THE HERALD EXTENDS A WELCOME TO ITS NEW NEIGHBORS—PIGGLY WIGGLY

THIS LARGE GROCERY FIRM, OCCUPYING AN ENTIRE 50X100 FEET NEW BUILDING—MOVED LAST WEEK END.

About one month ago the Herald had the privilege of welcoming the Treadaway-Daniel Hospital as a next door neighbor on the south of us, and this week, we again have the privilege of welcoming the Piggly Wiggly grocery as a neighbor just north of us. We are all fixed up now to get our finger dressed if we get it mashed, or to step over to the nearby grocery for a pack of cigarettes or a box of snuff, or what have you.

When the Herald located its plant about 1917 where it is located, some asked us why we wanted to move down to Wellman or Seagraves, or why we had not as soon have our business in the city. But about that time the Cicero Smith Lumber Co. began putting in their plant, and a year later the West Texas Gin Co. So we had some neighbors, and good ones at that.

We have welcomed in our columns the above mentioned firms, and this week we put out our hand to the Piggly Wiggly and their fine force. We are sure that we'll never lack for plenty people passing and parking about us now, and as soon as the city paves the center of Sixth street, we are going to look real heavy down this way.

We are showing a cut of the Piggly Wiggly store in this issue of the Herald. This picture does small justice to this immense firm, which is now occupying the newest and one of the largest buildings in the city, as well as one of the prettiest buildings. Messrs. G. S. Webber and Ike Bailey spared no expense to make it a swell home for a great mercantile concern, and Contractor Roy Wingerd seems to have exceeded himself on this building, at least in this city.

But this plant is not only a beauty on the outside, but you marvel at the immensity of the plant after you see the inside. No better or few larger grocery stores are to be found, not only in Brownfield, but in any city on the south plains. They are occupying the whole building, which is 50x100 feet. The managers tell us that it will take them two or three weeks to thoroughly stock up this new building. Of course they had an immense stock in their 25x100 where they moved from, and really needed more space to display their merchandise in it, but feature having to fill a building twice that size, but they are coming on fine with this work.

Mr. V. L. Patterson is the general manager, and he has his organization so well trained that there was hardly a hitch in the big move from the old to the new building over the week end. In fact, they were selling groceries right along early Monday morning. Mr. Patterson is very proud of his new place, and is joined by his force, which really have room to work, since the move.

Mr. Patterson's staff is made up of the following: Paul Jones, W. T. Ince, Tubby Emerson, George Lisenby, market manager; and Paul McDermitt. Welcome to South Sixth.

Heavy Increase Shown In Postal Receipts

Postmaster James H. Dallas, is authority for the fact that the Brownfield showed a gain in receipts for the three months of September, October and November this year over 1936 of $894.67. You can figure the percentage yourself, if you wish from the following:

Receipts for 1936
September	$1,084.18
October	1,703.75
November	1,380.45
Total	$4,168.38
Receipts for 1937
September	$1,376.95
October	1,795.18
November	1,890.92
Total	$5,063.05

Money orders issued during November this year amounted to $35,023.23, most of which went to mail order houses, according to Mr. Dallas. We understand that Western Union handled a lot of money by wire after the postoffice closes on Saturdays at noon.

P. O. Open Next Two Saturday P. M.

James H. Dallas, Postmaster, announces that on account of the Christmas rush, the Postoffice will be open the next two Saturday afternoons.

Thomas Lester is the name of the young son born to Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bandy Monday, Dec. 6th. Mrs. Bandy is the former Ethel Pippin.

Do Your Christmas Shopping in Brownfield

Folks, there never was such an array of Christmas gifts of all sorts in this city, as there is on this good holiday month of 1937. The merchants have loaded their stores to the walls, from the floors to the ceilings with everything imaginable you would want to give anyone, in any age range or any price range. This stuff you want is here, and there is no need on earth to spend money going anywhere else to do your Christmas shopping.

There is everything imaginable in the way of toys and trinkets, from the lowest to moderate prices, that will please the kiddies beyond measure. There is something in every store for grandpa and grandpa, that will make their loveable old hearts jump for joy. There is many, many things, too numerous to even try to mention to gladden and make merry the holiday spirit of father and mother, and for the grown children, and young folks there is no end of the fine array of gifts.

Foreseeing a huge crop, of not only cotton, but corn and row crops in general, the merchants have simply loaded their stores in anticipation of the greatest Christmas since 1928 and 1929, and it will be. As some one said this week, the farmers themselves have not made as much clear money as they would had they made half such a crop, and got 12 or 15c per pound for it, but the spread has been so great for labor and other incidentals, that it has put a lot of spending money in the country, and it is being spent not only for eatables and wearables, but a lot will be spent for the thrill of giving during the holiday season.

If this huge lot of spending money is kept at home, instead of being spent in the big towns and the great cities, it may return to us again and again, to help us pay this fellow and that fellow what we owe him and probably have owed him for a long time, and he in turn can pay others that he owes. In other words, the many turnovers is what counts.

So, don't go anywhere to spend anything. Brownfield merchants have put a price on their holiday goods that will move them.

Living up to their reputation as "The Fighting Cubs," the local football team lost its bi-district game last Friday to the Roscoe Plowboys by a score of 21 to 6. It was only the last five minutes of the game that decided the contest. Outplaying their opponents throughout the third period and holding their own in the first half, the Cubs finally weakened under the hard tackling and rough tactics of the Roscoe team and yielded two touchdowns in the last quarter. Trailing 6 to 7 at the half, the fighting Cubs came back into the game and swept down the field to the opponent's goal only to find almost by inches to cross the goal line. Fumbles marred their attempt twice. In fact, it might be said that the locals fumbled their chances away. The Brownfield boys were somewhat disconcerted throughout the game by the rough playing of their opponents. Being outweighed several pounds by the Plowboys, the locals were not accustomed to just the type of opposition they met. But they played the game as they had been taught and had no reason for regrets after the battle. Every boy on the local team really put out more than he had, and at the end of the game all the boys were almost totally exhausted.

The closeness of the contest might be gathered from the statistics of the game. First downs: Brownfield, 14; Roscoe, 13. Gross yardage gained: Brownfield, 333 yards; Roscoe, 334 yards. Net yardage gained: Brownfield, 241; Roscoe, 283. Penalties: Brownfield, 20 yards; Roscoe, 80 yards.

The following boys saw service in the Roscoe game: Ellis, Jenkins, Grider, Noble, Pickett, Murray, Rowden, Pharr, Chambliss, W. Hill, Fore, Brown, Gracey, Young. Officials for the game were: Referee, Christian (Colorado); umpire, Cearley (Post); headineman, Walker (Tahoka).

Thus ends one of the best seasons the Brownfield Cubs have ever had. Handicapped somewhat throughout the year by lack of seasoned generalship, yet they played a brand of football of which any town and school might well be proud. In their district competition, they won eight out of ten games and tied one. They won eight, tied one, and lost two through the season.

Fighting Cubs Lose Bi-District Game to Roscoe

According to late forecasts, Texas has produced a cotton crop of 5,050,000 bales, which is greatly in excess of the crop last year and somewhat above the 5-year average. The estimated yield is 191 pounds of lint per acre, compared with 121 pounds in 1936, and a 10-year average of 139 pounds.

The greater portion of the crop has been gathered and ginned, except in the South Plains where gins are running day and night and where picking will continue until nearly Christmas. Heavy frost did not hit the northern part of the state until after most of the crop was matured, and the freeze will cause practically all bolls to open.

Late estimates show larger productions than were indicated a month ago for cotton, pecans and citrus fruits, and reductions in corn, grain sorghums, peanuts and sweet potatoes.

In addition to cotton, included in these estimates are 72,048,990 bushels of corn, 41,690,000 bushels of wheat, 12,200,000 bushels of rice, 49,664,000 bushels of grain sorghum, 87,150,000 pounds of peanuts, 3,744,000 bushels of sweet potatoes and 27,360,000 pounds of pecans.

A heavy crop of grain sorghum is being harvested in the South Plains region where many new trench silos have been constructed to take care of the surplus.

The western part of the state is badly in need of moisture. A light snow fell November 27. What has been doing fairly well in spots, being large enough to furnish pasture for sheep and cattle.

The livestock situation is satisfactory and the movement of cattle and sheep is about normal. Weather conditions during the fall have been favorable.

THE HERALD HAS STARTED ON ITS 300TH SET OF FOUNTAIN PENS AND PENCILS

IF YOU ASK US, THEY ARE GOING LIKE HOT CAKES. OFFER WILL POSITIVELY END ON JANUARY 1ST, 1938.

The Herald last week started on its 300th set supply of Fountain Pens and Pencils, and are going! going! going! After deciding to extend the offer to include all of December, the closing on January 1, 1938, there was a small lull in renewals and new subscribers coming in to renew. In fact, the renewal business was just about like the usual fall renewals.

Now listen folks. Besides getting a fine fountain pen and pencil set for the next twelve months of the Herald, you will get that big Prosperity-Historical edition next week, that will in itself be worth almost the price of a year's subscription. It will be something that you will want to lay away, and show to future generations. You want something that tells the story accurately of the early settling of Terry and Yoakum counties—the privations and inconveniences of the early settlers, written by those who were here and know.

But what if we decide your name has been riding us long enough next week when the big issue gets ready for the mails? What if we should decide to delete your name from the list? Then you would miss the pen and pencil set, worth retail from 75c to $1.00, and the big edition much more. Something in itself that many writers, linotypers, pressmen, etc., have worked on for weeks.

