

School Activities Point To Commencement

One does not even have to be a student or instructor, or hardly around the buildings about the high school to realize that the 1937-38 term of school is about to reach its termination. The various and sundry activities of the student body is indication enough. Just at this time, the trial exams have not progressed far enough to definitely state just how many will graduate, but we have been informed the number will be between 55 and 60.

In the meantime, the class is getting ready for its many activities, including the Junior-Senior banquet, always a lively and very fraternal affair. Those taking special courses in voice, music and other things are in the meantime putting on their programs for the edification of parents and friends.

The next twenty days will be filled brim full of school matters, then the scatter for vacation of teachers, as well as the student body. However many of the seniors are planning to attend some college, and that will keep their minds busy from now until mid-September, including that of Mom and Pop.

Responded Liberally For Crippled Children

Mr. J. O. Gillham, Vice-President of the Brownfield State Bank who acted as treasurer for the Crippled Children drive here some two weeks ago, was contacted this week as to the amount of money raised here in the drive. He informed us that about $65.00 had been received up to that time.

Mr. Gillham stated that he thought that quite liberal for a community this size, and we agree. However, we believe that if the drive had been put on in the fall instead of spring, much more money would have been realized. Another thing, this is rather new to folks, and they have not quite been educated to its importance, and when they do, they will likely take a greater interest in it. A crippled child is a direct liability to a community, but if he can be given medical and surgical aid whereby he may become self supporting, then he is as much an asset as any other normal individual.

Henry Ford Favors Garner For President

BOSTON, April 28.—Henry Ford, in a copyrighted interview today in the Boston Evening American, names Vice-President John Nance Garner, as his choice for President in 1940.

Ford was interviewed by John Bradford Main, Boston reporter, just prior to his visit with President Roosevelt yesterday.

He declared he was a Republican, but when asked his choice for the next president, he replied, "Why a Republican, you've got a good man—in Washington now, Jack Garner." "Jack Garner would make a mighty fine president. He's got a mighty fine record. He's got the spot. He knows what's going on. He's got experience," Ford told the reporter.

"I don't say Jack Garner will be our next President, but as things are, I don't think you could make a better choice."

Mrs. Auburg Puts Potato Chips On Market

Mrs. J. T. Auburg, local lady put her potato chips on the local market this week. She stated to a reporter that she was starting in a small way, but hoped to build up her business. She was also frank in stating that the market here was supplied with potato chips from other places.

With that condition in view, she said, I know that I've got to make as good or better potato chips than others put on the market here, or there will be no incentive for the purchaser to buy, as the other manufacturers are making good ones. Anyway, call at your favorite grocery and ask for a bag of locally made chips. They come in 10c and 20c cellophane bags.

McKinney Goes to Lamb As Assistant Agent

W. T. (Bill) McKinney, who has been assisting county agent R. N. McLain here for the past two or three years, and an all around jamp up good fellow, left recently for Amherst, where he will be assistant to County Agent Don Turner of that county. His job was soil conservation assistant in this county.

Bill has lots of friends in Terry both among the farmers and business men. He was always willing to work overtime if necessary to help out in any undertaking for the betterment of the farm class in this county, and his many friends will regret that he is no longer with us, but wish him much success in his new home and new position.

Serious Car Wreck On Lubbock Hiway Sun.

It was about dark Sunday night when the siren on the ambulance sang out and headed up the Lubbock highway. Some four miles out, a car belonging to a Slaton man, had in trying to pass another car, swerved back too quick, and it rolled over a number of times, apparently, as it was a very badly mashed vehicle.

The men, Mr. J. M. Reasoner and G. R. Aycock, were brought back to the hospital here where their many abrasions, bumps and scratches were mended and dressed. Surgeons reported that Mr. Aycock's nose was almost torn from his face. The car was a Ford V-8 either 34 or 35 model. Harris Wrecking Co. brought the car to town. They were carried home early Monday.

Judge Alvin R. Allison Here Wednesday

Judge Alvin R. Allison, candidate for Representative of the 119th District, was in our city, Wednesday. He addressed the Lions Club at the noon hour.

Mr. Allison paid the Herald a short call in the afternoon. He feels very optimistic for his election.

The little seven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lem Yates of Happy has been very ill with pneumonia. Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Yates of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Gaston of Cone, Texas visited her at the local hospital Wednesday.

Brownfield School Gets Three New Credits

Supervisor G. D. Holbrook was here about the first of March making his calls on the different schools of this section, and Supt. Baze has recently handed us his report, which is indeed commendable. We might state that Brownfield schools have been given three new units in affiliation; 1-2 in Physical education, 1-2 in salesmanship, and a full unit in public speaking. A half unit was dropped in algebra, leaving an increase of 1 1-2 units.

Below we take pleasure in giving Mr. Holbrook's report on the condition of the local school, including his recommendations and commendations:

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. The buildings are in a very good state of repair and are being well kept. The primary building is in need of some repairs and equipment.

2. The work is well organized and administered, as is evidenced by the smooth, orderly manner in which all departments are functioning.

3. The course of study is receiving the immediate attention of the administrators and teachers with the view to better serve the community. Some excellent work was observed in the arts, shop work and music work especially.

4. Teachers are producing some excellent results in all departments. Teachers are assigned to work in their special fields of preparation. Teaching conditions are as favorable as available funds will make them.

5. Specimens of work in all subjects in which credit is maintained or desired are on file and accessible.

6. The library and science departments are receiving the attention of the superintendent and teachers. A deficiency in some departments is evident and an annual appropriation should be provided by the school board to supplement the needs of the library.

COMMENTS:

1. The supervisor wishes to express his appreciation for the kind and courteous treatment given him during his visit in the Brownfield School.

2. The superintendent and the school board are to be commended on the addition of several new teachers the current year, which has reduced the pupil teacher load perceptibly.

Farmer Kills Wife and Neighbor Near Ralls

One of the most regrettable killings on the south Plains occurred at old Emma, near Ralls this week, when a farmer by the name of Jim Wright, 45, killed his wife by shooting her four times, and then moved on to the home of a neighboring farmer, T. J. Burks, and shot him through a window, while he and his wife were reading at a table.

Burks was living Tuesday afternoon, and his condition reported favorable at the Lubbock Sanitarium. The bullet just missed his heart, but penetrated a lung. Armed posses hunted all night for Wright, and he was found about daylight in the seed house of a farm home. He had taken his own life. It is believed he had a fancied grievance against Burks.

R. O. Black has moved the office of the local unit of the Federal Land Bank, from the State Bank building to the Bandy building.

Senator Sheppard's Tribute to Mothers

"The presence of an American mother honors any place, although it be the audience chamber of the president of the United States. When the president steps into the presence of an American mother, he is before his superior.

"Sir, it is impossible in words to measure the sacredness of motherhood. It is the sweetest note in the great anthem the ages chant to God, and the radiance of His infinite mercy is reflected in a mother's smiles, a mother's tears, a mother's prayers, a mother's love.

"Not until the tired hands that supported the cares of infancy and ministered to the reeling years have been folded forever; not until the tired eyes, grown dim and weary with the anxious vigilance of countless hours and endless days and nights that seemed eternal have closed in death, do we begin to grasp the depth and tenderness of this mother love.

Example Unsurpassed

"In all the channels of human activity; in all the record of human martyrdom, self-sacrifice and valor, the example of woman is unsurpassed by man. We need but mention the loyalty of Artemisia to the memory of Mausolus, the devotion of Margaret Roper to Sir Thomas Moore, the affection of Eleanor for Edward, the heroism of Lucy Hutehew in the castle of Newark, the daring of Catherine Herman at the siege of Ostend, the fortitude of Lady Russell, the eloquence of Cornelia, the constancy of Madame Lavergne, the discovery of the American continent, on which have been wrought out the elemental problems of representative government, of practical science and of every form of progress, the very existence of the American republic, are due primarily to a woman.

Sublimest Attribute

"If Isabella had not risked her personal fortune in support of the strange, almost fantastic, project of Columbus, no ships would have ever left the Spanish shore. And it is especially fitting that in a country which so largely owes its being and progress to a woman's courage, the love of woman should form the sublimest attribute of its people. The mothers of the race should be the objects of its most unselfish devotion."

PROCLAMATION

I am sure it is the desire of each Citizen of the City of Brownfield to want to point with pride to the sanitation and beauty of their city. This can be accomplished by a very small effort on behalf of the residents. It is very unsightly to have one's premises or vacant property covered with rubbish and refuse.

