Postmasters to Go Under Civil Service

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Dealing with an issue that has been subject to sharp debate in congress and the political area, President Roosevelt last night made public an executive order directing the gradual absorption of all postmastership appointments into the civil service.

The document, signed on Monday by the president and just made public by the White House, ordered that as quickly as vacancies occur appointments shall be subject to civil service examination.

For reappointment, it required that an incumbent, upon the expiration of his term, be found eligible by the civil service commission through a noncompetitive examination.

Or, it provided that a civil service employee in the postoffice in question might take a noncompetitive examination for promotion to the postmastership.

Examinations

Otherwise, it empowered the postmaster general to direct the civil service commission to conduct an open competitive examination to test the fitness of any and all applicants, with the postmaster general directed to "submit to the president for appointment the name of the highest eligible."

In short, the order placed the incumbent postmaster, or one of his subordinates seeking promotion, in the preferred position of taking a noncompetitive examination, or left the postmaster general free to direct that an open examination be conducted.

The order was made applicable to first, second and third class postmasterships. Fourth Class postmasters, those in the smallest offices, already were under the civil service.

WORLD'S DEEPEST OIL WELL LOOMS IN LOUISIANA

ABBEVILLE, La., July 29.—Eyes of oil men and geologists were focused on this Gulf town today as drillers prepared to push to completion what promises to be the world's deepest oil well and the maximum penetration to date of the earth's crust, reaching to a depth of almost two and one half miles.

The well, Continental Oil Company's Alvin Hebert 1, has already been drilled to 10,956 feet, with a record "string" of 7-inch casing, or piping, cemented at that depth. Its objective is a virgin petroleum pool in the geologically ancient Oligocene sands, believed to be within drilling reach. Continental Oil Company's engineers on the scene believe the well is in condition for drilling to 13,000 feet at least.

The final push toward completion, beginning this week, will coincide with the 77th anniversary of climax operations on the Drake well in Titusville, Pa., first drilled, which was brought in as a producer in August, 1859, at the then record of depth of 69 1/2 feet.

Company spokesmen said the Alvin Hebert 1, as it stands uncompleted, is the deepest well ever drilled along the Gulf Coast, the fourth deepest in the United States and the fifth deepest in the world. The deepest well ever drilled was McElroy 103, in West Texas, which was finally abandoned at 12,786 feet.

DON'T SKIMP ON YOUR BREAKFAST

As a fortification against the day's heat and the possibility of a meager appetite for lunch and dinner, it is wise to have breakfasts energy. So here are a few such breakfasts, planned by Inez S. Wilson, home economist.

1. Bacon slices with scrambled eggs, toast, fresh peaches and coffee.

2. Creamed left-over lamb, veal or pork served on baking powder biscuits or toast slices, chilled melon balls and coffee.

3. Fried ham slices, toast, orange slices and coffee.

4. Sausages and waffles with maple syrup, fresh berries and coffee.

5. Ham amulet, toast, grapefruit cup, and coffee.

LPC Ass'n Reports Good Income 1935-36

On July 15 and 16 a group meeting of the secretary treasurers and boards of directors of several West Texas production credit associations was held at the Bluebonnet Hotel in Sweetwater. The purpose of the meeting was to give the managers of the associations and members of the boards of directors an opportunity to become acquainted with each other and discuss common problems of the associations and study the progress which has been made by the various associations during the past two years of operation.

We will be very much pleased to have you give some publicity in your newspaper regarding this meeting, and the statement of a member of our board of directors has been prepared as follows:

"More members and a steadily increasing volume of business were reported for the Lubbock Production Credit Association, according to Roy Fitzgerald of Yoakum County, a director of the Association, who returned yesterday from meeting of the directors of a group of West Texas production credit associations held at Sweetwater on July 15 and 16, 1936. Mr. Fitzgerald declared that directors from all over this territory report that their associations are making very satisfactory progress. Farmers and stockmen are getting a better understanding of this new system of credit and are coming to like the idea of budgeting their loans.

"Mr. Fitzgerald pointed out that the borrowers find that this method enables them to get along on less money and that getting the money as it actually is needed reduces the cost of the loan. He said that borrowers are beginning to realize just how low the cost of a production credit association loan really is.

"It was reported at the meeting that the Lubbock Production Credit Association had increased its volume of business from $189,387.00 at the end of June, 1935, to $217,325.00 at the end of June, 1936. It also was brought out that the association had net earnings of $5,132.00 for the year 1935 and that the net earnings during the first half of 1936 were $2,884.00.

Dust, drought and wind erosion which has swept across fifty million Mid-West acres since 1932, resulting in severe property loss and human suffering, is continuing to be one of the most talked of subjects of the present day. This is evident by the great play wind erosion and its accompanying ills is receiving in newspapers and magazines throughout the nation.

While renewed disaster in the form of record shattering heat and drought is ravaging the Midwest, some sections of that area know as the "Dust Bowl," namely parts of five states, Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado and New Mexico, are now definitely well upon the road of recovery.

The prolonged drought and resultant dust storms were broken in the Oklahoma and Texas Panhandle by a record-breaking 12-day rain in May, followed by rains in many parts of the five-state area included in Region Twelve of the Resettlement Administration. Generally row crops are growing rapidly, ranges have the best grass since 1931, cattle are in good condition and there is a cheerful outlook for business.

However, Southeastern Colorado and Western Kansas are bordering on dangerously drouthy conditions at the present time and Resettlement officials are keeping close watch upon these areas in order to avert a repetition of hardships which have existed in many states within the past several years.

Drives one million miles without accident

To drive a million miles is something that is rarely achieved, except by only a very few persons. To drive that many miles without a major accident is even more rare. To drive this distance without even scraping a fender seems almost an impossibility.

Yet B. W. Gibbs, a Gulf salesman of Collingswood, New Jersey, has just completed such a record. During nineteen years of driving motor vehicles in his work for Gulf, Mr. Gibbs has covered over a million miles, over all kinds of roads, regardless of surface condition, without a single accident of any kind.

