Pleasant Day Spent At the Gore Farm

Another afternoon and evening, long to be remembered was spent last Sunday at the Gore farm in the Johnson community. Church services were attended in the afternoon and night at the school house where good crowds heard Elder Francis from Oklahoma in his last two sermons. Good singing was the order of the day.

Mrs. Gore had one of those old Sunday farm meals for which she has long been famous. A dish of southern fried chicken cream gravy, beans, peas, salads, and many other things; your choice of iced tea, coffee or milk. And boy she had some of those old rolls piping hot that hixed with a slice of butter in the center would make a rabbit fight a bear. Did we eat—and how.

Mr. Gore has an excellent crop. The cotton 85 acres will have plenty of blooms this week the corn is simple moping up the sudan is ready for pasturing and the maize hiegers and cane are coming on fine. He also has a big bean patch not to mention a huge melon patch. We shall call out that way a little later on in the season.

In the afternoon Mrs. Gore showed us some interesting newspapers from old Tennessee being the Knoxville Journal-Tribune of which her great uncle the late Editor Rule who died in 1928, was editor for more than half a century. Editor Rule served Knoxville and east Tennessee in many political capacities in his life. He was an ardent Republican and a Methodist, and was made a Captain in the Federal army before the close of the Civil War. He was mayor of Knoxville at two different periods when the citizens demanded a real man to run their city.

It was under Captain Rule that the late Adolph Ochs, publisher of the Chattanooga News and New York Times got his training. While Editor Ochs turned Democrat, or at least an Independent, they were always fast friends, and were generally together on Capt. Rule's birthdays. The only living relative of Capt. Rule in Texas besides Mrs. Gore, is State Representative Tarwater of Plainview.

Gen. Johnson Gives His Recovery Plan

UNIVERSITY, Va., July 13.—Gen. Hugh S. Johnson's formula for the return of prosperity is the "distribution of opportunity."

"Open the fields of individual enterprise; stop wiping them out," the former NRA chief said as a session of the Institute of Public Affairs Friday night. "Raise wages; shorten hours; see to it that we have neither favored few nor underprivileged classes cease our idolatry of mere bigness; restore our agriculture party with industry."

"That is the New Deal. If we can only do that we shall see the greatest prosperity this country has ever known."

General Johnson spoke after Representative James W. Wadsworth of New York had made an address in which he said that the Supreme Court decision on NRA had "served as a sharp reminder that our Federal Government may exercise only those powers which are delegated to it."

In reply Johnson asked: "Is there between the power of the State and of the Nation to regulate economic groupings a great blind zone where the States can not control and the Federal Government can not control and in which the forces of capacity can run riot?"

If the United States "tolerates such a vacuum of anarchy," he said, "it will become the laughing stock of the world."

Jas. A. Fry and family left Wednesday for Crum Texas, where he began a meeting Thursday night. He will be away about six weeks in summer revival work before returning to Brownfield.

Transients Not to Get Relief Longer

AUSTIN, July 17.—The Texas transient bureau no longer will extend aid to state transient, it has been announced by Mrs. Zuleika B. Hicks, assistant director of social service for the Texas Relief Commission.

The regulation, which became effective July 19, is in accordance with a resolution adopted by the State Board of Control, designed to stop transiency in Texas. Hereafter, Texas transients will be urged to return to their legal residences and settle down in order to become eligible for local work opportunities, either under increasingly improved commercial conditions, or under the Works Progress Administration program.

County administrators have been directed to urge all such transients to return home, and not to grant any relief to a transient except when absolutely essential.

"It is not the desire of the Board of Control to make it hard for state transients," Mrs. Hicks said, "but it is recognized that because opportunities for work are greater in a client's home community, there is no social advantage to be gained in moving aimlessly from county to county. It is for the transient's own benefit that he is urged to stay at home."

The regulation does not effect the procedure in handling federal transients. The federal program will continue to function as it has in the past.

Brownfield School To Stress Music

Brownfield school students will have ample opportunity this year to develop their taste for music and boys, and girls musically inclined, will have two or three bands available.

This was the statement in an interview with M. H. L. Base, superintendent of schools, who said three bands would be formed the coming school year.

Terry Redford, recently named principal of the junior high school and a Terry county product, will head one band while Emmitt Smith, new senior high school principal, will head another. Both are well known musicians, having had experience in teaching and both accomplished musicians well.

Emmitt Smith who was first elected junior high school principal, was named senior high principal.

Mr. Base, while superintendent at Tahoka, a number of years ago, developed a strong musical spirit in the schools. He plans to push music as much as possible this year.

An Imposter is At Large—Please Report

We learn that the name of our good friend Wilbur F. Fauley of the N.Y. Times, has been used by some faker in selling books, and collecting cash payments for same. A business man of Wilson Texas, has reported the matter to Mr. Fauley, who is anxious to stop such impersonation. While we haven't heard of this imposter being in Brownfield he may have eysped a few who reluctantly let it be known, but if any one knows or can give us information on this fakery activity kindly report the matter to this office and we will see that it reaches the party who will trace him down.

Mr. Fauley is a high class gentleman, a well known author and newspaperman, and wishes to stop this misuse of his name and reputation, and information leading to that end, may save others from losing their money.

Gov. Alfred Spurns All Aired Protests

AUSTIN, July 13.—Governor Alfred said today he would disregard any protests against vice conditions where communications addressed to the Governor were released to the press by the complaining party.

"I will not answer any telegram or letter where people fly into the newspapers with their communications and where it appears it is being done for publicity purposes," he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jackson and children of Loving on N. M. were here Sunday for a few hours. They formerly resided here.

Brownfield Has a New Name—Flytown

Fort Worth has long been known throughout the Southwest as "Cowtown." It has nothing on our little city, as we understand that we are now known far and near as "Flytown." People who have been about lately tell us that in hotel lobbies in the mountains from Duncan, Chris towns and cities in this section, that when a man from this city lets it be known where he is from, his companion at once tells him that Brownfield is now better known as Flytown.

And is this a good bit of advertising? Is it a good reputation to sustain? Is it not a bit embarrassing to have that thrown in your face? On the other hand, is it not more truth than poetry? What resentment can we offer? It is enough to make one ashamed to mention the place he is from. There is nothing on earth more repulsive than a house fly, and it is a shame and a disgrace to have them in the numbers we have stood for this year. And every mother's son and daughter of us should determine that from this on, we will show the world that we have a clean town; a fitting place to live.

