

MORE THAN SEVENTY CONTRIBUTORS OF STORIES FOR HISTORICAL ISSUE TO BE PUBLISHED ON DECEMBER 17

We are more than grateful for the wonderful cooperation given us by seventy-odd contributors of true life stories based on facts and statistics on everything of any importance to our citizenship, written in their own style of writing. We are also grateful to the business houses who have and are taking display advertising space, which is the only means of making this edition possible.

It is our intention to use all of the material and pictures brought in to us from all over the county that are of historical value and of importance to illustrate the beauty of Brownfield and Terry County to the world. This edition will be a greater boost for Terry County and its progress and development program than anything else ever attempted.

The task has been greater than we realized and the time has been comparatively short, but by working night and day, we feel that we can get everything done that should be done in time to publish December 17, as planned.

It is taking us a great deal of time to get the necessary pictures and cuts made for the edition, so, for this reason, we are asking those who will have pictures and cuts made to please cooperate with us as much as possible in getting the pictures as early as they can, as time is our most serious problem from now until publishing date.

Weekly Cotton Grade And Staple Report

The grades of cotton for Texas this week are slightly lower than those of the previous week and are also lower than the total for the season. Grades, however, are much better this week and for the season than those of last year for similar periods.

Slightly over one-third of the cotton this week was White Middling and better, with a similar proportion reported for White Strict Low Middling and Low Middling. All Spotted grades represented 32 percent for the current week. About 3 percent of all cotton classed during the week was of untenderable grades. A larger proportion, 9 percent, of untenderable grades has been reported to date in district 5 than in other districts of the state.

Based on the official cotton standards, 25 percent of all cotton classed to date this season has been White Strict Middling and better, 30 percent White Middling, and 19 percent White Strict Low Middling and Low Middling.

Approximately 35 percent of the cotton this week was shorter than 7-8 inch in staple, which is a much larger proportion than for any previous week this season.

Tenant Purchase Program Instituted

Counties in which the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Purchase program will be administered in its first year will be selected at a meeting of the four-state advisory committee to be held at Amarillo, Texas, on December 3, according to word received here by Dennis Q. Lilly, rural rehabilitation supervisor for the Farm Security Administration.

Immediately after the committee selects the counties in Kansas, Oklahoma, Colorado and Texas, in which the farm purchase loans will be made to tenant farmers, county committees will be appointed and the program inaugurated with the least possible delay.

The four-state committee is composed of John E. Hill, Amarillo, Texas, chairman; George Drum, Sharon Springs, Kan.; John Hiatt, Meade, Kan.; Adolph Hansen, Granada, Colo.; Marshall Dean, Las Animas, Colo.; Ed C. Morrison, Goodwell, Okla.; and the following members from Texas, C. H. Day, Plainview; C. L. Thomas, Pampa; and A. B. Crump, Wheeler.

A forced smile is never effective.

Be Entertained and Help The Underprivileged

On next Tuesday and Thursday nights, the Lions Club will put on their play to help the underprivileged children of the city and community. The reason they are using two nights is that not nearly all who wish to do so will be able to see the minstrel the first night, and a skip of Wednesday night will give those taking part a chance to rest and get ready for the Thursday night performance.

Last year, funds derived from their play went to help buy glasses for those whose parents were unable to buy them, as well as other clinical help. Note their page ad in this issue of the Herald. It reads like a business directory of the city. Everyone wants to help all they can, and we hope the boys don't give a single free pass, except perhaps to the underprivileged. More than 100 business and professional men said by their signature under this ad, "Yes, we are with you 100 percent in this great undertaking."

For their work in making ticket sales, the Band Mothers get a percentage, which will be applied on buying new suits for the band. In fact every penny derived from any connection with the play will be used for a worthy purpose.

First Monday Trades-day Not Allowed to Die

A bunch of the progressive merchants got together this month despite talk of dropping Tradesday on the first Monday, and put 'er over. Word was passed out by those who had seen Tradesday dropped for a few weeks that it was the hardest matter in the world to get the date going again without the expenditure of a lot of extra expense and advertising.

So, despite the busy times, the Tradesday program from beginning to end will be put on again Monday. The merchants are making some very attractive prices for that day, some of which will carry special prices over from Saturday. It is believed now that people are well enough up with their rush of fall gathering to come in on that day much better than last First Monday.

So, run the cats out of the house and chain the dogs for that day and come in for another big Tradesday.

The New Fords Are Here at Last

As per their announcement in this issue of the Herald, the new 1938 Ford V-8 type of cars go on display at the Tudor Sales Co. show rooms on west Main Street. Be sure that you go in some time this week and see them at least, or better, ask for a demonstration.

The Ford has very pretty lines in these new models, which will make you think of the Lincoln Zephyrs, and really they are on a small scale, and will skim over the plains, hills and climb the mountains to your entire satisfaction.

And the cars really look bigger, and the de luxe are larger. In fact, Ford is giving a lot of car with all the trimmings for the money. All the standard Ford lines may be equipped with either 60 or 80 horsepower.

But see the cars. That is better than any description we can give here.

Dealers Report Many Car Sales

Those dealers who have had the good luck to have new car deliveries are reporting many sales. The following are the past week sales of Carter Chevrolet Co.:

T. M. Miller, Lovington, N. M., Master Town Sedan; Adams & Smith, 157 Dual truck; J. C. McClish, Lovington, N. M., master coupe; W. H. Hill, city, Master Town Sedan; Burson McElroy, city, a car; Clarence Lewis, De Luxe town sedan.

Ross Motor Company The Ross Motor Co., reports the following sales: W. M. Luna, Plains, Terraplane Victoria Coupe; J. D. Weaver, Jr. Seagraves, Terraplane Broughton.

Running Combines in Grain Fields in Terry

There is always something new under the sun to us, disputing Mr. Solomon, notwithstanding. That is, there might not have been anything new in Solomons days, and to him, who was supposed to be inspired of Jehovah, but weans of this day and time run up against a lot of things we never heard of before, and one of them is running combines in fields of maize, feretira, higeria, etc.

We knew that wheat and oats were thus handled, but until Mon Telford mentioned last week that a combine was cutting his feed, such matters was Greek to us. In fact, when he mentioned it, we thought he was spoofing. But we live to learn. He says that he can have his feed headed and threshed as cheaply as he can get it cut by hand, then he has to have it threshed to sell it on the market to do any good these days.

So, a big combine, that cuts and threshes many acres in one day, is put into the fields, and every once in awhile a truck brings a load of the threshed grain and dumps it into your grainery, or wherever you want it, and the job is done in one fell swoop. And right now, you might have a sweet time getting any grain cut anyway, with all this cotton in the fields.

Not only are the combines cutting a lot of the feed this year, such as mentioned above, but Mon let us in that more and more of that method of harvesting would be the rage from year to year. Well, they now break and plant and cultivate by machinery, why not harvest the crop by the same route?

Pen and Pencil Offer Extended Again

After extending our fountain pen and pencil offer with the Herald through November, we were very confident that it would end the premium offer for this fall at least, but so many have asked that we extend the offer another month, we have decided to do so. This asking us is no "bull" either, it has actually happened.

Here's the reason. Many of the farmers still have their government loans on cotton process of closing. In the meantime, some have had to borrow money for expenses, such as picking and ginning. While a great many have had their loans closed and have received their money, a lot of others have not.

Several of the latter have asked us to extend the offer. In the last three weeks we have put out 200 sets for new readers and renewals, and we have ordered another supply. So, if you call to renew and we do not have the sets, they will be here in a few days. Your name will be filed, and your set delivered when they arrive.

Townsend Plan Speaker Coming to Lubbock

Perhaps most of the readers of the esteemed Terry County Herald know that we, the (Townsend People) now have a bill pending in congress, known as the General Welfare Bill, No. H. R. 1199. Only about 10 percent of our voters know anything about the merits of this bill.

