

Legionnaires Go to Snyder November 4-5

A program that includes such notables as Lieut.-Gov. Edgar E. Witt, and entertainment that includes football, boxing, horse racing, dancing and feeds, has already been arranged for the 18th district American Legion convention, which convenes in Snyder November 4 and 5.

Although Snyder is the smallest city that has ever entertained the veterans of this prodigious district, commander Lee T. Stinson and other members of the local post declare that it will be one of the heftiest sessions on the records. All Snyder is making plans to parade, to decorate, to entertain and to perform in order that her guests might go home pleased.

Among Legion notables who are making plans to be present for the two-day session are: L. Van Perkins of Cameron, department commander; George E. Hughes of Austin, department adjutant; A. Garland Adair of McCamey, department historian; Geo. E. Broome of Amarillo, alternate national committeeman; M. J. Benfield of Brady, fifth division commander; G. O. Spear of Childress, 18th District executive committeeman.

Six Fords Win in Endurance Contest

Six Ford V-8 cars piloted by Dutch drivers triumphed conclusively over five European and two other American entrants in the fifth annual running of the grueling 5-day International Alpine Trail over 1,165 miles of Swiss, Italian and French mountain roads, according to official reports of the race received here.

Three of the winning Fords driven by a Dutch team captained by Dr. J. J. Sprenger van Eyck captured the coveted Coupe des Alps, while the three other Fords won the first three places in the individual competition for the Coupe des Glaciers. The first two tied for first place with the best score of any of the dozens of contestants in the five classes competing.

The annual Alpine contest is probably the most severe test of motor car endurance and performance conducted in Europe. It is open only to stock cars as sold to the public. Its route from Merano, via St. Moritz, Turin and Grenoble to Nice, includes the ascent and descent of 12 major passes, with steep winding roads, scores of dangerous "hair-pin" turns and a never ending variety of road surfaces, which test alike the stamina of the cars and the skill of the drivers.

New Presbyterian Minister Here Sunday

The Herald has been authorized to announce that Rev. E. C. Lambert, Presbyterian minister of Snyder, Texas, will fill the pulpit at the local Presbyterian church both morning and night this coming Sunday.

It is our understanding that Rev. Lambert comes with the probability of locating here as pastor. You are cordially invited to hear him.

According to dispatches from Washington, Monday, all towns under 2500 have been withdrawn from the NRA code, which will of course include Brownfield. It does not exempt chain stores that have stores in other towns under the code. The change was made under protest from farmers and small town merchants.

Baptists to Celebrate 100th Anniversary

The Baptist General Convention of Texas which will hold its eighty-fifth annual session at Fort Worth beginning November 7th, will this year celebrate the one hundredth anniversary of the beginning of Baptist work in Texas. The Convention program will give large space to "Our Century of Progress," and will present the story of the first Baptist organization in Texas. This church was organized in Illinois and moved to Texas as a unit, crossing the Sabine River in November 1833.

Dr. J. Howard Williams, General Secretary of the Convention, announces that Texas Baptists will celebrate their "Century of Progress" with a great Mission Offering amounting to $134,000.00. Some $50,000.00 of this fund has already been paid in, and Dr. Williams expressed himself as being very hopeful that Texas Baptists would raise the remaining $85,000.00 within the next two weeks.

During this fall Texas Baptists have held 107 Associational meetings all over Texas, with a record attendance in almost every instance, demonstrating the progress of the past century. When the first organized group of Baptists came into Texas one hundred years ago, there were less than fifty Baptists in the State. At this time there are more than five hundred thousand white Baptists, and a total of more than a million of all races according to Dr. Williams.

At the Fort Worth meeting, representatives from the various mission fields will speak for the work Baptists are doing there, and the Convention will receive reports from the work of Baptists all over the world. More than five thousand visitors are expected to attend the convention.

Most Beautiful Fall For Gathering Crops

If last fall had been what this one has been so far, Terry county would have produced several thousand bales more cotton than she did, and there would have been at least 4,000 bales less bollie cotton than there was. A lot of the late cotton that was on sogging wet land all the late summer and fall, which kept it green and growing, would have stopped putting on top crops and would have matured what it had on it. But why cry over spilled milk? Last year has passed and gone beyond recall.

