Voted Bond Issue On Misrepresentation

Prior to its being voted upon I vigorously opposed the $20,000,000 Bond Issue Amendment to the Constitution of Texas, and charged that it was being promoted and advocated by propagandist, consisting mostly of professional politicians, office holders, welfare workers and job seekers, aided more or less by the same crowd that tried to load this state down with a $270,000,000.00 Road Bond Issue.

The ipa was hardly dry on the ballots before there appeared in the press of the state full proof of my charge by the testimony of Mr. Westbrook before the State Senate Investigating Committee, an excerpt from which is here quoted:

"Westbrook admitted that he regarded relief work up to now as being inefficiently handled, confessed aid to thousands not entitled to it, admitted poll tax payments out of relief funds, admitted the use of POLITICAL INFLUENCE in relief work, acknowledged some cases of fraud and forgery, cited some storekeepers on local committees had settled private accounts out of relief grants, and finally admitted that the commission with his support had made itself a HUGE PROPAGANDA AGENCY FOR PASSING THE BOND ISSUE AMENDMENT WHICH HE HOPED TO ADMINISTER."

With its paid employees in every community in the state, the Relief Association administered by Mr. Westbrook, with the assistance of office holders and politicians, organized themselves into a huge Propaganda Agency for passing the Bond Issue Amendment, which they hoped to administer. That is the substance and effect of Mr. Westbrook's testimony.

Had these facts been generally known prior to election day, the bond issue amendment would have never been carried, and they could easily have been ascertained by anyone or any newspaper willing to search below the surface. The newspapers of Texas who advocated this $20,000,000 bond issue did the people a poor service when the functions warranting their existence could have been properly performed had they made even a superficial survey of the situation and printed the resultant facts as later developed by the Westbrook testimony.

The $20,000,000 bond issue was voted by the people of Texas upon misrepresentation. Neither in law or morals should they be bound, and the only remedy lies in the hands of the Legislature. It should refuse to issue or make saleable these bonds by legislative enactment, knowing full well that the people would never have voted them had they been truthfully informed.

Article 3, Section 51 of the Constitution, gives the Legislature sufficient power to grant necessary relief and it can be done, without issuance of Bonds, under controlled distribution, and without paid and costly welfare workers.—Lynch Davidson.

Payment to Cotton Growers $50,198,279

Washington, Sept. 30.—The farm administration announced Saturday payments to cotton growers who plowed up their crops in the emergency campaign had reached $50,198,279. The number of checks sent out is 443,622.

The farm administration said approximately $4,000,000 was being distributed daily and this rate was expected to be maintained or increased until the farmers had been paid approximately $111,000,000.

J. A. Forrester of the Forrester community, was in Tuesday with his fourth bale of cotton, and called us out to the wagon to get a dollar to put his paper up another year in advance.

RELIEF PROMISED FROM NRA CHISLERS

Dallas, Texas, Oct.—Full protection for Industry and Trade which have willingly signed up under the Blue Eagle, against the small minority of "wilful chislers", who for selfish motives would jeopardize the success of the President's Agreement, is to be given by local Compliance Boards, it was emphasized today in a communication from the National Recovery Administration to Sherwood H. Avery, Executive Secretary of the Dallas District Recovery Board.

The machinery for setting up local Compliance Boards in every district was provided in Administrator Hugh S. Johnson's Bulletin No. 5, recently issued.

"It is necessary", a letter from Boaz Long, Chief of Recovery Board Section of the Blue Eagle Division, NRA, to all States and District Recovery Boards read in part, "to again urge upon all communities where there is no compliance machinery the importance of establishing local Compliance Boards.

"You can now perform a most valuable and beneficial service by keeping a close and friendly contact with the Boards, thus insuring a uniform and 100 percent compliance. Those employers and employees who have unselfishly and willingly signed the President's Reemployment Agreement must be protected from the small group of wilful chislers who, through their selfish motives, are jeopardizing the success of the President's Agreement. This small group will rapidly increase if permitted to continue with its misuse of the Blue Eagle. The surest method of effecting compliance and bringing this minority into line is by the immediate creation and co-operation of all NRA Compliance Boards. To this end we ask your immediate assistance."

In an accompanying letter to local NRA Chairmen, Mr. Long reiterated certain provisions of Bulletin No. 5. He pointed out that if a subcommittee handling complaints and petitions are already in existence, it was not the intention of General Johnson to disrupt any efficient machinery, provided the personnel is satisfactory to all the representative interests in the community.

"A number of Boards", Mr. Long's letter continued, "have been active in the last few months in bringing about amicable agreements between capital and labor in local labor disputes. The work they have done has been warmly appreciated by General Johnson and the National Labor Board. However, at this time the National Labor Board is contemplating the establishment of regional agencies for labor dispute mediation, and it is requested that any future disputes brought to attention should be immediately forwarded to NRA in Washington. This is explained in the joint statement of Administrator Johnson and Robert F. Wagner, Chairman of the National Labor Board, which was released in the newspapers on September 23."

Attention was called to the fact that a number of complaints which should be handled by local Compliance Boards have been received in Washington, which are to be held pending the receipt of work that such Boards, made up of acceptable personnel, have been organized in the districts affected.

