Reconstruction Must Start Right Away

Des Moines, Iowa.—For 3 years America has been the scene of a great war, according to Elmer T. Peterson, editor of Better Homes and Gardens.

"The vandal forces of economic depression have swept through town and country," said Mr. Peterson, "leaving wreck and ruin in their wake. Nearly a million families lack anything but the most pitiful shelters. Factories, office buildings, and houses have fallen prey to the devastations of rot, fire, rust, disrepair and depreciation.

"Nearly a million families lack anything but the most pitiful shelters. Factories, office buildings, houses have fallen prey to the devastation of rot, fire, rust, disrepair and depreciation.

"Reconstruction is imperative. Reconstruction is not merely another word for modernization. It has more meaning than modernization; it concerns an immediate, vital and critical need, not merely redecoration or alteration.

Mr. Peterson emphasized the fact that to provide the basic needs for America's millions it is immediately necessary that hundreds of thousands of houses—now in dangerous decay—be made sanitary and livable. In every great city the current danger from plague-carrying rats is a real emergency.

"Fire sweeps over the country in increasing fury as buildings with their defenses weakened, crumble.

"An alarming feature is the tendency on the part of most people to let things go. Few seem willing to take any definite steps, particularly if money is involved. From overconfidence we have gone to the extreme of apathy.

"It is the responsibility of every individual to awaken the public to the perils of the present. Costs are low; men need jobs. The work must be done and the idea must be 'sold.'"

Cowboy Reunion at Stamford July 3-4-5

Stamford, Texas.—Memories of stirring days on the cattle ranges of the old west will be revived when pioneer ranch workers who saw service with lariat and saddle prior to 1898 hold their annual round-up here during the 4th annual Texas Cowboy Reunion July 3-4-5.

More than 500 of these old time cow hands registered for the meeting here last year and were guests of the Reunion management. Total attendance at the 1932 session was estimated at 30,000.

The cowboy rodeo, featuring performers actually employed on the ranches rather than professional rodeo performers, will be the central figure of the program of entertainment during the cowboy reunion. An old fiddlers' contest will be held on one day of the reunion and square dances will be held each night for the entertainment of cowboys and visitors of all ages.

The most typical active cowboy of over 55 years of age and the most typical cowboy under 55 will be selected during the reunion and a prize awarded to each. John Selmon of Stamford received the honor last year for the youngest cowhand and Jake Raines of Spur was selected as the most typical among the active cowboys over 55.

As in past years, a number of the ranch outfits are expected to bring their own chuck wagons to Stamford for the reunion and camp at the grounds during the three day celebration.

The Tokio school boys and girls, who are graduating this year, came in last week and had the Herald print their announcements and cards. So, thanks to the four fine young men and one fine young lady for patronizing the home printer.

Elder M. O. Daley made a trip to Post Saturday, where he met the noon train and brought Chas. R. Nichol here for the revival.

About the World's Fair Educational Tour

Mr. C. A. Baldwin and Rev. W. H. Wallace, the later pastor of the Lamesa Methodist church, and the former in the dry goods business, also Otis Carter, Seagraves publisher, were here this week in the interest of a World's Fair Educational Tour. Five merchants of this city were secured to sponsor the tour in this county, each representing a different line of business, Dry Goods, Grocery, Drug, Hardware and Service station.

You will find a full detailed explanation of rules and regulations governing this contest in an ad in this paper, and names of merchants that are sponsoring the contest. We advise that you read the ad carefully, and should you or your friends decide to enter the contest for the trip, you will understand the conditions, and from whom you are to get your tickets. One winner will be allowed from this community, and the winner will then be allowed to take one companion, and all expenses, traveling and hotel, will be paid for both winner and companion.

Rev. Mr. Wallace said that he would likely run two excursions to the World's Fair this Summer, one to be at the same time the winners in the different counties in this section go, the time to be announced later. He will use the Texas-Pacific and the Missouri-Pacific lines. He informed us that he had held pastorates in both Houston and Dallas, and was well acquainted in many sections of the state.

Simmons Cowboy Band Gives Concert

The Cowboy Band of Simmons University left Abilene Monday morning for a tour of West Texas and New Mexico towns which brought them to Brownfield on the evening of May 11. Their appearance here was at the high school auditorium, under P. T. A. auspices.

A varied repertoire of classic numbers, popular tunes, and novelties was carried by these famous entertainers for their West Texas tour. They were joined by John Regan, English-Australian cowboy at the beginning of the trip. Regan has been in England during the last year, playing with circuses and in vaudeville.

Regan's act, which finished up the evening's show, consisted of a variation of whip cracking and fancy roping tricks.

Prof. D. O. Wiley, conductor of the band, lead the concert. He and the band were accompanied on the trip by G. B. Sanderfer, band manager.

The cowboys returned recently from a South Texas tour, on which they played at the Battle of Roses in San Antonio. Last fall they played in the Chicago stadium, he Boston Garden, and the Madison Square Garden in New York City.

During the past seven years this band has become to be known as "the best known university band in the world." They have traveled and played in half the states in the union, and in European countries.

New Frigidaire Uses Very Little Current

When prosperity was at its peak everybody and everything encountered seemed to point to new and fascinating ways of spending money. Now that times are different, and money scarce, the most popular subject in general conversation is ways and means of saving money.

