What's The Matter With Texas?

Capitol Rats

One of the most astonishing discoveries I have made here is the Capitol Rat. This animal has such seductive powers that it can charm an official, squeak him to sleep, and within 90 days gnaw the last vestige of a backbone out of him.

It is said that no Governor, even, has ever held out over 90 days; that he must meet his promises within the 90 days, or forever be lost to the people.

I wonder why this animal is known as the Capitol Rat for it has many of the characteristics of the beaver—it dams up the stream of human justice, shuts out the flood waters of home influences, turns on the victim the dark waters of cunning, deceit, greed, craft and dishonesty, until he is submerged until he is soaked into inervation. Then the Capitol Rat gnaws out his backbone and leaves his promises to the people buried in the slime of politics.

Work of Victims

Here is some of the things the victims do after the Capitol Rats gnaw out their backbones:

Special Session transferred three million from the highway to the pension fund last year. The Capitol Rats' victim paid out $260,000 of this fund to certain banks holding Confederate warrants, leaving millions unpaid; then used the balance, $2,740,000, in paying off the capitol employees.

A Senator who fought (for home consumption) for $8 dollars a day, had a niece for two years on the payroll of a State Asylum here, with full subsistence and $150 a month, with small duties, while she attended the University—he now has a nephew in same institution drawing $40 a month and full subsistence, while he attends the University.

Sales Tax Hit

Mrs. Sarah Hughes of Dallas has hit the Sales Tax a soar-plexus blow. She has introduced a graduated income tax bill. Solon Hester, a graduate student in governmental economics, has declared the sales tax iniquitous, promotive of revolutions, and wholly unsound.

Horse Swapping

Political fence building has temporarily been suspended, and the politicians are horse swapping. Hundreds of the faithful who were assured from the rostrum that they would have a job—over 25,000 jobs were dangled before their eyes—are finding now that they were left in the coral of neglect, while an administration nag is traded for some opposition bronco.

The governor has traded horses with Senator Pace. The Senator asked that a Sterling supporter be appointed to the new judgeship in Tyler. The governor named the Senator's choice. We don't know what Pace promised in exchange, but we know that Hon. Nat Gentry, Sr., an original supporter, who has never failed to follow Jim in every crisis, went home without the appointment.

Adjournment May Mean Work

Legislative adjournment for one or three days does not mean no work for some legislators, while legislative sessions do not mean work for others; some work all the time; others never work.

The stream of bills pouring into the hopper would do credit to a commonwealth with not one statute, for over 400 are in the mill.

The lifting of the tax burden is

Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell in "Tess Of The Storm Country"

With the coming of "Tess of the Storm Country" to the Rialto Theatre next Sunday, the army of Gaynor-Farrell fans will see their favorites in what is said to be the most exciting and dramatic offering they have yet made and a picture very different from any of their previous vehicles.

The story deals with the hectic adventures of a sea-captain's daughter who comes to live ashore for the first time in her life.

With its opening sequences aboard the Captain's schooner and the picturesque settings of the shore scenes, the production adds a scenic realism to its swift-moving story. Miss Gaynor's work as the fiery and independent fisher-girl and Farrell's performance as the carefree youngster who encounters love for the first time,

Janet Gaynor, as the daughter of a sea-captain in "Tess of the Storm Country," new Fox film, adds another noteworthy characterization to those that have already contributed to her screen fame.

are reported to rank among the star's finest portrayals.

Dudley Digges, Miss Gaynor's uncle in "The First Year," enacts the role of her nautical father in "Tess." Claude Gillingwater, June Clyde and Edward Pawley have the other principal parts, with George Meeker, Matty Kemp and DeWitt Jennings also prominent in the cast.

The direction is by Alfred Santell, who made Miss Gaynor's earlier "Daddy Long Legs" and Farrell's "Body and Soul." The film was adapted from the novel of Grace Miller White and the dramatization by Rupert Hughes. S. N. Behrman and Sonya Levien wrote the screen play.

Grading To Start On Highway No. 137

Preliminary work for the grading and drainage structures on highway 137 between Brownfield and Meadow has started, R. T. Roane, resident engineer of the highway department, stated.

The Huddleston Construction company has unloaded its equipment and they expect to get started in a few days, Mr. Roane said. "The signs for the detour have been put up, but the fences have not been put up."

Last of the fences are now being put up. It is expected the work will be completed in several days.

Detour will be north of town to even with Meadow and thence east into town. Distance is about 15 miles.

Monday is Tradesday.

Mrs. J. M. Telford, was shopping in Lubbock Tuesday.

like this: The master says, "Rube, that 50 pounds of clay you are carrying is too heavy a burden, from now on, you will carry 100 pounds of brick." The people were promised bread during the campaign; they are handed a stone.

New Rules Of Inter-scholastic League

A copy of the 1932 supplement to the constitution and rules of the University Interscholastic League has been received by Mr. M. Greer, recently elected Director of Declamation, in this county.

"There are two important changes in the rules this year affecting the declamation contest," said Mr. Greer. "First, there is a new division provided for in county meets accommodating only high school juniors, that is, pupils under fifteen years of age who have been promoted to the eighth grade or higher. This supplants the old rule which allowed such juniors to compete in the senior division.

Second, the re-classification of schools will cause some schools which last year participated in the rural division to be transferred to the high school division.

"In most other respect, the declamation rules are the same as those of last year. The junior divisions use standard poetry for declamation, and the senior divisions are confined to prose selections.

"This contest is designed to train boys and girls in the art of sincere and effective public speaking and at the same time contribute to their mental enrichment by requiring them to memorize prose and poetry by the great literary masters. It is hoped that there will be a large number of entries in this contest at our county meet."

Highway Work In Hockley County Begun

The Hannah and Hall Construction company, has put up fences across the state highway on No. 137 at both the Terry and Lubbock county lines. No dirt work has been done, but is expected to start in a short time.

Detour signs will be put up in a short time. Weeds and trash along the right of way is being burned. Fences have all been set back along the right of way across Hockley county.

This is the first state road construction for Hockley county. The eight mile grading and drainage structures are expected to be finished in about 30 working days unless weather conditions cause a delay.

Two Operated On Here Saturday Night

Mrs. Clifford Pray, who lives about nine miles north of town was operated on at the Treadway Hospital Saturday night. We did not learn the nature of the operation, but we understand that it was successful, and that she is doing nicely.

A little later Billie Hudgens, eight-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hudgens underwent an operation for appendicitis. Dr. Treadway was assisted in this operation by Dr. G. W. Graves, who administered the anæsthetics. Billie is doing nicely.

Doctor—Did you open both the windows in your bedroom last night as I ordered you to?

Patient—Well, doctor, I jes' have one window in my room, so I opened it twice.

Proposition Up To City For Cheaper Gas

A company has made a proposition to the City of Brownfield to deliver gas to residents here by Nov. 1, this year, for 40c per 1000 cubic feet instead of 67½c as is now being charged by the West Texas Gas Co. It is our understanding that this is the same company that made a proposition to Lubbock, and is known as the Moore Construction Co. Whether they are able to deliver the goods we know not, but some say that they can get the backing to do so.

The city officials ordered several hundred cards printed, and we understand that they are being signed by almost all they are presented to, many stating that the price of gas is now out of line with other commodities. It is our understanding that the gas will be piped in from the New Mexico, and as the company has to come through or near Brownfield to reach Lubbock, the proposition was put up to the city council here for action.

It is believed that if sufficient citizens sign the card agreeing to take a cheaper gas for a term of five years, the city council will then grant a franchise to the new gas company, which will be known as the Brownfield Gas Co., to put pipes in our streets and alleys.

Subscribers Are Coming In With Renewals

Well, the good old renewals have been rolling in this week at a rapid rate, and the Herald sure appreciates this from its friends, who are making a sacrifice to keep the Herald coming. Three have told us that they could no longer take the Herald as they were not able, but that it was financial troubles, and not because they did not want the Herald. We would like to have continued the Herald to them on our own hook, but we have our own burdens caused mostly from reduced advertising, and the fact that some have cut out their ads altogether.

