

War Department Issues List Of Soldier Dead

The Herald is in receipt of a World War II Honor list of dead and missing, for the State of Texas, issued by the War Department in June 1946, as a public service. The foreword states the list for the entire nation as 300,000. A total for Texas, 15,764, and 36 for Terry County. It also reveals that Texas contains 4.78 percent of population of the U. S., and contributed five percent of the total number who entered the army, and of which 2.91 percent failed to return. The list includes all previous to Jan 31, 1946.

The list of missing is being reduced daily by research teams in all theaters of operations. Because of loss of records and rosters at Corregidor and the Ardennes bulge, some difficulty is encountered. The physical search for the missing is being conducted. The department acknowledges some uncertainty as to correct home addresses, because of changes made by persons, and many not giving any at all. The list gives their serial number, and status of death, such as killed in action, died of injuries, or wounds, died in non-battle, or on "findings of death."

The Department warns, this list is published as a public service, and may fall in hands of unscrupulous persons, who, as we also heard over the radio last week, will try to prey on bereaved kin with offers of aid, for a price, but points out one can get prompt and more accurate information direct from the Adjutant General for the War Department, Washington, D. C. without charge.

Following is a list for Terry county, in above document:

Johnnie H. Armstrong, Earnest R. Austin, Cecil B. Brown, James M. Burleson, Deluvio M. Chaves, Alvis B. Clemmer, Robert C. Cox, Allen S. Freeman, Arvel J. Glover, David C. Gray, Jack L. Griffin, Mariano A. Grinie, Nathan E. Hand, Virgil Hand, Van A. Hare, Wade K. Hill, Earl B. Holly, Dan J. Huckleberry, Willis B. Huckleberry, Jonathan B. Jenkins, Quincy G. Moore, William R. Overman, Curtis R. Patton, Willie P. Pierce, Estanislado Reyna, Carl A. Rogers, Cecil E. Rook, Jamie E. Smith, Robert F. Stahler, Delbert H. Starnes, James A. Suggs, Joe Valdez, Finnice C. Wallace, Delmer West, Hollis West, W. A. Whisenhant, Jr.

It is noted this is barely over half the list compiled by our local Legionnaires, printed last week. But they are checking with this list, and endeavoring, with the aid of kin, to soon compile a correct and full list, for the memorial plaque to be placed in the Court-house.

Mrs. Fred Lowe stated this week that following the sudden death of her husband, friends and neighbors brought dishes of food, and that a lot of the dishes were left at her place.

Not being able to tell who they belong to, she has asked the help of the Herald to tell ladies that if they brought food and forgot to call for their dishes, they can be found at her place.

Lone Star Farmers Attend Banquet At Lubbock

Eleven Brownfield boys, all holders of the Lone Star degree, Future Farmers of America, their fathers, Tom Neely, their instructor and T. E. McCollum, Superintendent of Schools, attended a banquet given in honor of the Lone Star Farmers of this area at Lubbock last Friday night.

The Brownfield Future Farmer Chapter has more holders of the Lone Star degree than any school in the State has ever had in one year. This, in a great measure, reflects the excellent type of work Mr. Neely has been doing with the boys the past several years.

Already encountering difficulty in finding space in their work room for additional banners, pennants and certificates, the boys were awarded a certificate for having the highest ranking chapter in the State.

The eleven boys have received a total income over the past three years of $6425.17 or an average of $584.11 and have invested $7191.87 or an average of $653.80. Work is also taken into account in the latter two figures. The averages are well above the requirements of this degree. Boys receiving the Lone Star degree are awarded a certificate and a gold key.

Brownfield boys attending the affair were: Alfred Bond, Billy Green, D. A. Key, Douglas King, William Clements, Carroll Briggance, Curtis Chambliss, L. G. Chambliss, Douglas Gibson, Joe Bartlett and Jerry Alexander.

Commissioners To Let Road Contract

The Commissioners Court are advertising this week for bids on construction of 27 miles of farm-to-market roads, to be built in the south part of the county. Bids are to be received July 22nd. It is estimated by local authorities the project will cost in excess of $160,000.00. If bids are accepted work will proceed immediately, as the money from sale of bonds voted last year is available. Judge Winston stated the Court is of a mind to reject all bids if they appear excessive.

NUMBER 49

Ropesville Child Run Over By Local Driver

Marie Flowers, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Flowers, died about 8:30 last Friday morning, an hour after being struck by a light passenger car driven by Mrs. A. R. Brownfield, accompanied by her husband, well known residents here.

Reports of witnesses indicate the child, attempting to follow its father who had just crossed the highway from his filling station, dashed in front of the Brownfield car, which it was claimed was on going at a very moderate speed. Evidently the driver did not see the child.

The husband, Ray Brownfield, who was in the car, took the child and its parents and rushed them to a Lubbock hospital, but in vain. Mrs. Brownfield was almost prostrate over the accident for several days.

Funeral services were conducted at the Meadow Church of Christ, and interment made in the Meadow cemetery, Saturday afternoon. The Flowers are well known, long time residents of the Meadow and Ropes vicinities.

