Brownfield Expects You Monday

Have You Guessed At the Cotton Crop?

While preparing to place the ballot boxes last Saturday at the two banks for people to guess at the cotton crop in Terry and Yoakum counties, a number of farmers and business men stopped us to cast their vote, and there was just as wide divergence of opinion when they went to guessing to obtain a prize, as there was when they were "just talking." We know, for a number showed us their guesses before putting them in the box, and they ranged from 22,000 bales to 45,000.

If you have not already voted, you will find one box at the First National Bank, and the other at the Nelson-Primm drug store, together with ballots for your convenience. It was our intention to leave them at both banks, but found the Brownfield State Bank remodeling, and decided that they would be nearer spaced over town at the First National and the above drug store.

Remember you have only until the 16th of this month to vote. The contest closes on that day, which falls on Saturday. You are also to take into consideration the Yoakum county crop, which is always counted with the Terry county crop, as Yoakum county has no gin. Also, remember that Yoakum county people are entitled to vote the same as Terry county people.

The crop will be based on the final ginner report next March and the nearest correct guess will get the $2.00, the next nearest $1.00, and the next closest 50c.

Red Cross Representative Here Tuesday

Mr. Harold O. Swank, representative of the American National Red Cross, with headquarters in St. Louis met with the local officers in the office of Judge Simms, Tuesday morning.

Plans were made for the annual roll call to be held sometime between November 19 and 23. Our objective is to have not less than 120 members this year.

The possibility of establishing one or more first-aid stations, with two or more persons at each station who would be trained in giving first aid in case of an accident was discussed. Accidents often happen where it is difficult to reach a doctor in time to save the patient extra suffering, or probably save a life, and these stations might prove to be of great help. Several counties in Texas have these stations, and the matter of establishing one in this county will be gone into more fully at another meeting.

Sanders & West Get Dawson School Job

Messrs. Sanders & West, of Memphis, Texas, who are constructing the Treadaway-Daniel hospital here, have received the contract for the construction of the new Union school in Dawson county, ten miles west of Lamesa. The bids were let last Friday, the bid of Sanders & West was slightly over $24,000.

Another firm or firms got the plumbing and wiring contracts. The local firm of Green & Winston (Sach & Johnny) have the paint contract, which was sublet to them by Messrs. Sanders & West. Sach and Johnny are doing the painting and caulsoming on the hospital buildings.

Child Psychology Being Taught Here

Miss Agnes True, an instructor from Texas Technological College began a course in Child Psychology at the High School Tuesday evening. A number of Terry county teachers are taking the course.

Terry Scores 5th at South Plains Fair

LUBBOCK, Sept. 28. — Scoring 937 points out of a possible 1,000, the Childress county exhibit brought to the Panhandle-South Plains fair by V. F. Hafner, county agent, won first place in the annual contest, C. C. Johnson, county agent and superintendent, announced Monday night.

Three points separated the next three counties: Collingsworth 923, for second place; Lynn, 922 for third and Lamb, 920 for fourth.

Childress topped a $75 first prize; Collingsworth won $60 as second place and Lynn, third with $40.

Other Rankings Given
Ather counties and points scored were: Haskell, 918; Terry, 917; Hockley, 903; Crosby, 890; Maverick 871 and Floyd, 871. All below third place receive $25 each.

Judges were George Samson, Post, grain sorghum authority and expert booth designer and Earl T. Dade, of the agronomy department of Texas Technological college.

"This is the best quality of exhibits I have seen in the five years I have been judging agricultural exhibits at this fair," Samson said. "The farmers are getting back to the old time quality they used to produce."

Points To Baled Hay
Samson stressed particularly the baled hay exhibits. He pointed out that these were of unusual quality.

The exhibits attracted wide attention. There were ten counties showing this year. Farthest to come was from Maverick county, with Eagle Pass as the county seat, although the exhibit was from Quemado.

The Plains Must Grow Better Staple Cotton

We have talked with ginner, with cotton buyers, and with farmers of late, and all agreed that farmers in this section must quit the short staple variety of cotton, and perhaps pick cotton instead of pulling it, if they are to be able to even sell it in the next few years. It has really come to that point.

The old "hog-around" method of buying is out, as the government had a hard time ridding its storage places of low grade and short length cotton a few years ago, and they are very shy of stepping into the same quagmire again. The better the grade and the longer the staple, the better the shot you have this year of disposing of your cotton crop at a profit.

Farmers and ginners are holding meetings in several counties of this section about the matter already, and in some of these places, they already grow a much better staple than in Terry county. So it behooves us to fall in line, and be ready next year to plant and cultivate the best seed obtainable.

We know one farmer in this section who picked all his cotton last year, and he got a good premium over all his neighbors. Ginners themselves will tell you that tearing hulls loose from cotton fiber will injure the staple to some extent.

Many From This City Attend Benson Funeral

Among those from Brownfield and vicinity who attended the funeral of Robert E. Benson at Seminole Sunday afternoon, were, Jim Graves, Ches Gore, Joe Price, Burton G. Hackney, Mr. and Mrs. Tom May, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ballard, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Primm, besides the Benson families of his parents and brothers. One sister from Fredrick, Oklahoma attended, but another sister from California was ill and unable to attend.

Funeral services were held in the Baptist church at Seminole, by Elder Robt. P. Drennon, of Tahoka, Saturday afternoon, and we were told that it would have taken a church three times as large to accommodate the crowd. Humble oil boys at Seminole, together with C. C. Primm of Brownfield, acted as pall bearers. Burial followed in the Seminole cemetery.

Deceased was a member of the church, but so far as we were able to learn, was affiliated with no secret orders.

Mrs. A. L. Merrell of Nashville, Ark., arrived Saturday to visit her brother, Earl Jones and family.

Fighting Cubs Defeat Ralls Jackrabbits

In what proved to be one of the most pleasing games yet played on the local gridiron, the Brownfield high school Cubs defeated the Ralls high school Jackrabbits by a score of 32 to 0. The sixty yard run of Wade Hill was only one of the sprints that thrilled local fans. A summary showed that Ralls made three first downs, while Brownfield was garnering fourteen. The bunnies were badly outclassed by the locals as is revealed by the following tabulation:

| Ralls | Brownfield |
|-------------------------|-----------------|
| 39 Yards gained running | 303 |
| 22 Yards gained passing | 15 |
| Passes completed: | |
| 2 out of 12 | 1 out of 8 |
| Penalties: | |
| 5 for 25 yards | 7 for 60 yards |
| Punts: | |
| 6 for 190 yards | 3 for 105 yards |

Fore, Hill and Pharr did outstanding work in the backfield. Jenkins, Pickett, and Rowden stood out in the Cub line. Fore scored three touchdowns, Hill one, and Rowden one. Jenkins kicked two points after touchdowns.

