NUMBER 50

Special Notice By The WPR Board

The War Price and Rationing Board will be closed on Saturday afternoons, beginning July 7, 1945. They will be closed on the afternoons of the 20th of each month to take inventory and also on the afternoons of the last day of each month to make monthly reports.

We are now facing a severe sugar shortage, and we are allowed a limited quota each month for canning purposes. There are so many applications on file that our quota will not permit us to issue all applications now; but when our quota permits, we will eventually get to your application and mail directly to you. Please do not call at the office to see about it.

We urge you to mail all types of applications for rations to us. Please fill applications complete and put your direct mailing address on each application submitted.

As you know, board members are not paid for their work with the War Price and Rationing Board. Each board member has a business of their own and are very busy. We ask that you do not go to their places of business to discuss your rationing problems. Go to the office with your problems and the clerk will be glad to do everything they can for you.

It may not be enough! But we are doing our best. Your patience—your understanding—will help make it easier for us to serve you better. LET'S WORK TOGETHER!

Kathleen Garner, Chief Clerk

Federal Land Banks Offer Better Farm Loan Terms

Mr. L. E. Mabe, Secretary-Treasurer of the Brownfield National Farm Loan Association, on his return from a meeting in Lubbock of secretary-treasurers in this part of the state, said that amendments to the Federal Farm Loan Act will provide improved long-term credit service to agriculture.

"The amendments permit Land Bank loans of 65 percent of the normal agricultural value of a farm or ranch," he said. "The legislation also permits the Land Bank under certain conditions to purchase notes and mortgages from the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation. This would reduce the interest rate on Land Bank Commissioner loans acquired by the Land Bank from 5 percent to the Land Bank's rate of 4 percent, and also give the borrower the advantage of having only one creditor."

"Other provisions in amendments to the Farm Loan Act will speed up closing loans through the association on long-term Land Bank loans. These betterments are the result of continuous effort by the associations and the Land Bank to improve their service to agriculture."

Sgt. French Tells Of Island Trips

We had the pleasure of reading a fine descriptive letter this week, which was written in June by Sgt. Harrold French, to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. French, of the Tokio community. With space limited and lack of sufficient help, we are sorry we are unable to print all this letter. But Terry has so many boys in the service that but a smattering mention can be made of them.

He is one of those many jungle islands over in the Pacific war zone, and this trip around and through these jungles, as well as his description of the inhabitants, their diet and style of clothing or rather lack of clothing, is worth your time to read.

He stated that the English, who seem to control, or formerly controlled the islands he mentioned, had for health's sake, encouraged "fewcolthes" as the old Tennessee boy once expressed himself, and a loin cloth is about the limit, for male and female, according to Harrold.

But, we are advising our ladies not to take this health measure too literally here, as some embarrassed officer might send 'em home for more clothing.

From there they will be sent to reception centers nearer their homes for separation from the service or furloughs prior to reassignments.

Over Nine Million Dollars on Deposit In Our Two Banks

The two banks of this city never had better statements in their existence than the call as of June 30th. And despite the seeming unending drouth, money seems to just keep piling up on deposit at our banks. In fact, deposits are far and away from those of towns around the size of Brownfield, and are climbing into the category of towns like, Big Spring, Midland and Odessa, known for their oil money.

And we can partly thank the oil as well as the cattle and farming business for the increasing deposits here. More and more, as this city becomes more surrounded by major oil fields, workers in these fields find that Brownfield is more centrally located and is made the home town of these people. They also recognize the fact that Brownfield has church and school facilities second to none.

Six paved highways lead out of Brownfield, and others are to be built as soon as materials and labor can be obtained. Below we give in brief a summary of the last bank statement:

Resources	$9,583,767.79
Loans and Dis.	1,212,872.47
Deposits	9,279,915.62
Cash and Ex.	3,249,123.85

Thus, it can be seen that our banks can and are taking care of the needs of the community in a nice way.

LOWELL YOUNG FINISHES COMMUNICATION SCHOOL

Fort Benning, Ga., June 30, 1945—Pvt. Lowell W. Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. F. Young of Route 3, Brownfield, Texas upon completion of nine weeks of intensive training has graduated from the basic and advanced courses of the Communications School. This is one of the four Specialist Schools offered to the Parachutist at Fort Benning. Included are Communications, Riggers, Demolition and Machine Maintenance. Only qualified jumpers may apply and only the better men from each qualifying class will receive this instruction.

Without adequate means of communication, the existing machinery of war would bog down quickly. It is an essential component of every Parachute Unit in combat. In the advanced course men learn to send code at the rate of thirteen words per minute, and also given instruction in the finer points of dropping and operating communication equipment.

All school transfers must be in the hands of your county superintendent by August 1. Keep this in mind.

Pvt D. Chaves Gets Bronze Star Medal

With The 28th Infantry Division In Germany—For heroic action during the bitter fighting around the Ardennes sector where the Nazis attempted their abortive putsch last winter, Private Deluvina M. Chaves of Route 2, Brownfield, Texas, received the Bronze Star Medal at ceremonies recently somewhere in Germany.

