Resettlement Admin. Making Survey Here

A land use survey to secure data which will enable farmers and ranchmen to clearly define their present problems and at the same time obtain the greatest possible benefits from their operations is being conducted in Terry County by a group of field specialists of the Land Use Planning Division.

Land Use Planning is a comparatively new program, but it is deemed necessary to bring about orderly arrangements of factors or forces operating in our agricultural field. Therefore, in order to obtain certain information whereby policies can be formulated for the future land use program, field forces are now operating in the various counties throughout Region Twelve of the Resettlement Administration. Region Twelve embraces parts of five states, Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Colorado and Kansas.

This study and the special farm management, sociological, soil and range surveys will provide the basis for the sound program of adjustment that must replace present land use practices in some sections if the lands are to return their greatest possible sums to the operators.

The fact is emphasized that in no instance will Land Use Division attempt to persuade an individual, a community or a country to change present land use practices. To the contrary, the final report will merely outline findings of the survey, pointing out various ways whereby conditions may be improved should operators desire to follow methods developed from these surveys.

The survey will include every possible factor having a bearing upon the lands in Terry County together with the citizens residing here. It will determine the acres owned and rented by each operator, how many acres of each farm have blown in the past several years, the principal crops, total acreage in pasture, the number of acres idle or fallow, an inventory of facilities for the farm and home, and the operator's ideas as to what practices are best for his particular farm.

A soil survey will be undertaken after a close cooperative study is made in land use, farm management and cover surveys. Objective of the cover survey is to determine by actual inspection and study, various types of forage and their bearing on the present use and condition of the land in Region Twelve. It is definitely known that due to severe drought, dust and over-grazing that particular care in planning future use must be made so that the natural resources such as the various types of grasses, may be preserved. Range conditions must be analyzed, carrying capacities determined, and policies must be derived from these studies so that a reconstruction cover program can be planned.

At present time, land use survey has been completed in Dallam, Sherman, Ochiltree, Hartley, Lipscomb, Moore, Hutchinson, Oldham and Hansford counties, and the survey is being conducted in Dawson, Terry, Deaf Smith and Hemphill. It is the intention of the Land Use Planning Division to make a survey of each of the thirty-seven counties in Texas within Region Twelve.

When data pertaining to the different surveys are gathered, it is sent to the Regional office in Amarillo for carding, checking and analysis. The maps which are being made and the information which is assembled will then be presented to various counties and individuals for study.

A policy for future land use cannot be designed until everyone concerned is given counsel.

Consequently everyone in Terry County as well as all other counties in Region Twelve, who has specific problems will be given an opportunity to voice his opinion as to land use adjustments and as to plans for future programs.

The Field Specialists, headed by A. A. Johnson and W. L. Branson, are located in the County Court House and individual information and cooperation will be offered upon contacting him at the office or in the field.

Obar Irrigation Plant Visited Friday P. M.

The writer took a trip last Friday afternoon which really opened our eyes to irrigation possibilities in Terry county, as well as the whole south Plains section. We called on Mr. C. P. Obar at his fine farm 8 miles east of Meadow to see what a real irrigation plant on a farm will do. As the weather was continuing hot and dry, we found him busy pulling a sluice of water from his 140 feet drilled well that ran around 800 gallons per minute. However, he showed us that he could step it up to 1150 gallons per minute, but this endangered his ditches. He informed us that if the weather continued dry, he would run day and night this week.

Mr. Obar informed us that he did not decide on an irrigation plant until he had all his land up this spring, and almost ready to plant. He then put in a new Ford V-8 engine for power, and a Peerless Gear Turbo pump, made by the John Beam Co., of San Jose, Calif. This was a cash deal, and cost $1850, not counting the concrete foundations, which he made himself, but we understood did include the drilling of the well. Mr. Obar says that such a plant can be obtained on most any kind of terms with a slight increase in cost. In fact, we have understood that the government will loan money for the purchase of such a plant at a low rate of interest.

Mr. Obar has 120 acres in cultivation, and the land is so level that water will run both ways from where his plant sits. Most of this is in cotton, and is now knee high and fruiting nicely. He has a large acreage of corn, some of which is now in good roasting ears, which is very thick on the ground, and we believe will run from 60 to 75 bushels per acre. He had just a few rows of peas that no part of has been touched except that nearest the farm home and already 90 gallons have been canned. These are just some of the things that are possible with such a plant on the farm. Charley Obar can lay down at night without worrying whether it will rain or not. Of course every rain saves him that much irrigating. Before we left, we were invited to help ourselves to the roasting ears and peas, and to come back in a week or ten days and we could get melons and beans.

We hope that by next year many more Terry county farms will be so equipped, and this one is worth the time and trouble to make the trip. If we are not able to get back sooner, we sure want to see this farm when harvest time comes.

25 Dallas Boy Scouts Here Sunday P. M.

Twenty-five Dallas boy Scouts, on their way to see the Caverns in New Mexico, and the Davis mountains, spent about two or three hours here Sunday afternoon, taking (dinner) supper here. They were accompanied by their Scout Master, and each boy had won in some contest, privileging them the trip free.

The management of the Brownfield Swimming pool gave each of the boys and their Scout Master the privilege of a free swim, and 19 of the boys took advantage of it. But when the writer saw them, they were doing very little swimming but seemed to be trying to drown their big husky Master. A half dozen of the scamps would pile on him at one time.

About dark, with many whoops and cries of "All-Aboard," the big bus pulled out for Roswell.

Claude Bryant Now Shelling 3 Cars Corn

After the last rain, some three weeks ago, a lot of farmers turned loose considerable corn for market, believing they had a new crop assured, and the buyers here had plenty demand coming from less fortunate places.

Claude Bryant down on the east side of the Peters pasture is shelling some three car loads for E. D. Ballard, which will be shipped as fast as shelled. Claude informed us that he was shelling around 800 bushels per day.

Mr. Ballard also had several tons of headed maize ricked up down there that will be threshed and shipped.

Tobe Rentfro and family of Amarillo, are here this week visiting with their relatives, C. J. Smith and family, Clarence and Claude Hudgens, and Mrs. Kyle Graves and families.

Contract Let For Hot Topping the Streets

City Secretary Roy M. Herod informed us Friday that Mr. Louis Howard, Lubbock contractor had received the job of hot topping the streets of Brownfield, and the work is already under way two blocks beginning at the Shamburger Lumber Co., and ending at the residence of Uncle Jimmie Green being the first two blocks to be finished.

Mr. Howard has not only had a great deal of experience in paving streets but roads as well. Mr. Herod informed us that there was between 10,000 and 12,000 lineal feet of paving, which figures from 35 to 40 ordinary blocks. However, in a few instances, only a half block is to be paved.

PWA has given the city until Sept. 1, to scarify and water the caliche, and get it ready for the topping, which will, we understand will be the same as the highways, either double or triple coating of gravel and asphalt.

As fast as the scarifying and watering is finished huge rollers follow to pack and level the surface, and then comes the hot topping crew to finish the job. Soon after Sept. 1, it is expected that the job will be completed.

Two Oil Tests to Be Made in Terry County

The Midland office of the State Railroad Commission, gave out the following information last week:

"The Illinois Oil Company-Uscan-Cascade have filed an application with us to drill a well on the A. R. Brownfield land, Section 54, Block 'K', Terry County. Proposed depth of well to be drilled 5500. Location center of Section."

"Bahan, Rhodes and Fitz-Patrick have filed an application with us to plug and abandon their well No. 1 Alice Henard, Section 394, Block D, Yoakum County. Sulphur water being encountered in this well at total depth of 5328."

We expected to get a report on the well that is to be drilled in the M. V. Brownfield ranch 6 miles south-east of the city by Mr. Estes and his associates, but no report had been handed in Wednesday. So this will have to be carried over until next week.