Just to show the crowd that his boys were not limited to advancing on the ground, Coach Bost ordered the boys to pass during the last quarter, but Chambliss and Pharr seemed to overshoot the mark. Young and Morton just barley missed several passes that would have meant touchdowns had they been caught. Young replaced Chambliss during the second quarter, and Pharr went to quarter. Although making several neat gains, Young failed to get into an open field for a touchdown. He did some nifty tackling from the half position.

The locals are idle this week and are using the breathing spell to polish their running and passing attack and to improve their blocking. They will have a chance to watch the "cublets" Friday afternoon when they tackle the sixth and seventh grades of Lubbock Junior High.

Line-Ups

Ends: Watson and Collier, Ralls; Rowden and Ellis, Brownfield.

Tackles: D. Smith and Farrington, Ralls; Jenkins and Murry, Brownfield.

CUBLETS TO PLAY LUBBOCK

One of the most promising games of the season will be played Friday afternoon between Coach Fulp's Cublets and the sixth and seventh graders of Lubbock junior high. Arrangements have been made to start the game at 3:30. What the future Cub teams will be might be judged from the playing of these future Cubs. Everyone is assured of a pleasing game.

Tradesday Has Rolled Around Once Again

Monday will be First Tradesday in Brownfield again, and of course the merchants are putting on their specials to run over to that date, some even including Friday as well as Saturday of this week as usual. A good crowd of people from the length and breadth of the huge Brownfield trade territory are expected here for the event.

So, remember to be here that day with your trading clothes on, as well as your trading stuff. The usual programs will be carried out in the afternoon, so come prepared for that event. These tickets might mean something to you. Don't forget them.

Better come to this one, as you may be so busy the First Monday in November that you will not have time to spare.

Mrs. R. A. Heath and Mrs. F. A. Heath were visitors in the home of their son- and brother-in-law, H. F. Heath and family, Thursday.

2000 Chinese Extras Battle in Mob Scene

Ingenious Audible Scenery Heightens Vivid Effect of Spectacle

Chinese "background sound" behind English dialogue evolved what sound technicians describe as "audible scenery" in a unique effect worked out in the mob scenes of "The Good Earth," M-G-M's spectacular filmization of the Pearl Buck novel, which comes to the Rialto Theatre Sunday. The tapestry of "background sound" was achieved in the revolution scenes in the streets of Peking, where Luise Rainer is swept by a horde of looters, through the gates of the Forbidden City, in a maelstrom of excitement.

Miss Rainer, Charley Grapewin, and other important characters, followed by the cameras and show in close-ups in the center of the crowd of five hundred Orientals, speak in English. But the voices from the crowd, serving as a sullen undercurrent to the scene, are entirely in Chinese.

"It is much the same principle as that used in a musical score to a dramatic scene," explains Sidney Franklin, who directed Paul Muni and Miss Rainer in the picture. The crowd's babel, just like a musical setting, gives an atmospheric sound effect. The audience will not be conscious of any of the spoken words of Chinese, but of the general effect of it, just as music in a score is placed at the right level to create a mood and still not intrude on drama or dialogue."

The looting scene, leading up to the revolution and overthrow of the Manchu rule, is as impressively elaborate crowd sequence in the picture, using about 2,000 Oriental players.

Many Farmers Don't Have a Hog on Place

Joe A. Davis was in from the farm the past week end and stated that he sure wanted his ad stopped as he had sold all the pigs he had and could have sold many more if he had them, and he realized a nice price for them.

We were quite surprised to find as many farms without hogs on them as there is in Terry county, considering the amount of feed we produce here from year to year. But many of them say they got so high, and they needed the money and just let them go.

Mr. Davis stated that he realized more for these pigs than he did for larger hogs in 1932-33, and therefore was still strong for FDR and the new deal.

Old Timer Back to Look After Place

Ben Broughton, one of the early settlers of Terry county, was in the city Saturday, in informed us that he had recently returned to see after his property, and the crop on his farm in the Gomez section. Mr. Broughton stated they had a good crop on the place this year.

For the past several months he has been spending his time at Quemado, Texas, and in the oil fields around Wink, and stated that his health had improved wonderfully. Reporting on his brother, Dave, who now lives in Oregon, he stated that his brother, Dave and son-in-law, Ed Moore and family were doing well and had good health in the northwest.

Son of Local Man Killed Last Friday

As we were preparing to go to press Friday afternoon news of the accidental death of Robert E. Benson was received here, when Singleton Funeral Home received a call to send their ambulance to Humble Camp 18 miles south of Seminole.

Robert Benson, age 28 years, was instantly killed when a piece of three inch pipe was being pulled from a producing oil well, known as J. S. Means No. 21, located about 3 miles southeast of Humble Camp, in Adair County. The pressure was let off the well and the operation of removing paraffin from the tubing was started, when gas pressure blew off a piece of pipe hitting Mr. Benson in the chest, death was instantaneous.

The deceased was married to Miss Bennett Curry, of Seminole, on Friday evening, September 3, just three weeks ago, had built a home at Humble Camp, where they have since resided. He had been employed by the Humble Oil Co., for the past two years, working in the production department. He was well and favorably known to most everyone in Seminole and had many friends who regret his untimely death.

Deceased is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Benson, of Brownfield, and they arrived here soon after being notified of the accident. He is survived by his wife, the above named parents, four brothers and two sisters. One brother, Terrell Benson, is also an employee of the Humble, and resides at their camp where the accident occurred.—Seminole Sentinel.

Gives Reasons Why There's No Feeding

Joe Bailey, wife and youngest daughter, were down the past week end looking after their farm near Tokio. The question of feeding out our immense feed crop to cattle came up, and Joe gave us a mighty good reason, for just a newspaperman (he used to work on the Herald, and now for the Avalanche-Journal).

"In the first place," Joe stated, "cattle are already rolling fat on the range, and on top of that are as high as the proverbial 'cat's back.' Well, to pen a lot of already fat cattle, and pour feed into them for say three months, and take the risk of a big fall in the market, would be rather risky."

