Newest Sound System For Rialto Theatre

We that have been attending the Rialto Theatre perhaps feel that it is as good as any we hear in the larger cities, and is still giving good service. But sound production machinery in itself is not many years old—just a few back to all-silents—and there has been a great revolution in making the "talkie" machinery. The best engineers, designers, technicians and inventors have poured over this part of the movie industry to try to bring this business to topnotch in the fewest years possible.

One of the leading companies in the manufacturing and improvement of the "talkie" feature of modern picture shows, has been the Western Electric Co. Recently, they have brought out under the brand name "Mirrophonic" what is said to be just as true reproduction of sound as the mirror is the features of your face. This new sound machinery records thundering artillery, shattering earthquakes, as well as stifled anguish or the softest musical instruments, just as true as the sound of the instrument itself.

Representatives of the company have promised Mr. Jones, proprietor of the Rialto and Ritz that this machinery will be installed by December 22, at which time movie goers will hear that great play "The Big Broadcast of 1936" put on with the new sound reproducing "Mirrophonic." Mr. Jones hopes to have a good house on hand that night for the first show after the change is made from the old to the new machinery.

Mr. Jones also informed us that he aimed to remodel the entire building soon after the coming of the new year, which when complete, will be a model for convenience, and one of the most beautiful theatres in this section.

The Gaymons Writing Interestingly of Texas

The Herald has received two papers of the past two weeks from the publishers of the Canal Winchester, Ohio, Times, Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Gaymon, telling of their recent visit to Texas. The first issue had to do mostly with their trip to Texas, via Kentucky, Tennessee, and Arkansas. This gave an interesting description as well as a fine pointer on how northern people react to a trip to and through the old South.

The second article had a complete description of what they saw at the Texas Centennial at Dallas, and we wish to say right here that we have never seen a better description, or a better boost for the big exhibition given by a native Texan. It seems that the Gaymons are really able to grasp the huge vastness of Texas area what it has accomplished in 100 years, as well as the optimistic outlook of the future.

Also we wish to add that they seem to have learned the early history of Texas, its settlement, names of early colonizers, its leaders in the revolution, its history during the republic era, as well or better than the average Texan. They know better than to try to palm off on their readers that old one about the United States taking Texas away from Old Mexico.

The Spirit of Christmas

Santa Claus and his reindeer, riding high over Texas on Christmas Eve, will sweep across a State of prosperity, of peace and of contentment. There may be turmoil and distress elsewhere in the world, but Texas will be as calm as the stars on a frosty, moonlight night. It will mark befittingly the end of the State's first century of progress and the auspicious start of the second. Texas is well prepared to meet the demands of the happy season. Gift-givers will find Brownfield merchants stocked with record lines. Store buyers have brought to the city the best that the markets of the world afford. The marts of trade have recognized the signs of returning prosperity. To this new spirit of Christmas, in Brownfield and trade territory, therefore, this Holiday Edition is dedicated.

Fireman Put On Their Annual Banquet

At least once a year, and near the Christmas holidays, the local firemen put on an annual banquet and get together meeting, in which the achievements of the year are discussed at a short business meeting, usually held just prior to the banquet. As usual the senior and junior editors were invited, but a night session at the Herald office kept us from attending, for which we are very sorry.

The banquet at the Wines hotel was everything the firemen expected, and more, for Mrs. Terry had a feed there that the diners as well as their guests were really proud of, and was cooked and served as only this and very few other hotels seem to be able to do.

Following the banquet, as usual, those who cared to do so, were admitted to the theatres here by Earl Jones free of charge, and most all availed themselves of this happy privilege. Brownfield is proud of its volunteer firemen. They work together with full co-operation and harmony, and have consistently from

Farmers Finding Slow Sale For Turkeys

Farmers all over the state, as well as in Terry County, have found a very slow market this year, as well as a depressed price for their turkeys. It seems that the United States, and especially Texas, just simply raised too many turkeys this year, and the market has been so glutted that the movement of this fine meat has been slow.

But turkey is not only a mighty fine meat, but about the cheapest on the market. Therefore, those who have any kind of dinner or function where a lot of people have to be fed, should remember this, and in lots of ways turkeys could be taken off the market locally.

If every family in town would take one bird during the Christmas holidays alone, it would mean the movement of several hundred birds that are still for sale in Terry county, and the Brownfield trade territory.

year to year kept our insurance rates to the minimum.

Rialto-Rotarians to Give Santa Claus Party

For those children whose Christmas will be short this year the Rialto Theatre and the Rotary Club are uniting in giving a theatre party on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30, December 23. Mr. Jones informed the committee that he has lined up a full program of clean comedy. After the picture is run, treats will be presented by Santa Claus. Two committees are working with Mr. Jones on the project. Mr. Shelton, Mr. Latham and Mr. Baze compose the committee to locate the children and distribute the tickets. Luther Medford, Graham Smith and Homer Winston have been appointed by President James Harley Dallas to arrange for the packages. All worthy children who have not been contacted by the committee should be reported to one of the members of the first committee.

An old man who had received his first pension check, mislaid his pocket book at Rotan and the money was taken. That was a poor trick to play on the aged.

Fireworks Forbidden In the Fire Area

Readers will remember last week that these columns had quite a bit to say about the exploding of fireworks in the business district, but if we ever knew a law against the practice we had forgotten it. But we find that we do have a law forbidding the exploding of fireworks in the fire area, and it is to be really enforced. Since that article appeared, we have not seen or heard another fire cracker in the business area.

Ordinance Carries $6 Fine

This law was passed, December 10, 1934, and published in subsequent issues of the Herald. All councilmen then on the board approved and signed the ordinance being C. J. Smith, Ches Gore, Tom Cobb, H. W. Nelson and M. J. Craig. It was O. K'd. by the Mayor and attested by the City Secretary, and carries a fine of $6 for each such offense.

Mayor L. C. Wines has asked us to state that he has notified every officer here, both city and county, and an effort will be put forth to really enforce the ordinance for the first time. Of course we suppose that small boys from the country or town either will be cautioned first before being fined, but grown folks should know better.

Also, Mr. Wines states that all the dealers who sell them have graciously consented to caution every individual who buys fire works to not explode them until they reach home. Small boys, or at least some of them take a delight in scaring people who are afraid of fire works, and will follow them about town to molest them. From this on, nothing like this will occur.

There is nothing in the ordinance forbidding people carrying the fire works home and having as big time with them as they wish. If they burn their hands, face, home or barn, that is their hard luck. But on the other hand it gives timid people a chance to enjoy a safe and sane Christmas.