We are going to have someone here ready to wait on you promptly Saturday when you come in to renew, and we want to clean this third hundred up by Saturday night and wire for more. You need the Herald. We want to see your name continued on the list. You farm ladies remind the men folks to renew Saturday, or to be sure to come in yourself and attend to it.

This last consignment of pens and pencils are all put up in Christmas boxes, and if you do not need them, they will make a Christmas present that anyone would appreciate.

Santa Fe Railroads Reports on Texas Crops

According to late forecasts, Texas has produced a cotton crop of 5,050,000 bales, which is greatly in excess of the crop last year and somewhat above the 5-year average. The estimated yield is 191 pounds of lint per acre, compared with 121 pounds in 1936, and a 10-year average of 139 pounds.

Band of Cotton Thieves Broken Up

A band of some five or six cotton thieves, at least three men and two women, giving their home as Cleburne, have been rounded up and landed in jail by south Plains officers, after many trailer loads of cotton, household articles, and other things were missed by people of this section.

It seems the thieves did not play the game long at one place, but hurriedly moved their operations. For instance, they might hook on to a trailer at Anton at night, while hundreds of bales of cotton on the yard shadowed their movements, and next morning would have the bale ginned at Seagraves or some other place.

Levelland, Brownfield, Littlefield, Lubbock and Gaines county officers finally got a fair description of them, and rounded them up and they were in the Lubbock jail the last we heard of them. In the meantime, they had moved from a Levelland apartment, and took the furniture with them, and squatted in a shack northwest of Seagraves, where they were receiving stolen property.

At this place the two women were found, and put under lock. With the amount of cotton that has been on the yards until the past few days it was a hard matter to watch it during the night.

We hope this will be a lesson to other thieves that might have some inclination to blow in and make a killing during the rush of the harvest in this area.

May Demand Traffic Light On Broadway

In the past month if we were a gambler, we would be willing to risk a pretty heavy shot that the traffic at the corner of Broadway and Sixth street is ten times now what it was a month ago. This has been made possible by three things: The moving of the hospital and the quadrupling of its capacity. The location of the Piggly Wiggly store and the Bowman Grocery in that section, together with other stores, such as Chisholm Bros., the grocery and hardware, and Cary's Bakery.

Monday was just a week day, but at times the traffic on that corner was heavy, and a pedestrian had to watch his steps. What will it be Saturday and other extra busy days? So, we should not wonder in the least that the city will soon have to think about a traffic light at the corner of Broadway and Sixth.

Corner Drug Installs Ceiling Heating Plant

Well, we used to be taught to have the heating arrangements, whether it be a log fire, coal grate, wood or coal stove, furnace, etc., just as low on the floor as possible as "heat always goes up." But when modern engineers get busy, they may just as easily make "heat come down."

The proprietor, Mr. Jim Graves showed us his new Humphres Ceiling Furnace Monday night. It is away up near the ceiling out of the way of everything, even the man with the broom. And it is not unsightly, as it is attractively designed and painted, and if your attention is not called to it probably you wont notice it at all.

But there it is anyway, with thermostat control for warm days or blizzards. An electric fan gently blows the heat toward the front, so that of moderate winter days the doors may be opened and everyone is comfortable. After closing hours, the thermostat may be turned down very low, but the store is comfortable on opening next morning.

City String Up Christmas Lights

By the time this issue of the Herald is put to bed, the main business section of the city will have been crisscrossed with lights of many colors, harbingers of the approaching Yuletide season. Such things are not very costly, but they do put into the Christmas season a feeling of gaiety. Only the criminally inclined fear light. The honest people, and thank God they are in the great majority, like lights—lots of them.

We note that many of the residences have already decorated their windows next the streets, and by the end of this week, many others will have joined in this plan of notifying the passerby that the time of the joyful season is here, in the air, and that neighbor will vie with neighbor to have the prettiest place.

Let us remind you again this week that the Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring some right handsome prizes on the best decorated homes in the three areas of the city.

Brownfield Places 1 Man on First Team

According to the opinion of coaches of District 5B, joined by sport writers on the Avalanche-Journal, Brownfield Cubs placed only one man on the first All-Star team of the district. Mack Pickett, 170 pound Cub star was that man, and he was the only man being the unanimous choice, and would be the captain of the team.

Littlefield placed three men on the first team; Lamesa 2; Levelland 2; Slaton 2 and Ralls one. Brownfield headed the list of the second team placing five; Levelland 2; Littlefield 3, and Crosbyton one.

The Brownfield players making second team were, Eugene Ellis, Lester Jenkins, Lloyd Grider, Raymond Ford and Wade Hill.

Ten hours sleep are said to be necessary for boys and girls. Two a. m. to noon will be about right, they will say.

Santa Claus to Be Here December 17th

The Christmas Tree-Santa Claus celebration about which mention was made in the Herald of last week, will be staged on Friday, December 17th. Thousands of packages are to be distributed to the children of Terry, Yoakum and Gaines Counties and Free picture shows provided. We are going to undertake to distribute the Santa Claus letters to every school child in each of the counties, thru the teachers, and other children who are not attending school, will be served out of the chamber of commerce office. This affair is being made possible by the chamber of commerce, with the Lions, Rotary, and Maids and Matrons Clubs cooperating.

In addition to pulling off the Santa Claus celebration, an effort is being made to decorate the business and residence sections of Brownfield. And while no premium is being offered on the business section, we are offering for the best decorated residence in each of three sections of the town. Information on these divisions will be furnished at the office of the chamber of commerce.

Pickett Presented With Bill Fold

Following the Lions dinner at the high school building Wednesday night, Mack Pickett, chosen as the outstanding man by the sport writers and coaches of District 5, Class B football, was presented a nice bill fold by the club.

The presentation was made in a few well chosen words by Lion Burdon G. Hackney. Mack thanked the donors, after swallowing a few tears. The football boys and their lady friends were special guests of the Lions.

Let us ad right here that was some feast, and everyone pronounced the barbecued buffalo as among the best barbecue they ever ate in their lives.

NEW MEXICO BANK IN NEW HANDS

Announcement has been made at Lovington, N. M., that Hobbs and Albuquerque interests have purchased the Lea County State Bank at Lovington with branches at Hobbs, Eunice and Jal.

It was intimated that a statement would be made later concerning the officers and policies of the new bank.

Bible Sunday Endorsed By Governor Allred

AUSTIN, December: Gov. James V. Allred urges the churches of Texas to observe Universal Bible Sunday on next Sunday, December 12.

The Protestant churches of the nation will also unite next Sunday in the observance of Universal Bible Sunday. They will remind the people of the nation of the unrivaled place which this great book has had in the making of our nation and the nations of the world. This year for the first time the celebration is to include a nation-wide broadcast over the Columbia network at 1:30 P.M. in which the Secretary of State, the Honorable Cordell Hull, and Mr. John T. Manson, president of the American Bible Society, will speak. The celebration, as formerly, is sponsored by the American Bible Society by whose uninterrupted missionary activities, now in the 132nd year, approximately 285,000,000 volumes of Scriptures have been distributed in more than forty countries and in 226 languages.

In endorsing Universal Bible Sunday Governor Allred says: "During these troublous times, it is eminently proper that one sacred day be set aside, that one brief instant from the inexorable tread of time be dedicated to quiet and peaceful thought.

"It is proper, too, that this day should be reverently dedicated to the well-beloved source of hope, inspiration of peace, guide to salvation, the Bible.

"No, therefore, I, James V. Allred, Governor of the State of Texas, do hereby set aside and proclaim Sunday, December 12, 1937, as Universal Bible Sunday in Texas."

A person is just as dead if killed by a dambpool driver as he is if killed by a drunken driver. Neither has anymore business behind a steering wheel of anything faster than an ox cart. The sooner the juries of the land wipe their weeping eyes, and get real hard with both classes of drivers, the sooner such will remember that it is real dangerous for them to get behind a steering wheel.

Those who drive motor vehicles in Texas have some right to say whether their oil and gas tax money be spent on the highways, or diverted to some other funds to be spent. Last year they stacked up $38,000,000 and this year it is estimated they will pay $43,000,000 in taxes, a gain of 12.21 percent. Let's continue to build good roads in Texas until at least all our main roads have all-weather toppings. Maybe by then, we shall have found means some other place to care for the blind, aged and underprivileged.

The County-Wide News came out last week with three 2-color ads, a thing that country papers undertake with great reluctance. This is a world of trouble on anything other than a perfecting press, and the average country newspaper office that undertakes it, usually get their money's worth many times over.

We noted in an issue of the local Methodist Bulletin, distributed last Sunday, that it came out squarely against "Sabbath desecration," naming particularly referring to stores remaining open here on Sunday. Strictly speaking, we disagree with the Bulletin on the Sabbath question, as in New Testament times, that was Saturday, and Sunday was called the first day of the week, and Saturday the seventh. Yet, we admit the point in question, that at least one day, and in our land, that is Sunday, we should lay aside our labors and rest. And in this, we would say that it would be well to include eating places, filling stations, drug stores, except for prescriptions where we are wont to set out in our cars and order a juicy drink out. Yes, we could close all of them and get use to it in time. We could even make our week-end trips Saturdays, returning on the same fillup or stay at home. We wouldn't however force anyone to attend church against their will—that would be "unconstyutootional."