"So, those with an abundance of feed, we had best cut it, and put it up in shocks or ricks, and let it stand until spring. By that time, cattle will naturally fall off some from the rigors of winter, and one will know by that time whether or not there is still a stiff demand for fat cattle."

So, a newspaperman has been interviewed, but not exactly like W. R. Hearst interviewed William Randolph Hearst one time. We might add that Joe's logic is good, whether you want to agree or not.

Nice Sinclair Oil Ad Program Now Running

The Herald signed a nice contract with E. C. Roberts of Seagraves, last week, who is agent for Sinclair Oil Co., in this section, to run over the name of Mr. D. E. Erwin, local dealer of this city. Mr. Erwin has the only Sinclair station in this county, and he has a nice place and A-1 products to sell.

However, the Sinclair Refining Co., recently were given the State contract to furnish gasoline to all state road machinery, which of course includes Terry county. This includes machinery used in road maintenance department under Lester McPherson, as well as construction under resident engineer, R. T. Roane.

SCOUTS HOLD COURT OF HONOR

The Southwest District Boy Scout Court of Honor was held at the high school auditorium, Monday evening.

Troop 49 of Brownfield received the general attendance banner and the mothers attendance banner. The general attendance award was given for the number of guests the Scouts got to attend the Court and the mothers attendance award was given for the attendance of mothers.

Troop 49 also got to place their numeral at the top of the Court of Honor ladder. This privilege being given for their advancement in scout work.

Elder Brother Makes Visit—Likes Terry

Z. M. (Meeks) Stricklin, and daughter, Miss Violet and son, Benton, were visitors over the week end. They are at present maintaining a home in Cleburne, and out on the farm near Grandview. This was the first visit our brother and niece since 1929, but Benton was here in the spring of 1936. Meeks isn't doing but little farming now, as he is getting up in years, but he has a fine paper-shell pecan orchard out on the farm, together with a small herd of dairy cattle, sheep, chickens and turkeys that requires his attention.

Benton has a job with the Texas Power & Light Co., at Cleburne, and the younger son with the Texas Play-boy band of Tulsa, Okla., so raising cotton or a great sight of feed is out with them. Most of the old farm has been turned over to grazing and pecans, neither of which requires a great deal of work.

Meeks was shown over a section of Terry, and was mightily impressed with the crops, and took home some samples, including one stalk of cotton from a field that will make more than a bale per acre. This stalk had 260 bolls, blooms and squares, with perhaps more than 100 bolls that were grown and speckled. Added to this was a small collection of hegrira and maize that he said would feed his turkey herd several days.

Another thing that caught his eye was sudan patches that the dairy herd could get lost in 50 yards from the road, with fat cattle, horses and mules on every side and the tens of thousands of tons of fine feed on every side, ready for the row binders.

We stopped for a few minutes at the home of Com. Lee Lyon, but as usual that bird had "flew de coop." Anyway, we got out and examined his fine herd of livestock, and aimed to go in the cellar after something to eat, but there lay a "purr" on top of the cellar that didn't look any too friendly.

Returning to the car, the wife discovered some apples on some trees, but as we approached the gate, there lay a big police hound, that while he wagged his tail and looked friendly, we couldn't make up our minds whether to believe his tail was friendly while his teeth were unfriendly or not. Anyway, we passed up the apples.

The big stalk of cotton was stolen from one farm, and the heads from first one then two. Will say however, that no special effort was made to pick a stalk, for after this one was cut down, many other appeared to be equally as good or better. Same way with the heads.

Ran up to Ropes Sunday night to visit a nephew, Aubrey Thomas and family, and stopped first in the home of his father-in-law, Geo. Carter, who wished us to spend the short time there and send over after Aubrey and family, as Mrs. Carter had been ill and wanted to be with us during the time.

SEAGRAVES BANK SOLD TO MIDLAND BANKERS

The First State Bank of Seagraves was sold last week to Ralph M. Barant to the vice president of the National F. Matchet of Tulsa, Oklahoma.

The bank stock was owned by J. S. Edwards of Slaton, E. C. Roberts, C. M. Armstrong and Ernest Ownby of Seagraves.

Farron and Martin are president and cashier of the Midland National Bank and Matchet is former assistant to the vice president of the National Bank of Tulsa. They will assume management of the bank on the first of October.

The Seagraves bank has weathered the storms through good years and bad. When elder and supposedly stronger banking institutions were closing their doors, the Seagraves bank kept right on doing business through all the times of the depression.

MEETING AT NEW CHURCH OF CHRIST

A revival meeting will begin at the new Church of Christ, at Bennett, Texas, Yoakum county, on Friday night, October 8th. The preaching will be done by Elder John M. Burkheart.

Bennett is a new town at the ranch headquarters of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Bennett of Abilene, on whose ranch in Yoakum county the discovery oil well was found.

It was largely through the efforts of this couple that the new church building was erected.

Call For Taxpayers Meeting at Austin

The Board of Directors of the Taxpayers Association of Harris County and Houston has directed me to call a meeting of the taxpayers of the state, to be held in Austin, on the 5th of October, at the Hotel Stephen F. Austin, for the purpose of re-organizing the State Taxpayers Association and protesting against further tax levies. It is the belief of the local Taxpayers Association that present tax levies will afford ample funds for carrying on the functions of the state government and gradually reduce the deficit without further tax levies, if extravagance and waste is eliminated.

All Taxpayers Associations, Real Estate Boards, Chambers of Commerce and Civic Organizations are earnestly urged to attend or send delegates to this meeting.

A Staggering Deficit

Texas has a staggering deficit. It has been built up by waste and extravagance. Instead of this staggering deficit there should be a large surplus in the Treasury. Your tax burdens have been constantly increasing in order that fat salaries might be paid to an every-increasing hoard of office holders, and to carry dead-wood on political pay rolls. The only way to reduce taxes is to reduce expenses. The only way to reduce expenses is to stop levying more taxes. Politicians will spend every cent they can get their hands on and then cry for more.

Political Racketeers

The official, political, royalists and dollar-digging-racketeers will never loosen their strangle-hold on the throats of the taxpayers until struck by something akin to political cyclone. Your is the power to rid Texas of this useless and ruthless hoard of officials, political, royalists and dollar-digging-racketeers. They infest every nook and cranny of our governmental system.

