

President of Babicora Development Co. Here

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. W. Murray, of San Francisco, Calif., were here several days the past week, and were registered at the Hotel Brownfield. Mr. Murray is, we understand the President of the Babicora Development Co., of Chihuahua, Mexico, and of course their feeding interests here. Mrs. Murray, we understand is a niece of William Randolph Hearst, who is also a director and principal stockholder of the company.

While here, they were taken in charge by Mr. J. M. Barbee, manager of the big ranch in Mexico, and who is now spending much of his time in Brownfield looking after the Hearst cattle on feed here. He was shown through the pens of nearly 10,000 head of steers as well as the huge mountains of corn, maize, higeria and bundle stuff near the feeding operation. Also, the massive machinery used in shredding and crushing this feed, and was said to be well pleased with their operations here.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray left here Friday in Mr. Barbee's plane for El Paso, in care of Mr. Barbee's pilot, where they got passage on to the Pacific coast.

94 Firms Granted Charters in December

Austin, Texas, Jan. 22.—A total of 94 new charters were granted to Texas firms during December, against 85 in November, an increase of 11 per cent, but 21 per cent below the 119 granted in December, 1932, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Only three groups of businesses showed an increase over December, 1932. For the entire year of 1933 a total of 1,569 charters were granted, 15 percent less than the 1,844 granted the previous year.

Capitalization of the new firms in December totaled $1,005,000, which was 28 per cent below that of November and 71 per cent less than in December, 1932. Capitalization of charters granted for the entire year 1933 aggregated $28,269,000, a decline of 27 per cent from that of the previous year.

LEE LYON WANTS TO BE COMMISSIONER

To the voters of Precinct No. 4, Terry County:

I have decided to again make the race for Commissioner of Precinct No. 4, and solicit the vote and influence of all voters of that precinct. Will state that I have been in Terry County for 14 years and have had experience in most all things that would qualify one for that office. Will state that I believe in spending the money for the precinct equally in all parts of it, and that I believe in low taxes and economy in office. I had two years service in the world war, and am partially disable from same.

Respectfully,
Lee Lyon.

BRUCE WHITE FOR COUNTY CLERK

To the voters of Terry County:

Through this paper I am announcing my candidacy for the County Clerks office. I have never asked for any public office before. Now to those who do not know me, will say I have been in Terry county almost nine years, but it is my desire to meet every citizen in this county in person, and know you. I will appreciate your vote and influence, and if elected to this office, will give it the best of my attention.

Respectfully,
Bruce White.

Chevrolet to Quote Delivered Prices Only

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 20.—A new automobile merchandising policy whereby the purchaser will be apprised of the full cost of his automobile delivered in front of his door, rather than having to rely on ambiguous "f. o. b." prices, was announced here today as effective immediately in the entire Chevrolet organization by William E. Holler, general sales manager of the company.

A campaign is now being launched among dealers and retail salesmen in all parts of the United States instructing them in the new policy and apprising them of the suggested delivered price to be quoted in their respective communities.

"We are going to take the blinders off the order blank," Mr. Holler stated. "We are going to let everybody know exactly how much their cars will cost them delivered in front of their doors. We are going to show exactly what makes up the difference between the list, or f. o. b. price, and the final delivered cost."

Mr. Holler announced the new merchandising plan at his Detroit headquarters following his return from the New York Automobile Show, where final arrangements on the new policy were perfected.

As an instance of what the new procedure means to car buyers, Mr. Holler pointed out that while list prices on the company's new 1934 models average $70 higher than in 1933, the actual increase in cost to the purchaser in New York is only $40. While the list, or "f. o. b." price, throughout the United States averages 14 per cent above 1933, the delivered costs actually average only eight per cent higher.

"I am confident," said Mr. Holler, "that this plan will enable us to deliver automobiles all over the country at a lower price to the purchaser than any other make of volume car."

Tech Professor Writes History of Spur Ranch

Lubbock, Texas, Jan. 15.—Publication of "The Spur Ranch" by Dr. W. C. Holden of Texas Technological College has been announced by the Christopher Publishing House, Boston. This is the third book to be published by Dr. Holden, besides about 40 articles dealing with the history and archaeology of West Texas. Other books are "Alkali Trails" and "Rollie Burns."

"The Spur Ranch" is an analytical treatment of the inclosed phase of the ranching industry of the Great Plains during the last quarter of the Nineteenth century, dealing with the era immediately following the free range stage of the cattle business. It gives a history of the Espuela (Spur) Land and Cattle Country, Limited, of London, which acquired the Spur Ranch of nearly half a million acres located in Dickens, Kent, Garza, and Crosby counties.

In this publication, Dr. Holden analyzes the various phases of the ranching industry, using almost exclusively the early Spur Ranch records. A limited use of verbal testimony from persons associated with the ranch gives the added color characteristic of the country.

DEATHS

Mrs. W. H. Rowe, of Midland, wife of the superintendent of the Hearst feeding operation here, died in St. Louis, Tuesday evening at 7:15 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Rowe went to St. Louis last week where she was to have undergone an operation, but it is not learned whether or not the operation was performed. The body will be buried Friday in Midland.

Mrs. Florence M. Penny, 61, of the Willow Wells community, died the 19th inst., following a stroke of apoplexy which lasted four days. The body was brought in to the Brownfield funeral home and prepared for shipment to Cameron, Texas, where burial was had. The lady, we understand was a cousin of John Penny, and lived with he and family.

Charley Gaston was in last week lamenting what the poor farmer has to live on. He talked of country cured ham, sausage, eggs, biscuits and coffee for breakfast, and admitted that Mrs. Gaston had canned a few hundred cans of vegetables during the summer. We asked him if he was advertising for boarders.