Editor E. I. Hill of the Lynn County News, Tahoka, howls loud and long because we put old Lynn's cotton way down about 80,000 bales. Well, after hearing a lot of other reports last week, we raised it to 125,000 last week, Bro. Hill. Now, shall we revise up or down. We like to please our customers.—Terry County Herald.

Yes, and the "Lone Wolf" of the Terry County Herald would have howled like a whole pack of "kitties" if we had published to the world that Terry county's 50,000-bale crop was estimated at 30,000. In fact the "Lone Wolf" is constantly howling on less provocation than that. Indeed he is never happy unless he is howling. Some of the press boys like to prod him just to hear the wolf music. Answering your question, Jack, you can let her stand at 125,000 for the present. You may have to "revise up" a little later on.—Tahoka News.

Whew! The Lone Wolf don't seem to be the lone wolf any longer. It appears that the Ee Eye's have it, and are doing some howling too. Just tried to be nice and accommodating to Ee Eye, and he broke loose in a new place. So far as we are concerned Bro. Hill, you can just estimate the Terry county crop to suit yourself, but we believe you are rather high. Most guessers here place it between 35,000 and 40,000 bales. Suppose you and Hale and Bright and Guy all come over some holiday and bring your prods, and we'll invite Baldwin of Levelland, Baldwin of Lamesa, and a few more quiet editors as judges to see who can prod the most and howl the loudest. Yap, yap, yep-yap! Is that a good imitation of a Lone or Company Wolf?

Hoover is said to have started the "depression" and it continued through Roosevelt's first term, after which it was declared off, only to be followed now by "recession." Well, recession or depression if people are not getting the job it would appear there is something wrong with the remedy. How about it Stricklin. This is a Jeffersonian speaking.—Yoakum County Review.

Don't you get enough work these days Bro. Hale? We do. Worked every night last week till near midnight, and finished the last run on the Herald Friday morning at 6:15 a. m. That ought to be enough work to suit even a Jeffersonian. We haven't been in Plains lately, but if there is even a suspicion of Mr. Hoover's depression, or FDR's so-called recession in Brownfield, we haven't discovered it. Everyone's at work and happy. Come over some time and we'll provide a job. Have tried last several days to get an extra printer. They seem to be employed.

A change is coming over President Roosevelt. He is now taking in consideration the pulse of business more than at any time since taking office. Business cannot be expected to run the government, but business goes a long way in paying the expenses of government. Government cannot succeed unless business is making a profit and keeping men employed. A co-operative understanding between business and government is a happy situation.—Canyon News.

Of course there have always been opponents to any plan of action presented to the government. Some of the opponents have been bitter and logical. Some of the opponents of certain activities have been right. So we might be discouraged by the assertion of opponents of the Farm Aid movement that the thing will demoralize agriculture in the United States. But we might also be encouraged by the statement of Congressman Marvin Jones, Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee. He says, I'm not afraid to do what is necessary. I believe we've worked out a plan that will accomplish this purpose." By "this purpose" he meant the smoothing out of inequalities produced by tariffs. Chairman Jones has studied American Agriculture for many years. We can believe he means no harm to Texas farmers and none to the farmers of the United States. We are inclined to try the prescription he offers.—Ralls Banner.

"NOBODY'S BUSINESS"

By Julian Capers, Jr.

AUSTIN—The attention of Texans were turned anxiously this week toward Washington, where the House and Senate prepared to begin work on farm legislation. With the low price of cotton affecting adversely the prosperity of the nation's largest producer of the fleecy staple, and with Texans, including Reprs. Rayburn, Jones, Poage, Summers, Senator Tom Connally, and Vice President John Garner, taking a leading part in the drama of farm relief legislation that is in the making, hope was high that some political panacea may be found for an intolerable economic situation.

Crop restriction, soil conservation, subsidy, tariff readjustment, domestic allotment, processing taxes—each plan has its adherents—and the harried Congress is considering them all. Would Prorate Production

With the virtue of being new, at least, was the latest suggestion, offered to the House Agriculture Committee, by Ernest O. Thompson, Texas railroad commissioner, who journeyed to Washington at the invitation of Marvin Jones. He suggested that the proper application of prorated production—the method which brought the Texas oil business out of the doldrums of huge overproduction and ten-cent oil into steady reasonable prosperity—might be applied to the cotton production situation. He told how consumer demand for oil is estimated in advance by the Federal Bureau of Mines, and production allowances are fixed by the various producing states, by cooperation through the Oil States' Compact Commission. He suggested such a plan might be used to control cotton, prorating production of domestic requirements among the producing states, exporting the surplus at a world market price, and using tariff revenue to compensate farmers when home markets fail. Export of the surplus at low world prices, he believes, would go far toward regaining the lost export markets on a competitive price basis.

The state, during the fiscal year ended August 31, took in $192,078,728, and spent $186,386,244, a study by R. S. Calvert, statistician for Comptroller George Sheppard showed this week. But the general revenue fund is some $15,000,000 in the "red" because most of the state's income is ear-marked for special funds, such as schools, roads, unemployment compensation, old age pensions, etc. Of the state's income, significant contributions were made by the gasoline tax, which accounted for 26.32 cents of each dollar; gross receipts taxes 12.71 cents; ad valorem property taxes 11.68 cents; cigarette taxes 4.18 cents; liquor taxes 2.44 cents; beer tax 1.14; automobile licenses 4.73 cents; Federal, county and other aid produced 4.75 cents.

Highway building and maintenance and school maintenance continued to lead the list of governmental expenditures, roads accounting for 36.75 cents of each dollar spent and schools 20.96 cents. Pensions stepped into third place with $20,519,716, or 14.17 cents out of each dollar spent. Excluding non-revenue items, the state took in $154,120,274 and expended for governmental costs a total of $144,770,274 during the fiscal year. Incidentally, the cost of the legislature rose from $325,146 in 1936 to $958,109 in 1937.

"I'm not going to call another session until I am assured that something will be done. The only way is to get a definite commitment from those who apparently have more influence than I have," said Gov. Allred, commenting on a report that the County Judges Association would ask for another session to raise social security program revenue.

Nobody, of course, can assure the Governor what the Legislature is going to do in advance. The politicians here are freely offering odds that the Governor will change his mind again, and call another special session not later than March.

Notes
W. E. James, of Austin, veteran former assistant Superintendent of Education, who was "fired" on Christmas Eve without advance notice by Supt. Wood, is the first state candidate to announce formally with a platform. He will seek to replace his former chief, who is serving his third term, and will seek a fourth. Wood is conceded to have built up one of the strongest political machines in Texas, and odds are against anybody defeating it.—Dr. C. M. Rosser, of Dallas, a democratic leader in Texas for 40 years, and close friend of William Jennings Bryan, has written a life of the Great Commoner which will interest Texans of a previous generation. Titled "The Cruciating Commoner," Dr. Rosser's work reflects his years of intimate personal association with Bryan—13 occasions, a striped bobcat, many game birds and other small game constituted the bag of Gov. Allred and Gov. Ammons of Colorado on their Mexican hunting trip—Senators Will Pace, Frank Rawlings, Allan Shivers and Frank Scofield, revenue collector, all bagged deer on a trip to the Schreiner ranch and two other Senatorial hunting groups reported limit bags on their trips to Medina County.

Santa Letters

Note to Parents: Be sure that you see that your child's letter is readable before being mailed, even if you have to copy it and attach to their letter with a pen. We have already received one that we could not make heads nor tails of, not even the name of the child, and sorry as we were it had to be discarded. Imagine getting several hundred of such during this month, and you may imagine how much of our time, not to mention the time of the linotyper and others that have to be held up on account of such letters.

ters. We are tickled to print the simple wants of our little friends in the area, and they are simple. They ask for toys, mostly rather inexpensive, and not for fur or coon coats, cocktail sets, etc. Also confine letters to what they want only. The Herald is not only handling its regular run of holiday business, but has in press the big Historical-Prosperity Edition, and that is just about all we can say grace at this time at best. Thanks for your help!

Dear Santa:—I want a doll with a muff and a desk and chair, also a white telephone.

Lots of love,
CHEEZY.

Dear Santa: I love you very much, so please bring me a bicycle, and enough toys for the other children. I go to school at Gomez. I would like to have my stockings filled with candy, nuts and fruits.

Your little friend,
JOE HERAL BARTLETT.

Dear Santa: I'm just four years old and I wish you would please bring me a tricycle if you possibly can and a big bag of candy. Please bring a truck to my little brother, Don. We live five miles northwest of town.

My best wishes,
DALE FLOYD.

Dear Santa Claus: I am five years old, and have been fairly good this year, so I wonder if you would bring me a tricycle and a Dy-dee doll, and just anything else you might care to

THE BRONCHO'S CORRAL
VOICE OF MEADOW HIGH SCHOOL

IS THIS WHAT WE
CALL GOOD CITIZENSHIP

As you walk down the hall you let everyone know that you are present by either talking as loud as possible or by letting your feet hit the floor like a ton of bricks. This could and should be thought of and avoided by every person that enters the hall for there are other people in the building besides yourself.

Not only does the loud noise in the hall happen, but there seems to be pupils that insist on eating candy. The eating of the candy is bad enough to do in school, but these same people insist on throwing the candy papers on the floor or cramming them in the desks.

If you claim to be a good sport or citizen of this school we hope that you will think of some of these things when you are tempted to do bring. I love you lots.