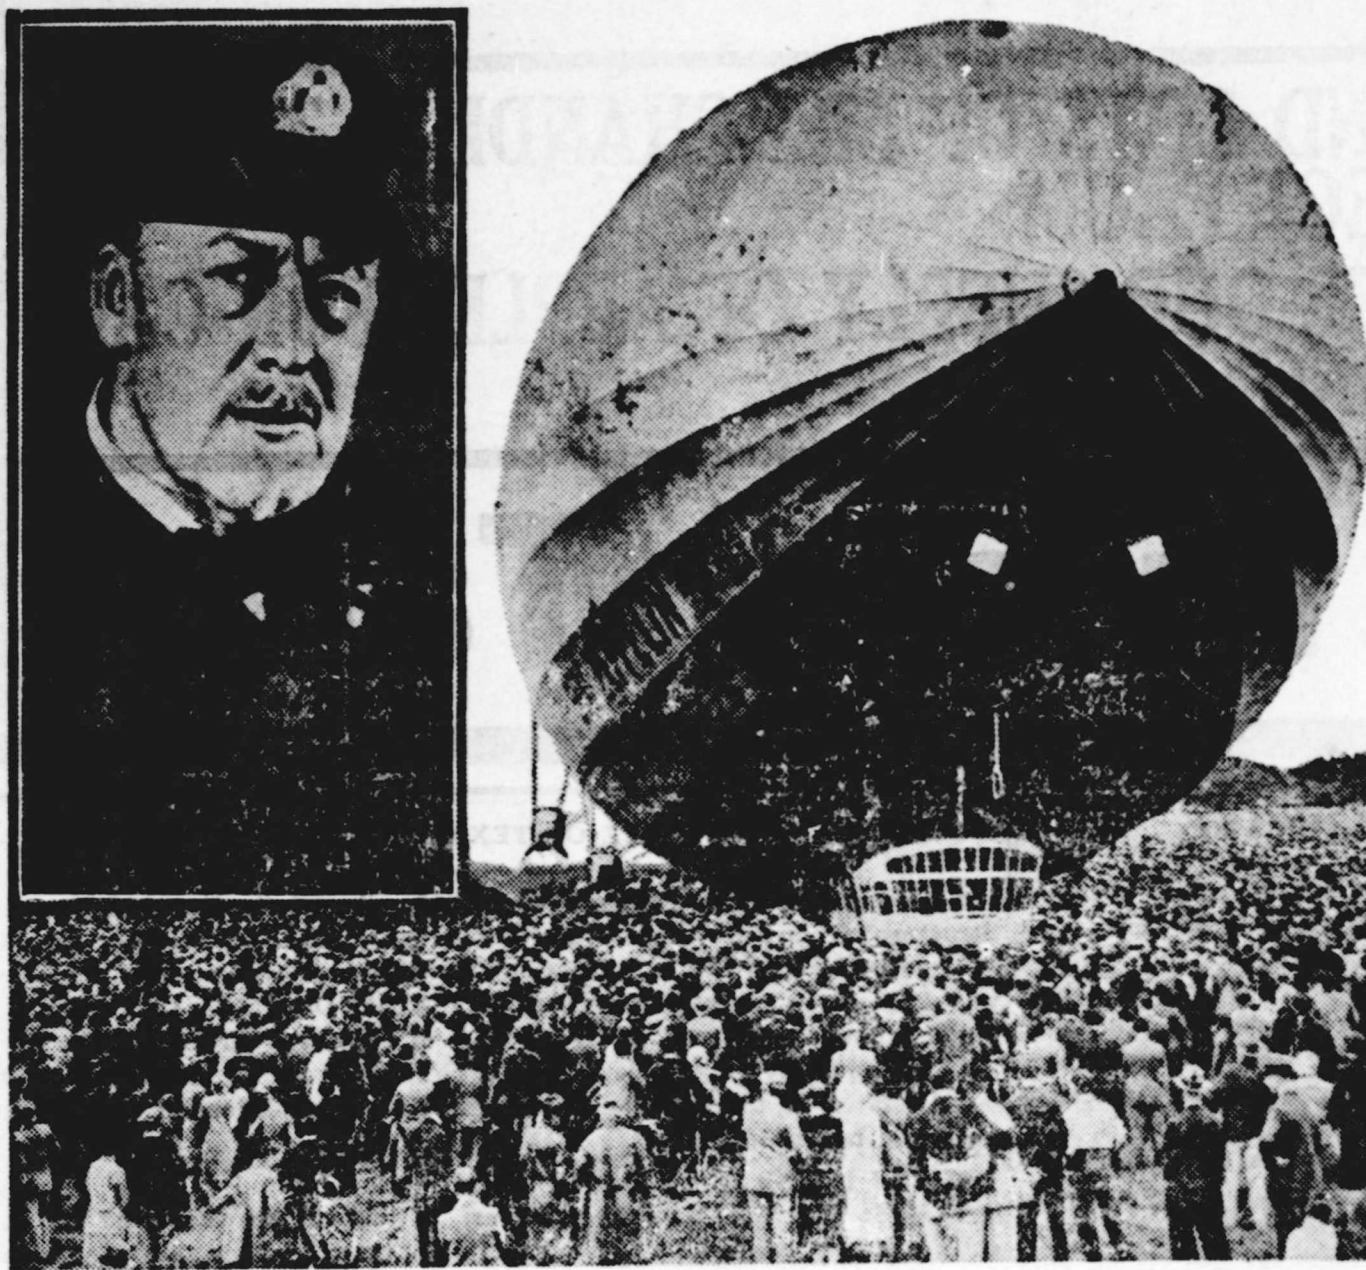

Terry Wins First Prize At P. & S. P. Fair

Although Ed Shelton had to gather up an exhibit on the spur of the moment, we nevertheless took the first prize with the Terry county exhibit at the Panhandle South Plains fair at Lubbock this year, standing several points ahead of Hale and Hockley counties, the only two other counties with exhibits there this year. Hockley showed at the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo, also, taking fifth place, with some twenty counties exhibiting.

Mr. Shelton, who is secretary of the local chamber of commerce, informed us that officials of the P. & S. P. Fair were in a quandary why there were no more county exhibits there this year, but most people seemed to think that people were too busy, and especially county agents with many projects of the federal government that they just did not have time to prepare an exhibit. But Mr. Shelton informed us that they had some of the best community exhibits up there that he had ever seen. This is the first time Terry has won first place since 1920.

The Lubbock fair boosters with their band were here last Thursday about mid afternoon, and gave a concert at the band stand in the court park. Speakers also told the hearers what the fair was doing this year for amusement of visitors, as well as things educational. For the first time in many years, the visitors missed their watermelon feast here as the farmers that were to supply them arrived after the visitors left.

World's Fair Awaits Arrival of Graf Zeppelin

The Graf Zeppelin, famous German airship, pictured here with a throng that gathered to see it moored, will visit the Chicago World's Fair, probably October 25. Inset: Dr. Hugo Eckener, who will be in command of the dirigible when it arrives at the Exposition.