That it has taken many dollars away from us is not questioned. We personally know of numbers of people who will not stop here for a meal or for a room. Our reputation for flies has already reached them, and they travel on till they get to a place where they can eat their food without the help of thousands of nasty flies. From this on, all should keep their premises clean, and those who refuse should be fined to the full extent of the law.

The Herald is proud to say that our city has made wonderful strides in the past two weeks in fly extermination. Traps by the hundreds, small and large have caught them by the million. We understand that at the stock pens early last week that 25 bushels were caught in one day. As this is written, there are no more flies in Brownfield than in any other city of like size in this section. But we must not rest on our oars. To do so, is to invite another fly epidemic. All praise to those who have so valiantly fought them.

Notice in Regard to Scholastic Transfers

This office would like to call attention to the fact that the month of July is most half gone and the time for transferring your child will be over August 1st. Anyone desiring to ask for a transfer should do so. It is very important that high school students who plan to attend high school in another district other than their home district, make transfer through this office, as well as those parents who have changed their residence since they were enumerated in their district.

Do not wait until the last day you will find the office crowded and you might have to wait longer than you might like.

All transfers made by this office will be final unless objection is made by the home district trustees. If this is done the matter will be decided before the County Board of Trustees on August 6th, 1935. This latter provision was enacted by the last Legislature in House Bill No. 492 and became effective May 10th, 1935. A copy of which is now in my office. R. A. Simms.

Parks Trying Out Hollow Tile Gardening

Jim Parks, who lives just across the line in Yoakum county, west of Tokio was a caller at the Herald office one day last week, and informed us that he was irrigating several hundred square feet of garden with underground hollow tile this year and he believes it will be a great success.

Even though he produces only enough for his immediate family, he feels that the time and money will be well spent. One of the great beauties of the tile irrigating system, is that water is not put on the surface of the ground, and therefore does not ruin the land.

However, he believes that his lines are too far apart and will put in between line before the next season.

His efforts to raise a good garden, which consists of most every vegetable raised in this climate and altitude, will be watched with interest, and the Herald hopes he gives us a detailed report later on in the season.

Quante Visits Mine Again This Year

Christopher E. Quante and family, Marner Price and Toots Thomas have returned from the former's gold and silver mine in the state of Arizona, the mine claim being 600X15-00 feet and located some 30 miles out in the mountains from Duncan. Chris brought us a lot of pretty rock and things to adorn our windows. They are of very little money value, according to Chris, so don't break into the Herald office thinking we have a fortune therein.

Every year for the past five, Chris has gone out there and done at least $100 worth of improvements at his claim; some years more, and he seems to be better pleased with his investment from year to year. Others, too, seem to have the same idea for he is having a little trouble with claim jumpers. But as he has his patented, there will never be much trouble from that source.

Chris has about the only water in that section, to speak of. Down in the canyon, he dug into an everlasting spring of good cool water, that is sufficient for all purposes, though considerably loaded with minerals, yet good to drink. He has begun a systematic improvement and is keeping books on his developments.

For instance, he began sinking pot holes on the east side, one about every 100 feet, and he is finding that the last holes are producing a richer assay than the one back of it. His claim runs the long way from east to west. The holes he sunk this year, for instance assayed almost twice as much gold, and more than twice as much silver as last year. Let us hope that with the increased price of both metals, that our fellow townsman him rich in the near future.

New Seats Are Being Installed at Rialto

The new plush seats are being installed this week at the Rialto. As fast as the old ones are taken out, they are being installed in the new theatre, which will likely go under the name of Ritz, which is located on the north side of the square. Only as many seats are taken out of the Rialto each day as news ones can be installed.

We tried out one of the new seats Tuesday night while enjoying one of the best plays to our notion that has been here in some time "Mississippi." We got a great kick out of the play, and especially that great fun maker, W. C. Fields. We don't attend shows that are not funny, if we know it. Well these seats is the answer to the prayer of a tired business man.

And had you noticed that the pictures are larger and clearer at the Rialto. Well a larger projector of the newest improved type has been installed. In fact, as to theatres, there are no towns anywhere near the size of Brownfield that has it beat on shows, and many much larger places are no better.

Travis Co. Prisoners Kept Here Sun. Night

Two men and a woman, who said she was the wife of one of the men, were held in jail here Sunday night, following their arrest at Roswell, N. M. a few days previous. They were accused of the theft of a V8 Ford at Austin, which was being returned.

The prisoners were in charge of Sheriff Lee O. Allen of Austin and deputy, Mr. Rogers. They came in to Brownfield about night, and kept their prisoners in jail here for the night, according to Sheriff J. S. Smith.

PRESIDENT ASKED TO VISIT TEXAS

WASHINGTON, July 11.—President Franklin D. Roosevelt was invited by Senators Morris Sheppard and Tom Connally today to attend the Texas centennial celebration opening in Dallas next June.

The senators said the chief executive expressed a desire to visit the centennial if possible. They said they also thanked him for approving the centennial bill authorizing $3000,000 for federal participation.

Mrs. J. M. Tinkler and girls visited last week with her sister, Mrs. Floyd Stark, in Seminole.

Billiard Expert Demonstrates Here Sat. Nite

The writer and family as well as many others including a good sprinkling of ladies were invited and attended the billiard and pool demonstration held at the local Recreation Club, managed by Geo. E. Tiernan here last Saturday night and everyone seemed to be well entertained and pleased with what they saw and heard.

Mr. Davis, who owns Recreation clubs in a number of towns in this section, was traveling with this billiard expert, Mr. Scotty Farrell, of Chicago, who held the national championship for a number of years. Mr. Davis, we understand is president of the West Texas Billiard Association.

Mr. Farrell demonstrated many shots that to the ordinary player, or a fellow like the writer who never played a game, which looked impossible to perform. During a resting interval, Mr. Farrell lectured the crowd on the game, saying it was the best indoor game in existence. It requires the bringing into play every muscle of the body; it is, he said a game of steady nerves, and a clear vision.

Gambling, he stated had brought the games of billiards into low repute a few years ago, but with the modern recreation parlors no gambling of any kind, swearing or vulgarity was allowed, and slowly but surely, the game was emerging into a place that it justly belonged.

