ANNOUNCEMENTS

For Congress

Senator Arthur P. Duggan

To the Citizens of the 19th Congressional District:

In announcing my candidacy for Congress in the new 19th Congressional District I am fully aware of the importance of that high office. Our country never needed serious, well balanced, real thinking, hard working Congressmen as it does now in this time of National readjustment and uncertainty. The prosperity of the people; yes, the very existence of our Nation, is in the hands of Congress. The more wisdom and experience the man you elect to this office possesses the better it will be for YOU personally and for each and everyone of us.

Your Congressman certainly ought to know intimately your needs from close personal contact, be sympathetic with them, and be willing and able to actually strive to meet them. It is a fact that my life time spent in west Texas, my active and varied business, civic and Legislative experience in this district, for the past 30 years, and my association with all classes of the people have given me the best possible opportunity to learn their requirements. I state to you emphatically that no Congressman you can possibly elect will put more time on the job, study the entire situation more carefully, or work harder to SERVE YOU, the district and Country than I.

Here are a few of the things I am particularly interested in and that I would endeavor to accomplish:

Protection of Home Ownership
The Homes of the Nation are its greatest asset and their preservation is of first importance. Fairer appraisals of our lands, valued according to production, will make the large majority of them eligible for Federal Land Bank Loans with low interest rates and easy terms. Similar consideration should be given in the matter of loans on urban homes through the Home Owners Loan Corporation.

The Farm is a manufacturing plant producing raw products such as meat, grain, cotton and wool. As such it is entitled to all special privileges, rates, concessions, tariffs, etc. granted the large manufacturing concerns of the country.

Farm homes are of more importance to the nation than Big Business of any kind.

Urges Better Educational Facilities
Good schools are, and always have been, the bulwarks of American liberty and freedom. The making of good citizens of our boys and girls ranks next to the happy home as a National obligation. The Home Demonstration clubs of our country are not only solving the "live at home" program but are helping wonderfully in the improvement of homes and schools. The Federal Government should continue its support of all Extension work.

The Texas Technological College, located in this Congressional District should be made a Land Grant College. It is as much entitled to Federal support as any other College anywhere.

Amend Federal Income Tax laws so that Profiteers, Big Bankers and

Chas. Hubby and family are entitled to a pass to the Rialto Theatre to see "Golden Harvest" Be sure to present this clipping at the box office at the Rialto Theatre. Compliment: Rialto-Herald

Investment Banks will have to pay their proper income taxes. The very rich largely evade payment of taxes. The very poor pay no taxes at all and the tax burden, therefore, falls on the Middle Class—the COMMON PEOPLE—such as you and I. This ought to be changed and it can be with sufficient Representation.

I would study Economy of Government and vote for it as I did in the Texas Legislature when appropriations were cut some $13,000,000.

Solution of Crime Problem
Gangsters, Chislers, Racketeers and Profiteers certainly are a National problem today as well as a National disgrace. The cost of crime is estimated at some thirteen billion dollars annually which is more than the cost of the Federal Government with such emergency measures as RFC, AAA, CWA, PWA and all the balance thrown in. Crime should be punished adequately and quickly though it will never be stamped out until its source is sought and eliminated. The proper instruction and education of our boys and girls in our homes and schools WHEN VERY YOUNG, will prevent the making of criminals, solve the prohibition question, stop the divorce evil and preserve the sanctity of the Home.

"The Honest Dollar." I fully subscribe to the principle recently set forth by President Franklin D. Roosevelt when he said: "Those who have borrowed money should, on the average, be able to repay that money in the same kind of money which they borrowed." A proper parity should be ascertained between the value of the dollar and the price of commodity products, and be automatically maintained by law.

There are 334 lawyers and professional men in the present Congress, and only 24 farmers. The framers of our Constitution thought that the safest and best laws are passed by Legislative bodies with their membership more equally distributed among all occupations.

During the very active campaign I expect to make for this office I will express myself on all National issues, and I will welcome the opportunity to become even better acquainted with you than I now am. This is your Government and you should help run it. Your suggestions and ideas will be appreciated.

Respectfully and earnestly asking for your consideration, influence and VOTE in the Democratic primaries next July, I am

Sincerely your friend,
ARTHUR P. DUGGAN,
State Senator 30th
Senatorial District.

WINSTON ASKS FOR OFFICE OF COUNTY JUDGE

To the Voters of Terry County:
I take this means of announcing for the office of County Judge and Ex-Officio County School Superintendent, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries. If elected I will give as good service in the future as I have in the past. Your vote and influence will be appreciated.

HOMER WINSTON.

MRS. WHITE ASKING FOR RE-ELECTION

To the Voters of Terry County:
In announcing my candidacy for reelection I first want to thank each and every one of you, for your kind support in 1932, when you kindly gave me the office of District Clerk. Now, as we go into the new year of 1934, I want again to ask you for the office for another term. I will kindly thank each of you for any influence toward me in the Democratic Primaries next July.

Sincerely,
MRS. J. C. (ELDORA A.) WHITE

Greenville Lions Texas Champions after 21 to 0 Victory

The Greenville Lions didn't tell the Dallas Tech Wolves that they were Sea Lions before the muddy game that decided the championship of Texas began, but after it was over, the Wolves knew. Fired by a previous 13 to 0 defeat at Greenville's hands in an early season practice game, the Tech Wolves went into the state finals at Dallas Saturday to do or die. They came out on the short end of a 21 to 0 score before the onslaught of a striped Greenville machine that gave no quarter and asked none. The victory gave Greenville the undisputed state high school football championship of Texas. The picture above shows a Greenville man tearing through to nail a Tech man behind the line during the muddy game.

MRS. C. R. RAMBO ASKS FOR TREASURER'S OFFICE

To the Voters of Terry County:
I take this means of asking the voters of Terry county for the office of County Treasurer, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries. I have spent most of my life in Terry county, and assisted my late husband while he held the office of County Assessor, and with several years experience in the Abstract and Insurance business, I feel that I am qualified to fill the office as your Treasurer.

I shall endeavor to see as many of you as possible before the primaries, at which time you will be at liberty to ask any questions about me you think necessary.

Sincerely,
MRS. C. R. RAMBO.

MRS. RANDAL ASKS FOR RE-ELECTION AS TREASURER

To the Voters of Terry County:
Again I am presenting my name asking for re-election to the office of County Treasurer of Terry county. First, though, I want to thank you for your kindness and support during my term of office. In asking for your support in the coming primaries, I assure you that it will be highly appreciated—more than I can express.

To those who do not know me, I refer you to my record in the Treasurer's office as to my ability. Again thanking you, I am
Yours sincerely,
MRS. J. L. RANDAL.

A. L. BURNETT MAKES ANNOUNCEMENT

I take this method to make known to my many friends my appreciation of their patronage and support. I feel sure that with the experience I have gained in the year that is past, I shall be able to serve you better in the future.

You cannot elect better than to protect yourself and your family. Remember "A Policy for every purse and for every purpose."

A. L. BURNETT.
ANNOUNCEMENT

TO THE DEMOCRATS OF THE 106TH JUDICIAL DIST.

The time has arrived for you to consider again the nomination of a candidate for Judge of your District Court, and in the event you shall be of the opinion that my services will be satisfactory to you, I shall appreciate being again chosen by you. No person could be more grateful for the confidence and esteem of a people than I am of yours, and I believe that my experience as Judge will be of much benefit to me in conducting your Court in a satisfactory manner.

In addition to my experience as Judge, I served as District Attorney of the old 72nd District for six years, and as such District Attorney I prosecuted some of the outstanding cases in Texas, and as District Judge I have tried many cases of the greatest magnitude, covering practically all the field of law arising in our courts.