The presentation was made by Major General Norman D. Cota, commanding general of the 28th Infantry Division, now part of Lieutenant General Leonard T. Gerow's Fifteenth U. S. Army.

When German forces overran a gun position of his unit, the 447th Anti-Aircraft Battalion and trapped an officer and seven men in a house, Pvt. Chaves and several comrades drove a half-track into the vicinity, pouring such effective fire into the enemy, they were compelled to withdraw. They continued fighting until an enemy grenade burst wounded Pvt. Chaves and three members of the half-track crew.

Mrs. Bishop will also teach. Katie Byerly is expected to move to Brownwood soon. Lucille Blackstock has indicated she will not teach the coming year. Others have until August 1st to accept.

German POW's Wearing USA Uni- forms Gets Yank

(The following article, clipped from Yank magazine, was recently received by Mrs. O. A. Patterson from her husband, who is now stationed in Europe with the U. S. Army.—Jayton Chronicle.)

Dear Yank:
I've always considered it a great privilege to wear the uniform of Uncle Sam. It wasn't because I thought it was a tailored masterpiece but because it used to stand for an American soldier. I no longer have that pride which for so long made all foreigners envious. It wasn't so bad seeing liberated Frenchmen who were never in any army wearing our uniforms but the other day we saw an incident that hurt deep down.

I'm a patient in a rear area hospital and the other day I saw an American ex-prisoner of war liberated a few days before who was on a stretcher carried by four German prisoners. The Germans were wearing the very uniform that should be our pride. The American looked up and, said "Thank you." not knowing he was thanking the fellow countrymen of men who beat and starved him during his imprisonment.

Not only does it hurt the pride of the fellows who fought for that uniform but it echoes in the hearts of all those who died to make our uniform what it is today. Not only is this feeling common among combat troops who have fought these foreigners, but every soldier who took the oath to fight against all enemies and defend his country has the same feeling.

23 year old man giving his name as J. C. Walker, was taken in custody in the caliche pit just south of Ropes. Tuesday morning by Deputy Williams and a small posse, after several farmers had reported seeing his mysterious wanderings around there. Deputy Sheriff Telford here responded to a call, and went to meet them, but they had him in custody on arrival.

He brought the prisoner to Brownfield, with aid of M. E. Apple, Methodist minister of Ropes, who was active in the capture. The youth, tall handsome and sun-hennaed, claimed he had been escaped from a Federal prison, for the past two years, under a sentence of ten years for desertion of army at Camp Hood, and had worked at a gin at Meadow last season.

Nothing was learned of his people, or former residence. Sheriff Ed Hofacket of Levelland came and returned the man to his county.

The French Republic (?) is to our notion, getting off to a good start toward a totalitarian nation, with Gen. DeGaulle as the dictator. When one man is allowed to have the first and the last say, the people of that nation are drifting far from democracy.

We have noted a lot of late concerning the Japs wishful thinking that the American people will tire of war, and finally agree to a negotiated peace. We are tired of war; we were fed up on it prior to December 7, 1941, but we are in it and it is mostly our war with little help from now on. But has anyone ever figured that the Japs might get tired of war, too?

The Women's Democratic League of Texas are urging that Senator Tom Connally be allowed to make the race next year without opposition, being that he is so valuable to the nation just at this time, and all his spare moments are taken up just now with foreign affairs, of which he is chairman, and has no time to come to Texas to campaign for re election. Suits me OK, but what kind of a blab do the ladies intend to place on the bunch of chronic office seekers at Dallas, Austin and Houston?

In the first place it's none of our business, and we may be as far from right as pole to pole. But speaking of Poles, we hazard the opinion from this humble source that the Poles who stayed in Warsaw through all the different blitz, and took all the Master Race ingenuity could heap upon them, are the ones to have charge right now; more so than those who took it comparatively easy the past two years in London. And we do not mean that we are holding out for them because they have a more leftist leaning than the London Poles.

Much has been said of late about the Russians taking over more than their share of policing Germany. As far as the Herald is concerned, they can take over all of it, and let all our boys come home. No jealousy there on our part. Nor are we worried because the Reds are moving Ford, G. E. Woolworth and other plants from Berlin to Russia. In the first place, we consider the good old USA a pretty good place for Mr. Ford, General Motors, Woolworth and others, to keep their plants from here on out. And we don't hold the government, nor the army responsible for what happens to their property in foreign lands.

Speaking of the sugar shortage, much of it can be credited to the "Control Measures" our bureaucratic government has put into effect. We can remember not over two years ago that a certain acreage of sugar beets was allowed to several south Plains counties that have begun to grow that commodity, and nothing was done to encourage larger sugar cane crops in Texas, Louisiana and others southern states. Of course we had nothing to say about Cuba, but perhaps a little encouragement would have brought better results there. All in all, our rationing program, while necessary, has been badly handled by men perhaps, who didn't know a stalk of sugar cane from a stalk of poke salad.

Sgt.: See that soldier over there annoying that girl?