Your little friend,
NELDA JOYCE BROWN

Dear Santa Claus: I go to school and try to be a nice pupil. I have my tree and I wish you would please bring me a football and a scooter. I get lonesome as I don't have any brothers or sisters. With best wishes,
Your friend,
ELBERT FLOYD.

Dear Santa Claus: I'm a little girl eight years old, and I've been working hard helping Daddy pick cotton, so I'm in hopes Santa Claus will be good to me this year. I want a doll with real hair, a little sewing machine and a book satchel, lots of candy, fruit and nuts.
Lots of love,
Billie Katherine McCright.

Dear Santa Claus: I've been a good little girl this year, and I want you to bring me a rubber doll, a tea set and a little broom so I can help mother, lots of candy, fruit and nuts, and don't forget my little baby brother.

Lots of love,
Mildred Sue McCright
(P. S. I'm five years old).

Dear Santa Claus: I've been a good boy this year, and would like a B B gun, watch and marbles, lots of candy, fruit and nuts.

Your little friend,
A. H. McCRIGHT, Jr.
P. S. Please don't forget mother and daddy.

Dear Santa Claus: I'm a little boy 10 years old. I want a B B gun, a watch and two sacks marbles, lots of candy, fruit and nuts. I have a new little brother, please don't forget him. I hope that you have enough toys for all the little boys and girls this year.

With love,
Kenneth McCright.

Dear Santa Claus: I want a big doll, I want a big effen beddell, her name is Ann Shirley. Merry Christmas Santa Claus from,

Senior Class News
It's coming folks! The thing you've been dreaming of! The Senior Class Play! And is it going to be a scream or is it! Yes, folks, its going to be the big hit of the season! If you like plenty of shooting and daring acts, if you like plenty of hilarious comedy, and "enough" love, the Senior Class Play has it. Folks, we have that "big hero" stuff, we have those beautiful love affairs, and we have those side-bursting comedy scenes, and all in the Senior Class Play—"The Boss of the Powder Horn."

The night scheduled for the presentation of our class play is December 17. Don't miss it!

Francie Hanson and Dean Upton have been appointed business managers of our class play, and Emma Lou Bellard Lois Newton have been appointed advertising managers.

Steve Warren, Elzie Gale and Cline Stephenson are on the sales committee. Clyde Allen and Johnnie Wieland are on the stage managing committee. Arlene Redman, Nettie Mae Perry, and Ila Mae Conner were appointed ushers.

Don't miss it! It is a thriller!

Junior Class News
"They are over with at last," sigh the Juniors as they anxiously discuss the Six Week's Examinations. After the History III. Test Thursday all the Juniors agree that Mr. Culp has the habit of finding out the things that we didn't know.

We are glad our class treasurer, Evelyn Henson, whom we dearly love and have greatly missed, is home again from the Brownfield Hospital where she has been ill with the pneumonia. It is reported that she will probably be able to attend school again in about two weeks.

Anna Flo Johnson, our class secretary, was born December 18, 1921, at Altus, Okla. Her hobbies are science and playing tennis. Her favorite studies are Civics and Biology. Anna Flo likes to wear skirts and blouses, hates to see girls wear whippoorid and boots. (a little old fashioned, eh). Maybe so but she's attractive, and intelligent just the same. She is five feet, six inches, weighs 125 pounds, has large brown eyes and light hair. She plans to be a lawyer. Her dream man is tall and handsome with an air of carelessness about his clothing. He must have black hair and blue eyes and positively must not be a "sissy."

Who's Who in sophomore class. Christine Nettles, saying "Hells Bells." Sport Driving a car. (Down toward Uncle Tom's Station). Dish, she seems to like Hamburgers—just ask "Red." She is outstanding in most anything you put her at, but getting her at it.
John Dick Moorehead, saying "Oh! that English lesson." Sports, sitting on the sideline of the football court. Dish, Buttermilk and cornbread. "Doggy is outstanding in annoying the girls."
We are very sorry to report that Leland Wilborn, our class president, has pneumonia, and is in the hospital at Brownfield. He is recovering as well as could be expected.

Gifts and Givers

By PANSY NICHOLS
Executive Secretary Texas Tuberculosis Association.
Today, as I opened mail containing contributions in the annual sale of Christmas Seals, I was reminded of "The Vision of Sir Launfal."

"Not what we give, but what we share,
For the gift without the giver is bare."

"Here, indeed, is sharing." I thought, as I read a pencilled note from the proprietor of a little tin shop in a west Texas town. "I am enclosing a dollar bill," he said "and returning one sheet of seals. Wish I could pay for both but I am not able. Am too old to do much work—84—and my work is my only income."

A business man wrote: "I haven't two dollars to spare, but I am cutting to the bone to spare it anyway!"

Another letter read: "Please find check enclosed. While money matters are still tight, there are always a few dollars to spare for good things like that."

Sharing, too, are those who can afford to make larger gifts, as one man who wrote: "You sent me two hundred seals which are all I can use, but I am enclosing my check for ten dollars to aid in your work."

A Catholic priest thought the seals especially pretty and appealing, and with his gift, he sent his compliments to the artist who designed this year's Christmas Seal. "In memory of my mother" wrote a recently bereaved daughter, enclosing her contribution to aid in the fight against tuberculosis.

A business firm, making a substantial contribution, said: "If there was ever an institution doing the country a worthwhile service, it is your outfit. We wish we could help you a great deal more."

The next letter speaks for itself: "It is with sore regret that I am forced to return all the seals this year, but owing to the fact that I am one of the unfortunate ones suffering from tuberculosis, and have recently had to give up my job, I cannot afford to buy them. Keep up your good work!"

No less beautiful than the gifts which they share with those less fortunate than themselves, is the spirit of the givers—the spirit of service and unselfishness which is helping to conquer tuberculosis in our state and nation.

MRS. McCLELLAN PASSES

Mrs. Oleta McClellan, daughter of Com. and Mrs. Geo. Henson of this county, passed away at Wink on Thursday, Dec. 2. The body was brought to Brownfield overland by the Wink Funeral Home, and transferred to the Brownfield Funeral Home.

Services were conducted at the Methodist Church, Meadow, followed by burial in the Meadow cemetery. This is a hard stroke for the family as they had had quite a lot of sickness of late. But we understand other members of the family who have been in the hospital here are improving.

HISTORY OF DISASTERS

Four wars and two floods are the main catastrophes which Texans have to look back over since the beginnings of statehood. The wars, of course, begin with the struggle for independence, on through the Civil and Spanish American wars to the World War, when 200,000 Texans went overseas. Greatest natural tragedy was the Galveston Hurricane in September, 1900, when from 5,000 to 7,000 lives were wiped out. Just a year before the Brazos flood swept across the country, taking heavy toll of lives and property.

LAWSUITS SETTLED WITH FISTS AND GUNS

LUBBOCK, Tex.—"Trouble with trying to practice law in the early days in West Texas," Judge J. J. Dillard of Lubbock county told Texas Technological College pre-law students last week, was "there was not much law to practice."

Arguments were settled by fist-fight and reconciliation or by shooting it out, said Dillard, who came to Lubbock to practice law in 1896 when there were slightly over 200 residents in the county. Judge Dillard was also founder and first editor of the Lubbock Avalanche, which he published eight years. The 46 copies of the first issue printed were sold on Lubbock's one street, he said, "although the general attitude of the people was against a newspaper at that time."

Christmas Fire Hazards

AUSTIN.—Marvin Hall, Texas fire insurance commissioner today called attention to the number of unusual fire hazards which should be guarded against during the festivities of the approaching holiday season.

"A destructive fire is the sworn enemy of the peace and happiness that Christmas should properly bring," Hall explained. "It is important, therefore, to be familiar with the hazards common to the month of December which have in past years caused wasteful loss of life and property."

Some of the "Don'ts" as listed by Commissioner Hall are as follows:

- 1. Don't decorate evergreen trees with highly inflammable materials.
- 2. Don't place cotton or lighted candles on the Christmas tree.
- 3. Don't carelessly smoke or get near an open flame when wearing a cotton Santa Claus beard.
- 4. Don't place a lighted candle in the window near curtains or other inflammable material.
- 5. Don't allow small children to handle fireworks.
- 6. Don't use pennies or wire to replace blown-out electric fuses.
- 7. Don't use kerosene or gasoline to start or quicken a fire.
- 8. Don't permit children and other members of the family to get too close to stoves and open fireplaces.

"Among the many things the people of Texas have to be thankful for this Christmas," Hall said, "is the exceptionally low fire loss of the last eleven months. The first six months of 1937 showed a lower fire loss than any six-month period during the last twenty years. It is doubly important during this last month of the year, then, to think of the fire dangers to life and property which continually threaten to blight rejoicing because of a careless act or the use of an unsafe article."

"If we Texans will but observe diligently all safety rules, particularly those pertaining to fires," Hall concluded, "this Christmas will be one of joy and happiness for all."

Good Roads Ass'n. Against Aid Reduction

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—Datus E. Propper, Executive Manager of the Texas Good Roads Association, stated today that the proposed reduction in federal aid for highway construction was "ill advised" despite the desirability of reducing federal expenditures. Propper pointed out that the federal government was levying a heavy tax on one cent per gallon on the nation's motorists and asserted that collections from this source exceeded the federal government's contribution to highway construction.