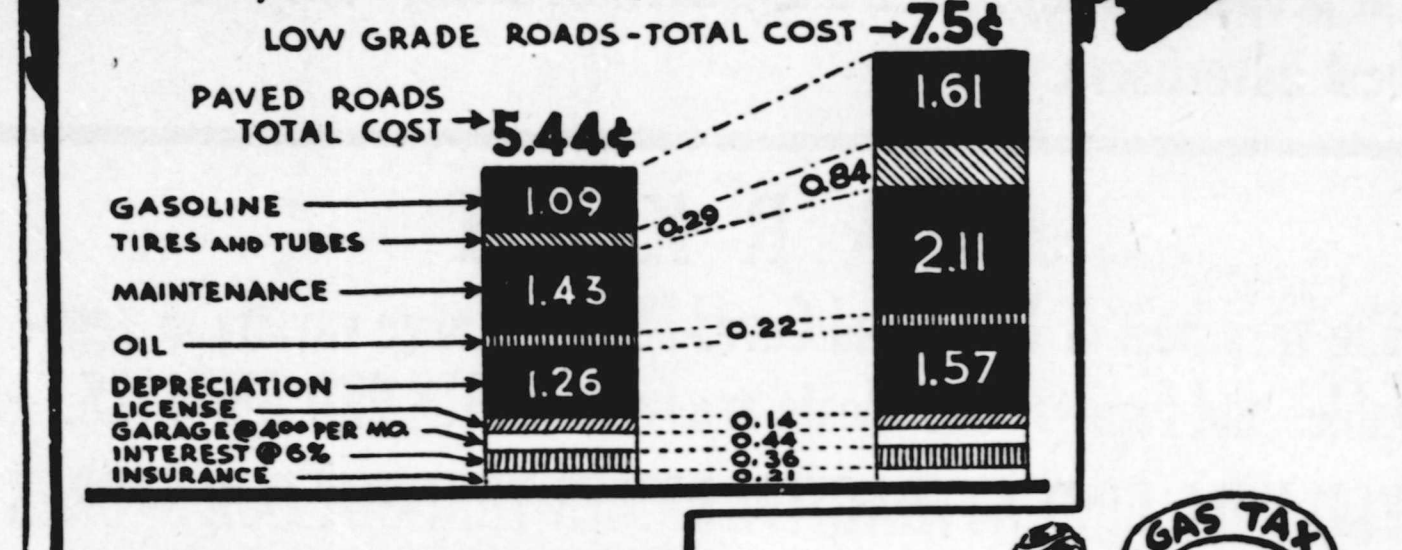

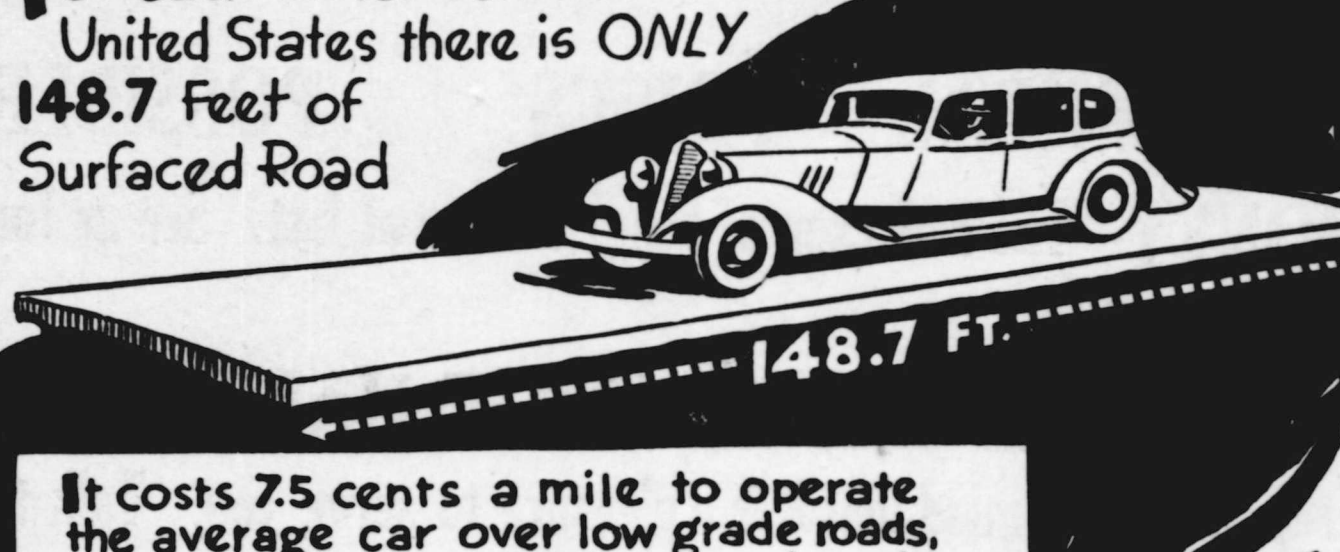

That's why the recent introduction of a household electric refrigerator that uses no more current than an electric light bulb, has proven such a sensation, according to Claude Hudgens, of the firm of Hudgens & Knight of this city.

"When people found that this amazing new model really could be bought for $96, plus freight," he said, "interest doubled. The public realized that it is good looking and dependable and that it sets a new and impressive standard of economy. Housewives and heads of families who will do a little figuring on present refrigerator costs and the spoilage and wastage because of inefficient refrigeration will find that this new Frigidaire will enable them to effect household economies previously unheard of."

Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Graves have returned from Arkansas, where they visited the doctor's father, who has been quite ill.

Thousand Lions Are Expected at Lubbock

Lubbock, May 15.—With a steady flood of reservations coming in daily from all parts of Texas, attendance estimate for the annual convention of Lions Clubs of Texas, which is to be held here May 21-22-23, is placed well over the one thousand mark. State officials expect the convention here to set a new attendance record.

With 246 clubs in Texas, a total Lion membership of 7,000, almost guarantees over 1,000 delegates to the state convention here, Ben Conroy, president of the Lubbock club, said today.

Chas. H. Hatton, Wichita, Kans., president of Lions International; Julian Hyer, Fort Worth, immediate past president, and other prominent Lions of the five countries affiliated with Lions International, the United States, Canada, China, Cuba, Mexico, will be here for the convention.

Under the direction of C. B. "Bronnie" Akers, chairman of the entertainment committee, an array of local functions including a big chuck wagon barbecue, banquets, breakfasts, dances, golf, and other entertainment has been arranged. A post convention trip to the famous Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico, has been planned.

Reports and discussion of underprivileged child work for the post year and discussion of a program for next year will be prominent in the convention business session. Election of officers and selection of the next meeting place comes the last day of the convention.

District W. M. S. Met Here Last Thursday

The 15th annual session of the Lubbock district, Woman's Missionary Society was held here Thursday of last week, with the ladies of this city acting hostesses to the delegates. The meeting continued through the day from nine o'clock forenoon till late afternoon. Lunch was served at the church building at noon by the local ladies.