Arrangements For Big Barbecue Taking Place

The Herald is glad to say that all working committees for the big barbecue-rodeo are now at work, and everyone is cooperating to the very best of their ability seemingly to make this one of the best ever pulled off in Brownfield or this section, and there has been some mighty fine ones staged here in the past. Let us remember that the dates are set for August 21-22, the first being the date that Terry county was created, along with many other south Plains counties out of Bexar county. However, the county was not organized until June, 1904, 32 years ago.

Many heeves will have to be provided as well as pickles, bread and coffee. It is our understanding that a local baker has agreed to furnish a lot of bread free, and sell the rest at near cost, in order to get the Hill Billy band here on that date from Fort Worth. Prof Baze is continuing the practice of the High School band in order that they may have several selections ready to render during the Terry County Centennial celebration.

Mayes Jenkins, Roy Moreman and Ernie Greenfield promise one of the best rodeo shows ever seen in this immediate section. They are going after some real ropers and riders, and will have some of the toughest horses that can be found on the ranches of west Texas and east New Mexico. In fact, there will be amusement for all classes of people.

As Governor Jimmie Allred will not have a runoff, an effort will be made to get him here for an address; also other speakers as Congressman George Mahon and State Senator G. H. Nelson, as well as others. It is believed that many good speakers can be secured at that time, as most all cities and towns in Texas will have put on their celebrations by that time.

It has been a number of years since Brownfield and Terry county have asked their neighbors to celebrate with them. In fact not since back in the 20ties. Let's forget the depression and money making for two whole days and throw a real big party.

Very Few Runoffs In the State Races

There will be less runoffs in the State race apparently than for many years, or for that matter since we have had a second primary, according to our memory. Jimmie Allred in the governor's race seems to have distanced his four opponents by some 30,000 votes. U. S. Senator Morris Sheppard was even farther away from his five rivals. Earnest O. Thompson seems to have a big plurality over his four opponents, but will likely have to go into a runoff with Frank S. Morris of Dallas.

Geo. H. Sheppard for Comptroller was way out ahead of the combined vote of his two opponents, so was Charley Lockhart for State Treasurer. Geo. B. Terrell for Agricultural Commissioner was leading the present incumbent J. E. McDonald but a runoff will be necessary in this race.

Apparently J. Doyle Settle of Abernathy and Hop Halsey of Lubbock will run off the race for State Representative.

On the face of present returns to the Texas Election Bureau, there will be only four runoffs in the congressional races, in the 8th, 12th, 17th, and 20th districts of the 21. Thomas L. Blanton of Abilene present incumbent is trailing his opponent for the first time in his political history, and it now looks like the Eastland County Judge has the better of the runoff. Our congressman, George Mahon, of Colorado, rode over his rival, Rev. Speck to the tune of 3 to 1.

COLLECTION OF CIGARET TAXES SET NEW RECORD DURING JUNE

AUSTIN, July 4.—The comptroller's department said that collection of cigaret taxes in June set new records. Receipt of $564,700 was $69,598 more than in May, which was the previous high month.

Collection included $546,721 from sale of cigaret stamps and $28,979 in fees and penalties. June receipts were $159,297 greater than for the same month in 1935 and represented tax payments on 385,000,000 cigarets or 64 cigarets for each person in the state.

Large Crowd Hears Candidates Friday Eve

Perhaps the largest crowd in the history of a candidate speaking on their closing night of the first primary, was on hand Friday night on the courthouse lawn to hear what each candidate for district, county and precinct had to say for themselves. Homer Winston acted as toastmaster, introducing first the state representatives in order that they might go on to the rally at Tahoka.

There was but one of the five candidates for representative on hand, the others being represented by speakers. Judge Bond was here from Crosbyton in person. Some one represented Crede J. Rhea, of Levelland; also Mr. Settles, the present incumbent of Lubbock, and Mr. Halsey of Lubbock. D. P. Carter of this city spoke for his brother, Tom Carter of Lubbock. This district race came nearer getting real hot than any other.

One of the amusing things was to watch the county candidates as they appeared before the loud speaker "mike." Some of them stood just as far as possible as if afraid of it, while others seemed to want to swallow it. Indeed all seemed to be embarrassed except the announcer, Homer Winston; a fan dance wouldn't faze him. All the county candidates treated each other with the greatest of respect, and the announcement that opponents had run them a "clean race," was heard many times during the night.

Many amusing yarns and stories were heard during the night, much to the exhilaration of the crowd. All were given a good hand at the close of their address. Counting those on the seats placed in front of the speaker's stand, those seated on the grass or standing, and in cars, there were probably more than 1500 people in hearing distance of the loud speaker.

The Auxiliary ladies made around $35 with pies and the sale of a quilt. Earl Jones, proprietor of the Rialto-Ritz Theatres graciously consented for the free use of their loud speaker.

Visitors Say Terry Is the Garden Spot

Kenneth K. Bozeman, of Tipton, Okla., who is here visiting his brother Frank and family, paid the Herald a call Tuesday morning. Mr. Bozeman says that he has been over considerable portion of Oklahoma, and part of Missouri and Arkansas, as well as visiting the Texas Centennial shows at Dallas and Fort Worth, and he finds Terry county and this section in general are the garden spots of the sections he has visited in the way of crops.

The two Bozeman boys are contacting the Chamber of Commerce as well as the business interests of the city to see if Brownfield wished a day set aside, weekly, preferably Wednesday or Thursday for the promotion and sale of livestock, such as hogs, horses, mules and cattle. They stated that this has become a great day back east in both Texas and Oklahoma, and that the business men of the town where it has been inaugurated, are pleased with results.

Mr. Kenneth K. Bozeman is a trained and schooled auctioneer, having attended a school in Missouri, and he believes such a day would go over big in Brownfield. The reason they select some mid-week time is in order that the date will not interfere with Saturdays or First Mondays, which are already established. Sometimes, even household goods or farm implements are included in the sales.

The Sales on Saving Bonds Running High

According to Postmaster Jas. H. Dallas, sales on U. S. Saving bonds have passed the half billion mark. Purchases from Jan. 1, 1936 to July 6th, represents a maturity value of $241,000,000 which is a 50 per cent increase over the same period last year.

According to Mr. Dallas, the sales for July showed a 75 per cent increase over 1935. These bonds may be purchased at any 1st, 2nd and 3rd class postoffice.

