

Some Eighty Get Swimming Lessons

Some days ago the local Red Cross made it possible for an announcement to be made stating that there would be a Red Cross swimming and life saving class started at the local swimming pool. When the applicants reported it was seen that the demand for this instruction was far in excess of the expectations of those in charge. It had been planned to take care of twenty boys and twenty girls. There were in the neighborhood of forty of each sex. When this condition was found the Lions Club made it possible to continue with them all.

Mrs. Tom Cobb and Mrs. Dr. Treadway are the advisers and instructors for the girls beginning classes. The girls are doing some good work and many are learning that they can swim who had never learned it before. The girls who have been in the classes are as follows: Dorothy McGlothlin, Eva Mae Woodridge, Elray Lewis, Mattie Joe Gracey, Vondee Lewis, Darlene Tankersley, Margine Griffin, Kathleen Hardin, Jane Brownfield, Queenelle Sawyer, Wilma Frank Dunn, Lucille Harris, Doy Murphy, May Murphy, Anna Letha Hamilton, Leora Proctor, Helen Quante, Doris Lee Gore, Ora Dee Eiche, Geraldine Helms, Lucille McSpadden, Fern Sawyer, Evelyn Thalman, Bonnie Dale Gross, Frankie Rickles, Shirley Bond, Vera Jackson, Wanda Graham, Bernice McSpadden, Lataine Eiche, Katherine Holgate, Cathey Hunter, Mary Dee Price, Juanita Tankersley, Texana Woodridge, Sallie Truman Stricklin, and Bobbie Hardin. Many of these girls are just learning to swim while there will be a considerable group who will pass the Red Cross Swimming test and get the award.

Speck and Richard Kendrick are assisting in the instruction of the boys in the life saving class. Mr. Penn who is taking life saving is also assisting with the swimmers.

The boys in the life saving class are as follows: Sawyer Graham, L. J. Dunn, Charles Barret, Barney Holate, Marner Price, Bud Endersep, W. Moore, Clyde Dallas and Dee Brownfield. These boys are learning what to do with a drowning person and how to prevent accidents in the water.

The boys in the swimming class are as follows: Bill Savage, Joe Hardin, Alvin Smith, Bill Hardin, Dub Hardin, Bern Elliott, Joe Bob Burnett, John Jr. McLeod, Jim Shelton, Clifton Jones, J. B. Lee, Vernal Brothers, Audrey Brothers, Windell Smith, Bill McGowan, T. I. Brown, Clarence Thomas, Charles Hill, Claude Jr. Huggins, Laddie Lynn Brownfield, Richard Wheeler, Harold Carpenter, Billie Hudgens, Raymond Harris, Ray Brownfield, Kyle Adams and James Michie. Many of the boys will be able to pass the Life Saving tests by the close of the period and you will likely see them wearing the emblem on their bathing suits soon.

Local Scouts Going To Post Scout Camp

Beginning July 17th and continuing through July 23rd the South Plains Area Council, Boy Scouts of America will have its regular yearly scout camp. The camp will be held at the Scout camp ground at Post, Texas.

Brownfield Troop 45, expects to attend the camp this year. There are nine boys who have already put up their deposit for a place at camp. These boys won't be disappointed if they are expecting a great time. They will be introduced to the finer points of scouting, camping and outdoor life. They will be given an opportunity to go swimming at least once a day with competent instructors in swimming and life saving if they wish to take it. One whole week will be taken in doing the thing that boys like to do.

The activities of the troops will be under the supervision of the scout masters of the district. A. B. Sanders, local scoutmaster of troop 45 will attend with the boys and assist in any way possible to make the camp a success.

The boys who are going are as follows: T. I. Brown, Wayne Mullins, Richard Kendrick, Bill Savage, Windell Smith, Kyle Adams, Harold Carpenter, Clifton Jones, Manard Price.

W. A. Bell Makes Discovery On Killing Flies

The Herald man was called to the residence of W. A. Bell late Sunday afternoon to witness the destruction of thousands of flies, a pest that the town is fairly overrun with this year, on account of much rain, we presume. Also no doubt to the presence of so many cows and hogs in the city, but the flies seem to be even worse in the rural districts.

Mr. Bell had purchased 15c worth of formaldehyde (guess that's the way to spell it) and put a teaspoon full of it in a saucer about half full of sweet milk. In the milk some bread can be placed slightly protruding from the mixture for the flies to light on. They will do the rest. The end of the porch where the saucer was setting was literally covered by these insects, and they were piled in heaps around the saucer.

Of course some will contend that this will draw flies from the other fellow's premises, but if each family in the city would do this, in a week's time flies would be very scarce. Of course each will have to take precaution with this poison where there are children or pets of any kind by placing it up out of reach.

Workman Seriously Injured At Caliche Pit

R. E. Guthrie, who has been employed at the caliche pit about three miles southwest of Seagraves was seriously injured Monday afternoon, and was carried to a Lubbock sanitarium where his injuries were treated. Hospital attendants stated that the injured man may lose eyesight in his left eye, his right eye was also hurt, he having received a severe cut across his face.

The accident occurred while Guthrie was preparing to set off a stick of dynamite in the caliche pit during excavation operations by a crew employed by Field Bros. and McCelvey, Lubbock contractors, who have contract for paving of Highway No. 137 in Gaines county.

The injured man blamed a faulty fuse with the premature explosion. He said he had lighted the three foot fuse, to which the dynamite was attached and just had dropped the explosive into a prepared hole when the blast caught him full in the face. Guthrie is unmarried.—Seminole Sentinel.

Herald Had No Intention Of Hurting Anyone

We made some statements in these columns last week concerning tax collections which were slightly in error, especially that part in regards to the fact that suits would be filed. Part of the time we were quoting Mr. Barret, and part of the time we were talking on our own responsibility. But Judge Barret states that we were in error in stating that the commissioners court of Terry county had any intention of filing suits at this time, but that he was talking about some adjoining counties.

We regret very much that we misunderstood Judge Barret in the matter, and are glad to offer this explanation as the Herald does not have the least desire to hurt anyone or to misrepresent them. It is not likely that they would be able to collect any taxes at this time anyway, if they did file suit.

Old North Gomez Box Has Been Restored

A few years ago, the old north Gomez box was done away with and part of the voters of that section of the county went to Johnson to vote while others came to Brownfield. But recently that box has been restored, according to Mr. W. H. Kelly who is making the race for commissioner of precinct three.

This information is being given in order that those who may desire to do so may vote before they come to town, or if they live near Gomez, will save them a trip to Johnson on that day. Mr. Kelly did not so state, but we imagine the election will be held in the new school building. At least one can find where the box can be found by asking at the Whitley store and filling station.

Collier Burton, son of a county commissioner of Dawson county, killed himself by shooting in the breast with a pistol, Tuesday, after having perhaps fatally wounded his bride of a few weeks with the same gun.

Judge Barret Makes Statement To Citizens

There seems to have been a misunderstanding between the Editor of the Herald and myself last week.

I told Jack that some of our adjoining counties were going to commence filing suits to collect taxes right away and not that this county was as he understood me.

The Commissioners' Court has never discussed the matter of filing suits for taxes and I know they do not intend to this summer as they want to give the people a chance to get something out of this years crop before crowding them.

We have about $125,000.00 worth of bonds and warrants that were voted by the people that sooner or later will have to be paid. The Commission's Court has never discussed the matter of filing suits for taxes and I know they do not intend to this summer as they want to give the people a chance to get something out of this years crop before crowding them.

We have already used money that could have been used to pay our salaries and paid it on the indebtedness of the County, trying to passify the bondholders until times get a little better.

I know that the present court and I am sure there is not a man running for Commissioner in any of the precincts that would want to see anyone set out of their homes.

We have been working all the year trying to get by with as little expense as possible and at the present time are trying to make up a budget that will allow a cut in taxes, but we cannot complete it until we find what the right of way for the highway is going to cost.

I am very sorry this misunderstanding occurred but Jack and I are the best of friends and I do not blame him in anyway.

Sincerely yours,
Jay Barret, County Judge.

Barbecue Monday Night For Legion Families

The American Legion, the Auxiliary and their families are invited to a big barbecue out at the Wm. Howard farm Monday afternoon at 6 P. M. We understand that two heaves, one donated by Bayne Price and the other by R. C. Burleson, both candidates for sheriff, will be barbecued by Bayne, and that Sam Pyeatt and Ches. Gore will do their stuff with the "Gentleman from Odessa" and other old time cowboy concoctions.

The ladies are expected to bring pies, cakes and salads, but the bread and drinks will be furnished by the Legion. There is no use to urge you to be there if you belong to the families of either of these organizations, or an invited guest, so we find it quite unnecessary to close with that admonition, for you'll be right there with a huge appetite. Personally, the Herald navigator will be there with a private bowl of huge capacity for a helping of the Son-of-a-gun.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Ward and four children of Bryson and Mr. Ward's brother, Dee Ward, of Milican, have returned home after visiting Mrs. Ward's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hester and family a few days.

Candidate Speaking Here Well Attended

The pie supper here Monday night and incidentally political speaking was well attended by both county and district officers, and everything went off very nicely. None of the candidates got row with each other, but treated each other in a courteous and gentlemanly manner, which makes one proud to claim these men as citizens and neighbors. Also, it leads one to believe that we will have a good set of officers no matter who is elected.

The proceeds of the pie supper amounted to slightly more than $56.00, all of which will be turned over to the Lubbock Sanitarium on the Alexander operation. Mr. Jim Miller informed us that the Legion was mighty well pleased, and the only regret they had was that there were not enough pies, and those which did sell brought too much. If they had received more pies, they could have been sold at a more reasonable figure.