The morning session was very interesting, according to reports. Prayer was offered by Rev. Ed Tharp; devotional by Mrs. W. K. Crawley, Lamesa; welcome address by Mrs. G. S. Webber; response, Mrs. C. E. Fike, Slaton; special music, Tahoka; zone reports; "Education and promotion"; Wolfarth; "Enlisting our Young Women," Mrs. C. A. Bickley; "Christian Social Relations," Rev. W. H. Wallace, Lamesa; "Worship," Rev. C. A. Bickley.

The afternoon program was as follows: Call to Worship, Brownfield; Memorial Service, Mrs. J. F. Potts; Solo, Mrs. O. B. Trinkle; A World of Friendly Children, Mrs. R. A. Metcalfe; Special Music, Levelland; demonstration by a group of girls, Northwest Texas Girls' Camp, directed by Mrs. T. C. Delaney; reports on the annual conference, Mrs. J. Frank Potts and others; business meeting; talk, Mrs. Pearson; consecration service, Mrs. J. O. Haymes.

WTCC Closes Session—Goes to San Angelo

Big Spring, May 13.—Walter D. Cline of Wichita Falls was elected president, and San Angelo was chosen for the 1934 convention today as the West Texas Chamber of Commerce concluded a three day meeting here.

The chamber went on record as opposing abolishment of state institutions of higher learning in West Texas, urging the legislature to confine allotment for activities of the state government supported by specific tax levies to revenues received in favor of a plan to make the Texas Centennial in 1936 an all-state and all-year celebration.

Other officers chosen were, Spencer Wells, Lubbock, first Vice-President; Ray Nichols, Vernon publisher, second vice-president; F. E. Morrow treasurer and D. A. Bandede re-elected manager.

Hamilton won the Houston Harte trophy for beautification in the first year of the chamber's five year plan, and Wilbur C. Hawk of Amarillo, retiring president, was elected the outstanding citizen of west Texas the past year.

We might add that R. M. Kendrick of Brownfield was elected one of the several score directors of the organization.

We learned Tuesday that Marlin Hayhurst had again been offered his place as coach here by the trustees and had accepted.

Telephone Co. After New Business Now

Beginning May 1st and continuing through the month the Southwestern Associated Telephone Company will launch a drive for new business. The management feels that the time is particularly opportune, in that business generally is responding to the "New Deal".

Industry and other classes of business seem to have caught the spirit and are becoming much more active. Prices of farm commodities are on an upward. Unemployment is increasingly lessened each month as a result, thus adding more cheer to the immediate future outlook. Also, for the first time since the price break in 1929 the graphs of business charts are piercing the lines of similar charts of "a year ago". This can only be interpreted in the light that the economic situation is improving and is now moving definitely in an upward trend.

This movement can be accelerated if everybody will help. Making that needed purchase now or setting a faster pace in the interest of enlarging the business that in now being done is responding to the president's appeal for assistance in again restoring this nation to a prosperous state.

In view of this the telephone company is encouraged to keep in step with the progressive forces of our nation and also with those of this great Southwest territory. Effort to increase subscribers will not only work to the advantage of the telephone company but also to those who are now the company's customers. The telephone company also believes that activity in this respect is a timely contribution to the nation-wide campaign now being waged to throw off the cloak of this most disastrous depression.

O. M. Herring is Again Put in Seminole Jail

Sheriff Frank Kuykendall returned Monday from Santo, Texas, having in custody O. M. Herring, who about three months ago was convicted in Terry County district court on a charge in connection with the robbery of the First State Bank of Seagraves.

When arraigned at this trial he first pleaded not guilty, later changed to a plea of guilty, and was given a fourteen year sentence. A few days later he was carried to Huntsville to begin his term. He was there less than ninety days when he was seen at Seagraves again. No one in this section knew of a ninety day parole that had been granted Herring.

We are informed that when District Attorney Nelson learned of Herring's freedom he immediately demanded his arrest on one of three other indictments returned against him at a meeting of the last grand jury.

We are informed that when Herring was arrested he was at the home of his parents in Santo, also that Herring was making preparations to open a law office at Stephenville, presumably under the impression that he was a free man.

In connection with this case, Elmer Slaughter was also given a ten year sentence, and is supposed to be serving his time, however he may be out, so far as citizens in this section know. His mother was here the past week with a petition that he be given a pardon. We are told that a few signatures were secured here.—Seminole Sentinel.

Old Forrest Lumber Shed Being Dismantled

The old Forrest Lumber Co. sheds are being torn down by workmen this week, and the Herald learned that Mr. Forrest had sold them to a gentleman by the name of Browning, who lives at the little village of Shacktown between here and Lamesa. They will likely complete the job by Saturday.

We are informed that Mr. Browning owns the gin at Shacktown, and will use this lumber to construct a garage, machine shops and some cotton storage sheds for the gin. The sheds have not been used since the Forrest Lumber Co. quit business here about four or five years ago.

Ernest Torrence, a favorite actor with many a few years ago, especially in the characterization parts he had in moves like North of 36, Covered Wagon, etc., is no more. He died at his home in New York early this week. It is said that he once had a part in grand opera.

Brownfield Sells Nice Herd of His Heifers

The following item was taken from the livestock section of the Sunday edition of the Star-Telegram:

Ray Brownfield of Brownfield has sold 300 well-bred one and two-year-old heifers to Cassidy-Southwestern Commission Company of Fort Worth for shipment to Joe Graham of Duncan, Okla. The Brownfield herd of Herefords is regarded as one of the best in a section of West Texas that boasts of many good herds. Certain sections of the Brownfield ranch are very sandy but water can be obtained a few feet beneath the surface.

We might also add that the Hearst Syndicate here that has fed out 6,000 head of steers, shipped some 25 cars of their best finished stuff out last week. We understand that some went to California, some to Kansas City and others to Fort Worth.

Just how they came out on the feeding operation here after paying the United States government some $14.50 a head duty on these Mexico cattle, we have not been able to learn. We hope however, that they made good on them, as it means much to this section to get a home market for our corn and other grain from big feeders.