Herewith is a list of those who have renewed since our last issue: E. R. Kelly, Rt. 4; E. H. Tandy, Rt. 5; Geo. Alexander, Tokio; J. D. McCollough, city; A. V. Taylor, Tokio; C. A. Jodie Edwards Given 25 Years In Bank Robbery

The case of R. S. Simpson, of Lamesa, went to trial here last Thursday, and the verdict had not been rendered in time for last week's Herald went to press. Simpson was given a 2 year term in the pen in the first of the six cases against him, which was for taking deposits in the Seminole State bank, of which he was an official, after he knew that the bank was in a failing condition. These will be tried later, and other officers of the bank, involved in the closing will be tried at Seminole next term of court there. We understand that Simpson will appeal his case.

Another case that has attracted wide attention here was the Seagraves bank robbery cases. Jodie Edwards was the first to go on trial here, all cases being transferred to this county. Monday morning was consumed in securing a jury, and the case began with state witness in the afternoon. Charge to the jury was read directly after noon Tuesday, and it was given to the jury about five Tuesday afternoon, after final argument by District Attorney G. H. Nelson. J. E. Vickers of Lubbock represented the defendant, assisted by R. L. Graves of this city.

A verdict of 25 years in the pen was rendered by the jury here early Wednesday and at that time we did not learn whether or not he would ask for a new trial, appeal or take his sentence. We learn that another 35 year sentence for robbery hangs over him, and he may take his sentence here and go to the pen at once.

A jury was being empaneled Wednesday afternoon to try Baker, accused as an accomplice in the robbery. Three others are to be tried, Herring, Merredith and Slaughter.

Hudgens & Knight Store Hijacked Sat. Night

Two or more burglars took a long chance last Saturday night to rob the Hudgens & Knight store, for operation were started while a lot of cars were parked out in front of that store and the Treadway Hospital, to watch some operation, or be with friends who had patients in the hospital. So far, they have made good their escape, but a good description of one of them was obtained.

About nine o'clock the wife of Clifford Pray was operated on, and just after ten, Billie Hudgens underwent an operation for appendicitis, which was finished around eleven o'clock. Mr. Pray needed some things from the store and asked Kyle Graves to open the store for him. They approached the enclosure of counters near the front where tobacco, cigarettes and the cash register are located, when a young man jumped up with his hand shapped like a pistol to one in the semi-darkness, and demanded that they put up their hands.

Kyle stepped around and took hold of the fellow, when he yelled apparently for his friends "to come and get him." Not knowing how many more might be hid in the store, Kyle let go, and the man made his escape through a back window. It is believed that this fellow may have possibly hid in the store before it was closed. Officers were called and made a hurried search of the premises and all old cars parked in the rear of the west side, but nothing was found.

A sack full of cigarettes and tobacco, gum, etc., were found in a grass sack, and flour and bacon piled up in the rear as if a truck or car was expected to carry it away. All money in the grocery as well as the hardware department had been hidden that was taken in after the last deposit was made late in the afternoon, and was safe. So about all the jackers got was what they might have carried away in their pockets.

Monday is Tradesday.

That Eternal School Question Up Again

The question, "are we going to let our school close" is up again for solution, and according to all information the Herald can gather, it is almost certain to close the 3rd of March unless a lot of taxes now due and delinquent are paid, and few believe that many will pay delinquent taxes that have hung fire now for several years as far as some are concerned.

There seems to be three views of the question. Some that can pay and won't for fear others won't pay, and some because they believe they have been assessed too high. They don't seem to be greatly disturbed whether the school goes on or not. The second group are composed of those who think it will almost be a disgrace to let the school close and lose affiliation, and are willing to join others in talking with any who might be persuaded to pay their taxes and keep the school going.

Then there is another group which we might term middle of the roaders. It is their understanding that a debt borrowed from a bank is what is bothering the board most just now, and that by stopping the school three months before scheduled to do so, that this money can be repaid, and the school can then reopen in September with all pressing debts about cleared. In the meantime, a campaign of collection by law and otherwise could be instituted against delinquents, and the school could start up in the fall with some money instead of in debt.

This last group also argue that it would not take long to regain affiliation once the school is again put on a cash basis. Some blame the trustees for over-building, but that isn't even good sportsmanship. The trustees did not vote the bonds. They simply spent the money to the best advantage they could after the property tax payers voted it. As private individuals, many of us over-built, and we are feeling the effects of our folly now, we might say. When times were good we paid without trouble when payments were due.

We cannot, however say that we were all fools or even foolish. Everybody was doing it from the man of small means to the multi-millionaire. Three years ago Gov. Sterling was a millionaire, but bad breaks left him almost penniless when he left the governor's chair. Neither can we say that our school trustees and other officials are bad because we made debts for them to pay and do not provide the money to pay them. We brought it all on ourselves. The trustees have simply been acting as our agents.

Girls Basketball Tournament Friday and Sat.

Prof. P. W. Lawlis, coach of the girls basketball team of this city, has sent out invitations to at least 22 teams in this section of the district to play here today and tomorrow, Feb. 3-4. This is the 2nd annual meet here. Mr. Lawlis stated that if possible the teams nearest Brownfield would be played first, giving those from a distance a better chance to rest some after arrival.

Brownfield has one of the best gymnasiums in this section, and some of the best and most competent officials obtainable have been secured to referee and call the games, and being guests of the Brownfield high school means that all teams visiting here will be well entertained.

Suitable trophies will be awarded the first and second prize winners. Also, a consolation bracket or a division for rural schools will be provided. Many neighboring towns and cities are expected, and some great games are to be seen. A nominal charge of only 50c will be made for adults season tickets, we understand.

NEW BILL TO RUIN CASH MARKET, SAYS PACKERS

The bill now before Congress (H. R. 13991) will destroy the cash market for live hogs and leave a surplus of unsalable hogs on the farm, says the National Meat Packers Association in a recent letter to papers.

It differs from the "allotment plan" by fixing an arbitrary price and requiring the possessor to pay a tax equal to the difference between the fixed price and the actual market price.

The result would be that at the higher price levels necessitated by the tax, pork consumption would immediately drop. With millions of unemployed and with buying power at a low ebb, the number of hogs that would be marketed at the higher levels would be so small as to cause a demoralization of the hog industry.

With the packing industry unable to buy all the hogs offered, the terminal markets would quickly become congested, a huge surplus of hogs would pile up in the country and become unsalable, thus getting heavier and increasing production of undesirable pork.

Instead of helping the producer, the bill would injure him.

HORSE SELLS FOR 3 CENTS AND BULL ONLY NETS NICKEL

Sometimes Collingsworth County people get discouraged because they are unable to get good prices on their cotton and farm produce—but if things ever get as bad here as they were for a farmer in Doylestown, Pa., then all the farmers will have a good excuse to check out.

Here is how they do things in Pennsylvania:

A sheriff's sale of farm property at which horses brought 3c, a bull 5c and three pigs the same amount, left Bucks County authorities puzzled recently over what to do about a farmer's organization, newly formed to prevent members from being sold out.

Sheriff Horace C. Swimmer put property from the farm home of John Hensel under the hammer to satisfy a judgment for $1,800, but he realizes only a $1.80 from the sale.

Representatives of the recently organized Farmer's Protective Association said they attended the sale to offer low bids.

The total sales included a flock of chickens for 3c, a pair of calves for 4c, and Hensel's household goods for 6c. None of the property was moved and after the sale a collection was taken up to buy food for the farmer's three motherless children.

Sherriff Swimmer expressed doubts as to the legality of the sale and said he did not believe the county courts would accept the return.

Lewis C. Bentzley of Berkasie, president of the association, said the group would continue a policy of protecting members from forced sales in cases where the individual is not to blame for his difficulty and where he deserves help—Wellington Leader.

