

What's The Matter With Our Phone System?

From what we can gather here and yonder, our local telephone setup is going from good or medium to worse. And this is not the blame of any one in particular, unless it be the public's. And, the owners might help matters some by taking to the public into its confidence and give them the low down on some reasons why no improvements are made.

We have it pretty straight it is growing more and more difficult to keep trained help, as they have to work with obsolete and too little material. For instance, you put in a call and wait a minute—15 to you, you imagine. Well, lots of times the board is so crowded, with so many on party lines and what have you, that there are no plugs left to plug in to answer your call.

Then there is said to be just about 350 people here waiting for phones. These or some of them, take the ringtail, and go up and blast out the girls. Others get their ire up when they are not answered promptly, for the reason stated above, and as a consequence, Mrs. Betty Curry, local manager, has turned in her resignation, effective October 1.

There are a lot of places that do not have things they had in prewar days, like radios, cars, electric irons, washers, electric refrigerators, to mention a few. The Herald cannot get some supplies it used to carry. Let's remember this and hold our tempers until conditions improve.

County's Casualty List Declines

With fingers crossed, it is worthy to note the county has passed two whole weeks, and hopes this one will be the third, without a fatal tragedy. The first eight months of this year had brought so many, this gap is happily noticed. It is hoped the gremlins have become extinct for lack of assistance.

It is well known that causes of a majority of tragedies, especially traffic mishaps is beyond the reach of the law. They are based in the minds, or lack of minds, and foolhardiness of the drivers. Perhaps their inability to master more than one thought at a time, at least a disregard for the life of others.

The record of the past three weeks should be extended on and one, with pride. Let no one relax in continuous caution, and remember school is in session.

City Dads Stay Busy With Job

City authorities are reported by health authorities, to be doing a good job spraying with DDT, all alleys and vacant spots, where disease hatches may lurk. The public are urged to also spray their back lots, especially where poultry and livestock are kept. An effort is being made to clean up and keep this city one of the cleanest in the State.

The city will also soon install posts around the driveways in the city park, to keep cars from trespassing on the grass and shrubbery. This expense is necessitated by youngsters, ruthlessly driving over it as was recently experienced when it was re-opened.

It is desired to maintain a beautiful park for the joy of our citizens, and is regrettable that it can only be done at added expense, because of the efforts of some of our boys to destroy it.

Brownfield Flower Shop Joins F. T. D. A.

The Brownfield Flower Shop, owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Rogers, is now a member of the Florist Telegraph Delivery Association, having met all requirements demanded by the association. By belonging to this organization they can now deliver or wire flowers in any part of the world.

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers attended the luncheon given by the association in the Hilton Hotel in Lubbock, Sunday. Following a short business meeting flower arrangements were displayed and orders taken for new merchandise on display.

Brownfield To Be In Dust Bowl, Says The Gov't. Experts?

A few weeks ago a new item, with an Austin date line, appeared in the dailies, stating there were Eubonic fleas on the prairie dogs in the "low vallies around Brownfield." We passed that up knowing that our folks knew it was false, because our dogs never leave the county to catch any such things, and they raise their own.

Wednesday another head line with a Washington date line, reports a soil conservation agent saying, that in West Texas near Brownfield, because of a serious drouth, a dust bowl may result. Just why these "scary" items single out Brownfield, we are unable to understand. Surely the God of the elements wouldn't single out this one and such a favored spot. But if it should happen it will be mighty bad on a large number of adjoining counties who have come here so often for corn and feed stuffs.

It will be sad news to the builders of two new elevators, and the large grain bins the third is building. This disaster will have to take a new start since our five inches of rain in the last 20 days. We have no dust. Sometimes our sand moves about, in the spring-time. The soil is so deep, the mightiest of winds would wear out before it reached the barren depth. It is much deeper than these "government experts."

There was a time when we might protest such jokes, being a check on our irrigation. While we welcome new comers, and commend their good judgement in coming here, we can keep increasing our population with home products.

We acknowledge it was quite a fur piece between rains earlier this summer, but didn't know the drouth stopped at the county lines. None of us that were here 35 or 40 years ago can tell that our lands that are really cared for and protected, are blowing any worse now than then. Maybe someone is interested in keeping his job.