Going to Have to Cut Some More Readers Off

We went through our mailing list three weeks ago, and used our pruning shears to a fare-you-well, especially those who showed to be one year or more in arrears. Well, we believe that we are going to have to use the chopping block again and that soon, as we have not had the response of subscribers in renewing as we should have.

But every business enterprise that is worthy to be termed as such should demand that people who owe him pay their accounts if possible, or stop them from further imposing on it. Sometimes there are circumstances over which a debtor has no control, and as willing as he may be cannot at that time discharge the debt. But he should at least be frank with those he owes, and let them know what to expect.

Around the first of the year, we are going to make another thinning and those who have not paid us by that time, or explained to us that they can pay later, will be removed from our mailing list. It cost money to print and issue a paper, and one cannot continue long without getting pay for it unless they happen to be millionaires.

We had much rather have a smaller list of readers who pay for their papers than a big NINETY PER CENT COVERAGE to brag about, and get about half them pay for their paper. Much more than half our readers pay, however. We were merely using that for an illustration.

Then too, people who do not pay for their papers do not appreciate them as they should. They are inclined to think and to say that "if that guy gives his paper away, he don't think much of it." And they are just about right at that.

We never have heard of a "give away" paper that people thought much of, or had much influence in the community. We don't like to get hard with readers, but wholesale paper houses demand their money each month. The postoffice want their postage when an issue goes in the office. The boys who work for the Herald demand their wages each week. It takes money to operate.

This week end, while you are in town making your purchases, won't you please come in and settle your account? It don't amount to much from you, but several hundred amounts to a whale of a lot to us.

Anton-Brownfield All-Stars to Tangle

All-star football teams of Anton and Brownfield are to clash here on Christmas Day in a post-season grid attraction.

Pete Miller has charge of the Brownfield team, which goes to bat against a club handled by Fred Rich, Anton High school coach.

Playing on the Anton team will be Bob Rich, former Lubbock High and Texas A. and I. star; Stevenson, Norman, Hill Fikes, Rucker, Potter, Saunders, Hedges, Jones, Grant and Fred Rich.

Miller has lined up M. Price, J. McCoud, R. Pharr, R. Lewis, P. Owens, G. Goodpasture, H. Trigg, O. Huckabee, J. Neill, Parker and G. Tankersley.

Our understanding is that some of the Anton lineup are former Southwest Conference men, and are real tough humbres. Also, several of the locals have been or now are playing on some college team. Jim Neill and Pete Owens were both first line men on Tech Raiders this year.

Subscribers to the Herald are invited to patronize the advertisers in this issue. After all, our advertisers play a part in making your newspaper bigger and better.

The Official Paper of Terry County and the City of Brownfield.

Among the world's most famous last words: "I tell you I find it impossible to carry the heavy burden of responsibility and the discharge of my duties as King, without the help and support of the Woman I love."—Edward Windsor. While there may be some that disagree with him, a man that would not do just what he did does not love the woman he proposes to marry, love, support and cherish. We think more of Edward than we ever did and less of the British dictators.

After finding there was a "Fred Smith Club" in New York, started with the object of enlisting the rest of the Smiths by that name in America, Sharley Guy was very sad to find that another big city like Lubbock did not sport a man with quite that name. Well Sharley, you can at least tell them there is one in the "Lubbock Trade Territory" here at Brownfield. Not only is his name Fred Smith, but he is district manager of the Cicero Smith Lumber Co., including the yard at Lubbock. So-o-o, you can kinder claim him after all.

Editor Willard Bright of the "Sneegraves Snews" refers to Seagraves along with Seminole and Brownfield as one hoss towns. We beg to take issue with Bro. Bright. Brownfield has more than one hoss.

Our local drayman has two, and we know of several that have saddle nags. While some of the latter are Shetlands counting two rounds as one bale—we mean counting two Shets as one hoss—we would still have many more than one, thus sustaining what some of Willard's east Texas editorial friends have been calling him.

We went home very tired one night last week and had just settled ourself in the old easy chair with the evening paper, when we heard a wham on the front door. Nobody else being home, we had to answer the noise. It was about dark, but not to late for one of the most persistent magazine salesmen we ever saw or heard of to crawl our hunkers. At first we took him to be a California Wop from the sound of his speil, but he talked so fast and furious about points he must make by six o'clock or lose a chance to go to college, we could not understand what he wanted except money. He begged, pleaded and almost threatened, but we finally got him simmered down till we found he was from a neighboring town, and claimed that he had lived here. Then we told him that his time was up anyway, as it was past six. We finally got the door closed and went back to our paper, but our persistent visitor turned away with a faked sob. Any magazine that will put a young man in the field with such a speil as he had don't deserve any readers. It makes fakers and liars out of our coming generation, instead of frank, self-reliant men.

We Americans may be inclined to laugh and make slight remarks about the ancient habit of the English in marching about from place to place in London, and following blasts from trumpeters, proclaim to the people the ascent of their King to the throne. But it is no more foolish than some of our ancient procedures. Some time during this month, 531 very dignified gentlemen will assemble at Washington. Five hundred and twenty-three of these dig-naries will probably cast their votes for Franklin D. Roosevelt for president of the United States. Eight others will very likely cast theirs for Alf Landon if they appear at all. FDR will then be declared elected, whereupon a committee of the most solemn of the 531 will then march to the White House and tell Mr. Roosevelt what he and 130,000,000 other people knew by midnight, November 3. This old custom dates back to the early years of our Republic, when it was months between some of the voting places as well as states and the nation's capital. But who would forbid these politicians of their glory, not to say traveling expenses and per diem.

Our good friend Jack Stricklin of the Brownfield Herald recently took a whack at the term "father" as applied to priests, and said he would abide by the Scriptural injunction, "call no man father." Right you are Jack. But what about calling men "Reverend?" That term is applied to God alone in the Bible. We had just as soon call a man "father" as Reverend. If we use "eyether" we simply follow a custom as we would call a child "kid."—Anton News.

We acknowledge, Bro. Richards that you have us cornered, and we are not going to make a whale of an effort to extract ourself. There is, as you say, no reason for calling a man "eyether." And to be sure, parson, is not much better. A Methodist minister once told us that the word "parson" came from a corruption of the words, "pass on," which was a word the early English put on their gate posts, who didn't wish too frequent calls from the minister. The churches in which Bro. Richards and the writer holds membership, the Primitive Baptist and church of Christ, frequently use the word "Elder" in speaking of preachers. But even that, as far as it applies to the church of Christ can be a misnomer. One can be a preacher or minister in this church without ever having been an elder of any congregation. But calling a child a "kid" is not intended as a sacred term that has been taken from the Bible, the church or kindred subjects, no more than calling an elderly person aunt, uncle, grandpa, grandma or dad, who are no relation to you.