BIGGEST NEWS OF 1932 SELECTED BY EDITORS

What were the outstanding news event of 1932?

Out of the welter of "big stories" that broke during the year the Lindberg kidnaping case undoubtedly ranks first in the estimation of news paper readers with a score of other sensational development crowding close for recognition.

The Lindberg case was given first place in the survey of Associated Press editors with the following events ranking in order:

The eviction of the bonus army from Washington.

The election of Franklin D. Roosevelt in the Democratic landslide.

Ivar Krueger's suicide and the collapse of his vast industrial dynasty.

The Olympic Games at Los Angeles.

The Shanghai hostilities between the Japanese and Chinese.

The collapse of the Insull interests in Chicago.

Mayor Walker's resignation in New York.

The Massie murder case in Honolulu.

Amelia Earharts solo flight to Europe.

Imprisonment of Al Capone.

TEXAS, THE BANNER STATE

With six counties missing from the official count, Texas is shown to have returned to the democratic fold with a bang in the battle of ballots November 8th.

Falling from grace in 1928, the Lone Star State last month wiped out that party stain with plenty of votes to spare. The democratic plurality in this state was the greatest accorded the Roosevelt-Garner ticket by any state. The democrats polled 753,000 ballots; their republican opponents could muster only 96,000. A majority of almost eight to one is a majority not to be sneezed at. Texas, apparently, was determined to get back on the bandwagon with everything she had.

In 1928 Mr. Hoover received 367,000 Texas votes; Mr. Smith, 341,000. That was a GOP year all down the line. Texas wasn't the only dyed-in-the-wool democratic state to desert the party of its founders. This year they were all back in the fold, dragging with them enough republican states to give Mr. Roosevelt 472 electoral votes—a high-tide of ballots that may never, in all our history, be equalled again.

Texas democratic leaders who set out to wipe away the memory of 1928 succeeded beyond their expectation. They were determined to make the Lone Star State the banner democratic stronghold, and their efforts were crowned with success.—Abilene News.

Dad Tudor was in from the farm Tuesday, and was complaining of a bad case of rheumatism, especially in one hand which was badly swollen.

THE HORSE'S COMEBACK

A South Dakota newspaper reports on a survey of hitching posts in smaller towns of that State. It finds a startling increase in numbers and deduces therefrom evidence of a renaissance of the horse. The horse's coming back on the farms of South Dakota, says the newspaper, reporting that horse-drawn rigs are even making their appearance in the transport of farm goods and farm families to the towns.

The farmer has an example of what the new term "technocracy" may imply in his own business. He has grain of all sorts that has a slow market at low prices. He has to buy the gasoline and oil to operate automobile, truck or tractor, but the horse will operate on the grain already in the farmer's bin.

It would require a re-direction of all the trends of rural development to bring about a return of the horse to his former place in the farm picture. Such a complete restoration may never come. But the horse has come back to some extent as a farm draft animal, as a result of grain prices below the cost of production.—Ft. Worth Star-Telegram.

Dr. Bell called this week and had the paper started to his wife in western New Mexico. The doctor says his wife and the boys are holding down their 4 sections fine, and that Mrs. Bell does a lot of horseback riding, and is having fine health.

Again we greet you.

WILLIAM GREEN GIVEN ANOTHER TERM

William Green was given another term as president of the American Federation of Labor. This will be his ninth. This was the message to labor in his speech of thanks to the convention. "We will plead for co-operation with employers, but where we cannot get it we will use every legitimate power at our command." He called the convention a "pace making, record breaking body." He rang the bell. That convention declared for the five day week and the six hour day. It is certain to be an issue in American politics in nation and state. We don't have any idea what the other newspapermen of west Texas who have Thursday as printing day, hubbed last Thursday, but we can tell you now that was a hoodoo for the Herald.

"Crime don't pay." One hears this often, and the more thought the serious minded give it, the more one comes to that conclusion.

Senator Norris, Republican of North Dakota, but in reality one of the best Democratic Senators at Washington, in a recent address, advocated the session of the 36 agricultural states from the Union, take with them the Stars and Stripes, and leave the 12 manufacturing states to root-hog-or-die, and build all the tariff walls they want against the rest of the world.

TECHNOCRACY

A new word is sweeping the country—Technocracy. Literally, it means "government by technician."

Coupled with this idea that everything can and will be done by machines, they have a nebulous plan for discarding our present system of money, banking and credits and creating money based on electric energy instead of metal.

After every period of depression has got along about so far, new schemes to reorganize the world begin to be taken seriously by people who imagine that human nature can be changed.

Red Goose-The Ojibwa

An Indian Story for Boys and Girls By Carlyle Emery

The railroads were beginning to lay their tracks through Minnesota, and when the Indians saw a locomotive, they called it the Iron Horse.

It was early sunrise when Red Goose and Little Beaver started up north toward the Silver Trail, and as the pony, Spot-on-Tail, carried them swiftly onward, Little Beaver said: "Flying Bear was very brave to walk up and look at the Iron Horse."

After riding for some time, they saw the newly laid tracks of the railroad in the distance, that glistened in the sun for all the world like a silver trail.

"Look! Look!" cried Little Beaver, already trembling with fear.

"Red Goose Touches the Silver Trail"

turn back Red Goose," she pleaded. "Soon now we will reach Silver Trail and first Red Goose will touch 'Oh! Oh! There is the Iron Horse. I am afraid," whimpered Little Beaver, as a locomotive appeared on the Silver Trail, and came to a stop not far in front of them.

It belched out great clouds of black smoke, and now and then the sparks would fly out of the smoke-stack, which added to the noise, made the Iron Horse look very terrifying to the two little Indian children.

Red Goose slipped off his pony, and after helping Little Beaver down he took her by the hand and walked boldly up to the silver trail.

Then, bending over, he put his

W. S. Crowder Says Time Worse Than 90's

W. S. Crowder, one of the old time Terryites, as well as a pioneer of West Texas, was in town the first of the week, mixing with the crowds. Bill says that they have lots to eat out on the farm and do not intend to apply for any help.

During the nineties, Bill says that he ran a small herd in Stonewall county, and while he and their neighbors thought they were going against their better judgment, they voted for Bryan and Free Silver instead of McKinley and Gold standard.

But even before that, said Bill, one was able to sell a yearling for $6, or could get a little help from the banks. In fact, one could almost always find a neighbor with a little surplus cash that he would loan.

hands firmly on one of the rails and held them there.

"See, Little Beaver," he said proudly. "Red Goose can touch Silver trail and not die. Little Beaver be brave too, and touch trail with Red Goose." "No! No! No! Little Beaver is afraid." Then straightening up, Red Goose walked over to put his right hand on one of the wheels of the puffing locomotive.

Not satisfied with this display of his bravery, the son of Red Eagle suddenly went to the caboose and climbed inside.

"See, Little Beaver?" he called. "See Red Goose on Iron Horse?"

But before Little Beaver could speak, there came a sudden shrill whistle, a clanging of bell, and a fresh, new cloud of smoke began to soar up in the air, the wheels of the iron horse begin to move slowly around and around.

Perfectly Formed Bones and Teeth Symbols of a Body in a General State of Well-Being Children's Diet Must Be Watched to Include Ample Supply of Calcium and Phosphorous Foods.

That old saying "Beauty is only skin-deep and ugliness goes to the bone" is as untrue as it is trite. Really, beauty radiates from the bone just as does ugliness. The grace and symmetry of the human body depends more upon well-formed bony structure than on anything else.

The reason why some individuals have shapely teeth and bones and the possessions that go with them and others do not, cannot be attributed to accident or special blessing, but to the food that the body consumes.

Shapely Teeth and Bones. The food that we eat must supply the substances that the body requires for natural development. And this supply must be adequate from the very beginning of life. Bones and teeth are not only designed but are developed to a considerable extent before birth.

starchy foods. It is necessary, therefore, that mothers watch to see that their diets provide the necessary calcium and phosphorous foods if the building of good teeth and bones is the goal. Deficiencies in these minerals may be met by consuming foods that are rich in these substances. Milk and vegetables are usually thought of as the only sources for calcium, and milk, fish, meat and eggs and vegetables for phosphorus. But a very large source of both these elements may be found in a desirable form in self-rising flour.