The duties of a District Judge are of the utmost importance, they having to do in the trial of cases with even the lives, and the liberties, and the property rights of citizens, and only on the basis of your opinion being that my work in your Court will be of service to our people, would I desire to have the responsibility of these weighty duties.

Most of our citizens have been present when I tried cases, many as Grand and Petit Jurors, and I feel that in a great measure you know what my services have been, and should I again be entrusted with conducting your Court, my entire time and efforts shall be devoted to the work.

Respectfully,
GORDON B. MCGUIRE.

K. C. Tucker of Abilene, will be here Saturday, and will preach Sunday morning and night at the church of Christ.

J. R. (JIM) BURNETT.

SIMMS ASKS VOTERS FOR OFFICE OF CO. JUDGE

I wish to announce to the voters of Terry County, that is my intention of being a candidate for the office of County Judge and County School Superintendent, subject to the Democratic primary. In becoming a candidate for this office, at this time I feel that the best opportunity is now offered for a person in such office to be of valuable service to the people of this county. If I should be the choice of the people for this office, they can expect my full cooperation in all matters pertaining to the work of this office to the end that all things shall be administered as economically as is consistent with the common good.

The county now has the opportunity of cooperating with the State and Nation in many ways that will bring to our people the financial aid that is so much needed, and it is to be hoped that the voters will put such men in office that will lead in taking advantage of the opportunities which are available.

I do not see any need of saying anything to you about myself as many of you have known me from the time I was a small boy, and I have a very kindly feeling toward every person living in Terry county. I count everybody I know my friend and hope that I can meet those who are not now known to me, before long.

Your friendly expressions and influence will be greatly appreciated as well as your vote in the coming primary.

RAYMOND A. SIMMS.

Both Brownfield Banks Insure Depositors

We had a conversation this week with W. R. McDuffie, cashier of the First National bank about the bank deposit insurance. He stated that his bank was fully insured against loss to depositors up to $2,500, just the same as the biggest bank in the nation. He stated however, that the present arrangement is only temporary up to July first, when banks that can comply will insure depositors up to $10,000, with partial insurance on sums up to $100,000. The law to go into effect July 1, will be a permanent arrangement. Mr. McDuffie stated that he was well pleased with the law, and that although the First National had always been in good shape and had the confidence of the people, he believed that this new law would help restore more confidence generally.

Jas. H. Dallas, assistant cashier of the Brownfield State bank was also interviewed and stated that their bank had fully complied with all conditions, and being a member of the Federal Reserve System, was allowed depositor's insurance on the same terms with National banks, although it would have been optional with them on taking the insurance system.

The Herald is glad to announce to its readers that both banks here are now in position to guarantee deposits under the same condition, and up to as big amount as any bank in America.

HEADSTREAM ASKS FOR OFFICE OF COUNTY CLERK

Too the Voters:
I wish to announce my Candidacy for re-election to the office of County Clerk of Terry County, assuring you that I appreciate, beyond expression, your favors of the past.

I must resort to indoor work for a livelihood, if possible, and feel that if I am prepared for any special work, it is just such work as is required in the County Clerk's office. Being on the job is a pleasure, considering you voters as my Boss and myself as your Employee, and assuring you that my dealings with all has been very pleasant, on my part.

Earnestly soliciting your VOTE and your SUPPORT in every way possible; believing that through past experience I can serve you in a greater way; agreeing to be on the job doing my very best at all times and again thanking you for your past favors and hoping you will stay with me and help me keep my job, I am,
Yours sincerely,
REX HEADSTREAM.

REDFORD ANNOUNCES FOR COMMISSIONER OFFICE

To the Voters of Precinct No. 2:
I have decided to make the race for Commissioner Precinct No. 2 subject to the action of the Democratic primary in July.

Have been in Terry county twelve years and in Texas all my life and have never run for public office before. I am asking your careful investigation and if you find me competent and worthy of your trust will appreciate your support and influence, and if elected will try to handle the County's business as carefully as if it were my own.

Respt.
E. L. REDFORD.

Act uprightly; dirt may stick to a mud wall, but not to polished marble.

Quante Installs a New Pair of Scales

We don't understand why people always say, "a pair of scales" when there isn't but one scale, but they do. Call them that or what you wish, but Chris Quante, local public weigher has the best and most complete "pair" of wagon scales that we have ever seen, and we have been seeing them from the time they used the old 2-pea steelyards back in the old Tennessee cotton "patch" up to the present.

These new scales have a platform plenty long for a six wheel truck and to spare, have steel runs, and the whole is covered with asphalt to keep rain off, so that they are always practically balanced. Inside, where the weigher stands or sits, it looks so pretty and shiny that it gives one the imagination that he is standing in front of a steel vault door in a city bank.

But the most radical departure is the actual weighing operation. Yes, the beams are there alright, and the little weights are on them, but this seems only to be for balancing the scales. When a wagon drives on, a little cylinder behind which is an electric light, begins to turn like a groceryman's scale, and in a jiffy you have the correct weight right before your eyes to a "gnat's bristle."

So sensitive are they, that when the man gets off the wagon loaded with several tons of feed or corn, the difference is registered in a second. They will weigh up to 90,000 pounds.

Note their ad in this issue and the changes that have been made in the weighing charges.

Dr. Stevens Has Been In Our City 4 Years

Four years ago, Dr. R. F. Stevens and his faithful wife came to our little city. Since that time, she has passed away. He was the first optometrist to make this his permanent home, and although he had years of experience, for awhile it seemed that the people hereabouts were a little skeptical for the reason that he chose a small town for his permanent location. But the longer he stayed, and the more folks he correctly fitted with glasses, the more confidence did the people have in him, and now unless eye treatment is needed few people are inclined to leave Brownfield to be fitted with glasses.

Dr. Stevens has set up a nice office in the Alexander building, and is well equipped with all the necessary paraphernalia to give as good service as anywhere in prescribing the kind of glasses that most any person needs. These prescriptions are then sent to Chicago to the largest optical manufacturer in America to be made and put in frames to fit that particular person's face. What more could any optometrist do?

So, when in need of work of this sort, why not see Dr. Stevens? He is a citizen of our town, and spends his money in Brownfield.

McGOWAN ASKS FOR RE-ELECTION TO CO. ATTY.

To the Citizens of Terry County:
Desiring to again seek the office of county attorney, I wish to take this means of announcing, and will greatly appreciate your support in every way.

Respectfully submitted,
JOE J. MCGOWAN.

ASKS FOR OFFICE OF COUNTY COMMISSIONER

I am announcing for Commissioner of Precinct No. 1. Your support will be appreciated.

Respectfully,
J. C. JOHNSON.

TITTLE ASKS FOR OFFICE OF COUNTY CLERK

To the Citizens of Terry County:
May I take this method of advising you that I am a candidate for the office of County Clerk of Terry County?

I will greatly appreciate your support and influence, and if successful this time I will endeavor to show my appreciation by rendering you the kind of service you have a right to expect.

Respectfully submitted,
W. A. TITTLE.

Farmers-Merchants Hopeful For 1934

There is such a pronounced vein of optimism flowing among both the business men and farmers of Terry county, that was not apparent last year at this time, and especially last March when it looked like the whole financial structure of the nation was headed for the eternal bow-wows. And both the farmer and merchant readily give most of the credit for the gradual recovery to the Roosevelt Administration, and express the utmost confidence in whatever he may do in the future to lead America back to prosperity. About the only fly in the ointment right now is lack of moisture in the ground in order that the farmers might go to plowing again. But that will come later.

In a talk recently with W. H. Collins, one of our leading merchants, and a man that has made a success in life, he informed us that he had done very well in 1933, and that his business was at this time in fine shape. He has noted a continued upturn for the better all the fall despite a lack of crop in half the county. Mr. Collins believes that when congress meets, some will undertake to throw a monkey wrench in the Administration machinery, but he believes that enough leaders in congress will remain loyal to the FDR policies that he will be permitted to carry on, and that our gain toward normalcy will be even more swift in 1934.

