MONDAY IS TRADESDAY AND WE ARE LOOKING FOR THE BIGGEST CROWD WE HAVE EVER HAD

Some Fine Crops in The Sudan Section

Sunday, the weather was so pretty that the editor and family decided that they would visit the wife's brother, Cleve Holden and family at Sudan before winter and bad weather stopped easy travel. We left early, just after the sun peeped up, and as a consequence, had a good view of one of the plainest mirages that we have ever seen. Slaton could easily be seen, and a dim outline of Lubbock could be discerned in the northeast. To the west, one could apparently look clear across half of Terry and all of Yoakum, into New Mexico. Usually, even Gomez, five miles off appears to be behind a hill, and cannot be seen only when there is a mirage on.

We of course found poor crops in north Terry and some of Hockley county, but there has been a wonderful improvement in Hockley county crops in the past three months. We saw a few binders running in order to cut the huge acreages of row crops that are apparently everywhere along the route. And just here a tip to the hunters: The lakes are full of ducks with a few geese on the side. We did not go to Amherst as we were told the highway was plowed up, but the crops are good south of that city. We turned west before reaching Amherst and came into Sudan from the south.

The crops around Sudan both cotton and feed are fine, and that is a busy little city even on Sunday, as 3.2 beer is dispensed there. However, they informed us that the people there were not hog wild over it, and personally we saw little drinking of it. We were back home slightly after sundown, having had a fine lot to eat, no car trouble and a fine visit with the kindred.

Operation Association Is Organized Here

The newest thing to be organized and put into operation here is a mutual association, to be known as the Terry County Operation Association. The aim of this association is to pay the surgeon who operates on one of its members the sum of $150. Minimum dues are then collected to take care of the next member to undergo an operation.

Mr. W. T. Macon, of Ralls, Texas, was here this week helping local people to get the organization to going. They already have an association in fine working order in Crosby county and are organizing another in Jones county. The honorary officers of the local association are, S. H. Holgate, President; Tom May, Vice-President; and the directors are, Clyde Coleman, Dr. M. C. Bell, and Jim Miller. Mrs. J. F. Winston is the secretary-treasurer, and we understand will be on a small salary, as she will have all the business of the association to look after. The other officials will serve without pay.

The printing of the application blanks and policies are now in the hands of the Herald job department, and as soon as they are completed, will be turned over to the solicitors to begin work of recruiting members. Mr. Macon will be back Saturday to help start the work.

S. L. McDonald, manager of the Farmers Gin, has been giving the Herald a lot of job printing of late. We want the Farmers Co-operative Society No. 1, to know that the Herald certainly appreciates this business, and if at any time, the work is not just what it should be, just say so and we'll make it right.

We thank our old friend, H. W. McSpadden for his renewal.

J. C. Bond, the man that gets our dailies over from Post early each morning, handed us his renewal the past week.

A. E. Hutchison and family are entitled to a pass to the Rialto Theatre to see "Sunset Pass" Be sure to present this clipping at the box office at the Rialto Theatre. Compliment: Rialto-Herald

Terry County Suspect Escapes From the Jail

Emmett Roberts, 30-year-old burglary suspect, sawed out of his cell in the Terry county jail and escaped from the third floor of the courthouse on a blanket-roped early Saturday.

The fugitive had not been apprehended late Monday, said Sheriff Jess Smith. The escape was discovered at 7 a. m., but inmates of the jail said Roberts fled between 2 and 3 a. m.

Charged in Burglary
Roberts, whom Sheriff Smith said appeared to be younger than 30 years, was charged with burglary of a residence in the north part of the county. He had been in jail about 12 days. Another prisoner, held on a misdemeanor charge, remained in the jail, on the third floor of the courthouse.

Sheriff Smith said the suspect sawed through bars of his cell, tunneled through the plaster and heavy wire of the ceiling, entered the jail lobby, and left through an unbarred window in the lobby.

Roberts was described as weighing about 150 pounds and having fair hair and complexion. He was dressed in light gray trousers and a black slip-on sweater, with a small stripe around the waist.

Right of Way Being Cleared For No. 137

We understand that Dee Hunter has been requested to move his home a few feet in order to give more room for the grading and building of Highway No. 137 through the city. Also that some fence through the city limits are to be set back some in order to give a full 80 feet right of way as is required by the State Highway Department inside the incorporated city limits. We learn that R. W. Glover, of Lorraine, formerly of this city, will be here this week to assist in moving the home of Mr. Hunter.

This looks good that work might be started in the next few weeks on grading and draining 137 from here to the Gaines county line this side of Seagraves. The highway is paved from here on to the Bankhead highway at O'dessa, which will give us a paved outlet that way almost anywhere. Then with paving to Lubbock, it will be about the same anywhere north.