"Under the program of the President, it appears he will recommend a reduction in the appropriation for federal aid in highway construction as a means of reducing expenditures," Propper said. "While no one can doubt the desirability of reducing wasteful government expenditures, it seems ill advised that well planned highway programs should be curtailed at this time, especially when it is known that highway construction has through contract methods been handled with more efficiency, less waste and more worthwhile, serviceable results than any other government projects, while providing meritorious employment for thousands of men."

"Because of the great increase in the number and speed of motor vehicles on our highways, most of the constructed more than eight years ago are both inadequate and unsafe for present day traffic and our farm-to-market program has only been started. Any reduction in highway construction would definitely handicap the growth of our state and cripple transportation throughout the nation."

"The federal government now is collecting more from gasoline taxes than is being returned to the states as aid in highway construction. Motorists who pay gasoline taxes justifiably feel that until such time as highways are completed such funds should not be diverted to other uses. To curtail highway construction at this time would throw thousands out of employment and offset any reduction in unemployment that might result from the proposed and badly needed housing program."

Fresh cause for the jitters has dropped into the movie camp, which as the press has reported right now is in its worst slump in four years. Part of the season for the production stoppage has been laid to radio competition. Now the latest alarm is over the report that some of the radio advertising firms are preparing to string together the programs of their clients into a solid Two Hours of air entertainment over the same stations. The idea is to hold the listeners for that length of time, instead of the half hour or hour now the custom.

It is the belief of the radio advertisers that by the new plan they can capture and hold a much larger audience on the same station for the full two hours. And what worries Hollywood is that they will do it and keep potential theatre patrons at home All Evening. So far it has been the belief that radio fans listen to their favorite program and then go out to a movie.

Some observers comment that the movie makers themselves have brought this situation down on their own heads. And that is by permitting so many top stars to go on the air so much. At first the movies thought it was stupendous publicity for their stars and pictures to be heard and featured on the air. Now the publicity has boomeranged! People stay at home to listen to stars at no cost, rather than going to a theatre and paying to both see and hear them.

The outcome of course is unpredictable, but certainly the film moguls view the possibilities with large alarm. It's evidently only a foretaste of the financial shrinkage due to come if and when television brings both sight and sound of radio players into the home free.

Comedienne Patsy Kelly admits she's absent-minded. But she denies the report of her friends that she has been known to take a shower bath with her shoes on!

Young Tony Martin this week has been kidding bride Alice Faye by relating that for Thanksgiving she tried roasting a turkey—"And So We Ate Out!"

And speaking of Thanksgiving Day... It was so warm that stars staged private swimming pool parties instead of hunting snow in the mountains... Which wasn't there anyway!

Claudette Colbert and Gary Cooper are being directed by Ernst Lubitsch in a picture which has sets representing sections of London, Paris, Vienna and other European capitals. So they never refer to the picture by its real name. As they go from set to set they call it: "Lubitsch's Cook's Tour!"

Some of the terrifying storm scenes in "The Hurricane" were accomplished only by the use of miniature sets, one of the marvelous Hollywood arts which makes many of our finest pictures possible. James Basevi, leading expert in the art, explained for instance that the scene in which the island church is destroyed by the storm had to be done in miniature. "It's the only way," he said, "that anyone can make waves and wind big enough to destroy a two-story building."

For other storm devastation scenes scores of miniature palm trees were made by a crew of several men who worked for weeks on them. The waving leaves were made of two oval pieces of silk, glued back to back on a thin mid-rib of rattan, and painted green with a spray gun. With sharp knives narrow sections were cut out all around the edge of the two-foot oval leaves, thus leaving the rest in strips like a palm leaf. Bunches of these were bound to a "coconut tree trunk" about three feet high which was made of plastic material like stiff rubber. In fact it was the type of glue used by sculptors for molds. That allowed the trees to stand upright and yet bend in the wind.

But miniatures, photographed against a background built in the same proportions, creates an illusion of the real thing which is not only thrillingly convincing, but which could not be provided for you otherwise.

"Hollywood," says Warner Baxter, "is where producers think they can fool the public all the time and then they wonder why so many pictures flop!"

LOOKS LIKE FERGUSONS WILL BE IN NEXT CAMPAIGN

Jim Ferguson's Austin weekly letter, which has been printed in many weekly papers over the state, was easily recognized as a "feeler" and propaganda for a political campaign, in case he found the signs right.

This opinion was strengthened this week by a report from the Dallas News staff writer at Austin who said:

Political circles at the Capitol were highly interested Tuesday in reports of a quiet Ferguson get-together party held Monday, attended by Jas. E. Ferguson and Miriam A. Ferguson, the only husband and wife ever to hold governorships. Several well-known Ferguson friends also were present and a movement was started for Mrs. Ferguson to be a liberal old-age pension candidate at next year's primaries with a state sales tax as the basis for paying $30 to persons more than 65 years old, regardless of their financial status.

At present, the monthly pension is slightly more than $14, but it can be stepped up to $30 if the state provides sufficient revenue to allocate $15 of its funds, to be matched by Federal money. The recent special legislative session failed to provide any additional funds for pensions expected soon to drop nor to pay the newly created social security obligations.

We hope the high school officials will give us their version of the bi-district battle at Roscoe between the Cubs and that team, and also, something on the outlook for high school basketball of both the girls and boys teams.

We had a nice card from the old couple we roomed with at Marlin, recently, inviting us back for the baths this spring. In answer we rather poured it on them for having a snow this year before we had one.

The Rest of The Record

JAMES V. ALLRED
Governor of Texas

AUSTIN.—A few daily paper last week carried the story of an incident in Waco, which while amusing, affords considerable food for thought.

The story reported the meeting of a group gathered from various points over the state to discuss the endorsement of a candidate for governor who would stand for a full pension of $30 for every person over 65 regardless of need. Various possible candidates had representatives there trying to line up the old folks' vote.

The amusing thing is that with "Starches, proteins, calories and vitamins are indeed hard to keep tab on. Isn't it nice to know that milk contains the proper food elements in the best and most digestible form. And the Brownfield Dairy furnishes the best milk," says The Brindle Bossy.

Brownfield Dairy

one exception none of the talked-of candidates have made any public statement as to whether they favor pensions for everybody, or for the needy only. The meeting broke up without any candidate securing an endorsement, but with the understanding that one would be endorsed later on.

Now everybody is interested one way or the other. Whether we favor pensions for everyone, or for the needy only, we ought to know just where these candidates stand. Certainly no secret commitments or promises should be acceptable to even those who favor pensions for everybody.

We don't know yet, of course, just who will be candidates for governor. Several months are still ahead before the time expires for announcements, but the point is that none of us ought to tie ourselves up to any candidate until we have some open public statements as to their views not only on this important question but on many others.

Many people, for instance, on both sides of the question would like to know the platform of each candidate on sale of liquor by the drink; on the general sales tax; on taxing oil and other natural resources; on an income tax; on a one-house legislature; on the race track gambling law; and on law enforcement.

You know of the fine work that has been done by the Public Safety Commission in driving the big-time gamblers out of Texas. They have had to fold up their tents and get out of business. There is hardly a large community in Texas that has not been benefitted by being rid of the presence of these racketeers. Naturally the gamblers and racketeers are intensely interested in electing what they call a "liberal" as governor next year. They have openly admitted that they are going to put up money to try and elect somebody who will not stand for law enforcement. Let's find out what candidate they are backing before we commit ourselves.

There is another aspect of law enforcement just as important. You will remember that I said we were not going to have any "sit-down" strikes in Texas; and we haven't! At the same time I said we weren't going to have any violence on either side of the controversy; that is no interference with freedom of speech, assemblage or peaceful picketing.

I happen to know that agitators who are interested in bringing about "sit-down" strikes in the future are trying to get quiet commitments from certain candidates that they will not be interfered with. I know the people of this state will not stand for this unlawful method of taking possession of property; or for violence on either side.

Let's find out about a candidate's attitude before we make up our minds to support him. Finally, it might be a good idea to withhold judgment until we can examine the records of some of the suggested candidates; and see how those records fit in with their platform declarations, if they make any.

There is still lots of time for us to get the facts; and I have an idea the facts will be forthcoming in due time.

CITATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS To the Sheriff or any Constable of Terry County, Greetings:

You Are Herby Comanded to summon Carrie Williams, and husband Bud Williams; Layula Head Bonner and her husband, R. C. Bonner by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest County where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Terry County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Brownfield, on the Third Monday in January, A. D. 1938, the same being the 17th day of January,

That at the time of filing, recordation and indexing thereof the said W. J. Head and Lottie head owned said lot 16, and he was then living; that on his death the named parties took possession of all his estate, including said lot; that the interest of each of his children amounted to approximately five hundred dollars therein, and his wife the comonly half. That said lot is improved and incapable of partition. That Realty Trust Company duly transferred said judgment and the lien pertaining to plaintiff, and it is now the legal owner and holder thereof, and of which no part has been paid; that the debt for which said judgment was rendered was a community debt of W. J. Head and his wife.

Plaintiff prays for judgment establishing its lien on the whole of said lot, if not allowed, then on one half thereof, and the lots be sold, and for relief which the pleadings and the evidence may warrant.

Herein Fail Not, and have you before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given Under My Hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Brownfield, Texas, this the 4th day of December, A. D. 1937.

(SEAL) ELDORA A. WHITE, Clerk. District Court, Terry County, Tex.

Several of our young people went kooking last Sunday afternoon.

