

THE STAR'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

Amendment No. 5

In addition to voting on candidates for national, state and local offices, Texas citizens on November 6 will weigh several amendments to the state constitution which, if accepted, will have far-reaching effect.

One of the more controversial of these proposed amendments is No. 5, which provides for reorganization of the veterans' land program in the state, including the issuance of an additional $100,000,000 in bonds to expand its activities.

The Star has not yet found sufficient justification to make the amendment acceptable. However, a local group of considerable influence has given the proposal its unanimous endorsement, and we consider it advantageous to the voters of the community that viewpoints both pro and con be discussed in this newspaper.

Therefore, this week's editorial space is being given over to the land program proposition which Texans will decide on early next month. First is the situation as seen by the Friona American Legion. Statistics were compiled by Loyde Brewer, veterans' county service officer.

Following the Legion's remarks will be the situation as The Star sees it.

Legion:

On November 6, the people of Texas will go to the polls to decide, among other things, the fate of the Veterans' Land Board in Texas. We have all heard of the graft and scandal which has been connected with it in the past, but have you heard the good things about the operation of the board?

In the first place some of the individuals responsible for the graft are now behind prison bars, and the State of Texas, as of August 31, 1956, has recovered judgment for $1,896,041.16 in the courts of Texas on the land purchases found to be fraudulent. The administration of the program now is in the hands of a new land commissioner on the Veterans' Land Board, and in the hands of Veterans' Land Committees appointed by the commissioners' courts in each of the 254 counties of Texas.

Since the program started, there have been 16,960 purchases under the program up to August 31, 1956. That figure is only 1.79% of the eligible Texas veterans. Of this number of purchases, 784 accounts have been paid in full. Also, of this amount, the state has had to foreclose on only 143 contracts. This land has been resold to the highest bidders for $28,777.40 more than was due on the land.

Under the program, the Veterans' Land Board is authorized by law to issue bonds with which to obtain the funds to be used in the purchase. By previous amendments approved by the people of Texas, the Veterans' Land Board has issued $100,000,000 in bonds, and has sold them to commercial investors at an average interest rate of 2.13%. The money, in turn, has been loaned to Texas veterans to buy land with at an interest rate of 3%, resulting in a profit to the State of Texas amounting to $2,307,872.15.

Now, you are asked to decide whether or not this program should be expanded and continued. You will be asked to vote on an amendment which would authorize the Veterans' Land Board to issue an additional $100,000,000 worth of bonds, making the total fund amount to $200,000,000. Also, under the proposed amendment the Veterans' Land Board would consist of the commissioner of the general land office, and two citizens of Texas appointed by the governor, and approved by the Texas house and senate.

We believe, in spite of the black eye given this program by some who tried to make personal gain out of it, that it is the soundest and best of all government money programs ever devised, and strongly urge that you vote for Amendment No. 5 on November 6 when you go to the polls.

Star:

To date, the State of Texas has indebted itself $100,000,000 for a land buying program which has benefitted fewer than two percent of the eligible veterans in the state. The previous amendment would increase this bonded indebtedness to $200,000,000, and it might be expected from the performance of the present program that fewer than four percent of the state's eligible veterans would be benefitted by the expanded program.

The proposed amendment expressly states that the commissioner of the general land office shall act as chairman of the board and shall be the administrator of the veterans' land program. Upon examination, it will be noticed that this would increase the broad and discretionary powers already given one state officer. The imprisonment of Bascom Giles should prove to the people of Texas that such top-heavy responsibility is not always to be desired.

Earl Rudder has done an outstanding job of placing the land program back on its feet. Much squandered state money has been returned to the treasury under his administration. Honest men always mean the difference between a successful government program, or one that ends in scandal and failure.

The very nature of the veterans' land program in Texas is of the type that is an open invitation to graft. Surely the history of the last two years of the program has illustrated the impracticability of controlling unprincipled men simply by their oath of office.

Most eligible and deserving veterans in the state are still buying land. The 98 percent which have not participated in the program must have found it possible to utilize the already existing federal and private lending resources to good advantage.

prevent him from joining a union to hold his job."

That is a simple and admirable sentence—for it completely covers the great principle of the right-to-work movement, regardless of the verbal complexities that may appear in a particular piece of legislation.

The Brazos River drains a watershed covering 44,600 square miles of Texas. In this area lives one sixth of the state's population.

Lions Have Necktie Party, Hear Al Hall

If you've never been to a Lions Club meeting, you have missed some low grade but often-side-splitting jokes.

The official jokester of every club is the tail twister, who is supposed to keep meetings from bogging down in statistics, committee reports, and book reviews. He usually does.

Deon Awtry is the tail twister of Friona Club, and one of his perennial threats to maintain order in meetings is to dismember ties of Clubbers who behave in a disorderly manner. A butcher knife usually backs up his orders.

Thursday night, Awtry produced his knife and advanced on a member with the threat that he would sever his tie if a fine levied for misconduct was not paid.

When the member refused, Awtry was about to mete out justice when he noticed something familiar about the tie. Upon examination, he found four ties strikingly similar to his own being worn by members at the meeting.

