

Railroad Legislation Badly Needed

The Bulwinkle amendment to the Interstate Commerce Act seeks to eliminate any possibility of conflict between the Interstate Commerce Act and the Sherman antitrust act by providing that agreements between common carriers be approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

This is similar to provisions for commercial airline and maritime shipping contained in the Civil Aeronautics Act 1938 and United States Shipping Act 1916.

The amendment provides that carrier agreements be approved only when found to be in furtherance of the national transportation policy declared in the Interstate Commerce Act. Under its terms no agreement would be approved which abridged the rights of independent action by non-concurring carriers.

The commission is authorized to prescribe necessary rules and regulations, hold hearings, prescribe terms and conditions upon which its approval is to be granted, modify such terms and conditions, and terminate agreements.

Carriers are specifically relieved from the antitrust laws only to the extent that they comply with such approved agreements and conform with the terms and conditions prescribed by the Commission.

Tire Quota For Area Gets Only 60 Per Cent Boost

Increase in passenger tire quota for the Lubbock District was only 60 per cent, compared with a nation-wide increase of 100 per cent for the month of June, according to Walter P. Wilson, District OPA Tire Rationing Officer.

Wilson pointed out that the national office sets quotas for each district and that this 60 per cent increase will probably not be enough to offset the increase of tire failures due to hot weather.

Sgt. Dewey Drennan Awarded Air Medal

An Eighth Air Force Bomber Station, England—Staff Sergeant Dewey R. Drennan, the 21 year old son of Mrs. Rudy M. Coor, Brownfield, Texas, has recently been awarded the Air Medal for meritorious achievement in aerial combat.

Since his arrival in the European Theatre of operations on January 17, 1945, he has flown nineteen missions as an engineer with the veteran 305th Bombardment Group.

Sgt. Drennan took part in the Eighth Air Force attack on the German oil refineries in the Hamburg area on March 20th. Shortly after leaving the target area, enemy jet-propelled fighters appeared on the scene. After making an ineffective attack on one element of the 305th's formation and meeting the combined fire of the Fortress gunners, the German pilots left the Group alone. All the 305th's planes returned safely.

Before entering the AAF on September 15, 1943, Sgt. Drennan was a student at the Union High School in Brownfield, Texas. He was employed for a time with the Southern Aircraft Corps.

Local Youth On Veteran LST

Aboard A Coast Guard LST At A Pacific Base (Special)—Serving aboard a Coast Guard Manned LST which has become a legend in Pacific warfare is Coast Guardsman Billie M. Condra, Seaman first class, of route 4, Brownfield, Texas.

According to a report by Joseph Bolton, Boatswain's Mate first class, a Coast Guard Combat Correspondent, this LST has participated in the invasions of Bougainville, Green Island, the Bismarck Archipelago, Saipan, Guam, Tinian, the Philippines, Iwo Jima and Okinawa. With the exception of Aneln P. Sampson, Chief Carpenters Mate the original crew of this LST is no longer aboard.

Condra and his crew mates laughingly refer to themselves as the "new" crew. They are veterans of the Philippines, Iwo and Okinawa and are currently waiting at their base for assignment to a new mission. The toughest opposition they have yet met was at Okinawa, when the Japs made a determined attempt to annihilate the attacking force.

JUDGE LINCOLN ANNOUNCES FARM-TO-MARKET ROADS

This paper stated last week that County Judge C. L. Lincoln and Commissioners Earl McNiel, Bill Settle, Wood E. Johnson and J. R. Thomas, were in Fort Worth to have a talk on post-war planning with proper Federal and State authorities. As a result of that conference, Judge Lincoln gave the press the following summary of what is to take place as soon as possible as regards to farm-to-market roads in Terry county.

They received confirmation of 27 miles of such roads, designated as follows: Seven and a half miles, beginning at the railroad crossing just south of Meadow, and going due east to the Lynn county line.

Ten miles, beginning five miles west of Needmore, and diagonally northwest to a point just south of Sundown, at the Hockley county line.

Another beginning ten miles west of Brownfield on the Plains highway, and running north to Johnson school house.

Another seven miles in length, will leave the Seagraves highway a quarter mile west of where the Lamesa road leaves it, and thence due south seven miles to the Foster Gin.

As all those roads require 100 feet of right of way, 40 feet more will be required, 20 feet on each side to comply with State and Federal requirements. The Texas State Highway department will build and maintain the roads.

Mrs. Shorty Brown spent the week end in Lubbock, visiting Mrs. Flemming Brown, who is ill.

Mrs. T. L. Lowe, Mrs. Morris Lowe and Marcene visited in Abilene and Winters last week end.