Farmers Co-operative Crop Production Loan

P. F. Murray, Field Representative

Borrowers are advised that the mortgage provides that payment of the loan must be made from the first sales made from the crop. All banks and ginns have lists of borrowers in their territories. Banks will assist in making remittances to the Dallas office.

When full payment is made prior to receipt of check for cotton destroyed, receipts will be issued so that the cotton check will not be held up when received by the County Agents.

The funds loaned for Crop Production are declared to be impressed WITH A TRUST. The recorded mortgage makes the buyer as liable for buying crops and not applying the proceeds to the payment of the note as is the borrower.

Because so many opportunities for complications may arise in making proper endorsement on cotton checks, we must insist that sales of crops, made prior to receipt of cotton checks, shall be applied on the note.

Loans are due when the crops are sold, regardless of the maturity date of the note. Please bear this in mind.

To the crop production loan borrowers, they will be allowed the seed and 4-5c per pound of lint cotton for picking and ginning which would be $4.00 for a 500 pound bale.

P. F. Murray, Field Inspector, will be at the County Agent's office on Thursday of each week to assist the borrower in liquidating his 1933 and prior loans.

HOOVER QUOTED AS URGING SUPPORT OF NRA'S PROGRAM

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 30.—After an informal conference with Republican leaders between them here today, former President Hoover was quoted by one of the group as urging support for President Roosevelt's NRA program.

"We must help the administration put it over if it's humanly possible," Gould Dietz, of Omaha, quoted the former president as advising the group.

The former president and Mrs. Hoover are homeward bound to California after a visit to Chicago's world's fair and a dip into Missouri.

Clifford Pray, one of our north side farmers was in this week to renew. Said it looked as if his Herald was just expiring all the time. The fine farms of his section that usually have good crops sure hit it hard this year.

Sam White informed us that he ginned his first bale Wednesday.

How can you pay off bonds by taxing the rich if they invest their money in tax-exempt bonds.

Our Fire Boys Enjoy An Outing and Feed

That bunch of some two score boys that protect our property day and night from the flames of fire, hold frequent business meetings in some of the business houses where the members work, or in the city offices, but like other people they sometimes desire a change of scene and action. Like all of us, they crave variety. Sometimes they hold a banquet in one or the other of the hotels or cafes, at other times, they wish to get out in the moonlight and eat a dutch lunch.

That was what happened last Friday night. Out a mile or so southwest of the city, a nice place was located on the farm of one of their friends. These boys are not in the least selfish, but want their friends to share their joys and feasts with them. Among those invited last Friday night was the writer. Well, they had eats till you couldn't rest. There was light bread, crackers, goose liver sausage, baked and boiled ham, bolognas, pickles, onions, and some real old 3.2.

Boy! you talk about a feed, but that was something to smack your dry lip over. So far as we know everybody there drank and ate all they wanted, and if you ever saw a bunch of good humored, pleasing hosts, they—the fire boys—were just that. NO foolin'. So far as we are concerned, we are ready to go out again when it is convenient with the boys.

Winter Relief is Promised by FDR

Hyde Park, N. Y., Sept. 30.—President Roosevelt arranged today for food, clothing and fuel for the unemployed through the winter as he completed his round of recent talks with government heads looking to the next stage of the recovery effort.

"The President is determined to take care of all dire necessity."

He said that this means the obtaining of coal as well as the surplus food-stuffs and staples which Mr. Roosevelt already has ordered purchased for delivery to the needy.

The gigantic federal relief undertaking will be commenced within a week and Hopkins expects to announce shortly the method of action. He has $330,000,000 of the original $500,000,000 appropriated by congress and he announced: "We will need all of this."

The Tech College is putting on one new course this year, it being the clock allowed by the state to train teachers to teach vocational agriculture in Texas schools.

Mrs. L. F. Hudgens has been ill this week.

Murphy Brothers Expanding Their Store

Murphy Bros., popular local grocermen have carpenters busy this week removing the partition fronting on Main street, and the building vacated last summer by Lewis Dry Goods Co., and fronting on Main and Fifth, removed, and as soon as the repairs are made new shelving built, etc., and the painters have had their day, they will occupy the combined buildings, giving them practically two-thirds more floor space.

This popular firm has been in business here for some ten years, first having been under the name of Murphy & White at first as Jay White and Dewey Murphy started the business. Later Sam Murphy joined the firm and purchased the late Jay White's interest in the business. They have never moved the location of their store, but as they have gradually expanded, they have become more crowded, and are using another building for storage, which is unsatisfactory.

With everything on one floor and under the same roof, they can better protect themselves from mice, rats, etc. We are certainly glad to see these boys making this expansion. They have never been classified as large advertisers, but there has been few times since they have been in business that the Herald did not carry an ad for them. We join their many friends in congratulations.

Texas is Admitted to Registration Area

Texas has at last been admitted to the Death Registration Area of the United States, according to word just received by the State Department of Health, from the Federal Bureau of Census. This means that Texas is now on par with other states and that causes of deaths can be honestly compared. To gain admission to the Registration Area it is necessary that a state have a record of at least ninety per cent of all deaths occurring within her borders. Texas had practically ninety-nine per cent of her deaths filed.

CLOCK OF UNKNOWN AGE IS ON DISPLAY AT FAIR THIS YEAR

A clock of unknown age is on display in the women's building at the Panhandle-South Plains fair. Works in the clock are made of wood. This article was bought at auction 130 years ago and has been in the same family ever since. Its history before that date is unknown.—Avalanche.

C. A. Wilhite, superintendent of the Wellman schools, was in to renew this week, and informed us that the Alpine country was a delightful place to spend the summer.

Information About Marketing Associat'n

By R. C. Reed, County Agent

Fifty farmers of Terry county met and voted to organize a Farmers Co-operative Marketing Association with special emphasis on hog marketing at this time.

W. E. Pool, Route 4, Brownfield; O. K. Tongate, Route 1, Brownfield; C. L. Buckner, Route 3, Brownfield; J. R. Garrison, Wellman, Texas.

