A Paved Highway To Lubbock This Year

One of the things that will make it more convenient for travel in all kinds of weather, will be the fact that perhaps before the year 1933 has gone down in history, it will be possible for the people of Brownfield and Terry county to reach Lubbock on a paved highway, and from there have access by pavement either north or south. And taking it the other way around, if the road from here to Seagraves is paved, and it will likely be this year or early in 1934, it will be possible to leave here via Seagraves, Seminole and Andrews, and in two or three hours reach the Bankhead highway at Odessa that will give us another paved highway east or west as far as person can travel by car.

The writer and Claude Hudgens were invited Sunday to take a trip to Lubbock with Mr. K. B. McWilliams, of this city, and we gladly accepted. On this trip we got to test the fine caliche road on 137 from Lubbock to the Hockley county line. This road some 18 miles in length is now almost complete. In fact, it was being traveled Sunday from one end to the other, although the barriers are put up during the week days when the construction crews are working. However, it is open at all times now from Wolffarth to Lubbock and will be from this end in the next few weeks, or just as soon as a little more finish work is done on the sides of the bar pit.

And speaking of bar pits, there is no such animal in this road according to the meaning of a bar pit a few years ago, when it took the idea of a deep ditch with almost perpendicular walls on each side, and to get into one meant a wrecked car or at least help to extract it. On this new road, it is a gentle slope into and out of the bar pit on both side, and providing the weather is dry, no one would be any worse for the experience if crowded into the bar pit.

But we started out to tell you how good this road rides. Talk about your concrete road all you want to, but there is none that ride better than this stretch of caliche base, hot top road. You breeze along at 45 or 50 and so far as vibrations are concerned, it is no more than making 10 or 15 on a rough dirt road. When the stretch from here to Lubbock is completed, we may have several accidents for awhile until people learn just how fast they are running on a paved road.

On the way up there, two or three new homes were seen under construction, or just completed, which goes to show that this section is receiving some immigration despite the "repression." Lubbock, like most west Texas cities, is kinder on the standstill just now, yet we saw evidence that there is some construction under way, and a bit of street improvement.

At noon, a fine luncheon was had with Mr. and Mrs. Moore, former cook and waitress at the Hotel Brownfield. They are running the Silver Grill Cafe across the street from the Penny store. Also saw Jake Warnick at the Halsey Drug Store, rolling pills as usual. We had a nice time for which we thank our good friend Knox B. McWilliams.

Not In Such Bad Shape After All

We are printing all three of the Terry county bank statements in the Herald this week. While the law requires that these statements be printed at times specified by the banking commissioner at Austin, and the Comptroller of currency at Washington, all good bankers are glad to give their statements to the public when called upon to do so, especially if they are in as fine shape as the Terry county banks.

You will note that while we only have approximately half of what we had on deposit during the boom years, the loans have also been reduced by more than half, and we have to remember that one dollar now will purchase approximately as much again as it would in 1929. Indeed, about the only thing that seems to bother people now is how they are going to pay taxes that have not or cannot come down as other things have done. Examiners tell us that our banks are in excellent shape, and have been all through the depression. We have men in them that did not get wild eyed during prosperity and so jeopardize their funds by careless business that they were hard hit when the slump came. Fact is, they were, to use a political expression, "building their fences" against such a time.

In the combination statements, if we have made no mistakes in addition, we find as follows:

Total loans	$214,750.50
Total resources	549,156.73
Total Cash-Ex.	151,496.87
Total deposits	401,356.34

Yes, we have every reason to be thankful for our banks and our bankers.

Lynn County Sheriff Killed Man Last Week

Two men drove into Tahoka one day last week with about 100 hens on a trailer and offered them for sale to a produce dealer. Something about the men didn't exactly suit the produce man, and he got in touch with the law. The Sheriff of Lynn county and the City Marshal responded, and after talking with the men awhile, the officers started to take them in charge, when one of them started to pull a gun. The Sheriff and Marshal were to quick for him, however, and he was punctured in a vital spot and soon died. The other tried to flee, but was stopped and lodged in jail.