We are, therefore, talking about this present one. How ideal it has been for the farmer. Yea, for the lover of nature—nature in all her loveliness. Weather in all her brilliancy. Flowers trying to outdo each other in riotousness of coloring, in symmetry, and in the very hugeness of their size. Who would wish for a visit to California or Florida this fall. Look at the trees! While there has only been a touch of frost in the air, none has been seen. Yet, the leaves present every varying color. The pigments in the dark green leaves of summer have been touched by the pen of the Great Painter, and they are turning to all the gay colors, to later on turn loose of their old bough and sail through the air for their final winter resting place. And we started to say to be lifted and sifted by the sandstorms next spring—but let's forget that.

But, Bud, we'll bet you a doughnut to a cup of coffee that you have not heard one farmer whimper about the weather this fall, and we'll make this prediction: If this ideal weather will just hang on three more weeks, there will be mighty few bollie bales of cotton brought in, and the maize and other small grain row crops will all be bright and salable.

ROOSEVELTS WILL VOTE BY ABSENTEE BALLOTS

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Oct. 21.—For the first time in many years, President Roosevelt will not vote in person at his usual Hyde Park polling place on election day, Nov. 7.

Giving "duties in Washington" as the reason for inability to vote in person, the applications of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt for absentee ballots were received today by the Dutchess County board of elections here.

About the Typhoid Situation in Brownfield

There is only a few new cases of typhoid in the city this week, we learn, about three or four to be exact, and others are gradually recovering. Not a case so far has been lost. Some of the physicians, however, are reporting that cases are showing up in various parts of the county, which are believed to be carried by flies, perhaps, that get in cars here in town. The first few cases here in town developed in houses that were not screened.

Dr. M. E. Jacobson, city health officer reports that he had had a conversation with the Department of Health at Austin, and that they reported to him over the phone that the water here was alright and free of typhoid germs. Also, they reported that the milk that they submitted was all right, but advised him to keep up work on the milk situation, especially the handlers, their premises, to see if the trouble can be located.

In the meantime, scores have been inoculated, and especially those who have been around typhoid cases or are near them, and it is believed that the situation will soon be under control.

Brownfield Legalizes Beer by Decisive Vote

The people of Brownfield 227 strong, perhaps 90 per cent of the qualified voters, marched to the polls here Tuesday to say whether or not 3.2 beer could be sold in the city legally. The unofficial count, as given by the election judges, was for sale of beer, 145, against sale of beer 82. Messrs. W. E. Legg, Raymond Simms, G. C. Ashenbeck and Mrs. J. E. Shelton, held the election. To illustrate just how many people are not qualified voters this year, one person informed us that there was one business block in Brownfield that only had two qualified voters in it, and 16 men not qualified. This same informant says that all of these 16 men would have voted to legalize beer if they could have voted.

We are unable at this time to inform the readers whether any one has made application to dispense the amber fluid or not, nor when it will start.

Sheriff Smith Warns About Tail Lights

The highway man was here this week and gave orders for me to at once issue warnings to people with trailers and wagons to get tail lights or reflectors on them at once, if they travel the highways at night. I am also ordered to fine all who are caught without them when this warning goes out.

Again I would warn the people of Brownfield and Terry county to be sure that they do not leave their keys in the car at night. This week another car was stolen here in Brownfield from a man who left his key in his car, and unlike the other one, it was not merely drove out a few miles and stripped, but was carried away and I have not trace of it up to this time.

I hope the people heed these warnings without the necessity of imposing fines.

Sacred Harp Singers To Tahoka Sunday

According to W. P. Elmore of west Terry, president of the South Plains Harp Singers, the convention will meet at the court house at Tahoka this coming Sunday, which is the 5th Sunday, for and all day singing.

Some of the best singers of this section, who have specialized in the old Sacred Harp book, will be there, and the music lovers of Tahoka have promised them a good time.

