

Sears Goes Round and Round and Comes Out

CADDO MILLS, TEXAS
September 20, 1936
TERRY COUNTY HERALD:

Dear Editor Jack, friends and neighbors, we will give a little history of our trip since we left Terry county. We left Brownfield the 3rd day of September, we made our way up to Lubbock and down across Dickens county, and made our first stop at Spur, Texas. I saw my old friend W. B. Lee a banker of Spur, and thought I would argue him out of a little money, but he told me when I got farther down the line if I needed it he would send it to me. The next stop we made was in Haskell county, at one of our old neighbors. We ate up all he had that night and the next morning, then made our way to Haskell City. We had a short visit with several of our old friends, and spent the next night with another in Haskell City. The next day was Saturday, I saw lots of the old friends I hadn't seen since I left there. They gathered around and we had lots of big talks. As soon as they all found out that I was smooth mouthed they all wanted me to go home with them. I made a little drive up into the edge of Knox county. There I saw lots of cotton that would take from ten to fifteen acres to make a bale. There was a good deal that they had already turned the cows in on. I saw one patch of cotton that would make a half a bale to the acre, and saw some good mazes.

I left Haskell City Sunday, Sept. 6. The next stop was made at Albany, Texas, where I visited the first school teacher I ever went to in 1883. She wanted to whip me again, but my wife was along and wouldn't let her. The next stop was at Dublin, Texas, for lunch. My appetite was bad and I couldn't eat much, but my wife ate a dollar and five cents worth. We filled up the 34 and left for Waco. Spent the night with an old friend that I was raised with. The next morning I visited a lady I have known since I was eight years old. She wanted to hug my neck, but I looked around and my wife was behind me, so I wouldn't let her. The next afternoon we went to Millam county, where my wife's sister lives. While we were there we spent one day and the boys spent two nights fishing in Little river. Caught about twenty pounds of fish. Had a good swim in water about fourteen feet deep. While around the camp fire my wife heard two owls hawking up the river. She asked me who that was, and I told her it was Lloyd McClish and Ches Gore coming with the fire wagon. The best crops we saw was between Waco and Cameron.

We left there for Rockwall county, September 14th. We stopped in Ellis county, at Waxahachie for lunch. Saw more baled cotton there than any place we had been. Our next stop was at my brothers in Rockwall county. Spent a day and night with him. There we found the crops very short. We went from there to Hunt county, where my only sister lives. We spent yesterday (Saturday) in Greenville. I thought there were lots of people went to Brownfield, but I counted 7221 whites, and 9723 negroes in Greenville.

We spent Wednesday, Sept. 16th at the Centennial, till it went to pouring down rain. I got wet as a drowned rat. I had to go home and go to bed, my wife wouldn't let me stay as she was afraid she would never find me again. The Centennial was very good although they had have moved most of the live stock. We have run into rain every place we have been since we left the Plains. We have been trying to get us a job cotton picking, but the cotton is almost all out here. We had a good shower yesterday and this is a black land country, so we have began to sing that old song, "Take Your Foot Out of the Mud, and Put It In the Sand." So Jack, you know it won't be long now.

Our next drive will be from here to Fort Worth to visit a few relatives there. Back to McCullen county, at Mart, Texas, the place where I used to go to mill when I was a small boy. I saw the doctor that was with me and wife when K. Sears was born, in

Bigger, Better Fair To Open Monday

LUBBOCK, Sept. 22.—With the resources of a vast agricultural empire on display, six afternoons of horse racing and the greatest array of midway entertainment features, gates of the twenty-third annual Panhandle South Plains Fair will swing open Monday, September 28, on one of the largest regional expositions ever held in West Texas.

Combined with the fair this year is a Centennial celebration and a full week of horse racing, the first ever staged on the outh Plains. Agigantic parade is to be staged in downtown Lubbock in connection with the Centennial program and a pageant depicting the march of Texas history will feature an evening's performance.

The fair grounds east of Lubbock were a proverbial beehive of activity this week as "eleventh hour" preparations were made to care for the greatest attendance the exposition has ever had.

Workmen were laboring around the clock in erection of a new 5,000 seat steel grand stand on the grounds racetrack and elsewhere final touches were being applied to the exposition's extensive expansion program.

Attracted by liberal awards, exhibitors, especially many noted livestock breeders, far from the Panhandle South Plains territory have reserved space in the various exhibit buildings. Race horse owners were bringing in their animals and by the close of this week more than 100 thoroughbreds will be quartered in the stables on the grounds. The United Shows of America, the nation's newest and largest midway, will be setting up Sunday to offer fair visitors the greatest assortment of educational and entertainment features ever seen here.

Sherrod Bros. Buy Out Rhea Hardware

Announcement of the purchase of the Rhea Hardware Company stock and business by the Sherrod Bros. Hardware Company, of Lubbock, was made Monday, at which time the transfer of the business was made to the new ownership. It is understood that negotiations have been in process of culmination for the past several weeks the deal being closed recently.

Sherrod Bros. is one of the largest and most progressive firms on the South Plains, previously having stores at Lubbock and Slaton. In addition to the regular line of hardware, they handle the Massey-Harris line of tractors and farm implements, the Electrolux gas and Kerosene refrigerators, the General Electric refrigerators and radios, Maytag Washing Machines and many other agency accessories of the home and farm. They plan to greatly increase the stock within the next few weeks and make a vigorous campaign for business.—Levelland Herald.

Lubbock Decorating For S.P. Fair Opening

Downtown Lubbock was taking on a festive mood this week as citizens and merchants prepared to welcome visitors from over a wide section of West Texas and Eastern New Mexico.

Special days for delegations from over the section have been designated by fair officials and bands will accompany them as guests of the fair association.

The schedule is as follows:
Wednesday — Slaton, Southland, Post, Tahoka, Lamesa, Brownfield, O'Donnell, Plains, Seagraves, Seminole, Gail, Ropesville, Wilson, Meadow, Wolforth, Children's Day. (School children from all over the territory will be admitted free on this day, tickets having been distributed to superintendents and teachers by the fair association.)

1898. There I saw some of the old timers that I hadn't seen in 92 years. I have been asked lots of questions about Brownfield. I told them we had the nicest little town, the finest bunch of business men and the best country paper, west of the Mississippi river.

Jack if my wife ever gets home with me, I will call you up and tell you the rest of it.

Your friend,
C. Sears and family.
Editor's Note: We did not burden our readers with a long winded article this week, as Cam Sears spouted out about a column and a half of his wonderful travelogue.

So, We See Our First College Football Game

We "rid" all the way to Lubbock Saturday night, despite the almost constant flashes of lightning to see the first college football game in our life. We don't know whatever possessed us to do this, perhaps we felt a little younger that night than usual, and wanted to set under the bright lights and yell.

It was just like our high school "fights" except the college boys have a few more years and poundage on them an can "but" one another a little harder. But there is bound to be a great deal of science in the game, for when they would settle down then swarm, we couldn't tell whether they even had a ball or not until they piled up on some poor guy. Of course when they kicked, we could see the ball, who caught it if any, etc.

We arrived during the first quarter. At that time there was a tie score 7 and 7. It was then that our old home boy went to work for the Red Raiders, and the score quickly untied. Yes, sir, Jim Neill did some real fast work Saturday night, and kept the Rams from Cowtown guessing, figuring and fumbling. But let a Lubbock man, Collier Parrish, sport writer of the Avalanche, tell about Neill's work:

Neill, who looks better in practice sessions than any backfield man but who heretofore has not shown so well under fire, buckled down last night and played one of the best games of his career, passing, kicking and carrying the ball like a true triple-threat.

Going in with the No. 1 lineup early in the game, only to see the Rams score a touchdown on the first play after the wholesale substitution, Neill flashed high in the Tech backfield, sent a bullet pass to Red Ramsey, end, for a 27-yard gain, carried the ball twice for 7 yards, then rifled a pass to J. W. West, the other end, for 22 yards and a first down on the Ram 6-yard line. He took the ball on a fake pass then, ramed the center of the line and came out on the other side of the goal line.

Cotton Neely, sophomore quarterback, dashed into the lineup and kicked the extra point to tie the score.

Farmers Gin Starts With New Machinery

According to Haden Griffin, the Farmers Co-operative Gin No. 1, will start out this season with everything spanking new from the engine to the presses. A representative of the Herald that called later found this very much confirmed, and while we are not experts about gin machinery, we are assured that they have the very latest that money can buy to start this season.