Cotton Estimate Was Higher Than Expected

The government cotton estimate, released Friday, and as of August 1st, was some 300,000 bales or more than private estimates, and as a consequence, the Chicago exchange, the only one open at the time, saw cotton drop 50 points, but regained some before the close.

The estimate was that there would be produced in the United States 12,481,000 bales. The condition was given as 72.3 per cent, and the acre yield at 199.7 pounds of lint per acre.

The corn estimate released Monday, was the lowest in 50 years, according to dispatches. The yield in the U. S. was placed at 1,439, 135,000 bushels.

Santa Fe Superint'nt Thanks the Herald

The Herald had a letter last week from Mr. J. R. Skillen, the new superintendent of the Slaton Division of the Santa Fe Railway, thanking the Herald for its editorial in the Railroad Week, recently. Mr. Skillen stated:

"It was through the efforts and co-operation of our friends that Railroad week was made a success, and I desire to thank you very kindly for your assistance in this undertaking."

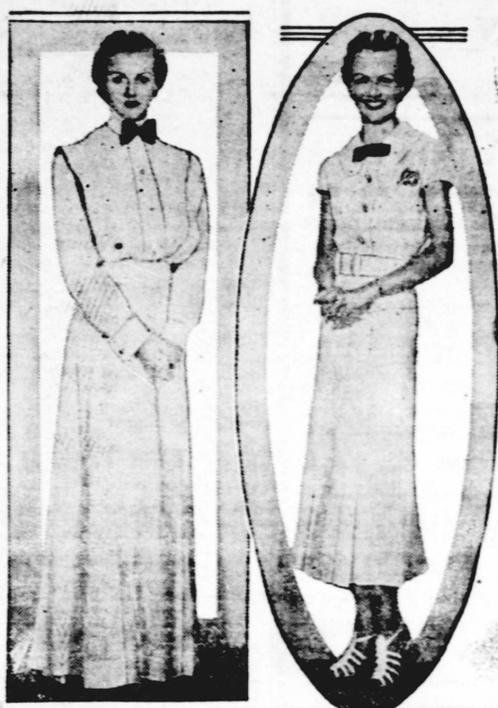

Filling Station Burned Here Sunday Night

A filling station and supply rooms, belonging to J. A. Nelson, situated on the north side of highway 84 burned Sunday night. We understand that Mr. Nelson carried some insurance.

Mr. Nelson was away at the time, and the fire had gained such headway before the fire boys arrived, that the building was destroyed, but the pumps were saved in fair condition.

Even good humor abhors perpetual giggling.

Which Did Mother Wear?

Uniform styles at Texas State College for Women (CIA) have changed with the prevailing fashion, and the demure miss of 1916 bears little resemblance to the trim young modern of today. Miss Joy Hawley of Denton models the uniform worn by her mother two decades ago, and the uniform she will wear this fall.

Building Mill House Of New Material

A. R. Ford, who lives in the western part of the city, invited us over recently to see a new kind of building material he was using in the construction of a mill house. Mr. Ford's residence and mill house is just west of Camp Western. The mill house he now has under construction, is made of pulverized caliche and sudan straw. These brick are almost as large as hollow tile, and seem to be hardening fast, and when pecked on with steel, sound very much like a burned tile.

He, of course is using mortar in laying these brick, and will finish the walls. Some of these brick have had as much as three hard rains on them since they were put up, with no evidence of deteriorating. The building is a 16x24, and will house his grist mill and engine. Mr. Ford stated that the building when complete, including second hand lumber for the roof, and tar paper covering, would cost in the neighborhood of $50. Of course he is doing all the work.

He has a brand new type bur mill, made by the Meadows Milling Co., of North Carolina. The burs are pure mountain granite, and he is turning out an excellent grade of corn meal.

Two Other Buildings Under Construction

A 25x25 addition at the rear of the Cave Variety store is being built for a warehouse and storage. The building addition is being erected by Roy Wingerd, material by Higginbotham-Bartlett Co. It is of tile and we understand will have a concrete floor. The building belongs to Raymond Barrier.

T. W. Cranford, of Hobbs, N. M., has erected a tile building 16x20 in the rear of the Cobb Dept. store, which will be used for a cafe, we understand. This building is almost ready for occupancy.

Shamburger Lumber Co. furnished material on this building.

Hudgens & Knight Remodeling Store Front

The Hudgens & Knight Hardware and Furniture Co. are remodeling the front of their store building this week. They are tearing out the south entrance and setting the door back like the north entrance. This will give them much more room for displaying their wares as they are taking in several feet of the floor space clear across the building and also the space on each side of the door.

When completed, this Hardware and Furniture store will have more space for window display than any other firm of its kind in town.

Start Drive on Small Town Business Houses

CHICAGO—As the first step in the distribution of ten million mail-order catalogues by Sears, Roebuck, & Co., 120 freight cars and 91 motor trucks left this city laden with heavy books from which millions of Americans make their Autumn purchases. A thousand freight cars will be required before the edition is distributed. Another big mail-order house, Montgomery Ward & Co., will increase its catalogue from six million to seven million, employing 550 year round workers in its preparation.

The above news item was taken from a press report. In plain words, it is a start of a drive for business by the big mail-order houses that the small town merchants should and would get if he advertised and went after the business. Reports show that the big mail-order houses are doing the biggest business in their history. They are entitled to the business for they are going after it, while the average small town business man is running one advertisement a month and sometimes none at all, the mail-order houses are keeping up a constant bid for business. There's a reason, they know the returns from advertising.

New Business Building Under Way on Hill

Foundation was being dug last Friday on Hill street, one block north of the square. The building is to be of brick and tile construction, with concrete floor, 25x60 feet, facing south. Roy Wingerd is the contractor, and the building is to be ready for occupancy by Sept. 1.

This building will be occupied by the Ross Motor Co. upon completion, for the sales agency of Hudson and Terraplane automobiles, and their line of tractors. For the present the Ross Motor Co. is in makeshift quarters in the rear of the Rannels Help Sely Laundry.

Thieves Pick Up a Pickup Monday Night

The delivery pickup belonging to Hudgens Grocery Co., was left standing in the streets here Monday night for just a few minutes, but when Clarence Hudgens returned to get it, it was gone, and up to this time (Tuesday afternoon) it has not been recovered.

One of the local officers reported seeing two men drive off in it, but of course thought they had borrowed it from the owner for some purpose.

Later: The pickup was found in the canyon near Lubbock.

Real Advertising to Start on Celebration

The Herald and other job plants of the city are busy this week preparing thousands of posters and circulars of the big Rodeo-Barbecue here on the 21-22 of August, when the city and county will combine to celebrate the 60th anniversary of the creation of Terry county. Terry with a great nest of other south plains and west Texas counties were hatched out from the huge 400 mile long and 200 mile wide Bexar county. Bexar is now an ordinary sized county, with the city of San Antonio as county seat.

This swarming took place 60 years ago this month, all of which are now well set up to housekeeping themselves. Terry county for a long time was attached to Martin county for judicial purposes, and our early settlers had to go to Stanton for court. But in 1904, 32 years ago, this past June, Terry was allowed to set up housekeeping in itself. When it started out on its own, there was less than 300 people in the county. Now there are around 12,000 happy people that are glad to call Terry county home.

TO Personally Invite Neighbors Beginning Wednesday of this week, the local chamber of Commerce will conduct two trips to neighboring cities and counties, and personally invite them to be our guests on those days. The towns visited will be snowed down with literature, telling the people just what will happen. The first trip this week will include Plains and Bronco, Texas, Tatum, Lovington, and Hobbs, N. M., and Seminole and Seagraves, Texas. The second trip will include, Levelland, Littlefield, Anton, Lubbock, Slaton, Post, Tahoka, O'Donnell and Lamesa.

