

Three Men Confess To Foster Robbery

Three young men of Hobbs, charged with robbery of R. W. Foster and wife here, last Thursday, taken into custody the next day, signed statements Saturday, implicating each other in the robbery, and are being held in jail here and in Lubbock. The Fosters, were robbed about 2 a. m., Thursday, of last week, of about $1600 in cash, they had saved for many years and mostly their son's funds sent them from his army service.

Foster related to officers, the minute actions of the tall robber, who banished a pistol, going through his house and stated he knew they had some money hid, led officers to conclude he must have seen some one with inside knowledge. They went to Hobbs where Foster's married daughter lives, who told them of Hilton and Harold Bridges, nephews of her husband, likely had knowledge of the money. Officers Mon Telford and Finis Carter, with aid of Hobbs police, quickly found them living in a trailer camp, and they had just arrived a few minutes before the officers did, about 2 a. m., Friday.

After being searched they were found to have about a thousand dollars on their person, in bills of large denomination. They soon also apprehended Gilman Berry, Taking two of them to Lubbock jail, and one here. Fosters easily identified Barry, the tall one, as the gunman. When faced with other corroborating facts in possession of officers, they made statements to officers. One stated he hid his share in their back yard, and led Joe Price to it, late Saturday evening. Charges of robbery with firearms were filed here Saturday. The accused have not asked for preliminary trials. Grand Jury will convene next month.

Barry said he came from De Leon only ten days ago, where the Bridges formerly lived. One of them is unmarried, one has three children all living at Hobbs. The men claimed they had been drinking heavily all that night of the robbery. Knowledge of the Fosters having the money leaked out in casual conversation, several weeks before. Officers stated the Foster's son-in-law was not implicated in any way, and made no effort whatever to shield them.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR T/SGT. JAMES M. BURLERSON

T/Sgt. James M. Burleson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Burleson, of Meadow, was born Sept. 23, 1918, in Anson, Texas. At the age of three years, he came with his parents to Meadow. He received his education in the Meadow grade and high schools and attended the University of Texas, where he majored in Business Administration, for two and one-half years.

He was very active in all types of athletics, having played both basketball and football for high school and for the University.

He was a member of the Methodist Church from early childhood. On December 8, 1941, he volunteered for service to his country and was stationed at Chanute Field, Illinois, where he was made an instructor in the ground forces of the Army Air Corps. He was later sent to Lincoln, Nebraska. In August 1943, feeling a greater call for service, James volunteered as a gunner and completed his training as a crew chief and a top-turret gunner on a B-17, after being stationed at Buffalo, N. Y., Fresno, Calif., Las Vegas, Nev., and Avon Park, Florida. He landed in England in June 1944, and on August 25, 1944, while participating in a bombing mission over Peenemunde in northwestern Germany, he and all of his crew members failed to return to their base. No details of their disappearance were ever known, but it was presumed that they lost their plane and their lives as the result of the unusually heavy anti-aircraft fire that day. His family

War Fund Donations Are Lagging Here

On account of the inclemency of the weather for the past ten days, committees have been hindered about getting out to see about subscriptions for the current war fund drive. Complete reports are not available, but the chairman, Frank Jordan estimates it at around $1,800.

The public is being urged to contribute early and generously to this worthy cause.

Overseas Boys Now Get to See Each Other

For the longest, while the war was in progress, and every move and motion and word had to be on the mum, and all letters and parcels efficiently censored, the boys overseas could say little about each other, or mention any time or place. Now that the Jap-rats have been knocked out, the boys are able to write home all about the place, the time, and who they met many other boys from home, and we get more news.

For instance of late, Jack Stricklin Jr. has been able to visit with John L. Cruce The Junior Editor is situated on a little Island called Ford Island, in Pearl Harbor, but to visit John L., who is in the army, he has to take a ferry across to the mainland and then a bus the 8 or 9 miles to Honolulu. John L. is almost in the city. They had a great day together.

The last letter from Jack Jr. stated that he had seen and talked with Virgil Crawford, and visited on board the ship Virgil is on. By the way, Virgil has landed on the west coast and is expected home this week, and a discharge not too far away.

Then later, three local sailors had visited him, being Lajune Lincoln, son of Judge and Mrs. C. L. Lincoln, C. B. Thompson, who formerly worked for Nelson Primm drug, and an unnamed lad possibly a stranger he thought we would not know, although he stated they were all local boys. Might have forgotten to mention his name, in the letter These boys had quite a bull session together and we know just how they enjoyed being together though far from home and families.

In this connection, we might add that all three of his visitors are just youths, while Jack Jr. is up in his 30ties. Naturally he noted their behavior, and he stated that although these boys may have been thrown with roughnecks, which can be found in any military organization, they were all still fine lads, and had lost none of their manliness they possessed at home.

And we might mention that Jr. received his rating of Printer third class, which he is very proud of.

Recently the writer has driven over considerable of Terry county, as well as some of the adjoining counties. Last Sunday afternoon, we took the Roswell highway as far as Plains, thence south to Denver City, and home via Seagraves. It is going to be a great sacrifice to see all the unmatured grain we saw just from the road Sunday, go to waste. There is enough of this grain to feed thousands of head of cattle if properly harvested and buried in a trench silo.