But right now, the best part of the plan to us is to get men and boys to work in this county who have made no crops, and are in need of food and clothing for the winter.

Miss Kathleen Hardin was up from A. C. C. at Abilene over the week end with home folks. She is still making good grades. The president, Mr. Cox, wrote a fine letter about her to the old dad and mother.

Elder M. O. Daley left Monday for San Antonio, to visit his wife who has been down there for some time on account of high blood pressure.

W. J. Carter of route 2, is one of our valued new readers.

W. W. Newsom of the Union community finally got his plow-up check and didn't forget the Herald.

Miss Laura Jones, manager of the local telephone exchange, handed in the coin to keep the company paper coming.

N. R. Butcher was in recently to renew for the Herald and Dallas News, and informed us that some of his cotton was going around a bale per acre.

Dr. J. D. Moorhead of Meadow, was down this week and dropped in to see us for a few minutes. While he lost heavily in the bank up there and has had his store robbed, and on top of that they have very poor crops in that section, he was just about as happy as usual. And why not? Can he improve the matter by whining.

Brownfield Downed in First Conference Tilt

The Brownfield Cubs lost their first conference game, Friday Oct. 20, to the strong Lamesa Tornados, with a score of 25 to 0. The game was played at Lamesa.

The Tornados showed a strong offense and scored all through the game. The Cubs threatened only in the second quarter when J. D. Stewart blocked a punt and the ball went out on the 18 yard line. The Cubs, after running three plays lacked only one yard making first down with goal to go.

The Tornados scored in the first quarter after a pass to the 2 yard line. Gabel then went through for the first counter. They failed to kick the extra point. The teams then played on even grounds in the second quarter.

In the second quarter the Tornados, after a series of drives, went over for the second touchdown. Barry went around left end for the counter. The cubs were back on their own goal line in the last quarter and attempted to pass. The pass was blocked and Lamesa caught it. This gave the Tornados their third touchdown. Later in the same period Wilkes, a strong Tornado backfield man, passed to Gabel who went over for the last counter. They then dropped kicked the goal for the extra point. The game ended with a score of 25 to 0.

The next conference game will be with the Slaton Tigers at Slaton, Friday, Nov. 3. It will be a hard game and everyone should go and help the Cubs win. They are working out hard this week and expect to show a great improvement.

Non-Compliance of Code Should Be Reported

Complaints of non-compliance with an approved code of fair competition should be sent to Sherwood H. Avery, Compliance Director of North Texas and Oklahoma, whose offices are at Dallas, Texas, it was announced this week by Tom May, Chairman of the Terry County Compliance Board.

Special forms for filing complaints against violators of permanent codes has been furnished postmasters and local NRA Committees, Mr. May said. The use of these special forms was urged in order to assure prompt attention to the complaints.

Because of the increase of the number of approved codes, it was necessary that a regional code compliance system be established. Functions of the local compliance board will not be altered by Mr. Avery's appointment, Mr. May said, since the board will continue to handle compliance under the President's Reemployment Agreement and the Director deals with compliance under the permanent codes.

Compliance Boards have no authority to approve or enforce local codes or agreements fixing prices or regulating closing and opening hours, according to instructions received from Washington to Compliance Board Chairmen.

Mr. Tom May requested that citizens put a stop to false rumors and report to the Board complaints of violation of the President's Reemployment Agreement so that the proper action might be taken. "We are ready to investigate such complaints if people will report them to us. It is harmful to an honest and sincere employer who may be misinformed as to his duties, to have such rumors continue."

We are requested to announce that Elder J. W. West, of Anson, Primitive Baptist minister, will visit the local congregation and preach for them at the meeting place at the First Christian Church next Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 8-9, at 11 a. m., each day. You are cordially invited to hear him.

Miss Laura Jones, manager of the local telephone exchange, handed in the coin to keep the company paper coming.

N. R. Butcher was in recently to renew for the Herald and Dallas News, and informed us that some of his cotton was going around a bale per acre.

Dr. J. D. Moorhead of Meadow, was down this week and dropped in to see us for a few minutes. While he lost heavily in the bank up there and has had his store robbed, and on top of that they have very poor crops in that section, he was just about as happy as usual. And why not? Can he improve the matter by whining.

Miss Olga Fitzgerald, another typhoid patient, is reported improving.

Sam White was in this week to have a lot of magazines ordered for him, so that the family will have lots of winter reading matter.

It is reported here that Hon. John N. Thomas, our representative in the lower house of the legislature, will be a candidate to succeed himself.

Mr. and Mrs. Eunice Jones went to New Mexico last Sunday to Eunice's mother who has been visiting a daughter there for two or three weeks.