Both men seemed to have been from Portales, N. M., and appeared to be wanted in several places, including New Mexico. The grand jury of Hale county had that morning billed them for burglary, not knowing one of them had been killed. The one killed was Walter Lackey, 21. The younger man, Chas. Clifton, aged 19. Crime don't pay.

CARD OF THANKS

We, the wife and children of C. H. Hester, desire most sincerely to thank our friends and neighbors for their many expressions of love and kindness during his sickness, death and burial. Such manifestations of Christian sympathy cannot be bought with money. May the benedictions of the Christ who wept beside the open grave abide with you forever.

Mrs. C. H. Hester and children.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this means of thanking our friends and neighbors for the kindness and help rendered us during the last illness and death of our husband and father, G. B. Spivey, and especially do we thank those who remained at his bedside day and night for so long.

Mrs. G. Spivey and Riley

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Telford and family.

Dr. J. T. Krueger came down from Lubbock last week and amputated Mr. A. L. Turner's foot that has been bothering him for several months. It was reported this week that he was thought to be improving some.

Terry County Gets $2800 From The P.F.C.

The Terry County Relief Association has received $2,800 from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Texas division, which will be used here this winter and spring for those who will have to be cared for. About twice this amount was applied for, and it is believed that it will be obtained later. Our understanding is that this money is to be used only for those in actual need, and one must do some labor to obtain it.

An association has been formed here to dispense the funds, and we understand that all applications must come through and be approved by County Judge Jay Barret. The Herald printed several hundred forms this week that will be used by applicants in applying for jobs to be paid for out of these funds, as each state must, in time pay it back to the Federal government. Only those in absolute need and that cannot obtain help in other ways can qualify for the help of this fund.

While the Herald has had no information from the Association in charge of the funds, we understand that it will be used to a great extent in cleaning up the town, such as ridding the lots of weeds and bushes that catch sand and other debris, in improving the streets and other improvements that are needed. But we understand that no one is to get help who refuses to work if able to do so.

It Makes Us Sore To Forget An Ad

It isn't often, indeed quite rare that a newspaper man will forget to insert an advertisement that has been given to him, but occasionally this will happen. Then the poor publisher wants a kicking machine in the worst way.

Along about this time of year when farmers wants some points W. D. Linville usually runs an ad in the Herald telling them that he is the man to do their work. He headed such an ad two weeks ago; we put it in a sweater pocket; the weather changed and we changed to a coat, but didn't change the ad to the coat.

Well, anyway, we guess W. D. thinks we didn't want to run his ad, and we will not charge him a penny for this one. But take your plow points to Mr. Linville, Mr. Farmer, and tell him you saw this free ad and the other too.

C. L. Williams has handed in the dough to move up his Herald another year.

A great many from here attended the basketball tournament at Meadow last week, and report a fine tournament.

District Court Is In Session This Week

This is the first week of what will be a four week term of District court, although nothing except the grand jury is working this week in the way of juries. Judge Gordon B. McGuire, our district judge of Lamesa, came over Monday and empaneled the grand jury and set them to work under District Attorney G. H. Nelson to ferret out any crime that may have been committed since the last session. Perhaps there will be some civil cases tried this week without a jury.

Next week and from then on for several weeks, many cases will likely be tried, and there will be some heavy tussels between the new attorney and other lawyers of this district, so that we may have a chance to see the new district attorney in action. Of course he may be assisted by other legal talent in some of the major cases, but being district attorney, he will naturally have to bear the brunt of battle.