The city has an efficient force of street and sanitary men to remove all rubbish after it has been collected and piled at a convenient place in the alley where it may be reached by the city trucks. It is my desire to see Brownfield one of the cleanest cities in the State, and to be able to point to it with pride when a tour of inspection is made by the state sanitary officers. In order to do this I ask your hearty co-operation.

I therefore, as Mayor of the City of Brownfield, proclaim the week of May 15th to May 21st as clean-up week.

The Boy Scouts of Brownfield will assist the city in making this clean-up week.

Attest: CLYDE C. COLEMAN, Mayor of Brownfield.

ROL M. HEROD, Secretary.

4 Days of Rip-Roaring, Snorting Sandstorms

How was it the old prison song went? "Three more months and three more days etc. Well, this week, the old town and country, indeed all west Texas and New Mexico and Oklahoma for all we know were treated to a duster that ranged Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and Monday and Tuesday nights thrown in for good measure.

Still the ladies smile, even though you hint their nerves are worn to a frazzle cleaning up after them. Nope! no rain. Would get most enough clouds once in awhile to kinder sprinkle, but here'd come a dust storm with renewed force that would put the skids under the clouds and send them back to the gulf.

Most local forecasters are looking for rain about the middle of the month, and really that is the time to plant in this section.

A forced smile is never effective.

Mail to Be Picked Up By Plane Here

LUBBOCK, Texas, May 2.—The entire South Plains will have a part in the observance of National Air Mail Week, May 15 to 21, according to Amos Howard, postmaster and local chairman. At a meeting this week plans were made for a "feeder" service out of Lubbock to various towns in this section for May 19, the date set for the air mail pick-up, it was announced. A scheduled plane will make the flight from Amarillo to San Antonio via Plainview, Lubbock, Big Spring and San Angelo, and the four "feeder" planes out of Lubbock will pick up mail over the South Plains to make connection with that schedule.

The time has not been set as yet, but the routes have been mapped out and are as follows:

No. 1. Littlefield, Muleshoe, Morton, Levelland.

No. 2.—B'field, Seagraves, Hobbs, N. M. Seminole, Lamesa, Tahoka.

No. 3. Floydada, Lockney, Hale Center, Abernathy.

No. 4. Slaton, Post, Spur, Ralls.

It was explained that intermediate towns will be asked to take their mail to the nearest town scheduled for the test pickup, as it is impossible to land at every town. Time is a large element in the plans and to carry out a program in an efficient manner conservation of this time is important. Special committees will be formed in each town and details as to their participation will be made known at a later date.

May 15 Final Signup Date For New Program

COLLEGE STATION.—May 15 has been set as the final date for accepting farm work sheets and application for range inspection under the 1938 AAA program, according to Geo. Slaughter, Wharton, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee.

The work sheets constitute a record of various acreage on farms while the range applications are requests for inspection. These two forms are the first steps farmers and ranchmen take if they want to take part in the Agricultural Conservation Program, and farms and ranches will not be eligible to enter the program unless these forms are filled out, signed and tendered to the office of county agricultural agents or to committeemen prior to the final signup date, Slaughter said.

May 15 was selected by the state committee in a recent session at Texas A. and M. College and the date has been approved by I. W. Duggan, director of the Southern Region of AAA.

Slaughter emphasized that a farm covered by a work sheet in 1937 or since did not need a new work sheet unless the ownership had been changed or the farm divided. Ranches which will be entered in the 1938 range conservation program must be covered by a 1938 application regardless of the 1937 status.

Band Rendered Concert At Tahoka, Wednesday

Prof. M. L. H. Baze with his car, and Mrs. Jim Miller with her car, and Prof. Burl Williams, bandmaster with one of the buses, carried the high school band to Tahoka, Wednesday afternoon, where they paraded and gave a band concert. Just a friendly jecture from one town—one school—to another town and school.

Mr. Baze, who taught for four years in the Tahoka school, reported that the band was well received in our neighboring city. It is believed that Tahoka will make an effort to put their school band on a permanent basis this next term by employing a full time instructor.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, it is now Spring Season and many merchants of Brownfield are setting up nice window displays of straw hats the annual observance of Straw Hat Day is now in order.

THEREFORE, I Clyde C. Coleman, Mayor of the City of Brownfield, do hereby proclaim Saturday, May 7th, 1938, as Straw Hat Day in Brownfield.

Attest: CLYDE C. COLEMAN, Mayor. ROY M. HEROD, Secretary.

Mrs. Leon Morgan and daughter, Nancy are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Gaston in Gomez.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowland Brown were Plainview visitors, Tuesday.

Mayor Coleman Issues 21 Proclamations

In another place in this issue of the Herald, you will find two proclamations of Mayor Clyde C. Coleman, the first relating to Straw Hat Day, which has been set for Saturday, May 7th, tomorrow. Spring is supposed to be here now. It is time to doff the old fur or cap, and put on a straw. The merchants will have some attractive prices on straws.

Clean-up Week, May 15-21

The second proclamation relates to Clean-up, Paint-up Week, May 15-21. Sometimes Brownfield is referred to as a dirty town, and while it is not the dirtiest, it can get in a horrible mess, on account of so much wind, coupled with carelessness of some of our business men in regards to the rear of their establishments. Brownfield can easily become one of the cleanest small towns in Texas with work and co-operation of its people.

Mayor Coleman states that the Boy Scouts will assist in this cleanup campaign, and that city junk wagons and trucks will be available to haul off all trash that is put in piles, convenient for them to get to. Let's all join in this move, whole heartedly, and make the old town shine like new money.

Many of us have outbuildings that a coat of paint would add 100 per cent to their looks. Even some of the homes, and especially some of the rent houses look as if a paint brush had not hit them in years. It is amazing what a little paint well applied will do for buildings. If you are not able to hire the work done, do it after work time. Most of us are off after six now.

Let's join Mayor Coleman in making the town a shining spot when the state inspector comes around. If we do not get the name of being the cleanest town like our neighbor, Lubbock, has for the past three years, we can at least get favorable mention, and once we get the hang of cleaning and keeping the town clean, we may win that coveted position.

High School Band Goes to San Angelo

More than half a hundred bands and thousands of people attended the district school band contest held at San Angelo last Friday and Saturday. Thirty-four members of the local band were in attendance, according to Mrs. R. L. Bowers, one of the ladies who attended.

Bandmaster Burl Williams and wife, Mrs. R. L. Bowers, and Mrs. Chock Hamilton went with part of the band in a chartered McKinlin bus. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Miller, Mr. Chas. Leonard and Dr. H. H. Hughes took car loads of boys. They returned Saturday night.

Mrs. Bowers reported that while she was not aware that the local band won any place, as it is just a second year band, they acquitted themselves very nicely both on the stage, and in the march, and looked very smart in their new uniforms.

But, added Mrs. Bowers, after a 60 or 65 piece band left the stage, our small 34 piece band looked like about half of them had been left at home. But quality is not always in numbers.

Methodist Churches Have Been Re-United

Splitting back in the 40ties over the slavery question, of near a century the Northern Methodist church and the Methodist Episcopal Church South, have been separate unites, and in many towns and cities along the border line, maintained separate congregation.

Even before that time the Methodist Protestant church split off over governmental matters. This week at Birmingham, Alabama, in the deep south, the three branches of Methodism reunited in one huge church with near 10,000,000 communicants.

As the three high dignitaries, representing each of the three churches, two Bishops representing north and south and President of the governing body of the Protestant branch, shook hands, as the assembly sang, "Blest Be the Ties That Bind."

It is believed that negro congregations in the south will still maintain their own local organizations, and not try to seek memberships in white churches. In fact, one minister of the northern branch in Dallas, stated that his church was within a block of a negro Methodist church, and in the thirteen years of its existence, no negro had ever asked for membership.

$88,446.50 Received By Terry County Farmers

There was a bunch of happy Terry county farmers and ranchmen around over about the County Agent's office in the courthouse Monday morning, when it was learned that $88,446.50 of the 1937 compliance checks had arrived for distribution. Some of these checks were given to ranchmen who had complied with soil and grass conservation, as well as the farmers.

County Agent R. N. McLain estimates that around half of the money for Terry county was received in this shipment, and that the full amount will range around $175,000. This huge sum of money coming in just at this time will be a great help to the farmers in purchasing necessary supplies, and will mean much to business in general.

In this connection, Mr. McLain stated that farmers who wished to sign up for this years crop have only until May 15th to comply, that after that date there would be no go for anyone, as the books would be closed.