Glorious Fourth Quiet Here

Uncle Sam's birthday, the fourth of July, though highly respected, passed quietly here without fan fare or firecrackers. Quite a lot of our people went to celebrations elsewhere. Buffalo Lakes and Lubbock parks are expected to be filled. State candidates made use of the day down state.

That Inevitable Smokestack In Old South

When the traveler, tourist or just plain visitor or sightseer gets east of the Mississippi, the town with from 1500 people up without a smokestack or two, is the exception rather than the rule. And the towns and cities up in the several thousand may have from two to a dozen. What are they making?

Some of them are making cloth, cotton mostly, but some of them—listen you ladies—are making nylon. Some of them are just plain overall, sock, shirt or pants or dress factories. But they are busy places, and there is a payroll attached that is making those old South towns prosperous and happy. West Tennessee has not been quite so fortunate as some of the other areas, but they are coming along. Even now, Bolivar, our old county seat, has located a huge leather tannery to handle several thousand hides per day for a big St. Louis shoe manufacturer, that will employ some 300 men. And they are well on with negotiations for a garment factory.

Well, maybe the tannery will not smell like au du cologne, but it will not be right in town, and it will bring money to the little town. Then, too it will give farmers something to do in getting oak tan bark there, and make a good market for their farm products, among the workers.

Out here in west Texas, we have the cheapest fuel in the world for heat and power, but if we have a few gins, we think we are healed. If we have a compress and cottonmill mills, we think we have reached the height of perfection. None of these are full year producers. None of these towns are growing like Brownfield, for instance, not even those in the 20 to 25 thousand and over class, but they are growing some, and their growth is permanent in nature.

Yes, we know that it used to be said that this climate was too dry for cloth mills, but with man's control of humidity now days, it is just as possible to have a cotton or woolen mill in the California desert as over a Louisiana swamp. Our planners might think this over.

As you may have concluded from our article last week, we had a time finding a lodging for our notion. But a filling station man finally confided that about 38 miles west of Atlanta, we'd find some courts equal to Texas. We really found a lot under construction, and one of these days the tourists will have no trouble finding first class courts back there. Most of the folks stopping there were from Texas, and one court proprietor in east Tennessee confided to us that 75 percent of his business was with Texans, and if they stopped coming, he'd have to close his business. And he added: "I find Texas people to be free spenders and little grouching about the matter." We'd take it that he thought Texans are OK, wouldn't you?

New Rotary Officers Installed At Banquet

O. L. Peterman, president; W. E. Latham, 2nd vice president and Al Muldrow, were installed as new officers of the Brownfield Rotary Club for the coming year at a banquet at the Legion Hall last Friday night. C. E. Ross, as retiring president, automatically became vice president and Riley W. Carlton, secretary-treasurer, was re-elected to that position.

Principal speaker of the affair, which was attended by Rotarians and their ladies, was Jerry Kerschner, who had as his subject, "What Rotary Means to Me." Kerschner proved himself a very capable speaker indeed as he gave an account of Rotary and the part the club plays in both civic and in national affairs and went on to illustrate how Rotary functions in the formation of better relations between the various nations and how Rotary can eliminate the threat of war by wiping out hatred, suspicion and intolerance.

Mrs. Homer Winston responded for the ladies by giving a very amusing account of the trials and tribulations of a candidate for office and his family and also how the Rotary-Anns of the club could bring prosperity to the neighboring towns by taking advantage of the holiday afforded them on Rotary meeting days and going on extensive shopping tours in the surrounding cities. While the latter suggestion met with universal approval from the ladies present, it no doubt met with an equally unanimous mental veto from the Rotarians, as the proposed outlay of cash money was nothing short of terrific.

Music for the occasion was furnished by a group from the high school band and directed by Rotarian C. L. Horn, band instructor.

At the conclusion of the program, flowers which were used for table decorations, were delivered to various sick-rooms in the city.

It is hard for the lay statesmen of the Herald calibre to figure out how in heck people aim for Congress to reduce taxes, and at the same time lose no opportunity to send a committee up to Washington to get the Federal government to pay for this and that project in the community. Is it possible that Podunk people think they are entitled to these handouts, while Frogpond and Lillypad people should make a go of it themselves in order to reduce national taxes? That might work if the last two places did not have in mind that they too, need a recreation park, an airport or hospital. It appears that we have gone on so long with deficit spending that it will be hard to stop these periodical pilgrimages to Washington, the place where money grows on bushes, and it is spaded out to all who go after it. Congress will simply have to call a halt, or the whole country will wind up in the poor house.

A lot of us who are poor mathematicians just keep wondering how the administration and OPA aim to hold the line, when every few weeks this bunch or that is given a big increase in wages, and to salve the wounds of the manufacturer, he is granted a hike in price. On the side line this spells only a minimum production during the long days of negotiations, and as a consequence, almost a year after the war is over, some goods are scarcer than when the war ended. Some are not even obtainable. In the meantime the small dealer and the consumer are caught in the big squeeze, not labor and management, for they are organized.

A local man informed us this week that he had reduced the rent on a residence he owned $10 per month. In most all the cities and towns where there were war works or camp sites during the war, the rents have been reduced below ceiling long since. It appears to us that most of us are like the old stray hound dog. If you motion like you are going to throw a rock at him he howls. Let's wait and see how bad we are really hurt before letting out a yell.

