LABOR TROUBLES

Labor strikes continue to grow. The public has been informed for some time that strikes have been confined to the large factories and labor troubles have not extended to the smaller employers of labor.

A friend of mine who has made a trip through the North and East says that the strike situation is far more extensive than people are informed about. This friend tells me that many small factories have been closed down from two to three months, and in some towns bakeries have been closed for weeks and no mention has been made of the fact in the daily papers. He that as it may, the papers each day carry the statement of new strikes, and it was reported last week that 70,000 men in the steel industry walked out.

Even here at home garment workers are on strike in Dallas and San Antonio, and several hundred garage mechanics in Houston are on strike. In almost every place the strikers are demanding higher wages and fewer working days and shorter hours.

Henry Ford, who has paid higher wages under comfortable conditions than anybody of his day and generation is now confronted with union labor's demand for recognition of the union and higher pay. Mexico reports 18,000 on strike in the oil fields. In almost every part of the country there is some form of labor agitation and dispute.

It is not my purpose in this article to attempt to say who is right or wrong in the different strike situations. Labor employees may be right or wrong. Employers in refusing labor's demands may be right or wrong. Time will tell. But what I want to call attention to is the wide extent of the strike and the probability of wider extension of strikes and the result that may develop.

If the laboring ranks now on strike should be able to force employers to grant their demand for higher pay and shorter hours, then it may be expected that thousands upon thousands of other laborers not now on strike will join the strikers and riots which have taken place will be very small in comparison as to what may be expected when a majority of labor joins the contest.

Notwithstanding the already wide extent of strikes, the people as yet do not appear to be concerned about the situation, and though the condition grows worse every day the people generally are paying no attention to the seriousness of what may happen.

If anybody will just stop and think for a minute as to what this strike issue may result in, they will see that there is grave danger to the public as well as the employers and employees who are now engaged in the strike controversy. All the strikers and their employers are engaged in business that directly involves the people and the issue is how much the public must put up to satisfy labor's demand for wages and hours. While the people appear to be sleeping, it is quite evident that this is the people's business that labor and employers are fighting over.

Sooner or later the people will be called on to discuss the merits of the contest, and whether they want to or not, they will have to take sides in the contest. Should such a situation arise, it is not to be expected that the people will agree. As a matter of fact we know they will be divided, and revolutionary conditions will afflict the people now at peace with each other and taking no active part in the dispute between employers and employees.

It is now high time for the people to begin to give some cool and mature thought to conditions which threaten them. It appears that the situation might become so serious as to get beyond control. I urge the people to think up on these things. A stitch in time saves nine. An ounce of preventative is worth a pound of cure.

"Safety Lane" Friday Proved Great Success

The Safety Lane put on here last Friday by the State Highway Patrol, under the direction of Captain W. W. Legge, of Lubbock, was pronounced a success by the patrolmen who later visited the office of the Herald to turn in a report. They were more than pleased with the results here, and especially the fine cooperation they had in county and city officials, as well as the public in general.

As was stated to us, only two men got the least frustrated over the matter, or thought the patrolmen were doing anything except try to help those with defective cars, that later might get them in real trouble. One of these was a local man, the other from another state. Both were persuaded that the patrolmen were merely trying to aid them.

There were 729 cars that ran the Lane, of these 270 were found to be defective one way or another, and 142 of these returned for another try after visiting a mechanic to have the defect remedied. Of the defects, there were 173 with bad brakes, 23 mufflers, 160 lights, 78 horn, 2 bad steering mechanisms, and 94 faulty windshield wipers.

Official and private patrolmen in attendance were, Capt. W. W. Legge, Sgt. Ross Dickey, Hammett Vance, Tom Tidmore, Jack Reeves, W. E. Renfro, J. C. Ferguson, Weldon Lawson, Bill Alder, and L. P. McClasland.

They were assisted by E. Brown, city marshal; Sheriff Ches Gore and deputies Joe Price, Sam White, of this city and Houston Hamilton of Meadow.

It All Happened to Us One Day in June

Monday morning when we reached the office, we found a man awaiting us, who started immediately to tell us how much money he could make with a plan he had in mind. As he had a decided Yankee accent, and carried a heavy pipe drooped in one corner of his mouth, we never did catch just how he aimed to make us rich. Anyway, after he found us not overly interested, he inquired how far it was to Lubbock, and hit us up for his breakfast, stating that he had fasted since the day before. He got two-bits off us.

In mid-afternoon a young man approached us for an ad solicitor's job and was told by the junior member of the firm that we already had one employed and did not need another. He came back later in the afternoon to "rub it in on us," by telling us that he was going to start a daily paper here.

Truly, the world does move fast and a heap of it.

Several Subscribers Getting In Arrears

We wish to call some of our readers attention to the fact that they are getting in arrears on our subscription book, and unless we have a response in the near future, we will be compelled to cut them off, as we are not financially able to carry them at present.

LAMESA MAKES APPLICATION FOR STATE HOSPITAL

LAMESA, June 5.—The city of Lamesa is making application for the West Texas state hospital for the insane which will be located at some place west of the one hundredth meridian. A committee has been authorized to obtain an option on the site of the institution, and a brief of the advantages offered by Lamesa is being prepared to submit with official application. It was pointed out by the leaders here in the fight for the hospital that Lamesa is centrally located for the territory to be served, and that the requirements for the location of the institution can be met and many additional advantages can be offered.

Mrs. Oscar Jones, this year, as well as last, presented the Herald family with a nice bucket of blackberries from their patch, fresh off the vines. And were they fine?

The Panhandle-Plains Singing Convention

A crowd of from 6000 to 10,000 people are expected here Saturday and Sunday, June 19-20, when the Panhandle-Plains Singing Convention stages their fifth annual convention. This is said to be the largest regional singing convention in Texas, and probably anywhere else. It embraces the area of the entire Texas Panhandle and south Plains to the T. & P. Railroad, and includes 18 Texas counties.

Preparations are now under way to care for this huge multitude, especially those from a distance. The business and professional men, as well as the public in general are responding liberally in cash donations as well as in other ways, to provide for the thousands of visitors. Around 8000 attended the convention at Lamesa two years ago.

Committees of every description, under the direction of Clyde Lewis, who is the Vice-President of the convention, is working with clock like precision, that there may be nothing lacking toward entertaining our visitors.

Individual singers of wide reputation, as well as trios quartets, etc., are expected from far and near, among which will be the Stamps aggregation from Dallas, as well as many others almost equally as reputable. Brownfield must and will be dressed for the occasion; it must have on its best Sunday clothes, and on its best behavior. And above all, let's have the old town clean and shining.