If you want to hear the real merits of this bill discussed, hear Judge Summers of Los Angeles, at Lubbock, December 13, 7:30 p. m. Judge Summers is a great thinker, a sound reasoner. No matter what your trade or profession may be, hear this man. Are you listening?

Herald Kept Him From Being Lonesome

Our old friend, A. V. Taylor, who for the past few years has been afflicted with palsy, was in to see us last week end. He has just moved back to the old place in the Tokio community, after spending some time in the lower altitude of Taylor county, to see if it would help him.

Mr. Taylor said the weekly visits of the old Herald was a great comfort and consolation to him, and kept him from being so lonesome among strangers. If the weekly visits of the Herald made him forget his affliction for just a few hours each week, the publishers feel well paid for getting the paper down to him each week.

Some Advantage of A Cotton Oil Mill

There's a charge made of approximately $1.25 on each bale of cotton where a government loan is applied for and made. This charge, high or low, is lost, you don't get it back.

If every farmer, whether he is a renter or owner, would put $1.00 for each bale of cotton he raises or receives into shares in the Brownfield Cotton Oil Company, along with those who have already subscribed, Brownfield will have an oil mill.

Don't take our word for it, but this dollar, according to a reliable engineering firm with some 50 years experience located in Dallas has furnished figures for the Security Commissioner of the State of Texas showing this mill based on running 6,000 tons of seed each season would show a net profit after all expenses of better than 75c on each dollar. Assuming their figures to be correct and they have no reason to be otherwise, the company could pay at least 50c on each dollar in dividends, the balance to be used for expansion and reserve.

Don't let this talk of not getting enough seed to operate a mill here scare you, for your own county has had for the past 14 years a cotton production sufficient to produce over 8,000 tons of seed and this doesn't include this year's crop. From sources believed to be reliable, enough seed leaves the South Plains each year for Terminal Mills located in Houston and other cities to supply seed for a mill thirty times the size contemplated. In case of necessity, cotton seed could be brought here and milled, as the best outlet for cake is right here, reaching south-west into New Mexico.

A mill built here as planned and enough people located here are interested the profits not only will be distributed here, but also spent here. Just how many times each dividend dollar will pass from one person to another before it leaves here, no one can say, but it's a cinch if some chain mill comes here not one cent will ever stay in Brownfield.

No foolish guarantees are made for this statement, but a mill here should from natural circumstances raise the price of cotton seed. That alone would justify any cotton raiser interesting himself in this project.

The organizers have spent considerable time on this deal. They haven't asked you to put your money into some unproved scheme. True, there's a small selling expense of 10 percent to take care of all organization and other expenses. Your money is all escrowed in one of the local banks for safe-keeping until sufficient money is raised to build the mill. There are no salaries or other expenses deducted. Either an oil mill is built or the Security Commissioner will notify the bank to return your money.

There are always those who feel that this or that can't be done, but if those who can afford to, without hindering their business financially, will get behind this proposition, the organizers can fulfill their end of the bargain and complete this mill.

This mill should do three things for Brownfield and Terry County: it will have an annual payroll of over $15,000 per year, pay the city about $6,000 per annum for power, $1,000 in taxes, and it should increase the price of cotton seed and distribute many thousands in dividends.—Contributed.

$176.76 Collected for Red Cross in Terry

The sum of $176.76 was collected last week end for Red Cross in Terry county, of this amount, $153.51 was raised in Brownfield, and $23.25 in Meadow. The local solicitors were Mesdames Irene Black, R. L. Harris and C. F. Hamilton, and Misses Althea Lundstrom, Olga Fitzgerald, Bettie Shelton and Jane Brownfield. The Meadow solicitors were Mesdames Floyd Copeland, Arlie Hartzog and Leonard Chessir.

It is understood that half of all funds collected are for local use, the other half going to National headquarters in Washington. A first aid station is to be established at the Copeland Drug store at Meadow. The Meadow branch elected Mrs. Floyd Copeland chairman. Plains is still in this district, but up to noon Tuesday had made no report.

While nothing was said about first aid stations here, it is thought the hospitals and clinics will be used as such here.

Mr. Bud Davis was called to Star City, Ark., on account of the illness of his father.

WPA Spending Millions In This Section

LUBBOCK.—Expenditures of $3,817,266 were made on Works Progress Administration projects in the 23 counties now administered from the Lubbock office during the first two fiscal years of operation, it was disclosed today by J. O. Jones, administrative officer.

Local political subdivisions have expended $1,060,901 or 29 percent of the total on WPA projects. The Federal government has contributed $2,756,365. Explaining that the amount of money expended by WPA in each locality depends upon the number of available certified workers and upon the amount of money which can be provided by the sponsors of projects, Jones listed expenditures by counties in the Lubbock administrative areas as follows:

Bailey County, WPA $49,826, sponsors $20,707; Borden County, WPA $9,536, sponsors $3,821; Cochran County, WPA $41,971, sponsors $22,154; Crosby County, WPA $190,091, sponsors $47,342; Dawson County, WPA $108,458, sponsors $40,327; Dickens County, WPA $102,632, sponsors $69,186; Floyd County, WPA $128,824, sponsors $50,544; Gaines County, WPA $7,278, sponsors $3,328; Garza County, WPA $69,545, sponsors $26,595; Hockley County, WPA $86,626, sponsors $43,201; Lamb County, WPA $155,465, sponsors $95,336; Lubbock County, WPA $551,330, sponsors $152,493; Lynn County, WPA $87,100, sponsors $35,032; Terry County, WPA $98,654, sponsors $47,150.

Prizes for the Best Christmas Decorations

Regardless of the outcome of our efforts to stage a Santa Claus distribution of Christmas packages to the school children of Terry and Yoakum Counties, an attempt to decorate the city of Brownfield will be carried on.

The Chamber of Commerce will offer prizes for the best decorated residence in each of three sections that have been designated. Prizes of $5.00 as First prize and $2.50 as Second prize will be paid. District ONE is that portion of the City South of Main Street and East of Fifth Street.

District TWO is that portion of the City North of Main Street and East of Fifth Street.

District THREE is that portion of the City West of Fifth Street. It will be necessary for anyone who desires to enter the contest to leave their names at the office of the Chamber of Commerce, in order that the Committee may inspect and recommend awards. Decorations must be completed by the night of December 14th and kept in use until December 31st.

While it is expected that our business men will fall in line and decorate their places of business, no premium will be offered in this division.

Terry Had Passed 1936 Ginnings Nov. 14

On account of rank growth of cotton this year, as well as a long, warm fall, it took Terry county until the report of ginnings up to November 14th, to pass those of last year, which was a dry year, but we are way ahead now, and going good. This year up to November 14, Terry had ginned 20,338, and at same time last year 16,660. Report of other neighboring counties to the 14th, from official ginnings report is as follows:

Lubbock 80,949
Lynn 77,206
Dawson 67,919
Crosby 56,128
Lamb 50,119
Hockley 33,584
Dickens 23,928
Hale 22,690
Garza 22,428
Terry 20,338
Floyd 17,742
Cochran 6,659
Gaines 4,218

Ellis headed the list at that time with 99,698, followed by San Patricio and Nueces, but it is believed that they are nearly through gathering, while the south Plains is still in a weaving way, and that the report at the beginning of this month show at least three south Plains counties, leading the state, Lubbock, Lynn and Dawson, all of which join or corner with Terry county.

CUBS DECLARED CHAMPS AT THE DISTRICT MEETING

Making Effort To Bring Santa to Town

J. E. Shelton, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, is authority for the information contained herein, and if we misquote Mr. Shelton, we'll just say we tried to get him to write it, and he said he didn't have the time to spare. Well, we've more time than anything else.

The idea is this, that the Rotarian and Lion Clubs, the Chamber of Commerce, assisted by the Maids and Matrons Club, will endeavor to raise sufficient money to bring old Santa Claus (in person) to Brownfield on Wednesday, December 15th, at which time, he will lead a parade down main street from the school plant into the city.