He profusely thanked the citizens of Brownfield for the good attendance of his demonstration and lecture, as well as the interest and courtesy shown him. He promised that if any of us ever visited Chicago, he would try to hide all the machine guns.

Brownfield Dog Wins The Hobbs Fight Again

Bill Harrell informed us Monday that his bull dog, Bingo, again won over the Hobbs fighting bull dog Sunday afternoon, after a nasty fight that lasted 54 minutes. The fight was staged in an arena at Hobbs, N. M. A large crowd attended from here, and probably posted a few bets on Bingo.

Madame Rumor has been spreading a little gossip this week that happened after the fight. She said—so they say—that one of our popular business men approached one of the night clubs so famous, or shall we say infamous, as some would put it, with the intention of entering for a few sweeps across the floor to the tune of waltzes and two steps, etc.

But, just as he was within ten steps of the entrance, a man was pitched headlong out of the club house, landing on his chin at the feet of our Brownfield friend.

Whereupon, Madame Rumor continues, the Brownie turned to his companion and remarked: "It looks like they don't want anyone else in there." And he didn't go.

REVIVAL AT UNION

The revival meeting at Union will begin next Sunday morning with Rev. W. M. Pearce, our presiding Elder doing the preaching. Everyone in the community is invited to attend.

Miss Bernice Wines of Vernon, was a guest here last week of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Wines, aunts, Mesdames Bob Bowers and Earl Anthony and families. She left Sunday for a girl Scout camp in N. M.

TPA Officials Get Onto the Herald

In our recent issue of June 29th, we had nothing much else to write about, and as it had not been long since the Texas Press Association had met in Galveston, we just "sorted printed one" in their direction. But as innocuous as it was, it seems to have, somehow gotten under the hide of both the President and Secretary of the Association. We quote the editorial in question.

"We don't know whether you noticed it or not but after reading the names and occupations of the main speakers on the Texas Press Association convention program held at Galveston recently it sounded like a "Who's Who registration of Wall Street. The speakers included heads of utility, railroads, banks, etc. Well when these professions call in some of us country editors to tell them how to run their business, then we will be ready to "jine' up with the TPA again."

Lewis C. Elbert of Galveston, who is publisher of the Galveston News, is the president of the TPA, and Sam P. Harben, publisher and druggist of Richardson and Dallas, is the Secretary of the association, both mighty good men as far as we know and believe. We want to quote just a bit of one paragraph of Mr. Harben's letter: "I have read with much interest a copy of your letter as received from Mr. Lewis C. Elbert president of the Texas Press Association, regarding your criticism of the program of the recent convention in Galveston etc."

In reply to the above we wish to frankly state that we never wrote a letter to Mr. Elbert in our life, and this was the first one we ever received from him. If he received a letter purported to be from us, it was faked and written by some one else, who wished to hide his own identity in the matter. Also, further quoting Mr. Harben, he gives a very high figure on what the constitutional amendments brought the publishers of Texas. The Herald got much less than the mjnium figures quoted by Mr. Harben, and about half his maximum figure. But we consider we got a fair and just rate, both for the Herald and the State of Texas, and that was all we desired. Secretary of State Mann paid us exactly the rate we quoted him—no more—no less.

Now just a bit about Mr. Elbert's letter. He named some of the men on that program at Galveston, and tells us that they are men who have achieved prominence in their respective lines of endeavor, and are highly respected both by their superiors and subordinates. All of which the Herald concedes. In fact we made no attack on the character of any of these men, nor questioned their integrity. What we tried to put over, Mr. Elbert, is, that we have newspaper men in Texas, who perhaps among them, that are able to entertain, instruct, and help us lesser fry without calling in men of other professions. They undoubtedly know their lines from top to bottom, but personally we would not make a long expensive trip to Galveston, or anywhere else across this state to hear one or a dozen of these men, except perhaps Mr. D'Arcy who represents an affiliated line of the printing and publishing industry.

Both of these gentlemen wrote us nice, genteel letters, and incidentally solicited our membership in the TPA. And, we are simple enough to believe that they were sincere in their solicitations, and were not just offering us a sop in order to embarrass us by rejecting our application. But we wish to state once again, that others might like such a program as was that at Galveston, but this humble county editor would not enjoy them. Perhaps such programs are over our head. Personally, we had rather see Sally Rand do the fan dance.

BIRTH RATE FOR NATION BOOSTED
WASHINGTON, July 11.—America's birth rate rose in 1934 for the first time in 10 years, census bureau figures revealed today.

Births in the whole nation in that period were 17.1 per thousand of estimated population compared with 16.4 for 1933 (the lowest ever recorded) in the United States. The total number of live births was 2,159,929.

Statisticians and health officials were essay new explanation for the increase.

New Mexico with 27.9 per thousand of estimated population, the highest birth during the period, California the lowest with 12.4.

Tri-State Fair to Be The Largest in Texas

AMARILLO, July 15.—Catalogs for the Tri State Fair here September 13-21, listing more than $15,000 in cash premiums, are available now.

Copies will be furnished upon request of O. L. "Ted" Taylor, Secretary-Manager. The catalogs set forth all the entry rules.

This year the Tri-State Fair will be the largest exposition in Texas and complete in every department.

Racing, with more and better entries than ever, again will be the feature attraction, but there will be plenty of other amusement, including Beckmann and Gerety, largest midway shows in the United States. These "world's best shows" will come direct from Detroit, Michigan.

Concessionaires already are applying for space at the 1935 fair which in recent years has developed into an elaborate show window of the Southwest, daily attracting thousands of men, women and children through its fee gates from several states.

Wilbur C. Hawk, president of the fair association, said today community and county fairs throughout the tri-state territory probably would be held during the week just preceding the exposition here.

"These will provide elimination contests so only the best of exhibits will be concentrated for the Tri-State Fair," he said.

The fall racing meet of the Tri-State Fair will begin Friday, September 13. The fair proper will open Monday, September 16, and continue throughout the week including Saturday, September 21.

"Hooverism" Rapped By Senator Holt

ST. PAUL, July 13.—The Nation's youngest Senator, Rush D. Holt of West Virginia, denounced "Hooverism" to younger Democrats of five States today and predicted the holding company fight would be a principal issue in the 1936 campaign.