Mr. G. S. Webber, one of our leading druggist informed us that he had the best holiday business since 1927, and other druggists here were just as outspoken, but supplied no figures for comparison. In other lines of business, especially grocery, the report was not so good, although they declared that they held their own, despite the fact that they had to sell such a large volume of goods, in order to compare with other years. Some of the cafe men report as much as a 200 percent increase in business. Indeed, every line of business has been helped by the increase in most farm commodity prices, especially cotton, corn and feed, not to mention the return of confidence. Lack of confidence has been a big factor in our depression. For instance, last year, one was afraid to spend a dollar for fear he would never see another. That condition has had a radical change.

Now, as to the farmer, let's hear his side. For instance, Clyde Polk says that this is the first time in several years that he has made a dollar. Bruce Hancock, while partially hit by hail, has paid all his taxes to date, together with interest and principal on his land notes. "I'm just about busted, Jack, but I don't owe anything," is the way he expressed it. T. B. Wood, a Pleasant Valley farmer has made 40 odd bales of cotton off about 65 acres he had left after the plow-up campaign, and he says "that he can now come to town and look everyone in the face without feeling embarrassed." He had a neighbor that made a bale per acre but on a much smaller acreage than he had.

Switching back to the Forrester community, there is another good farmer, O. M. Minnix, who made another bumper crop on his fine half section of land, and has sold it for a fair price. He was feeling so good recently when he dropped in to pay up, that he announced that he might run a competition with Mack Chambers on a barbecue this summer, but that instead of feeding Oklahomans, he would feed the Texans. Well, he's cut out a job for himself, but O. M. and his Texas neighbors are equal to the occasion. However, we hope he and Mack don't have their barbecue the same day and that we will be invited to both. You know the editor is a Tennessean by birth and can play neutral. Mrs. Herald happens to be a Texan by birth, but lived several years in Oklahoma.

On with the barbecues. On with the picnics. On with prosperity in old Terry. We're all going to stay here and get our three squares per diem or bust a G string.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bailey and little daughter, Jo Ann, were visitors in our city Sunday afternoon. Joe informed us that he was making application for the position of foreman of the new Tech College printing office. We hope Joe lands this job.

Rev. Brady Brown, of Lubbock, will fill the pulpit Sunday morning and night at the regular hours at the First Christian church. Everybody is invited.

The Texas Senate's investigation of the rotten job-selling scandal in our state has about come to an end. Plenty of evidence has been brought to light. Some indictments have been found. But the chief thing discovered in the investigation is that present laws are not adequate for punishment of the job-sellers. The investigating committee will recommend that the Legislature pass new and stringent laws for the future. Now that the horse is definitely stolen, let us firmly and with amazing foresight lock the stable.—Ralls Banner.

Intolerance is one of the sins of the best people. The tendency to measure the other fellow's conduct by one's own yardstick is well-nigh universal. The ability to view life and all its problems from the other fellow's standpoint as well as one's own is a faculty that few possess. We are too prone to think that the other fellow's religious convictions, his moral standards and his political beliefs should conform strictly to our own. If they do not we are inclined to regard the individual as perverse or inferior in this respect to ourselves. The world needs a broader spirit of tolerance. Let us try to cultivate a spirit of tolerance during the coming year.—Tahoka News.

HE IS AGAINST THEM

William Randolph Hearst needs no introduction to an American audience, so that, when he gives an address in his picturesque language, all sit up and listen, even those he attacks. His invectives Saturday last against Al Smith, Morgan, Sprague and the international bankers make almost as good a radio feature as one of President Roosevelt's nationwide talks.

Mr. Hearst in his speech defended the President wholeheartedly for his monetary policy, which, he asserts, is a policy for the benefit of the average citizen. "He is trying to end unemployment and to give all of us comfort and contentment, prosperity and peace of mind." By contrast, he charges that the international bankers are the shylock money lenders "who want the last letter of their bonds," whereas Mr. Roosevelt "is trying to save the country from their clutches."

It is easy to see that the practical unanimity of the indorsement given the President in the honeymoon period has split rather definitely into two opposing wings. On one side are the "sound" money conservatives, who strongly desire the standardization of the currency, along with international monetary agreements and the renewal of trade relations. On the other, are those who are willing to go far, even very far, in the direction of inflation, hoping to obtain through it higher prices and wages for their products and services. These preferably stress economic nationalism, and fight shy of international agreements and financiers in view of the Wall street revelations made before the Senate's committee.

Fortunately for the Nation, President Roosevelt is the balance wheel between these two opposing points of view. Though naturally conservative in financial matters, he yet sees conditions, not theories, and by experimentation hopes to win through toward a revived national prosperity. The Nation as a whole relies on him to balance safely between the two extremes, ultimately uniting both for a common program.—Dallas News.

BOASTFUL CONFIDENCE DESTROYERS

During the famous kidnapping trial at Oklahoma recently, and before "Machine Gun" Kelly had been apprehended, a reward was offered amounting to $15,000 for his capture, dead or alive or for information that would lead to such consequences.

The sum was being offered by an ex-peace officer who had become "cockey" through heavy financial returns from oil wells. He stepped right into the middle of the limelight so to speak.

Within a short time, Geraldine Arnold, aged 12, gave the officers information that led to Kelly's capture within a few hours afterwards, if we may believe press reports appearing in the daily papers.

Now she has been denied a reward of any kind, though penniless. The show is over. The renegades are in federal prisons. There is no further demand for boastful broadcasts.

In child-like simplicity, Geraldine believed the wealthy man to be sincere and honest. Suit has been brought to collect the reward offered that it may be used to educate the child who aided in breaking up the most cold-blooded bunch of outlaws that ever roamed the nation. She is due just $15,000.—Clarendon Leader.

9,000,000 HOMES NEEDED

The Federal Housing Corporation reports that some 9,000,000 families are living in houses not fit for human habitation. They include, but are not restricted to, city slums. There are a great many flimsy houses in towns and rural villages giving insufficient protection from the weather, homes with polluted water supply, homes with open cesspools, in locations where air should be pure and healthful. An astonishing figure is given by Dr. Edith Wood, consultant of the corporation of the cost of bad housing in sickness, crime, abnormally high average mortality and low longevity. The estimated cost is 15 billion dollars a year.

Housing is a peacetime concern which in several aspects deserves the large consideration now being given it. As a constant factor in employment it stands probably at the head of all prosperity projects. It offers to prove self-liquidating in the largest sense, both financially and in health, comfort and contentment.

$50,000 PER CRASH

When you read of a fatal motor accident, make a note in your mental bookkeeping for a community debit of $50,000. And that figure according to Sidney J. Williams, director of the Public Safety Division of the National Safety Council is a "conservative estimate."

His opinion is based on the accepted assumption that the economic value of a life averages $30,000. He takes account of the fact that for every injury there are at least four accidents involving property damage. With the total bill for accidents of all kinds in the United States running to a billion and a half dollars, simple arithmetic reveals that $50,000 may be properly used as the community cost per fatal traffic accident.

But if money does not talk convincingly on this subject, consider the cost in human life. We think of wars as being major national catastrophes, yet as destroyers of life they are hardly to be bracketed with traffic accidents.

For example, in all the wars engaged in by the United States—the Revolutionary War, the War of 1812, the Mexican War, the Civil War, the Spanish-American War, the World War—fewer than 300,000 men were killed in action or died from wounds. Alongside these figures should be laid these, cited by D. C. Duncan, safety engineer for the Apalachian Electric Power Company, to-wit: In the past fifteen years, a period approximating the duration of those six wars, Americans killed by or dying from injuries received in motor accidents total 325,000!