Mr. C. L. Lincoln called and stated that they were very thankful for the encouragement and support they received from the candidates and citizenship in general, and the boys wanted them to know it. He also thanked the Herald for publicity given. Mr. Lincoln stated that Mr. Alexander had given the Post a note for the amount, and when it was paid back, it would be used as a circulating fund to help others in need.

County Singing Convention At Meadow, 17

The county singing convention will be held in quarterly session at Meadow Sunday, 17th, according to Roy Ragsdill, of Wellman, who was in Monday, and who is Vice-President of the convention. Tom Thomson of Lahey is secretary and O. L. Chapman, president.

John F. Taylor and his famous singers from Clovis, N. M., have accepted an invitation to be there, according to Mr. Ragsdill, as well as many other good singers of this section. No dinner will be spread for others than visitors from other counties.

How To Vote For Congressman-At-Large

There is a good chance for a lot of folks to lose their votes for Congressman-at-large. There will be three groups or places, numbered, 1, 2, 3. There will be three to elect—one from each group or place. The voter votes for three, but cannot vote for more than one in each group. Be sure to observe these regulations or your vote may be thrown out.—Lamesa Reporter.

Eli Perkins and family spent the week end with relatives at Amherst and were accompanied home by Misses Claudia Gus Morris and Geneva Huntsucker.

Pretty Good Bank Statements After All

The three banks of Terry county have their statements in this issue of the Herald, and we want the readers to give them a close perusal, and we are sure that you will have occasion to feel proud of them. They have now weathered the worst financial storm in this century at least, and are still strong and growing institutions. Bank examiners have only the highest praise not only for these banks but the men at the head of them. These bankers have been conservative about their loans, and for that very reason, they are in good shape.

The money that a bank loans, is not only their own money, but money belonging to their depositors, and of course any banker worthy the name should be conservative on loans. At least one of these banks has less loans now than for many years. They have been collecting slightly more than they have been loaning, which is a good indication, and shows that our people are not in bad shape financially. Yes, sir, the Herald is proud of OUR banks, for they are our banks and yours.

The three banks have a combined deposit of $345,150.100, which is mighty good for this time of year. They have combined cash, exchange and due from the Federal Reserve bank to the amount of $96,329.73, and this does not include almost an equal amount of stocks and bonds easily converted into cash. As we stated above, their loans are usually low for the time of year, being only $243,668.92 for the three banks.

T. L. Price Announces A Speaking Date

District Attorney T. L. Price was here this week and made a speaking date for Meadow, Wednesday night, July 20th at 8 o'clock. He at first set a speaking date here the night following, but has recalled that temporarily, but will likely make another soon. But the Meadow date stands.

Mr. Price stated to the Herald that the reason he was making this independent speaking date was that when he had to take time at regular speaking dates with all other candidates he was not allowed sufficient time to cover what he wanted to get before the people in 20 minutes, that it usually took from 45 to 50 minutes for him to cover all the ground he wanted to cover. Also, he had been so busy with pressing court matters that it became almost imperative that he have time to give them his record in office and talk with them personally.

Ben Hurst writes in from Wellington to state that he didn't get but four pages of the Herald and thought we short potted him. We did, Ben, but you got as many pages as anyone. Hoover Prosperity is on here now Ben, but times will get better. Ben also stated that he enjoyed the 23 year column very much.

Dawes Says the Trend Now On Up Grade

Chicago, June 23.—Charles G. Dawes, retiring president of the reconstruction finance corporation expressed the belief on arriving here Saturday that the country has reached "the turning point" in the depression.

Dawes based his prediction upon the general improvement in the small business enterprises of the country in the formal statement issued here, which was treated with a good deal of significance because of the close insight he has had into business conditions as head of the reconstruction finance corporation.

"Coming as I do from my work at Washington on the R. F. C., where one gets in its fair perspective the general business situation in the country, I believe that we have reached the turning point in the depression," Dawes said in his statement, which he handed to newspaper men as he stepped from the train.

"It is the smaller business enterprises with low overhead expenses which seem to be showing improvement; but in time the larger ones will necessarily follow.

"The recovery in the depression will start from the bottom up, not from the top down. That is what past experience shows."

TAXATION

(Tucumcari News)

And speaking of taxation—
Tax the people, tax with care,
To help the multimillionaire,
Tax the farmer, tax his fowl,
Tax the dog, and tax the howl,
Tax the hen and tax her egg
And let the bloomin' mudsill beg.
Tax the pig and tax his squeal,
Tax his boots, run down at heel;
Tax his horses, tax his lands,
Tax the blisters on his hands,
Tax his plow and tax his clothes,
Tax the rag that wipes his nose;
Tax his house and tax his bed,
Tax the bald spot on his head,
Tax the ox, and tax the ass,
Tax his "Henry," tax the gas;
Tax the road that he must pass,
And make him travel o'er the grass,
Tax his cow and tax his calf,
Tax him if he dares to laugh;
He is just a common man,
So tax the cuss just all you can.
Tax the laborer—be discreet—
Tax him walking on the street,
Tax his bread and tax his meat;
Tax his shoes clear off his feet.
Tax the pay roll, tax the sale,
Tax his hard-earned paper kale;
Tax his pipe and tax his smoke—
Teach him government is no joke.
Tax their coffins, tax their shrouds,
Tax their souls beyond the clouds.
Tax the farmer, tax his flocks;
Tax the servants, tax their socks.
Tax the living, tax the dead;
Tax the unborn, ere they're fed.
Tax the water, tax the air—
Tax the sunlight if you dare.
Tax them all, and tax them well,
Tax them to the gates of hell!

SURE WAY TO KILL RED ANTS OFFERED

Here is a sure-fire way to kill red ants:

Early in the morning before they leave their bed, pour a pint of gasoline down the hole. Turn a fruit jar upside down over the hole, being sure that it is securely seated. Do not set the gasoline afire. Then go off and forget about it.

That is all. There isn't anything else to do.

This plan has been tried by a number of people and has proved uniformly successful. It has been necessary to repeat the process once or twice on a few beds, but usually the first treatment is successful.

The method is successful because the heat of the sun, operating on the fruit jar, expands the gas from the gasoline and drives it into the uttermost parts of the ant bed, killing the stingers.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this method of thanking all our friends and neighbors for their many words of sympathy, kind deeds and for the beautiful floral offering at the death of our loving companion, mother, and grandmother. May God's richest blessings be upon each of you.

New Co-Op Officials Setup Made Known

A tentative setup of the district No. 2 branch office of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association here for handling the 1932 cotton crop has been announced.

Besides the Lubbock branch office, there will be 14 other offices over the district. Managers of these offices have been announced and it is probable that there will be several other branches selected by the time the receiving of cotton is started.

N. H. Payne is district manager with H. L. Gantz, field representative. J. H. Brock will be chief clerk and Miss Alberta Odom secretary to the manager.

Membership over the district is reported in excess of 40,000. Last year the district handled nearly 102,000 bales of cotton.

Branch offices and managers are: Brownfield, K. B. McWilliams; Childress, J. M. King; Lamesa, W. J. Frank Bass; Levelland, George W. Loveless; Littlefield, A. B. Cole; Lubbock, W. M. Ryan; Memphis, C. N. Hoffman; O'Donnell, W. H. Clark; Paducah, C. Y. Smith; Plainview, C. S. Higgins; Post, Frank Winn; Ralls, O. E. Reynolds; Tahoka, J. B. Bagge; Vernon, J. F. Pool; Wellington, Baker Hoskins.

Of the offices, Littlefield and Lamesa are still open as well as Lubbock.

All office managers are federally licensed cotton classifiers.—Lubbock Avalanche.

Negro Wanted In Slaying Is Under Arrest

After nearly two and a half years of freedom, Herman ("Bub") Robinson, a negro who shot and killed another negro and fatally wounded another here late January 19, 1930, has been arrested at Wasco, near Bakersfield, Cal., the Lubbock county sheriff's department announced Saturday.

The negro was arrested by a constable working on information received from the sheriff's department here, a Lubbock county deputy sheriff said. The sheriff's department here had learned that Robinson, using an assumed name, was in the Bakersfield region, and several times had communicated with authorities there, the deputy sheriff explained. Papers asking that Robinson be extradited were being prepared Saturday.—Lubbock Avalanche.

SPUR COWBOY IS REUNION WINNER

Stamford, July 6.—Horse cutting featured the Texas cowboy reunion here today with Adjutant General W. W. Sterling on Zarco as an entrant. Winners were not announced immediately.

Walter Cousins, of Dallas was presented with a plaque by reunion officials in recognition of his work as the organization's historian.

Final awards were set for tonight. An early announcement designated Jay Pumphrey of the 10-X ranch, Old Glory, as the most typical junior cowboy; John Selman, most typical cowboy under 55, and John Raines of Spur, most typical over 55.

First issue of the Tri-Town News, for Meadow, Ropesville and Wolf-farth, published by David Bayless Jeffery, came off the press last week.

The volume is a six-column, four page weekly. Mr. Jeffery is well known over the South Plains and has published the Westex-Newmex Farmer. His home is in Lubbock.—Lubbock Journal.

FORMER MEADOW CITIZEN DIES AT HOBBS, N. M.

Geo. S. Gafford, of Hobbs, N. M., 36, died in that city early last Wednesday morning following an operation the day before. The Brownfield Undertaking Co. went after the body which was returned to Meadow where burial was had, following funeral services at the Meadow Methodist church, of which he was a member.

Mr. Gafford started the Gafford Theatre at Meadow several years ago, and has owned theatres in various towns since that time, but recently came to Hobbs, N. M., to operate the show there. He leaves a wife and three children, both parents and three sisters to mourn his passing. His wife is the daughter of C. D. Duke of this city.