The gin stands are not only the latest that comes from the gin makers art, but instead of wooden frames as of yore, the are of steel, and of course this lessens the chances of fire to a great extent. The machines into which cotton runs before reaching the gin stands, are the latest and most approved types, and eliminate not only the burs, but dirt, trash and rocks as well, the cotton reaching the stands almost cleaned, and the stands finish the work.

It is hard for one unfamiliar with the names of gin machinery to tell the reader just what has been done. Our advise is for you to call at one, before the season starts in earnest, and see for yourself just what has been done up there to give you a good grade and a good turn-out.

Hail Damaged Some Hockley Co. Crops

Hail, accompanied by rain estimated to be in localities as much as three and four inches, caused severe damage to growing crops northeast of town Saturday afternoon. While the rain was general over that section, the hail fell only in a few spots and it is estimated that at least twenty farmers suffered losses from a total to partial damages, and that the devastated area covered from 1,000 to 1,500 acres.

The nearest approach to town were the farms of J. B. Shofner and E. W. Vardeman, about two miles north. The home place of J. B. Shofner and the farm immediately south cultivated by his son, Vernon, also were in the path of the hail and crops were largely stripped of their foliage. The farm of C. S. Lawhon lying immediately northeast seems to have been in about the heaviest fall and part of the crops were almost a total loss.—Levelland Herald.

He is a poor citizen who would draw the wages of another's work.

Texas Beauties Visit Exposition

Local Lumber Yard Installs Latest Planer

Tuesday of this week, the Cicero Smith Lumber Co. unloaded from the decks of the Santa Fe railway one of the latest types of planning and joining machines on the market, a Junior 30, made by the Sidney Manufacturing Co., of Sidney, Ohio. While there has been smaller machines of this kind here for some time, this one will really fill the needs of carpenters and contractors, and save a trip and perhaps a wait to Lubbock for a rush job.

This machine, which is ball bearing throughout, and powered by a 5 HP motor, will permit three or four men working around it at one time, at different things, such as cutting, joining, planning, etc. It will be possible to cut and fit odd sized doors, windows, etc., that are not usually carried in stock, or an especially made door or window to meet some requirements. The planer will care for a piece of lumber 12 inches wide, and lumber as thick as 6 inches can be handled by the planer. In fact it is almost a complete planning mill in one machine.

Fred Smith, manager of the company stated that it was a long felt want here, and would not only be used by this company and carpenters, but that the other yards and their carpenters would have welcome access to use it all they wished. It weighed several thousand pounds, and cost of installing around $1500. He also stated that there were several men here who could handle the machine when it is set up.

New Store Reports Fairly Good Business

The Bargain Center remarked to a reporter this week that while they had not done a great business, it was in every way satisfactory, considering everything, and that they were pleased with prospects so far in Brownfield.

They reported a fine business Saturday, but of course the rain Monday knocked out everything. Since then, business has not been rushing but satisfactory.

COLORED BAPTIST CLOSE MEETING HERE

The Colored Baptist people of Brownfield have had on a great revival. The spirit was high throughout the meeting. It was conducted by Rev. O. D. Hollins of Tahoka. The first night he preached from Matt. 11-28, subject: "Jesus Will Give You Rest."

Second night subject: "Watch And Pray" Mark 14-38.

Third night subject: "Faith" Heb. 11-1

Fourth night subject: "Profit And Lost" Matt. 16-26.

Fifth night subject: "Asleep in the Devil's Barber Shop" Judges 16-17.

Sunday morning we had a wonderful Sunday School. At 11 o'clock Rev. Hollins brought to us a burning message, subject, "In the Wilderness of Temptation" Matt. 4-1.

Sunday evening at 3 o'clock, Rev. Rodgers, the white Baptist preacher delivered to us a strong sermon, subject, "Unchangeable Christ."

Sunday night Rev. Johnson brought a good message. Rev. Hollins' people were here from Tahoka.

One who tries to ride a college diploma is usually bumped off.

Rains Total Near 8 Inches Since Saturday

Well, if the people are not satisfied with the week end rain, they are sure to be glutted for moisture. So far as we are aware, the rain beginning Saturday as a shower, and starting in Sunday night, and continuing with slight interruption until Tuesday morning, was the heaviest rainfall for that length of time here on record. According to J. E. Shelton, keeper of the government gauge here, just 7.85 inches fell in that receptive during that time.

Lakes are fuller and the ground is so wet it "squashes" up through the toes of the barefoot kids, and the little folks are having a high heeled time wading. We had a good rain some ten days ago, when it was explained to them that the rain was not coming from a hose, so they asked no fool questions about it. Monday it just poured all day, and was just the kind of day to lay up, read, rest and listen at it rain, and we did just that.

Of course it will help the cotton some, in maturing the smaller bolls, and all the late feed will make well now, and as for winter grass there will be plenty, and the cattlemen are rejoicing. The rain seemed to be general all over the south Plains country, and while we had no serious floods like down in the breaks, water went over the highway near Meadow, at a five inch downpour inside a short time.

Lee O. Allen reported that water was standing over the highway and railroad between Idalou and Lorenzo, Monday.

FFA's and Teachers Hold Meet at Lubbock

At this meeting at Lubbock representatives from Meadow were A. L. Hartzog, Julian McDonald, B. J. Watkins, James Burleson and Nobel Harris.

Schools of this district other than Meadow, present were: Tahoka, Anton, Witharral, Wilson, Post and Ropes. Other schools in this District that were not represented were, Seminole and Seagraves.

Julian McDonald of Meadow acted as Chairman for the business meeting of the F. F. A.

A. L. Hartzog of Meadow was elected President of the Vocational Teachers of this District.

Cecil Ayres from Tahoka was lectured Secretary.

O. T. Ryan made a talk on "Objects for the Ensuing Year."

Among the District F. F. A. officers, Meadow received the office of Reporter.

International Lions To Meet in Dallas

DALLAS, Texas, Sept. 23.—Ten thousand Lions from the Southwestern States of Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana will gather in Dallas at the Texas Centennial Exposition on October 10 to celebrate the twentieth anniversary of the birth of the Lions International.

The order was founded at a meeting in Dallas on October 10, 1916, by Melvin Jones of Chicago, now secretary-general, who will return for the anniversary.

In recognition of the event the international board of the civic organization will meet outside of Chicago for the first time. It is composed of representatives from the United States, the Dominion of Canada, the Republic of Mexico and seven Central and South American republics.

Local Man Estimates Crop at 30,000 Bales

A local man, who has always made close and conservative estimates of the cotton production, but who wishes his name withheld, informed us this week that he believed the cotton crop of Terry county would average in the neighborhood of one-fourth bale per acre.

This is based on an average that is estimated at 140,000 bales for the county around 30,000 bales this season. With the good crop in prospect, this should have been considerably more. After going over the fields of Terry county recently, we are inclined to agree with the estimate.

The success of a crop does not depend on its size.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Levelland were guests of the Brownfield, Wednesday.

Texas Cotton Ass'n Warns Farmers-Gin's

The Texas Cotton Association from Waco headquarters has just issued the following timely warning to ginners and farmers of Texas, which is reproduced in the hope that the information will be of value to them.

Cotton ginned wet with the aid of any foreign substance such as coal oil, etc. is unmerchantable and will be rejected. Wet cotton cannot be ginned without damage to the lint. All ginners are urged to mark each bale which they may be required to gin as follows: (W)

Farmers are urged to bring their cotton to the gins dry. Government tests show that Farmers lose money when they have their cotton ginned wet. Numerous complaints have been received from the consuming markets regarding oily and wet ginned bales. Farmers can help themselves by helping their Ginners to turn out smoother and better cotton.

Bales carrying more than twenty-one pounds of bagging and ties will be penalized. In accordance with the Texas Law, bales weighing less than 400 pounds, but not under 350 pounds will be penalized $1.00 each. Bales weighing less than 350 pounds or more than 700 pounds are subject to rejection.

Texas Cotton is dependent on foreign markets, 90 to 95 per cent of our crop being exported yearly. This warning is, therefore, given to help Texas Farmers regain and hold their position in these markets. The Texas Cotton Merchants and Ginners are anxious to assist in improving the Farmers market for Cotton.

Big Percent Land In the New Program

COLLEGE STATION.—Seventy per cent of all land in Texas is accounted for in the 243,000 work sheets covering about 255,000 of the 501,000 Texas farms and ranches, according to H. H. Williamson, director of the Extension Service, in a summary of the Soil Conservation work of the Extension Service, presented at a meeting of the staff September 4. These figures represent approximately 25,000,000 acres of the 35,000,000 acres of crop land in the State.