Generally speaking the "aginers" are always the most vociferous, but it seems that the "furers" can also become vocal. In the protest against cutting off OPA right in front of the foresholders, it seems that the president got some 10,000 telegrams backing him up, while only one in forty was against the OPA. It would be interesting to examine that 10,000 protests. We have an idea that most of them would be found to be consumers and few if any producers. However, we the Americans reserve the right to squawk when hit.

To save us, we can't fathom the makeup of people who wish to spend their vacation in a huge, crowded, noisy, smelly and hot city with teaming millions of people, many displaced and seeking food and shelter. But if all of us had wanted Sal for a wife, the world would be in a pretty pickle. We have always associated a vacation with some spot far removed from conditions as they are in a large city.

The Abilene Reporter - News gives the best coverage of its territory of any of the medium sized cities we know of. The R-N don't seem to have the idea that nothing worth while happens outside of Abilene, and if it does, it is not worth reporting. As a consequence, they

What Do You Think About This, Citizens?

To The Herald:

I don't know whether you will print this or not, but I believe you will, and I hope you put it on the front page, in big black letters, "What Do You Think of This, Citizens."

It seems as though a person can't make a decent business in Brownfield without interference from some certain characters in town. There has been several truckers in Brownfield, hauling from various points, loads of hay, and selling to farmers during the dry weather, but some person or persons had a stop put to it, or at least from parking in the streets, to do so, unless you have property to park on, in order to sell the hay.

However, there are some business-uses up here that are not selling hay and which happen to be unlawful in three ways, and also not a very respectable business, besides, selling to minors, over ceiling prices, and in a dry county. Do I need any proof? Ask or show this article to a respectable citizen, and he will know what I'm talking about. I have by chance seen teen age boys, and also girls, in this town, under the influence of a peculiar beverage, and it wasn't Coke or Pepper, either. Not by any means.

How do you think Brownfield would look with flashing neon signs, "Beer," "Liquor of all Kinds." That would be nice—I don't think. The liquor election is certain to get 350 votes, for there was that many on the petition. People, the town of Brownfield has been a nice little city until recently. Let's not ruin it now, or let it be ruined. Don't you boys who don't sell hay wish you knew my name? Thanks, Jack.

A Teen Age Boy

P. S. I live in Brownfield, too, folks. Freedom of press, you know, when no names are mentioned.

Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Moore and children are spending a weeks vacation in various parts of Oklahoma visiting relatives.

have the largest circulation of any city in west Texas with anywhere near their population, and larger than many with almost twice their population. A visit down in the Abilene section reveals that all the towns thereabouts are friends to the Reporter-News.

Hardly a week passes that there is not a major fire or explosion in some hotel or other public building, with a big loss of life, and long and costly hospital bills, life cripples, etc., for many others. It would seem from brief reports that the holocausts are not of a sabotage nature, but rather carelessness on the part of city inspectors of building superintendents.

BOYCE HOUSE

The most beautiful short story ever written was composed by One who never wrote a word. Would you like to read it? It's in a book called the Bible and it is the story of the Prodigal Son.

The expression, "Ee-ne-me-ne-mine-ee-moh," was used by little boys in Babylon, 3,000 years ago.

Instead of making so many run-of-the-mill pictures, why doesn't Hollywood bring back some of the truly grand films of bygone years? "Cimarron," for example — also "The Great Ziegfeld" and "Rio Rita," the original version with John Boles and Bebe Daniels?

A little philosophy:
To cultivate calmness and self possession, to live longer and to enjoy life more fully—

Learn to like what doesn't cost much—reading, conversation, music.

Plain food, plain service, plain cooking.

Fields, trees, woods, brooks, fishing, rowing, hiking.

Learn to like people, even though some of them may be as different from you as a Chinese.

Learn to like to work and enjoy the satisfaction of doing a job as well as it can be done.

The song of the birds, the companionship of dogs, and laughter and gaiety of children.

Gardening, carpentering, puttering around the house, the lawn, and the automobile.

Learn to like the sunrise and sunset, the beating of rain on roof and windows, and the gentle fall of snow on a winter day.

Learn to keep your wants simple. Refuse to be owned and anchored by things and the opinions of others.

JUDGE SAYS —

Doubtless writers will now refer to it as Ex-Bikini. The explosion at Washington last Saturday over the OPA, kinda put the Atom stunt on second page. Them Scientists will have to come again to beat our Congress. It was typically American, the result wasn't near so bad as the pre-ads claimed. The fact, goats remained alive on some of the target ships, after the test, doesn't disprove the power of the bomb. They were Texas goats.

AS PRESIDENT AND AS SENATOR

When President Truman vetoed the Case Bill, which nevertheless passed the House by a majority that barely missed the necessary two-thirds, he said that he had come to the conclusion that the bill was undesirable.

The reasons he suggested do not seem to be very impressive. They are the familiar old arguments advanced in such cases by politicians who are anxious to keep the labor leaders' pressure bloc in line. Incidentally, it isn't likely that this can be done in any case, owing to the mixed-up situation.