The streets are made to drive on not the sidewalks. Its a shame for folks to park and drive their cars and trucks on the side walks and force the foot travelers to take to the streets. Folks that do this have no respect for the law or for their fellow men and women, and the little children. It's done in no other town in the world. If one was to get drunk and drive on the side walks he would be headed for the county jail and from there to the state penitentiary. What's the difference, drunk or sober? For love of your fellow man and your own self-respect, don't park your cars and trucks on the street crossings and side walks. Who are you anyway that you should take unto yourself such liberties. —Keep your cars and trucks out in the streets where they belong.—Rotan Advance.

Boy, they must have some low side walks or jumping-jack cars in Rotan. The side walks at Brownfield average 12 or 14 inches above the paving, and even our wildest drivers would have a meluva time getting even one wheel upon the walks. But one fellow actually made it about two years ago. He not only got all four wheels up on the sidewalk, but caved in the front of a drug store. For months there was a big dispute here as to what kind of gas he was burning. Will Adams said it was Texico, Bob Bowers said it was Gulf, Chris Quante insisted that it was Conoco, and Tom May offered to get

MAGAZINE PEDDLER IS GIVEN JAIL SENTENCE

A young man, giving his name as W. S. Doak, 22 of Anadarko, Okla., was given a fine of $50 and a 60-day jail sentence last Thursday when he entered a plea of guilty before County Judge Walter Lander for the theft of property under the value of $50 constituting a misdemeanor. Doak was arrested at Brownfield, Texas, on information furnished by Sheriff Earl Booth. He was charged with stealing a number of Delco light batteries from the farm home of Ernest Rromas, east of this city in the Oklahoma Lane community.

While operating here, Doak is said to have posed as a salesman for a number of nationally known magazine publications.—State Line Tribune.

EDWARD WILL MAKE HOME IN DENMARK, COPENHAGEN SAYS

COPENHAGEN Denmark, Dec. 10.—King Edward VIII of Great Britain will make his home in Denmark after his abdication, it was reported here Thursday without confirmation.

Edward, who seeks peace and solitude, was said to have been influenced by a remark of Col. Charles A. Linbergh that:

"Sensational guests interest the Danes only five minutes, whereafter they forget you."

RANCHERS LAUNCH FIGHT TO PROHIBIT ARGENTINE CATTLE

HOUSTON, Texas, Dec. 10.—Texas cattlemen, with support pledged by Senator Tom Connally and Representative Richard Kleberg of Corpus Christi, opened a fight Wednesday against a proposal to lift an embargo on Argentine cattle. The cattlemen, gathered at a meeting of the executive committee of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' Association and the Government officials said their fight against Senate ratification of the United States Argentine pact was to prevent spread of the foot and mouth disease, reported in the South American Republic.

The pact, known as the Argentine sanitary convention is pending before the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate of which Connally is a member. It is designed to alter the provisions of the Smoot-Hawley tariff act which prohibits the importation of cattle from a country where the foot and mouth disease exists. Connally said President Roosevelt favors ratification.

IS HISTORY TRUE?

The search for truth is usually worshipped in a very abstract manner by individuals who, when they come to a clash between the facts and their prejudices, are extremely reluctant to substitute the former for the latter.

A study of history, recording the experience of past generations, is valuable to a student only when the past is examined objectively and the true facts presented. Yet, it is notorious that history boogs have written from various angles to support national, religious and social views.

Hendrik Willem van Loon, noted historian and author, urges that teachers adopt a method of approach like that of the physician trying to make a correct diagnosis. The doctor, he says, does not take sides but observes all phenomena. He has nothing personal against the ailment but seeks to correct the wrong which exists in the physical body.

Mr. van Loon says, "Every nation in Europe has taught its national history from its own particular little angle," that Catholics never try to teach history "from the point of view of Martin Luther" and Protestants do not invoke the memory of Ignatius Loyola "when it comes to the Inquisition and such like matters."

He does not think that the truth, particularly in regard to the past, is always findable, but that there is an approximation of the truth to be discovered.—Community News.

THE TRUTH ABOUT THAT WORD MAVERICK

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Dec. 5.—That word maverick needs a little explanation, and Rep. Maury Maverick of Texas is just the man who can do it.

"Maverick" as a term for an unbranded calf or cow originated from the congressman—but not because any of his relatives went around putting his brand on unmarked strays.

Wasn't A Cowman

"The truth of the matter is that my grandfather, Samuel A. Maverick, wasn't a cowman at all. He became a San Antonio businessman and never owned any cattle until somebody gave his 493 head of longhorns to pay a debt.

"My grandfather put the cattle on Padre island, just off the Texas coast. When the tide was low some of them waded ashore. Grandfather hadn't bothered to brand them, so someone else did. He thinks he lost most of them that way.

"People would see one of the unbranded animals and would say, 'that's Maverick's.' Pretty soon they began calling any unbranded cow a 'maverick'."

What makes Father's hair turn gray is the habit of his neighbors; always buying new automobiles when his bank account is low.

One of the troubles with the old world is that it is packed with people telling other people what to do.

Merchants in Brownfield might as well advertise; their competitors will.

THE MAN WHO WAS IN A HURRY

Roland Sinclair was in a hurry. It was bitterly cold as this 27-year-old Canadian chap loped across the jail-yard at Quebec.

"Let's hurry and get this over," he said to his companion. "It's too darned cold out here."

His companion was quite agreeable to the idea. In a few seconds it was all over—Roland was hanged by the neck until dead, as the law had decreed for him.

As you reflect upon this, the thought occurs that must have been of Roland's most tragic faults—he was always in too big a hurry.

People who take time to stop and think rarely ever get in too big a hurry.

Murder is rarely committed by calm, thoughtful people.

The way these scientists are expanding the universe it won't be long before a man's imagination will have to know.

The New Deal Marches On!

The New Deal at the Duncan Coffee Company marches on, in step with the momentous times in which we live.

The human element in any problem comes first with Duncan. Three years ago, in the unemployment crisis that rocked the nation, and in the face of economists' opposition, the company discarded a series of machines and replaced them with human labor. Public approval, expressed in increased sales of Duncan coffees, was so marked that in spite of increased payrolls, no increase of prices to the consumer for his coffee was necessary.