The purpose of the organization is to furnish a suitable and just market for the producers hogs. It is not necessary to sign a long and binding contract to become a member. If the association can furnish as good or a better market than outside competition then market through it. With the support of the hog producer the organization can accomplish a great deal. Having had the experience of trying to put over the government pig deal without an organization makes me especially anxious to see this association function properly. When the hog and corn program is declared operative by the federal government it is hoped that the Farmers Co-operative Marketing Association is co-operating as to take charge of the program.

To market hogs through the association, weigh your hogs over the public scales early every Wednesday morning. As soon as the hogs are weighed they are paid off for at 25c under Fort Worth prices.

For full particulars get in touch with your nearest director.

Forty-five hundred dollars was realized from the sale of 1244 government pigs last week by the Farmers Co-operative marketing Association. The average shrinkage was 3.4 pounds per pig, while the average weight was 54 pounds per pig bringing $3.61 per head.

Checks For Plains At Near $2,161,505

With receipt Saturday morning of 73 additional cotton checks, by County Agent O. G. Tumlinson, Lubbock county's total receipts had been boosted to slightly under $400,000 in the government's payoff for plowing under cotton. Checks totaled over $26,000.

Approximately 39 per cent of the money Uncle Sam has said he would pay the 2,497 farmers who signed reduction of cotton acreage contracts has been received. Slightly over $610,000 is still due to 1,415 farmers.

The 1,082 checks received so far amount to $395,525.

Check made Saturday of the area indicates a total of 6,628 checks, amounting to $2,161,505, have been received in 19 out of the 21 counties in this trade territory. Only Farmer and Yoakum counties have not reported receiving checks.

By counties, the number of checks reported, and amounts, are:

County	Checks	Cash
Bailey	319	$132,000
Briscoe	57	13,792
Cochran	44	9,760
Crosby	592	179,383

Swisher	141	30,156
Terry	303	65,205
Total	6,628	$2,161,505

AMHERST VOTES DRY SATURDAY BY 51 TO 49

Amherst, Sept. 30.—By a two-vote majority Amherst is dry and sale of three-point-two beer is illegal here.

Dry won a local option election today, mustering 51 votes, while the wets polled 49. No contest of the election was expected tonight.

Two other Lamb county cities, Littlefield and Sudan, legalized sale of the beer in recent local option elections.

One of our faithful readers, Cecil O'Neal, who got a bit behind, handed in a dollar about a month ago, that put him up to that time, and he got his cotton check this week and handed in another dollar for a year in advance. That might be a good plan for others to follow.

Tradesday Crowd Fine Despite Busy Times

While there was a good crowd on hand Monday to the regular monthly Tradesday, it was not so good as usual for the reason that many of the farmers are taking advantage of every hour of this lovely sunny weather to get their cotton out while it is white. And it sure is white. We don't remember ever seeing any prettier cotton here or anywhere else, and it is coming in nicely at present.

If there was any difference, the crowd here Saturday was larger than the one Monday, especially was this noticeable among the ladies. While we would guess that there were more men here Monday than there was Saturday. The merchants here enjoyed a brisk trade all day, for hundreds of farmers have received their plow up checks, others are getting out cotton and selling it, and even the people from the dry belt having been selling hogs to the government as well as local buyers and all seem to have some money.

While there was some trading among the farmers, it seems that a great deal of the efforts were mere "bantering" and led to nothing, as the other fellow probably failed to have what the other guy wanted, but all may have better luck next time. On account of the fact that some portions of the county will make a light feed crop, there will of necessity be a great shifting of present arrangements. The feed producing belt will want more stock perhaps, and will be willing to trade some of their feed for some of the surplus stock in the dry belts.

But there is lots of time for this now, as those with stock even in the dryer belts have now had good rains and have good grass, and are of course not in such a hurry to dispose of their surplus horses, cows, and hogs. With a late frost, many of them will make some heads, and most all of them will make plenty bundle stuff to run them.

First Seven Millions For Lateral Roads

Austin, Sept. 30.—A public works program, featuring the building of lateral roads in Texas to benefit the rural population of the state while also furnishing self-respecting employment to the needy, with 15 per cent available in direct charity for actual distress, the absolute elimination of overhead costs with control by the heads of five state departments, are the safeguards which a bill by Senator Walter C. Woodward of Coleman would throw around the first $7,000,000 which the legislature is advised to provide under the voters' August authorization of the $20,000,000 bond issue.

Evidence in hearings before the senate committee of the whole showed that at present no public works are being built, that Texans are given outright doles, that administrative costs are 16 per cent higher than the average of the states, that the fund control is exercised by unofficial persons and excessive salaries are paid.

The Woodward bill proposes to correct this by placing the spending of the money for roads and dire need as a duty on the commissioner's courts of the several counties, thence working through local welfare and civic organizations. By providing for roads and sanitary construction it is estimated that the great bulk of unemployment could be ended by providing work which would enable Texans to earn their living while also providing needed public improvements.

The pre-election legislative guaranty of economy and prudence in the handling of this vast sum and that political jobs would not be created is carried out in Senator Woodward's idea in designating the chairmen of the board of control, state highway commission, industrial accident board, board of water engineers and state health officer to administer the bond issue.

A resolution to accompany the bill will urge the federal government to adopt the same plan for its Texas contribution, thus eliminating federal overhead and assuring the entire amount actually to relieve need and unemployment. Indications are that the Woodward bill represents the crystallized thought of his fellow legislators as a result of the conditions revealed at the hearing and that it or similar provisions will eventually be the measure which will be passed at the special session.

We note that Bob Haynes and family of the Miami Chief, have been kinder taking things in down state of late, having spent a vacation at Corpus Christi, passing through Tahoka on their way home, according to the Tahoka News. The Herald is glad that friend Bob is able to take these vacation trips these days, and if it is a fair question, Bob, how come you had that much money?

Personally, we are willing to vote Ed Shelton the most useful citizen in Terry county, this year. Almost single handed he has gathered an exhibit and carried it to the South Plains fair at Lubbock that took first place in county exhibits, scoring almost 900 points. Old Ed does more thank you jobs perhaps than any other citizen of the town and county, and if he has no way to ride, he walks after what he wants. He is true blue loyal to his home city and county and misses no opportunity in telling people about it. "Flowers for the living."