Cantor Picture Biggest Thing He's Done

Promised by Samuel Goldwin as the biggest as well as the funniest picture to come out of Hollywood this season, "The Kid from Spain" comes to the Rialto Sunday.

It is the annual screen song and dance comedy of Eddie Cantor, succeeding his "Palmy Days" of last season and "Whoopee", of the year before. Eddie makes one picture a year, saving his energy, his voice and his laughs for a single big effort.

Story About Bulls.

"The Kid from Spain" is the story of the button-eyed lad, who, getting kicked out of school with his roommate for suspicious goings-on in a girls' dormitory, gets involved in a bank robbery and escapes to Mexico disguised as Don Sebastian II, the famous bull fighter. He accepts the acclaim of a great fete in his honor, trying desperately to maintain his masquerade until the minute he is forced into the arena to fight the four bulls in the thrilling climax of the picture.

Goldwin went to great pains to make the arena and its atmosphere authentic. Bulls were brought from Mexico and hundreds of experts of one kind and another put it into op-

Special Notice to the Convention Baptists

Rev. J. B. Vinson is in a condition of health that is to be regretted, and since he has been a faithful preacher in this association for many years, there is no one that deserves your support more than he among the Association Baptists. He has been very faithful, but his health is gone, and his strength is waning, and age pressing him. Will you throw him down? Jesus said in the 25th chapter of Matthew, "Inasmuch as you did it unto the least of my brethren, you did it unto me." He would have had support in this condition if those who had charge of the Old Minister's Relief Funds had not used it for other purposes. But it is not your fault. They will be responsible for the funds. But this association owes J. B. Vinson and his good old faithful wife, support in their present condition.

Yours and his friend,
J. A. Gibson.

Large Crowd Hears Holy Land Lecture

One of the largest crowds that has been the church of Christ auditorium for a long time, were on hand Sunday afternoon to hear Chas. R. Nichol, of Clifton, Texas, in one of his series of lectures on the Holy Land, or Palestine and surrounding territory. He spent several months in this section of Asia, and several in Europe a few years ago in order to better familiarize himself with Bible places and incidents. Most of times Sunday was taken up with places and scenes outside the walls of Jerusalem, Samaria and Galilee.

As little advertised as it was, and as great crowd as was on hand, it was decided this week to secure a larger auditorium if it can be arranged for. If not, more seats will be secured at the church auditorium. The lecture this coming Sunday afternoon at 3:30, will be taken up almost exclusively with the inside walls of the city of Jerusalem, and places of historical interest.

He is a fluent speaker, good at "wise cracking", and will not only teach you many things you have wished to know first hand, but you will be on your toes with interest from the jump go. Not only the speaker, but the entire church of Christ bids you a hearty welcome Sunday afternoon, and all other services you can possibly attend. Bro. Nichol is well known all over the south, and has been heard by many people in Brownfield and Terry county at other places either in revivals or debate.

The preaching services both day and night are increasing rapidly. Tuesday morning the auditorium was well filled, and the night services are especially well attended. Come and let this brilliant man go over the scriptures with you.

Later: The school trustees have kindly consented for the lecture to be held in the high school auditorium.

Wingerd Gets Contract on Well House

Owing to the fact that the new city well is in the fire area, a fire proof structure had to be built over it, and the city council let the contract at their last meeting to Roy Wingerd, local contractor, who was lowest bidder, for slightly under $300.

The contract calls for a house 10x11 feet inside measurement, with 9 inch walls, and constructed of face brick. Work was started on the structure Tuesday, and is to be completed as soon as possible.

Hoover Dam wasn't Boulder nuff to suit the present administration, so they renamed the damsite.

While there is not a great deal of time to spare in order to make a cotton crop of any size after rain, there is abundant time for corn and feed crops. However, we seldom miss a rain around the 20th of May or soon thereafter.

Al Smith refuses the mayorship of the nation's largest city, and most anyone knows that whatever he may wish in New York city or state, is his for the asking. Yet we have heard people who did not have much love for Al say that he was a chronic office seeker. Many of us are prone to judge others by our own feeling in the matter.

A Houston boy tried recently to imitate the great apeman, Tarzan, and now the last prayer has been said at his grave, and his parents are in mourning. It takes a while of a lot of practice to even approach what that Tarzan person appears to do in trees with the aid of a grapevine—or something. Which all reminds us of the story we heard about a small lad here a few years ago, when he asked his dad what he reckoned would happen if Buck Jones, Bill Hart and Tom Mix should all get into a fight?

To say the least, Henry Ford is honest with himself and his country. He did all in his power to re-elect Mr. Hoover, which was his privilege, of course, being, as intimated in his pre-election utterances, a bit afraid of Gov. Roosevelt. He believed the New York governor was a bit too radical for these times. Now, Mr. Ford is coming out in a paid ad in which he has nothing but praise for our chief executive, and announces him intention to back up President Roosevelt with all his resources. His statement is printed in this issue of the Herald. Read it and think. Mr. Ford leaves much food for thought in his ad.

Editor Stricklin of the Brownfield Herald, carries as his slogan at the top of his paper, "The Truth About Terry is Good Enough." That is a mighty fine slogan, Bro. Stricklin, and now we can understand why you never say anything about the road conditions in Terry county, particularly that stretch that lies between Brownfield and Seagraves. We traveled it last Sunday afternoon for the first time—and say, what a road! Sorry we did not have time enough to stop in and pay a call on the Brownfield newspaper man. We have been reading his newspaper, recognized as one of the best weekly newspapers in West Texas, for the past seventeen years, and have never yet had the pleasure of meeting our fraternal member of the fourth estate down in "good old Terry." You have a great country around Brownfield, Bro. Stricklin, and we cannot blame you for being proud of your home. Another thing that we noticed near Brownfield was the large collection of horse-drawn vehicles at a country church. In some sections of the country—and we regret to admit that it prevails to a certain degree here—the people who once drove to church are too proud (or something) to attend church behind Old Dobbin nowadays. But the attitude and spirit of the Terryites impressed us. Depression has driven their automobiles to the storage rooms, but they apparently still have an abiding faith in God and make it part of their religion to attend worship services.—State Line (Farwell) Tribune.

