

The History of Uni-cameral Legislation

ARTICLE IV.
Cost of Legislation

The 39th. Legislature cost the people of Texas $312,747.08; the 40th cost $347,216.86; the 41st $795,635.00; the 42nd $1,089,380.75; the 43rd $1,109,472.54. Thus you can see that the actual expenses of operating your Legislature is mounting from year to year. The average cost for each man of the 181 members of the 42nd Legislature for stenographers and clerks was $956.75; for office assistants $376.00; for Sargent-at-Arms $207.00; and for that of pages and messengers $201.00. The average cost for janitors and maids was $115.00; for postage $120.00, and for telephone and telegraph $187.00; for stationery, printing and mimeographing and office supplies $630.00.

I give you the above figures to let you know that you cannot keep men in your Legislature without it costing you an enormous sum and that the more you have there, the more the cost. Still, the actual cost in dollars and cents for the operation of your Legislature is not the propelling motive for my adherence to the one house system. In fact, from saving on supplies, salaries and such like, the greatest saving will not come.

The greatest saving will come because of the abolition of the free conference committee. Likewise because of the abolition of such committee laws will be passed which will comport with the wishes of the people. Let me give you three examples.

During the 44th. Legislature at the first called session the question of passing a law in compliance with the expressed will of the people on the liquor question arose. A Bill passed the Senate of Texas which included the definition of a Saloon such as would prohibit liquor being sold in Texas by the drink. A majority of the Representatives of the people of this State in the Senate voted for such a Bill. Likewise, a majority of the Representatives in the house voted that same Bill. Immediately following the passage by both houses of a bill containing this definition, it having in it certain other differences necessary to adjustment, a free conference committee was appointed by the Speaker of the house composed of three wets and two dries and on the part of the Senate five wets. Not surprisingly, in due course, such committee reported to each of the houses a Bill of their own liking, with a definition therein of the open saloon which would permit liquor to be sold anywhere in Texas by the drink. It, therefore, became necessary for the very ones in both houses who had supported the Bill originally, to vote against it and kill such free conference Bill at the closing hours of the Legislature, with the result that thousands of dollars had been spent without the passage of any legislation. Forty days later that Bill in almost its exact state was passed and became a law. The least estimated revenue that such a Bill would bring was $10,000.00 per day. It can therefore be seen that this one free conference committee on one piece of legislation cost the people of this State over $400,000.00. It is not a question of whether you or I are against this liquor Bill as it is written. This example is given to show you what a free conference committee can do with reference to any piece of legislation.

In the 43rd. Legislature at the regular session you will recall that there was much agitation over the paramutual race track gambling law. A majority of both the Senate and the house, acting as the representatives of the people of this State voted against such law. You will likewise recall that it was thought that no major appropriation Bill would be passed at that session. Those who were in favor of race track gambling were the ones responsible for the appropriation Bill the last thing to be determined on the calendar. When the time for the closing for that regular session drew close at hand, the appropriation Bill in different forms, passed both the House and the Senate. Five conferences were appointed by the Lieutenant Governor, a majority of whom were in favor of race track gambling in Texas, to serve on a free conference committee on the appropriation Bill. Likewise the Speaker of the House of Representatives appointed five conferences, a majority of whom were in favor of the paramutual system on this appropriation free conference committee.

No one was surprised when that committee, composed of ten men, laid in the laps of the Senate and House of Representatives an appropriation Bill with a rider attached thereto which permitted the race track gambling law we have in Texas today. The members of the House and of the Senate were compelled by such action to vote for race track gambling in order to get one dollar for the deaf, the dumb the blind or any other institution of the State of Texas, including the common schools, the universities and the courts of Texas.

Thus, we have race track gambling in Texas today, not as a result of a mandate of the people, nor as a result of the wishes of a majority of the Representatives of the people in the Legislature, but because of the arbitrary power which lay in the hands of a free conference committee, the Speaker of the House and the Lieutenant Governor.

The people gave to the Legislature a mandate to pass a Pension law in this session and provide revenue therefor. This matter came before the Legislature at its first and second called session. There were those in the Legislature who were in favor of a sales tax as well as those who were opposed to such method of taxation. You will recall that the omnibus tax bill to support the pension law came from the House of Representatives. This Bill, in the main, was sponsored by those who were in favor of the sales tax. The Bill passed the House of Representatives without a sales tax being included therein, the sponsor of such Bill knowing full well that the sales tax would be tacked on when it got to the Senate, thus creating difference in the two Bills as they might pass their Representative houses.

Such action, in due course, took place in the Senate. The Bill was then referred to the House of Representatives for concurrence which was refused thus sending the Bill to a free conference committee. The sponsors of the omnibus tax bill, being those who were favorable to the sales tax, joined hands with the opponents of the sales tax and instructed the conferences on the part of the House not to bring any Bill back to them which included in it any form of sales tax.

It can be seen that such action created a deadlock in the free conference committee, resulting in no revenue for the payment of the Old Age Pension.—Sen. G. H. Nelson.