Well, how did the election go to suit you? This question is right now being propounded from friend to friend. So far as we are concerned, we are satisfied. We always lose half or more of the men we vote for, but that is just our bad luck, in a way, but we have always figured that we would have just as good officers as our friend or neighbor who won. So we just swallow our pride, say nothing, and do all we can to help the man who gets the office, in the way of encouragement to him, and good words for him to our friends.

We can't understand why Sharley Armour Guy has it in for Tom Hunter so badly. Has Hunter ever harmed him? Hardly a day has passed lately that Sharley has not gotten on him with both hind feet, as it were. Sharley has kept up this tirade and ridicule until he has almost become "babyish" about the matter. The latest was concerning the vote in Wichita county, and especially the home box of the two men. Well, Hunter carried the home county twice before, and the home box of Hunter and Allred by a good majority two years ago. But, we imagine those people down there are not unlike this humble writer. They believe in that old Democratic principal of giving a man at least two cracks at an office, especially if he has made good, and that is about all there is to it Sharley.

And so that old bird with the flowing beard, George Bernard Shaw wants communism tried out in America. Why not the home country, dear old Hingland? That miserable old cuss seems to sure have it in for the very country that reads his blasphemy most. As long as Americans cringe and scrape about those darned foreigners when they come over here and continue to buy and read their monkey mush, just so long will they consider us a nation of effeminate. If there were a few real red blooded men in the eastern part of our nation who would knock the blocks off those birds when they come over here wisecracking, and stop reading their trash they term the classics, it would not be long until they would be ready to settle some of the billions of dollars they owe us and never intend to pay as long as we humble ourselves to them like a whipped cur.

There is a vast difference in the makeup of society here and back in east and central Texas. Out here the rich and poor, the educated and the uneducated mix and mingle as one great whole and strangers would have a hard time distinguishing those who in the make up. In many of the old towns and cities back there the upper tens (self styled) like to ignore people not in "their set" when they meet them on the streets and at functions. They have a great habit of turning their backs when some one, perhaps their betters morally, tries to break in on their parties. A man from that section informed us recently that he saw just such a scene in his town. The young lady in question, had perhaps been a little wild in her girlhood, and had married a man in another town nearby who was of foreign extraction. They were given the cold shoulder by so-called blue bloods at functions. This man went on to say that he told at least one of the men who turned his back and stuck his nose among the rafters that if he ever came to west Texas and tried a stunt like that, the men would kick him out of town.

Herald is for J. Doyle Settle in the runoff for State Representative. We did not support Mr. Settle in the first primary, nor his opponent in the runoff. But there is no alternative but for us to be for Settle in the runoff. First, because we believe that Mr. Settle has made a reasonably good representative and deserves a second term. Second, he is already lined up on some important committees, which will, we believe work out well for the district. Third, he has had two years experience in the ways of the legislature, and can naturally do better than a new man. In the fourth place, his opponent has not to our knowledge or belief ever stuck his head inside our sanctum sanctorium. If he did not wish to announce with us, that was quite his business, but we do like to meet and talk to people who are supposed to represent us. We were never close enough to him to recognize him if we had ever met him on the street. True, he was here a number of times, and sometimes within 20 feet of him, but he was usually hopping and skipping around in his noise wagon at a gait that it would take a motorcycle cop to catch. So we don't even know what he looks like except a small picture of him in his home town papers. He is strictly speaking, apparently a trade at home man, and lives in the same place and to our notion, no other section of the district would get a look in if he happened to go to Austin. So-o-o, we are supporting Mr. Settle, not only with our vote, joined by some seven others who are connected with the Herald, but we are going to do all we can for Settle editorially privately and otherwise.

SHOW THEM NO MERCY
For the third consecutive year the crime of arson has decreased in the United States, reports the National Board of Fire Underwriters. And the report adds, "Not only has the number of incendiary fires decreased, but there has been a marked lessening of such fires resulting from organized or professional criminals."
The arsonist is justly termed the most despicable of felons. He is also one of the most dangerous; no man's property, no man's life, is safe when he operates. The nation's arson bill still runs into many millions of dollars annually—to say nothing of the infinitely more important "bill" of burned and cremated bodies the arsonist leaves behind him. It is the duty and the privilege of every citizen to fight him.
The splendid success that has so far been achieved in battling arson has been well earned. Many units of government have passed the model arson law suggested by the National Board out of its long and broad experience with this type of crime. Prosecuting attorneys have shown the utmost willingness to pursue the arsonist until he is finally convicted. Courts have meted out the heavy punishment the crime deserves. Other bodies, public and private, continually carry on investigations of suspicious fires, keep records of known arson rings, and produce evidence that would otherwise be unobtainable.
Every state and community should do its part in stamping out arson. The public should demand that this be done—and it should cooperate in every possible way with the authorities. The arsonist has no mercy—and he deserves none.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas: Section 1. That Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by striking out Section 20 thereof and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

"Article XIV. Section 20: (a) It is hereby declared to be the policy of this State that the open saloon shall not be reestablished. "(c) In all counties, justice's precincts or incorporated towns or cities within the sale of intoxicating liquors had been prohibited by local option elections held under the laws of the State of Texas and in force at the time of the taking effect of Section 20, Article XIV. of the Constitution of Texas, it shall continue to be unlawful to manufacture, sell, barter or exchange in any such county, justice's precinct or incorporated town or city, any spirituous, vinous or malt liquors or medicated bitters capable of producing intoxication or any other intoxicants whatsoever for beverage purposes, unless and until a majority of the qualified voters in such county or political subdivision thereof voting in an election held for such purpose shall determine such to be lawful; provided that this subsection shall not prohibit the sale of alcoholic beverages containing not more than 3.2 per cent alcohol by weight in cities, counties or political subdivisions thereof in which the qualified voters have voted to legalize such sale under the provisions of Chapter 116, Acts of the regular session of the 43rd Legislature."

Considering how fine this railroad transportation is nowadays, you can't travel any cheaper. Fare's lowest in history—substantial savings on round trip tickets. So why not take the train? It's safer. It's more dependable.