Timely Hints From The County Agent

By R. C. Reed, County Agent

Seven hundred seventy five checks for $165,686 have been received from the cotton plow-up campaign. This leaves one hundred-sixty checks for $33,854 yet to be received.

Cotton Options
Cotton option for 5920 bales of cotton with a value of approximately $118,400.00 will be distributed to Terry county farmers immediately after distribution of plow-up checks have been completed. Newspaper reports indicate that there is a move underway for the government to loan 10 cents per pound on this option. latest information reveals that these options are transferable by indorsement of producer.

Ten Cent Government Loan
The first ten cent per pound on the 1933 cotton crop was loaned last Tuesday. Mr. C. W. Switzer from the Union community was the lucky victim having received a loan in excess of $1250.00 on 23 bales of cotton which was made by K.B. McWilliams local manager of the Texas Cotton Co-op.

The local banks advise that they are ready to make necessary loans upon receipt of samples and compress receipts from the producers. T. I. Brown will handle grading of the cotton for the banks.

To obtain this loan the producers signs an agreement to reduce his 1934 planting or production 40% of the last five year average which includes the years from 1928 to 1932. The landlord must sign with the tenant in order to obtain this loan. Special emphasis is called to the fact that when the landlord signs this contract that his land is bound to the reduction agreement regardless of whether the same tenant remains on the place or not. The question that is asked several times daily is: Will this land be required to lie idle? My answer is no. The basis for my answer is the extension service has asked the County Agents to list a list of the three most important crops grown in the county that could be planted on the idle cotton acreage. Besides a meeting has been called for College Station of all County Agents from November 5 to 11th with special discussion slated for this question. Therefore I will not be found in the office next week but please do not think I have skipped the country with the remainder of the cotton plow-up checks. I hope to return with some first hand information on the new cotton plan.

The Pink Boll Worm Situation

Pink boll worms in rather abundant quantities have been found throughout the county. This is not a laughing matter nor a lot of hot air as I have made it a special point to investigate some of the gins where the trash is being put through the machinery especially prepared for this work. I have seen the pink boll worm extracted from the trash. Having spent several years in a pink boll worm quarantine area I will tell you it is no joke.

The process for the control of this worm has seen so many advancements that it will not work many hardships on our farmers. Requirements for the control are as follows: (1). Compressing of lint before leaving the county (2). Seed can only be shipped to certain designated mills which have installed machinery for their sterilization. (3). All planting seed must be fumigated before planting. This will be done at no cost to the producers. The machinery will be on wheels and carried from house to house under supervision of a government man. I do not think there is any cause for alarm provided every grower will cooperate to his fullest ability with the Federal authorities in charge of this work.

Robert George, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Box, sustained a broken leg while playing "see saw" at school Thursday morning. Health Officer, Dr. Bell, happened to be over from Brownfield and set the broken limb immediately.—Plains Review.

Games County Pioneer Dies After Mishap

Seagraves, Oct. 28.—A hit-run driver who left T. W. Sherrell, 54, dying on state highway 137 just north of town last night was being hunted throughout a wide area to night.

The motorist left no clues, said Sheriff Frank Kuykendall of Gaines county.

Buried Saturday
Mr. Sherrell, pioneer Gaines county resident and father of 9 children, was buried here this afternoon. Funeral services were conducted at 4 o'clock at the Methodist Episcopal church. He was the ninth South Plains automobile victim since Sept. 18.

J. B. McCullough and two companions, driving toward Brownfield, found Mr. Sherrell lying in the center of the highway, about a quarter of a mile north of town. The injured man gasped only a few times after he was found between 9 and 9:30 o'clock.

Deputy Is Called
Deputy Sheriff Walter Perry was called at once, but when he arrived Mr. Sherrell was dead.

Sherrell and Guy Black, Amarillo, had been to Loop Friday afternoon. Black, informed at Brownfield of the accident, said he had let Mr. Sherrell out of his car to go to the Sherrell home about a mile away. Black drove on to Brownfield.

Sheriff Kuykendall said Mr. Sherrell could not have walked more than 8 or 10 steps before he was struck by an automobile or a truck.

Mr. Sherrell was survived by his widow; five sons, Ray, T. J., Ralph, Joe, and Pete Sherrell; and four daughters, Mrs. Bernard Nash, Clarice, Maggie, and Aline Sherrell, all of Seagraves.

We are going to have church here next Sunday at 2:30 p. m. Bro. Horn of Meadow will have for his subject the National Recovery Act, and to those who do not understand the NRA, it would be worth their time to come and hear the sermon.

There will be Sunday school at 10:30 p. m. You are invited to come and help make it a better Sunday school.