We don't know how in the world we happened to miss the above editorial that appeared in the Tribune two or three weeks ago. And especially do we closely peruse the column of Editor Graham which he is pleased to call "Graham Crackers." Our guess is that this special copy miscarried enroute. Anyway, we are very sorry that Bro. Graham slipped through our town without even a nod in our direction. We have no defense to make of the Seagraves road except to say that at present the State Highway Department has the road under charge, and if the war between that commission and governor Ferguson ever ceases, the road will likely be well graded and hard surfaced, as it will be part of the Niagara Falls to El Paso National Highway, and about all the section of that road in this state that is not hard surfaced is through Terry and a corner of Hockley county.

JUST A MATTER OF WISDOM

The more civilized we become the more pride we take in our ability to take care of ourselves. We have a remedy for practically every ill that afflicts mankind.

If we have a cold we go to the drug store and get some tablets made by some other man. If we are sick we send for the doctor. We depend not upon ourselves, but upon others.

We eat and act to please our tastes and desires, not in accordance with the laws of nature.

Animals, fishes, birds, insects, everything that walks, swims, flies or crawls, pursues exactly the opposite course. They have no learned professors, or doctors, or medical colleges, or laboratories to bring them back to health when sickness overtakes them. They must depend entirely upon their own resources or perish.

Of what we term the lower order, yet they have an intelligence of their own which would seem to be even superior to our human methods of procedure.

The cat that which is GOOD for their physical being—avoid that which is injurious. Each is his own doctor, but God is his preceptor.

This is not an intellectual high brow lecture. It is just a little homely statement, but well worth a few moments of your consideration.

Many of the Brownfield people are working on their yards since the cheap summer water rate was announced. Despite the fact that we have a poor start on account of the unusually dry spring, we hope to see many pretty yards by mid-summer and until frost.

Elder Cooper, minister of the La-mesa church of Christ, was over the past Sunday afternoon to hear the Nichol lecture on the Holy land.

Mrs. Roosevelt, we understand, has reduced the staff of servants and employees at the white house to the minimum, and has greatly curtailed the expenses of the presidential table—all in the interest of economy. It is quite refreshing.

As a general thing the wives of high public officials are not keen on keeping down expenses that are paid by the government. Instead, they have been more inclined to run to the extreme of lavish expenditures. It will be interesting to watch the future career of this sensible woman who has become first lady of America.

OLD CONFEDERATE FLAG PRESENTED TO MUSEUM

The famous Confederate battle flag of the first Virginia regiment, made by the women of Richmond from their silk dresses and which led to the noted command from Bull Run to Gettysburg, came to the Confederate museum and now rests with other southern trophies. The museum is in the old White House of the Confederacy.

The blood-stained and battle-torn banner saw its last service in Pickett's charge at Gettysburg, when the southern troops swept up the slopes of Cemetery hill to virtual annihilation. Preserved by the late Charles T. Loehr, historian and custodian of the First Virginia, the flag was presented to the museum by his children, William A. Loehr, Charles E. Loehr, Mrs. Oscar L. Kent, and Mrs. Bernard L. Dickinson.

Colonel Loehr, as historian, described the fate of the flag on the day of Pickett's charge in these words:

"The color guard is dead and the color sergeant has lost his arm; our colonel lies dying in the field—the regiment lost 120 men out of about 160 that went into the charge."

HOME RENOVIZING SWEEPS COUNTRY

Chicago, Ill., May.—Home renovizing campaigns to employ thousands are under way in 150 cities. Countless home owners are getting needed repairs or additions to their residences at low cost while providing jobs.

The most pretentious campaign is being conducted in Philadelphia where it is estimated that $15,000,000 will be spent. In St. Paul the total is expected to be $2,000,000. In Washington, a 70-year-old house has been moved downtown to be remodeled into a modern residence. A public competition will provide the design.

Baltimore, Indianapolis, Kansas City, Dallas, Wilmington, and Cincinnati are among the larger cities with campaigns. In Nebraska, the campaign has been made state-wide with the backing of the American Legion.

There's another objection to the bread line. It's tiresome on the feet.

"STATE PRESS" TALKS ABOUT EDIBLES AND DRESSIBLES (State Press in Dallas News)

There never was before now so much 'eat in Texas as there is today. In all the rural communities there is an indigeneous joke to the effect that by New Year's Day there will be in those communities the fattest and the nudest people the world has ever seen. The point is, if any, that while the people have plenty of foodstuffs stored away they will have nothing to wear by midwinter. An exaggeration. Any Texas town will show on a good shopping day scores or hundreds of rural women well dressed and well set up. It has become so, indeed, that the stranger in town can't distinguish the farm women from the town women. It didn't used to be so. Advertising, illustrated modes, fashion articles in the newspapers go to the farm homes as well as the town homes. The people in all our States dress very much alike, barring climatic differences, and the mode of the metropolis becomes the mode of the country as soon as the prints and pictures reveal it. The newspapers, more than any other instrument, have made all States one State in so far as manners, customs and modes of thought are concerned. The press of America has been the preservation of American unity and sentiment, also the great American school in which are taught history and contemporary thought. It is American journalism which has lead American ideology from the arid classicism inherited from the old world and vivified it into a living force.

SIXTY DISASTERS IN 1932 ADD TO NATION'S DISTRESS

Red Cross Spends $2,760,000 To Help Victims of Catastrophes.

In a year of great misfortune caused by economic depression, in which the American Red Cross assumed heavy burdens of relief for the unemployed, the organization also responded to emergency needs in 60 disasters in the United States and its insular possessions.

During the twelve months ending June 30, 1932, the Red Cross gave aid to 75,000 families totalling 338,000 individuals, with expenditures of $2,760,785. These people were in distress because of drought, flood, forest fire, tornado, snowstorm, mine explosion, or other similar great disasters.

Sunshine All Day

At Aix-les-Bains there is to be seen a strange-looking building which has somewhat the appearance of a rather substantially constructed pagoda with an airplane perched upon its top. It is a scheme for the benefit of invalids who visit the place for its health-restoring qualities. The upper part of the building revolves in order that the persons in it may secure the greatest possible amount of sunshine. If the sun shines, the invalids occupying the rooms are enabled to get the benefit of its rays for the entire day.