Did the Preacher Really Tell the Truth?

There appeared in last week's issue of the Terry County Herald quite a lengthy article, which was re-echoed from a well known publication under the title, "One Preacher tells the truth." The tenor of the article was that the preachers of this country had harped on prohibition instead of preaching the gospel, until the people of the country had revolted against such agitation, and that the country had now gone wet as a result of too much preacherdom. Now, this charge is clearly false and without foundation. The plain truth of the matter is, that when the 18th amendment was written into the constitution, the leaders of righteousness felt that we had won a great victory, breathed a sign of relief, folded our arms and said nothing further about prohibition. But the wets have kept up a constant steam of false propaganda against prohibition by paid advertisements and otherwise, criticizing rum-runners and charging that prohibition was a failure, until some good people thought we had as well have the rum shops as to have it like it was.

I lay it at the bar of your conscience that you have not heard your pastor preach half a dozen sermons in the last fifteen years on the evils of intemperance, the blasting, damning effects of the rum shops. As a result of the sinful silence of the preachers on this awful question, the states on the American union have one after the other joined the wets of this country on their march to hell, and the country has lapsed backward, morally speaking, 50 years in the last six months. Church goeskers know this is the truth.

Here I raise this question: whence comes this unholy question against the Lord's preachers? Are the preachers such bad citizens that they should all be branded as a bunch of wholesale crooks and agitators? Or, has it come to the pass that preachers are no longer considered American citizens with the right of self-expression. That there is an agitation against preachers cannot be called in question. Whence did it come? It came from two sources chiefly, to-wit:

(First) The communist idea, which was conceived by the devil, hatched out in hell and is being tried out in Russia today. Stated tersely, "we raise pigs, not preachers." In other words, down with the church, down with Christ, down with the preachers, up with free love, up with the devil, and all that is rotten. This Communist idea is spreading over this country in a dangerous degree. Communist clubs are being organized in nearly every large city of this fair country of ours. Advocates of this idea know that every preacher is for the home and church, therefore they say down with the preacher.

(Secondly) The brewers of this country are against the preachers, because they know that the most ardent foe that they have on this earth are the preachers. They know that it is the influence of the preachers and the good mothers of this country that knocked John Barleycorn out for a count of 15 years, during which time this country reached its highest prosperity from 1917 to 1928. Think it over. They know, moreover, that every preacher who is worth his salt will take his stand against their rotten rum shops and places where 3.2 is sold from here on out. So they are trying to discredit the preacher and religious leaders in the minds of the people. If they can do that then they will have unhindered sway for another hundred years in this country. And a lot of good men are either going to be silent about the matter or put on the soft peddle, which is worse. I cannot speak for my fellow preachers. I do not know what path they will pursue. But I, who am the least and the weakest among them, am here to say that I have never taken orders from the devil nor any of hisimps. I will fight the rum shops and their friends till the bad place freezes over, and then fight them on the ice. I ask no quarters nor will I give any.

Brother, preacher, the brewers expect us to fight their dirty business, that is why they have initiated the fight against preachers. We should not disappoint them. We should do it for the sake of the homes, schools and churches of this country. The dear Lord never promised us an easy time. He said: "In the world you will have tribulations." Remember that Zedekiah imprisoned Jeremiah for preaching against the social evils of his day. John the Baptist was beheaded because he pointed his finger in the face of old King Herod and

Weekly Cotton Grade And Staple Report

The proportion of Spotted and Yellow Tinged cotton in District 2, the High Plains, declined this week; likewise, there was a decline in the cotton classed as Extra White Strict Middling and better from that area. Cotton classed as White Strict Middling and better increased in that section. Cotton shorter than 7-8 inch made up a smaller proportion of this week's classing than was found last week. The proportion of cotton 15-16 inch or longer increased in District 2. Ninety-two per cent of the cotton from that area was tenderable on futures contracts.

CORRECTION: In last week's release it was stated that there was an increase in untenderable cotton in District 2, the High Plains; whereas, there was a decline of approximately 10 per cent last week compared with the preceding week.