The number of the Company's employees has been steadily increased, and will continue to be increased as the volume of sales requires. Yet . . . there has been no increase in the hours of each person's labor nor has there been any decrease in their wages. Not only that, but the Company has been required, in those three years, to do extensive re-modeling and new building—including a new roasting plant at Corpus Christi which will soon be under construction—to accommodate the increased business.

Each year, from the beginning, the Company has earned a bonus for its employees. And again this year the bonus will be not less than 10% of their year's earnings.

Consumer acceptance of those two fine coffees, ADMIRATION and BRIGHT & EARLY, is the force that makes such policies possible.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

Christmas Photo-Greetings

Home snapshots mounted with personally lettered greetings never fail to make a hit as Christmas cards.

Now is the time when many of you should be recalling that last year you didn't do anything about Christmas cards until just before Christmas. Then you were obliged, as usual, to buy ready-made cards when what you really wanted was something distinctly personal. And don't you remember your resolution not to let another year go by without preparing an original Christmas card of your own?

Well, here is Christmas coming on again and what have you done about it? Nothing yet? Then get busy and, since you have a camera, do you need to be reminded that the most distinctly individual and acceptable Christmas card that can be devised is one that bears a snapshot of yourself, or members of your family or your home. Such a greeting touches the heartstrings of your friends and relatives as words alone never can.

So, look over your old snapshots and see if you have one that you think suitable to go on a Christmas card. If you have none that you quite like for this purpose, get out your camera and bag the picture you need to fill the bill.

The most strictly individual snapshot Christmas card is one which you prepare entirely yourself. If you like simplicity, buy plain note-size cards and envelopes, paste the prints on the cards and write on them the greeting that pleases you. Or, if you prefer, you can have your photo finisher do the work for you. Most photo finishers supply cards for this purpose with space for the print and decorated with a Christmas motif to suit various tastes.

Ideas for snapshot greeting cards are innumerable. While your friends always will like the simple portrait snapshot, the story-telling picture pleases most—the picture which shows the subject doing something characteristic or amusing. One of the cleverest Christmas snapshot greetings we have ever seen was that of a musically inclined family of five. It represented a bar of music, with the notes consisting of a snapshot portrait of each member of the family, each face in profile, the mouth open and head uplifted as if singing.

This card reproduced above offers another suggestion not difficult to execute. You simply letter your greeting on a piece of paper, leaving space for a name, paste the paper on the selected print and have your photo finisher make a copy negative of it. From this copy negative have him make as many prints as you need. Then in the space left for it, you letter "Aunt Mary" or whatever the name of the person to whom you wish to send the card.

But think up your own ideas—test your originality. There is a lot of satisfaction in being told by your friends that yours was "the most original Christmas greeting I have ever received—and that snapshot is you all over."

JOHN VAN GUILDER.

1932, the parties stacked up this way:

	1936	1932
Democratic	60.7	57.3
Republican	36.4	39.6

The total varied less than one per cent from the Associated Press estimate of the probable vote, on the basis of registration figures, a few days before the election. The figure then was 45,473,000.

Modern Automobiles Demand Good Gasoline

In announcing the new Gulf No-Nox Gasoline, Mr. H. C. Meyer, General Sales Manager, says: "Gulf is keeping pace with the trend in automotive engineering in that we are giving motorists a modern fuel for modern motors. Ordinary gasoline will no longer do."

Mr. Meyer calls attention to the fact that during the past ten years the automobile has gone through a revolutionary period. Box-shaped bodies have been transformed into graceful streamlined contours, new designs in spring suspension add to the comfort of driver and passengers, and wheezing motors have given way to high compression units which rival the powerful engines that are used in America's finest planes.

The modern automobile motor has not been increased in weight over the engine of ten years ago, but higher compression ratios have made it more than twice as powerful and half again as fast. This new efficiency has made possible the reduction of operating costs and the increase of power and speed. But the high compression motors require a faster burning fuel than ordinary gasoline.

The new Gulf No-Nox Ethyl Gasoline answers today's demands for power, speed and uniform performance, and at the same time enables the motorists to drive his car up the steepest hills without the slightest trace of a compression knock.

Ford Exposition at Centennial . Host to Millions This Year

Doors are Locked and Exhibits are Removed From Building

When the doors of the huge Ford exhibit building were officially closed for the last time at the Texas Centennial Central Exposition in Dallas, an accurate check disclosed that 59 per cent of the more than 6,350,000 visitors to the exposition had passed through the Ford exhibit. It was one of the most successful shows of its kind sponsored by the company.

Since the exposition opened June 6, day by day totals have been kept as to the number of persons who visited the building. The number carried for rides on the "Roads of the Southwest" and those who were taken in buses from the exposition to the Dallas assembly plant. Cars on the "Roads of the Southwest" were operated seven days a week to transport some 621,955 persons over the reproduced sections of nine famous trails and highways. Buses to the plant operated only from June 17 to September 25, but they were ridden by more than 30,000 visitors.

Doreia Ryan, daughter of Rex Ryan, manager of the Ford exhibit, turned the key in the lock on the last door to be closed in the exhibit building. This was an eventful moment for her as she performed the same ceremonies at two other expositions where exhibits were maintained by the Ford Motor Company. Miss Ryan officially closed the doors of the Ford building at the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago in 1934 and again at the California International Exposition in San Diego.

Equipment in the Ford building is being shipped to several points as there are co-exhibitors whose plants are not in Dearborn, Mich. All machinery used in demonstrations and tests will be removed.

A check of the registration book in the Ford lounge shows that many distinguished visitors to the Exposition were guests. It also shows that hundreds of outstanding Texas citizens passed through the building and were formally entertained during their visit.

And We Thought the Cotton Crop Was Out

From what we could gather from others, farmers, cotton buyer and merchants, we thought the cotton crop of Terry county was about all out and ginned. Still we kept seeing bale after bale roll into the gins here, and several wagons, trucks, etc., waiting their turn.

In conversation with Frank Wier one day last week, he informed us that he was still cutting the fleecy staple right along. In fact, he said, we ginned 56 bales of cotton Tuesday.

Well, when you begin to think that is almost a full run for a five stand gin.