Yes, we know it would be some trouble, and we know that some will not stay at the same place next year, but it appears to us that there could be some mutual agreement between renter and landlord whereby this silage could be used, or mutually sold to feeders nearby. In fact, we have never found a job worth while that did not cost some time and labor. Only the big shots and gamblers make a living easy an off the other "pore ignoramus."

To say the least, meat that is prime, both beef and pork, will have a ready sale for a year or two more, at least at good prices. Dairy products too, will have good demand, according to all sources, and with little cotton, comparatively speaking, in the county, the guy that has these things to sell, will cash in.

Some of these days ceiling prices will come off, and there will be a good margin of profit between the cost and sale price, of meats, dairy and poultry products.

Clarence Nolen, about 35, of Lamesa, sustained painful injuries, early Sunday morning, when his car went out of control, and ran off an embankment in the south part of town.

Passing motorists said he was evidently blinded by the lights of another car. He was treated for several days in the local hospital.

has been awarded two air medals, the Presidential citation, and the Purple Heart.

On August 26, 1945, the War Department pronounced James as dead. On Sunday, September 23, on his twenty-seventh birthday, a beautiful memorial service was held in his memory in the Meadow Methodist Church. The Rev. J. E. Peters of Meadow and Rev. D. D. Dennison of Merkel, had charge of the service, which was attended by many of James' relatives and hundreds of friends and neighbors who wished to pay tribute to another boy who gave his all for his country.

LAMESA MAN INJURED IN HIGHWAY ACCIDENT

Judge Homer Winston tried several criminal cases with aid of a jury, Wednesday. Three charges with driving while drunk, and one, a colored man, for possession of liquor, in north part of town. He entered a plea of guilty. The others continued to November term of court.

Lawrence Barber of Seagraves, and C. L. Harris of Lubbock, attorneys, were in attendance of court.

Mrs. Eddie Kruese and son William Howard, of Coldwell, Texas, spent last Saturday night as guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McDonald.

Miss Lois Hulse, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hulse, left Sunday for her home in Mineral Wells.

Brownfield Cubs Entertain The Amarillo Sandies Here Tonight In Seasons First AA Class Conference Football Game

Game Time 7:30 P. M.
Tonight at Cub field the Brownfield Cubs will meet their crucial football test when they entertain the Amarillo Sandies, an undefeated and untied AA class team, that last Friday drubbed the highly touted San Angelo Bobcats with a defeat.

The Brownfield Cubs are also an undefeated and untied team, weekend in a very thrilling game at Levelland before a crowd of several thousand by a score of 33 to 18.

Levelland scored the first and then immediately the Cubs came back after the kickoff and scored on two plays, at halftime however, the score stood 26-12, both teams scoring one touchdown each in the last quarters. Final score 33-18.

Highlights of the game was the sensational 90 yard runback by Brownfield's Eicke and another long runback for a score by Martin.

The Brownfield line stood out like a stone wall and most of Levelland's gains came through the air.

Passes and running of Levelland's Percy was outstanding.

This Would Be the Trench Silo Year

About one in every five or ten acres of feed will mature this year before a freeze or frost. There are tens of thousands of acres of this unmanageable grain, with green heads that will never mature. If this grain was cut before a freeze and put in pit or trench silos, the farmers who own it would have the best kind of feed to carry their stuff through the winter, and have milk like the cows were on green clover.

Recently the writer has driven over considerable of Terry county, as well as some of the adjoining counties. Last Sunday afternoon, we took the Roswell highway as far as Plains, thence south to Denver City, and home via Seagraves. TO NEWSPAPERS AND ADVERTISERS:

Newspapers and their advertisers have cooperated excellently with previous blood drives and the Treasury needs your assistance this time more than ever. Obligations incurred in the achievement of victory have been tremendous. We must bring the boys home as soon as possible, care for the wounded, supply mustering-out pay, and maintain occupational forces in Germany and Japan. These and other aftermath-of-war responsibilities make the success of the "Victory Loan" a must for our nation.

Sincerely,
Fred M. Vinson,

Texas State Guard To Welcome 36th

"Let's get ready for the return of the Texas National Guard," was the theme of a call issued by Lt. Col. Ed D. Konken, president of the Texas State Guard Officers Association when he announced the annual convention of the Association that will be held in Austin on October 20-21.

Highlighting the meeting will be a reception of the 1,200 officers of the Guard at the Governor's Mansion by Governor Coke Stevenson, commander-in-chief of the Texas State Guard. In addition to an address by the Governor, other celebrities scheduled to appear on the convention program are Major General Claude V. Birkhead, former commander of the 36th Division, and Jeff Williams, well known exponent of American Ideals from Chickasha, Oklahoma. Rousing out the meeting will be speakers from the National Guard Bureau, the War Department at Washington, and a member of the House Military Affairs Committee. General Arthur B. Knickerbocker will be asked to discuss "The Present Status of the Guard."

Lt. Col. Glenn Burgess of Lufkin is Convention Chairman, Lt. Col. Weldon M. Swenson, Commanding Officer of the 5th Battalion is official host; Capt. I. W. Ussery of the 34th Battalion at Odessa is chairman of attendance, while Lt. W. R. Beaumier, Lufkin, is publicity chairman.

This will be the first post-war convention held in Austin and that beautiful capitol city is expected to get back in its old stride in entertaining the visitors. "We will be satisfied with nothing short of at least one representative from each State Guard Unit attending and believe we will have the largest and most representative group of officers ever to turn out for a State Guard Officers meeting," Col. Konken declared.