"The theory of rugged individualism as proclaimed by Hooverism," Senator Holt told the Five State Regional Conference, "pushed agriculture down to its low level. "Agriculture is better off today than in the days of Hoover and the farmer should not be forced to sell his products below the cost of production."

"Toryism is not confined to one party," he added. "There are some Tories in the Democratic party who want the liberty they had under Hoover—the liberty to starve to death. Under Hoover, rugged individualism meant a man had to be a very rugged individual or he became a ragged individual."

Texas Relief to Get $3,009,119 For July

AUSTIN, July 8.—Allotments of general relief funds totaling approximately $3,009,119 will be made to Texas counties during July, it has been announced by Texas Relief Commission officials.

Approximately half the amount will go forward at once, E. A. Baugh, assistant director of the Commission said.

General relief, $2,619,412; non-relief administrative pay-roll, $244,898 non-relief project supervision, $136,064; hospitalization, $8,745.

The June budget made available $4,025,783 to the counties, but included $1,257,207 for capital goods and subsistence for rural clients. These items this month will be provided by the Resettlement Administration, now separated from the Relief Commission.

HOME LOAN BANKS CUT INTEREST RATE

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Chairman Fahy said today the Home Loan Bank Board wants to make a "greater volume of long term mortgage money available to home owners at lower interest rates than have prevailed."

The action of the Federal Home Loan Bank of Cincinnati in reducing the interest rate on advances to member institutions to 3 per cent was in accord with this policy he said in a statement.

All 12 regional Home Loan Banks, he added, have been given authority to make similar reductions.

Despite what the president and secretary of the Texas Press Association may think to the contrary, the Herald has nothing whatever against capitalists, or the capital men represent. We have never reached the point in this nation where the mare will go without the money.

One of our exchanges says it does not run poetry that takes the name of the Lord in vain. Perhaps, this exchange was referring to poetry that appeared in these columns recently, and was copied in several other papers we get. Personally, we did not think the poetry in question came any way near such an idea. Just a matter of opinion.

This writer was greatly reassured Monday night when one of the Harvard College Astronomers announced that it was safe to climb from under our covers and look at the eclipse without fear or trembling. We wonder if these high-brows at the seat of witch burnings in our early history still think that there are people in America and especially those who have radios to get his message, are ignorant enough to seek a hiding place from any kind of solar or lunar eclipse? Even our Lady's Birthday Almanac tell us of these phenomena long before they happen. Those guys should get off Boston Commons some time and see the best part of America.

Our old friend Sharley Shurlin Guy of Hubcock has gone on another rampage about the Texas Centennial, chiefly because Hubcock and 'Teague Killings' were winked out in the division of state and federal funds. So was Brownfield, Tokio, Podunk and Paris. It is our reminder.

Although a lad of 17 summers, that Nashville got about all the honors when Tennessee celebrated her 100th birthday back in 1897. We heard of the hell raising from Memphis, Chattanooga or Knoxville, because Nashville was located centrally for population, and put up the site and a lot of money herself. The same may be said about Georgia, when Atlanta, a few years prior was the hostess when Georgia celebrated its 100th birthday. We are sorry that Hubcock can't get out of its 'gimme' habit.

To hear some of the good republican politicians and papers, and near republican papers how about the sacredness of the Constitution, one would reach the conclusion that our man made state and national constitutions stand as an equal perhaps a peer of Holy Writ. Man at times has dared to change the wording of the Bible without holy hands of horror being raised. Was man made for the constitution, or the constitution made by and for man? Why hardly a year passes that Texans are not called on to amend, abridge or repeal a portion of our constitution, and every few years some mending is handed the national constitution to make it more nearly fit present needs. The trouble is that a lot of men are diligently searching for a platform to run on next year, and they are grabbing at straws.

The country weeklies of Texas have given hundreds of columns of information and propaganda provided by the government relief agencies during the past two years. It was only through the weekly press that the farmers could be effectively reached—and the country press has been always anxious in its program. But when the relief agencies need printing and they use many hundreds of dollars worth of printing in each county they have all the work done in Austin—leaving the country papers to hold the sack. It's a darned shame that this work is not distrib-

OBITUARY

Funeral services were held for William Jasper Hix at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the Meadow Methodist church by Rev. Homer Sheets of Brownfield assisted by Rev. Hester, of the Meadow church. Burial following in the Meadow cemetery.

Mr. Hix was born at Bedford, Tenn. in 1872, and had lived in Arkansas, and had lived in Comanche, Childress counties Texas, and in Oklahoma, before moving to Terry county several years ago. He married Miss Eva Pearl Nolan in 1906. He was converted and joined the Methodist church in 1911. He moved to a farm in Terry county 6 miles southwest of Meadow, where he died.

He leaves a wife and 5 children, three of whom are married and live near Brownfield and Meadow, being Haskell Hix, and Mesdames Edith Huckleberry and Ethel Stockton, and two living brothers who live in Missouri and Oklahoma to mourn his passing.

His many friends around Meadow and Brownfield extend their sincere sympathy to his grieving loved ones who had to part with a devoted husband and father. He was a kind and considerate companion, a good friend and neighbor, an all round Christian man.

HOW ONE MAN LOST 25 POUNDS

John Lethaby of Portland, Ore., writes: 'I've known Kruschen Salts for years in England, Africa, Brazil. I weighed 190, chest 40 waist 48. After 6 weeks with Kruschen am 165, chest 42, waist 36. It gives me pep and vigor and has kept me young.'

To lose fat SAFELY and quickly take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—cut down on fatty meats, butter, cream and rich pastries. For your health, sake ask for and get Kruschen—the coat for a bottle that lasts 4 weeks is but a trifle and after the first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied with results money back. JIMMIE ROGERS VISITS HALSELL RANCH

Jimmie Rogers, son of Will Rogers, the pride of Claremore, Okla., comedian and writer of note, arrived in Amherst Tuesday with a friend, a young Mr. Blake.

This makes the third time young Rogers and Blake have been at the ranch. Each year they arrive some time in July and remain over for the roundup in August.

Young Rogers dons the cowboy regalia that looks so familiar on his famous dad, and makes a real cowboy hand. Both boys are about 19 years of age.

Billie McCleskey of Muskogee, Okla., grandson of the late W. E. Halsell, arrived at the ranch about the same time as Rogers and Blake.

The boys meet here each year at about the same time so that they can spend their vacation together on the ranch.