We had a fair example of ordinary "peanut politics" last week when the Star-Telegram ran big headlines emphasizing the fact that relief administrator Westbrook gave the insurance business to a close friend of Jim Ferguson. Why should Mr. Westbrook select an enemy of Ferguson, or why should he not give the business to one of Jim's friends?—Anton News.

Yep! to the victors belongs the "spoils" etc.

The Ralls Banner has been trying to break into a "believe it or not" column of its own late. Last week it contained a "believe it or not" saying they had a broom growing in their office. The supposition is that it was an abandoned broom that had been discarded, but which had a few seeds left on the straws, which sprouted and grew. Anyway, it takes soil and moisture and sunshine to grow broom corn, and this being so, we are pleased to state that Ralls has a newspaper that has a dirtier office than the Herald. Yep, they get the gun.

Literally thousands of cans of food have been put up by Terry county people this year. The last report we had was that the R. F. C. had furnished in the neighborhood of 30,000 alone. This will not start the amount that people put up who were able to do so, have furnished their own containers. Even some of the town ladies have been busy with the cooker and sealer this summer, and have all available space in closets and bath rooms stocked with this delectable winter "chawing." This is a hard blow to our grocer friends, but mighty fine for the consumer.

That most deadly of all the deadly, "Dame Rumor", started a run on a perfectly sound bank at Lovington, New Mexico, Saturday, September 23. In fact, the bank commissioner as well as the bank examiner for the state of New Mexico says the First State Bank of Lovington, is one of the soundest institutions in that state. But no bank, no matter how sound and liquid, can stand a run for long at a time without fatal consequences. And every bank that is forced to close on account of runs is hurt just the same as if it was closed on account of the crookedness of its officers and stockholders. It takes years to patch up the loss of confidence sustained in a run, no matter whether it was the fault of the bank or not. If the perpetrator or perpetrators of the whispering campaign of the Lovington bank can be located, they should be prosecuted in the same way a bank robber is prosecuted. Such a person or persons have not only defamed the character of the Lovington banks, but they have caused them financial loss, as the bank had to close. After a bank examiner was called from Santa Fe, the bank was reopened on restricted conditions Monday morning, following, we understand. A good bank or banks are a town's greatest asset, and people who will start slander and rumors that cause them to have to be closed even temporarily, are just darn fools, and are hurting themselves and their community, and haven't sense enough to know it. Such cattle are tongue assassins instead of dirk and pistol assassins, and of the two, the former is the worst.

A majority of the manufacturers of clothing and dry goods are either the biggest profiteers the world has ever known or else they have been losing barrels and barrels of money before the enactment of the National Recovery Act. Retailers all over the country are complaining about the prices charged for clothing and dry goods at this time. These manufacturers are as independent as a hog on ice, you can either take it or leave it at the price they ask. The consumer is beginning to complain about the price he has to pay. The manufacturer is boosting the price too high. Here are manufacturers' prices September 15th, as compared with March 31, on representative items: Un bleached sheeting up 133 per cent, cotton socks up 100 per cent, blue chambray work shirts up 90 per cent, bleached sheeting up 92 per cent, children's ribbed hosiery up 94 per cent, cotton prints up 78 per cent, union suits up 78 per cent, towels up 87 per cent, men's work shoes up 52 per cent, oil cloth up 37 per cent, men's broadcloth shirts up 72 per cent. Anyone with a thimble full of brains knows that is too much advance. The cotton process tax, higher wages, shorter hours and other factors should cause a substantial rise in prices but not to the extent the manufacturers are boosting them. Their goods should be allowed to rot in the warehouses, and they will if the wholesale and retail merchants refuse to buy them. They might as well let them keep them for unless the purchasing power is increased mightily fast, they can only sell a small amount of these high priced goods.—Lockney Beacon.

Two Tahokaites, Judge (Happy) Smith and Oscar Roberts were down in old Mexico recently, and visited the penitentiary at Chihuahua. Mr. Roberts was offered a ring, as convicts are allowed to make or sell trinkets. Finally he was persuaded to look at the ring, and found to his great surprise that it was a Tahoka high school class ring of the year 1925, and had the initials E. H. H. in it. He bought it and will endeavor to return it to its original owners. How it got down there is a mystery, as the Mexican said that neither he or any of his family had ever been to Texas.

CHICAGO

If Lusty Chicago should need defenders beyond its own limits, let West Texas do it! That strange municipal mixture of good and bad, big and little, sublime and ridiculous, sprawling along the southern shore of Lake Michigan and now celebrating its century of progress, is, in a good many respects, the West Texan's idea of what a big city ought to be. Down here words that stand high in our language are vision, guts and takechance—and that's Chicago.

GRANDMA'S GRAMMAR

A neighbor had dropped in to see how young Jim was getting along, after his auto accident. Grandma tried to explain that he was getting along fine, and in order to prove it she said: "Why, he et 12 pancakes fer breakfast this morning."

Grandma, failing to catch the point, persisted in her statement and said: "Why Jim you told me you et 12."

Mountain Spring at World's Fair

Thelma Wellbaum, Chicago World's Fair visitor from Dayton, Ohio, seeks a cool drink from the spring of a mountain garden diorama in the Horticulture Building. This building contains some of the most beautiful and realistic dioramas in the entire Exposition.

Penguins at World's Fair

Penguins, those funny Antarctic fowl always dressed in formal attire, seldom fail to amuse Americans. The mounted penguins in the Byrd South Pole Ship, anchored in North Lagoon of the Chicago World's Fair, were a source of plentiful fun for Jimmy Kite and Edith Hogan, shown here. There are many more Antarctic exhibits aboard the boat.

TECH ENROLLS MORE STUDENTS THAN IN 1932

LUBBOCK, Sept.—Up to September 26, 1814 students had enrolled at Texas Technological College, this being 75 more students than were enrolled on the corresponding date last year. More students have delayed their registration on account of finances than last year, according to President Bradford Knapp. Many students are waiting for cotton checks, and more than the usual number of emergency cases involving some slight delay in order to get funds to pay fees have been handled.