The attendance at Sunday school was splendid last Sunday.

Don't forget the box supper to-night, Friday, December 11th. Meet at the school house at 7:30.

Mr. and Mrs. Ocie Murry went to Roscoe last Friday to see the football game between Brownfield and Roscoe. We are proud of the Brownfield boys, you played well any way.

Miss Lillie Durham of Brownfield, spent the week end with home folks.

Meadow News

Quite a few from Meadow were in Brownfield Monday on business and at the drawing.

We have just heard that Leland Wilborn, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wilborn, is some better but still quite sick. We surely hope he is soon back at home.

The Church of Christ members are assisting Bro. Butler of Tipton, Okla., in loading a car of maize for the Tipton's Orphans home. Quite good interest is manifested in this work.

The many friends of Miss Evelin Henson will be glad to hear she is improving.

B. J. Watkins visited home folks over the week end.

Norris Norman visited homefolks Saturday and Sunday.

Bro. and Sister Jno. Burkhart are back from Las Vegas, N. M. He filled his place in the pulpit at the Church of Christ Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wheeler were shopping in Lubbock Monday and report a very large crowd.

Mrs. Wayne Daniel of Brownfield and Mrs. J. H. Davis together with her niece, Miss Estelle Poarch, were in Lubbock Monday for Dollar Day.

We are all made quite sad Friday when the sad message came that Miss Oleta Henson, now Mrs. Jesse McClellan of Wink, was dead. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Henson, who live southwest of town.

Mr. Henson is our county commissioner. Miss Oleta Henson was a graduate of our high school several years ago. She took a "Beauty" course and put in a Beauty Shop here and did good business. We feel that we can voice the sentiment of the whole town, when she married in regretting to give her up as a "Beauty Operator," for she was very kind, courteous, considerate to all.

However we felt that our loss was her husband's gain and happiness. May we take this measure in extending our deepest sympathy to the husband, parents, brothers, sisters and relatives at large.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

By Julian Capers, Jr.

By JULIAN CAPERS, Jr.

AUSTIN.—Faced with the probability that the highway development program in Texas will be set back five years, if Congress approves the suggestion of President Roosevelt that Federal aid appropriations for 1939 be reduced by nearly one-half, led by Chairman R. L. Bobbitt of the Highway Commission, and backed by County Judges and Commissioners of the state, were laying plans this week for a huge protest mass meeting to be held in Austin December 17. The fire that will be built is expected to warm every Texas Congressman in his home district, and result in a solid Texas delegation in Congress against the reduction. Since good roads are a vital issue in nearly every Congressional district in the nation, leaders of the movement are anticipating that Congress will reject the President's plan in favor of economy along some other less needed line.

Pointing out that 90 percent of money spent for roads goes eventually to labor, either directly or in the production of road-building materials, Bobbitt declared Texas will lose $12,273,957 from its 1939 road funds if the movement is consummated. He further declared the Federal government collects in gasoline taxes on motor vehicles a sum each year in excess of the total amount appropriated for roads. Opponents of the President's reduction plan pointed to the "hard-boiled" attitude of the Federal government, which penalizes states that permit diversion of gasoline taxes to other than road building purposes, and declared the Federal Government now proposes to do exactly what it has penalized the states for doing. The Texas Congressmen will be home for the Christmas holidays between the special and regular sessions, and they are certain to hear from their constituents, who are interested in the 1939 program of Federal highways, farm-to-market roads, and grade separations in Texas.

Texas' Supreme Court this week rendered two important decisions affecting state finances and state politics, when it upheld the law imposing a graduated tax upon chain stores, which if finally upheld, will yield about $1,000,000 annually, three-fourths of it to the general fund, and also ruled valid the state's anti-trust laws, under which the famous anti-trust suit brought by Gov. Allred, as Attorney General, against 17 integrated oil companies, was instituted. Next step in the anti-trust suit will be a trial of the case on its merits in the district court, unless the U. S. Supreme Court should intervene, which the best lawyers in Austin think is improbable at this stage. The Supreme Court overruled a Court of Civil Appeals decision, which held the state anti-trust law was invalid. Chief credit for the state's victory in the chain store tax case was given to Ex-Gov. Dan Moody, special counsel for the state, who was retained by independent merchants, and paid a fee reported to be $10,000, to defend the constitutionality of the act. The chain store lawyers will appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court, however, and this will delay collection of the Taxes. Accumulated back taxes due under the law now amount to about $3,000,000, of which $92,000 has been paid into a suspense fund, held by the Comptroller until final disposition of the litigation.

POLITICAL SITUATION

Announcement of revival of the Ferguson Forum, the political mouthpiece of the two ex-governors, Ma and Jim, brought a revival of the perennial rumors that Ma might again be a candidate for Governor in 1939. Observers here, however, who are closest to the situation, predicted the Fergusons will probably bring out a candidate—not Ma herself—to run on a platform of pensions-for-everybody over 65, and a sales tax to pay for it. They were so decisively defeated last time on this identical issue less than two years ago, however, that the experts here profess to believe the Fergusons will play little part in next year's race. With the state in fairly good financial condition, and that condition improving steadily, there is little likelihood that the voters will be any more inclined to vote a $40,000,000 annual sales tax upon themselves now than they were last election. The pensions-for-everybody group demonstrated their lack of strength and unity last week at Waco, where a slimly attended "state convention" broke up in a row between Rep. Clarence Farmer of Ft. Worth, and Doss Hardin, of Limestone, an Assistant Attorney General. Farmer sought the pensioners' endorsement for himself for Governor, while Hardin, and his brother, Rep. Ross Hardin, were angling for the endorsement of the pension group for Attorney General Bill McCraw. No endorsement was voted by the meeting, which broke up after the row.

field of active and prospective opponents who will enter the race for Attorney General against him, Lt. Gov. Walter Woodul is vigorously campaigning. This week he spoke to a Baptist Sunday school class at Dallas, addressed the Northeast Texas Oil and Gas Association meeting at Abilene, spent Sunday conferring with supporters in Dallas, addressed a Kiwanis Club officers district meeting, spoke to the Beaumont Rotary Club, and spoke at the football banquet for the Baylor Bears at Waco. Woodul's announced or prospective opponents include Gerald C. Mann of Dallas, Judge Ralph Yarborough of Austin, and Speaker Bob Calvert of Hillsboro.

Notes

Land Commissioner Bill McDonald reported to Governor Allred that Padre Island, in the bay near Corpus Christi, belongs to the state and not to individuals who claim ownership, and the governor asked the Attorney General to bring suit to establish the title. McDonald asserted the island has a land value of $750,000 and prospective oil and gas rights worth many millions. . . W. H. Richardson, Jr., of Austin, has been named chairman of the Texas Public Safety Commission, succeeding Albert Sidney Johnson of Dallas, and establishing a policy of rotating the chairmanship of the Commission. . . The protest march on Austin of East Texans over the Sunday shut-in order for the Etext field fizzled, when the protestors failed to arrive, as the shut-in after two Sundays, showed a drop of nearly 150,000 barrels daily in total national production figures, firming the mar-

THE COUNTRY PRESS ON THE SUPREME COURT ISSUE

At the end of the first session of the current Congress, it was believed that the Supreme Court issue would again be introduced at the next session.

Since that time, the feeling has grown that, due to the size and influence of Congressional opposition, the issue is dead, and may not see the light of day again.

If the country press of the nation accurately reflects the temper of the American people, the issue is dead indeed.

The Industrial News Review recently sent a questionnaire to 12,585 country papers asking four direct, non-leading questions concerning possible Court changes. More than 2,300 papers replied. Proposed legislation that would permit the President to appoint additional Justices, was opposed by 90.4 per cent; 71.6 per cent were opposed to the proposal that a two-thirds vote of the Court be required to declare acts of Congress unconstitutional; 72 per cent were opposed to any bill forcing Justices to retire at an age fixed by law. And 88.3 per cent were opposed to a constitutional amendment limiting the authority of the Court over acts of Congress.

There was a remarkable consistency in the views of editors in far separated states, showing sentiment solidified against Court changes, irrespective of sectional politics and feeling. The completed questionnaires, together with a multitude of supplemental notes and letters, indicate that these editors—as did the Congressional majority when the Court bill was voted on—feel that the Supreme Court is the bulwark of our liberties, and our first line of defense against dictatorship, and that it would be a national catastrophe to tamper with it.

The country press is not swayed by elementary enthusiasms, or any political hysteria. It looks at issues in the light of their effect on the fundamentals of government. It usually thinks them out.

Of course the above was written by a magazine that caters to manufacturers and utilities companies, but its reports from country newspapers may be fair.

FRAME GARDENS ARE VEGETABLE INSURANCE

COLLEGE STATION.—"What trench silos are to farmers and ranchmen, frame gardens will be to farm and ranch women," Miss Jennie Camp, food production specialist of the Extension Service division of Texas A. and M. College, predicted on her recent return from Northwest Texas, where many frame gardens are located.

Frame gardens came from cold frames, according to Miss Camp. They had their inception in the Panhandle section, where county home demonstration agents found that small areas, protected from cold, wind, and sand, produced earlier and more vegetables of higher quality than did the regular gardens.

"People in Northwest Texas find they can plant frame gardens in March and have fresh vegetables by the middle of April, or about the same time as vegetables are ready for gathering in Central Texas outside gardens," said Miss Camp. "Normally they would have to wait until June to have vegetables."

