Ball Great Success

Six or seven thousand people, towns and villages in the States, Brownfield's funds for the endowment of Warm Springs, Ga., hobbled children, ran way expectations, according to Dickie, local director. The committee would have been pleased with a net, but after all expenses were paid, including an orchestra which came down from Lubbock, a check for $226.98 was sent to Kieth Morgan, national treasurer at New York. The gross proceeds from the dance, cake sale and domino games at the Odd Fellows Hall was $280.86.

The dance was said to have been one of the best and most highly appreciated of any that has ever been put on in Brownfield in many days, perhaps ever. The only thing that marred the performers was lack of room in the building. They had a fine orchestra, who knew how to make good dance music. The address of President Roosevelt at 10:20 was well received, and there was heavy cheering, and not a few odd "rebel yells" of appreciation at its conclusion.

The birthday cake was then sold by nominating three or four prominent ladies and charging a cent a vote, a considerable amount of money was raised in its sale. T. I. Poor, local baker presented the cake for sale free of charge. It went to Mrs. Joe Price, and was a fine cake with 52 candles and "Roosevelt" in red on a white icing. Mrs. Price was gracious enough to send the writer, Director McDuffie and possibly others with a generous portion of the cake.

Through the Herald, Mr. McDuffie wishes to thank all who helped him make the ball a success, including the Mayor and Aldermen; Jas. H. Dallas and the Rotary Club; Leo Holmes and the Lions Club; Mrs. Roy Wingerd and the Maids and Matrons Club; H. M. Pyatt and the American Legion; A. J. Stricklin, publicity; Mrs. Roy Herod, music; Mrs. Allen, Mrs. Andersen, Mrs. Ike Bailey and Mrs. McDuffie who decorated the hall; Hudgens and Knight who furnished radios at dance and 42 party; the Odd Fellows who sponsored the 42 party and Mrs. Holgate and Mrs. Downing who conducted the party; the ticket sales agencies; Speck Kendrick, treasurer; J. M. Telford, floor manager; Clovis Kendrick and Jim Neill, doorkeepers; and all other folks who had a part, large or small in helping Brownfield show its appreciation of our President.

Dick McDuffie, Chairman.

2100 Pay Their Poll Tax in Terry County

One of the largest poll tax payments in several years was recorded this year, when 2100 Terryites paid their poll tax, according to Bruce White, deputy collector.

It is believed with exemptions and unders who will be 21 some time this year before election time, will run the total around 2700 votes in the county.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this means of thanking our many friends of the Willow Wells and other communities of the county for the words of cheer, help and acts of kindness during the illness of our wife, mother and cousin. May God richly bless each of you in our prayer.

According to a report handed us this week by R. D. Copeland, government cotton reporter for this county, Terry county had ginned 12,517 bales prior to Jan. 16th, 1934, compared to 15,008 same date last year. Gaines county showed 2,885 for 1934 compared to 3,932 last year.

School Report For Month of January

Realizing that the Patrons of the Brownfield Public Schools are interested in the progress of their schools I am making some comments on the membership and attendance figures for the month just ended.

The school report for the month of January shows a total membership in all the schools of 666 pupils. This is an increase of 59 over the figure of one year ago. The percentage of attendance for the month was 83 plus per cent, which is a rather low figure. While this figure can be accounted for to some extent by the epidemic of measles and the prevalence of other ailments at this time of the year, still it is apparent that there are some absences not exactly necessary. I wish we could have all the parents realize the importance of every day in school and the essentiality of regular attendance.

The report also shows a total of 664 times tardy in the four schools. This is almost exactly an average of one time tardy for each child in school, and is a figure that can be reduced.

The report for the High School indicates that the percentage of failures for the first semester is 16 1/2%. This means that practically one out of every six in High School has failed to pass his work the first semester. However, investigation will disclose the fact that the pupils who are failing, in most cases, are the ones who have been irregular in attendance. The percentage of failures in the elementary grades is 4.8%.

We shall be glad to counsel with the parents about their children at any time and want them to feel no hesitancy in calling on us.

Respectfully,
Paul F. Lawlis,
Superintendent of Schools.

Building New Residence on Broadway

Plans and specifications are being drawn by Redford Smith for a new residence on his lots at the corner of Third and Broadway, to consist of six rooms and bath, and to be modernly equipped in every detail. The construction of this residence has not been let at this time but will very likely be under construction by the time we go to press again. We also are not able at this time to name the material to be used, but it will very likely be brick veneer like the duplex he is now living in.

We understand that a business man here has agreed to take the residence for a period of three years, and pay in advance for three years rent. As there has not been any residences constructed here in the past two years, they are becoming very scarce, and it is hard to find a suitable place that is for rent. Also, those who are inquiring for rooms in the residence section are finding it just as hard to get them. Almost every week, we have strangers call at the Herald office inquiring for rooms or a house to rent.

Well, the New Chevrolet is Now On Display

We had the pleasure this week to be "carried for a ride" by Ralph Carter in the New 1934 Chevrolet, and we want you to know that car has some get up and go to it, and that it will take these old bumpy roads like nobody's business. We didn't just stay on the pavement where any old car will run nicely and not shake your innards out, but we got out in the roughs where it takes a lot of hydraulic springs and "knee actions" to take the jolts out.

And is she a beauty? You can tell'em that it is, and it looks and really is a lot longer and roomier than our old 30th model. And that 80 horsepower engine just whizzes you along at a terrific rate of speed, and you don't know you have an engine so far as noise and vibration is concerned. Boy, if you are able to buy a car—if you need a car—don't pass up seeing and riding in the New Chevrolet.

NEXT MONDAY IS TRADES DAY

Great Crowd Expected Here For Tradesday

Those we have talked with are expecting one of the biggest if not the very largest crowds here Monday that has ever attended one of our Tradesday celebrations. The reasons are given that it is too dry to plow unless there is a rain between now and then, and that the farmers are now done gathering, and have nothing much else to do until it does rain.

The merchants here have prepared for the event with their usual array of bargains, which will in most cases go over the week end, Friday and Saturday of this week, as well as Monday. Then two, it will be the last week of district court, and many will naturally be here for that anyway.

Brownfield is expecting you Monday. Come and be with your friends.

A New Electrician Locates in Brownfield

E. H. Keiser came in last week from Seattle, Wash., and will be connected with Jim Miller in the garage and repair business. Mr. Keiser has had several years of experience as an electrician, and not only will be able to look after your batteries, but any kind of motor or other electrical trouble. His specialty, however is electrical refrigeration, and radios. His home is in Illinois.

Mr. Keiser is a buddy with Jim on an American man of war during the late unpleasanties with the central powers, and they were located most of the time in Turkish water, spending much time together on duty in Constantinople and the straits of that section, and they have much in common. It was there that Jim met his wife, she being in the YWCA service, and Mr. Keiser went with another American girl who was a friend of Mrs. Miller.

Thousands of Men To Continue Work

The Civil Works administration Saturday made grants to Texas, which prevented dropping 100,000 men from civil works employment this week.

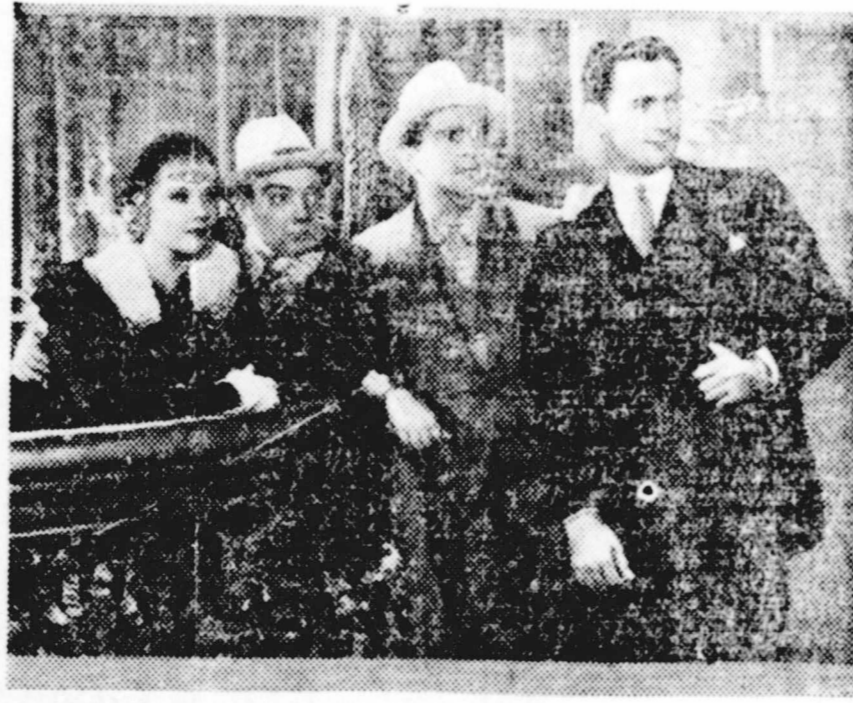

Lawrence Westbrook, the state director, has announced that Administrator Harry L. Hopkins had agreed to allocate $200,000 a week for team and truck hire and $250,000 weekly for purchase of materials. "These grants will enable us to carry forward our road program and the various projects requiring new materials on substantially the same basis as in the past," he said, adding that without them 100,000 men would have been left without work "over and above the curtailment in hours already ordered in the administration's stagger system."

"The result of this order is that 1,400 projects employing nearly 100,000 men, which had been halted or were about to be halted, will be permitted to continue as quickly as notice of this authorization has been transmitted to the counties," C. W. A. officials here said.

Lee Walker was down Monday and reported that his father was thought to be better and might not have to have his limb removed.

F. M. Ellington was over from the Harris community, Monday.

Wester Still Pulling For School Library

We were grateful, indeed, to the good people of Brownfield for their generous support of our tag-selling campaign, launched for the purpose of building up the high school library. Some fifty dollars were donated in this way, and we are carefully considering our purchases in order that we may profit most by the amount received.

Now we would beg another favor of you for the advancement of our school. In most homes there are a few books which are worthy of a place in the school library, books which the owners have ceased to read and would gladly donate to the service of the civic group. These books may be former text books, novels, poetry, or classics for any of the various high school or grade subjects. Such books could be rendering an active service if collected into our school libraries.

