

Terry Has a Large Hog-Corn Contract

The Herald is carrying the Terry County Corn-Hog Contract in this issue, which we believe will be one of the biggest, if not the biggest on the south Plains. There are in the neighborhood of 800 names in the contract, which is almost as many again as Lubbock county had, and almost three times as many as some counties had.

Which again demonstrates that Terry is the premier corn and hog county, for they naturally go together. There may be some counties with much larger populations that will have more contracts, but possibly not in this section, and the totals won't run as high. It must be remembered that Terry county annually raised more than a million bushels of corn on its 1500 farms, and from three to four cars of hogs are shipped out weekly almost the year round.

This Corn-Hog Contract is printed in the Herald not only for the information of those that raise hogs and corn, but for the information of the general public as well. It costs lots of money and time to be prepared for publication, and the old linotype machine at the Herald office has not been cool this week, working on this contract an other matters that came in, including the usual reading matter.

County Agent Reed and his committees are pleasant to work with, and we assure him and his helpers as well as the farmers throughout Terry county, that we appreciate this extra business from them.

Quitaque Man is Held in Shooting

PLAINVIEW, June 2.—Jim Woods, 26, of Quitaque, was in a hospital here tonight with eight bullet wounds and a Quitaque man who surrendered to Briscoe county officers was lodged in the Silvertown jail as the aftermath of a late afternoon shooting on a downtown Quitaque street.

Woods, from his hospital bed here, said the shooting occurred while a large crowd was attending a merchant's drawing contest. He said the first bullet felled him and he pulled the man to the sidewalk as he collapsed.

Two more shots were fired. Woods told officers he had had previous "trouble" with the man who surrendered after the shooting.

Rayburn Measure Passed by the House

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The house today passed the Rayburn bill to create a commission to regulate the communications industry.

It now goes to conference to adjust difference with the senate. The administration measure abolishes the radio commission and transfers its authority to the new agency of seven.

All regulatory power over telephone and telegraph systems now vested in the interstate commerce commission also is transferred to the new body.

EX-Sec. of the Navy Pushes Highball Aside

NEW YORK, June 2.—Joseph Daniels, who "dried up" the navy in 1912, eschewed whiskey and wine at a luncheon yesterday at which he and flag officers of the naval fleet were guests of honor.

He pushed a whiskey highball aside in favor of half a grapefruit.

Some of the admirals exchanged winks as they proceeded to do justice to their drinks.

Wine was served later. Daniels didn't touch his.

As secretary of the navy he banished liquor from naval vessels.

Contracts Are Let For Road Paving

Paving contracts for South Plains counties, recently let by the state highway commission are starting, and the work represents contracts in excess of $420,000. Guy R. Johnston, district engineer, said in an interview.

Nearly 50 miles of surfacing, on three highways, 7, 9, and 137, and over 16 miles of grading and drainage, were let. State funds only are being used, Mr. Johnston said, the federal appropriation not having been received.

Estimates of the probable cost, figured very closely in the district office here, were $545,000, Mr. Johnston pointed out. Actual bids, however, were slightly over $421,000, a saving of over $120,000.

Cooke and Braden have the contract for paving No. 9 from Tullia south to the Hale county line and they have begun work on it. They also have the contract for paving 137 in Hockley county, across the corner and connecting Lubbock county paving with Terry county.

Morgan Has Contract
Morgan Construction company have the contract for paving 15 miles from Post to the Garza-Hale county line on No. 7. Lone Star Construction company has the contract on No. 7 from Justiceburg to the Scurry-Garza county line.

Surfacing of No. 24 between Lubbock and Idalou is expected to be completed in about 20 working days, unless unexpected weather conditions arise. Surfacing of No. 24 in Crosby county between Lorenzo and Kalls, is starting and will be completed around September 1.

Recently grade and drainage on No. 137 in Terry county between Seagraves and Brownfield was finished and turned over to the state for maintenance. This makes the entire highway from Lubbock to Odessa under contract.

A Good Crowd Was In For Tradesday

Following a big Saturday crowd here Monday was equally as good as the Trades Day last First Monday. About the only noticeable difference in a Saturday and Trades Day crowd, is that men and women are about equal on the former, and the gents predominate by a big majority on first Mondays. A great many good stock was noticed at the jockey yard, with some trading.

The horse race in the afternoon was a washout, as one of the horses broke into with its rider and pitched him off. A Sweetwater horse was pitted against a Tanoka mare. We understand the Saturday race was not up to Hoyle either. Many are coming here from other towns to run races, as we have better and softer soil for racing.