So this is the last and final warning. If you are going to make a crop this year, and intend to share in government bonuses on your cotton, better seek out the county agent's office at once.

"Buying Power" Gains Bolster Texas' Appeal

DALLAS, May 3.—Impressive gains for Texas as a whole and for its "big five" of cities over 100,000 population in 1937 retail sales and "effective buying income" constitute further evidence, says a report of the All-South Development Council, of the state's potentialities to provide healthy and growing consumer markets for the industries its business leaders are trying to attract.

A study of authoritative business surveys shows that the total effective buying income of Texas in 1937 was $2,996,100,000, a gain of $109,462,000 over the 1936 figure of $2,886,638,000. While in percentage this amounts to only 3.8 per cent, against the national average increase of 6.7 per cent for last year, in the matter of retail sales Texas ran ahead of the national average. In this, Texas totaled $1,666,880,000—a gain of 9.3 per cent—whereas the national retail sales were estimated at $40,590,000,000, an 8.5 per cent rise.

Texas' effective buying income, per family, was $2,171 in 1937, the same rate of increase, 3.8 per cent, over the 1936 per family figure of $2,092. The state's "buying power index" number slumped slightly last year, from 92 in 1936 to 89.

While Dallas retained its hold on fifth place nationally—and leadership in the Southwest—among the "100,000 population group of cities" in effective money income per capita, Houston, Fort Worth, San Antonio and El Paso all made sensational advances in this rating. Houston climbed into eighth place nationally, from 46th in 1936, the per capita income rising from $770 to $925. Fort Worth was close behind, moving up from 81st to 14th place by advancing its per capita figure from $710 to $900.

GAINES COUNTY VOTERS OPPOSE SALE OF BEER ELECTION

SEMINOLE, April 30.—Late tonight enough returns from the Gaines county beer election had been received here to assure that the county would remain dry, said Mrs. Lora Brown McAlpin, county clerk.

With 11 boxes reporting, the vote was 404 for to 538 against the sale of beer. Returns of four boxes, with an estimated total vote of "100 at the most," had not been received here to night and would not be, Mrs. McAlpin said.

County officials said they believed the election was the third attempt to legalize the sale of liquor in Gaines county.

TO THE VOTERS OF TERRY CO.

Dear Friend: After a Swash-Buckling; Lung-Bursting; Nerve-Wrecking 3 months campaign, I have decided to withdraw from the J. P. race, with the consolation I have never been defeated for office.

I never had any experience in raising a crop of voters, but I am a great success raising onions. So I will continue my old trade I learned when I was a boy, and take no chances on politics.

Ho, Hum! Don't the wind blow? Yours for a bumper onion crop, —R. E. SHUGART

There was a fine article in the April issue of Southwest Sports Magazine, published at Waco, Texas, giving several reasons why Texas Technological College should be admitted to the Southwest Conference in football, as well as other athletic contests. Just why several colleges in Texas join with one in Arkansas in keeping out some healthy fighters from this section, has long been a mystery to the writer. With no logical explanations, it appears that the east and central Texas colleges are either a bit sectional minded, jealous of the rapid growth of Tech, or both. Give the Red Raiders a sporting chance.

What makes dictators? Most of the daily press never miss an issue that they do not take President Roosevelt or some member of the administration to task for something or other, and lots of the arguments need something to lean on. It is no wonder that members of the new deal cabinet and other officials that have been appointed, as well as a few congressmen and senators come back in like manner, and make a near approach to a threat to throttle the press. There is no individual, group or corporation that likes to be ridden hard every day. Such tactics has made every dictator on earth. Can't the daily press find just one or two things the present administration has done that is commendable?

We noticed that about two or three of our exchanges failed to carry the beer ad that appeared in this and the other local paper last week. One of them, the Lynn County News, Tahoka, failed to explain why they didn't carry the ad, but we know. E. I. is so dry that you have to pump prime him before he will perpire. The Snyder Times reported that they did not need the money bad enough to carry even an argumentative ad about beer, and not an ad for any brand of beer. We are very sorry that we are not in such prime fix that $60 does not look good. However, we are willing to wager that there is not a merchant in Snyder that would turn down a nice order from beer dealers of Sweetwater. We know that they wouldn't turn down a New Mexico liquor or beer dealer's order for a suit of clothes, groceries or what have you, here in Brownfield. So, that's that.

We notice that the Terry County Herald is receiving orders from Lubbock, Lamesa, and even Big Spring. Next, Stricklin will be snooping around Plains to swipe the business here. But he had better look out—the watch dog is loose.—Yoakum County Review.

Evidently Hale doesn't believe we had the orders from the three sources but we have proof that we did from Editor A. E. Richards of the Meadow Star, who has kindly consented to help us scratch out for the past two weeks. By the way, Colonel, we don't consider that you are snooping around in Brownfield, when you are over here soliciting ads. But if any jobs come to us from your town voluntarily like those spoken of above, we'll take them on, snooping or no snooping.

Andrew Jackson Stricklin, Sr., has been very good for several issues, but he just cannot keep good all the time. He has been the corrector of the wrong so long that he is not comfortable when he is not after some fellow-publisher. And since Guy and Hill have been treating him in silence recently he jumps upon the Review and asks, "Bro. Hale do you have just one phone in Plains?" Well, it is just this way, Mr. A. J., Plains can have just one phone and still be bigger than any town which has two phones, yet has one in every house.—Yoakum County Review.

You must not be reading your papers again, Colonel Hale, as Charley's paper took two swats at us last week, and Hill has been off on a visit and has not had time to take a crack at us since he returned. Anyway, make good use of your telephone. Sometimes we wish we didn't have one, when there are about a dozen calls some day in a half hour when we are as busy as two bird dogs, and then again, we can't see how a person can do without a telephone, a bank account, if he has any money, or his home town newspaper. We can't.

WHITE SPOT AND RAILROAD
Terry County Herald (Brownfield): Once more the Fort Worth boosters' train is making this section allegedly to see the biggest white spot in America. And once again they will miss the very snowiest white of that white spot by missing Brownfield and trade area. But that is what we get by being on a branch line railroad. We hope Fort Worth and Dallas on their next joint west take buses, and see some real good territory that will be new to most of them. Why go over the same old spot every year? See the best corn section of West Texas—see the newest oil fields.
State Press (Dallas): One town can't have everything. If Brownfield is the center of the blondest white spot in all whitespottom it ought not to

Hudson Announces New DeLuxe Series

New Hudson 112 DeLuxe model just announced to bring additional beauty and luxury to the lowest priced field

Presenting many refinements in quality and equipment, Hudson announces a new DeLuxe model of the new Hudson 112 in the lowest price field. Luxuriously trimmed from the instrument panel to the rear window molding, the new model offers added richness, combined with the well-known Hudson roominess, engine smoothness, exclusive safety brakes and other Hudson features. Shipments already are starting from the factory and the car soon will be displayed from coast to coast.
Hudson stylists have achieved an entirely new development of the front compartment. Here a wide band of stainless steel adds a custom effect to the new grained walnut finish of the instrument panel. New beauty is carried back throughout the interior by means of a harmonizing coloring in the steering wheel, horn button, steering post and window moldings.
A combination of fine weaves and pleating outlined with upholstery lace adds richness to the upholstery. Seats and seat backs are upholstered in fine quality Lustre Boucle cloth with the door panels and sidewalls lined with plain weave boucle. New accessories include a built-in ash tray in the instrument panel and a sun visor for the driver.
Colors in a wide range, including several new shades introduced just for this Spring, are available on the DeLuxe Hudson 112. Available also are additional accessories such as electric clock, radio and oversized generator. These have been engineered for the car and can be installed as built-in units on order.
The new model is powered by the Hudson six-cylinder, 83-horsepower engine with 112-inch wheelbase. Bodies available include Brougham, Touring Brougham (with trunk), Sedan, Touring Sedan (with trunk), three-passenger Coupe, Convertible Coupe and Convertible Brougham.
Factory town delivered prices for the new model, completely equipped with four direct action shock absorbers, bumpers, radiator ornament, foot-controlled light switch and with safety plate glass throughout, begin at $704 for the three-passenger coupe.

lament its location on a lonesome branch line. There are bigger cities with multiple railroads, chromium-plated trains and jeweled locomotives which would be glad to swap some of their transport for an endowment of white-spot prosperity. Be happy with your white spot, Brownfield, and drench yourself in the salubrity of your climate. Has it occurred to you that perhaps your joyous condition is because of no opportunity to splurge in railroad travel? Some towns, like some individuals, impoverish themselves by putting on a big show with a slim foundation and make no show than to make the show and disrupt the foundation. Speaking of all this, how much business does Brownfield give its branch line railroad? How much does it give the trucks and buses which compete with the railroad? There may be no chance for even the glistening white spot of West Texas to get a main line railroad as long as it prefers the buses and trucks—if it does prefer them, a matter not determined in our own knowledge. Here is a good place to testify that the railroad industry, now feeling like a stepchild, may be in a good way of making gains it hasn't expected. Railroad lines are being discontinued, population is increasing and new lines not being built. The older lines may inherit the fortune left by the deceased lines.