Flares Keep Off Poachers

At the fish hatcheries of the West "mother" fish, kept in the rearing ponds are caught and stripped of their eggs during spawning season. The eggs, millions of them, are placed in glass jars, about 8,000 to the quart, and water at an even temperature runs through these constantly for from 90 to 120 days. The infant fish are returned to the pools and carefully reared to planting size. The pools are watched night and day, often by "bomb" or flare lights, to guard against poachers and to attract insects.

OHIO GOVERNOR NOW FAVORS A SALES TAX

Colubus, Ohio—Determining that there is no better way of providing funds for unemployment relief and for financially embarrassed schools, Governor George White has announced his support of a 2 per cent general sales tax.

Ohio retail merchants have opposed the general sales tax, but are now devoting their energies to making the expected tax workable and least troublesome.

Of the $50,000,000 a year expected to be derived from the tax, a large part will be used for relief, according to present plans.

Several states now have general sales tax laws: Mississippi, New York, Indiana, North Dakota, Illinois, Utah and Arizona. Action is pending in several other states.

The good old boom days were not so good. They gave us expensive habits, which we find it embarrassing to shake off.

Henry Ford
Dearborn, Mich.

May 9, 1933

A great thing has occurred amongst us. We have made a complete turn-around, and at last America's face is toward the future.

Three years—1929 to 1932—we Americans looked backward. All our old financial and political machinery was geared to pull us out of the depression by the same door through which we entered. We thought it simply a case of going back the way we came. It failed. We now realize that the way out is forward—through it.

Thanks for that belongs to President Roosevelt. Inauguration Day he turned the Ship of State around. Having observed the failure of sincere efforts to haul us back the way we came, he designed a new method—new political and financial machinery—to pull us out the way we are going—forward. He is clearing international obstacles out of the way; he does not stand in awe of tariffs. The people begin to feel that he does not take advice from the "interests"; that he has courage and loyalty to work for one supreme interest only—the welfare of the American people. That is a big achievement for two months in office.

And now we all look to what is coming; we grow less and less concerned with what is behind. We are looking for a hand-hold on the haul rope. Every man wants to do what he can, and all he can.

The best thing I can do for the Country is to create industry by building good motor cars. If I knew anything better to do, I would do it. Industry must be my contribution. Motor cars must face ahead to the future, like everything else. They are so much a part of the Nation's daily life that if they lag behind they hold the Country back.

Man-made Land, Wrested From Bottom Of Lake Michigan, Turned Into Garden Paradise For Chicago's World's Fair

CHICAGO, April 10.—Transformation of nearly four hundred acres of barren, sandy, man-made land—wrested from the bottom of Lake Michigan—into a garden spot of velvety lawns, hundreds of trees, shrubbery and brilliant flower-beds!

Such was the task confronting landscape engineers and horticulturists at Chicago's 1933 World's Fair—A Century of Progress, a few short weeks ago—a task which will see completion before the gates swing open to the millions on June 1.

Although the visitor will be thrilled by the myriad of exhibits and the startling new types of buildings, he will have little conception of the intricate problems solved by a small army of technicians to provide their restful, parklike setting. All the resources of modern scientific horticulture have been brought into play in order that the Exposition picture may be a composite scene of beauty.

One of the wonders being worked by the band of landscape magicians is the production of broad stretches of luxuriant green lawns from soil never before planted with seed of any kind—all within three weeks.

A made-to-order forest of hundreds of trees has sprung into existence on the Exposition grounds. During the winter days and nights, trucks, trailers and trains carried their tons of leafless skeletons through the country-side.

Fifty-Foot Trees

Fifty-foot elms from the forest to the north, hundreds of oaks, larches and ash trees formed a part of the procession to Chicago.

The finest products of American nurseries and country-side have been gathered by the experts who planned the modernistic, new type of World's Fair.

The Fair site in itself presented many brain-twisters to the men selected to perform this modern miracle. All of the acreage is newly made, having been pumped from the bottom of Lake Michigan by sand-suckers and by filling behind wooden and stone levees. There was no soil suitable for growing plants. All was water.

It became necessary to build thousands of yards of levees, dikes and dykes.

Elephants were loaned by a circus to a Century of Progress officials to aid in moving huge trees for the beautification of Chicago's Exposition grounds.

When the sightseer strolls leisurely through the sunken gardens or rests beneath the shade of a fifty-year-old tree, he will be interested to know that before all this came into being, a system of drainage pipe and irrigation equipment had to be installed that might be in continuous bloom throughout the summer and fall.

After the noted landscape architect, Alfred H. Geffert, Jr., had studied the miniature models of the buildings and grounds, the next step was to place or "spot" toy-like trees at the locations where they would best bring out the architectural beauty of the buildings without detracting from their effectiveness.

The four and a half miles of green hedges and other trees were thus planned in model form before Herbert Schmitt, head of the Landscape division of the Exposition, started actual operations.

Everything has been carried on by schedule—nurseries in various sections of the Nation were given a quota of deliveries to be made on each day of the month. Planting speeded along at the grounds in a machine-like, precise order.

Use Circus Elephants

The animal kingdom was even called in to help along the building of this modern Arabian Nights spectacle. A circus was in town several months ago, when the active press-agent learned that some difficulty was being encountered in the handling of some of the larger trees.

"We'll send over the elephants if you need them," he informed Fair officials over the telephone. "It takes an elephant to do the kind of a job you fellows are up against. And besides, the circus will get some publicity out of it."

The offer was accepted. A herd of elephants was brought to the grounds and soon the animals were using their immense bodies to perform the tasks that would require many men.

The growing of grass in an almost incredible space of time in itself deserves particular mention, in telling the story of glorified gardening.

All during last summer, World's Fair horticulturists experimented on a plot of land similar in soil content to that found on the grounds. It was finally agreed that a good velvet-like lawn could be grown in the space of three weeks.

This feat is accomplished by mixing Pacey's rye grass, Kentucky blue grass, Dutch white clover, and fancy red top seed. In order to retain the moisture necessary for rapid and continuous growth, a large quantity of German peat moss was imported and placed as a base. The feet is startling. Grass grows so luxuriantly that a planting on May 1 means that by June 1 the Exposition's thirty acres of lawn will have to be mowed once at least.