You can't beat the improved travel comfort in coaches and sleeping cars. It's a good thing movies don't have such restful seats—most folks would sure fall asleep.

How hear about the new Free pick-up-and-delivery of less than a cent's freight? It's a great convenience to shippers and receivers alike. Western railroads pick up at the door, ship by fast freight, and deliver to door at no extra charge.

Railroad trains are running on faster schedules these days. Seems like the iron horse wants to show these new streamlined diesel that he can step out, too. Both passenger and freight schedules have been speeded up.

What's more, the railroads believe in "safety first." Last year not one passenger was killed in a train accident on western railroads.

Talk to your local railroad agent. He's full of information about traveling and shipping.

We are proud of railroad achievements, appreciate the public's good will and increased patronage, and pledge continued progress.

Lights Out!

IF THE lights in a convention hall hadn't gone out when they did, James G. Blaine might have been President of the United States.

It happened in Cincinnati in 1876. When the Republican national convention opened, Blaine was the outstanding candidate for the nomination. Although he was short of the necessary majority on the first six ballots, on the seventh ballot he had the votes of 251 delegates, almost enough to win the nomination.

It was growing late and the lights were turned on—gas jets, for this was before the day of the electric light. The Blaine men were hurrying the vote, expecting to put their candidate over on the next ballot.

Then suddenly the lights went out and the business of the convention was suspended while the management of the hall tried to locate the trouble. The Blaine men were frantic. Finally the superintendent of the gas works announced that the trouble couldn't be located. So the only thing to do was to adjourn until the next day.

When the delegates reconvened, the anti-Blaine forces had rallied and united on Rutherford B. Hayes, who was nominated. In the much-contested election of 1876 he defeated Samuel J. Tilden, the Democratic nominee, and went to the White House. It might have been "Blaine of Maine" who went there, if the lights in Cincinnati hadn't gone out that night.

Mill Hitched to the Moon
REMEMBER the old adage: "Hitch your wagon to a star?" Caleb Hodgdon did better than that. He hitched his mill to the moon and for 111 years the mill has been running the mill for him and his descendants.

It was back in 1825 that Caleb, sailing down the coast of Maine, reached the mouth of the Damariscotta river and saw a 40-acre natural pond which opened into the river through a very narrow outlet. This perfect tidal basin was filled and emptied twice a day by the sea, and since the moon controls the tide, it is literally true that Caleb Hodgdon hitched his mill to the moon.

Caleb built a dam and a bridge which are still in use today. He installed the old type undershot waterwheel to run his mill and used it as power for grinding grain as well as sawing lumber. He bought acres of timberland, sent crews into the woods to fell the trees, snake them down to the river with oxen, then at high tide float them into his mill pond. Next he added a shipyard and built ships from the lumber which he had sawed.

Later generations of Hodgdon continued to operate the mill and shipyard, and one of the products of the latter was the schooner, Bowdoin, which Commander Donald B. MacMillan used in his Arctic explorations. Later Hodgdon also replaced the undershot waterwheel with a turbine but the principle of operation of the mill is the same with it as with the waterwheel. When the tide rises, it forces open the gates in the dam which Caleb built and fills the pond. When the tide is on the ebb the doors automatically close and the water is prevented from flowing out of the pond except through the turbines of the mill.

Go to East Boothbay, Maine, today and you can see the mill which Caleb Hodgdon built and hitched to the moon. © Western Newspaper Union.

Cool Kitchens Are Now Order of the Day

COOL kitchens promise to be the order of the day this summer in thousands of American homes, thanks to the scientific strides made in recent years in the art of insulating. The old-fashioned oven is a thing of the past. The modern oven doesn't radiate heat because it is thoroughly insulated.

The above picture shows a technical specialist using a copper finger to test the temperature of every exposed inch of a modern gas range in the Cleveland testing laboratories of the American Gas Association. If the copper test finger registers too great an amount of heat on handles or doors, the range is turned down.

This is just one of hundreds of scientific tests to which modern kitchen appliances are put to assure the American housewife of efficient kitchen equipment. Appearance also counts heavily in these tests of new gas ranges which have been modernized to a point where cooking ceases to be a duty and becomes a pleasure.

GET RID OF POOR LAYERS

No matter whether the poultry flock numbers but a dozen to produce eggs for home consumption or a thousand or more for commercial purposes poor layers should be weeded out. Poultry experts use two methods of identifying the "star boarders." One method, good the year round, is to get rid of those hens with bright yellow beaks and shanks—the yellower the shanks and beaks, the poorer the layer. The other is to cull out the early molters. A non-producer invariably molts early perhaps in June, and requires 12 weeks or more to complete the molt while the high-producer usually grows a new set of feathers in 60 days or less.

Curious No. 9
PERHAPS you have noticed some of the peculiar properties of the number nine—for instance, multiply it by the cardinal numbers from 1 to 9 in order and the right hand digits in the result will be 9 to 1 in order.

Here is another curiosity, pointed out by an early American mathematician: If the cardinal numbers from 1 to 9 inclusive, omitting 8, be used as a multiplier, and any one of them, multiplied by 9, be used as a multiplier the result will be a succession of figures the same as that multiplied by 9. For instance, take 5 times 9, which equals 45, for a multiplier. Here is the result:

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	9
							45
4	6	1	7	2	8	3	9
5	9	3	8	2	7	1	6
5	5	5	5	5	5	5	5

Or take 7 times 9, which equals 63, and the result will be a series of 7's. A similar result will be obtained by using all the other numbers, including 8 (72); but the 8 must in all cases be omitted in the multiplicand.

Why? Ask a mathematician. Maybe he can tell you and maybe he can't! © Western Newspaper Union.

Punctuation
IN AN old-time schoolbook, used in the early days of the republic, the importance of proper punctuation was illustrated with this verse:

Wrong
Every lady in this land
Hath twenty nails upon each hand;
Five and twenty on hands and feet,
And this is true without deceit.

Right
Every lady in this land
Hath twenty nails upon each hand;
Five; and twenty on hands and feet;
And this is true without deceit.