M. P.: Why he's not even looking at her.

Sgt.: Sure, that's what's annoying her.

Speaking of an abundance of fruit and little sugar, in our boyhood days a lot of peaches and apples were sun dried or evaporated as they call it now, and they made whaling good pies through the cold winter months. Lorn Walters writes in that he has traded his small home in San Diego for a larger one, and that they have been well treated in California. So guess we as well kiss them goodbye.

AFL Warns Against Giving Up Control Over Our Air Space

Warning that hasty action by our State Department in giving up this country's control over its own air space would let the bars down to any foreign airline that sought entrance into the United States, the American Federation of Labor this week called upon the Government to take immediate constructive steps for maintaining the air leadership of America in the postwar world.

In a statement of policy adopted unanimously by the Executive Council, the American Federation of Labor pointed out that agreements promoted by the then Assistant Secretary of State Adolph A. Berle, Jr., at the recent Chicago International Aviation Conference would change established American law and "operate to the detriment of all American transportation, both surface and air, both foreign and domestic." A policy which offers to all nations competitive to America in world trade and industry the right to operate airlines to this country and through the United States to trade ports around the globe, would "remove the tariff wall" from this great industry upon which the future security of this country depends, it is pointed out.

In pointing out these "air freedoms" would harm American wage-earners and labor standards, George Meany, secretary-treasurer of the Federation, in a recent article in the FEDERATIONIST, said: "These foreign flag airlines, in addition to the advantages of basic wage cost differentials, will have the decisive advantage of operating as worldwide monopolies subsidized and owned or controlled by their governments."

Furthermore, he declared that "in effect the foreign flag international airlines will be instruments of foreign policy for their respective governments even more than were the subsidized shipping lines in the past." By similar combination of competitive advantages, Mr. Meany showed, these steamship lines drove American ships from the high seas to the refuge of our coastal waters where "freedom of the seas" did not prevail.

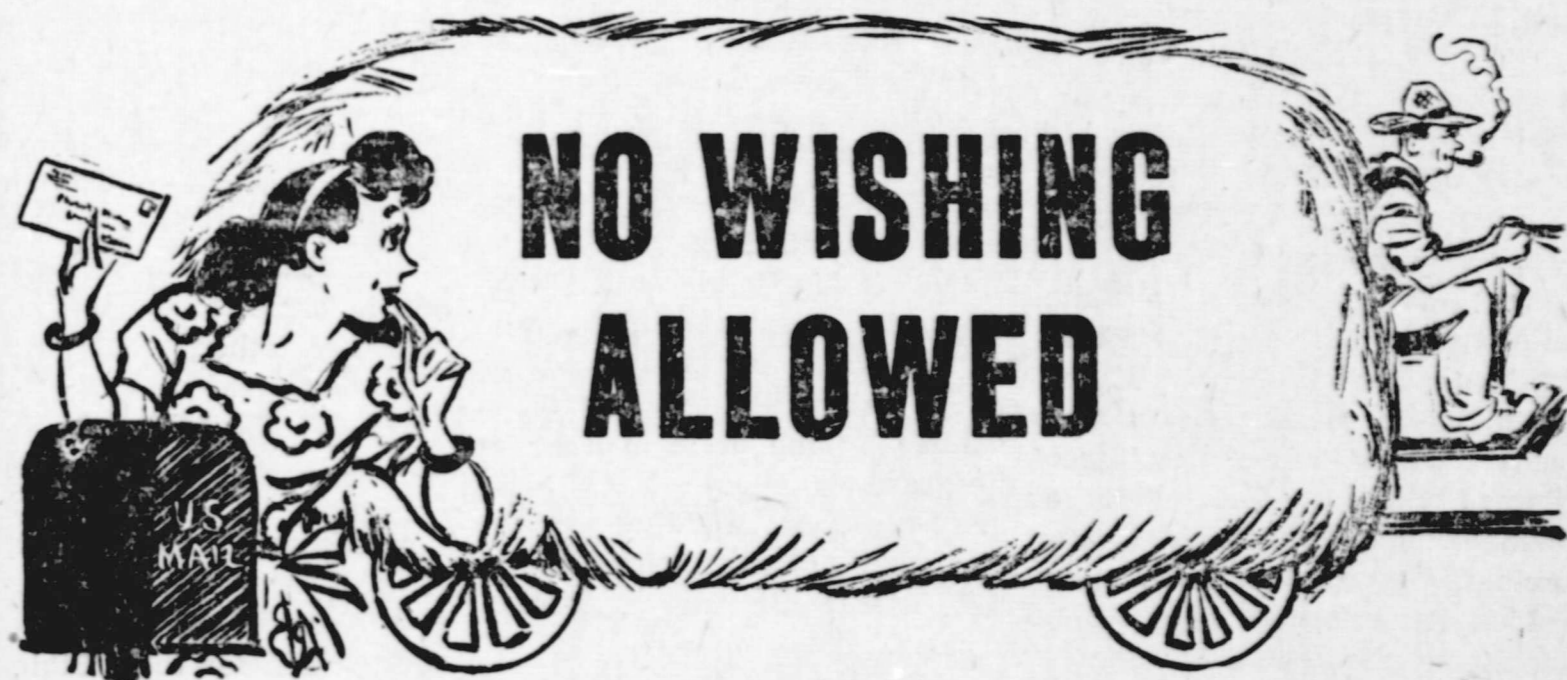

In carrying the case to the Government the American Federation of Labor points out that American industry, including aviation, has flourished by the safeguards this Government has maintained against low wage level competition. Our aviation industry wise attained world leadership under our present law which permits foreign airlines to compete in American trade only when they can show such competition is in the public interest and their franchise is approved by the President of the United States.