$25,000,000 Increase

It is estimated that the Legislature at its last session increased the tax burden of the people $25,000,000 in the face of the fact that the state already had a ten to fourteen million dollar deficit. Under such circumstances, common sense should have dictated a course of retrenchment and economy, but instead the Legislature indulged in the wildest orgy of spending in the state's history.

Mahon Makes Statement About Cotton

While in Lubbock on Tuesday afternoon of this week Congressman George Mahon made the following statement with reference to the Cotton Loan program of the government:

"I am urging the Department of Agriculture to do immediately two things which I think will be of great value to the West Texas cotton producer. First, provide an additional loan for cotton which cannot measure up to the requirements of the present 8 and 9s loan program. Second, provide government cotton classifiers in this area who can promptly grade the cotton and whose classification will be final. This method of classing the cotton will satisfy both the farmer and the warehouseman and make the loan program workable in West Texas."

"Cotton prices are now so low I anticipate a great demand in West Texas for cotton loans in order to prevent sacrificing the cotton at a ruinous price. Each county should see to it that the Department of Agriculture is advised of the situation. Mr. J. M. Byrnes of the Washington office of the Department of Agriculture arrived in Lubbock Tuesday and he is setting up a cotton classing program for the South Plains-West Texas area."

"The Department of Agriculture has the authority under the law not only to provide classifiers but also to liberalize the loan regulations so that a loan of about 7c can be made on certain shorter staple cotton of West Texas. Without this additional loan tens of thousands of bales of cotton will be sacrificed on the market for practically nothing and pass out of the hands of the producer. I shall do all in my power to help prevent this."

Mesdames Mon Telford, Roy Wingerd, Jim Graves, and Miss Lenora Brownfield and Mon Telford Jr., spent from Friday until Monday in Fort Worth attending the Fiesta and the Pan American Exposition in Dallas.

Yoakum county people who are here then next three Saturdays are requested to guess at the cotton crop of Terry and Yoakum counties combined, at the places indicated elsewhere in this issue. If we can find some one to carry a ballot box to Plains, and place it in some place easily accessible to the public, we will send one over there.

The Avalanche-Journal special fair edition of last Sunday morning was a great piece of printercraft, and had hundreds and hundreds of columns of information, not only about the "Show Window of the South Plains," but about the whole area. Many special articles treated on the history of the South Plains 20 and 30 years ago, compared to its present state, a comparison that is so amazing, that it is hard to believe. A change from a strictly ranch country 30 years ago, to the greatest diversified farming section in the nation at present, is something that is hardly ever matched save in fiction. Hearty congratulations, neighbor!

Editor John A. Price of the County-Wide News, Littlefield, takes issue with most editors in this section, in that he intimates that Uncle Sam is obligated to send the army and navy anywhere his prodigal sons and daughters may roam to protect them at the point of the bayonet and shell. Trade with other nations, is fine, Mr. Price, but why not sell to them and let them do the retailing? Why must our citizens play the manufacturer, the jobbers, the exporter and the retailer? Why not leave some of the business to the people who live in other countries? We do not permit them to hog the works over here.

One of the prominent railroads of Texas each month sends us a tear sheet from a national magazine in which they carry a page ad, boosting Texas. This is all very fine, but why should the Herald be obligated to tell its readers how much this railroad is spending with a big magazine? We are a lot more interested in telling our readers how much such and such a firm is spending with the Herald. Yes, perhaps that is selfishness, but we imagine the big magazine is not the most charitable institution on Apparently a dog fight is to be staged this month at Austin. Gov. Allred says we must have more taxes to pay for obligations the people themselves voted on themselves, such as old age pension, aid to the needy blind and dependent children, and teachers retirement. Senator Holbrook of Galveston, seemingly the leader of the opposition, says we are under no obligations to provide funds for the blind, dependent children or teachers, as all three were carried in election in which a very small per cent of people voted. So, we shall see what we shall see.

Charles Armour Guy, otherwise the Plainsman in the Evening Journal, Lubbock, tells us that he had a very vivid dream "tother night in which a Ralls boy attending Tech committed "sideways" out at the Lubbock cemetery. Charley even remembered the name of the lad, and that he (the lad) still owed a few installments on some furniture. Our advise to you, Charley, is that you pass up pork chops, stuffed peppers and green cucumbers for supper (dinner to you perhaps). Eat sparingly of shredded wheat and milk, Charley, and you'll not have those horrible graveyard dreams. If we had an M. D. degree we would charge you $5.00 for this advice, but not having a degree it would be unethical.

Of all the foolishness that has come to light in recent months this tommyrot about Justice Black and the Ku Klux Klan seems the stack. What if Black did belong to the KKK. While those dignified senators are investigating Black's secret order affiliation, let them tell us what orders they belong to. We'd go you one that some of them belong to the Knights of Columbus or some other secret order that has incorporated in its oath a vow to take the traitor to such order and do him bodily harm (all in violation of the laws of our country), so why single out the KKK and make it the goat? We have no respect whatever for the KKK, K of C or any other organization, secret or otherwise, that ignores the laws of the land.—Anton News.

Back in the not distant past those blessed with corns and rheumatism considered themselves living martyrs all because they were supposed to bring rain following pain. Do corns of the painful variety produce rain? Or does the moist atmosphere produce pain in the locality of both corns and rheumatism?—Clarendon Leader.

Back in the dim, distant past, they also thought that a broken bone that had healed was a good weather prognosticator. We had heard it so much in our youth, that when we broke our thigh bone (fractured femur) to you medical men, leaving us a "game" leg, that we believed we had a better barometer than any weather bureau. And people used to ask us when to expect a cold snap, or a rainy or stormy season. But later on when we became a friend and intimate of the ethical medical profession, we forgot our attached barometer. In fact all kinds of warts, corns, bunions, or what have you, just become "miseries" to us, and not weather forecasters. Also, we might add, not for your benefit, but for your offsprings, who are getting married quite frequently, Mr. Estlack, that babies don't have the "hives" or the "thrash," and that their gums don't get sore when they cut teeth. It's all in the imagination of the little boogers or their parents.

Either the science of cooking has wonderfully improved, the flavor of prairie dogs has improved, or the Estancia, New Mexico, folks who dined with relish on prairie dog pie were a heap hungrier than the group who sampled stewed prairie dog with us some twenty years ago. We profess we didn't like the flavor of the meat, nor the gravy. In fact our recollection over these years convinces us that for us to eat prairie dog, we would have to be powerfully hungry, the stew must be well cooked, highly seasoned with sage and deeply disguised with garlic or some other malodorous. And even then we know we wouldn't like the meat, and are sure that if the prairie dog is totally exterminated, the lovers of gastronomic delicacies will never miss his going.