Dr. Eugene Campbell Barker, nationally-known historian and distinguished professor of American history, for 37 years on the staff of the University of Texas, will write a series of historical sketches for the Herald, giving background and highlights of Texas' annexation to the Union in 1845, beginning October 19.

Thomas Has Deep Breaking Outfit

Virgil Burnett, secretary of the Board of Development, informed us this week that Com. J. R. Thomas, of Wellman, really had a deep breaking outfit now. His plow will turn 'er up to a depth of 30 inches, if you wish, and at that depth, generally sufficient clay on most all land can be mixed with the sand, sufficient to stop bad blowing.

It is our understanding that this outfit is now at work in the south part of the county, but it will be moved wherever their services are needed. It has been demonstrated over and over here on our sandier soil, blowing can be reduced to a minimum.

The first such demonstration that we remember, was the southeast corner of the Arthur Sawyer section, just west of town. That must have been 20 years ago, and we don't think the land has ever blown badly since. At that time, county tractors had to be used, and of course they were not equipped as now to crawl through deep sand as do the caterpillar type. Later, when the caterpillar type came on the market, many who had deep sand, had their land broke, piling the clay on top.

The B. of D. held a small demonstration last spring on some sandy soil belonging to Tom May in the south part of the county, but there never has been sufficient rain since to plant and get stuff up. Now that the belated rains have come, cover crops will be planted, and this 65 acres will be watched with much interest by our farmers, as well as others interested in agriculture.

Early Day Texas Sketches To Appear In The Herald

Dr. Eugene Campbell Barker, nationally-known historian and distinguished professor of American history, for 37 years on the staff of the University of Texas, will write a series of historical sketches for the Herald, giving background and highlights of Texas' annexation to the Union in 1845, beginning October 19.

Because of the significance of 1945 as the Centennial of Statehood, the articles will be of particular interest to school children, clubs, civic organizations, and historical associations, as well as to the general public.

Dr. Barker is widely known for his books on Texas, among which are "The Life of Stephen F. Austin," "A School History of Texas," "With the Makers of Texas History," and "Mirabeau Bonaparte Lamar."

As a lifelong member of the Texas Historical Association, Dr. Barker has furthered the study and recognition of history in Texas. He is also a member of the Southern Historical Association, the American Historical Association, and the Mississippi Valley Historical Association.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Green Jr., and little daughter, Mary Fern, of Amarillo, were here last week to visit his parents and his sisters, Lt. Fern Green and Mrs. Earle Unger. Mrs. Unger returned home with them to visit until Thursday.

Grand Jury Indicts Three For Robbery

A special session of the grand jury, called by Judge Louis E. Reed, convened yesterday, to investigate the robbery of R. W. Foster and wife early last Thursday morning, Oct. 4 Jay Barret was foreman.

Indictments were returned, and charged Gilmer Barry and Harold and Hilton Bridges with the offense of robbery with firearms in the case. District Attorney Huffacker was in attendance.

The defendants were arraigned and the cases set for Oct. 18, at which time a special venire has been summoned.

The Editor Goes Thru His P. M. Mail

The good folks' who think the editor's desk is a bed of roses, just ought to follow through some day in these days of press agents and high salaried propaganda hounds that every big firm or institution hires to get some free advertising out of the poor old country publisher; the poor fish that bites at everything. And as long as we bite, the magazines, dailies and radios will get the pudding, and we country hicks will get a big assortment of propaganda.

For instance, when Terry Redford delivered our afternoon mail, Tuesday afternoon, there was not a first class letter in the lot, and here is a list of those wanting publicity, some with a number of pages that would fill half page of the Herald:

Texas Technological College. Some of this is good and is used, especially if it will apply locally. We want it continued.

National Cottonseed Producers Association. A very necessary business in the south, but we don't feel that country weeklies are obligated to pull their chestnuts out of the fire.

US Dept. Agriculture: Some of this usable Most of it applies to regions with conditions altogether different to the south Plains.

A News Review Column: The writer of course wants to sell us the right to run it in the Herald.

A Hearing Aid Laboratory: Many typewritten pages in which near deaf users get a kick out of their use. Wastebasket material.

Communications —ews: Mostly about radio and telephone business. We think they are able to pay their own bills.

Santa Fe Lines: The Santa Fe is a good advertiser, and they send us such material that is really good. Some applies to other regions.

West Texas Chamber of Commerce: Good for Texas, especially west Texas, but the writers have never learned the art of being brief. Stuff to long winded for weekly newspapers, and they lose a lot of good chances to get their message to the people. Weekly editors mostly too busy to rewrite.

Kiplinger Washington News Agency, too long and windy for weeklies, and we guess most dailies now with paper shortage. Selldom opened.

Behind The Scenes In American Business: Some of it good, but if you don't watch and edit the material, the first thing you know you will be giving a certain brand of liquor, tires or plastics a lot of free advertising.

So, that is the story of how busy, overworked and underpaid editor spends around an hour each day, opening this stuff to be sure they are not offering you a dollar for a five dollar ad.

P. T. A. WILL SPONSOR COWBOY SHOW

The Jessie G. Randal P. T. A. will sponsor the Drugstore Cowboys of Lubbock in a stage show at the High School Auditorium, October 25th. Admission prices and the time will be announced later.