These work sheets include a statement of previous land use on the farms and ranches covered by them as well as plans for shifting land out of the soil-erosive crops into soil-conserving crops and practices. Tabulations of the work sheet figures indicates that at least 3,800,000 acres on Texas farms and ranches are now being devoted to soil rebuilding.

This is the first time in the history of Texas, Williamson stated, that farmers and ranchmen have made such a full analysis of the land use practices prevailing in the State. As a result many farmers and ranchmen are shifting to plans which definitely include soil building. The conservation program offers a chance to make the needed changes with aid from the Government in recognition that soil loss is a national problem.

Elmo Banks to Die For Killing Deputy

TAHOKA, Sept. 21.—Elmo Banks, negro, convicted of the slaying of Deputy Sheriff F. E. Redwine, was sentenced to die in the electric chair at the state prison in Huntsville by Judge Gordon McGuire in district court here today.

The negro, who has been held in jail at Lubbock, will be taken immediately to Huntsville, officers said.

Redwine was fatally wounded in a jail break.

Tankersley Car Damaged by Hit-Runner

Considerable damage to a 1936 (Buick) sedan was done by a hit and run driver early Tuesday night in 1200-block Texas avenue, said police. Investigators said Cye E. Tankersley of Rule was driving just south of Broadway when struck by a machine being driven north on Texas. J. H. Simpson, of Brownfield was with Tankersley. The mishap was set at 8:15 o'clock, and license number of the other machine was obtained by police.—Lubbock Avalanche.

DALLAS, Texas, Sept. 15.—Blindfolded, W. N. Kendall of Lufkin recently played eight games of chess simultaneously at the Texas Centennial Exposition. He won four of the games, lost two and drew two.

Well, old Sock, how do you like these nights for sleeping purposes. Some better than a month ago, eh!

And while Texas is having its floods with homes and business houses and contents going down the rivers, the Atlantic seaboard was besieged with a great equinoctial storm that did untold damage to shipping and business on land. It seems that all great drouths close with that inevitable storm period.

That West Texas floods have been the worst in recent history is admitted by both the old time ranchmen as well as the U. S. Weather Bureau. But with a much denser population on the Conchos, the Guadalupe, and the Colorado, the damage has been infinitely greater than it would have been even a quarter of a century ago. This instances shows us clearly that dams and reforestation is our salvation against continued floods and soil erosion, call it bondonging or what you will. Damage that can be seen on the surface runs into the million. But what about the millions of dollars worth of fine top soil that is now on its way to the gulf?

Editor E. I. Hill of the Tahoka News, was taking his people to task, including himself, over the condition of their court house park. In his article, he compared their property very unfavorably with the Lamesa and Brownfield court yards. The Herald agrees with the News that Tahoka and Lynn county did a very bad thing, perhaps unthoughtedly, when they allowed a highway across their court park, but that is in the past and must be forgotten. In the meantime, they must make the best they can of a bad circumstance. But up until this year, little interest was taken in the county court park here. Then the citizens and county officials actually got busy, saying: "We want a good looking court square; people are going to be passing through from everywhere to see the Texas Centennial; we want our Sunday clothes on." And in the short course of two months, presto, the change was made from a mangy looking old court yard over. But we are not now and never have been handicapped for water in Brownfield—you can use all you want any time, at a very cheap summer rate.

The paragraphs have ridiculed Arkansas through all the years till people hesitate to tell they were reared in that state. Of all the states this offer passed thru on our vacation, Arkansas has more beautiful scenery and would be our choice to make a home, provided we wanted to leave our native state, Texas.—Miami Chief.

One horse power is not necessarily equivalent to the strength of one horse. When James Watt tried to sell his steam engine as a substitute for horses, he sought to compare its power with that of the average horse. Borrowing a brewery horse, he found that he could do 22,000 foot pounds of work a minute. Then, allowing for generous losses of fifty per cent, he decided that 33,000 foot pounds was the strength of one horse. It is rumored that Watt placed the figure ridiculously high for fear of finding a horse that would out-pull his engine.—Farm & Ranch.

TRY CHISHOLM'S for Good Things to Eat BROWNFIELD

"Republican leaders who expressed certainty six months ago that New Jersey would be in the Republican column in November are beginning to admit some doubt. They have promised the American people a repetition of the ordeal through which they passed under Hoover and they have offered a candidate whose sole claim to fame is his docility to William Randolph Hearst and any who can help him to office. The Republicans had their opportunity this year and they threw it away."—Newark Leader, (Ind.)

An exchange recites that a certain lawyer in a California town by name of Jack Pass is looking for a certain practical joker — with blood in his eye. It seems that this particular lawyer had a sign on his door in neat letters with his name inscribed and below it the word "lawyer." He was called to New York and posted a notice saying "gone to New York" below the sign. When he returned he found that some joker had removed one letter, and the sign on his door read "JACK ASS LAWYER, Gone to New York."

The big business tycons who hate President Roosevelt like all get out would like to see business go to the dogs to prevent his re-election. Roger Babson, their mouthpiece is unable to give them much joy as he reports business twenty-five per cent above one year ago, and only one per cent below normal.

He states that America is approaching another business boom—perhaps the biggest in our history. Cheap money and deferred demand for goods are two basic reasons given. A third factor is the coming market for new products and the amazing discoveries of new chemical processes.—Big Spring News.

We are for Roosevelt 100 per cent, and we know why, for it is no trouble for us to recall the day when good corn was selling right here in West Texas at $2.50 per ton, hogs at $2.50 per cwt, and cotton at almost nothing. Farmers were being disposed of their homes. Millions of people were hungry and out of employment.

What did these wise Republicans do about it? Why, they put out billion of dollars to the big banks, insurance companies, and big corporations, that's all. Roosevelt turned this arrangement around and began to help the poor, the aged, the unemployed, and the poor farmer who had been struggling to get by and sell his produce at a price which was far below the cost of production. The big interests don't like it, but we do. Yep, we're for Roosevelt.—Anton News.

Governor Landon has kind of insinuated that perhaps maybe the farmers of America have been getting the short end of the deal in the past; and that if he should be elected in November, it might be desirable to effect some legislation that would be helpful to them. However, he maintains that the farmers are now getting about two-thirds more than they deserve, so they might expect to receive a reduction of about two-thirds in the protection they now receive from the government. Briefly, the Republicans invite agriculture to stick out its neck and allow its nose to be cut off so it can regain the "liberty" to return to its position as the forgotten industry. But we don't think even Mr. Landon thinks agriculture is going to do that.—Ralls, Banner.

IS THE NATION BATTY IN THE BELFERY

First we had an epidemic of "Handies," more commonly called "What's This?" And then, before we could get a deep breath, this silly pastime gave way to the famous "Knock! Knock!" And before "Knock Knock!" got cold in its grave, along comes the worst of the lot. This time it's silly poems, silly puns, silly riddles and just downright plain silly! And here are a few samples of the nation's newest mental affliction:

FINAL COUNT, 47 FOR 24 AGAINST INCORPORATING In an election held Tuesday the people of Ropesville voted by an overwhelming majority to incorporate.

The main reason for this act, according to our informant, was to further the cause of getting a water system at this place. Several of our neighboring towns have installed water systems in the last 12 months, through WPA grants and loans. By this means the government puts up fifty per cent of the money and loan the other fifty per cent to be paid from the revenues obtained from the system.

This project, if put through will not only be of a great benefit as a bountiful water supply, but will be the means of getting a large reduction on insurance rates. Of course the taxes will be increased to some extent, but the majority of the people seem to think the reduction of insurance rates will more than over balance the extra tax burden.

There will probably be another election in the near future to select the officers; Mayor, Commissioners, etc.—Ropesville Plainsman.

EDITORIAL

There seems to be one outstanding fact about the Pep Squad this year. Although it has only 42 members, they yell like twice that many. The classes Friday afternoon at the sixth period were the victims of much disturbance. Imagine 42 members of the Pep Squad in a small class room with the door and windows closed. It was enough to deafen the inmates. The rest of the period was a total loss. I think that these girls need a lot of "Fresh Air"—Especially when they are practicing a new yell. We argue with anyone that says our Pep Squad can't yell. You don't have to come to High School to hear them. Stay where you are, it will be plain enough there.