Plan School Pilgrimage to Exposition

L. A. Woods, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, visited the Pan American Exposition in Dallas last week, with members of his staff, and joined with Exposition officials in outlining plans to bring 500,000 Texas school children to the World's Fair before its close October 31. Railroads are running scores of special trains for school children and the movement will also be by automobile and bus. "The public schools of Texas should make the Pan American Exposition a field event this year," Superintendent Woods (right) tells Assistant Director General Frank N. Watson.

THE NEW DEAL STILL MIGHTY IN NEW YORK

If you had any doubts in your mind that the New Deal was still going strong, you can easily dispel those doubts by taking a short look at the New York City election returns last week, when New Dealers won a smashing victory over Tammany and the old line Democrats, soundly beating Royal S. Copeland in both Democratic and Republican primaries.

At the moment if one were to try making an alignment of party placement on one, two, three basis, the result would look something like this: New Deal, win Democratic, place Republican, show Socialist and Townsend also ran.

Which is just another way of saying that President Roosevelt and the New Deal, could probably win, with or without the aid of the Democratic party AS A PARTY.

The same thing may not and probably will not hold true in 1940, but again it might. At least the New Deal has won new friends in New York, and not lost any old ones, if the election returns of last week spell anything.

If you want to say it still another way—Roosevelt and Jim Farley ARE the Democratic party today.—County Wide News.

Those who are boosting Vice President Garner for President in 1940 are making a mistake by naming him as an Anti-Roosevelt man, or nearly so. They give this impression by saying that the country is tired of the New Deal tomfoolery and John Garner is the man to lead us back to normalcy. The man who succeeds Roosevelt as president will be a Roosevelt man, one who will carry on the New Deal policies. If John Garner allows himself to be run as an anti-New Deal candidate, he will see himself get no where in the race for the nomination.—Anton News.

"LISTEN FOLKS"

By Jim Ferguson.

(Editor's note: This article is published as a news item and represents the personal views of Mr. Ferguson only)

The legislature has met again to take up the question of taxation, submitted as the only question by the Governor.

Turning around completely face about from his declaration in his opening speech at Waxahachie that there was no need of any new taxes, he now humbly admits that there should be levied $15,000,000.00 (millions) additional taxes to carry on the government. The only justification which he urges is that he made an honest mistake. He now calls on the legislature to help him cure his mistake.

The Governor's mistake was caused and is now caused because he had been unmindful of his official duties and responsibilities. An admission of his mistake will not satisfy official neglect. Under the law passed in 1931, Article 688, the Governor in express language, "is made the chief budget officer of the state." In plain language it is made his duty to consider the estimates made by the Board of Control and if he disapproves any item made by such board he shall leave the space for said item thereby vetoing the same.

Then from all the estimates furnished him he shall send a special budget message to the legislature which shall include the sources of revenue from which all the appropriations will or can be paid.

It is made a criminal offense for any officer of the state to refuse to furnish such information to the legislature. Maybe the Governor has not refused to furnish this important information to the legislature. If his friends want to make this technical defense for him, they can do so, but the fact remains that such information has not been furnished to the legislature.

While the Governor was attending wedding ceremonies in Colorado and Governors' meeting in Washington and speed boat contests in Louisiana and visiting for two weeks with the Mexicans in Mexico, he could have stayed at home and given some valuable time to the preparation of an official budget which the law requires him to make and send to the legislature. He can no longer get behind the constitution and say he is the head of the executive department only and can not direct the legislature what to do. The law above referred to has changed that, and the Governor is now made the chief budget officer of the state. If this is another honest mistake, it's too bad for the state and the people.

The legislature waited all through the regular session for the Governor's budget. It yet awaits the Governor's budget, but it seems in vain.

If he has a plan to cut down appropriations and provide revenues to pay the balance, it would be a great service to the state if he would submit it all in one budget and the legislature could soon end its labors and go home.

My wife submitted a budget as required by law, and reduced appropriations and expenses about thirteen million dollars, and the legislature approved it. It is easy to do things when you know how.

Band Instructor Re-signs—Goes to Pampa

Herman Trigg, who has been instructor for the Brownfield High School band for the past two years, turned in his resignation to Supt. M. L. H. Baze this week, and will go to Pampa, Texas, where he has been employed as instructor for the Junior high band there.

Pampa offered him quite a nice increase in salary with promise of another increase next term. Pampa schools have a teaching staff of about 125 teachers, and is a hustling oil town of 15,000 people.

Mr. Gurthal Gilligan, of Austin, has been named to succeed Mr. Trigg as band instructor. Let's all get behind Mr. Gilligan, and do all we can to help him put over a real school band.

INFORMATION FOR FARMERS WHO INTEND TO MAKE APPLICATION FOR SUBSIDY PAYMENT

Farmers must turn in Sales Slips within 15 days after they sell their cotton if they want to get a Subsidy Payment, according to R. H. McClain, County Agent.

He states that original buyers receipts for cotton sold from the 1937 crop must be filed by September 30th. The buyers receipt must be in the original and must contain: Date of sale, name and address of producer, number of bales sold and gross weight and signature and address of buyer.

Until the Government printed forms are available the producer should request the buyer to give him a buyer's receipt giving the necessary information.

The Rest of The Record

JAMES V. ALLRED
Governor of Texas

AUSTIN—The opening week of the second extraordinary session of the 45th Legislature has arrived and again the legislative chambers of the capitol are filled with the people's representatives.

As Governor, I felt it imperative to convene the session in order that the Legislature might pass laws levying taxes to raise revenues sufficient to provide adequately for:

1. The wiping out of the deficit in the General Fund and to make income equal outgo from said fund.

2. To provide additional funds to be allocated for old age assistance.

3. To provide for aid to the needy blind, the dependent, neglected and needy children, and to take care of the state's portion under the teachers' retirement act.

Let me review briefly these points of the call:

First: The general fund of this state at present is operating under a deficit approximately fifteen million dollars with the income into the fund lacking four and a half million dollars per year of equalling its outgo. The legislature at the recent regular session increased appropriations approximately four million dollars per year without providing a single penny of additional revenue to care for either the deficit or the increased appropriations.

It seems only good business—for a state or an individual—that income should equal outgo and that a deficit should be wiped out.