EDITOR BEATS STORK

Most editors print the news as soon as it happens, but W. W. (Billy) Barksdale, Jr., of the Clarksville (Tenn.) Star, might well advertise that his paper prints it BEFORE it happens. As witness this letter which he published in a recent issue of his paper under the head of "Editor Beats Stork to the Draw—Maybe."

I am told that your paper, the Star, last week announced that twin sons were born at my house.

This news was interesting, but surprising to my wife and me. Naturally we try to keep up with the goings on around our house, and are at a loss to understand how an event of such personal importance could have escaped our attention.

Pepped up by the representation in your paper, we have hung out the Welcome sign. But we would like to know the names of the youngsters and any other information about them that might be in your possession.—A. V. G.

THE PART THAT WOMEN PLAY

If you read only certain parts of the newspaper in which you are especially interested and your wife is like other women, she is wiser than you. She reads the shopping news.

She likes to hear you jingle money in your pockets. She likes to stretch money to the limit, so she won't have to ask for more. She likes to shop strategically. Knows what she does.

Comfortably at home in a cushioned arm chair, she scans the advertising columns. She compares, judges, and selects the goods she desires; maps her shopping route; with the least effort and the minimum of time, goes direct to the stores she planned to visit and buys.

She obtains what she wants at the lowest prices at which it is offered. She is certain of full satisfaction, for she knows advertised goods live up to their claims. She saves time and steps and returns sufficiently alert to prepare you an appetizing dinner.

These advertisements are written for your benefit, too. Read them in this paper. Help her help you save.—Rochester Reporter.

THE CHURCH AND THE TOWNSEND PLAN

(Published by Request)

Editor Star-Telegram: What relation has the church to the Townsend plan?

1. All the churches I know anything about are in debt; and Saul says, "Owe no man." The Townsend recovery plan would enable the churches to keep St. Paul's commandment.

2. The churches pay pensions to preachers and their wives who are too old to preach. The Townsend plan would relieve this situation and these people would become an asset to the church instead of a liability.

3. Many people stay away from church on account of not being financially able to help with the burden of debt and charity work required. If the Townsend plan were in operation all the old people, even from lodge homes and poor houses, would flock to the churches and feel free and easy, because they could worship the Lord with their money as well as in spirit and in truth. An the younger people, with good jobs, busy at work, would take their minds from crime and turn their attention to the higher things of life.

4. We are recommended to bear one another's burdens. The Townsend plan would enable the people to get the churches out of debt and help bear one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ. St. John says, "Whosoever hath this world's goods and sees his brother in need and shut up his compassion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in him?" Our Nation has plenty of his world's goods for every man, woman and child; yet there are thousands who are destitute, hungry and cold. So, you see whoever is against the Townsend plan turns down his brother in need, and also goes against the admonition of St. John.

Now, the question is, why are not all our ministers standing by and helping, by their influence to put over this recovery plan? Many are doing so, but why are not all supporting a plan that would set people free? It would increase their congregations, enable more people to hear the Gospel, and, with the burden of debt lifted off the ministers' shoulders it would likewise set them free—free to preach the Gospel of salvation and to administer to the spiritual needs of the people, thereby saving souls.

Will our ministers fail us in this hour of great need; fail us in this plan that offers peace on earth and good will to man? They failed us in the World War, when they called it a religious war. They failed us by not creating sentiment against the liquor question. Now, the third great question is before them. Will they fail us again? Our ministers are our watchmen on the walls of Zion. Their duty is to blow the trumpet when they see danger ahead. Do they understand the Townsend plan; and if not, why not? It is their duty to study thoroughly this plan, and then take their stand, according to their convictions. Mrs. J. D. Bratton, 5201 Byers Avenue, Fort Worth, Texas.

Operation of Texas Relief to End July 1.

Operation of the Texas Relief Commission's state wide program for the care of unemployables will end with the receipt of checks for the second half of June.

This definitely means that beginning with July 1st there will be left within each county a group of people who will have no means of sustaining themselves, that is, those persons who are ineligible for old age assistance. These will constitute a responsibility which will have to be assumed by the community, its welfare organizations, or other sources of local aid.

Added to the first group may be persons who, though employable, are, for one reason or another, out of work. Certification of employables to the Works Progress Administration was discontinued early in May. Since that time the only relief available to employable persons has been through applications to local agencies. With the coming of July and the discontinuance of checks to unemployables who have been carried on the rolls of the Texas Relief Commission, they too will have no resources but to ask assistance of the communities in which they reside.

Swindlers Forced to Leave Texas—Alfred

KILGORE, Texas, May 20.—"Like rats leaving a sinking ship, the racketeers in securities are leaving Texas," Governor Alfred said here in an address before the North and East Texas Press Association Friday night. "This Exodus has been caused by the operation of the Texas Securities Act which went into effect approximately a year ago and has resulted in the saving of millions of dollars to Texas investors."