GOMEZ

The biggest, best, most interesting educational and enjoyable day in the history of their school experiences was enjoyed by the local Primary pupils and their teachers, Misses Nellie and Rena McLeRoy and thirteen parents on Friday of last week. The high points of the day included a train ride from Brownfield to Wellman. The first such ride in the lives of most of the children. A picnic lunch was served at noon under the highway culvert, northeast of Wellman. Following lunch the youngsters inspected the railroad bridge nearby and played games; upon their return to Brownfield careful inspections were made of the post office, jail house, Cary's Bakery, and climaxed by a trip through the Piggly Wiggly store, where they were served cold drinks through the courtesy of the firm. It will be long remembered by everyone.
The entire group wishes to take this means of again expressing their deepest gratitude and sincerest thanks to local agent R. L. Harris and the Santa Fe employees; to post master James H. Dallas, and his corps; to Mr. White who so kindly showed us through the county jail; to the Cary's Bakery and employees; to the manager and employees of the Piggly Wiggly store.
On Wednesday evening of last week the Ex-Students assembled in the local tenth grade room for an old fashion spelling match. Among the twenty Exes participating in the event Mrs. W. H. Key proved the best speller of the group.
We wonder what these Exes will be doing next.
Messrs. Edward Walker and Milford Condra left Saturday morning for Chiloche Mo., where they will enroll in a business college.
Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Runnels and daughter left Thursday of last week for Quemado Valley where they fished for a few days.
Supt. Lee Fulton and Judge R. A. Simms of Brownfield made a business trip to Austin last week end in the interest of the local school.

We are glad to report Mr. Horace R. Fox is recovering from the fracture of three ribs and internal injuries sustained on Thursday morning of last week, as he was helping drill a well. A heavy instrument fell from some ten or fifteen feet above, striking him in the right side of his chest.
Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Key and children visited relatives at Snyder during the week end.
Messrs. and Mesdames Lee Walker, R. H. and children were Sunday afternoon guests in the F. B. Condra Jr. home.
Mr. and Mrs. Ed Thompson and family visited Sunday in the Harmony community.
Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Swain and children were Sunday afternoon guests in R. A. Whitley's home.
Mrs. John Baggett and children were week end guests of Mrs. Kenneth Furr and family.
Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cornell and little daughter of Hobbs, N. M., were the week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Burks and family.
Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Sears and C. J. McLeRoy made a business trip to Lubbock, Monday.
Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Daugherty and daughter, Beatrice, visited friends at Lamesa, Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Christesson and daughter visited relatives at Abernathy during the week end.

of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gray and family.
Mrs. Jack Parnell who has been visiting for the past several weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Whitley and relatives here, left Wednesday morning for her home in Santa Anna, Calif.
The lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Leach was the scene of one of the most delightful parties of the season on Friday evening of last week when they entertained in honor of their daughter, Ida. Parlor and lawn games directed by Miss Nora Grigg were enjoyed by all during the evening. A weiner roast climaxed the affair at which some 25 guests were present.

The local sixth and seventh grades their instructors, Mrs. Lee Fulton and Messrs. and Mesdames J. B. Draper, W. G. Carter and Mrs. Ray Day and W. G. Swain enjoyed a picnic in the Lubbock City Park on last Saturday afternoon. Enroute to Lubbock most of the group experienced their initial train ride, boarding the train at Brownfield and riding as far as Meadow. From Meadow they continued enroute to their destination by automobiles. The group numbering 24 reported one of the best times ever.
The local B. T. U. held their monthly officer's business meeting on Monday evening of last week. The committees of the different departments and groups made plans for more efficient discharge of their duties.

Despite the bad sandstorm Sunday afternoon, a large audience attended the sing song singing at the local auditorium, and the sing song date will be the 3rd Sunday in each month instead of the 1st. So don't forget and go to Union the 3rd Sunday afternoon in May for good singing.
Mrs. J. D. Williamson's mother, Mrs. D. N. Loe, and sister, Mrs. W. B. Lee, both of Spur, Texas, were guests here last week.

Terse Commentaries on People and Places . . . Gentle Iconoclasm with Politics Eschewed

BY DR. JAMES E. POPE
Special Washington Correspondent

EDITOR'S NOTE—Dr. Pope's opinions are his own, and his articles do not necessarily always reflect the editorial policies of this paper.

PROPHETS and PROFITS

Jim Farley, famous predictor of election results, and Alf Landon, who missed one guess and refuses to bet again, prognosticate pro and con on governmental spending-lending and pump-priming. General Farley spoke on the birthday anniversary of Thomas Jefferson, and said in effect that except for what President Roosevelt has already done, is now doing, and wants to continue to do on even a bigger scale, the country would be in a sorry mess, a plight calculable of making the present depression look like a pink tea party. Now, parenthetically, Thomas Jefferson, in his day, was accused of taking extralegal short cuts in consummating what is known as the Louisiana Purchase, and of making licentious waste of the people's money by paying the then stupendous sum of fifteen million dollars for vast empire which is now an important part of the nation's meat and bread basket—not to mention dust bowl.

Gov. Landon, who has definitely erased his own name from the list of suspicious characters seeking the Republican nomination in 1940, declares in effect that we are threatened with national bankruptcy. Both

Farley and Landon are plenty smart and ought to know, but whether one is all right and the other all wrong, or whether both are partly right and partly wrong, is difficult for common mortals to decide, and remains for us to find out for sure in the years to come. We do know that both these worthy gentlemen are, by force of circumstances, influenced by emotional and partisan perspective. Right now, remote possibilities and what may happen in the distant future do not receive as much of our concern as they should. For the most of us are too deeply engrossed in more pressing matters, like making a living. This brings to mind a recent quip made by a bright editor who declared that when it comes to going broke we are not worried about it being the U. S., but us.

WORRIES NEVER CEASE

Harking back to the President's Reorganization Bill, it seems that after the bill was recommitted and the barrage of telegrams had ceased, many sorely beset Congressmen looked forward to at least a brief respite from intraparty controversies. But alas and alack, rest comes to the weary but seldom, and almost never on election years! It was fervently hoped by those who earn their livings at running for re-election that the Reorganization bill had been safely buried, face downward—so that if it ever came back to life and started scratching it would dig itself deeper in, instead of out.

But soon, it is alleged, letters began to pour in, and the longed-for respite proved just another mirage to torment the burning souls of those weary pilgrims who trek the hot sands of another political campaign. It appears that the telegrams were sent first, or in traveling faster they arrived ahead of the letters . . . or that the voters who favored reorganization were too poor to say their say by wire. Anyhow, so the story goes, letters from home are causing some sleepless nights to be spent by some who spend their afternoons in Congress.

BOOK-BURNERS IN VIENNA

Indignation and disgust at Nazi plans to burn many priceless books in the Vienna National Library is partially compensated by the realization that the ultimate cost will fall on the arsonists themselves.

Intelligent, educated people throughout the world see in the book burning not only a manifestation of Nazi force but also a fear of ideas which are contained in the books to be destroyed. The belief that opinions and truths may be destroyed or restrained merely by burning books which present them is grotesquely infantile.

Despotic Nazism reaching into homes as well as public libraries, may only reduce the accessibility of knowledge for the Austrian people as it has for the Germans. If the Nazi culture, supplanting the older knowledge which knew no religion or politics, were sufficient to produce future generations of educated, enlightened people, the book burning would not work harm to Germany and what was once known as Austria. The Nazis, like their Vandal progenitors, are destroying a civilization which their brute strength enabled them to seize but which is beyond their power to understand.

The spectacle in Vienna, long a storehouse of human culture and knowledge, should remind us that the same intolerant, narrow and dictatorial spirit is occasionally displayed in our own country toward ideas and knowledge that clash with the limited perceptions of some people.—Star Telegram.

