbock For 1933 Convention

Lubbock was chosen as convention city of the Texas Lions for 1933 at the Dallas convention Tuesday, over Abilene, San Antonio and Temple. Herbert Walker of Pampa was named governor of this district, to succeed Sam Braswell of Clarendon. Lubbock's delegation of 25 Lions headed by E. L. Pitts, president, returned home Wednesday morning.—Lubbock Herald.

Public Warned of "Coaching Schools"

Washington, D. C. June.—The following statement is made by the United States Civil Service Commission: The Commission warns the public against paying money for "coaching" courses in preparation for Federal service examinations. Schools which sell such courses under present conditions accept money under false pretenses. A purveyor of civil service courses is now under indictment in Iowa for false representation. It is expected that other such cases of prosecution will follow.

Fire Boys Report Great Time At Capitol

Several of the fire boys from here attended the convention of Voluntary Firemen at Austin last week, and report that the capitol city showed them a great time. In our conversation with Fire Chief, Eunice Jones, he failed to inform us where they will meet next year. These meetings are very instructive to firemen either paid or volunteer, as they get an inside of all the latest methods of subduing flames, see actual contests between different teams, as well as to see samples of the latest fighting machinery.

Good Advice For a Safe Fourth of July

This year most of the nation will celebrate the Fourth of July with a three-day holiday. Such a long period for recreation is awaited eagerly by us all. Yet its unusual length doubles the hazards and danger to which we will be exposed. Independence Day is known as the worst accident day of the year. This year may break the tragic record unless everyone guards himself closely and observes all safety rules. A list of "don'ts," all excellent advice, has been prepared by the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters and follows:

- If you drive your car—Drive Safely:
1. Don't drive recklessly—it's a long holiday and there's plenty of time.
 2. Don't take out your car unless it is in first-class condition.
 3. Don't drive on the wrong side of the road—keep to the right.
 4. Don't drive too long without resting—mental lapses due to fatigue cause accidents.
 5. Don't pass other cars unless you have a clear view ahead; don't cut in and out of traffic lines; don't pass or fail to slow down at intersections.
- If you go swimming—Swim Safely:
1. Don't attempt marathon races by swimming too long or too far.
 2. Don't venture out into too deep water if you're not a strong swimmer.
 3. Don't swim away from the crowd—"In unity there is strength."
 4. Don't indulge in ducking others or in frightening weak swimmers or children.
 5. Don't lie too long in the sun—sun poisoning is injurious and can be fatal.

In making cakes, as in finance, I make this contribution: Don't leave dividing-up to chance—Be sure of distribution!

CORRECT distribution is not just a matter for economists to worry and wrangle over. Every woman who does her own baking (and most of us do these days, thank goodness), has a problem of distribution on her hands when it comes to blending the baking powder with the flour. Upon its perfect distribution depends much of the texture and even rising of her cake. It is chiefly for this reason that some women sift these ingredients together four or five times.

A more simple method is to buy flour to which the leavening has already been added. No woman can blend them together as perfectly as may be done at the mill in the case of self-rising or pre-leavened flour. Self-rising flour is ordinarily sifted but once, before measuring. For extra fine cakes it may be sifted twice, in order to aerate the flour, but otherwise this is not necessary.

Salt, too, has been added to self-rising flour, along with the monocalcium phosphate used for leavening. Accordingly, no salt is added and the butter used should be salt-free. Neither is soda needed, when sour milk is used.

Try this recipe the next time you want a cake to serve for tea or as a dessert accompaniment:

Spice Cake.
1/2 cup butter 1/2 cup milk
1 cup brown sugar 1/2 tsp. cloves
2 eggs 1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1 1/2 cups self-rising flour

Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually while continuing to cream the mixture, add one egg and beat well, then the other egg and beat. Sift flour once and measure and sift again with the spices. Add the flour alternately with the milk and do not beat any more than necessary. Pour into a greased and floured pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350-375° F.) for about 30 minutes. Use any desired frosting.

This cake may be served cut in small squares for tea or as an accompaniment for any dessert.

Comparatively few appointments are being made in the Federal civil service, Vacancies which must be filled by the transfer of those in the service or the reinstatement of those who have been in the service, where ever practicable. It is seldom necessary to announce an examination. In most cases large registers of eligibles exist as a result of examinations held during the past year. When an examination is announced, the applicants are usually hundreds of times in excess of the need. Money paid for civil service coaching courses at this time might almost as well be thrown to the four winds.