LIONS SPONSORING ANNUAL CARNIVAL

The annual carnival staged by the Lions Club, began the first show Wed. night. It will continue through Saturday. The Rinyne equipment is being used.

Net proceeds received by the Lions will be expended on civic and benevolent projects in the county, including liberal donations to current war fund.

LOCAL WOMAN HURT IN CAR COLLISION

Mrs. Pearl Nettles, residing 4 miles south of town, sustained lacerations on the face and other minor injuries when the car driven by her daughter, rammed into the rear of a trailer, parked on the highway in the north part of town, early Monday night.

They had been visiting another daughter in the local hospital and were returning home. The trailer and car had stopped on the highway to repair a flat tire. The other drive sustained minor injuries when the impact rolled the trailer and car on his leg. The Brownfield ambulance rushed the injured to the hospital.

Public Safety Council Organized Tuesday

The Lions Club sponsored a supper Tuesday night at Thompson Cafe, to a large group of representatives of the various civic clubs of Brownfield, at which a round table discussion was indulged concerning traffic safety of the school children. No one element was blamed. A campaign of education was strongly endorsed. The Parents-Teachers and the children themselves, motorists and the public, were urged to be careful.

Frank Jordan, president of the Lions Club, acted as chairman. Chief of Police, Roy Moreman, who is perhaps is better versed in children's habits than any one, and who is overworked in directing them over highways, frankly gave the group the lowdown on conditions. He urged more school signs be placed in proximity to the schools, and explained that children just wont use the underpass. While the underpass is cleaned up every few days, he stated, there is no way to force them to use it. It would likely take an officer on regular duty there to be effective.

Interesting remarks were made by all. Some stated the citizenship is not keeping pace with the growth of the town, in such matters. To bring traffic safety into effect, with increasing traffic and population, and with the speed and rush so typical of the American people, following the war, those present unanimously voted to organize a Safety Council. Mr. Jordan was elected the temporary chairman until the organization could get going, and the following were elected committeemen: Glen Akers, Mrs. Jack Griggs, Mrs. Leo Holmes, C. A. Wilhite, Frank Jordan and Marion Craig.

This committee requests aid and suggestions from patrons of the school, tending to the safety of the children. A public patrol with Boy Scouts in the lead may be installed. Committee report may be received next week.

He will report back at Bremerton, Wash. He does not know yet when he will be discharged.

On his way home he visited with Jack Stricklin Jr., at Pearl Harbor.

Hundreds of acres of land in Terry county has practically laid idle, some of it has been fallowed. The A. & M. College is advising farmers to sow this in some winter pasture, and next spring, it may be put in usual crops. One writer states that such procedure would almost guarantee the owner or renter 100 pounds more of lint cotton per acre next year. Besides the winter pasture would be a great help to your livestock, and poultry if near the home.

Editor Forrest Weirhold, of the Hockley County Herald, Leveland who has just returned from service in the army air corps in the India-Burma area, wrote a mighty fine editorial last week on National Newspaper Week. He concludes the article with these thoughts: "Remember the Germans thought New-York had been bombed out, and the Japs thought San Francisco had been annihilated; but the the American people had the bad news with the good. A free press—world wide in scope—can also be the "torch of world peace." One can hardly imagine America without a free press. But if your newspapers are ever suppressed, your liberty is a long time gone.

The Herald hates to be disillusioned, but we earned last week that the reason we have been unable the past few years to get a machinist to go over our Linotype machine was that we had been blacklisted by the union because of an editorial we wrote. We don't even remember the editorial, and probably did not refer to the Typographical Union, but some outlaw outfit. Just the same we must infer that at least the union referred to above does not believe in the four freedoms, and that our boys who have gone through hell in the foxholes have just wasted their time. In other words, there are still individuals and organizations here in America that do not believe in free speech or a free press.

Thelma Duffey and Marie Wingham spent Saturday in Lubbock, shopping.

Mrs. Raymond Reynolds and Mr. and Mrs. Tarzan Crossland, spent the week end in Anson.

Nevel Lowe received his discharge from the army and came home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Lang and daughter, Faye Marie made a business trip to Amarillo Friday. They spent Thursday night in Plainview as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Gregg.

"Bill Smith, come see the NEW QUALITY OF LIVING the Wilsons enjoy!"

Hot-wired—that's what we Smiths were, last summer! So, when Liz Wilson said they were cool and comfortable, because their house had a new QUALITY OF LIVING, I simply had to drag Bill over to see . . .

Cool as a mountain-top—their house was! What a relief! Why, in a few minutes my droopy husband was dancing a rumba! "What's the secret?" we begged. Jim Wilson grinned. "It's our Servel All-Year Gas Air Conditioner," he said.

"In winter, as well as summer, we all sleep better. Our All-Year Gas Air Conditioner heats and humidifies the air just right. The house is always quieter because we needn't open windows, nor let in street noises . . ."

"It's cleaner, healthier all year! Dust, soot and pollen are filtered out with our All-Year Gas Air Conditioner. This saves Liz cleaning time, and see how clean the furniture stays! No drafts, either. Air is circulated gently."

"This simple unit does it all!" beamed Jim. "It cools, heats, humidifies, dehumidifies, dust-cleans and circulates! We've a new QUALITY OF LIVING with our Servel All-Year Gas Air Conditioner!"