Mr. Truman's opinion as Senator a little more than a year ago would not have attracted attention. He is the same man. This shows how the mere holding of office makes a change.

Before this crisis is over, he may get the Case Bill back in the form of a rider to his own bill. The question is still hot.—Okla. City Times.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Lang and Mr. and Mrs. Hub King spent the weekend in Cisco visiting friends.

First Postwar Highway Map Of Texas On Press

AUSTIN (Special) — Another bid for out-of-state tourists is in the making as the Texas Highway Department announces limited quantities of its first postwar color travel maps are now rolling off the presses.

The expected bumper crop of summer tourists in the Lone Star State will be guided over Texas highways with the aid of a map that will give visitors a brief introduction to a few of the State's points of interest. In addition it will afford a complete, accurate, easy-to-read travel map for the use of all.

The de luxe map is expected to be the most popular feature at the Department's Information Bureau which have been reopened at strategic points to supply post-war tourists with reliable, up-to-date facts on highways and tourist attractions which support one of the state's largest and fastest growing "cash crops."

The postwar edition carries a small scale map of the United States, the usual large scale insets of the State's metropolitan areas, strip maps of the main Texas travel routes and the Pan American Highway into Mexico. It gives mileages between towns and carries a supplementary mileage chart. The highway marking system is explained with illustrations and there is a column of miscellaneous facts about the nation's largest State.

Shown also are the State and National parks, some of the old Missions, and other points of historical interest. Twenty-six color pictures, which will be changed in each subsequent edition, depict typical Texas scenes.

The outside of the map, when folded for mailing, bears a picture of the State Capitol and another of Governor Coke Stevenson. Below the Governor's picture is his official greeting "To Motorists Everywhere." In his message Governor Stevenson extends to the people of other States and Nations a cordial invitation to visit Texas and enjoy the hospitality of its

Roughages Can Fill Gap In Feed Supplies

College Station — Plenty of good roughage is about two-thirds of the job of feeding a dairy cow and G. G. Gibson, dairyman for the A. and M. College Extension Service, urges use of more good home-grown roughage. With supplies of concentrates short and the prices high, every effort should be made to replace as many pounds as possible with good roughage.

Highest quality hay is pasture with the water taken out so that it can be stored until needed. This means that hay should be harvested at as near the best stage for grazing as possible.

The difficulty lies in the small yield obtained at this stage which is best for grazing. By allowing the plants to reach the point where they are beginning to bloom, more tonnage will be obtained without sacrificing too much feed value. The man who wants to harvest hay until the plants have matured lose very much feed value although the yield might be higher. The season yield will be less, however, because plants cut when mature will not keep growing as plants cut earlier will do.

Although it does not take the place of hay and pasture, silage can be used to advantage on every farm. Silage is another source of cheap nutrients which can replace some of the high priced nutrients. The crop that yields the largest tonnage per acre should be used for silage. The better the feed that goes into the silo, the better the silage that comes out. Three tons per cow will be good feed insurance when grazing is short.

DUROC BREEDERS TO MEET IN LUBBOCK

Lubbock, June 29 — The West Texas Duroc Breeders Association will hold a sale August 17, 1946, in the hog barn at the Panhandle South Plains Fairground in Lubbock, John N. Mitchell of Ralls, secretary of the association, announced recently.

Mitchell made arrangements for the use of the Fairground facilities through M. D. Fanning of the Fair Association staff.

people. "The highways of Texas are yours," he says. "Use them freely for your business and pleasure."

Snyder, Colorado City, Big Spring, Midland, and Odessa have met to sign a contract for the construction of a dam across the Colorado River to supply water and recreational facilities to these Texas cities. This appears to be a new outlet for the Texas Electric Service, bidding for recognition against REA or government subsidized projects for Texas improvements, as the Service was host to the recent meeting.

Seven books ordered by the home demonstration women of Terry County have arrived and may be checked out from the home demonstration office by members of those clubs over the county. This is the beginning of a library which the members have started this year. Those who read three or more books recommended by the state home demonstration association will receive certificates at the time of the state meeting in Amarillo during August. The club members may check out these books immediately and continue their reading program.

Behind the Scenes in American Business

By John Craddock

NEW YORK, July 1 — With a large number of veterans and a number of former war workers planning to go into business for themselves, the big question facing each is whether success or failure lies at the end of the business rainbow. Dun's Review in their June issue discuss the possibilities of success in new business ventures and suggest certain factors which should be weighed before the new business man risks his or another's capital. The business magazine suggests that costs be determined, the proposed location of the business studied to see whether it has a previous record of failure, whether cash is sufficient and whether the previous experience of the new businessman fits into the proposed field.

Agencies which might be consulted include the United States Department of Commerce, the Veterans Administration, the local Committee for Economic Development, banks, chambers of commerce and other business advisory bodies. The study shows that during 1942 and 1943 more than twice as many businesses were discontinued as were started, while in 1944 and 1945 nearly three times as many went into business as were discontinued.

B. D. Plants Their Experimental Crop

Terry County Board of Development, last week planted their 110 acre farm south of town, which they have under lease, to test deep plowing. They planted on their deep plowing, 10 acres of sudan, 20 to cotton, 15 in Martin maize and 10 to Plainsman maize.