Farmer Acquitted Of Slaying Youth

Lubbock, Oct. 22.—Vert A. Readhimer, 27, Deaf Smith County farmer, was acquitted of the slaying of Stokes Campbell, 19, Floydada high school student, on a street in Floydada last April 6, by a jury in District Court here last night.

Reaching a verdict after less than two hours' deliberation, the jury returned its decision to Judge Clark M. Mullican at 8:25 p. m.

The defendant, his father, J. R. Readhimer, who is also to be tried for the youth's slaying; the defendant's wife and other members of his family were present when the verdict was read. The father immediately went to the jury box after the jurors had been excused by the court and shook hands, followed by the defendant and other relatives.

told him that he was living in wrong relationship to his brother, Phillip's, wife, thereby sinning against society. Paul the Apostle was imprisoned for preaching "temperance, righteousness and a judgement to come. John Bunyan was imprisoned in Bedford's jail for 12 long years for the crime of preaching the gospel. Patrick Henry walked 40 miles from Hanover to Fredricksburg to defend two imprisoned Baptist preachers 100 years ago. John Carney was imprisoned in the city of Waco in 1911 for preaching the gospel of temperance in the streets of that city. Thus it has ever been. The world has never rightly appreciated the Lord's preachers. But let us not be weary in well doing for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not. Misunderstanding and even persecution is the price the preacher must pay in order to be able to tell living men how they must live if they are to live worthily and die triumphantly. It is the price we must pay if we are to be able to tell dying men that the blood of our Christ is adequate to cleanse the deepest stains of human guilt. This world sneers at us while things go well, but when trouble comes, the preacher is considered a necessary evil then. We are happy to be of some service even if it is in time of trouble.

Last week, when Gus Winkler, who was the overlord of the underworld, in the city of Chicago, fell mortally wounded, he was rushed to a hospital and died in 40 minutes; he died calling for water and a preacher. Yes, poor Gus fell with his hand on the door knob of a beer depot, with 111 slugs of iron and lead in his body, and he did not call for beer in the dying hour but for water; neither did he call for one of his pals of the underworld to give him comfort, but he called for a preacher. Had Gus drunk water, not beer, while he lived, and had he counseled with preachers while in good health, he would, no doubt have been a living, useful citizen today. But he ran with the devil's gang while he lived and died at the hands of those he considered his friends. Today his mangled body sleeps in a silver casket costing ten thousand dollars, bought with the money he had stolen, and his spirit has gone to that land where flowers do not bloom, and where the songs of saints will never be heard, where no water can ever be had, and where the voice of God's preachers will be heard no more forevermore.

A Danger Spot in Any One's Community

There is an interesting editorial in a recent issue of the Tri-State Tribune, Picher, Oklahoma.

It talks about a matter which rarely concerns the minds of the average citizen—the fire hose which is so important to the protection of the property and lives of himself and his neighbors. Just before the editorial was written there was a fire which threatened the entire business section of the city. The fire department did excellent work—but it was seriously hampered because it had but 600 feet of hose. One hundred feet of this was damaged beyond repair, leaving only 500 feet—one-third as much as it should have—for battling the next blaze that appears.

Poor and inadequate fire hose, broken down and inferior fire engines, poorly trained departments, faulty water supplies—one wonders how many lives and how many dollars these things have consumed. The problem presented is especially timely now—during the depression communities have cut fire departments appropriations to the bone, leaving the public safety menaced. One need only read the statistics concerning sales of standard fire engines to appreciate this. They have been at an alarmingly low point—thousands of engines which would normally have been replaced or rebuilt are in service today.

Fire department modernization is made possible, along with other public works, in the great federal public works bill. There is no better place to spend money—there is nothing that will bring the taxpayer a greater return for his outlay. This is the time to put the fire department in the best possible shape.