Now it's a MUST FOR OUR NEW HOME!

Frozen Hopes

Saying what a man earns, expressing it in cents per hour or dollars per year, does not tell much about the measure of prosperity he enjoys. Good living depends on so many things that change from time to time and differ from place to place. Prosperity depends, in very large part, on what people must pay for the things they need and want.

Putting the conveniences and luxuries of life in reach of a large number of people helps to build a nation's prosperity. Franklin's discovery of electricity became a great discovery when electric lights began costing less than oil lamps. The automobile became a great invention when cars were priced down where only rich people could afford to own carriage horses.

Paying for Service
Plain people pay richly for favors; plain people are so many. Names like Edison, McCormick and Ford stand for huge estates because these men did a real service for a lot of plain people. It is because they hoisted a wholesome standard of living in a free country. Thousands of men have done the same thing on a smaller scale and profited handsomely.

Actually, the thing that inspires mechanical inventors to invent, the thing that fires scientific explorers to explore, is the chance to earn from a free people the rich reward for a valuable service. Once upon a time in the United States of America men who had ideas could afford to develop them. They can't do it now. How I hope those days soon return.

Big Ideas on Sale
Edison, McCormick and Ford didn't need to hawk their ideas, neither did Bissell, Denton, Parker and O'Sullivan, but Foster Gunnison had to sell his. Gunnison's invention came later. Do you ask, "Who is this Gunnison man?" Well, he is a great inventor, not yet famous. But unless I miss my guess, he is America's post-war Henry Ford.

Gunnison invented a prefabricated house and worked out a plan to build it in mass production. His units were scientifically constructed, insulation built in, thoroughly modern in every detail. Individually, his house models are so different that a tourist might drive past 100 of them in a row and never guess that they were drawn by the same architect.

Alike and Different
I could talk for hours about Gunnison houses. They come in eight sizes with great variety in looks. They are far better than any houses possible to build of old-line materials in any community for the same money. They have everything from bathtub to garbage grinder, economy and convenience; a poor man's palace, amortized to $1 a day. But the inventor sold to the U. S. Steel Corporation.—Why?

He lacked capital and, under today's tax laws, never could make much profit. The giant corporation can run the project in the red and deduct early losses from war profits most of which the government will take anyway. Unless our war-time tax laws are changed, every fertile idea in this inventive nation will have to hatch under the wing of some huge corporation that exists already.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Lilly took their son, Hugh Tucker, and Myron Harris to Lubbock Saturday, to take train back to A. and M. They spent last week here visiting their parents.

CLEAN AS A HOUND'S TOOTH!

That's Phillips 66

THE HONEST OIL—FROM DEEP IN THE HEART OF OKLAHOMA!

Brother, if you want a clean, sweet, protective oil for your car—lay your dough down for Phillips!

It's clean because it starts clean, and we refine it cleaner. Yessir, we've got a grudge against sludge—and the greatest cause of engine gunk and muck is an oil that isn't as clean as it ought to be.

And the greatest thing about Phillips 66 is—all its God-given lubricating qualities are unimpaired.

We don't claim the credit for this wonderful oil. We just had enough sense to recognize a great job by Mother Nature—to take it out of the ground—and not to fool with it too much!

So when you change your oil every two months (as you should if you want to keep a car under you) just tell that man—"Fill 'er full o' Phillips!"

You won't find a more honest, natural lubricating oil in America!

"Fill 'er Full o' Phillips!"

High Point Men Not Pleased With Setup

We understand that not a few of the high point men who have laid in foxholes in Europe and the Pacific are complaining about much of the fleet and ships pulling out and leaving them high and dry, in preparation of big shot parades and showoffs on both coasts on Navy Day.

When there was fighting to do, these men kept going, wet or dry, hot or cold, but now that the fighting is over, and they have won enough points to get them discharges, they want to come home to their families. And who can blame them? To our humble notion the big Navy Day show should have been postponed until next year, at least, and the Navy busy itself getting these veterans home.

We also understand that there is the worst kind of bottleneck at Pearl Harbor. Men are being sent over to the Philippines and Japan to release veterans, and veterans are tied up at Pearl Harbor, trying to get on home, until there is hardy room to cuss a cat.

It's alright to celebrate. But when tens of thousands of men who have been away from their families for two or three years are wanting to get home—damn the parades and ticker tape. And speaking of ticker tape, we understand that many tons of paper was recently thrown from windows in the large eastern cities, and at the same time they were telling us to save every bit of paper.

It just don't seem to make good sense.

More Fat Salvage Needed For Civilian Essentials

True the war is over. But it must be remembered that fats and oils imports from the Pacific Islands, cannot be resumed for some time. Industry must have household fat to replace these supplies of fats and oils.

Used fats help make thousands of industrial items. It goes into medicines, synthetic rubber, airplane lubricants, nylon, high-resistant paints, marine rope, soap, textiles, insecticides, fungicides, paper, paints and leather processing agents.

Help Themselves

Housewives help themselves by saving every drop of used fat. There are soups and stews to skim, roasters and frying pans to scrape, cold cuts and raw meat to be trimmed and melted down, and table scraps of meat and bone to be rendered.

If housewives remember to do all these things, their salvage containers will be full in no time. Each pound of used fat saved and turned over to the meat dealer is now worth 4 cents and 4 red ration points per pound.