Now, test your skill on the following bit of nonsense (from the same source) which becomes sensible when punctuated properly:

I saw a pigeon making bread;
I saw a girl composed of threads;
I saw a towel one mile square;
I saw a meadow in the air;
I saw a rocket walk a mile;
I saw a pony make a file;
I saw a blacksmith in a box;
I saw an orange kill an ox;

ONE OUT OF SEVEN
 Payments by life insurance companies in the last six years benefited one out of every seven persons in the United States, according to the National Association of Life Underwriters.

In other words, more than 17,000,000 people received cash from insurance companies between 1929 and 1935 in the form of death claims, annuities and matured endowments. Payments in the form of policy dividends, policy loans and surrender values benefited an even greater number.
 Thus, during the depression, almost 15 per cent of the population lived in whole or part on money paid out by insurance companies in fulfillment of contracts. No one knows how much dire want was prevented by that money—how many children educated who could not have been otherwise—how many businesses saved from bankruptcy—how many homes saved from mortgage foreclosure. But everyone knows that insurance payments were of inestimable value in helping us carry through the dark years. That fact is a testimonial to both the wisdom of the millions of citizens who purchased insurance, and to the amazing record of solvency and service made by the companies.

GOV. LANDON'S SOUND SENSE ON BANK DEPOSIT INSURANCE

Gov. Alf M. Landon, in an address delivered in his name by the Banking Commissioner of Kansas before the American Bankers' Association in Chicago, Sept. 6, 1933:

"There is no question in my mind but that the guarantee of bank deposits is a greater blow to the ultimate welfare of the American people than the wildest inflation of the currency could possibly be.
 "In my judgement the guarantee of bank deposits, if carried out in this country to its logical conclusion, will completely destroy the entire banking system of the nation."
 Amount of deposits involved in the closing of 11,457 banks in the United States under Harding, Coolidge and Hoover, without deposit insurance or any mention of it: Five and one-half billion dollars.

Amount of deposits involved in the closing since March, 1933, WITH deposit insurance: Sixty-one banks, $14,868,000. All accounts up to $5,000 each were paid immediately dollar for dollar.

DALLAS, Texas, July 27.—Texas is generally known as a large State. The key was gold with a diamond studded seal of Texas forming the handle.

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING DEDICATED TO GARNER

DALLAS, Texas, July 27.—The Administration Building of the Texas Centennial Exposition at Dallas will be dedicated to Vice President John N. Garner when he visits the exposition on August 5.

After ceremonies that day, at which officials will have Mr. Garner as honor guest, the administration building will be permanently known as John Garner Hall.
 "John Garner Hall will be the only structure in our $25,000,000 exposition named for a personality rather than for a phase of Texas endeavor," General Manager William A. Webb pointed out. "This is the most fitting tribute that we could pay our great modern Texan, known and loved more widely than any other of the state's native sons."

Naming the stately structure for Mr. Garner will be a tribute from all Dallas, as well as from the exposition. First built in 1909 as main building of the State Fair of Texas, the hall was remodeled at a cost of more than $130,000 during the past year. Its facade bears an illuminated mural depicting the rich resources of Texas, behind a costly heroic statue, "Spirit of Texas." A reflecting basin centers the park in front.

TEXAS HEADS CALIFORNIA AS HONEY PRODUCER

DALLAS, Texas, July 18.—Texas will dethrone California this year as the champion honey producing state in the union, T. W. Burleson of Waxahachie, president of the American Honey Producers League, forecast today.

Mr. Burleson, director of the Texas Beekeepers Association educational exhibit of bee products at the Hall of Agriculture of the Texas Centennial Exposition, claimed an all-time high record crop in South Texas, the big honey producing section of the state.

The huajillo and catsclaw bushes of South Texas produced an abundance of nectar carrying blooms in March, April and May and are responsible for Texas regaining the laurels she lost to California three years ago. Prior to that time Texas held the annual record for producing honey, according to Mr. Burleson.

OLDEST NEWSPAPER TO CELEBRATE 200th BIRTHDAY

WILLIAMSBURG, VA. — The Virginia Gazette published here will issue a special edition commemorating the 200th anniversary of its founding on August 7. So far as is known, it is now the oldest newspaper still publishing in America today.

The story of the founding in 1736 of the Virginia Gazette, the first newspaper to be published south of the Potomac, by William Parks, a printer who came to the colonial capital from Annapolis, Md., about 1732 to open up a printing office, might be called a romance of printing. Prior to coming to Virginia, according to old records, William Parks printed a paper at Annapolis, called the Annapolis Gazette, wherein was printed the official notices of the governor of the colony and of the proceedings of the house of burgesses, named after the Virginia house of burgesses, at a retaining fee.

Becoming dissatisfied and piqued over his business dealings in Maryland with government officials, Parks moved the printing plant to Williamsburg in 1732, having previously been encouraged to do so by the governor of Virginia and members of the house of burgesses who were desirous of having the journals of the house and court proceedings printed in Virginia rather than in Annapolis.

KINSMEN OF NOTED PIONEERS AMONG A. C. C. STUDENTS

Each year a number of kinsmen of well known Southerners and Texans enroll at Abilene Christian College and it seems appropriate that in this Texas Centennial year the kin of at least three famous Texans will be enrolled in A. C. C.

Among those who have visited the college this summer to make arrangements to enter A. C. C. for the fall semester are Charles Goodnight of Killeen, Texas, relative of the well known plainsman and cattleman of pioneer Texas days Charles Goodnight, known as "The First Gentleman of the Panhandle"; and Robert A. Waller of San Antonio, distant cousin of Frank Norfleet, famous Texas detective who still resides at Hale Center.

Enrolled at A. C. C. during the 1935-36 session was David Crockett of Blossom, Texas, relative of the hero of the Alamo of the same name. David is expected to be back at A. C. C. for the 1936-37 session.

"Fifi," the 3-pound 'heavy weight' dog, who claims Iris Joy Parker, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Parker as his mistress is in line for a medal for bravery. The diminutive rat terrier, who is only 7 inches tall, cornered a coyote in the back yard of the Parker home early Wednesday morning. Continuous barking for thirty minutes or longer finally awakened and attracted the attention of the Parker family and neighbors. Upon investigating they found the small animal bravely attempting to keep the half-grown animal cornered.