Bill Suggs In Big Fight On Luzon

With The 38th Division On Luzon—A 151st Infantry platoon which includes William E. Suggs of Brownfield, Texas, was commended by its battalion commander for its outstanding patrolling during a two-day jaunt into Luzon's jungles.

Sgt. Wm. E. Suggs

"Although no enemy was encountered during the first day of patrolling, pillboxes, food, ammunition dumps and a field gun, were uncovered and destroyed," Suggs said.

"Our second day was the most exciting," Suggs said. "Around noon our scouts picked up three Japs outposting in a trail. While they waited for the patrol leader to come up, firing broke out in the rear.

"The point men blasted away at the three japs, killing two and seriously wounding another one, who crawled into the underbrush. We took care of him as he gave away his position when he tried to toss a hand grenade at us."

According to the Texas soldier, the shooting in the rear was caused by two Japs who had followed the patrol Alert rear guards, however, wiped the pair out.

The patrol suffered no casualties during the two-day excursion.

Sgt. Suggs is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Suggs, who reside at RFD No. 5, Brownfield.

Millions To Be Spent On Market Roads

Austin, Texas, May 29, 1945—A $60,000,000 postwar construction and maintenance program for 7,205 miles of farm-to-market roads which will not require counties to furnish any funds has been announced by the Texas Highway Department.

Half of the funds will be from current operating income of the Highway Department, while the Federal government will match the State's portion. The program is for three years immediately following end of the war.

Approval of the plan to aid Texas' agricultural interests means that the State will surface and maintain 5,830 miles of farm road. Presently, counties are having to pay upkeep on these roads. Also, the new program includes maintenance of an additional 1,375 miles of surfaced farm roads which the State previously constructed and now maintains.

"By transferring this tremendous burden from the county governments to the state government, counties will be able to concentrate their local funds on roads remaining under county control," the Commission said. "This should enable counties to make tremendous strides in improving other farm roads."

The Commission said that while the present program includes a relatively small portion of the total mileage of farm-to-market roads in the state, the plan is the maximum for which the state could obligate itself for three years immediately after the war on the basis of estimated receipts.

If, after the three-year period, more funds are received from State sources and the Federal government, it is possible that additional feeder or farm-to-market roads may be taken over by the State and new ones projected.

One of our exchanges tell us that a portly dowager asked a young man why he was not in uniform. After briefly sizing the quizzical lady up, the young fellow said, "for the same reason you are not in the movies—physically unfit."

We note that Hoover, food expert, has called on President Truman. If the president wants all our best food sent overseas, just let him appoint "Hoibit" as the boss. After the other war in Europe, we ate cornpone and maize flour here in west Texas, and the good wheat flour went to Europe. It came pretty straight to us that Hoover and other yankees made the remark that cornpone and maize flour was good enough for southern people.

To our notion, De Gaulle is just another Hitler on a smaller scale. We are getting a sample of his covetousness in the near east, and as soon as the American and British have driven the Japs out of French Indo-China, De Gaulle and his jackals will be Johnny on the spot. We will admit that the French people, for the most part, and we are not speaking of the political element, have been real nice to our boys. But we can't forget that they showed a yellow streak by laying down on England to save their own beautiful capitol, while London is in ruins because the British didn't want a foreign dictator to boss them. Now, they want to fight two weak nations in the near east instead of sending a sizable army over to whip Japan—the real enemy of mankind.

In bidding farewell to the GI's in England, the London Chronicle pays a glowing tribute to our husky lads, who no matter how hard the going, are always ready with some wisecracks. The British newspaper admitted that the doughboys had left their mark on their property, and while not responsible for the buildings that lay in ruins, as that happened before they came, the Chronicle says that thousands of wads of gum can be found on movie seats and other seats, park benches, etc. It even admits that they whistled at the English girls, and married several thousand of them, not to mention a few light posts they had busted with their trucks. And, going further, that journal admits that English as she is spoken by the Yanks, will live on and on with the younger generation, and in spite of all the oldsters may say or do, after our boys are gone, trucks will be trucks instead of lorries, and gas will not be petrol to the English youth in the future. The British youth has liked the pointed way in which our boys have expressed themselves, instead of the straight jacket language of their mother country.