Much Amusement Provided

The list of entertaining features so far will include a big three day Rodeo address by State and National officials, candidates for State Representative, a big street dance at night, platform dancing, Old Fiddlers' contest, Amateur Broadcasting Contest, the Texas Kidd Carnival, and many others, as new features are being signed up almost daily.

We are glad to say that Meadow as well as the rest of Terry county are cooperating in this celebration, and the finance raising committee is mighty well pleased with their success so far. The business and professional men, and farmers have responded liberally, but they are still taking money as from 10,000 to 20,000 are expected here on those days.

State Bank Announces New Vice-President

Announcement was made this week of the election of Mr. J. O. Gillham as Vice-President of the Brownfield State Bank. Mr. Dallas, President of the bank in making the announcement made the following statement:

"On account of a large increase in our business during the last few months and with prospects bright for the future, we have decided to employ another executive to assist us. We feel that Mr. Gillham was the very best man available and want to extend to all customers and friends of the Brownfield State Bank a cordial invitation to come in and meet Mr. Gillham and get acquainted with him. I am sure our friends are going to like him and his splendid family."

"I am highly pleased with Brownfield and feel greatly honored to be connected with the Brownfield State Bank and feel sure that its many friends will soon be my friends also. I will be glad to meet customers and friends of the bank anytime," said Mr. Gillham.

Mr. Gillham came here from Pampa, where he was connected with First National Bank there for many years in official capacity. Mrs. Gillham and three daughters will arrive from Pampa some time this week.

Corn Deteriorating—Corn Borers Present

Two weeks ago, Terry county had the promise of the best corn crop in its history, but the hot, dry weather since that time has seen prospects decrease at least a third, and in some sections half and more. Especially is this true of the west and southwest part of the county.

But with good rains in the next few days, much of the crop would come out considerably in that section, and would make their yield in sections of the county where moisture is better. We have seen some corn stalks on Friday, which have evidence that the borers are at work.

Panhandle and South Plains of Texas

The above is the caption of an article from the fluent pen of Mr. M. M. Bainer general agricultural agent of the Santa Fe Railway, and was one of the best and clearest descriptions of this section of the great southwest that we have ever read. Mr. Bainer made only one slip, when he stated that "corn was not an extensive crop on the Plains." The assertion is true of the whole, but certain sandy land counties in this immediate section are becoming noted for corn production. Terry stands third in corn and fourth in hog production in the state.

Terry county alone has often made in the neighborhood of a million bushels of this grain, and with one more good rain, the production this year is estimated at 1,500,000 bushels or more. Mr. Bainer should drop down here sometime this winter and see wagons and trucks lined up for blocks awaiting their turn to get on the public scales. He should visit the pens of the Babcoara Development Co., and other large feeders that use corn principally in fattening their steers. He should see the car after car, many being loaded right now, from the last year's crop, on his own railroad to go to various points to make corn meal and mixed feeds. Not to mention the thousand of bushels that leave here in trucks to central west and central Texas points.

But aside from this, the article in the current issue of "The Earth," Santa Fe publication is true in every form but not in the least overdrawn. First he tells us that this vast region of rolling fertile prairie has 12 million acres under cultivation, with almost that amount that is tillable awaiting the plowman. He tells us in glowing words of the annual rainfall and delightful climate; that it has about 190 days of growing season, with mild winters mostly. Of the great wheat production, which is about two-thirds of the state yield.

He informs us that in 1935 this region yielded close to 600,000 bales of cotton, and that it is the banner grain sorghum section of the world; also about the sweet sorghum production, broomcorn and sudan grass hay. The poultry and cream production, which is reaching higher and higher. Livestock and pumping irrigation, and what they mean to the region. Gas and oil production, the former being the largest in the world, as well as the fast industrial development.

If you should wish a copy of the August issue, the Santa Fe Railway Co., Topeka, Kansas, will supply them. Indeed, this monthly magazine, "The Earth," will be sent to anyone asking for six months, free of charge.

Hiway Workers to See Frontier Centennial

FORT WORTH—Thirty thousand employees of the State Highway Department will be given a week end holiday to attend the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial on August 22 by an order issued by the State Highway Commission received here recently.

The order granting the holiday was passed by the State Highway Commission in response to an invitation extended by J. J. Hurley city projects agent, who has been appointed to make arrangements for entertaining the huge group of state highway employees.

The order gives the state highway employees a holiday not only on August 22, which occurs on Saturday but also on the Monday following. All State Highway offices throughout Texas will be closed on those dates.

The commission appointed H. H. Allen, its public relations director, to confer with Miss Margaret Hall, chairman of the special days committee of the exposition, and Hurley Allen will forward an invitation to highway employees in each district to attend the exposition.

We understand that the International Harvester Co. is trying to lease or have built a fire proof structure 25x140 feet in Brownfield in which they aim to put in a full line of everything they carry in the way of machinery, separators, and what have you. An agent of the company failed to make the riffle last week. All eyes are on Brownfield—watch our dust as we go by.

Brownfield expects you August 21-22

Some of the cotton men say that the cotton plant seems to be doing a little better the last few days, and not wilting quite so badly. They say that evidently the plant is being forced to send down their tap roots deeper to moisture.

The Herald is not a scandal sheet. It has been here too long; and it aims to stay a long time yet, and it can't afford to insult good meaning people just for the fun of the thing. There simply is no pleasure to us in hurting people's feelings.

Here of late we have had much discussion in the press about the "second" primary. Indeed, the word primary means first, yet we have a "second" primary election here in Texas. All of which sounds foolish, yet it is not foolishness.

Personally, we had rather be wise enough to attend church in our shirt sleeves and in comfort, than to be silly enough to let dame fashion rule us and sit through a long sermon, sweating, perspiring, fuming and uncomfortable. If the other fellow sees it the other way around, that is their business too.

"Oh! consistency, thou art a jewel." The New Mexican Republicans have met in solemn convention and over on their right side they condemned the extravagance of the Roosevelt administration, and on their left hand, they slightly gave a sop to the Townsends by endorsing the doctor's plan. Well, those birds will need a few thousand votes this fall.

Congressman Zioncheck "checked in" one day last week, by taking the growing popular route of modern suicides a leap from a several story window to the sidewalk—and no sidewalk makes a soft landing place. It is said that when elected, and for several months afterwards, Zioncheck was a bully fellow, a hard and consistent worker, but disappointment in a love affair aided by alcohol wrecked him physically and mentally.

After 19 years of publication, Jim Ferguson has suspended the publication of his Forum. Through this paper, which he freely circulated among his followers from the forks of the creek, and his oratory and "pour it on" methods from the platform he held the majority of the votes most of the time, and a balance of power the rest of the time. But for the past two years, his laurels have been fading and after the July election, Jim as a power in Texas politics, was winked out.

Well, we note that the "Constitutional Demmeys" have met at "Houston" and are now thoroughly organized to stop Roosevelt and Garner. We note with pleasure among the names and addresses of the 78 who seemed to have attended and manned the meeting, few were from north or west Texas, the great majority being from Houston and south Texas, and few of which we ever heard of before. They claim to be the real followers of Jefferson and Jackson. Those old statesmen and commanders would be ashamed to be caught in this crowd.

Col. E. O. Thompson, running for railroad commissioner tells us in his literature that he is for and has been a big help to the independent oil operators and the common people in general, and how much money he has saved for the state and school fund. On the other hand, his opponent, Frank S. Morris, of Dallas says that the Colonel is lined up with the big companies, and don't give the wag of a dog's tail for the independent oil man or the common herd. That he (Thompson) is rich himself and can prove it. About all the Herald can advise the voter to do is to "exercise your privilege but be careful how you vote."

Don't forget, August 21-22.