That was no joke—they were his own. They had been "lifted" from his closet at home. Awtry declined to cut the ties, so it was necessary for the president to appoint John Lamb as assistant tail twister. Lamb backed the regulation to the limit as Awtry mournfully looked on. Wearing Awtry's ill-fated decorations were Wes Long, Jack Tomlin, Dean Bingham, and Doyle Elliott. The latter three were visitors brought in for the plot.

After the smoke had been cleared, the club listened to a talk by Al Hall, public relations coordinator of the Bi-State Water Commission. Hall reviewed the underground water situation which the commission at Muleshoe is facing from Lubbock.

He put particular emphasis on what pumping of underground supplies for distant municipal and industrial use could do to the local economy.

Some land in Bailey County has been devalued as much as $100 per acre an account of Lubbock's intentions to develop a large supply there, he claims.

Whitewing Doves Make Gains in Texas

AUSTIN—Substantial gains in native whitewing dove numbers in the Rio Grande Valley are indicated by preliminary returns from the early September census, reports the Assistant Director of Wildlife Restoration for the Game and Fish Commission.

He said the South Texas population apparently totaled "about four hundred and thirty-four thousand" with the possibility that some whitewings that hatched in the Valley this year migrated southward before the counts were made.

The Assistant Director said indications are that the present Valley whitewing population is about double that of this time last year. He added that the survey, made by Wildlife Biologist W. H. Kiel, Jr., and South Texas wardens apparently justifies the Commission's action in closing the whitewing hunting season for the third straight fall.

"If the native population continues to gain it seems we may be able to recommend resumption of open season on whitewings before very long," said the Assistant Director.

MORE IRRIGATION POSSIBLE

Ten times as many acres on the Brazos River between Waco and Richmond can be profitably irrigated as is now the case, says the Brazos River Authority. A booklet published by the Authority states that 300,000 additional acres of bottom land could be irrigated if proper storage of Brazos runoff were provided. At present, only 30,000 acres are under irrigation. Adequate assured water supply is necessary to increase the irrigated land.

Homecoming Game Sees White Deer In Lop-Sided Win

A homecoming crowd had little occasion to cheer Friday night as they solemnly watched the White Deer Bucks trample their Chiefs 33-13 in a dazzling display of speed and dexterity on the part of the visitors.

The Chiefs trailed all the way and seldom threatened to turn back the tide. Jerry Mills, 138-pound White Deer back, skittered for 71 long yards in the first quarter to start scoring. He also ran over the extra point.

Once in the second quarter the Chiefs recovered a fumble on the White Deer 15, but were unable to push across a touchdown that might have meant a tie at that point.

Several times during the game the visitors pulled spread formations, and did some passing. Friona stayed on the ground for the most part. Passing during the evening was hampered by a stiff south breeze.

From the Friona 3-yard line, Tom Hill plunged over right tackle for the second White Deer score late in the second quarter. He also ran over the extra point.

That put the Chiefs 14 points behind, and they were not able to get their offensive machine going before time ran out in the first half. In fact, they were deep in their own end of the field when the mid-time whistle blew.

Showing signs of a revival, the Chiefs received to start the third quarter, and pushed down field against the wind. A penalty erased one long run, but in two plays they were knocking on White Deer's door and Larry Fairchild squeezed through the middle of the line for the first Friona score. Aided by a penalty, Friona got two chances to run over the extra point, and collected on the second attempt, making the score 14-7. It was run by Jerry Chiles.

This put Friona in position to get back into the game, but White Deer retaliated with an upfield march that covered 70 yards. A piling-on penalty against the Chiefs put the ball on the 1.

Friona's wall held for one down at this point, but Quarterback Don Essary made it the next try on a keeper. The point-after run fluked.

Essary also figured in the next White Deer touchdown as he passed to A. J. Alford. Mills ran the extra, making the score 27-7 and ending activity in the third quarter.

In the fourth quarter, White Deer intercepted a Friona pass and set up its final touchdown, made by Mills from the 7.

Wesley Barnett scored the game's last touchdown for Friona, making the final score 33-13. The point-after try was futile.

Halftime ceremonies were a colorful presentation of about 200 students in band and pep squad. The feature of the show was the presentation of the football queen, Ruby Grubbs.

The band played "Girl of My Dreams."

The BIBLE Says

"But sanctify in your hearts Christ as Lord: being ready always to give answer to every man that asketh you a reason concerning the hope that is in you, yet with meekness and fear." (I Peter 3:15) To sanctify Christ in our hearts as Lord is to set him apart in the seat of our affections, emotions, and intellect as supreme master and ruler.

Since Christ is the supreme monarch in the heart he rules the life. Every act, word, and thought is brought under his control. In order to bring about this state of harmony we must learn his will. The New Testament is such an instrument. (Hebrews 9:16-17) Having learned the teaching of the New Testament, Christians are happy to give a reason concerning their hope. God holds out wonderful blessings for man to enjoy. He also sets forth the conditions upon which man may have these blessings. When man learns the conditions, he, because he has enthroned Christ as his Lord, is willing to submit himself to God and obey his will.

When man obeys God he places himself in a position where God can, in keeping with his word, bless him. Christ tells us that "his yoke is easy and his burden light" (Matthew 11:30). It is ever to man's advantage to allow Christ to reign in his life. He may enjoy many blessings now and in the world to come eternal life.