Up in Denver they fined a man of 74 years $10 for hanging a rat in a tree so that his cats could practice on it. Over in France an alleged army board at a court martial trial of a GI sentenced him to THREE years of hard labor and dishonorable discharge from the army because he "bopped" four German prisoners of war when they refused to work. The GI was a guard. He served SEVEN months in jail over there before the news got back to his home state of Mass. The Congress called on the Secretary of War. That was really getting somewhere. This young GI of 22 years, wounded in action in the invasion of France, was given his army status, the charge against him annulled immediately. Now he is a hero in the sight of all good Americans. What do you think of that alleged court of justice? Maybe there are several GI's in hock who do not have

The ban has been lifted on horse racing and night clubs, but the ban of meetings and conventions of over 50 people, such as churches, lodges, and other organizations, is still in effect. At first glance, this does not make sense, but on second thought, it is possible that Morgenthau had a hand in this arrangement. You see, he has been considerably concerned for fear the people will start spending all this money they have and bring on wild inflation. Just think how fast the race track will eliminate that hazard by taking the money away from the folks. Then the night clubs can gather up what the race track overlooks. Of course, you can not expect the churches to be much help in getting money away from the people. —Texas Agriculture

Once Upon A Time

Once upon a time, way back in the Ozarks, where GWN and I did our courting barefooted, and in our shirt sleeves, there was a brilliant lawyer who would travel on horse back from one county seat to another in his efforts to make a success of his chosen profession. After having defended a desperado in one county, and having collected a wad of greenback for his fee, he saddled his horse and started to another county seat. He came to a swollen stream of water, which was un-bridged and apparently too dangerous to cross, but cross he must. He thought his faithful horse would take him safely to the other side. In order to keep his greenback from floating out of his pocket when he got in deep water, he crammed his pocket book in his mouth, and did you ever see a lawyer who could keep his mouth shut? The horse plunged into the water, and for a few seconds, horse, rider and all disappeared beneath the swift waves. The lawyer got so much water in his nose that he had to sneeze and when he did, he sneezed the wad of greenback into the swollen river and it was gone forever and ever.

MORAL: Sometimes it is best to keep your mouth closed.

We see that Capt. Warren Moss of McCloskey Gen. Hospital, of Temple, said in part: "A wounded man is given a 30 day leave when he reaches the U. S., unless he needs immediate surgery or other treatment." Many of these men return to the hospital days before their furlough's end because they have been hurt—and often by their own friends." He pointed out that they resent hearing so much complaint about rationing, the cashing of war bonds, reckless spending, failure to save fats and paper, and all in all, fighting a half way war, while they have been going through the very hell of war, losing their limbs and watching their buddies die.

It may give the citizen here at home some satisfaction to belly ache, yet I wonder what manner of a man a person is if he knowingly says one word that brings grief and sorrow to the boy who has proved his love for his country by the scars upon his body.

We have a few citizens who not only say they are not going to buy any bonds, but they prove their love (?) for their country and their neighbors by standing on the court house square and making all the arguments that those who invest in war bonds will lose their money, that the bonds will soon be worthless. Such statements might bring aid and comfort to our enemies, but not to our gallant soldier boys. We have the soundest money and banking system in the entire world. Fact is, we have the best form of government under the shining sun; our bonds are sound just as long as our government is sound. So buy bonds, not once, but thrice and help the Japs see a world that is too hot for rice.

New Method Keeping Tire Records

Tightening of tire dealers record-keeping requirements and several other changes in the tire rationing program, all designed to protect the nation's small supply of tires, were announced by the Office of Price Administration today.

Tire dealers will be required, beginning June 1, 1945, to maintain current records and to take a monthly inventory to establish accountability for tires and tire certificates.

Coupled with the recent cancellation of tire certificates dated before December 1, 1944, and a requirement that tire manufacturers turn in certificates monthly to OPA verification centers for screening, today's action completes a comprehensive program to stop illegal tire sales and transfers.

The new requirements will help OPA enforcement agents uncover illegal transfers of tires, the agency said. Recently, OPA has experienced great difficulty in obtaining records which show the number of tires and replenishment certificates some dealers have on hand because it has been forced to depend upon dealers' inventories as of December, 1941. In many cases, these records are no longer available.

BOYS AND GIRLS FOR FARM WORK

Farm workers being fewer this year than in the past, it seems likely that a large number of boys and girls will help to get in the crops this year. If you have to depend upon one of these inexperienced youngsters to get the job done there are a number of things you can do to help him become a useful farm hand.

If possible, advises J. W. Potts, assistant Extension farm labor supervisor, take a little time to get acquainted with the youngster who volunteers to work for you. In most cases he knows nothing about farming. Show him around the place and make him feel that he is welcome . . . that he is needed . . . and that he is going to be a part of the life on the farm while there.

In breaking him in, explain first the main points about the work and name the tools he is likely to use. Take up one point at a time, and explain slowly, simply and clearly. Then demonstrate their use by going through the motions yourself. Explain why you do it the way you do. Catch his interest so that he will watch you closely and understand each operation. Take up one point at a time and encourage questions. When he catches on to the most practical way of handling tools he'll make a better workman.