TO BUY CALVES FOR TEXAS TECH COLLEGE

LUBBOCK, Texas, May 2.—W. L. Stangel, head of the animal husbandry department at Texas Technological College, recently made a trip to San Angelo where he purchased two Aberdeen-Angus calves from W. H. Hill, whose ranch is located in Crockett county. These calves will be used for class instruction at Tech.

Stangel also assisted in the purchase of 23 other Aberdeen-Angus calves for vocational boys of Wollfort, Claude, Moody, and Eddy. He is superintendent of the Aberdeen-Angus division of the Fort Worth Fat Stock show, and is anxious to build up the work of the vocational boys in the baby beef division.

The college owns two herds of beef cattle, Herefords and Aberdeen-Angus, but the herds are not sufficiently large to produce enough calves for class instruction in the animal husbandry department, making it necessary to purchase calves from outside herds.

DISTANCE IS NO OBSTACLE TO TSCW ROMEO

DENTON, May 2.—"Where do the men come from?" is the everlasting question asked by visitors at the Texas State College for Women, who cannot help wondering how so many young women provide themselves with escorts. In an attempt to obtain an answer, a census was taken at the last college dance.

Two thirds of the 425 boys attending the Freshman Prom were from towns and cities scattered all over Texas, ranging from Amarillo to Brownsville. Strangely enough only fifteen per cent of the swains were local talent. Other states contributed five per cent of the crowd, with New Mexico, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Ohio and even New York represented.

Nearly one fourth of the boys were from Dallas and Fort Worth, nearby cities from which hundreds of boys commute to T. S. C. W. regularly on date nights.

Dr. Holden to Deliver Commencement Address

Dr. W. C. Holden of Tech College will deliver the Commencement address to the 1938 graduating class, Friday night, May 20th. His subject will be "Heritage of West Texas." Dr. Holden is the author of several books, among them being "Alkali Trails," and "Rollie Burns." Dr. Holden is a very fine gentleman, and with it, a great scholar.

The Baccalaureate address this year will be delivered by Rev. R. T. Breedlove, pastor of the Methodist church. It has been the practice of the graduates for several years to use the home ministers for this program, and they have had fine lessons from all of them.

LET AN ARCHITECT ADVISE IN BUILDING

Building experts recommended that where possible the building of new homes should be done with the advice and under the supervision of an architect. The architect's aid in checking materials and workmanship is valuable. So are his suggestions on the type of house which best suits the topography of the building site or the character of the neighborhood.

"DRY" ICE

An interesting parlor trick can be demonstrated by securing from the local building supply dealer a handful of mineral wool insulating material and raiding the ice-box for a couple of cubes of ice. Wrap one of the ice cubes in the mineral wool. Place the other, unprotected, in a saucer. When the unprotected cube has melted, unwrap the second cube. It will be found scarcely to have melted at all.

NOTICE TO PATRONS

Especially those for whom I have been doing corrective foot work: If you are going to be in need of this special service at any time during the next sixty days, be sure and come in before May 20 for that work. At that time I am leaving Brownfield to spend about six weeks in this foot correction work in different parts of the country.

I wish to thank my customers for their past cooperation in refraining from smoking in my place of business. We have now installed a ventilation system which we believe will let the smoke out of the building without any discomfort to those in the building.

How Champions Are Made

Once upon a time, as the story books say, a young farmer in a mid-western state aspired to be a Champion Corn Grower. He selected a fertile field, prepared an excellent seed bed; tested his seed and planted it carefully; kept the hills thoroughly cultivated; the season was good, and in the fall he was acclaimed the "State's Champion Corn Grower." He was proud of his job.

Inspired to emulate his example, the owner of the adjoining farm, asked for some of the prize winning seed, but was refused. It was not for sale. The champion wanted it all for his own fields.

But, when the second harvest rolled around, he found a very inferior crop on that half of the field that adjoined his neighbor's field. He did some thinking, finally decided that the pollen from his neighbor's poor corn had blown over and ruined his title as the State's Champion Corn Grower.

Realizing his short sightedness, he volunteered to give his neighbor all the good seed corn he desired. The following year both fields produced record crops.

Is there not a lesson or moral for us in the Corn Grower's experience?

No farmer can conduct a successful farming enterprise if he is surrounded by poor farmers; neighbors whose slipshod, careless methods counteract the good work of those who are more industrious. Like the Champion Corn Grower, farmers who desire to succeed must share their seed of farming knowledge and experience with neighboring farmers; comparing notes on better farming methods; how to select good seed and stock; how to prepare fields, seed, cultivate and care for crops; how to figure costs; how to get acquainted with each other; in short, how to cooperate to their mutual advantage. Champion farmers are those who learn the art of co-operation.

OLDSMOBILE SALESMEN MAY SEE FIGHT FREE

Groups of leading dealers and star salesmen from all of the 26 sales zones of the Oldsmobile retail organization throughout the United States will attend the Louis-Schmeling heavyweight championship fight late in June as ring-side guests of D. E. Ralston, general sales manager.

The privilege of attending the fight on all-expenses-paid basis will go to winners in a national Oldsmobile sales contest which started April 21 and ends on May 31. Dealers and salesmen have been divided into several competing groups within their respective zones.

One the evening of the fight, Mr. Ralston and other Oldsmobile executives will be hosts to the contest winners at an elaborate banquet.

Mrs. Carl Lewis has had as guest the past week, her nephew, Yuell Lisman, who is a motorcycle stunt rider and on his way to Japan.

Edward F. Walker and Milford V. Condra went to Chillicothe, Mo., Monday where they enrolled in a business college for a course in both stenographic and commercial training. Edward is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Walker and Milford is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Condra of Brownfield.

Miss Ola Belle Brown visited her friend, Miss Coyle Prosser of Slaton, last week. She reported a fine visit.

We are sorry to report Santa Fe agent Bob Harris on the sick list again.

Many from Brownfield plan to attend the Boy Scout Circus to be put on Friday night in Lubbock.

Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Daniell left Wednesday for a two weeks vacation during which time Dr. Daniell plans to attend a State Medical convention in Galveston and visit classmates in Rowena and Brady, Dr. and Mrs. Mitchell in San Antonio, Charlie Thalman in Austin. They plan to go on to Corpus Christi before returning home.

Sharleen and Ronnie Daniell are visiting their grandparents in Rule, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Fouts, while their parents are away.

Both Uncle Joe Bryant (Confederate) and Uncle Ike Newberry (Federal) soldiers were in Saturday, and both informed us that they would not undertake a trip to Gettysburg, Pa., to the joint reunion. Miss Queenelle Sawyer will spend this week end with Misses Janet and Jerry Youngblood, students in the University of New Mexico, Albuquerque.

Dr. T. H. McIlroy leaves Saturday May 7th for Oklahoma City to take a Post Graduate course at Carver's Chiropractic College in that city. He will be gone a week and will be back Monday, May 16. The office will be closed during that time.

Hayden Griffin is building a fine new home on east Broadway, which is 34x44, and will contain 6 rooms and bath. It will be a frame stucco. Zorns and Tidmore are the architects and B. G. Chaney, builder. Cicero Smith are furnishing the material.

Mr. Max Tidmore is moving here this week from Midland, and will be associated with Bruce Zorns in the architectural business. Mr. Zorns will however remain with the Brownfield State bank, while Mr. Tidmore will be office man. Offices have been opened upstairs in the State Bank building.

POWERFUL PEEPERS

If the voice of the average-sized man were as powerful in comparison to his weight as the voice of the tiny peeper frog, he could shout in Indianapolis and be heard in Japan, if climatic and topographical conditions were perfect. The peeper frog weighs only about an eighth of an ounce, but its voice may be heard for half a mile.

WHAT TO DO FOR DROWNING ACCIDENTS

AUSTIN, Texas, May 2.—May is the month when most Texans take a look at the thermometer, make a dive for their bathing suits and hunt the nearest swimming pool or lake. Swimming is a fine sport but it does involve certain hazards. It is tragedy enough to have a drowning accident but far greater tragedy if no one present knows how to save life by artificial respiration.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, advises that the "Phono Pressure Method" is the accepted one for restoring life from drowning. The method involves the following steps:

Place patient stomach down, one arm stretched above the other bent, with face resting on it.

Rescue measures should begin at once and continue rhythmically until natural breathing is established. This may take four or more hours. The procedure is:

1. Kneel, and straddle the patient below the hips, placing hand on small of the back with fingers over the lowest ribs, tips of fingers just out of sight.