IF YOU THINK IT IS HIS TURN NOW, VOTE FOR FORRESTER THE 23RD.

Mrs. Sam Paul and a bunch of young folks went to the party Saturday night at Mr. and Mrs. Will Moss. They reported a wonderful time.

Miss Nellie Robert returned home last Thursday from Port Author where she has been visiting her sister for the past two or three months.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Burnett visited in the home of Rev. Loyd Green Sunday afternoon.

Wesley Bishop is helping his grandfather, Mr. W. M. Green, work out his crop this week.

Everyone is busy trying to get through with their crops this week, and we are having some ideal weather for killing weeds.

MEADOW BRIEFS

Meadow had quite a crowd Saturday afternoon, in fact more crowd than money. There were quite a lot of candidates and they were given an opportunity to make known their complaints, also their qualifications for the various places to be filled at the coming Primary. The following gentlemen were present and presented their claims for the various places:

Clyde E. Thomas of Big Spring for the State Senate; Judge Barret and Judge R. L. Graves candidates for County Judge; Judge Geo. Neill and Joe McGowan for County Attorney. Messrs. Smith, Burleson, Price, Arch Fowler, and Malcolm Thomason for Sheriff; Headstream, Bell, Tittle, for County Clerk; W. A. Hinson for Commissioner and Com. Brock also made a short talk by way of correcting certain charges against the Commissioners connected with the recent visit to San Antonio. Justice Peeler made one of his rather hot talks on the way he has been treated or rather mistreated during his term of office. Tom Verner also made some explanations where it appeared some reflections on certain acts of his as Deputy Sheriff.

The courtesy shown each other by the various candidates was very commendable, thus making the occasion very enjoyable. We shall be delighted to have them all with us again further along in the campaign.

The next few months will find things warmed up. The wet planks adopted by the Republican and Democrats while differing somewhat in its wording are one and the same thing. The Democrats leaving no doubt as to what is meant while the Republicans true to the moral cowardice that always characterizes their platform utterances favor submission. This is purposely done so that the moral weakling who occupies the White House can come forward in his letter of acceptance and explain the whole matter away.

The Dry's find themselves between the Devil and the deep blue sea. It is to be hoped that some outstanding dry will come forward and head their ticket. This will simplify matters enabling the major parties to fight it out on economic matters. The cry of the dries to vote against all wets should be met by all those favoring submission to vote against all candidates for the legislature or Congress who oppose submission.

Personally I would be glad that all Democrats regardless of his or her views on prohibition would stay with the party. If the dries cannot make a successful fight against repeal within the party it is certain they will be left chasing a National Prohibition Party, regardless of whether Senator Borah or other prominent figure heads the ticket. It is certain that practically all the prominent figures like Senator Sheppard will stay with the party regardless.

A new venture: The Tri-Town News, Volume one. No one is before me. The towns interested are Meadow, Ropes, Wolfarth. Some spike team. We wish the youngest long life and great usefulness.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Butler visited Mr. and Mrs. Tom Smith last Sunday.

Remember next Saturday night and Sunday is our regular preaching day. Let's everyone come.

More Views of Kerrville Flood

The airplane view above shows the city of Kerrville, built on a hill by the Guadalupe river. The swollen condition of the stream, which took four lives and did $500,000 damage over the week-end, is plainly shown. The lower photo, taken two miles below Kerrville on July 3 shows how the water spread out for miles, inundating everything. At this point the water had to be 40 feet above normal to reach the windows of the house in the foreground, according to its owner, M. Meadows.

America is counting cylinders and AMERICA PREFERS THE SIX

Since January 1st, buyers have chosen more Chevrolet Sixes than the combined total of all fours and all eights priced below $1000

When buying a low-priced car, do as America is doing: Count cylinders! And you'll say, as America is saying: "SIX! No more. No less!" America is saying that in the most convincing way it could possibly be said! With SALES! Since January 1st, the public has purchased more Chevrolets than the combined total of all four-cylinder cars and all eights priced under $1000.

Why? America counted cylinders and came to this conclusion: six is the ideal number for a car of lowest price! No more, because an engine with extra cylinders is bound to cost more for gas, oil and upkeep. No less, because six is the smallest number of cylinders you can have in a car and avoid the undesirable effects of inherent vibration.

A six, as Chevrolet builds it, is the happy medium between two extremes. It gives unexcelled economy.

No other motor car engine in America today costs so little for gas, oil and upkeep. It gives built-in smoothness. From 6 miles an hour to 65 or 70, Chevrolet is quietly, comfortably, enjoyably smooth. And because of this smoothness—plus the fact that the whole car is so solidly, ruggedly built—Chevrolet is a low-priced automobile that really stands up. It's a good, reliable, economical car the day you buy it... and keeps on being good, reliable, economical for 5,000—10,000—15,000 miles of driving.

SIX CYLINDERS
NO MORE—NO LESS

For GREATEST ECONOMY
and BUILT-IN SMOOTHNESS

With more than six cylinders you sacrifice economy—With less than six cylinders you sacrifice smoothness.

In addition, Chevrolet is a modern car, with Free Wheeling, Synchro-Mesh gear-shifting, Fisher bodies—and many other advanced features. Be cylinder-wise! Follow America's lead and make your next low-priced car a six—a Chevrolet Six! Unless you do, you can't expect the smoothness, economy and lasting satisfaction to which your money rightfully entitles you.

Record Of T. L. PRICE District Attorney

T. L. PRICE District Attorney

In submitting my candidacy to the people of this District for re-election, I do so with a full realization of the grave responsibilities of this office.

During my tenure of office there has been disposed of in the District Courts 294 Felony cases, and with the splendid cooperation of the petit jurors, I have secured convictions in 278 of these cases. In other words out of a total of 294 Felony cases tried, I have lost only 16, some of which were on the dockets when I came into office, thereby giving me little opportunity to familiarize myself with the evidence.

The above 294 cases includes both pleas of guilty and contested cases, however even in contested cases alone where I have had to combat with the keenest legal talent of this State, my percentage of convictions in such cases has been 85 per cent, including one case in which I obtained the death penalty.

It is not incumbent on the District Attorney, upon securing convictions, to follow such convictions on appeal to the Higher Courts, however in all heavy cases where appeals have been taken, I have without additional cost to the Tax Payers, carefully briefed and argued the cases, personally, before the Court of Criminal Appeals. The regular duties of this office being so heavy, it has been necessary for me to do this work at night, however, I have always been glad to do this as reversals are expensive to Tax Payers and by taking this extra precaution will lessen the opportunity for reversals. My record will also reveal that the Higher Court has approved my work in 85 per cent of the cases appealed.

TAXES MUST BE REDUCED!

With my knowledge of the records of this office, and with the cooperation of our District Judge, I sincerely believe that the cost of doing on your Court work can yet be materially reduced, thereby bringing about a further saving in Tax money to each County. If retained another term every effort possible, just as in the past, will be made to do this.

I favor a 25 per cent reduction in salaries of all State officers, including my own.

If you are for Efficient, Economical and Courageous Enforcement of Your Laws, Fairly and Impartially To All—Then Vote For Me On July 23rd.

GOOD OLD DAYS

The old-time livery stable and corner saloon have given way to the ornate garage and filling station; the movie show has replaced the town hall; we go in an hour now a distance it formerly took a day to travel. One can go from coast to coast in a single day in the air. He can telephone from a ship at sea to any one of the 18,000,000 telephones in the United States. He can listen on his radio to speakers thousands of miles away. In a short time he'll be able to see them, too. Our homes are heated by scientific and healthful methods. We have our own cooling systems. Oil and gas and electricity have taken the place of coal. We have the news of the world on our doorsteps, morning and evening, thanks to the stride of modern newspapering. Our lives are full of events. We go places and see things. Our horizons have broadened. Back-breaking drudgery has been eliminated in every avenue of activity. Household appliances, electrically operated, have come to lessen the work of the housewife. We have more time for play, and the golf links is an adjunct of every village and hamlet as well as the larger cities. We have improved our highways and have made our cities sanitary and attractive. But, why go on? Truth is the so-called "good old days" are only a figment of the imagination. The days we are living now are the best the world has ever seen up to now. And "we hain't seen nothing yet." — News-Telegraph, Atlantic, Iowa.

ABOUT ADVERTISING

A merchant told us the other day that advertising does not pay. The next day he made mention of the fact that he had just received some new product at his store and that it was of value as a news item. Of course he did not wish us to mention the arrival of the goods, because it would sell the products.—Groveton News.

All successful merchants of the present day know that advertising pays. Those who used to think advertising was foolishness have passed out of the picture. Those who still think so are rapidly passing. It won't be long now until all are gone. Even the five-and-tens, once so arrogant in their superiority to the printed work, are looking longingly upon the advertising pages. The Good Book tells us that where there is no vision the people perish. It might have added, had it been concerned for business matters, that where there is no publicity, the store closes. Mr. Ford used to say he got all the advertising he needed free of charge. But when competition began to compete, Mr. Ford was too shrewd a man to ignore modern necessity. When the biggest ones admit that they can't maintain themselves without advertising's artful aid, how shall the little ones teach them better? Many dealers do only desultory or unsystematic advertising by reason of thinking they must use big and expensive spaces to make a showing. A competent writer and director of advertising can make small spaces shine out. Small, systematic, vivid advertisements are often more available throughout a year than larger spaces badly contrived and placed.—State Press, in Dallas News.

While an inquest was being held on a body identified as that of Charles Brown of Chicago, Brown appeared and asked why the inquest was being held.

AN OLD FALLACY

In a recent editorial, the Fairmount, Minnesota Sentinel points out the recurrence of an ancient fallacy. This fallacy is this: That the railroads are guaranteed a return of six per cent on their investment, by the government, and that if they are unable to earn it the deficit is made up from the public treasury.