Merchants report a fair Trades Day business, especially in the afternoon, their bargains especially being in demand, but many articles not advertised were sold too, especially summer wearing apparel. Several hearts were made glad that received prizes.

Sales Co. Showing New Electrolux

The Electrolux Sales Co. has asked the Maids & Matrons Club to cooperate with them next Monday and Tuesday when they will demonstrate the many features of the new air-cooled Electrolux.

In conversation with a salesman of the company this week, he said, "It is our sincere belief that the new air-cooled Electrolux has more to offer you than any other refrigerator. We know that this modern gas refrigerator will live up to every claim."

So the Maids and Matrons Club and the Electrolux Sales Co. cordially invite you to attend their showing next Monday and Tuesday. No obligations whatever. Come and let them show you it will operate on "less than 3c per day."

Boys Make Good at N. M. Military Institute

Members of the families of Ray Brownfield, Sawyer Graham and Murphy May, have just returned from the New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell, where they attended the school's commencement exercises and the completion of their boys three years work in the school. The Herald is proud to report that so far the boys have made good.

Sawyer lettered in football, passed without a demerit, and was appointed Corporal.

Ray passed with an average of A, without a demerit, and was appointed Second Lieutenant.

Murphy made the first polo team, and was appointed Sergeant of the band.

Sale of Beer Beaten In O'Donnell-Wilson

O'DONNELL, June 2.—Proposal to legalize sale of 3.2 beer was defeated in two Lynn county cities Saturday. It was the first such election in each city.

O'Donnell, 116 voted for, and 129, against, permitting light beer within the municipal area. In Wilson, 121 favored and 159 opposed legalized sale.

Diplomacy—The art of letting some one else have your way!

J. C. Bond Suggests a Raven Killing Campaign

In conversation with J. C. Bond, here and post man on the run from bus to mail, he stated that there were now thousands of crows or ravens in east Terry and Lynn counties, where a few years ago there were only hundreds. He also says that just driving along the roads, he can see hundreds of nests in the mesquite trees.

His suggestion is that instead of giving the Boy Scouts so many hikes, cut them down some, load several trucks with Scouts, carry a bunch of long poles and let the boys punch these nests out of the trees, thus destroying the breeding of other ravens. He believes the boys would get as fine outing this way as any, and that it would be great fun to them. The Scout masters might carry a gun and kill as many old ones as possible.

We believe that Mr. Bond's suggestion is quite plausible. Indeed, the raven proposition has already reached a crisis under the cap rock in Howard and other counties. They fairly blacken the atmosphere in places, and are simply riddling the stacks of feed put up by farmers in the fall, and if they are allowed to build and breed in the east Brownfield pasture this summer, as well as the T— in Lynn county, we are going to feel the effects from them this fall in a big way.

We are sure that neither Ray, or the managers of the T—bar will object to the Scout Masters taking their boys all over these pastures and killing these pests.

Quarter Inch Rain Followed by a Sandy

A good shower fell here Friday night that amounted to about a quarter of an inch, but was followed Saturday afternoon by a huge sandstorm that did quite a bit of damage. It was from the southeast, and was caused from a cloud in that direction that never came up. The dust ranged high in the air, and rolled in front of the wind like a huge steam roller.

Old timers here have never seen anything like it from that direction. In view of the fact that Dawson county is still dry, it is believed that lots of the dust originated there. The wind has been blowing too hard from the southeast all this week, which is said to be damaging crops in the sandy lands.

Plains Odd Fellows to Have Barbecue-Picnic

A big open air barbecue picnic and general get-together meeting is to be held Thursday night, June 14, at Horseshoe Bend, in the Sand Hill range a few miles east of Muleshoe, the meeting being under auspices of the I. O. O. F. lodges at Littlefield and Sudan, and at which time between 1,200 and 1,500 members of the Odd Fellows and Rebecca lodges, members of their families and their friends are expected to attend.

The festivities of the occasion will begin in Muleshoe at 2:00 o'clock p. m. of that afternoon when a meeting will be held in the District Court room of the courthouse for the purpose of reorganizing the South Plains Association of Odd Fellows. Prominent Odd Fellows throughout this section of the state will be present and have a part in the organization program, while all members of the fraternal body are cordially invited and urged to attend.

Loans Refinancing Terry Co. Farmers

A total of $280,300 of Federal land bank and Land Bank Commissioner's farm mortgage loans was made in Terry County, from June 1, 1933, to May 1, 1934, according to the Farm Credit Administration.