TWO PERMITS LET

Two building permits were let by the City of Friona the past week. One went to Gulf Oil Corporation for construction of a $22,000 service station on Highway 60. Walber and Associates are contractors for the 28x45 concrete block business.

The second permit went to Oscar Baxter to build a concrete block business building at 1009 Grand. Estimated cost of the 32x40 building is $15,000. G. A. Garrett of Farwell is contractor.

Friona will be put within good range of another TV station soon, this one to be KICA-TV of Clovis. Friona is already receiving good reception from Amarillo and fair reception from Lubbock. Officials of the station expect to be on the air by November 15.

B Team Nicked By Springlake

Friona B boys need to arrange just one more football game against Springlake, apparently.

The first game of the year they lost 13-7. Last week they met the Wolverine B again and got nipped by a single point, 7-6. With that trend set, perhaps one more game would put Friona out in front.

Don Bradley made the Friona score, returning a kickoff 60 yards into paydirt to start the second half. Trying to make the extra point, he failed by only inches, but this was sufficient to give Springlake the victory as they collected on their point-after try.

Friona was on Springlake's 5-yard line near the end of the game, but failed to capitalize on this possibility.

Texans Find Ike Stands For Same Things We Do

A fellow was in our town the other day selling men's suits. He was from St. Louis, and he said he was a manufacturer's representative. Grandpa would have called him a dry goods drummer, and Papa would have referred to him as a traveling salesman. This shows you how things change with time. But actually that fellow from St. Louis was doing just about what the earlier visitors did—trying to sell suits.

You might say that he stayed in the same place but the names went off and left him. Reminded me some of the political situation in Texas.

I was reading a letter in the daily newspaper last week, from a man who said he was going to vote for Eisenhower. "I am a Democrat," he wrote to the editor of the paper, "but I feel like the party has run off and left me."

Come to think of it, a lot of conservative-type Texas Democrats are in that shape today. They haven't changed their views much on such things as local control, government spending, bureaucratic red tape, and freedom of the individual; they still travel down the same road they did 20 or 30 years ago, even if they do it at 70 miles an hour instead of 25.

They grew up believing that a man could live down nearly anything except voting for a Republican. They always voted 'er straight, until a good many of them jumped over the traces in '52 and went for Ike.

"I can't figure out what's happened," one of them told me. "Seems like Eisenhower talks like a Democrat and Stevenson talks like a college professor."

The other day this same fellow said: "I think I've got it figured out. Ike stands for the things us Texas Democrats have always stood for. Adlai is too thick with Walter Reuther and that crowd to suit me. I'm going for Ike again."

That's the way with most folks in our town. They decided to give Ike a try at it in '52, and they like the way he has gone about the job. There are some things they wished he'd done a little different, but by and large they think he has made us a fine President. At least all the hometown boys are back from Korea, and as far as we can tell the government is being run honestly.

Somebody asked that Missouri suit salesman how Mr. Truman was getting along, and he said he didn't know. "He isn't in the clothing business any more," he explained. "In fact, as far as I can tell, he is clear out of all kinds of business."

Yours Truly,
Tex

When you really like us

You buy insurance because you're smart — not because you get a kick out of it at the time.

When we deliver an insurance policy, nobody ever says: "Oh boy, what a beautiful policy!"