The higher courts have granted J. A. Bonds a new trial, we understand, and the time and place will be set at the August term of court here. The case will very likely be moved to another county in the district. Bonds was convicted here of the murder of J. C. White last fall.

RAIL TRANSPORTATION IS EFFICIENT AND ECONOMICAL

● THE RAILROAD is the most efficient and the most economical transportation agency the human mind has ever devised.

The ability of commercial trucks to operate with various charges for their services has been because they are not required to carry all kinds and classes of freight. The truck can choose its freight and is privileged to reject that which it cannot handle, either because it is not equipped for such heavy service or the rates are too low to be profitable. The railroad CANNOT DISCRIMINATE but must accept all freight offered it.

In 1930 the shippers of Texas paid the railroads $225,223,142 in freight charges. If the same volume and character of traffic had been carried by trucks it would have cost the shippers, according to the best available data on trucking costs, $900,000,000, or four times as much.

What will be the effect on the shippers of Texas if only the traffic which the trucks cannot handle is left to the railroads? If traffic paying the higher rate is taken from the railroads by the trucks, it will be necessary for the rail carriers to increase their rates on the low grade traffic or go out of business. The total transportation bill will be greatly increased.

The railroad rate structure is a composite designed for the purpose of enabling the free movement of ALL ARTICLES OF COMMERCE, making it possible to bring even the cheapest commodities into general use and distribution. Were it not for the low rates made available by the railroads on many low grade commodities and raw materials, their distribution and use would be impossible and all commerce and industry would be seriously affected.

● THE RAILROADS CANNOT SUBSIST ON LOW GRADE TRAFFIC ALONE.

HIGH-HANDED CRIME

Perhaps you know all about the citrus fruit fly, but do you know anything about the "corn borer?" Anyway, a few of these worms were found in corn stalks in Iowa and Illinois a few years ago and there went up a big howl.

Every ready to seize an opportunity to supply jobs for political pets, some of our national law-makers got busy at once and Congress appropriated $18,750,000 designed to exterminate the little worms, though in fact it was to furnish jobs for political pets.

Getting started out on a spending rampage, 17000 men were employed to search autos for corn, and having found the corn, to search the corn for borer worms. The report handed in June 1st indicated that 16,002,720 autos were searched and that 730 worms were found.

Since 730 worms were forced to look Uncle Sams agricultural guardians in the face and meet death, what of the taxpayers? Dividing the sum appropriated by the number of worms found, it cost the taxpayers $25,684.93 per worm.

Despite all this high-jacking of the taxpayers, $734,000 has been appropriated to continue the fight through 1932. This makes a total of $19,484,300 appropriated to hunt down a worm that is far less dangerous than a cabbage worm.

And some times we wonder and speculate at the cost of government.—Clarendon News.

APOLOGIZING FOR STERLING

Thousands of people will cast regretful votes for Governor Sterling. Never before have Texans so frankly admitted they are choosing between two evils—Weeks Opinion Houston. The Week's Opinion does not seem to consider about nine other candidates in the race for governor. There should be men among them who are not a menace to Texas so why should anyone feel they had to vote for Sterling—they owe him nothing.

But the Fat Boy certainly is a misfit. He has backtracked on most everything he ever started. He went into the governors chair on a platform of a big state bond issue for improved highways. He now opposes the proposition. He favored counties voting big bonds to build highways. Now he does not favor that. He favored another State Highway between Weatherford and Strawn. Now he don't believe it should be built. He was all but "bawled out" by the former side-kick W. R. Ely chairman of the Highway Commission for expression an opinion on the matter. Poor Ross Sterling is going to have hard sledding in his race for governor.—Big Spring News.

According to the Levelland Herald two short wave radio stations have been licensed for that city. They allow only talking over these amateur stations.

Mrs. J. G. Thormley and the children have left for eastern Oklahoma for the summer. J. G. will hold down a repairman job in the McSpadden shop.

NEIGHBORING TOWN MERCHANTS

Do YOU LET THE HUMBLED UNREASONABLE CLAIMS 'STING' YOU?