The indications are, according to school authorities, that the enrollment will be considerably larger than last fall. This is indicated by the fact that the enrollment in freshman chemistry exceeds by more than 100 that of last September. The enrollment in freshman physics has also greatly increased, as has also freshman English.

It is too early to analyze the enrollment by divisions. Students will be coming in for a week or more. The last day for enrollment is September 30 and the last day without special permission from the college is October 7.

Four acres seeded to dallis grass and lespedeza in a 15-acre draw pasture having Bermuda grass as a base supply all the grazing for four mules, three cows and 15 pigs on the farm of Holly Hale near Arlington in Tarrant county. It is a county agent pasture demonstration to show what improvement will do for sandy upland grazing.

About 37,000 cans of vegetables have been filled in the R. F. C. cannery in Denton by people unable to purchase containers and equipment, the home demonstration agent reports. Eighteen canners and sealers were kept busy in August and nearly 12,000 cans of food are on hand for relief purpose.

A. L. Roberts of Abilene, with the State Department of Agriculture was here this week. Mr. Roberts' specialty at this season of the year is checking up on cotton staple and the price paid.

OUR 23 YEAR COLUMN

As there was nothing of interest on the first page of the issue of October 7, 1910, we pass to the second page, and find that the Lubbock cotton gin was in fine shape to make the season run.

J. C. Green was building an addition to his residence. Thad Durst of Lamesa, was spending a few days in Brownfield. Percy Spencer had legal business in Plains.

H. L. Bridge was in Monday from the Tokio community, and informed us that they had just returned from Wellington where they had just visited their daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. K. B. McWilliams of Post, were over for a few minutes Sunday visiting friends here. Mack says they like Post, but not as well as Brownfield, and that he would have returned here this year if all the county had made a good crop.

LOVINGTON PEOPLE ARE GULLIBLE TOO

It is quite likely that folks are just folks wherever you find them. Lovington people are just as easy victims of traveling fly-by-night people as are those who live elsewhere.

This fact was demonstrated last week when a woman came into town and proceeded to secure ads from merchants for some kind of church calendar. The ads themselves are practically valueless to the merchants and the cost was not only greatly in excess of the value but was exorbitant for the character of the work.

The amount of money spent on this fake advertising scheme would have gone far toward bringing business to Lovington merchants had it been spent in sensible newspaper advertising. But folks are funny people and always will be such.—Lovington (N.M.) Leader.

Geo. Carter and son-in-law, Aubrey Thomas of Ropes, were down Saturday on business. While here they paid the Herald a call.

RED GOOSE—THE OJIBWA INDIAN BOY

An Indian Story for Boys and Girls By Carlyle Emery

Red Goose meets Alvin Carter, a white boy about his own age. Alvin tells his new Indian friend that he is on his way to Fort Snowden to join his sister. He also tells Red Goose that he has six hundred dollars in his money belt. This last remark is overheard by a man named Michael, who has a companion called "Weasel".

Michael had overheard Alvin Carter telling Red Goose that he had $600 in his money belt, and he also knew that Alvin was hoping to join a party on the way to Fort Snowden. So he made quick preparations to take Alvin along with him.

Alvin was delighted to join up with a party so soon, and preparations were made to get an early start.

In the meanwhile, Michael and Weasel were holding a conversation. "Everything in the canoe Michael?" "You bet, Weasel."

"There's not much in the way of supplies. It's a good week's trip to Fort Snowden and another week coming back, you know."

"Who said anything about going to the Fort?" "I thought you were taking the Carter kid there."

"Sure we are," chuckled Michael. "That's what the kid thinks, anyway—but between you and me, we're not going that far."

"Why not?" "Why should we? The kid has money on him and if he should have an accident of some kind and get killed, you and I would be richer to the tune of six hundred dollars. Do you get me?"

"Yes, I get you all right," said Weasel slowly, "but I don't like the idea."

"What's wrong with the idea? No one would know about it but you and me."

"Just the same, I don't like it." Michael curled his upper lip and snarled, "Say, who's the boss of this expedition—you or me?"

And so, early the next morning, Michael, Weasel, and Alvin got into their canoe and started on the long week's paddle to Fort Snowden.

Two days later a strange party came into the settlement around Fort Ridgley. Red Eagle met them and after an exchange of friendly greetings, he asked, "Where is Paleface from?"

Imagine his surprise when the stranger told him he was from Fort Snowden and that his name was Phillips.

"You have brother by name Alvin Carter?" asked Red Eagle. "Sure I have. How did you know?" questioned Phillips.

When Red Eagle told him that his brother-in-law Alvin had left for Fort Snowden two days previous with a man named Michael, Phillips exclaimed, "Michael! Michael! Why he is one of the worst scoundrels in this part of the country!"

"We must go quick and bring Alvin back!" Said Red Eagle. "Red Goose and Red Eagle will start at once."

And in no time at all, the Ojibwa Chieftain and his fearless young son were on their ponies traveling fast on the trail toward Fort Snowden.

WHAT BANKING WENT THROUGH

By JOHN H. PUELICHER American Bankers Association

BANKING in its long career has been compelled to withstand many serious shocks, but it ran into the most perplexing entanglement of its whole history since the general breakdown of values in 1929.

The commercial structure of the entire world seemed to have been shaken from its foundations and the marvel is that the banker, with everything breaking down all around him, was able to come through as he has.

General business failures, agricultural stagnation, income losses, capital losses, inability to meet debts and therefore inability of bankers to pay back depositors when loans were not paid, were the reasons, in most instances, for the bank failures.

No profession, no department of life is without its weaker elements, but had proper consideration been given to the relatively few instances in banking, had exaggerated and startling headlines been kept in true proportion, had banking not been used as a target for political self-seeking and with vote-seeking motives, had unfounded rumors not been spread the people's confidence might have been retained and far less serious would have been their financial losses, for many bank failures were caused that need not have happened.

There were factors in our banking experience which every earnest banker deplores—factors which many had worked years to eliminate, which it was fearfully recognized would aggravate any difficult days which might arise. One of the worst of these was due to political regulation which chartered many banks that should never have been chartered.