There is especially one amendment to the state constitution that all Texans in the smaller cities and counties should support. We refer to HJR No. 9, which intends to limit the number of representatives any county can have. If the growth of the cities and counties of Houston, Dallas, Bexar and Tarrant for instance, go on as rapid in the next two generations as they have in the past one, these four cities will almost control legislation in the state of Texas. Limiting the representation from Chicago and other large northern cities had to be done years ago in those states. Don't vote against all amendments just because they are an amendment. Study them; think of the future of Texas.

INSULTING INFANTS

I often wondered how small children endure the fatuity of adults. Grownup people ask children and babies just beginning to prattle some of the most insane question conceivable. Questions that are actually an insult to the average infants intelligence. Such as these: "Who's that, Junior?" (speaking of Aunt Mirama). "Now who's that over there?" "Who's your daddy, Junior?" (How should he know) "What are you doing?" (When it is very obvious that he is building bridges in the sand). "Where do you live?" (And you've known him since the first day he was subjected to his present plight. "What do you think of that girl over there?" (A question you wouldn't ask an adult).—And so on.

Then when the urchin goes into a tantrum everybody thinks he is an incorrigible little brat. Whereas, if we were asked such rapid questions every day we would probably not only go into a tantrum but throw in a few extra kicks punctuated by several raucous shrieks for good measure.—Jean Suits in Lockney Beacon.

Curiosa Americana
By Elmo Scott Watson

Gen. Lee, U. S. A.;
Gen. Grant, C. S. A!

Gen. ROBERT E. LEE, commander in chief of the Union army; Gen. Ulysses S. Grant, commander in chief of the Confederate armies.

Sounds all wrong doesn't it? But it might have turned out that way! Most of us know that, before Virginia "seceded" from the Union and Lee decided to cast his lot with his native state, President Lincoln offered him command of the Union army, which he declined. But it is not so well known that Grant also received a similar offer from the Confederacy.

But Grant's own words are our evidence for that fact. Years later when he was President, he offered Robert Martin Douglas, the son of Stephen A. Douglas, a government position. At that time he declared: "I was about to accept a Confederate commission when your father dissuaded me. All my career I owe to him and nothing is too good for his son."

It would not have been so unusual if he had accepted the commission, for at the time he was an ex-officer of the United States army, a Democrat and married to a Missouri woman who owned slaves—all sufficiently good reasons for his entering the service of the South. If he had and if Lee had accepted Lincoln's offer, how different the outcome of the war might have been! There might have been no Appomattox, but if there had been the historic roles might have been reversed, making Lee the victor and Grant the vanquished!

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

The State Of Texas, To the Sheriff or any Constable of Terry County—Greeting:

You are Hereby Commanded to summon Jewel Kirkpatrick by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published in the nearest District in any newspaper published in the 106th Judicial District; but if there be no newspaper published in said Judicial District, then in a newspaper published in the nearest District to said 106th Judicial District, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Terry County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Brownfield, on the Fourth Monday in August, 1936 A. D., the same being the 24th day of August, 1936 A. D., then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 20th day of July, 1936 A. D., in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 2086, wherein Leola Lillian Kirkpatrick is Plaintiff, and Jewel Kirkpatrick is Defendant, and said petition alleging That plaintiff and defendant were lawfully married on May 27th, 1934; that they continued to live together as husband and wife until on or about March 12th, 1935, when by reason of the cruel and harsh treatment of defendant toward plaintiff she was forced to permanently abandon him; that defendant got drunk, was quarrelsome, jealous and failed to provide for plaintiff's support and his conduct generally was of such a nature as to render their further living together as husband and wife insupportable, and plaintiff asks for judgement dissolving the marriage relations between plaintiff and defendant and for restoration of her maiden name.

Herein Fail not but have before said Court, at its aforesaid regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same. Given under my hand and the seal of said Court, at office in Brownfield, Texas, on this the 20th day of July, A. D. 1936. Eldora A. White Clerk, District Court Terry County, Texas. V. 32 No. 1

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

S. J. R. No. 3-a

A joint resolution proposing an Amendment to Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas by striking out Section 20 thereof; providing for local option on the question of the sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes; providing that spirituous liquors, or liquors composed in whole or in part of the products of distillation shall not be sold for private profits, except to the State; providing that the Legislature shall pass laws relative to the sale, possession, transportation and manufacture of such spirituous liquors; providing for the establishment of State dispensaries; providing for the manufacture, sale, transportation, and possession of all liquors which are exclusively products of the fermentation process; providing that intoxicating liquors shall not be manufactured, sold, bartered, or exchanged for beverage purposes in any county or political subdivision wherein the sale of intoxicating liquors had been prohibited by local option elections held under the laws in force at the time of the taking effect of Section 20, Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas, until a majority of the qualified voters of such county or political subdivision shall determine such to be lawful at an election held for that purpose; providing for an election on the question of the adoption or rejection of such amendment and making an appropriation therefor; providing for the proclamation and publication thereof; and prescribing the form of ballot.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by striking out Section 20 thereof and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

"Article XIV. Section 20:

"(a) It is hereby declared to be the policy of this State that the open saloon shall not be reestablished. The sale of spirituous liquors, manufactured in whole or in part by means of the process of distillation and or liquors compounded and or composed in part of such spirituous distilled liquors, for private profit, is prohibited within this State except when such sale is made to the State. The State of Texas shall have the exclusive right to purchase at wholesale and to sell at retail such distilled spirituous liquors. Such sale shall be made only in unbroken packages and no such liquors shall be consumed on the premises where sold. The Legislature shall pass laws to prescribe regulations relative to the manufacture, sale, transportation, and possession of such spirituous liquors and relative to the establishment of State dispensaries; provided, however the Legislature shall have the power to regulate the sale for private profit and possession of distilled liquors for medicinal, scientific and mechanical purposes.

"The manufacture, sale, transportation, and possession of all liquors, the alcoholic content of which is entirely and exclusively the result of the fermentation process is hereby authorized under such restrictions as may be authorized by law.

"(b) The Legislature shall enact a law or laws whereby the qualified voters of any county, justice's precinct or incorporated town or city, may, by a majority vote of those voting, determine from time to time whether the sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purpose shall be prohibited or legalized within the prescribed limits; and such laws shall contain provisions for voting on the sale of intoxicating liquors of various types and various alcoholic content.

"(c) In all counties, justice's precincts or incorporated towns or cities within the sale of intoxicating liquors had been prohibited by local option elections held under the laws of the State of Texas and in force at the time of the taking effect of Section 20, Article XIV of the Constitution of Texas, it shall continue to be unlawful to manufacture, sell, barter or exchange in any such county, justice's precinct or incorporated town or city, any spirituous, vinous or malt liquors or medicated bitters capable of producing intoxication or any other intoxicants whatsoever for beverage purposes, unless and until a majority of the qualified voters in such county or political subdivision thereof voting in an election held for such purpose shall determine such to be lawful; provided that this subsection shall not prohibit the sale of alcoholic beverages containing not more than 3.2 per cent alcohol by weight in cities, counties or political subdivisions thereof in which the qualified voters have voted to legalize such sale under the provisions of Chapter 116, Acts of the regular session of the 43rd Legislature."

"The amendment to the State Constitution providing for the establishment of a State dispensary system having the exclusive sale of distilled liquors, and providing for local option."

"An those voters opposed to said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words: "Against the Amendment to the State Constitution providing for the establishment of a State dispensary system having the exclusive sale of distilled liquors, and providing for local option."

If it appears from the returns of said election that a majority of the votes cast are in favor of said Amendment, the same shall become a part of the State Constitution.

Sec. 3. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for such election, and shall have the same published and such election held as provided by the Constitution and laws of this State.