Of the old land, they are trying 5 acres in Crotalaria, a cover crop which will be watched with interest, as it is new to this country, and the balance of fifty acres to maize. The planting was done by Adrian Stewart.

Vote Against

The legalization of the sale of alcoholic beverages in Terry County when you go to the polls July 6.

FOR THE SAKE OF OUR FUTURE AND THAT OF OUR CHILDREN

Every qualified voter should vote against the legalization of the sale of alcoholic beverages in Terry County. There are many reasons why this should be done. Some of the more evident ones are:

1. Legalization of the sale of alcoholic beverages would make Terry County the one "wet" spot in an area comprising some 40 counties, thereby bringing to our county the less desirable element from all the surrounding counties.
2. People coming into a "wet" county travel mainly by automobile and the resulting congestion of traffic would be much graver with some of the drivers under the influence of liquor.
3. If the sale of liquor and other beverages were legalized here, we'd still have with us the same old lawless element, but doubled in size because of the fact that here could be found strong drink in quantity.

I am against the lawlessness now prevalent here and against anything that would increase that lawlessness. If the county goes dry and I am elected Sheriff, I promise not only to keep it dry, but to do my utmost to dry up the wet spots now existing Across a mirror above the buffet was a ribbon lettered in gold which announced "Eleanor and Robert, July 17." The ribbon was held at each end by small white doves. Satin and net bells from which sprayed sweet peas, centered the buffet.

Thousands of Acres Being Planted

Following the rains of early last week, though spotted, they have alternately covered most of the county, the music of farm tractors was wafted on the varying breezes of old Terry and all last week. Several hundred adhered that old adage, "the better the day the better the seed" and ran on through Sunday.

Some planted cotton, quite a lot is up, but most of the planting is to grain sorghums. Only a small area or two, claim sufficient moisture. It is estimated that half to three fourths of the county's acreage is planted.

ECONOMICAL TO PACKAGE FROZEN FOODS CORRECTLY

Because it is inadvisable to re-freeze foods once thawed, containers for home-freezing should be selected with the size of the family in mind. On the basis of more than three years of continuous research, the Westinghouse Home Economics Institute recommends a pint carton for three large servings of most vegetables; a quart container for five to six generous servings. Larger containers are not recommended for averaged-size families. Not only are they wasteful of food but of storage space.

GI Question And Answer Department

Q. Does the government pay the first year's interest on GI Loans?

A. No. When the loan is reported to Veterans Administration for a certificate of guaranty, the amount that VA pays in applied to reduce the amount of the loan. VA pays 4 per cent on the amount guaranteed which cannot exceed 50 per cent of the loan, or $4,000 on a real estate loan and $2,000 on a non-real estate loan.

Q. Is a veteran who holds a bad conduct discharge entitled to any benefits under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act (GI Bill)?

A. Since he holds neither an honorable nor a dishonorable discharge, it would be necessary for him to contact his nearest Veterans Administration office for a decision as to whether he was discharged under conditions other than dishonorable; or he may apply to the Army or Navy for revision of discharge.

Q. Can a veteran who is not a high school graduate take a course?

A. The veteran who has not completed high school but who wishes to undertake a college education may go to college under a number of methods. It is best that he go to the nearest Veterans Administration office and explore these possibilities.

Q. Can a veteran who draws retirement pay also receive subsistence allowance while attending school?

A. Yes.

Q. Are wives of veterans entitled to medical care under the GI Bill?

A. Veterans Administration is not authorized to furnish medical care for dependents of veterans under any existing laws.

Q. Is the pension of a veteran subject to change if he takes a position?

A. No. Disabled veterans are encouraged to do such work as their disability permits. This does not affect the amount of their pensions because each disability pension is based on the veteran's disability as determined by Vet-

We gotta start some place if we are to get away from the chaos that the Big Squawks in Govt. keep saying is around the corner, and will consume us if we don't keep these present fellows in just a little longer.

Why not change the Squawks, says Henry—maybe that is what ails us versus having no gold dinero.

I will not get into politics too deep, I says, but maybe you got something there. But if Uncle George Washington laid a solid kind of foundation for a U. S. A. and used hard money for same, you gotta admit that gold and silver don't hurt — and maybe helped. Also, it didn't breed 100 kinds of chaos. And furthermore, I says, trying to be half-way humorous and cheer Henry up, do you think, I says, that Mr. Washington could have thrown a dollar across the Potomac if it had been paper. Well, says Henry, throwing one silver dollar across the river don't hold a candle to what they can do now, with paper. They throw a coupla billion across or into the river before breakfast. That, I says, shows why they hold back on making gold legal—it is too heavy to shovel it out so easy.

Milk Improved Fliers' Vision

SCHENECTADY — Canadian fliers during the war improved their vision by drinking milk, Kenneth F. Fee of Albany, director of the milk control division of the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets, declared in a General Electric Farm Paper of the Air address here over WGY.

"Experiments conducted by the nutritional division of the Royal Canadian Air Force conclusively demonstrated that the vision of their airmen could be materially improved by feeding them a substance known to scientists as riboflavin," Mr. Fee pointed out. "An adequate amount of this substance could not be furnished without feeding them milk."