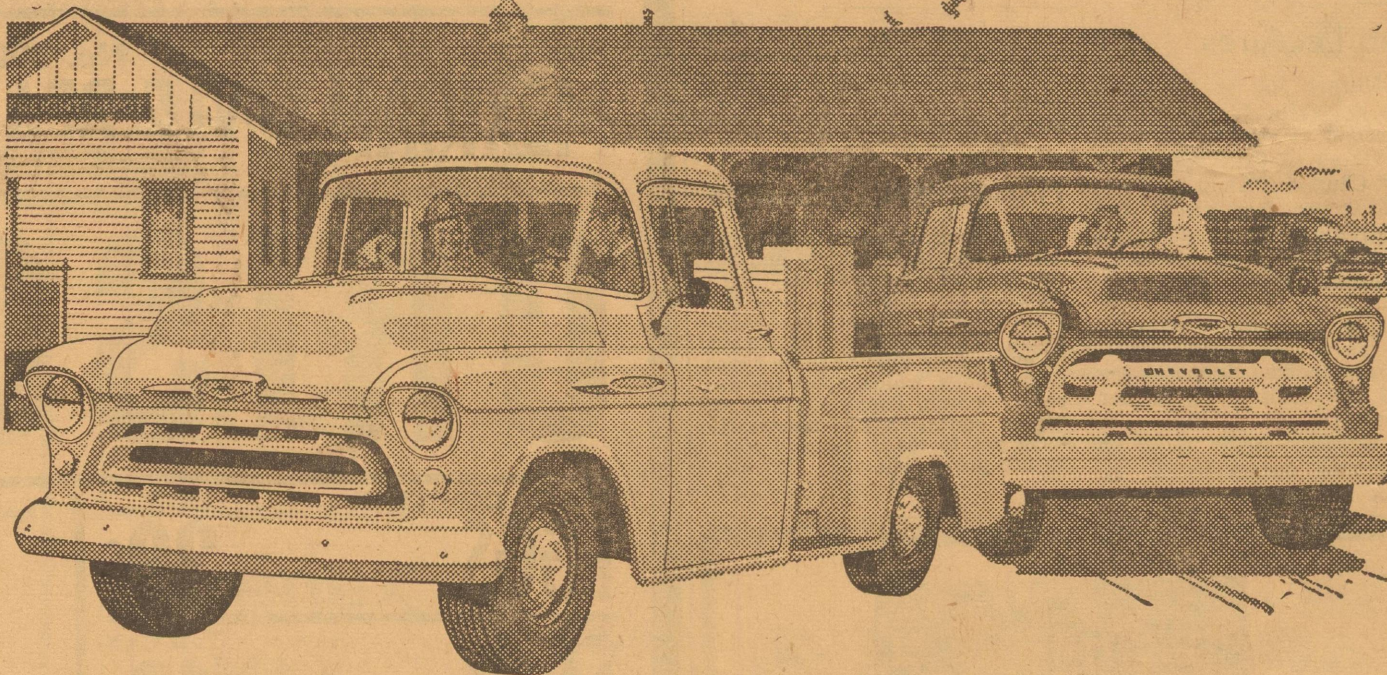

But when somebody has a fire or a robbery or a lawsuit or a loss of some other kind, and we deliver a check from the insurance company — —THAT is when people really like us. It happens frequently.

Bear with us when we try to get you to carry the insurance you should—but love us when we help you meet your loss. That's all we ask.

Here! New Task-Force 57 Chevrolet Trucks!

Performance-proved in a history-making test on the ALCAN Highway to Alaska

The Alcan Highway is the road where trucks grow old before their time. The road where gravel endlessly sledgehammers the life out of trucks. Where a fog of superfine dust chokes engines, and vicious ruts subject chassis to months of wear in a few hundred miles.

Six new '57 Chevrolet trucks, heavily loaded with cargo, roared north from Dawson Creek, B.C., through 1,520 miles of mountains and mire, rain and hail to Fairbanks, Alaska. Running around the clock, they made this tortuous trip—normally a 72-hour run—in less than 45 hours. As a special test during the run, two of the trucks went the entire distance without once having their engines stopped!

Come in and see how well these new Alcan champs measure up to your job.

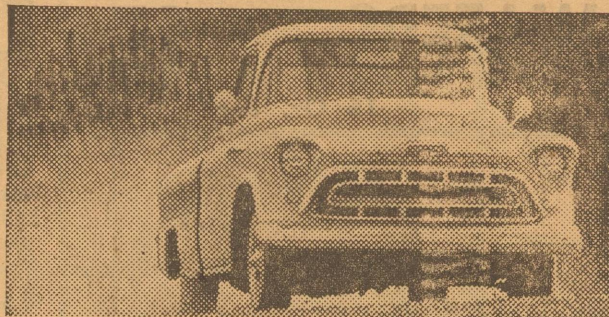

FIRST WITH THE MOST MODERN FEATURES:

New 283-cubic-inch Taskmaster V8 is standard in Series 5000, 7000 and 8000, optional in Series 6000 at extra cost. Horsepower ranges up to 210 in Chevrolet's complete line-up of modern V8 and 6 truck engines.

Revolutionary Powermatic Transmission—exclusive with Chevrolet trucks! This six-speed automatic, designed specifically for heavy-duty hauling, is an extra-cost option in Series 5000 and 6000 and all heavy-duty truck models. Hydra-Matic is offered in 3000 and 4000 Series models at extra cost.

L.C.F. models outdate C.O.E. trucks in every way; yet offer all the traditional C.O.E. advantages.

Heavyweight Champs with Triple-Torque tandem are rated at 32,000 lbs. GVW, 50,000 lbs. GCW. Special features include built-in 3-speed power divider.

Alcan fleet reports up to 18.17 miles per gallon! That's the mileage reported by the Cameo Carrier, with Thriftmaster 6 and Overdrive (optional at extra cost).

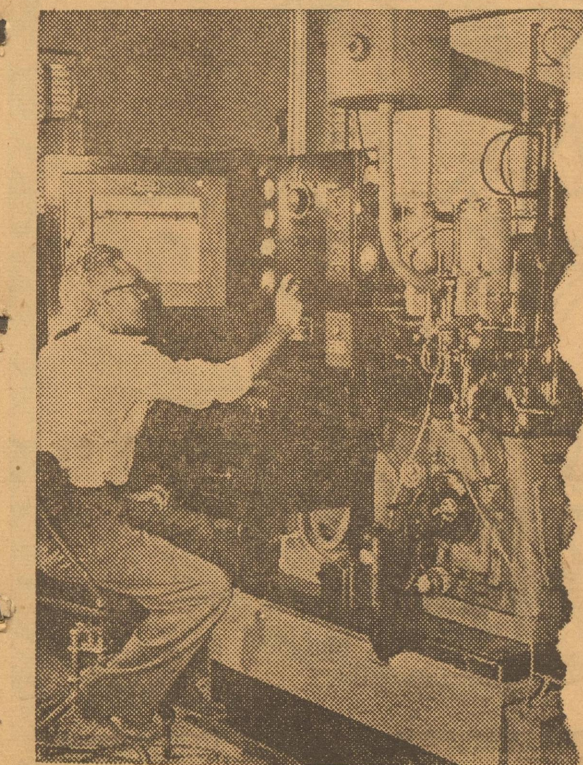

All the way in DRIVE range with Powermatic! This Powermatic-equipped 10000 Series tractor traveled the Alcan Highway in a single forward-speed range!