HON. G. H. NELSON

And we note that down Austin way, they are changing many District Courts; consolidating some and eliminating some altogether. No changes were made in this district, except to change the number, which was the 106th, and a proposal to make it the 56th district. Of course these changes are just proposals for economy, and nothing may be done about it. In the proposed list submitted by the committee on the subject, 22 are to be abolished; 2 specials are to be abolished; 7 criminal District courts be abolished; 5 district courts created; 56 remain as now, and 41 changed in term and territory.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Roberts of Seagraves visited the Herald office a short while Saturday, on their way home from Lubbock, where Mr. Roberts attended an oil meeting.

Terry County Gets Reconstruction Fin. Corporation Aid

In November 1932, R. M. Kendrick who had been appointed to represent the State Committee in Terry county, appointed a central Committee for the County and made application to the Federal Government for some of the R. F. C. Aid.

In January, Mr. Kendrick received notice that if the committee would come to Amarillo, January 12th, they would receive $2,800.00. The entire committee went to Amarillo and received the money and instructions for its use.

There has been a representative of this Committee appointed in each school district and any one wishing to make application should see the representative in their district and he will send in their application to the Central Committee who will pass on it and if the applicant comes under the rules will allow him so many days work.

All who works under this Aid will receive 12½ cents per hour. Work in Brownfield will be under the supervision of the Street Commissioner and in the county will be under the Commissioner of the precinct.

This money is not to be used to make good jobs, but to help people get by until they can get something better to do.

The Committee and all District Committeemen are working without compensation and so far have paid all their own expenses. Any one making application is not bound by it in any way but can take another job if they can get it.

The Committee wants to make this money do all the good and go as far as possible. Some aid can be given to people who are unable to work and are in destitute circumstances.

The Central Committeemen are R. M. Kendrick, Chairman, Jay Barret, Secretary; Tom May, H. W. Nelson, C. L. Hudgens, Fred Smith.

You Will Note The City Is In Fine Shape

Along with the statements of the banks this week, we call your attention to the very fine statement of conditions of the City of Brownfield as per the audit report of W. R. McDuffie. This statement is usually printed once a year, in the spring, but we suppose that as a new administration has taken charge that the report was ordered printed earlier.

It almost makes one laugh now to think of the arguments that were advanced against a municipally owned plant when we were trying to vote the first few bonds that were ever voted for it, "that it would be a continuous expense and a waste, and that it would always be crippled and out of order; that one would not be able to see one of the little old dim lights across a room." But everyone is proud of the city plant now.

We had tried to get a utility company here, but their demands were prohibitive. Now the city plant is fast paying for itself, reducing city taxes to a very low level, and may finally wipe them out entirely. Not only that, but you can see for yourself that it carries a good pay roll.

Our Weekly News Letter From Austin

What's The Matter With Texas? It is easily understandable that no man can answer that question in its entirety, nor can he hope to adequately approach it; yet, fifteen days in the capitol city bring some facts to light that contribute towards the answer to that question.

The first thing that impresses itself on your mind, now, is that Texas is looking to legislation for relief, when legislation holds no relief. In Texas the people are looking to law for relief, when they should look to equity—the only wisely ordered society is the society governed by equity.

Thousands of people are here, have been here, and will come here during the next few weeks pleading for alms in the form of jobs. Even the youth are pleading for a "created job" that they may secure university training.

The tax eaters are composed of two great crowds—one an essential servant of the people, and he is rarely over-paid; and the useless job holder, who sucks millions thru taxes, and renders no needed service.

When one looks at those two armies of men and women, and then adds the side-pay that many of them take in the service of the state; reads the padded-pay-rolls, observes the useless construction of public buildings, notes the fact that maximum allowances for all purposes are always spent, with many daring to add deficits, he comes to the conclusion that the emphasis laid upon appropriation legislation is the closing the bung after the liquid has escaped. The only curtailment that can ever be placed upon government expenditures must be but on the income of the government, the amount of revenues that it takes in, if you please.

Texas has had its $100,000,000 administration. Texas would have its $200,000,000 administration, IF she had the revenues collectable.

