PROGRESS NOTES

By J. E. Shelton, Secretary Chamber of Commerce

As is known to a large number of people, we have been very much occupied during the last three weeks in working up a county exhibit for the South Plains Fair and also on the Park proposition and have not had any too much time to devote to keeping the regular office work on the move, but after this week when the fair is over another proposition will be undertaken which is expected to consume a very considerable portion of our time.

In connection with our exhibit at the Lubbock Fair, we won third place among a competition of fifteen counties and if we had left our corn and sorghum grains out of the exhibit we would have made first place. While we knew that all of our corn, hedges, and maize was immature and could not score very many points, we could not feature a county exhibit from our section that did not contain each of them, so we took a shot and listed them in the exhibit. There was only ten points between our exhibit and the winner of first prize and only three points between us and the second premium which is pretty close in a thousand point contest.

It is not unusual for a fruit tree to produce two crops in a year, but it is something out of the ordinary for a tree to go one better and make three. We have in our booth at Lubbock for exhibition purposes only, four pears, two fully matured, different crops, and two that are about half grown. They were grown on the farm of W. J. Moss. Mrs. Moss brought them in last Saturday, also some very fine peaches grown from seed that she planted herself.

The Park project is progressing nicely, plans and specifications practically completed and it is expected that they will be forwarded within the next day or two and that we will be advised as to its disposition within the next few weeks. We have been unofficially advised that the school project passed thru the mill in fine shape and received approval. The street paving project is still pending. As a matter of fact some of the papers in connection with the application were lost in the district office and it has been necessary to prepare new ones which is being done by Mr. Herod's office, and are expected to be completed and forwarded within the next day or two. From information coming to us, we are of the opinion that this is one of the projects that will receive final approval.

An article in the Herald of last week stated that the downtown office of the Western Union would not be established as the inspector of the company had rejected our application.

This is a mistake, as Mr. Wilson, Superintendent of the company was in Brownfield and after conferring with the writer and T. I. Brown, in which he was offered a location, advised us that he would recommend that the service be granted. He did say however, that the removal from the railroad station might be resisted by the Santa Fe and in such an event, his company would not like to make any change. If and when the office is located downtown, service will be had from the Wells & Stanton office in the Hotel Brownfield, next to the lobby, between the hours of 8 A. M. and 6 P. M. and night service will be had from the Wines Hotel. Grady Terry will probably be the man at the key both day and night.

The loan and grant of something over $5,000 for building curbs and sidewalks around the local school grounds, and remodeling and repairing of the grade and junior high buildings, has been approved at Washington, we have been informed.

Mr. Teague, Sr., of the Teague Motor Co., left Monday for Idaho, where he has a daughter who is very ill.

Hon. George Mahon Visits Brownfield

Brownfield had the pleasure and honor of a visit from our congressman last Friday. He was here several hours in consultation with those seeking the postoffice here, as well as other governmental business. He informed us that he had enjoyed the long session of congress, but that the last month or two was fearfully hot. Took about two electric fans in a room for one to sleep, he said especially if they were from this section.

Concerning the postmastership here he said that he had little to do with it. The civil service would recommend three applicants that apparently made the highest grades, and then he was supposed to name one of the three he considered would make the best postmaster. He believes that Brownfield and Terry county stand an excellent chance to get their park, but doubted the paving program or postoffice just at this time.

He intimated that he might come to Brownfield again before returning to Washington and spend a little more time than this short call, as he was trying to get around this time with pot calls.

The Kendrick Farm Produces Heavy Corn

R. M. Kendrick, President of the First National Bank, takes great pleasure in showing callers a huge ear of corn that was produced on his place 1 1/2 miles southeast of the city on the Lamesa road. Of course, you know, Kendrick did none of the work.

The nubbin in question weighed 2 1/4 pounds, and was 1 3/4 inches in circumference, around shuck and all. We have seen longer ears, plenty, but this was the heaviest weight in girth.

Speaking of corn, we saw some Sunday between town and the Lynn county line east of here that looked like baseball bats. And crops were really good all the way to Tahoka and from there to Lamesa, but not quite so good on the harder lands of Lynn county.

Where did we go and why? Why, we and three other preachers, G. W. Chisholm, J. D. Williamson, and Jas. A. Fry had business in Lamesa. That's all you need to know.

High School Ruling On Credits Withheld

The ruling made by the chief supervisor of high schools and passed on to the schools through Deputy State Superintendent G. D. Holbrook last week was temporarily rescinded last Monday by Mr. Holbrook. Mr. Simms, Mr. Fulton, Mr. Bell, and Mr. Baze visited Mr. Holbrook last Sunday afternoon and asked that the order restricting the accredited high schools of the county in granting more than eight credits be temporarily removed. They explained that the rural schools were making an effort to overcome their difficulties as fast as possible, that these schools had not been notified of such drastic action, and that the program should be placed in operation next year instead of this. Mr. Holbrook was receptive to the idea and expressed a willingness to use his influence to get a modification of the ruling. On Monday morning Mr. Holbrook telephoned Judge Simms that he favored the modification of the former ruling for the year 1935-36.

A Correction

Mr. Hayden Griffin, manager of the Farmers Gin stated to a reporter of the Herald that our article last week was misleading, concerning the first bale, that they had no press trouble, but were waiting for more cotton to be brought in on a small trailer to make out the bale.

Our information was obtained around the bale in front of the State bank, and we did not even know what gin they referred to, knowing that any machinery, no matter how good or costly, sometimes balks. Ours do, both presses and linotype.

The Herald had no idea, much less intention of injuring anyone's business. The Farmers Gin has always been a good customer of the Herald.

Exchange Meeting at The Church of Christ

Beginning Sunday, Oct. 6th, the church of Christ will begin a week's revival in its building, with Clarence C. Morgan, new minister of the Lamesa church doing the preaching. Elder Morgan will not be here the first day, but Jas. A. Fry, local minister will start the meeting. Elder Morgan will begin on Monday night the 7th, going over Sunday, Oct. 13.

Elder Morgan has had many years both as an Evangelist and located minister, and his work has been uniform.

formly efficient in either position. He is unusually well educated, and up to some five years ago preached for the Christian church, before making the change. He has been with the Clovis church more than four years before coming to Lamesa.

Next week the Herald will announce some of the subjects that Elder Morgan will speak on while in Brownfield. As stated in the headlines, this will be an exchange meeting. Bro. Fry to hold them a short revival late in November.

Five Men Are Certified In State Senate Race

County Judge Raymond Simms submitted to the Herald Monday, a list of all the candidates for State Senate, one of which is to be elected at a special election to be held in the 24 counties of the 30th Senatorial District, this coming Saturday, Sept. 28. Fifteen hundred ballots have been ordered for Terry county.

It is going to be rather hard to choose between these men, as all have a good reputation in their home counties. But don't just half close your eyes and vote. If you don't know them, ask some of your friends who have studied the matter. The following are the candidates as they will appear on the ballot:

G. H. Nelson, Lynn County
Wm. H. (Bill) Evans, Lubbock Co.
Jess Mitchell, Bailey County
Pink L. Parrish, Lubbock County
B. Reagan, Howard County.

Doc Thomas Doctoring The Herald Presses

Doc Thomas, of Houston, who has been with the Western Newspaper Union for the past quarter century as press erector and repair man, is here this week repairing, adjusting and putting the presses and folders in the Herald office in fine shape for what we hope will be a big fall run.

Doc says he has been all over Texas installing and repairing presses, but had always missed this strip through the south Plains, and readily admitted that he had missed the cream of Texas.

Max Baer Goes the Way of All Flesh

Fight fans, both radio and ring-side, got a big disappointment Tuesday night during the Baer-Louis prize fight. In fact, there was no fight to it. Joe Louis, the Alabama-Detroit tiger had the whole show. The bell saved Baer in the third round.

The other three rounds were just as one sided as the first. That famous right of Baer's just as well have been tied behind him. And here's our prediction: Champion Jim Braddock will go down almost as easily when he meets the mauling negro.

Terry Co. Interscholastic League Organized

In a county wide teachers' meeting held in the Brownfield high school auditorium, September 21, Mr. M. L. Penn, a member of the Brownfield high school faculty, was elected to the position of Director General of the Interscholastic League organization for Terry County. Mr. Penn voiced the opinion of the entire group when he gave the motto 'cooperation' as the goal for the year.