"Shapely Teeth and Bones . . . No Accident."

calcium phosphate in a proportion that produces the correct amount of leaven for the making of high quality baked products. The quantity of monocalcium phosphate present is sufficient to make a considerable contribution of phosphorus and calcium to the diet.

For example, two cups of this flour made into biscuits, muffins or any other baked product furnish about six-sevenths of the daily adult requirement of calcium and about two-thirds of the daily adult requirement of phosphorus. Therefore, a serving once or twice a day of a food made of self-rising flour will go a long way toward making up calcium and phosphorous deficiencies in not only the diet of mothers but also that of the whole family.

OUR 23 YEAR COLUMN

Taken from the Herald of February 5, 1910.

On the first page of our issue of Saturday, February 5, 1910, we find that the Meadow section was having an epidemic of lagrippe and pneumonia. That was before flu was heard of so much. Therefore there was little news from that community. Rev. Victor Trammel had filled his appointment there with a sermon on "the Jewels of a Christian Life." The Pride Dots reported that John Bryant was up again from rheumatism. J. P. Simmons and W. F. Cathey had returned from Colorado City with freight. Mr. Morrison was in from Big Spring. T. E. Cathey of Big Spring was visiting relatives at Pride. Will Elder had sold his farm to an Oklahoma man and was moving to New Mexico. Mr. Stafford and family were moving to Tom Green county. J. C. Patterson had returned from Big Spring with supplies. Mr. G. L. Leatherwood had returned with freight from Big Spring for the Russell store. J. K. Epperson and wife were shopping in Lou. A citizen had written an article for the Herald on what to plant for this county. Cotton was not mentioned, but corn, maize and kaffir, especially white kaffir was mentioned, as it was stated that there would be a good sale for the later to a grain concern at Lubbock.

On the second page, we found an article written by Mr. R. H. Baugh on the possibility of building fish tanks in this country. On the local page: Mrs. J. E. Griffith of Gomez, was visiting here. John Burnett had made a business trip to Plains. Fred Pyeatt of Plains, was visiting relatives here. M. D. Williams carried a large load of passengers to Big Spring. Will Belcher, cattleman of Yoakum county, was over on business. T. M. Biles of Gomez, had renewed. Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Forrester of Lynn county, were visitors here. Lawrence Green was helping in the Herald office. Rev. Edgar Owens was to fill his appointment here. Judge Tucker had returned to his "bonus" in Yoakum county, after a visit here. Dock Powell was suffering with a slight attack of lagrippe. Newt. Copeland was suffering with a light attack of pneumonia. R. R. Greathouse of Gomez, sent the Herald to his mother at Dimmitt. Mrs. Wm. Howard was recovering from blood poison in the hand.

M. E. Dumas and son called, and renewed. Jim Lewis and Sam Walker had called and sent out five new subscriptions. W. D. Winn was sending the Herald to Mrs. Kate Winn of Knox City. Edwin Groves was hauling his corn to Tahoka and selling direct to farmers. Arthur Alexander had bought the old McConnell lumber office from M. L. French and was moving it to the northeast corner of the square where it was being fitted up for a restaurant and cold drink parlor to be run by Duke & Keeter. Bob Kinard of Tuxedo, Jones county, was up prospecting. He was an old friend of the editor. Mrs. G. A. Pyron had moved down from Lubbock to join her husband here who was in the garage business. G. L. Harlan had sent the Herald to his son, Arthur at Brenham, Texas. C. F. Bell had arrived from Marshall to help Herbert get the farm in operation. J. F. Winston had returned from a trip to South Texas. Reported ripe strawberries. W. R. Harris was called to Coahoma on account of the death of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Saunders. Mrs. W. N. Copeland was called to Abilene on account of the illness of her daughter, Miss Irene. In this issue we find two new announcements. D. J. Broughton for County and District Clerk and S. A. Shepherd for Sheriff and Tax-Collector.

A PUZZLE: A railroad man's daughter of Marshall, Texas, had submitted the following for solution. No harm to report in 23 years later: A train a mile in length is standing on the track with the engine at the depot. The train pulls out, and as the caboose comes by, the conductor gets on, and walked to the front end of the train and gets off at the engine when the train stops at the depot at the other town. The towns are three miles apart. How far did the conductor walk, and how far did he ride?

On the back page a Chicago city official predicted that Chicago would have a population of six to ten million in 20 years. He missed his guess considerably, but Chicago did grow. All for this week.

Old Time Gainesite Visits Here Monday

Among the Gaines county people seen here Monday attending court and looking after other business matters was Z. J. Elder, one of the pioneer stockmen of that section. Indeed, Z. J. had been a settler down there when we landed here 24 years ago. He settled in the middle of a big ranch where he bought a lease some four miles west of Loop. Mr. Elder stated that none of the big cattlemen ever molested him in the least, but that all were his friends.

Up till 1921, Mr. Elder had quite a herd of cattle, but like most ranchmen stocked up too heavy and held too long, and finally had to let them go at a sacrifice. Since that time, he has raised horses and mules. However, he only has two jacks now, one for sale, and a good stallion, as he aims to reduce his holdings some. We can remember when Z. J. used to ride in that 25 miles every Friday, horseback, to attend the Odd Fellow lodge here.

While speaking of the old time ranchmen, the subject of Tom Ross came up. Mr. Elder says that he has worked for Tom quite a bit, and also knew him when Tom worked for the Waggoners down near Wichita Falls, and that he never had a man to treat him better. He has spent many nights in Tom's home, and never had a better welcome anywhere.

CONFIDENCE RETURNS

The the American people are richer in one respect at the close of this year than they were a year ago is indicated by early reports reaching Washington City from retail merchandising organizations all over the country. These reports are to the effect that while the general volume of Christmas trade has not exceeded that of a year ago, there has been a far greater number of sales. Retail merchants explain that this reflects a decreased in hoarding and renewed confidence in the banking system of the country. Confidence has been restored to the point where bank failures today are back to where they were in normal years. As a result more people are digging out their hoardings and putting money into circulation. The number of sales this Christmas season as compared with the same time last year plainly indicates this fact. It is cheering news, too, this proof of returning confidence and a lessening of the old desire to hoard. It is about as fine a "Christmas gift" as the American people could hope for.—Big Spring News.

NEW TAXES

Austin, Texas, Jan. 19.—"No one tax will reach all alike; we must have a blended tax system to properly allocate the burden," declared Tom F. Hunter of Wichita Falls, who is in Austin attending the sessions of the State Legislature.

"If we are to have a sales tax, one third of it should be retained by the counties in order that the county and school real estate tax might be reduced. Government expenses must be reduced.

"One pipe-line company, in a depression year, showed a net earning of $20,157,642.42. It paid a 40 per cent dividend. It paid a total state tax that year of only $471,877.47. The total tax to the state was only 2.3 per cent of their net earnings, while the home-owner of Texas paid 100 per cent of the net return value of his home in taxes. A part of the 2.3 per cent was the 69 cents on the $100 valuation, state ad valorem tax. To pass the sales tax and abolish the state ad valorem tax and to quit at that would mean that their tax was reduced 25 percent on the one hand and no increase by reason of the sales tax, because they are not buyers.

"The voting of the constitutional amendment, exempting a $3,000 valuation on a home stead, was a great victory for the plain people. It contemplates the shifting of that part of their burden to the organized few of wealth that have heretofore evaded their just portion. Now the sales tax, and quit, and you will have the same burden back on this same crowd, increase because of the abolition of the state ad valorem.