JUST A SONG AT TWILIGHT

While pausing to review the passing of American institutions one must list in that category the old organ which stood in the parlor and was the focal point for a family's evening entertainment.

The organ, now possibly replaced by a radio, is stored in the attic or, perhaps, traded in on a radio. The fact remains that, while the music that is now heard may be of a higher quality, certainly it is no sweeter than those songs we used to sing after the supper dishes were cleared away and the family convened in the "sitting room" or the parlor for a genuine reunion and song feast.

Even grandma, or grandpa joined in the family circle and just before their bedtime at 9 o'clock would sing their favorite song.

Each member of the family had his favorite, and the variety ranged from "Nellie Gray" to "Tenting On the Old Camp Grounds," with preference being shown the truly American folk tunes, including those appealing melodies of Stephen Foster.

There was a spirit of serenity and peacefulness about the occasion, and a kindly light from nearby lamp shed a tender glow on the faces of the family as its members stood around the organ. A comradeship was established there that held throughout the years and nothing today quite equals this scene of long ago.

TEXAS MILLS TO GRIND RELIEF FLOUR FOR TOLL

AUSTIN, July 8.—Approximately half a million bushels of wheat from the Pacific Northwest will be converted into flour by Texas millers, according to an agreement between the millers and C. Z. Crain, head of the commodities distribution department of the Texas Relief Commission, acting as agent for the Federal Surplus Relief Corporation.

Some 30 milling houses in Texas will grind the wheat on a toll basis, receiving all the offal, irrespective of present or future prices, as payment for the work. Milled flour will be delivered to the Texas Relief Commission in 12-pound paper bags and 24-pound cotton sacks for distribution to relief families in the state.

Crain said wheat already has been bought and that first shipments were expected to be received in Texas soon.

RURAL PEOPLE LIVE LONGER

Figures brought out in a recent survey by the United States Department of Agriculture provide another argument against rural America leaving the farm for the city. Most of them go to the city in hope of finding life easier and wealth more rapidly acquired, but it is a matter of cold statistics that people who stay on the farm not only live longer but live better than the city folks.

Writing in a national magazine Marie Darrach says: "Depression has had one prize baby. When cities were going down for the third time, the small town was floating like cork on the waves of adversity. Not that America's feting from calamity their loud-mouthed boosters of prosperity and their fancy mortgages. For they have. But in the small town personal relationship and a fellowship not known in large cities has served to keep the small towns from buckling under the strain."

THE OLD BOATMAN'S VERSION

An old boatman who always rowed a skiff for Phillips Brooks when this beloved churchman would go fishing was performing a similar service for another clerical angler who recalled what a noble soul the bishop was.

"Right ye are," the oarsman assented, "cept his swearing."

"Bishop Brooks swear? Impossible" the preacher fisherman exclaimed. "Oh, but he did, leastwise he swore onct. He hooked a big bass, got the fighting fellow up to the boat, an' just as I went to scoop him with the hand net, he flopped clean off the hook. 'I say, that's too damned bad, Bishop!' He say 'yes' it is. But that's the only time I ever heard him use such language."

SECURITY

A full-blooded Pima Indian out in Arizona needed some cash, so he went to a banker and asked about a loan.

"How much do you need?" asked the banker.

"Me want $200." "For how long?" "Maybe two weeks; maybe two month."

"And what security have you?" "Me got 200 horses." This seemed sufficient security and the loan was made.

A short time afterward, the Indian came into the bank with $2,200 cash, paid off the note, and started to leave with the rest of the roll.

"Why not let us take care of that money for you?" asked the banker. The old Indian's mind flew back to the day when he wanted $200 and, looking the banker straight in the eyes he solemnly asked, "How many horses you got?"

His little son tried to pacify him telling him "mother would return." You don't know her like I do, J. O. is alleged to have replied. It is reported that neighbors for several miles around were awaked some thought it was J. W. Lasiter's old bull.

Floyd Cloud was quite painfully burned last week where there was an explosion of gas under the coffee urn. The urn was hot and the gas turned off temporarily and Floyd failed to get back to the urn with his match quick enough when the gas was turned on again. Natural gas is a great fuel but you must not take chances with it.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hilyard left Sunday for their vacation presumably at the San Diego International Fair, California. Mr. Hilyard is assistant cashier of the Brownfield State Bank, and his wife works at the Herald office as linotype operator.

By a vote of 338 to 75, Lynn county has recently voted $6000 for a county park. They will get some federal aid, also, we understand.

Ernest Burnett and Dalt Lewis and families, have returned from visits to sure enough east Texas, and report they nearly burned up down there. Ernest says the Mrs. is now ready to try a few sandies in the spring in order to get some rest at night through the summer. Dalt says he spent most of his daylight hours in water, clothes and all to keep cool.

The Assembly of God church here closed their meeting last Sunday night. Rev. Homer T. Goodwin, of Dallas who did the preaching, says they had a fairly successful meeting.

The meetings for the churches of Christ at Scudday and Johnson both closed Sunday night with some additions.

"WATCH THE FORDS GO BY"

REFORMERS AND LIQUOR DEALERS JOIN HANDS TO EXCLUDE WOMEN FROM THE

ST. LOUIS, July 7.—Reformers and saloon keepers here joined in a campaign to swat the feminine butterfly, newest product of the post-prohibition era.

The reformers sought to ban women patrons from bar rooms to protect the taverns from mooching women.

The question—whether a ladyfree, twenty-one and thirsty, has an inalienable right to toss off a gin phizz in public with her boy friend—has aroused the greatest dissension here since short skirts were an issue instead of a memory.

Here's the lineup, pro and con: Thomas L. Anderson, city excise commissioner, who started the row by asking the aldermen to pass a law prohibiting the sale of liquor to women in bar rooms.

"The new saloon is just the old saloon hiding behind women's skirts. Mothers used to have to worry over the sobriety of their sons. Now they are faced with a greater problem—the sobriety of their daughters."

The chivalrous vigilance committee of the St. Louis saloon keepers' secret society says:

"Women patrons are a menace to business. They're moochers. They buy one drink and then expect the men at the bar to buy the rest. That drives the men into buying package liquor and taking it home to drink in peace."

Mrs. Joseph T. Davis, president of the Federated Women's Clubs and civic leader, said:

"I agree with Mr. Anderson. I do not think his idea is to discriminate against women but to protect them for their own good. To my mind there is nothing more pathetic than an intoxicated woman."