OUR 23 YEAR COLUMN

Taken from the Herald of June 26, 1909

In this column a few weeks ago we told you about Judge Copeland and others attending a meeting at Crosbyton. In our issue of June 26th, 1909, we have a report of the speech that the Judge made. He said that he had not been in the habit of making speeches either with or without notes, and even if he had notes he couldn't read them as he had lost his spectacles. Some of the high lights of the address, however were that he was born in Georgia and settled in Grayson county when he came to Texas. He told them that he came to Terry county eight years before that time and was the first settler, established the first postoffice at Meadow and sold the first goods ever sold in the country. He told them that the cattlemen made a fight on him, but he stayed with them. But said he, if it had not been for the cattlemen coming first, the country could not have been settled.

He told them about our 40x40 court house all paid for and $11,000 in the treasury. We had a nice school house too, he said, paid for out of our own pockets. There was $16 for every scholastic in the county. We had, he said, subscribed $120,000 for the Hereford & Gulf railroad. He told how lonesome it was on the womenfolk eight years before when the county began to settle. He then branched off on the farming possibilities of Terry county. He closed his speech as follows: "I want to say another thing. We have one church house in Brownfield, the Methodist, but I am a squirrel hunting Baptist. We have 107 scholastics in Brownfield, and about the same number in Gomez."

In that issue, we had quite a nice writeup of the little city of Meadow, which we had just visited. It seems that Dr. J. W. Ellis had to make a call up there and Pappy John Powell and the writer were asked to share the seat in his little white Buick coupe or rather roadster. While the Dr. was calling on his patient, Mr. Powell and the writer took in the town. George Turner was the postmaster, was affable, we stated, but who wasn't then. He was very proud of the Meadow country. That city was then some three or four miles east of where it is now. J. W. Peeler had a large stock of general merchandise and hardware. We found him to be very friendly, and he always had a lot of products of the country in his store to show strangers and prospectors. But about the best thing we found in him was that he had never ordered any stationery out of the county. There was a mill and gin belonging to a Mr. McClanahan, that was burned in a few weeks after this time. They also had a new Methodist church. Speaking of "Squirrel hunting Baptist," above, the "chicken eating Methodist" of that time seemed to have had all the religious folks backed off the blocks getting the first church in town built. They had the first house of worship in Brownfield, Gomez and Meadow.

In that issue we carried a quarter page ad for the Gomez Commercial Club (that was before Chambers of Commerce were heard of) in which they gave "A True Description of Terry County." Some of the things it said was that we had 2000 people, but some must have left for we had only 1474 according to the census of the next year, 1910. Improved lands adjoining town was quoted at from $15 to $30 per acre, unimproved lands further away was priced from $8 to $12 per acre. A description of their fine 8-room school building, which was in charge of Prof. E. O. Coltharp and three assistants. They had, the ad said about 350 inhabitants. There were several editorials reproduced from other papers in this section telling of the change in the editor and ownership of the Herald. We also noted that we kinder took the people to task for neglecting the cemetery, and we never have gotten over that fault to this day.

Mrs. John Scudday Sr., was in from the south side. Readers were advised to see O. M. Daniel for that baby picture. Miss Bettie Clifford of Meadow was visiting the Robinson family. Miss Mamie Powell was visiting Miss Hattie Robinson in Lubbock. Sid Frazee was painting a barn for Burnett Bros. The Commissioners were equalizing taxes. Lester McPherson went to Big Spring to bring one of Dick Brownfield's cars home. Miss Flora Robinson was visiting in Lubbock.

J. T. Stricklin, of Anson, was here for a few days visiting ye new ed. H. S. Boone was doing some sign painting. Mrs. A. B. Bynum was visiting her daughter, Mrs. Garland at Lamesa. Chas. Copeland and Reg. Burnett took the initiatory degree in Oddfellowship. Mesdames Gist and Whitley were in town and A. M. Brownfield took them for their first auto ride. G. F. Bigbee made a trip to the Groves farm in Gaines county and saw some fine farm animals and lots of old corn and good crops growing. Sam Rather of Houston and his mother and sister from Costa Rica were here visiting friends. A crowd of young people rode horseback out to the Brownfield ranch for breakfast. Sure we had social doings then. Dr. E. A. Loag was to be here to do dental work for a few days. Miss Bettie Reagan of Big Spring had closed a very successful school at No. 3. Whitehead Bros. was to show here the following week. Dick Brownfield was taking to cars then as he is airplanes now. He and wife brought back two and Lester McPherson the third from Big Spring.