To this end we propose a second campaign. We plan to send high school pupils to each home in town during the week beginning February 4. They are asked to make courteous inquiry. If you have any text books, histories, classics, or books of any nature that will benefit the school we shall be further indebted to you if you will permit the pupils to collect them for the school. We shall assort them with respect to grades and distribute them to the proper department.

Thanking you for all co-operation in matters pertaining to the improvement of our school libraries, I am, yours for the best school possible.

Jack D. Wester,
High School Principal.

Gaines Commissioners Get Unsold Bonds

County Judge J. J. Kendrick and Commissioners J. E. Stanley, T. F. Doak and W. L. Gary returned Friday from Austin where they had gone in the interest of the county's road bonds.

The gentlemen brought home $100,000 of unsold Gaines County road bonds to be canceled and also brought $124,000 in bonds of various counties which had been deposited in an Austin bank to secure a deposit of a similar amount which had been received in cash for the bonds sold. The bank having closed its doors last year, the commissioners court took the collateral and will clip the interest coupons and receive the principal at specified dates.—Seagraves News.

Parsonage Purchased For Circuit Minister

Last Saturday afternoon a group of men representing Tokio, Forresters, Lahey and Plains met at the Methodist church in Brownfield and bought the old Jim Burnett residence in the southeast part of town. This home is to be used for a parsonage for the Brownfield Circuit minister. The house is being remodeled on the inside and will be occupied by Rev. and Mrs. A. D. Moore. Rev. Moore being the pastor for the above named places. We welcome these good people to our town.

Rev. Brady Brown of Lubbock, will fill the pulpit at the First Christian church Sunday morning and night. His subject will be, "Last Mile of the Way." You are invited.

Burial Association Being Organized Here

Judge W. W. Price and R. E. Shugart announce that they begin the organization of The Terry County Burial Association, of which they will be President and Sec'y-Treas., respectively. W. H. Littlefield, of Anson, Texas, the originator of this Plan, and who is now very successfully operating The Jones County Burial Association, at Anson, will be here to assist in starting.

Judge Price is well known to Terry county citizens, having spent most of his life here, and has been County Judge and County Attorney, and is now a candidate for District Judge. Mr. Shugart, the Secretary is also well known to both the farmers and business men of this county and city.

These men are thoroughly sold on this Plan, and thought of being such great help to the people of this county through this Association. Mr. Shugart recently made a trip to Anson to go over the methods used in maintaining and operating, and is able to give first hand information as to the success of this Plan there, where they have over 4,000 members in less than one year.

These men are interested in your welfare and mine, and have put their money into this to help make possible we can have an Association, and invite you to come to their office, and ask any questions you have in mind as to the manner of operating.

They say, that since we all have to make ready to pay for the expense of the last sad rites for our loved ones, sometime, and we do not know how soon it may come, that they believe that the people of this county will be glad to take this plan of helping others, and being able to have this paid for for their families, when needed, in their own homes.

They also want live agents, whose energy and reputation will enable them to write membership.

Car Sales Greater Than in Past 5 Years

The important bearing of commercial car business on the country's economic life lends special interest to the announcement of W. E. Fish, commercial car manager of Chevrolet, that the company's commercial car business for this year will not only exceed last year's by a wide margin but also outstrip earlier estimates for 1934.

Chevrolet commercial car retail sales in 1933 totaled about 103,000 units, or almost as many as the combined sales of the other three leading producers in Chevrolet's weight class. The original projection for 1934 was considerably above this figure, but general indications to date this year show that it is still too low, Mr. Fish said.

"From the New York Show right on through," he explained, "there has been far livelier interest in our new commercial car line than for several years past. The truck display at the Show is usually a comparatively quiet spot. This year all that was changed. At New York we actually had to send out for additional salesmen to answer the questions of visitors, and we closed more sales as a direct result of the Show than at the preceding five years' shows put together.

"The same thing was true at Chicago, where we had a special exhibit at a cleaners' and dyers' convention. It was necessary to bring in more salesmen to take care of all the inquiries, and the follow-up work since then is producing many sales. Similar interest is reported from the 100 cities where our advance showing has been held. Production for the year to date will exceed the entire 1933 production of any other builder in our weight class, with a single exception."

R. G. NUTT FOR COMMISSIONER OF PRECINCT 1

I take this means of announcing myself as a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of Precinct No. 1, subject to the Democratic primaries in July and August. Will state that I live in the Sunday school district and about two miles from the old Windham ranch headquarters.

I have lived in Terry county since 1929. At the proper time, I will endeavor to see all the voters of this precinct and personally tell them about my platform.

Slaton Man Burns to Death In His Home

SLATON, Jan. 27.—Ed Strasser, 57-year-old bachelor who had lived here since establishment of the community about 1912, died in flames that destroyed his home early this morning. He was a partner with J. W. Hood in the Hood and Strasser Lumber company here.

Origin of the fire that took Mr. Strasser's life and leveled his frame house was not determined. The flames were seen about 1:15 a. m. from the railway station and the fire department informed. The blaze had already reached its height.

Body Is Near Door

The body was found near the door of Mr. Strasser's bedroom. Immediately inside and adjacent to the bedroom door was a door permitting exit from the house. Mr. Strasser, in his underclothes, evidently had attempted to crawl to the doorway through which he could escape from the flames. When the body was found, the head was about 18 inches from the bedroom door. Arms and legs were burned off. The body was identified by dental work.

Mr. Strasser was said to have returned to his home from a show about 9:30 p. m. Friday. His home was on the eastern outskirts of Slaton and barely outside the corporate limits. He lived alone. The only surviving relative was believed to be a niece living in Missouri.

Bandit Queen

Pictures of Bonnie Parker, girl companion of Clyde Barrow, Texas' will of the wild bandit-gunsman, are rare. Here is a photo of Bonnie taken before she turned wild woman, though you couldn't tell it by the picture. The guns were toys, however, and perhaps Bonnie, herself, didn't know that her garb and gats foretold her career.

Brownfield Girl Leader In Religious Work

BELTON, Texas.—Miss Orvalene Price of Brownfield, a sophomore in Baylor College, has made quite an enviable record in religious activities this year. She is making her third trip with the Baptist Training Service groups which are sent out by Baylor College. She is in the lower Rio Grande Valley District this week and is to be gone through Jan. 28.

Miss Price was one of the group of twenty students who went to Fort Worth in October where they conducted a B. T. S. revival for one week. There she did such good work that her host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hawkins of Fort Worth, invited her to spend the Christmas holidays in their home. During her visit she was asked to speak at the church services both Sundays that she was there.

Another group was sent out by the College on January 5, and Miss Price was sent to the Gambrell association, working at Stockdale. She did such commendable work at that time that she was selected as one of the fifteen to go to the lower Rio Grande Valley district.

Triplets Born to a Terry County Couple

Dr. J. R. Turner reports the arrival Monday of triplets, all girls at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ocie Christman, who live on the Bayne Price farm six miles north of the city. One of them was dead when born, but the other two were doing nicely Tuesday, also the mother.

New Cotton Program Expands 1933 Gains

The value of the 1933 cotton crop to growers of the South amounted in round figures to $856,776,000 including both lint and seed. This includes rental payments of $111,500,000 and option payments of $48,000,000 and is based on a production of 13,177,000 bales for the season.

The value of the 1932 cotton crop, including lint and seed, was only $425,488,000 and is based on a production of 13,200,000 bales in that year.

"Comparing these two sets of figures we see that there was about the same production of cotton in each year, yet the crop of 1933 brought to the farmers about twice as much cash as the crop of 1932," says Cully A. Cobb, head of the cotton section of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. "This can mean only one thing. It indicates that cotton farmers cooperating with each other and with their government not only removed the possibility of a crop greatly in excess of that actually produced, but they also served notice on the cotton-consuming world that they could cooperate with Government assistance and would do so again in 1934."

As a result of the better prices prevailing in the South in the fall of 1933, and by reason of the benefit checks distributed, many farmers reduced their outstanding indebtedness, paid back taxes, repaid Government seed loans, and bought needed work stock and implements. A few tenants made cash payments on lands of their own. It was common during the fall to see cotton growers and their families crowding into the stores buying family supplies and purchasing luxuries that had been denied them for several years.

Mr. Cobb says the program for 1934 and 1935 seeks a continuance of these better days on the cotton farms of the South. Those who sign the reduction contracts will not only get rental checks at planting time and at cotton-picking time, but will aid in reducing the surplus of cotton so that the crop produced will be more profitable to each grower.

Industry Looks to The Smaller Towns

Commenting on a report in the New York Times that the demand for industrial properties in small towns has increased more than 300 per cent in the past eight or ten weeks, the Arkansas Gazette sees in it a speeding up of the process of decentralizing industry that had begun before the depression and that has been accelerated by the "new deal."

Code wage scale differentials in favor of the smaller communities along with shortened hours that make rural and semi-rural life more attractive to factory workers, the improvement of highways with consequent better transportation facilities—these are some of the advantages the Arkansas paper sets out in explaining the decentralization trends. "But this," it adds, and the same can be said equally for Texas, "is a development that should enable a State like Arkansas to compete on better terms for industrial growth than was possible during the centralizing era."

Texas town and cities should be alert to the industrial opportunities that impend, if the Gazette's interpretation of the "new deal" is accurate. And about the surest way of developing a community industrially is to aid in the growth of the industries it already has.

Gaines Co. Oil Test Down to 3488 Feet

Thursday night the 3488 foot mark had been reached in the Crews No. 1 wildcat test being drilled twelve miles south of Seminole by R. H. Gill, et al. The contracting drillers, Dunigan Bros. & Brahaney, report slow progress for the past few days on account of cave ins.

The salt in this well was topped at 2150 feet, and they went out of same into red bed at 3120 feet. Standard tools replaced the rotary outfit at 2110 feet, where 10 inch casing was set.

Unless this caving can be stopped immediately the contracting drillers state they will be forced to run another string of casing.—Seminole Sentinel.