"As a result of the work of the nutritional division, the amount of milk allowed per day per man was increased from a single ounce supplied at the beginning of the war, first to 10 ounces and later to 24 ounces per day. The feeding of such amounts of milk to Canadian airmen was characterized as one of the big things done by the Medical Branch," Mr. Fee said.

Summer Work In Brownfield High Homemaking Dept.

The girls in Brownfield High homemaking department have been rather busy during the month of June with their summer projects. They have been improving the department at school by cleaning and varnishing all the tables, chairs and bookcases, repairing some things and repadding the ironing board.

Some of the projects they have been working on in their own homes include canning, gardening, sewing, cooking and refurnishing and decorating their rooms or some room in the house by making curtains, painting, refinishing floors and working over their closets.

Each girl puts in approximately one hundred hours on her summer work for which she gets one half credit. They finished up their work this past week and on their last afternoon to meet together all went down town to the drug store for a little treat and social hour. Most of the girls felt like they had accomplished some things that

1,080,000 POUNDS OF
Blackeyed Peas
ARE NEEDED FROM WEST TEXAS BY
GILBERT C. WILSON LABORATORIES AT PITTSBURG, TEXAS

We will need 1,080,000 pounds of blackeyed peas per day. Our plant will have a maximum daily production capacity in excess of 30,000 cases per day.

Our plant is now operating, canning peas from South and Central Texas. West Texas blackeyed peas harvest will begin after harvest season in East Texas is over. We will start buying here when peas are first available, and will continue to buy until the first killing frost.

We will set up receiving points at convenient loading places throughout the Brownfield territory, and peas will be paid for when they are received. We will pay market price for the peas, which should be in the vicinity of $65.00 per ton.

The demand for canned blackeyes appears to be far in excess of what canners can supply this year.

According to the experienced blackeyed pea growers in West Texas, less moisture is required for producing a good yield of blackeyed peas than cotton, and they can be planted 20 to 30 days later than cotton and yet still in time for maximum yield.

Blackeyed peas, being a legume, will serve to build up the soil, and will also serve somewhat as a cover for the soil to keep down erosion during the winter months.

We will also buy dried blackeyed peas this year.

The location of our buying points in the Brownfield territory will be announced in the near future.

CONTRAST MAKES A MEAL SUCCESSFUL

While good food value unquestionably comes first in planning meals, Mrs. Julia Kiene, director of the Westinghouse Home Economics Institute, believes that an ounce of "contrast" is worth a pound of persuasion in putting over "what's good for you." As one means to that end, serve at least one dish that's different from the rest. For example: a cool salad or frozen dessert with a hot meal; a hot soup or scalloped vegetable with a cold meal.

PARTLY A MATTER OF INCHES

For best results on washday, you're advised to use water at the right temperature (and preferably fresh water for each tubful of clothes), and a good suds. The latter is a matter of inches rather than guesswork, for a laundering manual published by Westinghouse Home Economics Institute, states that top of water should be completely covered with from two to three inches of suds.

"Bit of Meat" Peps Up Vegetable Meals

With Victory Gardens going full swing, this is the season when vegetables in great variety play a leading role in lunch and dinner menus. A dinner without any meat, however, lacks a certain taste appeal and a satisfying quality that meat provides.

A clever homemaker will try to include at least a small amount of meat, even when the meal features garden vegetables. She can do this in many ways; the following ideas are just a few suggestions:

Add meat to the stuffing of deviled eggs, to serve with hot vegetables or a vegetable salad. Use chopped crisp bacon, liver, sausage, dried beef, or cooked pork sausage.

Serve potato chips, crackers or dry melba toast with a meat spread.

Add small pieces of cooked or ready-to-serve meat to bowls of hot vegetable soup.

Add a little ground cooked meat to left-over gravy, and serve on top of mashed potatoes.

Serve one of the vegetables in an egg souffle, and add a small amount of finely chopped meat for extra flavor.

Add chopped cooked bacon or thin frankfurter slices to potato salad or a vegetable salad.