Every school in the county will be asked to turn out, and let the kids come to town to see Santa. Each child will be given a package of candy, and handed a circular, and this circular will admit each and every Terry county school kid to shows at both the Rialto and Ritz. As we understand it, these free shows will run during the morning hours, and the school boy and girl can go to one of the shows, come out and attend the other. This complimentary of Earl Jones, proprietor of the Rialto and Ritz theatres.

As stated in another article, if this is not put over, the old town will be lit up like a Poleox church with all kinds of Christmas lights, and the merchants are going to vie with each other to see who will have the prettiest stores and show windows. And there are many prizes offered for residential decorations. But Brownfield will not fail to get old Santa here. There is a bunch of men here who do not know the word fail. But this we'll say—

Watch the Herald next week for further announcements.

Baptist Building Fund Coming Satisfactorily

The building fund of the Baptist church is increasing rapidly. The last figures show the amount to be $16,374.61. This represents the giving of 98 people. It is desired and urged that each member and other Baptists make known to the Building Committee or Board of Deacons the amount they will give, to be paid by May 1st.

The Committee and Deacons deeply appreciate the fine spirit that has been manifest on the host of all in this matter. They ask the cooperation of all. Join in the giving to the Building fund.

An all church school of mission begins at the Baptist Church Sunday and continues throughout the week. Returned missionaries will speak each evening. Rev. Nelson from Brazil will speak at the Sunday night service, following which will be a Baptist service.

A Christmas Cantata, "The Lost Carol," is being practiced, each Wednesday and Friday evenings at the church. This dramatic carol will be presented during the Christmas seasons. All the singers of the church are urged to attend the practice services and have part in this program. Sunday School 9:45

Highway Dept. Orders Survey On No. 51

At the last session of the State Highway Commission, on Nov. 26th, among other things that were transacted was changing control or jurisdiction of 51 from Levelland to Meadow, from Levelland to Brownfield. Thus, it is believed that 137 instead of stopping at Meadow, will now come on to the juncture of the Lubbock and Levelland roads, just south of the railroad crossing north of the city.

The engineering department was instructed to make a survey and location of this highway from Levelland to Brownfield. Thus, the fruits of the several meetings of late, at Vega first, then McCamey and here, are bearing fruits, and that it will not be a great while until we will be connected with the north as well as the northeast by a good highway.

For the second time in as many days, the Brownfield High school Cubs last night were certified as football champions of District 5, Class B, of the Interscholastic League.

With Chairman D. A. Edwards, superintendent of Crosbyton schools, presiding, District 5's athletic executive committee sat in called session at Hilton hotel last night to hear a protest lodged by Littlefield High school authorities regarding the eligibility of Lloyd Grider, guard on the Brownfield team which on Saturday had been certified by Chairman Edwards as the district representative.

Case Defended Successfully Brownfield officials, led by Superintendent M. L. H. Baze, successfully defended the Grider case, introducing the Grider family Bible and other records in an effort to establish proof that Lloyd Grider was not over the 19-year age limit. Superintendent Hemphill of Littlefield had introduced testimony indicating the boy was born Feb. 2, 1918. He presented a telegram from a person or persons at Arlington, former home of Grider, and submitted copy of a census statement, to that effect.

Superintendent Baze of Brownfield countered with a number of census reports and the family Bible, a page of which was devoted to names and birthdays of members of the Grider family, and which supported Baze's contention that the boy was born Feb. 2, 1919.

Decision Is Signed

Signing the committee decision, which certified Brownfield as the champion, were Chairman Edwards, Secretary J. M. Rankin, superintendent at Ralls; Superintendent Hayes Holman of Post, Superintendent B. F. Minor of Levelland, and Elmer J. Moore, principal, and Lee Dodson, representing Olton and Tahoka respectively. Brownfield and Littlefield superintendents did not sit in on the proceedings. Lamesa and Slaton superintendents were not present, although Coach Ted McCollum of Lamesa represented his school.

Brownfield is to meet Roscoe, champion of District 6, in bi-district competition Friday, either at Roscoe or Sweetwater.

Plan for Basketball

Plans for the coming basketball season were discussed last night, the representatives voting to carry on a district championship race starting January 4. Olton and Crosbyton, members of the northern half of the district, withdrew from the basketball campaign, leaving eight teams. Brownfield was arbitrarily transferred to the northern half with Levelland, Ralls and Littlefield, leaving Slaton, Tahoka, Post and Lamesa in the southern division. Each division will play a double round robin schedule, winners in each to play a series for the district title.

The protest last night was the third heard by the executive committee regarding football. The other two went against Slaton and Lamesa, which had been protested on the grounds of allowing ineligible players to compete.

Registration in Brownfield Schools Limited To Certain Weeks

A resolution passed by the Brownfield school board at its meeting Monday night limited enrollment in the grade schools to certain weeks. Hereafter all pupils enrolling in the grade schools must enroll during the first or fourth weeks of the grade period. After this week pupils will not be enrolled until during the week of December 20. After that week pupils will not be enrolled again until during the week of January 17.

This action is given to protect pupils, parents, and the teachers. To continue to enroll children every day and begin new classes is not fair to children who have been making efforts to stay in school. A teacher must not be expected to begin a new class every Monday morning. Parents please take notice of this action and do not expect the teachers to make exceptions.

The Official Paper of Terry County and the City of Brownfield.

We understand the Brownfield News has changed hands again, going back into the hands of the Wade Brothers again, but we failed to learn their initials. Mr. Murray McWhorter, recent owner, has not stated what his intentions are for the future. The Wade boys are all printers, being raised up in the shop of the father, F. L. Wade of Jayton Chronicle.

Business is reported to be slowing up in the east, but out here where the people don't meddle with the stock market all the time, trying to beat a lot of New York gamblers, business is the best it has been for years. All stock exchanges could close tomorrow for all time, and the people out here wouldn't know it till they read it in the papers.

Here's a good one on one of our local business men. He was down in Fort Worth not so long ago, and got broke and wired a local bank to telegraph him some funds. The hotel where the money was wired to, wanted to know how they would know the customer. "You will know him by his cussing." The customer came in and presented the money order to the cashier, who asked if he knew anyone in Fort Worth that could identify him. "H— no, I don't know a d— soul here." That's all you need to say, said the young lady, you are the right man.

This writer got considerable kick out of reading last week's issues of the Littlefield and Lamesa papers. Of course that was before the games Brownfield vs. Levelland, and Littlefield vs. Lamesa. We never perused four papers that used the word "if" as many times as they. Both of course were depending on beating each other, and figuring their "ifs" in such a way that Levelland would lick the Brownfield Cubs. But all their "ifs" have "Gone with the wind."

Yeah! Boy! old Brownfield is sure going to be "lit up" for Christmas, and we don't mean with the bottle, but the bright lights. To our notion, this is going to be one of the most gay holidays that we have had for many years. If you will just take the time off to note the variety of gifts in the stores, you will find they are higher grade than has been on Brother Richardson of the Anton News must have been raised in the sticks too, as he, like the Herald cannot understand why it is necessary for a good American to Wapize his name in order to be a singer or actor, and showed it in speaking of Joe Benton of Oklahoma changing his name to Bentonelli. Personally we had much rather be kin to old Senator Thomas Hart Benton of Missouri than anybody in Mussolino's nation. How would the late Will Rogers, of Oklahoma, have felt, looked or said if some had called him Signor Catignani Bustinowsky? No one would get off lightly calling Andrew Jackson Stricklin such a name. But if you are born with an outlandish name you can't help it, and we have no criticism.

THE SEAGRAVES "PREVIEW" ON A RAGE

The "Preview" of the Gaines County News, known as the Seagraves Daily, that Terry County Herald sent us last week, was received as The Review was going to press, and we did not have time to reply fully to ravings it carried against The Herald as well as The Review.