Grass in Three Weeks

The speed with which a lawn can be established from seed in three weeks is in startling contrast to the old-fashioned sodding methods used to create the stretches of greensward at the World's Columbian Exposition of 1893.

An "Avenue of Color" one thousand feet long will be an attractive feature of the outdoor display. This striking lane will be bordered by three types of brilliant gladiolas, early season, midseason and late, to insure a continuous array of blooms throughout the entire Exposition period. This lane will extend south from the Hall of Science.

On Northerly Island, across the sparkling lagoon from the Fair proper, are thirty or more flower gardens, forming one of the exhibits surrounding the beautiful Horticultural Building. One of the larger gardens will consist of more than 5,000 rose-bushes, the exhibit of an Iowa nursery. Another large garden will be the modern Italian type, while Peony, Gladiola and Dahlia societies will each have their own colorful gardens.

Red Goose—The Ojibwa

An Indian Story for Boys and Girls By Carlyle Emery

Episode No. 27

Episode No. 28

Returning by boat from Saint Louis, Captain Roberts and his soldiers tie up to a tree on the river bank for the night. . . When they are attacked by the Sioux on the war path, one of the men attempts to cut the rope but is struck by a bullet. Red Goose uses his hunting knife, but as the boat gets away and heads for midstream, he too falls, hit in the shoulder. . . . Now go on with the story. . . .

"Red Goose! Red Goose! Are you badly hurt?" Captain Roberts was kneeling, holding the still, quiet form of the brave Indian boy in his arms.

Slowly the eyelids began to flicker, and Red Goose said weakly, "Hit in the shoulder—not bad."

Red Eagle was standing close by, and together, the white man and the Indian Chief, washed and dressed the wound that had been inflicted by a bullet from the Sioux.

If it hadn't been for your son, Red Eagle, we might all be sleeping on the bottom of the river right now," said the Captain. "That boy doesn't know the meaning of the word fear."

"Red Goose true Ojibwa—good Indian," grunted his father, proudly.

The trip back was slow and tiresome. Red Goose and Bear Cat were invalids, but by the time they reached home, the were both up and feeling fine again.

Little Beaver was delighted with the present from the Pale Face Village, and the whole tribe gave Red Eagle and his son a true Indian welcome.

Shortly after their return, Winter set in and one day when Red Goose was trying out his new rifle which he had given to Little Beaver, she came running down to the River bank to meet him.

"Red Goose, where are you?"

"Here, Little Beaver. What is it?"

"Strange warrior in Village! Hurry!"

"Strange warrior? What tribe?"

"Souix warrior, I think."

"Hum—m—Come Little Beaver, we will go see what Souix warrior have to say to Ojibwa."

Together they made their way back to the Village. Once, on the way Red Goose saw a rabbit, and eager to show Little Beaver his skill, took quick aim, and fired.

Red Goose good shot," said Little Beaver proudly, as the rabbit almost seemed to stop in its tracks.

"Little Beaver has a good gun."

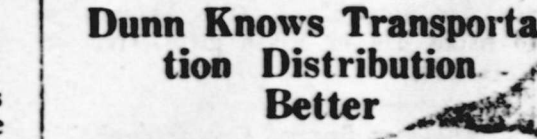

"Red Goose was kind to give his gun to Little Beaver but Red Goose can use it too."

Red Goose was about to reply, when he saw the strange warrior talking with his father.

"Oh! warrior is Yellow Thunder!" he said, "Red Indian from Souix. Sh-h-h, Little Beaver. We shall hear what Yellow Thunder has to say to my father Red Eagle."

Willow Wells Worries

As this reporter was sanded under last week, we failed to make a report. I'll try to tell you everything I know and more too.

Last Wed. afternoon, some 17 local ladies met in the homes of Messadams Cutrell and Denton and reorganized their club. The club was given the name of Home Helpers.

The following officers were retained and elected: Mrs. Dick Denton, president; Mrs. W. L. Willingham, vice-president; Florence Lonis, secretary; and Mrs. Mrs. Max Cole, club reporter.

After the business session, two contests were held, of which Mrs. Welton Willingham and Mrs. Don Carson were winners.

Refreshments were served to the following, Mrs. Wade Hampton, Wayne Willingham, Max Cole, J. R. Dosier, A. G. Bigham, Jack Rouse, J. W. Allredge, Don Carson, Welton Willingham, Dow Hart, W. P. Willingham, Frank Hays, Mrs. Cutrell, Mrs. Denton and Miss Pearl Dosier.

Our next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Allredge with Mrs. Allredge and Mrs. Max Cole, hostesses.

The local ball team played Hill Dale on our diamonds last Wednesday. The score was 26 to 3 in our favor.

There was a dance in the Nitts home last Wed. night.

Mr. McLeroy and family have moved from the Bowers place. Mr. Legow of Challis will move there this week.

Bay Willingham and L. D. Austin returned Sunday from Spur.

Sunday was Mothers Day and the occasion was observed here with dinner on the ground and a program in the afternoon.

Bro. Noah Phillips and wife from Seagraves, also attended, and Bro. Phillips made a short talk after the program.

Everyone spent a most enjoyable day. Tokio came down here Sunday and played our boys. This was a snappy game and everyone enjoyed it.

The score was 15 to 10 in our favor. Next Sun. W.W. will play a doubleheader with Shacktown and Scudday on the local diamond.

A singing was enjoyed at the Denton-Cutrell home Sunday night and all reported a fine time.

Mrs. Don Carson of near Tahoka, arrived last Monday to spend a few weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Willingham, and Don's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carson, of Seagraves. Mrs. Bruce Carson, of Lamesa also came home for a short visit.

Lenis Gary and Pete Mack and hauling feed this week from Lamesa. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Willingham spent Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Denton and played 42.

THE PRICE OF ARSON

$200 a minute! $168,000 a day! That's what we, the American people, pay for arson.

In any period, arson is a prevalent and dangerous crime. In periods of depression it increases amazingly. This year home fires are 30 to 40 per cent greater than they were last year.

Property values are down—fire starts—arson is the answer in many cases.

