Add to life's mysteries:
How is it that your car's cooling system can work like a clock all summer long and you never add a drop of water; then comes winter and the day you put in expensive anti-freeze, leaks spring up all over the place?

Since we still make a weekly contribution of learned observations to the State Line Tribune at Farwell, a privilege we inherited from our father several years ago, our remarks are occasionally quoted in other area publications.

There are few business people with egotistical leanings quite so great as newspaper folk, and they dearly love to learn that someone has paid them some attention.

The reprinting of some of our deathless prose in say, the Amarillo paper, does not, however, bring the exhilaration to us that we feel whenever we notice that Mrs. J. G. McFarland has nodded our direction in The Parmer County Implement News.

If Granville goes broke in the machinery business, we suggest to him that he sit back and take life easy and let his wife make a living with her typewriter. She could do it.

Hank Outland, our Southwestern Public Service man in Friona, can take a joke, but we understand he's getting a little tired of being kidded about moving out of town. The story going the rounds has it that Hank has moved a couple miles out on the old Seamount ranch so he can enjoy cheap REA electricity.

Too many people either refuse to talk about politics or "feel you out" until they know which way you believe and then side in with you whenever you attempt to talk with them.

That is always discouraging to the inquiring news reporter, but is something he must contend with and make allowances for. Not everybody is spineless, however, and last week we went to the man in town we knew we could depend on for an honest appraisal of the political situation. And we got it, too.

Jake Lamb, who mixes politics and fishing like most people mix jam and eggs, looked us squarely in the eye when we asked him what he is going to do next Tuesday, and declared "Vote 'er straight Democratic — from top to bottom."

He added, "I voted Republican once in my life, and don't believe I will ever be forgiven for doing it."

Jake, however, isn't so sure that his side will win come next week. He predicts that Parmer County will go for Eisenhower, and that the nation will follow suit. However, in Texas itself, Jake looks for a Stevenson victory.

Jake, incidentally, has made himself something of a pest for the past week or two. He buttholes us almost daily and lectures on our "waywardness". Ever since we supported Price Daniel in the primary, Jake has regarded us as a sort of lost sheep.

We went to great lengths to locate our car, which was parked where he couldn't identify it, so he could plaster a Demo sticker on the back. This was not offensive to us, but it may be to the "loyal Democrats" who will see our editorial on the election.

Over the weekend, we had occasion to show a young man around town. We succeeded in impressing not only our guest, but ourselves as well, as we drove around and pointed out the things that are taking place and indicate the growth of the community.

In singling out the businesses and residences under construction, we were surprised at the total. Also, the new highway through town with its well marked, well lighted lanes, deserved special mention.

At the end of our tour, we concluded aloud, and made special emphasis to ourselves in private, that Friona continues to appear to be a community well on the way to a position of leadership on the Plains of Texas.

If you ever get the doldrums about the town, a drive of about 20 minutes through it will serve to pep you up, especially if you make note of the changes for the better you see.

They tell us that barbers hate flat-top haircuts. We notice that they charge extra for them, so perhaps that is true. However, barbers aren't the only ones who suffer around Friona.

These Friona Businesses Invite You To Visit Them This Week

GRAND OPENING SATURDAY—This is the brand new T & H Service Station which will observe its grand opening all day Saturday. Operated by Frank Truitt and Ralph Hundley, the business is located on Highway 60.

MARY'S CAFE HAS NEW HOME—Burned out of another building less than two months ago, Mary's Cafe will open in this new brick building Monday. The business, which is owned by Mary Pilgrim and Hayden Cason, will seat 68.

Friona Businesses Plan Promotions

Two Friona businesses have planned promotions of interest to the public in the coming week. T & H Service Station will have its formal opening Saturday and Mary's Cafe will be open for business Monday.

The new service station is located on Friona's recently widened Highway 60. It was built by Bert Shackelford, Texaco consignee, and is being operated by Frank Truitt of Bovina and Ralph Hundley, who has moved here from Claude.

The station, though now observing its formal opening, has been open for business for three weeks. Coffee and donuts will be passed out all day Saturday, and Texaco "fire chief" hats and balloons will be favors.

Mary's Cafe, owned by Mary Pilgrim and Hayden Cason, will be open for the first time Monday, although Mrs. Pilgrim says this is not their formal opening.

Mary's Cafe formerly was in business near Smiley's Courts, and had been located there about four years. A fire on September 23 gutted the building and ended business in that location.

The new building, in the Welch-

Shackelford development in western Friona, faces Highway 60. It is furnished with all-new equipment and will seat 68 persons. Free coffee and donuts will be served from 9 until 11 in the morning and 2 until 5 in the afternoon.

Chiefs Vs. Sudan Here Friday Night

Friona's Chiefs, after dropping their conference opener to Farwell last week, face the tough-looking Sudan Hornets Friday night on the local field.

Sudan is shaping up as a possible conference title contender after its easy squashing of Morton 27-0 last week. Comparative scores indicate that Farwell beat Morton only 9-6 two weeks ago, and the Steers topped the Chiefs 7-0 last week.

That puts Sudan far in the lead on paper, and casts the Chiefs in the role of underdogs.

The local eleven still may have some holes in its lineup on account of injuries by time the kickoff time comes Friday night. Joe McLellan is nursing a sore toe and Wesley Barnett sprained an ankle in last week's game.

Lions Broom Sale Is Thursday

Friona Lions plan to make a clean sweep of the town next Thursday, November 8, when they will canvass the community during their annual broom-selling event.

The club has been divided into two teams under the captainship of Joe Ferrell and Andy Hurst, and members will compete to see who can gross the largest sales.

In addition, the town itself has been divided on a north-south line (Main Street), with one team taking the area to the east, and one taking the western part of town.

Money derived from the sale of brooms will go to aid the club's charitable programs.

The club assembled Thursday evening and heard the Trebelaires, under the direction of Mrs. Eva Miller, sing, "The American's Creed," "Together," "Whispering," "Stormy Weather," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The Trebelaires is a musical group composed of several Friona High School girls.

Also during the program, Lion Boss Charles Allen reported that gross receipts on the Shop-O-Rama Circus recently sponsored by the club amounted to $59.30. Bills for water, lights and other miscellaneous expenses were expected to lower the net for the Lions to around $50.

The club took action on a suggestion that they endorse the Modern Study Club's plan to deposit money that members plan to spend on Christmas cards, in the bank, where it would be used to purchase equipment for the new Parmer County Community Hospital building.

Hollis Horton reported that the Lions-backed Quarterback Club was about 40 members and $200 shy of its goal. Film for football games photographed is running about $32 a week, he said.

Frank Spring reported on the Girl Scout drive in Friona, and told the Lions that the local group oversubscribed its quota.

FIRST DOWN—Larry Fairchild skirts around right end for the first first down of the game for the Chiefs Friday night. He made 11 yards on this run, seeping past a hord of Farwell tacklers.

LOOKS LIKE ADLAI IN PARMER COUNTY

By W. H. GRAHAM Jr.
Eight years ago a certain statistician named George Gallup had attained a widespread and hard-earned reputation for being able to determine, in advance, what the outcome of elections would be. He—and others—put a lot of faith in their pre-election interviews which sampled public opinion and placed a yardstick on anticipated behavior at the polls.

Life magazine even went so far in their prognostication as to publish an issue in advance of the voting with a picture of Tom Dewey, governor of New York and the Republican nominee, as "the next president of the United States."

What happened is common knowledge to almost everyone old enough to vote. Harry Truman, the old Missouri warrior, won his greatest political campaign and carried off the presidency. For that and other reasons, anyone who samples public opinion ought to be prepared for some more than just mild surprises. Even so, it's hard to resist the temptation to speculate on anything as exciting as a national election, and for that reason, the Bovina Blade, State Line Tribune, and Friona Star cooperated in a late season survey to determine, if possible, what will be the trend of the voting Tuesday in Parmer County.

The way in which the sampling was taken was to select 25 eligible voters each from Farwell, Bovina, and Friona. They were classified as pro-Eisenhower, Stevenson, Andrews or undecided. No names have been used, and no person contacted refused to express himself or herself.

Tabulations from the 75 persons interviewed indicate an unquestionable leaning for the Democratic ticket. In fact, if the scanty statistics are projected to represent the 2200 votes in the county that are expected to be cast Tuesday, Stevenson-Kefauver will carry Parmer County by a landslide.

The Demo nominees polled 69.3% of the vote in the Parmer County sampling. Eisenhower and Nixon garnered only 26.6%. All information was obtained the first of the week, and nearly everyone (Continued On Last Page)

Last Rites Conducted For Floyd Ray West

Funeral services were conducted at the First Baptist Church in Sudan Thursday at 1 p. m. for Floyd Ray West of Friona. Rev. Perry was the officiating minister. Burial was in the Sudan cemetery under the direction of Marcum-Claborn Funeral Home.

West, who was killed last Tuesday evening when his car overturned north of Friona, was an employee of Massey Bros. Drilling Company. He had lived in Friona about a year, and was a veteran of World War II.