Of course everybody knows there are but two real newspapers in this immediate oil section—The Herald and The Review. For that reason neither one of these papers has to be always yelling how great it is, as they are not strangers to the field of journalism. But that does not mean anything to our contem, on the south side. He is too much given to the idea of lambasting his neighbors in his preview, after which he does not send a copy to his victims. Neither The Review nor The Herald would have known anything about his lashings had it not been for Mr. Stricklin's friends right in Willard's own town, who knew his tactics and beat him to his game. (At last his attack has been received in his weekly.)

That is O K to compare The Review and The Herald. Why, Willard, we recently had a letter that contained this sentence: "I certainly do enjoy the Cat-Claw column in your paper. You are as good as Brisbane!" Then this from a very busy merchant, before the death of the great columnist: "I keep up with national and world events by reading the Cat-Claw and Brisbanes column." So you see we are accustomed to favorable comparison.

No Herald, Bright does not know the rules or else he would have sent us his attack as soon as it was printed. But this is the first time he has received any particular attention from the contemporaries, and we will have to overlook it.

But can you see him as he recites this old rhyme: "And still doth the wonder grow, that one small head can hold all I know." — Yoakum County Review.

O. K. Willard, you asked for it, and got it where the turkey got the ax.

There is probably no place on earth better than a country newspaper office to learn how many kinds of people there are. Some get huffy if a statement is sent, others will not pay until they receive a statement. Some will pay without a statement and others won't pay whether a statement is sent or not. Some think they owe more, and some think they don't owe so much. Some say they couldn't get along without the paper and others say it doesn't amount to much. But the meanest, scrubbiest in the list is the man who takes it and is shut off for non-payment and then spends all his time explaining how he used to "take the thing" but stopped it because it was "no 'count."—Ex.

THE PUBLIC FORGOT

For business men who appear to think the public does not need to be constantly reminded of who they are, where they are, and what they have to sell, the well-known story of what happened to a product called Pyle's Bearline will bear repeating.

In the early years of this century, Pearlina, a cleaning material, was used by most of the housewives of the country. In 1904 the company spent $500,000 in advertising. Then the advertising was greatly curtailed, and about 1907 it was discontinued altogether, as the company thought the product was so well known that no further advertising was necessary.

Sales fell off rapidly, but the company's owners persisted in their non-advertising policy until 1915 when the whole concern was sold for $12,000. Pearlina was dead.

Many other products whose names were household words a few years ago are no longer sold, because the manufacturers failed to keep up their advertising, and consequently the public forgot them.

Business men should remember that new generations of potential customers are coming along all the time, and that these new buyers must be sold on a product or a store as their fathers and mothers were before them.

The only time it is safe to stop advertising is when one is ready to go out of business.—Clarendon News.

GARNER TO MAKE GRASS GROW ON BALD SPOTS

WASHINGTON, Dec.—The Washington Evening Star said today President Roosevelt has assigned to Vice President Garner the job of making grass grow under the shade trees on the White House lawn.

The bald spots have withstood various lawn seed.

However, the newspaper said, Garner came along and assured Mr. Roosevelt he could make grass grow where it never had before, explaining he had experimented for years on his own lawn at Uvalde, Tex.

Mr. Roosevelt listened, then gave the job so quickly that Garner was at a loss for words, the paper said, but nevertheless sent home for some of the "magic seed."

Accident Hazards in Home and on Farm Cause Greatest Annual Death Toll

IF YOU live on a heavy traffic corner in a great city, it may be hard for you to believe that the bedroom in which you lie vainly trying to sleep while automobiles hoot and crash on the corner, is less safe than the busy traffic lane.

If you live on a farm you consider your cool barn a safer place than the machine room of the city factory where lathes and belts whirl all day long. But in both instances you are wrong. Public attention, concentrated on automobile deaths and injuries, is being directed by the American Red Cross to the fact that accidental deaths in the home claim a greater annual toll. Automobile fatalities last year for the nation numbered 37,800; while people killed by accidents in their homes totalled 38,500. Safety drives in industries and utilities have reduced accidents until the deaths last year were 2,300 while on the farm, where safety is only now being taught by the Red Cross, annual death toll was 4,500.

The bedroom is shown by safety experts to be the most dangerous room in the house, largely due to falls and walking in the dark. On the farm, machinery causes the greatest number of accidental deaths, with injury by animals ranking second.

The American Red Cross launched its third annual Home and Farm Accident Prevention campaign this fall. More than 500 million checks and showings have been carried home by school children, including members of the Junior Red Cross. Parents were asked to check these lists against conditions which might exist and from which accidental death or serious injury might result if repairs were not made, or caution observed. This widely acclaimed safety program is one of the many services of the Red Cross supported through its annual roll call for members conducted by chapters and their branches in 12,000 communities.

You take your life in your hands every time you commit one of these careless acts: At the top left, if the bulb gives injury will be the result. Can-openers are cheap, light construction of a wet hand and body and broken electric wiring will result in a serious electric shock and death. Safeguard electric appliances by checking them against the list. A vicious bull with a stick to keep it from charging and a rope the bull could charge him.

TEXAS CATTLE SHIPPED TO OTHER STATES

AUSTIN, Texas.—Live stock shipments from Texas to out-of-state points continued at a high rate during October, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research has reported. Shipments of all classes of live stock totaled 9,017 cars, compared with 5,789 cars in October last year, an increase of 56 per cent. Cattle shipments totaled 5,534 cars compared with 3,653 cars in October last year, an increase of 51 per cent; calves 1,945 as compared with 1,255 cars, up 55 per cent; hogs 501 as compared with 388, a gain of 30 per cent; and sheep 1,037 as compared with 493 cars, an increase of 108 per cent. During the first ten months of the year shipments aggregated 77,421 cars, compared with 48,995 during the corresponding period last year, an increase of 56 per cent.

DON'T STOP MY PAPER

Don't stop my paper, Mr. Editor, Don't strike my name off yet; You know the times are stringent, And dollars hard to get. But tug a little harder Is what I mean to do, And scrape the dimes together, Enough for me and you.

I can't afford to drop it; I find it doesn't pay To do without a paper. However others may. I hate to ask my neighbors To give me theirs to loan; They don't just say, but mean it— Why don't you have your own?

You can't tell how we miss it If by any fate Should happen not to reach us, Or come a little late. Then all is in a hubbub, And things all go awry, And, Mr. Editor, if you're married, You know the reason why.

I can not do without it, It is no use to try; For other people take it, And, Mr. Editor, so must I. I, too, must keep posted And know what it going on, Or feel to be accounted A foggy simpleton.

Then take it kindly, Mr. Editor, If pay is somewhat slow; For cash is not so plenty, And wants not few, you know, But I must have my paper, Cost what it may to me. I'd rather dock my sugar And do without my tea.

So, Mr. Editor, don't stop it, Unless you want my frown. For here's the year's subscription, And credit is right down. And send the paper promptly And regularly on, And let it bring us weekly Its welcome benison. —A Subscriber.

Help the Underprivileged

Come To The

LIONS NEGRO MINSTREL

Brownfield High School, December 7th and 9th

Last year the local Lions Club distributed 24 pairs of shoes and 40 or 50 items of other clothing to underprivileged children, enabling them to go to school and take their places in the community life. The total amount spent in that work of helpfulness was $650, raised in part by the Minstrel Show of a year ago. The money raised in the present show is to go to needy children. No more worthy cause could be found.

The local club has now 36 members, having about doubled its roll during the last year. Lions International has 85,000 members in the United States. As a service organization, it is delivering help to the blind and crippled and other underprivileged second to no group in the world. All the money raised here and in Seagraves, when the show is given there, will be spent in TERRY COUNTY for those needing it. Buy a ticket, see a good show, and at the same time be assured that your money is going to help people in our own county.

Forrester Items

I suppose our school at Forrester will start in the near future now as it has been turned out for quite a while now to give the children the advantage of picking cotton.