The spread of the frame garden system has been amazing. They are inexpensive, for they are usually made of scrap lumber, fertilized with barnyard manure, and covered with canvas, according to Miss Camp. Where only a few years ago only an occasional frame garden was found, there are now hundreds in Northwest Texas. One county, Lynn, has 67 such gardens.

"I found one instance in which a woman has harvested vegetables valued at $25.15 from an area 4 by 16 feet," Miss Camp reported. "I think the frame garden has great possibilities over a large portion of the state, especially in cases of restricted areas, poor soil, lack of rainfall, or other unfavorable conditions."

NERVOUS TRIGGER FINGERS

A Dallas tragedy of last week can be ascribed to pistol carrying by a man who, with the best of intentions, had no business at the moment to be armed. Legal restrictions against the carrying of weapons were born of similar occurrences, accumulating in the years when the gentlemen of frontier sections regarded a gun as an integral part of dress. Civilization gradually came around to the conviction that the mere presence of a pistol is often cause for a very unfortunate homicide.

There is far too much pistol totting in these days. It should be held to a minimum, carefully restricted by permit, and all legal carriers held fully responsible for unauthorized use. The man with the gun is far too prone to shoot first and think afterwards. The trigger finger is an unreasoning member but kills as effectively as if it thought.

In homicide cases, the prevalence of pistol totting has given clever criminal lawyers the defense of the frequently hypothetical "hip-pocket move," a contention that would have less credence if fewer pistols were carried.

In Dallas today, there can hardly be more than 500 persons who are entitled by their business to carry weapons in public and of these not all by any means would be authorized for 24 hours to wear a gun. But it is probable that several thousand persons in Dallas habitually go armed. Fewer guns—fewer homicides. More guns—more deaths. Why not end the practice?—Dallas News.

INFLUENZA ON INCREASE

AUSTIN, Texas.—Reports from widely separated parts of Texas to the State Health Department indicate that influenza is on the increase. Recent snows and colder weather account for the increase, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health officer.

Colds, grippe, influenza or whatever we may call them are believed to be spread from person to person through discharges from the nose and throat.

To protect yourself and others from such discharges, here are precautions to be followed: Influenza is highly infectious. Practically everyone is susceptible to it. No matter how many times you may have had the disease, you may contract it again. Therefore, keep away from people who are sneezing, coughing, or sniffing, or who are actively ill with colds, influenza, or pneumonia.

Keep away from crowded places. Have your own towel and drinking cup and always wash your hands before eating. Keep yourself as fit as possible. Drink plenty of water, eat simple, nourishing food, exercise out of doors every day, dress according to the weather, get plenty of sleep in a well-ventilated room.

If you feel an attack of flu, or even what you may think is an ordinary cold, coming on, go to bed, send for your doctor, and follow his directions. A cold can too easily develop into a fatal mistake.

Commencement Exercise

Friday evening was the last of the Spring term of school and at 8:30 p. m. quite a large crowd gathered at the school house to witness the commencement exercises, which, without a single exception, from start to finish was good. Some of the players and speakers showing exceptional ability. Miss Nettie Sawyer played the part of a rich old country aunt and her sister, Miss Alie Sawyer, was not a bit behind her in playing the role of the Adopted daughter. Miss Inez Bess acted well her part as a conciliating personage. Anxious to be in the good graces of her country aunt in order to inherit a fortune from her, and Miss Hamilton was an adept at expressing her contempt of Poke Bonnets and strong dislike of country aunts from the Pigeon Creek vicinity. Charlie Hamilton makes a pretty good lover, on the stage, talking to deaf old maid aunts of his sweetheart. Little Miss Gaster Randal displayed marked ability and aptitude for the parts in which she partook, and master Dube Pyeatt, showed "em" that he was not scared by facing the audience and saying his speech without a tremor.

The last piece on the program, the Sunflower Drill, was executed in a splendid manner, if any one person in this play deserves especial mention it is Mark Key, who acted the role of the widower, hampered in trying to get married, by two spoiled children that persisted in marching to the altar with him, which seemed to worry Mark no little.

To say that the entertainment was a success would be but expressing it mildly. Everyone did well, exceptionally so, and those mentioned in the above are only used as samples of the ability of their cooperators. Mrs. Randal is to be congratulated on the signal success of her efforts.

Mrs. Jack Stricklin, Jr.
Editor—Phone 45

With only twelve more shopping days until Christmas, everyone seems to have the Christmas spirit, the young miss looking for gifts for "Him, and the boy for "Her" and father and mother for the whole family. Everywhere the gay Christmas decorations in colors and silver and gold, makes the shoppers aware St. Nick is near, in fact you can almost hear the sleigh bells.

The merchants have one of the loveliest and most complete stock ever brought to Brownfield, and each report heavy sales.

The streets with their beautiful lights make the business thoroughfare look cityfied, and when the resident section enters into the Chamber of Commerce city Christmas yard campaign, and some are already planning, the town will really be pretty.

DECEMBER BRIDE IS HONORED WITH SHOWER

One of the loveliest bridal showers to be given this season, was Thursday afternoon, December the second, at the Venetian Auditorium, honoring Miss Lenore Brownfield, who became the bride of Mr. Lal Copeland, of Seagraves, December fifth.

Guests were received in the foyer, registered and escorted to the tea tables which were centered in blue and silver Christmas trees and crystal vases of red carnations. Mesdames W. B. Toone and Miss Jewel Edwards at one table and Mrs. W. A. Bell and Mrs. T. L. Treadaway at the other table poured tea from the silver services and served dainty cakes and candy.

The beautifully lighted Christmas tree was placed in the center of the Orchestra alcove, with its scintillating back ground of gold and vases of autumn leaves, made a lovely setting for the tree with the many gifts covering the alcove floor.

After a few well chosen words of appreciation by Miss Lenore, the many gifts, which showed the love and appreciation of her many friends, were unwrapped and passed around to the large circle of seated ladies. One of the gifts which will be the most cherished of the many was a lovely Bavarian china tea set given by her mother to Lenore's aunt, Mrs. A. R. Smith, at her shower, who gave it to Lenore at this shower.

Music for the afternoon was furnished by Miss Gertrude Rasco and Jane Brownfield, some 100 ladies were present.

Out of town visitors were the honorees sister, Mrs. Joe Bailey and daughter, of Lubbock, and Miss Ella May Butler also of Lubbock.

Hostess for this lovely affair were Mesdames T. L. Treadaway, W. A. Bell, Roy Herod, Earl Jones, Mon Telford, A. J. Stricklin, Sylvian Sumner, W. B. Toone, Miss Jewel Edwards and Miss Olga Fitzgerald.

LISTED IN "WHO'S WHO"

We read that the former Wallis Warfield Simpson, of Baltimore, Md., now the Duchess of Windsor, made her debut in the British "Who's Who Today," as a member of the Royal family.

We suppose it would be grand to be born into, so to speak, the British book "Who is Who." It's much better to be good old American, where you can get in without so much red tape, provided of course, if you have the fifty bucks to spend, and appear in "Who is Who in America Today."

We can't all be born of Royal lineage or marry into, and this plan is so much more simple and we think to be preferred; then too we know of another book where you can be listed still cheaper. It's in the class of us country newspaper folks, who could, if we wanted to, hob-nob with the great and near great.

MRS. SELF ENTERTAINS ACE HIGH CLUB

Mrs. Ned Self was a charming hostess when she entertained the Ace High Bridge Club at her home Friday afternoon. Bridge was the diversion of the afternoon, three tables were set and the following ladies attended. Mesdames A. A. Sawyer, C. J. Smith, R. M. Kendrick, Ray Christopher, Earl Jones, Eunice Jones, Jim Graves, W. C. Smith, W. H. Collins, M. E. Brown, Jno. R. Turner and Mrs. Gertrude Lees. Lovely refreshments were served after the games.

BROWNFIELD-COPELAND

Last Sunday afternoon at three o'clock, at the Methodist parsonage, Miss Lenore Brownfield of this place and Lal Copeland of Seagraves, were united in marriage, Rev. R. T. Breedlove officiating.

Mrs. Copeland is the daughter of Mr. A. M. Brownfield. She is a graduate of Brownfield High School, studied one year at Texas Tech, graduated from the Columbia School of Expression, Chicago, Ill.

Because of her sweet, friendly manner, she is loved by all who know her, and numbers her friends by her acquaintances.

Mr. Copeland for the past five years has been in the employ of Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Co., Seagraves, and is known to be a young man of sterling quality. The happy young couple will make their home at Seagraves.

Lovelace-Wieland

The ring ceremony of the church was used to unite Mr. O. D. Lovelace of Lubbock and Miss Olivia Wieland of Ropesville in the bonds of holy matrimony at the Methodist parsonage Saturday afternoon. The young people, having secured the marriage license in Lubbock, drove to this city to be married. They will make their home at Lubbock. The bride and groom were accompanied by the brides brother, Mr. Wieland. Brother Ike Breedlove pronounced the sacred words that made the wedding of these fine young folk complete.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ravis, with Mrs. J. J. Richards, all of Lubbock visited the Methodist parsonage family Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Ravis are related to Mrs. Breedlove, and Mrs. Richards is Mrs. Breedlove's aunt, who recently moved to Lubbock from Amarillo. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Reid of Tahoka were visitors at the Methodist parsonage to see Mary who is still confined to her room. Mrs. Reid has been exceptionally kind and is a long-time friend of Mary's. Mrs. Reid has been pianist for the Tahoka Methodist Church for a number of years.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dalton of Paducah are staying a few days with Rev. and Mrs. Breedlove at the parsonage while Mr. Dalton is in Brownfield on business.