Sec. 4. The sum of Eight Thousands ($8,000.00) Dollars, or much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of the State Treasury to pay for the expenses of said publication and election.

A joint resolution proposing an Amendment to Section 48, Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas, authorizing the establishment of Teachers' Retirement System, and making an appropriation for the election.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section I. That Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended thereto immediately after Section 48, a section to be known as Section 48a, and to read as follows:

"Section 48a: In addition to the powers given to the Legislature, under Section 48 of Article III, it shall have the right to levy taxes to provide a Retirement Fund for persons employed in public schools, colleges and universities, supported wholly or partly by the State; provided that the amount contributed by the State to such Retirement Fund shall equal the amount paid for the same purpose from the income of each such person, and shall not exceed at any time five per centum of the compensation paid to each person by the State, and or school districts, and shall in no one year exceed the sum of One Hundred Eighty ($180.00) Dollars for any such person; provided no person shall be eligible for a pension under this Amendment who has not taught twenty years in the State of Texas, but shall be entitled to a refund of the moneys paid into the fund.

All funds provided from the compensation of said persons or by the State of Texas, for such Retirement Fund, as are received by the Treasury of the State of Texas, shall be invested in bonds of the United States, cities of this State, or in bonds issued by any agency of the United States Government, the payment of the principal and of interest on which is guaranteed by the United States; provided that a sufficient amount of said funds shall be kept on hand to meet the immediate payment of the amounts that may become due each year under such retirement plan as may be provided by law; and provided that the recipients of such retirement fund shall not be eligible for any other pension retirement funds or direct aid from the State of Texas, unless such retirement fund, contributed by the State, is released to the State of Texas as a condition to receiving such other pension aid."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at the next General Election to be held on Tuesday, after the first Monday in November, which is November 3rd, 1936, at which election all voters favoring said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words: "For the Amendment to the Constitution authorizing retirement and the creation of a retirement fund for persons employed in public schools and colleges and universities supported wholly or partly by the State."

Those opposing said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words: "Against the Amendment to the Constitution authorizing retirement and the creation of a retirement fund for persons employed in public schools and colleges and universities supported wholly or partly by the State."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas is hereby directed to issue the necessary Proclamation for said election and to have same published as required by the Constitution for amendments thereto.

Sec. 4. The sum of Five Thousands ($5,000.00) Dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State of Texas, not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expense of such publication and election.

A joint resolution proposing an Amendment to the Constitution authorizing the Legislature to provide for Workmen's Compensation Insurance for employees of the State, and authorizing the Legislature to provide for the payment of premiums on such policies of insurance; providing the State shall never be required to purchase insurance for any employees; providing for the necessary publication and election; making an appropriation to pay for same.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto a new Section to be known as Section 59, to read as follows:

"Section 59. The Legislature shall have power to pass such laws as may be necessary to provide for Workmen's Compensation Insurance for such State employees, as in its judgment is necessary or required; and to provide for the payment of all costs, charges, and premiums on such policies of insurance; providing the State shall never be required to purchase insurance for any employee."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November 1936, at which election all voters favoring said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words:

"For the Amendment authorizing the Legislature to provide for the payment of Workmen's Compensation Insurance for employees of the State."

And all those opposed shall write or have printed on their ballots the words:

"Against the Amendment authorizing the Legislature to provide for the payment of Workmen's Compensation Insurance for employees of the State."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have same published as required by the Constitution for Amendments.

Sec. 4. The sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State, not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expense of such publication and election.

S. J. R. No. 26

A joint resolution proposing an amendment to Section 11 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Texas, so as to provide for a Board of Pardons and Paroles, composed of three members, whose terms of office shall be for a period of six years, one to be appointed by the Governor, one by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of Texas, and one by the presiding Justice of the Court of Criminal Appeals, such appointment to be with the advice and consent of two-thirds of the Senate present; and so as to provide that the Governor of the State shall have the power on the recommendation and advice of the majority of the Board of Pardons and Paroles to grant reprieves, commutations of punishment and pardons, and, with the advice and consent of the Legislature, to grant reprieves, commutations of punishment and pardons in cases of treason; and to provide that the Governor shall have power to grant one reprieve in any capital case not to exceed thirty (30) days; and shall have the power to revoke paroles and conditional pardons; and to provide that the Legislature shall have authority to regulate procedure before the Board and to enact parole laws; and to provide for an election for such proposed constitutional amendment, and to make an appropriation therefor.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section I. That Section 11 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as hereafter to read as follows: "Section 11. There is hereby created a Board of Pardons and Paroles to be composed of three members, who shall have been resident citizens of the State of Texas for a period of not less than two years immediately preceding such appointment, each of whom shall hold office for a term of six years; provided that of the members of the first board appointed, one shall serve for two years, one for four years and one for six years from the first day of February, 1937, and they shall cast lots for their respective terms. One member of the said Board shall be appointed by the Governor, one by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of Texas, and one member by the presiding Justice of the Court of Criminal Appeals; the appointments of all members of said Board shall be made with the advice and consent of two-thirds of the Senate present. Each vacancy shall be filled by the respective appointing power that theretofore made the appointment to such position and the appointive powers shall have the authority to make recess appointments until the convening of the Senate.

In all criminal cases, except treason and impeachment the Governor shall have power after conviction, on the written signed recommendation and advice of the Board of Pardons and Paroles or a majority thereof, to grant reprieves and commutations of punishment and pardons; and under such rules as the Legislature may prescribe, and upon the written recommendation and advice of a majority of the Board of Pardons and Paroles, he shall have the power to remit fines and forfeitures. The Governor shall have the power to grant one reprieve in any capital case for a period not to exceed thirty (30) days; and he shall have the power to revoke paroles and conditional pardons. With the advice and consent of the Legislature, he may grant reprieves, commutations of punishment and pardons in cases of treason.

The Legislature shall have power to regulate procedure before the Board of Pardons and Paroles and shall require it to keep record of its actions and the reasons therefor, and shall have authority to enact parole laws."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to the electors of this State who are qualified to vote on proposed constitutional amendments at the general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1936, at which election each ballot shall have printed thereon the words:

"For the amendment of Section 11 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Texas, so as to provide for a Board of Pardons and Paroles, and to make the Governor's pardoning power subject to recommendation of said Board, except in cases of treason the Governor may grant reprieves, commutations and pardons with the advice and consent of the Legislature."

Each voter shall strike out with pen or pencil the clause which does not indicate his desire regarding the above proposed amendment:

Sec. 3. The Governor is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election, and to have the above proposed amendment published in the manner and for the time required by the Constitution and laws of this State.

Sec. 4. The sum of Five Thousand ($5,000.00) Dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated to pay the expenses of such publication and election.

The above is a true and correct copy.

A joint resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas fixing the salaries of certain constitutional officers by amending Section 5 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Texas as fixing the salary of the Governor at Twelve Thousand ($12,000.00) Dollars per annum; by amending Section 22 Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Texas fixing the salary of the Attorney General at Ten Thousand ($10,000.00) Dollars per annum; by amending Section 23 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Texas fixing the salary of the Comptroller, Treasurer and Commissioner of the General Land Office at Six Thousand ($6,000.00) Dollars per annum; and by amending Section 21 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Texas fixing the salary of the Secretary of State at Six Thousand ($6,000.00) Dollars per annum; providing for its submission to the voters of the State of Texas as required by the Constitution and making an appropriation therefor.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section I. That Section 5 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be so amended as to hereafter read as follows: "Sec. 5. The Governor shall, at stated times, receive as compensation for his service an annual salary of Twelve Thousand ($12,000.00) Dollars and no more, and shall have the use and occupation of the Governor's mansion, fixtures and furniture; provided that the amendment shall not become effective until the third Tuesday in January, 1937."