After that let the boy take the tool and do what you did while you watch. Straighten out any mistakes kindly and you'll very likely gain his confidence and good will. Have the youngster repeat the job and instructions until you're convinced that he knows. Lastly, put the boy on his own, but check his work until you are sure he's doing it right. Warn him against the danger of accidents . . . and train him not to take chances which might result in injury.

A youngster who comes to your farm will do so voluntarily because he believes that in doing so he is helping win the war. If you help and encourage him he's likely to do pretty well.

Sugar For Canning

Our sugar supplies and reserve are down to rock bottom. So rations and quotas are being cut for everybody—restaurant, bakers, candy manufacturers and individuals. The amount to be allowed for home canning has been reduced, as well as the per-person ration, which must last us for four months instead of three, as before.

Even though ration boards will issue only about 70 per cent as much sugar as they did last year, no food need go to waste if all the sugar obtained for home canning is used for that purpose. The amount you will get for canning is one pound of sugar for every four quarts to be canned, explains Mrs. Winifred J. Leverenz, of the A. and M. Extension Service.

The maximum allowance per person is 15 pounds of sugar—and only five pounds of that amount may be used for making jams, jellies, relishes, catsup and the like. It would be better to use this five pounds for canning or freezing, too. In this way, each person would have 60 quarts of fruit and 44 quarts is considered enough for an adequate supply of for a year. Too often, homemakers have used the bulk of their sugar for spreads, such as jelly, which contains far less food value than fruit canned with a light syrup.

Sugar for freezing fruits must come from the present canning allowance, Mrs. Leverenz says. In her bulletin on frozen foods she suggests using one pound of sugar to three or four pounds of cherries, berries, and plums when the dry pack method is followed. A light to medium syrup however, should be used for peaches, apricots and rhubarb.

Corn syrup or corn sugar which is not rationed, may be substituted for part or all of sugar in canning or freezing fruits and fruit juices. Honey may be used to replace part of the sugar; however, the honey masks the flavor of the fruit and amounts.

Drying is another way to preserve fruit without using sugar. This is a very good method for preserving peaches, apricots, pears, apples and figs.

You can get your application for canning sugar by writing to your local war price and rationing board. But if you want help on conserving sugar in canning or freezing, ask your county home demonstration agent for this information.

McCLOSKEY WOUNDED VETS GIVEN DRIVING TESTS

The Public Safety Department of the highway department, are giving wounded and handicapped veterans lessons in driving cars, when they are sufficiently recovered, a statement said this week.

There are two reasons for the institution of this new measure; to learn the boys something useful that they may be able to make a living from in the future, and second, help restore self confidence in the men themselves.

Housewives, harassed by the wartime problem of making the family meat go 'round, will find in the above table a number of ideas which will help to accomplish this purpose and at the same time provide tasty meat dishes. This table describes some ingenious ways with four different cuts of beef—hamburger, arm or chuck, cross cut shank, and flank meat. There is equal opportunity with other cuts of beef that may be available, as well as with cuts of pork and lamb.

The Woman Listener
By Sally Welles

THE EXCITING REALM of doctors and hospitals is not new to Mary Patton, now playing Nurse Sylvia Bertram on the NBC daytime serial "Road of Life." As Nurse Bertram, Mary plays right-hand man to Dr. Jim Brent with the skill of one born to the profession—and that is literally the case. Her father is a country doctor and her mother was a trained nurse. As a child, Mary says, she often went about the country with her father on his rounds, and assisted him in many operations. She also recalls exciting instances when, in her father's absence, she administered first aid to numerous emergency cases.

Ron Rawson, young announcer on the CBS daytime serial "Life Can Be Beautiful," has found that life can be beautiful. This time it was none of Papa David's doing, but Ron's own. He has just married Ruth Miller, whom he met when he was a student at Morningside College in Sioux City, Iowa. They were college friends, but then went their separate ways until recently when they bumped into each other at Madison Avenue and 53rd Street in New York. By April 6th Ron really had an announcement to make, not concerned with a program this time, but introducing the new team, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Rawson.

Another "Mr. and Mrs." story... on "Young Dr. Malone," also heard every Monday through Friday over CBS, the roles of the doctor and his wife Ann, are played by radio actor Carl Frank and his wife Barbara. A comparison between the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Frank off-stage and on need not end at the mere fact of marriage. Carl and Barbara (she's Barbara Weeks, professionally) are like their air counterparts in that they also have a small daughter, and live in the country.