The American Federation of Labor in summing up the case points out that the "Freedoms of the Air" would:

1. Take away U.S. control of its own air space.
2. Invite international subsidy wars and create international ill will.
3. Endanger U.S. safety standards by uncontrolled and unregulated competition with foreign airlines.
4. Offer U.S. international air traffic—80% of the world's total—to low-wage-level foreign airlines.
5. Force the U.S. to accept any Axis airlines which are under the dummy registry of friendly nations.
6. Nullify our Civil Aeronautics Act.
7. Authorize foreign airlines of 54 countries to come into the United States and carry our own traffic to any port on the globe.
8. Enable foreign airlines to take away business from our own railroads, bus lines and air companies even between airports of entry within the United States.
9. Destroy all control of rates and frequencies of landings.
10. Take away any control by the U.S. of air bases vital to our own future defense.

Proceeding the ceremony S/Sgt. Danner, Organist, played "I Love You Truly", "Ave Maria" and "I Love You" and also the traditional wedding marches. The altar was beautifully decorated with gladiolas, daisies, and snapdragons, and carnations.

"THE TEXAN'S SHARE IN THE WAR"

General "Ike" Eisenhower, conqueror of the Nazis, brought back to America the thanks of all service men for the services they receive from the National War Fund, as result of public gifts.

In one of his first public appearances, the Allied commander declared:

"But this connection of yours with the battle line is no personal thing. Your quotas on the battle line prevent any such idea creeping into our thinking. And you can do more than merely your share in producing the arms and equipment to save American lives. There is a spiritual side to the soldier's life that is often starved. I mean his opportunities for recreation, for feeling close to his home folks. One of the ways that can be helped is through the entertainment sponsored by the USO. It is something that deserves your support just exactly as does the Red Cross. They have done magnificent work and sent great artists to the field that have made the soldier feel he was back on Broadway almost.

With your energy sustained at the full, our soldiers fighting in the Pacific, and by soldiers I mean all fighting services, not merely land armies, the victory in Japan is certain."

USO and other National War Fund agencies are supported entirely through contributions to local county and community war chest organizations throughout the nation. And now, from Gen-

We've Had Some Interesting Experiences, Too!

Curtiss Helldiver Dive-Bomber in action against the Japanese in the Pacific.

Whether you fly 'em...or make the fuel that flies 'em...you learn something!

The boys who have been filling Tojo's fleet as full of holes as an old tin can will have some interesting stories to tell when they get home.

And Phillips is going to have some interesting things to tell you (and show you) too!

Because a big part of our job the last five years has been to produce the 100-octane Aviation Fuel that has kept the big boys over Berlin and Tokio. And it hasn't always been an easy job.

In some ways it has involved almost as many trials and tribulations as a pilot goes through before he wins his wings. We've built vast new laboratories and staffed them with the wisest and most experienced scientists we could find. We've built new plants and introduced new processes. In short, we've gone "all out"—with every bit of brains and brawn we have—to give our fliers every ounce of precious 100-octane fuel that could be produced!

The result—today Phillips is one of the very biggest producers of 100-octane Aviation Fuel in the country! That's a mighty important fact—and one of which we're very proud.

And it's a significant fact, too—for every man and woman who plans to drive a car after the war. Because you can bet your bottom dollar that all the experience, all the know-how, all the scientific knowledge we've gained in becoming one of the largest producers of 100-octane gasoline—will be packed into the Phillips 66 Gasoline which powers your post-war car!

When you see the Phillips 66 Shield, remember—it stands for fuels for Victory today, and fuels for better driving tomorrow.

A New "House of Magic" for Postwar America

"...one of the strongest guarantees of progress and world peace is continuous scientific preparedness through industrial research."

General Electric has approved plans for a new $8,000,000 Research Laboratory. This expenditure has tremendous significance. Scientific research has contributed much to our progress as a nation.

"Many things have been discovered during this war, and we can and must develop them into better things for peacetime.

"Today we have 550 research people on our staff. These new facilities will not only give increased outlet for their abilities, but will provide opportunities for new research minds with new talents.