Survivors are his wife, Laverne; two sons, Rickey Lee and Danny Lynn all of Friona; parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. West of Sudan; three brothers, G. W., Carlos, and Audrey, all of Sudan; three sisters, Mrs. Cleo Whitmire of Sudan, Mrs. Louise McBroom of San Antonio, and Mrs. Kenneth Ware of Littlefield.

VOTING MADE EASY IN FRIONA

If you live in Friona and fail to vote in the election Tuesday, you'll have a hard time finding excuses for not doing so.

In addition to the intense interest being placed on getting out the vote by clubs and individuals alike, there are at least two groups in town who are taking special pains to see that everyone goes to the polls.

The Progressive Study club invites anyone who needs a ride to the polls Tuesday to call 2362, 5281, or 2552. A member of the Club will call at the homes of those needing rides, take them to the polls, and return them home.

There isn't any charge for the service.

Also those who have children they usually can't leave will be glad to know that the senior Girl Scouts will baby sit Tuesday afternoon so that parents can get out to vote.

More information can be obtained from Mrs. Dorothy Hough at 2971. Call after 4:30.

National Offices At Stake Tuesday

Friona's and the nation's voters will go to the polls Tuesday to select a new—or re-elect the present—state of officers in the nation's highest positions.

Voters will help decide the burning issues of the campaign which have been the focal point of street talk for weeks. The nation's destiny rests in the ballot box and in this election more than any other, stress has been put on the great responsibility that every voter has with his choice.

The American Legion Hall will be the polling place for local citizens. T. J. Crawford, election judge, says that the polls will be open from 8 a. m. until 7 p. m. Named election clerks are F. W. Reeve and George Baker.

The Democratic Party is the only one in Texas with a full slate of candidates from precinct to presidential level. Republicans and the Constitutional Party have only top-office nominees on the ticket.

Only one man is seeking a write-in vote. He is W. Lee O'Daniel, who was defeated in July when he ran for the Democratic nomination for governor. He seeks the same office.

Friona voters will help decide who will get the choice electoral college plum of Texas.

Fellowship Slates Election Day Dinner

Members of the Women's Fellowship of the Congregational Church will hold their annual election day chicken dinner and bazaar in the basement of the church Tuesday. In addition to the dinner which will be served, there will be a number of hand made articles for sale which will be suitable for gifts or home use.

Steers Kick Chiefs 7-0

A stout forward wall was the key to the 7-0 victory the Farwell Steers racked up against the Friona Chiefs in a conference clash at the Farwell field Friday night. It was the second straight conference win for the Steers and the game was the first conference encounter for Friona.

A capacity crowd, composed of fans from both Friona and Farwell, viewed the contest in chilly weather, as Steer quarterback Johnny Lovelace hit end Glyn McDorman with a 13-yard pass in the second period for the game's only score. Lovelace also kicked the extra point. The touchdown came after pass receivers had bobbed several

The win was the Steers' sixth straight after battling Melrose to a 0-0 tie in the season opener. It was the Chiefs' fifth loss of the season, against two wins.

Although it was on a pass play that Farwell scored, they rolled out most of their yardage on the ground. The Steers amassed a (Continued On Last Page)

THE STAR'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

The Election

As is the case before every election, this newspaper wishes this week to express its opinions concerning the worthiness of candidates who will appear on the general election ballot Texas voters will face next Tuesday. In addition, there are other matters, including the state constitutional amendments, upon which we would like to comment.

To begin with, it is a foregone conclusion that the Democratic nominees for county and state offices, and for national congressional offices, will be elected in this predominantly-Democratic state. W. Lee O'Daniel, who won't take no for an answer and is asking for a write-in vote, won't get anywhere.

And all state and congressional Democratic nominees, save one, are acceptable to us, and will receive our vote. The single exception is John White for commissioner of agriculture. His philosophy of the relationship of government and farming are exactly opposite ours (which you will discover a little later in this editorial).

On the national scene, we are choosing Dwight Eisenhower and Richard Nixon over Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver. This choice has not been an easy one, and we have studied for this decision many weeks. Before we give our reasons, let us first say that we are one of those "screwballs," as Harry Truman once put it, who believe in putting principle above party, and in voting for the man whom we think will do the country the most good. We offer no apologies for voting a split ticket. It is an American's privilege.

If we had to choose a party label, we suppose it would be "Conservative Democrat." Our uneasiness in this respect is the result of the knowledge that technically, at least, there isn't any such animal. But in fact, the two major political parties of the United States have come to be so much alike that clear-cut choices between one type of government over another are virtually nonexistent, and the only alternative left for people of our thinking is to sub-divide within the party. Allan Shivers, Texas' greatest governor, is again publicly supporting the Republican presidential nominee, and for good reasons. There are thousands of men and women in Texas who find themselves in the same peculiar circumstance. We have not left the Democratic Party. The Democratic Party has left us.

We want to re-emphasize that the choice between the party nominees at the top of the ladder is not a clear-cut one. Both party platforms embrace what may be termed a "liberal" attitude concerning government. The difference is in degree, not direction.

In fewer than 200 years, America has veered disturbingly from the principles upon which this country was founded, and upon which this nation has risen to be the greatest in the history of man. In fewer than 200 years, freedom of the individual has been halved and government control has been multiplied ten-fold by the dreamers, who though well intentioned, would return us to the rut of stagnant, European-born socialism. The trend has been gradual, but it has been steady. If it is not soon reversed by men and women who choose opportunity above "security", then we will have already passed through our golden age and a decline in prestige and prosperity for our great America will set in. Collapse from within would be a greater calamity than collapse from without.

We were impressed last week with a statement examined by a county woman's club: "Freedom is never secure—security is never free." This brings to mind the present over-emphasis of "security" in national affairs. The great planners never remind the voters that the ultimate in "security" would be the man in prison, who never has to worry about shelter, food, or clothing. A little bit of "security," guaranteed by a benevolent government, ultimately leads to something akin to this illustration. The more we expect Uncle Sam to protect us from the realities of life, the more freedom he robs us of. A choice has to be made, and we know where we stand.

Here, in a nutshell, are the reasons we find it impossible to endorse the Democratic national ticket this year, based on the party's aims as outlined in its platform:

They want to extend social security coverage and liberalized benefits. It is impossible to broaden the program without broadening the taxes that support it. The program already provides for a tax of over 6 percent of everyone's income within a few years. Can we stand more?

The Democrats want to operate the post office as a "public service", without regard for whatever losses may be incurred as a result. Wouldn't a realistic rate schedule that would put the department on a paying basis be more sensible? After all, losses here have to be made up from general tax funds, and the effect is that many persons are taxed for the benefit of a few who use the mails to an advantage.

The Democrats want to increase the minimum wage to $1.25 per hour, and expand coverage of this regulation. Any increase in the minimum wage base always results in general wage increases because skilled laborers always expect a "spread" between their pay and the pay of unskilled or untrained workers under them. And an arbitrary forcing upward of wages has as its ultimate result another senseless spiral of higher wages-higher prices, higher wages-higher prices. Before the last steel strike, our dollar was worth only about 52 cents. It is worth less than that now, and this trend must be stopped.

Removal of exemptions from the minimum wage would sooner or later come to non-industrialized areas such as ours, and while skilled workers are worth more than that in this area, farm laborers, for example, often can't be paid that much. How would you, as a farmer, like to be told that the LEAST you could pay a cotton chopper would be $1.25 an hour?

Also on the labor front, our national Democrats ask for outright repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor laws, the only protection which the nation now has against the selfish interests of the now combined AF of L-CIO monopolies.

The Sherman Anti-Trust Law is comparable to the Taft-Hartley Law in that it seeks to harness the tremendous power that large groups of workers—or management—have when they gang up on the consumers.

Another serious point here is that the Democrats, if elected, promise to repeal state "right to work" laws—a subject which hits very near home around here. Did you know that Texas is one of only a few states today which has a law that says a man doesn't have to join a labor union if the place where he wants to go to work is organized?

Both parties recommend tax cuts, but the national Dems are too careless with their promises. How can they increase the personal exemption from $600 to $800 without putting the national budget back into the red with deficit spending? We believe that the time to reduce taxes will be when the national debt is in hand and our children and grandchildren are not saddled with an obligation that is now over $1600 for every man, woman, and child.

Instead of getting government out of business, the Democrats at the top of the ladder are endorsing more federal power projects, such as the one on the Tennessee River, which provides low-cost power to a small area of the nation at the expense of the taxpayers who do not receive this generosity. The Hell's Canyon-Dam on the Snake River was whipped in congress last year, but it, and others like it, would become reality under the guidance of top men like Stevenson.

Stevenson's ignorance of national preparedness for these uneasy times is phenomenal. We cannot give up atomic research, nor can we eliminate the draft. Yes, we would be grateful if a way could be found to stop the testing of atomic devices if it could be stopped in ALL the world, but as a matter of practicality, it can't be done. Consequently, our responsibility is to keep ahead—or at least up—with nations which might destroy us if they had the chance. The same thing goes for the draft. Nobody wants it, but what else will replace it in perilous times?

Now to the subject of agriculture—a sensitive topic in an area such as ours.

Admittedly, the farms are out of balance with the nation in an economic sense. However, it might be well to consider for a moment what brought about this unfortunate situation in which we see the man on the farm producing more than his neighbors need to eat and clothe themselves.