DRUNKEN DRIVERS

Governor White of Ohio has instructed the state police to "bear down" on intoxicated drivers of automobiles, and in endorsing his action the secretary of the Ohio State Automobile Association asks drivers to "bear down first, not on the accelerator, but in caution, carefulness and courtesy, so as to reduce in 1934 as much as possible costly mishaps," which, he states, mostly occur "in the soberest moments."
Drunkness as a factor in automobile accidents did not pass out with prohibition, and it is not likely that it will increase with repeal. Nevertheless, automobile associations do well to urge their members to be on guard more than ever now that repeal has come in many States. There may not be more drunks driving on the streets and highways, but those that are there will be just as dangerous as ever, to themselves and to everybody else.—Star-Telegram.

A FIGHTING MAN

Next Tuesday President Roosevelt will celebrate his fifty-second birthday. The entire nation, in the form of charity balls to raise funds for Warm Springs, will join in celebrating the event.

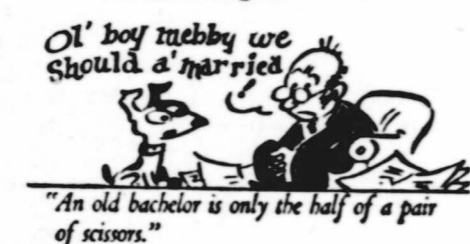

It is of interest to note that the president's physical condition was found by physicians who examined him Friday to be practically unchanged from that of last March 4, when he went into office. In a word, his health is good in spite of a gruelling ten months that would have broken most men. The presidency has killed many physically strong men, but Roosevelt, with burdens in his way as heavy as those of any of his predecessors, keeps his vitality, his high spirits, and his cheerful grin.

Physicians attribute his good physical condition to the daily swim in the pool donated by admirers throughout the country. Every evening at six o'clock the swim is taken, and nothing is permitted to interfere with it.

Ten years ago an invalid fighting for his life, the president today is a healthy man thanks solely to an indomitable will. In those long years of convalescence he might have given up and quit, but didn't. His physical comeback is proof that a fighter who refuses to be licked can't be licked.

The purpose behind the charity balls in honor of the president's birthday is to raise funds for Warm Springs Foundation, to the end that thousands of victims of infantile paralysis may have a chance to beat back to health, and that the scientific investigation of the disease may be carried on to a successful conclusion.

What finer tribute to a fighting man could possibly be devised than a contribution to this worthy cause? —Abilene News.

RED GOOSE—THE OJIBWA INDIAN BOY

An Indian Story for Boys and Girls

By Carlyle Emery

It is Winter Time again and Red Goose now owns over eighteen eagle feathers given to him by The Ojibwa Tribe for bravery, honesty and clean, clear thinking. One day Red Goose was making a snow man near the Fort, when Betty, the commander's daughter, came out to play with him. Now go on with the story.

"My! that's a wonderful snow man you are making, Red Goose," said Betty, looking at the boy's handiwork with admiration.

"If Red Goose had some big sticks, he could make arms for snow man, too."
"Let's not make a snow man any more," suggested Betty. Let's get my sled and ride down the hill over there."

"What is sled?" asked the Indian lad.

"Why, Red Goose! Haven't you ever seen a play sled?" Betty asked this question with great wonder, for it didn't seem possible to her that there was anybody who hadn't seen a sled.

"No. Red Goose has never seen sled," was the answer.

"You wait right here and I'll go and get it. It's a brand new one that came all the way from Saint Louis last month."

As Betty ran back into the stockade to get her new sled, Red Goose continued to work on his snow man. Pretty soon a shadow fell on the ground and looking up Red Goose saw Bear Cat watching him.

"Hello, youngster,—that's a great snow man you're making."

"How, Bear Cat?"

"Where's Betty?"

"Betty gone to get play sled and show to Red Goose."
"Going sliding, eh? Fine! But don't go out of sight of the Fort. The Sioux are acting up again and there's a report that a war party is near here."

"Red Goose will watch."

Their conversation was interrupted by Betty, who came running over the snow dragging a brand new shiny sled behind her.

"There! Red Goose—what do you think of it?" she asked, turning the sled over so that her playmate could see the fine sharp runners.

"Sled is good. Maybe travel fast on snow," replied Red Goose.

"Indeed it will! Come on—let's try it on the hill over there."

"Mind what I told you," warned Bear Cat, as the children started away. "Don't get out of sight of the Fort."

"Red Goose will do what Bear Cat says," came back the answer, and in a few minutes, Red Goose and Betty came to the top of the long hill that sloped away from the Fort.

Betty sat herself comfortably in front, while Red Goose prepared to give a big push and then hop on behind.

How little they realized the danger that waited for them at the bottom of the hill!

SEDENTARY SOUSING

Terry County Herald (Brownfield)—The United States Senate is debating whether or not to make Washington sit, or let them stand to drink, when liquor is legalized there. They have to sit in New York, you know. One of our friends that takes a nip occasionally, said to us recently that he did not like the idea of sitting to drink. "How will you know," he said, "when you get so you can't get up?"

State Press: When you get so you can't stand up it is better to remain sitting than to fall over on the floor. You are liable to be stepped on or kicked to one side by the vertical customers if you topple over. The New York rule against perpendicular drinking was borrowed from the European taverns and pubs. Over there the people like to drink slowly. Their money lasts longer that way. In England one can invest a shilling and sit at a table four or five hours without being importuned to buy again. Europeans have their little quidities, but they know how to manage their money without getting less than it is capable of bringing to them. In this country, the barroom was designed for fast drinking. Men would rush in and gulp down their liquor, throw down their money and depart—only to come back pretty soon and repeat the operation. If they didn't go out, they repeated very soon anyway. Fast service and quick drinks was the rule. New York is trying to make drinking a leisurely and sociable indulgence, not a rapid-fire stimulation or a quarrelsome dissipation.

OVERSUBSCRIBED

First billion dollars of the 10-billion-dollar government bond issue scheduled for the next few months was oversubscribed five times, it was announced Friday by Secretary Morgenthau. Evidently the United States is able to borrow all the money it needs.

Half of last week's offering bore 2 1-2 percent, an attractive rate for tax-free issues and attracted bids totaling $3,415,000,000, or about seven times the issue. The other half, in the form of treasury certificates, bore only 1 1-2 percent interest and drew bids totaling $1,355,000,000, or a little more than 2 1-2 times the amount offered. Obviously the lower interest rate was less attractive to buyers, but the fact that the issue of 1 1-2 percent certificates was oversubscribed heavily suggests the thought that Uncle Sam may be able to float the rest of the huge financing program at considerably lower rates than the higher figure on treasury notes. If so, it would meet the criticism of some who claim that the government tax-free securities at two or three percent are too attractive to investors, who leave commercial fields deserted in the rush for them.—Abilene News.

JOHNSON THE ORATOR

That was a gorgeous phrase of General Hugh Johnson's about the "gentlemen keening around the moorlands wailing that NRA oppresses small enterprises." Not even Teddy Roosevelt in the high noon of his phrase making powers ever let fly a more burnished mace against the luckless heads of the opposition. His offer, too, to prove an assertion "to the smoking hilt," is a delight to the rhetoricians, though the General is no rhetorician. Words that leap and snarl or crash and reverberate are his by intuition and not by studied scheme.

That the General is an orator by impulse and ebullient whim, rather than by practiced artifice is shown by his reference to the Passover: "As the angel of death at the Passover omitted those houses that showed no crimson palm mark on the lintel, so do you pass by any shop window that does not display the eagle." Had the General reread his Exodus he would not have put it so. For the blood-sprinkled doorposts were a token of life, and the house that was not passed over awoke to mourning when the day had come.—Dallas Journal.

THE PAPER

The Editor who does his best to get out a good publication is not desirous of having his friends and subscribers pat him on the back every time they see him and tell him what a fine editor he is. But he does appreciate commendation now and then and it will make him strive harder to please if he knows his community appreciates his efforts.

Unquestionably the paper in any community is just as good as the community deserves. If the paper is a good one it reflects credit upon the town in which it is published. If it is poorly printed, poorly edited, neither it nor the community deserves any special praise. If the editor works hard, fills his paper with worth while news, makes every effort to make the paper look neat and attractive, does not publish filthy stories and does not attempt to interfere with the fixed habits of the community, he is entitled to your help and cooperation—both your moral and financial support.

Doesn't it strike you that way?—Jess Mitchell in The Muleshoe Journal.

Motorists Invited to Join Mex. Motorcade

With an open invitation to all Texas automobile enthusiasts who wish to participate in a history making motorcade to Mexico City, and with no enrollment fee or assessment of any kind attached to membership in the caravan, a large number of cars from California and other western states will assemble in San Antonio the last week in February, preparatory to making a trip to Mexico City over the new international highway.

This will be an epochal trip, for at no time in the past has a large group of automobile tourists ever driven from the United States to Mexico

City. While the new highway has not been formally opened to tourist travel, the uncompleted portions are in fair condition and easily passable, as is evidenced by the fact that the president of the Girls Motor Club of Mexico City recently drove from Mexico City to Los Angeles in the short period of five days.

The motorcade will be under the leadership of G. M. Patison, a graduate of Texas Christian University and publisher of Patison's Vacation Guide, Hollywood, California, from whom a bulletin of information may be obtained. Texas members will pay only their individual traveling expenses, computed on the basis of 1800 miles of travel for the round trip, plus living expenses for twenty days.

Economic Highlights

The Republicans call it gag rule—the Democrats, for the most part, simply smile and say nothing. Whatever it is, the Roosevelt Parliamentary technique works.

A major test of Presidential power came early in the House when Democratic leaders adopted a rule of procedure whereby no amendment could be offered from the floor which would affect the economy sections of the Independent Offices Bill, then under consideration, or any other appropriations measure that would appear during the session. The rule was unprecedented—and it passed. There were heavy Democratic defections, which resulted in Democratic leaders working over the mavericks in their party. Result of that was that a move to recommit the rule was slaughtered, 240 to 141.

Most dramatic victory came on January 20, when the Roosevelt dollar devaluation bill swept through the House by the colossal margin of 360 to 40. It is doubtful if any piece of legislation of comparable importance ever carried so fast. Debate was almost entirely shut off. All opposition amendments were shouted down. Dozens of representatives who admit they do not understand the present dollar policy thoroughly, voted for it.