Judge and Mrs. Copeland visited Prof. McConnell and family and Plains, and all drove over that afternoon to Bronco where they interviewed Mr. Manning, mayor of that city. Mr. G. W. Wilkins was in and stated that he had gone rather heavy on cotton that year. He had 50 acres, (the very idea.) All for this week.

Cost Her $4.25 to Reduce 65 Pounds

"Worth It," Miss Bates Says.

If you're young and fat read what Miss Bates of Beech, Iowa, has to say about Kruschen Salts—if you are middle age or old Kruschen shows you the way to lose fat the SAFE way.

"I took one bottle of Kruschen Salts a month for five months. It amounted to $4.25 and I reduced 65 lbs. but it was worth it. Imagine just 22 years old and weighing what I did. I could not eat enjoy myself as other girls did. I could not get the clothes I wanted. I think it is wonderful the results Kruschen Salts give."

To lose fat the safe, sane way—take one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning—eat less fatty meats, potatoes and sweets—a jar that costs but a small sum lasts 4 weeks. Get it at Alexander Drug Co. Inc., or any druggist in the world—but be sure for your health's sake to ask for and get Kruschen Salts. It's the little daily dose that does it.

- Drastic reduction of public expenditures.
- Maintenance of the gold standard and American dollar.
- Revision of banking laws for better protection of depositors.
- United States participation in an international conference on silver and on commodity prices.
- Establishment of a home loan discount banking system to encourage home ownership.

Confessed Killer and Captor

Cotton Twine Costs Less Than Jute Twine

The use of cotton twine instead of twines made from imported materials would furnish outlets for hundreds of thousands of bales of cotton annually, according to estimates and figures made by E. C. Oliver, Dallas man, who has been collecting data on the subject.

In one North Texas city alone, he found, more than 160,000 pounds of imported twines are being used annually. South Texas vegetables shippers are using ten carloads of jute twine a year, while the Texas wool growers buy eleven carloads of the same kind of twine annually for tying their sacks. Even a majority of Texas newspapers, he learned, are using twine made from imported materials.

Cotton twine is slightly more expensive on the pound basis, Mr. Oliver says, but it really is the less expensive, for by measurements and weights he found that while he could buy (at wholesale prices) a pound of imported twine for 16.15c and a pound of cotton twine of equal breaking strength costs 20c (also wholesale), in the pound of imported twine there were only 1,080 feet while in the pound of cotton twine the footage was 1,575 feet. In other words, for 1c he could buy sixty feet of imported twine, but the one cent would pay for seventy-five feet of polished cotton twine, both of forty-pound breaking strength.

An effort is being made to interest some of the Texas cotton manufacturers in the project of adding twine equipment to their mills, giving them an additional product and at the same time affording stable sources of supply to buyers who would be interested in substituting a Southern article for one imported from overseas at a considerable saving in footage costs.

Miss Dallas

And here is Kathryn McDowell, winner of the title "Miss Dallas in 1932" in a recent American Legion bathing beauty contest. MAY LOSE HUSBANDS AS WELL AS JOBS

Eight Texas women who decided their jobs were more important than husbands face the loss of their jobs and uncomfortable scenes with their husband, too.

The wives filed suit for divorce recently when the Texas & Pacific railroad informed married women employees they would be replaced by men June 1, if their husbands were making as much as $50 per month.

A rude shock awaited the would-be divorcees today. Railway officials announced that divorcees would have no effect, even if granted, as the order affecting married women applied to their domestic status May 16, when the railroad and union officials signed the agreement.

Tomorrow the women will be out of jobs and likely face some trying moments with irate husbands and unpaid attorneys.

METHODIST CHURCH

Sunday will mark the beginning of our revival. Let every member of the church be present at the very first service and continue throughout the meeting to do every thing possible to make this one of the best meetings that Brownfield has ever had. We invite each and every Christian of Brownfield to come join with us and help us in this battle for God. We extend a special invitation to all who love God to help us in every way possible. We are expecting the cooperation of all the church of the town and will be disappointed if we do not receive their help. We extend to you a special invitation to join with us. This will not be a church membership campaign. We shall strive to bring a deeper spiritual life of the entire town. It looks to me if a place or people ever needed God it is now. We do not mean to say these who desire to unite with our church, we would appreciate your coming, and will be glad to receive you, and if you are not a Methodist, we would be glad to see you take membership with the church of your choice for we believe ever christian should be in the church of their choice.