A truly free economy offers a competitive climate that is a harsh teacher. Since the great depression of the 1930's, the farmer has understandably sought protection from ruinously low prices. He has fallen natural victim to the planners who believe that the law of supply and demand can be repealed.

It was easy to endorse production incentives during a time of war, and the high prices and great demand caused by World War II created a "seller's market" for farmers. Their comparative prosperity in years following that conflict were a direct result of wartime conditions.

After the emergency has subsided, incentives (in the form of high price supports) were retained. The political advantage of this action was obvious, but it has had disastrous economic repercussions. The law of supply and demand cannot be long violated. It caught up with farmers and depressed markets to below-support levels. As a consequence, large amounts of the national farm product have gone into government warehouses instead of marketing channels, and the farmer has discovered that Uncle Sam is in reality a poor customer.

This newspaper endorses the principle of price supports for the protection of the farmer from disastrous declines in the market. Until such time as protection in the form of subsidies, tariffs, and other concessions are ended to other parts of the economy, it stands to reason that farmers are going to need at least this much help. However, when price supports approach the point where farming is "guaranteed" profitable, the demand for production receives an artificial stimuli that has results by now all too familiar. Farming then becomes an investor's market, and farmers suddenly find themselves competing with doctors, lawyers, and financial plungers out to make some money with their spare cash.

The soil bank should never have been necessary, but something of the kind will have to be undertaken to turn the farming picture upright once again. The time is past due for the "cure" to be administered, and the medicine of the soil bank is bitter indeed. This program, though its necessity may be argued, will result in further dislocations. Already we have heard of many instances where non-farmers are buying land from dryland owners who are throwing in the towel. These buyers are having the land paid for by the government program!

If a man catches a cold, he does not cure it by additional exposure. He curtails his activity and takes some mean-tasting medicine. That is what is happening to the nation's agriculture.

The hopeful thing about this is that agriculture does not HAVE to depend on government for its destiny. The most prosperous, most satisfied farmers in the country today are the ones who have the least government control. Farmers are going to have to help create markets for the things they produce. They are finding out that it is not practical to expect the government to do the selling job for them.

By aggressive merchandising and market development, by intensive research for new uses and more efficient means of production, farmers can assure themselves of a prosperous future. This action should be taken through commodity groups or farm organizations: government won't do it.

Now to the amendments:

No. 1—FOR. We believe anyone imprisoned though innocent is entitled to compensation upon his release and pardon.

No. 2—FOR. Would lift a needless restriction upon the authority of the commissioners' court to transfer money from one fund to another. Flexibility of local government would be improved.

No. 3—AGAINST. The permanent education funds of the state should not be speculated with. Their investment in "gilt-edge" securities provides a modest—but safe—return. Adoption of this amendment might lead to careless investments.

No. 4—FOR. Improves teacher retirement benefits.

No. 5—AGAINST. We've already learned our lesson with the veterans' land program.

No. 6—FOR. Puts more emphasis on a man's pledge of good conduct in public office.

No. 7—AGAINST. Although it is often embarrassing to family members for a person of unsound mind to have to be committed to an institution by a jury in Texas, this practice assures that men and women can never be "put away" by unscrupulous persons.

No. 8—FOR. If a man has been convicted of two felonies, it is about time society put a stop to his running around. This amendment would let the district judge deny bail in cases he thought this necessary.

City Still Hopes For November Move

City officials this week still indicate that they hope to be able to occupy the new city hall by the end of this month.

Plastering on the inside is expected to be completed this week, and finishing work will get underway. Nearly all the equipment which will go into the new building is on order and is expected to be ready for the switch.

No more snags have interrupted construction activity in the past few weeks. At one point late in the summer, work was stopped because of a shortage of brick.

"Trick or Treat" Gets New Twist

In an attempt to encourage school-age boys and girls into more wholesome recreation for Halloween evening, Friona's student-faculty congress this week sponsored a "trick or treat" campaign with an unusual twist.

The entire school was encouraged to participate in a contest to see which class could bring in the largest amount of candy, nuts, and gum from a house-to-house canvass Wednesday night.

The booty will go to some charity yet to be named at the school. Raymond Cook, principal, this week said that the project, which has been tried as recently as last year in Friona, was helpful in reducing vandalism and "impractical" jokes.

B Boys Shut Out Farwell

Reversing an early-season defeat of 13-7 at the hands of the Farwell B squad, the Friona B boys shut out the blue and white reserves 33-0 here Thursday evening.

It was an almost "perfect" game for the local squad, with Coaches Roy Simmons and Dempsey Watkins emptying the bench. Jim Roy Clements, left half, made three touchdowns to lead scoring for the evening.

Owen Houston, fullback, scored once; Ronny Woods, quarterback, scored once; and Teddy White, Jackie Sheek, and Houston all carried over point-after.

"It was our best game of the year," commented Simmons after the fray.

This may end the season for the B team, although there is still a chance that another game with Muleshoe may be booked.

Quarterback Club Needs 40 Members

The initial project of the newly organized Friona Quarterback Club is now in full swing, but operating at a deficit, Hollis Horton said this week. Organized a month ago, the club immediately launched a plan to show the remaining games of the Friona Chiefs on film. Five games have now been shown to both club members and the general public.

At the beginning, a goal of 100 members was set, dues being $5 per member. At the present time, 40 members are needed in order that the club be able to meet financial obligations. Cost for processing each game is from $30 to $32 while original expense involved $176 for a camera lens.

The showing of these films is doubly beneficial inasmuch as it enables the football team to examine, in detail, each game after it has been played and is available for enjoyment of the public.

Meeting time is 8 o'clock on Tuesday nights and the films are viewed in room five of the high school. Persons interested in the ball team are urged to attend and the general public is invited. Membership in the club involves no obligation to attend meetings.

In charge of arrangements for the films are Horton, H. K. Kendrick, Leonard Coffey, and J. C. Claborn.

Mrs. Taylor Hostess To Northside Club

Refreshments of pecan pie, ice cream, and cold drinks were served by the hostess to two guests, Jimmie Lou Wainscott and Lucille Rockey, and the following members: Faye McMahan, Drucilla Paul, Gladys Wright, Nellie Ray, Lorena Johnson, Lucy Faye Cavanaugh, Thelma Ruth Shelton, Olive Massie, Johnny Stokes, and Lauretta Brookfield.

Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Mary Tatum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Tatum of Black, and Jerry Houlette, son of Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Houlette of Friona, at the First Baptist Church in Clovis Saturday afternoon.

Rev. Walter A. Mitchell, pastor, read the double ring ceremony as the couple and their attendants stood before an altar arranged with pink gladioli and carnations. Traditional wedding music was played by H. V. Rockey at the piano.

The bride's attendants were Judy Barnett of Black and Duveen Dillingham of Albany, cousin of the bride. They wore blue suits with black accessories and corsages of pink and white carnations. Wayne Houlette, brother of the groom, was best man.

The bride wore an off-white wool dress and black accessories. Her corsage was of pink and white rosebuds. She wore earrings which her great, great, great grandmother had worn, and carried a white Bible.

Mrs. Tatum, mother of the bride, wore a brown dress, green accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The groom's mother, Mrs. Houlette, wore a black dress, black accessories and a white carnation corsage. A reception was held in the church immediately following the ceremony. Wedding cake and punch were served by Mrs. Alton Pruitt, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Dick Shelton, aunt of the bride. Mrs. Frank Dillingham, another aunt of the bride, registered the guests.

Friona Ex-Students Meet December 29

Ex-students of Friona High School will get together once again and renew old acquaintances on Saturday, December 29, announces Loyde Brewer, this week. He is president of the Friona Ex-Student Association.

This will be the fourth annual meeting since revival of the group, and officials of the Association are looking for a successful reunion, says the president.

Last year, 130 exes were on hand, including some who came from hundreds of miles away.

This year, registration is to begin at 4 o'clock in the school cafeteria, and a refreshment and visiting period will last until 7. A program and business session will close out the annual affair.

Officers of the organization met Sunday at the Methodist Annex and mapped out this year's activities. Named to head entertainment this year is Forrest Osborn. Mrs. Ralph Wilson will be in charge of the reception, and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Crow are to oversee the food details. Wana Brewer has charge of decorations.

Other officers include Clyde Goodwine, vice-president; and Mrs. Keith Blackburn, secretary-treasurer, and all have joined in urging that names of ex-students and teachers be submitted in order that everyone may be invited.

One twentieth of the world's population lives south of the equator.

The Legion Hall was filled to capacity at the pack meeting Thursday evening. Members of Den VII opened the meeting with the flag ceremony. This den also led the pledge to the flag. Truitt Johnson led the entire group in singing "America."

Den VI presented a stunt skit with hand made puppets and sang several songs under the direction of Decima Beene.

Maurice Teague of Amarillo and Mrs. Deon Awtry of Friona presented Bobcat pins to Bob Sims, Jay Beene, Darrell Schwab, Terry Fite, and Larry Buckley. They also presented Wolf badges to Larry Johnson, Chuck McKinney, Duane Reed, and Johnny Mabry.