Orbaughs Retire From General Motors

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Orbaugh, former Friona residents, retired at the same time from the Delco Remy division of General Motors after 30 years of service with the organization. The couple has travelled in every state in the union and plan to purchase and equip a trailer house and live in each of the states within the next few years. They plan to begin their wandering about April first of 1957. They were the first man and wife to ever retire from the plant.

Higher "Fire" Education

Most common cause of fires in dormitories, fraternities, and sororities is carelessness with matches and cigarettes says the National Fire Protection Association. It's responsible for one out of every four fires in these types of buildings, which, notes the fire safety group, house students of higher education who apparently have yet to learn common sense in fire prevention.

LETTERS To The Editor

Dear Mr. Graham: We are enclosing a copy of a new project that is being started in Friona next week and is being sponsored by the Modern Study Club and any other interested civic organizations. It is as follows:

Project Christmas Card

We, the following people, realize that the sending of Christmas cards to our friends who reside in Friona and Parmer County has become a commercialization of the true Christmas spirit, and though we appreciate and enjoy every card we receive, and would consider it a personal sacrifice to give them up, we think the following plan would be a real Christmas greeting to every single person in Friona and Parmer County and would bring back some of the true meaning of our Christmas season. We agree to the following plan:

We agree that we will deposit the money we would normally spend for stamps and Christmas cards (sent locally) in accounts that will be provided in the local bank. These accounts will be called "Christmas Card." We will allocate this money to be used for equipment of the Parmer County Community Hospital. These deposits may be made anytime between now and December 10, 1956.

On December 20 the Friona Star will carry a Christmas Greeting with a list of all the people who have signed this pledge and made their deposit. Any amount will be acceptable whether it is $1 or $100 and the amounts of single deposits will not be published.

The Modern Study Club is contacting the other clubs and organizations of the community and soliciting their assistance in this project. Of course, if it so happens that some are not contacted, all they have to do to become a part of the project is to make their deposits to the "Christmas Card" account at the Friona State Bank and sign their name on the deposit slip in the same manner that they would like for it to appear on the Christmas Greeting before December 10, 1956.

From the response so far, we feel sure that this will prove to be a big thing and that we can all in a big way give "Christmas Greetings" to all the people of Parmer County.

- Yours Sincerely, Mrs. Frank A. Spring Phone 2621 Mrs. J. G. McFarland Phone 2571 Mrs. Roy V. Miller Phone 3331 Mrs. Ralph B. Miller Phone 7-3463 * * * * * 4303 Harwood Des Moines 12, Iowa October 12, 1956

Please let me thank you for the copies of the Star which you sent. I have devoured every word and such memories recalled by some of those old pictures, especially the school house where I taught for four years.

Let us know when you plan another. Thanking you again, Sincerely, Mrs. Esther Schlenker Burns

Rain Gives Friona Run-Around Again

Friona again turned up rainless this week after several spots on the Plains were fortunate enough to catch some moisture. The last rain that fell in Friona was August 21 when .90 inch was recorded. Cloudiness has been increasing this week, and fog has appeared during the early part of two mornings. However, the weather has remained dry. Some showers fell in southeastern Parmer County Monday night.

Local weather observers are beginning to wonder if it will ever freeze or rain again.

DUGGINS VOWS GALS DID IT

What made Friona go "bang" Monday at 12:35 p. m.?

A loud noise, resembling a sharp clap of thunder, pealed out of cloudless weather over the area and jostled windows and Chinaware throughout the community. Dozens of citizens walked out into the street with puzzled expressions on their faces, wondering what had happened. No one seemed to know what the noise had been.

One man claimed credit, however. That was Baker Duggins, girls' basketball coach. He is reported to be working on a flashy team this year. "That was one of my girls breaking the sound barrier," he commented with a grin.

More serious minded residents have doubts about this alibi. The girls weren't even practicing at the time, and they rather suspect that it was a jet that made the noise—not a basketball girl.

tress and some other belonging tied atop their car. They apparently had planned to camp out along the Trinity River bottom, since hotel accommodations were almost nonexistent.

Someone started to cry, "Let's get that Okie," and from there it was pure mayhem. The mattress was jerked off and after a few tugs among the mob, it was ripped into pieces. Cotton floated everywhere.

A woman from inside the car jumped up on the hood and in righteous indignation began to tell the crowd off. She didn't make any Gettysburg address, but we remember it better than Lincoln's words. Her speech was very colorful, especially for a woman.

We were on her side and wished we could do something to help. But it probably would have cost us our heads. We happened to be in a party of about 15 Texans at the time and they had been caught by the odd but maddening tempo of the crowd. Like we were saying, Texas-Oklahoma football games are pretty tame affairs these days.