Rev. C. A. Bickley, our Presiding Elder, will do the preaching and the singing will be let by our local talents. Will you not help them make the music to be what God would have us to make it. We will begin at the tabernacle with the first service. So meet us there next Sunday morning for Sunday school. We say again we extend a special invitation to join with us in the battle for God and the right.

Holden Writes Early History Of The Plains

Austin, Texas, June.—Dr. W. C. Holden, graduate of The University of Texas and now professor of history at Texas Technological College, has written a colorful account of social development in West Texas during a period of fifty years of its most picturesque history. Dr. Holden obtained the material for his new book, titled "Rollie Burns," from R. C. Burns of Lubbock, pioneer rancher and cattleman. Dr. Holden is well known in Austin and its environs, having attended the University here for a number of years. He obtained his bachelor of arts degree from this institution in 1923, his master of arts degree the following year, and the doctor of philosophy degree in 1928.

Explains What Fiat Money Really Means

Dear Mr. Stricklin: In response to your most generous invitation to attempt a few comments on the "depression", I can only say to begin with that the question seems to come up at every gathering, even at social and religious meetings the "depression" is discussed—if not "cussed." Most people are saying "something must be done," or a "change" must be made. But what can be done? Well, for one thing the governing power or the right to pass laws directly—isn't this too far removed from the people under our representative form of government? If the people had the right under our Federal constitution to take direct or popular vote on any question as to whether it should not become a law, then they would not need to depend upon a few representatives and senators to legislate for them. For instance if we had the amendment added to our constitution providing for the passing of bills or laws by popular vote, what might have been done about Mr. Patman's idea of issuing some much needed money to pay our ex-service men, that we used to think so much of, and then a still larger issuance of Treasury notes for high-way building and other public enterprises. Our friends (?) the Republican leaders have told us that Patman's issue would be "Fiat" money, wild cat money. This writer has looked up the abstract meaning of the word "fiat" and it means decree and the latin root meaning of fiat is "let it be done", and if the people of our 48 States had the legal right to take a popular vote as to the issuance of money to pay off our men who served in the World War as well as other appropriations for public improvements, then it might be that the fiat or decree of the people would be "let it be done." It seems not to some of us that the money that the money that should now be in circulation is "wild cat" money—went wild in 1929 and has been getting wilder and harder to catch ever since that time.

If we think that our Federal Government is good for any other purposes besides to tax and jail us, it might be a good idea to urge an amendment to our constitution so that we might in the 48 States of the union, pass by a majority vote certain measures, that would cause the principles of the right of eminent domain and the common welfare to function properly. Then too, there is that clause in our Federal constitution that congress shall have the right to create the country's money and regulate its value. It must be getting close to the offense of treason when it requires nearly 3 times as much cotton or corn or wheat or potatoes and other commodities to

The Tenderfoot

It is rumored, fellows, that the first troop in the Council which gets 75 percent of its membership enrolled for camp, will receive a one dollar refund on their camp fee. Whoops! Doesn't that sound good. And all others who get 75 percent of their membership by a certain date will get a nice penant. Whoops again!

Life Saving is going to be stressed at the camp this year as much as it has in the past. Tom Everheart who is Scoutmaster of Troop 8 up at Lubbock will have charge of all water front activities. Tom is a great scouter and has certainly done a nice piece of work with his troop. He says that they are going to win that Trophy easily. I wonder—How about it?

There is one man whom we are going to miss very much this year. He is little George Eaton. Known around the camp as "Chief Prickly Pear". George got that monicker because of his knack of riding donkeys and landing in prickly pear patches when the donkey got tired of his company. He is now serving in the army at Fort Bliss.

Delbert Jones, renowned leather expert, from New Mexico, will be at the camp this year to teach us the gentle art of leather craft. Delbert and his craft were very popular at Camp We-Hin-Ah-Pa last summer.