Both of the Chapmans called last week to renew, T. L. and J. R. We regret very much to report that the latter is to leave us as soon as he finishes gathering, returning to his old place in Van Zandt county, which he has never sold. J. Sleeping Sickness Among Stock at Spur

There is quite an outbreak of the malady known as "sleeping sickness" among horses and mules, more especially among horses, mules being only slightly susceptible. Low lands where stagnant water is found, that is, ideal places for mosquitoes, the disease is more prevalent. That being the case, it is evident that mosquito control should be practiced, as mosquitoes and flies are carriers of the germ. The disease is spread from one animal to another by mosquitoes and flies; therefore, it is necessary to use a fly spray, which may be made from the following formula: one-half pound fish oil soap dissolved in soft water, and bringing to a boiling point, stir this soap solution into two gallons of crude oil, and mix thoroughly. For spraying, mix one quart of the above solution and one teaspoonful of "Black Leaf 40" with one gallon of water. Stagnant ponds, cisterns and other still waters should have an application of kerosene to control mosquitoes. Well horses and mules should be sprayed daily, sick ones four or five times daily. — Spur Times.

PRICES ADVANCE WITH NEW PROGRAM AS DOLLAR DROPS

New York, Oct. 23.—Stocks and commodities surged upward and the dollar declined, as financial markets endeavored to adjust themselves today to President Roosevelt's plan of establishing a government controlled gold market.

While financial quarters awaited anxiously for an elaboration of the plan, it was widely assumed that the program of fixing the price of gold would be used to advance the price, thus depreciating the gold value of the dollar, and boosting commodity prices.

RFC MILLIONS TO HELP NON-MEMBER BANKS

He established a special division of cooperation in the RFC and designated Harvey Couch, a director to head the agency with authority to purchase preferred stock in state banks which need a lengthening of their capital structure.

Talking about temperance, there seems to be some folks who forget that people can be intemperate in speech and writing just the same as in eating or drinking. It is a good plan to read the 3rd chapter of James at least once a month.

Well, if this paper don't satisfy you, dear reader, just lay it to the fact that we have been undergoing for the past two weeks, three heavy shots of typhoid serum. Was we a "sick woman?" Just ask any of the neighbors—they heard all our groans of agony. If the disease is any worse than the preventive, pity the poor patient.

We don't often agree with the musings of that old dry apostle, Dr. J. B. Cranfill, of Dallas, but once in awhile he gets off something really rich. His latest is that "we are so well coded here in America now that about the only liberty of choice left to the housewife is the size and thickness of the diaper."

A real good piece of legislation turned out by the called session was the one forbidding the asking of an applicant for a position on the faculty of schools about his religious affiliations. The NRA has done some good at least when advertising was banned from "phone directories and calendars." Some one here who sent in a report of the beer election to the Lubbock dailies this week so worded the message that it would leave the impression that 3.2 beer was being bootlegged here by the case already. It is true perhaps, that beer was being brought here by the case, but it was delivered to those who previously signed an order and sent their money to Littlefield or Big Spring for it, which is entirely legal. Just to keep the record straight.

AN INVENTORY OF TEXAS

Once a year Texas checks up on herself. We call inventory time and place the State Fair. We have no better medium of measuring the progress and visualizing the achievement of the commonwealth. The gates that were thrown wide Saturday are more than simply portals to an annual exposition. They are the open sesame to the secret of what makes Texas and for whom.

Texas comes to the fair—not simply this section or that. You will find practically every stratum of society from every portion of the State represented. The truth is that many people go to the fair to see Texas. The State is so large, and covering it at large is so impossible, that the next best thing is to come to the fair.

Merchants can tell better what business conditions are like. There, manufacturers get hints of the trends in the taste of the great masses. Artists find an outlet for the expression there of their work where the cross-currents of diverse cultures meet and mingle. There is nothing else quite like it anywhere in Texas or beyond its borders.—Dallas News.