ASSEMBLY

On Tuesday morning, September 15, 1936, High School meet for their first assembly of this school term. Rev. F. G. Rogers, pastor of the local Baptist church, talked to us on "Dependability." His talk "hit the spot." If we all take heed to this talk we will have a better school than ever before. We wish to thank Bro. Rodgers for the interest he is taking in our school. He has an invitation to come back anytime he wishes.

The program was closed with a report about the football boys from Coach and some announcements by Mr. Baze and Mr. Smith.

PEP RALLY

Thursday morning High School met for a pep rally. It began by all singing our school song, "The School With the Spirit." Our Pep Squad leaders really did some good leading for their first time. We want all our new students to learn our school songs and yells so we can make the school building ring at our next rally.

Sweaters that were worn by two of our good players last year, Pharr (65) and Tankersley (56) were awarded to the two of the boys on the team this year, whom the football boys thought could best take the places of 56 and 65 of last year. Bill Hardin was awarded 56 and Harold Carpenter 65. These boys are going to do their best to live up to the honor.

We had a few words from several members of the faculty, student body, and the Pep Squad leaders. Everyone got the Cub Spirit and went to the game Friday with the determination to beat Levelland and did,—eight to nothing.

BROWNFIELD — LEVELLAND 0

The Brownfield—Levelland football game Friday afternoon opened the season for the Cubs and showed their backers that experience is not the only assets which can win a football game—even on a muddy field.

The Cubs proved they were very wide awake and ready to take advantage of any break which came their way when Carpenter and Brown scored a safety in the first quarter. The game belonged to Brownfield from then on. The two point lead, however, was not the thing which assured us of this—it was the fairly consistent gains which the Cubs made and the way they held Levelland deep in their own territory.

The scoring was over when Otis Pharr scored a touchdown in the second half. Carpenter kicked for the extra point, but it was blocked. The game ended with the score, Brownfield 8, Levelland 0.

Two valuable and dependable Cubs, C. R. Warren and Bill Hardin, were taken out of the game because of injuries. W. H. (Bully) Brown was one of the outstanding players of the afternoon.

RAIN! RAIN!

Rain, rain, please don't rain again, rain, (for a while at least.) Our bus students and many others seemed to have gotten water bound Monday. Although some did manage to get to school, most of them got their feet wet in the B. H. S. River. We have all decided it does rain in west Texas. When it rains it pours in order to make up for lost time.

ENGLISH THREE

The first of last week Mr. Smith our instructor, appointed a student in each section to take charge when he was called out of class and also a secretary to check the roll each day. Each section had a debate last week which proved we have some real debaters in our school. We are looking forward to some of these entering the county Meet.

Bill Hardin is suffering slight injuries in the knee as the result of the football game Friday afternoon. We hope he will be back in school soon.

C. R. Warren is suffering from an injury received in the game Friday, it is not serious. We also hope to see him back in school soon.

Charlott Gibson was a Lubbock visitor Saturday night.

Jack Shepherd went to Post Friday night to the football game.

Marnar Price and Pearl Roe were seen together last week end.

DID YOU KNOW?

The Pep Squad leaders are Doris Lee Gore and Darlene Tankersley.

Mr. Scott wore his ever lasting shoes to school Monday morning.

The Press Club has ten members.

Miss Wilson has purchased a new Chevrolet.

The Plane Geomerty students have a pain they can't locate.

The Pep Squad members are counting on having their suits for the game at Littlefield Friday week.

Brownfield beat Levelland eight to nothing. Rah! Cubs! Rah!

JUNIOR HIGH

October 5, Junior High will play Plainview there. Be Scotch and save your money to go. It's their first big game.

The Junior High football team met Meadow High School last Thursday at 4:00 o'clock. Our boys did some excellent playing, but they were strongly out matched, and the score came out 13 to 0 favor of Meadow.

PLANNED ATTACK ON ROOSEVELT IS HAILED AS FALSE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—In a sharply worded statement, the White House said Saturday it had learned of a "planned attempt led by a certain 'notorious newspaper owner' to give the impression that President Roosevelt 'passively accepts the support of alien organizations hostile to the American form of government.'"

The statement, issued by Stephen T. Early, a presidential secretary, directly denied that this was so. The newspaper owner was not named.

The President had been back in the White House less than two hours, after returning from the Harvard University tercentenary celebration to the bedside of Mrs. Roosevelt, who is recovering from an attack of grippe, when Early issued the statement. Its text follows:

"My attention has been called to a planned attempt led by a certain notorious newspaper owner to make it appear that the President passively accepts the support of alien organizations hostile to the American form of government.

"Such articles are conceived in malice and born of political spite. They are deliberately framed to give a false impression—in other words to frame the American people.

"The President does not want and does not welcome the vote or support of any individual or group taking orders from alien sources.

"This simple fact, of course, is obvious.

"The American people will not permit their attention to be diverted from real issues to fake issues, which no patriotic, honorable, decent citizen would purposely inject into American affairs."

NON-NATIVE'S RETURN

Last week Pathfinder recorded the defeat of Rep. Thomas L. Blanton of Texas for renomination. While the erstwhile "dictator" of the municipal government of the District of Columbia will not return to the local scene as a member of Congress, he has indicated his intention of moving to the capital to reside and practice law. In a letter to the Washington Post revealing that fact Mr. Blanton in so many words apologized to his "500,000 enemies, the politically defenseless citizens of the District, for the past activities as chairman of the House Appropriations Subcommittee in charge of District supply bills.

People locally have felt like sending the voters of Texas' 17th district a vote of thanks for eliminating the Blanton balderdash. Inwardly, the majority of them have more than agreed with what the Washington Star said editorially. That is, they felt something "akin to a holy joy in witnessing the spectacle of his defeat."

All local anti-Blantonites have been most outspoken in that joy. But few District officials have openly expressed elation, no doubt fearing that some day the Texan might return to Congress. Likely the local Board of Education rejoiced more in Blanton's defeat than any other District agency. That board had often, felt the sting of his lash. He blocked many local measures in the 74th Congress.

But a new deal is in prospect for local affairs in the 75th Congress. Tom Blanton's "demise" leaves Rep. George W. Johnson, Democrat of West Virginia, the eligible majority member to replace the Texan in the subcommittee chairmanship. At least local reaction is to have a sight of relief and hope that things will run smoother for the House District Committee with tyrannical Tom gone.

—Pathfinder.

B. H. S. TO PLAY ANTON TODAY

last week will invade the Brownfield The team that beat Slaton 19-12 field this week.

Coach Bost has been puzzled as to who was to take the place of his three injured backs. The problem may be a good one after all since he has discovered some new material from the rural schools. Two or three robust youngsters are proving to be very good in workouts on passing and blocking. Eugene Ellis from Gomez is a 170 pounds of power in blocking. He may be the mainstay passer. Lloyd Grider, another 150 pounder from the country, is looking mighty sweet. He is going to give some strong competition for the guard position. Tome Rowden, a 170 pounder from the country, will do a pretty good job at filling Wade Hill's place at end this week.

All of the backs were very good in last week's game. Coach says that Warren called one of the best games for a new man that he ever saw. Hardin has proven himself to be a spectacular passer. Chambliss was good on reverses and he picks those holes well for some good gains. Young is very speedy on end runs. Pharr made the touchdown. He proves very useful on spins and line plunges. Captain Pickett played his usual dependable at guard. Wade Hill and Jim Shelton were down under punts well. Nelson Smith played a very good game both on defensive and on the offensive. Bully Brown and Carpenter are like stone walls at the tackle positions. Peter Brown, Jeffries, Ellis, and Shepherd will see service in the backfield this week. Warren, Hardin, and Tankersley will be on the bench but they will be back in the harness for next week's game with Littlefield.

The team is to be praised for its performance against the heavier Levelland team and on a wet field to boot. The heavier team always has the advantage when the field is wet.

THE LIQUOR INTERESTS BECOME WISE

Wonders will never cease. An executive of one of the largest distilleries in Kentucky believes the liquor interests are making a mistake in their method of advertising their wares.

He suggested that no liquor advertisement show a picture of women and that no special appeal be made to women to buy liquor—that no advertisement carry an word or picture to children or youths, especially college students—that no liquor advertising be put on the radio or in Sunday papers—that there be no association of the advertising of liquor, no more appealing or reference to Santa Claus, Easter rabbits, outdoor bathing scenes and that no illustrations be used of locomotive engineers, aviation pilots and others responsible for human safety.