The following officers were elected: Secretary—Emmitt Smith, Brownfield.

Director of Declaration—Lee Fulton, Gomez.

Director of Debate—Homer Franklin, Meadow.

Director of Extemporaneous Speech—G. R. Day, Union.

Director of Spelling—Cleo Price, Meadow.

Director of Ready Writers—Mrs. Lee Fulton, Gomez.

Director of Rural Schools—Judge R. Simms.

Director of Athletics—John A. Bost Brownfield.

Director of Music Memory—Velma McClish, Wellman.

Director of Picture Memory—Mrs. Memory Hawkins, Union.

Director of Tiny Tots' Story Telling—Mrs. J. B. Bell, Harmony.

Director of Arithmetic—C. A. Wilhite, Wellman.

Miss Gertrude Kasco of Brownfield was chosen to have charge of choral singing.

Big Spring Man in Race For Senate

B. Reagan, well-known West Texan who has been closely identified with the development of this section of the state, has announced his candidacy for the Texas senate.

He will make the race in the special election called for September 28 by Governor James Allred to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Arthur P. Duggan.

Reagan has resided in Big Spring for 37 years and has been active in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. He is a past president of the South Plains Bankers' Association, also a former national official in the Woodmen of the World.

Reagan came to West Texas to be superintendent of the Big Spring schools. He left that profession to enter the drug business. During the Wilson administration, he was postmaster at Big Spring. He was president of the West Texas National Bank when it merged with the First National Bank of Big Spring and is now president of the First National Bank.

He was reared in Brown county, educated in the public school and attended Baylor University, Waco.

In all civic matters Reagan has taken an active interest, especially where West Texas was concerned. His candidacy is based on his understanding of West Texas problems because of his wide experience in serving this section of the state.

One of Brownfield's Gins Burn Friday A.M.

The gin plant built here some six years ago by Mr. Henson, but known now as the Rice Gin, was badly damaged by a blaze about four o'clock Friday morning. The cause of the fire is unknown. Damage was said to be about $5,000.

It is the understanding of the Herald that the plant will be repaired and parts damaged replaced with new stuff. However, we have not received this information from the owners.

Terry Exclusive Owner Of His Grocery

Some time past we chronicled the fact that W. W. Terry had sold an interest in his store to Jay Barret. A week or so ago, Mr. Barret resold his interest in the store back to Mr. Terry, who is again the sole owner.

Mr. Terry is gradually enlarging his stock, and tells us that he is enjoying a good trade with both town and country people. You will find his store the second door north of the First National Bank.

Lubbock Man Held In Brother's Death

LUBBOCK, Sept. 21.—A complaint charging Lee Tubbs, 49, with murder in connection with the shotgun death of his brother, Jack, about 41, tonight had been prepared but neither of Lubbock's justices of the peace had accepted it tonight.

Jack Tubbs died of a shotgun wound. His brother is held in the hospital ward of Lubbock county jail.

Peace Justice J. T. Trigg, who returned an inquest verdict that Jack Tubbs was shot to death by Lee Tubbs, asked District Attorney Daniel A. Blair not to file the case in Trigg's court. Trigg is related by marriage to one of Lee Tubbs' brothers.

Peace Justice J. J. Dillard issued the following statement:

"The Tubbs family are honorable people; they are my friends. I have known both parties to this grim tragedy for 39 years. I am grieved and shocked. I doubt whether I would be qualified to act on a hearing of the case and I will disqualify."

Isham Tubbs, 83-year-old patriarch of the family, came to this section nearly a half century ago.

Farm Near Lubbock

A road on the Isham Tubbs farm, about 6 miles west of Lubbock, was the scene of the slaying, time of which was placed at about 12:45 o'clock in the morning. Lee Tubbs has declined to give officers a statement.

Investigation by District Attorney Blair, Peace Justice Trigg, and Sheriff Tom Abel disclosed that Lee and Jack Tubbs ate supper at the home of Mrs. Lizzie Camp, widowed tenant farmer on the Tubbs farm, and remained there until about 10 o'clock. Mrs. Camp told investigators that the brothers were drinking, but were not intoxicated, when they left her home in Lee Tubbs' automobile. They were friendly, she said.

Mrs. Evelyn Ross, a daughter of Lee Tubbs, said her father awakened her about 12:30 o'clock, asking her to go with him after the car. She said he seemed "dazed and addled," and she said she thought he had turned the car over. She said he left, taking a double-barreled 12-gauge shotgun with him. A few minutes later she heard two shots.

Mrs. Camp said that Lee Tubbs went to her home and told her he had killed his brother. She, her son, J. H. Mabry, and Lee Tubbs went to the scene, and then went for Travis Tubbs who lives nearby. Officers were notified, and C. C. Crenshaw, a Lubbock attorney, was called.

The Tubbs men are brothers of Mrs. H. R. Fluke United States commissioner and deputy clerk here.

Nelson Unable to Visit Terry County

"G. H. Nelson asks the Herald to state that he regrets that he will not have time to visit the counties and towns in his own Judicial District in the race he is now making for the State Senate, since there are twenty-four counties in this senatorial district and he feels that it is imperative that he visit those counties where he is not known.

"He is depending upon the people of this and the other counties of the 106th Judicial District to render whatever assistance they can throughout the twenty-four counties of the 30th Senatorial District in behalf of his candidacy for the State Senate, and will deeply appreciate their kindness."

Terry County Canning Kitchen to Start

We have been requested to announce that the Terry county canning kitchen will start up this week, in the same building as last year, just north of the power plant, according to Judge R. A. Simms.

It seems this year no one will be employed except perhaps a supervisor, but each person in this section may come in and can up their own stuff.

It would be safe to confer with those in charge about what days you may use the canners and sealers.

Jot Smith, old time cattleman of this section, was here Monday from Lubbock.

School Officials Attempt Unification

After a full morning given to the study of the needs of the schools of the county, the teachers and school officials meeting at the Brownfield high school decided to appoint a committee to meet in the afternoon Saturday to work on a plan of unification of all high school work throughout Terry county. Those appointed on the committee by Judge R. A. Simms were: J. Logan Green, Lahey; Homer Franklin, Meadow; C. A. Wilhite, Wellman; G. R. Day, Union; Lee Fulton, Gomez; J. B. Bell, Harmony; and M. L. H. Baze, Brownfield. This committee set at the court house and discussed fully the needs of the county. Mr. Baze was elected chairman. The following recommendations were offered for all schools:

1. That Spanish be discontinued in the eighth and ninth grades, inasmuch as it is recommended for the tenth and eleventh grades, and each school prepare as soon as possible for general science and biology.

2. That all schools should follow the bulletins as to what to teach and how to teach it, and that the State Department be urged to supply the schools with the proper bulletins and information.

3. Schools were urged to make their programs practical, and parents were also urged to cooperate in the movement.

4. Boards of the different schools were requested to grant leave of absence to teachers on full pay in order to spend one or two days visiting other schools of the county to gain a broader knowledge of school activities and programs.

5. The county and local boards were commended highly for their stand in limiting the curriculum and providing transportation for pupils to accredited schools.

6. Opposition was expressed to the drastic action taken by the High School Division at Austin that limited the granting of more than eight credits to unaccredited schools for the year 1935-36. Commendation was expressed for the action, however, as a general plan, and endorsement was given this action for succeeding years.

7. The accredited schools agreed to stand with the unaccredited schools to prevent the rigid enforcement of the ruling as to accrediting for this year, although all schools agreed that the movement should be endorsed for subsequent years.

8. All schools were urged to place in operation a system of permanent records to be kept from year to year.

9. Unaccredited high schools were urged to present to the accredited schools a copy of note book and laboratory experiments showing the amount and quality of laboratory work done.

10. Boards were asked to set aside a minimum of $50.00 each year for laboratory supplies for each high school.

11. The following curriculum was adopted as satisfying the requirements of the accredited schools:

Eighth Grade: English, General Science, Algebra, Early European History, Spanish and (such other subjects as are listed and are taught in the receiving school).

Ninth Grade: English, Algebra (1 unit or 1/2 unit), Business or Commercial Arithmetic (1/2 unit), Modern History, World History (if no history is given in eighth grade), Biology, Spanish.