The measure has four specific phases. First, the treasury is given title to all of the nation's monetary gold stock, including that held by federal reserve banks.

Second, it fixes 60 per cent of the dollar's present gold content as the maximum of gold value after revaluation.

Third, it gives the Administration a fund of $2,000,000,000, obtained automatically from the added value of the treasury's gold after devaluation has taken place, with which to stabilize the foreign value of the dollar.

Fourth, it gives the treasury greater power in issuing and floating government securities, thus simplifying the great refinancing task that confronts the federal government now. The treasury is allowed to purchase any type of government security with any other type, may sell issues privately without offering them to the general public.

Main opposition to the bill is based on the fear of putting so vast a power in one man's hands—it obviously makes Mr. Roosevelt a monetary dictator with hardly a restriction. Supporters of the New Deal claim that is what the country wants; that it is essential to recovery that the President be given free rein.

The American Federation of Labor's Report on 1934 prospects was a good deal more interesting and important than documents of the kind usually are. Forecast was that prospects for employment and earnings are considerably brighter, but that one phase of present recovery efforts—threatened inflation by fiat money—endangers the whole show.

Four specific changes for the better in 1933 were chronicled: a gain in employment of more than 6,000,000; a drop of 4 1-2 hours in the average work week; better organization among industrial workers of all kinds; an increase in workers' income of 11.7 per cent.

The report pointed out, on the debit side, that business is 30 per cent below normal still, that most important thing is restoration of business confidence, that private initiative is still of paramount importance. Belief was expressed that workers always lose through inflation—that only wealthy speculators have a chance to gain.

At about the same time the report was issued, the National Recovery Administration was making plans, as best it could, to find jobs for as many as possible of the 11,000,000 people still registered as unemployed. The President had laid plans where public works' activities and expansion in private industry will absorb the 4,000,000 now on CWA rolls. That will still leave the problem 60 per cent unsolved. General Johnson believes the working week must come down from its present 40-hour aver-

AUNT HET ON SCHOOL TEACHING

"One 'o my girls had her heart set on bein' a school teacher, but I talked her out of it. Teachin' school is too much like bein' a preacher's wife. It's a high callin', but people expect you to give more'n they pay for."

"You take the teachers here in town. The only difference between them an' Christian martyrs is the date an' the lack of a bonfire."

"They was hired to teach an' they do it. They teach the younguns that can learn, and entertain the ones that fell on their heads when they was little. But that ain't enough. They're supposed to make obedient little angels out o' spoiled brats that never minded nobody, an' wetnurse little wildcats so their mothers can get rest, an' make geniuses out o' children that couldn't have no sense with the parents they've got."

"But that ain't the worst. They've got to get up plays an' things to work the school out o' debt; an' sing in the choir an' teach a Sunday school class, an' when they ain't doin' nothin' else they're supposed to be a good example."

"Then they don't get no pay for six months an' can't pay their board or buy decent clothes an' on top of ever'thing else they can't hold hands comin' home from prayer meetin' without some pious old sister with a dirty mind startin' a scandal on 'em."

"I'd just as soon be a plowmule. A mule works just as hard but it can relieve its soul by kickin' up its heels after quittin' time without startin' any talk."—Robert Quillen in the Fountain Inn Tribune.

age—said that changes would have to be made gradually, in the light of industry's financial ability to carry larger payrolls. Hope is for an 8-hour day, a 4-day week. Lopping a day from the week would, it is estimated, create 1,500,000 jobs. How to reduce working hours, employ more men, raise wages, cut production, increase business' capacity to pay the bill, is the problem.

If you like big figures, take a look at the Reconstruction Finance Corporation's first complete report to the public. Between February 2, 1932, and December 31, 1933, it had disbursed or authorized disbursement of $6,000,000,000 to 8,541 institutions. In 1932, $1,500,000,000 was distributed—55 per cent to banks, 20 per cent to railways, the balance to insurance companies, building and loan concerns, relief agencies, etc.

The RFC was due to pass away on January 22, 1934. But it was given a new lease on life—bills went smoothly through Senate and House extending its activities until February 1, 1935, permitting it to sell another $850,000,000 of debentures to the treasury with which to finance future operations.—Industrial News Review.

Pneumonia Time of Year is Now With Us

Austin, Texas.—Pneumonia is a seasonal disease, in that the incidence and mortality is much increased during wet, cold weather, according to Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer. It is more prevalent and serious in towns where contacts with people is more common. Pneumonia is always dangerous but it is especially so to persons in a run down condition. This accounts for the number of cases following illness with some other disease.

The germs that cause pneumonia are spread by careless coughers, sneezers, spitters, and the things that they thus infect. The first symptoms are usually a severe chill and fever, a very sick feeling, loss of appetite, rapid breathing, and a heavy sensation in the chest. Sometimes coughing brings up blood from the inflamed lungs. Any of these signs should be the signal for going to bed at once and sending for your doctor.

The familiar rules of the prevention of other respiratory diseases apply to pneumonia. These rules should become personal habits and not be put on or off at times of prevalence or absence of disease. Persons should avoid careless coughers and sneezers, even if you have to be rude. Wash your hands thoroughly before each meal. Keep your hands, pencils, money and other such things away from your mouth and nose. Get plenty of fresh air day and night. Exercise and eat in moderation and wear clothing suitable for the weather.

Pneumonia ranks second as a cause of death in Texas, in 1932 almost six thousand persons died of this disease. It should be remembered that contagious and infectious diseases cannot be decreased or eliminated without the cooperation of the people and that means that people who are sick with contagious or infectious disease should be isolated and visited as little as possible by relatives and friends.

Texas Girl Was Only Woman Ever Portrayed on Paper Money

Lucy Holcombe Pickens, famous southern belle of Civil War days, and the only woman ever to have her likeness on paper money, was a Texas girl. Her family came to Marshall, Texas, from the old South before she was born, and when Lucy grew up, her popularity on her visits to Virginia caused the powers of the Confederacy to place her picture on the $100 bill, as shown above. Subsequently Mrs. Pickens' husband was United States ambassador to Russia. As far as is known this is the only paper money ever to portray a woman.

Mack Wilson

(The Service Station Owner)

Tells . . .

"MY CUSTOMERS TALK ABOUT 'GAS' AND GAS"

MACK WILSON, the service station owner, discovers a lot about people in his daily contact with motorists, but one thing he can't understand is the difference in attitude toward the price of natural gas and the price of gasoline. He says that over the period of a few months the price of gasoline will fluctuate several cents, and there is never a murmur from his customers, in spite of the fact that gasoline is the only fuel that operates the common automobile.

He couldn't understand it because there are several fuels that people can turn to for general household purposes. Mack took the trouble to find out why they continue to use gas. He discovered that they would use gas if it cost several times the amount asked because it still would be the best bargain in fuels. He found, also, that people with automobiles spend more for gasoline than they do for gas for cooking and water heating.

You need not be a dealer in gasoline to appreciate Mack Wilson's attitude on gas rates. Consider gas for its value and you will recognize it for the bargain it is.

A week or so ago, we printed the picture of a medal in these columns that was intended for the ex-service men of Texas, who have fought in any war. Well, some of the local ex-soldiers have written down there, and found that the legislature only provided for the design and its manufacture, but made no appropriation for their manufacture, and the firm that makes them over at San Antonio wants one dollar each for them. Oh that big hearted legislature! Our understanding is that the firm will not be swamped with orders from Brownfield and Terry county ex-service men.

The editor has been "batching" this week, but Mrs. C. B. Keltner has a kind heart and she invited us out to dinner or luncheon Monday. It was a chicken dinner, and say, folks, it was fine. When it comes to chicken this editor is a Methodist.

—Tahoka News.
Yes, we are all more or less tainted with Methodism when it comes to eating chickens. Bro. Hill, and whether or not Mrs. Keltner is a Methodist, Baptist, or what have you, a good chicken dinner following a seige of batching is a sublime treat. But what we started out to say, was that we see by the papers that Bro. Hill is no longer a bachelor, and we offer our heartfelt congratulations.

President Pat Neff of Baylor University deserves the commendation of every law abiding citizen of the State of Texas for the course he has pursued in suspending all pupils whose conduct is unbecoming a student of Baylor University, or who are not applying themselves as they should to make their grades. The suspension of three girls this week has brought the number up to fifty since the opening of the university. The President said, "I am not so much interested in the quantitative as the qualitative character of the student body."—Miami Chief.

You know Pat is enough Irish that he never backs off from a real red hot fight. He doesn't seek combat, but when it is pressed on him, he hits back. It is better that they lose three times fifty boy and girl rough-necks than to utterly ruin the reputation of a great school like Baylor, and there is no one that knows this better than Pat Neff.

Yep! the editors of the big dailies get all hot and bothered sometimes just the same as us little country editors. For instance, we had a card from Editor Wilbur F. Fauley of the editorial staff of the New York Times. Wilbur takes our little paper as he has a section of land five miles west of Meadow, and seems to read it pretty closely. In this card he said he noted that we had the RFC, CWA, XYZ the same as they, and the acreage reduction in addition. Editor Fauley said a small boy in a news reel he saw recently expressed his sentiments in these words: "I don't know what it is all about, but I guess it is all hunkydory." Some believe that some one is going to get all messed up in some of these agencies some of these days and have a meluva time getting out of trouble with Uncle Sam, over the distribution of these funds.

That good looking gentleman that graces the top of a column, and whose name is "The Plainsman" in the Lubbock Journal told us recently that he was going to support Clint Small for governor, and then asks us what we think. Well, as a reader of the Journal—and we pay the cash for it—we'll tell The Plainsman what we think. Instead of being like him, the first on his list, Clint is the last on our list. If, like Tom Hunter, after saying he would remain neutral in the governor's race after he was eliminated four years ago, he had kept his word, we might vote for Clint. But he goes down in south Texas and comes back to the Panhandle fighting for Ross Sterling. Don't know what Clint's law or heard down about Houston that changed his mind so quick, but he did, and we don't care for a man as governor that won't keep his word. No, we have Mr. Terrell down here at Lamesa set ahead of Clint, and we never heard of Terrell—this one—before.