Mrs. J. O. Brown of this city was pleasantly surprised by a visit of two nephews, Lawton Brown of St. Louis, Mo., and Beecher Brown of Centralia, Illinois. The brothers had never seen

NECROLOGY

Mrs. C. H. Hester, 71, passed away Wednesday, December 9th, at the family home 2 1/2 west of Brownfield, after a long seige of illness and much suffering. The body was laid to rest in the local cemetery, Thursday by the side of her husband, who preceded her in death some four years. Funeral services at the Methodist church was conducted by the local pastor, Bro. Breedlove, and Presiding Elder, Pearce. Rev. Ed 'Tharp of Abernathy, preached the funeral.

All the children attended the funeral services. Mrs. Hester will be greatly missed by all who knew her. She was loyal to her Master and her church, and has gone to live with Him. She leaves to mourn her going away, 11 children and a number of grandchildren, a sister and a host of friends.—Contributed.

THE METHODIST CHURCH

This church is here for the service of God and humanity. The public has a friendly and cordial welcome to its services at all times. Good congregations, spiritual preaching, and helpful teaching is the rule. "Christ and him crucified" is our only reason for being in Brownfield.

Preaching Sunday morning and night, Church School at nine forty-five, and Epworth Leagues at six fifteen.

Earl Jones is attending Federal Court at Lubbock as a juror this week.

A private sanitarium has been purchased at Kerrville by the State for $80,000. Some 100,000 more will be spent on it after which it will be turned into a Tuberculosis Sanitarium for negroes, with 200 beds to start with.

Mesdames W. H. Stone and J. D. Teal, of Odessa, were dinner guests in the F. M. Burnett home this week.

Lions Are Acting as "Goodfellows" Here

In most of the larger cities there is an organization known as "Goodfellows." Perhaps it is no permanent organization, with no regular set of officers or directors, but it always springs to life as the holidays approach, and all people who are able are supposed to be members and are asked to contribute to it.

Such monies are turned over to a buying committee who see to it that there is no underprivileged child in that city to whom Santa Claus does not pay his yearly call, and leave a supply of toys, fruits, nuts and candy.

They go even further, they see to it that no family who is unfortunate for one cause or another, goes without a fine Christmas meal. Baskets of food, along with toys are packed and delivered Christmas morning.

In Brownfield, the Lions Club is taking an active part in this Good Samaritan business in the absence of a Goodfellows club, and if you are a member or not a member, it makes not a particle of difference about such a contribution we understand. Therefore, if you have the spirit of the season in your old bones see a Lion at once and hand in what your heart and conscience dictates.

It will be used in a good cause—never doubt that.

Among the renewals this week were: R. A. Locker for himself and his brother at Marysville, Texas W. P. Elmore, R. H. McCormack, Alton Webb, R. O. Black, B. B. Broun, W. E. Stone, G. W. Alexander, A. A. Lawrence, J. D. McDonald, Kyle Graves, Bob Harris, Sam J. Houtchens, Lee Smith, Horace Rambo, Brownfield and routes; Mrs. R. M. Kendrick for O. L. Stice of Midland and Mrs. J. C. Scudday of Forsans T. P. Newton of Welch and Dr. J. M. Blair of Houston.

Mrs. W. R. McDuffie was called to Ennis, Monday night on account of the serious illness of her grandmother.

Mrs. Sawyer Graham and small son have returned from Glendale, Arizona, where she has been visiting her parents for the past six weeks.

Cub Cagers Drop Game to Lamesa

The Lamesa Tornados took Brownfield High School to a cleaning Monday night. Lamesa has the reputation of having one of the strongest teams in the state.

The final score was 23 to 8. The local boys did well on the defense, but their weakness was in holding on to the ball. All of them are new in the game and can be developed only through experience. They are learning the art of getting possession of the ball and getting into shooting territory in a hurry. Coach Fulps is working them early and late on accuracy in passing at shooting goals. Carpenter, Ellis, and Brown are showing up better and better with each workout. They were Brownfield's outstanding players Monday night.

The Girls lost to Union. They have some very good athletes on their team, but they all lack height. The Union girls looked as if they might give some tough competition this season.

John Teal Accepts Eight Year Term

LUBBOCK, Dec. 12.—Finis in the 18-year-old slaying of Miss Evelyn Monts will be written in 64th district court at Muleshoe Monday morning when John Teal will accept an 8-year sentence for the school teacher's murder.

Announcement that the 50-year-old machinist would accept the sentence give him this week by a 64th district court jury was made Saturday by George Dupree, who with Chas. C. Crenshaw, defended Teal.

More than 17 years of fugitive freedom for Teal was ended last January when he was arrested in Pendleton, Ore., by two West Texas peace officers, Sheriff Tom Abel of Lubbock and Jim Cook of Muleshoe.

Now I am willing to admit that

Chamber of Commerce

By J. E. Shelton, Secretary

Brownfield will be lighted for Christmas: That is, the streets of the city will be strung with colored lights in much the same manner as was done in our celebration on last August. They will probably be strung for use about the 20th and will remain in place until after January 1st.

It is true, we are a little late, but Mayor Wines and Superintendent Jones believed that it was a matter that required approval of the City Commission and it was not until last night, Tuesday, that a meeting could be had for submitting the proposal for their approval, and I might say that they were unanimously sold upon the idea as soon as it was presented.

So get ready for the "bright lights," they are coming.

The Rotary Club, the Lions Club and the various churches are getting ready to play Santa Claus to children of Brownfield and surrounding territory and are being ably assisted by Earl Jones, in providing entertainment for the day. The program provides for the distribution of Christmas packages and free shows at the Rialto. It is confined to children under 15 years of age and those eligible will be provided with tickets by teachers in the various schools. The various organizations, so we are informed, are working more or less independently of each other along the line of distribution, if not entertainment and the writer hopes that next year, that we can all join our forces and put over a "big day," something on the order of the one that has been put over by Roswell, New Mexico for the past several years.

Last week the writer was in Roswell in connection with highway proposals on No. 84 and in returning, stopped off at Tatum to confer with the chairman of the highway committee of that town and during our conversation, he called to my notice that several service stations in Brownfield were diverting tourists into El Paso and other points by way of Odessa or Clovis for other points instead of sending them through by way of Tatum and Roswell and that the people of his section did not believe that this was fair to them. I told him that I could hardly believe that this was true but would investigate and see what could be done to correct it. Well I have found that some of the stations are doing just that. And I believe that it is a mistake, because we are not building up any good will, either to them or to the citizens of Plains and it is a thing that can have a kickback, because when they compete their paying between Tatum and Lovington they will have a hard surfaced highway south to the Bankhead and can do some traffic diverting the same as ourselves, which is not what we would like to have.