Billy Edelman was presented a Lion badge with a gold arrow and eight silver arrows under it by Coy Patton. Maurice Teague then led all the cubs in the grand howl.

Den IV presented a skit dramatizing Cub Scouting with puppets in the likeness of a television program. Teague urged all voters to go to the polls in his closing talk.

Methodists Receive Bids Next Week

To receive bids on a new expansion program estimated to cost somewhere around $72,000 will be the Friona Methodist Church when its official board meets Wednesday of next week.

This is another in the steps toward expansion of the physical plant which began this spring.

Rev. Hugh Blaylock, pastor, says that plans and specifications for the new building were completed and sent to prospective bidders some time ago and that the church is expecting eight or more bids from contractors.

The church has already received approval on a $40,000 loan from the pension and endowment fund of the North Texas Conference of Methodist Churches, and will have to raise the balance of the program.

About $12,000 in cash is on hand, and additional pledges push this figure to around $17,000, says Rev. Blaylock.

Butler and Kimmell are architects. Jim Shaffer is chairman of the finance committee.

"No campaign has been staged yet to get funds for the program," says Rev. Blaylock, but he added, "We plan to make an every member canvass in the middle of November."

TO GIVE PTA PROGRAM

The Lazbuddie 4-H senior club met Tuesday, Oct. 23 with Miss Wainscott. She showed a film on "Care of Clothes." The boys and girls 4-H clubs are to be in charge of the P.T.A. program on Nov. 5. Beverly Smith and Janice Darling are to give a team demonstration on "Streamlining the Medicine Cabinet." Those attending this meeting were Beverly Smith, Katherine Smith, Janice Darling, Sharon Thorn and Miss Wainscott.

CUB SCOUT NOTES

Den IV met Monday afternoon in the Allen Stewart home. Plans were completed for the "Get Out the Vote" campaign. Several games were played, then refreshments of candy and pops were served to the two den mothers, Mrs. Leo Reed and Mrs. Allen Stewart, and the following Cubs: Ronnie and Duane Reed, Roscoe Parr Jr., Jimmy Snead, Billy Edelman, Robert Stewart, George Grant, and Charles Fields, also the den chief, Johnny Miller.

Shakespeare, according to estimates, never made a continuous journey as far as a round trip from Boston to New York.

Merry Christmas

To All the People of Parmer County

PROJECT CHRISTMAS CARDS

We, the following people, realize that the sending of Christmas cards to our friends who reside in Friona and Parmer County has become a commercialization of the true Christmas Spirit, and though we appreciate and enjoy every card we receive, we think the following plan would be a real Christmas Greeting to every single person in Friona and Parmer County and would bring back some of the true meaning of our Christmas Season. We agree to the following plan:

We agree that we will deposit the money we normally would spend for stamps and Christmas cards (sent locally) in an account that will be provided at the local bank. We wish to allocate this money to be used for equipment for the new building of the Parmer County Community Hospital. Near Christmas, there will appear in the Friona Star a special greetings and a list of all the people who have signed this pledge, or who make a deposit in the special account provided.

The new Humble service station on Highway 60 in western Friona now being built should be completed by December 1, according to Raymond Fleming, contractor. Humble officials were in Friona last week making preparations for their opening, although they say that no operator has been named as yet.

THE WHITEWAY—Friona can well be proud of its excellently lighted Highway 60 through town. This night-time view was taken without any light except that provided by the street lights themselves, demonstrating the brilliance of the recently completed system. This is a view looking west.

Board Meets Monday, Will Study Building

Friona school board will meet Monday night, November 5, in the first of what may be a long series of meetings to look into the needs of the school in the way of providing adequate buildings for its future.

In recent years, enrollment at the local system has increased greatly, and overcrowded conditions exist in all four main buildings in which instruction is being held.

Superintendent Dillie Kelley has prepared statistics showing the school's present enrollment, and what it is expected to be in the next few years.

These figures have been used by the official in several talks he has given in the community in recent weeks.

200 Members Goal Of American Legion

A membership of 200 will be the goal of the Friona American Legion Post in their drive, which will start next week.

Russell Massey, commander, says that the membership now is 127.

The Legion will meet Monday night at 7:30 to plan the membership drive, in addition to taking care of other business. Leo Reed is chairman of the membership effort.

Another project that the Legionnaires have on tap, according to Massey, is the tearing down of the half-dugout behind the Hall, which up until now has served as a meeting place for the Friona Boy Scouts.

The old structure, with no windows or doors, is "about to fall in," says Commander Massey, and it will be wrecked and the excavation filled in. The Boy Scouts will likely meet in the Legion Hall, he says.

Wrecking of the building is expected to take place next week.

The Legion will sponsor a get-out-the vote effort Tuesday. Anyone needing a ride to the polls is asked to call Massey at 3931 or of his time in front of a demonstrator television set, doesn't mind a short interruption for a regular haircut by Hop or Jack Anderson across the street, but when they turn on their clippers for one of those lengthy flat-tops, the static almost runs him crazy.

Like other towns, Friona has had some growing pains. Some of the more severe ones were encountered in the widening of Highway 60 through town to four lanes.

It was pretty tough getting the 100-foot right-of-way insisted upon by the highway department. However, as in most cases, we can always look around and see others who are having tougher times than ourselves. Consider the towns on Highway 66 and 80 in West Texas that are having to cough up 300 feet of ROW. If the city had to provide another 200 feet in Friona, think of the headaches that would have brought.

Looks Like Adlai In Parmer County

questioned seemed to have his mind made up. Fence-jumping at this late date is not expected.

Both Friona and Bovina handed the Republican nominees sweeping defeats in the pre-election straw poll, but Farwell cast a majority of votes for Eisenhower. This oddity is hard to account for, but it is something that pops up frequently in this county.

In the primary, for example, Friona went moderately in favor of Daniel, Farwell went heavily in his favor, and Bovina swung to Yarborough. Parmer County has a political makeup that is unpredictable.

Here's the way Parmer County voters have expressed themselves. They are listed by occupations:

| In 1952, the last presidential election, Parmer County polled about 2200 votes. Of that number, 1501 went to Eisenhower and Nixon. The Stevenson - Sparkman ticket collected 663 votes in Parmer County. Thus, only one term ago, Parmer County went 2-to-1 for the Republican nominee. This year, the straws in the wind indicate a reversal of this trend. |           |  |

net rushing yardage of 168 yards and 11 first downs. Their 64 yards passing gave them a total offensive gain of 250 yards.

Fullback Tommy Lovelace was the big gun for the Steers, powering his way to 117 yards in 22 carries, to roll up more rushing yardage than the entire Friona backfield. The Chiefs garnered 98 yards on the ground, plus 70 via the air lanes, for a total offensive gain of 168 yards.

Larry Fairchild was the big offensive thrust for the Chiefs, as he accumulated half of his team's rushing yardage. Charles Hough was the man on the throwing end of Friona's pass completions.

Farwell took the opening kickoff, and being unable to move the ball, was forced to punt. Friona took over, and they too failed to move downfield. That was the way the game went during the initial period, except for one time when Friona recovered a Steer fumble on the Farwell 21. The Chiefs moved to a first down on the 10, but were finally stopped on downs at the 2.

The Steers started to move the ball in the second quarter, but fumbles in the backfield and miscues on the part of pass receivers halted each drive until the touchdown pass late in the quarter.

In the second half, both teams had drives underway, only to have them halted by fumbles and top-notch defensive play. Weldon Fairchild returned a Farwell punt to the Steer 10 yard line midway through the third period, but the Chiefs were held to a minus one yard for four downs from that point.

Late in the same period the Chiefs recovered a fumble on the Steer 20. Once again, though, the Steer forward wall stopped the Chiefs on four downs, this time with a minus two yards.

In the fourth period, Friona almost broke the ice with Quarterback Hough hitting Joe McLellan with an aerial good for 45 yards. McLellan, in the clear, lost his balance just after crossing the midfield stripe, with David Willard, Steer secondary man, about to overtake him.

Farwell stopped that drive by taking over on downs on the 30. The Blue and White then moved the ball to the 45, but lost it to the Chiefs on a fumble.

In the waning minutes of the game, Friona started to threaten by turning to the air. Two passes were good for 20 yards, then a 15 yard penalty against the Steers for holding, moved the ball into Farwell territory. The Steers then broke up several of their pass plays and took over on the 39.

The Steers were moving the ball at midfield as the game ended.

With June

This is our favorite season of the year. We love the crisp, cool mornings and evenings very much. The sunshine in the middle of the days couldn't be lovelier. We also like the effect the cooler weather has on the dispositions of the people we meet each day.

The list of things we like about it would be too lengthy to print; however, there is one thing which we do not like. That is the trashy appearance our town presents every time the wind blows. Any time the wind begins to blow, boxes, papers and other flying debris can be seen in any direction.

There must be something we could do to eliminate part of it. Of course, we have trash barrels and a trash truck. That doesn't take care of the trash which never gets in the barrels or gets in them, then out.

Maybe the barrels should have lids. Maybe each person responsible for carrying out trash should be familiar with the hours when it will be picked up. Really we don't have an ideal solution to the problem. If any of you readers have a suggestion, let us know and we will make an effort to get someone interested in it.

This we do know. Something should be done about it.