Two of Wink's dry goods store are having sales this week, so I see on the sidewalks of Wink, as that is where they are doing their advertising. Their windows are full of circulars, and before you go too far dear reader, these two stores had their circulars printed in far off cities, Dallas or Fort Worth and El Paso. That is the appreciation they show of your patronage of the home town stores. The Wink Times-Herald has for several years, been preaching the gospel of trade at home, but we see now that we are nothing less than a Democratic emblem, and these merchants are willing to beat ours down for the sake of saving a very few dollars, on the price of circulars, and they do not seem to realize that a newspaper is considered by GOOD business men the best place to advertise. We would advise you to spend your money with people who advertise in the local newspaper, for that kind of business man is a loyal citizen, and knows what it takes to build a town.—Wink Times-Herald.

OUR 23 YEAR COLUMN RED GOOSE—THE OJIBWA INDIAN BOY

An Indian Story for Boys and Girls
By Carlyle Emery

SCARLET PELICAN
Episode No. 50

In our issue of Oct 27, 1910, we note that J. T. Gainer, was elected President of the Fair Association; W. D. Winn, Vice-President; T. M. Biles, Secretary; W. H. Black, Treasurer; W. H. Gist, General Manager. The directors were: Dr. Maddux, W. H. Gist, W. B. Snodgrass, Booth Hayes, S. A. Shepherd, Walter Groves, John Burnett, Wm. Howard, Tom Taylor, R. W. Glover, Sam Funderburk, J. C. Lewis, N. N. Ross, I. H. Hudson, Bill Fulton, E. A. White, Bob Snodgrass, Bart McPherson, H. F. Adams, and Jack Stricklin. There was much being said and written about the Texas Industrial Congress at that time, which perhaps was the forerunner of our present regional chambers of commerce. Nothing of interest on the editorial page, so will skip to local mentions.

A small snow was reported. Uncle Joe Fisher was drilling in some rye. Grand jury was grinding away. Tom Ivey, T4 boss, had his paper changed to Blythe (now Seagraves). Sam Arnett was thru on his way to Seminole. Dee Flint and Doc Clements were Lubbock visitors. Mat McPherson was here buying mules. J. R. Hill was in the market for hides. District Judge Kinder, Dist. Atty. Penry and the court reporter were killing rabbits on the Arnett ranch while the grand jury found something for them to do. The ladies enjoyed an old fashioned quilting at the home of Mrs. C. S. Cardwell. As the next Tuesday was election day, Judge Geo. W. Neill had asked that jurors for county court not come until Wed. E. E. Proctor of Yoakum county was over on business. T. J. Price said he had some mighty fine molasses two years old (yes, yes, T. J. used to have a mighty yarn about 'lasses he pulled on young married folks). Presiding Elder Hardy was holding fourth quarterly conference here. William Forrester from Snyder visiting his father of this county. John W. Cone of Yoakum, was shaking hands here. Marshall Kendrick, cashier of the Plains State Bank, was here attending court. Harry Braidfoot traded his little white Ford to Geo. McWhorter for a good quarter section of land. Brit Claire had his name added to the list of readers, and reported the arrival of a fine girl. A. N. Proctor of Avoca, and brother-in-law, R. A. Davidson of Fisher county, were here on legal business. Sheriff Lum Hudson of Yoakum county, passed thru on his way to Tahoka. Chas. Moore and Miss Neelie Bridges, both of Gomez, were married the Sunday afternoon before. J. T. May purchased the Judge Copeland residence in west Brownfield. M. D. Williams was peddling roasting ears, pork, 'taters (sweet ones), tomatoes (green ones), peppers (hot ones). A. Shroyer, a professional trapper in southeast Terry had landed his first lobo wolf, and Mr. M. V. Brownfield and other cattlemen, including the T— and Singleton, had donated $100.

John C. Shaffer, editor of the Chicago Evening Post, had to resign as president of the Chicago Press Club, as he was promoting an airplane race from Chicago to New York. The Appellate court held that the election of 1907 in Potter county was void, and that Amarillo was wet. A new paper had made its appearance at Andrews by Editor Smith, formerly of the Shafter Lake Herald. A ten cent tax had been put on oleomargarine. A new paper, the Enterprise, was being established in Lubbock by H. B. and Claude Adams of Sweetwater. There was at that time 240 organized counties in Texas, the unorganized were Bailey, Cochran, Crane,

Red Goose and his father saved the life of Alvin Carter by rescuing him from Michael, an outlaw who tried to steal Alvin's money belt. Alvin left for Fort Snowden several days later, but promised to come back for a visit soon. Now go on with the story.