TEXAS DENTAL HEALTH PROGRAM IS PLANNED

AUSTIN, July 28.—Mouth care is an integral part of the nation wide public health program and the dentists of America are keenly aware that strong teeth of the citizens of tomorrow are dependent upon health education of today, Dr. Edward Taylor, director of the dental health division of the State Department of Health said recently upon his return from San Francisco where he was among ten thousand dentists from Canada, Mexico, and the United States attending the annual meeting of the American Dental Association.
 Dr. Taylor heads a division of the Texas Health Department that was established in March and he has formulated a program to be launched at the beginning of the school year.
 "We are beginning our work in Texas at an opportune time," Dr. Taylor said, "for there is universal recognition just now that no public health program is well balanced that does not include dentistry. Strong emphasis was placed by the association president, Dr. George W. Winters, on dental education in his address and it was urged that more attention be paid to dentistry for children, a field which has been neglected in the past."
 Plans for a dental health program in Texas contemplate work in the public schools and free examination of the mouths of school children.
 "It will be our aim," Dr. Taylor said, "to give every school child in Texas a reasonable knowledge of the part a healthy mouth plays in the growth, advancement, and general health of the individual. We will encourage early correction of whatever mouth defects are found. The Texas school survey likewise will include children who will enter school next year. Along with our school program will go a plan of education for the general public through the use of newspapers, radios, motion pictures, and public addresses. We bespeak the cooperation of the public in this work."

SKIP A YEAR IN SCHOOL

DALLAS, Texas, July 27.—Here's a chance for Junior to skip a year at school. Visiting educators to the Texas Centennial Exposition assert a tour of the grounds is equivalent to a year in school for any American student.