H. N. O'Neill 44, was killed south of Lamesa last week while out hunting. His gun discharged while dragging it through a fence. Some Mexican cotton pickers found his body and reported to officers.

Dr. A. H. Daniells was operated on last Wednesday night at the local hospital, of which he is a partner, for acute appendicitis. Drs. T. L. Treadaway and Jacobson did the work. He is doing nicely.

Buy at home is certainly good advice. So good that a man ought to be willing to take it as well as to give it.

during a rainy season there may be some reason for sending tourists by way of Odessa or Clovis but ordinarily the highway between Brownfield and the state line is good enough for any tourist and better than most of them have in their own communities and from the state line into Roswell it is better still. It also might be well to say that those of us who do not know of it that within the next few weeks, the highway, from a point about two miles west of Caprock, will be hard surfaced to within 17 miles of Roswell, and contracts have been practically completed for hardsurfing east from Caprock to Tatum. Our highway department is making a survey from Plains to Bronco and a survey is likely to be ordered most any time from Brownfield to Tokio for the purpose of widening the right of way from 80 to 100 feet.

It is expected that within a few months after January 1st, the highway department will arrange grading, drainage and hard surfacing of No. 84 between Plains and Bronco and maybe from Plains to the Terry County line, at least Hon. Harry Hines, Chairman of the Highway Commission, gave us to understand that this probably would be done and I might say in this connection, that during our recent conference with Mr. Hines at Midland we stressed the fact that construction of the highway through Yoakum county was very important and that it would have to be done by the highway department as Yoakum county did not have very much labor that was eligible for WPA work and further that they were entitled to this as it was the only state designation contained in that county and should have its share of construction. And that so far as our case was concerned we had WPA approval on the section west of Brownfield to the Yoakum county line and that it would probably be commenced soon after the completion of construction between Brownfield and the Lynn county line. And right here I would like to say something about the construction that is now being had between Brownfield and Tahoka and say that it was not our idea of the best thing to do, but was preferred by the highway department and WPA offices. The county judge of Terry county had nothing to do with construction east of Brownfield and after he was informed that it was contemplated, he, accompanied by the writer, made a trip to the district of Rice and undertook to have the program of construction changed from east of Brownfield to west of Brownfield, but was not successful. Further the county judge does not have anything to do with construction of highways under a WPA program, other than to work with the county commissioners in securing the necessary right of way.

Boy Scout Activities In Brownfield Area

Local Cub Pack Plan Christmas Party

Brownfield Cub Pack, Number 45 will hold a big parent night program and Christmas party, Monday evening, December 21, at the High School. All the Cubs and their parents plan to attend.

Mr. Houtchins, Cubmaster, and all den mothers will meet this week and perfect the detail plans for the meeting.

It is planned that each Cub will bring a small gift and exchange it with another Cub. Some dad will take the part of Santa Claus.

Special entertainment will be provided by the Cubs. Awards are to be given all Cubs making advancement. Mr. Earl M. McClure, Scout Executive, as well as Mr. M. L. H. Baze, Commissioner, will be present.

Scouts Repairing Toys

We have been requested to announce that the Boy Scouts of Brownfield will repair and repaint old and broken toys for the under-privileged children of Brownfield and Terry County. Anyone having some old, discarded toys are requested to please get in touch with Emery Longbrake, phone 66, and they will be picked up by some Scout.

This is a worthy project and they are endeavoring to see that Santa Claus doesn't miss any child in Terry county.

There is not much time left before Christmas, so let everyone act at once, so these toys may be mended and placed in some little child's stocking Christmas morning.

Santa Fe Roadmaster Killed Last Saturday

LUBBOCK, Dec. 12.—George B. Hickok, about 45, of Lubbock, roadmaster of the Panhandle & Santa Fe railroad on the Slaton division was believed to have been killed instantly about 9:30 o'clock tonight just north-east of Abernathy, when he fell from the gangway of a speeding locomotive.

C. D. Swift, who passed away of heart failure at Lubbock last week, was well known to the old timers here. The writer had pleasant business dealings with him when he was manager of the old Alfalfa Lumber Company.

HERE'S HOLLYWOOD

When you see "Follow Your Heart" the Marion Talley gorgeous musical debut picture, watch handsome Michael Bartlett pick her up, carry her to an old-fashioned coach and drop her into the seat exasperated. To get that scene correctly poor "Mike" carried Miss Talley out Eleven times. By then he was quite weary and dropped her so suddenly the last time that her right foot doubled under her and was so wrenched, she could not work for a day. Of course there was great excitement on the set, many apologies and much sympathy extended by Mike the director, and the entire cast. Such unexpected incidents make the making of pictures both hazardous and exciting.

Richard Dix has received a unique gift, a volume of "Omar Khayyam" printed on copper sheets, actually thinner, lighter, and as flexible as paper. It came from a Miami, Arizona copper mine worker who explained that such gift books would increase the use of copper and therefore miners' wages. He could "think of no better person than you to start a campaign to make America more copper-minded."

Smiley Burnette, cowboy comedian, singer, and musician, came back from a Texas vacation trip declaring he saw this sign on a cowtown sheriff's office: "Back soon—out to LYNCH"

That Class A Magazine, ESQUIRE has rated "The President's Mystery" as "the Most Important Film to come out of Hollywood this year." If and when you see it, watch the excellent acting of the ragged little dog.

Generally trained movie dogs are used in motion pictures, but one hired for "The President's Mystery" didn't want to play. His first day's work was to be up in the trout-fishing stream with Henry Wilcoxon, but he didn't like the water. Wilcoxon had his own Sealym terrier, Pete, along on the location trip and volunteered to try him. Pete so eagerly and aptly did his master's bidding that he won his first screen role, going through the entire picture with Wilcoxon and Betty Furness.

Cary Grant is making a picture in which a girl is to throw a wet hat into his face, but her aim was not so good. So Grant's "stand-in," Neil Merrihugh, a Kansas boy, bet Cary five to one he could do it the first try. Grant accepted—and lost. Then Merrihugh graily explained that he had been third baseman with the Kansas City Club of the American Association until last season.

Pat Henry, a direct descendant of the Revolutionary figure, Patrick Henry, lends his six feet two inches to the role of sheriff's deputy in Gene Autry's musical western, "The Old Corral." During an interview with

Leave the Parking Space For Customers

Business men who drive to town should park their cars somewhere out of the congested district, leaving the space for customers who drive in to trade. It is mighty unhandy for one to have to walk several blocks to your store, then carry a heavy load back the same distance to their car.