Well the cotton has begun to disappear out of the fields now as by magic as we have had nice weather for the last several days with the exception of a little frost and a little cool some of the mornings.

Mr. Jess Young has been sent to preach for the coming year for the Methodist people at the Forrester church. We welcome Brother Young in our midst.

Cecil Warren and wife of near Lubbock was down to see Mrs. Warren's mother, Mrs. Zachary Sunday. Mr. W. J. Baldwin, wife and Archie went to see Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Mathis of the Hunter community Sunday.

The Forrester School will start the first Monday in December. The school was turned out some time back to let the children pick cotton.

Come to the Forrester Sunday School and preaching services.

News scarce this week, will try and do better next time.

5-B NEWS

(Too late for last week)

The 5-B courtesy club of junior high, met Friday nineteenth in their home room.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Zelma Swinney, the minutes were recorded by the secretary, Beverly Pittman, and were approved as read. We then had a play entitled "Mrs. Newlyweds Thanksgiving dinner, directed by Jane Barnwell; the characters were as follows: Mrs. Newlywed, Zelma Swinney; Grandpa Squeers, Coyt Norwood; Mary Smith, Alene Travis; Grocery Boy, Bobby Jones; Little Wilson Boy, Don Cates.

The play was very good, we had a guest, Mr. Brewer and expected Mr. Baze and was very disappointed because he couldn't come.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Bridges visited in the Bart Stinson home Sunday.

Mr. Jeanes of Coleman, former partner of Mr. S. H. Daugherty in the grocery business at this place, was here this week prospecting.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Barnes of Ft. Worth were Thanksgiving guests of Mrs. Barnes' sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Thompson. They returned to their home Monday.

To Publish Santa Claus Letters

As usual, the Herald will try and handle every Santa Claus letter from bone fide children, who have not been "made wise" in the Brownfield trade territory in the next two issues of the Herald.

Make them as brief as possible, with not too much advise to Santa, on what to bring other people. Two little letters have already arrived, and will go in next week.

The Herald hopes that Old Santa will not overlook any little boy or girl, white or black in the Brownfield trade territory this year.

WRECK NEAR SEAGRAVES

Two highway patrolmen were down Wednesday night to check up on a wreck near Seagraves. Two unidentified women figured in the wreck, and were given treatment at a Seagraves hospital. We understand one of them suffered a dislocated knee and both were shaken up considerably.

REXAL CONTEST

The boy and girl contest at the Alexander Drug Store is going to be very interesting from the prizes they have featured in their window.

The young people of the W. M. U. met in customary places at the Baptist church Monday evening from 7 to 8 o'clock. We had forty-nine members and a number of visitors present all were busy doing something for somebody else. We are meeting each night next week in a school of missions for each member of the family. A foreign missionary will speak to us each evening. Also Sunday morning, come and bring the children.

Uncle Tom Chisholm is here the guest of his nephew, G. W. Chisholm and family. Uncle Tom, a minister of the Church of Christ, has been evangelizing in Washington and Oregon, and informed us that "he was just coming south with the ducks and geese."

Hal Bradley, an old timer of Lubbock, and who owned the first or second agency of the Ford cars in Lubbock around 1910, was a visitor in our city this week, and paid the Herald a call just for old time's sake. Much water has run under the bridge since we first met Hal and his dad along about 1910. He is interested in some leases in the region of the shallow oil well in the Brownfield ranch.

Joe J. McGowan, in whose hands the collection of school taxes was placed recently, reports that he is coming along nicely with the job. He collected some $300 in one day recently.

Many of the students and ex-students of Tech college will regret the untimely passing of Dr. A. W. Jackson this week. He was well known to many others than Tech students here.

We note in the Lubbock Avalanche that Jack Markham, of Roswell, N. M., former Brownfield boy, was married recently to Miss Mary Boone, of Lubbock, the ceremony taking place at Clovis, N. M. They will make their home in Lubbock.

Miss Lucille McSpadden, who is attending Tech college, spent the week end with her parents here, Mr. and Mrs. Flem McSpadden.

Lee Roy McCravey sends in his donation to the Herald for another year, as he puts it, "to keep the neighbor's paper coming, and of course wants a pen and pencil set. Good luck to the old A-bar ranch over in old Yoakum. May old Santa be real generous this year.

PIRATES AHOY!

DENTON. — Children who demand the proper cave facilities for playing "Pirate" can easily find them in Texas. The eight principal caverns include Austin Cave, Cascade Caverns near Boerne, Longhorn Cavern near Margie Falls, the third largest cave in the United States, and Wonder Cave at San Marcos. Unexplored ones are Devil's Sink Hole in Edwards County, Jeff Davis Cave in the county of that name; Robber Baron's Cave near San Antonio, which has one knock channel two miles long; and Treasure Cave near Richland Springs, which is said to be the location of buried treasure. EDITOR'S EXPERIENCE IN GETTING SUB. RENEWALS

A few days ago the Herald sent out a letter to 10 each of its most valued subscribers, reminding them their subscriptions were about expiring and gently hinting that an early remittance would be appreciated. Five of them promptly paid up.

One replied he would pay "next week"—but he died. Another said he would pay "the next time he saw us." He went blind. Still another telephoned he would "run down and pay some time soon." Now he has rheumatism and can't even walk. The ninth said he would "see us in a—first." He got religion the other night and will not be able to keep the appointment.

The tenth one has not yet been heard from, and for all is known at this office he may be the party who is now reading this experience. His name has not yet been taken off the list because it seems "sorter" natural to see it there. The management feels it has been a pretty good sport to leave it there, and will appreciate him being an equally good sport and see that it stays "put!"

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Winston are leaving next week for McAllen to spend the winter months.

FOOTBALL NEWS
 The football season has ended. Meadow high started out this year with the largest squad in history. But only about four being experienced men. Getting off to a poor start because of lack of experience the team gradually improved till the last of the season. Next year Meadow will be able to put an experienced and the largest team in history on the field. This year's team will lose only two backfield men and two linemen by graduation. Next year's team will be exceedingly large; with about eight backfield and about 16 linemen who all saw enough action to find out what it was about. The backs weighed from 140 to 180 pounds and the linemen weighed from 125 to 230 lbs.

But to get back to this year's team. Although they were defeated in several games the players gave all they had and fought to the last minute. All several games were lost by a narrow margin such as 7 and 6 in two games. Not a team used powerhouse plays against our team and accomplished a thing. Every powerhouse thrust were stopped, and the opposing team soon learned to use fakes, reverses, spinners, and screened passes and soforth, which the boys had not had time to get the "hang of."

Also short schedule and injuries injured the team toward the last. But watch these Bronchos mow 'em down next year.

Basket ball starts this week with prospects for a fine team.

Foot ball games of the year:
 Plains 0, Meadow 13.
 Ropes 27, Meadow 0.
 Frenship 0, Meadow 0.
 Cooper 7, Meadow 6.
 Jal 40, Meadow 0.
 Lubbock 39, Meadow 13.
 Andrews 7, Meadow 6.
 Seagraves 0, Meadow 0.

The question often arises as to the practical side of a high school course in Home Economics. Many are of the opinion that the class room can impart knowledge only along lines of cooking and sewing, which they say may as well be taught at home. It is true that the course covers these phases of the work. The person who can cook but knows nothing of meal planning or the relation of foods to health is merely beginning.

After all, the person with some knowledge of the principles of cooking through practice can learn to be a good cook from the physical standpoint; perhaps not from a dietetic standpoint. The course of so-called "Cooking" has evolved into one of selection of foods, cookery nutrition and health, selection of equipment, home nursing, family and child guidance.

The so-called "sewing" course has come to include personality development, personal hygiene development, and grooming, selection of clothing, home beautification, and personal relationships. The art of good sewing cannot be over emphasized, but without proper selection of line, color and good effect may be marred.

It is a well known fact that happiness and success depend upon a pleasing personality. There is always room for improvement. The ability to adapt oneself to meet all situations is an asset that comes only through patience and training.