Harley Sadler Circus Coming to Brownfield

The Harley Sadler Circus, formerly the Bailey Bros. Circus, will be in Brownfield one day only, Oct. 22, for two performances and a street parade at noon. The first performance at 2 P. M., and the last at 8 P. M.

The show is coming under the auspices of the local post, American Legion, and the big three ring show tents will be on the Chris Quatro five acre track, formerly known as the Treadaway tract, in the west part of the city.

The Federal Housing Administration will now loan money to housekeepers who wish to purchase a Frigidaire on time. There is no down payment, and 26 weeks to pay at a low rate of interest. If you are interested we advise you to see Hudgens & Knight, Inc.

Grand Jury Makes Report of Its Work

The State of Texas County of Terry.

In the District Court of Terry County, Texas, August Term, A. D. 1935.

To The Honorable Judge of Said Court:—

We, your Grand Jury, for the above term of said Court, report to you that we have carefully inquired into all matters of law violation brought to our attention, and have returned into open court 22 felony bills of indictment.

We are glad to be able to report that no major crimes have been committed in Terry County since the last term of Court convened here. We find from our investigation that the crimes of theft, burglary, swindling, and forgery are on the increase, or at least there have been more of them during the last year than sometime prior thereto. We attribute a part of this to the fact that times have been hard and the temptation to take property belonging to the other person has been greater than during ordinary times. We are further glad to report that the officers of our County have been diligent in the matter of catching the criminal who violates the laws of the County and State.

We have inspected the Court House and Jail and find that the same is being kept in a clean and sanitary condition.

Feeling that our labors have been concluded, we most respectfully request that we be discharged for the term.

J. M. TELFORD,
Foreman of Grand Jury.

On this the 19th day of September, A. D. 1935, came on to be heard and considered the above report of the Grand Jury, and the same having been duly considered, it is the order of the Court that the same be accepted and be filed in the Minutes of the District Court for Terry County, Texas.

GORDON B. MCGUIRE,
Dist. Judge, 106th Judicial District of Texas.

Jess Mitchell Pleased With Reception Here

Jess Mitchell, of Muleshoe, candidate for State Senate, to fill out the unexpired term of Hon. A. P. Duggan, deceased, was in our city Sunday and Monday, having arrived Sunday afternoon. He filled the pulpit at the Methodist church Sunday night. He was a minister several years, before entering the newspaper and farming business.

Monday morning, B. W. Stinson took Mr. Mitchell in tow, and carried him over the city, meeting county officials, business and professional men, and many farmers on the streets. Mr. Mitchell stated to a reporter that he was going to get a good vote here, which was confirmed by Mr. Stinson. Mitchell left at noon for Lamesa and Big Spring.

Mr. Mitchell has been endorsed by his home people almost 100 per cent, and showed us a slip that was gotten out by his home people stating that they were supporting him almost 100 percent in Bailey county and Muleshoe, which claims 900 votes.

After all is said and done, it is certainly something for people to think about, that when a man stands high in his home town and county, it is a safe bet that he will be a safe man to trust elsewhere.

Brown is Sure Some Muskmelon Raiser

As we passed the Help Your Self Store one day this week, we noted an extra large muskmelon in the window, and went in to inquire about it. Yes, said Mrs. Davis, it is a Terry county product, and the producer not only brought that one in, but a whole wagon load.

It was produced by V. V. Brown on his farm about 4 miles northwest of the city. It weighed 21 pounds, and measured 37 inches around the long way and 33 inches around the belly.

Roy Reeves, who lives northeast of the city four miles, found a pair of glasses for a child last Saturday. They are being held at the Herald office.

And while we are about the matter, we would suggest to those who use free space to promote their institutions, we would be tickled nigh to death to just be able to get on their "paid" matter once in awhile. Come to Terry.

This newspaper is supposed to settle up with its creditors once in awhile hence cannot use indirect advertising that apparently is "news" matter. This applies to insurance companies the same as other private corporations.

Our good west Texan, Walter Cline, has resigned as managing director of the Texas Centennial. They reduced Walter's salary from $25,000 to $15,000, which is a great insult, seemingly. Well, we're in the market for the job at the new low price. We think we can find another man who will run the Herald for 30c a week, just to keep his hand in as an editorial writer.

Owing to whose ox is gored. This old Blue Back spelling book maxim is just as true today as the day, years ago when it was written. One night this week, Sharley Guy, in his Evening Shurnal said that the Texas Centennial should be called the "Dallas Centennial." A few minutes later we picked up the Lamesa Reporter, and Editor Smith tells us that the Panhandle, South Plains Fair should be changed to the "Lubbock Fair." Perhaps Dallas would say Grant's Tomb, the Empire State building and Coney Island should be moved to Dallas. Just owing to whose ox is gored.

A lot of the BIG-INFLUENTIAL editors; those who are muchly quoted for their truths, love to pose as one who "keep the record straight." Just such a man is our good French-Irishman, Editor Peter Mollyneaux, of Texas Weekly. Peter loves to be copied by the lower levels throughout America who take his paper as the journalistic "Hoyle" of the universe. In his latest issue he takes Liberty Magazine to task on how many Presidents Texas had before it joined the Union, then blunders badly itself by telling its readers that the joint reunion of Federal-Confederates will occur in 1936. That will be in 1938, dear Peter, just three-quarters of a century after the battle of Gettysburg if you'll let a poor country editor have a say, and will be held on the battle grounds, if present plans materialize.

Last week we received a Republican paper, the good old standpat variety, from a point in Virginia just across from Washington, and in which there was a long article anent the employment of negroes by the present administration. It would surprise you perhaps, to be informed that some Texas editors copied that shot at the Roosevelt administration, never thinking that from time immemorial this has been practiced to some extent by both Democratic and Republican administrations. Since the Civil War was over, negroes have been declared citizens, and no race, creed or color is supposed to bar one from employment by the governmental bureaus at Washington. No doubt this

UNCHANGING ENGLISH

An English journalist has suggested a "scientific alphabet," containing probably a few more letters or letter-combinations than the present one, which would aid in the process of simplifying English spelling, possibly serving to make it more consistent. The Chicago Tribune recently adopted a simplified form of spelling a score or more of words, but has not attempted to adopt a radical form for all words, like the Literary Digest and a few other publications. One of the spelling reformers, Dr. De Witt C. Croissant of Georgetown University, has condemned the vagaries of "English as she is wrote" as "unhistorical, unscientific, unscholarly, unnatural, unreasonable, and unecnomical." If he could have thought up any other uncomplimentary adjectives, doubtless he would have used them.

Every foreigner who tries to learn our language almost despairs when he finds that although the plural of mouse is mice, the plural of house is not hices, and though the plural of geese is geeses the plural of moose is not meese. "Beauty rhymes with 'duty,'" but "beau" rhymes with "go" and also "dough." "Strangely enough however, 'plough,' 'dough,' 'rough' and 'through' each have a different pronunciation, though with identical endings. What rule makes 'shoe' and 'foe,' 'break' and 'freak,' 'grow' and 'brow' and 'paid' and 'said,' 'heart' and 'dearth,' and such like words take different pronunciations? On the other hand, why are words like 'berry' and 'bury,' 'two' and 'too,' 'hart' and 'heart,' spelled differently but pronounced alike?

The answer is that English is a "melting pot" language. It grew from Greek and Latin, Germanic, Scandinavian, Briton, and later from French, Spanish, East Indian and American Indian roots, retaining the original forms of many of each. Not so with the Teutonic, Scandinavian and Latin languages, with their set forms. Obviously, the job of making over the English language is almost impossible.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"BUSINESS MAN'S VIEW"

In a recent statement written for the Richmond Times-Dispatch, J. Pinckney Harrison, wealthy vice-president of the Universal Leaf Tobacco Company of Richmond, spoke the views of many thoughtful business leaders. He wrote:

"Mr. Roosevelt has fought and continues to fight for the progressive elimination of unemployment, for the saving of thousands of homes from forced sales, for the preservation of maximum hours and minimum wages, for old-age pensions and unemployment insurance, regulation of utility and power companies and other ideas of social justice.

"I honestly believe that if politically tomorrow Roosevelt and his entire administration were swept out of office this is a better and greater country by reason of his policies and experiments. That the bitterest critic of him and his policies, today, consciously or unconsciously, has been made more cognizant of social justice than would have seemed possible only three years ago."