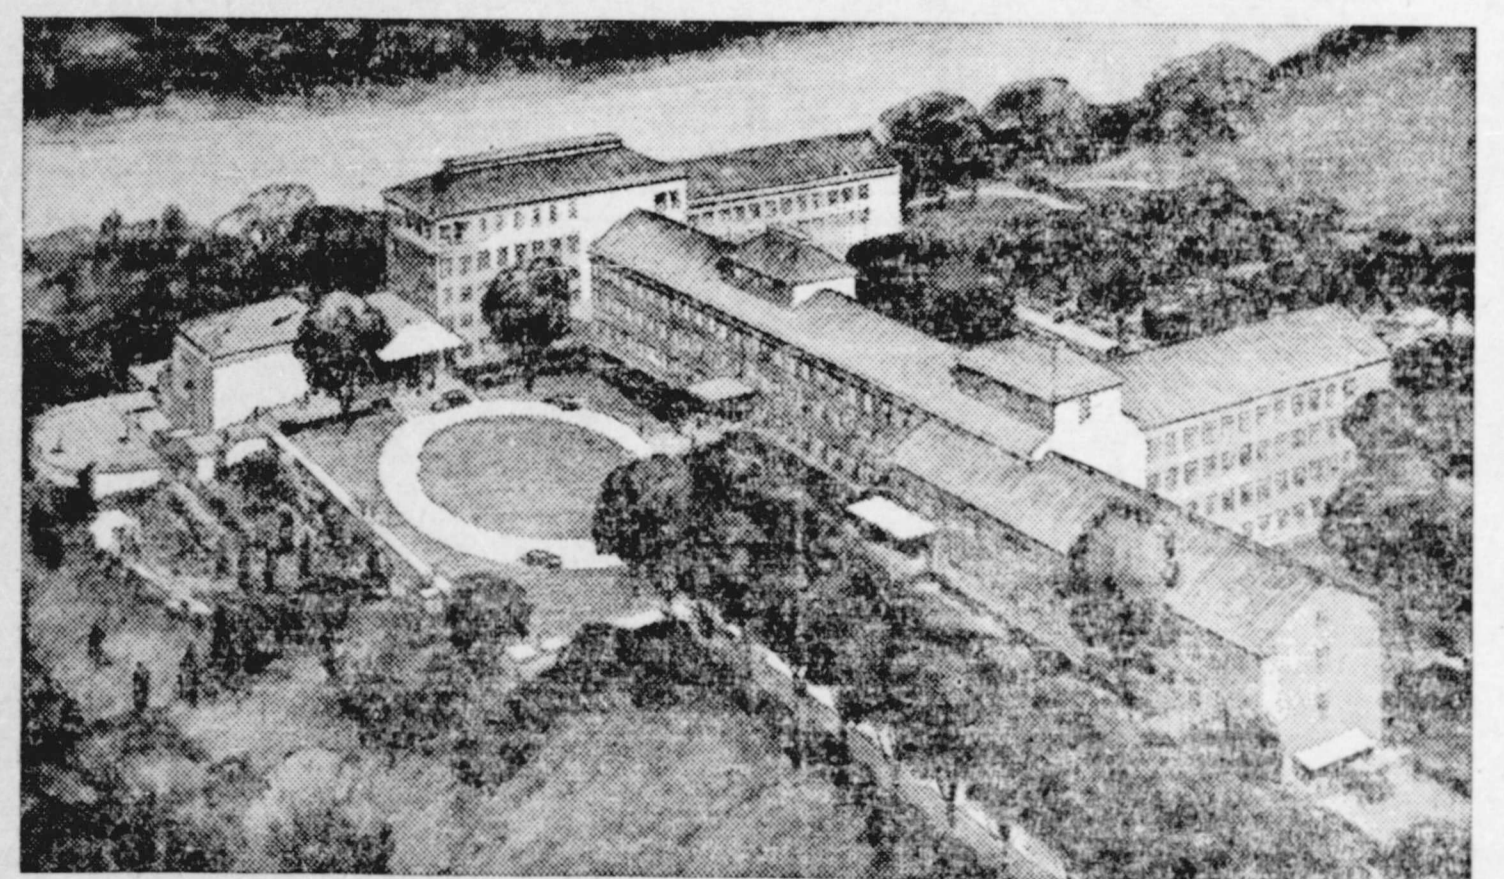

"From this new laboratory we think new achievements will come. In the past, G-E research has contributed much to better living in America—not only through new developments in x-ray, electricity, metallurgy, electronics and chemistry, but also through reduced cost and increased efficiency, as in the modern incandescent lamp.

"Even more than in the past the laboratory will emphasize research in pure science—continuing and expanding the work begun by Dr. Whitney and the late Dr. Steinmetz forty-five years ago.

"To find new facts of the physical world, to extend the limits of knowledge, is a forward step in creating More Goods for More People at Less Cost."

W. D. Morrison
President
GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY

New 8-million-dollar G-E Research Laboratory will be built five miles east of Schenectady, New York, on the Mohawk River. The geographic location offers special advantages for television, high voltage x-ray, and radar research. Buildings with 300,000 square feet of floor space will accommodate an expanded post-war research staff of about 800. Research rooms will be a scientist's paradise of equipment for experiments in chemistry, physics, mechanics, electronics. It is hoped that construction can start in six months.