Fortunately for the treasury, which has enough difficulties at present, the railroads are guaranteed nothing of the kind. What the Transportation Act says, in effect is that the lines may, IF THEY ARE ABLE, earn a return of 5 3-4 per cent. There is no intimation of a guarantee. If the lines earn more, half of it is taken under the recapture provision and put into a fund for the benefit of weak roads. If they earn less, that is their hard luck.

Their competitors are generally less regulated and waterway competition is largely subsidized by the government. A good many tax dollars which are used to make up waterway deficits are provided by the railroads.

The railroad face a problem that will not pass with the depression, because of changing transportation methods. It is a problem that grows more important to the public which owns, directly or indirectly, billions of dollars of railroad securities and is vitally interested in the employing and purchasing power of the lines.

ONE WAY TO REACH CRIME

Senator Glenn of Illinois had a happy inspiration the other day when he offered an amendment to the tax bill laying a hundred per cent tax upon all incomes obtained by crime. The amendment was promptly adopted and doubtless will be written into the law.

That certainly is one way to end the "partnership" between the government and crime—by giving all the profits to one of the partners and sending the other to jail! Hitherto, law violators have been able to render themselves immune to prosecution so far as the government was concerned merely by declaring their income to the internal revenue bureau and paying the tax. Al Capone got himself into trouble, not by the crimes thru which he derived his income, but by failing to declare that income and to pay tax on it. If the Glenn amendment had been the law a year ago, Capone would not be looking forward with complacency to a life of ease when he has served his prison term thru the enjoyment of his ill-gotten gains. In the future vigorous enforcement of the 100 per cent levy on crime revenues will certainly tend to discourage activity in that industry since even the most confirmed criminal would hardly care to work for nothing.—Lovington, (N. M.) Tribune.

Young Husband: "Sweetheart, what did you do with that rubber plant Aunt Jennie gave us?"
Wife: Why, honey, I put it upstairs in the window. Why do you ask?"
Young Husband: "Oh, no reason at all. I was just wondering what you put in this salad."

THE SWEDEN'S OPINION

In the presidential campaign of 1912, a Wisconsin politician toured the back districts of his native State to electioneer for his party. In a remote neighborhood he came upon a tall Scandinavian sitting on a log in a clearing. The stranger hailed up his team and greeted the resident, who replied with a nod.

The politician explained that he was sounding out the sentiment in the district.

"What do you think about Wilson?" he asked.

"Aye don't know," drawled the other.

"Well, how about Roosevelt?" "Aye don't know."

"Maybe you like Taft?" "The alien shook his tawny head dumbly."

"Well, now, look here then, you must have some opinion," said the visitor. "You and your neighbors must have talked the thing over among yourselves. Who do you think has the best show?"

The simple Swede gave this question lengthy consideration. Then, with a faint change of expression, he said:

"Aye tank Ringing Brothers got the best show."

IN PART SETTLEMENT

The men who earn their living on the waters and in the marshes of the Great South Bay of Long Island are a race unto themselves. They are a sturdy independent lot, and almost without exception, are endowed with a quaint native wit.

One winter's day a party of baymen sat around a red-hot stove in a little oyster shanty on one of the farther bars. The talk veered this way and that until finally arose the ancient question:

"What would you do if you had a million dollars?"

One of the company allowed he'd buy himself an ocean-going yacht and tour the world. Another rather thought he'd adopt orphans and educate them. And so forth and so on.

All this time, Old Man Banks, locally celebrated as the most shiftless man in the county, had sat in silence, rolling his quid and staring reflectively into the hot coals.

"Say, Banks," quoth one of the group, "you been keepin' pretty quiet; what would you do if somebody was to hand you a million in cash?"

The old man deftly spat in through the open stove door before he answered:

"Well," he said, "I don't know exactly, but I reckon I'd pay it on my debts ez fur ez it went."

When a pretty girl of Hollywood, Calif., was asked her name by a filling station attendant, she replied "I'm Miss Wienie Hotdog and I feel like a cannibal whenever I eat a frankfurter."

conditions are essential for success. In the first place there must be a proper relation between flour and leavening; the flour must be such that it will give a tender product and the leavening agent "live" to its work well and leave no undesirable taste or spots behind it, and the dough must not

Local Boys' Coaches to be Judged In Dallas July 5 to 12

More than 5,000 boys throughout Texas are looking forward with more than ordinary interest to the display of coach models to be held in the Technical High School in Dallas July 5th to 12th inclusive. For during the display, the gay little Napoleonic carriages which these boys have been constructing since last fall, as entries in the $75,000 competition of the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild, will be scored as a basis for making the 20 awards provided for this state.

The selection of two Texas boys to attend the second annual Guild convention in Detroit, Aug. 22-24, competing there with boys from the other states and from the Guild's seven Canadian districts, for the international awards, also will be determined by the Dallas judging.

These international awards consist of four university scholarships valued at $5,000 each, for which the competition is keen. Coaches from this state will be judged by two Dallas men long identified with boys' activities—S. J. Blocker, manual training instructor, and J. L. Harrell, Scout worker. These men will work in conjunction with a third judge from the headquarters of the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild, in checking and recording the more than 230 different measurements involved in scoring each coach. Boys and their parents will be welcome at the exhibit, where they found a strong fascination last year in watching the painstaking process by which the models were judged.

No, Sadie, the bootlegger is NOT for repeal of the 18th amendment. He has better success with the law just as it is.

Al Smith announced that he will support the national Democratic ticket. Whether or not that means that he will take the stump or will just vote 'er straight, was not made clear.

A local merchant was heard to remark lately that we all have a mighty hard fight and a very short stick to fight with. Yes, but the victory goes to the president, and we are glad to say we have a set of merchants that will hang and rattle and when good times return—and they will—we'll look back on this depression as another great victory won and press onward.

A writer in the Texas Spur, who attended the Democratic National convention at Chicago, reports that he traveled some 1600 miles making the journey there and back, and during all that time found only one man, Republican or Democrat that aimed to vote for Mr. Hoover.

The Herald has before it a report of the Association of Southern Women for the prevention of lynchings, which shows a great improvement in conditions, especially in the south. Indeed many of the southern states have been clear of that affliction for several years now, but Texas has one black mark this year.

The small country town weekly, like this paper, for instance, think they have hubbed it, and they have. Business in the past two or three years has fallen off from 35 to 50 percent, and in some cases perhaps 75 percent. But they are by no means in a row to themselves. Take the Farm and Ranch, for instance. It has gone from a weekly to a semi-monthly, and with not more than half the business it had formerly. And the Semi-Weekly Farm News is pitiable. For the last few issues it has carried less than ten inches of display matter and about a half column of classifieds. One or two issues the only display they had was a double column two inch Cuticura soap ad.

machinery they have until they are out of debt.

Hundreds of well located small towns of the nation are fading away because their newspapers are not reflecting enterprise and growth. Their merchants are awakening too late to find that their mirror is broken and that a hustling neighboring city is reflecting the glory that should have been their own.

See where a Springfield, Missouri, woman actually "kept her mouth shut" for a whole month. She had to, of course—her lips were sealed together with adhesive tape. The physicians favored the woman in every way possible—they even chose February as the month for the trying ordeal, since it is a known fact that women don't talk as much in February as they do in any of the other months.—Lamesa Reporter.

The liquor plank has been labeled a "straddle" and assailed by extremists in the wet and dry camps. Senator Borah of Idaho, whose silvery eloquence did so much to elect President Hoover on a dry platform in 1928, has served notice he will not support the chief executive if the latter runs on the Chicago platform.

"What went with all that road money?" asks Jim Ferguson. Which "road money," Jim? The general opinion was that your gang got it when you were Governor. The state managed to get back nearly half a million, but nobody ever found out where most of it went. We remember, Jim, that you were able to reclaim your ranch when your term as governor expired, but it seems that Mr. Sterling will lose all of his property before he gets through serving his first term.—Lamesa Reporter.

The new idea of putting $50 in currency in circulation by providing that much for every man, woman and child in the nation, leaving a place for 35 3c stamps, one to be placed each time the bill changes hands, is meeting with popular approval with most all people we have talked with. It is optional with the government to recall and cancel the bill as soon as it bears the 35 three cent stamps.

The person or persons who continually and persistently allows livestock to get out and get into his neighbors' fields, to destroy and eat up his neighbors' crops is just lacking in the proper respect for his neighbors' rights. This may sound a little harsh to some folks, but it is aggravating as hell to have to get up and chase cows and horses all hours of the night and stand guard over one's possessions through-out most of the day.

Thomas L. Blanton has exposed a lot of rottenness under the big dome at Washington. He has uncovered lots of padded accounts. He has forced many crooks off the payroll. His feet are not shackled, his tongue is not padlocked and he goes down the line according to the Blanton plan. There is going to be music in the air in the Abilene district when Thomas L. opens his campaign asking for another two-year term as representative. He never asks for quarter; he never gives quarter. There is only one Thomas L. Blanton under the skies of Texas but "What

It is a sacred and solemn duty of an American to add to the gaiety of nations as well as to the edification of all the people. Thomas L. is a rare entertainer.—Cleburne Times.

The big oil and sulphur interests are said to be out after the scalp of Attorney General Jimmie Allred, as he has been hot after them from the time he landed in the office. It is not believed however, that they can control enough votes to put him out of office. It is our notion that when Jimmie swings around the circle this month in a whirlwind finish of his campaign, the people will be mighty well posted on what's going on down Austin way.