That code, if followed, would make the advertising of liquor no more appealing or attractive than an advertisement of red flannel underwear in August. The purpose of advertising is to create a demand for the article advertised and to shear liquor publicity of all the inviting points would be to reduce the sale of the product.

Why should there be any strait-laced code for liquor advertising? If liquor is a good thing, if it is beneficial to humanity, there is every reason why its virtues should receive the widest and most attractive publicity. The people of United States—a majority at least of those who voted on the question—have legalized liquor and its manufacturers are proceeding on the theory that it is a legitimate and desired article.

But those manufacturers and dealers who can see farther than the end of their noses, see plainly that the thing is being overdone and that presently they will be called upon to stem another rising tide of indignation which will again abolish their business. A Washington observer sees an indication of this in the sweeping victory of Morris Sheppard at the polls in Texas Democratic primary. There will be other indicatives of the same sort unless there is a change in the liquor people's business methods and at least a gesture of trying to be decent and obey the law.—The San Angelo Times.

KANSAS WOMAN ASKS FOR A COMPARISON OF VALUES

"I see that the people of Goodland gave a parade in honor of the Landon nomination," said Mrs. Brack of Onaga in a communication published in the City Center (Kansas) Economist. "I am wondering when your people are going to give a 'blow-out' to the man who has kept the town of Goodland (and many other towns) on the map for the last three and a half years.

"Don't think I don't know whereof I speak, I was (note the was) a Republican all my life. I voted for Hoover.

"During the last Republican administration we hauled our wheat to your Channon Grain Co. in Goodland and your other elevators for the magnificent sum of 22 to 28 cents a bushel—delivered. How do you suppose we met expenses? You are right. We didn't.

"When we drove across our State at that time our highways were so filled with hitch-hikers and bums that one could hardly venture with safety on the road. Then Franklin D. Roosevelt took the helm of our floundering ship and brought us a new dawn. He took the bank situation in hand three hours after he was inaugurated. What was Landon doing three hours after he became our governor—and since?

"It was Roosevelt who saw to it that prompt help was provided for the farmers. Wheat checks, corn and hog checks kept us from giving up and going under.

While you boost for the honor of a 'native son,' let's not forget to boost for the man who did things.

KIDNEY TROUBLE RELIEVED AND GENERAL HEALTH IMPROVED

Care taker in Sweetwater, Clayton Now Sleeps and Eats Well—All Sluggishness Gone.

Practically all bodily ailments grow progressively worse when not correctly treated and have a tendency to lead to other disorders. That was the experience of Mr. Lawrence Pann, 310 Orange Street, Sweetwater, Texas. His first trouble was with his kidneys, this trouble becoming so severe that he could hardly sleep nights, having to get up 3 or 4 times every night. Indigestion and a general run down condition developed until he could hardly keep going. Williams S. L. K. Formula has given him real relief as expressed in his own words:

"No pains, no burning sensation, almost eliminated getting up nights. I sleep better than I have in a long time and my appetite is improving. All sluggishness has disappeared."
 Williams S. L. K. Formula is recommended for kidney, liver and stomach disorders, the symptoms of which include lame backs, distress after eating, headaches, a tired, run-down feeling and many others. Keep your kidneys, liver, and stomach healthy and nature will do the rest. You can get Williams S. L. K. GREEK AMERICAN GOES TO ATHENS FOR COURSE

LUBBOCK, Texas, Sept. 15.—In 1918 a nine year old Greek boy took his first look at American shores. He was coming to Belton, Texas, to live with his uncle, a restaurant operator. This week he will bid farewell to New York harbor, but only for three years. "Little Gus" Dallis has come during those eighteen years. He came to Lubbock in 1925 and learned English in the local high school, completing his secondary education in three years. College came easy for Gus, and he received a bachelor of arts degree from Texas Technological College in 1932. After graduation there was nothing to do but help his uncle in the restaurant business.

But now "Little Gus" is going to do something else. When he returns to the United States in 1939, he will have completed three years in the University of Athens and will be ready to enter American consular service.

FOLLOWING LONDON PRECEPT NO MATTER WHERE IT LEADS

A prominent Republican told Congressman John H. Tolan of Oakland, Calif., that he had voted for President Roosevelt in 1932 but would not do so this time, because he did not want to burden his three children with taxation to pay the relief debt. "All right," the congressman replied. "Your children come to you and say: 'Daddy, we are out of work, we have no food or clothes, and we must have help.' You say to them, 'Children, I know you are not eating and have no jobs or clothes, but I have no money. Of course, I have credit but I am not going to use my credit to feed or clothe you. Even though it breaks up my family and I never see you again, I have simply got to keep my budget balanced.'"

Our physicians seem to be very busy with tonsilectomy operations since school started. The kids in our time didn't have tonsils, adenoids or appendages that they knew of.

THIS CIRCUS COMING SOON BRINGS SOMETHING VERY MUCH DIFFERENT

What would the reader do if he were brought face to face with a man who had an arm reach of fourteen feet, whose fingers were ten inches long with a hook at the end of each finger, whose face is flat and resembled an aged man; whose body weighed three hundred pounds is covered with a coat of brown fur. Most any one would be scared stiff, to use slang, to meet such a human animal—but all who attend the Harley Sadler Circus when it exhibits in Brownfield, Saturday, October 3rd can be face to face with just such a beast.

John Ringling, acknowledged circus king, paid over twenty thousand dollars for an animal such as described above about twenty years ago, and after exhibiting it in this country for six months, the beast died. Since then there has not been another such freak animal in America, not even in the metropolitan zoos or parks.

The owners of Harley Sadler Circus sent their own agents abroad in search of an animal that could be featured. A posse of fifteen men surrounded and captured this unusual animal in the island of Sumatra but not before there was a fierce struggle in which one man lost an arm and afterwards died of blood poisoning. The technical name for this animal is Maues Kuti. This beast is worth a small fortune but the Harley Sadler circus prefers to keep it, knowing it to be the only one of its kind on American soil.

After looking at the animal one is almost impelled to accept the Darwin theory that man is a descendant from the ape family. One of many interesting little details is the fact that every finger and every toe on this animal has a nail the same as a human, with the exception of the great toe of each foot which does not have a nail. Also he is strictly off the meat diet, living on fruits and vegetables.

Some circuses feature the "act animals" but the Harley Sadler Circus has found that the average human is deeply interested in the numerous kinds of the monkey and ape, gorilla families.

Will C. Brown was in from the farm four miles northwest Tuesday afternoon and lowed-as-how the lake in front of his house was full again, but later than any year in the 18 he has been in Terry county.

Mr. A. Judd, old good friend from Lubbock, was down last week loaded with truck from his soft water truck farm just out on the Slaton road. He supplied our needs for several days with fresh, crisp vegetables.

Considering how fine this railroad transportation is nowadays, you can't travel any cheaper. Fares lowest in history—substantial savings on round trip tickets. So why not take the train? It's safer. It's more dependable.

You can't beat the improved travel comfort in coaches and sleeping cars. It's a good thing movies don't have such restful seats—most folks would sure fall asleep.

Ever hear about the new Free pick-up-and-delivery of less than carload freight? It's a great convenience to shippers and receivers alike. Western railroads pick up at the door, ship by fast freight, and deliver to door at no extra charge.

Railroad trains are running on faster schedules these days. Seems like the iron horse wants to show these new streamlined diesels that he can step out, too. Both passenger and freight schedules have been speeded up.

What's more, the railroads believe in "safety first." Last year not one passenger was killed in a train accident on western railroads.

Talk to your local railroad agent. He's full of information about traveling and shipping.

We are proud of railroad achievements, appreciate the public's good will and increased patronage, and pledge continued progress.

BANKERS WILL MEET IN ANNUAL COUNCIL

Business Men Also Invited to Present Their Views on Services of Banks to the Public

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Robert V. Fleming, President American Bankers Association, has announced that the organization's annual convention will be held at San Francisco, September 21-24, and its program will call in not only bankers but speakers from various lines of business to present their viewpoints and advice. The plans for the convention discussions take into consideration the fact, he said, that one of the major problems of banking today is to develop its operations along lines that will create greater public understanding of its methods and services. "It is my earnest conviction that such public understanding of banking is not only an essential defense against attacks from whatever source but is also requisite to reestablishing it upon a firm and satisfactory basis of profitable operations," Mr. Fleming said.

General Improvement Cited
"The improvement in general conditions which is now taking place should be of material aid to bankers in carrying forward a constructive program for increasingly useful relationships between banking and business, as well as one of more helpful personal business services to all our people. Sound banking conducted in ways the public need and understand must be the aim of successful bank management."