TEXAS COWBOY'S BODY IS SENT HOME

New York, Oct. 28.—The body of Doc Lucas, 20-year-old cowboy, who was fatally injured at the Madison Square Garden Rodeo, was started toward his home at Belton, Texas, Saturday for burial.

Funeral services were held at the Garden at midnight Friday with Rev. Nathan A. Seagle, Episcopal rector, officiating.

The coffin was placed in the center of the arena not more than 25 feet from the spot in which Lucas was thrown from the bare back of a steer.

Lights were dimmed. Spotlights were played on the coffin. A quartet sang "The Last Roundup."

The cowboys and cowgirls filed past the bier on their horses, the cowboy band playing "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You."

"Hell Below" Long Awaited Cinema Event

Heralded as the most exciting marine picture ever filmed during the era of the talkies, "Hell Below," a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer gigantic panorama of submarine activities will have its first local showing Sunday at the Rialto, following its triumphant run at the Astor Theatre in New York.

With the aid of recently perfected underwater photography, the picture unveils an amazing series of episodes with battles between submarines and destroyers, undersea escapes from depth bombs, air raids and the blowing up of a fortress by means of a submarine loaded with TNT, furnishing a background for an intensely human story of a woman torn between loyalty to her husband and love for a naval lieutenant.

The picture based on Commander Edward Elsborg's book, "Pigboats," was filmed with the cooperation of the United States Navy at the submarine base at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, and was directed by Jack Conway. Its stellar cast is headed by Robert Montgomery as the naval lieutenant, who is precipitated into a series of horrifying adventures at the bottom of the sea as well as on the surface, and includes Walter Huston, Madge Evans, Jimmy "Schnozzle" Durante, Eugene Pallette and Robert Young. Minor roles are filled by Edwin Stowell, John Lee Mahin, David Newell, Sterling Holloway and Chas. Irwin.

DON'T GET ROOM TOO HOT, SAYS DOCTOR
Austin, Texas.—"With the cold months almost here, it is again in order to advise regarding inside temperature. Undoubtedly thousands of homes are constantly overheated during the winter. In fact, there are many families who tolerate an indoor temperature in the cold months which they would and do strenuously object in summer. Such persons not only are uneconomical with the coal pile, but are endangering their health as well," states Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer.

"People enjoying an overheated temperature become soft and with bodily pores behaving however, imperceptibly as they do in Summer time, the system is at a decided disadvantage in defending itself against the sudden change from a tropical or sub-tropical heat to the penetrating cold.

"Consequently colds, bronchial troubles and pneumonia, taking advantage of the situation, step in and do much unnecessary and not infrequently, fatal damage. You will agree that this is entirely to high a price to pay for a few extra degrees of unneeded heat.

"For example, a certain family typical of many hundreds, has again started on its annual program of colds and sore throats. However, this does not alter its affection for super-heat. Sixty-eight to 70 degrees is the health temperature. A thermometer kept within that range, plus proper humidity, is a great health safeguard. More than are doing so need to erect it. What does your thermometer read?"

The fact that Rev. Ed Tharp announces in his items that he will leave next week for annual conference, reminds us that he is going to Clarendon for it, where the North-west Texas Conference met for the first time 23 years ago this month. Rev. Victor Trammell was the Brownfield Methodist minister then.

Yes, one of the big oil companies that was going to tear the bone out advertising, are doing it alright, but every dollar of it is being spent with the magazines and daily newspapers. They forget that the little old country "weakly" editors must eat.

Sure, the NRA may not work, but most of us are hoping that it does. Even President Roosevelt says that it is an experiment. And to use a word made famous by Ex-President Hoover, it may prove to be a "noble experiment."

Dr. Hill of the West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon, in an address in his church Sunday morning, said there are only two kinds of church members, those who are able to help the church financially and those who need financial help from the church. With statistics showing only 25% of the church membership contributing anything at all to the budget, makes a rather poor showing for the most of us.

There was an article in the Dallas News recently about 25 acres of "black, waxy land" producing 18 bales of cotton, and explained that cattle had been fed on the land the year before was the reason. Well, 11 bales have already been taken off 12 acres right here in the edge of Brownfield, and the man will get far more. They tell us of farms in Lynn county that are getting a bale and half to the acre the first going over.

So many got on the Rev. J. M. Hale this week that we will not attempt to reply to his criticism of the Tennessee preacher, except to say that we do not think Mr. Hale answered top, side nor bottom of the argument. The Nashville preacher was talking about one thing—temperance—and Rev. Hale another—prohibition. We also had another communication criticizing Rev. Hale's position, but was unsigned, and we do not print unsigned articles in this paper. Any one who wants to disagree or criticize another, should have spunk enough to sign his articles, not especially that his right name be signed to them, but for the protection of the publisher, if the article happens to be called in question by the other party.