A Larger Crowd Than Expected Tradesday

On account of the fact that many farmers remained home both Saturday and Monday to keep the planters running, there was a good crowd here both Saturday and Monday, but not as large as the previous Tradesday, or the Saturday before. On some farms, planters have been running both night and day the last few days, even including Sunday, as the time is limited to get seed, especially cotton, in the ground. Plenty time for feed and corn.

But some member of the family ran the planter or planters—many farm with two-row planters here—and the other members came to town anyway. Merchants without exception reported a fine business, especially those who had specials in the paper.

Chisholm Install New "See-all" Display Case

The Chisholm Grocery has installed a new 15 foot Frederick Floating Air "See-All" display case in the meat department.

POSTMASTER'S NEPHEW GRADUATES FROM NMMI

Postmaster and Mrs. J. M. Noble, Jr., have received an invitation to be present at the annual commencement of the New Mexico Military Institute on Tuesday of this week, at which time Mr. Noble's nephew, Morgan Alexander Noble, will graduate from the institute.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Noble of Tahoka, and is a graduate of the Brownfield high school. He has been enrolled in the Junior college of NMMI for the past two years, and has made a splendid record. He is a sergeant and is completing the Basic Course in the Senior Cavalry Unit of the ROTC. He has been a star athlete in both football and polo.—O'Donnell Index.

DRUNKS PICK RAILROAD FOR JOY RIDE

The crew on eastbound T. and P. local received an unusual order at Stanton last Friday afternoon. The order in substance: "Proceed slowly and look out for automobile with two drunks proceeding westward on track. You may encounter them between Morita and Stanton." The crew found the party in charge of officers about six miles west of Big Spring with the automobile down on one side of the dump.—Big Spring News.

Too many people, these days, are dolling up on a dollar down.

5 Injured in Highway Crash Last Saturday

Five persons were injured, one perhaps seriously, when two light automobiles collided at the "loop" intersection of highway 51 a mile south of here about 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Injured were: J. D. Cottrell of four miles south of Brownfield, head injuries and injuries to both hands; a nine-year-old son of Cottrell's, severely bruised knees; I. B. Welch, Cottrell's son-in-law fractured ribs; Tom Hammett, 35, of Oklahoma City, Okla., fractured ribs and possibly internal injuries; and Mrs. Mabel Duckett, about 35, also of Oklahoma City, fractured hand, severely lacerated forehead, and body bruises.

Most seriously injured was Hammett. It was said his condition was considered "serious but not critical" at Treadaway-Daniell hospital where he was taken after the accident. Mrs. Duckett was released after receiving emergency treatment.

Welch, Cottrell and Cottrell's son were given emergency treatment, but were not admitted to a hospital. Hammett and Mrs. Duckett were en route to New Mexico.

Chris Quante Has a Plan to Drain Lake

In conversation with Street Commissioner Chris Quante one day recently, he informed us that he had a plan to drain the lake on east Main that he believes feasible, and economical. He stated that a well was at one time put down in the lake to the sheet water strata to drain the lake, but it was condemned by the health authorities, as it was feared it might contaminate the city water supply.

His plan is to dig a sand trap, some 10 feet by 20 feet and 10 or 12 feet deep, fixed on the order of sanitary sewerage disposal plants, the water to be turned into one, and let all the sand and dirt settle, possible, then overflow into the second to settle more, and finally turned into a nearby sewerage line.

His plan will be watched with interest if adopted by the city council.

Anson Editor Visiting Wife's Kinfolks Here

L. P. Henslee, editor and publisher of the Western Enterprise, Anson, Texas, and wife, are visiting Mrs. Henslee's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Carter, and also her brother, Ralph and family. Editor Henslee in company with Ralph, and father, called a few minutes Tuesday afternoon, but caught the editor out, but we talked "shop" a little in a drug store.

Mr. Henslee has been owner of the Enterprise since 1922, going to Anson from Sherwood in southwest Texas, and is known practically over the entire state as having one of the best country weeklies. There was a Carter-Henslee reunion at the home of Tom Carter at Lubbock, Sunday, all being present that live in west Texas.

Attention, Band Parents

All parents who will have children in any of the Brownfield School Bands next year are urged to attend a meeting in the High School Auditorium, Sunday, June 13, at five P. M., to discuss possibilities for a summer—six-weeks—band school. This proposed program will provide for both beginning and advanced players.

Especially is it an ideal opportunity for beginners to get acquainted with their instruments and to avoid the inevitable delay in securing equipment during the fall rush.

BILL JAGGERS IS DISCHARGED FROM SANITARIUM

Bill Jagers, farmer of Morton, who was shot and seriously wounded on Morton town square last May 25, has been discharged from Lubbock sanitarium and returned to his home, according to information given at the hospital this morning.

W. S. Walt Jones, also a resident of Morton, is at liberty under $2,500 bond to answer a charge of assault with intent to murder in connection with the case. One of three bullets which hit Jagers penetrated his left lung.—Lubbock Avalanche.

Stormy Week For Panhandle-Plains Area

More hail and windstorms have ripped across the Panhandle sections of Texas and Oklahoma, as well as the south Plains and west Texas in general the last week than we have ever heard of in the same length of time. Also there has been more floods of destructive nature than common.

Nearst us, were the two floods within four days of each other at Roswell, and in the Canadian river section. Two bad hails have hit the Meadow-Ropes sections in the past three weeks, the latest on Monday afternoon, which seemed to be centered at Ropes. Rather slugs of ice, and not balls, were in evidence, ruining fruit trees, house tops, and automobile tops, windows, etc. No rain or hail in Brownfield vicinity Monday afternoon.

In the western part of Terry county, Lester McPherson, State Highway maintenance man, says that water has been several feet over the highways, and half way up telephone poles, and that there has been much water in lakes he never saw it in before in 30 odd years he has been a resident of this county.

Anyway, we have a fine bottom season, the best in years. Since Saturday there has been sunshine most of the time, and people are replanting to beat the band.

THIRD PERIOD CAMP FOR SCOUTS AT POST, TEXAS

The third Camp Period for the Scouts in the South Plains Council will open Sunday evening, June 13th at Camp Post, Post, Texas. Approximately 100 Scouts and leaders from the following towns are expected to have troops represented: Plainview, Hale Center, Olton, Littlefield, Sudan, Muleshoe, Levelland, Brownfield, Ropesville, Tahoka, Post, O'Donnell, and Matador. Possibly other troops that have not attended one of the other camp sessions will also attend, according to Marshall Mason, Camp Chairman.

Parents need not hesitate about sending their boys to camp because of the heavy rains and inclement weather as the new Camp Mess Hall and ranch house afford adequate facilities to protect the Scouts from any kind of weather.