"A graduated income tax, levied upon the extreme high bracket is the only tax they cannot pass on to the masses. I believe that in this hour of depression that every person, firm and corporation should come to the rescue of a bankrupting state with the same degree of patriotism that the boys manifested in their enlistment in the recent war; shoulder proportionately the load that we carry in order to avert these impending dangers—even the big moneyed combines should pay proportionately. Let an income tax be levied upon all who are not buyers and payers under the sales tax. For example, tax all incomes in excess of one first million, levy five percent tax; on the second million a ten per cent tax; on the third, 15 per cent tax; on the fourth and fifth, a 25 per cent tax; and on all in excess of five million a 35 per cent tax.

"Let's not only require these big boys to pay in proportion to their ability to earn; but let's discourage these merging combines that have been so destructive to employment. We must not give back to them the great victory that we won at the polls without remuneration for it. Let's don't forget that 60 per cent of our wealth is controlled by one percent of our people; that the 99 per cent owning the other 40 percent of our wealth has heretofore been carrying the burden.

Where Six Were Burned to Death

Gasoline poured into a hot stove caused this tragic destruction of the tenant farm home of Walter Hood, near Barstow, in West Texas last week. Two families were almost wiped out. Of the Walter Hood family three children and the father are dead. Of the Jack Hood family, Mrs. Hood and their one child are dead. Mr. Jack Hood and Mrs. Walter Hood were seriously burned but will recover.

On March Again, but Leaving Texas

It looked like war as the First Cavalry regiment of the United States army trekked across Texas. Fort Russell, for many years a border outpost at Marfa, Texas, has been closed, and the First Cavalry, steeped in tradition of 100 years of border fighting is retiring to Louisville, Kentucky.

I AM THE FARMER

I am the provider of all mankind. Upon me very human being constantly depends.

A world itself is built upon my toil, my products, my honesty.

Because of my industry, America, my country, leads the world; her prosperity is maintained by me; her great commerce is the work of my good hands; her "balance of trade" springs from the furrows of my farm.

My reaper brings food for today; My plow holds promise for tomorrow.

In war I am absolute; in peace I am indispensable—my country's surest defense and constant reliance.

I am the ver soul of America, the hope of the race, the balance wheel of civilization.

When I prosper, men are happy; when I fail the world suffers.

I live with nature, walk in the green fields under the golden sunlight, out in the great alone, where brain and brawn and toil supply mankind's primary need. And I try to do my humble part to carry out the great plan of God.

Even the birds are my companions; they greet me with a symphony at the new day's dawn and chum with me until the evening's prayer is said.

If it were not for me the treasures of the earth would remain securely locked; the graineries would be useless frames; man himself, would be doomed speedily to extinction or decay.

Thru me is produced the energy that maintains the spark of life.

I rise up early with the dawn and retire when the "chores" of the world are done.

I am your true friend. I am the farmer.—Wright County Journal Press, Buffalo, Minn.

Water Heaters Without Flue Pipes Are A Menace

Many gas appliances, including some well-constructed room heaters, are safe to use without flue connection in WELL-VENTILATED rooms. However, it is advisable that all appliances using gas in considerable quantities should be connected with flues, for even the most efficient types may produce poisonous gas when the flame is first lighted.

If your water heater—or any other kind of a heater—is in the bath room, turn it out when you are ready for your bath. It requires approximately 10 cubic feet of air to supply sufficient oxygen to burn one cubic foot of gas—and there usually is little or no fresh air coming into the average bathroom.

Natural gas, when properly used, not only is efficient and economical, but it also is safe.

West Texas Gas Company places a higher value on the health, safety and good will of consumers than upon any revenue it might derive from gas that is not properly used.

FEDERATED MEETING HELD MONDAY

Some 50 ladies met Monday at the Methodist church; First Christian church ladies giving following program:

- Song by congregation.
- Scripture Reading—Mrs. Holgate.
- Prayer—Mrs. Walters.
- Piano Solo—La Rue Barrier.
- Musical Reading—Mattie Jo Gracey.

Talk; Kingdom come through the home—Mrs. Jennings of Lubbock.

The purpose of these meetings is to bring women of the various churches closer together. We are all working for good; if our creeds do differ, we find pleasure and profit in attending these meetings.

New officers elected as follows: Mrs. McBurnett—President. Mrs. Coleman—Vice-President. Mrs. James H. Dallas, Secretary. Mrs. Gracey—Treasurer. Methodist ladies served sandwiches, cake and coffee.

At a recent Methodist Sunday school council meeting, the teachers voted each class to entertain their classes within the next two weeks. The following classes were entertained last week: Mesdames Boone Hunter, Carpenter, Clovis Kendrick, and Downing; Messrs. Toone and Dennis. This week, Mesdames Arnett Bynum, Burnett, McGowan, Longbrake and Parker. Messrs. Powell and Hayhurst. These entertainments have resulted in getting old members back and also new ones for every class. Young folks want social life and why not have it in the churches. No one objects to good wholesome fun. Our young people need to be looked after more and it is up to the church to plan more for them.

MRS. PYEATT HAS PARTY

Mrs. Dube Pyeatt was hostess to a number of friends on Wednesday of last week. Bridge was enjoyed for a time. Refreshments of meat salad, crackers, pickles, date loaf and tea were served to Mesdames Allen, Lees, Michie, Copeland, Peoples, Endersen, Parish, Flem McSpadden, McDuffie, Bell, Collins and Bailey. First and second prizes were pillow cases and went to Mesdames Endersen and Bailey respectively.

MRS. BROWNFIELD HOSTESS

Thursday from 3 to 5, Mrs. Ray Brownfield was hostess to the Kill Kare Klub, when members met to play bridge. Mesdames McGowan, Miller, Fred Smith, Cecil Smith, May, Graham, Jacobson, Pyeatt, and Ballard. Mrs. Copeland was a tea guest. Refreshments were chicken salad, crackers, pickles, ice box cookies and spiced tea. Mrs. Fred Smith won a deck of cards for high and Mrs. Cecil Smith a fruit bowl for second high.

MRS. EARL JONES HOSTESS

On Friday morning bridge lovers enjoyed a party with Mrs. Earl Jones, hostess at Mrs. Cecil Smith Jr's home at 9:30 o'clock. The following guests present: Mesdames Heath, Ballard, Pyeatt, Lewellen, Jacobson, Flem McSpadden, Cave, Akers, McDuffie, Endersen, Allen, Michie, Dalton Lewis, W. H. Dallas, W. C. and Cecil Smith. Refreshments were carrot salad, hot rolls, pickles, osgood pie, and hot tea. Mrs. Flem McSpadden winning a lace scarf for high and Mrs. Jacobson a box of linen handkerchiefs for 2nd high.

KOLONIAL KARD KLUB

Mrs. C. J. Smith was hostess on last Friday afternoon when she entertained the Kolonial Kard Klub at her home. Five tables were placed for contract bridge and at the close of the games Mesdames Wingerd and Cave were presented with handkerchiefs for guest and club high respectively. The hostess served a delicious salad course to Mesdames Heath, Dallas, Wingerd, Hilyard, Lewellen, Herod, Cave, Cobb, Shelton, Hudgens, Collins, Frank Ballard, Jones, Akers, Bowers, D. P. Lewis, McDuffie, Kendrick, Flem McSpadden and Miss Vivian Winston.

Mrs. Earl Thaxton visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McPherson, at Lubbock from Friday to Saturday of last week.

BROWNFIELD ORCHESTRA TO BROADCAST

On Sunday afternoon at 3:30 the Brownfield orchestra will be heard in a popular program from radio station K. F. Y. O. at Lubbock. This orchestra is composed of Clyde Peoples, Edwin Hamm, Barney Holgate, Elizabeth Herod and Voncille Williams. Numbers to be played are "Millenburg Joy," "You've Got Me In The Palm of Your Hand," "Wabash Blues," "I'm Yours for Tonight," "Pink Elephants," "The Waltz You Saved For Me," "Put on your Old Gray Bonnet," and "Just a Little Street where old Friends Meet. Clyde Peoples will sing "River Stay Away From My Door," and an accordion solo will be played by Elizabeth Herod.