The general aim of home economics is to train girls for present home membership and for future homemakers by training them along lines that will help them to share in the responsibilities of their present homes, and interest them in becoming both practical and efficient homemakers.

Other than class work, home project work provides opportunity for each girl to gain new experiences in the phase of work in which she is most interested.

Every homemaking department sponsors a club for the purpose of promoting pleasant wholesome social affairs; social training; raising the standard of scholarship; to promote healthful girlhood and develop teamwork and friendship.

The field of home economics is still growing. It offers many vacations for girls as well as boys. It is just as important for boys to be able to select their own clothing and food as it is for girls. Their part in homemaking is just as essential and their responsibilities are just as great, why shouldn't they too be given some training along this line?

A course in vocational homemaking is useful regardless of profession. Who is so perfect that regardless of profession. Who is so perfect that some training along the line of social graces will prove worthless.

Mr. and Mrs. Ledbetter went to Houston to the State Teacher's meeting.

Mrs. Bureson stayed in Meadow.

Mr. Hartzog stayed in Meadow.

BASKETBALL

Basketball is beginning today in the Meadow High School. There will be lots of competition for positions on the team. We do not have hopes of a great team like the one last year, but are going to have a smooth five that will be doing great things in the coming years. It is doubtful if any senior becomes a definite starter this year. We have lots of good material and will improve as the season goes along.

The schedule will be made Tuesday night, November 30. On that date the league will work out the schedule. Help us make this year another banner year.

THE HOME ECONOMICS NEWS

The Home Economics girls will have a meeting Thursday, December 2. The second year clothing class will model their general wear dresses. The girls that will model their dresses are: Edna Lee Duffy, Jamie Ruth Decker, Nellam V. Nettles, Loyce Hollers, Estelle Porch, Johnnie Mae Bundrant, Estelle Turnipseed, Juanita Holder and Evelyn Henson. After this there will be a regular business.

FACULTY PLAY WAS A SUCCESS
 The Faculty Play which was put on last Tuesday night proved to be both a dramatic and financial success. Everyone who saw it seemed well pleased.

This was the first Faculty Play ever put on in Meadow. We hope it will be an annual event from now on.

About $90 was taken in on the play. This money will go into the Athletic Fund. It will be paid on different athletic equipment which have been purchased.

The Faculty invited the football boys and pep squad to be their honor guests to the play. This was a surprise to them but they all enjoyed it. About 25 football boys and 35 pep squad members attended.

PINEY WOODS PROSPECTS

A two hundred million dollar industry is not to be sneezed at, and that's what speeded up the pulses of Texas business men when the possibilities of large scale newsprint production in this state became known. The discovery that young slash and yellow pine had no rosin and was therefore suitable for manufacturing into newsprint opened the way for predictions that the huge industry now centered along the Canadian border will move southward eventually. The Southern pine belt extends through East Texas and along the entire gulf coast to the Atlantic, and the growth of trees is much more rapid than in the north.

Everybody wants to fight tuberculosis, and everyone is bound to be interested—as an egoist and an altruist. The Christmas Seal campaign wins support because there are no solicitors to pester the life out of one. I like both the cause and the technique!"

This month people throughout the United States will have an opportunity to contribute by mail to the campaign against tuberculosis supported by the sale of Christmas Seals. Letters enclosing consignments of Seals, to be sent on approval to thousands of Texas citizens, are now being prepared in the offices of the Texas Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated local organizations. "BLACK JACK" COMES BACK UNHERALDED

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—A man whose name was on the lips of every American that mad, joyous Armistice day of 1918 came back to New York today, a passenger without fanfare on the liner Washington.

Nineteen years ago in the crowded cities, in villages and in homes, offices, shops and factories, amid the screams of sirens, the din of noise makers, his name was on many lips—General John J. Pershing, "Black Jack" to his dough-boys. Quite different today was "zero hour" as his ship came into the harbor—the dull boom of a 19-gun salute from Fort Jay greeting him. His former staff officers and associates greeted him at the pier.

Bronchial Coughs Need Creomulsion

Just a common cough, a chest cold, or a bronchial irritation of today may lead to serious trouble tomorrow. They may be relieved now with Creomulsion, an emulsified Creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medicinal combination designed to aid nature in soothing and healing infected mucous membranes by allaying irritation and inflammation and by aiding in loosening and expelling the germ-laden phlegm. The Medical Profession has for many years recognized the beneficial effect of Beechwood Creosote in the treatment of coughs, chest colds, and bronchial irritations. A special process was worked out by a chemist, for blending Creosote with other ingredients and now in Creomulsion you get a real dose of genuine Beechwood Creosote which is palatable and can even be taken frequently and continuously by both adults and children. Creomulsion is one preparation that goes to the very seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm. When coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles—due to common colds—hang on, get a bottle of Creomulsion from your druggist, use it as directed, and if you are not satisfied with the relief obtained, the druggist is authorized to refund every cent of your money. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief that you want. Adv

He Thinks Folks Are Funny

"Folks Are Funny," says E. V. White, dean of Texas State College for Women in Denton. And so this humorist-philosopher-educator recently wrote a book about it. His syndicated newspaper column, "Bits O' Philosophy," recently changed to "Folks Are Funny," has been read by Texans since 1930.

IMPROVING COTTON

A generation ago, Texas cotton commanded a premium in the markets of the World and among American spinners.

Today, many foreign buyers specify, "no Texas Cotton," in their purchase orders. Much of the staple which moves to domestic and foreign markets from Texas must be sold at a discount.

That, briefly, is the story of deterioration in quality of Texas cotton, sketched for Houston business men at a luncheon last week honoring Directors of the East Texas chamber of commerce.

Burris C. Jackson, a director of the chamber and vice president of the Texas Cotton Association, was the speaker.

He pointed out that lowered quality and shorter staple are responsible, in part at least, for the loss of foreign markets for Texas cotton.

Mr. Jackson was not overdrawing a tragic picture.

Everything he said is true, especially his earnest contention that an intensive, intelligently directed State-wide program to improve cotton quality should be the first step in a campaign to regain lost foreign outlets.

Impoverishment of the soil and failure to plant good seed have brought progressive deterioration in cotton quality that now brands the Texas staple as undesirable for manufacturing the best quality textiles. Yield per acre has drifted gradually downward.

That is a situation Houston, as a great cotton port, dependent upon cotton for maintenance of foreign trade, must face.

And that is why this city should give enthusiastic support to the cotton improvement program of the East Texas chamber of commerce.

That organization is sponsoring throughout the seventy-two counties it serves a cotton improvement contest that already has brought most gratifying results.

Houston should give enthusiastic backing to that venture and co-operate in efforts to convince the state and federal governments that a state-wide program of the same kind should be launched.—Houston Post.

GAVE THANKS FOR HEALTH

AUSTIN, Tex.—A primary reason for the institution of Thanksgiving Day was health. The Pilgrims, the few of them left after that terrible first year of death and disease, wanted to publicly thank God for all his mercies. And so was born the tradition of Thanksgiving.

We have come a long way since that time in the matter of health. Today few people think of Thanksgiving in connection with the health they enjoy. We are so accustomed to good health that we hardly give it a thought—until illness strikes.

The Texas State Department of Health, city and county health organizations have labored for years to secure the measure of health protection that the public now enjoys. Their thanks are to medical science for the strides it has made in preventive medicine, enabling thousands of lives to be saved annually.

Since that first Thanksgiving, the mode of transmission of many diseases has been discovered and the known preventives of diseases become common knowledge. Yellow fever, plague, and cholera have almost ceased to exist. Smallpox, diphtheria, and typhoid fever can be eliminated as a cause of death if a person takes advantage of the typhoid immunization. Malaria and other diseases can be controlled if the public demand for their control, as a part of every day activities of the government, be insistent enough.