The men in charge of this camp serving on the Camp Staff are: Camp Director, Lyndon T. Grant, Asst. Scout Executive; Swimming Instructor, Lyndon T. Grant; Camping and Pioneering, B. G. Wadzeck of Spur; First Aid, L. M. Magness; Handicraft, Joe C. Hutchinson of Sudan; Nature Study and Astronomy, Dr. E. L. Reed of Lubbock; Camp Cook, Jimmy Berry, Lubbock; Assistant Cook, Clyde Revens, Lubbock.

This will conclude the regular Scout Camp periods at Camp Post. All Scouts and leaders who have not already made their reservations to attend this period should do so by sending $1.00 preliminary registration fee which will be applied on the camp fee to the Boy Scout Office, 413 Myrick Building, Lubbock, Texas.

Marlin Hayhurst, former football coach in Brownfield schools, but now of McCamey, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Jim Graves.

The real problem of your leisure is to keep other people from using it.

A Hot temper has often landed its owner in the cooler!

Mahon Asks For a ROTC Unit For Tech

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Congressman George Mahon appeared last week before the Senate Appropriations Committee urging that funds and officers for an additional ROTC unit at Texas Technological College be provided. The item would be included in the War Department appropriation bill which is under consideration by the Senate Committee at this time. He had previously presented the matter to Major General E. T. Conley, Adjutant General of the Army.

Texas Tech was given a Senior Engineering unit last year, and the work which has already been accomplished has received high recognition by War Department officials. The report of the ROTC Inspector from Fort Sam Houston, headquarters for the Eighth Corps Area, made March 1 this year, recommended that an additional unit be established at the college, preferably a Field Artillery unit. This type of unit would make the training available to about 1200 students at the College who are ineligible for training in the existing Engineering unit which is open only to engineering students.

The outcome of the matter will depend upon the disposition by the House and Senate of the proposed appropriation item for funds and personnel. The War Department advised Mr. Mahon that the Texas Tech application for such a unit was in excellent standing.

Arnett & Son Lease Gulf Service Station

G. R. Arnett, who has been connected with Craig & McClish for the past few years, has together with his son, Willie, leased the Gulf Service Station on west Main, and began the operation of same on June 1st. This station was formerly operated by Ches Gore.

Mr. Arnett as well as his son, have had real experience in the servicing of cars, which includes cleaning, washing and greasing, and any business entrusted to them will be entirely satisfactory, as Mr. Arnett assures us that no time or pains will be spared in giving each and every customer, large or small, service they don't mind paying for, and that will get repeat orders.

LYNN COUNTY MAY GET CYANIDE PLANT

The American Cyanide Company of New York is contemplating the establishment of a plant for the mining of cyanide on the line of Lynn and Dawson counties eight miles west of O'Donnell, according to County Judge P. W. Goad, who has been corresponding with the Company with respect to the matter.

This is a project that Charley Doak of O'Donnell has been working on for years, and he has spent much time and money in impressing the possibilities of the enterprise upon financial leaders in the North and East.

After much correspondence with Mr. Doak and with Judge Goad, an engineer of the American Cyanide Company visited Tahoka last week and had a conference with Judge Goad. The occasion for their correspondence and consultation with Judge Goad is the imperative necessity of a hard-surfaced road connecting the proposed plant with a highway and a railway line.—Tahoka News.

TOWNSEND PLAN EXECUTIVES QUIT

CHICAGO, June 5.—Dr. Francis E. Townsend conferred with associates and refused any comment today after 12 major executives of his old age pension movement submitted their resignations.

The mass resignation of national officers was announced by J. W. Brinton, vice president and general manager of the Townsend National Recovery Plan Inc., and of the Townsend Weekly, after he and 11 other key executives had signed a formal statement criticizing the elderly California physician for carrying on "a fight against legislation proposed by the president which has no bearing on the Townsend Plan."

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Corkran of Artesia, N. M., and Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Stevens of Prescott, Arizona, returned to their homes Wednesday after visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Shelton.

Resettlement Families Keep Farm Records

Even a peanut stand keeps a record of its property, its debits, its receipts, and its expenditures. If even a small business keeps books on its activities, it is much more important to have accurate accounts for a farming enterprise in which a family has hundreds of dollars invested; this is the line of reasoning followed by the borrowers from the Resettlement Administration in Terry and Yoakum Counties. The RA is furnishing books for the keeping of such records; these books were placed in the homes by the Home Management Supervisor Miss Dorothy V. Gore.

Resettlement families find the keeping of these books not only helpful from the business standpoint but interesting as well. They are sometimes kept by the husband, but often by the wife or an older son or daughter. The accounts furnished a common interest for the household and tend toward group unity because of the increased mutual understanding fostered by the project.

NEW GRAPEFRUIT WINE TO BE SOLD

McALLEN, Texas, May 21.—Delicious wines and champagne made from Rio Grande grapefruit will be sold next week for the first time by the new Garner Winery here, established last year by Hiram Garner, St. Louis, who saw possibilities of using this product as a beverage.

The plant includes two main buildings, one an office and preparation department and the other a warehouse, where 15,000 gallons of sour and sweet grapefruit wines are stored. Charles Sahley, famous Assyrian chemist, fifth in a long line of wine makers dating back for scores of years, is at the plant testing the products.

When the plant hits its full capacity this year fifty tons of fruit a day will be used, turning out 300,000 gallons of wine requiring forty days to age.

SOCIAL SECURITY ACT IS UPHELD

WASHINGTON, May 24.—The supreme court held constitutional today the unemployment insurance provisions of the social security act.

Justice Cardozo delivered the momentous opinion which affirmed a ruling in favor of the legislation by the fifth circuit court of appeals and gave the administration another major victory.

Justice Butler, McReynolds, Sutherland and Van Devanter—four of the nine justices—objected to at least part of the majority opinion.

The final rulings on validity of supplementary state legislation and on provisions of the social security act.

WEST TEXAN LANDS IN TOP MAGAZINE

FORT WORTH, June 1.—Boyc House, one of the best known newspapermen in West Texas, has "made" the Saturday Evening Post, the goal of every man who writes. His articles deal with the romance of the great Mexia oil boom and is entitled "The Colonel Left Tracks," an allusion to the late Col. A. E. Humphreys. The article appears in the issue out next Saturday. House, formerly editor at Ranger, Eastland, Cisco and Olney, was staff writer for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram for five years and is now director of publicity for the Fort Worth Frontier Fiesta.

SMITH FAMILY TO HOLD REUNION AT EXHIBITION

DALLAS, Texas, June 1.—Fifteen branches of the family of the Rev. John A. Smith, a founder of Dallas, will meet for the first time in twenty years at the Pan American Exposition, which opens June 12.

News of the reunion is being circulated to the family by chain letter. Mrs. Elsie Parker of Dallas started it. Each relative receiving a letter sends a summary of its contents plus a letter on his activities to the next relative in line.