2. With the arms straight, while counting one, two, swing forward bearing weight on body firmly but not violently.

3. Swing backwards while counting one, straightening up and thus relieving pressure. This allows air to be drawn into the lungs.

4. Rest in this position for two counts.

5. Repeat these movements rhythmically, forward and backwards, without interruption, about twelve to fifteen a minute, until natural breathing is restored.

6. Meanwhile, if assistance is at hand, a physician should be sent for, patient's tight clothing should be loosened at neck, chest or waist, and patient should be kept warm.

Patient should not be moved from this spot until he is breathing naturally and then should be carried in a lying position to a place where he can be kept warm and receive expert medical attention.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS
 By Julian Capers, Jr.

AUSTIN—The political pinwheel, set off by the Governor's race, whirled merrily on in Texas, and the week end found these newsworthy developments: Meetings of Ferguson supporters, demanding full payment of $15 pensions to everybody in Texas over 65, regardless of need, carefully staged in San Antonio and Dallas, has caused several hundred letters and telegrams to be sent "Ma," seeking to draft her, but spokesman Jim repeated she "is not a candidate." Best guessers here believed the build-up was to place Jim in position to throw his support advantageously to some other candidate, and did not think the Fergusons would switch their decision not to enter "Ma" . . . Gov. Allred told reporters he wouldn't get in, even if the Fergusons did, and said he would be enjoying Gulf breezes at Galveston during the summer while other candidates were perspiring and belaboring each other . . . Tom Hunter had not yet produced his promised platform . . . Karl Crowley, the Washington candidate, is NOT being supported by the national Democratic party organization in his race for Governor of Texas, according to a telegram which Bob Barker, secretary of the Senate, sent Jim Farley, asking the direct question, which Farley promptly answered in the negative . . . Bill McCraw resumed campaigning with talks in Northeast Texas . . . Ernest Thompson was out of the State to attend an interstate oil compact commission at Wichita Kansas . . . Welly Hopkins, former Senator from Gonzales, and lately a special assistant U. S. Attorney General in Washington, resigned to accept appointment as first assistant attorney general, under Bill McCraw, succeeding Scott Gaines, who becomes Texas University's legal representative.

All Incumbents Opposed
 Every State official seeking reelection, with the possible exception of some of the higher court judges, will have opposition, according to announcements which may, or may not be backed up with filing fees, when the time comes to put up the money. . . Judge Harry Graves of Court of Criminal Appeals, whose eligibility has been questioned in a lawsuit dismissed by the court, filed for re-election, and will be opposed by C. A. Pippen, of Dallas, a veteran former judge of the Criminal District Bench there . . . Gerald C. Mann former Secretary of State, opened his campaign for Attorney General before a generous crowd at his birthplace, Sulphur Springs. . . Mann is generally believed by observers here to be the best bet for a runoff in this race against Lt. Gov. Walter Woodul, whose campaign, reports here indicate, has been going so well that many doubt a runoff will be necessary . . . Bascom Giles, opposing Land Commissioner Bill McDonald for re-election, swung into active campaign and organization work, indicating he will vigorously make an issue of McDonald's conduct of the Land Office during the past two years . . . Coke Stevenson, twice speaker, and candidate for Lt. Governor, is conducting a unique hand-shaking campaign, making few speeches, but visiting many hundreds of voters, while Sen. G. H. Nelson, his chief opponent, is vigorously advocating a unicameral legislature as an issue.

Famous Editor Visitor
 Texas was honored at the weekend by the visit of Barry Faris, editor-in-chief of International News Service, whose job in New York is to keep his finger on the pulse of imminent news events in a hundred nations of the world, and direct a staff of several foreign and domestic correspondents. "News services of the world have been working on a war time basis for five years, since Hitler invaded the Ruhr basin, and tore up the Versailles treaty," he said. "Hourly, we have been expecting the match that would set off the tinder-box of another world war. It will come whenever the democracies of the world are ready to demand a showdown with the dictators, and it is inevitable." Faris flew from New York to Dallas to address Southwestern members of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, and to renew old acquaintances with Texas newsmen. He got some of his early training in this State.

Sigma Delta Chi conferred the honor of initiation upon four journalists, including this correspondent.

Smoke Cost High
 Texans smoked $35,551,644 worth of cigars, or about $6 worth per capita, during the last year, according to estimates of the state treasurer, based on taxes collected. They also drank 20,911,025 cases of beer and nearly 4,000,000 gallons of hard liquor, and paid in State stamp taxes a total of $6,635,334 during the year, the estimates showed.

FREEDOM OF THE PRESS

Some inkling of the difficulties of the Society Editor on a newspaper may be gleaned by the following: "Mrs. (censored because she does not want a lot of folks she owes to know she had a party) entertained at bridge yesterday afternoon. The first prize was won by Miss (censored she sings in the choir). Second prize was won by Miss (censored because she teaches in the public school). The consolation prize was won by Miss (omitted because her mother objects to dancing). Among those present were Miss (censored because employer objects to dancing) and Mrs. (husband out of work and doesn't want people to think she is extravagant). The guests departed under cover of darkness.—Durango News.

EAT MORE MEAT

"In a lengthy article Booth Mooney in The Texas Weekly complains that Americans do not eat enough meat," observes the Jamestown (N. Y.) Journal, "and notes that the Texas cattlemen under the sponsorship of the Institute of American Meat Packers are planning to stage a nationwide 'Eat More Meat' campaign. The industry has brought billions of dollars to the State and the residents are naturally disturbed by the tremendous slump in the per capita consumption of meat.

"Statistics cited by Mr. Mooney show that during the 10-year period from 1901 to 1910 the average American ate 146 pounds of meat annually but by 1927 the per capita consumption had fallen to 120 pounds. Even more alarming to the cattlemen is the fact that last year the American people ate something like two billion pounds less than in 1936.

"As Texas is a cattle raising country the people will naturally approve of a campaign to increase the consumption of meat. It can and will worth accomplish some good. So it is worth some effort and many who like and benefit from a proper amount of meat in their diet will, with opportunity afforded by reasonable prices, buy more. But any campaign will not and cannot bring back the dear, dead days when meat, was cheap and because of its cheapness was to a considerable extent wasted in the public eating places of the nation. Those days have gone never to return."

The Syracuse (N. Y.) Herald quotes from The Weekly figures showing how greatly per capita consumption of meat has declined, and comments: "A fair deduction from these figures is that the decline in meat eating has been progressive since the opening of the century, and is not strictly referable to economic ups and downs. . . The Texas Weekly, published in a great livestock State, repels the claim that there is an over-production of meat. The trouble, it says, is 'under-consumption.'

We Need Beef-Eaters
 "If the people are eating less meat, perhaps this century's evolution of the automobile has something to do with it. In the months of fine weather week end auto journeys are now a favorite popular indulgence, and in a multitude of cases this leads to a simplifying of Sunday meals at home. It may also be suggested that the noon-day meal of 1937 was sparser, on the average, than it used to be in 1901."

True enough, but it ought not to be that way, thinks Lewis Follet, columnist for the Birmingham (Ala.) News. "How infinitely better off the world would be," thinks Mr. Follet, "to have nations of beef-eaters. . . We have often thought that we would be a far happier people if this 'quick lunch' drug store sandwich, salad menu had never been thought of. It simply stands to reason that good tempers and happy disposition do not thrive in that atmosphere, and on such food. . .

"A recent article in The Texas Weekly says that Americans do not eat enough meat. Perhaps that is primarily some good advertising for Texas meat, but there is more to it than that. We would be the first to advocate that everybody be required to eat red meat once a day. There isn't the slightest doubt, in our opinion, that it would make for a happier, healthier race of people. "An eminent doctor wrote some time ago: "When you are 'fagged out,' 'blue,' 'too tired to eat'—EAT! We can vouch for the fact that many times when the world has loomed too black and forbidding to face, when we've been too down and out to rise above the next inevitable obstacle, we've had a bite of hot food and begun all over again, with renewed vigor, and even a slight show of optimism, sometimes."

Colossus at New York Fair

NEW YORK—The largest portrait statue executed in modern times will honor George Washington at the New York World's Fair. It will be 65 feet tall and will depict Washington as he arrived for his inauguration exactly 150 years previous to the opening day of the Fair, April 30, 1939. Its mass will be 500 times that of a man.