Of this total, farmers in Terry County used approximately $270,800, or 96.6 per cent to refinance their indebtedness. By refinancing, farmers obtained new mortgage loans which they used to repay their old debts. They generally reduced their annual interest charges in doing so. In a number of cases, scale-downs of indebtedness occurred in connection with the new loans. These and other advantages benefitted farmers primarily. Secondly, creditors benefited from the receipt of cash or bonds in exchange for obligations they held.

Of the loan money used by farmers in Terry County for refinancing their debts, about $72,100, it was estimated, repaid their debts to banks; $46,500, their debts to insurance companies; $9,000, their taxes; $143,200, their debts to "others", or creditors not separately classified, including private mortgage lenders, mortgage loan companies, retired farmers and many others to whom farmers were in debt.

A total of about $9,500 of loans in the county was used for purposes other than the refinancing of borrowers' debts. Of this sum, $300 was used for the purchase of land and equipment, the construction or improvement of buildings, and for general agricultural uses, including the provision of capital, while $9,200, the balance, was used for the purchase of stock in national farm loan associations, for loan fees, etc.

Restrictions on Contract Acres Revised

County Agent R. C. Reed had a telegram this week from College Station advising that the Corn-Hog Contract had been so revised as to include the planting of any feed except corn and grain sorghums. The telegram follows:

R. C. Reed, County Agent, Brownfield, Texas.

Restrictions on use of contracted acres are modified to permit the planting and harvesting of all forage crops except corn and grain sorghums and to permit pasturing these contracted acres and harvesting of to the person in charge of the license applies to wheat and corn-hog contracts.

Vote For J. A. Johnson Farm And Labor Candidate For Cong.

The National Farmers Union and the Farm Holiday Association has a National Legislative program that will cure the Farmers economic ills, and bring general prosperity to all legitimate industry.

To put this program over it is necessary to send Farmers to our Law making bodies. J. A. Johnson a dirt farmer of Dawson County, Texas, a member of the above named organizations has been solicited by officers and members to enter the race, to represent the New 19th Congressional District. Johnson is well known in circles of Organized Labor and Farmers of Texas, as an honest and fearless champion for the laboring class. His records show that he has always been in front, never on side lines. If you want to do your part in putting this program over send what contributions you can to G. C. Ashenbeck, Brownfield, Texas, to carry on the Champion to success. Act now before it is too late.

Pundt Makes Charges Against Oponents Here

Charges that the employees of the Texas Railroad Commission have been enlisted into a powerful political machine to prevent his election were made by John Pundt of Dallas candidate for a place on the commission in a statement issued at Brownfield. He charged that as a result of the political campaign being conducted by Lon Smith to retain his place on the Railroad Commission will cost the people of Texas not less than $1,000,000.

"I know this is a serious charge but I can substantiate every word," Mr. Pundt said.

"The 400 employees of the Railroad Commission are running about the state at the expense of the people of Texas campaigning against me and tacking up political placards of Lon Smith on every telephone pole and tree they can find.

"Their cars are furnished by the people of the state to be used in administering the laws but they are filled with campaign literature of my opponent and the people are paying the gasoline bills. The people also are paying the expense accounts of these henchmen of my opponent.

"These immortal 400 are acting as political minute men who are attempting to continue my opponent in office.

Celebrated 60th Wedding Anniversary

It is not such a rarity for a couple to celebrate their 50th or Golden Wedding anniversary, but when a couple lops off 60 together, that is news. Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Auburg of this city attended such an affair over in New Mexico on May 28th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Baker.

Mr. Baker is 82, Mr. Auburg stated, and his wife slightly younger. Besides friends and neighbors present, there were nine children 36 grandchildren, and seven great-grandchildren. Altogether there were 30 in attendance.

Which reminds us that next Monday, a fine old pioneer Terry county couple will celebrate their Golden Wedding, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Price, at the home of their son, W. W. Price. Many of the old timers have been invited.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this means of thanking our many friends and neighbors in Yoakum and Terry counties for their help and expressions of sympathy during our recent calamity that caused the death of our husband and father. May God richly reward each of you in our prayer.

Mrs. J. A. Taylor, James & W. M.

Maury Hughes Spoke Here Last Friday

Heretofore Brownfield has been passed up by the state candidates, with one exception, when Tom Hunter spoke here two years ago. But they are beginning to find out that there is really some people living out here in this corner of the universe, and are coming after the votes. Mr. Hunter was here two weeks ago, and Hon. Maury Hughes of Dallas spoke to a small crowd here last Friday.