Used household fat must be salvaged in sufficient quantities to help offset the existing fats and oils shortage. Housewives are asked to save and turn in 250,000,000 pounds of used fat this year.

Only by reaching this goal can industry continue turning out civilian needs.

Cottrell Casts His Peepers Over Japan

Tokyo—Finis W. Cottrell, 17, seaman, second class, USNR, son of Mrs. Dalton Warren, of Brownfield, Texas took his first look at Japan recently when the USS Burrows, the ship on which he has been stationed for four months arrived there.

His destroyer escort arrived in Tokyo Bay with her ward of transports carrying thousands of American occupation troops. This didn't take place on the day of the initial invasion. Happened a week later, but that was only fitting for the Burrows. It characterized the inconspicuous but important part she played in the war.

The Burrows is a comparative newcomer to the Pacific. She escorted 16 Atlantic convoys without losing a ship.

Christine McDuffie, of Lubbock spent the weekend here visiting friends.

WAR SUPPLIES STOPPED ON WAY TO PACIFIC

When the war suddenly ended, people contemplated with awe the terrific flood of men, armament and supplies moving across the land into the maw of the endless, blue Pacific. How could the flood be stopped without a chaos of contention? The War Department has released a report describing what happened.

The first step in the Army's orderly turn-around of Pacific-bound combat supplies was taken August 10, when the Association of American Railroads was requested to issue a stop and hold order, and to embargo further shipment of all Army ammunition en route to United States or Canadian ports.

On August 14, the War Department requested the Association of American Railroads to extend the existing embargo to include all army supplies en route to Pacific or Gulf Coast Ports of embarkation, except food and solid fuels. As the cars were halted, railroads immediately flashed details to the AAR which in turn informed the Transportation Corp.'s Traffic Control Division in Washington. Working according to a prearranged plan, control officers representing Army technical services and the AAF furnished new shipping instructions, and in a matter of hours the cars were on their way to holding and re-assignment points, depots or their original destination.

More than 5,400 railroad cars, carrying Army freight which was destined for use against Japan, had been diverted up to August 20. Another 2,300 cars, carrying for the most part clothing, medical supplies, fuel, recreational equipment, cleaning and preserving gear, and supplies for AAF overseas weather and communications stations, were halted, examined and continued on their way during the same period.

With typically efficiency, the railroads are bringing their wartime transportation to a climax. The country will long remember their valued services during four tragic years.

SGT. CAROL C. FORBES AWARDED BRONZE STAR

Sergeant Carol C. Forbes, Infantry, U. S. Army at about 1400 hours on 27 of Feb., 1945, when his Platoon was ordered to take a hill in the vicinity of Abe Jao, Leyte, Sgt. Forbes, then Private First Class accompanied the platoon as mortar gunner. They ran into enemy fire and two of the men were wounded. Without regard for personal safety, Sgt. Forbes went forward under heavy enemy fire to remove the casualties.

This action was entirely voluntarily and required hazardous trips under scattered but continuous sniper fire. This display of courage and unselfish effort was exemplary and for which he was awarded the Bronze Star.

The last heard from Sgt. Forbes he was in Tokio, Japan, and did not know when he would be sent home.

KITCHEN SOURCES OF EXTRA RATION POINTS

Used cooking fat, now worth four valuable red ration points a pound, is any animal or vegetable fat, left over after food has been prepared.

Common sources are:
Drippings from roasting pans and broilers.
Residual grease after meat has been fried.
Grease skimmed from stews and soups; top of the water in which frankfurters have been cooked.
Used lard, vegetable shortenings and cooking oils.
Fats cut from meat during preparation, or left on the plates after meals. These should be melted down.

Every drop of used cooking fat is badly needed right now, and housewives are urged to watch all these sources for household grease, and remember to salvage drops as well as teaspoonsful of used fat.

Cotton Has Good Chance If It Fights

World War II has ended, but another important battle has just begun. This new fight is cotton's campaign to keep and to expand its peacetime markets.

Cotton faces the postwar competition of synthetic fibers, paper, jute and foreign growths. Its weapons will be quality products, lower production costs and intensified sales effort.

Cotton's future never was more bright. Its danger is lethargy. The industry has no competitor that can approach it in manpower and resources, but to survive and to rise to a new high in prosperity it must meet aggressively the threats of competition. Otherwise, the battle could be lost.

Before cotton is the greatest potential textile market ever known. The shelves of the nations department stores are empty. The clothes of residents of war-ravaged countries are threadbare. Today's tremendous need for textiles should permit cotton to pass through the immediate reconversion period in high gear.

Federal and State governments are intensifying new machinery to simplify the production of cotton, are improving fiber quality and yield through breeding programs, are developing new cotton weaves, new finishes and new chemical applications.

With these programs as a spearhead, cotton and those who do business with it can triumph in the economic battle that lies ahead. Vigilance, intelligence and energetic cooperation can assure maintenance of cotton's position as dominant textile fiber of the world.

Welcome Peace

New York always goes over the top with demonstrations. Magazine pictures and news reels have shown most of the world's civilized people what happens in Manhattan when the King of England calls on a goodwill mission or when Tailwind-in-face Douglas Corrigan comes home. But now I can boast that I saw Gotham's wildest riot of joy. Japan's surrender touched off the biggest of them all.