This is the first broadcast by the orchestra and they will appreciate their friends listening in and a phone call to the station.

MR. TOONE HOSTESS

On Thursday evening, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Toone entertained in honor of his Sunday school class members and special guests. Five tables were arranged for pinocle and at the close of the games boobie prizes went to Olga Fitzgerald and W. B. Toone.

Delicious refreshments of chicken salad, butter rolls, crackers, tea and cake were served to about twenty guests. Members and guests included Messrs and Mesdames M. E. Jacobson, H. F. Heath and Roy Herod. Misses Polly Taylor, Mozelle Treadaway, Olga Fitzgerald and Edna Brock. Messrs. Parker, Longbrake, Jett, Upton, Smith, Lawlis, Fitzgerald, Headstream and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Toone.

Mesdames Toone, Dallas, Herod, Downing and Miss Perkins visited in Lubbock Saturday. Mesdames Toone and Dallas attended the P. T. A. luncheon at the Hilton Hotel. The other ladies visited relatives.

Mesdames Roy Wingerd, Holgate and Miss Olga Fitzgerald were Lubbock visitors Saturday. Also attended the P. T. A. luncheon at the Hilton Hotel. The P. T. A. convention is scheduled to meet in Brownfield in April at which time some one hundred and twenty-five delegates are expected and this organization is hoping Brownfield homes will be opened to help entertain these visitors, and we are sure they will.

BROADWAY CHURCH OF CHRIST

We had three very interesting services Sunday. Bro. Garnett from Tahoka preached two splendid sermons for us. His text Sunday morning was "What kind of a Spirit Have You", and Sunday night after a very interesting program with the part of the young people on the "Daily Duties of a Christian." He preached on "The Trials of Faith."

Bro. Garnett is to preach for us each fifth Sunday which, is the only one he has idle. If you would come to hear him you would go away glad that you came.

Come and be with us in our Mid-Week services Wednesday night at 7:30.

Sunday school at 10:00 and preaching at 11:00.

Come and meet with us.

MUSIC NOTES

The Presto Dunning Club had its regular meeting Saturday in the Piano Studio of the Grade school.

Roll call was answered with the name of a great composer. Then several musical games were played and puzzles cut from pictures of composers were worked. Dixie cups were served to the following active and associate members, Mary Nell and Mildred Adams, Mary Catherine, La Rue and Catherine Barrier; Marjorie Sue Bynum, Lucille McSpadden, Elizabeth Ann Smith, Betty Jo Savage, Ida Mae, Joe Pete, Ethelda and Virginia May; Sammie Gene Legg, Dorothy Kathryn Graham, Bobbie Virginia Bowers, Queenelle Sawyer, Evelyn and Virginia Alewine; Irma Smith, Ruth and May Louise Tinkler; Marguerite, Baylor and Bernice Hale; Billie and Margaret Schroeder; Irene Baum, Elray and Vondee Lewis; Velmoeye Burnette; Mrs. Head and Miss MacCury. Two visitors, Marion Bowers and Twilla Graham, were also present.—Reporter.

J. Akers, Dale Rentfro.

MRS. ALEXANDER OF PLAINVIEW HOSTESS

The Ace Hi Club of Brownfield were entertained on Wednesday, when they were guests of Mrs. E. G. Alexander in her lovely home in Plainview. The ladies were entertained with a luncheon at the noon hour, served in buffet style. Delicious and appetizing menu was served. The charming hostess, having always been a favorite while her home was in Brownfield, most heartily welcomed her friends, who when the day was far spent, voted her the home lovely hostess. Mesdames Toone, Bowers, English, won table prizes. Mrs. Bell received a lovely plaque for high score. Ladies in attendance were Mrs. Joe J. McGowan, Mrs. H. G. Lees, Mrs. Roy Brownfield, Mrs. M. L. Copeland, Mrs. R. L. Bowers, Mrs. W. H. Dallas, Mrs. W. A. Bell, Mrs. Roy Wingerd, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. W. B. Toone and Mrs. Tom May. Mrs. English and Mrs. Boyce Cardwell, both of Plainview, were guests at luncheon and games.

MRS. ALEXANDER OF PLAINVIEW HOSTESS

Craig Stewart is here from McCamey attending the bedside of his little nephew, Billie Hudgens. Judge Mooreland, of Plains, was here this week attending district court. The sand was rolling here again Wednesday morning, and the force was hoping that it would still down for press day Thursday.

MAIDS AND MATRONS

The Maids and Matrons Club met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Frank Weir, with Mrs. Weir and Mrs. Wingerd hostesses; with Mrs. Jacobson leader of the lesson. The following program was enjoyed.

The German Theatre to Goethe.

Goethe and Schiller a contrast—Mrs. W. A. Bell.

Garrick, Sheridan Sara Siddons—Mrs. A. B. Sanders.

Rise of Theatre in U. S.—Mrs. H. Heath.

Romanticism; Gilbert and Sullivan—Mrs. Rentfro.

Origin and Development of the Opera—Mrs. Moore.

The hostesses served a delicious plate of refreshments to Mesdames James Harley Dallas, M. E. Jacobson, H. Heath, Dennis Rentfro, W. A. Bell, O. Dennis, Parrish, Lyon, McGowan, Moore and Sanders.

Mrs. W. B. Downing had us start the Herald to her father, J. T. May at Lubbock. Mrs. Downing says that her father never speaks of the Herald as the "Herald" or even the "Brownfield paper," but always refers to it as "Jack's paper." Thanks old friend, for putting so much individuality into the little paper we publish.

WHISKEY STILLS RAIDED FIFTY YEARS AGO

Fifty years ago today a moonshiner's still was captured in a cave near the mouth of Cedar Creek, about fifteen miles from Cleburne, the Dallas News states this morning.

The item was carried in the "Fifty Years Ago" Column carried in that paper.

Which goes to show that prohibition has not been the cause of all the raids.

However, back in that time it was not against the law to make whiskey or sell it. The government stepped in only when a still was operated without a license. Apparently the still mentioned had not paid its fee.—Cleburne Times.

Mrs. Schmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. McSpadden, came down from Lone Wolf, Okla., last week, and started for the coast with her mother for benefit of her asthma.

LADIES—GENTLEMEN

We invite you to our store Saturday, we will serve coffee and cake all day.

International Drama Nears Climax

His father murdered by Mexican bandits, Jeff Meers (upper left) planned revenge. In Juarez, 1920, Meers shot a man whom he thought to be the bandit leader. It was the wrong man. He was sentenced to death before a firing squad, but through the efforts of his wife, (upper right) the sentence has been commuted to seven years in a Mexican prison. Now the State of Texas is dickering to trade Jose Carrasco, (inset) one of the band who killed Meers' father, for the young El Paso man. Carrasco was sentenced to life imprisonment at Huntsville. Meadow Defeats Brownfield H. S.

The first game of the county championship for the girls was played at Meadow Friday. Meadow won the game but another will be played at the local gym tonight. The local club is putting forth every effort to even the series.

Girls Quartet

The High school girls quartet are again working this year for the first place in Lubbock in the Music Teachers Association. The girls won last year and went to the 1st State. They are hoping to go right on to the state fair this year.

What Is A Kiss

Something rather dangerous. Something rather nice. Something rather wicked. Though it can't be called a vice. Somefolks think its naughty. And others think its wrong. All agree its jolly. Though it doesn't last so long.

A Kiss Is

Something a child receives free.

Something a young man steals. And an old man buys. A thing of use to no one, but prized by two.

That which you cannot give without taking and cannot take without giving.

Not enough for one. Too much for three. Just enough for two.

A kiss is three parts of speech—a transitive verb, an invisible noun, and a visible conjunction.

A kiss prints without ink, leaving no visible impression.

"When lips of lovers meet in bliss, The pleasing act is termed a kiss." Contraction of the mouth due to enlargement of the heart.