Two things made it difficult to give Mr. Hughes a crowd here. First, little publicity, as the notice arrived too late for the Herald of the previous week. Another was that Mr. Hughes had to go from Lubbock to Slaton that morning and did not arrive here until after eleven o'clock, although scheduled for ten o'clock. Therefore many here in town who had received the paper or circulars, had to go to lunch before he started.

The short address was well received however, and while all may not have agreed with all his platform, on the whole he has an excellent platform if carried out. His suggestions of court reforms, especially toward the Dillinger-Barrow type of criminal is especially good, and he was warmly applauded on his stand. Also, his pardoning platform, which is based on the federal law on pardoning is fine, and whether or not he is elected governor or some one else, this part of his platform should be adopted by the next legislature.

Mr. Hughes is well equipped with loud speaker and phonograph for gathering a crowd together, and his traveling companions are good advertisers.

What Are We to Do About the Fly Menace

The flies are literally taking this city. They were not so bad until about Monday, when it seems that the city was literally invaded by hosts of these creatures. Aside from the fact that the house fly is filthy and a conveyor of disease, he is a great nuisance to the worker, to those trying to nap in the daytime. It seems that these flies are especially hungry and attack the exposed ankles, neck and other parts of the body.

It is our understanding that as fast as the pens are empty at the stock pens where the Hearst steers are being fed out, that pen or series of pens will be plowed up, and the manure allowed to dry. In case of much rain, we understand that crude oil will be used. In this way, by the time the last steer is gone, the pens will, the city health officer believes be made safe against breeding places for flies.

In the meantime, we understand that the Lions Club is sponsoring a fly trap campaign, and are having them made at a local lumber yard so that they can be sold for 50c each. This is front page advertising we are giving the Lions and the Shamburger Lumber Co., free of charge, but if the Herald can help in ridding the town of this dangerous pest, call on us any time.

The Herald believes that 50c spent for one or more of these traps, and spread all over the city, that it would not be very long until we will see a lessening of this nasty pest. Some say that traps will draw flies. Well if they will, let's get them. We had rather they would be drawn to the traps outside the house than to our tables and beds inside. Wouldn't you?

Grocer Killed As Auto is Overturned

SPUR, June 2.—Funeral services for Thomas Parker, a Clairemont grocer, who was killed when his automobile hurtled through a guardrail and off a bridge late Friday near Peacock, in Stonewall county, were conducted this afternoon at Roby.

Jack Foreman of Spur, Grady Edgar of Dickens, and Elwood Byrd of Clairemont, other occupants of the automobile, which was driven and owned by Parker, escaped virtually unharmed. A widow and son survive.

A COOLIDGE STORY

We recall attending a college dinner at which Calvin Coolidge, then lieutenant governor of Massachusetts and Dwight Morrow, rapidly advancing lawyer and financier, were neighbors at table. These men had been classmates at Amherst and were warm friends. Morrow made sundry attempts to get the conversational ball rolling, but it was not Mr. Coolidge's night to talk. After a while, Morrow gave up the attempt. He was on the program to respond to the toast "Calvin Coolidge." When he rose, Morrow said, "Gentlemen, it's a lot easier to talk about Brother Coolidge than to talk with him."—Frank B. McAllister in the Rotarian Magazine.

WATCH THE MINES

It is generally believed that the federal government is considering legislation to spur the production of silver, and stimulate mining in general.

If that is done, it will mean much to the country as a whole—and it will mean genuine prosperity to a number of states.

The mines of Nevada, Utah and other states were once their most important asset. They employed the most labor. They provided the best investment opportunities. They had the largest payrolls. They were the principal taxpayers. The purchasing power they created provided an appreciable percentage of the livelihood for farmers, storekeepers, doctors—all types of workers. And, through the process of expansion which money always follows it spread across the country, benefitting all industries, all citizens.

Mining legislation will be watched for eagerly. If we can bring the mines back to normal, we will have taken a real step toward recovery.

The Assembly of God convention will be Wed. night June 13th at 8:30 o'clock and all day Thursday the 14th of June. The headline in our article last week said it would be Sunday which was a mistake.

OUR 23 YEAR COLUMN

On the front page of the issue of June 9, 1911, we find that M. V. Brownfield had let the contract for the construction of a new home. The board of directors of the Terry County Fair Association had met at Gomez, and a committee from Brownfield had asked that the fair be held here that year, and from then on alternate yearly between the two towns.