During the past half century the expectation of life has increased about 15 years. This means that a baby born in 1937 can be expected to live 15 years longer than if he had been born 50 years ago. We have much more to be thankful for, in the matter of health, than did our Pilgrim forefathers, so let us in our individual Thanksgiving be reminded of the strides preventive medicine is making in improving health conditions in Texas.

LET'S TALK ABOUT CLOTHES

DENTON, Nov. 17.—"It's in the bag!" But who cares what's in the bag so long as the bag itself can stand the spotlight?

And spotlight is a wild word for the attention that is being given to purses and handbags this year. There being only two definite directions that designs for bags can go—from large to small and from envelope to pouch—the greatest excitement in bigmanias naturally comes on the up-

LIBRARY NOTICE

"For a man to walk into his own house, in broad daylight and not be seen again, is well-nigh unbelievable," Sergeant Detective Mullins said when Duncan Searle failed to appear. But that's what happens in "Fuller's Earth" by Carolyn Wells. Read it.

By MRS. FRANK WIER, Member Library Committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Black and family, and Miss Maxene Kelly, visited her parents at Quemado Valley Thanksgiving. While there Mr. Black killed a deer.

THURMOND-NEAL

Last Wednesday, the twenty-fourth, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bynum gave a surprise wedding dinner for Miss Eva Thurmond of Laredo, Texas, and Mr. L. D. Neal of San Antonio, Texas, who are here conducting the details of the publishing of an Historical Prosperity Edition of the Terry County Herald. It was rumored that this couple were to be married Thanksgiving day, so Mr. and Mrs. Bynum decided that to complete the occasion they would surprise them by having the minister present to perform the ceremony before the dinner.

It was most amusing to note the expression of surprise on the couples face when they entered the living room expecting to find Mr. and Mrs. Bynum alone, to greet them, as was supposedly planned instead there were a good many guests assembled to witness the occasion. Among these were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Stricklin, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stricklin, Jr. and son, Jack Taylor Stricklin, Mrs. Herman Trigg, of Pampa, Texas, Walker Hicks of Cisco, Mrs. Martha Stephens, a member of Mr. Neil's staff, of Plainview, P. McKinney and Maurice Betts of Brownfield and Rev. R. T. Breedlove, pastor of the Methodist church.

It is well known throughout this section that Mrs. Ralph Bynum is considered the perfect hostess and an excellent connoisseur of foods for a successful dinner party, together with her esteemed knowledge of preparing delicacies that are different.

The dinner was served in courses beginning with two delicious salads, turkey and dressing, cranberry sauce, four vegetables, many appetizing relishes. There were four kinds of pies including pumpkin, pecan, apple and mince, in addition to a large and beautifully decorated white wedding cake, that made up the last course.

The wedding ceremony was performed just before dinner, with Martha Stephens, matron of honor and Ralph Bynum, as best man. An impressive ring ceremony was used.

Mrs. Neal is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Thurmond, of Laredo, Texas. Mr. Neal is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Neal of San Antonio, Texas.

The bride wore black alpaca, with black and white accessories, and her traveling suit was grey with black accessories.

Immediately after the ceremony and dinner party the bride and groom left for a short wedding trip, returning Monday, to their temporary home, in Brownfield.

MILLER-EVANS

On Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Baptist parsonage, Mr. Nathan C. Evans was united in marriage to Miss Merle Miller. Rev. Avery Rogers, their pastor, performed the ceremony. Several friends and relatives were present. These young people are well known and much admired by their many friends who wish them years of the greatest of happiness.

Mrs. Robert H. Hester of Lubbock, Texas, president of 7th district of Texas Federated music clubs, was guest in the home of Mrs. W. H. Dallas Tuesday; when plans for Wistrict Music Clubs were discussed. Mrs. W. H. Dallas is vice president of 7th district.

LIONS CLUB

The Lions Club met in regular dinner hour at the Wines Hotel Wednesday noon, with twenty-five present. Mrs. Roy Wingerd was a visitor and made an interesting talk on the Christmas party to be given on the court house lawn.

The Lions had a part of their buffalo for the noon meal and Lion Price and Tittle were in favor of going on the war path.

SHOWERED

Mrs. J. L. Cruce honored Mrs. Arlie Lowermore, the former Miss Lola Mae Tittle, with an informal shower, in her home last Friday afternoon, from three to five.

"NORTH TO THE ORIENT"

"In North to the Orient" Ann Morrow Lindbergh says: "It is not in the flying alone, nor in the places alone, nor alone in the time, but in a peculiar blending of all three, which resulted in a quality magic, a quality that belongs to fairy tales."

"It was not that we arrived in Baker Lake on August third by plane, but that three hours of flying had brought us from the modern part of Churchill to a place where no white woman had ever been before. It was not only that we flew from Baker Lake to Aklarick in 12 hours, by the midnight sun, but that while flying over those grey waters south of Victoria Land, isolated and wild as the moon, I could hear through my ear phones the noisy chatter of big cities over the edge of the world."

JEWEL EDWARDS, Library Com. Maids and Matrons Club.

LET'S TALK ABOUT CLOTHES

DENTON. — How is your rainy weather beauty? When the landscape puts its worst foot forward with a dripping, bedraggled exterior, do you follow suit?

If you do follow those smart women who have discovered there is a way to dodge the usual shabbiness of rain clothes? A few years ago no one could escape it—raincoats were made of stiff, awkwardly heavy cloth, hats were a trifle queer, and rubbers were the horror of one and all.

Now you have your choice of several happy solutions. If you're just going to be out in the rain occasionally, your best bet is an all-covering cellophane hooded cape. With it you can just wear whatever you originally intended to and have it well-protected. For practicality a natural-colored one is best, but for frivolity a bright red or blue is tops.

Then you need not ruin your cheerful cellophane appearance with a pair of clumpy, box-car rubbers. Manufacturers have made galoshes into works of art, and girls at Texas State College for Women are trying out every style.

For long walks in the rain or dashing around town during the day try the sporty ones with alligator toes and heels. For all-round wear (these are the buy if you can just have one pair) look over the new ones with suede finish and patent leather trim. Since evening sandals often have to tread muddy paths too, there are some dainty fur-trimmed velvet ones that can be brushed.

If you have the passion for complete outfits you may wish to invest in a rainproof coat that looks like an ordinary sport coat. Combine it with an attractive brimmed hat of the same material and you will have left that rain-tacky feeling behind forever.

Mr. Dube Pyeatt and Miss Ruth Tarpley are employed at the Corner Drug store for the holiday season.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maxey and Bill Collins and Miss Mercedes Libby were through Sunday night on their way back to Lubbock. They were guests at a house party given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Dickinson, at their ranch in New Mexico. While here they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Collins.

Miss Evelyn Smith spent the week end with her mother at Meadow.

Mesdames Earl Jones and Pete Tiernan were Lubbock visitors, Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Ben Rogers of Greenville, Texas, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Culver this week.

Miss Nell Burdett of Lubbock, and Mrs. Lillie Bagwell, of Estelene, were guests of Miss Burdett's sister, Mrs. J. T. Auberg, Tuesday.

Billie Walker of Memphis, was renewing friendship with his Hall county friends this week.

W. H. Black and nephew, Walter Black, attended the funeral of his cousin, Mrs. Bell McFall at Breckenridge.

TWO NEW FORD V-8 CARS FOR 1938

THE DE LUXE

DE LUXE FORD V-8... 112" wheelbase; 85-horsepower engine; Improved Easy-Action Safety Brakes; Center-Poise Ride; All-steel body; Mohair or Broadcloth upholstery; Walnut-finished trim; Twin horns, tail lights, sun visors; Clock; 6.00" black tires, white side-walls are extra; 8 body types; 6 colors.

THE STANDARD
60 OR 85 HORSEPOWER

STANDARD FORD V-8... 112" wheelbase; 85 or 60 horsepower engine; Improved Easy-Action Safety Brakes; Center-Poise Ride; All-steel body; Broadcloth or Mohair upholstery, Mohair extra in '60"; Mohogany-finished trim; One tail light, sun visor; Twin horns; 3 body types; 3 colors.