Peaches May Be Canned Minus Sugar

College Station, July—Sugar helps canned fruit to hold its shape, color and flavor, but it is not necessary to keep fruits from spoiling, says Mrs. Winifred J. Leverenz, specialist in food preservation of A. & M. College extension Service. With present sugar shortages, canning without sugar will help homemakers to conserve the large surplus of peaches this summer, and will add many cans of fruit to the pantry shelves and to next winter's menus.

To can without sugar, use boiling water or strained fruit juice made from the softer peaches. Wash, peel and remove seed from firm peaches. Complete the canning operation by packing the raw peaches into a clean jar or can. Bring fruit juice or water to a boil and pour over the packed fruit. Leave 1-2 inch headspace. Steam before sealing: pints, 10 minutes; quarts, 15 minutes; half-gallons, 20 minutes. Press down, and refill if necessary. Wipe off rim of jar and seal according to type of container being used. Process in a water bath after water starts boiling: pints and quarts, 15 minutes; half gallons, 25 minutes.

Another method to can without sugar is to drop the firm fruit into the fruit juice. Bring to a boil. Pack into hot clean jars. Leave 1-2 inch headspace. Seal according to type of container used. Process in a boiling water bath, 15 minutes for pints and quarts and 25 minutes for half gallons.

If a small amount of sugar is available, the general wartime rule is to add one cup to two quarts of fruit. One cup of sugar syrup usually covers 1 quart of fruit when it is well packed. A thin syrup, one cup sugar to three cups juice or water, is also desirable from a nutrition standpoint. Corn syrup or cornsugar may be substituted for part or all of the sugar. One cup sugar and two cups corn syrup to 6 cups water makes a 3-4 cup syrup and one cup water. Honey may be substituted for a small part of the sugar, but it affects the flavor of the fruit more than corn syrup. It is good with canned figs and with fruit pickles. Never use saccharin in canning, as it becomes bitter when heated.

Old Timer Gives Brief History Of South Plains For Past Fifty Years

By H. H. Harris, Bronco, Texas

I remember in the Fall of 1906 I had followed the big cow works. That is the time when all the cowmen went together and rounded up and worked out their cattle. I had gathered most all our cattle in. The weather was fine. I had a saddle horse up ready for a storm. But on the night of November 15 an awful storm struck. All the old-timers who were living here at that time will never forget that storm. It struck with an awful wind and grinding snow. You could not see but a few feet. Of course, we had no chance to follow our drifting cattle.

This blizzard roared for at least three days and nights. I guess the temperature was below zero from the time it struck, none of us had a weather thermometer at that time. But I know one thing—it put all the cattle off of the plains, unless they were inside a fence. My friend Steve Darden who lives now in Lovington had moved about one hundred and fifty head of cattle that Fall to this county. He had them in a section pasture. Half of those cattle in Darden's pasture froze and off here. You see, it was an awful snow and it had banked up against this part of the caprock like an apron. There were many cattle that had drifted for days. Some cattle from the D Z Ranch south of Portales had drifted there. In fact, about all the cattle from all over the Plains of New Mexico had drifted there. This part of the caprock was very steep for many miles. Cattle either pushed each other off the caprock and fell in the deep snow drifts and down canyons, or the cattle did not know the caprock was so steep and tried to climb down and died in the snow drifts.

I followed the drift of cattle to the caprock after the storm. I was a young man at that time—only 24 years of age. I was an extra fast skinner, I skinned cattle and had others like the Brownings and Dalphats to help me skin. We skinned most of the cattle we came to and if we could recognize the brand, we sent the died. And I guess all his cattle would have frozen, but they piled up and broke the fence, so that the other half got out and drifted. Not many cattle froze where they could walk and drift.

There were thousands of cattle that lost their lives where they fell off the caprock near the old Browning Tunnel Ranch. I understand Skelt Williams runs that ranch now. I can hardly understand why so many cattle drifted where they could walk and drift.

I made a stake for a young man at that time. I bought and sold many loads of hides that winter, because cattle weakened by the storm continued to die until grass came. Hides were high. I got as high as $5.75 each for the first load I took off. I forgot just what they brought per pound, but I think it was over 30c per pound. The grass had been good that fall, and lots of those cattle were fat.

I handled so many cow hides that winter that I got buyers from Roswell, Amarillo, Texas and other towns. I tried to buy and handle practically all the hides in this country. I kept a six- or eight-horse team on the road hauling hides. Of course, a six- or eight-horse team could not pull a very heavy load across those sand hills to Portales. I failed to gather quite all my cattle, but I made more money on hides than I lost on cattle.

We gathered some cattle on the Pecos River next spring. However, most of the cattle had worked their way back on the plains before the big roundup began. Well, lots of cattle died after that storm. I tried to handle all the hides over this country from Knowles, Monument, Seminole, etc. That was the first time I was ever at Lovington. There was no town then, but Florence Love had a little store and Postoffice. I was there locating hides.