HAS NEW SIDELINE

TAHOKA, June 5.—Alton Cain, a hardware store clerk, has a new sideline, raising pheasants.

Recently he received four hens and two roosters of the Japanese pheasant breed from his father at Canyon. He made a deal with W. A. Hardt of New Lynn to breed them and raise the young on shares. The birds are being kept in pens, a cock and two hens to a pen.

Down with the boss racing, down with the dawg racing, down with the slot machines, and now down with the bank nights, says the solons down at Austin. In fact, down with all kinds of gambling, and we look for a law now that will put us to bed at nine o'clock sharp. Boy! that is a moral bunch down there, and they especially believe in delivering it in big doses to the folks back home, and of course now all kinds of gambling will cease forever in Texas. Yep!

It seems that when a newspaper and job office get to pulling boners, they are always confined to one firm for a time. This has happened in this office several times. Some three weeks ago, we pulled a bad one in a certain firm's ad. To that, one had to appear in the telephone directory of all things, with the same firm. But by doing a bit of tedious "reprinting in," if you are not a printer, you probably have not caught it—and we'll not tell where it is. But it looks O. K. to us now.

Some of the local enthusiasts were badly torn up last week when it was reported that a neighboring town had already located TWENTY-ONE oil supply houses, more than there probably is in Midland, Hobbs, Wink, and Odessa combined. We believe the local committee here is doing everything they can to interest these houses in Brownfield, and that at least some of them will come here when they are ready to locate in this section. However, if they do not want to come here, we don't know of any legal means of forcing them to do so. So-o-o!

Our good neighbor to the east, Hon. E. I. Hill of the Lynn County News, has got to be awfully hifalootin' of late. Last week, he was not satisfied with the English or American language, and gave us a bit of Danish on his first page. It seems that the Danes have heard of Tahoa at last, and were making some kind of a crack about it, unreadable to us. These good people, who still believe in paying their debts, even national debts, heard of Brownfield and Terry county several years ago, and if any of the Hansons or Swensons drop in, we want them to help us read that paragraph in the News, if they have not been away from Denmark so long that they have forgotten the language.

The Republican party shows more sense than the Democrats are willing to accord them. If you have noted the criticism of the President's court bill, you find that most of the blasts directed at the bill come from the Democrats. The Republicans are sitting quietly on the sideline allowing the Democratic leaders to smash at the President with all their might and main. Chairman John Hamilton has taken to the air together with congressional leaders to keep before the people the fact that the Republican party is very much alive and on the job. Just enough is said to let the people know that GOP is very much against "packing" the court, but the verbal blasts against the bill are left to the former staunch supporters of the President. 1940 will soon be here. The Republicans hope for a united party by that time, while the Democratic party will be split in two if the present procedure continues.—Canyon News.

It is said, and rightly, that the Democratic party can always be depended upon to act the damphool just at the right time. However, some of the biggest howlers are not and never have been Democrats at heart. Here in Texas and the south, they use the name for "convenience."

M. V. Walker, local barber, told us something of the real "dust bowl" last week. He spent several weeks at Sunset, north of Amarillo, where he says the dust is like flour, and the least little breeze will fill the air with it.

Jean Harlow, 26, one of the screen favorites, died rather suddenly in a Hollywood hospital, Monday. She was said to have been engaged to Wm. Powell.

Dr. M. E. Jacobson, little son, and his parents, left Tuesday for California, to visit relatives.

J. R. Patton from Meadow section, was down Tuesday.

Yoakum Girl Tells How She Improved Bedroom

Wyneth McDaniel, a poultry demonstrator for 1937 in the West Ward 4-H club in Yoakum county was one of the Gold Star girls in Texas for the year 1936. There are 100 outstanding 4-H girls selected in Texas each year for this honor. The following is part of the work she did as a 4-H club girl in 1936:

Before I was elected bedroom demonstrator, I had no bedroom all my own. I roomed with other members of the family. Our bedroom was very shabby looking, with its faded old building paper, and some worn shades. We had no clothes closet, and no curtains. The screens were badly worn. After I was elected bedroom demonstrator, mother gave me a room. Then I began to think over all I had learned since being a club member, about arranging bedrooms properly. First I made my plan of work. I decided to paper the room and stain the floor. I arranged five special centers for usefulness, comfort and pleasure in my room. These centers were to be for rest, for clothes storage, for bathing and dressing, and for study. The room which had been selected for me was on the north, hence I chose gold and walnut brown for my color scheme. I selected floral designed wallpaper in these colors and put walnut brown stain on the floor and wood work. Mother gave me an old white iron bed which had the enamel worn off and rusted. I took a strong lye solution, that our county Home Demonstration agent had taught us to make and removed the remaining enamel. Then I enamelled this bed with walnut brown. I made five slats from scrap lumber in order to have a slat for each coil of springs. Daddy gave me some worn cotton sacks. I took the best parts of them and laundered them nicely to make my bed spring cover to fit the springs correctly. Mother helped me to make this cover. We made it fifty-four by seventy-two inches. My mattress cover is made of unbleached muslin, size fifty-four by seventy-two inches to fit my new mattress, which mother gave me last fall. I pulled bolls to get the cotton that was made into this mattress. The mattress pad, which I bought was fifty-four by seventy-two inches. Also I bought two new standard size pillow protectors for them. I put ten button holes and buttons on the end of the mattress cover, and five on each of the pillow protectors to make them more dust proof. I bought bleached sheets one-hundred and eighty by eighty-one inches. Also, I made four pillow cases of bleached muslin. I made them twenty-two by thirty-six inches with two inch hem. One of my quilts is the piece of light weight cover which I had pieced myself and made for one of my club bedroom goals. The other one was pieced by our club girls, and mother helped me to quilt it. This one was worn so I rebound it. I used an old sheet to put a facing on the ends of the quilts to keep them clean. For making my bed spread I used unbleached sheeting one-hundred and eighty by eighty-one in size. I tufted this in gold thread, using an original design of diamonds.

There was no clothes closet in our old bedroom and I had always wished for a convenient place to put my clothes, so daddy made me a closet to fit my needs to put my clothes, two and one-half feet wide by four feet long. It has a long shelf extending across the top giving ample space for my covers above. Then just below this there is a rod on which to place the clothes hangers. Nothing will touch the floor. On the south end there are four shelves which are made to slide out, so they can be cleaned easily. On the top shelf I have my hat racks. Our Girl's Club president made these for me. They are made of a broomhandle and two little blocks with number two can tops nailed on top of the sticks. These are padded with cotton and covered with cloth and white tissue paper. The next shelf is for my bed linen. On the one below I put my towels and wash cloths. I have face towels and bath towels. On the lowest shelf I have my bathing center an enamelled bowl and pitcher. I also have a soap dish. On the floor below I have a closed box for my shoes and a partition for my polish. My laundry bag is made of unbleached muslin shaped at the top to fit a clothes hanger. I have my monogram design made of candlewick dots on the front of the bag below the opening. The entire closet is painted white.