Gomez Dots: A beneficial rain had fallen. Mrs. Lockhart had left for her home in Tahoka. Mr. Whitley was planting the square in cotton. W. A. Shepherd had a serious runaway, and his buggy badly wrecked. Milt Good started to Brownfield but landed in Gomez by taking the wrong road. The public well was undergoing repairs. Booth Hays was in for groceries. Young folks had a cream supper at Will Mathis. Rev. Kirby had preached at the Methodist church. Tom Taylor moved to his claim in New Mexico.

The Commissioners had let the contract for grading the road south of town to A. N. Copeland and J. R. Walker. H. H. Longbrake was building a tank tower Mrs. Lee Allmon and children were visiting in the Lee Walker home 11 miles north of town. Clyde Lewis seemed to have been Brownfield's original jellybean, as he was noticed walking around town bareheaded. Several from here attended a party at the C. F. Holt farm 8 miles east. A young man by the name of Carroll had just arrived from Tennessee for the benefit of his asthma. Lots of baby horses and mules were reported over the county. A fine boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Daniels. Geo. McWhorter came in from Quannah. Tom May reported an increase in lumber business. Young people enjoyed a moonlight party in the courthouse park.

Misses Gaster Randal and Meddie Walker had spent the week on the sheep ranch with Misses Maymie and Kathryn Powell, and enjoyed swimming in the pool. C. S. Cardwell was showing cotton forming squares, and some fine onions. Jim Burnett was showing some fine radishes. E. B. Wright had been appointed postmaster here in the place of J. N. Gunter, resigned. Charley Stewart came from Van Zandt county to visit his sisters, Mrs. Dr. Ellis and Miss Pearl Stewart. Brooks and Drinkard were busy making go-devils. The Commissioners had met with an Equalization Board, and had raised some and lowered some taxes. Tom May was experimenting with a juggling fly. The north and west portions of the county had received good rains. The Methodist quarterly conference was to be held at Meadow.

Primrose News: A fine rain in that community. Miss Dollie Duke of Brownfield was visiting her sister Mrs. Henry Pulliam. Miss Lura Smith of Needmore was visiting in the community. A singing at Lee Cowan's Sunday night was rained out. All for this week.

COMMENT BY THE EDITOR

Some years ago Don Mellett, an editor in Canton, Ohio, was killed by underworld forces he had exposed and campaigned against. In memory of this brave soldier in the cause of freedom there was established in the University of Kansas what is known as the Don Mellett lectureship. Recently, Roy Roberts, manager of the Kansas City Star, in delivering this Don Mellett lecture, said: "Dictatorships and a free press cannot live side by side. Dictatorships have in recent years sprung up, not only in Europe but throughout the world, and always with the inevitable suppression of freedom of the press."

Mr. Roberts continued, "I cannot prophesy, but I cannot help feeling that the big test is yet ahead, as far as America is concerned. We are passing through evolutionary, to use the President's terminology, if not revolutionary times. The mass mind often becomes the intolerant mind. Or, in discouragement, the mass mind may seek any path out without counting the cost of liberties surrendered. Too many would sacrifice political freedom for economic security, real or fancied. That is the lesson of Europe. Therein lies the danger."

Teachers who advocate anything less than open and aboveboard discussions in the press of all debatable questions are doing that much toward the establishment of dictatorships whether they be political, economic, or otherwise. The fact that thousands of teachers are afraid to talk is a terrific indictment of present conditions. —R. T. E. in Texas Outlook.

L. E. McClish, Alton Black, Dube Pyeatt and Moon Mullins, firemen, and City Marshal Gene Brown, who is also fire marshal, left Sunday for the Sabinas river 150 miles from Eagle Pass down in old Mexico, to try their luck fishing.

We note from the Post Dispatch that Elder Alvin Mitchell of this community, has accepted the work as minister of the Church of Christ at Post full time. He has already moved down there.

Trucks For Hire Required to Register

AUSTIN, May 30.—Every owner of a vehicle carrying property of others for hire is required to register under the NRA Code for the Trucking Industry approved by President Roosevelt. Registrants will be furnished with a Code Insignia which will show that the vehicle upon which it is displayed is operating under the Code. Failure to display this insignia by any truck operating for hire will be a violation of the Code.

The Trucking Code is in final effective form, after approval by President Roosevelt in February. It provides minimum hourly wages and shorter working hours than have generally prevailed. Other provisions seek to improve safety practices and stabilize rates and service. Originally registration was to include all trucks whether for hire or not, but registration of not for hire trucks has been postponed.