Some of the people of Levelland have been stung by a carnival company that carried some gambling devices. Some of their citizens were hit for $100 or more; many for a smaller sum, and the carnival manager was brought back and fined, and returned some of the money to the citizenry. And some of the citizens were in turn fined for their participation in the gambling. Our people may think the Brownfield city dads are hard on them by not letting such amusement (?) outfits come here, but the Herald thinks they are acting the part of the wise. A carnival takes out many dollars that are needful to the community, and leaves only a bad taste in the mouths of the people. In other words, a carnival is worse than useless to a community.

The article about the Ladies Auxiliary of a volunteer fire department is run again this week as it was cut right smack kerdap into last week by the make up man. It is a fine article when printed in its entirety and shows that some people at least appreciate their fire departments.

Mrs. Ben Hilyard is helping the Herald this week vice Ralph Bynum, who is ill.

CENTURY OF PROGRESS MAY BE REOPENED FOR NEW YEAR

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Strong indication that a Century of Progress exposition would remain open in 1934 was given today by Rufus C. Dawes, president. Observing that President Roosevelt had assured the management he would like to see the fair reopen next year, Dawes said, "if the public wants the fair in 1934, they can have it"

BEER
Editor Terry County Herald:
I have just read the interesting article of Rev. J. M. Hale. I endorse what he says as to preachers. We need them.

I have always voted dry, but it is my honest opinion that the brewers hadn't one iota to do with the swing back to repeal and beer. If we are going to blame anyone, let's blame the people, yes, our neighbors. Of the 145 Brownfield citizens who voted for beer last Tuesday, it is not likely that a one had a scratch from miracle of undersea drama—

a brewer. I didn't. I read about 40 papers, and never saw even one ad from a brewer appealing to the people to vote for repeal. I never received even a circular. The people seem to have made up their minds to try "wet" again, feeling that in cities with legal liquor there would be less racketeering, less graft, less corruption of officials. And the economic element entered into it. While personally I can't see the good sense in people spending a dollar for beer that the government might get a dime revenue, I do not blame the brewers. The people just stampeded as they were when national prohibition was voted, and as will likely happen again in a few years.

Some people now and then take nasty flings at President Roosevelt. He would have been a starnated fool to have tried to block the American people 4 to 1 when they had made up their minds.

People usually want something they haven't got. Shakespeare said: "The priceless gem so fiercely sought hath lost its charm by being caught." The bride of a few weeks once said to her husband: "Why is it that you used to give me flowers and candy and carry me to shows, and now you never do?" "Uh! who ever heard of one baiting the hook after he had caught the fish?"

Now, as we are getting beer, how many want it? I heard so much of 3.2 that I wanted to see what it was, so sent and got a few bottles. It does have a pleasant taste, but 15 cents is much too much. Lemonade, soft drinks, have a pleasant taste also, so why should I spend 15 cents for a bottle of beer? I like picture shows too, but the price is just too doggone high. And that is the way a vast majority of the American people will regard it. I have interviewed a man who was in Kansas City when beer came back. He said it seemed that the people were crazy. Then he went back a month later, and found not over 1 per cent of the people in some of the bars. And the same thing was observed in Memphis. No doubt it is the same everywhere.

I was reared in the midst of open saloons. I am convinced prohibition was a success in reducing the amount of liquor used and drunkenness, but I can't see that the general morals of the people improved one iota. I do not believe that preachers and churches grew in influence during the prohibition period. I don't believe that the home held up. In view of these things, the logical inference is that legalized liquor will have but little effect one way or the other. We'll just get used to it again and perhaps forget about it.

When Baptist preachers in their convention in Washington were rapping President Roosevelt, Dr. J. Frank Norris to lay off our president that feeding 14 million hungry people was of much greater importance than the liquor question. And it is so now. Money is the very life blood of everything, even churches and the schools. I, for one, just now want to see prosperity. Then we can take up our liquor fight again. I feel we have the right man 100 per cent for president, and I'm with him till the cows all come home.

"OUTFITTERS FOR THE ENTIRE FAMILY"

BROWNFIELD, TEXAS

OUR 23 YEAR COLUMN

OUR 23 YEAR COL.

We started to say there was nothing of interest on the first page of our issue of Nov. 4, 1910, but there is. Using the entire front page and took part of the back one, is an address by the late Dr. Knapp, father of the present President of Tech College, which was delivered to a thousand Corn Club boys and the freshman class at the University of Texas, as reported in the Dallas News. That address is still good reading, and it is men like him that put agriculture on its feet in the south.