President Roosevelt Signs Liquor Bill

President Roosevelt has signed the $500,000,000 liquor tax bill, thus making the major provisions of the measure, applicable at once. The measure raises the levy on whiskey from $1.10 a gallon to $2. The measure is expected by treasury and congressional leaders to provide for $400,000,000 to more than $600,000,000 a year.

Safely past its first big test in the house by the narrowest of margins, the Roosevelt program Friday faced its second big congressional hurdle—a contest over ratification of the St. Lawrence waterway treaty.

Congress gave only a five vote margin for Mr. Roosevelt's personal-ly requested ten percent cut in federal salaries for next fiscal year. The vote was 197 to 192, a considerable contrast to the ballot for the original economy bill last March of 266 to 138.

We had a letter last week together with $2 on account from Mrs. L. T. Brooks, who landed in Terry county previous to organization of the county by about three months, and has been a reader of the Herald since its first issue. She reports that the winter has been real cold out there at Scholle, N. M., and that they recently had a big snow. Cattle was getting through the winter good, but like here, were not bringing anything.

OUT OF THE SOCK

As predicted some weeks ago, hoardings are coming out of hiding and the old family sock is giving up its savings. Big Spring people who are in touch with outside conditions know by this time that since January first all bank deposits, in 90 per cent of the nation's banks, are insured by the government, up to a total of $2,500. So your bank deposits are now 100 per cent safe. This should certainly remove the last excuse for hoarding. Money can be burned up, eaten up by rats or stolen if left around the house. If you put it in the bank now and it is lost—no matter how it may be lost—the government will hand it all back to you, dollar for dollar. There's no excuse to hoard a single penny now, and the fact that there has been a noticeable pick-up in business in communities where it is being put back into the bank should serve as an example for those in this community who are still hoarding because they have been afraid of banks.—Big Spring News.

A quail with two hearts was bagged at Bird Creek near Hollister, Cal.

THE ASSESSORS CONSIDER

Texas Tax Assessors, in convention at San Antonio adopted a resolution calling on the State Legislature to work out a plan for the equalization of taxes on property in which, by reason of installment payment, the owner has only an equity. What the Assessors have in mind is providing some method of dividing the taxes pro rata on the basis of the so-called equity of the owner and the balance represented in the lien. There is, of course, no such thing as an owner's equity, unless the property is held in partnership. He owns the entire property. That he owes to a mortgagee a sum of money secured by the property is beside the point. The entire amount of taxes should as now, be paid by the property owner, merely as a matter of justice, aside from the practical view that readjustment in the case of taxation on mortgaged property would force revision upward in the interest rate and render difficult acquiring loans.

Whether the tax rate itself is justifiable, in view of the fact that so many taxable liens escape imposts, is another matter and one which the Tax Assessors could themselves remedy without recourse to the Legislature. The Assessors complain that while mortgages are property that should be rendered, this is not often done. They think the Legislature should make rendition mandatory. Practically every mortgage is registered in the County Clerk's office and the Assessors could quite easily list these liens for taxation by assigning a man to the rolls.

To be sure, if the liens are taxed, as the law provides, the condition noted as to interest rise and loan difficulty would exist. Our actual trouble seems to be that real estate bears an unjust proportion of the tax burden.—Dallas News.

OUR 23 YEAR COLUMN

Our issue of Feb. 3, 1911, we nothing of material interest to le of this date on the first ept an argument made by us News in support of the d of subject of the consoli- the Texas Central and the as and Texas rail- t of the consoli- t it would then be Phone tter road to issue bonds on the former and extend fur- ther into Texas from Rotan. Con- solidation, of course was achieved, but that was all. On the editorial page, we named some of the differ- ent Simon Pure Democrats of that day, among which were, Bailey State- widders, Bailey Local Optionists, Bailey Anti-Pros, Anti-Bailey Anti, Anti-Bailey Local Optionists and Anti-Bailey State-widders.

On the local page, we find that W. R. Harris was having the halls of his residence papered. That J. R. Lanier was here from Lubbock visiting. That Uncle Joe Hamilton had renewed for the Herald. That the Brown- field Hardware was erecting a wind- mill for T. J. Price. W. R. Spencer was a business visitor in Austin. Henry Williams had moved down from Plainview. Miss Dollie Duke was in Meadow visiting her sister, Mrs. Henry Pulliam, who was ill. Col. Gainer was over from Gomez and reported that the sick there better. J. V. Newson had renewed. Uncle Jack Coble had called and sent th paper to the Lewellen family of Bronco. Henry and Liss George were down from Lubbock on busi- ness. Tahoka had begun to receive their mail on the train. Uncle Bill Howard came in to renew. T. J. Price was erecting a 14 foot wind- mill on his farm six miles south of town. Mr. and Mrs. Ote Copeland of Meadow were visiting his brother Chas. and family, here. Timp Skin- ner and L. B. Shook of Tahoka, pass- ed through in the former's white Buick for New Mexico. Bob Majors, Tony Chism and an agent of the Case Automobile from Plainview were here. Jack Bryan was in look- ing after the schooling of his adopted daughter. A. L. Ater paid his sub- scription. Robert Elliott was down from Amarillo representing a life in- surance company.

Bob Majors was over from Tahoka promoting a mail line from Tahoka through here to Bronco. A big rail- road meeting was in progress at the Randal drug store one day when we went over there, but broke up as we entered and the promoters repaired to their 42 game. Claude Criswell had purchased a four cylinder tour- ing car. J. A. Correll, prominent Loop farmer was up after supplies. John S. Abel, Lubbock fruit tree man was in our midst. After a visit down in central west Texas, V. E. Hargett returned to Terry better satisfied than ever. Roomers at the Hill Hotel were proud that J. R. had sold his pet lobo wolf, "Henry" to a Kentucky saloon man who was here hunting, and wanted the wolf for show purposes in the rear of his sal- oon. All for this week.

When the East Texas banks got under the NRA, a farmer received a notice of the charges thereafter to be made by his bank for small deposits, so much for each check, so much to charge for a past due notice, so much for overdraft notice, etc. The farmer concluded it was his patriotic duty to notify them of a few things he thought had been overlooked. Ac- cordingly, he sent in these sugges- tions:

Entering bank. Front door, 50 cents; side door, two-bits. Spitting on floor. Plain, 5c; to- bacco, two-bits. Speaking out of turn. To presi- dent, $1; cashier, 50c; any assistant cashier, two-bits; to any vice presi- dent, no charge. Asking for balance, $1. Arguing over balance, civil manner, 50c; quarrelsome manner, first time, $1; second time, $2; extra for cussin bank help, $5. Accusing the loan appraiser of lying—no charge. It's natural with them.—Ex.

THE LAST STRAW

"One day," said the old country- man from the hills, who was on trial for murder, "when my rheumatism was pestering me, and my daughter had cloped with a good-for-nothin' scallawag, and my barn had burned down and I lost both my mules, and my best sow got the cholera and died, and I just heard they had fore- closed the mortgage and the sheriff was lookin' for me, I told my troubles to one of these here opti- mists and he said: 'Cheer up, old top, the worst is yet to come!' So I shot him."

Gomez Gossip

I suppose everyone thinks that the people of the Gomez community have died or moved away. No, they are just as lively as they ever were, but they have just been to busy to tell anyone about it.

"Diamonds," the play presented by the Gomez High School students last Friday night, was a grand success. The Missionary Baptist are having Sunday School and church services back in the old building. Sunday School begins at 10 o'clock. Every- one is invited to come and be with them in their services.

Mrs. W. F. Collins has been on the sick list the past week. Mrs. Terry C. Redford is still on the sick list. Mrs. L. L. Cope has been on the sick list. Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Banks and little son have been here the past week visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Banks and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Waddell.

MAN VS. MULE

Over the hill trailed a man behind a mule drawing a plow. Says the man to the mule: "Bill, you are a mule, the son of a jackass, I am a man made of the image of God. Yet here we work hitched together year in and year out. I often wonder if I work for you or you work for me. Some- times I think this is a partnership be- tween a mule and a fool for surely I work as hard as you do, if not harder. Plowing here we cover the same distance, but you do it on four legs and I do it on two, so mathe- matically speaking, I do twice as much work per leg as you do. "Soon we will be preparing for a corn crop. When crop is harvested, I give one-third to the landlord for being kind enough to let me use this corner of God's universe. Another third goes to you and what is left is mine. But while you consume all of your third with an exception of a few cobs, I divide my third among seven children, six hens, two ducks and a banker. Bill, you are getting the best of me. It isn't fair for a mule, the son of a jackass, to rob a man—the lord of creation—of his substance, and come to think of it, you only help cultivate the ground. After that I cut, shock, and husk the corn while you look over the pasture fence and 'he-haw' at me. "All of the fall and part of the winter the whole family from Gran- ny down to the baby picks cotton to help raise more money to buy a new set of harness and pay interest on the mortgage on you. And, by the way, what do you care about that mortgage? It doesn't worry you any—not a darn bit. You leave that to me, you ungrateful cuss. "About the only time I am your better is on election day, for I can vote and you can't but if I ever get any more out of politics than you do I fail to see where it is."—Anon.

DEATH ON THE HIGHWAY

Early in 1933, there were fewer automobile accidents than during same period in 1932. During the last half of 1933, how- ever, the trend changed. In the year, 30,500 persons were killed—a 3 1/2 per cent advance over 1932.

The automobile accident toll fol- lows the amount of gasoline used in the country with almost loving exacti- tude. During the first half of 1933, for example, when gas consumption was 3 per cent below the same period in 1932, there were fewer accidents. During the last half gas use was 2.5 per cent above—and the accident record soared accordingly. The dan- gerous driver seems to have learned little from the ghastly experience of the past. He still exaggerates the safety factors of better cars and roads. He still cuts in and out of traffic, still passes on blind curves and hills, still takes a chance to save a second. And he leaves behind him a shambles of deaths and injuries and needlessly ruined property.

Everything that mechanical and road engineers can do to make mot- oring safer, is being done—an ex- tremely small percentage of acci- dents can be blamed on car failure or poor roads. The accident prob- lem is purely an individual one—resting with each auto owner, and with the authorities who make and enforce traffic ordinances.