When A "Kiss Talks"

I am just two and two. I am warm. I am cold, and the numbers cannot be told. I am fault, I am often sold dear. Good for nothing when bought. A wonderful boon and a matter of course. And yielded to with pleasure when taken by force.

Lamesa Games

The B. H. S. girls and boys played the Lamesa Tornado Queens and the Tornadoes last Tuesday night. The Brownfield girls won with the score of 33 to 23. The Brownfield boys lost to Lamesa with the score of 23 to 19. Everybody remember the girls tournament, February 3rd and 4th.

Basket Ball Tournament

The Brownfield basket ball girls are sponsoring their second annual basket ball tournament at the gym this coming Friday and Saturday, February third and fourth.

There have been some thirty-four teams invited and among them are the following: Slaton, Ropes, Ralls, Lamesa and Meadow. At least twenty teams are expected and a large crowd is expected out to see these games.

Season tickets will be fifty cents for adults and thirty five for school students. See any of the basket ball girls and arrange for a ticket.

There will also be a cafeteria arranged in the school for those who care to buy their lunches.

The games will start Friday evening at four and last through the evening and Friday night. There will also be games Saturday morning, Saturday evening and Saturday night.

Suitable trophies will be awarded first and second places. Also for consolation.

Mrs. Dallas Has Recital

On Thursday and Friday nights last week, Mrs. Dallas presented a recital in the High School Auditorium.

Thursday night the program consisted of mostly piano and voice solos. Both Glee clubs sang, also the High School Quartet.

Friday night Mrs. Dallas presented Eileen Ellington with a teachers certificate. Miss Ellington gave several numbers along with some readings given by Lenore Brownfield. The two Glee Clubs sang, also.

Sphinx Club

The Sphinx club had a very interesting program but it was very odd. One consisting the program committee themselves:

Automobiles—Bill Savage.

Books—Roy Chambliss.

Horses—O. L. Tidwell.

After the program, we had a few minutes left and we discussed the program for next Tuesday which will be the original play writers.

Marvin Parker A Typical Senior

Sawyer Graham said in the last period English class room one evening that Brownfield school would have to go to having fire practice in order to get enthusiasm up—that school wouldn't turn out. Marvin Parker spoke up and said that we would have to have a pass to leave the room if they did have a fire practice.

FORRESTER P. T. A

The Forrester P. T. A. met Friday night, January 13th and the following program was very successfully given.

Song, Battle Hymn of the Republic—Audience.

Making Good in 1933—Mr. Thomason.

Vocal solo, Loves Old Sweet Song—Miss McClish.

Thrift, (It's origin, definition, etc.)—Mrs. A. L. Stephens.

Discussion "The Forgetting Habit"—Mrs. Walter Luker.

Benjamin Franklin and Thrift—Helen Rogers.

Note: This was sent in last week and by some accident or misfortune, never reached the printing office.

John L. Vaughn, postmaster, and J. P. Edgar, deputy U. S. Marshal, of Lubbock, were here on business Tuesday.

Monday is Tradesday.

Cohen—Good morning, Mr. Bloom, what makes you so sad?

Bloom—My brother is very sick.

Cohen—Oh, is he?

Bloom—No, Ikie.

In Honor Slaying

Because he was under indictment for criminal attack upon Miss Mary Doolittle, Jimmy McCoy, left, was shot to death by the girl's brother, Mines Doolittle, in San Antonio. Rush hour crowds saw the daylight shooting in downtown San Antonio. Doolittle gave himself up to police and confessed that he shot McCoy, a basketball star, to avenge the wrong allegedly done his little sister. He is pictured right.

WILLOW WELLS WORRIES

The sandstorms continue to come. The one Tuesday was only a baby to the one we had Thursday. It was sure a bad one. They have started in so early perhaps they won't last so late as they did last year.

The first news of importance is the new boarder in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Hart. The young gentleman arrived Wednesday night, Jan. 25. Mother and son are doing nicely. The father was out spreading the good news early Thursday morning. Don seems to like him so well, we are quite sure he will be a permanent resident of our community. We wish them all kinds of success with their visitor.

Cap Carter, W. L. Willingham and Ray Rouse attended court in Brownfield Thursday.

Mrs. Mary Belle Hayes accompanied her brother, Frank Cutrell, back to Hobbs Monday.

Mr. Thomason the commissioner, was over this way Wednesday seeing after the road business. J. R. Dozier, Frank Hayes, A. G. Bigham and Cap Carter were given jobs on this road. We surely need the road worked on too. Some places are almost impassable on account of sand, while the dumps are dangerous to travel over as there are so many holes in them.

The Willow Wells gossipers called in the home of Mrs. A. G. Bigham Thursday and gossiped to their hearts content. Mrs. R. C. Burleson, our commander-in-chief, took it on herself to bring refreshments which consisted of sandwiches, jello fruit salad and fruit cake. Those who enjoyed this fine large evening with Mrs. Bigham were: Mesdames S. P. King, Cap Carter, Dick Denton, R. C. Burleson, Bulah Adkins, J. W. O. Alldridge, Carl Bonham and Miss Simms. Those who failed to come can consider themselves gossiped about plenty.

Callers in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cap Carter Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Hart and son, Darrell, Mrs. Dick Denton and son, Jimmie, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Allen and two children and two mule buyers.

Sheriff J. S. Smith and deputy B. L. McPherson was in this community Sunday afternoon.

Bryan Cutrell and Frank Hayes went to Hobbs Saturday.

Sunday was T. L. Murrays day to preach at the school. I failed to learn whether he carried out his appointment or not.

Earnest McSwain has returned home after several months absence.

Mrs. Ben Bonham and daughter, Lolah were in Brownfield, Monday.

Mrs. West has been real sick this week with flu.

Clyde Lovelady of Loop is visiting Bay Willingham this week.

Miss Thelma Bonham is back home after spending a few days with her uncle, Vernon Bonham, fifteen miles east of Brownfield.

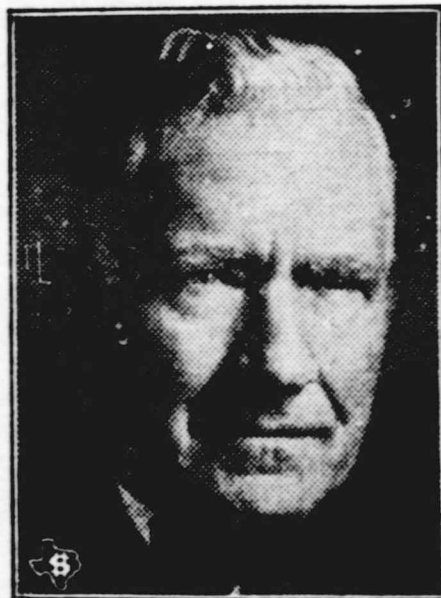

Say, all you news writers, listen to something of interest. Let's all get in behind Mr. Stricklin and get him to put on a contest between community writers to see which one can send

Facts And Figures On Population Of Texas

The following figures on the population of Texas, one of the least cosmopolitan of any of the states, have been compiled by W. R. Baker from government reports. It also shows the percentage of increase during the past 20 years, or from the census of 1910:

1930	Percentage of Increase
Whites	4,283,491 33.65
Negroes	854,964 23.89
Other races	68,626 41.6
Mexican	683,681 100.
Indians	1,001 42.59
Chinese	703 18.15
Japanese	519 52.64
Philippines	288 47.9
Hindo	49 235.
Korean	17 170.
Hawaiian	2 200.

SALES TAX THE BABY OF THE RICH

It looks like the Sales Tax is going to be forced on Texas. As one of the advocates points it out, is painless—but even a hijacker may consider his method of getting the coin, painless. The sales tax is unfair because it makes the man who is unable to pay to dig up just as much as the rich fellow on his purchases. It even makes those out of work pay taxes, unless they can exist without making purchases.