With Mr. Pinckney more and more business men are realizing that security for business in America depends upon such advance as the New Deal has provided between the extremes of radicalism on the one hand and reaction on the other.—Raleigh (N. C.) News & Observer.

CURIOSITY KILLED THE CAT

SPANISH FORK, Utah, Sept. 14.—A curious cat is dead. Arden Christiansen captured a black widow spider and placed it in a small pasteboard box, planning to take it to school next Monday for use in his nature study class.

The family cat spied the box and investigated today. Arden's mother discovered it in the act of eating the spider. A few hours later the cat was dead.

Anyhow, many of the injunctions heretofore granted are being vacated and the government is moving in view of recent AAA amendments, to expedite hearings in other cases.

Some Recent Tragedies of the World

The past few weeks have been attended with a greater number of tragic occurrences than I can recall for any like period of time in many years.

Rogers and Post met a tragic fate a month since in Alaska. A short time afterward the Queen of Belgium met death in Switzerland, as a result of a car wreck. The great storm a few days later along the Florida coast left several hundred dead and unaccounted for. Labor Day added one hundred and ninety-four lives to the list. Of course in the meantime we have had our usual daily accidents of the road, which one authority places at one in every three who travels the highways.

Tragedy is in the air. U. S. Senator Huey Long, who has been in the spot light for several years and has been dictator of Louisiana for almost a decade, met death at the hands of an assassin in the State Capitol at Baton Rouge, La. Every right thinking individual will condemn assassination as a cure for political ills or for that matter any other difficulties that for the moment we are unable to solve satisfactorily. In the majority of instances we simply swap tyrants. The whole people can be depended on to sooner or later do the right thing.

Most of us will deplore the death of our State Senator, Arthur Duggan. His place will not be easily filled. He gave his undivided time to his work, for the betterment of his district, and the people of the state. I sincerely hope that our people will inquire into the character and record of all who offer for his place.

War clouds in Europe and Africa are for the time occupying the front pages of our newspapers and magazines. Italy it seems has not been satisfied since the World War, with the division of the spoils, that is, with various lands taken from the Germans and parceled out to Great Britain and Japan under the designation of mandates, (our own country refusing to take over any countries as Over Lord).

Since the date of the memorable convention of those countries following the Armistice many changes have taken place. Our own country refused to become a member of the League of Nations, and many who joined at that time have since withdrawn. Among them of greater importance Germany and Japan. Each of them have escaped without any of the penalties it is now proposed to apply to Italy, who has or thinks she has, just cause to invade and take a much weaker nation—Abyssinia or as it is more frequently called, Ethiopia.

Ethiopia is a Negro Empire, but among the oldest in the world. Some forty years ago Italy attempted to invade the country but was defeated and driven from the country by the Emperor Menilik.

Since then Italy has looked forward to the time when she could wipe out this stigma of defeat by a handful of negro combatants.

Since the World War Italy has made rapid strides toward a place as one of the first powers of Europe. The present Dictator—Mussolini, was not heard of until after the World War, when he marched on Rome with his Black Shirted followers, and has since then been always in the spot light.

England and France along with others composing the present League of Nations, were very quiet when Japan and Germany withdrew from the League. Sanctions and the assembling of fleets to stop Japan from dismembering China were not even threatened. Germany repudiated her obligations, withdrew from the League, and told them if they didn't like it, to help themselves.

Are treaties just scraps of paper? I think so. No nation has so far regarded a treaty a binding when she felt it was to her interest to repudiate it.

"Upon what meat does this our Caesar (Mussolini) feel, that he is grown so great." Will there be war? Yes, if he (Mussolini) is not given what he wants in Ethiopia. At the close of the World War Italy had some thirty million inhabitants. It has now grown to forty million. Child bearing has almost been forced on her women. Premiums and pensions have been offered for the largest families, when he should have invited Margaret Sanger over to preach birth control.

England has grown very generous to Ethiopia to take over the herculean task of stopping Italy. She isn't singing however that song so popular in 1878 when he thought she would have Russia to fight—

We don't want to fight, but by Jingo if we do,

We've got the ships, we've got the men, we've got the money too. We've fought the Bear before and while we're Britons true,

The Russians (Italians) shall not have Constantinople (Addis Ababa). May some common ground be found on which the world will be spared the horrors of a modern war.

—Aesculapius.

The assassination of Huey Long will not be approved by his reputable enemies, no matter how much they differed with him or feared him. Assassination is not in the American style; it is not considered sportsmanlike even in politics. But assassination of one's political enemies is no further away from the American style than Long's tyranny. His impossible dreams and schemes may be typically American, but Americans are not yet ready for ruthless tyranny.—Ralls Banner.

The above is certainly true. Our nation needs no gunmen to regulate its political system. On the other hand, we are not ready for political bosses that go around with armed gunmen to wreck cameras for reporters, or push young lady reporters off trains. Just as sure as they do, some crank with a 'trigger finger failing' is ready to shoot some too.

HEART DISEASE RANKS FIRST AS A KILLER

"Heart disease ranks first in the list of killers today. During the past thirty years it has been steadily increasing. Few people ever associate impairment of this vital organ with diseased mouth conditions. Yet in a very real manner the health of the heart and its consequent ability to do its work properly can be definitely affected by an unhealthy mouth," states Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer.

"While, of course, there are many other causes for heart impairments than diseased teeth, gums, or tonsils, there certainly is every good reason to establish and maintain daily and periodical prophylactic measures so far as the mouth and teeth are concerned. Not to do so is merely adding another menace to the heart already beset with disease potentialities that seem to be a part of present-day life.

"If the individual will assume his responsibility by consuming a nourishing diet, keeping his mouth clean through daily brushing, and have a regular inspection by his dentist and physician, undoubtedly a fair proportion of heart disease, not to mention many minor ailments, could be eliminated that have their origin in diseased mouth conditions.

"Unlike public health control measures, dental supervision is a highly personal matter. There is no legislation covering the situation, nor is there any enforcement officer to keep one in line. Therefore, common sense and reasonable concern for one's heart should prompt interest in teeth, mouth, and throat.

"As an authority tersely puts it, 'Keep your heart out of your mouth and your mouth germs out of your heart.'"

SON KILLED IN WAR. AGED PARENTS JUST FIND THEY ARE DUE BENEFITS

Mr. and Mrs. John Creaton of 306 East 11th Street, Austin, Texas, learned in late August, 1918, that their only son, Leroy Bates Creaton, had been killed in action at Hill 212 in France. They have been receiving monthly payments from his insurance in recent years, but only Thursday learned they might receive also a federal benefit amounting to $35 a month, simply by applying for it.

Meanwhile life has been hard for the Creatons, who are 80 and 72 years of age. They own their home, but getting along, even for old folks, on a limited insurance income isn't easy.

Wynn Goode, State Service Officer of the American Legion, who has his office on the first floor of the State Land Office Building, Thursday filled out the application which will make life a bit easier for them. Mr. Goode, has been doing this for six years, as State Service Officer, and his predecessors in office have been on the job since 1924.

Any widow or orphan of a World War veteran killed in action or who dies as a result of war injuries or any dependent parent of such a Veteran is entitled to a monthly benefit payment upon making application, Mr. Goode said. Though this fact has been widely advertised, there are yet many like the Creatons of Austin who do not yet know about the service, he said.

C. L. Lincoln and P. R. Cates are forming a combination insurance and real estate business, and will secure an office if possible. Mr. Lincoln will continue to care for the insurance, while Mr. Cates applies himself to the real estate department.

We never hear of Mahatma Gandhi any more. Seems he finally managed to cover himself up.—Dallas Dispatch.

The Young Men of Texas to Be Helped

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 10.—Hopes of 123,000 jobless Texas youths today rested largely upon the efforts of two men.

It is to Lyndon B. Johnson, youth state administrator for the National Youth Administration, and to A. A. (Pat) Bullock, veteran Texas educator recently named education director for Works Progress Administration, that the more than one hundred thousand idle youngsters in this state look for help.