Dube Pyeatt has been on the puny list this week.

THE accompanying graph constitutes a vivid explanation of one reason why the prices for corn and hogs have been so low the last few years. The main reason is the severe decline in the export demand for United States hog products since the 1919 peak.

In 1914-14, European nations took the equivalent of nearly six million hogs. This was only a moderate export level, but the total United States hog production at that time was in good balance with the combined domestic and foreign demand.

Under the stimulus of the World War, foreign purchases of our hog products jumped to the equivalent of about seventeen million hogs. But since the war, our exports have dropped back again to the equivalent of about four million hogs. This decline has been due to a rapid restoration of hog production in European countries since the war, particularly in Germany and Denmark, and more recently because of tariffs and quotas which limit the quantity of imports.

While hog production in the United States has continued to increase at about the same rate as the population. Consequently, the products no longer shipped abroad have become excess products on the home market and have driven down hog prices. Some adjustment to this changed demand must be made if hog prices are to be raised to a more favorable level. The corn-hog production control program, now being offered by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, will help farmers bring about this necessary better balance.

Arrangements Made For President's Ball

Everything is now arranged for the President's Ball next Tuesday night at the old Dock Powell building on the southwest corner of the square. All the civic clubs have met and appointed a committeeman to represent them, as follows: Lions Club, Leo Holmes; American Legion, Dube Pyeatt; Maids and Matrons, Mrs. Roy Wingerd; Rotary Club, Jas. H. Dallas. These committeemen, together with W. R. McDuffie, Director of the ball, will form the Central Committee, with Mr. McDuffie as chairman.

Tickets good for one couple for the entire duration of the ball can be had for $1.50 at either drug store, any cafe or the two banks. Mrs. Roy Herod, will head the music committee, to form a local orchestra. Huggins & Knight will install a new radio to get dance music from both chain hookups, as well as the President's address some time during the evening. Mrs. W. R. McDuffie will have charge of the decorations, and A. J. Stricklin will direct the publicity. Speak Kendrick was appointed treasurer.

The ball will start Tuesday evening promptly at 9 o'clock and will close at one o'clock Wednesday morning. It will be entirely informal, with everybody invited and welcome. It is understood that Ropes, Tahoka, Seagraves and perhaps Lamessa will have their own balls, but Brownfield is expected to draw from Plains and Meadow.

Hick Politician

Here is W. W. Halcomb, the "World's Worst Hick" and editor of the Castro County News at Dimmitt, Texas, who is going to run for Representative from the 12th district. Halcomb is the fellow who got himself a taxi in Dallas to ride from a hotel to the Magnolia building across the street. His platform says the Legislature is a three-ring circus and that nothing would please him more than a ring-side seat, drawing $10 daily. "Besides," adds he, "You'll know that the best joke you could pull on the rest of the state would be to send me to the Legislature."

M-G-M's New Musical Hit Opening at Rialto

The appearance together in a picture of Joan Crawford and Clark Gable is an unmistakable sign of screen entertainment above the ordinary run. The popular pair are again seen opposite each other in "Dancing Lady," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's filmization of the widely-read James Warner Bellah novel, which will be the feature attraction beginning Sunday at the Rialto.

Emotional Fireworks

From all indications Metro has outdone itself in providing its top-notch stars with a vehicle which from the viewpoint of lavishness, spectacular detail and casting strength leaves practically nothing to be desired. Miss Crawford, who in "Dancing Lady" starts out as a cheap burlesque chorine and ultimately ends up with her name in bright lights on Broadway, has a part which gives her every opportunity of dancing, singing and plenty of displays of emotional fireworks.

Gable, likewise, has a 'meaty' role as the musical comedy director who at first considers the pushing Miss Crawford as the biggest pest of all his chorines, but is eventually brought to realize that there is more to the girl than a striking figure and particularly adept dancing legs.

An Impressive Cast

The unusually fine supporting cast grouped together for this production includes the fast-rising Franchot Tone, May Robson of 'Appie Annie' fame, the irrepressible Winnie Lightner, the world-famed dancer Fred Astaire, Robert Benchley and Ted Healy and his stooges. Also in prominent roles are Gloria Foy, Art Jarrett, Grant Mitchell, Nelson Eddy, Maynard Holmes and Sterling Holloway.

Sammy Lee and Eddie Prinz supervised the musical ensembles of the picture which features a chorus of one hundred dancers. Songs heard in the production include "Let's Go Bavarian," "Heigh Ho," "Everything I Have Is Yours," "That's the Rhythm of the Day" and "Dancing Lady," as sung by Miss Crawford, Art Jarrett and Nelson Eddy.

Infantile Paralysis Victims Number 150,000

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—About 150,000 persons in the nation are partly or wholly crippled by the ravages of infantile paralysis and most of them could be greatly benefited if adequate facilities existed, according to a statement by President Roosevelt.

To help provide those adequate facilities a Birthday Ball in honor of President Roosevelt will be held in every community in the nation on January 30, the proceeds to create a permanent endowment for nationwide work by the Warm Springs Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The President's Statement

President Roosevelt said in his statement:

"In spite of the great strides of medical science and the many generous gifts to preventive medicine, comparatively little has been accomplished in helping to restore to active and useful citizenship the more than 300,000 people in America who are partly or wholly crippled. About half of this number are victims of Infantile Paralysis. Most of them could be greatly benefited if adequate facilities existed.

"Many of the leading orthopaedic surgeons have come to recognize the growing importance of physiotherapy especially when these directed exercises are given in the medium of water. Certainly the results obtained so far at Georgia Warm Springs prove the value of warm water treatment.