Well, getting back to the bad blizzard of 1906. People froze and lost their lives all over the Plains during that blizzard. Those losing their lives were mostly sheep herders that tried to stay with their sheep. One of my friends lost his life trying to stay with his sheep. His name was Roy Putman. He just started in the sheep business that year. His body was found several days later. He was in the old D Z outfit. Most of the other people who lost their lives were Mexicans.

I wish I had to explain more. If you want to know anything I did not explain, ask any old-timer like Seth Alston, Dow Woods, or Steve Darden. Well going back to the cattle rustlers. Don't understand me to say there was no cow stealing those days. There has always been more or less stealing. But people were not as bad as the Western magazines and wild west shows try to picture them. Our young folks have the wrong opinion of frontier days. What I am trying to explain is that people were no worse then, or I doubt as bad, as they are today. As a whole, they were not so well educated or refined as they are today, but in their hearts, I think they were really better, and lots more accommodating. But, after all, we were about our own law then.

I was thinking of an old Buck Indian once. I was asking him how they lived and about their customs. He said they had no marriage ceremony. I asked him what if a fellow would just keep taking women, and leaving them and their children. I couldn't see how a free marriage could stand up. He replied that the other Indians would not think much of a Buck that would not stay and take care of his woman and children. In fact, they would have nothing to do with a fellow like that. The Indian said his people were like us white people, even if we white people did go through with a marriage ceremony. If a white man wanted a divorce, he could get a new woman almost every year, get divorces, and keep getting new women. So, after all, the White Man's law does not amount to much anyway. Almost every law can be legally broken. A lot of people like myself don't burn any more gas or use any more tires in War time than they have to. But at present it takes about half my gas and tires to keep up with the new laws, to keep gas and tire ration stamps, food ration stamps, and to sign up on different programs.

Well, as this letter is getting lengthy, I will ring off and try to write some more later.

Fat-Salvage Bee To Aid in Licking National Fat Shortage
It's been ages since we had an old-fashioned "bee" in these parts, but just as we've always pitched in to help a neighbor, so must we pitch in for our country. To help make hundreds of battlefield and home-front essentials, more used fats are needed than are on hand. City folks are trying to make up the deficit of over 1,200,000,000 pounds. But their fats aren't enough.
Women in small cities, towns and rural districts must also save every drop of fat. Not just big amounts. But scraps of plates, meat trimmings. Melt them down once a week. NO SHORTAGE OF PROTEINS . . .

LET MILK SERVE WHAT YOU NEED Mothers, no doubt, worry more over the lack of beef in their children's diet because of the protein value they're missing rather than the taste. But your worries are unnecessary. For milk contains as much protein as steak in addition to other vital building materials. And what's more children love it—in fact every one loves our creamy, rich, delicious tasting milk—especially during the warm weather days. Be sure to serve it daily.

Behind the Scenes in American Business

By JOHN CRADDOCK

New York, July 9—The big manufacturers of the nation expect business to be very good in that first year after the war. The great expectations are not based just on easy optimism. They represent the sober judgment and planning of some 7,000 manufacturers who, as a group, produce about half the nation's goods. These are the same manufacturers who reported to the Department of Commerce their plans for spending some $4.5 billion to enlarge their plants in the first year after the war. They want these increased facilities because they expect sales much larger than in 1939, the last year before the defense program and the war began to affect our economy. Most optimistic of all are the textile makers, the makers of apparel goods and leather products. As a group, they expect their first postwar year's sales to be greater even than record-breaking 1944, and about twice the $9 billion volume of 1939. Even the iron and steel masters, reconciled to less volume after the war than now, see the first postwar year as substantially better than the last prewar year. Food, beverage and tobacco manufacturers also expect a volume about twice that of 1939.

THINGS TO COME -- A new insecticide that may revolutionize plant doctoring. It will make possible the inoculation of crops by simply mixing the chemical with the fertilizer, and the resulting crops will be immune from bugs, beetles, etc. . . . Many new magazines from the nation's leading publishers . . . Baby tractors, for use on farms smaller than any mechanized before . . . The memoirs of General Eisenhower, in published form . . . A new soil tester making use of the electric eye . . . Housewives will buy their light bulbs postwar handily packed in a new shock-proof carton. . . A new railway car for ordinary coach travel, equipped with a luxurious lounge for day, lavatories by night.

SIDELIGHTS From Washington

By George Mahon

On all sides one hears comments to the effect that President Truman has got off to a good start as President. He is friendly, and he would not know how to be arrogant or aloof. There has probably never been a more informal, down-to-earth, friendly sort of fellow in the Presidency than Harry Truman.

Most people in public life have referred to former Presidents as Mr. President or Mr. So-and-So. Even President Roosevelt was generally called Mr. President or Mr. Roosevelt by his associates in public life. But scores of men in public life call President Truman by his first name, Harry. It seems to fit in perfectly with the man. He appears to think of himself as just an ordinary fellow with a big job to do and who needs a lot of people to help him.

He was extremely well received when he appeared before the Senate last week to deliver the United Nations Charter. The Senate has been consulted from the beginning of the proposed plan, first by President Roosevelt and later by President Truman, and the ground work for favorable Senate action has been well laid.