Registration committees have been set up thruout Texas. Closest office to Brownfield is located at Lubbock with Mr. A. R. Dalby as Chairman.

In Texas the Code will be administered by the State Code Authority consisting of Col. H. E. Stewart, Houston, Chairman; L. T. Campbell, Longview; J. A. Fadell, Fort Worth; Leslie Cookenboo, Houston; Harry Leonard, San Antonio; and Walter Beck, Austin.

According to Col. Stewart, all provisions of the Code apply to local truck operators as well as those who operate over the highways between towns. Any truck operator who buys his load at point of origin and sells it at point of destination is considered an operator for hire even when hauling his own property "for sale or disposal where the principal purpose or effect of such disposal is to obtain revenue for such transportation."

"The State Code Authority has designated Texas Motor Transportation Association at Austin as the official organization of the Trucking Industry in Texas," said Chairman Stewart in announcing registration. "Any information as to registration or other phases of the code may be secured from that agency."

Enos Cope and J. M. Denton of the Lovington, N. M. section were here this week. Mr. Cope used to run cattle in this section in the early days, and came to Brownfield frequently then. He says that Brownfield sure has grown since he was here last.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Gross and daughter, Miss Bonnie Dale, have moved back to Brownfield from Lubbock.

Three local couples pledged their troth here Sunday, which is almost a record for aday, especially since the Texas marriage law has been in effect.

+ Do You Know? +

THAT tourists who stop at the Nova Scotia Hotel, Halifax, Nova Scotia, shown above, are literally on a part of Boston, Mass.? The explanation is that in the days of the old sailing vessels, ships used to come up to Halifax from Boston in ballast and the ballast was earth from Boston. At Halifax they tied up beside the pier where the hotel now stands and the ballast was unloaded and used to lay out the streets and level off the ground in that part of the city. Another feature of this hotel is that it is the only hotel in Canada—perhaps in the world—without a chimney.

+ Do You Know? +

THAT it is with such crude tools as the home-made adze shown in the photograph that the coast Indians of British Columbia fashion their famous dugout canoes and their ornate totem poles? The Indian in the photograph is shown working on a totem pole, an art that is so nearly lost that the Canadian Government has spent much money to preserve poles now in existence and has passed a law against the removal of any more totem poles from the country. The best collection of totem poles in North America is to be found at Kitwanga on the Skeena River in northern British Columbia.

THAT the largest drydock in the world is located in Saint John, New Brunswick, one of the great all-year sea ports of Canada? The drydock, part of which is shown in the photograph, is 1150 feet long and has a width of 125 feet with 42 feet on the sill.

A PINCH OF HUMOR
The wise teacher will see to it that her spice box is not empty of humor. She will see to it that her classroom is pervaded by its subtle essence. She will encourage the fun-loving spirit of her pupils. She will furnish occasions for them to laugh and will laugh with them. A humorous twinkle in her eye, a merry jest on her tongue, a hearty laugh now and then, will do more to harmonize the discordant notes of the schoolroom and bring about a state of mind receptive to instruction than all the severe discipline. E. G. Littlejohn, Galveston.

History of Hungarians
Little is known of the history of the Hungarians previous to their appearance in Europe in 894. They are generally believed to be the descendants of the Scythians, and to have come from regions about the Caspian sea. They first settled along the Middle Volga, but, having been pressed westward, they in 889 crossed the Carpathian mountains under Almos, and under the further leadership of his son Arpad they conquered the ancient Pannonia and Dacia of the Romans; and this, their new country, was in the year 1000 formed into a regular kingdom by Stephen.

PURITY IN ADVERTISING
Editor:
Someone has said that character is the result produced by the sum total of all one's past experiences. Everything that one sees, feels, says or hears becomes a part of him whether he knows it or not. Tenyson says, "I am a part of all that I have met."
In turning through the advertising section of a nationally known magazine recently, I noticed several almost blank pages. In the center of each page was printed a stale joke. Right under the joke a notation was made that "We had a liquor advertisement scheduled for this page, but liquor advertising is prohibited in your state so we had to print this 1921 prohibition joke."