Surely, here is a field of community service that merits intelligent consideration from all citizens. Al most every nation has an organized accident-prevention movement. Facts have been gathered. Methods have been formulated to reduce the accident toll. The need of the moment is for campaigns of education and for improvement of traffic regulations and conditions.—Rotarian Magazine.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT

Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, Washington D. C. December, 12, 1933.

Notice is hereby given to all persons who may have claims against The First National Bank of Meadow, Texas, that the same must be presented to Sam J. Mings, Receiver, with the legal proof thereof within three months from this date or they may be disallowed.

J. F. T. O'CONNOR, 3-16c. Comptroller of the Currency.

ANNOUNCEMENT

TO OUR FRIENDS AND PATRONS:

It is with pleasure that we are able to announce that your bank has again passed the rigid requirements of the Government for soundness and has been approved for membership in the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

This means that, in addition to careful and conservative management, our depositors now have the added protection of Federal Deposit Insurance. Your deposit up to $2,500.00 is now fully guaranteed.

It is our belief that this important change in banking marks the beginning of a new and better mutual confidence and understanding between the banker and the depositor and will result in much good to both.

W. R. McDuffie, Cash. R. M. Kendrick, Pres.

—THE—

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF BROWNFIELD, TEXAS

AN ADDED PROTECTION

Congress, in the Banking Act of 1933, created the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation—operative under a temporary plan, starting January 1st, 1934; and under a permanent plan, dating from July 1st, 1934.

This bank takes pleasure in announcing its membership in the Temporary Insurance Fund of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, through which the net deposits of every depositor of this bank are now insured as fully as the present plan provides.

We are glad to offer this protection to our present depositors as well as our prospective depositors and we continue to solicit your banking business upon the basis of friendly and cooperative service plus every element of safety which we can provide.

NOTICE

Beginning next week, January 8, we will make a change in the weighing fee.

Minimum weight up to 4,000 lbs. net will be 10c
Above 4,000 lbs. will be 5c per ton.

This change is due to the fact that we have installed a new set of Electric Automatic Scales which cost a little more than $2,000.00 and that the larger trucks which are being used today, hauling heavy loads more than double the wear and upkeep on scales.

BASKETBALL

The Brownfield girls' basket ball team have been working out all during the holidays and have played three games. They played Seagraves and beat them. In an invitation tournament at Meadow they beat Anson and won second place in the tournament. Out of the six games they have played this season they have won five and lost one.

They will go to Littlefield Friday 5th to another tournament.

Raven Trapping Campaign in This Area

Trapping of ravens will be a part of the work of the U. S. biological survey this winter, according to J. M. Hill, jr., in charge of the work in this area.

A trap, built some time ago at Tahoka, on the T-bar ranch and successfully operated, is to be reopened, Mr. Hill said. At Brownfield it is expected a trap or two will be built. Ravens have done considerable damage to ranchers and farmers in both Lynn and Terry counties.

Near Spur and Stamford, the work also will be started. There are also some ravens in Dawson county.

Joe Lane, old time Terryite ranchman, accompanied by Mr. Strickland, both New Mexico cattlemen, were here Saturday for a few minutes.

From Hill County

Hillsboro, Texas
Christmas Day, 1933.

Dear Jack and the Herald force:
I am wondering this morning how the folks are spending Christmas in old Terry. I am having the most wonderful Christmas ever.

Well, I will just start at the first to tell the story. Ma is always planning some place to go and you know Vick has a new bus. Ma said wouldn't it be fine for the whole family to go back home and spend Christmas. I said yes, it would be a fine trip but did we have time as I was not through with the crop. We talked on and planned a few days. Weather stayed ideal as we all know. So we worked early and late but could not get things shaped up like we wanted them, however, we decided to make a desperate effort to go.

The next thing to do was to get some one to look after the things. So Ma ruses around and finds Hollis and Ruth Brock. They had a little spare time and arrangements were made for them to stay and see after the calves and pigs. A special agreement was made that Hollis would look after my greyhound pups, above all. I knew Hollis was a right smart dog man. Hence I thought we had hit the nail on the head in order for me not to suffer any uneasiness on the dog business which was one of the main things that was holding me back.

After this matter was solved, the next thing to do was to arrange for new clothes for the "old man." Ma said she wanted me to have a pretty grey suit, all virgin wool and a yard wide. She took me into a Brownfield dry goods store and found just what she wanted except that the vest and pants were too small but the manager said the coat fit like a corset. We looked at the price and saw that it had been reduced two or three dollars therefore Ma thought we had better invest in the new suit.

The merchant agreed to have the pants and vest worked on until they fit or else they were still his clothes. Ma and I knew the lady was a real dressmaker but still I knew I had to foot the bill and I could not make up my mind to pay twenty some dollars for a suit of clothes and them have to be cut, slashed, pieced out, and ruffles put on them to make them fit.

Well, I studied over the matter for sometime but still I was on the fence. I heard a man say once "That a man couldn't make any money buying a suit of clothes."

The next thing was to see if all the kids and grandbabies would be ready by Saturday morning at four o'clock. We made a round and all agreed except J. C. He said he had a job but if all would go he would lay the job aside.

This was Friday so something had to be done that day. I had to make some decision as to the pretty grey suit Ma was trying to get fitted on the "old man." We had to act quickly. Ma had just a few days before, payed a beauty shoop three or four dollars to put a kink in her hair, and that week we had a letter encouraging us to hurry on account of my niece, which is about thirty years old, had finally gotten a chance to marry a fellow over in Bosque county. So Ma got nervous. She was afraid the kink would come out of her hair before we got there.

Late Friday evening Ma marched me in to the dry goods store with a determination to settle on a suit. I had just about worn out the one she had bought me about five years ago. So, I tried the suit on two or three more times and they said I looked mighty nice. Every thing fit except there was not enough carrying capacity about the waist line for Christmas week. But "they" said that could be fixed in about thirty minutes so agreed to wait. By that time the sun was hiding its face behind the hill, dark was creeping on, and we were fifteen miles from home. I was to get Hollis at my place and line him up on the work, so I began to realize time was fleeting. And all this time Ma's kink in her hair was fast growing off. I also had in mind to clean all my dog bunks and put in clean, fresh hay.

It was then about 7:30 o'clock. I had just been down to Hollis and Ruth's house and found that Hollis had already gone part of the way expecting me to pick him up on the road. So I told Ruth I would be back in a few minutes for her and the little boy and for them to be sure and be ready. Well I went back to town and two hours passed and I was still in town. The pretty grey virgin wool suit was wrapped. Also a pretty tan shirt was thrown in to show the dry goods man's appreciation of my business. So I grabbed my bundle and started in search of Ma. She was in town, time was flying fast, the wedding was getting nearer to hand and Ma's kink in her hair was fast growing off. What was I to do next? So the thought came to me to go to a certain other store and there she was fixing all the grand-kids up with things she thought would fit their needs. And all this time Ruth was in suspense

Farmers Fight to Retain Homes, in Films

"Golden Harvest" a dramatic story of the present-day American farmer's fight to retain his home, his battle against the speculative debacle in the Wheat Pit, is the latest Paramount picture, coming on Saturday to the Rialto Theatre.

The cast includes Richard Arlen, Chester Morris, Genevieve Tobin, Rosco Ates and Julie Hayden. It is the first of ten Charles R. Roger's productions scheduled for the 1933-1934 season.

Two beautiful love stories run through this surging picturization of the farmer's battle for life. Walt Martin (Richard Arlen) and Chris Martin (Chester Morris) are two brothers continually in turbulent conflict. When Chris leaves the farm for the city, Walt marries the girl Chris threw over, settles down to the quiet life of the average farmer.