Ford offers two new cars for 1938—the Standard Ford V-8 and the De Luxe Ford V-8. They are different in appearance—but built to the same high standard of mechanical excellence—on the same chassis.

Because people liked our 1937 car so well, they bought more than of any other make. They liked its looks, its smooth performance, and the way it handled. We have improved on that car in the newly styled Standard Ford V-8.

But some folks wanted still more size and style, with the same Ford advantages. For them, we designed a new De Luxe line.

The De Luxe Ford V-8 Sedans are longer with more room, larger luggage space, and finer appointments all around.

De Luxe cars are equipped with the 85-horsepower engine only.

The Standard is even lower priced than the De Luxe. It has graceful new lines and well-tailored interiors—with a choice of engine sizes—85 or 60 horsepower.

Before Ford made V-type 8-cylinder engines available to every one, they were used only in expensive cars. Since then, four million Ford owners have learned the genuine enjoyment of driving an eight-cylinder car with all-around economy. The thrifty "60" engine, especially, makes possible in Standard models a very low first cost and equally low operating cost. With two distinct designs, two engine sizes and two price ranges, you'll find a 1938 Ford car to fit your needs exactly.

PRICES FOR CARS DELIVERED IN DETROIT—TAXES EXTRA

Standard Ford V-8 (60 hp.)—Coupe, $599; Tudor, $644; Fordor, $689. Standard Ford V-8 (85 hp.)—Coupe, $629; Tudor, $669; Fordor, $714. De Luxe Ford V-8 (85 hp. only)—Coupe, $689; Tudor, $729; Fordor, $774; Convertible Coupe, $774; Club Coupe, $749; Convertible Club Coupe, $804; Phaeton, $824; Convertible Sedan, $904.

Standard and De Luxe cars equipped with bumpers, bumper guards, spare wheel, tire, tube, tire lock and band, cigar lighter, twin horns, and headlight beam indicator on instrument panel, at no extra charge.

In addition, De Luxe cars are equipped with extra tail light, windshield wiper, sun visor; also de luxe steering wheel, glove compartment lock, clock, and chrome wheel bands, at no extra charge.

The Rest of The Record

JAMES V. ALLRED
Governor of Texas
ONE OR TWO-HOUSE LEGISLATURE?

AUSTIN.—Judging from my mail bag the most popular question of the month is this: "Would the one-house legislature remedy the evils of the present two-house system?"

A great majority of those writing me thing it would. Others while admitting the deficiencies of the present legislature ask pertinent questions about the unicameral (one-house) legislature. Sen. Geo. Norris of Nebraska, father of the unicameral plan, has answered these questions in a speech printed in the Congressional Record.

The question given below are typical of those in letters to me. The answers are those of Senator Norris as taken from his speech.

1. Isn't the one-house legislature more representative of the people than the present system?

"The adoption of a one-house legislature is a progressive step toward greater democracy. The idea of the present two-branch legislature was copied from England. One of those branches—the House of Commons represented the common people; the other branch—the House of Lords—represented the aristocracy, men of wealth. The original idea was that the monarchy needed a house of lords to protect one class against the inroads of another. It has no place in a democratic form of government where class distinction has been abolished. The great wonder is that it has been maintained so long in a democracy like ours.

"The two-house legislature must be condemned as out of date and permitting the control of legislation by special interests which through the instrumentality of shrewd paid lobbyists are able to defeat the will of the people at every session of a legislature consisting of two houses."

2. Isn't it easier for the lobbyists to control a one-house legislature than both the house and senate?

"The reverse is absolutely true. The professional lobbyist would find his occupation gone, because his success depends upon his ability to assist the unworthy legislator to make such a record that his constituents cannot easily determine just what it is. This is also shown by the fact that in any attempt to adopt a one-house legislature, the proposition is always bitterly fought by trusts, monopolies, lobbyists, and special interests.

"In a one-house legislature, where one member of the body has the right to secure a roll call on every vote, it is impossible for anything to be done in secret. Every act of each individual must be transacted in the spotlight of publicity.

"In a two-house legislature, with its necessary conference committee, all kinds of opportunities are offered to perform public business in secret and to cover up the record so the people will not know just who is to blame for the defeat of good laws or for the inclusion of jokers.

"In a one-house legislature, the faithful servant would find his record understood by his people, and it would be impossible for the unworthy legislator to cover up his tracks. No legislation will take place in the dark. There will be no item of legislation without a public record. Legislative matters will be so simplified that the ordinary person will see through them and understand them perfectly. The people would be able, without any difficulty, to punish and reward according to the record."

3. What are the evils of the free conference committee under the present two-house system and will the unicameral plan remedy such evils?

"A bill to become law in a two-house legislature must pass both branches in exactly the same form. Where there is a disagreement between the two houses, it is referred to a conference committee. This committee is more powerful in all matters referred to it than either house.

"Its meetings are held in secret; there is no such thing as a roll-call vote; and there is no record of its proceedings. A bill, once referred to a conference committee, cannot become a law unless it is agreed to by a majority of the conferees representing each house.

"Thus, it is within the power of the committee, in secret and without a record vote, and without any public record whatever, to absolutely prevent legislation, and to kill or to modify, at its pleasure, any proposed legislation within its jurisdiction.

"If a report is agreed to, it is then reported to the house and to the senate, and the bill thus reported cannot be amended. It must either be accepted as a whole or rejected in its entirety. Thus, members of the senate and the house are compelled, without an opportunity to offer amendments, to vote for or against the conference bill as a whole. In order to get the good they must accept the bad. If they think the bad predominates, then, in order to reject the bad, they must likewise reject the good.

(Note: The outstanding example of this evil occurred in 1933 when the free conference committee tacked on to the departmental appropriation bill the rider authorizing race track gambling which had not been considered).

"It must be understood in considering this question, that special interests, corporations and monopolies are not as a rule interested in securing the passage of legislation. They are almost universally interested in preventing legislation—which in one way or another regulates their activities and prevents injustice by means of monopolistic control.

"In order to prevent passage of legislation it is not necessary to control both the house and the senate. It is only necessary to control one house, or to control the conference committee, or control members of the conference committee from either house.

"Nothing of this kind could happen in a one-house legislature for there will be no such thing as a conference committee."

4. Would the unicameral system be less expensive to the taxpayers than the two-house system?

"There are a hundred different ways and means by which the one-house legislature will be much less expensive than a two-house legislature. We could increase the individual salary of the member and yet in the aggregate save a great amount of money in salaries alone. Logrolling, delays, and deadlocks (which are expensive procedures) between the two houses cannot occur."

What do you think?

SEMINOLE PAPER FLIRTING WITH SERIOUS DANGER

The Seminole Sentinel is flirting with serious danger when it gives publicity to a drawing contest being staged by a local theatre at that place. Any such publicity, whether it be given as a news item or as a paid advertisement is a direct violation of the postal laws and regulations. The newspaper publishing such information is in danger of having its second class mailing privileges cancelled, and in addition, is subject to criminal prosecution.

If it be run as an advertisement, both the newspaper and the person inserting the advertisement is subject to prosecution. Better look out, Mr. Stone. Should the item in question reach the solicitor of the post office department, you will immediately receive a letter from that official asking you for an explanation, and the only way you can escape trouble is to plead ignorance of the rules of the department and by making a solemn promise not to do the same thing again.—Lovington (N. M.) Leader.

Yep! You are as right as day is day and night is night, Bro. Roberts. Not many years ago, we mentioned names, places and dates of drawings here in connection with Tradesdays, and one day, a big official envelope appeared addressed to us from solicitor general with a Houston, Texas, address. He also enclosed for our information a copy of the second class privileges, along with that which refers to lotteries. Needless to say we wrote a very nice letter of apology, but we learned our lesson, and have layed off mentioning bank nights, except in an offhand way, like we're now doing.