Second: At the regular session last January I recommended that additional moneys be placed in the old age assistance fund. That fund is now in debt $1,626,000.00 on outstanding warrants and the Board of Control estimates that in addition we need to allocate approximately two million dollars annually to this fund. In my opinion, the old Legislature should provide this additional revenue for the old age assistance fund in order to care for the actual need.

Third: At a special election held on August 23, 1937, the people adopted amendments to the Constitution to authorize the state to aid the needy blind and provide help for the needy, neglected and dependent children of this state under provisions of the National Social Security Law. The amendment providing for this participation by the state under the social security program required the state's share not to exceed $1,500,000.00 per year.

The regular session of the 44th Legislature submitted a constitutional amendment providing a teacher retirement system for Texas which he people approved by popular vote. The 45th Legislature passed a law to make the amendment effective. State Auditor Tom King has estimated a minimum need of $1,360,550.00 and a maximum of $1,683,750.00 as the state's share in matching contributions by teachers for their retirement system.

In previous releases of "The Rest of the Record," I have stated my position in limiting this session to revenue raising purposes only. No one can deny that it is my duty as Governor to recommend a revenue program to finance the people's program.

It is the duty of the Legislature of this state to provide revenues for the operation of the government, and in my opinion, it is certainly the duty of the Legislature to provide revenues to take care of the appropriations they have made themselves and to carry out the people's will as manifested in the adoption of these constitutional amendments.

No other session has offered a more patriotic opportunity for the people's representatives. In the interest of the six million whom we represent, I fervently hope that the members of the 45th Legislature will face squarely the issues and pass the revenues necessary for the people's program.

TRENCH SILOS PROVE VALUABLE IN NORTHWEST TEXAS

Northwest Texas farmers declare that feed stored in trench silos is safe from danger of fire, weevils, and rats and that the feeding value is not injured from dust and old age as is the case of feed stored in barns or stacked in the open. They are demonstrating their belief by refilling old trench silos and digging new ones, according to county agricultural agents in that territory.

All of the 70 silos filled last year in Childress county that have been opened and fed out this year brought a profit to the owners. Those that were not opened have been inspected and were found in perfect condition. These silos had a capacity of approximately 10,000 tons. The silos that were emptied this year have either been refilled or will be filled this fall. More than 10 new silos have been dug, and indications are that there will be more than 200 trench silos in the county before the year is over.

T. W. Gabbert of Crosby county has filled two 250-ton trench silos this month. He plans to feed 100 steers this fall. "One-hundred acres of feed put in a trench silo is worth as much as 200 acres dry. I have been feeding ensilage for 20 years and I would not try to feed cattle for the market on dry feed," he says.

Nine trench silos with a total capacity of 1,800 tons have been filled during this month by five farmers and ranchmen in Stonewall county. The smallest holds 40 tons and was filled by Tom Speck. The largest holds 400 tons and was filled by Houston Ward. Last year, Ward stored approximately 400 tons of ensilage in an upright silo and a trench silo. This year he has filled these and also three new trench silos. He has stored a total of 1,450.

NERVOUSNESS

Nervousness is a condition which is seldom due to a single cause and one for which there is no single specific. Less work or play and more rest is usually beneficial. However, there is often a direct spinal irritation of one or more nerves.

As this is a condition for which medication offers no relief, it is always advisable that there be a comprehensive examination of the spine. Often, though not always, spinal adjustments reach directly to the seat of the trouble. See your chiropractor, perhaps your nervousness is of that sort.

By my chiropractic health method I correct diseases of the eyes, ears, nose, throat, lungs, heart, stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and lower organs.

King Ranch Controversy Is Described

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Texas' great King Ranch, larger than the state of Rhode Island, is the subject of an article in the October American Magazine written by Hubert Kelly, associate editor and one of the few reporters to be admitted through the gates of the million-acre feudal empire ruled by Bob Kleberg.

After giving the statistics familiar to all Texans—1,500 square miles, 75,000 cattle, 1,500 miles of wire, 500 gates—Mr. Kelly reports special interest in the fact that the King Ranch, which for years has been "a symbol and stronghold of American individualism," has now become "to many people in its own country a symbol of high-handed power and imperialism."

Having heard the usual and familiar complaints against the King Ranch—that men crossing over the wire fence to hunt had disappeared, that political "pull" had for ten years prevented construction of a road which would have saved trucks fifty miles on the way to market—Mr. Kelly asked Bob Kleberg for his side of the story, and quotes him as follows:

"Bank! Pure bunk. It's Communism, that's what it is. Those who haven't anything want what somebody else has. It's the spirit of the times—rap, rap, rap. I used to be interested in all the complaints about the ranch, but what's the use? People talk to you friendly-like, promise to say pretty things about you, and when you've turned your back, they smack you in the face. Mystery ranch, my eye. This is a big meat store down here, nothing else. If you can find an armed man on this ranch you can have his gun. And what's more, I've already given over 200 miles of right-of-way for highways through this place, and if that other highway they keep howling about isn't finished yet, it's all because the state of Texas hasn't had the money to build it with."

Mr. Kelly contents himself with writing both sides of the various arguments, and describing the ranch and its personnel. He leaves the reader to draw whatever conclusion he may.

MANY SCHOOL CHILDREN HAVE DEFECTIVE TEETH

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 20.—Ninety-five out of every 100 school children have decayed teeth, estimates State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox, and the average pre-school child of six years has three or four cavities.

Dr. Cox this week urged Texas parents to have their children's teeth examined now by the family dentist in order that mouth defects might be corrected early and with the least possible ill-health, pain and expense.

"It isn't possible to say definitely how much time is lost in school attendance through tooth troubles and neglected teeth," Dr. Cox said.

"But it is an admitted fact that if every school child could start the school year with teeth free from defects and well cared for the attendance would be materially improved. At the same time, the child would be spared the unnecessary suffering that comes from neglected teeth."

"Individual care of the teeth is of special importance in maintaining mouth health—and incidentally in keeping up the general health. Eating proper food, and a thorough cleansing of the teeth, twice a day, plus gum massage are essential for the preservation of mouth health."

"As a matter of fact, more parents should see to it that their children use their tooth brushes properly," Dr. Cox stated. "The mere fact that a child goes through the motions of brushing his teeth does not mean that his teeth will not decay. Cleanliness, and not brushing, is the thing to be emphasized. The proper way to brush the teeth is to brush the upper teeth downward and the lower teeth upward, sweeping across the gap in between the teeth, thereby reaching the areas most susceptible to decay."