If our memory serves us right the Legislature appropriated some $30,000 to be used in cleaning up the oil companies and other corporations in Texas, and asked the Attorney General to proceed with the work. If Allred had not begun this work, then he would have been a "coward" in the eyes of many, and these fellows who are lambasting him would be the first ones to say bad things about him, no doubt. They cuss him if he does, and would cuss him if he did not. Attorney Allred is a campaigner and when he gets through this campaign the opposition will know that they have been up against a "cyclone" so to speak. The writer was for Bob-bitt for a second term in as much as he hardly got acquainted with the office until he had to make the race for election. Now we think that Allred should be given a chance. He has just begun his work and needs at least two more years in which to finish it.—Abilene Times.

IT IS NOT RIGHT

What a shame that Texas has a law on the statute books making it necessary for a man to pay money for the privilege or duty of voting! A thousand or possibly fifteen hundred Floyd County people this year, "salt of the earth and we don't mean maybe," are disfranchised because they felt the need of $1.50 for bread and meat worse than a vote.

Well enough that there be some kind of check on the voters, such as a requirement that one register, giving age address, political affiliation and what not. But to make it a money consideration is not right. But you make the suggestion that the schools get a part of the income from the payments of polls. Better not to have schools, we maintain, than to have them at the price of a free man's vote.—Floydada Hesperian.

And Lense Price was in this week to keep the Herald going to his daughter, Orvalene, who is attending Baylor Belton this summer, and informed us with a sly wink that the melons were coming on very nicely. Thanks for the tip.

A. B. MARTIN

Present Associate Justice, Court of Civil Appeals at Amarillo.

Appointed April, 1932.

Candidate to succeed himself at the coming Democratic Primaries.

His recent appointment was unopposed, and was made in recognition of the distinguished record he made as an Appellate Court Judge at Austin. He lives in the southern part of the Judicial District which contains more than one-third of the population. It has been the custom to select the three judges of this court from different parts of the districts, which comprises forty-six counties.

The following are excerpts from some of the newspaper comments made at the time of his recent appointment:

"...his decisions in style and texture and force won for him a high place among the lawyers and litigants of Texas." In his boyhood he brushed his way through the snow to the little red school house miles from his home where he obtained the first rudiments of an education and in time became one of the scholars and successful lawyers of the land that was a wilderness when his father first invaded it to wrest from nature its virgin soil and to build a home for his dependants and those who came after him.—The Austin American.

"When he moved to Austin he resigned from the board of regents of the state teachers' colleges, on which he had served for ten years. He brought that board a broad understanding of the people of Texas. ...His struggle for an academic education and for preparation for the profession of law was not forgotten by him while he served the state on the board of regents of the teachers' colleges. In 1920 he created a loan fund at West Texas State Teachers' College for the use of poor boys and girls, retaining supervision of the fund during his life time. It has grown to approximately $3,000.00, has aided more than a hundred boys Martin of Plainview, as associate justice of Court of Civil Appeals of the Seventh Texas District at Amarillo, is a pleasing one to South Plains people. A former commissioner of Criminal Appeals at Austin, as a practicing attorney and a prominent citizen of Plainview and this area, Mr. Martin has made an enviable record. He typifies the right kind of man for the post to which he succeeds."—The Lubbock Avalanche. Martin Campaign Committee.

DRIVING DRIVERS

Terry County Herald (Brownfield): With the many increasing accidents that are happening on the highways each week, it does look like people would be more careful how they drive, as they not only endanger their own lives, but others besides. It is almost inconceivable that anyone would be hit by a train on this branch line where there is but one mixed train each way daily, and it does not go over thirty-five miles an hour, but it did hit a bottle's truck, scattering bottles to the four winds last Saturday.

State Press: It is wonderful how expertly an experienced driver can produce an accident. We condemn inexperienced drivers for thrusting themselves into heavy traffic, but we take it that accurate statistics would prove the most of the bad accidents are brought on by experienced drivers. When one becomes too sure of himself or his car he is building trouble. The driver of the bottle wagon who was hit by the infrequent train probably had made that crossing dozens of times. No doubt he was a good helmsman. Nevertheless, he got his cargo scattered by the slow-motion locomotive. When automobiles were new and there were only two cars in the town of Port Lavaca, those two had a collision with each other. It is not sufficient that a driver should have skill and self-confidence. He should, in addition, be doubtful of the skill and self-sufficiency of other drivers. Taking the other fellow's vigilance and dexterity for granted is extremely hazardous. It is a good idea always to suspect the road is full of fools or sleepyheads. A sensible driver who is sleepy may be as dangerous as a wide-awake dunce. It will be well for all drivers to begin learning how to compete on the highway with irresponsibles. When cheap liquor comes back the road will be full of drunks and semi-drunks, the cost of life insurance will rise and the undertakers experience a gratifying increase of business.

To protect a tenant, Henry Whittle, landlord of Silverdale, Tex., shot a monkey which had invaded one of his apartments, only to be arrested and fined $70 for killing the escaped pet of Miss Mabel Hoyland. Lawrence Cass got a bunk in the jail at Madison, Wis., because he desired a safe place in which to sleep but the bunk collapsed and his leg was broken in two places. Until their divorce suits are settled, George F. Bicknell and his wife of Gary, Ind., must not speak to each other. Idalou—E. N. Harrison erecting new building on highway to be used as garage by E. Picture From Tree-Top of Guadalupe River on Rampage

Here is the swollen Guadalupe river, near Kerrville, Texas, which rose to a stage that caused half a million dollars damage and latest reports are that four were drowned. Two were drowned at Milio, Texas, and the body of an unidentified infant was washed up on the Nueces. The picture above shows the Guadalupe a raging torrent. OUR 23 YEAR COLUMN

Taken from the Herald of July 17, 1909.

We had three articles in our issue of Saturday, July 17th, 1909, beginning on page 1, and continued to page 2, under the heading: "EXPERIENCE MEETING"

The first one was by E. N. Groves, who said he made 30 bushels of corn per acre and 1800 pounds of maize the year before but did not mention cotton, very little being raised here then. He also told about his livestock, and concluded by saying that he had made more easy money in three years in Terry county than he had ever made in his life.

J. F. Blankenship had an interesting article on his fishing trip to Kendall county. He also paid a glowing tribute to Terry by saying it was, bringing sandstorms the best allround country in Texas with its pure air, sunshine and abundance of wholesome water.

Judge Geo. W. Neill was the author of the other article, and it was rather long, but he covered several phases of Terry county including its government, which at that time had never had to give a voucher or warrant not worth its face value at the bank. He also covered the good schools and said steps were being taken for better roads.

Mrs. W. R. Spencer had entertained for Miss Rather who was visiting from Costa Rica. A Girl's Club had been organized to plan entertainment for the rest of the summer. Miss Orel Harris was named president.

W. L. Allen of Gomez was selling seven pounds of good coffee for a dollar, and a pound of Razor tobacco for 35c.

Mr. Luther Key of Springtown was visiting his daughter, Mrs. Jim Parks near Gomez. Elder J. T. Stricklin had returned to his home at Anson after holding a meeting at Gomez. R. W. Glover was papering and painting his hotel at Gomez. T. C. Ivey, Yoakum county ranchman was in Brownfield. Henry George practiced what he preached. He bought a fine section of land for himself. Thos. DeShazo, wife and son, Shelby, also Robert Holgate and wife left for the Concho to fish. The Baptist pastor at Tahoka was to begin a revival for the Gomez church. George Bros. of Gomez had sold their barber shop to Clifford Snider. Mr. Green of Gomez had sold his blacksmith shop and tools to Lester McPherson and George Bragg.

G. W. Wilkins was in giving the editor some stories about this section in the seventies. Jim Norman and John Brothers were up visiting Dr. and Ed Ellis and prospecting. We announced that Clay Hughes had come in from Lynn county and immediately got a job and went to work, and said there was a job for everyone that wanted a job. But we couldn't then see down the future to the Herbert Hoover administration. A petition was being circulated asking the postal authorities to permit Mr. Boyd to haul the mail in his car from Brownfield to Plains and Seminole. Newt Copeland was home from his brother's ranch near Meadow. Another boy who works during vacation, we remarked.

W. L. Allen of Gomez had bought several thousand trees and was putting out a 40 acre apple orchard and a whole section in forest trees. But we think this enterprise blew up. We told of our trip with R. H. Banowsky to Gomez the Sunday before where grub was spread on the ground, and only W. D. Winn was able to stay with us. But there was plenty "Chaw" left for supper, we averred. Tax-Assessor Allen Shepherd informed us that 160 Terry county farms had produced 87,000 bushels of corn the year before and an unbelievable amount of grain sorghums.

On the back page, President Ripley of the Santa Fe had announced their intention of building the Coleman-Texico cutoff. Another article referred to a car load of babies being brought from New York to Houston to be distributed to childless families. It was not long after this until Texas had its own supply of homeless babies. We were proposing to send the Herald back east to relatives of Terry county people for 75c for a year. But that was when newspaper postal rates was one-half cent a pound anywhere in the U. S. Boys, we wish that part of the good old days would return; also 3c per pound news print.

In the Pride Dots, the correspondent announced a Farmers picnic for Terry, Lynn and Dawson county farmers. Cathey Brothers had shipped some cattle to Arizona. Harvey Martin had traded for a herd of goats. Will Belcher was shipping out his cattle. A heavy well drill had fallen on a driller by the name of Burgess, breaking his neck. He died instantly. It appears that marriage license had been issued to a Mr. Through to marry Miss May Elder, but it seems that Miss Elder went back on him. The correspondent also announced that Squire Marks had received his J. P. credentials, and was ready to perform marriages for a sack of flour. Rereading one of the above articles it appears that Miss Elder had married Mr. Through alright, but had gone back on Mr. Opie Reed, who announced he was doomed to bachelorhood. All for this week.