I had no dresser suitable for my bedroom, so I made one from two orange crates. I put partitions in it to make compartments for my cosmetics, gloves, hose, and underwear. I made the curtains to put around this out of the unbleached muslin and hemmed it with a row of candlewicking to match my bed spread. Above hangs a neat mirror to complete my dresser. The stool is made of a nail keg, which I picked up in the back yard. It has a curtain cushion cover edged with gold tufted dots to match the dresser curtain.

My scarf is made of the same material and design. It is one inch smaller than the dresser top. I have an antique ivory vase, which has a floral design of blue an gold, setting on my dresser for cut flower bouquets. They welcome me to my handly dresser. Mother gave me her walnut table for my study center. I have made a muslin runner to put on my table. I keep my books and magazines in the handy shelves on each side of this table. My chair at this table is finished in walnut. In this chair, I have a cushion cover made of muslin and candlewick dots on the ruffle around it. My stool is made of a fruit box, covered with pleated tow sacks like my rug. It is the correct size for my height. Beside my chair I have a home made waste paper basket. I made it from cardboard boxes, after sewing it together, I stained it walnut brown, and then put a pretty flower picture on it from a magazine. Then I varnished it very lightly. It is very useful by my table.

To complete my room I added Marquette window curtains of Pricilla design. They have the gold tufted dots, also that harmonize nicely with the other needlework in the room. On my stained floor I have a rug, size, nine by six feet made of tow sacks, which I collected. I ripped these sacks up and washed them. Then dyed them brown and gold and left some natural color. I cut these into three inch strips and pleated them in three strands. These I whipped together until I made a nine by six foot rug.

In place of the old calendars and other dust catchers that I did have on the walls of our former bedroom, I have two suitable pictures for a girls bedroom. I have been very interested in the growth of my room. I am sure I will enjoy keeping it nice and clean and cozy always. I have learned so much in our 4-H club that I want to keep on being a club girl. We have remodeled the entire home and we are trying to improve each room like I have improved my room.

The cooperators in our club have been very kind to me in helping in my demonstrations. They have accomplished many worth while things for themselves. They have added two bedrooms, four windows, four screens, refinished three floors, made four rugs, papered six rooms, made or bought window curtains for eight rooms, made six mattresses, bought one mattress, made four mattress covers and pads, made four spring covers, added forty-four pieces of bed linen, added six spreads, one wool blanket, sixteen quilts, one wool comfort, one cotton comfort, three dressers and one dressing table, three scarfs, built six clothes closets, arranged two bathing centers, added two reading tables, six lamps, two chairs, seven book shelves, and refinished sixteen pieces of furniture.

The total cost of all this improvement has been about fifty-six dollars and eighty-five cents. We really try to do things in our club.

The improvement in my own bedroom that I won second place on in Yoakum county, cost me $20.80.

WATER SURVEY BEING MADE ON SOUTH PLAINS

LITTLEFIELD, May 22.—Steps to determine the volume of supply source and quality of underground water in this region are being taken under direction of W. L. Broadhurst, representative of the state board of water engineers and stationed at Plainview.

Long a controversial subject, the underground water supply in the shallow water belt has attracted keen interest and concern with the boom in irrigation activities in the last two years. One opinion is the water comes underground from the mountains of New Mexico. Another often accepted is that it comes from rainfall strictly.

The state board and the United States Geological survey are directing the program to obtain definite data on all phases of the issue. Funds sufficient to carry on the project until Sept. 1 have been provided by legislative appropriation, matched by federal funds.

The survey extends over approximately 45 counties, from Big Spring to the state lines. Work now consists in checking of water levels and soil formations of wells in operation here several years. A partial survey of water levels was made in 1936 and a few wells were checked in 1934. These will be rechecked.

Several years may be required to determine whether the supply of water is diminishing through increased irrigation. Unfortunately logs were not kept on wells drilled before 1934, except in a few instances.

Checking may eventually cause engineers to make tests in New Mexico.

Another important phase of the work is analysis of the water itself. Samples will be analyzed for mineral content and their effect on the soil.

It may even be advisable to alternate irrigation and dry farming, said Broadhurst.

The mother of Vivian Daly of Chicago lost a diamond from her engagement ring 11 years ago. Recently Vivian complained of a severe earache and a doctor found the $335 stone in her right ear.

TEN FARMER PLANKS

In a published booklet the American Farm Bureau Federation gives, among other valuable information, its platform for American agriculture. The ten planks of this platform, in condensed form, are as follows:

1. The support of sound and economical production practices.
2. Placing in the hands of producers the control of the sale of farm products.
3. Equality for farmers in the standard of living enjoyed.
4. Adjustment to give the farmer parity with others in purchasing power.
5. Development of schools, roads, rural electrification, churches, health agencies and all other factors contributing to an ideal community environment.
6. Farmer representation on all important public boards and commissions.
7. A national agricultural policy based on a free and independent farm people, as contrasted with foreign peasant systems.
8. The creation of new and enlarged markets for American farm products.
9. Maintenance of that economic system which protects private ownership of property and provides a just reward for individual effort; public protection through regulation; it opposes communism.
10. Providing an organization to supply facilities for group action in building a permanent, prosperous, free, independent American agriculture.

Returning home last week from Abilene Christian college, were, Misses Alma Fern Green, Evelyn White, Mattie Jo Gracy, Howard Davis and James Burnett, all freshmen.

Misses Wynona Burnett and Annie Letha Hamilton, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Burnett, and Mr. and Mrs. Chock Hamilton, are home from Tech college.

Tom Moorhead, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Moorhead, returned last week from Tech college. He is working at the Corner Drug.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Sunday School 10 o'clock A. M. Morning Worship 11 A. M. Subject, "Our Children's Heritage." Vesper Service 8:15 P. M. Subject, "Our Duty of Testimony."

We are observing Sunday as children's Day, so let us put forward a special effort to be in our places Sunday morning.

Robert W. Rayburn, Student Supply.

The Hindenburg was destroyed last week because of the hard headedness of Hitler. Americans have wondered for some time why Dr. Eckner was being punished by the Hitler government, and it now leaks out that it was because he insisted the Hindenburg use helium gas instead of using flammable gas. Hitler won his argument. Eckner was deposed as commander of the big zep; the machine exploded, killing 35, injuring 50 more, and causing a loss of $2,500,000. No one man can know everything; in this case Hitler proved to be the jackass, since this government offered him helium for the zep. —Canyon News.