Plans for the Future

"Placing the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation on a permanent and much larger basis, means not only effective work among more patients there, but eventually the establishment of similar centers in many other sections of the country. "I think most cripples, children or adult, are worth taking an interest in. Economically, restorative is sound; humanely, it is right. It is reaching out to a field which no other agency is now adequately caring for. We need pioneers."

Gets 14 Members For West Texas C of C

Mr. R. M. Kendrick, President of the First National bank, and director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, reports that he obtained 14 members in Brownfield, but that our quota is 20. However, Mr. Kendrick believes that others will take a membership later and probably bring our town up to its quota. The following firms here are listed as members:

Chisholm Bros.; Terry County's "Court House Gang"; Brownfield State Bank; Murphy Bros.; City of Brownfield Utilities; Collins Dry Goods Co.; Cobb's Dept. Store; Davis & Humphries; Alexander Drug Co.; Corner Drug Store; Palace Drug Store; Terry County Herald; Hudkock & Knight; First National Bank.

May Get Funds to Improve Athletic Field

The committee in charge of high school athletics for the Brownfield High School, are we understand, to apply for funds from the CWA to construct an athletic field as soon as plans and figures on the cost of construction can be completed. Two sites are now in view, but at the time this is written, neither has been secured. It was hoped that some big hearted property owner, who loves high school sports would donate the site.

As we understand it, in a project of this nature, all the work will be undertaken by the CWA, the people to pay only for the material in the building or construction, and an athletic field, such as is planned, would consist almost wholly of work, as little material outside of some concrete for the curbing around the football gridiron would be required. This part of the field would be sodded in grass, which would of course call for some water piping in order to keep the grass growing in dry weather.

Outside the football field, would be a race course a quarter of a mile around, and then the embankment for the seating of the field would, we understand be sodded to grass, but seating it may not be undertaken at this time. The race course for track meets would likely be cindered.

Of course some will say they can't see any sense in spending this money at this time as the people will be taxed to pay for it. Well, this money has been appropriated for projects of this kind, and other towns will get it if we don't, and we'll help pay for this improvement in other towns and derive no benefit ourselves. Besides, there are people here who need the work—NOW.

Good Roads Meeting At Lubbock Feb. 2.

Lubbock, Jan.—Efforts to secure more funds for road construction will be undertaken at the Annual meeting of the South Plains Good Roads Association here on February 2.

In announcing the session P. B. Ralls, Ralls, president of the organization, a district unit of the Texas Good Roads Association declared an intensive campaign would be launched to secure additional allotments of money from the federal unemployment relief appropriations due to be made during the present session of Congress.

Pointing out that much highway improvement has been started in this area during the past year, as a result of securing money from the emergency public works program, through organized efforts instigated by the South Plains Good Roads Association, Mr. Ralls asserted that in order to continue the needed work, it is necessary to go after more money.

Reports of the situation regarding the road program and of the possibility of securing additional funds for its continuation will be given at the meeting.

Col. Ike Ashburn, executive manager of the Texas Good Roads Association, just back from Washington, will give information on what needs to be done to secure federal assistance and a definite plan of action will be presented for consideration.

"It is imperative that each county and community on the South Plains have a large representation at the meeting," Mr. Ralls declared, "if we are to do the things we can and ought to do."

An Apology

Last week we wrote an article about Mrs. Ann C. Bell of Marshall, Texas. Somehow we left the "Mrs." off her name, and the proof reader failed to catch it. We always try to use the correct "handle" to all ladies names that goes in these columns, and especially a lady who is a grandmother. We had no intention of trying to be "familiar" Mrs. Bell and apologize herewith.

John Chisholm Enlarges Hardware Store

By removing the partition in the building just east of the Chisholm Hardware & Hatchery, John Chisholm has enlarged his hardware store almost 50 percent, and gives him much more display room for hardware and leather goods. It also adds greatly to the general appearance of the store, as his window display room has been so much increased. They are busy this week adding new tables and display racks, as well as painting and varnishing.

John informed us that the old idea of putting hardware in shelves was out. Now the idea is to put the hardware out where people can see it and let them do their own buying. This is a lesson that almost all stores have learned from the big chain department stores, as well as the 5 and 10 stores.

In the rear of the building will be located the hatchery department, which is being partitioned off from the hardware store. This is being done in order that they can have more privacy in the hatchery department, especially when a hatch comes off. They like to have visitors even in the hatchery, but sometimes people get so thick in there of days when the hatch comes off that it is hard for them to work in comfort.

Cut Out the Map in This Week's Issue

Back in October, one of our readers, Zac Smith, of Bonham, Texas, wrote us that he as well as other readers who owned land in Terry county, would like for us to give a list of the different communities in the county, and their situation as regards distance and direction from Brownfield. Mr. Smith stated that it would be put in his scrap book and preserved, and when an incident was mentioned as having happened in such and such a community he could locate it.

Mr. Smith's letter has been on file ever since then in our office, biding the time when we could with the help of the county clerk make up such a description. But this week we ran across a complete map of the county that was the property of the late C. R. Rambo, abstractor, but is now belonging, we suppose to Mr. Glen Akers. This map not only gives the different school communities, but the voting precincts, railways, highways, and even blocks and section numbers. This cut of the map of Terry county has been put away several years and forgotten.

To other readers as well as Mr. Smith, we would suggest that you cut the map out of your Herald, and paste it on a heavy card board, and you will have a map of Terry county indefinitely that will be easy to find and refer to if need be.

Money Granted Texas To Revive the CWA

Washington, Jan. 20.—An allotment of $200,000 a week for truck and team work in Texas was today obtained by Col. Lawrence Westbrook, Texas relief director, from the Civil Works Administration, to continue the Texas road work. In addition the Texas director obtained $250,000 a week for materials on the various types of projects initiated in the State.