Walter Groves of Loop, was in trading. J. T. May and family moved to their new home. Hill Hotel was paying 20c per dozen for eggs. Judge Spencer had legal business in Plains. A Woodman lecturer from Childress was here. M. V. Brownfield was in Tahoka ordering cars for a large shipment of cattle. Dad Ellis and family were in from the ranch for a few days. J. H. Witt and family had moved back to Terry from Nebraska. Mrs. C. R. Rambo of Gomez died the week before, leaving a husband and two small children (the children mentioned are Clint and Horace). Jim Lewis and Uncle Bill Howard carried cotton to the Tahoka gin. Atty. W. R. Spencer and G. E. Lockhart were attending district court at Tahoka. Will Alf Bell and Dick Brownfield were hunting in west Terry. Matt McPherson had purchased about 25 mules. Hal-lowen was fitly celebrated here. Ben Hurst had sold his four sections in north Yoakum to Rufus Lanier. J. O. King and family were in from northwest Terry. Births: Jim Smith and wife, daughter; Claude Williamson and wife, a son; Harvey Byrd and wife, daughter; Ed Neill and wife a daughter. Tom Williams bought the laundry from Shorty Harris and the latter moved back to Harris. Rev. J. N. Groves was reported to be very low. Sam Rather of Milano, was here visiting Dad Ellis. Will and Arch McPhaul went to Dallas to get the Scottish Rite degree. Judge and Mrs. W. N. Copeland had moved to Lubbock where he had purchased a drug store. Fitz Hudgins and Will Murray of Plainview were through here to New Mexico to receive a herd of cattle. Judge W. A. King of Stephenville had just won title to property belonging to Gov. Sevier, early governor of Texas. While the property amounted to some over eight million dollars in 1790 while the interest at 6 per cent ran into millions of dollars. Judge King was a great grandson of Gov. Sevier. The sad news was received here of the death of Lum Heflin at Spur of typhoid. He was a former Brownfield boy. The M. & M. Club met with Mrs. Chas. Copeland; Mrs. Randal was teacher. One of the visitors was Mrs. Dolph Robinson of Lubbock, a past president. All for this week.

RED GOOSE—THE OJBWA INDIAN BOY

An Indian Story for Boys and Girls
By Carlyle Emery

The Ojbwa Tribe is on a hunting expedition up near the Black Hills. Red Goose and Little Beaver left the party for a little side trip of their own, and when Red Goose missed hitting a rabbit, he said, "something is frightening animals around here. —Now go on with the story.

"What does Red Goose think is frightening rabbits and squirrels?" asked Little Beaver.

"Red Goose doesn't know. This is a strange hunting ground, but the animals are excited. No chance for a good shot."

"Maybe hunting be better soon."

"Red Goose hopes so. Soon it will be time to eat. Little Beaver must be hungry."

Then Little Beaver sprang her surprise and showed Red Goose the dripped buffalo meat she had brought along, tied up in wet leaves to keep it fresh.

"Where did you get this?" asked Red Goose.

"Mother—Son-on-Mountain gave it to me this morning," was the answer. "If Red Goose will make fire and kettle of birch-bark, Little Beaver will make nice stew."

"Look! There is another rabbit," whispered the Indian lad pointing to a pair of long ears that were sticking up above the underbrush.

"Too long shot for arrow," whispered back Little Beaver.

Quiet. Red Goose will try to shoot—long shot though—may miss."

This time Red Goose took a long and careful aim and this time his shot went true.

Little Beaver clapped her hands together happily. "Good! Good!" she cried. "Now we have fresh rabbit for stew. "Much better than buffalo meat."

"Lucky shot. Rabbit was far away," smirked the young hunter, running through the brush to get his game. But before he had gone more than a few yards, there was a sudden flapping of huge wings and Little Beaver screamed:

"Look out! Red Goose! Big eagle!" And sure enough, a great big eagle had been following the two hunters and now the huge bird pounced down picked up the rabbit in his talons as easily as you would pick up a spool of thread, and away it flew.

Bang! went the rifle of Red Goose, but the eagle was too high in the sky and the shot went wild.

"Now no rabbit for stew. Must eat buffalo meat." As Little Beaver spoke, an eagle feather came floating down to the ground, showing that Red Goose had almost killed the eagle.

"Let's follow eagle. Maybe we can find nest." This thought was of more interest to Red Goose than food at the moment, and so, digging their heels into the flanks of their ponies, they set off in pursuit of the eagle, who was circling a cliff not so very far away.

Mrs. Ted Poor had as her guest the middle of the week, her mother, Mrs. Padgett from Levelland.

Wellman News

The Wellman PTA met in regular session Friday night Oct. 27. The State birthday was observed. Music was furnished by Mrs. R. L. Duckett. A short talk on the wise use of leisure was given by Mrs. Duckett.