The San Antonio News has something to say about Texas's stake in the livestock industry. "It is hardly believable," remarks the News, "that the buying public took two billion pounds less meat during 1937 than in 1936—but the figures speak for themselves. Here is another instance of under-consumption. . . Wisely, the producers are taking matters into their own hands. Instead of killing pigs and calves, they plan to see what can be done by advertising. . . "As Booth Mooney writes in The Texas Weekly this State—ranking first in livestock production—holds the largest stake in the success of the campaign. The State's 22,691,000 head of livestock are valued at 356½ million dollars; the 7¼ million cattle are worth 175 million dollars. Those figures do not indicate all that Texas has involved; many allied industries play an important part in the State's economy."—Texas Weekly.

AVALANCHE SOUNDS WARNING

Certain facts relating to the quality of the 1937-38 cotton crop, as disclosed by the federal bureau of agricultural economics, should be studied with alarm by every individual who is concerned with the cotton industry—particularly by such persons in Texas. Substance of the report was that 22.9 per cent of the cotton grown in Texas was "untenderable," as compared with 17.3 per cent for the nation as a whole. By "untenderable" cotton is meant a staple so short—less than seven-eighths of one inch—that many buyers cannot use it. The inevitable result not only is that the price paid the farmer is reduced, but that the prestige of the region suffers when large quantities of inferior cotton are produced.

While figures for the South Plains area were not included in the report, it is common knowledge that our record is no better—and probably not as good—as for Texas taken as a whole. Even more alarming is the fact, according to cotton authorities, that the quality of the staple has recently grown poorer from year to year.

Warnings, seemingly without number have been sounded from time to time that the conditions must be corrected. Farmers have been told time and again that their chief interest should be to improve the quality more than to increase production. But for a miscellany of reasons—not all of them by any means the fault of the farmer—the warnings have failed to bear fruit.

The condition is one which cannot continue forever. Some of these days regions like ours are liable to awaken to the fact that the really desirable markets are no longer interested in our cotton. They will take it for granted they cannot use the staple we grow. When and if that time should come, the only alternatives open to us will be either to find other crops; or to incur the embarrassment and the expense of overcoming the reputation we will have made for ourselves.—Editorial from recent issue of Lubbock Avalanche.

TEXAS NEEDS BOOKS

"William Allen White acquired a fame that lasted for decades," comments the Newark (N. J.) News, "by a famous editorial entitled 'What's the Matter With Kansas?' He knew the answer and told it in no uncertain terms. It is a different Kansas now.

"In one of the most spirited of local publications, The Texas Weekly, of which Peter Molyneux, a good writer, is editor and publisher, there appeared . . . and indictment of the relative booklessness of the Lone Star State. It tells one of the things that are the matter with Texas. Small towns need public libraries, and need them badly. Says the writer: "Most of them have no access to free libraries. In fact, nearly 4,000,000 Texans lack any public library service whatever. That fact is a challenge to every public-spirited citizen of Texas who understands that the public library is an integral part of the educational system, that the public library is an educational institution for all the people, children and adults alike. . .

"Texas by the 1930 census could boast five cities more than 100,000 population," the News continues, "but only 41 per cent of its almost 6,000,000 population is urban. Scattered population over a tremendous area . . . doubtless accounts for this failure to provide libraries.

EASTERN STAR NOTES

The Order of the Eastern Star met in regular session Monday, May 2. Worthy Matron, Ethel Fulton presided. Mrs. Ruth Irene Waters and Mrs. Valda Moncrief were initiated into the order. An election was held followed by a social hour during which Mesdames Ona Gore and Fulton served ice cream and cake.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

Sunday School 10 a. m. Preaching 10:50 a. m. Ladies Bible Class, Tues. 10 a. m. Young People's Class, Tues. 8 p. m. Bible Study, Wednesday 8 p. m.

The sermon subject for Sunday morning will be: "CHRIST IN HIS KINGDOM."

That the New Testament speaks about the kingdom of Christ is admitted by all. But when that kingdom was established, if it has been established, and how Christ now stands related to it, are matters about which there is much controversy.

(1) What is the kingdom? (2) Has the kingdom already been established or will it be established in the future? (3) Has the Tabernacle of David been rebuilt? (4) When was Christ crowned or when did he become the ruling king in fact? (5) Will Christ return to earth, set-up a temporal kingdom, and reign over it a thousand years?

It is the purpose of this sermon to show exactly what the Bible teaches on the kingdom of Christ.

The public is cordially invited to attend all these services.

METHODIST W. M. S.

The society met at the church to continue the study of "The Radiant Heart" led by Mrs. Webber, assisted by Mrs. Lloyd.

The study of this book is proving very interesting and inspiring. After a short business session, at which plans were discussed for next Monday, at which time the local society will be hosts to the Tahoka W. M. S., at the home of Mrs. Toone, the meeting adjourned.

Those present were Mesdames Phillips, Crump, Williams, Gilliland, Linville, Hamilton, Carpenter, Breedlove, Downing, Lloyd, Harris, Longbrake, Webber, Chaney, Howard and Stroup.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Pastor Beebe of the Christian church informed us this week that their attendance was increasing steadily each Sunday, and in a very satisfactory manner. As spring comes on the membership is taking hold of the work with vigor and interest. Good audiences were reported for both services last Sunday.

At the 8 o'clock services, three trustees were elected by a unanimous vote of the congregation. They are, W. B. Stinson, W. J. Baldwin and Austin Storie. These new men authorized by the congregation, are to have full charge of all real estate and church property. This shows that the church is forging ahead under the present leadership, Rev. Beebe stated.

TEST, TEST AND TEST

AMERICAN industry, according to Consumers Information, surpasses that of any other country in its exact methods of testing products and so assuring maximum performance before passing them on to the user. One company reports, for instance, that 25% of its labor and cost of production goes into testing. Above are shown tests of two of the 600 different operations which go into the manufacture of their vacuum cleaners.

THE METHODIST CHURCH

Mother's Day next Sunday. Appropriate commemoration of all mothers will be the order of the day, both in the Sunday school and preaching of the gospel at eleven o'clock. You are warmly invited to observe your Mother's Day at this church, where you are always welcome. Bring your friends with you that they also may observe the day in the most appropriate way. Mr. Emmitt Smith and Miss Althea Lundstrum will sing for the main service at eleven o'clock.

REBEKAH PRESIDENT OF TEXAS

Mrs. Jennie Bain of Dallas, President of the Rebekah Assembly of Texas, accompanied by Mrs. Sanders and Mrs. I. C. Porter of Lubbock were visitors in the home of Mrs. Charlie Moore, Saturday.

Mrs. Lal Copeland was a visitor from Seagraves on Monday.

WOODMEN CIRCLE NEWS

The Woodmen Circle of Brownfield No. 462 met for practice April 29th. The captain, Mrs. May Cook, was unable to be present, so the Ex-captain, Mrs. Serena Warren drilled the team.

A round table discussion was held after the drill-work program at which time plans were made for the Woodmen Circle Hope Chest to be displayed soon.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Rev. Walker, new pastor of the Presbyterian church, will hold special Mother's Day services at 11 a. m. and at 8 p. m., and all members are cordially invited to attend.

Right Beauty; Wrong College

Chosen as "the only beautiful girl" at the University of Chicago, Miss Joy Hawley, graduate and former beauty of Texas State College for Women, turned out to be enrolled in Northwestern University, where she has already been named a 1938 beauty.

The mix-up began when a Chicago U. magazine stated, "There hasn't been a really beautiful woman around here since Little Egypt reared her skirts on the World's Fair midway in 1893." To debunk the article, Chicago U. boys went down to the photographers and with the help of three prominent judges selected what they thought was the picture of a Chicago co-ed.

Great was the chagrin of the C. U. student body when their triumphant choice turned out to be a Northwestern girl. Miss Hawley is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Hawley of Denton, Texas.

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES

The circles met at several homes Monday afternoon with an average attendance of 19.

Next Monday the Lockett and Reagan circles met in joint session with Mrs. D. P. Carter. The Lottie Moon and Annie Long circles will announce their hostesses on Sunday morning.

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE'S ORGANIZATIONS

The Baptist Young People's organization met Monday evening at the church from 7:30 to 8:30, with 43 members in attendance. The lesson for the evening was taken from World's Comrades. Next week is "Young People's Week," and in the church services the young people will have complete charge.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH MOTHER'S DAY SERVICE

Industry's No. 1 Job

Paul Willard Garrett

Good public relations—relations with the public—must start at home, must work from the inside out, Paul W. Garrett, General Motors' Director of Public Relations, declared in an address at the White Sulphur Springs convention of the American Association of Advertising Agencies. Public relations, he said, is a fundamental attitude of mind, a philosophy of management which places the broad interest of the consumer first in every decision affecting the operation of business. If American industry, he added, by constantly placing within the consumer's reach a better way of living, has given America the highest standard of living in the history of mankind, why should it hesitate to tell its story?