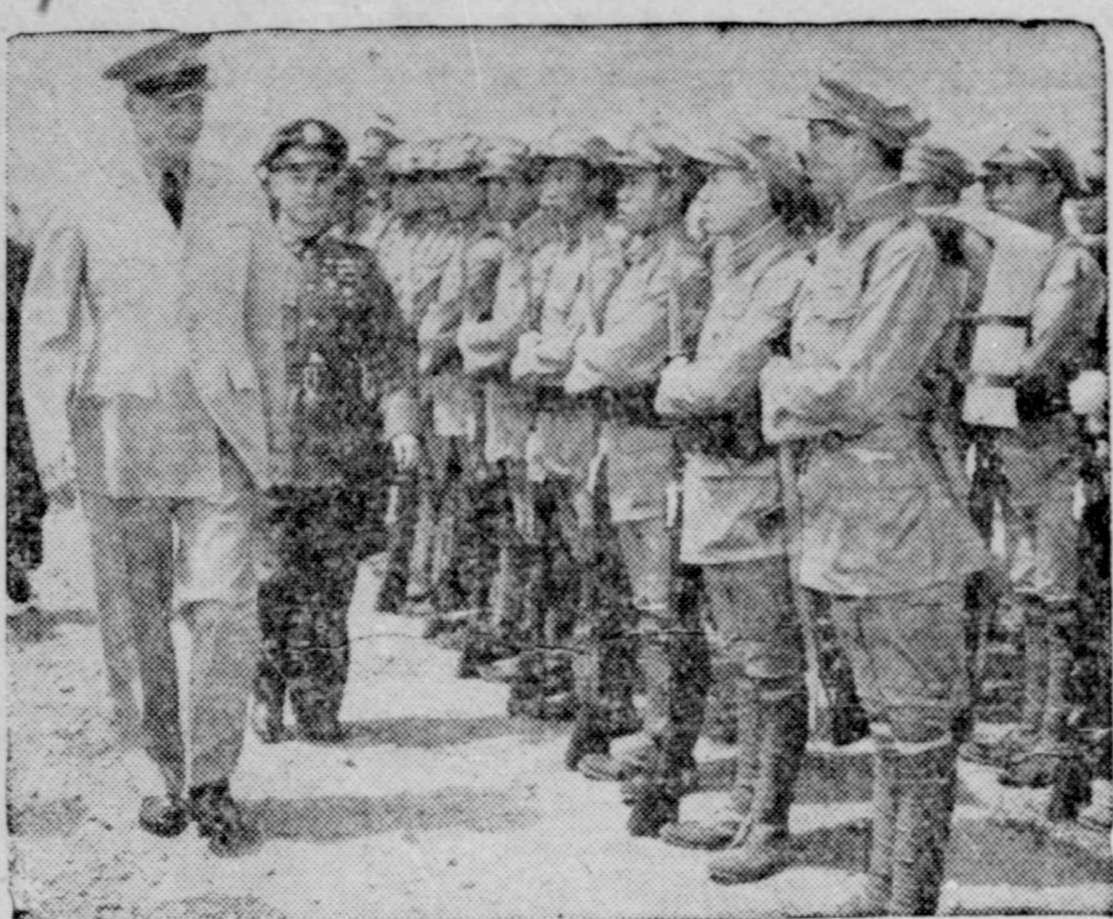

Add small cubes of ready-to-serve meat to the stuffing for a baked vegetable.

Add deviled ham when making a cream sauce or cheese sauce to serve over a vegetable.

Serve stalks of celery stuffed with soft yellow cheese, with chopped bacon added.

Rats Serious Menace To Mankind

Austin, Texas — Because of the economic losses they cause to industry and commerce and the annoyance they create in homes, rats have been considered a serious menace to mankind since long before their role as vectors of disease was understood. Today at least six diseases which are transmitted to man from the rat are known to medical science, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. These diseases include the dread plague, typhus, trichinosis, a form of jaundice, tapeworm, and food poisoning. The whole history of the role rats play in the transmission of disease remains as yet unknown.

"It is necessary to public health," Dr. Cox said, "that a continuous rat control program be maintained in every urban area throughout Texas. This is of especial importance on farms where rats may flourish by feeding on grain and other farm products."

The doctor pointed out that rats, like other living things, require food and shelter if they are to propagate and increase in number. Destroying their shelter and breeding places includes the employing of ratproof design in buildings, the use of ratproof materials in construction, employing ratproof methods of construction and installation, and providing for periodic inspection of buildings to insure permanent safety. This program will force the rat out into the open where its destruction may be accomplished.

Of equal importance as a control measure is the elimination of all food supplies. This consists of storing all foods in ratproof buildings or in ratproof containers, the proper storage and disposal of garbage, and careful feeding of stock to prevent waste feed from being picked up by the rats.

Warning On Fleas

With showers over the area during the past week the South Plains Health Unit wishes to publish a warning to the people of the possible danger of infestation of fleas.

Since moisture over the area has not been general for some six months it is predicted that with the recent showers and continued heavy dews, fleas may be expected to hatch out abundantly where pees, chickens and hogs have been kept within the past six months. Since the entrance of typhus and the possibility of plague was in the area it is of extreme importance that every effort be carried out to exterminate these pests.

We quote from Dr. Fred C. Bishop, Assistant Chief of Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., "Fleas yield readily to DDT. These carriers of plague and annoyers of man and animals can be wiped out by spraying the infested rooms, especially the floors, floor coverings and overstuffed furniture with a 5 per cent solution in odorless kerosene. Especial attention must be given to the sleeping places of pet animals. A 5 to 10 per cent DDT powder applied lightly (10 grams) to the back and neck of a medium-sized dog on the hair next to the skin will kill all fleas present and prevent reinfection for a week or longer. Cats lick them-

Jester Outlines Some Of His Platform

Folks in many sections of Texas have had a chance to see and talk to Beauford Jester of Corsicana, candidate for governor, during his tour of the state in the past two weeks.

In large cities and in small towns they have listened to him discuss the principles of his "People's Path" Platform. Jester has stated that he will stick to the principles in his "People's Path" and will make no rash promises or far fetched predictions in his campaign for governorship.