I was having what we Southerners call supper in the dining room of a mid-town hotel at 7 o'clock p. m. EWT, on August 14 when Washington released the official announcement. There was just one breath of unusual quiet before bedlam bore down. How long does it take a cab driver to reach his siren after his radio brings big news? That's how long the quiet lasted. People seemed to go wild.

Clamorous Jumble
Human voices could be distinguished at first along with the mechanical din, but presently very little was distinguishable except by sight. Bent on seeing, however, I quit the hotel and walked west with the traffic which I later learned was storming from all directions toward Times Square. I never got much closer than five blocks to the focal point. It was too dense for me at 47th street and Fifth avenue.

Women leaped out of skyscraper windows, shrieked and emptied wastepaper baskets. Down like a gray snow came shredded newspaper, yards of new wrapping paper, good stationery—and it didn't stop until Fifth avenue was literally carpeted. Air borne ribbons of ticker-tape crawled in and out among the towers like mysterious aerial serpents. Busses and cabs were jammed with people in hysterical celebration, hours on end.

At the Bright Lights
An officially estimated two million men and women made up a seething mass that centered at 42nd street and Broadway, and one idea seemed to dominate them completely: "War's over!"... The words were shouted repeatedly in every dialect with which I have any acquaintance, and undoubtedly many more. The emotion of the multitude said, "Now, everything's going to be all right!"

But, now that the shouting is over, what are the facts? They are far from the thoughts of any tumult—Firing has ceased. Factories that made war goods are closed down. Families are waiting for young men to come home. For the next 14 months military authorities will return the equivalent of one combat division, 15,000 men, to civil life every day.

Our Gravest Need
To live contentedly men must have good jobs and hope of advancement. Jobs for men call for investments, on the average, $6,000 per job. Not much has been done to encourage investment lately; much has been done to discourage it. War is over but war taxes and regulations remain. Wisely imposed to take the profit out of war they threaten now to take the prosperity out of peace.

American efficiency produced the goods that made victory possible. The war did not put our Republic to its supreme test; the peace will. America's trail to a prosperous post-war period has not been well blazed. With growing intensity we are needing something sorely and need it now in a hurry: The right taxes for the most jobs.

Mrs. Lula Singletary returned Wednesday of last week from Weatherford, Okla., where she had been visiting her daughter.

From there they will go to Henderson, Ky., to visit Mrs. Long's mother, and enroute home will stop at Tulsa, Okla., for a visit with G. B. Long, uncle of Mr. Long.

Mrs. T. N. Singley and daughter have gone to Oklahoma City, on a ten day visit.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Appleton and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Necaie and son, of Hobbs, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tm Crawford, over the week end.

Mr. Paul McDermott is on an extended visit in California and Oregon, visiting relatives.

Joe Eudy Says Must Have the Herald

Joe Eudy, who used to fill your gas tank for you at the Snappy Filling Station, a few years ago, but tried irrigation farming in the Roswell area a few years, then bounced over to the northwest, winding up in Ashland, Oregon, sends in his two bat hides and registers a protest.

The protest was that he had moved—again—and had missed some Heralds. In fact Joe has moved so much of late that it is hard to keep track of him. But this time he just moved from one part of the city of Ashland to another, and failed to notify us.

The PO Dept., will do the notifying for one, but that costs us 2c of our hard earned cash to get it away from Terry Redford, our carrier, as the card comes collect, and then postal clerks, like everyone else, is a bit undermaned and overworked these days, and we don't get them just as quick as we would if the subscriber would just get a penny post card and notify us.

In fact, we have some chronic movers that do just that. They even tell us just what week to start the paper to the new address. We had one such this week from Mrs. Lawrence Magee. However, Mrs. Magee is not a chronic mover.

We have advised once or twice, and will do so again. You ex-Terryites who have moved to "furrin" parts, just pay your rent and you won't have to move so doggone often. Now don't get mad and say we didn't advise you, and remember, three moves are equal to one burn.

Many Communicable Diseases Are Spread By Ignorance

Austin, Texas — "Carelessness and ignorance represent two of the most powerful factors in spreading communicable diseases from man to man. No more emphatic example of this fact exists than the continued ravages of tuberculosis. In spite of the knowledge of its cause and spread, and of curative methods, tuberculosis is still a very serious problem not only in Texas, but throughout the United States," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"It is true that tuberculosis no longer is first on the list of killing diseases, as it was formerly," Dr. Cox said, "but despite having been reduced to fifth place in Texas, it still is responsible for more deaths between the ages of fifteen and forty-five than any other disease. And this fact exists even though the majority of tuberculosis patients could have their condition arrested if it were recognized early and proper treatment applied.

"Treatment of the early recognized case is essential. It is of equal importance, from a public health viewpoint, that the spread of this devastating infection be prevented. A more intelligent appreciation of this fact would result

Dead Wood

In my early 20's I had frequent dealings with a small but old and reputable manufacturing corporation. One day I lunched with a gray-haired employee, the superintendent, who was quite unhappy. They had lost their biggest contract. The lost customer was a young and thrifty retail firm whose needs had finally grown too large for the old manufacturer to supply.

Price had been a consideration, of course. My companion admitted that several competitors could quote a lower price and make a profit when his plant could not. It was on account of the modern, high-speed equipment which the competitors used. Naturally I asked why the old house couldn't install better machinery. The superintendent simply wagged his head and said, "dead wood."