After the program, the PTA sponsored a box supper for the purpose of raising funds to buy suits for the basketball girls. The proceeds was over $50. There was a good attendance, and everyone seemed to enjoy the evening very much. We wish to express our thanks to the auctioneer Mr. A. L. Burnett of Brownfield. We feel that the success of our box supper was due to his earnest efforts.

Rev. Waltrip, from the Calvary Baptist church at Lubbock, preached for us Sunday morning and evening.

Bro. Alvin Mitchell preached at the church of Christ, Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night.

Tuesday of last week the residence of Mr. Gouldwin was burned about noon. The origin of the fire was unknown.

Miss Nellie Roberts and Mr. Ira Williams were married last week.

Mr. Jack Little and Miss Jaunita Smith, of Brownfield, were married last week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wilhite have returned from east Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Knight have been visiting friends and relatives in Graham, Texas.

Brownfield has voted to legalize beer Good! This is a good indication of a return to sanity if not to sanctity as interpreted by some. It would be an immense advantage if Sanity and Sanctity could be found under the same hide; that one's personal habits would be regarded as his own; that he is not responsible to anyone by himself or herself as to how he or she conduct their personal habits or their affairs, so long as they do not encroach on the interest and welfare of others. One's interest or liberty of action ceases when another's welfare is interfered with. Each of us should be held responsible for the invasion of the rights of others. We should at all times remember that there can be no liberty without law, but law should conform to their proper sphere of enforcing the balance between individuals.

The American people have always maintained that the individual is supreme in his own realm. Hence, laws that have been passed to hamper individual action have been unenforceable.

The legislation saddled upon us as a war measure has proven a fraud and a snare, and filled the land with every species of vice and lawlessness, and the sober and second thought of our people is to undo the wrong. So church people and those outside the church have joined hands to repudiate the scheme of political prohibitionists to further fill the land with law breakers and gangsters, regardless of preachers and pulpites who are out for the "long green."

Let us remember as we go along that it is prohibition that the people wish to get rid of. Whiskey in abundance has been with us all these miserable years. We have tired of having a misdemeanor exalted to the place of a felony, and thoughtless men and boys have been sent to prison for an offense that involves no moral turpitude, but is a crime because there is a law against it. The business could never have thrived without the connivance of buyers of illegal booze, against whom there are no legal difficulties. Yet each was part and parcel of the illegal transaction.

The slurring manner in which most preachers have referred to those who opposed the continual farcical enforcement of these laws, has much to do with the prestige lost by ministers throughout the land.

References to Communism by pulpites is rather unfortunate for the doctrine was taught by Christ and practiced by his Apostles, and believers for a time after his crucifixion. Today the churches are communistic in their attitude toward those outside their communion.

Russia is a great country. Flings at its government amount to little when it is remembered that this vast empire composed of ignorant peasants, priest ridden, Czar ridden, impoverished by a World war, have in the past 15 years, with the hate of the churches throughout the world, and the enmity of all nations, forged ahead, and is today giving its millions employment. There is less unemployment in Russia today than in any other country except France.

The government is one that meets the wishes of its people, and they are the ones that it is sought to benefit. The lurid essays of some writers paid by the enemies of the government, fall flat when we contrast the lawlessness of Russia, even with the United States. We lead them, in fact we lead the other countries in murder, kidnapping, burglary, theft and all crimes of every kind and degree. Then why should a preacher or other person get up and talk about communism and apply dirty epithets to Russia? As between the "pigs and preachers," I like the Russians, prefer the pigs—when I am hungry.

This is not intended as an apology for anything said. I have great respect for the preachers and teachers of our country, but they are not infallible. I recognize the sacrifices made by men and women everywhere in their effort to better world affairs. However, when one gets himself worked up to the point that he imagines his Ipee Dixit as the law of the land, I reserve the right to question his authority.

Many men and women have died in the past rather than admit their belief and practices were wrong. Such devotion to creed does not prove that they were right, but that they were sincere.

I have yet to hear of a preacher who singled out an individual and pointed to him as the prophet did David or as John the Baptist did to Herod, when both had been adulterous, that they were adulterers. I am ready to attend the obsequies of any preacher who does so, and make observations on the weather.

Our gangster who wanted a minister, was in search of a Catholic priest, who can forgive sins, and not a Baptist parson, who can only pray for such forgiveness. Quite a difference. Of course I know that one is quite as effective as the other—not worth much to the individual.