THE REWARDS OF FIRE PREVENTION

Winter is over. The good days are here. And millions of people will soon start a pleasant round of motoring trips, picnics, camping excursions and other forms of outdoor recreation.

If you are one of these, you will see nature at her best. But do your part to make sure that she continues at her best—by being careful with fire.

There are millions of acres of ravished, blackened stump land in this country that once more magnificent trees—because someone was careless with a campfire. Some of the finest natural garden spots have been turned into ashy wastes—because someone was careless with a cigarette. Animals and humans have perished horribly in holocausts of raging flame—because someone took a chance with fire.

Almost all states have laws against throwing matches or lighted tobacco from cars—obey them rigorously. They are sound laws, designed for your protection, and they deserve your cooperation. An excellent practice is to break a match in two between your fingers before dropping it—then you'll know that it really is out.

Don't go on a camping trip without the basic tools of fire control—a shovel and a good sized bucket. If possible, make a rock fireplace for your fires. Under no circumstances build it near brush, dry leaves or other easily inflammable materials. Don't throw a large fire—a relatively small one is adequate for all camping needs. And when you are through with it, really put it out—douse it with water, and shovel dirt over the ash. Be certain that not a spark remains.

The prevention of fire in the outdoors is its own reward—it guarantees that there will be a beauty spot for you to visit next year.—Industrial News Review.

Terry's White Kitchen Chosen As New Name

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Terry announced Monday the new name had been chosen for their business. From now on it will be known as TERRY'S WHITE KITCHEN and a nicer more applicable name could hardly have been chosen. Many, many, names were submitted, all of them being good ones, and Mr. and Mrs. Terry were pleased at the interest shown by the numbers who sent in names, —curiously enough, two persons sent in practically the same name and it happened to fit in more nearly with the Terry's idea so the meal ticket which was given as prize was divided between the two lucky persons. DON'T BE MISLEAD BY REPORT OF JOBS IN CALIFORNIA

West Texas farm workers today were warned by Andrew Angelo, local manager as the Texas State Employment Service office that no jobs for them exist in the lettuce sheds of the Salinas Valley in Calif.

"The hope of finding jobs in the lettuce sheds is somewhat like last year's Arizona myth," Mr. Angelo said. He pointed out that such false reports occasionally cause Texas workers to travel long distances in search of non-existent jobs. Many became stranded along the way, penniless and hungry, while a few arrive to find no employment and no means of returning home.

"Salinas Valley lettuce districts have surplus shed workers despite advertisements for additional help," the Texas State Employment Service was officially informed by the Farm Placement Supervisor of California.

Mr. Angelo pointed out that prospects for bumper farm crops in most sections of Texas soon will require most of Texas' available farm labor.

Dis. Lions Convention Comes to Lubbock

LUBBOCK, Texas, May 2.—District 2-T of the Lions International will hold their 1938 convention in Lubbock, May 8, 9, and 10, according to Robert Bean, convention chairman. Headquarters for the three-day meeting will be at the Hilton Hotel.

Pre-convention activities will begin Sunday with the registration, and the first business session will begin Monday morning. Present plans call for a dinner and a dance at Hotel Lubbock Monday evening, May 9, it was announced.

Several towns in the district are bidding for the 1939 convention. Amarillo and El Paso delegations will be present. The border city, strongest contender, will have not only their local clubs in attendance but also a Mexican Lions delegation from Juarez. If the 1939 convention goes to the border town, they promise to have the district convention of the Mexican Lions club held at the same time.

Bean stated that a record breaking attendance is expected.

Gladys Green of the Alexander Drug Co., reports they had a fine sale of Rexall products the past week end.

PREACHER MISTAKEN FOR GAMBLER IN EARLY DAYS

Rev. Bascom J. H. Thomas, a Methodist circuit rider in the old days of frontier Texas introduced Attorney General William McCraw at the big rally at Arlington, last Saturday evening. Rev. Thomas tells a joke on himself when he visited Big Spring on his round as a circuit rider shortly after the Texas and Pacific Railway built into Big Spring. Rev. Thomas came here to hold a meeting and while getting ready he found occasion to drop in at a saloon, their being no other places available. The bartender noting he was a stranger sought to make his acquaintance and wanted to know if he was a gambler.

The joke was on the bartender and he made good by making his friends attend the meeting. — Big Spring News.

HORNED TOAD BECOMES TOAD STOOL

The associated press man at Detroit must have become excited when "Big Jim" from Big Spring, Texas, rolled into his burg by air mail last Saturday since he sent out a wire that "Big Jim" the Toad Stool from Big Spring had come to town.

The face of the reporter or that of "Big Jim" must have been red when the error was discovered.—Big Spring News.

DO NOT SPREAD GLOOM—PREACH OPTIMISM

It is my firm conviction that much of the present depression is directly chargeable to the organized spreading of gloom, aided and abetted by a few political sharp-shooters for their own selfish benefit. A sagging market is directly traceable to lack of confidence brought about by rumors unfounded and unwarranted.

Every morning when you pick up your newspaper you are confronted with glaring headlines, enough to upset your digestion for the day and to sour your disposition for a week. Criticism of our national administration, justified or unjustified as the case may be; high-lights of the wars abroad and the gruesome spectacle of their aftermath; conflict between capital and labor; floods and disaster; crop failures or over-production as the case may be; automobile and airplane crashes; murder; kidnapping, and everything else that the human mind can conjure up to attract public attention—and yet little is said of the overwhelming blessings that we of this country enjoy.

Look about you and see what nature is doing right now. Note the well-being of those with whom you come in contact. Every reasonable necessity and many luxuries are enjoyed that 50 years ago, could not have been acquired by the Prince of

Elmer Is a Rat

Ask Us Corner Drug Store.

India. Attractive homes, warm clothing, good food, automobiles, radio and every other reasonable requirement is available to almost everyone willing to work and save.

Now, it is time that some of us take an inventory of actual conditions and preach the gospel of confidence, good will and sanity. One of the large industrialists from England spent a day with me this week. He says positively that general war is not imminent in Europe. There are no threatening clouds hanging low over his country.

We may not be in sympathy with what Washington is doing in respect to the farm program, yet many farmers are making a fairly good living out of their labors.

We may have taken some substantial losses in the value of our stock-holdings. Confidence will return and values will be re-established as soon as this hysteria of fear is dispelled.

Furthermore, wailing and gnashing of teeth isn't going to do you or me any good. There isn't anything much that we as individuals can do about it except to roll up our sleeves, wade in and do the best we can to restore confidence by building up a more active business. Let other agencies spread gloom if they must, but you and I consider ourselves fortunate and view the future with confidence and courage.

As I see the picture, it is imperative that every effort should be made to spread good will and confidence and to take no part in singing the blues. That means right thinking, right acting and right living and the fullest application of intelligent aggressiveness.

Yours very truly,
 Carl F. G. Meyer,
 President, Meyer Brothers
 Drug Company.—In Big Spring News.

Candidate Tom Warren was in to get his-self slicked up at the barber shop, Wednesday.

Friend J. D. Roberts of the Wellman section, had business in the city Wednesday.

There was a whale of a first Monday crowd on hand Tradesday. And, as luck would have it, the farmers were getting some checks, too.

Ed Thompson was in Saturday. Thought the sandstorms had buried him.

Bob Fowler of the Wellman community, was in Saturday.

FLYING BLIND

In thick weather, it is often necessary for airplanes to "fly blind" . . . to depend on instruments rather than vision and charted landmarks. Almost uncanny in their accuracy, such instruments are nevertheless second choice in the navigation of the air.

Shoppers who trot off down-town to the stores without first consulting the advertisements of those same stores are likewise flying blind. And needlessly so. The advertisements in this paper are here for your guidance, for your safe landing in the Ports of Value.

Study them in the comfort of your home . . . map your course before you put on your hat and drop the latch-key into your handbag. Compare the products offered, their prices, their general advantages. Then set out on your shopping trip prepared for what you will see, what you will wish to have sent home.

Let the advertisements serve as guiding beacons of buying. It's the smart thing to do.