Differentiating between the WPA education division and the NYA, State WPA Administrator H. P. Drought explained that the NYA is located in Austin under Johnson. Bullock is headquartered with another WPA state division heads in San Antonio. Johnson has been commissioned by President Roosevelt to administer to the needs of young Texans. All projects handled by Bullock which involve the helping of people between the ages of 16 and 25 will be correlated with Johnson's office.

Help for college and high school students, jobs on work projects and in private industry, training on apprenticeship basis, and establishment of camps for jobless young women will be works attempted in the correlation of the efforts of the two federal agencies pledged to help America's young folk.

With projects still in the formative stage, Johnson has envisioned a program embracing 10,000 young people being aided through college. 5,000 more receiving help that will enable them to attend high schools. As many as possible of the remaining persons between the ages of 16 and 25 will be placed on work projects and in private employment, Johnson stated.

Applications for college and high school aid must be made to the principal of the desired high school or to the president of the chosen college. Johnson instructed young people seeking educational aid. For work project or private industry jobs, youngsters should apply to the nearest National Re-Employment Service office, he stated.

In addition to the youths who may receive help through the combined efforts of the WPA educational division and the NYA, many jobless school teachers will be benefitted, Johnson predicted.

Freshman colleges in many small towns are planned. Thus a number of young people unable to afford college training may be grouped together and receive instruction from an unemployed teacher selected by the sponsoring college or university. Twin benefits of free college training in their home town for class members and a living wage for the instructor are forecast by this plan, Johnson declared.

Establishment of five training camps for unemployed young women is projected in the state, Johnson said.

TOBACCO GROWERS VOTE FOR "SELFDOM"—RATIO 14-1

In the seventeen tobacco-producing States the growers have voted 173,691 to 12,597 for continuation of the AAA program. Can it be that this majority of fourteen to one was rolled up by farmers who have no more wit or spirit than to make "serfs" of themselves? "Serf" is among the mildest of the terms which political critics of the Agricultural Adjustment Act have applied to those who have availed themselves of its co-operative opportunities and benefits. Every Georgia grower of tobacco or cotton who signed with the Government for acreage control in the interest of a better balanced supply and demand has sold his birthright and put himself in Federal chains, if we are to believe half of what those critics aver. Yet curiously enough, the growers continue to sign—and to prosper. Maybe they are better judges of their rights and interests than are the uneasy politicians.—Atlanta Journal.

When rain fell on the first day of September many wise weather prophets confidently assured all who would listen to them that there would be fifteen consecutive days of rain. Their predictions were unusually accurate for this country—there were nine days' rain, better than 50%, and in this section that is a good average for telling the truth as well as for forecasting weather.—Jayton Chronicle.

Yes, weather in west Texas is one thing that fears no command; it does not bend to suggestion or entreaty; it has no boss, no prophet or prognosticator. It is its own king, emperor, czar and mikado. It bows to no potentate; it will regard the hopes and aspirations of the ragged beggar just as soon as the czar of finances, and it doesn't give a tinker's dam what any of them say about it. About the best way to get along with west Texas weather is to disregard its peculiarities, and that is some job when a farmer is minding his leaf worms.

"QUICK TO LOOK BACK"

Of course, the necessity of most of the New Deal legislation is questioned by business conservatives now that recovery seems well under way. Their memories are conveniently short and they scarcely recall the dire emergency when they and all others were calling for help early in 1933.

Those who are so quick to look back upon the wonderful progress which the country has made in 150 years and attribute it all to individual initiative and "rugged individualism" fail to allow for the additional results which would have flowed from stricter control of fraudulent practices and disregard of public welfare. The advance of scientific production might have been hastened, credit machinery improved, labor relations smoothed and distribution raised to more efficient levels.—New York Times.

"Place any man behind a government desk and give him a few million dollars of government money to spend and he is likely to develop the fixation that any one who does not approve of the way he does his job is a public enemy."—Tyler Dennett, president Williams College.

Russian Wheat to Be Tried in Panhandle

DALHART, Texas, Sept. 12.—A Russian perennial wheat variety, produced by Soviet scientists to grow over a period of six years without replanting, is to be introduced into this section by J. D. Amend, young Sherman County wheat grower. He is a graduate of Texas A. & M. College and has been raising wheat in the Texas Panhandle for a number of years.

"The wheat is adapted to northern climates," said Mr. Amend, "and I am considering experimenting with it. I understand the variety is the result of cross-breeding of an old Russian variety with hardy native Siberian grasses whose roots remain alive during the coldest winters. The wheat makes a new top growth each season from the original roots."

Mr. Amend explained that such a wheat would lower cost of raising wheat greatly as seeding each season alone costs from 30c to 50c an acre, exclusive of cost of seed, which at present values would double the top figure.

FAILURES IN AUGUST INCREASED OVER 1934

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 20.—Commercial failures in Texas during August increased substantially in number over both the previous month and the corresponding month last year, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Total liabilities of the banks in firms were below those of the previous month but decidedly above those of August last year. Failures averaged seven per week, an increase of 40 per cent over the previous month and 75 per cent over the like period last year. Average liability per failure was $20,655, down 26 per cent from the previous month but 75 per cent above August, 1934.

Depressed classes will cause "war of escape," Pearl Buck says.

Texas Shrubs, Trees On Centennial Grounds

DALLAS, Texas, Sept. 22.—More than one hundred varieties of native Texas trees will be planted in October to form the background of the $200,000 landscaping plan of the Texas Centennial Exposition.

Sections of the Exposition grounds will be devoted to flora typical of the various parts of the state. A pine grove will shade masses of wild flowers representative of East Texas. The cactus, in its numerous varieties, will typify the West. Palms and oleanders will recall the Gulf Coast and its sandy beaches while the Rio Grande section will be brilliant with the tropical colors of hibiscus and bougainvillea.

The crepe myrtle will be planted by the thousands throughout the grounds and its brilliant pink and red will dominate the color scheme. It blooms from June, when the Exposition opens until Autumn.

The blue bonnet, state flower of Texas, will have blossomed and gone to seed before the Exposition starts. Its place will be taken by the rose and thousands, including the newly developed Texas Centennial Rose, will be planted.

NEW CHARTERS IN TEXAS SHOW DECREASE

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 20.—Charters granted in Texas during August totaled 131, a decrease of 14.4 per cent from the previous month but a gain of 10 per cent over the like month last year, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research pointed out in its monthly report on Texas charters. Total capitalization, $1,520,000, was down 51 per cent and 31 per cent respectively from the previous month and the corresponding month last year. Of the various classes the transportation group was the only one to show an increase for the two comparable periods.

CANDIDATE FOR

State Senator

(30th Senatorial District)

Special Election—Sept. 28 1935.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT SAYS:—

"Life insurance should be considered not as an expense, but as savings. It should be the first factor in any program of investment. It should be the last to be let go. In hard times, it is especially important, and we should make every effort to keep our old life insurance in force."

"No matter who he may be nor how he may be related to organized society, every normal individual has had thrust upon him certain social obligations. Certain expectations on the part of his fellows have been formulated in advance of his entry; and all that is, in its final analysis, an effort to meet these expectations and fulfill those social obligations. Life insurance enables him to do that to the fullest and with the greatest ease and certainty."

"WHY DIDN'T THEY REJOICE?"

Said Col. Frank Knox in his Los Angeles speech:

"I charge the President and his advisers with deliberately promoting enactment of a group of laws which they have every reason to believe will be declared unconstitutional when they reach the Supreme Court."

"I charge them with doing so for the deliberate purpose of undermining the power and prestige of the Supreme Court, and of precipitating attacks upon it in the hope its unique power to pass on the constitutionality of laws will be destroyed!"

"If this were true, why did the Republicans seek to dissuade Congress from passing the coal miners' bill; the banking bill, the revised AAA bill; why make such a desperate effort to kill the utility holding company bill and others? Why are they now angry at the prospect of President Roosevelt's defeat?"

LIVE ABROAD

Not counting tourists, the State Department estimates that nearly a half million Americans are living in foreign countries. Europe has 103,241, Canada and Newfoundland 222,920, South America 10,969, Mexico and Central America 19,437, Asia 29,067 and Ethiopia 130.

111,500 FARMERS

The AAA employs 11,500 farmers to assist in the major crop adjustment programs. Approximately this includes 10,000 farmer members of wheat committees, 75,000 members of corn-hog committees, 25,000 cotton committeemen and 1,500 tobacco committeemen. They are paid on a daily basis with compensation ranging from $3 to $4 per day. The committeemen are selected by the farmers and do the work upon which benefit payments are based.