NOTICE OF CALL MEETING OF AUXILIARY

All ladies of the American Legion Auxiliary are urged to be present at a called meeting of the auxiliary to be held at the Legion hall next Wednesday, Dec. 15, to formulate plans for the Christmas for our ex-soldier boys and their families that might not otherwise have a nice Christmas. If anyone knows of any ex-soldiers family or their dependents in need will please notify this unit here.

MRS. J. H. GRIFFIN,
President American Legion
Auxiliary.

WOODMAN CIRCLE

The 42 party sponsored by the drill team of circle No. 462 last Thursday night was a success. Prizes for high score went to Mrs. Howard Hogue and Mr. Charley Warren and low to Mrs. Charlie Gordon and Mr. Wayne Brown. Homemade candy was served to about 50 guests. Our regular meeting will be tonight, Friday, Dec. 10 at 7:30 o'clock. We want to urge each member to be present.

MAIDS AND MATRONS CLUB

The Maids and Matrons Club met in a very interesting session Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. E. C. Davis as hostess, Mrs. A. R. Smith, president, presiding.

The hostesses for the Christmas party announced they would have the annual Christmas dinner at the Wines hotel, Dec. 17th at 7 o'clock. Hostesses are Mrs. J. L. Randal, Mrs. Teague, Misses Gertrude Rasco, Jewel Edwards and Sloan.

Committees were appointed to assist the Lions and Rotary Clubs and Chamber of Commerce with the Christmas program for the Terry county school children on Dec. the 17th, and the yard beautiful campaign on Christmas decorations.

A delicious refreshment plate was served to the members, Mesdames Money Price, Garret Daugherty, M. E. Jacobson, J. L. Randal, David Perry, Jim Graves, W. H. Dallas, Roy Winger, Lee Brownfield, W. B. Edwards, R. B. Parrish, A. R. Smith, Mon Telford, A. J. Stricklin, Teague and Misses Gertrude Rasco, Jewel Edwards, Olga Fitzgerald, and Miss Sloan.

THE METHODIST CHURCH

There was an unusually good attendance at the Methodist Church last Sunday, and the people were unanimously pleased with the new presiding elder, the Rev. O. P. Clark, D. D., whose sermon was to say the least, out of the ordinary. Brother Clark will make many friends in this district, which is the largest and most important in the Northwest Texas Conference.

The pastor will preach at both the services next Sunday, "The Revealing Rent" is to be the morning subject based on one of the historic events relate in Second Kings, the sixth chapter, the text being in the 30th verse. The public is always welcome at the public services of the church.

Beginning next Tuesday, the choir rehearsals will be resumed. The Hi and Senior Leagues meet at 6 and 6:45 p. m. each Sunday under competent leadership. On Saturday evening there will be a delegation of young people will attend the District Young People's meet at Tahoka. A good number are expected to go. Let those who want room reserved notify Mr. Emmitt Smith not later than Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Collier of Vernon, Texas, father of Roy Collier, came in last week to spend the winter with their son. These are a charming old couple, and endear themselves to everyone they meet. Their many friends will be glad to learn they have returned for another visit.

Don't fail to make your reservation for a de-luxe copy of our Historical and Prosperity edition of the Herald, issue of Dec. 17th. It will furnish you hours of real enjoyment in reading of the pioneer times so vividly portrayed by the writers. All are good, some of them real masterpieces.

Mr. and Mrs. Wes Key were over from Gomez transacting business Tuesday.

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTICE

The "All Church School of Missions" at the Baptist church this week has been marked with interest. There has been a missionary to speak each evening.

Rev. Stapp of Brazil will speak Sunday.

"The Lost Carol, a Christmas Cantata will be presented at the Sunday evening service of Dec. 19. All singers are urged to attend the practice service to prepare this dramatic carol.

The Building fund continues to grow. Make your offering to this fund.

Sunday School ----- 9:45
Preaching ----- 11 and 7:30
B. T. U. ----- 6:30
Wednesday prayer service ----- 7:00
Officers and Teachers meeting ----- 7:00

Make it possible for a marked increase in the attendance on all of these services with your presence.

—AVERY ROGERS.

Those who visited in the J. H. Howell home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Matlock and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Pritchett and children, Mrs. Luther Huddleston and children, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Huddleston of Snyder and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Weldon and children and Mrs. Cecil George and children and Dorothy Copeland of Brownfield and Miss Mildred Hubbard of Knox City.

Mrs. Jack Bryan was in town Tuesday and reports that her mother, Mrs. C. A. McDaniel, who has been quite seriously ill, is not any better. She is suffering of asthma and other complications.

Mrs. Dick McDuffie and Mrs. Dudley Repp were Lubbock visitors Monday.

Mrs. Irene Duke is greeting her many friends at the Nelson-Primms Drug Store where she is now employed.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Neal have as their guest Mrs. Neal's father, Mr. Thurmond, of Laredo, Texas. He is very favorably impressed with this country and was surprised to see the many thousands of bales of cotton on the yards here waiting to be compressed and shipped.

Editor and Mrs. A. E. Richards of the Madow Review, were very pleasant callers at the Herald office Friday afternoon.

Willard Bright, the smiling Editor of the Seagraves News, was up Friday and, of course, came to jolly up the Herald force.

Mrs. Jack Blake had an emergency operation for appendicitis last Friday night.

Mr. Lee Allman, one of our oldest pioneers is reported to be quite seriously ill of an cardiac ailment.

Mrs. T. M. Dobbs of the Challis community, was in shopping Saturday.

Mr. T. S. Dodd and children of the Gomez community, were in town Saturday.

Mrs. Jack Stricklin Jr. and little son, Jack Taylor, visited their aunt, Mrs. Ceyton Crowe and family in Seagraves the first of the week.

Rudolph Lewis, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lewis of this city, went out to the old home place of his grandfather, Wm. Howard, after school was out this year, and cultivated a cotton patch that will yield six or seven bales. More school boys could put over the same trick.

Elzy and Tom Howard of the Needmore community, were here Monday, and both called on the Herald for a few minutes.

Radio reported Wednesday morning that a freeze reached as far south as Florida, nipping tender winter vegetables.

Dorothy Joe Telford, of DeKalb, Texas, and Gertrude Way of Lamesa, Texas, who are attending Tech College at Lubbock, were week end visitors in the home of their uncle, Mr. Mon Telford, and Mrs. Telford.

Messrs Earl Jones, Red Tudor and Glenn Akers returned from a business trip to Ft. Worth and Dallas Wednesday. They brought back two new Fords for Tudor Sales Co.

If you see someone looking completely tired and dragged out, he has probably just been away on a vacation rest trip.

PIE-BOX SUPPER

There will be a pie and box supper at the Challis school house Friday night, December 17th. Plenty free music. Come.

Notice to the Public

The 42 and Bridge party scheduled for Friday, Dec. 10, at the gymnasium and sponsored by the Band mothers club has been postponed until after Christmas.

LET'S TALK ABOUT CLOTHES

DENTON.—A clothes Christmas will definitely solve your gift problems. You can search far and wide and not find any sort of knickknack that will take the place of "something to wear" in the hearts of your donees.

From "her to her" the gift can be almost anything in the stores, from handkerchiefs to fur coats. But the closer the friend the more you're supposed to know about her preferences. Do not get her something that anybody could select; make it personal. Instead of a pretty brown bag, get her a good-looking suede purse in a color that will go "just right" with that bottle green suit of hers. And don't force her to get a new dress in order to wear a pair of gloves your fancy dictated.

The only way to get a truly desirable clothes gift is to study your friend's needs. If her workaday outfit is all in good condition except for a scarf or bag or pair of gloves, replace the worn-out part. If her best dress could be changed favorably by the addition of a colored scarf or some swank new gloves take it upon yourself to change it.

From "him to her" the gifts are somewhat limited, but there is just as much of an opening for skill and imagination. TSCW girls pick the man who knows that there are two main types of perfume, flower and blended and that his lady love prefers either one or the other. If, in addition, he knows the best brand of her favorite scent, he will soon outdistance his duller brother who gets "anything that smells good."

NEW BANKER ARRIVES

Master Sam K. Kendrick put in his appearance at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Kendrick Tuesday night, Dec. 7th.

DEDICATED TO JOHN PUBLIC

—By Mrs. W. G. Hardin

'Way down on the corner the Herald man stays
And boasts for old Terry in various ways

Tho surrounded with manuscripts up to his neck

Just walk in the office and hand him your check

And say "keep er goin" the old boy will smile

Then watch the next issue you're there in grand style,

Tis Peculiar to note how his charity blends

With his talent to make you look good to your friends,

How with glowing account, on the very front side,

He prates on the charms of your beautiful ? bride,

Incidentally also he makes you to see,

What your wife and your friends would desire you to be

You must right about face and be changed thro and thro,

If you'd be what the Herald man says about you.

When you die all your vices he seems to forget.

How you borrowed and mortgaged. And there died in debt

And on politics platform degraded each plank

And your name on the church roll was spelled with a blank

But in spite of his goodness he too soon must go,

And with others he'll join annanias below;

So while he is here cheer him up, make him glad

Subscribe for the Herald or give him an ad.