Meanwhile bartenders report there is no decrease in the number of feminine oxfords parked along the brass rail.

DULL TIMES INDEED

A native of a western town, which had had a remarkable boom some years ago, moved away. Recently he happened to run across one of his old neighbors when they were both on a trip to Washington. The first man asked the second how things were in the old home town.

The friend replied: "You can't imagine how dull they are. You remember Bill Watson? Well, he dropped dead in front of the post office Sunday and they didn't find the body until Thursday."

THE BIGGEST DIAMOND

Until a few weeks ago Harry Winston was just a dealer in precious stones on Fifth Avenue, New York. Today his name is known all over the world. Sudden fame came when he bought the uncut Jonkers diamond for a sum said to be $900,000. It is insured for $9,700,000.

Jacobus Jonkers, 60-odd years of age, who had been working river beds all his life for paltry returns, uncovered in January, 1934, not far from the Premier Diamond mine, South Africa, a 726-carat diamond that brought him more than $300,000 and now bears his name.

Enormous as the Jonkers is—it is three times the size of a hen's egg—there have been others still bigger. The mighty Cullinan diamond was the largest of all known diamonds. It was as big as Max Baer's fist and weighed 3,106 carats—about a pound and a third. It was found by Frederick Wells, a captain of the Premier Mine. He received $10,000 as a bonus.

Named for Sir Thomas Cullinan, president of the Premier Diamond Mining Company the stone was sent by ordinary registered post in a tin box to England on the theory that the least conspicuous mode of transport was the safest. An Amsterdam expert cut the Cullinan diamond into more than a hundred gems, the two largest of which are now biggest cut diamonds in the world.

Diamonds are crystallized carbon. The carbon must be trapped in molten lava and the lava must be of a certain chemical composition. After millions of years of tremendous heat and pressure, and may be another million years of cooling, nature then produces diamonds in the rough.

DR. COLLINS MADE DEAN OF H-S UNIVERSITY

ABILENE, July 8.—Dr. R. A. Collins, specialist in teacher training at Southwest Texas Teachers college, has been selected to become head of the department of education and dean of students of Hardin-Simmons university, with opening of the fall semester.

He succeeds Dr. D. M. Wiggins, connected with the institution for eight years who has accepted the presidency of the Texas College of Mines and Metallurgy at El Paso.

Dr. Collins is an alumnus of Hardin-Simmons, of the class of 1912. He holds the degree of Master of Arts from the University of Texas, which also conferred upon him the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, for which he did much of his study in Columbia, University of California and University of Iowa.

For nine years Dr. Collins was connected with the Port Arthur public school system, which is considered one of the most progressive in the south. Dr. Collins for the past two years has been on the faculty of Southwest Texas college, in charge of teacher training.

VITAMINS ANR SEX

And now is proclaimed a new discovery in that magically prolific field, the study of vitamins. Vitamin E may be means of predetermining sex. The Illinois State Medical society announces results of laboratory experiments—vitamin E restricted in the diet of a mother rat produced male offspring; vitamin E given the mother in an abundance insured the birth of female offspring.

Apparently the human scientific world is close on the track of something the bees have known and practiced from the beginning of bee his-baby grub hatched. When a bee colony wants a queen, it prepares a big cell and feeds the baby grub hatched in it with "royal jelly." The egg from which the queen is hatched is like any other bee egg. The diet turns the trick of making a royal female bee instead of a drudging worker or a lazy drone.—Lubbock Avalanche.

We were not surprised at anti administration leaders taking several pot shots at the AAA this week, but when three Plains milling companies started complaining about the AAA and questioned its constitutional ity, we were rather taken back. This act has been our pet of all of the New Deal activities, and we feel called upon to defend it. We shudder to think what conditions would be in this section in particular had it not been for the AAA. With statistics and what we believe to be common sense we can definitely prove the benefits that have been derived from the AAA. Furthermore it enjoys the very unique record of having stood on its own feet during its entire lifetime—and will continue to do so. We can't understand the attitude of the Texas milling companies toward the act. It has probably helped them as much as anyone. We say leave the AAA alone—at least as long as it will continue to support us as it has the past two years.—Ralls Banner.

Nickel Plate Railroad

Given Name by Newspaper

The New York, Chicago & St. Louis railroad was nicknamed the Nickel Plate as the result of an editorial printed in a Norwalk (Ohio) newspaper, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

In the early '80s when the right of way was being acquired for this railroad, the projectors desired to have it pass through Norwalk, which route would have given a more direct line from Vermillion to Bellevue.

The people of Norwalk were anxious to have a new road and set about to secure the amount of money required of them by the company. The Norwalk Chronicle, then owned and edited by Finney R. Loomis, sponsored all the work in Norwalk, and its efforts to land the road for the town almost met with success.

But just when the amount of money asked for had been practically subscribed and things appeared rosy, the officials of the company tacked on an additional sum, more than the people could meet. No amount of persuasion could change the attitude of the officials and the road was built to pass Norwalk six miles to the north.

Editor Loomis wrote a scathing editorial, the last paragraph of which told the people of Norwalk not to mind that the N. Y. C. & St. L. railroad was only a "nickel-plated affair anyway."

The company's officials laughingly adopted that name and called the new project "the Nickel Plate Road," and the name has stuck.

In a letter to the editor they thanked him for unwittingly supplying a sobriquet for the railroad and as a remembrance issued their first life pass to Finney R. Loomis, editor of the Norwalk Chronicle.

Black Girl's "Dilly Bag"

Exhibited at Melbourne

A curious exhibit has found its way into the Melbourne (Australia) museum. It is the "dilly bag" of a black girl of the East Alligator river in the northern territory. It is the equivalent of the white woman's vanity bag.

The bag looks something like a closely woven onion bag, only it is made of grass stalks instead of string, and around it are displayed and labeled the contents just as they were found and as carried about by the average woman of the Kakodu tribe.

Like any other woman, she has her powder and her paint—white pipeclay and red ochre for painting the body. She has even some locks of hair, black and woolly, and probably her own.

Here and there among relics of meals are fresh-water mussel shells, a stone for pounding them open, part of a lily rot used for food, an ornament of kangaroo teeth, a fragment of plaited split cane, a small lump of beeswax and a mass of wool from the cotton tree. The life of a native woman at Alligator river is told by her "dilly bag."