UP TO STATES

If unemployment insurance is to be really successful in this country some forty-one states will have to enact laws setting up the system. The Federal Government levies a tax to operate them, and only states which have plans to qualify will receive benefits.

NATIONAL DEBT

The national debt today is about six billion dollars greater than in 1922, but the total interest paid by the government is less. This is caused by lower interest rates secured through refunding operations.

STUDENT AID

DEATH RATE UP

The American death rate, in 1934, showed an advance for the first time since 1928. The rate was 1,104.9 per 100,000 as compared with 1,067.8 in 1933. Total deaths were 1,396,903, the largest number in the nation's history.

Judge W. W. Price, Brownfield, Texas.

Dear Brother Price:

Will you please hand the inclosed resolutions to your home paper for publication.

I personally hate to see Brother Hale lost to our Association, but since he is going my prayer for your church is, that you might get the man that can and will lead you as our Master would have you led.

Yours very truly,
Jno. Heck.

Whereas: We have had occasion to observe the work of our good friend and christian brother, Rev. J. Matt Hale, and

Having been blessed by his good services as Moderator of the Brownfield Baptist Association, which service was rendered with fine, courteous and gentlemanly consideration, and

Having used him in other posts of duty calculated to improve spiritual, social and civic conditions in our Association.

Therefore be it resolved that we, the Executive Board of the Brownfield Baptist Association representing more than three thousand Baptists voice the following resolutions.

this capable man of God.

Done by order of the Executive Board of the Brownfield Baptist Association, September 12th, 1935.

Chairman of the Board.

TEA FOR STATE PRESIDENT

With a luncheon on Monday Sept. 23rd at the home of Mrs. M. E. Jacobson, the Maids and Matrons Club honored the President of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Volney W. Taylor of Brownsville, together with the District President, Mrs. W. F. Avriett of Lamesa.

The club members met at 10 o'clock at the Methodist church for the following program:

Greeting—Vice-President—Mrs. W. H. Dallas.

Vocal Solo—Mrs. Joe J. McGowan. Xylophone Selections—Miss Gertrude Rasco.

The New Year's Objectives—Mrs. Avriett.

Piano Solo—Mrs. Dallas.

Growth and the State Convention—Mrs. Taylor.

In her talk Mrs. Taylor listed some of the important features on the program for the State Convention at Austin, Nov. 11-15. Some of the speakers are to be: Gov. Allred, Dr. J. A. Hill, Pres. of West Texas State Teachers College, Dr. Bradford Knapp, Pres. of Texas Technological College, Pat M. Neff, Pres. of Baylor University, Atty. General McCraw, Dr. Hubbard, Pres. of C. I. A., Denton; Mrs. Jesse Daniel Ames of Atlanta, Ga., Executive Director Assn. of Southern Women for Prevention of Lynching; Anna Steese Richardson, director of the Citizenship Bureau of the Woman's Home Companion, and Mr. Leon Haldeman, University of Houston. The First Lady of Texas, Mrs. James V. Allred will open the Mansion for a tea on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 13th to the visitors attending the convention.

Mrs. Taylor also especially invited Mrs. Dallas to be present at the Convention and to play the same piano number that she had played on this program, on the program the first evening of the convention. The selection Mrs. Dallas played was Fantasia Brilliante Opus 30 by Sidney Smith.

After the program a three course luncheon was served to thirty-five members and guests in the Jacobson home.

At the luncheon hour Mrs. L. M. Wingerd presented a gift from the club to each out-of-town guest. The gifts were lovely corsages.

The members of El Progreso Club were also guests.

The Maids and Matrons Social Committee composed of Mrs. McGowan, Mrs. H. M. Pyeatt, Mrs. J. H. Dallas, Mrs. R. E. Self and Mrs. G. Daugherty, assisted the hostess in arranging and preparing the luncheon.

PROTECTING THE LITTLE MAN

It is good business to plan production so that the greatest possible quantity of oil may be drawn from the least possible number of wells, and good economics to avoid over-production by cutting out unnecessary drilling; but if these things can be done only to the exclusion of the little fellow from the field and to the advantage of the big fellow, they are wrong and should not be countenanced by the State government.

This was the position taken Monday by Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the State railroad commission, when he declared:

"We realize our activities are circumscribed, but we are not going to stand for any 'share the wealth' plan which would give the property of the little man to monopolistic interests. This commission does not believe that the legislature, the laws or the courts meant to drive the little man from business."

Colonel Thompson made this statement in reply to contentions by representatives of major oil interests, that the railroad commission should consider acreage as a basis of allocating production of oil in East Texas. Protraction on the acreage basis would restrict drilling to so many barrels per acre. It would favor the large operators with extensive tracts, permitting them to develop their holdings leisurely by producing more oil from fewer wells. But the effect upon those producing from small tracts is obvious. Those who argued for acreage-basis allocations admitted that marginal wells and those on very small tracts would suffer from such a system; and opponents of the acreage proposal declared that it would put hundreds of wells out of business, halt drilling and throw many men out of work.

Acreage-basis advocates asserted that the supreme court has held that the commission must consider acreage; but one is inclined to give the commission credit for knowing its ground when Chairman Thompson says: "The commission certainly is going to follow the statutes religiously and the mandate of the court."

Chairman Thompson is to be commended for his efforts to protect the rights of the little fellow.—Houston Post.

The Autos Kill 1500 Texans Annually

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 23.—Comparatively few people seriously realize the automobile's deadly power, but, according to Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer, over 1500 Texans are killed each year by autos. Very logically considered as a major recreational and useful mechanism, its ability prematurely to maim and kill makes little impression upon most of us. In fact, the daily list of casualties in the papers indicated indifference to the situation. Nevertheless, as a menace to life and limb the automobile unfortunately represents a real hazard.

In addition to its pleasure and utility factors, the motor-car has its devastating side also. Decidedly this fact should not be overlooked. And in this connection education alone can be relied upon to bring results. There is no serum, no drug, no quarantine procedure, nor any effective mass control against the automobile's damaging power. Automobile accidents caused more deaths in Texas last year than the combined deaths from typhoid fever, smallpox, measles, diphtheria, scarlet fever, whooping cough, and infantile paralysis.

Whether human nature can be sufficiently bridled by public opinion as to result in more careful driving and more cautious walking remains to be proved. But the fact is that a major health and life problem is involved in the present circumstance.

Safe water, clean milk, disease control, slum clearance, sanatoria, and indeed modern medicine and surgery are all of small avail to the speed-maniac who kills himself and others. Medical science also is equally powerless to save pedestrians who are knocked down by the careless driver, or who carelessly connect with careful drivers.

Citizens generally could well seriously consider this ever increasing challenge to life and death. Upon them rests much of the obligation definitely to reduce the ever increasing casualties.

REPAYING FEDERAL LOANS

Statistics on repayment of Government loans to date have been reassuring. This statement includes everything from RFC loans to big banks and insurance companies to the HOLC loans to struggling home owners. There have been some defaults, but on a percentage basis they have not amounted to enough to cause worry. However, it must be concluded that statistics to date reveal primarily the tendency among those who can, and will, to be prompt in meeting obligations. Possibly all of the borrowers will finally be found in this class. If not, the other kind will be revealed in the later showing in the percentage columns.

Jesse H. Jones was quoted recently in the Christian Science Monitor as stating that "there appears to be a difference between getting money from the Government and paying it back." His reference was directly to a loan of $95,000,000 to the Central Republic Bank and Trust Company of Chicago. Charles G. Dawes, first chairman of RFC, and an official of this bank, has paid his share in full, but some of the other stockholders apparently are not so co-operative. For one thing attorneys for the bank have attacked the validity of the stockholders' double liability.

It is nothing more than common sense to assume that the Government will have increasing difficulty in collecting as it gets down to the more difficult cases, and nothing other than common sense is needed to dictate a course of absolute impartiality in pressing collections. Those in deeper distress, of course, must be given extensions, but if the hand of politics enters into the collection policy, or if the Government lets the opinion get abroad that there will come a time for general default on these obligations, then the national budget will be confronted with a first-class catastrophe. It has been said recently that Mr. Jones' job with RFC is about finished. It is going to be someone's job for a long term yet to impress on borrowers of Government funds that "paying back" is not a "different thing" form borrowing Government money.—Dallas News.