Last week we observed an incident that made us feel more strongly than ever that the people in and around Friona are the most wonderful people in the world. There is at least one person near Phoenix, Arizona, who shares our opinion we feel sure.

Several days ago a man with his wife and three children came to Friona in search of work. The only acquaintances they had here were friends who were struggling to make ends meet and unable to assist them.

The man left his wife and children penniless with the acquaintances while he went out to look for a job. He didn't get a job nor did he return for his family. When the 19-year-old mother of a daughter 4, who was a spastic; a daughter 3, and a 10-month-old baby boy, realized she had been deserted with no clothes, no money, and no one to whom she could turn for help, she was almost desperate.

In her desperation, she thought only of keeping the children with her and earning enough money for fare to Phoenix. She asked Noyle Wood for a job pulling cotton. Wood, who thought it would be impossible for her to pull cotton, didn't give her a job, but did offer to help her. After consulting his wife, Louise, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Wood, the mother and children were brought to the Wood home in Friona. Mrs. C. M. Fields, community missions chairman of the WMU of the First Baptist Church, was contacted and some clothing, which was suitable for members of the family, was secured.

Other articles were bought by the Wood family and the mother was very grateful for clean clothing and baths for herself and the children. After spending the night with Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Wood, the woman and children were brought to the Bi-Wize Drug store to catch the first west-bound bus.

While Noyle Wood was buying the bus tickets, his mother and daddy purchased some medicine which was needed by the children. T. E. Wood also gave the woman enough money for food for herself and the children. As the bus left, the Woods waved good-bye to the family.

Even though Friona will probably always recall to the woman a very trying experience, she will surely always remember the Woods with a great deal of gratefulness.

If anyone needs a ride to the polls Tuesday, just call Mrs. D. C. Herring at 2552. Members of the Progressive Study Club are sponsoring a "ride to the polls" as a community service project.

Don't fail to vote Tuesday.

It is possible to seat five people at a table in 120 different combinations.

Floyd Gives Report On FFA Convention

(Gerald Floyd and James Hamilton, two students at Friona High School, recently returned from the national FFA convention in Kansas City, Missouri. While there, they represented the local chapter. This account of their trip was written by Floyd.)

We left Amarillo at 5:30 p.m. Sunday, October 14, aboard a Santa Fe Chief for our trip to Kansas City, Mo. We traveled all night through parts of Oklahoma, Kansas, Texas and Missouri and arrived in Kansas City at 4:10 Monday morning.

Leaving the depot at about 7:30, we went to the Alladin Hotel where we thought we had reservations for the week. Here we found our rooms already occupied; so we were sent to the St. Francis Hotel in the northeast part of town. There was not room enough for our entire delegation here either; so some of us were sent across the street to The Chase where we stayed the remainder of the week.

We wanted to stay in the Alladin because of its nearness to the convention hall, which was the municipal auditorium.

At 8:30 a.m. we registered in the foyer of the auditorium and received a schedule of the week's events. We got tickets for one of the conducted tours at this time and at 1 p. m. went on a tour of the Swift and Company packing house and the stockyards. That night we enjoyed a national public speaking contest at the convention hall.

Tuesday's program started with the opening session at 9 a. m. The National FFA Band played at this meeting and H. Roe Bartle, mayor of Kansas City, spoke.

We also heard reports by the secretary and treasurer at this session and at 2 p. m. we met for another confab. At Tuesday afternoon's meet, the National FFA Chapter award, the honorary American Farmer degrees and the American Farmer degrees were given to deserving boys from all over the United States.

The convention's third session was held at 7:30 that evening when the state flags were presented and the Star American Farmer's awards were made.

To top the evening off, the people of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. treated us with some real entertainment. All the performers were nationally known celebrities.

Wednesday morning we went to the fourth session where we were greeted by the past national officers. We then saw a pageant of the early Southwest which was presented by the associations of Texas, Kansas, New Mexico and Arizona.

WSCS Plans
Prayer Week

At 1 p. m. we went on a tour of the Allis Chalmers plant and the Ford assembly plant. That night we enjoyed an amateur hour. On Thursday morning we heard committee reports, a report on the FFA supply service and a report on the National FFA magazine.

The final session got underway at 1:30 Thursday when we elected officers, heard greetings from the incoming officers, watched the installation of the new officers and the presentation of pins, certificates and other awards.

At 11:40 Thursday night we boarded the coach we had ridden to Kansas City on, and headed for Texas. We traveled all night again and then arrived safely back in Amarillo at 9:30 Friday.

We would like to thank the Friona State Bank who so generously gave us $50, which enabled us to go. We would also like to thank the Friona Chapter of Future Farmers which provided the other $50 which made it possible for us to attend. Thanks also to Cotton John Smith of KGNC-TV who gave us publicity and made the trip with us. All the boys enjoyed his presence immensely.

Ocean waves have been known to go as high as 80 feet.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met in the Methodist Annex Tuesday, October 23, at 2:30 p.m. Mrs. Ora Mae Anthony, president, presided. The opening prayer was led by Mrs. Jessie Gore. Mrs. Hugh Blaylock announced plans for the Week of Prayer and Self-Denial.

The lesson was on the study of "Paul's Letters to Local Churches." Mrs. J. G. McFarland taught the lesson. She was assisted by Mrs. U. S. Akens and Mrs. Earnest Osborn. Mrs. Ova Outland sang "The Holy Spirit", accompanied by Mrs. Dorothy Hough at the piano. The group was dismissed with prayer by Mrs. Jessie Gore.

Those present were Mesdames Ora Mae Anthony, Dorothy Hough, Ova Outland, Myrtle Crow, Eula Akens, Verda Osborn, Lucy Vestal, Lucy Faye Cocanougher, Pearl Shelton, Dorothy Ellis, Lucille Latta, Irene McFarland, Willard Stewart, and Louise Roberson; Also, Evelyn Anthony, Blanche Boyle, Corinne Shaffer, Valoris Osborn, Mary Lee Cass, Jessie Gore, Gwen Graves, Elsie Blaylock, Fern White, Doris Sides, Thelma Ford, and Thelma Watkins.

* "Yes...

I Picked It Up in the City"

* a useful phrase for impressing neighbors with the way we get around

but it comes high

FOR some strange reason, a lot of us are inclined to take more pride in some article that we have bought in a Big City Store than we do in an identical item bought at home.

PERHAPS a shirt or a hat, for example, bought in the City, becomes a sort of souvenir of our travels — a reminder of a pleasant break in the routine of life — instead of just another garment.

QUESTION IS . . . how high can we pay to indulge this little human quirk?

A DOLLAR SPENT away from home is a dollar less business in our community. Hundreds of thousands of these dollars ARE being spent that way every year by folks who live here. THAT MUCH MORE MONEY circulated in our community would supercharge its vitality.

CAN WE AFFORD to pass up the extra values that home-spent dollars give us in better schools, more jobs for more people, more prosperous businesses able to do a better job of serving our urgent daily needs?

ISN'T THE PRICE TOO HIGH . . . this whittling away at our own community's economic life . . . isn't this too much to pay for a few relics of our travels to the City?

It Pays to Buy where You Live

Friona firms are the only business establishments in the world who are genuinely interested in the future of this community where you make YOUR living.

"COMPLETE BUILDING SERVICE"

E. T. JENNINGS, Owner

Hospital Building Brings over $5000

Sale of building and fixtures of the old Parmer County Community Hospital at auction last week brought over $5000, announces Jim Baxter, hospital manager.

The building brought $3725 and was sold in eight sections to different bidders. The equipment was sold piece-by-piece and brought over $1500.

The auction was handled by Big State Auction Associates of Amarillo.

Baxter said the hospital management was "well pleased" with the bidding, and also the turnout, which numbered around 100 persons. The building is to be removed from the present site within 30 days.

Aside from tearing down the foundation and clearing the wreckage, the hospital board has no immediate plans for the land on which the old building now sits, says Baxter.

Friona Boy Elected to FFA

Ronald Dodson, son of Mrs. J. V. Fulks of Friona, is a "green hand" at America's First Boys Ranch near old Tascosa. This is what the boys call the new members in their FFA Chapter. Ronald is one of the 15 boys elected to the chapter this year.

These young Americans are particularly interested in the stock at the ranch. Every boy is allowed to choose a sow, lamb, calf, or pig to raise and care for as a project. Records are kept and each boy earns a percentage of the profit.

In connection with their regular school work, the FFA boys are taught to repair farm equipment and to do other jobs which will be helpful to them if they decide to follow farming and ranching after they finish school.

A few shrubs may be moved to the new hospital, but most will have to be left behind on account of their size. The laundry and garage, which were not sold, will be moved to the new location for storage this week.

Friona Woman's Club Program Features Texas

Interesting things about Texas were featured at the Friona Woman's Club meeting at the club house Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. C. W. Dixon, president, presided. There were 25 members and one guest, Mrs. Karl Mog of Columbus, Ohio, present.

Roll call was answered by each person present giving a point of interest about one of the Texas Caverns. The theme of the program was "Texas Under Six Flags." The quotation was "You can't have both freedom and security, for freedom is never secure, nor is security ever free."