"How can the banker make his operations and policies more understandable to the people of his community? How can better and broader financial services be soundly provided? How can banking improve its operating methods and income? These and many similar questions demand the earnest attention of all bankers. They call for a fresh counseling together and a new interchange of experience and advice among the members of our profession."

"With these thoughts in mind, we have built the convention program with the view of also calling into our councils speakers from various lines of business to give us their viewpoints and advice. I can say without reservation that this is to my mind one of the most crucial years in the evolution of American banking, and that we are passing through a period demanding, as never before, cooperation and mutual exchange of viewpoint among our members and others."

Radio Commencement Exercises

More than 200 widely separated chapters of the American Institute of Banking, the educational section of the American Bankers Association hold annually in September a simultaneous commencement exercise at which they listen to the speaker of the evening by radio. This is said to be the most extensive graduation ceremony held by any educational institution. The aggregate membership of the chapters, which are located in cities and towns throughout the United States, totals about 35,000 bank employees and officers. The graduates number each year more than 2,500, and total graduates are now over 25,000.

The Business Outlook

NEW YORK.—The natural forces of recovery have demonstrated their strength and have a momentum which may reasonably be expected to carry the country into new high ground, says "Banking," the publication of the American Bankers Association, in its August issue. The momentary stimulation following the distribution of bonus funds to the veterans has practically died away and is no longer an important business factor. A certain degree of uncertainty arising from the national political campaign is unavoidable, the magazine says.

Foreign Trade

The Commerce and Marine Commission of the American Bankers Association has made a report which shows that the foreign trade of the world for the year 1935 on the basis of its estimated physical volume was 78.9 per cent of the 1929 level. This was 2.1 per cent above the volume of 1934 and is the highest since 1929. The gold values of world trade were much lower due to the lower commodity prices in January, 1936. The combined index of 75 countries showed 35.7 per cent of the 1929 average.

National Bank Growth

Comptroller of the Currency O'Connor announced recently that total deposits of the 5,374 national banks in the United States on June 30, 1936, the date of the last call made for statements of condition, aggregated $26,200,453,000. The figure is a new high record for national banks, exceeding by $1,340,998,000, or 3.39 per cent, the amount reported as of March 4, 1936, the previous high record. The current figures show also that deposits increased $3,682,207,000 or 16.35 per cent, over the amount reported as of June 29, 1935, the date of the corresponding call a year ago.

BANK GROUPS MAKE NATIONWIDE SURVEY

American and State Banking Associations Collaborate in Investigation

LOAN SERVICES STUDIED

Activities of the Government in the Banking Field Are Reviewed and Position of Banks Analyzed

NEW YORK.—Detailed bank researches, covering all phases of practical operating and economic facts and conditions related to banking, are being made by the American Bankers Association. The resulting material is being placed at the disposal of all state banking associations, which in many instances are extending the researches of the national association in their own states. These activities are said to be a part of the general program of banking development which is being carried on by the organized banking business.

Among the most extensive researches being conducted by the American Bankers Association is that of its Committee on Banking Studies, which is making a detailed survey of Federal Government lending agencies and policies. The basic material, which is kept up to date by continuing studies, shows where the Government agencies get the money they lend, what liability the Government assumes, what subsidy it extends, what return it gets, for what and to whom the money goes and on what terms it is loaned.

The Government in Banking

"It is not the intention of the committee to express its viewpoint about any agency," says the foreword to this material. "Its intention is only to determine the facts. These facts properly assembled and presented should help banks to meet Government competition if and where it exists. The committee believes the Government entered the lending field at a critical period in order to aid banks and financial institutions. If the time has come for the Government to withdraw, it is the duty of bankers to demonstrate their readiness to take care of all sound credit needs."

It adds that the banks must be equipped with full factual material as to the Government's emergency lending activities and practices, and that full cooperation has been given the committee by Government agencies in obtaining facts. Binders of the material gathered have been placed by the committee in the hands of state associations.

Investigation of Postal Savings

The Committee on Banking Studies has also made a survey of the Postal Savings System throughout the United States to ascertain to what extent it is competing with chartered banks. Questionnaires were sent to banks in all places where Postal Savings depositories are operated and their answers will be analyzed as a basis for the committee's findings.

The Bank Management Commission of the American Bankers Association has made a nation-wide survey covering the movement among banks to increase their earning abilities "through fair and legitimate rates for services they render their depositors." It has developed a plan of account analysis as a basis of fact charges.

"All business in order to justify its existence is founded on the economic principle that a reasonable return should be expected from services rendered," the commission says.

Personal Income Loans

The Bank Management Commission has also formulated methods for installing and operating personal income loan departments in banks. "This plan contemplates making loans primarily to individuals and small business concerns, based upon the character and assured incomes of the borrowers, as distinguished from the usual basis for commercial loans," the commission says.

It points out that a large part of the population is not now making use of available bank credit and that "to these people the personal loan department extends a valuable service which at the same time is profitable to the bank." It adds that it is "the duty of the banks to educate the public to come to the bank for all financial services. Small borrowers should be informed that the local bank is willing to care for their demands."

Other Researches

Other researches are being made by the Economic Policy Commission of the association dealing with shrink ages in liquid commercial loans caused by economic changes in the nation's business methods while the National Bank Division has made studies of the lending and investment powers of this class of bank, the present status of the real estate investment field and of detailed data by states on earnings and expenses.

The Savings Division has gathered the facts showing savings in banks of all types, the number of savings depositors, the per capita savings for the country as a whole and the effects of current economic and social changes upon the savings habits of the American people.

The association's State Bank Division has issued the most recent figures available as to the detailed conditions of state banks, showing steady improvement in the position of the state banks with marked expansion in their aggregate resources, while the Trust Division has compiled a guide to fees with a recommended cost accounting system.

THINKS THE DEMOCRATIC DONKEY A LITTLE "RED"

To the Terry County Herald:

This donkey-phant champion-ship bout in the U. S. Stadium this coming November is going to be a tough, spectacular battle with perhaps a record breaking audience on hand. Both the champion and the contender have plenty of roosters, but the long-eared gent with the raspy voice will possibly retain his title. The old donkey has changed so much since he was a milk-fed colt of Thomas Jefferson's that Thomas would never recognize him. He has evolved into a different species entirely. His jaw has grown like that of Mussolini, his skin is spotted a light Socialist red, and he has developed an annoying habit of taking the bit between his teeth and keeping it there. His bray has become a raucous challenge since he gained the title four years ago, which infuriates his opponent. He also has a shocking habit of breaking thru the fence of tradition, though the constitutional wires have held him back pretty well. Yep, the old mule aint what he used to be, but he is still the common people's champion and a reliable old animal. His feed bill has been enormous since 1932, but if we can keep him in the Washington Stables another four years, maybe his new-found strength will produce results that will amply repay us for our loyal support.

Marvin Jones Asks Landon to Give Views

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Rep. Marvin Jones (D-Tex.), chairman of the house committee in agriculture, said today in a statement commenting on Gov. Alf M. Landon's coming speaking tour in the farm area that "the American farmer will wish Landon to say specifically whether he proposes to go forward from 1936 or go back to the conditions of 1932."

The farmer, the Texan said, will want to know whether the Republican presidential candidate "wishes agriculture to continue the upswing, or to become 'Hooverized' once more."

The statement was issued at the offices of the Roosevelt agricultural committee here.

Income Has Increased

"Under the Roosevelt program, according to the latest reliable statistics, the cash income of the farm has increased from $5,300,000,000 in 1932 to $9,000,000,000 in 1936," Jones said. "Enacting of real farm legislation long advocated by agriculture has changed the picture from one of disaster to one of increasing prosperity."

"Governor Landon, opposing the remedial enactments would have us go back, presumably to the Hoover days, which the farmers will too well remember," he said.

WILL ROGERS

One day a friend asked Will Rogers to have dinner with him. But refused. "No thanks," he said. "I've already eaten."

"You shouldn't say 'et,'" his friend corrected him. "You should say 'have eaten.'"

"Well," retorted Will, "I know a lot of fellars who say 'have eaten' who ain't et."

Travel When the Southwest Was Young

This is a scene typical of Dallas and its Main Street of early days. The photograph was taken on one of the nine famous roads and highways which have been reproduced by the Ford Motor Company at the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas. In 1881 the street was paved with round bois d'arc blocks and later on the round block was replaced with rectangular blocks. Both types are pictured here.