Another danger is, that this tax is so easy to force on the people and such an immense sum can be collected that there will be no attempt made to cut the cost of government.—Big Spring News.

Monday is Tradesday.

"How old is this little boy?" the railroad conductor asked. "He's just four," replied the mother.

Speaker Fight On

A. Johnson of Carrizo Springs Texas, prominent contender for speakership of the Texas house has had his position in the house challenged. Joe W. Caldwell, Jr. of Asherton, defeated by Johnson in the primary, declares that he will contest Johnson's right to the seat in the house.

Heads Senate

Senator Walter F. Woodul of Houston, one of Texas' leading attorneys and a member of the Texas senate for the past four years, has been elected president pro tempore of the senate.

WEST TEXAS AND COTTON

West Texas leads the list of cotton counties for 1933. Jones County grew 93,450 bales. Ellis County managed to get up to but 87,175 bales. This was the standing as of the date of the preparation of an article for the current number of West Texas Today. That magazine predicts that final ginning figures will put Jones County first, Lubbock County second and Ellis County third, followed in turn by Haskell and Hill.

The lower the price of cotton the larger margin of West Texas advantage, it would appear. Probably this is on account of sledding practice in West Texas, though it by no means appears that all West Texas cotton is sledded. A Taylor County man picked forty-one bales off thirty-eight acres. Sledding isn't the regular thing in cotton like that.

Incidentally the Taylor County man got $1,081.05 for his crop, which is figured to be as good as $1,591.85 in purchasing power as of 1929. But the average production of that year in his community was not over one-third of a bale to the acre. Figuring one-third of a bale to the acre on his thirty-eight acres, he would have to receive 17c a pound for his cotton to bring in as much cash as his cotton actually brings him this past season. That is to say the return from 17-cent cotton in 1929 on a 1929 yield would have bought approximately two-thirds as much goods as 5-cent and 6-cent cotton on 1932 yields will now buy. West Texas does not feel so bad about that.—Dallas News.

Housewife—When you sold me this jelly you said it was currant.

Dealer—Yes, it's currant; it says so right on the label.

Housewife—Well it may be CURRENT but it tastes to me more like a back number, and a very old one at that.

The writer thanks the good ladies of the Methodist church for a fine free feed Tuesday. And boy, what a feed!

Amateur Bandit

Give me $100 and sit down and kill you!

Here is a bank bandit who didn't get very far. He is J. C. Alexander, 21, a waiter, who turned bank robber at Henderson, Texas, where he handed the note below to a teller in the Citizens National Bank. Alexander got his $900.00 but was captured less than 15 minutes later, the money intact.

WOMAN LOST 10 LBS. IN A WEEK

Mrs. Betty Luedeke of Dayton writes: "I am using Kruschen to reduce weight—I lost 10 pounds in one week and cannot say too much to recommend it."

To lose fat SAFELY and HARMLESSLY—take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it is the safe way to lose unsightly fat and one bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle. Get it at any drugstore in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the safest way to lose fat—money back. But be sure and get Kruschen Salts—imitations are numerous and you must safeguard your health.

TUBERCULOSIS CAN AND IS BEING CURED

Strange as it may seem to persons without tuberculosis education, many of our foremost characters have had tuberculosis and recovered. In many instances tuberculosis has been given credit as being responsible for their attainment to the hall of fame. The lamented Dr. L. Trudeau said: "I would not exchange what tuberculosis has taught me for the vast wealth of the Indies." Dr. Trudeau, as you will recall, established the first tuberculosis sanatorium in America.

"I have had tuberculosis and am glad of it," wrote Dr. Thurman B. Rice in a recent issue of "The Journal of the Outdoor Life." Dr. Rice is professor of bacteriology and pathology in the Indian University School of Medicine, and is a writer of health topics. Dr. Rice said that tuberculosis had been a blessing to him because it gave him an opportunity to think and use his head; consequently, adversity was turned to advantage.

Andrew Jackson, former president of the United States, is listed among tuberculous notables. Also Harold Bell Wright; Napoleon Bonaparte; Washington Irving; Elizabeth Barret Browning; John Nance Garner (vice-president elect); Ralph Waldo Emerson and hundreds of others. Even the beloved immortal George Washington was said to have had the disease, however, this statement has been disputed.

If it were possible for you to ask these persons their opinion about tuberculosis they would probably inform you that it is a bad disease and surely no one wants it, but life is not over for those who unfortunately become a victim.

Tuberculosis is curable and preventable. Prevention is our only hope of its eradication and this can only be accomplished by all persons, both young and old, acquiring a reasonable knowledge of the disease.

Tuberculosis causing death may be attributed to three principal reasons: The patient is too far advanced with the disease when treatment is begun. Second: The patient's failure to continue rest treatments for a period of years. Third: Physical complications.

If your mind has been poisoned by some unpleasant experience with tuberculosis, be reasonable and analyze the cause. Was it the fault of tuberculosis; the doctor; the patient, or was it unavoidable physical complications? A solution may have some tendency to correct a misconception of tuberculosis.—Chaser

WHY THE BARBER'S POLE

Nearly every barber shop has a red and white striped pole outside its door. Why?

In ancient military times the functions of barber and surgeon were united in one person. The barber-surgeon was known by the pole in front of his tent. This pole was used for blood letting. The patient grasped the pole to steady himself. Usually these poles were smeared with blood and hence came the modern red and white barber pole.

C. L. Haggard, of Moran, Texas, has been up for the past week or two looking after his fine farm two miles southeast of the city on the Lamesa road.

MAN'S HEART STOPPED, STOMACH GAS CAUSE

W. L. Adams was bloated so with gas that his heart often missed beats after eating. Adierika rid him of all gas, and now he eats anything and feels fine.—E. G. Alexander Drug Co. Inc., Meadow Drug Store.

R. W. Glover called in this week to have the paper transferred to Lorraine. He himself, however, will be here for several weeks, but said the folks would be looking for the Herald.

Sterling C. Evans, district county agent leader, came down from Lubbock Tuesday to talk with members of the commissioners court. He left late in the afternoon for Tahoka.

RULES:

- Names must be not more than 12 letters; slogans not more than 12 words. Submit either or both on single sheet; plain white paper; one side only; but preferably on official contest information-and-entry blank, free at Conoco dealers and stations. Elaborate presentations receive no extra credit.
- Contest closes midnight February 23, 1933. Entries must be postmarked before that date and hour.
- Continental employees, members of their families and others connected directly or indirectly cannot compete.
- Should more than one person submit exactly the same name or slogan, each will receive full amount of any prize such entry may win. All entries become Continental Oil Co. property, and none will be returned.
- The Company reserves prior rights to phrases and slogans of its own creation, already in prepared advertising. Also it reserves the names "Continental" or "Conoco" gasoline, "Conogas", and "101" gasoline. Whether or not the winning contest name is adopted, prize money will be paid; but the Company reserves the right to use a name of its own creation if decided more suitable and more protectable under trademark laws.
- No purchase is required of contestants. Continental Oil Co. executives will be the judges and their decisions final. Winners will be announced over radio, and prize money paid as soon as possible after contest closes. Address All Entries to "CONTEST OFFICIAL" Continental Oil Company Ponca City, Okla.

You'll say:

"Whoa, Engine! what's got into you?"

Here's gas to excite motors. It makes them quick on the trigger . . . fast on the move. Choking is hardly required for a quick, snappy start and a take-off like a quail on the wing.

Even old motors . . . wheezy, snorting, complaining motors . . . cut capers you just can't believe. If you doubt it, just try it. It's like rich, racing blood injected into old veins.

This gasoline is so new . . . so "different" . . . so quick, fast, powerful, and economical, it's hard to give it a name. Perhaps YOU can. When you FEEL your motor's response, it may come to you like a flash.

Ask at any Conoco station for the new bronze-colored, high-test gasoline—and an entry blank. Help name it and describe it. You may win a part of $10,000.00. You are SURE to win a grand, new thrill, and that is worth a heap. Make the test TODAY.