Say, gang, this Troop 23 at Lamesa, led by Stevens and Pratt are going to be making a mighty strong bid for that McMillan Trophy. At least that's what I've been told.

I wouldn't be surprised if Troop 16 at Post, the present possessor of the cup wouldn't want to have a word or two before giving that cup up. They were the winners in 1930, maybe they will repeat.

Joe Spikes' Troop 22 also of Lamesa will probably be giving the rest of these troops, who think they've got the trophy tied up in a sack, quite a few fits. That is if they will come to the camp.

I wonder about these other troops. Where are they going to be. Write in fellows and let me know what's up. If you have any suggestions about the camp send 'em to the "Tenderfoot" at Scout Headquarters. I'll be see'n you at camp I hope.

bring 50 dollars as it did several years ago, and our worthy (?) congressmen and senators, doing nothing to regulate the value of the country's money as expressed in terms of these commodities, and public service. I thank you Mr. Stricklin. —B. Y. Hokey.

PRICE CUTTING

Ruinous price cutting is the gravest evil afflicting our economic system, next to unemployment says B. C. Forbes.

There is hardly one basic raw material or commodity today which is not selling under the cost of production. Could all prices be raised to a live-and-let-live level, conditions would be very greatly improved. The prospect is, judging from economic history, that, as soon as it becomes evident that prices have entered a definite upward movement, there will be a scramble on the part of buyers. This applies not only to agricultural commodities, but to raw materials of all kinds, and also to securities.

An Early Account of The Texas Climate

Austin, Texas, June 24.—One of the earliest written accounts of Texas after settlers began to trek from the Old South and from Eastern states was that which appeared in "The Texas Republican," the first newspaper published in Texas, in which the editor, Eli Harris, eulogized the Texas climate. This description appeared in the first issue of his paper published August 14, 1819, according to Douglas C. McMurtrie of the University of Chicago, who has written an article, "The First Texas Newspaper," which will appear in the July number of the Southwestern Historical Quarterly, edited by faculty members of The University of Texas.

Mr. McMurtrie has devoted considerable time to research on newspaper histories of the various states, and not long ago wrote an article for the January issue of the Southwestern Historical Quarterly on early newspapers of Texas. It was only after the publication of that article, however, that he learned, by references here and there, of the publication of "The Texas Publication." No copies are known to exist now. Mr. McMurtrie, however, found several articles reprinted from the "Republican" in 1819 editions of the "Nashville Clarion." In the description of Texas, taken from the first issue of the "Republican," the following passage is found:

The country is well timbered, but is interspersed with some small prairies, is rich, prolific and possessing the most delightful temperature of air and climate in North America. The water is pure and clear and the country throughout very well watered.

"Animals—buffalo, deer, bear, elk, wild hogs, wild goats, cattle, wild horses, wild mules and asses. Some of the deer are perfectly white, and some are red and white, like our cattle.

Another article reprinted from the "Republican" by the "Nashville Clarion" is entitled "Encouragement to Settlers," and points out the ease with which grants of land might be obtained in Texas.

"SIX CYLINDERS no more-no less" says America

Since January 1st, buyers have chosen more Chevrolet Sixes than the combined total of all fours and all eights priced below $1000

Look at what happened when America began lifting hoods and counting cylinders: Overwhelming preference for "SIX CYLINDERS. No more—No Less." A sweeping endorsement of the soundness and correctness of the Chevrolet six-cylinder engine!

America knows its motor cars. And America knows that six is the largest number of cylinders you can have in a low-priced car and get unexcelled economy! That six is the fewest you can have in a car and still get built-in smoothness!

America prefers the Chevrolet Six—because it strikes a happy medium between two extremes. It gives economy—the lowest operating and upkeep cost of any American car. It gives smoothness—the built-in smoothness that makes driving really enjoyable! And it gives many other advantages that are just as essential as six cylinders! Big, spacious, luxurious Fisher bodies. Free Wheeling, Syncro-Mesh shifting. An advanced chassis of proved design. Four parallel-mounted springs. Four hydraulic shock absorbers. And new reduced prices, as much as $50 and $55 lower than they were before!

Chevrolet is able to give you all this value, because Chevrolet is the world's largest producer of motor cars. Largest for three out of the past five years! Largest for the first six months of 1932! First in value—First in sales!