Section 2. That Section 22 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be so amended as to hereafter read as follows: "Sec. 22. The Attorney General shall hold office for two years and until his successor is duly qualified. He shall represent the State in all suits and pleas in the Supreme Court of the State in which the State may be a party, and shall especially inquire into the charter rights of all private corporations, and from time to time, in the name of the State, take such action in the courts as may be proper and necessary to prevent any private corporation from exercising any power or demanding or collecting any species of taxes, tolls, freight or wharfage not authorized by law. He shall, whenever sufficient cause exists, seek a judicial forfeiture of such charters, unless otherwise expressly directed by law, and give legal advice in writing to the Governor and other executive officers, when requested by them, and perform such other duties as may be required by law. He shall reside at the seat of government during his continuance in office. He shall receive for his services an annual salary of Ten Thousand ($10,000.00) Dollars, and no more."

Section 3. That Section 23 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended so as to hereafter read as follows: "Sec. 23. The Comptroller of Public Accounts, the Treasurer, and Commissioner of the General Land Office shall each hold office for the term of two years and until his successor is qualified; receive an annual salary of Six Thousand ($6,000.00) Dollars and no more; reside at the Capitol of the State during his continuance in office, and perform such duties as are or may be required by law. They and the Secretary of State shall not receive to their own use any fees, costs or perquisites of office. All fees that may be payable by law for any service performed by any officer specified in this Section or in his office, shall be paid, when received into the State Treasury."

Section 4. That Section 21 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be so amended as to hereafter read as follows: "Sec. 21. There shall be a Secretary of State, who shall be appointed by the Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, and who shall continue in office during the term of service of the Governor. He shall authenticate the publication of the laws, and keep a fair register of all official acts and proceedings of the Governor, and shall, when required, lay the same and all papers, minutes and vouchers relative thereto, before the Legislature, or either House thereof, and shall perform such other duties as may be required of him by law. He shall receive for his service an annual salary of Six Thousand ($6,000.00) Dollars, and no more."

4 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

"Sec. 22. The Attorney General shall hold office for two years and until his successor is duly qualified. He shall represent the State in all suits and pleas in the Supreme Court of the State in which the State may be a party, and shall especially inquire into the charter rights of all private corporations, and from time to time, in the name of the State, take such action in the courts as may be proper and necessary to prevent any private corporation from exercising any power or demanding or collecting any species of taxes, tolls, freight or wharfage not authorized by law. He shall, whenever sufficient cause exists, seek a judicial forfeiture of such charters, unless otherwise expressly directed by law, and give legal advice in writing to the Governor and other executive officers, when requested by them, and perform such other duties as may be required by law. He shall reside at the seat of government during his continuance in office. He shall receive for his services an annual salary of Ten Thousand ($10,000.00) Dollars, and no more."

Section 3. That Section 23 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended so as to hereafter read as follows: "Sec. 23. The Comptroller of Public Accounts, the Treasurer, and Commissioner of the General Land Office shall each hold office for the term of two years and until his successor is qualified; receive an annual salary of Six Thousand ($6,000.00) Dollars and no more; reside at the Capitol of the State during his continuance in office, and perform such duties as are or may be required by law. They and the Secretary of State shall not receive to their own use any fees, costs or perquisites of office. All fees that may be payable by law for any service performed by any officer specified in this Section or in his office, shall be paid, when received into the State Treasury."

Section 4. That Section 21 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be so amended as to hereafter read as follows: "Sec. 21. There shall be a Secretary of State, who shall be appointed by the Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, and who shall continue in office during the term of service of the Governor. He shall authenticate the publication of the laws, and keep a fair register of all official acts and proceedings of the Governor, and shall, when required, lay the same and all papers, minutes and vouchers relative thereto, before the Legislature, or either House thereof, and shall perform such other duties as may be required of him by law. He shall receive for his service an annual salary of Six Thousand ($6,000.00) Dollars, and no more."

Section 5. Said proposed Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at the next general election to be held throughout the State on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1936, at which election all voters favoring such proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words:

"For the Amendment to the State Constitution fixing the salary of the Governor at Twelve Thousand ($12,000.00) Dollars per annum; the salary of the Attorney General at Ten Thousand ($10,000.00) Dollars per annum; the salary of the Comptroller, Treasurer and Commissioner of the General Land Office at Six Thousand ($6,000.00) Dollars per annum, and the salary of the Secretary of State at Six Thousand ($6,000.00) Dollars per annum."

And those voters opposing said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words:

"Against the Amendment to the State Constitution fixing the salary of the Governor at Twelve Thousand ($12,000.00) Dollars per annum; the salary of the Attorney General at Ten Thousand ($10,000.00) Dollars per annum; the salary of the Comptroller, Treasurer and Commissioner of the General Land Office at Six Thousand ($6,000.00) Dollars per annum, and the salary of the Secretary of State at Six Thousand ($6,000.00) Dollars per annum."

The above is a true and correct copy.

adding thereto Section 26a, providing that under no apportionment shall any county be entitled to more than seven (7) Representatives unless the population of such county shall exceed seven hundred thousand (700,000) people; providing for the apportionment in counties of more than seven hundred thousand (700,000) people; providing for its submission to the voters as required by the Constitution and making an appropriation therefor.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Section 26, of Article 3, of the Constitution of Texas, be amended by adding thereto Section 26a, as follows:

"Section 26a. Provided however, that no county shall be entitled to or have under any apportionment more than seven (7) Representatives unless the population of such county shall exceed seven hundred thousand (700,000) people as ascertained by the most recent United States Census, in which event such county shall be entitled to one additional Representative for each one hundred thousand (100,000) population in excess of seven hundred thousand (700,000) population as shown by the latest United States Census; nor shall any district be created which would permit any county to have more than seven (7) Representatives except under the conditions set forth above."

Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State, at the next General Election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1936, at which election all voters favoring said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words:

"For the Amendment to the Constitution of Texas, limiting every county to not more than seven (7) Representatives under any apportionment unless said county shall have a population of more than seven hundred thousand (700,000) people as ascertained by the most recent United States Census in which event such County shall be entitled to one additional Representative to each one hundred thousand (100,000) population."

And those opposed to said Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words:

"Against the Amendment to the Constitution of Texas, limiting every county to not more than seven (7) Representatives under any apportionment unless said county shall have a population of more than seven hundred thousand (700,000) people as ascertained by the most recent United States Census in which event such County shall be entitled to one additional Representative to each one hundred thousand (100,000) population in excess of seven hundred thousand (700,000) population."

If it appears from the returns of said election that a majority of the voters are in favor of said Amendment, the same shall become a part of the State Constitution.

Section 3. The Governor of the State of Texas, is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said Election and to have same published as required by the Constitution for Amendments thereto.

Section 4. The sum of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State of Texas, not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expense of such publication and election.

A to M but No J

IN CONTRAST to the short life of some of the letter combinations in the New Deal's "alphabet soup" is the fact that an alphabetical designation system originated by an American army officer 120 years ago is still in use. He was Col. Charles Kitchell Gardner and if you look in the "Historical Register and Dictionary of the United States Army" you will find him credited with being the "author of the designation of companies (May 22, 1816) by the first letter of the alphabet."

Born in New Jersey, Gardner was appointed an ensign in the army in 1808, served as a captain of artillery in the War of 1812, was transferred to the infantry and advanced to the rank of major and then colonel during that conflict. He finally resigned in 1818 and died in 1860.

Although Gardner's scheme for designating the companies in infantry and artillery regiments and the troops in cavalry regiments was by letters from A to M, there has never been a Company J in our army. The reason is that, at the time he invented the system, the letters I and J were still frequently written exactly alike. To avoid confusion the J was omitted. For the same reason there is no J street in Washington, D. C., where some of the principal thoroughfares are designated by letters instead of names.