The German people who have come to our shores to make their homes are considered among the most intelligent of all races that migrate to our country. Therefore, it is very strange indeed, almost mystifying to the average American citizen why a race of smart people will submit like a bunch of gally slaves to a second rate paperhanger with a shoe dober mustache.

Mrs. Lindsey Bruce left this week for Rusk, Texas, where she will spend the entire month visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Porterfield of that city.

MY OWN SUCCESS STORY

Giving people more mileage

I like people to know that I'm not just hired at my station. I'm the proprietor, making my living, all on my own. Naturally I'm choosy about anything I recommend, so no matter how close you might check whatever I say about mileage and performance, I can always look you square in the eye. And that goes double for my Conoco Germ Processed oil. It is the only kind that can Oil-Plate your engine. The patent Germ Process, you might say, gives this oil a real strong "yen" for metal. The oil actually joins up with every working part, always leaving a durable, slippery Oil-Plating that cannot run down, whether your car is stopped or hitting it up. Then you can start up a thousand times a day, or streak along from morning till night. But Oil-Plating will still be there, heading off wear, and letting you skip a lot of stops you used to make for oil. You'll be back here saying even more than me, about all your mileage and performance from Conoco Germ Processed oil.

The use of trees to stop the growth of gullies is becoming popular over the State, according to C. W. Simmons, farm forester of the Texas A and M Extension Service. The trees not only retard erosion, but offer an additional source of farm income.

In humid sections of the State, Simmons finds that the black locust makes a quick growth, holds the soil together, and provides fairly good fence posts within a reasonable time. About 10 years is needed to produce serviceable posts from this tree on average soil.

In general, it is always best to plant trees which are known to be locally adapted. There are three species of pine and some 27 varieties of hardwood which are of commercial value in Texas, Simmons says. In sections where none of these are adapted, Simmons recommends planting such post yielding trees as cedar, mesquite, bois d'arc and black locust.

Notice to Owners Permitting Stock to Run at Large

Within the past few weeks we have had a good many inquiries about the stock law in Terry County; whether or not we have such law etc.

Some few weeks ago the qualified voters of this county voted a stock law here with the view of taking the fences from around their farms. That law is still in effect, and in substance is as follows:

Whoever shall knowingly permit any horses, mules, jacks, jennets, and cattle to run at large in any territory in this State where the provisions of the laws of this State have been adopted prohibiting any of such animals from running at large shall be fined not less than five nor more than two hundred dollars.

We realize that on some occasions stock break out of inclosures and that it is the fault of the owner, but there are people who permit their stock to run at large at the expense of their neighbors, and if this practice continues we shall be forced to take complaints for these violations.

Burton G. Hackney, County Attorney. C. D. Gore, Sheriff.

Trains Halt, Fete Farley's Birthday

THE CASINO SPECIAL TRAIN en route from New York to the Pan American Exposition at Dallas, stopped on a siding in East Texas and celebrated "happy birthday" for Postmaster General James A. Marshall's wife, the former Corinne Griffith (center) of motion picture, gave the postmaster general a sombrero, as Gauchos of the Casino, which opens June 12, serenaded.

DIARRHEA-DYSENTERY PERIOD

AUSTIN, Texas, June 8.—The season of the year when the most complaints are received on account of diarrhea and dysentery or "Summer Complaint" is here and the Texas State Department of Health has issued a warning to parents in regard to this, and offers the following suggestions to prevent its occurrence among babies. The chief causes of diarrhea include impure milk, water and contaminated foods, overheating, fever from any cause, too much sugar or cream in the diet, overfeeding and underfeeding.

Mother's milk is the safest food. However, if other milk must be used the supply should be clean and pure. The water should be clean, pure and boiled. Any other articles of food should be fresh and clean and no unsuitable articles of food such as cake and candy should be given.

If a feeding formula is used, it should be one prescribed by a physician and it must be prepared with extreme attention to cleanliness and kept cold until used. The baby should be fed at regular intervals and should not be forced to eat when he is not hungry. The baby should be kept cool and comfortable in hot weather, should not be overclothed and should be given plenty of clean water to drink. Any infections which develop in the nose, throat, ears or other organs should receive prompt attention from a physician.

If diarrhea develops, feedings should be stopped or greatly diminished and an abundance of water should be given. Catarrhs should not be given except on advice of a physician. If the diarrhea does not improve within a short time, a physician should be called and a complete examination should be made.

The three F's, flies, fingers and food are the three sources of danger to the baby.

MARTIN COUNTY IS WARRING ON CROWS

STANTON, June 1.—With half a dozen traps already built, Martin county is starting out in earnest to war against crows. Two traps have been set near Courtney, another near Ackerley, and two more northeast of Stanton about 16 miles. Another will be set near Tarzan.

Thirty-five crows were reported to have been caught in one of the traps northeast of Stanton the next day after it was set. The old fee system did not work for the best interests of the people, but it now seems that it was much cheaper than the present plan of paying a number of officers to do practically nothing. The fact is we have too many officials fattening off the taxpayers. We need fewer counties in Texas. We in McLean live much nearer Amarillo now, in point of time, than we did to Lefors, the old county seat, in horse and buggy days. Amarillo might well be the county site of a county composed of all the northern Panhandle counties. Of course there is no possibility of such a thing for many years, because it would throw too many politicians out of the public feed trough, but the time is here when we must begin casting about for ways to economize with the taxpayers' money. —McLean News.

State Benefits By Higher Oil Prices

DALLAS, Texas—Oil producers of Texas will pay this year into the State's tax coffers $7,224,000 more in gross production taxes than was collected from this source last year, according to facts just prepared by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association. This huge increase in oil tax payments is due to increased oil prices, larger crude oil production and higher tax levies imposed upon oil producers during the last special session of the Texas Legislature.

Analysis of Texas oil market values and market requirements over the State at this time, and reflecting the recent advance in the price of East Texas crude oil, presents an unusually favorable picture for our State government. The facts show that the gross production tax on Texas crude oil, alone, is now returning to the State an annual revenue of $16,800,000 compared with $9,576,000 collected in 1936.

The gross production tax levied by the State against Texas oil producers is only one of a multitude of taxes which must be paid to the State government and its local subdivisions. The State's total collections from oil producers this year will aggregate $23,429,000 against $16,143,000 collected in 1936. In addition, Texas oil producers also pay ad valorem taxes to county, school and numerous independent taxing districts throughout the State, which will boost this year's total State and county tax payments to $41,643,000, compared with $34,000,000 paid in 1936. This huge tax figure includes only taxes paid by the producing branch of the Texas oil industry. It does not include taxes paid by oil refiners, pipe line operators and marketers of petroleum products, nor does it include federal taxes.