That there have been incompetence and dishonesty in banking is admitted. That the instances that did occur were used grossly to increase fear in the public mind, we affirm. We shall continue to strive for higher attainments in our profession and strive for laws that require competence and ability in management. That we cannot legislate honesty and unselfishness into either a banker or a borrower must be conceded, but dishonesty, wherever found, should be punished. It is as true in banking as elsewhere that no matter how good the law, dishonest and incompetent men can make it ineffective. Good laws are essential. We must strive for ever better ones, but their enforcement will come only as the public recognizes that it is a matter not of laws or codes alone but of the men who administer them.

The Public's Part Our people must be brought to realize that the welfare of our country depends upon its banking system, that the strength of the banking system depends upon the public's faith and understanding and the vast majority of banks, because of faithful service rendered, even through the whole of this general breakdown, had the right to expect the trust and confidence of the people.

In every great catastrophe, no matter what its nature, no matter what its cause, someone must be crucified. The banker was this time selected. In the late 90's, political agitation started a trade against the railroads. Some railroads may have done reprehensible things, but the agitation became so general and so violent as almost to destroy one of the fundamental factors in the progress of a country. Today the same thing has been done to the banker. In spite of all that has happened, the fact remains that even most of the banks which failed are paying out infinitely better than are investments in almost anything else.

Bankers Aiding Agriculture State associations of bankers in many agricultural states are giving time and financial support to encourage practices among their farmers that will bring about better farm results.

The major activities reported from one state to the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association which is nationally active in promoting this line of cooperation are as follows:

1. Drought relief work: Local banks have played a vital part in this work, being represented on the county committees for passing on all seed loans. These committees met practically every day during the spring to pass on the loans in order to get as quick action as possible. A total of 914 applications were received and handled by one committee, 833 being granted.

2. Four-H Club work: Bankers helped stimulate 4-H Club work, financing many members who otherwise could not have enrolled. They also helped finance fifteen 4-H Club delegates to the state club convention.

3. Livestock feeding: The banks cooperated with the Extension Service in the state and the railroads in increasing the amount of livestock feeding. Assistance was given the feeders in securing finances for their feeding operations.

4. Crop improvement: The bankers took part in the crop standardization program of the Extension Service and encouraged the farmers to use pure seed, and in many cases made loans for this purpose.

CLYDE ALEXANDER KILLED IN CAR ACCIDENT AT GLOBE

Clyde Alexander, brother of G. W. Alexander of this place, and who formerly lived at Brownfield and had a large acquaintance throughout this section was killed at an early hour Sunday morning in an automobile accident at Globe, Arizona. Details of the sad affair are yet lacking according to announcement of relatives here.

Mr. Alexander moved with his family to Globe about five years ago. His brother here was prevented from attending the funeral, which was held Tuesday at that place on account of illness.—Levelland Herald.

DECLARES STATE TAX ON WINE NOT INTENDED

San Antonio, Sept. 30.—The fact that no provision was placed in the state beer law requiring sellers of 3.2 per cent wine to pay a state or county license fee was intentional, Representative P. L. Anderson of San Antonio said today.

Representative Anderson said the Legislature never intended to place a tax upon wine sellers, in commenting upon announcement from other legislators that the beer law would be amended so as to make wine sellers pay a tax.

LAWYERS SHOULD CLEAN HOUSE

At the recent convention of the American Bar Association, President Martin set some plain truths before the members of the profession of lawyers. Notable among these utterances was an appeal for a nationwide crusade among lawyers for the eradication of unscrupulous and dishonest practitioners. No other profession contains such a high percentage of undesirables as does the profession of law, he said, and declared that it was high time that worthy members recognize the fact and get busy.

The trouble with bar associations is that the incompetent and crooked lawyers are recognized as a serious problem in theory, but are ignored in practice. National and state associations meet and acknowledge that their profession has its black sheep. They know that a license to practice law is a strong weapon for evil in the hands of an unscrupulous person; that he can do more damage as a lawyer than he possibly could inflict on the public as a private citizen.

The place to start cleaning up the profession is at home, not in Chicago, New York or other communities. The task must certainly be a disagreeable one, but it should be performed. President Martin sought to impress his associates with the fact that every decent lawyer in a community suffers from the dishonesty of the few. Lawyers who have remained indifferent to the public's suffering at the hands of dishonest lawyers may bestir themselves when they realize they need to act in self-defense.—Star-Telegram.

SEAGRAVES PUTS $100 LICENSE ON PUBLIC DANCES

Seagraves, Sept.—A city ordinance that provides a tax of $100 per night for public dances held within the corporate limits of Seagraves was passed unanimously by the city commission and is now on the city's statute books.

The ordinance, No. A-2, amends ordinance A-1 passed August 5, 1932, and which amends a previous ordinance, placed the tax at $5 per night. This first ordinance cannot be found on the city's books.

Prior to passage of ordinance A-1, city voters by a three to one majority, voted to retain an ordinance prohibiting public dancing within the city limits. For some reason many ordinances passed by the commission and published in the local newspaper were never properly signed, it is said.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Home Economics Club assembled again on their regular club day for a brief discussion of aims, mottoes and social gatherings.

Plans were made for a picnic at the Sandhills, Friday, October 6, provided the football game was postponed.

Mr. Wester, the head librarian, Mr. Penn and Mr. Ledbetter have straightened out the library and put all books in order. Each division of books has been labeled and put into a certain place in the library.

The library is kept each period by two students who are held responsible for each book and magazine which is checked out. It is the duty of the librarian to keep a correct record of all books and to keep the books in order. There are twelve rules to which the librarians must follow and there are also rules to which the pupils in the study hall should follow.

There are a number of papers and magazines brought to school each day, and a Reading Table Club has been formed. Each pupil who reads the papers must sign his name on a slip of paper, must sit at the table, and may have ten minutes in which to read the news in.

If he does his work carefully and enforces the regulations each librarian is allowed 1-4 credit at the end of the term.

The librarians are as follows: First period, Mary Jo Neill, Esther Ruth Smith; second period, Ruby Nell Smith, Margarette Burnett; third period, Horton Howell, Wilton Smith; fourth period, Martha McClish, Woodrow Chambliss; fifth period, Kathy Hunter and Ethel Pippin; sixth period, Sallie Stricklin, Evelyn Duffey; seventh period, Elray Lewis, Virginia May; eighth period, Bill McGowan, Bert Elliot.