"But for these additional allotments, we would have had about 100,000 people out of work in Texas," said Colonel Westbrook. "By Monday we should be back to normal operations."

FOR CITY OFFICES

One of the redeeming features of being poor is that none of your relatives ever receive a ransom note from kidnapers concerning your return.

We paid our State and county taxes the other day which amounted to more than $100.00. As we walked back to the office, we met three well-to-do delinquent taxpayers. We thought of the fact that more than $30 of our payment went to make up the loss caused by them and others not paying, yet these men meet other obligations.—Texas Tax Journal.

We note that drinkers will not be maintained on the CWA payrolls in New Mexico. It must be used to buy food. In a Texas city recently, according to a news item, one fellow drew his pay of $12, bought $2 worth of bootleg whiskey, threw a drunk, was fined $11 which all amounted to one dollar more than he was paid. He was also laid off the relief rolls until he has sense enough to spend his money for food and clothing for the family.

We had several samples of Will Rogers' singing Sunday night over the radio, especially doggie songs, and while Will may never go down in history as a great songster, personally the writer had rather hear him sing than a lot of screeching sopranos, gurgling tenors and bullfrog basses that we do hear over the radio. Yep, we'll admit we don't understand or appreciate good music.

The Clarendon Leader acted like it was mad as thunder at some one last week, for it remarked that it had rather carry beer ads for cash than leg show ads just for a complimentary ticket to the show. Same here, Estlack. We'd want cash for either kind of ad, but would not be adverse to a free ticket to a leg show of the right kind, and by right kind we mean—well, you know we wouldn't go far to see our legs, for instance, Bro. Estlack.

Some have asked us to remind people that they do not have much longer to pay their poll tax. Well, that is all we can do. If they do not want to pay them, that is their business, and we shall not call them Chinamen for not doing so. But we do remember that in two or three elections last year, there were some here that would have given five dollars if they had been armed with a poll tax receipt, and one man who neglected to get one, told us that he would sacrifice on something else besides a poll tax next time. Well, you only have five more days to see Jess about that poll tax receipt.

Everyone will be glad to make a donation to the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation for Infantile Paralysis located at Warm Springs, Ga., on President Roosevelt's birthday, January 30. Everyone can donate something to this great cause. A child's penny will be just as appreciated as $1000 from a rich person. President Roosevelt wants to assist in banishing this dread disease from our land, and a great hospital and research bureau at Warm Springs, Ga., to be provided through funds raised by a grateful people is a possibility. This is one cause in which we can all cooperate.—Big Spring News.

SHOW SPONSORED BY PEP GIRLS

The High School Pep Squad girls sponsored the show "College Coach," January 18 and 19.

The football boys are having a time buying their football sweaters this year, so the girls decided that with their help and the help of everyone else, they could help in the funds. Five hundred tickets were made, but only sixty or seventy were sold.

Those on the ticket committee were: Mary Dee Thomas (chairman), Lucille McSpadden, Naomi Drury, Dortha Dubois, Doy Murphy, Ora Dee Eiche, Mary Jo Neill, Francis McPherson, and Margene Griffin.

The girls will clear about twenty dollars. They have a few dollars in the bank. They are going to put this money together and present it to the football boys Wednesday morning, January 29, at the assembly.

We wish to thank those who helped us make this money, for it will certainly be appreciated and we take this means of thanking Mr. Jones especially, the theatre manager, for letting us sponsor the show. We, the girls and boys, will always remember it.

THE HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Home Economics Club met again Monday, January 23. The program committee had selected a program which was enjoyed by all. Each member rendered a joke, and if you had visited our club on this particular day you would have enjoyed them. Next week some of the mothers will teach us how to knit. We believe and they believe, that we have the "go" and will accomplish something before the semester ends.

SENIOR CLASS PARTY

The Seniors had their first entertainment of the year, at the home of Martha McClish, Saturday night, January 20.

Games were played throughout the party. Among the games played were such as "What Do I look like to You?" "Wink," and many others. There were several contests, and bubble gum was given as the prize.

Those on the game or program committee were: Mary Dee Thomas, Dortha DuBose and Ruth Young. Those on the refreshment committee were: Esther Ruth Smith, Martha McClish, and Nita Bess Brisco.

After the guests played about two hours, sandwiches, hot chocolate, and cookies were served to twenty four Seniors, including Mr. Penn, the sponsor, and his wife.

On Jan. 22, the History Club met with a program on "Four Englishmen Who Had Something To Do with the Development of America."

5. What club in B. H. S. is starting to work on a play this week?
6. What "romantic event" interesting to B. H. S. took place during the week-end? (Your know the song "Over the Week-End I Fell in Love")
7. Who were the boys that had dates with each other for the "Football and Pep Squad Theatre Party" Friday night?

THE FIFTY DOLLAR BILL

What was the fifty dollar bill? What class brought in the fifty dollar bill during the Library Contest? What purpose did it serve?

The Juniors dealt the Seniors quite a bit of misery with the fifty dollar bill. During chapel period, the week of the contest, the Seniors had several class yells as they were leading the contest and feeling fine. Mr. Wester said something about the fifty dollar bill that some class handed him, and you should have seen the Seniors drop their heads. Why did they suspect the Juniors?

The Senior class had a meeting during lunch following the chapel

Chamber of Commerce

—By J. E. Shelton, Secretary

Next Saturday night, January 27, will be the limit for signing cotton contracts for the 1934 reduction, unless an extension is allowed as all contracts must be in Washington by the 31. Now with the few days left in which to execute the contracts, it will be almost a physical impossibility for the committee to complete contracts for every cotton farm in this county as the producers did not come in the first week to sign them, but it is thought that sufficient number will be completed to enable us to secure an extension of time in which to obtain the remainder. Of course the writer does not have any official information concerning the farms that are not included in the reduction program, but is of the opinion that some form of managed acreage and production will be applied to them and that they will not be eligible to receive benefit payments that are to be made to those signing the contract.