An entire week has been taken up by the legislature in completing its organization and passing its per diem resolution. The Senate failed to exercise courage and voted an $8.00 day's pay; the House took them at their word and concurred, but set their pay at $10.00 per day. It was frankly charged on the floor of the Senate that senators had played politics for home consumption, while they were as anxious as the house for the $10.00.

It isn't in this the burden of taxes rests, and no one should condemn the members of the house for holding for $10.00 a day, and the men who voted for the $10.00 evidenced a courage, it is hoped, that will enable them to save the state millions in holding the sources of revenue down to the minimum, while they strike boldly against extravagance in expenditures.

Hon. Coke Stevenson will make a record this year. He is laying the foundation for constructive legislation.

The senate is falling into line with ease, and the new members, of such fibre as John Redditt of Lufkin, will make new history in that end of the chamber.

The sales tax protagonists are marshalling their usual forces—every weekly in Texas owes it to its constituents to study this sales tax, and not let the forces of greed get away with murder.

(Note: Fellows, I crave your reaction to our efforts here. In a short time I shall have concrete examples of what is the matter with Texas to give you; and in the meantime, remember that Texas is now looking to the un-afraid, un-trammeled, weekly press for publicity. Write me; let me be your eyes, ears, and pen down here.—S. W. Adams.)

Some papers and people are severely criticizing Ex-Governor Ross Sterling for quitting in a huff, and leaving the "party cold." But we can't exactly share this view. If we had called a man a dirty, stinking liar, thief and grafter all over Texas through the summer months, we don't feel that the winter months would have sufficiently cooled us off enough to take the rostum and announce, "that I am glad, ladies and gentlemen to turn this work I have started over to this honest and courageous incoming administration, and I commend this gracious lady and her escort to the citizenship of Texas." Would you?

Tom Hunter, unsuccessful candidate for Governor in the first primary, but a close runner up to Mr. Sterling, was in Lubbock Sunday visiting relatives. He stated that he would be a candidate two years hence, and also that he would be at Austin at his own expense through this session of the legislature, and would use whatever influence he had to keep west Texas schools and colleges intact. Not only that, but that it was his intention to watch and try to prevent unnecessary expenses and keep down taxation. His contention is that the Big Boy will be there to watch his own corners. The Little Fellow is the one that needs a friend down there.

A business man was in our office this week from one of the good towns that oil has made in the west central part of our state. He informed us that oil had ruined that section as far as farming goes. We asked him if there was any land fit for cultivation. Plenty, but most of the farmers got some money for leases and royalties a few years ago, and now they are too d--- lazy to work. Some of them have nice homes on these farms, and cars, but the land has been taken by weeds, no chickens or livestock about them, and they won't even let the other man cultivate this land. If this is really what happens, we don't know whether we are hankering for an oil well in Terry county or not.

According to a statement of R. G. Dun & Co., the United States with 2 percent mercantile failures in 1932, was the highest on record for this country, and it is high—too high. Probably if our nation had done something else except squabble politically, many of these businesses and banks could have been saved and put on their feet. But as a consoling balm, Dun & Co. add as an afterthought that this is a very small percent of the whole that survived the hardest year in recent history. Some one has said that the firms that survive this year will be the masters of the future as well as the millionaires. One good indication now appears on the horizon. No one is expecting any magic wand to transform their business from a loss to a huge profit. So the owners are buckling on their swords, as it were, to put up a real fight. And there is also less grouching among the farmers. All seem to realize that a start must be made from the ground, and they are expected to make that start themselves.

Both houses of the national congress has voted overwhelmingly to over ride the president's veto of the so-called Philippine Independence bill, and in ten years, that little Island nation will take charge of its own affairs. The Republican party has always claimed that we should always have some dictatorship over them, and safe-guard them from either European or Asiatic encroachment, despite the fact that we are supposed by that party to oppose all "entangling alliances." This position is also been shared by many of the southern dailies, especially the Dallas News which has always had G. O. P. tendencies. But if a vote was left to the people of those Islands—the real natives—they would no doubt vote heavy for absolute independence. Of course the American-Philippine Chamber of Commerce, and other organizations that are exploiting the islands, will always oppose their independence. Personally, the Herald believes that we can always get enough cocoonut oil from our other Island possessions to keep our own cottonseed and products down low, as well as the butter from all parts of the United States down where the American farmer can't make anything. A naval and coaling station is the only memory America should keep of the Philippine Islands.