But Chris' activities in the Wheat Pit put an end to all that. He becomes known as the "Big Bear," stages a spectacular raid on grain, drives prices down, ruining hundreds of farmers in the Northwest. To save them, his brother, Walt, organizes the embattled planters, wages a farm strike.

But Chris only sees in the strike another way of making money. He combines with Walt to drive prices up, stages a "bull" campaign, is successful until the strike breaks up, then the market falls again.

Geo. Cleveland of Plains said not to say anything about him paying up on his paper on time, because everybody would want him to pay them up on time.

We understand that two deserving boys, who are trying to make their way here are in need of assistance, and one of them is very ill. One of our tender hearted townsmen has taken them into his home for the time being, but others should help in feeding and caring for them.

looking for us.

Well, we finally got everything paid for and started for Ruth and the little boy. But I happened to look in the back seat and noticed that we had one more dressed turkey to dispose of. We finally struck a guy and a trade was made with him to use the turkey. All this time Ruth was waiting in the cold at her house afraid to build up a fire for so short a time. Ma's hair was growing straighter and the wedding was three hours closer.

We found Ruth and the little boy huddled in a small room trying to keep away from the cold. We loaded what things they had fixed to take and were soon on our way, picking up Hollis at the Commissioner's house. Twenty minutes passed and we were at home.

By this time it was far into the night. All were tired and sleepy, yet Hollis had to have a line-up on everything. Which calf was old Pides and whether old Brownie was nursing one or two calves, whether or not we milked the red heifer at night or just at morning. And which one of my greyhound pups slept in the middle bunk. All of this took time. They were fixing sandwiches for the next day which was about to overtake us. Some of the bunch lay down to sleep awhile, while some of the rest kept getting things ready for the trip.

Three o'clock came and everyone was up. A pot of coffee was made and drank. Everything was loaded into the bus. Hollis was given a menu for the pups and a little further understanding was had about the changing of their bedding every three days. And Ma had forgotten to tell Ruth that the old red hen which had her comb frozen off, laid on the corn pile.

At four twenty o'clock we were on the road, everyone of course sleepy. Some were even trying to sleep a little on the mattress and springs we carried along, but the bed on the bus stuck out over the back wheels so far until it flipped us up and down so fast we could not sleep. Just as we drove down in a valley the other side of Snyder we found a car in the ditch. Someone had turned a car over in a deep ditch as they went around a curve so we helped him out. We started out again and the boys took time about driving and the speed was kept up to about fifty miles an hour.

Anson was soon reached. Then we realized we were about half way so we drained the bus and put in some more oil. The day was clear. No rain had fallen for sometime in this country, yet the crops had made a fair yield. Reached Ft. Worth and were there thirty minutes. Then south sixty miles to Hillsboro, county seat of Hill county where Ma and I were born, reared and married.

We drove west of town six miles to the old stomping ground went to bed as soon as possible, got a good night's sleep, then talked all the next day.

Dollars Still Rattling In the Old Dishpan

Well, the dollars are still coming in nicely, thank you, and it makes us feel that Santa is still lingering over into January. Well, so far as we are concerned, he may stay all the year. Since our last report the following have renewed:

J. A. Clark, R. B. Collier, T. E. Hobbs, H. M. Brock, J. D. McCollough, J. T. Auburg, J. A. Carouth, R. D. Copeland, A. P. Moore, T. B. Wood, Mrs. Will Moore, A. P. Stewart, E. S. Tankersley, W. F. Collins, J. D. McDonald, O. M. Minnix, O. E. Pollock, J. M. Telford, Mrs. Eldora White, O. E. Johnson, C. L. Williams, A. L. Workman, Clyde Polk, C. C. Nettles, Bob Harris, S. T. Miller, all of this city and routes. Kirk Williams, Mrs. R. C. and R. H. Castleberry, Sam Davison, all of Meadow; W. R. Carruth, Lubbock; Wilber F. Fauley, N. Y. City; E. L. Winston, Littlefield; W. M. Green, Wellman; C. J. Bonham, Seagraves; Geo. Cleveland, Plains; W. A. Farris, Tokio; Lee Hulise, Lahey.

And the new readers have been drifting in mightily well lately. We have added recently, C. A. Poech, Bells, Texas; J. A. Hood, Merton, Texas; J. P. Newton, Lou; Smokey Taylor, city; F. W. Tittle, Seagraves; E. H. Wise, Rt. 4; W. S. Copeland, Rt. 5; A. O. Pollock, Calif.; W. R. Lanier, city; H. L. Hollowman, Rt. 3; G. R. Day, city; Gordon B. McGuire, Lamesa; B. H. Brannan, Indian Gap; N. F. Emmerson, city; Roy E. Moore, city; Ward Shoe Shop, city; H. M. Pyeatt, city.

We don't say it boastingly, but the Herald is appreciated by its readers, and some of them are making a sacrifice to keep it coming. Mr. Advertiser, don't you think such a paper should have your consideration as an advertising medium?

Warner Hayhurst and wife, and his brother, Marlin, came in Saturday from their old home in central Oklahoma, where they spent the holidays with their parents. They reported a fine time.

Unconcerned

Does winning 300 horse races in one year seem to bother Jockey Jack Westrope? Watching him munch fried chicken, solitary style, right after the big race, leads us to believe that Jack isn't concerned at all. But regardless of his calm appearance, Jockey Westrope now holds a world's record, no jockey ever having won 300 races in one year before. The 300th race was won at Epsom Downs near Houston, Texas, last week.

Tech Wolves Drub Highland Park in Quarter-Finals

Here's a nice bit of action in the Dallas Tech-Highland Park quarter-final game in the state championship race. Dallas Tech won 13 to 0. It was played Saturday in the State Fair bowl in Dallas before a crowd of 11,000. Friday Greenville sent the lads from Brackenridge High School back to San Antonio with a stinging 6 to 2 defeat, while Saturday Port Arthur whipped Corpus Christi soundly to the tune of 25 to 6. These two winners will meet at Greenville in the semi-finals, while Dallas Tech will meet San Angelo at the latter city. San Angelo entered the semi-finals by defeating Pampa 7 to 6 on neutral ground—Lubbock. The winners of next Saturday's game will then play for the championship of Texas.

Mystery: Who Found the Treasure?

A mysterious Mr. A. Modgling, who said he lived near Brownwood, Texas, visited Austin last week to get permission from Governor Miriam A. Ferguson to carry away and put into circulation $60,000 of treasure in gold, which Mr. Modgling said he had found buried in an old wagon eight miles west of Georgetown, Texas. John M. Sharpe, editor of the Georgetown Sun, investigated and took the picture of E. W. King and his son-in-law, Carol Labenske. Modgling Austin trip was news to them. Modgling had dug with them for months, but they had found nothing. However, when they investigated, King and Labenske were much perturbed, for a great gap in hole was found. It had been dug without the knowledge of King or his kin. Did mysterious Mr. A. Modgling get the gold? Wh knows?

New Laundry Man Pleased With City

Although a new comer to Brownfield, you can't find a fellow that has been here no longer than he that has made more friends and customers than James A. Miller, new owner and manager of the Brownfield Laundry. You can't help liking that boy to save your life. He so genial with you that he gets right under your skin, and right to that old pitter-patter heart of your and—well we'll bet you like him too if you have ever met him. And when you do business with him, you are the one that must and will be satisfied with the work and with the price.

Mr. Miller came here in November from Pecos, Texas. He has worked in laundries most of his adult life, at Big Spring and other places, and when he sold out at Pecos, he began looking out a location to make his permanent home. And, to use his own words: "I looked round all over the country and liked Brownfield better than anything or any place. I like the way the town was situated with its huge trade territory and abundance of undeveloped natural resources. I liked its good people and the way they did things, and said to myself, 'here is where I settle.'"