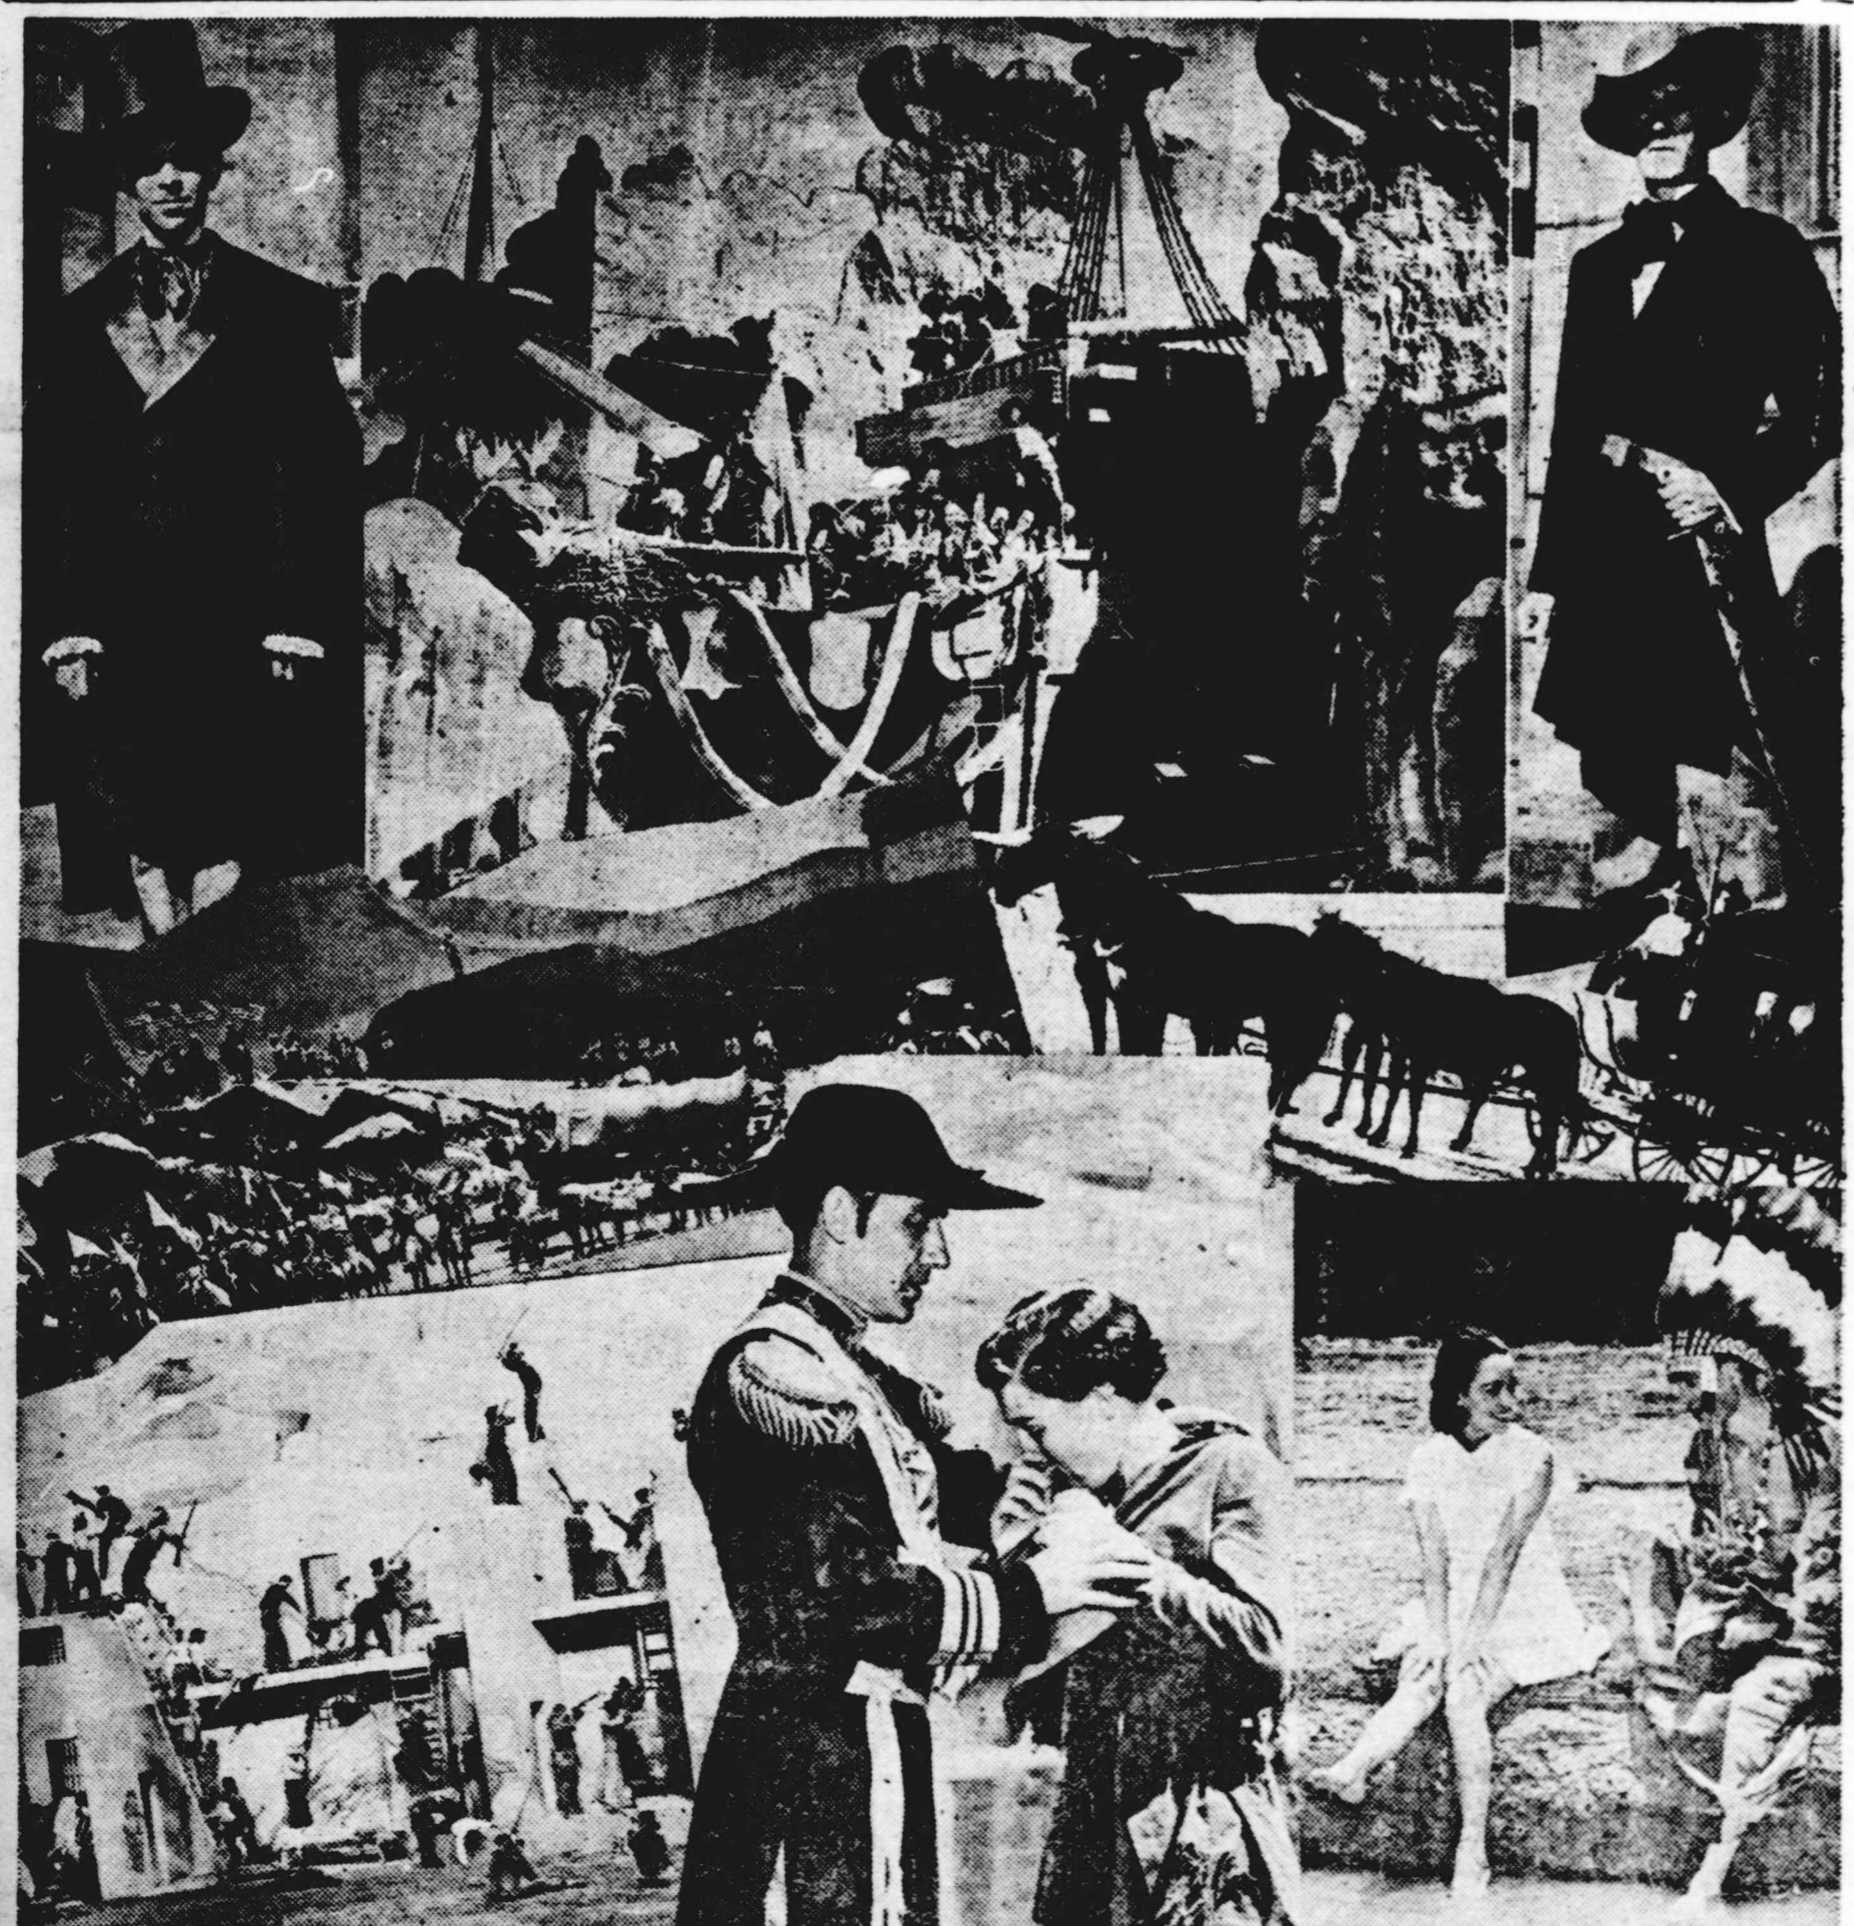

BED TIME
 Before going to bed a glass of Brownfield Dairy milk just seems to hit the spot. Sort of quiets the nerves and insures a good night's rest. Make the test tonight. You'll thank yourself in the morning.

BAPTIST MISSIONARY SOCIETY

All the circles of the Baptist Missionary Society met at the church Monday afternoon for a mission program. Twenty-one ladies and eleven G. A. girls were in attendance. General reports of the Baptist Women's meeting at St. Louis were given. A very profitable talk on "Membership Enlargement" was given by Mrs. Price, followed by a talk on "Mission Study" by Mrs. Sexton. Mrs. Smith gave an inspiring talk on "Stewardship" and Mrs. Dunn concluded this portion of the program with "Laborers Together With God"

The G. A. girls then brought "Radio Flashes" from Mission points. G. A. girls were ushers. The circle will meet at 2:30 next Monday at the following places: North circle with Mrs. Rogers, south circle with Mrs. Jess Smith and young matrons with Mrs. Wayne Brown. All members are urged to be present.

METHODIST MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Missionary Society of the Methodist church met Monday afternoon in Mission Study. The lesson was "Women and Home Missions," Mrs. Emmitt Smith was leader. Those taking part on the program were: Mesdames B. L. Thompson, Harry Longbrake, and Chaney. Twelve ladies attended this meeting

BRADLEY-FOSTER

The marriage of Miss Cora Bradley to Harvey Foster came as a surprise to her many friends and patrons here on July 11. They were quietly married at the home of Mr. Wilson, minister of the Holiness church.

For some time Mrs. Foster has been the manager of the Helpy Selfy Laundry. Mr. and Mrs. Foster left immediately for their home in Me-

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

Making a Hobby of One Kind of Picture Subject

Many amateurs make hobbies of finding subjects with which to typify a single idea, phase of life or activity. Here are two pictures from an amusing collection picturing "Innocuous Desuetude."

WEALTHY art collectors often indulge their fancy by specializing in one kind of picture subject, such as landscapes, marine views, genre sketches or portraits, and assembling the pictures in a separate exhibit.

As an amateur photographer you do not have to be wealthy to enjoy a similar hobby. With your camera you, too, can make a specialty of one kind of subject and derive even more pleasure than does the art collector, because you have made the pictures yourself.

Choices for a one-subject photographic collection are endless. There are all sorts of appealing individual objects, types of which may be selected; there are the different activities and phases of life, the various phenomena of nature, and the characteristics of human nature, all of which may be portrayed in interesting pictures, if you will cultivate a discerning eye for them, and have your camera with you when you go places.