No, this is one habit the writer has never been guilty of. We have our car bring us to work, and call for us at noon and night most of the time, but our car is seldom parked anywhere in the business district for more than a few minutes in daylight hours.

Hogging the parking space by business men is what brought on parking meters, and while we are a long ways from anything of the sort in Brownfield, nevertheless, such has started the agitation for them in the cities and would be cities.

DOINGS AMONG OUR TARLETON STUDENTS

Robert Pharr of this city has been promoted to the rank of corporal in the John Tarleton cadet corps, according to Major James D. Bender, Professor of Military Science and Tactics.

Guy Tankersley of this city was among the guests when the Tejas Club, a girl's social organization entertained with a Christmas dance, as was also Milton Waters of Meadow.

The Herald has a number of Anti-Tuberculosis Christmas seals on hand and can spare a few. They are 1c each, and the receipts go toward eradicating tuberculosis among the poor in Texas.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS, To the Sheriff or any Constable of Terry County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon L. G. Stone and the unknown heirs and unknown legal representatives of L. G. Stone by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest County where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Terry County, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Brownfield, on the third Monday in January A. D. 1937, the same being the 18th day of January A. D. 1937, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 1st day of December A. D. 1936, is a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 2116 wherein Fannie C. Earnest is Plaintiff, and L. G. Stone, the unknown heirs and unknown legal representatives of L. G. Stone, P. C. Burleson, Andrew Sims, The First National Bank of Fort Worth, Uscon Oil Company, are Defendants and said petition alleging that the residence of L. G. Stone and the names and residences of the heirs and legal representatives of L. G. Stone are unknown; that plaintiff is the surviving wife and sole devisee of C. H. Earnest, deceased, and independent executrix of his estate; that prior to September 1934, C. H. Earnest was the owner of Section 57, Block D-14 and Section 135, Block D-11 in Terry County, Texas, and R. C. Burleson was his agent to sell such land; that about such time Burleson represented to Earnest that he had two purchasers for such sections and relying upon the representations of Burleson that the sales were advantageous, Earnest conveyed to L. G. Stone Section 135 and to Andrew Sims Section 57, taking as part payment three notes of Stone two for $750.00 each and one for $860.00 and three notes of Sims for $640.00 each, and $640.00 cash paid on each section; that Sims and Stone were not bona fide purchasers but were dummy purchasers for Burleson, who took a conveyance to each section as soon as the deeds to Stone and Sims were delivered; that by reason of such facts the conveyances were void and should be set aside; that such sales were void for the further reason that Burleson fraudulently misrepresented to Earnest the value of the land and Earnest relied upon such representations; Plaintiff offers to do equity and to repay to Burleson all amounts paid out less the commission paid him and less lease money received and less the value of the use of the land; and asks that all conveyances be cancelled, and the notes executed be cancelled, and asks that a deed of trust in favor of Uscon Oil Company be cancelled.

Herein fail not, and have you before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Brownfield, Texas, this 2nd day of December, A. D. 1936. Eldora A. White, Clerk, District Court, Terry County 21

That said company was the owner of large holdings of royalties in several states; buying and selling royalties all the time at a large profit. That if plaintiff would convey to the defendants an undivided half interest to the royalties under plaintiff's land that he would receive a share of the capital stock of said company for each acre conveyed and that large dividends would be paid on same. That relying upon said representations the plaintiff conveyed to said defendants 320 acres of his royalties and executed deeds therefor That the representations so made by the defendant were material representations of facts and that relying upon and believing them to be true he executed a deed to each of the defendants. That said representations were in fact false and were made known to be false by the defendant at the time they were made by the defendant for the purpose of inducing him to execute said two royalty deeds and the defendant believing them to be true and relying upon same did execute said deeds. A TRIBUTE TO MOTHER

On "Mothers Day" and on every other day in the year tributes to them are timely. Here's one of the finest that has ever been penned, written by a Breckenridge man who modestly and positively refuses to allow his name to accompany it. For the good that it may do we pass it to you. (Editor's note.)

We stood by the casket of our dear old mother. Her pale hands hardened by toil and deeds of kindness and mercy, so unselfishly given for her children and her home, were now calmly folded above her marble bosom.

The lovelight that once lit up that sweet face in wreaths of glorious smiles, had faded and gone forever. The tired eyes were forever closed as the angels kissed down the eyelids of pearl.

Yet around her dear lips still played the tender loving smile that so often cheered us in our childhood days and which death itself could not efface. Sadly, sorrowfully we stood, bereft of a mother's tender love and devotion. True, she was aged and infirm. True, her memory was not so keen as in other days. True, she could not minister to us as when gathered about her blessed knees she taught us to hush our childhood's prayer, yet, with all the ravages of time and infirmity, she was still our mother. The atmosphere seemed Holy. It seemed that we could feel the breath of the angels and hear the rustle of their wings.

As we stood with bowed head and tear filled eyes and looked upon her still form, made more radiantly beautiful, if possible, by the purifying fires of dissolution, we wept as only a child can weep.

Too well did we realize our irreparable loss. Too well we knew that none other could ever take her place in our life.

How could we ever again face the cold hard world with no mother to comfort us as in the days of long ago? Mother our precious mother to whom we could always go with our trials and our problems and who seemed always to understand. When friends in whom we trusted failed us and proved untrue, when sorrow came like great billows, threatening to overthrow and overwhelm, when buffeted by the cares of the pitiless world and no other source of comfort remained, mother, with her gentle touch and her undying love could drive away the clouds and kiss away the tears as in our baby days and once more we were inspired to face our difficulties and through our great love for mother and our undying confidence in her constancy, could live the overcoming life.

We listened with breaking heart as the cold clods of the valley were silently and by loving hands dropped upon her casket, knowing full well that as they shut out from our view the form of our angel mother, that the sunlight had gone out of our life and that we had naught left to comfort save a sweet memory of her

THE TEMPERATURE TELLS

Quick roasting may mean economy in time, but it is actually an extravagance in both meat and fuel, say cookery experts of the state colleges and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The two rib roasts above show the results of experiments which prove this point. They are attracting much interest at the International Live Stock Exposition being held in Chicago from November 23 to December 5.