There has been a good deal said in recent years about truth in advertising. Advertising agencies, better business clubs and trade journals have taken the position that advertising should build up confidence, and that the policy is to refrain from doubtful and extravagant claims for a product. Most advertising now conforms to this policy. But the line of cigarette advertising we have seen in newspapers and magazines in recent months seems to approach the extravagant if not the ridiculous.
At the risk of being called a "fokey," I will say that I find it hard to believe that it is the "Height of Good Taste" for a dream in a red dress to carry brand "A" jauntily parked in the cupid's bow or between slender fingers; or that brand "B" is a necessity (implied) for the best aviators, skyscraper riveters, rifle shots and football referees because they "Never jangle your nerves"; or that brand "C" is "Always kind to your throat." If these statements are true every home in the land should keep a supply of all three on hand to make sure that every member of the family would be always free from coughs, throat irritation, jangled nerves and always be in "the height of good taste."
Three of the magazines recommended by the state for the schools almost invariably carry a full-page advertisement on the back cover illustrated in the most attractive colors possible by highly paid artists showing beautiful women or heroic men enjoying their favorite brand and accompanied by statements that cannot always be accepted as fact. This is not meant as a blast against tobacco or the practice of smoking. But the nation-wide campaign of the major tobacco companies to make every boy and girl in the land their regular customers by putting out the tommyrot, by word or implication that this is "the height of good taste" is a reflection on our intelligence and an imposition on the American people, and I for one protest.—Clovis L. Vaughn, New Home.

A DUN IN POETRY
It is said that an editor once offered $1,000 for the best "dun" in poetry. The story doesn't say where he got the money. Guess he inherited it from a rich uncle. But here's the verse:
"Lives of poor men oft remind us;
Honest toil won't stand a chance
More we work there grows behind us,
Bigger patches in our pants.
On our pants once new and glossy,
Now are stripes of different hue:
All because our customers linger,
And won't pay up what is due.
Then let us be up and doing,
Send in your mite, however small;
Or when the snow of winter strikes us,
We shall have no pants at all."

WHO STARTED BASEBALL?
Who originated America's National Sport? And where?
The answer, according to George H. Carley, writing in the current Rotarian Magazine, is General Abner Doubleday; the place is Cooperstown, N. Y., also famous as the home of James Fenimore Cooper whose Leatherstocking Tales still thrill Young Americans.
Doubleday was a student in a semi-military school back in 1839 when he got his inspiration for the game. During the Civil War he "promoted" it as recreation for Union soldiers.

We note that the Tech students from this city have all arrived home looking ale and hearty, and most of them came through with flying colors.

THE RECORDS OF THE SENATOR-CANDIDATES
The inquiry into the records of state senators, present and former, who are candidates for state office this year, may well begin with the called session of the 41st legislature, in 1930.
At that time the practice of utilities and other interests of hiring legislators as attorneys hadn't developed to the stage it has since reached, but it was already beginning to cause a bad smell at Austin. In an effort to clear the atmosphere, Senator W. D. McFarlane of this district introduced a resolution setting forth the rumors and gossip about senators who were corporation-hired, and calling for the appointment of a committee of five senators to get at the facts and make them public.
That resolution gave the state senate a splendid opportunity to set itself right. The senators who were not on the payrolls of selfish interests naturally were ready for that fact to be known. The senator who was hired by special interests naturally wasn't keen to see the relationship made public. The resolution provided a fair and forthright test of senate sentiment on the question. The public was entitled to draw the conclusion that those who opposed the resolution were either on corporation payrolls themselves, or in sympathy with, and ready to condone, such a practice.
The resolution was defeated, 14 to 12.
Among the 14 who voted against it were Senator Joe Moore of Hunt county, now a candidate for lieutenant governor; Senator Clint Snall of the Panhandle district, now a candiin this day of automobiles, no one relishes the idea of going a couple of hundred miles to act as a county court juror, or even 300 miles to pay his taxes or get a marriage license. No, Texas is not ready for this great reformation.

We recently heard a story that a gentleman told another gentleman who was out for a certain political office that he always thought that men of education and good common sense should be elected to that office. The candidate kinder took it that the advice was intended for him, and replied that education and good sense, especially the later were good qualifications, but says he: "For hundreds of years, the priests, the levites and lawyers and scribes of the Hebrew nation had studied the law of Moses, the Psalms of David and the major and minor prophets to find when the messiah was to come, but missed it. They had to be informed of the event by three common sheep herders." Pretty good repartee we call it. We have had some great men that were not educated as the world now knows education, or were self-educated. We have known some educated fools that have tried to wreck the nation.