Mr. Miller is turning out first class work and deserves the trade of the territory. He informed us that while he was not making much, he was making a living, and had hopes for the future as prosperity returns to all the people. He has under his employment six people, and they all seem happy and contented to work for him. And one of the hardest workers is James A. (himself) Miller. He does all the washing operation, the marking, checking, delivering, etc. But he always has a nice word and time to chat with visitors.

We had a card from a friend recently mailed while they were in old Matamoros, Mexico, which showed a rather "stewed" guy clinging to a light pole, and the poetry under the picture told us that "when a fellow laughed at every fool thing, he was drunk, by gosh, drunk." However, when we were over at Matamoros we didn't see any light standard as pretty as that one was nor no streets as well paved, but we did see plenty stuff that would make one act like the fellow in the picture.

Thomas Jefferson is credited with bringing waffles to America. He tasted the delicious hot cakes in Holland and had a waffle iron sent to him from Europe. He is likewise credited with introducing vanilla and other present day popular adjuncts of cookery.

Does Amendment Give A Sheriff 3 Offices?

Since the last primary, the citizens of Texas have voted on a constitutional amendment which they thought consolidated the offices of Tax Collector and Assessor, and the people voted for it thinking it would be a saving to the tax payers. Now, it appears, and our Terry County Attorney so holds, that in counties under 10,000, which would include Terry county, the law consolidates under one man, the sheriff, all three of the offices.

The Herald is not disputing the fact that it is the law, but it does believe that it was never the intention of the legislature to give one man three political offices in any one county. Nor did the voters so believe, or they would have hit that amendment so hard that it would have died aborning. But to say the least, lots of people are up a tree about the matter, and it seems that the Attorney General's department is in no hurry to render a decision on the matter. In fact, the thing may have to go to the supreme court. A lot of us are always ready to lament the fact that we have too many lawyers in the legislature, but even with that profession predominating, it seems that even a district school law can't be passed without a defect.

The Herald is of the opinion that the State of Texas should call a constitutional convention of the best legal minds in the state and revise our constitution from attic to cellar, and leave out enough whereases and wherefores so that a common person can understand it, and get the old antiquated lady up to where she won't have to have a new dressing every time the legislature meets.

Here is the situation it leaves in Terry county. No man wants all three offices. If he takes all three, he has to hire a man to look after one of them, and it gives one man too much say so over the affairs of the county. And to quote Jess Smith, present sheriff, he does not want the office of Sheriff without one of the others in this county, as the fees allowed a sheriff in a county of Terry's population will not pay the expenses a sheriff is often put to in the performance of his duties. For example, the fees for going to another section of the state after a prisoner have been so cut that it will absolutely be a financial loss to him to do so.

So, as Andy says, "there is the situation in a couple of nut shells." While the law may mean that all three offices are consolidated in small counties, it was not, we believe, the intention of the voters in approving it by their vote, to consolidate the three in any county, but only to consolidate the offices of assessor and collector. The same man can collect in the winter and assess in the summer without conflict, but when you add the sheriff's department, "you have a big mess," to quote Andy again.

Texas at Threshold Of a New Era

By Roger Q. Flournoy, Executive Secretary Texas Retail Grocers Association

There is obvious in Texas today a greater interest in the upbuilding of Texas industry as a whole. Maybe it is due to the depression or maybe to just a natural awakening on the part of the business men of the State; but my own opinion is that it is chiefly the result of the educational work being done along this line.

During the process of education we have learned another lesson thru the unbridled, destructive methods of competition that had their inception at an earlier date. This costly error is to be overcome. Cut-throat competition is being curbed thru the industrial codes; and, as we stand at the threshold of a New Year, an opportunity presents itself to Texas such as it has never before had.

The opportunity is for our leaders. If they will show the way, Texans—as loyal a citizenship as can be found in any country on the globe—will follow. The road has been charted by our great President and if we will but follow thru, Texas, with all its wealth and productivity, will enter upon a new era of prosperity.

The educational work of such organizations as Progressive Texans, Inc., must be continued with greater intensity. Observation during the past four years with thousands of miles of travel and more thousands of personal contacts gives convincing evidence that Texans will not be driven. The way out of darkness is the way of light. The tendency toward co-operation by the retailer—a wiser and better merchant today—should be seized upon sympathetically by the Texas manufacturer, our recognized industrial leaders, to the benefit of the State as a whole.

Life, like a dome of many-colored glass. Stains the white radiance of Eternity.—Shelley.

Two More Big Fedders For Terry County

Ray Brownfield and Green & Lumsden are reported having approximately 2,800 cattle on fed on their respective ranches in the Brownfield area. Both Ray Brownfield and his brother, Dick, are experienced feeders. L. Lumsden of Wilson looks after the operations on the Green-Lumsden ranch.

The above item appeared in the Lubbock dailies under recent date, and while we are sure that it is straight goods, it came somewhat as a surprise to us, as the last time the Herald reporter broached the subject to Ray, he was rather doubtful of the feeding venture this year. Anyway, Ray is an experienced feeder as well as one of the best breeders on the Plains. His acquisition recently of one of the finest small breeding ranches in west Texas to propagate fine bulls to head his ranch herds, shows that Ray is up to the minute on breeding. He already has one of the best and purest herds in this section.

While Mr. Lumsden of the Green & Lumsden ranches lives at Wilson, they have a mighty fine ranch in east Terry, and are fast breeding up a fine pure bred herd. They too, have had considerable experience in feeding operations, and in Cecil Shaw, have one of the best ranch foremen in this section of the State. We are glad these two big herds have been added to the feeding operations in old Terry. It will mean that the farmers will have even better opportunity to sell their feed, and those close to these ranches will not have to haul it so far.

SNAKE MEAT POPULAR

How would you like to be invited out for dinner and after consuming quantities of what you had thought to be chicken be told that you had been eating rattlesnake? Many people would be glad for the chance. Rattlesnake meat has long been popular throughout the world and lately the demand for this delicacy has been growing in this country. Even the men in the Forestry Army are said to have found out that snake meat rivals chicken.

Snake students tell us that the rattler is clean in his habits and is not subject to disease. His meat is dry and appetizing, rivaling that of frog legs and white meat of the chicken. For commercial purposes it is put up in small cans, by factories for that purpose.

Snake catching methods are primitive. Pronged sticks are used and after a little practice it is surprising how easily the snake can be pinned to the ground. Its head is severed from the body which is then carefully skinned. The meat is cut into small pieces, washed, cooked, mixed with a sauce and placed in cans ready for the market. Much of this meat is shipped to other countries but the demand in this country is steadily increasing.

None of the snake is wasted. Rattlesnake oil has long been recognized as having certain curative properties for sprains, rheumatism and other ailments. This oil is extracted from the liver and fatty parts of the body. Earrings and watch charms are made from the rattles and bones while the skins, ranging from three to six feet in length, are tanned and made into belts, hat-bands, hand bags, lamp shades and sometimes ladies shoes.—Pathfinder.

IMPORTANCE OF YOUTH IN CHANGING WORLD REVEALED

Nashville, Tenn., Dec. 28.—Declaring that "we are passing through the birth pangs of a new world," Dr. M. E. Dodd, of Shreveport, La., president of the Southern Baptist Convention, told the south-wide conference of the Baptist Young People's Union tonight of the importance youth has in the changing order.

"The old world is dead," he continued. "The new is not yet born. Old economic, political and religious orders are passing."

WHAT IS DRY ICE

Commercial dry ice is carbon dioxide gas which has been solidified under pressure. Dry ice does not melt in the true sense of the word but evaporates to a non-corrosive gas without leaving any moisture. It is dangerous to handle with the bare hands or to let it touch any part of the body as its temperature is around 110 degrees below zero. This product weighs less than water ice and is about 20 times as effective.—Pathfinder.