Claudia Morgan, leading lady on "Right To Happiness" (NBC, Monday through Friday), has come forth with a practical spring fashion tip that will provide smart costume variety for spring suits. Claudia's trick is simple. Using a bright ascot scarf in place of a blouse, she buttons her suit jackets with one end of the scarf over the buttons. The effect of this is to make the suit buttons appear to match the scarf—change of scarf looks like a change of buttons, and presto!—a new suit.

"Information Please" program members and their guest stars, on the air Monday evenings over NBC, have made two recent out-of-town appearances in behalf of current drives. On April 2nd the show was broadcast from Atlanta, Ga., for the benefit of the Red Cross; and on April 23rd it was heard from Montreal for the benefit of the Canadian 8th Victory Loan Drive.

Pretty Jeannie McKeon, whose sultry voice is heard nightly over CBS on "The Jack Kirkwood Show," has always had varied fan-mail, but especially so during the war, when letters from servicemen have come in from the far corners of the world. Jeannie has found them all gratifying and heart-warming, but the latest one has given her the most satisfaction. It came from a chaplain in the Pacific, who requested her picture for his Morale Boosters Pin-Up Club!

Ralph Edwards, "Truth Or Consequences" host, now in Hollywood, experienced one great difficulty during the filming of his forthcoming RKO picture, "Radio Stars On Parade." Shots based on "consequences" had to follow a set script. On the air (Saturday nights over NBC) Ralph ad-libs continually and so, more than once a movie scene had to be redone because ad-lib master Edwards made up script as he went along!

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hunter of Amarillo, visited his mother, Mrs. Enoch Hunter, Sunday.

Mrs. Steve Anglin and Mrs. Louise Gardenhire of O'Donnell, spent the week end with Mrs. Jack Minor.

Terry Lou Moorehead, returned Friday of last week, to Tech, for the summer semester.

Gertrude and Sue Jones returned last Saturday from Arkansas, where they had been visiting their mother.

Heavy Job Ahead For OPA, Says Miller

"In the months to come, OPA has perhaps a bigger job to do than ever before," J. Bryan Miller, Acting District Director of the OPA, said today. "This will remain true until supplies of most commodities can be produced in quantities somewhere near current demand."

"Our Army and Navy still have a major war to fight in the Pacific. The service forces will still need to purchase high quantities of supplies until final victory is won."

"So we know that income will remain very high, and demand for civilian goods will also outstrip supplies of cost commodities. This will mean the necessary continuance of price controls until the threat of inflation is gone. Insofar as we are able to determine now, it will mean the continuation of major rationing programs, certainly through

FARM PRICES IN TEXAS SHOW INCREASE

Austin, Texas, June 1.—An increase of 18 per cent in the farm cash income for the first four months of the year has been recorded in Texas, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Income for the first four months of this year was $290,211,000 and for the first four months last year it was $244,936,000.

Increase in the level of farm prices, larger cotton ginnings in January, and larger marketings of livestock, were responsible for the gain, the Bureau reports

AS SOON as we can, we'll bring to bear on the Japs all the additional might we've been using against Germany.

What will it cost, this Moving Day of War? Estimate it in these terms: The job of moving millions of men from one front to another. Thousands of ships to carry the supplies of battle. Swarms of new-type aircraft to blast the path into enemy territory.

You can get an idea of the cost from the fact that Uncle Sam needs 7 billions from us in the mighty Seventh War Loan—now!

County Line HD Club Report

County Line HD club met Friday June 1st, in the home of Mrs. Barker. The nine members present answered roll call with "One book I have read recently".

Mrs. Suddeth and Mrs. Alexander were elected to attend the short course at Lubbock, July 9-10-11.

Mrs. Carson led a song by the members. It was an old time favorite and was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Suddeth gave a talk on "How Books Enrich a Child's Life." This made us realize anew the importance of selecting good books for our children instead of letting nature take its course and run the gamut of fun books, adventure and sex, to the exclusion of better literature.

Mrs. Alexander gave the reading, "My Farm." It would be nice if everyone had the same attitude toward his farm home as his unknown author had.

Our County Agent, Lady Clare Phillips, gave us a demonstration on garment finishes, set-in pockets and zippers, which look very smooth and easy as done by her. I think most of us will profit by this lesson.

Cookies and punch were served to the following: Mesdames Alexander, Bailey, Barker, Carson, Ellington, Henson, Jones, Meeks, Suddeth and one visitor, Mrs. Truett.

We always enjoyed the visiting with our neighbors, the exchange of new ideas and the neighborhood news.

Be with us at our next meeting, which will be Friday, July 6, with Mrs. Carson, as hostess.