In his tour of the state Jester urged:

A long range, planned campaign to rebuild depleted farm lands;

An expanded public health educational program to reduce disease and to raise public health standards in Texas;

A traffic and highway safety campaign to reduce the steadily mounting toll of accident victims throughout the state; Pledged support for an adequate state police highway patrol;

Higher salaries and better working conditions for teachers in all public schools and colleges;

The establishing of a first class medical school and other educational facilities for negroes at Prairie View University.

The building of more farm-to-market roads in all sections of Texas where roads are needed;

Condemned attempts of OPA Director Chester Bowles to make a deal with labor whereby agriculture would be hamstrung by stabilized farm prices in return for which labor would agree to a one year strike truce.

Miss Margie Moore, of Muleshoe was a weekend guest in the home of Mrs. Alfred Mangum.

Mrs. Ruth Lowe and daughters and Glynna Faye Winston and Daina Ruth McIlroy spent the weekend in Amarillo as guests of Dr. and Mrs. M. E. Jacobson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Stell and daughter, of Andrews were here on business Monday.

Mesdames Guy Pollard, and V. E. Pollard, of Rt. 5 and Mrs. W. A. Pollard, and children, of Springfield, Colo., were in town shopping, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Walker spent the latter part of the week in Austin on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Arch Fowler returned Saturday from Dalhart where they have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Fowler and their two weeks old grandson, Joe Dean.

Outbuildings, yards, and pigpens can be quickly cleared of fleas by a general spraying with 5 per cent of DDT in kerosene or an emulsion. These sprays are used at the rate of half gallon to 1,000 sq. ft. Water-dispersible powder diluted in water to contain 2.5 per cent of DDT is also satisfactory for this purpose. Fleas which infest rodents and may serve as carriers of endemic typhus or plague, may be greatly reduced in numbers by dusting the rat burrows and runs with 10 per cent DDT powder. Dusting of stores and all public buildings with DDT will almost completely eliminate fleas.

MAHON ANNOUNCEMENT—

The members of this 8-man committee were accorded national recognition for their work in sponsoring the Atomic Bomb Project which saved untold American lives, enabling us to outstrip enemy nations that were seeking to perfect the bomb.

The Congressman is the number two man in the House of Representatives charged with handling all appropriations for Veterans and Public Roads. He was able in cooperation with Veteran's organizations to secure a regional office of the Veterans Administration at Lubbock to serve West Texas. The only other such offices in Texas are at Dallas, Waco, San Antonio and Houston.

The 19th District Congressman is Chairman of the sub-committee which is charged with appropriating the money and approving the programs of the government in maintaining for the next two years support prices and loans on cotton, wheat, and other basic crops so important to West Texas producers in the post war years.

The seniority system is the system under which Congress operates. By reason of seniority Mahon is slated to become Chairman of the Texas Congressional Delegation next year.

The people of the 19th District by keeping George Mahon in Congress have enabled him to reach a position of power and influence for the good of West Texas.

Mr. Mahon, who is known as George to thousands of constituents, and prefers to be called George, takes pride in trying to serve the people in matters small and great.

"As your hired hand in Washington," Mahon said, "I have been confronted with many difficult problems, as has been the case with you folks at home. You have cooperated with me and placed your trust in me in matters of the greatest importance. Our beloved and powerful nation is confronted with its best opportunity for happiness and prosperity. We must remain strong and help guide the world in paths of peace, thereby saving civilization from utter destruction. That is our number one task."

"Our District is one of the great agricultural districts of the nation. I was born and reared on a farm and I know something about the benefits of soil conservation, the need for REA, full parity income—the need for the kind of Government that will promote the well being of all our people."

There are 435 members of the House, all of whom are competing for power and influence in order to better serve their Districts. The 19th Dist. Congressman outranks in point of service 317 members. George Mahon is serving his 6th term. He is 45 years of age.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Kendrick and Mr. and Mrs. Luther Cruce, visited and vacationed in the Santa Fe area of New Mexico, last week. R. M. says that is the most interesting of any section of New Mexico he has ever visited.

THE OLD SOUTH—

Anniston is a fine little city, and they no doubt have visited in California, and learned some of their Chamber of Commerce methods. The California C. of C's. would no more mention a fog or rain than they would put it out that their grandpa was wearing stripes up at Alcatraz. We noted that many huge oaks were flattened to the ground, torn up roots and all just out of that fine little city, and recently, but we saw nothing in papers of such a storm. The houses had been re-roofed.

We passed through Tupelo, Miss., which had had a bad storm a few years ago, but little sign of it remains. At New Albany in that State, we turned northward for Tennessee and home. At Ripley, county seat of the first county south of Middleton, Tenn., we ran into a real old rip-roaring thunder storm, with some 30 miles still to go. The wife was afraid of the lightning; our niece of the wind. And it did seem like the wind was blowing real hard, but the speed of the car toward the direction it came from, plus the movement of the storm made it appear to the "back seat drivers" that it was fierce. Daniel Rogers was driving, and he kept nosing slowly ahead. We had four miles of gravel road not too well graded before hitting the pavement after crossing into Tennessee, and he was afraid water would get over the road.

Thus ended our "tower" of the Old South, or a portion of it.