Mrs. Dorothy Hough spoke on "The Birth of a Republic." "New Star in an Old Flag" was the topic of Mrs. G. E. Reed's discussion. Mrs. Fred White spoke on "Back to Old Glory," and Mrs. H. C. Kendrick used the title, "Stars and Bars."

Mrs. John Benger discussed a proposed amendment to the constitution, which will be voted on November 6.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. M. B. Buchanan and Mrs. V. R. Jordan.

It takes from 50 to 100 years to produce a tree large enough for lumber.

It was against the law to observe Christmas in the U. S. in 1659.

Progressive Study Club Meets Tuesday

The Progressive Study Club held its regular meeting at the club house Tuesday evening. The theme "Housework Can Be Fun" was used by those on the program. Mary Bavousett directed the program and Sue Procter gave the devotional.

"Perfect Housekeeping" was discussed by Lynn Roberts, and Mayme Lou Welch presented "The Housewife Bites Back." During the business meeting, Margie Herring presided in the absence of Bettye Jarboe, president. The minutes of the last meeting were read by Lynn Roberts.

Refreshments of coffee, cake and nuts were served by the hostesses, Lunell Horton and Layton Hughes, to the members present and two guests, Frances Fields and Margaret Duggins.

Some Farmers Hold Feed Grain Crop For Better Prices

This year's bountiful grain harvest has not—as yet—resulted in the tremendous rush to the elevators that the harvest of last year did. There are several reasons for this condition.

One is that the 1956 harvest has been more "spread out" than last year's, which didn't reach any more than a trickle until after a hard freeze. Another is that there is a considerable amount of grain staying on the farm this year.

Grain sorghum producers have seen their market show encouraging signs in recent weeks, and it appears to be getting stronger every day. Most area country points are now offering $1.90 or better—considerably above the loan level.

Since the continued drought has reduced ranges and feed supplies all over the Southwest to the most critical point in history, the irrigated High Plains of Texas is an "island" sitting in the midst of widespread need for feed and forage.

There is speculation that the grain market will top $2.00, but whether this will happen, naturally, awaits the hand of time. Meanwhile, transient trucks by the scores have invaded the area in the most unusual development in years.

The government emergency drought relief program has caused an unexpected outside demand for locally produced feedstuffs. With the government paying $1.50 per hundred on the cost of grain, and then paying for half of the freight in some cases, considerable milo is being trucked out to cattlemen in all directions who are buying the commodity for their foundation herds.

Some shipments are being delivered to the southern and central part of the state, some are going to the Oklahoma ranges, and some to Colorado. Other loads are heading west for points in New Mexico, Arizona, and even California. This year has seen more outside demand for the local feed than any other.

When turned loose to feed at will, a horse will eat himself to death, while a mule will eat only his fill.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

Your directors again wish to make public their standing invitation to you to attend their regular meetings. The next one is Monday night, November 5. The first Monday night of each month, about 8 o'clock, is the regular meeting night, in the Friona office.

Over ten million acres of wheatland have been placed in the soil bank for 1957, according to USDA reports. Although little Parmer County land was placed in the bank, the acreage reduction, nationally, will surely do much toward reducing the surplus, and possibly help the market for those who produce.

November 11 will find eight or ten of your members heading toward Houston to represent you in the 23rd annual Texas Farm Bureau Convention. If you can go, you will certainly be welcome, too.

The Texas Farm Bureau has asked Secretary of Agriculture Benson to permit farmers and ranchers to buy surplus feed grains from CCC at the same rates that now apply only to dealers.

"There is considerable dissatisfaction and disappointment among the farmers and ranchers regarding the administrative procedures for distributing drought relief feed grain," Hammond said in a telegram to Benson. He asked, among other things, that eligible farmers be permitted to use the certificates to buy feed grains from any source, not just certain dealers.

At present, eligible livestock producers must buy feed grain from dealers. They complain that this makes the price higher, thus nullifying some of the beneficial effects of the federal drought relief program.

The final date for signing conservation reserve contracts to begin in 1957 is March 15, 1957. This is with reference to the Soil Bank Plan. The farmer's net income is important to every industry and laborer. He buys 29 percent of all trucks; 9 percent of all passenger cars; 8 1/2 percent of all steel; 10-13 percent of all oil; 8 1/2 percent of all rubber; 5 percent of all electricity. Farmers spent $36 billion in 1955 to run farms and maintain homes. Don't sell the farmer short, whatever you do.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Do you know what soil conservation districts are and what we stand for?

We are people, working together in our communities and in our counties and in our watersheds to protect and improve this nation's most vital resources—soil and water.

We stand for local leadership in doing this job—a job that becomes more urgent every day.

As our population grows—at the rate of a quarter of a million people a month—and our cities and industries expand, we demand more from our land. And we're cutting into our good farm land for non-agricultural use at the rate of 1,000,000 acres a year. This land goes into urban developments, airports, highways, and other uses where it is lost for production of food or fiber.

Just because our land produces enough for our 170 million people in 1956 is no assurance it can provide abundantly for an expected 225 million or more by 1975 or in possible emergencies meanwhile—unless the farm land is kept in condition to produce what is needed, efficiently and economically. That means keeping our land permanently productive.

We can't afford to let our soil and water conservation "insurance" lapse. Combatting soil erosion and encouraging good land use is a job soil conservation districts can do well.

Why? Because from the very beginning, Americans have fought for a great principle—the principle that free men can govern themselves successfully. We believe in personal liberty and the dignity of the individual. We are determined that our families shall have the opportunity to live in peace and safety, without fear of compulsion.

Our government is founded on the principle that we—all of us together—have the spirit and the ability to decide for ourselves the actions we want to take together in our joint interests and common welfare. This is what we stand for.

This is a representative self-government—the best government and the best society that men and women have ever enjoyed on earth. This is the kind of government and society that offers the greatest advantages in personal liberty and the greatest opportunities for accomplishment.

This is the form, the spirit, and the practice of Soil Conservation Districts.

From—The What, Why and How of Soil Conservation Districts. Next week we will continue what SCD's are. We hope to inform you in this way of what your Parmer County SCD can mean to you, how it can help you get your job of soil and water conservation accomplished.

Well Drilling Drop Traced to Lubbock

MULESHOE—Irrigation well drilling in Parmer County has fallen off over 70 per cent since Lubbock announced its intentions to tap Bailey County sand hills to bolster its municipal supply. The Bi-State Water Commission this week cited reports of the High Plains Underground Water Commission that show 229 wells were completed in Parmer County during the period from April to August in 1955. This year the number dropped to 62 wells completed in the same period.

"This is more than a coincidence," a commission spokesman declared. "With farmers feeling continued effects of the prolonged drought, supplemental water supplies are becoming more and more necessary. But when one city proposes to take more than twice the annual amount used by all of the Bailey County irrigation farmers in one year, folks are beginning to think twice before investing in an irrigation well. A drawdown such as that proposed by Lubbock can have drastic consequences for irrigation farmers."

The Bi-State group is continuing to exert legal means to stop the construction of the pipeline designed to carry 70 million gallons of water a day out of Bailey and Lamb counties. "We can't afford to stand idly by. The protection of our underground water resources should be personal and imperative to everyone in this area," the spokesman said.

"Everyone has a stake in this fight. If Lubbock takes all the water it wants without any opposition, other cities will turn to the sand hills for future supplies. "And with billions of gallons of water being taken from this limited reservoir, water that it will take centuries to replace, this area is in danger of reverting to the status of dryland farming.

"The economic repercussions would be astounding and perhaps fatal to the future of Parmer, Bailey, Lamb and all other counties that depend on the Ogallala formation for water supplies. A decline of more than 200 well completions in one year indicates the seriousness of the situation. That is the reason our Bi-State group is doing everything possible to protect and conserve the irrigation water resources."

Freight Rate Cut For Emergency Hay

Walter T. McKay, state director, this week says the FHA can now execute certification forms in connection with reduced freight rates recently worked out between the president and railroad representatives to further assist farmers and stockmen in drought stricken areas.

This revised tariff provides for a reduction of 50 percent in the freight rate of hay forwarded to destination, and applies only in connection with hay purchases of individuals who are entitled to assistance under the hay and roughage program.

FHA is authorized to execute certificates in behalf of farmers and ranchers only, he said. Details of the program and forms required may be obtained from county offices.

October 1 Ginnings Much Greater Than 1956

Cotton ginnings up to October in Parmer County were much greater this year than last, statistics compiled by the U. S. Department of Commerce show.

This year, they were 3,556, compared with only seven at the same time in 1955. Ginnings this week in the county are estimated to be in the vicinity of 15,000 bales.

Tex Says He's No Expert But He Believes Ike Is

The other night a bunch of us were sitting around in the drug store after the football game, drinking coffee and talking. You know how it is after a game in a small town, especially after the home team loses. Nearly every man in the crowd had a theory as to why we didn't win the game. Most of them, of course, blamed the coach. I couldn't help remembering that before we consolidated the county schools we didn't even have enough boys to make up a football team. And these same football experts who were saying what Rockne or Bud Wilkinson would have done, up until a few years ago they didn't know a football from a watermelon.