Will the Jack county party who told me the dog story come in. He doubled crossed and misrepresented the whole outfit. He said he knew a man to make a wooden leg for his dog after one leg was cut off by a mower. That dog caught more rabbits than he did with four legs. He hid behind a tree by a cow path and when the rabbits came along he would wham them on the head with his wooden leg. After a careful investigation, I've found out it wasn't a dog but was a turkey gobbler. Instead of rabbits, it was bobcats. Let's keep the record straight, there is an editor of the Brownfield Herald already intimating that some near prevarications (Japanese word for lie) have appeared in this column. His name is Jack Stricklin. Jack and I had adjoining rooms in a hotel at Corpus Christi two years ago when we were supposed to be attending a state press meet. The second morning after we had fallen out for a 9 o'clock feed, I noticed Jack looked punk, or sick or something. I knew he never touched a drop in his life and never knew one card from another. After I asked him publicly what had happened to him, he led me off as tho I was a green country boy (which I was) and said: "Estlack I could not sleep because that darn shade was up all night." Well, I says, "Why in thunder didn't you pull it down?" Jack looked at me pathetically and said: "Well, I just couldn't reach across the darned street!" (We moved hotel locations that day like any innocent country boys should.)—Clarendon Leader.

Red Goose—The Ojibwa

(Synopsis)

Red Goose, the Ojibwa, son of Red Eagle, had become a real hero around Fort Ridgley, a stronghold of the whites in Minnesota. First, he had saved the Fort from an attack by Sioux Indians on the war path. Then he had protected Betty, daughter of Captain Roberts, from a prairie fire, and as final evidence of his bravery he had killed a big black snake that threatened his little playmate.

Red Goose was so weak from loss of blood, he had to stay in bed several days.

The Ojibwa tribe was very proud of the son of their Chief and gave him two eagle feathers with notches on the ends.

Red Goose was pleased to get these feathers, which Indians give in much the same way that white people give medals. No other boy in the whole tribe had as many feathers as he, and this filled his brave heart with much happiness.

Shortly after Red Goose was well and out of bed again, an Indian named Flying Bear came into the Ojibwa Camp after being away for several weeks.

Red Eagle met him and was surprised to find that he had returned empty-handed from a hunting trip.

"Flying Bear return empty-handed?" he said. "Why?"

"Hunting is very bad. Big Iron Horse scares the animals. They run away and hide," was the reply.

"Is Flying Bear afraid of Iron Horse, too?"

"No. Flying Bear walked up as close as the flight of one arrow, and watched the Iron Horse make thunder and run on silver trail."

"Humph—Flying Bear brave Ojibwa. Sit with Council tonight and smoke pipe. Flying Bear shall get eagle feather for brave deed."

The railroads were just beginning to lay their tracks though Minnesota, and when the Indians saw a locomotive, they called it an Iron Horse. They also called the tracks "The Silver Trail."

So you see, Indians didn't know very much about railroads in those days, and were afraid of them.

All but Red Goose. He watched white men touch the Iron Horse and so he knew it wouldn't hurt him if he touched it too. But his playmate, a dark-skinned Indian girl named Little Beaver, didn't want Red Goose to touch the Iron Horse.

"No, No, No"—she pleaded, "please don't touch it."

But Red Goose made up his mind he would show Little Beaver there was no danger, and so one day they started out together for the Silver Trail.