On March 1st, the Chamber of Commerce year will close and the writer is hoping that we will be able to stage a banquet as we haven't pulled one off for the last two years, but the writer expects to undertake to sell the idea to the directors at a meeting that will be called in the early part of February for discussion as to plan to be followed for the coming year, and for the selection of some new board members.

For the past two years the organization has undertaken to function on a small budget and at times has been hard put to find funds with which to operate and has had to pass up some activities upon this account, but even with this, we have kept active and have justified the financial assistance that has been given to us. The Secretary expects between now and March 1 to publish a statement of the activities that have been sponsored and put over within the past year. He hopes and believes that it will meet with the approval of the membership as a whole.

Through the efforts of Mr. R. M. Kendrick, the membership of Brownfield in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, is larger than it has been for the last several years. The West Texas organization is a great institution and has been of great value to the section in general and deserves the support of every town in its territory, still it would not be able to perform its best service if it were not for the fact that it was able to secure cooperation of local chambers of commerce to assist in assembling information to be used by it and further that it has a budget sufficient to enable it to enter into the defense of any proposition without having to stop and count the cost.

Keep your eyes open for further development of our highways, as unless all signs fail, 137 from Brown-

Sets Tarpon Record

When a lady sets her heart on anything—well, a poor fish might as well give up. Witness above pretty Miss Kyle Browder, "five feet two," pictured with the huge tarpon, "six feet three," which she caught in the Gulf near Brownsville, Texas, to set an all-time record for the earliest tarpon caught in these waters. The weather was so mild in Texas' lower valley this year that the tarpon did not migrate.

period and appointed two girls to go to town after school and see if there was a fifty dollar bill in town. The students in the lower hall commented on how the Seniors looked as if they had just returned from burying their best dog.

The fifty dollar bill turned out to be a Red Goose bill. The Seniors won the contest, but they won't say anything about how they were fooled over the prize donation. The school will have to hand it to the Juniors that they can fool their older brothers and sisters, the Seniors, and that they will have their fun out of whatever goes on in B. H. S.

field north; is due for a caleche base within the near future and 84 is up for improvement from Post to the State line.

No one has given the writer any information concerning 84 but we are trying to keep lined up on highway improvements and happen to know that an official inspection of 84 has been made within the last few days, covering as far east as Post, and its contemplated improvement is in line with a promise made by Judge Ely to the writer several months ago.

The Interstate Commerce Commission and the Texas Railroad Commission, opened hearings in Dallas yesterday on cotton freight rates. The hearing is held at the request of the Houston and Galveston port interests and they are seeking to have such changes made in the rate as will compel all of the interior cotton marketing points in Texas, to ship their cotton to the Ports for compression instead of having it done before it leaves and if they succeed in their contention, it means a raise in our rates to where they were three years ago.

This is the fourth attempt of the Houston and Galveston interests to panalize us and we have won out so far and hope to do it this time. We are represented at the hearing by the Interior Protective and Development Association and it has been furnished all of the data as it concerns the interests of this county. The secretary of your local chamber of commerce secured the required information, compiled it and mailed to the above association a few days ago. We should have had a witness at the hearing, but it takes money to pay hotel bills and other expenses, this we did not have, so we were compelled to furnish our testimony by proxy. The hearing will consume several days and it will be several months before we will know whether we are successful in maintaining our rights or not.

W. A. MYRICK, SR. DIES AT LUBBOCK

LUBBOCK, Jan. 19.—W. A. Myrick, Sr., capitalist and a resident of Lubbock since 1915, died at his home here early today from an attack of double pneumonia. He had been ill about ten days.

Born in Tennessee in 1861, Mr. Myrick came to Beaumont, Texas, in 1901 and was engaged in various business activities. He constructed the first oil refinery in Beaumont and later became interested in the construction of shell roads in that section. At one time he was owner of the Beaumont Enterprise. From 1904 until 1906 he was a member of the Texas legislature. Coming to Lubbock in 1915, he became owner of a hardware store and later built a six-story office building. He organized the Lubbock Hotel Operating company after the hotel had been built by popular subscription here in 1926 and was the largest stockholder of the company at the time of his death.

Always interested in agriculture, he established the Myrick farm near Shallowater and at one time had more than 10,000 acres in cultivation. Half of this was in wheat one year.

His widow, to whom he was married in 1883, two sons, Walter A. Jr.,

THE PRESIDENT'S FINANCIAL POLICY

President Roosevelt has asked congress for permission to place the value of gold in a dollar at such a price as to make it worth only sixty per cent of its former value. Prior to this a law had been passed authorizing the president to call in all the gold in the United States and placing a penalty upon those who failed to deliver any gold in their possession to banks. The banks, in turn, sent this accumulated gold to the federal reserve banks where it is now being held.

Between three and four billion dollars in gold has thus been brought into these banks and into the United States treasury, most of it in federal reserve banks. At present prices this gold is worth nearly twice as much as it was when the order against hoarding was issued.