Again, there are arson rings which make a business of collecting thousands of dollars through incendiary fires. There was a gang in Philadelphia which would buy a number of old and broken-down horses and put them in an isolated stable, chaining them to their stalls.

Insurance policies were then taken out on an equal number of thoroughbreds. The stable with its occupants, was reduced to ashes—and the gang collected. The arsonist has no regard for human or animal life.

He is the most desperate, and the most despicable of criminals. He works in the dark. He is a menace to every citizen.

A short time ago the stock fire insurance companies of the nation adopted a policy of not paying fire claims until 60 days had elapsed.

In the month following, fire loss dropped appreciably. The insurance claimant knew there would be the thorough investigation before a claim was paid.

But arson will go on until it is made so hot for the arsonist that he is figuratively, burned in his own flames. Every citizen, insurance companies, fire marshals and public officer must help trap him.

Mrs. Etta Rickard of the La Vogue Beauty Shoppe, spent the week end at Big Spring and Abilene.

envoicing. Needmore Dots: Good rains had been received in the community. Jack Stricklin, Cleve Holden and Misses Annie and Texie Holden and Dolorus Hill, of Brownfield, were visitors at the church the Sunday before.

HOW SHE LOST 29 POUNDS IN 3 MONTHS

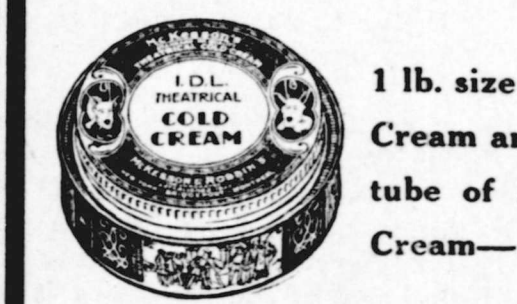

"I am using Kruschen Salts to reduce and I've used a bottle and a half and dieted some and lost 29 pounds in 3 months. I feel so much better and intend to keep on taking the Salts as I was almost 50 pounds overweight."

Mrs. Thelma Crowley, Roseville, Calif. (Jan. 11, 1933). To lose fat and at the same time gain in physical attractiveness and feel spirited and youthful take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning.

A jar that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle at any drugstore in the world but be sure and get Kruschen Salts the SAFE way to reduce wide hips, prominent front and double chin and again feel the joy of living—money back if dissatisfied after the first jar.

PIONEER LADY DIED IN ST. LOUIS—BURIED HERE

Mrs. Susan Key, 83, wife of S. H. Key, died in St. Louis, Mo., last Thursday, while there visiting her daughter, Mrs. Lillie Treyball. The body, accompanied by her daughter arrived here Sunday. Funeral services were conducted at the Methodist church by the pastor Rev. Ed. Tharp, Sunday afternoon at 3:30.

A large crowd of old timers and other friends of the family were on hand for the services. Burial followed in the Brownfield cemetery.

Mrs. Key was an old timer in Terry county, and her friends were legion. She was of a happy disposition, an optimist of the deepest water, always happy herself and making others jolly.

She came to Terry county some 27 years ago. Mrs. Key was married three times, and six children survive, they are L. B. Minor of New Mexico, who could not be reached; Will Minor of Sayree, Okla., Roy Rogers of Happy, Texas, the St. Louis daughter mentioned above, Mrs. Snoddy, of California, who could not attend the funeral, and Mrs. Wes Key, of this county. A brother John Fox, was here from Roanoke, Texas.

The Herald joins the host of friends of the family in offering condolence in this sad hour.

Grandma Bragg of Levelland, is here visiting her many friends, and attending the revival at the church of Christ.

BOOK PRINTING IN TEXAS BILL REPORTED FAVORABLY

The house educational committee of the Texas legislature voted a favorable report Tuesday night to a bill that would require that textbooks used in Texas public schools be printed, bound and engraved in Texas.

A. C. Baldwin of Austin, and Ed Hussion of Houston, were among speakers who urged support by the house of the bill.

Printing plants in the state, with minor additions of equipment, could print the $1,300,000 a year textbooks for which tax money is spent, and probably more cheaply, than eastern book plants, Mr. Baldwin said.

John Burnett was in this week and started the paper to his son, A. J. who is now at Monahans, Texas.

Chamber of Commerce

—By J. E. Shelton, Secretary

The Crop Production Loan was officially closed on April 30, but some loans were in course of completion and were worked up until May 10th. During the period 239 loans were made, being seven short of twice the number that were completed in 1932. The average loan was $120, and it placed somewhere in the neighborhood of $30,000 in circulation at a time when it was needed. This with the Regional Agricultural Loan, will probably account for at least $75,000 new money in circulation in this county.

The writer has had direct connection with two propositions that have put lots of money in circulation. One of them being the Hearst feeding proposition and the other the crop loan. The Hearst activity has an average payroll of $1500 monthly, and made a market for bundle stuff that by this time would either have rotted in the shock or been placed in a stack. Of course the prices paid were not high, and it took a lot of stuff to make a dollar, but at the same time had had a considerable effect on affairs in general. It was secured for Brownfield through the efforts of the chamber of commerce

On Wed. May 24th, County Judges and Commissioners of 15 counties of the north and south Plains will meet in Brownfield for the purpose of forming an organization to present a united front to the Highway Commission, and undertake to secure development of highway designations that have been granted, but are not maintained, and for the further improvement of other roads, which would include the east and west highway. Other proposals that will be called up for discussion and possible action, is the establishment of permanent county lines that were directly effected by the recent court decision establishing the correct line between Lynn and Garza counties. Invitations are being extended thru Judge Barret, and all counties have signified through their officials that they will be on hand on that date, except one county. The chamber of commerce will be host for the occasion and will provide luncheon for the visitors at the noon hour.

The trees that were planted along the highways a few weeks ago, and which appear to be progressing nicely, were watered this week, under the direction of Eunice Jones, by the emergency relief workers, and naturally were much benefitted by it. But Mr. Jones takes the position that people who have planted trees in front of their property should see after the watering themselves, and it is not his intention to water trees where the owners themselves are prepared to do it without undue trouble and expense. His viewpoint is correct, and each property owner should look after his own trees.