A careful survey of Texas crude oil production requirements this year indicates a total output of at least 500,000,000 barrels, an increase over production recorded in 1936 of 86,000,000 barrels. This huge output, coupled with higher market prices and the recent increase in the gross production tax levy of two and three quarters of one per cent of the market value, constitutes a factor of far-reaching importance in providing increased tax revenue to the State this year.

DON'T TAN TOO QUICKLY

AUSTIN, Texas, May 24.—"One of the striking examples of overworking a good thing is the enthusiasm displayed by thousands of persons in trying to secure a sun tan too quickly. Under a misguided conception of the sun's health giving power, such persons either deliberately or thoughtlessly submit their unprotected faces, backs and legs to over-exposure and suffer painfully, sometimes seriously, as a consequence," comments Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"The discomfort and annoyance of even mild sunburn should deter people from repeating this folly from year to year. However, especially where younger persons are concerned, the enthusiasm for fun and the desire to become speedily tanned are likely to exact the inevitable price with painful regularity.

"It is one thing to apply the principles of sun treatment scientifically and quite another one to place the tender skin unrestrainedly under the direct rays of the sun. It should be understood that when the sun is employed as treatment patients are exposed for but a few minutes at a time, the periods being gradually extended as the tanning develops.

"The uninformed and the thoughtless, on the other hand, give the sun free rein, submit themselves frequently to hours of continuous and naturally reap misery and illness as a direct consequence.

"Before becoming too ardent over sunbathing, one would do well to ponder that many a vacation or week end excursion has been ruined solely because the blistering and illness-producing power of the sun's rays upon the tender skin was insufficiently appreciated."

SYNOPSIS

Victoria Herrendeen, a vivacious little girl, had been too young to feel the shock that came when her father, Keith Herrendeen, lost his fortune. A gentle, unobtrusive soul, he is now employed as an obscure chemist in San Francisco, at a meager salary. His wife, Magda, cannot adjust herself to the change. She is a beautiful woman, fond of pleasure and a magnet for men's attention. Magda and Victoria have been down at a summer resort and Keith joins them for the week-end. Magda leaves for a bridge party, excusing herself for being such a "runaway." Later that night Victoria is in a grief-stricken mood when her parents quarrel. The Herrendeens return to their small San Francisco apartment. Keith does not approve of Magda's mad social life and they quarrel frequently. As the years go by, Keith becomes silent and gray. One day while Victoria is asking her mother why Herrendeen is so worried, Magda receives flowers and a diamond from Ferd Manners, a wealthy man from Argentina whom she had met less than a week before. Manners arrives a few hours later. Magda shows him a valuable Chinese shawl that has been in the Herrendeen family for many years. Vic is shocked when she learns her mother had contemplated selling it. Magda tells Manners a dealer had offered her $300 for the shawl. Magda takes Victoria to Nevada to visit a woman friend and a daughter named Catherine. There she tells her she is going to get a divorce. Victoria soon is in boarding school with her friend Catherine. Magda marries Manners and they spend two years in Argentina. Victoria has studied in Europe, and at eighteen she visits her mother when Ferd remarries a beautiful woman. Magda is unhappy over Ferd's drinking and attentions to other women. Vic dislikes him, but for her mother's sake is nice to him. When her mother and stepfather return to South America, Victoria refuses to go with them because of Ferd's unwelcome attentions to her.

"No, here. When the Loughboroughs' yacht does, whenever that is," Mrs. Manners said, in the same tone of pleasant indifference. "And now, is a car here, and did you remember my rooms?" she demanded abruptly, as the customs formalities were concluded and she could pick the Pekinese from Victoria's arms again and accompany her along the pier. "Don't tell me it's going to be freezing like this."

"It's been actually hot, until today. This is just fog," Victoria explained.

Maid, dog, parrot, bags, they got into a large waiting car at the Embarcadero. Mrs. Manners talking, as is the custom of returned travelers, of the amusing steward on the boat, the races at Havana, of everything unimportant and inconsequential. They were driven rapidly up the steep hills to the big hotel; everything going with the smoothness of custom; Victoria's mother had been arriving and departing in just this manner ever since her second marriage five years earlier.

Soon Victoria and her mother settled at luncheon beside the fire.

"Well, this is fun!" said Magda then. "And now we can talk. You look so well, Vic, and you're really handsome. Really you are! What have you been doing with yourself, tell me everything, you got my wires?"

"You're the one with the news," she said smilingly. "Nothing has happened here. Miss Butler put me on night duty last night—only the second time, and I'm dead! I had breakfast at the hospital at seven, and had to clean up three bathrooms, and stopped on my way downtown to leave my bag here."

"The hospital!" Magda echoed aghast, not hearing the rest. "You've been ill!"

Victoria's smile was reassuring. Her color was beginning to come back now, as she fell with vigor upon a three-inch steak, and there was revived light in her eyes.

"I'm in with Catherine," she explained. "Student nurses."

Mrs. Manners sat back and regarded her with puzzled eyes.

"I Love This Sitting Here With You."

against a blue night sky, caught a whiff of wet spring greenness from the grass beside the London Mail. "Oh, Mummy!" she said. "Would you like it?"

"Oh, well, Mother—you and I?" Victoria's voice shook with excitement.

"We two?"

"Ferdie wouldn't mind?"

Instead of answering, Mrs. Manners looked away through the exquisite silky shadows of half-lowered lashes. Victoria's heart sank; she knew that gentle patience, she knew that long, resigned sigh. All was not going well between her mother and Ferdie.

The luncheon was cleared away; the two women resumed their chairs by the wood fire.

"There are a thousand persons to whom I ought to telephone," Magda said lazily. "I won't. I love this sitting here with you. You haven't told me anything about yourself. Vicky, have you seen or heard anything of your father?"

The question came suddenly, and with it the color rose to Magda's face.

"Yes, I saw Dad about two weeks ago," she said aloud.

Magda added no further questions, but her eyes were expectant.

"He's married again, you know, Mummy. I wrote you that. And they're going to have a baby. They were married last February, and they expect the baby at Christmas. He simply adores Olivette, and he's all excited about the baby."

"Ha!" Magda said and fell thoughtful. "Still up in Seattle?"

"He says he loves it."

Magda twisted the Herrendeen pearls in beautiful restless fingers.

But for some reason or other she felt a little chill in the air, felt that her mother wasn't wholly pleased with the news that Dad was happy and that a new baby was on the way.

"Ferdie," said Magda, out of thought—"Ferdie is a strange creature, Vicky. I may as well tell you now as at any time that everything's wrong—it's all wrong."