They rode on Spot-on-Tail, the fleet-footed Indian pony that had carried Red Goose so safely to the Agency for help, when Fort Ridgley was attacked by the Sioux. Little Beaver rode up in front,

Scene Which Greeted Legislators 75 Years Ago

The Congress Avenue and state capitol which this week greets the legislators of Texas as they arrive for the 43rd session of the legislature is far different from the one in this picture, taken 75 years ago. Note the old state capitol building, perched on top of the hill, and the quiet street-scene. This picture of Austin as it was in 1857 was obtained from an old settler there, who does not want his name in the paper.

Mrs. Wilhite's sister and family from Lubbock visited Mr. and Mrs. Wilhite Sunday.

Several of the leading sportsmen of west Texas and eastern New Mexico met at Lubbock recently and started what may turn out to be a class B baseball circuit for this section, with such towns as Lubbock, Amarillo, San Angelo in Texas, and Roswell and Albuquerque in New Mexico, participating, and possibly El Paso, Texas. We understand that the major as well as Texas League is encouraging the move, as they expect to draw from this new league.

Ravens And Crows Kill Game Birds Of This Section

Ravens and crows, especially ravens, have done considerable damage to game birds in West Texas and the state fish and game department is seeking to eradicate the pests, according to O. D. Cardwell of Post, deputy game warden for this district.

"We have a raven trap in Dickens county," Mr. Cardwell said, "and in two weeks recently we caught over 700 ravens."

The trap, he said, is located close to a hog killing yard and the birds congregate there. As a result, it is easier to catch them. Ravens kill young ducks and quail and other birds and do damage to crops, the warden pointed out.

Another menace to wild fowl is the hawk. "Over in the Stamford country," Mr. Cardwell said, "hunters tell me they locate quail by hawks. I was out driving with a man one afternoon and he saw a hawk circling in the air over a certain spot. 'Bet you there are some quail there' he told me. I asked him how he knew and he said he could tell by the hawk. Sure enough, we found quail. Nine times out of ten that is a good sign."

Mr. Cardwell said he killed all the hawks he could find while on his field trips. He also kills road runners. These eat the eggs and young birds. A hawk will swoop down and carry off a young quail easily, he said.—Lubbock Avalanche.

Plains came over Friday with a fast boys basket ball team from the Plains High school. They showered the local high school team to the tune of fourteen to seven. Among Plains visitors here Friday were Mrs. Pauline Bryson, treasurer of Yoakum county, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cunningham.

Mr. and Mrs. James Calvin Casey of Whiteface, visited Tokio for a short while Sunday.

OUR 23 YEAR COLUMN

Taken from the Herald of January 22, 1909.

We note by our paper of January 22, 1910 that a petition for a special election in the Meadow district was presented to the Commissioners for action, instead of trying to build by private subscription. The word "suffragette" had just come into general use at that time, and a front page article told how Ed Howe of the Atchison (Kans.) Globe cured his daughter, Miss Matilda, equal rights demands my hiring her as one of his regular reporters at a reporters salary. He explained that if women were to run the country, they must work. She lasted part of a day in the mad rush of getting out fine hospitality were Judge and Mrs. W. N. Copeland, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bell, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Ellis, Ed Ellis and Sam Rather. The Brownfield Mercantile was asking those in debt to them to come in and settle. A school play at Gomez seemed to be balked on account of the serious illness of Prof. Coltharp's father, but G. E. Lockhart decided to take Coltharp's place and the show went on.