AN ASSET TO THE COMMUNITY

Some outstanding country newspaper editors, asked for their opinion on the chain store question, state that when chain stores first started in their towns, they feared the consequences. The editors felt that the chains might be the ruination of independent stores, to the detriment of the community. But after the chain stores had operated for some time, it was found that they were a beneficial influence.

The reason is simple. Progressive chains have aided farmers by broadening markets. They have patronized local newspapers. They have tended to improve local merchandising practices and lower prices to consumers. It has been found that the independent, when efficiently managed, have been able to compete on equal terms with their chain competitors, and have shared in increased business resulting from chain advertising and "pulling power" bringing in residents of outlying areas to shop in the local market.

As a matter of fact, it is this healthy competition between chains and independents that has been largely responsible for giving the American people the finest distribution system in the world. Chains have taught independents lessons in efficient selling—and the independents have turned around and taught the chains lessons in individualized service. Both have to keep up with the times—each is continually trying to outdo the other in standards of service, quality and price. The upshot is that both groups go ahead and prosper—while the consumer gets more for his money, the farmer gains a steadily improving market for his produce, and the community progresses.

MORE OLD BIRDS TO BE USED IN POULTRY SHOW

DALLAS, Texas, Sept. 14.—Due to drought conditions having dealt a hard blow to young poultry in producing centers the Texas Centennial Exposition's young bird show has been expanded to include old birds. Walter Burton, exposition poultry director, said today.

The drought, according to Director Burton, retarded the growth of young birds and at the suggestion of breeders the rules have been changed to permit the inclusion of old birds.

The show will be held September 25 to October 1 and entries will close midnight Friday, September 18.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

"Do you drink to excess frequently?" asked the judge of a citizen who had celebrated not wisely but too well the night before.

"That's my business," snapped the defendant.

"Thirty days in jail," snapped the judge.

"I don't deserve such a long term in jail," protested the defendant.

"That's my business," replied the judge.

This Ford's Old Enough to Vote

It's gone more than 300,000 miles, still carries the family where the family wants to go, and this year, its owner confides, it's old enough to vote. With all the pride a father takes in his first-born, W. H. Graham pictured here at the wheel, drove his 1915 Model T Ford to Dallas and the Texas Centennial Exposition. Others in the picture are Mrs. Graham and in the rear seat, Edwin, 12; Eugene, 3; and Evelyn, 10. Graham father bought the car in Coryell county, Texas.

Young Composer Plays Viola

Judy Blackwell's father didn't want her to dance. Her mother's love of music aided in influencing the young lady and Judy, now a viola player for Jose Manzanera's and his South American orchestra, which plays regularly in the Ford Exposition Court at the Texas Centennial in Dallas, agrees today that not only was father right, but mother as well.

W. J. CAMERON

Mr. Cameron, well known because of his radio talks to the country on the Ford Sunday Evening Hour broadcasts, spoke to members of the Ford Service Merit Club and special guests at a meeting in Dallas.

Blindfolded, He Plays Them Simultaneously

To demonstrate the ability which makes him the outstanding blindfold chess player in Texas, W. N. Kendall, of Lufkin, as pictured here in the court of the Ford Exposition building at the Texas Centennial, Dallas, is matching his wits against eight players in a warm-up session prior to the state chess tournament held at the Exposition. The players facing Kendall, from left to right, include Huntley Meredith, Dallas; Roy West, Dallas; Sherry Smith, Dallas; N. D. Naman, Houston; Kenneth Hackney, Dallas; R. M. Van Horn, Dallas; Whitely Sessions, Dallas, and James Lyle, Dallas.

LOOK OUT FOR "TWISTERS"

John Jones owned a life insurance policy issued by one of the old-line established companies. He had had the policy for a number of years, and had paid out hundreds of dollars in premiums. Then an agent for another company came along with a new policy, turned on the heat in a smooth sales talk, and John dropped his old policy to take the new one. The company issuing this policy was also good and responsible—but not long afterward, John found that he had suffered a substantial loss.

The agent who seeks to persuade you to drop a policy you've had for some time in order to buy one from him, is called a "twister." Every legitimate life insurance company is opposed to such agents and will dismiss them when they are caught. But they may operate years before their company gets on to them. Only the insurance buying public can really put them out of business, by turning a deaf ear to their blandishments.

It is almost invariable true that you will lose if you drop an old policy to take a new one. Time is the essence of an insurance contract. Time builds up cash values, surrender values and loan privileges, all of which increases with each premium paid. Furthermore, the cost of insurance rises as you grow older.

If a "twister" approaches you, turn him down and report him to his company. "Twisting" is fundamentally fraudulent, whether the laws say so or not, and life insurance salesmen who practice it dishonor their profession and harm the public.

BROWN CANNOT UNDERSTAND WHY LANDON WOULD CHANGE

"As far as I can tell from Gov. Landon's speeches," remarks Heywood Brown, "the Chief Executive of the nation ought to be a man confined within a stockade, with a ball and chain at his ankle and supervised every second by armed guards. The Republican nominee is forever saying, 'In Kansas we did that' or in 'Kansas we did this.' I wonder why he is willing to swap a job in which he has a certain amount of power to hold a post which he seems to regard as about as vital as the head keeper of the Sultan's harem."

We call your attention to the change in schedule of McMakin Bus line in their card carried each week in the Herald.

stealthy, and whose approach is definitely individual. Heart disease, cerebral hemorrhage, nephritis, and cancer continue to stand high in the list of major killers.

"As these degenerating diseases cannot be controlled by quarantine and immunization, each individual should see to his own protection against these diseases if they exist, while they are in a state where control may be effective. The annual physical health examination is the major defensive weapon against such diseases.

"The annual physical examination has two definite objectives in the life of an individual; namely, to establish the fact that there is or is not present a disease which calls for prompt control measures, and to determine the margins of safety in health habits. When the family physician has established the facts brought to light in a physical examination, he is in a position to advise the individual as to procedures which must be adhered to in order that a proper balance may be maintained.

PHYSICAL CHECK-UP NEEDED EVERY YEAR

AUSTIN, Sept. 15.—Great strides have been made in mass control of public health in the past twenty-five years of public health officials and the use of scientific methods in the control of disease. The job of the individual in getting fit and remaining in good health, however, is a personal rather than a public matter, according to Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer.

"While the ravages of diphtheria, smallpox, typhoid fever, and other devastating diseases have been definitely checked by public health measures," he said, "there are left many health enemies whose onslaught is

MR. HOOVER'S SPEECHES

Former President Herbert Clark Hoover has let it be known that he will make a speech somewhere in the East about October 10 in behalf of Governor Landon to the presidency. It is indicated that this will be the first of several speeches which the former president will deliver as part of the republicans national campaign.

Political wisecracks will be divided on the effect of these speeches. Some will say that Mr. Hoover will do the Landon cause more harm than good, since he personifies the very things the people by an overwhelming vote carried only 6 states, got 59 electoral votes in 1932—repudicated so vehemently when they elected Mr.

HOP HALSEY MARRIED AT LUBBOCK LAST SAT. MORN

Hop Halsey, recent candidate for representative in the legislature, and Miss Harriette Roach were united in marriage at 9 o'clock last Saturday morning in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George M. Roach, 1811, 17th St., Lubbock, Dr. L. N. Lipscomb, pastor of First Methodist Church, officiating.

The young people left immediately after the marriage ceremony for Dallas, where they were to visit the Texas Centennial, after which they were to make their residence temporarily in Austin, where young Halsey will enter the law department of the University of Texas.

Both the bride and groom are ex-students of the Texas Technological College, the bride being a graduate, and the groom would have received his degree from that institution this summer had not his studies been interrupted by his political campaign. Both had long been campus favorites at the Tech.

Attending the wedding from Tahoka were Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hill, the latter being an aunt of the groom.

SHORTAGE OF COTTON PICKERS AT BIG SPRING

As strange as it may seem, there is a shortage of cotton pickers in Howard county and surrounding area. Cotton is opening fast, and staying in the fields, because farmers cannot get hands to pick it. Some thought it would be easy to supply the demand for this kind of labor, since those working on WPA projects only work two weeks out of the month, but it seems that those thus employed do not choose to work the other two weeks, or else do not choose to pick cotton.—Big Spring News.