In 1933 four states, whose names deserve being recorded on an "Hon- or Roll," achieved declines in their auto death rate—Illinois, Michigan, Virginia and Wisconsin. Other states and especially Texas should strive to follow them.

WHERE THE TALL CORN GROWS

A farmer from Iowa met a farmer from Missouri while at the Century of Progress Exhibition. While admir- ing the wonders on display, both stressed the superior qualities of their respective states.

"My farm has the richest soil in the world. Why, only last year I pulled an ear of corn that took two men to lift into the wagon bed," stated the Iowan.

"I raised a hog last year that weighed 8,500 pounds on the hoof," stated the Missourian not to be out- done.

Just then a stranger who had been listening to the conversation stepped up, and pointing to one of the huge kettles used for pouring metal in the making of Bessemer steel, stated "Friends, that is only a small sample of the cooking vessels we use in Chicago."

"Why do you need such a large kettle?" inquired the farmers.

"To cook what you raise in Iowa and Missouri!" was the retort.

STILLING FEARS OF INFLATION

A very important phase of the President's decision to monetize and stabilize silver, is that it has done much to still the fear that we would have inflation by the printing press route. It will bring more money into circulation, if the economists are right, will provide funds for foreign and domestic commerce—and the money will have something of estab- lished and definite value behind it.

Thus, the silver proclamation will serve two ends—it will restore the confidence of a large part of the public in the United States monetary policies, and it will help resurrect one of the greatest and most essen- tial of our industries. Results of the latter are being felt now—in jobs, in buying power, in hopes for the future. And, if the expected happens and other major nations adopt similar measures, a long step toward general world recovery will have been taken.

A NECESSARY MENACE

We frequently hear the excuse made that an automobile smashup was an "unavoidable accident." But that is all bunk, for the purpose of screening some reckless driver who should have been deprived of his license and sent to jail.

Automobile accidents are not un- avoidable. They occur with distress- ing frequency because one or both drivers are drunk, careless or criminally reckless, and in any case such a person is not safe to be at a wheel.

A certain element of the country went into spasms recently because a California mob lynched a couple of brutal kidnapers and murderers. Yet they daily witness or read of auto- mobile killings without turning a hair. The difference is that murder- ers are lynched because they are beyond the pale of the law; while the automobile killer is one who is more frequently protected by those whose duty it is to enforce the law.

The automobile is a modern neces- sity, but it is a constant and deadly menace with some people at the wheel.—Ex.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Feeling the great need for an organization that will give relief to bereaved families at times when most needed, and desiring to be able to lift your burdens at a time like that, instead of seeing heavy burdens left, as it has been heretofore, therefore, we are now operating a Terry County Burial Association.

This Association is for the benefit and protection of Terry county people, and will be made possible only by and through your assistance and co-operation.

We have taken this plan for our mutual benefit and protection, and it is especially for the protection of those not financially able at all times to pay this expense. It can save all of us embarrassment and debt and relieve the taxpayers of forced obligations of having to bury others, through taxation, and the people from having to be humiliated by having to call on others to help during times of bereavement.

All money paid into this Association will remain in this county except when some member, who has previously joined, moves away, and keeps paid up.

You will do well to prepare, through membership, before you are forced to face this heart-rending necessity. Your assistance and co-operation will be appreciated by us, as well as by the bereaved families, who, through membership, shall receive these bene- fits, and when death comes to your LOVED ONES, you can feel the comforting assistance this Associa- tion gives.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Home Economics Club met January 29, and learned to knit. Those who did not have their knitting needles worked on the curtains. Last Friday and Saturday the Home Economics Club helped the Seniors sell sandwiches at the Basketball Tournament. We understand that we cleared expenses and made about six dollars. That's the school spirit! Keep it up.

GIRLS BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT A SUCCESS

Another Girls Basketball Tournament has come and gone in Brownfield, but the echo of its success lingers long in the hearts and minds of the participants and fans. From all teams and coaches participating there has been a word of praise for the citizenship of Brownfield. From all fans there has been the echo of satisfaction for the spirit of the competitors, and for the good games seen.

Of the fourteen teams who entered, twelve made an appearance and gave a good account of themselves on the field of battle. All teams showed that they had been well coached, not only in the fundamentals of basketball, but also along the lines of good sportsmanship. Their coaches and the communities from which they come are to be congratulated upon the fine spirit that prevailed during the entire tournament.

When the final whistle had blown the following teams had most successfully withstood the onslaughts of their opponents' goal shooters. Brownfield stood first, having won all their four games. Shallowwater waged a strong battle during the entire tournament to come out in second place; Clapene had the pleasure of carrying home the prize for winning the consolation. Shallowwater, Littlefield Meadow, Clapene, and Brownfield placed representatives on the all-tournament teams. Every fan seemed well-pleased with the entertainment he had received.

Finally, it is with a great deal of pleasure and gratitude that we thank the good people of Brownfield for opening their homes to the visiting teams and their coaches. Every girl and every coach had only the highest commendation to make of the people

Chamber of Commerce

—By J. E. Shelton, Secretary

The Cotton Reduction Campaign is progressing satisfactorily and many contracts are being signed and it is believed that by the end of the period for signing, that a very considerable majority of the farms of Terry county will be under contract.

The estimate of the County Agent, is, that 700 contracts covering more than 35,000 acres reduction will have been executed. Very many more contracts would have been signed, except that the hand-picked and tenant could not arrive at an agreement concerning a division of the benefits.

Naturally we do not know what is to be done concerning control of the order that is raised on farms not under contract, but according to the newspapers, some form of licensing may be had. However this may be, the reduction of Terry county is likely to compare favorably with any other section of the cotton belt. The County Agent and the Community Committees have been on the job at all times and have had a very strenuous performance. The County Committee has performed its duties up to date, but it's real job is yet to come.

The Corn and Hog reduction is said to be progressing satisfactorily and if it keeps its present speed until the limit for receiving contracts is reached, it is expected that fully 25% of the hogs and many thousands of bushels of corn will have been contracted. The committee in the charge of this program, is of the opinion that fully $300,000 in benefits will be distributed to our farmers during the year, and this coupled with the cotton reduction will release not less than $500,000 before the end of the year, which will of course improve our financial condition from top to bottom.

The plan under which loans for crop production or livestock raising were to be handled, has been changed in some respects, in that a taker of applications for loans and an inspector will be located in each county and will only be sent to the district office for final approval. This is expected to speed up the work and get quicker action upon all applications. The district office at Lubbock is fully organized and loans are being lined up as rapidly as possible and it is believed that the local office at Brownfield will be ready to receive applications within the next ten days. The writer will probably be designated as receiver of applications for this county. The security that will be required will be both crop and livestock of all descriptions and applicants will be required to take stock in the association in the sum of $5.00 for each $100.00 applied for, however this stock subscription is not to be paid until the loan is approved and it is expected that it will be deducted from the check that is received by borrower. A fee for taking the application will also be charged, but it will not be an excessive one and should not deter any person from applying for the loan.

The old Crop Production Loan, which only required the crop as security has been discontinued, but "bills" have been introduced in both the houses of Congress, calling for its continuance through 1933 and chances for favorable action are good, but it will be a little different in its requirements and will probably not be available to anyone who is able to furnish both livestock and crop security but will only be for those who are not able to secure funds, except under the crop mortgage plan.

We are still having a little "fun" with our highways and the writer, together with the county judge and commissioners and some of the directors of the chamber of commerce, will attend a meeting of the South Plains Good Roads Association and from advance information, it's program is to undertake to secure an ad-

CREAGER SEEN AS LIABILITY TO TEXAS REPUBLICANS

This new deal idea should spread to the Republicans of Texas, at least to the extent of getting a new deal in party leaders in the state, in the opinion of John F. Grant, leading Republican and noted lumberman of Houston.

In a short interview here Mr. Grant stated:

Now is the time for all true Republicans of this state to demand a new deal. We must rid our party of such officers as E. B. Creager, national committeeman, and manipulator for the party organization in Texas. Texas greatly needs the sensible realistic, constructive philosophy which the Republican party can give. But Texas will never respect or place its offices in the hands of a party dominated by men of the Creager type.

"Republicans who have principles, rather than patronage, at heart, must insist on his resignation as national committeeman. Not until Mr. Creager either steps down or is removed can we hope for party prestige or party gain in Texas.

"It is a well known fact that the Rio Grande congressional district could have been carried by the Republicans on numerous occasions, that it is essentially Republican, while it is equally well known that Mr. Creager has consistently used his influence to keep a Democratic congressman in office from that district. Mr. Creager's link up with Mr. Garner, former congressman from the 15th district, was well illustrated in the telegram which he sent to Mr. Garner in August 1932, urging the latter to give his support to Mr. Sterling's campaign for governor. That was to say that Mr. Creager, supposed to be the Republican leader of Texas, wished his pet Democratic congressman to join in electing a Democratic governor of the state.

"It is well known that Mr. Creager used all possible means to defeat the late Harry Warrbach, the only Republican congressman from Texas, for fear that Mr. Warrbach would secure some influence in patronage matters in his own district. As a result of Mr. Creager's activities, the San Antonio-Corpus Christi district, once firmly Republican, has now been turned over to a big Democratic majority.

"All of us who have kept ourselves informed know that Mr. Creager

IDEAS ON COOKING BEEF FOR CHILDREN

Beef, it is agreed, is an excellent food for children because it furnishes valuable proteins, minerals and vitamins which they need. It may be fed to even the very young child in the form of scraped beef or broth. As soon as he is able to chew, he may have meat in other forms.

Meat for young children should be prepared simply, and all of the rich gravies and sauces should be omitted. Really the only gravy included in the very young child's diet should be the meat juice itself, and this without a large quantity of fat.

Editor Otis Carter of Seagraves News, was up Tuesday getting up first Monday ads.

Dr. J. D. Moorhead was down from Meadow, Wed., attending court as a witness in a case.

Bird Tells Why He Is in Anarctic Again

Why is Amiral Richard E. Byrd spending thousands of dollars and risking lives to explore the antarctic again? He gives his own answer to that question in a farewell message written for the Rotarian Magazine just before leaving the States.