Every summer, the Ojibwa Tribe would pack up a few buffalo robes and a little food and set out to the Northwest to hunt buffaloes and other animals. They called this trip the Summer Wandering, and the only people they'd leave behind would be the old folks who couldn't travel any more, and the children who were too little to stand the trip. One day, when such an expedition was taking the tribe close to the Black Hills, Little Beaver came riding up beside Red Goose on her pony and said:

"May Little Beaver ride here for awhile?"

"Yes, Red Goose glad to ride with Little Beaver."

There was a note of wistfulness in the little Indian girl's voice as she spoke, but Red Goose shook his head slowly. Hunting is work for man," he said.

"But Little Beaver likes to hunt." Red Goose rode on silently for a few minutes. Then he gave in.

"All right. Little Beaver can hunt for squirrel with Red Goose this morning. We will leave rest of party soon. Best hunting is in morning before sun is hot."

This pleased Little Beaver more than you can imagine. She thanked Red Goose first, and then rode back to get some food for their little side trip. In no time, she was back, and soon she and Red Goose were on their way for a little hunting expedition of their own.

"How will we find way back?" asked Little Beaver, as they drew further and further away from the other members of the tribe.

"That easy," replied her comrade. "This party leaves big trail to follow?"

The morning sun was shining brighter, the birds were flying gaily through the trees almost as if playing tag with each other. Now and then a frisky squirrel would stand up on his haunches for a minute and then go chattering from tree to tree, just thoroughly happy to be alive and free.

Was it any wonder that Red Goose and Little Beaver were happy, too, trotted along on their ponies, enjoying every minute of their ride together, and then quick as a flash Red Goose brought up his rifle and shot at a wild rabbit that appeared over to the right.

But Mr. Rabbit was too fast and away he scampered with a whisk of his hobbled tail and a twist of his funny whiskers.

"Too bad rabbit get away," Little Beaver said this with real disappointment.

"Something frighten rabbit. Something else around here," replied Red Goose seriously.

ENDORSEMENT OF CO-OP PLAN TO RESTORE PRICE IS GIVEN

Dallas, Oct. 23.—Endorsement of the American Cotton Co-operative association's plan to restore the pre-war exchange value of cotton at the price of 15 cents a pound was given here today by a group of publishers and editors of agricultural publications.

The plan was drawn up a few days ago in New Orleans and has for its purpose to arouse commercial organizations, banks, civic organizations, the daily, weekly and farm press of the south, and all representatives in congress from the cotton belt to bring about prompt action by the agricultural adjustment administration to restore the cotton farmer's buying power.

Cecil Shaw was in this week and informed us that his wife, who is now at the sanitarium at Carlsbad, Texas, is doing fine, and has gained several pounds in the last few weeks.

J. A. Johnson and Mr. Northcutt of the Lou community, were in Tuesday on business.

HIGH SCHOOL ENROLLMENT SHOWS INCREASE

The present enrollment is 166. The total enrollment last year was 160. There were 80 girls and 80 boys enrolled last year. At the present time there are 92 girls and 74 boys enrolled.

Enrollment from other schools in the county: Forrester, 7; Johnson, 2; Lahey, 2; Wellman, 3; Tokio, 4; Pool, 1; Union, 4; Hunter, 2.

B. H. S. boasts quite a number of new students this year. There is a larger number than there has been in the past several years. Pupils are enrolled from almost every school in the county and some from other cities over the state. There are two out-of-state pupils.

Below are listed the new pupils with the names of the schools from which they have come.

It seems that Forrester has the largest per cent of pupils entered here, with Union coming next. B.H.S. is glad to have all these new pupils, and to welcome them into its school life. The school also welcomes the two new teachers, Mr. Wester and Mr. Daniel.