Circus Brings "Something New Under Sun"

The old statement that there is nothing new under the sun is being refuted this season by Harley Sadler popular Texas showman, who is bringing the Harley Sadler Circus to Brownfield on Saturday, October 3, for an afternoon and night performance. Believing that the public wants something different in the way of circus entertainment, Harley Sadler has assembled a circus that is a distinct departure from all circus performances. The performance opens with a processional pageant, depicting "Texas Under Six Flags," with all special costumes and musical numbers, then comes the circus performance where act after act takes place with lightning-like-rapidity. Among the circus acts will be the great Orton troupe of wire walkers, acrobats, and gymnasts, the Valera family presenting a sensational flying act high in the big tent, Miss Tito Moromoto, little Japanese star of the circus, acclaimed to be one of the greatest performers in the circus world, Munde and June, jugglers extraordinary, Capt. James J. Hamster and his school of highly trained horses, the Gomez troupe of acrobats, from Old Mexico, Lee Smith and his gang of funny clowns to make you laugh, Capt. Buck Bonham and his performing elephants, featuring his act by allowing himself to be carried the length of the hippodrome track by his head in the mouth of "Big Vera," world's largest elephant. Another feature of the Harley Sadler circus is "Mary," baby elephant, and it is said the Sadler circus is the only circus on the road today with a mother and baby elephant. The baby elephant stands about three feet high and weighs about two hundred and fifty pounds. The band, under the direction of Professor Eddie See, will present a thirty minute overture preceding the performance. As a special feature attraction, Harley Sadler circus presents Ramon, Argentine movie star in person, who will be seen in the main show performance. Denver Crumpler, tenor, will sing during the presentation of "Texas Under Six Flags." Among the strange and curious animals carried by the Sadler circus will be seen a

"Muskutis" the largest type of anthropoid on exhibition in America today, and the only one in this country, weighing 350 pounds, standing over six feet tall, and makes a giant orang-utan in the next cage to him, look small in comparison. All in all, it promises to be a real circus performance, brought to Brownfield with Harley Sadler himself in person with it.

Three Rivers Damage Texas $20,000,000

AUSTIN, Texas—Although the flood waters of the Colorado, Concho and Guadalupe rivers are still tumbling down to the sea, an immediate survey of the flood damage has been launched by the Texas Planning Board's water resources committee. The survey is under the direction of C. S. Clark, chairman of the State Board of Water Engineers and planning board member.

A hurried survey of the flooded regions by the planning board discloses that property damage will run $15,000,000 and $20,000,000. Thousands of head of livestock drowned as the raging waters of the three rivers tumbled over their banks and ran rampant over the lowlands. Hundreds of dwellings were torn from their foundations and hurled against the concrete bulwarks of highway and railroad bridges where they crumbled under the terrific pounding of the swirling waters.

Meanwhile, Maj. E. A. Wood, director of the planning board, and Mr. Clark went to Washington to seek funds from the U. S. Geological Survey for the rehabilitation of gauging stations on these streams which had been discontinued before the record breaking rainfall which sent the rivers hurtling toward the Gulf.

Mrs. Ferrell Farrington, editor of the O'Donnell Index, was taken to a sanitarium in Lubbock Monday, where she was to undergo a major operation the next day.

Mrs. Farrington's brother-in-law Arlie Farrington, will substitute for her as editor of the Index during her enforced relinquishment of the position. The substitute editor, who was here Monday, stated that it would probably be two or three months before Mrs. Farrington would be able to resume her work with the Index. —Taboka News.

People Will Spend If—

Says Alvin McCauley

The way to induce people to spend more of their money, and thus accelerate business activity and reduce unemployment, is to give them something they want more than money, according to Alvin McCauley, president of the Packard Motor Car Company.

"Business men," he writes in the Rotarian Magazine, "who sell bread or meat or soap or shoes have as a group come through the depression years with respectable sales totals and with steady employment for their forces. People even in lean years of uncertainty want these staples more than they want money. Business men who sell less essential articles have a less consistent record." "It seems self-evident of the United States, and likewise of the world, that it will entirely emerge from depressed conditions when manufacturers and merchants are offering for sale things which so attract the general public that the desire for these things overcomes the inordinate prudence which long guided every income-earner to save just as much as he could against a possible personal catastrophe. Depression and unemployment cannot until then be completely shaken off. "So it is squarely up to you and me and the entire class of individuals who manage industries and business," he urges. "The problem is a direct challenge to our ability, to our ingenuity, to our qualifications as business men. If we can offer for sale products which people want so much that they will dig into their cash reserves to buy them, we shall pull us all out of our troubles, re-employ our laid-off personnel, resume divided payments, spread prosperity once more."

"The American automotive industry is as good an instance as any," continues Mr. McCauley. "We were all of us making as good cars as we knew how, and selling them at as low prices as we thought possible, back in 1929. Yet we were prepared to go neither fast enough nor far enough. Despite the better cars at lower prices, it was not till the 1934 and 1935 models that automobile makers generally had products which the public wanted more than money."

"In almost every industry are one or two concerns which, by exerting their ingenuity and resources, have devised something folks are buying. In every country are some concerns which are running far better than most. Therefore, it seems a safe generality that any of us can do it. We need only apply ourselves to the task."

"By improving our products, making them more attractive and more serviceable, giving the purchaser a bigger dollar's worth for each dollar he spends with us, we can induce him to spend more dollars. Thus we shall put unemployed dollars to work. Employed dollars mean employed workers. And enough employed workers will mean an end to the relief bills which all of us must pay."

A PARADE

"And in those days, behold, there came through the gates of the city a salesman from afar off, and it came to pass as the day went by, he sold plenty. They that were the grouchies smiled on him and gave him the hand that is glad. The tightwads opened up their purses to him."

"And in that city were they that were ordertakers, and they that spent their days adding to the alibis sheets. They mightily were they astonished. They said one to the other, 'What the Hell, how doth he get away with it?' And it came to pass that many were gathered in the back of the office and a soothsayer came among them. And he was one wise guy. And they spoke and questioned him saying, 'How is it that this stranger accomplisheth the impossible!"

"Whereupon the soothsayer made answer: 'He of whom you speak is one hustler. He ariseth very early in the morning and goeth forth full of pep. He complaineth not, neither doth he knock. He is arrayed in purple and fine linen, while ye go forth with faces unshaven and pants not pressed.'

"While ye gather here and say one to another, Verily this is a terrible day to work, he is already abroad. And when the eleventh hour cometh he needeth no alibis. He saith not to the boss, 'Behold they that are in this town are a bunch of bone-heads' Nor doth he report that they can not be sold."

"He knoweth his line, and they that would stave him off they giveth him orders. Men say unto him, 'nay, nay!' when he cometh in yet when he goeth forth from thence, he hath their names on the line that is dotted."

"He taketh with him two angels—'Aspiration and Perspiration' He knoweth whereof he speaketh and he worketh to beat Hell. Verily I say unto you, go thou and do likewise."

JUST LIKE HOMEFOLKS

Drive a car around Henrietta long and the chickens and dogs will force you to go round them. It is unlawful, to let a milk cow run loose in Henrietta, but a car driver encounters them tied with a good long rope, and he has to get out and drive her off the roadway before he can pass. The other day a car followed a pedestrian half a block on the new gravel asphalt street paving, and he never budged. The car had to drive round him just like passing another car.

Yes, the speed maniac, the fellow who mixes whiskey with gasoline, the road hog, the sap who thinks he owns the whole world when he gets on a paved highway with a car and toots his horn a quarter of a mile away whether he has the right of way or not, warning everybody that he is coming; they are all public menaces. But these pedestrians we have been talking about, they are some menaces, too.—Independent.

BUSINESS REVIVAL GIVES COLLEGE MEN A BREAK

College students graduated this year are finding more jobs awaiting them than at any time since 1931, according to Robert F. Moore, secretary of appointments at Columbia University, New York. Mr. Moore reports that large industrial and business organizations are "faced by an alarming gap in their personnel, as the result of depression economics."

Fresh evidence that business is rapidly returning to normal activity under the stimulus of the New Deal is to be found in the fact that organizations which laid off large numbers of employees are seeking to rebuild from the bottom and are taking on young college men to fill ever increasing vacancies.

Mr. Moore reported that whereas the top salary a young graduate could expect last year was $100 a month, compensation this year has risen to $125 for the better positions. "Jobs that formerly paid practically nothing," he added, "now offer up to $85 a month. With business gaining, many companies are confronted with the fact that for five years they have failed to train men to fill in the better jobs. Now the men at the top are in need of assistance. They are seeking in the college field young men who can be trained quickly to meet the pressure of renewed business activity."