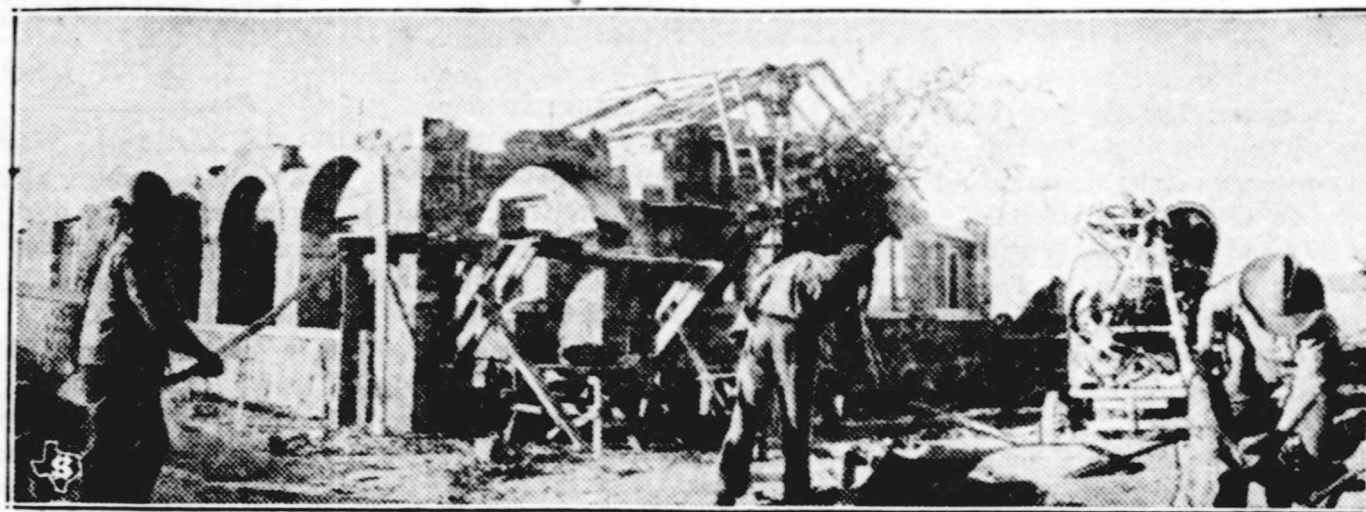

The big question before congress now is who is to receive this profit. President Roosevelt and most of the democratic senators and representatives say it should go to the federal government since the gold was given its increased value by virtue of the laws enacted by congress. A large number of republican senators and representatives, together with Senators Glass of Virginia, Gore of Oklahoma and McAdoo of California, are contending that this profit belongs to the federal reserve banks into which the gold was placed by government order without any extra cost or expense to these banks.

If the republican party wishes to go before the people of this country in the coming election upon an issue of this nature, the voters will welcome an opportunity to express their choice in the matter and there is no doubt as to the result. If these three democratic senators think that the influence of the big bankers of this country is strong enough to keep them in the senate with a record of this kind, they will find themselves badly mistaken when the voters have an opportunity to retire them from public life. They should see to it that their nests are well feathered during the present terms in office because they will probably never have another opportunity of serving their present masters—the big bankers of Wall Street.—Lovington, (N. M.) Leader.

There will be a pie supper at Happy school house Friday night—tonight—at 7:30 o'clock. Everybody invited.

County Community House Innovation in West Texas

The co-operative effort of the people of Pecos county resulted in the financing of this rock county community house, pictured under construction at Fort Stockton, Texas. The house was planned with the help of the county agent and home demonstration agent, and when completed will be valued at $20,000. It will provide an excellent place for the discussion of farming problems, dinners, games and county canning operations.

THE PRESIDENT AS A TRADER

President Roosevelt continues to add to his laurels as an international trader. His agreement with Russia was more favorable to this country than seemed possible. Now he is negotiating with nations interested in selling wines and spirits a series of agreements which materially improve America's foreign trade position.

Secretary Wallace and his experts dismiss as hardly worth mentioning Great Britain's agreement to increase its imports of American pork from 6.3 to 7.5 per cent of the total imported. But those more familiar with the temper of the ultra-protectionist British government realize that only Yankee trading of a high order could exact even that concession from a country whose trade balance with the United States is unfavorable, and whose imports had already been allotted to buyers of British exports.

The President offered the British a dose of the quota medicine which they have been administering to their customers with much success for nearly two years, and they made exceedingly wry faces before they swallowed it. But Mr. Roosevelt let them know that the way for them to sell liquor they want to send to this country was by modifying the stiff quotas raised against American exports. The victory of principle is more important than the actual increase in markets.

Equally notable is the President's success in obtaining a modification in French quotas against American goods. Several years ago the French discriminated against American exports, and continued to do so until it was pointed out that they could sell their wines in the United States only if they moderated their quota restrictions. Thanks to alert action by the Administration, certain American fruits and manufactured products will again find their way into France in larger volume.

Dec. 15 the President concluded a reciprocal agreement with Colombia, placing our trade with that country on a sounder basis. Doubtless he will seek similar arrangements with Spain, which recently announced a quota system radically reducing our exports to that country. Japan, too, is hoping to enter into reciprocal arrangements.

The new American trade policy is a radical departure from the free trade ideals of the classical economist and of the old-time Democrats, as it is a departure from the sacred-triff idea of the old-time Republicans. But it is the only practical means of functioning in the present era of intense economic nationalism in controlled foreign trade. The President has shown that American trade interests are safe in his hands.—Star Telegram.

OUR 23 YEAR COLUMN RED GOOSE—THE OJIBWA INDIAN BOY

There is little of general interest on the first page of our issue of Jan. 27, 1911, so will move over to the next. We note that we were asking for an appropriation to make Lost Draw navigable. Trying to wisecrack Dallas and the Trinity, we guess. Snyder had just had a $50,000 fire. Steel was being laid out of Lubbock toward Crosbyton. Nine of the committee of congressmen favored New Orleans for the Panama Exhibition, and six favored San Francisco—but the latter finally got the exhibition.