Lamesa Youth Killed In Auto Mishap

LAMESA, Jan. 1.—Walton (Scrip) Crawley, 21, son of W. K. Crawley, vice president of the Lamesa National bank, was killed when a Ford roadster he was driving turned over and pinned him about 5:50 o'clock this morning in Seminole. A man living nearby found the body about 7 A. M. Death was attributed tentatively by an examining physician to concussion of the brain and exposure. The automobile, in which Crawley was alone, hit loose sand and upset. The body was brought to Lamesa. Young Crawley, a graduate of Lamesa High school, was survived by his parents; two brothers, Richard and Bob Crawley; an aunt, Mrs. Rupert R. Townsend; a grandmother, Mrs. T. V. Crawley, and an uncle, Victor Crawley, all of Lamesa. The young man was a bookkeeper in the Lamesa National bank.

Several from here attended the funeral including Mr. W. H. Collins and Wilson Collins of the Collins dry goods company, the later being a

OUR 23 YEAR COLUMN

There was nothing much of interest on the first page except a trip of farm boy's Corn Club to Washington at the invitation of then Secretary of Agriculture, Wilson, met the President, (Taft) and saw all the sights including Mt. Vernon. One of the boys, Jerry Moore, of South Carolina, raised 228 bushels of corn on an acre of ground, but the cost was 43c per bushel.

In the church directory, we note the Methodist had preaching every 2nd and 4th Sunday, and Sunday school every Sunday. The Baptists had preaching every 1st and 3rd Sunday. The church of Christ had Sunday school every Sunday afternoon at the Baptist church. Rev. J. N. Groves had a relapse and confined to his bed. H. H. Longbrake and Albert Taylor had business in Seminole. G. E. Lockhart and family were visitors in Brownfield. Mrs. Geo. Smith had presented the Herald family with a Christmas hen. Earl Hill who was attending the State Normal at Canyon, was home for the holidays. Brit Clare was in from the ranch. Miss Orel Harris spent the holidays in Lubbock. Miss Beuna Allen of Pride, spent the holidays with Mrs. M. E. Kinard and family. Prof. David Herring fell while skating on ice and was severely hurt. The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Raymer died suddenly. Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Hughes had returned from a visit in Lynn county. W. C. Smith had bought lots southeast of the square and had contracted Billie Byrd to erect a residence thereon (where Aut Graham now lives.) Dad Ellis had sold his ranch in northwest Terry to Will and Arch McPhaul, and was preparing to move to southwest Texas.

Newt Copeland of Lubbock, spent the holidays here. Judge Neill appointed Ben Broughton Commissioner of Precinct No. 3, to fill out the vacancy caused by the resignation of T. M. Biles. Agricultural Questions

R. C. Reed, County Agent

Questions and Answers on the 1934 Cotton Program

Question 1. What is the purpose of the reduction program?

"To relieve the existing national economic emergency by increasing agriculture purchasing power." The Agriculture Adjustment Act was passed by Congress to establish an agency that with the resources of the National Government, could with the co-operation of the farmer control production in such a manner as to raise the price of farm products in keeping with the products farmers must buy.

Question 2. What caused disparity between the price of cotton and the products farmers buy?

Reduced demand and record supplies of cotton.

Question 3. What is the 1934-35 cotton reduction plan?

The Secretary of Agriculture is offering to pay the cotton producer 3½¢ per pound on the average lint production to retire from 35% to 45% of the average cotton acreage planted the last five years (1928-32 inclusive). The lint production of the retired acreage will be based on the average production for the last five years, (1928-32 inclusive). Example: If the average lint production of a farm from 1928 to 32 is 120 pounds per acre the rental would be 120 pounds times 3½¢, equals $4.70 per acre.

The producer also receives a bonus of not less than one cent per pound on 40% of the lint of his five year average.

The first payment is made between March 1, 1934 and April 30, 1934. The second payment between August 1, 1934 and September 30, 1934. The bonus payment between December 1, 1934 and January 1, 1935.

Question 4. Will producers who sign contract fare as well as those who do not?

The Secretary of Agriculture intends that the producers who sign contracts fare better than those who do not. All the powers of the department will be used to that end.

Question 5. Can a contract be signed covering a farm on which cotton has never been grown?

No.

Question 6. Is a third and fourth tenant who is renting land from two or more landlords eligible to sign the contract?

Yes, by signing contracts jointly with each owner or landlord to cover the land which he controls.

Question 7. Is the producer who has moved from the land he farmed from 1928 to 1932 eligible to sign the contract?

Yes, if he has moved to a farm which is eligible under the contract.

ELIGIBLE FARMS

Question 8. What farms are eligible for entrance?

(a) Farms on which cotton was planted at least four years of the base period 1928 to 1932 inclusive, or

(b) Farms on which cotton was planted for three years of the base period, one of which years was either 1931 or 1932, or

(c) Farms on which cotton was planted in both years 1931 and 1932, or

(d) In case cotton was not grown on the farm any of the years 1928-1932 but a plow-up contract was fulfilled for the year 1933 then the farm is eligible for reduction.

Question 9. Will the required reduction in cotton acreage be based upon the number of acres planted or the number harvested?

Upon the number of acres in cultivation on July 1 of each base year.

Question 10. If the producer has had a complete or partial crop failure during one or more of the base years will his allotment be affected?

Yes, his average production will be lower.

Use of Idle Acres

Question 11. What can be done with the cotton land rented to the Secretary of Agriculture?

(a) For the planting of soil-improving or erosion-preventing crops.

(b) May be permitted to be idle.

(c) Producing food for home use only.

(d) Tenants are to be allowed the use of the land rent free for the purpose of producing feed for his work stock.

(e) Under no circumstances can any crop be grown for sale directly or indirectly upon the land rented to the Secretary of Agriculture.

Question 12. If the farm is operated by a third and fourth renter, how are the payments divided?

(a) Rental payments will be divided on the basis 50% to the tenant 50% to the landlord.

(b) The bonus payment will be

Production Credit For Terry County

R. C. Reed, County Agent

A Production Credit Association for Terry County was organized by sixteen farmers in a meeting Saturday, December 30, 1933 in the District Court room.

B. L. Thompson from the Tokio community was elected to serve as a district director for the association. Eight counties comprise this loan district. The sixteen attending charter members voted to attend the district meeting at Lubbock, January 4 for the purpose of applying for membership in the district. If membership is granted the charter members meet, elect a president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer. This board adopts by-laws, elects two of its members to act with the president as the executive loan committee, and selects a loan inspector. Soon after the necessary business is disposed of the organization is ready to function.

Source of Capital

The initial paid in capital for the association is provided by the Production Credit Corporation located in the district. The corporation subscribes to Class A stock to an amount equal to 20% of the estimated amount of loans to be made.

Additional capital is provided through the sale of Class B stock to borrowers. Each borrower is required to own Class B stock equal to 5% of the amount borrowed. The farmer may purchase the stock with money borrowed from the association. Each farmer gets only one vote regardless of the amount of stock owned. He does not have to purchase new stock each time he borrows unless he wishes a larger loan than was previously made.

With the approval of the directors a stock holder may sell his Class B stock to another borrower or person eligible to become a borrower, or exchange it for Class A stock.

If the association estimates that it will loan $100,000 the Credit Corporation will subscribe $20,000 or 20% of the estimated loans. If the association actually loans $100,000 then the stock holders will have bought $5,000 worth of Class B stock (5% of loans) making the total paid in capital $25,000. The association can then take this $25,000 and through the corporation borrow $125,000 to be loaned to producers or borrow $5,000 for every $1,000 paid in capital.