Appeal to Honor

A terrible wreck occurred off the shores of Newfoundland. In the mad frenzy that followed the first shock of the collision, men forgot all else in their sense of self-preservation. An officer wearing the badge of the Legion of Honor was observed frantically pushing weaker ones aside to gain safety. A man stepped before him, pointing to the badge upon his breast. It was sufficient. The silent rebuke recalled him to himself. From that moment, self was lost sight of, and with undaunted heroism he sacrificed himself for the weak and helpless, and was seen at the last standing with folded arms on the deck of the doomed vessel in her last plunge to a watery grave, the badge of the Legion of Honor gleaming upon his breast.

Foot-Worm Disease

The malady which has been termed a foot-worm disease, is an infection of the feet by a thread-like, white nematode worm known as the onchocera flexuosa, which sometimes reaches a length of 10 inches, says the Detroit News. These parasites are found extended in the subcutaneous tissues, and, in advanced stages, coiled in cysts near the surface. Deer afflicted with this malady usually have inflamed and swollen feet, are often notably lame and in some cases the hoofs may even be loosened.

Fresh Air Required

The amount of air required for each person in a room varies greatly with the circumstances. The factors determining the proper amount are number of people, type of lighting fixtures and other sources of heat, and construction of the building or room. The standard figure used by ventilating engineers is 1,800 cubic feet per person per hour, which is usually considered a minimum.

Making Sorghum

The first step toward making sorghum after the cane is ripe is "strippin' and toppin'" it. It is then cut down by hand, put in a press and the juice squeezed out. The pipe from a barrel under the press runs into the evaporator and as the mill sweep is pulled round and round by a horse, the sap runs rapidly to the boiling trays.

Use of Jams and Jellies

Either the English have more of a sweet tooth or Americans make more of their own jellies, for studies show that America uses only one and one-half pounds of manufactured jams and jellies for each person, compared with twelve pounds for each Englishman.

RED GOOSE—THE OJBWA INDIAN BOY

An Indian Story for Boys and Girls by CARLYLE EMEA

Red Goose wins a fierce struggle with The Sioux warrior and makes him a prisoner, but Bear Cat is humiliated when he is told that the Sioux Tribe will attack the pay trains the first hour in the morning. Now on with the story.

"What are you talking about?" growled Bear Cat, standing over his prisoner in a threatening attitude. "Is this some more of your lying tongue?" "Sioux not lie" was the calm answer. "My people will come at first hour in the morning. They will burn the Iron Horse. They will take gold. They will teach white men not to cross the Wahpetuka. Run, white men, before my people come."

This statement enraged Red Goose almost to the point of fury, and he was about to attack the Sioux again, but Bear Cat laid a restraining hand on his shoulder.

"I don't blame you, son," he said, "but not yet. There's more to this story than he has told us. The bridge runs across the river, and..."

But again the Sioux interrupted, and jeered, "Yahhh! My people burn bridge, so Iron Horse cannot get away. You cannot cross Wahpetuka now, White Captain—you are caught. You—"

Now it was Red Goose who interrupted. "We not caught, Bear Cat, he said. 'I swim across river and bring back soldiers before morning.'"

"You can't do that," answered Bear Cat, solemnly. "The river is full of ice. You'd freeze. You'd drown. The soldiers are far beyond the river. We'll have to think of some other way."

"I go!" insisted the boy. "If I do not come back—"

"Many Sioux will die if my son dies. I swear it, Captain," said Red Eagle, calmly. "Go Red Goose Bring soldiers before morning."

"But no human being could live in that river!" argued Bear Cat. "They'd freeze to death before they got half way across!"

But Red Goose would not listen to argument. Unless the soldiers could be reached, they would all die anyway so why not take the one chance. He pleaded with Bear Cat who finally had no alternative other than to agree.

"You're a good boy son, and I hate to see you do this, but as usual, you're right. It's our only chance, and I'm afraid we'll have to let you take it."

"God bless you." As Bear Cat finished speaking he hugged the boy closely to his breast, and a big tear rolled down his cheeks.

Notice is taken of an article written by the Editor of the Herald, in which he suggests that this would be a good year for the staging of a County Fair and the writer agrees with him that it would be a good year and in fact we should have a "Fair" every year. But the next question, is, where will we have it? The Tabernacle is large enough to make a showing of strictly agricultural products, but room must be found to take care of the womens division, the poultry division, livestock division and others that go to make a complete county fair. During the time that the old cotton compress shed was available to us, we had to make use of the Turner Wagon Yard, for the livestock division and even with that, we did not have any too much room. The writer is 'rearing to go' if someone will offer suggestions as to where we will hold the affair.

It might be well to state in this connection, that our re-creational project, includes plans for a county fair plant. But this activity is not progressing as rapidly as we would like to see it and there is not any chance for us to make use of it in any respect during the coming year. Highway promotion has occupied the attention of the chamber of commerce during the past few weeks and committees have made several trips to other towns in attendance upon meetings in connection with proposed construction. Highway 84 has occupied most of our attention, but the writer has attended meetings of judges and commissioners of Hockley, Dawson and Terry Counties, whose object was the promotion of, and arranging for a project under the new relief setup, that would provide for the construction of a highway between Lamesa and Levelland by way of Brownfield. Under the new Works Project Administration, the funds for the construction of high-ways with relief labor, will not be handled by the highway department and cannot be expended on state high-ways and it is therefore up to the commissioners of the different counties to provide projects for relief workers and it is believed that the Lamesa-Levelland road will benefit more people and provide more work, than any other that can be developed.

The new regulations have broken into our arrangements to an extent as it has been the intention to secure a relief setup on highway 84, and now we have to get this, if at all through the regular highway construction channels. And we are not letting any grass grow under our feet and have arranged a meeting with the highway commission for Tuesday of this week, for the purpose of undertaking to secure approval of grading and drainage construction between Brownfield and Tahoka and for surveys between Brownfield and Yoakum County line and between Plains and Bronco and between Tahoka and Post with drainage projects to follow. Commissioners and Judges from Yoakum, Terry, Lynn and Garza, will compose the delegation to appear before the commission, the writer will also be among those present.