Unused Hands

"Our big boss is the chairman," he explained. "His brother is president of the company. Each of them has a son who is a vice-president. The secretary and the treasurer are both sons-in-law. I don't see any of them twice a year but they draw salaries as big as mine. We can't buy new equipment. Sometimes we are hard put to pay for current materials promptly."

This was 25 years ago when a lot of ranting (not altogether unjustified) was heard about the "idle rich." But the tables have turned. America's threat now is "idle poor." This is more dangerous because the poor are more numerous. Idle hands can ride any business to the ground because they retard production. Indifferent workers are no less guilty than pampered payrollers.

Public Enemies

I was much impressed by an article in the Houston Press a few weeks ago, written by a returned service man. He had started to work in an office soon after he was discharged and, six weeks later, penned his contempt for civilian workers, men and women. They systematically fritter away 50% of their working time, he charged. They can do it because of the scarcity of workers.

There is an imported, alien doctrine that capitalists will make too much profit for the good of the public unless workers retard production some way. It is venomous. National enemies at whom American soldiers are thrusting bayonets today are relatively harmless. They are much less liable to do humanity permanent harm than the slick saboteurs who plant a philosophy of idleness in the minds of honest workers.

Work and Live

America's unique place among world powers, the singularly high standard of living among American workers and farmers, our national income and our national safety, depend on work. Ability and willingness to make things well and make them fast have put the United States on top of the world. It is the secret of American prosperity, but in a startling degree our people are being led away from the idea.

The world soon will be a market for manufactured goods, a market of millions of people in poverty. If America fails to supply their needs, quickly and at a price (possible with efficient production) then cheap-labor countries will take the business. Dead wood can cheat Uncle Sam out of world trade and leave us to stew again in our own oversupply, with low wages and poor living conditions which we don't want and which aren't necessary.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Proffitt spent the late part of last week visiting relatives in Seymour.

"When a diagnosis of active tuberculosis has been made, an examination of all of the other members of the immediate family should follow as a matter of course. Tuberculosis runs in families, not because of any special susceptibility to the disease, but because it is communicable, being usually transmitted through close and prolonged contact with the active case."

To reduce the number of deaths caused by tuberculosis, Dr. Cox suggests periodic examination of all adults, a check-up by physicians of the known active cases and contacts, regular examinations of high school children, isolation or hospitalization of the active tuberculosis case, and a more intelligent application of hygienic living principles.

Now 4 POINTS FOR USED FATS

Help Increase Supplies of Soap and Other Peacetime Products By Saving More Used Fats

Industrial fats far short of last year! We are almost down to the bottom of the barrel. The nation's industrial fat supply is millions of pounds less than it was in 1944. We need fully as much as last year to help make the soaps and other civilian goods you want and need so badly. So . . .

If you want more soap and soap flakes . . . if you're dreaming of nylons, sheets, cotton fabrics and want them to hurry back to the store counters . . . you can help by saving those used kitchen fats as you never saved before! Save every drop, every day!

These fats are vitally necessary to help speed greater supplies of soaps and hundreds of other things—like new cars, electric washers, irons, refrigerators and tires. Industry must have these fats . . . to help get to you more quickly the peacetime products you've been longing to have for years!

So skim and scrape and scoop just as you did so faithfully before V-J Day. To prove how important it is, your government has increased the point bonus. So help meet this nation's need by continuing to save used fats. If you can't find a store that accepts used fats, call Home Demonstration or County Agent.

Congress is determined that the Army and Navy discharge men more rapidly. It is suggested that the brass hats in our national capitol are determined to keep as many men under arms for as long a period as possible. This attitude is not helping public opinion either on the question of Selective Service or of passing the military training bill for all young men. The people generally are opposed to rule by the military except in war, and the present situation is not strengthening the situation on either of these measures.—The Canyon News.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Crosby and family, of Kermit were house-guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Davis last week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Austin and son, Lt. H. M., Jr., of Carlsbad visited friends in town Saturday night.

Tech students home for the week end were: Fannie Vernon, Glenna Faye and LaRue Ross, Margaret Glandon, Joyce Dungan, Billie Lackey, Janelle Turner, Glenna Murphy, and Wanda Ruth Turner.

Annie Alice Telford, of Tech spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Mon Telford.

Mrs. Myrtle Gerst left Friday to make her home in San Benito, Texas. She is the mother of Mrs. Ralph Ferguson, and has made her home here for the past ten months.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wingerd spent the weekend in Ruidoso.

Euell McCrary has received his discharge from the Marines and is home for good.

Do it with Diesels on the Santa Fe

Hauling heavy freights over the steep mountain grades calls for plenty of head-end power.

Santa Fe is providing a lot of that power with the greatest fleet of 5400 horse-power Diesel locomotives in American railroading.

80 of these blue and yellow giant "head-ends"—the most powerful freight Diesels in the world—are now in operation on the Santa Fe.

This dieselization program is one of many important steps by Santa Fe in providing the most modern freight equipment for the peacetime transportation needs of America's West and Southwest.

THE PROPER PLANNING and DESIGN OF

Your Next Letterhead

Your letterhead is your business representative. If it is a good one it commands attention while poorer ones are still cooling their heels in the "THINGS-TO-DO-TOMORROW" basket.

Designing a good letterhead is an important job. But it need not be difficult . . . it is merely a combination of good planning, good printing and good paper.