It is the aim of the charter members to obtain $150,000.00 operating capital for the producers of this county and have the association ready to function within 30 days.

THE BONDS WILL SELL

Texans in general and many thousands in particular will have a sigh of relief now that there is assurance that the state bread bonds will be sold and the money used to match federal funds for the resumption of relief work.

Bankers of the state gathered in Austin, Thursday, formed a bond marketing committee, asserted the bonds were sound investments for banks, individuals and business institutions, and promised to see that the balance of the $2,750,000 issue is disposed of without delay.

Fred F. Florence of Dallas, head of the bond marketing committee of bankers, put the situation in few but vigorous words:

"There can be no honorable evasion of the solemn duty that now rests upon the people of Texas. These bonds must be quickly converted into money in order that our own dollars may be promptly matched with the dollars of the federal government, already so liberally contributed to the amelioration of conditions of destitution in our state. —Abilene News.

divided exactly as the crop is divided.

Administrative Rulings

1. If it becomes necessary to enforce rules and laws regarding the use of rented acreage the Secretary may do so by any agency he sees fit to act through, and any expense incurred shall be deducted from any sum which may be due or become due under the terms of the contract.

2. The second installment is paid between August 1 and September 30, 1934, after inspection is made as prescribed by the Secretary.

3. Receipts of the share-tenant. No contract shall be recommended by the County Committee for acceptance by the Secretary of Agriculture if it appears that any device has been adopted by the land owner for the purpose of depriving share-tenants or sharecroppers of the benefit provided for in the contracts, and any contract may be terminated, (even though already accepted by the Secretary) in event any such practice is reported and found true.

4. Identification of Rented acres. The boundaries of the rented acres shall be marked by substantial, visible posts or stakes as prescribed by the County Committees.

RED GOOSE—THE OJIBWA INDIAN BOY

An Indian Story for Boys and Girls

By Carlyle Emery

Episode No. 57

Red Goose started out on a short hunting trip with his father, Red Eagle, and two soldiers from Fort Ridgley, Bear Cat and Allen Carter. About mid-afternoon of the second day they heard a crashing sound in the bushes and a white man appeared, his clothing badly torn and his face as white as a sheet. "Save me! Save me!" he cried weakly.

Now go on with the story "What's the trouble, man?" asked Bear Cat, as the stranger sank wearily to the ground. "You look as though a ghost had been chasing you. "Sioux are on war path," gasped the Paleface. "They captured me, but I managed to escape. They'll trail me sure and be here in a moment."

"What can we do, Red Eagle?" asked Bear Cat.

"Nothing," was the answer. Sioux and Ojibwa have buried hatchet, Captive of Sioux belong to Sioux. Ojibwa cannot take away."

"But good gracious, Chief!—we can't give a white man back to those fiends!"

"No! No! No! In the name of mercy, don't do that," pleaded the stranger, almost overcome with fear. Red Eagle was silent a moment, then he spoke again.

"Maybe Red Eagle can help. Paleface keep quiet. Let Red Eagle speak to Sioux when they come."

"Who are you, stranger?" asked Bear Cat.

"Chisholm—Bill Chisholm. The only one left of three hunters. The Sioux surprised us at the Falls and killed both of my companions. I wish they had killed me too, if you are going to give me back to them."

"So they are back on the war path, eh? Cheer up, man," said Bear Cat. "Red Eagle, here, is Chief of the good Ojibwa Indians and he's going to try and save you."

"Umph," grunted the Ojibwa Chief. "Red Eagle is friend of Paleface. Try very much to save you."

Then turning to his son—

"Red Goose."

"Yes, father?"

"Keep gun pointed at stranger. Make believe he is our prisoner."

"How soon do you think Sioux will come?" asked Bear Cat.

"Sh-h. Sioux come now."

"Red Goose leveled his rifle at Chisholm, and for all the world it looked as though the Ojibwa Indians had taken him prisoner, when there was another crashing sound in the bushes, and a minute later the Sioux war party appeared headed by Blue Raven.

"How," said Red Eagle. "Ojibwa welcome Sioux and friend Blue Raven."

"How, Red Eagle," replied the Sioux Chief. "Blue Raven and his warriors come on trail of prisoner."

"No prisoner of Sioux here. Only prisoner of Ojibwa."

"Prisoner belong to Sioux. Escape and come here. Ojibwa give him up."

"Paleface may have been prisoner of Sioux, but he is captive of Ojibwa now."

"No, Sioux and Ojibwa are friends. Red Eagle cannot take prisoner away from Blue Raven."

During this conversation between the two Indian Chieftains, Red Goose kept his rifle pointed at Chisholm, who was trembling with fear and yet hopeful he would be saved.

And now Red Eagle spoke again. "Red Eagle will buy prisoner from Sioux."

"Why does Red Eagle want Paleface?" asked Blue Raven suspiciously.

"Need Paleface for work of squaw on hunt."

"What will Red Eagle pay?"

"Five beaver skins."

"Not enough. Give prisoner to Blue Raven. He go now."

Ellwood Buried at Former Illinois Home

COLORADO, Dec. 29.—Funeral services for William L. Ellwood, 75, prominent West Texas ranch manager and business man, were held in DeKalb, Illinois, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The body was sent from Colorado (Texas) this morning, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Ellwood and a daughter, who have been visiting at the Rendenbrook ranch, and Otto Jones, manager of the Spade ranch.

Heart Attack Fatal

Ellwood formerly managed the 265,000-acre Spade ranch on the South Plains. He became manager in 1891. Later he became a bank executive and was interested in the first barbed wire factory.

A heart attack caused his death at a hotel here yesterday.

Lubbock friends of the pioneer West Texan had hoped that rites could be conducted there before the body was carried to DeKalb. Services in Lubbock, however, would have resulted in a 12-hour delay in arrival at DeKalb.

Mr. Ellwood, apparently in perfect health, left Lubbock Friday to spend the holidays at Rendenbrook ranch. The day before his unexpected death he purchased a herd of bulls near Sterling City.

Leaves Large Fortune

For the last several years Mr. Ellwood had made his home with Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Arnett, west of Lubbock. He went to Lubbock in 1918, after having lived for years at the Spade ranch headquarters about 20 miles west of Lubbock.

His individual fortune was estimated at $50,000,000 at the time of his death, although at one time he was said to have been worth more than twice that amount.

Man has two natures, so he knows what "war" is.

Taylor is Wholesale Blatz Distributor

A representative of the Blatz Brewing Co., was here this week and appointed "Smokey" Taylor as their wholesale distributor for this section of the Plains. This will mean that Mr. Taylor will distribute to Lubbock and other towns in this section. The distributing center for west Texas is Amarillo, by the Panhandle Fruit Co., who announce that Mr. Taylor retailed more beer for the past two months than any other retailer in the territory.

Taylor has built a large cold storage in the rear of his place that will hold perhaps a hundred kegs of beer at a time, as well as a place for his meats and other perishables used in his cafe. Some 2500 pounds of cottonseed hulls were used in insulating the cold storage, which he began using last week.

Blatz is said to be one of the beers that made Milwaukee famous as a beer making city.

Later: The Blatz representative gave orders to Mr. Taylor to use a few cases of their famous beer for advertising purposes, and the Herald was a recipient of a case gratis one day this week.

Tom Emerson's home on the draw this side of Wellman burned last Sunday afternoon with all their household goods. Two of the Emerson boys were pretty badly burned about the lower limbs, but a younger one sat down in the yard and piled sand on his legs. The fire started when a bottle of kerosene was used in starting a fire in the stove. The bottle exploded, and the house and contents were reduced to ashes almost quicker than we can tell it, owing to a strong wind from the southwest.

Many a man thinks he is buying pleasure when he is merely selling himself a slave to it.