Victoria was silent, puzzled, and after a pause Magda went on lightly:

"And so—Mr. Fernando Ainsa y Castello Manners and I have decided to separate. No, no, no, no, a divorce," she interrupted herself to say quickly, as Vicky's stricken face was turned from the fire in involuntary protest. "He doesn't want a divorce. If he got a divorce Maud Campbell would have him married before he could turn around, so he doesn't want a divorce, and neither do I. If you get a divorce they can do all sorts of funny things about alimony, go to court and have it adjusted and lessened—I don't know what they can't do. But a separation means that you and I can live where we like, and do as we please. And so it's to be Europe—off we go! I'll get you some things—or we can get them there."

"The only thing," Victoria began somewhat hesitatingly, "ought Ferdie pay for me, too? I mean, it's all right for a visit—it's all right for a few months. But after all—after all he doesn't owe me—"

"It's my money, and you're with me," Magda explained simply, with a touch of impatience.

"I was thinking of Ferdie, Vic," Magda said, out of a silence, "and thinking—" she stopped for a long sigh—"thinking of the tremendous difference there is in men," she said.

"I mean, Vic," she began again, as Victoria could find nothing to say—"I mean that—well, I suppose I was thinking of Lucius Farmer."

"Who's he?" A familiar tightening, a familiar sinking sensation was at Victoria's heart. Oh, dear, Oh, dear. This was commencing again was it?

"You must know his name, darling. He's about the most successful painter of murals in America. He made the trip with us from Buenos Aires, but he lives down here in Carmel with a perfectly impossible wife and daughters."

"And what did the impossible wife and daughters think of you, Mummy?"

"Oh, they weren't along—perish the thought! No, he was alone." Magda's voice fell to a dreamy note. "One of the finest men—" she said, under her breath. "I mean one of the simplest and—and biggest—and gentlest—"

"This life would be heaven for women, Vic, if many men were like him!"

And again Victoria could find nothing to say.

Lucius Farmer came to see them the next morning.

Magda was restless; Victoria had gone into her own room to try on a gown her mother had brought her. It was of sheer batiste, embroidered delicately with tiny garlands of roses, all in white. It was the sort of gown that makes any girl's eyes dance, and Victoria, coming back with its frail folds blowing about her, wore the radiant expression that only a new gown gives to twenty years.

HARMONY

Well, Harmony is still on the map, and as we like very much to read items from other communities, we have arranged to give news from our section.

fine rains have come and everyone is busy planting. We rejoice over these good rains, which fell at Harmony totaling six inches, since May.

'These Texas Gals,' Sighs Andy-'Oh, Me'

When oil business brought Charles Correll flying to Texas, a welcoming Texan of the Pan American Exposition prompted him to repeat the sigh that, as Andy, of Amos and Andy, he has given on the radio networks many nights lately—"These Texas gals, 'Oh, me!' Victim of a 'Texas gal' and her father in an oil promotion in the radio skit continuity, "Andy" gave out no details of reason for his hasty trip. He was greeted at Dallas Airport by Eleanor Akers, hostess of the international singing June 12, in Dallas.

Dorothy Davenport Reid, a member of the noted Drew-Davenport-Barrimore stage family, and widow of the late Wally Ried, has just returned from Samoa where she filmed scenes for "Paradise Isle." As the first woman producer ever in the South Seas she won the title "Sina Lauli."

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lewis spent Sunday in Plains.

Although John Boles started his public career as a singer, he has not won his screen fame for his baritone ability. Rather it has been the charm of his speaking voice and personality. For the first time since a little over two years ago, Boles will be heard singing in "Stella Dallas". The selection rendered at the piano while his leading lady Barbara Stanwyck plays, is a new song written for the picture.

Previewers of "Stella Dallas", which was written as a silent ten years ago, acclaimed it as a powerful dramatic picture and the finest role for Boles in some time.

Endless are the ways in which fans pay their tributes—and seek autographs. Dainty Wendy Barrie received a small package last week all the way from South Africa. It contained a hunk of gold quartz, with a miner's tribute to her beauty scratched into the hard stone.

At the same studio lanky John Hall, a screen newcomer, was reported to have received thirty coconuts from Tahiti. Native chiefs wanted him to autograph and re-mail them, according to his press agents.

Patricia Royale, former beauty contest winner, who is often seen on the screen as a featured player in roles that demand good looks and clothes-wearing ability, seems to be the universal sailor's sweetheart. I first interviewed her three years ago when she was out in Catalina Channel on a passenger liner which was used as the locale for "The Captain Hates the Sea." This week I saw her playing in "Sweetheart of the Navy", the eleventh sea-going picture she's appeared in since her career started.

"Many competent screen actors will never reach the hit class. And it's largely their own fault. They are so sincere in their acting that they fail to project their own personalities into their work. They so live their roles that the audience—and the producers—think only of their roles, forgetting their strong personalities. And personality is one of the most important assets in reaching screen stardom. Many of our top stars have arrived there with far less acting ability than numberless merely featured players."

That exhaustive and surprisingly correct analysis of a phase of Hollywood came from a personality whom the screen public would little suspect of being so observant. That's Andy Clyde, the perennial screen whose "Red Lights Ahead" is creating endless chuckles right now.

RANGER MAN TALKS OF FLOUR MILL AT RALLS

RALLS, June 5.—K. C. Jones of Ranger has made several trips here looking for a location for a 50-barrel flour mill. He met a chamber of commerce committee here and discussed the proposal.

Machinery of the mill represents about $7,200 in value.

THE METHODIST CHURCH

The aim of any worthy church as a part of the Kingdom is to build the whole of "The Kingdom of God's Dear Son" and not to pose smacks of selfishness, and that has no part in the Church.

You are welcomed into the fellowship of this growing work whether you are a member or a visitor. No distinction is ever made between people in God's house. Bring your friends and they will be pleased with the fine and neighborly spirit of a Christian fellowship.

There is a class for every age and need, a place of work if you are looking for an opportunity for service, a place of comfort if you are in trouble, a place for salvation if you are lost. "Come thou with us, and we will do thee good."

FRIENDLY INSECTS THAT THE GARDEN NEEDS

The impulse to kill anything seen in the garden that crawls or creeps should be modified, says House Beautiful, as much of this insignificant plant life is friendly in the extreme. The following minute garden visitors are welcome, as they feed on many larvae and adult pests. Lady bird beetles destroy lice and scale insects; hornets feed almost entirely on insects; frogs and toads go after slugs and insects; lizards live on small beetles; spiders like flies and small moths; wasp not only eat insects themselves but use them as food for their young; ground beetles dig through the earth for insects that go into the soil to pupate (rose bugs); bees carry pollen back and forth and are indispensable to the garden and orchard; tree crickets feed on plant lice; dragon flies hove in the air hunting for injurious insects. All these insects should be encouraged.—Tatum (N. M.) Courier.