And finally, sensible people have formed the habit of going themselves and taking their children to the dentist every six months, whether or not they notice any evidence of trouble. Periodic inspection enable the dentist to detect the beginning of tooth decay, which may be repaired before extensive damage is done. He can forestall threatening gum infection by appropriate treatment, and also, he has an opportunity to give advice about special care which may be indicated.

"WHEN YOU GET" THAT B. F. B.

"Editor John Price is an optimistic guy if ever there was one. He says that the language of George Mahon in which the congressman says, 'I believe that we are going to get that postoffice building for Brownfield,' means nothing. Has he telegraphed anything like that to your postmaster Shonny? If he had you would have gotten out an extra edition and Littlefield would have declared a holiday. It was generally understood that the town that showed the greatest receipts last year would get the building, and Brownfield has won, fair and square. Come over some time Jaw and buy a few of your stamps from 'Jeems Hurley Dallas' instead of your Second Storey man.—The Brownfield Herald.

Alright, Alright, Alright, Andy. That's the quadruple AAAA, and even though you are buried out there in these West Texas Oil fields, by this time you've heard of what happened to the good old Triple A. Just let your imagination work on what might happen to such a thing as a Four A outfit, your front page to the contrary notwithstanding.

When you get that new Federal building, I want the honor of being invited over to buy the first stamp, and upon that occasion I'll take a little Brownfield flag and stand on the front step and wave it just as vigorously as the one you are waving now. And if I want any extra stamps, I won't have to go to the postmaster to get them.

But you've got my wire about 'the other barrel,' Andy, and as I said in the paragraph just above, 'When You Get.'—County-Wide News, Littlefield.

Well, we are running an ad for the building site now. Don't you call that fast work, Uncle John?

SOME DRIVING DON'TS

Signal the man behind — When slowing up, when turning corners, when coming to a stop—He is not a mind reader.

Don't count too much on the common sense of the other fellow—No one is 100 per cent alert at all times.

Use more horse sense and less horse power — Don't create hazard by excessive speed.

Drivers who think give the street cars the right of way—They run on rails only and can't turn out of your way to avoid hitting you—Don't cut in ahead of one.

Agricultural Conservation Program for '38

COLLEGE STATION—The 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program will set up acreage goals for cash crops which are smaller than the established bases, according to Geo. Slaughter, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee who recently returned from Washington, where representative farmers were called to confer with AAA officials as to the program.

The 1938 program is in most respects quite similar to the 1936 and 1937 program, Slaughter said. The range program, developed during 1937, will be continued.

Chief difference in the new program from previous plans is the provision for national goals for major soil-depleting crops to provide adequate supplies for consumption and export, but such as to keep down burdensome surpluses, according to Slaughter. He explained that each states will be given its share of the national goal, and each county will be given its share of the state goal. The county goal will be distributed among the farmers of the county.

In 1938, the maximum payment for each producer will be calculated at the beginning of the crop year and the attainments of soil depleting and soil building goals will be set as conditions for full payment.

The division of payments between landlords and tenants will be the same as the division of crops, Slaughter said.

The new program was hailed by Slaughter as by far the most uniform in application to all regions that has yet been developed. He stated that it is the plan of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to inform each farmer as to the acreage in each of his crop goals before planting time in the spring of 1938.

COCHRAN COUNTY TAX VALUATIONS SET AT $5,400,000

MORTON, Sept. 25.—Cochran county's valuations were announced as approximately $5,400,000 for the current year.

Highest valuations of the county were in 1929 when they amounted to $6,066,563.

Since the valuations were made, as of January 1, much new oil development has come on. It is believed that by January 1 next year the total will set a new high.

Valuation figures were cut to the bone by the court during the depression.

New Yoakum County Well Biggest in Field

Largest initial potential of Yoakum County was registered Monday by the Denver Producing and Refining Company No. 1 Whittenberg Estate, which completed its Railroad Commission gauge with a flow of 892 barrels of oil in 24 hours through 2 1-2-inch tubing after having been shut in for 12 days. Texas Pacific Coal and Oil Company No. 2 Bennett, in the Bennett pool of southeastern Yoakum County, formerly was the largest producer with an initial of 643 barrels daily.

Previous to shutting in, the No. 1 Whittenberg Estate, located in section 831, block D, John H. Gibson and approximately six miles northwest of the Wasson area of northwestern Gaines County, flowed 216 barrels of oil in 12 hours through 2 1-2-inch tubing, with 2,000,000 cubic feet of gas.

The test was acidized with 13,000 gallons, with oil and gas shows reported during the last 200 feet in the test bottomed at 5,015 feet.

Another pool opener in southwestern Yoakum County, Texas Company No. 1 Walker, section 794, block D, John H. Gibson survey, Monday was testing following second treatment of 4,000 gallons after having swabbed 95 barrels of oil in 26 hours following first acidization with 2,000 gallons.

Drilled to total depth of 5,780 feet in lime, the producer was plugged back to 5,162 feet to shut off sulphur water and then bridged back to 5,102 feet. It was shot with 200 quarts previous to acid treatment and operator is reported planning to clean out from 5,102 feet to total depth and either shoot or acidize the lower horizon.

Denver Producing and Refining Company Monday was moving in for its No. 1-A Whittenberg, 650 feet from the north and west lines of section 830, one mile to the east of the producer.

Clothing Dealers Fall Market Event Oct. 12

Approximately 75 wholesale firms from the principal manufacturing points in Texas, Missouri, California, Louisiana, Illinois, Ohio, and New York will have complete lines showing millinery, ladies' ready-to-wear, shoes, men's clothing, novelties and luggage.

Invitations have been extended to the retail merchants from West Texas and Eastern New Mexico, inviting them to Lubbock to complete their Fall and Winter buying.

This season's Fashion Show will be held in the Ballroom of the Lubbock Hotel on Tuesday evening, October 12, to be followed by the semi-Merchants Ball.

CONTRACT FOR FAIR BUILDING IS LET AT LAMESA

LAMESA, Sept. 27.—Contract was let yesterday for the first exhibit building being erected by the Dawson County Fair association. Harvey C. Allen and Jess Waller of Lamesa have the contract for constructing the building, at a cost of $2600. It is hoped to have the building completed by October 14th, the date set for the annual Dawson County fair.