There is much need for additional books to make the library serve the needs of the high school. It is believed that the regulations adopted and the care given the books will result in efficient handling of all materials obtainable.

CUBS SMASH LEVELLAND 21-11

Scoring on the third play of the game, the Brownfield Cubs got a good start on the Levelland Lobos here Friday, Sept. 29. Both teams fought hard and the final score was 21 to 11.

After Bill Brown rushed through the line and blocked a Levelland punt, Captain Thomas carried the ball over for the first counter of the game. Parker kicked the extra point. In the last part of the same quarter Levelland got off a long punt over Bandy, and he was trying to recover it when he was tackled on the goal line. This gave Levelland a safety and the first quarter ended 7-2.

In the last of the third quarter Levelland got the ball on the 12 yard line, after the Cubs had made a bad punt. They passed over the goal from here for six points. They made the extra point by a place kick.

In the third period the Cubs made a first down after a series of runs. They had the ball on the 15 yard line when Bandy fumbled, recovered, and ran around end for the second touchdown for the Cubs. Parker kicked the extra point again.

After both teams had exchanged numerous punts in the fourth quarter, Huckabee blocked a punt and Moore recovered it. Bandy then ran a reverse play around right end for the last counter of the game. Huckabee made the extra point from placement. The game ended 21 to 11.

On Monday, October 2, at seven thirty the Brownfield Debate Club met for organization. The debate work will start as soon as literature can be secured. Meetings will be held every Monday night at seven thirty. We have in our club three former debaters, Marion Chisholm, Woodrow Chambliss, and Wilton Smith. New members are Evelynne

The Wellman basket ball girls won a 21-15 victory over Seagraves at the Seagraves gym Friday night. The girls are showing some real team play and Wellman is counting on them to come back with another county class B championship this year. We have about twelve or fifteen fine girls coming out for the team with some class C champions joining us.

OBITUARY

A. W. Lane, father of Mrs. N. E. Brown, who lives nine miles east of town, departed this life Sept. 29, 1933, at 2 p. m.

He had been in bad health for a number of years but was not confined to his bed until a few weeks ago. He came to visit his daughter, Mrs. Brown the first of September and took his bed a few days after. He suffered much but bore it patiently and died without a struggle and with a slight smile on his lips.

He was born June 17, 1859. He was married in 1883 to Miss Martha Hainey to whom seven children were born. Mrs. Lane died in 1892 and he chose another wife, Miss Fannie Slatter in 1894. To this union two children were born. He was always a loving husband and father and had made many friends during his short stay in Brownfield.

He was buried Saturday, Sept. 30, 1933. Funeral services were held at his daughter's home with Rev. J. M. Hale officiating. Only two children were able to attend the funeral due to the distance and his body was not in a condition to be held over.

He joined the church at an early age but backslid. He was reclaimed 1929 and has since then lived a conserved Christian life. The good people of Brownfield sympathize with the children in their sore bereavement.

Mesdames J. W. and Cliff Fitzgerald and Miss Olga, visited Mrs. Pollard at Lubbock, Wednesday. They also took in sights at the fair.

In Fair Revue

Miss Dorothy Wahl, fan dancer at Ernie Young's World's Fair Revue, in Old Manhattan Gardens at a Century of Progress, who is receiving the admiration of throngs who nightly view her artistic performance.

Judd, Naomi Drury, J. D. Stewart, Sam Chisholm, and Roy Chambliss. We are planning for a better season than any in the past.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many dear friends for their assistance and kindness during the recent illness and death of our father, A. W. Lane. Especially do we thank our neighbors who waited on him so tenderly and those who laid him to rest. May the Lord bless each and every one in the prayer of his children,

Mrs. N. E. Brown, Mr. George W. Lane, Mrs. Maude Dinkins, Mrs. S. V. Farris, Mrs. V. J. Bartlett, Mrs. Andrew Looney, Mrs. Bert Lane, Mr. Benton Lane.

Mrs. R. I. Cook, of the Johnson community, spent Monday with Mrs. Hale.

Jack Toone, from Dallas, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Toone Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Gladys McSpadden, who has charge of the King's Jewelry Store in Lubbock, is reported to have typhoid fever. Mr. and Mrs. H. W. McSpadden and Mrs. Flem McSpadden visited her Saturday and Monday.

Mrs. Ray Schmidt of Lone Wolf, Oklahoma, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. McSpadden. Some of the schools have dismissed ed for several weeks in order that the school children may pick cotton. Among them are Union and Forester.

Messrs and Mesdames Joe. J. McGowan and Mon Telford were Amarillo visitors last of last week.

P. T. A. HAS FIRST MEETING

On last Thursday, Sept. 28th, the Brownfield Parent-Teacher Ass'n held its first regular meeting at the high school building. The second Thursday of each month was voted on as the regular meeting night.

The program was rendered as follows:

1. Chorus—Junior High School Glee Club.

2. Piano solo—Miss Mary Louis Gamel.

3. Talk—The Aims and Objects of This Organization—Mrs. Tom Cobb.

4. Plans for the Year—The President, Mrs. Moore.

5. Business. Committees for the year were appointed as follows:

Program committee, Mrs. L. J. Dunn, Mrs. W. H. Dallas, Miss Gertrude Rasco; Membership committee, Mrs. W. M. Adams, Mrs. Orian Dennis, Mrs. Gore; Social committee, Mrs. Ed Shelton, Mrs. Faye Martin, Mrs. Sam Murphy; Finance committee, Mrs. Carpenter, Mrs. Flem McSpadden, Mrs. H. G. Lees; Publicity committee, Mrs. Stricklin, and Mrs. Penn, reporter.

It is earnestly urged that more parents attend the meetings of the P. T. A. this year, and to do their part in helping make the year a success.

Quite a number of Brownfield people attended the Lubbock fair on each day this week. Wednesday was free day for all school children and the high school rooms here looked very empty, according to teachers.

Miss Wynona Burnett has returned home after a two weeks visit with friends in Abilene.

R. W. Rambo returned home this week after spending the summer at Hereford.