Many of my best friends are ministers—not confined to any denomination, but I know that each has his limitations, that neither of them know what is beyond the Veil, but a life of work for others has its compensations. Whether or not beyond the blue there is a place for those who live soberly, ready to lend a helping hand to the less fortunate fellow creature, will have his reward. Not as payment for the sacrifices he may make, but the keeping of a good conscience. Let us not forget the lesson: "All these commandments have I kept from my youth up," still there is one thing thou lackest. Sell all that thou hast and give to the poor and follow me, and thou shall have everlasting life. There is no predestination, certain kinds of baptism, final preservation, nor casting the burden all on Jesus, in that statement. Hell with its furies, nor the picture of the Artist of Dante's Inferno, can lighten the picture the Master had in mind. "Sell that thou hast and give to the poor," not prayers, nor preachers' interpretations of certain obscure scriptures, endowment of colleges, nor the collecting of large sums for missions to heathens, whose doctrine of brotherhood exceed our own, and who resent our self-appointed guardianship of their future.

Let all our preachers get it into their heads that not all of the brewers, distillers, bootleggers and beer joint keepers can do will lessen their influence if they have the spirit of the Master, love their kind, eschew politics, keep a tongue of good report, visit the sick, help the widow and orphan, and point the way by every means to a better life. Of course vote as you please, and always please to vote.

Remember that communism means sharing. One might be a murderer or one of the saintliest of men and yet each be a communist. One might be a murderer and a Baptist or a saint and also a Baptist.

Therefore neither Communists are necessarily the best of citizens. —Aesculapius

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

This is a symbol of a prescription. It is a variation of the sign of Jupiter and was used by the ancient Chaldeans to please the king of the gods so that the medicine might have favorable results.

We still use that symbol in 1933—but today in our modern prescription department it is a symbol of health—of care and accuracy in filling prescriptions which your doctor has advised for you.

IDEAL CLUB ENTERTAINED

On Wednesday of last week, Mrs. A. A. Sawyer was hostess to the Ideal Club. Three tables were placed for contract bridge and a lovely radio scarf was presented to Mrs. Wingerd for high. Table cuts went to Mesdames Roy Ballard, Enderson and Ike Bailey. LEARN A LESSON FROM LADIES' AUXILIARY

The Chronicle, of Clarendon, Virginia, recently published an article urging local citizens to take an interest in the local fire department and ascertain its needs from the standpoint of being properly equipped with standard apparatus capable of protecting life and property at all times.

It pointed out that a town might save a few thousand dollars a year by maintaining an inferior department, but only at the risk of loss of life and thousands of dollars in property damage.

Answering this article, the president of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Clarendon Voluntary Fire Department, wrote the editor stating that all of the lady members of the Auxiliary had visited the Clarendon fire department, looked over its personnel and apparatus, found it well equipped and an efficient fire-fighting machine.

In closing the communication to the editor, the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Clarendon Volunteer Department proposed a new slogan: "Take a look, but also help to support your fire department."

That is the proper spirit! There are thousands of towns in the United States that could save millions of dollars in fire losses and actually hundreds of lives if the local citizens individually, or through their civic bodies, would demand an adequate fire department and encourage its maintenance.

Never was there such an opportunity time to improve fire protection. Under the public works program of the government, financing with federal funds, of self-liquidating undertakings, is to be encouraged. The government loans money toward the establishment of such projects on a long time at low interest rates, and actually gives a discount of 30 per cent on the amount borrowed. Reduction of fire losses is self-liquidating in the truest sense of the word in that it prevents loss of business, interruption of trade, unemployment, loss of population and actually reduces taxes, insurance costs and like expenditures.

100TH ANNIVERSARY

Next Sunday, Nov. 5th, we are to have a special service at the local Baptist church celebrating the 100th anniversary of Baptist activities in Texas. One hundred years ago, Texas was part of the Republic of Mexico, therefore under Catholic rule. It was a violation of the laws of Mexico to organize a church other than a Catholic church, so a little Baptist church was organized in the State of Illinois and moved bodily to Texas. According to the minutes of this church, it held its first meeting in Texas Nov 9, 1833. At that time there was only 35,000 people in Texas. Not one west of Fort Worth. Today there are 550,000 Baptists alone in Texas.

We hope to make this a great day in our church. We are very anxious to have 400 in Sunday School and as nearly 100 per cent of our members present as possible. You will never live to be at another 100th anniversary of Texas Baptists. One hundred years from now we will all be under the ground, so please come and help us make this a great day.

Burned factories, homes, warehouses, etc., cause misery and want in any community. There is probably no more truly self-liquidating public work that can be done for the benefit of all the people in a community, than the establishments of modern, scientific fire protection with adequate apparatus and water supply.

A card of thanks from the Dunn County (Wis.) People can't get better care or any cheaper any place else. I want to thank those who came to see me. Those who didn't come were too busy or didn't know any better. G. Gullickson.