Quezon Wins Easily in Phillipine Election

MANILA, P. I., Sept. 18.—Dapper and eloquent little Manuel Quezon will be the first President of the new Philippine Commonwealth, election returns indicated conclusively Wednesday.

Quezon, president of the Senate and a powerful political figure for two decades, far outdistanced Gen. Emilio Aguinaldo, leader of the insurrection against the United States, and Bishop Gregorio Aglipay in Tuesday's balloting.

Incomplete returns from thirty-two of fifty provinces and other administrative divisions, including Manila complete, gave Quezon 121,502 votes, Aguinaldo 43,818 and Aglipay 18,426.

Violence marred the election in some sections following reported threats to assassinate Quezon and kill election officers. Two men were slain in fighting at Santa Barbara, Province of Pangasinan. Two others were reported dead at San Jose in Antioe Province.

CHEVROLET AGAIN WINS CHOICE SHOW SPACE

For the ninth consecutive time, first choice of exhibits space at the National Automobile Shows in New York and Chicago—awarded each year by the Automobile Manufacturer's Association to the automobile manufacturer with the highest dollar volume sales—goes to the Chevrolet Motor Co.

While the Show was held under the management of the N. A. C. C., the custom of allotting first selection of space to the sales leader was followed for many years, as being the fairest method of awarding this coveted honor.

Last year, when the Automobile Manufacturer's Association, successor to the N. A. C. C., turned the Show management over to the New York Automotive Merchants' Association, the latter organization adopted the same method. With the exhibit again sponsored by the manufacturers the same system is being followed and Chevrolet, as in all years since 1927, will occupy the choice position on the main floor of Grand Central Palace in New York, and at the Show in Chicago.

GENERAL MACARTHUR HEADS FILIPINO ARMY

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 18.—Evidencing this Government's concern in the future independence of the Philippine Islands, President Roosevelt Wednesday detailed Gen. Douglas MacArthur as adviser on national defense to President-Elect Manuel Quezon.

The present chief of staff of the United States accepted the post, because of personal conviction that the future security and independence of the Philippines is vital to American interests in the Pacific and to maintenance of peace in the Far East.

Farmers Billed For Fraud in Loan Cases

Eight Lynn, Terry and Jones County farmers were indicted on the charge of making false applications to the Farm Credit Administration for livestock feed loans and for alleged fraud in obtaining the loans by the Dallas Federal grand jury Wednesday.

The indictments were returned both for the Lubbock and Abilene divisions of the Northern District and the cases will be tried in United States District Courts at those places.

TEXAS AND WINES

California Winemakers, interested in the regulation which Texas will set up for controlling the legal sale of liquor, ask the Legislature to make a sharper distinction between wines and liquors of greater alcoholic content. They point out that public temperance can be encouraged by substitution of light liquors for heavy and that this can be promoted by lighter taxes on this class of liquors which will keep the price low.

Texas has already recognized the practical value of this device through its action in legalizing the sale of light wines and beer some two years before it legalized the sale of hard liquor. So far as the "light wines" previously legalized are concerned, they have had little influence in Texas, because the 3.2 per cent limit imposed upon such beverages along with beer resulted in a wine which did not appeal to the public. Now that the permissible alcoholic content has been raised by the repeal amendment, it is possible for Texans to enjoy legally-sold wines having the full body of natural fermentation.

Texas might do well to accede to the petition of the California grape growers and winemakers. If it is granted that so much liquor will be consumed in the State, public temperance will be the greater as the ratio of light beverages in the total is greater. Some States, even Georgia and North Carolina, which have turned down repeal as applied to heavier liquors, have legalized the sale of light, natural wines, classifying them as food and permitting them to be sold by any dealer without license or tax.

Texas has another reason for encouraging the consumption of natural wines at the expense of heavier liquors. This State does not now possess a considerable wine-grape industry, but there is no reason why it should not have. Grapes will grow in Texas as readily as in California, or elsewhere, and Texas farmers would be quick to take advantage of the home market which would be afforded by a flourishing wine industry.—Star-Telegram.

TEXAS FARMERS REACH BIG MONEY MARKETS

HOUSTON, Texas, Sept. 26.—By pooling credit resources farmers and ranchers of Texas are obtaining production loans at the lowest cost in history, stated George M. Brennan, Intermediate Credit Bank Commissioner, who arrived here from Washington, D. C., last evening to attend the conference of the presidents of the twelve banks comprising the intermediate credit system—a part of the Farm Credit Administration.

Nearly $26,000,000 is now in the hands of farmers and ranchers as a result of the Houston Federal Intermediate Credit Bank's rediscounting their notes for local lending institutions such as credit associations, corporations and banks.

"The bank at Houston, serving only the state of Texas," he said, "ranks high in the list of the twelve credit banks from the standpoint of volume of loans and discounts outstanding."

OUR 23 YEAR COLUMN

Quoting from our issue of Sept. 27, 1912: Many were remodeling and beautifying their homes. The Misses Powells were giving a bridal shower to Miss Ruby Bynum, who was to wed John Hays the Sunday following. Dr. Lively's article that week told about Sam Houston crying twice, although one of the bravest of the brave. Once was when his wife, Sallie, quit him when he was governor of Tennessee. He resigned and came to Texas, saved the day at San Jacinto. He cried again when Texas voted to quit the Union, and join the Southern Confederacy. Uncle Joe Bryant brought us in a melon that weighed 60 pounds. It had been named "Jack" when a little fellow, and "Jack" got it when it was ripe. W. K. Dickinson was down from Lubbock looking at the Sawyer steers. J. O. Jones, Harry Braidfoot and J. C. Patterson, all prominent ranchmen from the Loop section, were in town. J. F. Winston had informed us that Terry county crops had the Campbell Scientific dry farming crops near Plainview beat badly, and that our corn was better than irrigated corn in the Hereford section.

John E. Gracey had arrived from Dallas county, and was preparing to build a home on his farm. J. C. Green went to Lubbock after freight. Grandma Daugherty was visiting in Sweetwater. Jack Bryan was the owner of a new Chalmers. "East Lynn" was being staged at the school house. A son had been born to Mr. and Mrs. Will Mathis. Mrs. J. E. Garland was here from Lamesa visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Bynum. Mrs. W. B. Downing of Lubbock, was visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. May. The Terry county fair was all the talk. Sam Bigger was over from Plains. A Mr. Hall, prominent Hobart, Okla., man, was a visitor. Arch McPhaul was down with appendicitis at the hotel. Mrs. V. H. Trammell was visiting relatives at Floydada. J. W. Harper and family had moved here from Lubbock. Dock Powell and Will Adams had returned from a trip to New Mexico. Dr. Innon was practicing here in the absence of Dr. Ellis. The Plains Commercial Club had written the one here to help them try and get all school land reduced to $1.50 per acre. Gomez Dots: Mrs. A. D. Jameson was reported recovering from a long illness. Roy Rhodes and L. Townsend's families from Plains, had moved in for school purposes. Winter goods were arriving at the Merc. Co. Mrs. L. T. Brooks had gone to Seminole with part of her stock of millinery. J. J. Whitley had left to attend the bedside of his father, at Gorman. Mrs. Onie Maude Taylor had returned from a visit to Plainview. Prayer meeting at the churches were being well attended. All for this week.

OUTSTANDING AMERICAN DEMOCRACY

The life insurance industry provides possible illustration of the thrift and foresight of the American people. Every dollar of the billions invested in life insurance policies means that someone has saved, has worked, and has done what he could to set up a defense against the exigencies of the future. Every time a premium is paid or a new policy sold, it means that dependents are being protected against the unexpected death of the wage-earner, or that the wage-earner himself is setting in motion machinery whereby he will be assured of an independent, comfortable old age. This is typically American achievement. It is not by an accident that the average American possesses many times as much life insurance as the citizens of other countries. American individualism, our ancient heritage, creates an instinctive desire to provide for one's own financial future through one's own efforts. Few of our citizens wish to be wards of charity or government—they want to attain old age comfort and leisure for themselves. And millions of them are doing that through life insurance, the most democratic of institutions.