I can not be a candidate for congressman-at-large. Hundreds of my admirers wanted me in this race, but they neglected to provide the hundred dollar filing fee. Due to this oversight on their part. I must now offer my talents in a more humble, but not less important capacity.

I hereby announce for representative to the legislature. Coming at this time, the announcement will enable thousands of my friends to interest themselves in my behalf.

While I have as yet had no opportunity to complete my platform, I can assure my friends that I will successfully work for abolition of the ad valorem tax in Texas. Unlike others who support such a movement, I am against the substitution of any other tax against the people. As I have said before, I purpose running this government for the people at the expense of the corporations. I will tolerate no tax on incomes smaller than fifty thousand dollars per annum. People who make less than that will not have to contribute a single solitary penny to the cost of government when I am elected.

I will replace the revenue lost through abolition of the ad valorem tax by a lamp-tax against light and power companies, a meter-tax against gas companies and a pole-tax against telephone companies. I will make this tax high enough so that there is a surplus above the requirements of state government which can be distributed to the counties for retirement of their debts.

Furthermore, I will direct the attorney general to institute suit against the utilities of the state for the recovery of the seventy millions of dollars in excess profits they have sent out of the state each year. I estimate that this will give the state a minimum of $700,000,000 cash, which—since the state will not need the money—can be distributed pro rata among the citizens of Texas. First, of course, I will vote myself a fee of $100,000,000 for having thought of this wonderful tax remedy. Elect me to the legislature and receive a cash bonus for living in Texas. Run the rascals out and let me in. Candidately yours, SIG—In Weekly Opinion.

PANHANDLE'S FIRST PAPER PUBLISHED AT MOBEETIE

A copy of the Panhandle's first newspaper, The Texas Panhandle of July 4, 1884, published at old Mobettie was recently exhibited by O. W. Harrah of White Deer.

In the advertising columns was a political advertisement of the late Temple Houston, who then was a candidate for the state senate. The paper also carried the announcement of the late Emanuel Dubbs for Wheeler county judge. Dubbs, who was buried recently at Clarendon, was subsequently elected and became the Panhandle's first county judge.

A news item read: "Henry Hamburg's ox train arrived from Dodge City last Friday in charge of Geo. Adkins, with 34,500 pounds of merchandise. Chas. Rath's mule team also came in Friday from Dodge City in charge of Leo Harlan, and unloaded 33,000 pounds."

Another item said, "Horse stealing is all the rage throughout Kansas and it begins to look as if there was an organized band in the business." The paper contains advertisements of saloons "with stables in connection."

A news story told of a new ice-making machine for which scientists and inventors were predicting a bright future. It concluded: "With this apparatus the heated plains and the burning sands of the torrid zones may be made not only habitable but comfortable for the average man of the temperate regions of the earth."

W. E. (Bill) Edwards published the Peoples Review at Henrietta for a long number of years, or until age compelled him to relinquish his newspaper career. The editor of the Leader was once in his employ long years ago and learned some valuable lessons from the man who always championed the cause of the common people. Bill Edwards was a real American, honest and conscientious in all that he wrote or published.—Clarendon Leader.

CONOCO TRAVEL BUREAU MAPS ARE POPULAR

Denver, Colorado, June.—Business may not be all that is should be, and there are no doubt a few who are still hoarding their money "in the old sock," but such conditions do not alter the fact that hundreds of thousands of American citizens are daily tuning up the old bus—or a new, shiny one—for a long vacation trek to the mountains, lake resort or sea shore.

That is the report of the Conoco Travel Bureau, maintained in Denver for the purpose of extending free service to motor travelers throughout North America. Nearly 110,000 vacation trips have been planned by this organization so far this year, and that number is expected to increase considerably before the close of the summer vacation season.

Incidentally, the Conoco Travel Bureau, which is maintained by the Continental Oil Company, has already set a record for trip services, according to E. S. Karstedt, vice president.

"This fact might be attributed both to the growing popularity of this free travel service and to an improvement in general business conditions to the point where Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizen have been convinced that they can afford an annual vacation trip," said Mr. Karstedt.

"The service extended by the Conoco Travel Bureau is of direct benefit to the motorist," Mr. Karstedt pointed out, "in that it encourages motorists to stop and shop throughout the country, and because a large staff of workers have been enlisted from the ranks of the unemployed to handle this service to travelers."

"At the headquarters of the Conoco Travel Bureau in Denver, a staff of 1660 persons is maintained at this time, marking state road maps for individual vacation trips, and supplying innumerable pieces of literature devoted to scenic spots throughout the country. Of this staff, more than 100 persons have been employed during the past month, and the peak of travel season will not be reached before July 20. This staff of workers does not include the thousands of Conoco employees who serve motorists at the more than 8,000 branches of the bureau throughout the country—wherever the Conoco red triangle is displayed.

THE WET-DRY PROHIBITION PLANK

The prohibition plank in the re-ness platform is probably the greatest monstrosity ever placed before the voters of this country. It pleases neither the wets nor the dries. It was written so that it could be interpreted to mean anything, everything or nothing, just as each individual voter might want it to mean. Probably the only person in all the United States who is pleased with this plank is President Hoover himself. It was written at his dictation and with the purpose of deception. But for Mr. Hoover, it is an ideal platform. He has never been known to come out squarely upon any issue and why should he be expected to do so now? He is generally known as the greatest "straddler" ever in public life and this platform gives him the opportunity to show himself at his best.

The real objectionable point in this prohibition plank is the fact that it proposes, in case of repeal, to leave the regulation of liquor to the states, but at the same time to have the federal government guarantee the enforcement of the liquor laws. Every sane man realizes that it has been the dual responsibility of the state and the federal government for the enforcement of the liquor laws that has caused more confusion than anything else connected with its stupendous failure. So long as the state can shift the burden to the federal government, and so long as the federal government can use as an alibi the failure of state officials to perform their duty, just so long will all prohibition laws be failures. And it is this intolerable condition which the republican platform proposes to continue and to make more complicated.—Lovington, (N. M.) Leader.

It won't be long now. We notice that lots of fields of corn are tasseling, and the farmers appear to have planted some on the turn rows for our special benefit. We serve notice now that we have been killing their jack rabbits all spring, and we are going to get all the roasting ears we want for toll.

Aunt Het

By Robert Quillen in Farm News. "Me an' Pa learned our lesson months ago, an' we learned it from the laziest, no-accountest excuse for a man that ever wore shoe leather."

"Our trouble was worryin'. We had troubles enough of our own, what with interest an' taxes to pay an' collections no good, but that didn't satisfy us. We had to go huntin' for worries."

"Ever'day we read the paper an' picked out dismal things to get distressed about. We worried about the way Japan treated China, an' the French not payin' what they borrowed, an' nobody stoppin' the racketeers in Chicago, an' Congress doin' fool things, an' millions bein' jobless. All the woes o' the world was on our minds an' we was plum' sick about it. Life was just a misery to us."

"Then one day I seen this ornery, triffin' Sam goin' by whistlin'. He ain't got nothin' an' he's too lazy to work. Everybody despises him an' knocks him, an' all at once I understood why they do."

"They're mad because he enjoys livin'. He ought to be sufferin' for bein' so no-account, but instead o' that he gets more happiness out o' life than the rest of us was gettin'."

"An' right there me an' Pa quit worryin'. We figured we couldn't get nothin' out o' life except happiness, an' we wasn't goin' to let the ornierest do-nothin' in town get more'n we did. The world can go hang for all o' me. I'm through workin' myself into a lather over things I can't help."

GROVER SELLERS

A fight that nearly split the Texas delegation in two resulted when Grover Sellers, Texarkana, thought he was going to be named Texas member of the platform committee at the National Democratic convention, and Maury Hughes, Dallas, did too. Sellers, a dry, said Silliman Evans had told him he would get the job. Hughes, a wet, said he (Hughes) was favored by J. J. Shouse, anti-Roosevelt chairman candidate. Hughes finally won out when Sellers withdrew.

Chicken Shortcake Fine Dish for Lunch

ARE going to have some guests for lunch today," said Miss Martha as she came into the kitchen, "and I want to make a chicken shortcake. You have the chicken cooked and cut up, haven't you, Susan?"
"Yassum, and I done made the pie dough, too."
"That's fine. Now will you get me the butter and milk and self-rising flour and I will make a white sauce. While I do that, roll out the pastry real thin and cut it in small circles."
The chopped chicken was added to the white sauce with the seasonings and cooked celery. When the pastry was baked, one round was put on the plate and topped with the chicken mixture. This was surmounted with another circle and more chicken. A sprig of parsley and a little paprika were put on top for decoration and a couple of slices of crisp bacon curled around the whole.
"Susan, doesn't this self-rising flour make nice pastry? I like it so much. It makes the most tender, flaky pastry I have ever seen and it is so easy to handle. You want to have all the things cold and cut the fat in but not too fine just as with any flour, but it does not need to stand as plain flour does. I like it, too, because you do not have to bother with any salt or baking powder. It takes so much time to measure them and sift them into the flour."
Self-Rising Flour Pastry.

ASK FOR RADIO BLAH RELIEF

Over in Ohio the state university erected radio station WEAO to be used for educational broadcasting and now it seems that because its evening programs interfere with the commercial stations, WEAO is to be denied the use of the air during the evening hours.

Commenting on the recommendation of the examiner for the federal radio commission, to the effect that daylight hours are best for broadcasting educational material and evening hours should be reserved for commercial advertisers, an Ohio farm paper says:

"If this recommendation represents the policy and conception of the federal radio commission, we believe the gentlemen on that commission are amazingly misinformed about the interests and wishes of a group that has invested millions of dollars in the radio industry—the purchasers of receiving sets.

"The four hours between 6 and 10 p. m., when the family is within hearing distance of the receiving set, are certainly the most important hours in the radio day.