But that's the way it is in a small town (and in big ones, too, I understand). I guess there's no real harm done, although sometimes it's pretty rough on the coach. I guess we have a right, in this free country, to be self-appointed experts in any line we want to pick out. It seems to me that most people choose either football or politics.

Take this presidential election coming up next Tuesday: During the last few weeks I have heard so many stories and theories from so many different political experts that I nearly get confused sometimes. I have to stop and think that the fellow who is talking probably doesn't know any more about it than I do, and that helps me keep straightened out.

In fact, I guess I have had my mind made up all along. To make no bones about it, I like Ike. He's a man you can always look up to and respect—the kind of man you'd be proud to point out to any person, from any country on the face of the globe, and say: "That's our President!"

About Adlai, now, I'm not so sure. Of course, if he was elected, he would be my President, too, and I would hope he'd do a lot better than most people around here seem to think he would. This is something I don't think we need to worry about, because from all I can hear and read, Ike is going to win it again.

It seems to me that if Adlai ever had a chance around here, he threw it away when he came out with that H-bomb business. Now, the folks in our town don't know much about H-bombs, except that they don't want any personal dealings with them. Our scientific knowledge of H-bombs is about on a par with our football knowledge, I reckon. But we do know one thing: We don't want fellow fooling around with our national defense. When it comes to trusting what Bulgainin says or what Eisenhower says, I'll take Ike. So will the rest of the country, if I don't miss my guess.

Just before we broke up the other night Doc Brown came into the drug store, and somebody asked him: "Hey, Doc, how's Ike doin'?" (Doc's a big Eisenhower man.) Doc said: "Well, it's a busy campaign for the medical profession. Last week Ike went and got his heart examined; and I understand that this week Adlai is going to get his head examined."

Yours truly,

"The Place Where Most People Trade" WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1956

We are sure the pioneer spirit still lives in America's young people, and we nominate the David Springs as an example. They drove from Alaska to Texas with three youngsters, age two, one, and two months, and enjoyed every day on the road.

John Lamb has been hopping around at work this week because he dropped a plow on his big toe and broke it.

We read this somewhere: If there is a stranger in your neighborhood today, better check on him, he may need a friend. If he is still a stranger tomorrow, better check on your neighborhood.

Plan to attend the Thespian play at the Friona auditorium, Saturday at eight p. m. "Superstitious Sadie" is a comedy and Miss Thaxton is the director.

Have you driven one of the 400 tractors? Call 2091 for a free demonstration. These are new tractors developed for new farming practices.

We thought, one day last week, we might have to move out of our house. There was a terrible odor at our back door. Our moths decided a big mouse or a tiny cat must have crawled into the walls between the house and garage. We endured it for a day or two and then we went out to sweep on the back porch and noticed a tiny toy coffee pot. When the lid was removed we had the mystery of the bad smell solved. That can was full of worms that had been dead too long. David was saving them for a fishing trip.

When you have trouble with your tractor, plow, binder, or irrigation motor, call the Parmer County Implement Company. If we don't have what you need, we will get it quick. We are as close as your phone.

Mr. Dub Gammon and his small daughter were in our store one day last week. Little Miss Gammon is just learning to talk English and Spanish, she hasn't made up her mind which one yet. She is about two years old.

An ingrate is a fellow who, starting to fall off a roof, prays like the dickens to be saved, and then when his pants catch on a nail, says, "Never mind, Lord, the nail did it."

Mr. Hardy May doesn't claim to be a gardener, but this year he has raised potatoes, turnips, carrots, and radishes. Mr. May has been harvesting his radishes this week with a one row machine that requires three men to operate. If all the rows of radishes he has were placed end to end they'd reach 250 miles. That's a lot of radishes!

If you are going to need a stalk shredder, call 2091 and we will be glad to bring a Servis Shredder out to your farm for a demonstration.

Twelve of Friona's high school girls were on Cotton John's television program Saturday. These girls call themselves the Trebelaires and their director is Mrs. Eva Miller. After their television appearance they sang at the Amarrillo U. S. O. The Trebelaires have been invited back to KGNC Television for a show by themselves and they plan to go sometime in February.

If you really want to please the woman you married, on her birthday you could give her something you had made yourself. For instance—money.

The Parmer County Implement Company is anti-freeze headquarters. We buy more anti-freeze so we can sell it for less. We have I. H., Zerex, and Prestone. Ask us about our price.

A man driving a wheezy jalopy was halted by a toll-bridge keeper who said, "Fifty Cents." The man jumped out of the car and said "sold." If you have a car you'd like "sold" bring it by and we will trade you a better one.

Mr. and Mrs. James Boyles left the first of the week for a vacation in the Northwest. They will visit with friends and relatives and plan to spend a while with their daughter, Julie, and her family in Oregon. They will be gone about a month.

The new Oldsmobile will be here on Nov. 9. We hope we can trade the pickup we have been driving for one of the beautiful new Oldsmobiles. We may have trouble, though, the boys are real fond of the old pickup and John Bill asked the other day why we couldn't have a new Oldsmobile pickup.

P. S.—We do have some of the world's finest pickups for sale—the new Internationals.

Our neighbors, the Hank Outlands, have moved to the country. They live in the house on the Seamount ranch, east of town. Mr. and Mrs. John Gaede will soon move into their house where the Outlands used to live.

Harvest time is a good time to replace those worn tires you've been worrying about. Why not trade them in on some Goodyear tires? More people ride on Goodyear tires than any other kind.

Nov. 6 is election day. Some nations levy a fine on all non-voters. Some nations have laws forcing one to vote. Keep America a democracy and exercise your voting privilege.

For better, quicker service and parts, call 2091 or 2201. Night phones are 5121 and 3051.

THE PARMER FARMER

Often it is good to see ourselves as others see us.

In a recent copy of the Wellington Leader, we ran across some comments by Deskins Wells, well-known editor of that publication. As most of us are aware, Wellington is "off the Cap," and has very little irrigation to depend on for its crops.

Deck points out—well, let him tell it:

On our trip to New Mexico we went over the scenic drive from Memphis to Silverton—a short trip from here that you should take if you have not been over it. From Silverton we went on down through Floydada to Lubbock. The crops were wonderful and the irrigation and water conservation methods were superb. There was no waste of water that we could see in this entire area. We came back by a more northerly route namely through Bovina, Dimmitt, Tulia and on to Silverton. The crops were good here too and they are raising a tremendous amount of corn this year. There is nothing to be said in praise of how they use and conserve their precious water. We passed by farm after farm where they had allowed the irrigation water to run out of their fields and fill the bar ditches brim full. On two farms we saw two fields where the maize was burning up and the bar ditches were full of water. This waste of water borders on criminal negligence.

Irrigation farmers should take care of their water. Otherwise they are liable to wake up some day and find out that the bureaucrats in Austin and Washington are telling them how and when to use it.

Combines remind of another harvest hazard that will take its toll, and that is the presence on our highways of old, improperly marked trucks and machines, or those which are in the hands of untrained operators.

The other morning we had to hit the ditch in a hurry to keep from running over a bob-tail truck pulling two cotton trailers. The driver pulled across the highway right in front of us, even though we were only a few hundred feet away and were driving at the maximum speed limit.

As we whizzed past, we murmured to ourselves how fortunate we were to avoid an accident, but could not help but notice that the driver of the truck was an aged Latin American laborer. Chances are he scarcely knew how to shift gears, let alone drive the truck correctly.

The farmer who turned such a weapon of destruction over to this untrained man was endangering public safety.

Information from the Department of Commerce indicates that cotton production in the United States will jump more than a million bales this year, compared with 1955. Almost half of that increase is expected to come from Texas.

Our state still doubles the production of any other state in upland cotton. We figure to gin 2,346,362 bales this year. Mississippi is looking for 1,260,318 bales. No other state is expected to top 1,000,000 bales, but Arkansas's will come close to that.

California's production, in case you're interested in "trend" states, will be about 200,000 bales, New Mexico's 120,000, and Arizona's 212,000. An amazing increase is expected in the latter two states. Last year, they ginned only 50,500, and 130,000, respectively.

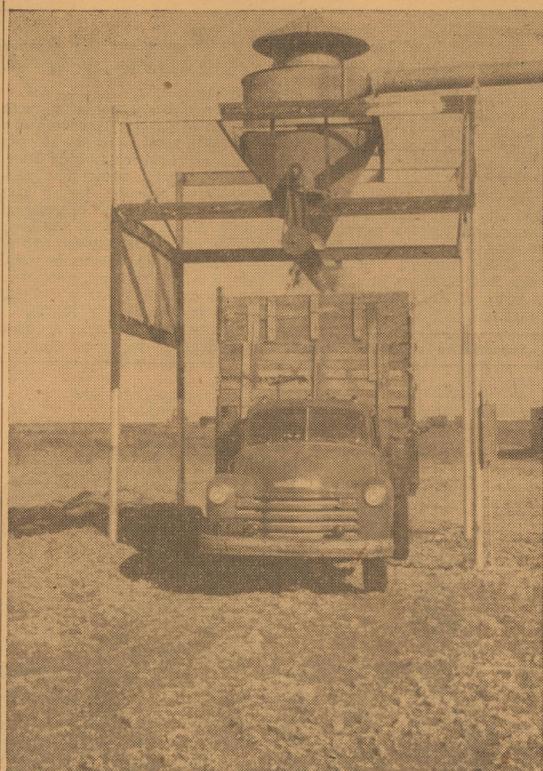

Tuesday is "it" day for the American farmer. There may have once been a time when the independent farmer of this country could sit back and watch the world go by without giving a tinker's dam what goes on in Washington, but that certainly isn't true today.