The two roasts were both cooked to the rare stage of doneness. The roast on the right was cooked in a 450° F. oven; the one at the left at 250° F. The first roast lost 4 pounds; the second only 1½ pounds. The ribs roasted at the low temperature were juicier, more uniformly done, and more attractive in appearance. It took twice time in the oven at the low temperature, but 50 per cent less gas. A low temperature causes little or no spattering of the oven, such as takes place when the heat is turned on full blast. And so, on all counts, a low temperature in roasting is best.

great love and the glorious hope of the resurrection. And at last, when loving hands had obscured the cruel earth that hid her silent form, with loving contributions of sweet flowers and with sorrowful faces had departed leaving us alone with our dead, then it was that burying our tear-stained face in the sweet flowers that covered her tomb, we pledged eternal loyalty to her memory and undying fidelity to the fond hopes she had cherished for us in life.

Whatever of success we have made, whatever of success we may make in life, we attribute unreservedly to the tender love and earnest prayer of our now, dear, dead mother.

NOVEMBER CHEVROLET SALES SET NEW RECORD

Chevrolet dealers' retail sales during the month of November totalled 108,093 units, setting a new all-time record both for the month of November and for the 30-day period following any new model introduction, it was announced today at the company's offices here.

The previous record of 92,065 units was set in November 1935, following introduction of the 1936 Chevrolet. This year's November sales were 17.4 per cent greater, although the new 1937 models were brought out five days later in the month, concentrating the heavy selling within a considerably shorter period.

"Chevrolet plants throughout the country are operating at full capacity of approximately 6,000 units a day in an effort to keep up with the dealers' orders," said the announcement. "Even with the record-breaking sales, there are 96,328 unfilled orders on hand at the present time."

PINK BOLL WORM AREA PROCLAIMED

AUSTIN, Dec. 10.—The counties of Dawson, Howard, Glasscock, Martin and Midland were declared to be in a pink boll worm zone on a proclamation issued today by Governor Allred.

The proclamation followed a meeting of the pink boll worm commission at Big Spring, in which it was established that an infestation existed in Howard and Dawson Counties. The other three counties were concluded to constitute a continuous section for growing and ginning with the two infested counties.

"IS IT TRUE WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT DIXIE?"

That the South is the one yet undeveloped agricultural region of America and also the section most rapidly increasing in population is shown by the following figures in The Progressive Farmer.

"Some amazing figures have just been issued by the United States government showing population gains of each state in the five years 1930-35. In this period our 14 Southern States gained more population than all the remaining 34 states combined. The fastest growing section in all America was the South Atlantic group; second fastest growing, East Central; third, West, South Central. Of the half-dozen states making the greatest gains, all were Southern, and of the dozen fastest growing states, eight were Southern—South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee, Florida, Virginia, Kentucky Arkansas and North Carolina.

"The South is indeed the new Land of Opportunity—the one yet undeveloped agricultural region of America. Of the total land surface of Iowa, Illinois, Ohio, Kansas, and North Dakota, for example, more than half is already growing harvested crops, while as yet the percentage of land in cultivation in various Southern States is as follows: Virginia, 23; North Carolina, 21; South Carolina, 30; Georgia, 33; Florida, 5; Alabama, 25; Mississippi, 22; Arkansas, 20; Tennessee, 28; Texas, 15."

Speeding automobiles are increasing threats to life and limb. Careless auto drivers should be punished, even if they live in Brownfield.

There are people in Brownfield who would be charming companions and become firm friends if they took time off to get acquainted with each other.

Election polls may be interesting but there's nothing like the official count to tell what the voters do.

FORD

advances into 1937 with the LOWEST PRICE IN YEARS and new operating economy

THE ADDITION of a new 60-horsepower engine to the Ford line for 1937 brings you a new, low price and gives you a choice of two V-type 8-cylinder engines. 85 horsepower for maximum performance. 60 horsepower for maximum economy.

The 60-horsepower V-8 engine was originally developed for use in England and France, where fuel costs are high. It has been proven there for two years with brilliant success. Now, brought to America, it creates an entirely new standard of modern motoring economy!

The "60" engine, available in five body types, is built in exactly the same body size and wheelbase — to the same advanced design — with the same comfort and convenience as the "85." And it delivers V-8 smoothness at speeds up to 70 miles an hour.

Two engine sizes—but only one car and one purpose—to give you more miles and more satisfaction for your money in 1937.

PROGRESS IN YOAKUM COUNTY H. D. WORK

The home demonstration program continued to emphasize food in its relation to health and income through this entire year. Planning yearly in advance through a budget based upon nutritional needs for each individual family was an outstanding trend in Yoakum county club women in 1936.

Although many phases of home demonstration work has contributed to both the social and economic satisfaction or rural-living, foods and nutrition, home gardening, home health, clothing, home poultry production, and improvement of the interior of the home were of major importance in contributing to the economic security of the rural families.

Eighty-nine families of home demonstration club women produced and preserved the following foods for their families in 1936:

5,260 quarts of vegetables canned (this includes the leafy, green and yellow and other vegetables.) 2000 quarts of tomatoes and tomato juice. 790 quarts of jellies and preserves. 753 quarts of pickles and relishes. 2000 pounds of cured and stored peas and beans. 1211 pounds of butter and lard consumed. 3604 No. 2 cans of meat. 335 pounds of home made cheese. 80 families of home demonstration club women have a year round supply of milk. 100 feet of storage feet was added.

Despite the drouth and lack of well water, the women of Yoakum county strived to feed their families the 4-H Pantry Way.

—Ora Anderson, County Home Demonstration Agent.

M. A. Tidwell and family have moved here from Quanah, Texas, and he has accepted a position with the Terry County Grocery as market man. He has had a number of years experience in Meat Markets, and guarantees to give each customer good service. Mr. W. W. Terry, proprietor of that store states that they now have everything in stock for your Christmas cooking.

CLOTHING IN YOAKUM CO.

Thirty-four home demonstration club women kept individual clothing accounts in 1936. Their clothes cost them altogether $488.83, that was about $14.37 per woman. The women found that they could have better looking clothes, and buy more wisely by keeping individual clothing accounts.

Because of a great desire to have well fitted dressed and undergarments, foundation patterns was the key note of the clothing project carried on in Yoakum county. There were 104 foundation patterns made by club members, value $104.00, and 15 foundation patterns made for non-club members. Particular stress was placed on storage for clothes and other household necessities. Fifteen women remodeled their clothes closets adding shelves, papering and repainting, while 18 women built new clothes closets in their homes. This makes a total of 33 clothes closets built and remodeled.

—Ora Anderson, County Home Demonstration Agent.