On the local page we find that John C. Scudday had an organ for sale. Edwin Groves and G. M. Smith were in from the Groves community. That Esquire Bigger was on the puny list. Ben Glasier was in from north Terry. Jim Gamble had accepted a position with the Brownfield Auto & Supply Co. W. H. Gist and A. K. Huckleberry were down from Needmore. Walter Holden of Big Spring, was visiting in Brownfield. Miss Carrie Bell Price was hostess at a party given her school mates. Mr. Telford was in from the Groves community. Arthur Townsend of Lampasses was here visiting his uncle, T. A. Holley. G. W. Wilkins had moved to west Terry. Judge Spencer was able to be in town after a lengthy illness. Ed Neill and wife from Yoakum, were visiting his brother, Judge Geo. W. and family. Arthur Moore had moved his land office to the telephone building. Dr. Ellis was called to Yoakum to see Mrs. Sam Weaver. Harry Braidfoot and family were visiting his parents at Silvertown. Carpenters were putting up the office of the McAdams Lumber Co. W. T. Montgomery, railroad promoter, accompanied by St. Louis and Amarillo capitalists, were here on business. Brownfield Hardware had received some farm implements. Word Price reported that he was doing fine at Baylor U. A. M. Ellis had to see his "sweetie" in Lamesa. Lumber was being put on the ground for the Baptist church. DeShazo Bros., of Lubbock, purchased the Arthur Alexander dry goods stock and fixtures. A. B. Bynum had announced for reelection as county treasurer. G. A. Pyron had decided to build a 100 foot garage to house his Auto and Supply Co. Prof. A. K. Huckleberry had announced as a candidate for county and district clerk. The following men with their wagons, some with trailers, went to Lubbock after lumber for the Baptist church: J. C. Green, E. L. Duke, J. W. Welch, W. A. Pyeatt, E. E. Bailey and Jim Burnett.

Nelson Gets First Blood As Attorney

Taking office on Monday morning of last week, G. H. Nelson, as district attorney, went immediately into the trial of three young men at Plains, Yoakum county, jointly indicted for robbery. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday were consumed in the trial, and on Thursday morning the jury brought in a verdict finding them guilty and assessing their punishment at 7, 5, and 5 years respectively in the penitentiary. The three decided not to appeal and accepted sentence and have already begun serving their terms.

The three men, W. C. Mayhew, Aubrey Eiland, and Allen Duncan, were charged with having assaulted J. T. McAfee at his home one mile south of Tokio on the morning of December 2, beating him up, and rapping him of about $220.00 in money. They were later apprehended in New Mexico and were brought back to Texas for trial. Their home is said to be near Olton in Lamb county.

They were represented on the trial by R. L. Graves of Brownfield.—Tahoka News.

DEATHS

Mr. G. E. Spivey, 73 years of age, passed away Saturday at the family residence in the northwest part of the city. While his death has been expected for some time from pneumonia complications, it was nevertheless a shock to his relatives and friends. Funeral services were conducted for deceased Sunday afternoon at the Methodist church by the pastor, Rev. Ed Sharp, assisted by Rev. J. B. Vinson. Burial was had immediately following in the Brownfield cemetery.

Mr. Spivey and family came to Brownfield from Moran, Texas, in 1916, and for some time engaged in the cafe business, later taking up his trade of painting and paper-hanging. This was kept up until age forbid. While coming from Moran here, Fisher county was regarded as the old home county, the children having been born and reared in that county. He leaves a wife and three children, a son, Riley, and two daughters, Mrs. C. K. Webb, of Rotan, and Mrs. Mon Telford of this city, several grand-children and a host of friends to mourn his passing.

Late Tuesday evening, the city and community was shocked at the announcement that Mrs. I. M. Smith, 36, had passed away at the farm home three miles northwest of the city. Mrs. Smith had been ailing for some time with gall bladder trouble, but it was not thought that he was in any immediate danger. She leaves a husband, and several children to mourn her passing.

The family came here several years ago from east Tennessee, and settled on the fine farm, and have made many friends while helping to build up this community. When this is written Wednesday morning, we understand that funeral services will be held at the Baptist church, followed by burial in the Brownfield cemetery.

Master Edgar Self has been real sick with scarlatina.

CHURCH OF CHRIST NOTES

An increase in attendance and interest is noticed in all lines of church work and services. Each Lords day this year an increase in Bible study and Sunday morning service attendance has been noted. An increase in the Sunday night service is also noticeable. In fact, a general awakening of the whole church seems to be very much in evidence, which is very gratifying and encouraging to the Minister.