We are amused, in an ironic sense, at the claims of the nation's auto makers for originality of design and engineering. How is it, do you suppose, that the "big three" are marketing their series of cars this year that are all so strikingly similar in appearance?

How is it, we wonder, that the leaders in each price bracket offer similar features at almost identical prices, and also that the horsepower of their different models are so nearly the same?

Lodge Plans Purchase Of Old Bank Building

Members of the Friona Lodge No. 1332 are planning to purchase the building located at the corner of Main and 5th Street, and known as the old bank building.

The downstairs floor of the two-story building until last week had been rented by Friona Insurance Agency. However, it has now been vacated, and consideration is being given finishing this part of the building into a dining hall.

Upstairs has been used for Lodge meetings for some time.

The building is now owned by Friona Building Company, Inc. Mack Baimum, secretary, says that all stockholders of the company are members of the Lodge. He said the sale probably would be consummated in the near future.

Will Meet Friday

The Fidelis Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church will meet Friday, October 19, in the home of Mrs. Jack Porter on East Highway 60.

Mary's Cafe Plans Opening November 1

Mary Pilgrim this week announced plans to have Mary's Cafe open in its new location by November 1.

Finishing of the tile floor in the building on west Highway 60 is not complete, but all heavy equipment has arrived, and she anticipates no trouble in making the move.

Mrs. Pilgrim and Hayden Cason had their cafe burned out only three weeks ago. It was located adjacent to Smiley's Courts at that time. They had planned to operate two cafes until the fire, but this idea has been dropped since the loss.

"I didn't think I'd ever get tired of a vacation," Mrs. Pilgrim remarked, "but I'm ready to go back to work now."

Mai Lynn Lovnick Undergoes Surgery

Step Lively to Bigger Windrowed-Crop Profits

Use a BIG-CAPACITY JOHN DEERE No. 55 COMBINE

The hungry hum of the No. 55 Self-Propelled sings out two important messages. First, there's a lot of work being done. Second, there is plenty of capacity in every unit to handle the heavy crops, the heavy windrows, without overloading, loss of grain, or slipshod cleaning.

In addition to the big daily capacity and steady good work, the No. 55 gives you unmatched comfort and ease of operation... hydraulic selective ground speed control... balanced weight on all four wheels... double-ram platform control... big, auger-unloading grain tank that empties in 1-1/2 minutes, standing still or on the go, and many other outstanding advantages.

We will be glad to give you complete information on the No. 55; call us or drop in any time you're in town.

Decorative insets of scrolled braid emphasize the sweep of collar over a slim wrap coat cut in true dramatic lines.

Chevron panels in back emphasize the deep, luxurious nap of the inky black Zibeline, Milium satin lining.

FRIONA
With June

In a very impressive ceremony in the auditorium Friday afternoon Ruby Grubbs was crowned football queen by Buford Carter, who is one of the co-captains. Her attendants were Nancy Outland, Barbara Crow, Phyllis Dean, and Phila Buske. The auditorium was filled to capacity.

Someone made the remark, "When the auditorium was built, we thought it would be large enough for all the children and their parents. Now the school children almost fill it up without any parents."

Seeing so many school children makes us realize how much the school has grown in the past few years. If it continues to grow at the same rate in the future, it will just be a matter of a few years until the present facilities will not begin to accommodate the enrollment.

Some thought has been given to this matter by the school board, teachers, and others who are interested. This is a good indication but more than thought will have to be put into the problem before it can be satisfactorily solved.

A growing community is like a growing child. Just as a growing child outgrows last year's clothing, a growing community outgrows last year's needs. School facilities which were adequate a few years ago will be inadequate a few years from now.

Something new has been added at the Bi-Wize Drug. There are two new booths, but still the seating capacity is all filled a lot of the time. Our theory of not hunting for lost objects will also work on people sometimes.

Monday of last week three members of our staff spent considerable time looking for two or three different men. Finally we decided to give up and relax a few minutes. This called for a trip to the drug store. When we got to the fountain, there sat the very men for whom we had been looking.

Something we hardly expected to hear: A lady drove up in front of the office Friday in a Cadillac. When she came in, she commented on the beauty of a new Ford which was parked near the bank.

THE WINNERS!—The first grade section taught by Mrs. Ethel Bengler was named as having the best fire prevention poster at school this week. The contest was sponsored by the Friona Fire Department and all classes participated. Here two students help Mrs. Bengler display their work. They are Mike Reznick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Reznick, and Kara Beth Sides, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Sides.

J. R. Southward, a farmer in the Black community, gave our other half a large pumpkin. It was the first pumpkin Susan had ever seen. She said, "Daddy, I'll get the salt while you cut the pumpkin. Then we will eat it."

The graduating classes of several years were represented in the homecoming parade Friday afternoon. Hadley Reeve and Thelma Osborn Ford represented the class of 1929. Think the car in which they were riding was about that model.

The Guy Lattas have sold their house in the west part of town to the Deon Awtreys. They plan to build out on West Loop in the near future. Guy has drawn the plans to fit Lucille's ideas and several friends have given their approval.