A. B. Bynum was assisting in the collector's office. Will Adams and Judge Spencer were Tahoka visitors. Messrs. Fore and Woods were here from the east looking for cattle to buy. Bruce Gainer of Gomez was recovering from pneumonia. Elmer Spurgeon was carrying the mail to Meadow. Geo. McWhorter of Quanah, was visiting relatives in Terry county. Luther French had ordered another bicycle, as he wanted to stay in the news limelight. Pneumonia was raging over the county. The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Rose had died of pneumonia. A. M. Ellis and family and Arch McPhaul, were registered at the Hill Hotel.

Fred Wafford was sending the Herald to an uncle, a physician in South Carolina. The most exciting thing for the week was a big dog fight. Two big town dogs proceeded to chew up a little yellow country dog. Hal Bradley was down from Lubbock with a load of passengers. T. J. Price went all the way to Lubbock to get a gallon jug of wine sent him by friends in California, but someone had consumed all but about a pint, evidently while enroute to Texas. A. W. Roberts of Fluvanna, was here buying horses and mules. Luther French had paid $4 for a $2.50 gold coin, and M. V. Brownfield had offered him $5 for it.

It seemed that J. L. Randal was making it hot for cats about his place, both with rocks and shotgun. S. E. Hamilton, prominent farmer of the Groves community, was preparing to move to South Texas on account of rheumatism. Only 121 poll taxes had been paid up to the time we went to press. Those called for jury service in County Court were, A. E. Duke, J. W. Welch, J. T. Hays, Fred Heine, W. B. Gainer, J. R. Walker, T. A. Holley, W. M. Green, Lee Underdown, A. M. Crews, A. W. Ward, S. B. Johnson, G. L. Harlan, H. L. Williamson, R. H. Timm and B. E. Fuller. All for this week.

By Carlyle Emery

The Sioux attacked Fort Bly at night, but were put to route by the soldiers who hid themselves in the trees around the stockade. Red Goose and Bear Cat were in the same tree together, and when a fleeing Red Skin fired in to the branches, there was a cry of pain and a body slid to the ground. . . . Now go on with the story.

Bear Cat was wounded. A bullet from the gun of the retreating Sioux had struck him in the arm and knocked him out of the tree.

Red Goose was down beside him in less time than it takes to tell it.

"All Sioux gone now," he said, bending over his companion. "Is Bear Cat hurt much?"

"That last bullet just clipped an artery in my arm," groaned poor Bear Cat. "We'll have to do something quick to stop the bleeding."

"Red Goose will fix quick. You wait."

Working swiftly and with unusual skill, Red Goose ripped off a piece of cloth from Bear Cat's shirt, and made a neat tourniquet that stopped the flow of blood immediately.

"There—that's fine!" said the wounded soldier. Then he added, "But where in the world did you learn to make a tourniquet, son? Upon my soul, you're about as capable a youngster as I ever did see."

"Paleface Medicine Man show Red Goose how to make tourniquet. Come—we go back to Fort now."

And so it wasn't long before all the soldiers were back in the stockade, safe and sound, thanks to the plan Red Goose had suggested for surprising the Sioux.

Four of the men were wounded, but none as badly as Bear Cat. Within a few days they were all well on the way to good health again, and for a long time the story was told how Red Goose has been responsible for ten white men resisting an attack of over fifty Red Skins.

In fact, the Sioux were so thoroughly frightened, it was a long time before they came near Fort Bly again.

Red Eagle was more than proud of his young son—not only because he had thought of a way to outwit the Sioux warriors, but also because

Prof. Says NRA Will Be Made Permanent

Fort Worth, Jan. 26.—An emphatic "Yes" is Dr. Edwin A. Elliott's answer to the oft-repeated query of whether or not the NRA reforms will be permanent contributions to American life?

Dr. Elliott, head of the department of economics of Texas Christian University, is in Washington, D. C., on a four months' leave from his school to serve as assistant deputy administrator of wholesale and retail codes for the NRA.

"There are groups in Congress which will take pot shots at the NRA," Dr. Elliott writes, "but no broadside attack will be made, I think."

"Signs of recovery here and abroad are gradually and increasingly appearing. The popularity of the President does not wane. Small business, workers, and consumers want the government to umpire the economic game. All of these influences will deter united action against the NRA."

"The threat against the NRA comes from the groups and the minds that made the depression inevitable. But the intrigue of this group cannot, I think, overwhelm American thinking groups nor its youthful group as they join hands with the President in taking the first step in the direction of building an America of security, plenty and spiritual realization."

he had saved the life of Bear Cat by making a tourniquet.

Time passed quickly, and it wasn't long before another Winter came, bringing with it a great blanket of snow.

Red Goose was now the proud owner of over eighteen eagle feathers, all of which he had earned by bravery, honesty, and clear, clean thinking. But at heart, he was still just a boy, and like other boys he liked to play all kinds of games in the snow.

One fine cold day, he was making a big snowman up near Fort Ridgley, when Betty came out of the stockade and stood watching him.

Betty, you will remember, was the daughter of Captain Roberts, commander of the Fort. She and Red Goose had become very good friends since the day when the boy had saved her from the prairie fire and also from the poisonous black snake.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT MARCHES ON

President Roosevelt continues to make history. He called on Congress to give him permission to call into the national treasury the $3,600,000,000 held by the Federal reserve banks so he could proceed with his plan to devalue the dollar. This monetary plan he intends to adopt will mean a clear profit of $3,600,000,000 for Uncle Sam, and the old boy surely needs such a break.

The big bankers never will forgive Roosevelt for pulling the deal as they naturally expected to reap a golden profit when the devaluation plans were put into effect.

Roosevelt also plans to go forward with his plans to borrow ten billion dollars to pay off bonds and continue C. W. A. projects.