The work of the young people shows a very healthy growth. Last Sunday a Junior class was formed under the very efficient leadership of Sister Hardin. The initial service was largely attended, and much enthusiasm was manifested. With two classes of young people meeting each Sunday evening, rapid progress in the training of these enthusiastic boys and girls will be made. These classes meet each Sunday evening at 6:00 o'clock.

The prayer meeting on Wednesday night at 7:15 is growing in attendance and interest—the attendance is unusually large. Visitors present at each service, who are always welcome. A number of out of town visitors were present Sunday morning.

Our motto is: "You may come a stranger, but you cannot go away a stranger." We welcome all.

From the way the Minister and wife has had to endure (?) a protracted "Pounding" lately, it looks like they will be pretty badly "beat up" before it is over! It is great to be among such wonderful people. Come and work and worship with us.

M. O. Daley.

Geo. C. Cleveland was over from old Yoakum last week and tried to trade us two jack rabbits or four cottontails for another year of the Herald. We finally compromised on a one bone batskin.

Any RATTLESNAKES In Your Home?

Rubber hose, or any other flexible connection, is as dangerous as Rattlesnakes. It is likely at any time to become leaky, or disconnected, with resultant injury to health and property.

Because of its lack of durability and the ease with which it may become leaky or disconnected, rubber hose, or other flexible material, should never be used for connecting gas stoves or other gas burning appliance.

A three-eighths inch iron pipe connection is the safest and most efficient connection for the ordinary room heater. Have your plumber replace rubber hose and other flexible gas connections in your home with iron pipe. DO IT NOW.

LESS CORPORATIONS AND CAPITAL STOCK IN 1932

Austin, Texas, Jan.—A total of 1,844 new corporations applied for and received charters from the Secretary of State during the year 1932, according to complications of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. However, this is the smallest annual total since 1924, the Bureau's report pointed out.

"Total authorized capital stock was $38,503,000, a third less than that for the year 1931. Since, according to Texas law, authorized capital stock must be paid in within two years, the reason for this apparent caution becomes evident. This declining capitalization account for the increase in the number of firms with authorized capital stock of less than $5,000 from 512 in 1931 to 626 in 1932. The number of firms with authorized capital stock of $100,000 or more dropped from 113 in 1931 to only 68 in 1932.

"Of the firms receiving charters in 1931, 487 were organized to do business in some phase of merchandising, and 434 were engaged in the oil industry; 248 were manufacturing concerns, and 191 were firms operating real estate and building businesses.

"Fewer out-of-State corporations sought permits to operate in Texas, as indicated by the decline in the number of foreign permits from 434 in 1931 to 279 in 1932."

We were out to the Ed and Tom Thompson farms last Sunday afternoon, and they loaded us up with corn and maize for the chickens, not to say anything of canned beans and pork sausage. They informed us that their youngest brother, Dude and family, were moving out this week from Johnson county to make this their home.

Mrs. A. E. McBroom of route three sent in two big hens for her Herald another year.

We thank W. T. Barrett of the Tokio community for his renewal the past week end.

Farmers, we had some good news this week. The Dallas Farm News authorized us to continue the combination rate of $1.50 for the Herald and Farm News until March 31. Better get in before that time as the rate will then go to $1.75 again.

HOW MODERN WOMEN LOSE FAT SAFELY

Gain Physical Vigor — Youthfulness With Clear Skin and Vivacious Eyes That Sparkle With Glorious Health

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast — cut down on pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—in 4 weeks get on the scales and note how many pounds of fat have vanished.

Get a bottle of Kruschen Salts—the cost is trifling and it lasts 4 weeks. If even this first bottle doesn't convince you this is the easiest, safest and surest way to lose fat—if you don't feel a superb improvement in health—so gloriously energetic—vigorously alive—your money gladly returned.

But be sure for your health's sake that you ask for and get Kruschen Salts. Get them at any drugstore in the world.