A farmer of today knows that his relationship with Uncle Sam often has more to do with how he fares than do the timeless elements of weather, insects, and disease.

We hope farmers have given a lot of thought to the issues of the day, and will be prepared to cast an intelligent ballot Tuesday.

Mexican jumping beans pump because of the larva of a moth which is inside.

Toboggan sleds were invented by American Indians.

NO LONGER WASTED—Pulled cotton goes through the front of gins, and often the burrs are burned as they emerge out the back after ginning. However, that practice is becoming less common, and a more familiar sight today is to see trucks lined up to receive the burrs like this one.

Lowly Cotton Burr Finally Has Future

The lowly cotton burr, a "waste product" of the cotton industry, is finally coming into its own. Like other industrial by-products, the burrs are being put to good use by the ingenuity of man.

Today, there are two principal demands for the burrs in the cotton producing regions of the High Plains. Both of them are fairly new in origin.

The cattle feeder and the farmer are now competitors of a sort for this once valueless by-product. The cattleman has found in recent years that the hulls can be useful in feeding operations. Although their nutritional value is low, they make good filler, and when used in a carefully planned diet, can even be made palatable to cattle.

Another demand for the burrs is a "recalling" of them to the place where they originated: the farmers' land. Application of pulverized burrs to the field has produced some very interesting results, and as research in soil conditioning progresses, an increasing importance is being attached to the use of this cotton by-product.

Tests at the Lubbock Experiment Station provide some figures for Farmer County cotton growers to contemplate. Check plots were used for three years, with applications of burrs ranging from zero to six tons per acre.

In 1953, untreated land yielded

379 pounds of lint per acre. Two tons brought the yield up to 422 pounds, 421 pounds were obtained with four tons, and six tons resulted in a 453 pound yield.

The untreated land produced 449 pounds in 1954, while two tons made 537 pounds, four tons 490, and six tons 555. In 1955, yields were 645, 821, 1017, and 1143, respectively.

Averages for the three-year period: zero, 491; two tons, 593; four tons, 643; and six tons, 717. On this basis, the increase amounted to $12.30 per ton for the two-ton application, $8.62 for the four-ton, and $8.30 for the six-ton.

These figures were arrived at by estimating the burr cost at $3 a ton, and the cotton to be worth 30 cents.

Water applied in 1953 totaled 16 inches. In 1954 it was 18 inches, and in 1955 the amount was 30 inches.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

If your husband isn't pleased with the taste of the venison or elk meat you have prepared for his dinner, don't feel too badly about it. It just may be that the manner in which the hunter took care of the animal he killed has caused the meat to have an undesirable taste.

According to the experts the important thing is proper preparation of the meat for cooking. They advise skinning the animal carefully just as soon as possible after the killing. The animal should then have the entrails removed and be cooled overnight before cutting up.

Do you have difficulty making fudge that isn't too sugary? If so, here is a recipe you might want to try. It is really failure proof and takes less than ten minutes to make. Since cold weather is traditionally the candy making season, you may want to make some for the holiday season, which isn't too far away.

CHOCOLATE MINT FUDGE

Combine 2 tablespoons butter, 1 small can evaporated milk, 1 2/3 cups sugar and few grains of salt in heavy saucepan over medium heat. Bring to a boil, then cook five minutes, stirring constantly. (Start timing when mixture starts to bubble around the edges of the pan.)

Remove from heat. Stir in 16 diced marshmallows, 1 six-ounce package semi-sweet chocolate chips, 1/2 cup chopped nuts and 1/2 teaspoon peppermint extract. Stir vigorously for 1 minute or until marshmallows are completely melted and blended.

Pour into 9-inch square buttered dish and allow to cool. Cut into squares. Top each square with a colored mint wafer if you want to make the fudge extra festive.

Read somewhere a few days ago that there were only 49 more shopping days left until Christmas. If you haven't already started the hand made articles you plan to make for Christmas gifts, now is the time to get out your materials and get started. Getting started is really half the battle. Once you get something started, you will be so interested in getting it finished that it will be difficult to stop.

If your family is one of those that always calls for apple butter when the weather begins to get cooler, why don't you treat them to some that you have made yourself? Since this is the season of the year when fresh apples are plentiful and economical, you may want to use them.

If not, canned applesauce can be used. To each quart of apples (whether canned or freshly cooked) add 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 pint sugar, 1/4 teaspoon allspice and 1/4 teaspoon cloves. Mix well and boil until well cooked.

There is no better way of teaching your children anything than by setting them a good example. This applies to their food habits as well as to other things. Making a habit of drinking milk with them will be a much more effective way of helping them form the habit than pointing out all the good reasons why they should drink it.

A lot of fires which start each year in the homes of Americans could be quickly extinguished if every homemaker knew what to do when fires start. Ordinary baking soda will put out a fat fire in a skillet or broiler. It creates carbon dioxide gas which smothers the flame.

If you would like to have peonies next spring, now is the proper time to put them out.

Local Residents Attend Delta Kappa Gamma Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Dillie M. Kelley and Mrs. and Mrs. Kenneth Fields attended the annual dinner of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society at the Jim Hill Hotel in Hereford Saturday evening.

A brief business session was held. Then a girl's trio from Dimmitt entertained the group. E. A. Sanders, co-ordinator of public schools in Childress, spoke on the subject, "The Task That Is Before Us."

With reference to Amendment 4, which is to be voted upon on November 6, Sanders said, "The passage of the amendment allowing death and survivor benefits for teachers and their families will indirectly benefit parents and children as well. Increased retirement benefits comparable to those of industry and government positions will attract young people to the profession and induce those already in the profession to remain."

Mrs. Fields is a member of the area chapter.

Girl Scout Notes

Brownie Troop I entertained a newly organized troop with a Halloween party at the educational building of the First Baptist Church Monday afternoon. After a game session, refreshments of popcorn balls and orange pops were served. Favors were ghosts made on sucker sticks. Fourteen members of Troop I, 15, members of the guest troop, and three leaders, Valoris Osborn, Ruth Terry and Billie Long were present.

Brownie Troop X had a Halloween party at the First Baptist Church Monday afternoon. Janet Rushing was hostess and served hot chocolate and Halloween candy after the game session. The leaders, Edith Johnson, Mary Roberts, and Joyce Sanders, 14 Brownies, and two guests were present.

Girl Scout Troop VI invited all the members of the fifth grade to a hayride Monday afternoon. Ed Massie took the group to his farm north of town where they had a wiener roast and picnic. There were eight Scouts, 13 guests, and Mesdames D. C. Herring, Jim McLean, and Buster Elliott, and Mr. and Mrs. Meryle Massie, present.

The Senior Scouts planned to offer their services as baby sitters to any mother who desires to have a capable person sit with her children while she goes to the polls Tuesday afternoon after 4:30. Jolyanda Stokes, treasurer, has been authorized to write checks for the area chapter.

troop. Janet Snead and Jacquelyn Magness served pie and cold drinks to Mrs. Russell O'Brian, leader, and 11 scouts. The meeting was dismissed with the group making the magic circle.

Tax Payments Up Over '55

Friona citizens are being more punctual in paying their 1956 city taxes this year, records at the clerk's office indicate. Elda Hart, office secretary, notes that residents have already topped last year's mark at the end of October. As of Monday, $7,555.67 had been paid in, compared with $5,329.72 at the end of the month in 1955. There's a lot still out, however. The tax roll this year is $42,431. Last year it was only $35,731. The city doesn't offer a discount for "advance" payment of municipal taxes. Actually, they don't become delinquent until after January 31 of next year. But that doesn't keep some folks from paying them early.

Take Will Thomas, for instance. He is usually first in line. This year was no exception. When the office opened Monday morning, October 1, he walked in to pay his city taxes.

City's New Paving Ready for Winter

Last February's heavy snow and hard freezes caused damage to pavement in cities of the Plains that ran into the hundreds of thousands of dollars. Friona was extremely fortunate in this respect, not having had a large amount of "new" pavement in the extreme weather.

This winter, however, things will be different. Friona is heading into the winter season with 67 blocks of brand new paving. Is it in shape for a rugged winter—if there is one?

City Clerk Roy Wilson says "yes" unqualifyingly. The pavement has "bled" during warm weather in a fashion that exactly suited paving engineers, and a good seal between the base and top coat has been esablished. Older streets are in need of a few patches, he says, but all in all, Friona's streets are in good condition to meet the possibility of extreme weather this winter.

Postmaster Warns Against Pilfering

Postmaster Leo McLellan warns against petty theft this week. Since the post office department put ball point pens on the desks in the local post office lobby, three have been taken out.

Monday, signs were posted stating that the theft of a pen was punishable by a $500 fine and/or one year in prison. "If any more are stolen, it will become necessary for the building to be locked earlier in the evening," says McLellan.