"To assume that during these precious few hours of united family life, Americans want to be sold somebody's pimple cure or stock in a new fangled horseradish grater is to admit that one has contempt for this country's common sense.

"The educational possibilities of motion pictures have been debauched by commercial interests. Is radio broadcasting to be prostituted to the same clamor for gain?"—Lovington, (N. M.) Tribune.

TURN ABOUT

The way back to prosperity, as we understand some of our economists, is to spend the dollar we haven't got in order that the man who gets it can spend it with us. Reminds us somewhat of the old editor whose paper wasn't paying very well. Somebody asked him how he made it if he couldn't keep what was coming in equal to what was going out. "See that old man at the printing press? Well, he works for me until I owe him enough for him to take over the shop; then I work for him and get it back again."—Beverly Hills (Calif.) Citizen.

A corporal was marching in front of his squad when he overheard a voice in the rear rank say: "This squad is like an old flivver. The crank is in front." "Yes," retorted the corporal, "but the nuts are all behind."

RESOLUTIONS

Be it resolved by the Brownfield Rebekah Lodge that we extend our heartfelt sympathy to our sister, Mrs. J. L. Randal, on the departure of her loving husband, John L. Randal. May the all-wise God of the universe be her comfort and stay.

It will ever be a pleasure to recall the many acts of our beloved Brother in the fraternity, and the true noble christian that he has ever been. He lived the life of the just, the pure and the noble.

We, the committee, ask that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the lodge, that a copy be presented to Mrs. Randal, and one copy furnished the Herald for publication.

THE AMOMA S. S. CLASS

The Amoma Sunday School class of the First Baptist church had their regular monthly business meeting Sunday afternoon. We hope to become a standard class soon as we have met most of the eight points. It was decided to have a slumber at Lola Mae Tittle's one night this week. Eight members were present.

METHODIST SOCIETY

The Methodist Missionary Society met at the church at 3 p. m. Monday. Mrs. Coleman was leader of the monthly Missionary Voice program. Others on program were Mesdames Jacobson, Carpenter and Glenn Harris. A number of visits, bouquets, trays and magazines were reported. Also $30.00 charity given. Mrs. W. H. Harris will conduct a Bible lesson next Monday. Then our Mission Study book on China will be started. Eleven members were present.

Y. W. A. MEETS WITH MRS. PENN

The Y. W. A. of the First Baptist church held its second meeting on Tuesday evening at eight o'clock at the home of Mrs. M. L. Penn. Four new members were added. An interesting program was given and after the program plans for attending the Y. W. A. encampment at Buffalo Springs on Friday and Saturday of this week were discussed. Seven girls, together with Mrs. W. W. Price, plan to attend the encampment.

The next meeting will be next Tuesday night at the home of Miss Wynona Burnett. New members cordially invited.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

In view of the fact that the church is temporarily without a minister, and not much chance for one until school begins again, some of the members are sermonizing. Roy Collier did quite well last Sunday, and received a lot of encouragement. There will be another Sunday. Come see who.

Lyle Price will be here in August for the annual revival. However, he reports that his wife had a serious auto wreck lately that badly disfigured her face, and while well of the wreck, will have to have a facial operation later.

Quite a nice attendance at all the services Sunday, and a much better one at the mid-week Bible study. The young people are having nice programs each Sunday afternoon at 7:30, with a new leader each time. You are invited to any and all services.—Reporter.

LOCAL TEACHERS WED

JULY 5TH AT CLOVIS

Mr. Loyd Ledbetter, of Abilene, a teacher in the high school here, and Miss Irene Pippin, daughter of Mr. J. T. Pippin, of Tokio, also a teacher in the grade schools of this city, were married Tuesday, July 5th at Clovis, N. M. Their home will be in Abilene until school starts here when they will return to Brownfield and resume their places in the local school faculty. However, Mrs. Ledbetter will finish a summer course at Canyon Teachers College before joining her husband.

Miss Pippin was dressed in a blue and white suit with accessories to match, while the groom was dressed in a dark blue suit. If the Herald was to be asked to pick one of the ideal couples that have married this year, this one would certainly be classed up about the top.

Both are moral, kind and religious, and to meet them an know them is to love and admire them. Mrs. Ledbetter has taken the place of a true mother in the Pippin family since the death of her mother several years ago, and has brought up her younger sisters as only a true older sister could.

The Herald joins their many friends with congratulations.

JETT-BRANDON WEDDING

R. S. Jett and Miss Claribel Brandon were married Sunday, July 10th, 1932, at the Highland Park Methodist church, El Paso, Texas, with Rev. F. L. Marlin, pastor, officiating.

The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Jett of this city.

The bride is the daughter of Rev. W. L. Brandon of Seville, Florida. She is a graduate of the John B. Stetson University, DeLand, Florida, graduating in the May class of this year. She arrived in El Paso by way of Airplane on Saturday, July 9th.

Mr. Jett and his bride are spending their honeymoon in Brownfield visiting his parents. They drove from El Paso by automobile and will visit the Carlsbad Caverns on their return trip to El Paso where they will reside.

Mr. Jett is connected with the Magnolia Petroleum Company in El Paso.

DAANGEROUS FIELDS FOR ADVERTISING

Advertising is ordered from the screen in 600 theaters controlled by one film company.

Thus comes further acknowledgment that there are places and methods of advertising that are not contended by the masses of the people.

The successful advertiser does not thrust his advertising on people who do not want it. Patrons of theaters do not pay their admission to be bored. They pay to be entertained. Resentment does not offer a fertile field for the seed of an advertising message. Advertisements thrust upon the patrons of theaters have done the advertisers more damage than their passages did good.

Hundreds of millions of dollars are spent annually for advertising. It should be apparent by now that advertising has become a science.

Advertising directors of big concerns are paid huge sums because they are able to tell their employers how to advertise.

Look about and see how advertising that is scientifically directed is handled! In almost every instance it is designed to stay away from situations that breed resentment. The big advertiser will not accept a billboard location that mars scenic beauty. The wise advertiser will not use dodgers thrown on lawns; he knows the housewife resents the litter thus created and is frequently angry because some one walked on her lawn or through her flower garden to make the delivery. The advertiser who operates his business scientifically will not pay for newspaper or magazine circulation that is not paid for by the readers; he knows that something that is not worth paying for is not worth reading.

Even radio advertising has felt the pressure of the situation. The important advertisers strive to do everything to please the listener.

Newspapers and magazines hold their own against all other mediums for the simple reason that the readers buy those publications and they buy them to read advertising.—Enterprise, Riverside, California.

When West Coast Bonus Marchers Called Halt at Sweetwater

Travel-weary, hungry bonus marchers, 1,000 strong, broke their long trek from California Friday and Saturday when they stopped at Sweetwater, Texas, to rest. About 500 arrived on a fast freight train and an additional 400 or more came in 150 automobiles. Here is a large part of the bonus army leaving the train in the station at Sweetwater.

Every Red Triangle Station is a COURTESY Station

A completeness of service unequaled in the oil industry is yours at every Conoco station. When we say "service" we don't mean just gasoline, oil, water and air. Those things are to be expected. The service you find at Conoco stations goes much further.

It includes windshield and rear window wiping, accurate road information, package checking, sports, hotel and camp information for travelers, free road maps . . . and many other helps that are yours as a result of every Conoco man's sincere desire to aid you.

Conoco service men are chosen for their willingness to give friendly service and are trained to expertness. More than half of their time is given to free service . . . gladly . . . cheerfully. Their courtesy and readiness to help; the many unusual services they render regularly; make every Conoco Red Triangle station a Courtesy Station.

EVERY CONOCO STATION IS A BRANCH OF THE CONOCO TRAVEL BUREAU . . . A NATION-WIDE FREE SERVICE FOR MOTOR TRAVELERS

UNION NEWS

Guss Ratliff and family, Bro. Lovelace and family, Bro. Jenkins and Mr. Simpson ate dinner with Mr. Hancock and family Sunday. Had lots of chicken and ice cream.

Bro. Lovelace preached a fine sermon at the morning and evening hour. Had a large crowd present each time.

Mrs. Fielder entertained with a birthday party for the 11 year olds, in honor of her son, Jack, Woodson Inman, Mrs. Hancock and Sylvia Ratliff, as their birthdays are the 5, 6 and 7th. All had a nice time.

Mr. Roberts and family and Bro. Jenkins from Scuddy visited in our community Sunday. We invite them back.

There will be a B. Y. P. U. social at the church Saturday night.

We are glad to know Mrs. L. L. Brock who has been sick for some time is able to be up.

We have preaching the 2nd Sunday each month and Sunday school at 10:00 o'clock each Sunday morning. Also B. Y. P. U. every Sunday night. Everybody come.

Our revival starts Friday night before the fourth Sunday in August. Let's everyone be up with our work so we can attend every service.

If we would all serve the Lord more and give Hoover a rest, hard times would soon be over.

We think Mr. Johnson is going to work. We see he has borrowed a cultivator.

The candidates are going to speak at the school house Wednesday night.

Judge J. E. Hickman of Eastland, was a visitor in our city this week, and was being escorted over the city by Judge W. W. Price. He has for several years held the office of judge of the court of appeals at Eastland, but is now asking promotion. He is a candidate for associate justice of the supreme court of Texas, and the Herald believes he has an excellent chance.

The Methodist meeting came to a close Sunday night at the tabernacle with a good crowd present. There were a number of conversions and additions to the church.

Judge A. B. Martin of Plainview, accompanied by Atty. Roscoe Wilson, of Lubbock and Judge Price of this city, called upon the Herald one day last week. Judge Martin is now serving out the term of the late Judge Randolph as associate justice of the court of civil appeals at Amarillo, by appointment of Gov. Sterling. He is seeking re-election.