The price of all commodities as well as stocks and bonds showed a big advance when the President's plans were made known.

President Roosevelt continues to amaze the world by venturing into uncharted seas in an effort to put into effect a new deal for the operation of industry and bring about a more equal distribution of profits.—Big Spring News.

Economic Highlights

It is an unfortunate thing that President Roosevelt's budget message to the Seventy-Third Congress will, like all such documents, receive only the most cursory reading. Few budget messages have been as unusual or as important—few have, through statistics, so well illustrated an Administration's aims and purposes.

The budget situation has three distinct phases: First, the government is to borrow $10,000,000,000 between now and end of the fiscal year—a rate exceeding monthly borrowings made when we were in the thick of the war; second, at end of the fiscal year we will have the largest peace-time deficit in our history—$7,000,000,000; third, beginning with the next fiscal year in July, the financial policy will be entirely reversed—no special expenditures of any moment, and Treasury receipts above those actually needed for routine operation of the government, will be used to reduce the deficit.

Mr. Roosevelt thus believes that by the middle of this year extraordinary measures will no longer be required to speed recovery. He is as awake as anyone to their terrific cost, and he has implicit faith that time will prove them to be worth a great deal more than the people have had to pay for them. Part of their cost has been alleviated by his insistence on drastic economy so far as ordinary federal expenditures are concerned. The President has advised members of the House, where all appropriations must be inaugurated, that further expenditures would be extremely undesirable.

The Treasury is looking forward to 1934-35 with hopes for increased revenues. Estimates forecast a rise in income tax returns, which will bring them to $1,265,000,000, as compared with $864,000,000 this year. The processing tax on farm products is expected to jump 30 per cent, customs receipts 17 per cent. Internal revenue taxes, because of liquor, should swell substantially. The President has said that he contemplates no new taxes and that some of the less important ones may be reduced or eliminated.

Two of our most important industries have more than a usual interest in the current Congress. The industries are the railroads and the public utilities.

The utilities are in the most difficult position. They face increasing government competition through federally subsidized, tax-free plants, more municipal plants, stricter regulation, demands for lower rates in spite of government r lices that have forced substantial rises in operating costs, and efforts to change their financial set-up.

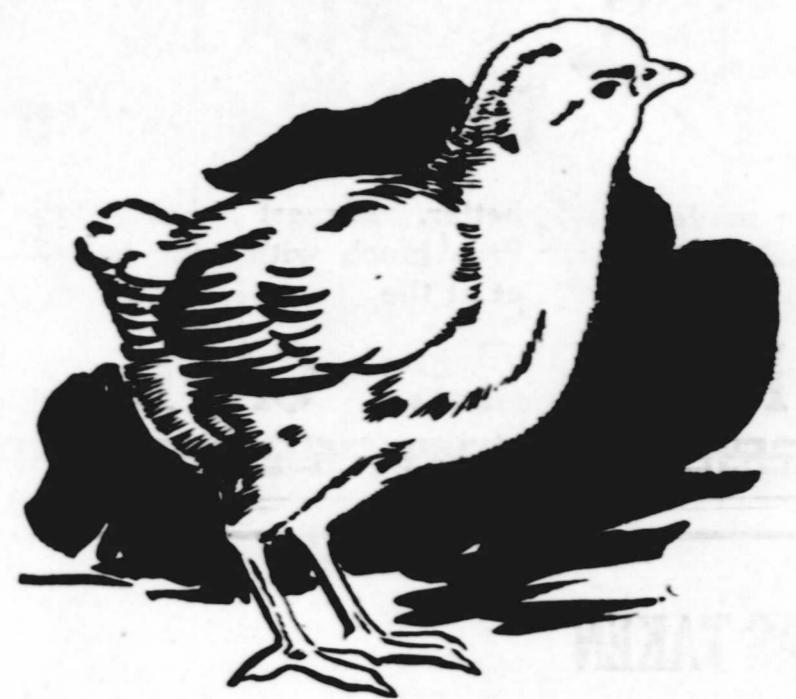

Not so very long ago the total of public utility bonds in default reached the highest figure in history. Some of the companies went broke because of poor management, as in the case of any other business—the majority were crippled by inelastic regulation and legislation, and regular and special taxation. The fact that some outstanding electric systems have been successful in weathering the business depression, does not answer the question as to what is going to happen to a privately financed, heavily taxed plant when Federal, state and municipal governments go into business next door with tax-free plants whose deficits, if any, are paid for by the public treasury.

Leading utility executives advocating resistance to what they consider unfair demands and legislation, are finding allies in other fields, notably life insurance, which is a heavy utility investor. No other industry is asked to lower the cost of its product to the consumer at a time when all government effort is being given to raising prices and wages.

The railroads are likewise striving for a fair deal for themselves—and in this they seem to have the support of both the President and able, hard-bitten, Federal Co-ordinator of Transportation Eastman. Heart and soul of the railroad request is equality of federal regulation with motor and water carriers. They say this is not possible unless all carriers are regulated in the same way by the same agency—preferably the I. C. C.

An important phase of this will be an effort to have Section 6 of the Interstate Commerce Act, which requires 30 days' notice of a railroad's intention to change a rate, modified. Buses and trucks and water lines are free to change rates at will, without notification. Also, it will be asked that the Commission's authority to prescribe minimum rail rates be abrogated.

Watch the present Congress, not only for what it does in running the government, but in preparing for the political future. In 1934 every member of the House must face the electorate once more. Main Republican trouble is lack of party discipline; as soon as a candidate is elected on the Republican platform, he is apt to desert his party. Contrasted with this, the Democrats are wonders in maintaining a unified front.—Industrial News Review.