Speaking of President Truman's informality, on the first occasion when he addressed a joint session of Congress, he forgot to wait until Speaker Rayburn presented him before proceeding with his speech. He was about to do the same thing on the next occasion, when Speaker Rayburn whispered audibly, "Hold on, Harry, let me introduce you!"

Not long ago I had occasion to call on President Truman at the White House. He had on a blue shirt and was in his shirt sleeves. With complete informality, he began the conversation by inquiring about conditions in Lubbock, recalling his visit there last year.

Of course, the President has a hard road ahead of him, but all our people wish him well, particularly in the field of foreign policy and in his capacity as Commander-in-Chief for the knock-out blow against Japan.

THE LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

The way I figure, this new 5 buck windshield sticker, it is maybe a good idea. You know, if all taxes were paid via sticker, it might work out skookum. Let every public project be paid for by sticker. Say, as a sample, the Govt. thinks it must have an OWI to pass out news or hold back some, that it thinks we are too young to understand, and it is gonna cost 35 million a year, we could have a 2 dollar OWI stamp for same—there being something like 18 million cars in the U.S.A.

And there are these River and Dam "Authorities," like the Missouri Valley one to cost around 400 million. A windshield sticker for this MVA would be a 22 dollar baby. And with stamps for all projects, everybody would see what they were all about, and what it was costin' them versus everybody thinking it was something for Uncle Samuel to pay for, and not them.

We could have 10 cent stickers for the local playground and leap frog projects—and work on up to the 25 buck sticker for bigger things like AAA, etc. And when the windshield was plastered and

Printer's Devils Give Way Circulation Figures

Just another short story about circulations again this week. When a young fellow about 19 years of age, when we were holding down our first job on a weekly at $7.50 per month, board and washing, we learned that there was not much of anything that one weekly in a two-weekly town could do to keep their real circulation figures from its competitor.

When we took the job on one of them, we found that just prior to that time, the two editors had a fight. Not over circulation; not over ad or subscription rates, but politics. Those were the good old days when you could be opposite and against your neighbor on religion and about everything else, except politics. You must not question his politics. Our editor was larger than the other guy and proceeded to fistcuff the other in a grocery store, but the little guy got a scale weight and came near shaving off our boss' ear—a near miss.

So, we were told to steer clear of the other plant. But one Saturday afternoon, we were given a half holiday, and as we had met one of the boys who worked on the other paper at church one night, we sneaked over there, and was treated royally and shown over the plant, which was really better than ours. We had a G. Wash hand press; they had a cylinder.

And of course we lads saw much of each other, rather secretly on our part, after that, and told each other just how many papers each printed. The same same holds true today. And it happens today. In fact such a thing has happened very recently not only here but other places. Boys will talk.

And in passing, we might state that for the reason many editors stretch their circulation figures, all advertising agencies discount the figures of all non Audit Bureau papers 50 percent. The Herald has never refused to tell anyone just how many papers we print weekly. It is no secret. Can't be kept a secret.

Germany Not Whip'd - Just Sulling

There are yet 15,000,000 arrogant, blustering, but sulling Germans, both civilians and soldiers in Germany. Some are being rounded up every day by the allies.

Given just five years free from reparations and restrictions in which to rebuild, Germany could become better prepared for war industrially than it was in 1939.

Germany is not whipped or even subdued—just temporarily overpowered—and unless the occupational forces are hard-boiled and continue to be hard-boiled, the Germans will rise again right under their noses.

Workers in the Arkansas rice fields are relatively well paid, as farm hands are compensated. They earn more than cotton choppers and pickers; draw wages more like a California orange grove worker.

That's exactly why our rice workers are well paid. They produce a lot of rice per man. An American worker, with modern tools, can produce 50 times as much rice as a China boy with a heavy hoe.

Shorter hours and higher wages for people who work, lower prices and better merchandise for people who buy, are universally popular dears.

Good equipment costs something. It calls for investment. With good equipment, workers increase production per man and get their pay raised, also increase production per day (or per acre) and show the investor a profit.

Before the end of the summer the FEA will submit to President Truman and the State department a long term program for Germany's economic disarmament.

Farmer's Friend

Two southerners sat near me in a crowded day coach recently and carried on a heated and revealing conversation. Both men were farmers, but their similarity ended there.

The other man was nearer 30, spoke with the accent of the delta country and was obviously a practical dirt farmer with very limited schooling. The conversation was about rice. The older man insisted that rice was not grown in Arkansas.

The old gentleman almost persuaded the young man that he had been calling something rice that was not rice at all. I didn't intrude to say that I drive through miles of rice fields every time I make a trip from Searcy to Memphis, although I hated to see a man in possession of the truth so crushed under courteous language and ideas that have been out of date for 25 years.

Workers in the Arkansas rice fields are relatively well paid, as farm hands are compensated. They earn more than cotton choppers and pickers; draw wages more like a California orange grove worker.

That's exactly why our rice workers are well paid. They produce a lot of rice per man. An American worker, with modern tools, can produce 50 times as much rice as a China boy with a heavy hoe.