Miss Marie Sharp has returned home after a visit with her two sisters, Mrs. J. A. Taylor and Mrs. J. M. Massengill in Yoakum county. She also visited with Miss Irene Williams while away, attended the Children's Day program at Liberty school house and reports a great time riding ponies.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Roberts and daughter, Leatha Nell, of Coahoma, visited Mrs. Robert's sister, Mrs. Stricklin and family, Sunday and Monday. They also spent a few days with their son and brother, Elmer and wife at Seagraves. They were accompanied by their grand-daughter, Dorothy Collins, also of Coahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lewis have returned from Glen Rose where Mrs. Lewis took treatment. She appears to be improved in health.

Some real street grading has been going on lately. The city grader is a bit too light, and they have been using one of the county graders.

Relief for Farmer

Lawrence Westbrook, of Waco, who was named by Governor Dan Moody to confer with the Federal farm board in 1929, says he can see no appreciable restoration of prosperity until agriculture has been put on its feet. He made this statement in an address before the Dallas Exchange club last week.

River That Went on Rampage

Here is a map showing the Guadalupe river, from where it rises in the mountains near Kerrville, Texas, to where it empties into the Gulf. Along this stream are beautiful farms and grazing lands, but near its source over the weekend, at least four persons were drowned and much damage was done by a 30 foot rise. Ingram and Hunt were reported under 10 feet of water, just west of Kerrville.

Rev. and Mrs McCulloch have returned from Stamford, Texas where they were called to the bed side of Mrs. McCulloch's mother, Mrs. Camp. We are glad to report that they found her slightly improved. Upon the advice of the doctor they brought her home with them. She is at present in the Brownfield Sanitarium, where we hope she regains her health.—Plains Review.

WHAT THE NEW TAXES MEAN

A recent Associated Press dispatch from Washington gave an interesting insight into what the new revenue bill will mean to the wage earner.

A married business man with one child, having a net income of $6,000 will pay an income tax to the Federal government of $124 as against $23.63 in the past. If he buys a $600 automobile he will have to pay a new tax of $18 plus 60 cents for taxes on tires, etc. If he uses 700 gallons of gasoline during the year and 30 gallons of lubricating oil, he will pay a tax of $8.20, in addition to state gas and oil taxes. If his wife gets a $200 fur coat the tax will be $20.

If he makes home brew he will pay about $3 in taxes on malt. His wife's perfumes, powder, etc., will cost another $3. If he buys a $75 radio and pays $100 for an electric refrigerator, the taxes will be $3.75 and $5, respectively. He will pay increased taxes on cameras, electricity, matches, the telephone and a hundred other commodities and services. If he spends $2 a week for shows and movies, the Treasury will get $10 from him by the end of the year.

His total direct taxes will be about $310, as against about $174 under the old rates—an increase of $236. It looks as if the new bill will fatten a depleted Treasury—but it's going to make a deep hole in the public pocketbook. And these taxes are only beginning unless definite steps are taken to curb the expense of government, the cost of which increases like compound interest as the number of public employes grows.

Relatives in east Texas have become tired of feeding J. L. Cruce and family, and they moved over on Hot Springs, Ark., last week.

Scholastics that are to be transferred to other schools will have to be attended to this month.

CITATION

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Terry County, Greeting:
You Are Hereby Commanded to summon Ruby Lee Sartin and I. M. Sartin and the heirs and unknown heirs and legal representatives of the said Ruby Lee Sartin and I. M. Sartin by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest County where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Terry County, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Brownfield, on the 4th Monday in August A. D. 1932, the same being the 22nd day of August A. D. 1932, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 30th day of December A. D. 1931, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 1630, wherein W. M. Millican is Plaintiff, and J. W. Bachman and wife Mary Bachman, Ruby Lee Sartin and I. M. Sartin, and the heirs and unknown heirs and legal representatives of the said Ruby Lee Sartin and I. M. Sartin are Defendants, and said petition alleging:

That on or about the 1st day of January A. D. 1930 the Plaintiff was lawfully seized and possessed of the following described land and premises, situated in Terry County, Texas, holding and claiming the same in fee simple to-wit:

Being the North one-half (N½) and the North One-half of the South West One-Fourth of Section No. 79, Block DD John H. Gibson Original Grantee and containing 400 acres, more or less.

That on the day and year last aforesaid, the defendants unlawfully entered upon said premises and ejected Plaintiff therefrom, and unlawfully withholds from plaintiff the possession thereof to plaintiff's damage in the sum of $1,000.00

Therefore Plaintiff prays judgment of the Court that the defendants be cited to appear and answer this petition, and that Plaintiff have judgment for the title and possession of said described lands and premises, and that writ of restitution issue, damages and cost of suit and etc.

Herein Fail Not, and have you before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given Under My Hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Brownfield, Texas, this 7th day of July A. D. 1932.

H. R. Winston, Clerk, District Court, Terry County. 51c.

Celebrate U. S. Independence in Mexico

July 4 was a gala day in Juarez, Mexico, where these photos were taken. Hundreds of Americans celebrated Independence day in that city. Above is a Mexican bull fight staged Monday in honor of American Independence. Below is the only picture ever taken of the Juarez Gambling casino. The crowd is American.

TWINKLE, TWINKLE, LITTLE SCAR

Twinkle, twinkle, little scar—What a pity that you are Where exhibit can't be made; Can't be placed upon parade!

Once you were a gaping rip From the tummy to the hip, Where the skillful surgeon drew The appendix into view.

Now a thin and graceful line, Aristocratic badge so fine, Which the owner proudly boasts To the guests and to the hosts.

But this fate must follow you; Hidden you'll remain from view. Though they boast with all their might, They must keep you out of sight!

Though they'd like to trot you out To be seen and talked about, You'll stay hidden where you are, Alone to twinkle, little scar.—Ex.

NOT MINCING WORDS

"If I cut a beefsteak in two," asked the teacher, "then cut the halves in two, what do I get?"
"Quarters," returned the boy.
"Good! And then again?"
"Eighths."
"Correct! Again?"
"Sixteenths."
"Exactly! And what then?"
"Thirty-seconds."
"And once more?"
"Harburger," answered the boy.

MISTAKES WILL HAPPEN

The Judge—This lady says you tried to speak to her at the station. Defendant—It was a mistake. I was looking for my room-mate's girl, whom I had never seen before, but who'd been described to me as a handsome blonde with classic features, fine complexion, perfect figure, beautifully dressed and—

The Witness—I don't care to prosecute the gentleman. Anyone might have made the same mistake.

OVERSPOKE HIMSELF

"I am sorry if I have spoken too long," said the political spellbinder at 10:45 p. m., but I have no watch with me and couldn't see one anywhere in the hall."

"Well, there's a calendar right behind you, said a voice from the rear of the hall."

This Man Had Faith
—Lost 24 Pounds

"Last November I weighed 192 lbs. Today, (February 5th, 1932) I am down to 168 lbs. and full of pep all day long—since using Kruschen I have not had to use the laxative that was customary."—Theo. A. C. LaFleur, Providence, R. I.

What do you think of this—you men who doubt—you stay fat—because you want to think that nature made you that way. You're all wrong—most fat men were made fat because of their inability to handle a knife and fork in a business like manner.

Be frank with yourself. Are you too timid to take a safe, harmless conditioner that not only takes off surplus fat but is so helpful that it makes you feel years younger? To reduce safely take one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning—cut down on fatty meats, potatoes and sweets. Kruschen is sold by Alexander Drug Co. Inc., and druggists the world over. A jar that costs but a trifle will last four weeks—but be sure you get Kruschen—your health comes first.

The Herald recently had a letter from our good old friend, W. F. Murphy, at Munday, Texas, who gets the Herald each week complimentary of his sons here. He says crops are fine in that section, and he regrets to hear of so much hail here. He caps the climax by inviting us down for a big fishing expedition at Kemp Lake. We'll see if we can make arrangements for that much gas, Mr. Murphy, and let you know, so you can begin to get the bait.

TEXAS RAILROADS PAY SUBSTANTIAL PART OF STATE'S TAX BURDEN

● Taxes is one of the large fixed charges connected with the operation of Texas railroads. From the standpoint of the welfare of state, counties and communities, railroad taxes are of much importance. This annual obligation must be met from the earning capacity of the rail carriers.

In 1931 the railroads of Texas paid a total of $8,303,108.47 in federal, state, county, municipal and miscellaneous taxes. The distribution of this amount to the various tax funds is shown below:

	Amount Paid	Per Cent of Total Tax Paid
U. S. Government	$ 61,270.13	.74
State	1,954,435.47	23.54
County	1,146,669.97	13.81
Roads	1,699,764.15	20.47
Improvement Districts	175,606.87	2.12
Schools	1,437,152.74	17.31
Cities	1,792,094.61	21.59
Miscellaneous	35,214.59	.42
Total	$8,303,108.47	100.00

It can thus be seen that railroad taxes represent an important and indispensable factor in the economic life of our state. They help in a large measure to pay the expense of our state, county and municipal government, build and maintain highways, pay the cost of drainage and other improvements, and support our schools and educational institutions.

It is the desire of Texas railroads to extend this helpfulness to Texas counties and communities in carrying this heavy burden. However, their ability to meet these obligations as they become due depends upon their ability to earn sufficient revenue with which to pay this and other heavy expenses connected with their operation.

● RAILROADS HAVE ALWAYS SHOULDERED THEIR SHARE OF RESPONSIBILITIES TO THE NATION, THE STATE, AND THE CITIES AND COMMUNITIES THEY SERVE, AND WILL CONTINUE TO DO SO TO THE EXTENT OF THEIR ABILITY.