"If you admit that science has direct bearing on human welfare," says the famous explorer, "if you can see how increasing the world's knowledge of radio-activity, of weather influences, of geology, of a dozen kindred lines of scientific knowledge must presently be felt in better living conditions for the hundreds of millions who live upon this earth, then you can be convinced that it is not all futile.

"Given an opportunity to sit down and talk it over, I can guarantee that you will agree with us in seeing a probable gain for humanity from our expedition far in excess of its cost in dollars and its risk in human lives.

"Our second expedition," he continues, "is to substantiate what I believed to be true on my previous flights, and to map out these areas. On the first expedition I claimed certain territory in the name of the United States, and it is also the purpose of the second expedition to substantiate these claims.

"A great deal of investigation is crying to be done in these areas in the fields of geology, geography, meteorology, biology, glaciology, oceanography, radio-activity, magnetism, star dust, cosmic rays, and so forth. It is of great scientific interest to study at first hand a portion of the world that is still in the clutches of an ice age in its full flood tide.

"The ice age has receded from the top of the world. It is believed that this South Pole area, composed of high land as it is and covered for the most part with thick ice, governs to a great extent weather and wind conditions over a large part of the globe. To what extent weather is affected and long-range predictions of weather can be made, can be determined only by a lengthy study of wind and barometric conditions in this area. The scientific results of the last antarctic expedition are being recorded under different scientific headings in six volumes, and it is also for the completion of this work that the second expedition is deemed necessary."

Mrs. H. D. Heath Sr., was in this week from the big farms in Yoakum county, after supplies.

Brownfield Boy Makes Good Creamery Butter

One of the newest industries in our city is a small creamery now being operated by Milton Kirksey. This young man has quietly gone about getting started in this work, and few people know about it up to this time, but he is starting an ad in the Herald this week.

His butter is made from sweet cream which he obtains fresh every day from a dairy herd in the Meadow section, and which is handled all the way through in a sanitary manner. Last but not least, the cream is pasteurized before making into butter. It is made up in one-fourth pound sizes, and is handled by the grocery-men here, but one can buy a one pound carton if they like. Mr. Kirksey presented the Herald with a pound of his butter, which we found to be the equal of any and superior to most butters.

He is located in the rear of the Borden Cream Station, which is conducted by his brother, Milton. He has had five years experience in butter making, most of the time of which was in the Tech College, where he was under instructors that knew butter making from A to Z. He deserves your patronage.

SCHOOLS VERSUS JAILS

Long columns of dismal figures compiled at Washington reveal that in the United States, education is facing a crisis.

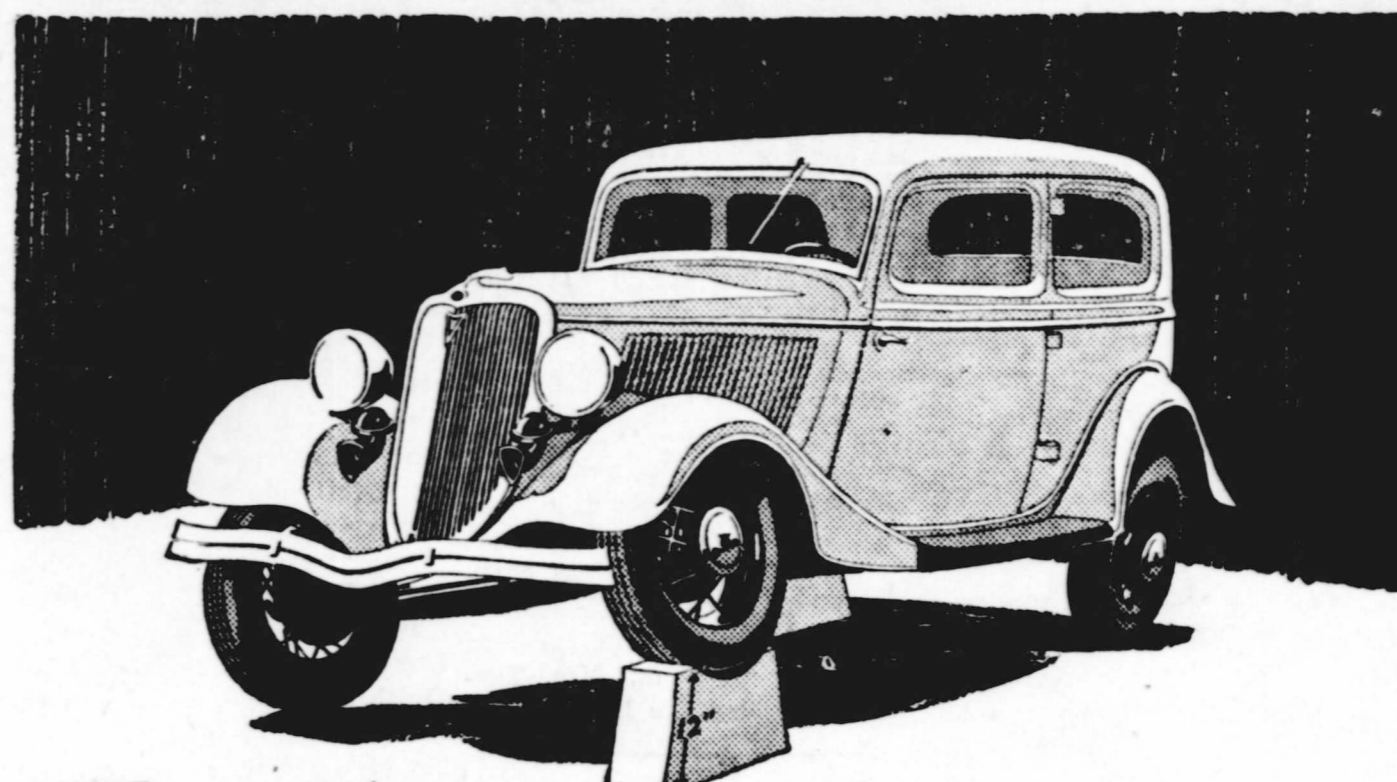

Let those who will dispute what constitutes "frills," but the blunt fact remains that this year to a hundred thousand American boys and girls is denied the opportunity to acquire the essentials of training for living in our increasingly complex age simply because schools which they would have attended failed to open last fall. Other thousands are not in the classroom for lack of adequate food and clothing—or because their schools already have closed.

And the schools that are operating face a dilemma which curtails their efficiency. With child labor abolished and jobs going to their elders, more children than ever before through the classrooms. In spite of this increased load, teaching staffs are being cut. Fifty-five thousand fewer teachers are employed today than were two years ago, leaving to reduced staffs the instruction of 1,400,000 additional pupils. If education were run on industrial principles, increased business would lead to more money for operating expenses. With schools, the reverse is the case.

Some relief is coming from the Emergency Relief Administration of the federal government. A monthly grant of two million dollars to states is helping them to put teachers back to work again. Some aid is being given for construction of new school buildings. But the crux of the problem is the willingness and the ability of communities, working together, to surmount the difficulties. For where there's a will for education, citizens do find a way.

New England, for example, has been hit hard by the depression, yet it is maintaining its educational program with less curtailment than other sections. Perhaps this is due to the lingering traditions of pioneers who started schools almost before they built their homes. Or perhaps it is hard-headed Yankee logic that refuses penny economies today that must be paid for in pounds tomorrow, a logic that takes account of the fact that it costs less than a hundred dollars a year to keep a child in school, but three hundred dollars to maintain a social misfit in a reform institution or jail.—Rotarian Magazine.

According to Arthur Kallett and F. J. Schlink in their recent book "One Hundred Million Guinea Pigs," many widely advertised foods, drugs, cosmetics, etc., contain poisons and other substances highly detrimental to the human organism. A few of the charges they make in this book are: that "Ex-Lax is a habit forming laxative, and that a box of it caused the death of a healthy ten-year-old boy who at it thinking it was candy; that the principle ingredient of Pepsico Tooth Paste is a deadly poison, and they cite the case of the German army officer who committed suicide by eating a tube of it; that Kellogg's All-Bran "contains a powerful intestinal irritant, harmful and dangerous"; that Bromo Selzer "contains a poisonous drug which has been responsible for many deaths;" that "if you do not suffer from constipation, Kruschen Salts may give you a chronic case of it; and that mercuriochrome and Listerine are about as effective as germicides as so much pink lemonade! These are only a few of the startling charges made by this remarkable book. Just when the country gets over its scare produced by the manufacturers who have made "hally" "b. o." "constipation" etc., bugaboos, here come these gentlemen to scare us out of using any of these preparations . . . its just one thing after another!—Jayton Chronicle.

Free Action for all 4 wheels

plus the safety of a front axle and comfort of Cantilever Springs

A great deal of thought is being given today to an effort to get independent action for an automobile's front wheels.

All of which is simply another tribute to the soundness of Ford engineering and the Ford V-8 for 1934. When you drive this car you get free action not only for the front wheels—but for all 4 wheels.

Ford transverse cantilever springs provide individual suspension for both front and rear axles. In the new Ford these springs have been made more flexible. This type of construction is not experimental and has the advantage of comfort plus the proved safety of a front axle.

This new Ford combines V-8 power with gasoline economy—20 miles to the gallon at a speed of 45 miles per hour, in exhaustive road runs. It will do 80 miles an hour without difficulty. At 50 or 60 miles per hour it is actually running at ease!

This reserve power means acceleration unequalled by practically any other make of American automobile, regardless of cost. Before you buy any car at any price, drive the new Ford V-8 for 1934.

HALSEY-HILL NUPTIALS PERFORMED AT SLATON

Miss Millie E. Halsey of Albany and E. I. Hill, editor of the Lynn County News, were married Sunday afternoon at the residence of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Willie Eubanks, in Slaton. Rev. Lawrence Hays, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Tahoka, officiated, using the ring ceremony. The bride and groom left immediately after the ceremony for a brief trip.

The groom has been editor and publisher of the News for the past ten years, having been previously engaged in the practice of law. He was also owner and publisher of the Roscoe Times for a number of years.

The bride has been engaged in home demonstration work the past sixteen years and has long been recognized as one of the most capable home demonstration agents in the state.