SENIORS MEET

The Senior Class of Brownfield High School met Friday afternoon, October 20. Their greatest sorrow, to most of them, was the report cards. You can never tell just how the seniors will take a calamity, but they have survived from this loss of points.

The class then elected a King and Queen for the Pep Squad Carnival which is to be held on Saturday night, October 28. The class plans is to put Esther Ruth Smith, the queen, and Woodrow Chambliss, the king, over in a big way. Hurray for the Senior King and Queen!

ROUND ABOUT BHS

I guess all of you heard how the football game came out Saturday? If you didn't I guess you're just that much better off. It was really a swell game—oh yeah!

It seems that the sophomore English class is going to be divided again because a few of us are just a shade slow. Tish! tish! This will never do. Come on Sophs—get going!

Lamesa seems to think they will have a walkover on Brownfield this year, since they have managed to get a few of our men ineligible. Maybe they will get fooled. Let's hope so.

The finer that are due the library amount up to real money. Maybe now we can have some new books. We sure do need them. Of course the ones we have are good, but we need new and better ones. But first we must collect the fines.

BROWNFIELD NOSES OUT SEMINOLE 2 TO 0.

The Seminole Indians came to Brownfield Saturday and showed much fight, but were nosed out by the Cubs with a score of 2 to 0.

In the first quarter, the Indians got started and ran through the Cubs to the 3 yard line, but were stopped there. There was no scoring by either side until the last quarter. The Indians were on their own one yard line, and J. D. Stewart blocked a punt and covered it out of the end zone. This gave the Cubs a safety. The game ended with the score 2 to 0. The Indians outplayed the Cubs through the game, and showed more hustle than the Cubs.

The Cubs meet the Lamesa Tornados at Lamesa Friday, Oct 27th. At that time it is hoped by the local boosters that the Cubs will show better fight.

Oh, yes, and by the way. If some of our football boys don't stop keeping such late hours they will ruin a good squad. You know to whom I refer. Some of you about half way ruined a game for us last Saturday—in case you don't already know it.—Dame Rumor.

MISS PEARL KETNER MARRIES SAM PRICE

Miss Pearl Ketner and Mr. Sam Price were happily married in the home of the Methodist pastor, Rev. H. C. Smith, Saturday night. In addition to members of the pastor's family, Miss Mary Squires and Judge and Mrs. W. E. Smith and little daughter were witnesses to the affair.

The bride is the daughter of J. E. Ketner and has been reared in Tahoka. The groom resided in Brownfield until a few weeks ago, when he accepted a position with the Phillips Service Station here. The will continue to make Tahoka their home.

These are most excellent and popular young people and they have the best wishes of numerous friends here and at Brownfield.—Tahoka News.

Two boys in the Treadaway hospital are recovering from ruptured appendages, one a Terry county boy and the other a Tahoka boy; a lady from Seagraves with a minor operation, one case of typhoid brought in from the country, and a fifth patient for treatment.

HELD FOR BURGLARY OF POSTOFFICE AT MEADOW

Andrew H. Nelson, 24-year-old ex-convict and son of the Meadow postmaster yesterday was charged before United States Commissioner Victor H. Lindsey, of burglary of Meadow postoffice August 22.

Nelson, arrested in Abilene, was returned to Terry county a week ago today by Sheriff Jess Smith of Brownfield. Sheriff Tom Abel, who said Nelson was wanted for automobile theft in Lubbock county and in Roswell, N. M., said Nelson possibly would be brought here today.

$200 in Loot Taken

Loot estimated at more than $200 was taken from the postoffice. A postoffice inspector, who filed the charge, said Nelson had confessed. A Meadow drug store and a service station were burglarized the same night.

Sheriff Abel said Nelson was a suspect in connection with passing of forged checks here and in Slaton. Nelson served a sentence for forgery.—Lubbock Avalanche.

Mrs. Jake Young of Estancia, N. M., was here Tuesday, the guest of her friend, Mrs. E. L. Treadaway. The Young family once resided here.

Mrs. Jake Hall of Tahoka is visiting relatives and friends here this week.