Mrs. B. B. DeBusk of this city, together with seven members of the family figured in a car wreck just south of Plainview last week, in which the trailer of another car was said to have side swiped them. Mrs. DeBusk was quite seriously injured and carried to a sanitarium at Lubbock for treatment, but has been released. Other members of the family had only minor injuries.

Some 40 or 50 people, including the high school band and a loud speaker, left Wednesday morning on the first leg of the advertising schedule for the barbecue and rodeo celebration. This trip will include points in both Texas and New Mexico.

The fact is, however, that two Presidents have been arrested, although in neither case were they prosecuted. The first was President Franklin Pierce who one night in 1853 was returning from the home of William Morgan in Washington when his carriage ran down an aged woman. Constable Stanley Edelin, who saw the accident, immediately arrested the occupant of the carriage but released him at once when he learned who his prisoner was.

The second was President Ulysses S. Grant who was arrested for fast driving! Grant was clipping along M street in a buggy drawn by a fast-stepping trotter when Policeman William H. West stopped him. Upon recognizing the President, the policeman began an abject apology but Grant said "Officer, do your duty!" and insisted that charges be preferred against him. The police records of Washington contain no mention of the incident so evidently the President, although he was "arrested," was not "booked."

Curiosa Americana
By Elmo Scott Watson

The Deaf Girl's Gift
EVERY time you take advantage of the convenience of a telephone, give thanks to a deaf girl and the love for her which spurred on a young inventor until he perfected the instrument which is now in common use in every American home and office. Her name was Mabel Hubbard and she was deaf from the age of four, as the result of scarlet fever. So her father, Gardiner Greene Hubbard, a Boston lawyer, sent her to Germany to learn lip-reading to help her overcome her handicap.

While she was abroad, a young Scotchman named Alexander Graham Bell, came to Boston. He was the son of Alexander Melville Bell, a teacher of elocution in Newfoundland, author of a well-known book, "Visible Speech," and inventor of a system of stenography. Young "Alick" Bell had helped his father teach his new system of "visible speech" and also aided him on the lecture platform. In Boston he opened a school of vocal physiology and Lawyer Hubbard became interested in his work.

He invited Bell to his home and there the inventor met Mabel Hubbard, just returned from her studies in Germany. Bell promptly fell in love with the girl, and her plight kept him busy at his project to "devise an apparatus that might help deaf children." This apparatus later was to develop into the telephone.

In November, 1875, Mabel Hubbard accepted Bell's proposal of marriage. At the Centennial exposition in Philadelphia the next year, Bell's invention of the telephone was the sensation of the day. On July 11, 1877, he and Mabel Hubbard were married. For his wedding gift Bell made over all his interest in the telephone to his bride—a more princely gift than he could possibly have realized at the time that it would prove to be.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Childress and family are leaving this week for Comanche county.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Simmons celebrated their fortieth wedding anniversary Sunday. Many friends called during the day.

Coy Shuts of Johnson and Thurman Locke were dinner guests of Gordon and W. G. Walker, Sunday.

Mr. Wayne Rose left last Thursday for San Angelo after spending several weeks with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lee. He was accompanied by Messrs. Edward and Clayton Walker and Welton Locke.

Mrs. Ruby Doss and children and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Whitley were dinner guests in the Logan Ernest home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Chapman of Brownfield visited the C. J. McLeroy's, Sunday afternoon.

There wasn't so many present at Sunday School last Sunday. It seems that everyone has gone on a vacation.

I wish to thank the voters of Precinct No. 1, for the nice vote I received in the July primary. Also for their co-operation and encouragement the past 18 months. I want you to know that I am always doing my best at all times for Terry county and Precinct 1. Again thanking you.

Yours respectfully,

Mrs. B. B. DeBusk of this city, together with seven members of the family figured in a car wreck just south of Plainview last week, in which the trailer of another car was said to have side swiped them. Mrs. DeBusk was quite seriously injured and carried to a sanitarium at Lubbock for treatment, but has been released. Other members of the family had only minor injuries.

Some 40 or 50 people, including the high school band and a loud speaker, left Wednesday morning on the first leg of the advertising schedule for the barbecue and rodeo celebration. This trip will include points in both Texas and New Mexico.

The fact is, however, that two Presidents have been arrested, although in neither case were they prosecuted. The first was President Franklin Pierce who one night in 1853 was returning from the home of William Morgan in Washington when his carriage ran down an aged woman. Constable Stanley Edelin, who saw the accident, immediately arrested the occupant of the carriage but released him at once when he learned who his prisoner was.

The second was President Ulysses S. Grant who was arrested for fast driving! Grant was clipping along M street in a buggy drawn by a fast-stepping trotter when Policeman William H. West stopped him. Upon recognizing the President, the policeman began an abject apology but Grant said "Officer, do your duty!" and insisted that charges be preferred against him. The police records of Washington contain no mention of the incident so evidently the President, although he was "arrested," was not "booked."

Hop Halsey of Lubbock, candidate for State Representative, was here Saturday and addressed the voters of Terry county. He and his campaign manager, Jim Lindsey, and Messrs. Joe Faucett and Joe Seagler, called on the Herald. Mr. Lindsey is editor of The Torador, student publication of Tech College.

Harry N. Stone, editor and publisher of the Seminole Sentinel was a caller at the Herald office, Tuesday.

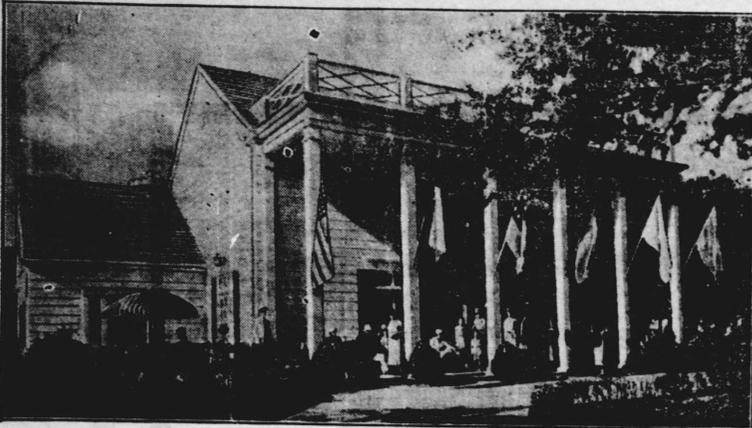

State Representative Doyle Settle and his campaign manager paid the Herald a very pleasant call Saturday afternoon. Mr. Settle is making the race to succeed himself for the second term in the Legislature.

McDonald Should Be Re-Elected Ag. Com.

In the state races, the Chronicle proposes to continue its support of J. E. McDonald for re-election as agricultural commissioner. It is feared that many a vote intended for Mr. McDonald went to W. H. McDonald the nominee for and commissioner. It hardly seems possible that the Texas electorate could truly intend to indorse Former Commissioner George B. Terrell, who quit congress with a denunciation of the New Deal on his lips, and who has filled the letter columns of the Texas Newspapers with a continuous stream of denunciation of the Roosevelt administration, and everything for which it stands, for the past two years.

He is chief sponsor in the nation of a farm plan which will protect the cotton farmer while enabling our cotton merchants to make a drive to recapture the lost cotton markets of the world. WEED GROWTHS HEALTH MENACE

AUSTIN—Texas has been fortunate this year in having beneficial rains in many parts of the State during the hot summer months. The rains however have made the weeds grow faster and left water standing in secluded places and has created an unsightly and insanitary condition in many communities. "While many places are well kept, there are some individuals who do not realize the necessity of keeping the weeds down and eliminating the standing water so that mosquitoes cannot breed," said Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer. "Appeal to the civic pride of the citizens in a community will often result in a cleanup campaign with astonishing results. Each individual can help by inspecting his premises to see that all nuisances are eliminated.