We know a clever amateur who chose as his subject WIND—big winds, hurricanes, cyclones, blizzards, breezes and zephyrs. He was so enthusiastic that he would hardly take his camera out if the wind were not blowing. His pictures consist of things in movement under the impetus of wind, or the results thereof—trees bending under the force of a storm, pretty girls with tresses and garments fluttering in the breeze, white caps at sea, wind-blown snow drifts, whirling chimney smoke, wind-whipped flags and banners, and the havoc wrought by wind.

Another has specialized in faces of cows and produced a collection of cow portraits wonderful to behold. It is surprising how much amusing variety there is in the expressions of cows, especially those taken when the cow is alarmed. All who see this collection laugh.

"Innocuous Desuetude" is the subject of another collection, being "off-guard" snapshots of human beings in all sorts of attitudes of repose, and chuck-full of human interest—bench warmers in the park, tramps, dozing fishermen, water-front loafers, and gossipers on the steps of the country store.

Still another, a circus fan, specializes on circus pictures, inside of the big tent and out. No one can see his snapshot collection of side-show freaks, clowns, barkers, elephants and gaping spectators without immediately yearning for peanuts and pink lemonade.

Picture hobbies of others are fire, lightning, waterfalls, yachts, railroad locomotives, and so forth.

Pick your subject and try it. There's a world of fun and adventure in it, and a great chance to use your artistic talent in the photography.

ATTENTION YOUNG PEOPLE

Would you like something NEW and something DIFFERENT to do every night for a whole week? That is exactly what is in store for you.

The Baptist B. Y. P. U. are sponsoring a week of "Inspirational Camp Fire Services" for your benefit and your entertainment. This is not for the benefit of any church in particular, but for the benefit of every young person in Brownfield.

Each night we will meet at a different church in our town, with a good speaker for each evening. He will take about 20 or 30 minutes of the time, after which we will have a few minutes of social entertainment. Then for the Camp Fire Service. If you have never attended a service of this kind, you have missed a great deal in life. Now is your opportunity to help and to be helped.

Meet us at the Baptist church Monday night, at 8:15 P. M. and let us begin on time, so as not to waste one minute of this fine entertainment that is especially for YOU.

The writer and wife were invited to make a trip to Hobbs, N. M., with Mr. and Mrs. Kyle Graves, Sunday afternoon. No, we would not care to live in Hobbs. We don't exactly like a nine o'clock town, but we had rather live in one that you can tell when Sunday comes.

Lee Smith, local mule buyer shipped in 100 head of 2 and 3 year old mules the past week, which he bought on a ranch some 500 miles south of El Paso in Mexico. He informed us that he intended keeping them awhile feed and shear them up and put them on the Fort Worth market.