The present cry is to cut the price of everything and we should realize this is the surest method of continuing the depression. The big boys just can't see why it is necessary to increase wages and shorten hours so the purchasing power of the nation will be increased. Those who have to pay taxes, insurance and repair bills on residence property are convinced they cannot afford to own property with rents at the present level. Until workers secure employment at decent wages they cannot afford to pay higher rent so we continue in the middle of a bad fix and unless the way out is found soon we will go from bad to worse.—Big Spring News.

A MILESTONE

Congratulations and best wishes to Jefferson Davis Sandefer on the occasion of his 25th anniversary as president of Hardin and Simmons University, an event celebrated last Friday by school and city.

Material evidence of Dr. Sandefer's success there is in plenty. There are spiritual fruits, however, that although less spectacular than material gains, will endure longest and make the most permanent contribution to West Texas life.

It is something to have had a hand in the erection of imposing buildings of brick and stone. It is something even better to have had a part in the molding of the lives and characters of thousands of young men and women. For these evocations of service are not affected by the attrition of time or the mutations of material existence. They are not bounded by time or space, nor destroyed by economic upheaval. They go on forever.

May his good work continue for many more years.—Abilene News.

AN ORDINANCE

An ordinance regulating the sale of goods, wares and merchandise sold by transient persons and transient dealers therein; levying a license tax on such persons or dealers, and providing a penalty for violation of terms of this ordinance.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF BROWNFIELD: Hereafter there shall be levied a license tax on all transient persons or dealers who shall engage in the sale of goods, wares and merchandise, such sales being made within the City limits of Brownfield, Texas, the sum of Sixty Dollars per month for the first month or part thereof and Ten Dollars per month for the next five months and Five Dollars per month for the next six months, such person or dealer shall so engage in said business.

Any transient person or dealer who shall desire to engage in such business as provided herein shall before so engaging in said business make proper application for license to the person in charge of the license department of the city government for a license to engage in such business, stating in his said application the line or lines of business which he proposes to engage in, with the place where such sale or sales will be made from, together with such other information as may be required of him from time to time by the provisions of ordinance or by-laws adopted by the said City of Brownfield, and shall pay for not less than one month's license in advance before engaging in said business.

Each fractional part of a month shall be counted as a full month, and in case any such transient person or dealer as herein provided shall fail to continue said business for a full month after the issuance of such license, then no part of such license tax so paid shall be refunded to him. The provisions of this Ordinance shall apply to all transient persons or dealers who shall engage in the sale of goods, wares and merchandise, other than to regularly engaged retail merchants within said city, who are so engaged in such retail trade and sale of such articles from regular store buildings within said City, which are occupied by them as a place for conducting such regular retail business.

By the term 'transient person or dealer' is meant a person or dealer, who travels from place to place and is engaged in the sale of articles enumerated in the provisions of this ordinance other than to retail merchants who are regularly engaged in the retail trade from store buildings occupied by them and used by them exclusively for the purpose of conducting such regular retail business.

Any person or dealer who shall violate any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be fined in any sum not less than fifty dollars nor more than One Hundred Dollars; and each and every day that such ordinance may be violated shall be considered as a separate offense and punishable as such.

The fact that many transient persons are engaged in the sale of goods, wares and merchandise sold without the payment of a license tax for such privilege, and the further fact that there is no adequate ordinance with said city providing for the levying of such license tax upon transient persons or dealers for the privilege of pursuing such business within said city, creates an imperative public necessity that this ordinance be passed as an emergency measure, and said ordinance is therefore passed in open council as an emergency measure by unanimous consent of all members of the City Council and it is ordered that same shall take effect from and after its passage and publication as required by law.

Passed and approved this 14th day of May, A. D. 1934.
L. C. WINES, Mayor.

ENDING A FRAUD
Henceforth congressmen are to be barred from applauding themselves in the Record.
Under a ruling announced by Speaker Rainey, when unanimous consent is given by the house to a member to "revise and extend" his remarks in the Record this will not be taken to mean that he may insert "applause" where there was no applause.
It has been a practice of members at times to insert, under the unanimous-consent permit, entire speeches no word of which was spoken from the floor. The fact that the speech never was delivered, however, and no opportunity given for applause, did not prevent the authors sprinkling "applause" through it as published in the Record, the idea being to impress constituents to whom the speech is sent with the importance of their representative as reflected in the approval given the address.
Hereafter, this is not to be permitted. A member may "extend" his remarks, but if there has been no actual applause none is to be indicated in the published text.
The ruling is a sensible one and will protect from a fraudulent practice unformed readers of the Congressional Record.—Lubbock Avalanche.

C. W. Denison of route four, is a new reader.