KELLEY TO AUSTIN

Superintendent Dillie M. Kelley is attending a meeting of school superintendents at Austin. Kelley expects to be back in Friona today. Daily sessions were held Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

Sunday evening dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mackelford were Mr. and Mrs. J. Richardson of Hereford.

Ladies Getting Dirty Deal

I have had your editorial on rummage sales in last week's paper called to my attention by a number of ladies. After thinking it over, I am inclined to say that I believe the ladies are getting a dirty deal.

I am a member of the Friona Woman's Club, and know from experience how difficult it has been to raise money through the years for various civic purposes. We built and paid for the Club House which the entire community—including the businessmen who complain about our rummage sales—make use of every week.

The rummage sale which we had last week was an effort to raise money to furnish a room at the new hospital. These are just examples of the many good things we put our hard-earned benefits to.

After your paper came out last week, I heard a representative of a church group say that they have postponed a fund-raising sale because they want to wait and see what comes of the thing you have helped stir up.

I can show that rummage sales have actually brought business to Friona. Last week there was a Latin American laborer at our sale who had come here from Clovis. If it had not been for the sale, he would not have been in Friona at all. There are many other cases such as this one.

Your editorial on rummage sales made me mad.

Swindlers Sell Fabrics Marked "All Wool"

SALT LAKE CITY—A smoothly operating band of door-to-door salesmen who sell cheap substitute fabrics as "all-wool" are cheating the nation's housewives out of hundreds of thousands of dollars each year, the American Wool Council has warned here.

The swiftly spreading racket, which fells local authorities in most communities, has reached as far West as Southern California and as far East as Hartford, Conn., according to the Better Business Bureau in New York. In most cases, victims are persons who can ill afford to be swindled.

Fast-talking and fast-moving members of the organization hit with greatest frequency in rural America. Here, in smaller towns with few stores, these slickly polished gyps can reach the heart of the nation's budget-conscious, home-sewing market.

Telling a story of personal hard luck, the itinerant salesman offers what are described as luxury wool fabrics at sacrifice prices. Authentic-looking labels identifying the fabrics as "all-wool" play a big part in clinching most sales, they add.

Only after the salesman has sped away in his high powered car do both the salesman's story and fabric prove to be synthetic.

"These operations, which constitute a nationwide swindle of gigantic proportions, are cleverly devised to escape effective prosecution and are geographically planned to victimize widely scattered segments of the population," says W. H. Steiwer, the American Wool Council's president.

"For every one of the hundreds of local incidents reported each year," he adds, "thousands of sales unquestionably go unreported."

How to Be a Sucker in 3 Easy Lessons

LESSON ONE - Things to Avoid

1. Don't read stories like this clipping from the newspaper. To do so may undermine your confidence in hit-and-run salesmen to such an extent that you will never be able to achieve Grade A Suckership.
2. Keep away from your local, taxpaying, community-supporting stores. To shop them carefully may interfere with your free acceptance of the salesman's pitch about offering values that the stores can't beat.

LESSON TWO - Have Faith

1. Swallow whatever line the nice man hands you, because he and his company (which you probably never heard of) guarantees what he says.
2. Don't display your rudeness by asking him to further jeopardize his immortal soul by inquiring where he could be found by tomorrow if you had to try to collect on his guarantee.

LESSON THREE - Forget

1. Forget that you may want the people you do business with to help out with local money-raising projects. And where will the peddler be then?
2. Forget that about one-third of the money you spend with local business establishments finds its way into community upkeep and progress, while the peddler puts this part down in his sock.

It Pays to Buy where You Live

Friona firms are the only business establishments in the world who are genuinely interested in the future of this community where you make YOUR living.

Lazbuddie threatened once, on a 60 yard pass from halfback Glen Watkins to end, James Gilmore. Gilmore was caught on the Farwell three yard line, and the Longhorns fumbled on the next play, losing the ball.

Joe Osborns Trace Family History While in Scotland

Editor's note: 2nd Lt. and Carolyn Osborn are continuing an interesting account of their travels in England and Scotland, which they are visiting on leave from Germany, where Lt. Osborn is stationed. This is another account written by Joe.)

The border between England and Scotland is probably the only one in Europe without police, custom agents, and currency exchange. In fact you hardly know you are in Scotland until the clipped English accent rolls out into a burr and the people seem to lose some of their reserve.

Edinburgh, a somewhat grim looking city, was our destination. Decades of coal-burning industry have left the buildings almost black. The city was not visibly damaged by the air raids of the war. There were few new buildings and very little construction underway. As a result, Edinburgh seemed to me to be much older than London.

Standing in the center of the city on a mass of rock which rises far above the skyline, Edinburgh Castle dominates the scene. It is in perfect condition, complete with cannon. This castle has a stormy past. For over 1000 years it has been fought over, destroyed and rebuilt. It was the heart of Scotland during the long feud with England and this era is proudly recalled by the relics exhibited in the towers and rooms of the castle.

One room is entirely devoted to John Paul Jones, the Scot who founded the American Navy. I suspect that Scotland was secretly rooting for the colonies during the American Revolution, though England had finally annexed them to the Empire not long before.