- "The inspection for conditions which might need correction should include:
1. Weeds and long grass which spring up almost over night this time of year.
2. Cans and other rubbish which might furnish a sufficient amount of water for mosquitoes to breed.
3. Garbage should be disposed of in such a manner that flies will not be attracted.
4. Outdoor toilets should be made sanitary.
5. Wells and cisterns should be inspected to see that the family water supply is free from contaminated material.
Every member of the community should do his part to remove nuisances and waste material now and keep them from becoming potential disease and death breeders."

In a circular letter to county agents under date of July 28, R. R. Reppert, Extension Entomologist, College Station, predicted leaf worm infestation would spread as far as the Panhandle by September 1, probably by mid-August. He said that severe damage was immediately impending through the eastern part of the State. Regardless of the probability of such infestation in this area, farmers are warned to keep on the lookout and be ready to apply control measures. Poisons recommended as the most effective in the control of this pest are calcium arsenate and lead arsenate. Calcium arsenate is usually cheaper than lead arsenate. For spraying, the usual amount is 3 lb. poison to 50 gallons of water.

Mrs. Weldon Ridgeway and children returned home with her sister Mrs. Terrel Isbell, to Jacksboro, last week where they will spend several weeks visiting. They will take in the Centennial at Dallas and Fort Worth while away.

Bill Romane and wife, Percy Finley and wife, and Taylor Lowery, all of Crosbyton, were down the past week end. The men came around to argue with us about Hop Halsey, but we were out, thank goodness. W. E. Winn is building a small rent house on his farm near Gomez.

OUR 23 YEAR COLUMN

Quoting from our issue of August 15, 1913: The citizens of Brownfield and Terry county had been called on to subscribe $50 for expenses of surveying out the Southern National Highway, which ran from Washington, D. C., on through Brownfield to San Diego, Calif. Federal and state aid for this road had been applied for. The big combination Woodman-Confederate celebration and picnic was history. The crowd estimated at 1200 was fed at noon and 6:30 in the afternoon, and then lots of chuck was left. Everybody had amusement, as there were ball games, tournament, doll racks, Duck the Negro, and what have you. Commissioners had met and approved the road running south from Gomez and north from Brownfield, and a road to Lubbock was in view in the near future. A Lubbock surveyor was employed to run the line for the roads. J. D. Quick of the Lubbock Coal & Grain Co., was attending the Picnic. A cow belonging to John Peters, gave birth to twin calves. Mr. King and family, and Mrs. King's father, from Brownwood had arrived to make

Terry their home. Dock Powell of the Mercantile had left for the dry goods markets of Kansas City and St. Louis. Mrs. O. M. Daniel and children were here from Tatum. Cattle Inspector Riley of Lubbock had killed J. R. Smith of Big Spring, Monday at Slaton by cutting his throat. Old family trouble was reported as the cause. R. M. Kendrick and Lum Hudson were over from Plains, Monday. The Mellon brothers of Fisher county were visiting in the Horace Randal home. Miss Mary Dixon was operated on for appendicitis at Lubbock, last Friday. Old Frank, Dr. Treadway's horse, had run away again, throwing out Mrs. Treadway and daughter, Stella, and Miss Beulah Dixon. Mrs. Treadway received a bruised hip. Needmore had all its old district restored to it by the commissioners court, and they were preparing to make a two-teacher school of it. The editor and family had dined the Sunday before with the Hargett family. Everything on the table except the sugar and flour was raised on the farm and the table was loaded from their farm, garden and orchard.

Gomez: Chas. Sawyer and family of Lometa were visiting Guy Taylor and family. Mrs. Barnes of Ralls had been visiting her cousin, Mrs. L. T. Brooks. Mr. Boss Edwards was up and was very favorably impressed with Terry county. Prof. and Mrs. Harrison were moving to Plainview. Tokio: The Apostolic meeting begin on the 13th. Mrs. R. K. Benton and family had moved back from Slaton. Primrose: Lee Morrow was up from Rotan, looking after his land. Most of the neighbors were at the picnic at Brownfield. Harris: Rev. Cox of Plains, was holding the revival. Miss Ethel Harris was the crack shot of the community. She killed four rabbits with four cartridges. All for this week.

Uncle Sam Vs. Kaiser Bill
THE sinking of four ships in March, 1917, resulted in war between the United States and Germany. The sinking of six ships in March, 1880, averted a war between the United States and Germany. Forty-seven years ago America and Germany were involved in a dispute over the question of sovereignty of the Samoan Islands. When the diplomatic quarrel reached an acute stage, both nations rushed warships to the South seas.

All of these ships left their home ports with definite instructions to fight if necessary and with officers and men expecting a battle. Then the god of storms "stole the show" from the god of war. March 15 and 16, 1880, were the dates of the great Samoan hurricane. When it struck, there were in the harbor of Apia, besides the three American and German battleships, the British man-of-war, Calliope, six large merchant ships and 25 coasting vessels of various sizes. Ship after ship was destroyed. The Calliope alone escaped.

The "sea power" of the two nations, which were about to go to war, was wiped out of existence and both would be belligerents decided to arbitrate their difficulties. For the next 30 years they exercised joint control over Samoa. Then in March, 1917, Germany's unrestricted submarine warfare against the Allies included in its toll four American ships crossing the Atlantic and the next month Uncle Sam declared war against Kaiser Bill.

Mrs. Collins and son, Bill, of Lubbock are vacationing in Mineral Wells. Uncle Jimmie Green is reported to be ill with something like blood poisoning in the foot, but is reported better.

Otis Moore and John L. Cruce are taking in the Centennial this week.

THE size of the lens and the extent to which it is opened are important. When the lens opening is large, a lot of light is let into the camera to record the picture on the film. That's all very well, but lenses do not do their best "wide open" in giving sharp images of all objects both near and far. When you want sharp, clean-cut detail from foreground to distance, as in a good landscape picture, you have to use a small lens opening; when you are interested only in picturing an individual or a compact group, as in the dog picture above, you can safely use a relatively larger opening if you focus carefully. Indistinct detail beyond doesn't matter so much, in fact often helps to accentuate the principal subject.

In virtually all cameras there is some means of changing the size of the lens opening. In most box cameras you pull out a little slide at the top of the camera. In most folding cameras there is another type of adjustment called a diaphragm, with which a greater variety of openings can be obtained. In most diaphragm types, the major settings are shown by numbers which have a meaning in terms of the ratio between the diameter of the lens opening and the distance from the lens to the film. In designating these settings, the letter f. is used. When you see that a picture was made with the lens at f.11, it means that the opening of the lens was 1/11th of the lens-to-film distance. It happens that f.11 is a good, average opening, neither too large nor too small. In fact some inexpensive cameras have a fixed opening, or aperture, of about that ratio. Smaller openings, f.16 or f.22, for example, cut down the amount of light entering the lens. Consequently, given the same light conditions, longer exposures are required. That brings us to another gadget which, in terms of time, also controls the amount of light that enters the lens—the shutter. For most ordinary snapshots, a shutter that opens and closes in about 1/25th second is entirely adequate. In fact, this shutter speed, coupled with an opening of f.11, is so nearly right for average outdoor conditions that it is a kind of magic formula. Shutter speeds faster than 1/50th second are seldom needed except for pictures of rapidly moving objects, and 'hen with a larger lens opening; otherwise, not enough light would be admitted. Lenses, by the way, are rated according to the largest opening at which they work. You hear camera fans talking about f.6.3 lenses, f.4.5 lenses, and even f.2.0 lenses. These "fast" lenses are wonderful things; they'll get pictures under the poorest kind of light and they do have that extra speed when you need it. But even so, they all work better if the subject has adequate light with the resulting opportunity to stop down (use a smaller opening) for the sake of sharper detail.