Europe Shipping Much Gold to United State

PARIS, Sept. 21.—The S. S. Europa was sailing today for the United States with 18 tons of gold, valued at more than $23,000,000. The shipment, part of the strong gold flow from Europe to America as the result of uncertainty over international developments, is the largest in years. The ship was loading $10,000,000 of gold in Southampton and more than $13,000,000 in Cherbourg.

51,200 CORPSES

In the eighteen months that ended June 30, 1935, 51,200 persons met death in motor crashes in this country. More than 1,300,000 were injured.

The bare statistics, though provoking as they are, cannot give an adequate picture of the horror of major automobile accidents. Figures cannot express broken bones—mangled bodies—crushed skulls—obliterated features—decapitated bodies—and all the rest of the results of fatal motor crashes. Nor can figures picture the tragedy of parentless children and broken-hearted dependents of the victims of recklessly driven cars.

In a recent article in Readers' Digest, F. C. Furness wrote: "A first-class massacre is only a question of scale and numbers—seven corpses are no leader than one. Each shattered man, woman or child who went to make up the 36,000 corpses checked up last year had to die a personal death."

That is worth thinking about next time you take the wheel of your car. Driving at excessive speeds may, if you get away with it, save you ten minutes in a fifty-mile run. If you don't get away with it, it may mean your death, or the death of an innocent party. Passing on hills and curves, weaving through thick traffic and taking other chances may save you a minute or two more—or it may mean a crushed body on the pavement, its bones twisted and broken, its eyes staring and sightless.

It's up to you—to everyone who drives a car. Is recklessness worth its horrible cost?

BIRDS FEED BLIND SPARROW

Philadelphia.—Observing birds on his lawn feeding a full-grown sparrow, Captain John Rozansky investigated. The birds flew away and the sparrow landed in a tree after hitting a wall. The next day, aroused by twittering in the tree, he climbed and captured the sparrow. It had no eyes.

Near Million People Now On WPA Rolls

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—An official count showed today that 936,218 persons are on the work relief payrolls.

The goal set by Harry L. Hopkins, works progress administrator, is to put 3,500,000 to work by November 1. To do that, officials will have to find jobs for 63,000 each day.

More than half of those now at work are in civilian conservation corps camps and 35 per cent of the remainder are at work in New York City.

Hopkins closed 55 transient camps and shelters to new transients last night in the face of protests from city officials, welfare and civic organizations.

Future Farmers to Attend Centennial

DALLAS, Texas, Sept. 10.—Ten thousand Texas farm boys, members of the Future Farmers of America, will stage the most comprehensive junior farm exhibition in the history of the Southwest at the Texas Centennial Exposition next year.

The 435 chapters of the Future Farmers in Texas are already organizing for a seven day special show under direction of Paul G. Haynes of Austin, State Director of Vocational Agriculture. County and sectional shows to select the best products for the Dallas Exposition will be held.

Dairy and beef cattle horses and mules, sheep goats and swine, all pedigreed animals raised by the junior farmers, will constitute the livestock exhibit. Scientific feeding of livestock will be demonstrated. The agricultural show will display the results of scientific farming. There will be milking contests in the dairy department and egg laying competitions in the poultry section.

The farm boys will converge on Dallas in special trains, buses and automobiles. They will be housed in dormitories built for their benefit. A two hundred piece band, composed of young farmers, will provide music.

Future Farmers Week at the Exposition, which opens June 6, has been tentatively set from November 21 to 28. It will be one of the closing features of the $15,000,000 show.

PROMINENT TERRYITE PASSES

The passing of M. L. (Luther) French, 14 miles southeast of town had been expected for some time, but that did not hinder the fact that it was a distinct shock, and caused a wave of sadness over the entire county, as well adjoining counties, when it was announced that he had passed from this earth at 11:40, Monday. He with his parents and other members of the family were pioneer settlers in

Terry, and had always stood for the best interests and moral betterment of our people.

For several months, Luther had been a patient sufferer. Several months ago, surgeons at Temple made an incision in his abdomen only to find that dreaded of most things, cancer. Radium was resorted to at Temple and Lubbock, and seemed to work for a time, but this insidious disease had made its deep enroads. The body was laid to rest in the family plot at Pride, beside that of his father, the late W. J. French, following funeral services conducted by Rev. Mont Robinson, Cumberland Presbyterian minister, the church to which Luther adhered.

While Luther was brought up on the farm, he became a bookkeeper early in life, and was regarded as one of the swiftest and most accurate in Texas. He spent several years beginning about 1910 with the Brownfield State Bank here, later going to Dallas where he was employed by both the City National and the American Exchange National before they were consolidated. Wherever he worked, he gave good satisfaction, and was fully trusted by his employers.

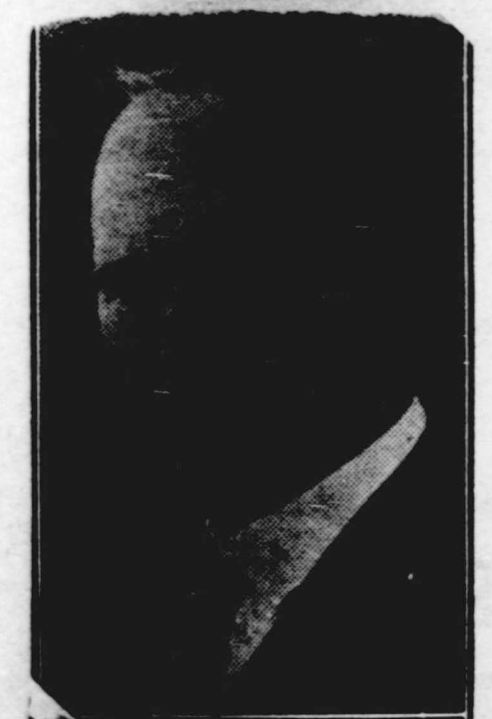

He leaves an aged mother and two sisters, Mrs. J. H. Barron of Lamesa, and Mrs. I. A. Lowe of this county, two brothers, Henry of this county, and Bert of Deming, N. M., and hundreds of close friends, especially among the old timers to mourn his passing.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD
School's Ahead. Snapshot When You Go.

In later years, when you are an alumnus, you will get your greatest enjoyment as you look back over the pictures you snapped at school.

WITH the opening of schools a new season arrives for snapshotting and what a paradise for the boy or girl who owns a camera.

Whether you go to a little country school with one room or a great university your opportunity for snapshotting is unlimited, providing you use your eyes and the proper amount of good judgment. Just as a newspaper reporter develops a "nose for news" just so you should develop an "eye for snapshots."

There are, of course, the obvious shots of the school building or buildings, as the case may be, and you will want them; but what about pictures of new classmates, teachers, old friends, baseball and football practice, the basketball team leaving for a game out of town and many other interesting story-telling pictures?

It doesn't make any difference what kind of a camera you have you can take pictures under certain conditions with a dollar box camera that, for record purposes, are about as good as those made with an expensive folding model.

Did you ever think of taking action pictures with a box camera? It can be done. Suppose you are sitting in the grandstand watching an exciting football or baseball game. You anticipate an exciting play—full of action. If the light is good and you are two hundred or more feet from the scene of action you will get your picture. At that distance, of course, your images will be small but an enlargement of the point of interest in the snapshot will give you a picture you will be proud to show to your friends.

When taking action pictures with a box camera don't snap the picture while the subject is whizzing directly across your line of vision. Always shoot at an angle of approximately 45 degrees.

For those who are not familiar with diaphragm openings and shutter speeds let me explain that a box camera opened to its largest "stop," or lens opening, is comparable to approximately f.11 on a folding camera and the shutter works at approximately 1/25 of a second.

If you are fortunate enough to own a camera with a fast lens and shutter, that is a different story. Suppose, for instance, that your camera has an f.6.3 or f.4.5 lens with shutter speeds up to 1/300 of a second. You are a fortunate person for you can get much closer to the scene of action. Open the diaphragm to its largest aperture, set your shutter speed at 1/100, 1/200 or 1/300, depending on the speed of the action and fire away.

In school you study and experiment to gain knowledge of your subject. The same system applies to snapshotting. Study your camera and experiment and you will find it will pay you profitable dividends in interesting, story-telling pictures that you will enjoy looking at for years to come.