The District Agent of the American Railway Express Company was in Brownfield a few days ago, for the purpose of investigating the local express situation and we were informed that he would recommend a free delivery system for us, that is, the charge will cover door delivery in the business section, instead of depot delivery, as is the case at this time. The change will be approved by our business men and it is expected that the Express Company will have a noticeable pickup in their business.

Asks For Veterans' Hospital in Westex

Congressman George Mahon appeared before the Federal Board of Hospitalization Friday, making an appeal for a Veterans' Administration Hospital for West Texas. Hearings are being held by the Board to determine the need for new facilities in all the country.

The proposed hospital would be a general medical and surgical facility. It would include approximately 500 patient beds. Construction would be under the direction of the Veterans' Administration, but it is estimated that an expenditure of approximately $1,000,000 would be involved.

Facts presented by Mr. Mahon at the hearing disclose that there is a larger area centering in West Texas which does not now have access to a general medical Veterans' Administration facility than exists in any other section of the country. This area would include approximately 1,200,000 people and an estimated number of Veterans exceeding 36,000. There are several Veterans facilities in Texas now, but there are only 235 beds available for this type of cases in the entire State, and these serve only 29.8% of the general medical type cases arising within the State.

Mr. Mahon emphasized the need for the hospital from the standpoint of service to the Veterans in the area who need medical attention from the standpoint of the cost of transportation and the welfare of the patient in being transported under the present system, and from the standpoint of its value in establishing definite medical records for individual claims with the Veterans' Administration.

The Federal Board of Hospitalization would choose the exact location, should a hospital be authorized for West Texas.

U. S. Dollar Sign First Printed in Arithmetic

There are four current explanations of the dollar sign, asserts a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer. One is that it was a modified figure 8, referring to eight reals. Manuscripts of the colonial and earlier national period show this figure 8 commonly written in accounts and dates as open both at top and bottom and appearing as a stroke downward from right to left through an S ($).

Another explanation is that the dollar sign is a monogram of U. S., one letter superimposed on the other. Neither of these explanations has been widely accepted, and the latter is the more improbable since at first the dollar sign had only one stroke through the S.

The more usually accepted explanation is that the sign represents the two pillars and scroll on the reverse of the Spanish dollar, the pillars being approximated to each other and the royal coat of arms omitted and the sign adopted when the dollar was based on the Spanish coin. There is no record of any action by congress regarding the dollar sign.

There are two circumstances that are difficult to interpret if this explanation be accepted. In the first place, the dollar sign is not known in any American manuscripts before 1792. It first appeared in print in an arithmetic published in 1797. Before then and long afterward dollars were indicated by an abbreviation after the figures. Several abbreviations were used, such as dol., doll., dols., dolls. and ds.

Wine Soil Held Definite Aid to Modern Superstition

It is odd but true that superstition thrives nowhere else so well as in the wine-growing soil, writes a Budapest (Hungary) correspondent in the Detroit News.

Just as the people of the Vesuvius region are the most superstitious of all Italians, and the banks of the Rhine are shrouded by hundreds of legends, Mount Badacsony—home of Hungary's famed "blue-stem" grape—has a folklore of its own.

There is the bell stone. When struck by a hard object, it rings like a bell, and may be heard at a long distance. The peasant's belief is that even the blackest sinner must confess his crime upon hearing this mysterious warning. Less gloomy is the "pink stone." If a girl sits on this stone, facing the mountain, and gives a deep sigh, she is certain to get married within the year.

Shoots of vine carried in procession at vintage festivals are supposed to bring good luck to anyone who is beaten with them.

Crocodiles of State

The government of Jaipur pays out good money every day to keep crocodiles alive. It has often been said that Jaipur is the most "different" city of India. Certainly it is the only one in that country to be built on a straight-line principle and the only one to have each and every one of its buildings colored mauve or pink. The Crocodile tank is one of the sights of Rajputana, and though it is difficult to ascertain from what far distant religious or mythological rite these beasts obtained their privilege, it is a fact that they are provided with three square meals a day and are tended by a keeper. Whenever this wizardlike old man appears at the water-edge with their foods the big beasts, no matter how soundly they appear to sleep in the mud, immediately swim towards him.

Use of Helium Gas

Air with helium gas content is not poisonous to the body, says Pathfinder Magazine. One of its important uses is to reduce the nitrogen content (about four-fifths of all air) in artificial atmospheres for use in deep sea diving and other work conducted under heavy atmospheric pressure. Experiments conducted by the bureau of mines show that such an atmosphere enables workers to labor for longer periods under higher pressures in safety and comfort than in an ordinary atmosphere.

Bullfrogs Good Jumpers

The size of the bullfrog's legs in comparison to the rest of its body make possible the long, powerful leaps they take when pursued. But possession of enormous legs has its disadvantages too, from a frog's point of view, for because of them their owner has more enemies to contend with. As frogs' legs are so strong, they are considered more delicious by connoisseurs of this choice food than those of the bullfrog which is much sought after on this account.

Enemies of Grasshoppers

Among the most active of the insect enemies of grasshoppers are several small two-winged flies, some little wasps. Maggots of the flies, either deposited directly on the grasshopper or hatching from eggs laid on it, pierce the hoppers' bodies and feed on its contents. The wasps sting their victim into a state of coma and then drag it off to their underground nests to feed their young.

Collects Wishbones

Everything from doorknobs to toothpicks finds its way into some collector's net. One man saves wishbones—not ordinary ones but bones from the platters of great men. Every Christmas he sends out hundreds of requests, and receives many bones in response.

PLANNING SUMMER VACATIONS RIGHT

AUSTIN, Texas 15.—This is the time of year when we put much effort and money into the summer outing and justify the expenditure on the ground that we and our families require an opportunity to recuperate through change of surroundings and to improve our well-being. But there is often very little common sense in the management of the vacation, especially that of the children. The essentials of good care are ignored, so that the child is often in less satisfactory condition, physically and mentally, at the opening of the school in the fall than he was at the beginning of the summer, said Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer.

Mrs. Ed Tharp is spending this week in Colorado. She went with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Elmo McCullen of Lubbock.

Rev. Hale is holding a 2 weeks meeting at Freiona. The meeting began last Sunday and will continue until Sunday week.

Supt. M. H. L. Baze of the Brownfield schools, wife and son, attended the funeral of Dr. C. B. Townes of Tahoka last week, who was killed in an auto wreck.