The annual performance of the Military Tattoo was staged as part of the Edinburgh Music Festival while we were there. It is a night exhibition of massed bagpipe bands from the Scottish Regiments held on the floodlit esplanade of Edinburgh Castle. No setting could have been more dramatic. The shrill, almost eerie strains of bagpipe music are quite stirring. Each band in its distinctive kilt dress presented a spectacle that we will always remember.

Somehow I doubted that the kilt was generally accepted, but the Scots are quite serious about them. The kilt is not only an approved form of dress, but it is also a preferred dress-up outfit. The kilt, with the tartan of the regiment or of the wearer's clan, is worn as the dress uniform of the Army and by civilians on dress occasions. Wherever we went we saw the kilt worn so proudly that I soon realized that it would be a vast mistake to belittle them.

From Edinburgh we continued north into the Highlands region known as The Trossachs. To understand the significance of the Scottish Highlands, one needs to examine a map of the region showing the territory of the Highland Clans. From the 13th Century until the 19th Century this country was run as many independent principalities, each owned and jealously guarded by a family clan. Since my mother is a Macfarlane we felt we must explore the Macfarlane Country, so we headed for the western shore of Loch Lomond. This country was a background for many stories by Sir Walter Scott, English author.

Loch Lomond is a long lake, winding around twenty-three miles among the mountains. It is fed by springs which trickle off high, almost barren mountains like silver threads. Timber follows the lake shore; however the mountains are barely covered with short grass. They look as if they were overgrown with moss. The area has a mysterious beauty, especially when the peaks are shrouded in mist.

Our Macfarlane ancestor went to Virginia during the 18th Century and the clan has long since sold its holdings and dispersed. We stayed in Arrochar, a small village which was the headquarters of the clan. Locating a Macfarlane at Arrochar, we were informed that she was about the last of the clan still living there. Alas, she told us, the Macfarlanes are almost nothing but a memory in those parts. Miss Macfarlane did tell us about two islands on Loch Lomond which still bore marks of the clan's robust past.

Spotting the islands from the shore, we hired a boat and embarked. The first is called Inverglugus Island. It covers about one-half acre and contains the ruins of the castle which was the stronghold of the Macfarlane chief until it was burned in the 1600's by Cromwell. The clan seems to have had the misfortune of picking the losing side on too many of the battles of this period. The towers and walls of this castle are still partly standing, though overgrown with bushes and vines.

When Inverglugus Castle was burned, the chief moved up the lake to a larger island of Vou. The castle on this island was larger than the first, however it too is in ruins. One tower remains with an underground room whose walls are five feet thick.

While a great many ancient Scottish feuds are forgotten, we found the Scots still very lively. They are a warm, friendly people who take an interest in visitors and are anxious for their country to be liked. They fondly recall the American soldiers they knew who were stationed there during the war and seem to feel a closer kinship with Americans than do the English. Scots love to kid about America, their thrift, and in general, just about anything that comes up in conversation.

The only thing that marred our trip was the fact that this has been the wettest summer all over Europe in thirty years. Much of the wheat barley, and oats in England and Scotland had fallen. Virtually all grain is threshed. I have seen only one combine since leaving the States and that was in Germany. Agriculture in Britain is far more mechanized, however, than in Germany, a fact which surprised me. Most tractors are of the small Ford-Ferguson type.

A great many potatoes are raised. They solve surplus possibilities by simply serving both boiled and roasted potatoes every day at both dinner and supper, whether you like it or not.

Club Women Study Safety

Safety was the topic of study at the Friona Woman's Club meeting Wednesday afternoon at the club house. Films were shown on highway safety by Patrolman McNeil and Kenneth Maxwell of Amarillo. McNeil and Maxwell also talked on safe driving.

They expressed the opinion that about 80 percent of the reckless driving was due to lack of knowledge about safe driving. In their opinion, driver education should be required by every school. McNeil stated that law observance and courtesy when motoring would reduce accidents on the highways.

Mrs. C. W. Dixon presided over the business meeting. Roll call was answered with safety hints for the home. The entertaining rooms were decorated with fall flowers and fruits. Mrs. F. L. Reed arranged the music which was a song by Karen Treider, who was accompanied by Phyllis Treider. Hostesses were Mrs. Charles Russell and Mrs. Lem Miller. They served refreshments of fruit salad with whipped cream, wafers, coffee and iced tea to the 25 members who were present, the out of town speakers, and Mesdames Ralph Miller, Frank Spring, and George Treider of Friona.

Crume and Wilson Speak At Meeting

Guest speakers at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Progressive Study Club at the Club House were Floyd Crume and Roy Wilson. Crume's topic of discussion was "Conservation of Area Resources." Wilson spoke on "Conserving Water at Home."

After the talks, club members participated in a question and answer session. The hostesses were Juanda Jarrell and Mary Bavousett. They served refreshments of a salad plate with wafers and coffee to members present: Crume, Wilson, Billie Long and Lawanna Crume.

Modern Study Club Sets Baby Show Date

The date for the Modern Study Club baby show has been set for Tuesday, October 30, at 7:30 p. m. at the high school auditorium. The show will include children from toddlers to school age. Any child who can walk across the stage but isn't in school may enter.