In 1917 she came to Lubbock as the first demonstration agent the county ever had, serving there four years. Later she served in the same capacity at Seymour in Baylor county for two years. In the spring of 1924 she came to Tahoka as the first home demonstration agent for this county, and she did a notable work here. For the past four years she has been serving in this capacity at Albany in Shackelford county.—Tahoka News.

STILL LOTS OF PEOPLE DIE OF TUBERCULOSIS

AUSTIN, Texas.—Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer, stated that slightly more than eleven Texans die each day from tuberculosis. In other words, over four thousand persons died of this disease last year.

In these days of economic stress, when the seeds of disease are being sown in the bodies of undernourished children, the prevention of tuberculosis is more necessary than ever. Tuberculosis formerly held first place as a cause of death; it now ranks third in Texas, while for the country as a whole it ranks seventh. Pneumonia was the only communicable disease that caused more deaths last year than did tuberculosis.

Tuberculosis has been known for centuries and constant search for a specific cure has been the goal of doctors for many years. However, no medicine, yet discovered, will cure this disease. The treatment consists of rest, proper food, fresh air, and proper medical supervision.

The greatest loss of life from this disease is between the ages 20 to 40 years, and its economic cost to families and the State is enormous. Tuberculosis can be arrested if found in its early stages, therefore, the State Department of Health urges that every one not feeling up to par should go to their family physician for a complete physical examination. In this way early beginnings of tuberculosis or other disease may be discovered in their early curable stage.

SOCIETY

CHURCH FEDERATION MET MONDAY

Ladies from four churches were present at the first meeting of the Federated Missionary Society for 1934 last Monday at 1 P. M. at the Methodist church. Members of the various ladies' organizations in the local churches compose the membership of this Society which meets every fifth Monday.

Ladies of the Christian church presented the following program:

Scripture reading, Mrs. E. M. Kendrick; Prayer, Mrs. Walters; Song, congregation; "Restoring Christian Spirit in the Home" by Mesdames W. E. Dallas, E. B. Thomas, Harrison Carpenter and Simon Holgate; Reading, Esther Ruth Smith; Duets, Mesdames Price and Longbrake; Piano solo, Quentelle Sawyer; Reading, Doris Lee Gore.

At a business meeting the following officers for 1934 were elected: Mrs. Arthur Sawyer, President; Mrs. David Perry, vice president; Mrs. Lee Holmes, secretary; Mrs. Ben Hilliard, treasurer. The president appointed the following committees:

Program: Mesdames Longbrake, Kendrick, Price and Wein. Visiting: Mesdames Gracy, Lawrence Green, Thary and Shelton. Welfare: Holgate, Plache, Downing and Griffin. Finance: Wingard, Walters, Dunn and Carpenter. Membership: Bandy, Webber, Flippin and King. Social: Reed, Pounds, Williams and James H. Dallas. Prayer: Carpenter, W. E. Dallas, Holgate and Price.

The Methodist ladies served hot punch and cookies. Mrs. Gracy dismissed the meeting with prayer.

STUDY BIBLE

Mrs. Clyde Taylor led a Bible lesson Monday when 19 ladies met at the church of Christ Monday afternoon. They studied the 16-17 chapters of John. Next Monday these ladies will meet at 1:30 and have the 18-19 chapters of John. Mrs. Taylor will again lead the lesson.

MRS. S. L. McDONALD HONORED TUESDAY

Honoring Mrs. S. L. McDonald who is soon moving to Rule, Texas, Mesdames J. L. Dunn, E. L. Pounds, E. W. Howell and J. Hayden Griffin gave a miscellaneous shower in the home of the former Tuesday afternoon. The number of ladies present and nice gifts showed the love and esteem they have for the honoree and regret very much to lose this true friend and Christian character from their circle. The rope walking contest was won by Mrs. McDonald and she was presented with the gifts by little Misses Aurelia Ann Cobb and Julia Katharine Griffin. Hot tea and cookies were served to some 50 ladies.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Will Adams honored their daughter Irene with a dinner on her 14th birthday last Tuesday evening. The color scheme of red, green and white was carried out in the three course turkey dinner. A beautiful red cyclamen formed the centerpiece for the table. Those attending were Misses Sallie Ruth Cox, Dora Fay Jenkins, Wilma Frank Dunn, Ina George Warren, Jocelyn Lambert, Bernice Hale, Ruby Nell Smith, Margene Griffin, Quentelle Sawyer and the honoree. Mrs. T. L. Treadaway was an honor guest, this date being her birthday also. Games were enjoyed after dinner.

KOLONIAL KARD KLUB ATTEND PARTY

Mrs. C. J. Smith entertained Friday afternoon of last week for members of the Kolonial Kard Klub and several guests. At the close of the bridge games Mrs. Cave scored high among the members; high score for guests going to Mrs. W. C. Smith. Both prizes were lunch cloths. The club members also surprised their newlywed member, Mrs. Paul Lawlis, with a miscellaneous shower at the time. Members present were Mesdames Herod, Carr, Dallas, Telford, E. Jones, Sawyer, Stricklin, Heath, Parish and Lawlis. Special guests were Mesdames Copeland, Akers, Thurston, E. Bailey, Fred and W. C. Smith. Congee, salad, crackers, potato chips, crackers, fruit cake and hot tea were served.

HOMECOMING

The Maids and Matrons Club held their annual homecoming day Tuesday when Mrs. Jack Stricklin, Mrs. Joe McGowan and Mrs. E. B. Parish were hostesses in the home of the former.

Members of the club, former members and other ladies interested in club and civic work were the guests, while the guest of honor was Mrs. W. P. Arvren of Lamesa, President of 7th District Women's Federated Clubs of Texas.

The house decorations featured U. S. flags and a picture of President Roosevelt in commemoration of his birthday. Flowers, both potted and cut, were placed throughout the entertaining rooms also.

On arrival the guests were greeted by the hostesses and by Mrs. Jacobson and Mrs. Wingard, president and vice president of the club and were presented to the honor guest. They were then conducted to the dining room where they were served with tea, sandwiches and cakes.

The following program ensued: Welcome—Mrs. M. E. Jacobson. Piano Solo—Mrs. W. E. Dallas. Club History—Mrs. L. M. Wingard. Xylophone Solo—Miss Gertrude Bacon accompanied by Mrs. Herod. Talk on Club and Federation Work—Mrs. Arvren.

Vocal Solo—Miss Althea Lundstrum accompanied by Mrs. Jacobson. Reading of greetings from the Club's first president, Mrs. W. R. Spencer, by Mrs. W. A. Bell.

Acrostic Solo—Mrs. Roy Herod, accompanied by Miss Bacon.

Others present in addition to those mentioned were Mesdames C. E. Baldwin of Lamesa, Betty Criswell of Plains, Leo Holmes, R. E. Self, Ben Hilliard, J. H. Dallas, Ada Wilkins, Oral Dennis, L. M. Bailey, Walter Gracy, S. H. Holgate, Tom Cobb, R. C. Reed, J. M. Telford, W. B. Downing, Ed Tharpe, E. B. Thomas, Daugherty, Bandy, Floyd Ledbetter, Herman Heath, R. M. Kendrick, M. L. Penn, J. E. Shelton, A. A. Sawyer, R. L. Bowers, and Misses Robbie Hardin and Olga Fitzgerald. Mrs. Arvren's visit was especially appreciated as this was Brownfield's first visit from a district president.

Mrs. Lellie Harkabee and son, Billie, visited Mrs. Harkabee's brother in Lamesa last Saturday and Sunday.

PLAGIARISM

When Mark Twain was living in Hartford, Conn., where Dr. Doane, later Bishop of Albany, was rector of the Episcopal Church he went to hear one of the clergyman's best sermons. After it was over, Mark approached the Doctor and said politely:

"I have enjoyed your sermon this morning. I welcome it as an old friend. I have a book at home in my library that contains every word of it."

"Why that can't be Mr. Clemens," replied the Rector.

"All the same it is so," said Twain.

"Well, I certainly should like to see that book," enjoined the rector with dignity.

"All right," said Mark, "you shall have it."

The next morning Dr. Doane received with Mark Twain's compliments, a dictionary.

DON'T FORGET

P. T. A. meets Thursday, Feb. 8. The Mother's Chorus will sing. A program in observance of Founders Day will be presented.

There will also be a picture show under the direction of Mr. Oran Dennis, who will operate the slide picture machine which the merchants of Brownfield so kindly bought for the benefit of Terry County schools.

Mesdames Chester Gore and Ed Thary visited in Lubbock Monday. Mrs. Gore visited her father at the West Texas Hospital, whom his friends will be glad to hear is much improved. Mr. Walker was hurt in a truck accident some 1 1/2 months ago. Mrs. Thary visited her daughters, Mesdames Magee and McClint.

Miss Laura Lee Jones and Mrs. Dennis' Junior High School Choral Club will be heard from KFFO Saturday from 5:30 to 6:00 o'clock.

NOTICE

The number of contestants from each school entering the Music Memory Contest must be sent to me before February 7.

Texas' Fashion Plate

Adjudged one of the ten best dressed women in the United States, this Dallas girl, Miss Berry Edwards, hates shopping, and isn't interested particularly in how she looks. Gray-Kelly, famed designer for Hollywood motion pictures, named the ten best-dressed women in America. Miss Edwards and one girl from New Orleans were the only two from this section of the country.

We had a letter and remittance this week from Mrs. Anna Kochensperger, of Columbus, Ohio, who has for many years been a reader of the Herald. She reports much cold weather and plenty of snow in that great old state. She enjoys reading about the immense herds of cattle on feed here, and says, "you must have wonderful management to care for them."

Since last issue the following new readers have been added on Brownfield and routes: J. A. Drennon, E. W. Morgan, Buck Andrew, W. M. Coor, Earl Savage, Claude Garrett, Wm. Butcher, R. G. Nunn, Blinn Moore, Tacoma, Wash., C. E. Johnson, Tokio; C. L. Allison, Meadow; J. Boulfin Rector, Austin.

If some of the actors we see in the movies were on the stage we could have some ham and eggs. You bring the eggs.—Donna News.

Evidently a lot of folks who read the country paper without paying for it believe in a free press.—Pittsburg Gazette.

The first American Legion was composed of American deserters and Tories within the British lines during the Revolutionary war.