The Dawson County Fair association has been recently organized and capitalized at $5000. Stock in the association was taken by Lamesa merchants and Dawson county farmers. Own C. Taylor of Lamesa is the president and Joe L. Matthews is secretary.

The site for the buildings and grounds was donated by S. L. Forrest, Lamesa lumberman, and is located just south of the city limits at the end of Houston street. Much interest is being shown in the fair and with the best crops the county has ever produced it is anticipated that the year's fair will be the best ever held here.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this means of thanking the good people of Brownfield and Terry county for their splendid co-operation, and words of sympathy following the accidental death and burial of our beloved grandson, son and brother. Also, for the many floral offerings in tribute to him. May God richly bless each of you is our earnest prayer.

J. P. Benson and family.
Mrs. Robert E. Benson.

We call your attention to the ad of the Lee O. Allen Gin, at Tokio, Lee O. says his new gin is up in A-1 condition ready to go, and you Yoakum county and Tokio farmers know that he means what he says.

Oldsmobile Predicts Record Breaking Year

Returning just recently from Lansing, Mich., where he attended the national sales convention of Oldsmobile, Mr. C. E. Ross, of Ross Motor Company predicted a record breaking sales year in Brownfield for the new 1938 Oldsmobile sixes and eights which he saw on display for the first time at the Oldsmobile factory.

"After looking at the models Oldsmobile is presenting for the coming year I am convinced that there will be a greater swing to Oldsmobile in 1938 than ever before," Mr. Ross said.

Attending the Oldsmobile convention with Mr. Ross were Terry Redford, C. K. Kendrick, and Money Price of Brownfield and D. D. Roberts and Claude Hearne of Seagraves.

The local contingent were among representatives of Oldsmobile's Dallas Zone who were in Lansing at the same time. Altogether, more than 8,500 Oldsmobile dealers, sales managers, and salesmen traveled from all parts of the country to take part in the series of meetings which extended over a period of two weeks.

Special trains carried delegates from their own cities direct to the Oldsmobile factory at Lansing. There the sleeping cars were switched on sidings, so that delegates could attend meetings in Oldsmobile's huge plant auditorium.

In addition to viewing the new 1938 model Oldsmobiles, those attending heard discussions of Oldsmobile's sales plans for the coming year as presented by D. E. Ralston, Oldsmobile general sales manager. They also were addressed by C. L. McCuen, Oldsmobile general manager, G. R. Browder, assistant general sales manager in charge of retail sales, and C. Havens, advertising manager.

J. B. Knight and family and Mr. and Mrs. Redford Smith, were out looking at the fine crops Sunday afternoon. That seems to be the Sunday afternoon diversion for town people these days, but watermelon patches are growing far between. Also roasting ears.

C. H. DeFratus business man of Denison, Texas, was here this week prospecting. He had lunch Wednesday noon with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stricklin Jr.

Mrs. John Blake was a Lubbock visitor, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cruce spent Sunday in Levelland visiting relatives.

Mr. St. Clair of Levelland visited his son, Jim, here Monday.

"Starches, proteins, calories and vitamins are indeed hard to keep tab on. Isn't it nice to know that milk contains the proper food elements in the best and most digestible form. And the Brownfield Dairy furnishes the best milk," says The Brindle Bossy.

Band Concert at The Cam Sears Farm

Quite a number of cars from town and the surrounding community assembled out at the C. Sears farm last Sunday afternoon to hear the Brownfield high school band in a short concert. Everyone seemed to enjoy the concert and the friendly greeting of Mr. Sears and family.

Following the concert, watermelons by the dozen were cut and offered to the crowd, but there were enough melons for twice the amount of people.

"Was that Serena?" "Yes. She must know I often imitate Anna," Victoria said thoughtfully.

CHAPTER XIII

Victoria raised her round eyes. "Is that the line?"

"Was That Serena?"

is so damn discreet! "Doctor, Mrs. Morrison, and she says she's in great pain! That's for the benefit of the people who are waiting, people in real pain. We used to think it was a great joke. It doesn't seem so funny now! And the minute she comes in, 'Quent, what have I done? Who's been talking about me?'"

The fashion picture, so brightly drawn for the 1937 style-conscious people, is nevertheless "black."

Black is what the chic woman will wear—morning, luncheon, afternoon and evening, whether she is business woman, butterfly, young matron or over fifty. Even the college and high school girls will include black in their wardrobes.
 The man who is fashion-conscious will likewise recognize the importance of black, whether he is business or professional man or young college blade.

Although black is considered first place, other colors claim their attention too. There are the browns in livelier tones, coffee, Margo and Acajou. Green may be definitely Erin, as bright as a shamrock. Wines in richness add their note. But where is the blue? The navy stand-by has been almost completely overlooked but if you happen onto a briliant blue—it's the height of smartness.

FINER MATERIALS AND ACCESSORIES STRESSED

Finer materials, with more real silk in evidence; designs that are definitely feminine, highlights of metal and jewels for trim, master-craft tailoring, furs in abundance, and quality fur too, are giving to the ready-to-wear for women a tone of luxury not evidenced in many seasons.

History repeats itself. From the gay days at the turn of the century, styles have received their inspiration. If you choose a garment that definitely smacks of 1900—a day so close that it is just now taking on the glamour given by the lengthening distance of time—you are just as up-to-the-minute in this 1937 as you would have been 37 years ago.

THE METHODIST CHURCH

R. T. Breedlove, Pastor

All regular services of the church will be resumed next Sunday. We were glad to see a great number of our Methodist folk over to welcome Brother Rogers, the Baptist pastor, last Sunday evening at the preaching service. A good congregation greeted this pastor when he preached on "How to Win a Fight" last Sunday morning. The subject for next Sunday morning is "The God of the Living," and Brother Ike would like to see every member of the Methodist church present with a good many of their friends. The evening subject will be especially evangelistic. There have been additions almost every regular service of the church recently. If you are a new addition to the town, and if you are a Methodist, come over and help us, for we need you, and you need the church.

COLORADO WEDDING

While making an over-night visit to relatives in Colorado last Friday and Saturday, The Rev. R. T. Breedlove, united in marriage a fine young man and woman of that city. The Longs are old friends of the pastor's family and were members of one of his churches in Fannin county, Texas.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S UNION

This is a regular custom of the presiding elder of the Lubbock District and the District Lay Leaders, Mr. Griggs. Six different meetings are planned and held in the district on each fifty Sunday.