"Mail fraud violators have decreased by 50 per cent, we are reliably informed," the Governor continued, "and judgments are pending against many prominent swindlers. The Federal government has convicted several of these high-binders, who were ferreted out by the Securities Division. The Texas Securities Act has done all and more than we had anticipated. The widow, the small business man, the school teacher and thousands of other small investors have renewed confidence in the state to protect them from the depredations of the smooth tongued swindlers."

The Governor called attention to the fact that Texas has long been known as the "end of the crime corridor." The drive against the confidence man has not been as spectacular.

Folly of Past Turns Youth Against War

That half a million young American college students could be induced to assemble one day and declare that they will never don their country's uniform or fight their country's foe is something to disturb the graybeards.

Before we let ourselves get too worked up over it, however, it might be sensible to sit down calmly and try to figure out whose fault it all is.

It won't do to blame it all on personal soft-headedness or cowardice. That answer is too pat; it explains nothing, but merely substitutes one puzzle for another. These youngsters did what they did because they had something on their minds. What was it, and how did it get there?

It is reasonable to assume, first of all, that they were thinking about 1918.

As we get far enough away from the World War to obtain a good perspective on it, we can see that it was one of the great tragedies of all history; not because it took such a frightful number of lives, but because those lives seem to have been poured out for so little purpose.

A war to save democracy, which left democracy on the verge of death; a war to end militarism, which left militarism stronger than ever before; a war to crush despotism, which succeeded only in replacing the despotism of divine right with that of brute strength—what young man, collegiate or otherwise, could look back at that without feeling that somebody had sold his elders a colossal gold brick?

We have had other post-war generations, but none of them looked back at any such thing as that. Our other wars, bloody and stupid and avoidable though they may have been, did at least settle things. This one left a worse mess than it found and settled next to nothing.

But that isn't all that may have been in our collegians' minds. They also had the recent munitions trade disclosures to mull over, and the profits-before patriotism ever. If the profits-before patriotism revelations of the last year have not been enough to set any young man's heart against war, nothing could ever do it.

To ask a young man to give up his life for something bigger and better than himself is one thing; to ask him to do it so that some TNT magnate or armor plate peddler can reap a 60 per cent dividend is something quite different. It's not exactly surprising if collegiate youth choked on it.

In other words, if our young men are swearing off on war, we have only ourselves to blame.

The stupidity which brings on wars that should be avoided, the greed which debases the high ideals for which men are asked to die—there are the real villains behind the students, anti-war demonstration.—Portales Valley News.

Mr. T. A. Martin of Bronco was a business visitor in Brownfield last Friday.

UNIFORM TRAFFIC SIGNS

Traffic control by signs, signals, and regulations, says the Bureau of Public Roads, is one field in which countrywide uniformity would be highly desirable. Variations by local authorities offer no advantage, and are likely to cause accidents. In view of this the bureau has cooperated with the American Association of State Highway Officials and the National Conference of Street and Highway Safety in issuing a Uniform Vehicle Code recommended for adoption by the states. These recommendations have been widely adopted and the bureau believes they should be made universal.

Non-partisan policy is reaffirmed by Federation of Labor.

Workmen are busy this week getting the courthouse park leveled off and the soil pulverized and wet, ready for the sodding operation.

ENGLISH AS WORLD TONGUE

Only 850 common English words are needed for understandable non-technical conversation, according to the sponsors of "Basic English." Such a limited vocabulary it is claimed is ample for all ordinary purposes. The idea of the sponsors is to make "Basic" a universal language. Over 500,000,000 persons already speak English, and with only 850 words to learn most of the rest could soon pick it up. The U. S. Office of Education estimates that the average first grade child knows 3,000 words, the well-read American 40,000, while professional men often use more than 50,000 words.

E. D. Flannagan, Old Age Assistance Commissioner, is located at the Hotel Brownfield, and will be here for some time, verifying papers of applicants, as to age, residence etc.

DALLAS, Texas, May 25. — The question of which of two defunct nations rates precedence over the other has risen to plague military and naval officers responsible for solving such problems at the $25,000,000 Texas Centennial Exposition. Throughout the Exposition military and naval forces here will be involved in ceremonies with the six flags that have flown over Texas. The United States flag of course comes first. Then that of the Texas Republic followed by that of the Southern Confederacy. The Mexican flag, the same as that adopted by Mexico in 1820 ranks behind the Stars and Bars. Then comes the problem. Both France and Spain, once kingdoms, are now republics and there is a wide difference between the present flags of those countries and those that flew over Texas more than 100 years ago. Authorities are about to solve the question on the basis of Spain's better and longer claim on Texas. Geo. G. White, of Big Spring, District Supervisor of the Old Age Pension, was a caller at the Herald office this week. Mr. White urges that all applicants have the necessary proof of their age on hand, so that when the adjuster calls there will be no delay in their receiving their pension. He says that plans are now, to have every thing in shape so that payments will be started by July 1st. Tilden C. Brown of Post is visiting his mother Mrs. J. O. Brown for a few days.