Phillips Humbles Locals In Mudfest

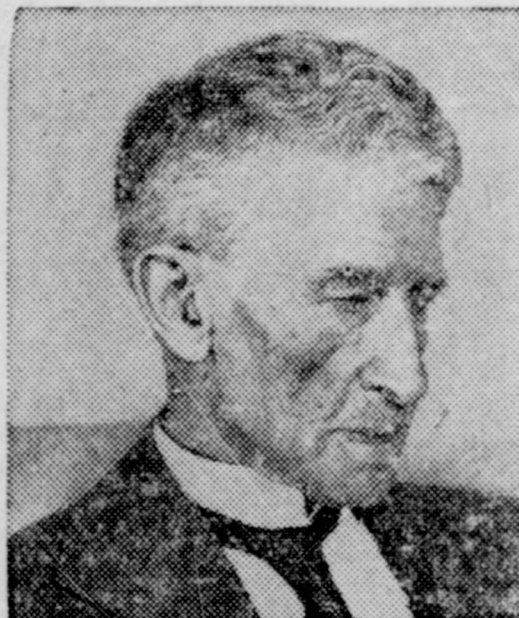

Last Friday night, in weather more suited for ducks, the Brownfield Cubs were handed the bitter pill of being defeated by the Phillips Blackhawks, a team from a lower bracket. The game was marred with fumbles by both sides.

Taking the little end of the 6-0 score, the Cubs outplayed the visitors in every department except scoring. Unfortunately, however, win or loss is still determined by score. The locals also had a slight edge in local breaks. The visitors took the fullest advantage of their one big break when Brownfield fumbled deep in its own territory, (Phillips taking over, and hitting pay dirt very soon thereafter).

All indications point to sterner opposition for the locals tonight, when they play host to the AA Midland Bulldogs. The Bulldogs will be out seeking another scalp to add to the one they took from the Ysleta Indians to the tune of 26-0 last Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Oran Elmore and son, of Abilene, are visiting Mrs. Elmore's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Lowe.

NUMBER 8

We See Some Of The Neighbors Sunday

After a few weeks at home or at least away from our neighboring towns to the west or southwest, somehow one just wants to see how they are progressing. For that very reason the Old He and wife decided we wanted to see how Seagraves and Seminole were getting along. So, soon after lunch in old John Wall's Cafe on the highway Sunday, we lit a shuck. Don't think what John fed us gave us the urge to Ramble, but it was either that or a nap.

Went by the Lay farm southwest of the city, and picked up the niece, Mrs. Annie Belle Lay, and soon we were at the home of Elmer Chester Roberts, Mrs. S's nephew, and Mrs. Lay's brother. After a nice chat about the weather, wind and the news of the day, all hands, including Mrs. Roberts lit out for the Gaines county seat, Seminole.

Seminole, like Brownfield, has had growing pains for the past several years, and is really doing its stuff. We were told that a million dollars worth of construction in business and residential property has been finished or is now under way in the beautiful little city. It is now far outstripping its big neighbor of 1940, Seagraves, in the north part of the county, and if present records keep up to 1950, Seminole will be the metropolis as well as the county seat of Gaines.

Reason: Oil wells have been brought in all around Seminole, and two refineries are in full blast, and wet or dry, these conditions always provide a payroll. It is true that Seagraves has two carbon black plants, but they seem to provide their own housing for employees, and they are far from the corporate area; in fact one is over in Terry county. There are many new and modern business houses being built in Seminole that would do credit to cities of ten thousand or more, and it is developing a real nice residence district.

After a bit of a drive around the business and residence sections we lit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Aryain, erstwhile business people of our city. Needless to say we were graciously received and made very welcome. As it was about five in the afternoon, Mrs. Aryain soon had the old perculator going, and soon served as fine brew of "Arbuckle" as you ever popped your lips over. Among us, we soon had the gossip of mutual friends in Brownfield under discussion, and steaming coffee and gossip just seem to hatch out in the same nest. So, it was not long until the Aryains knew just about as much about what was going on in Brownfield as we. We didn't tell too much bad on our neighbors—nothing but what is already generally known.

While Mrs. Aryain is a native of the old "show me state," Missouri, Ed is a native of old Damascus, capital of Serbia. He came to America when just a young man, and drifted west to Texas, where he is now fully Texicanized. But in the days when he first came to Brownfield, he would drop to broken English when he became just a bit excited, especially in helping to make up ads for the paper. But he never did resent being joked about the matter of say, "wan silka da dress, $4.98." That's right, you could get a silk dress for about that figure in them good old days.

Anyway, we are glad to number Ed and family among our friends. They are always the same every time you see them. However, Ed was a very sick man a few years ago, but seems to be in fine health and spirits now. Their eldest son was in the service during the war.

If you ask us, we really had a nice time in their home and the Roberts home at Seagraves. No crops to speak of. Lot of young stuff, some of which will never mature.

Minister Preaches Farewell Sermon Sunday

Minister Cline Paden preached his farewell sermons Sunday to a large audience that packed the church of Christ, corner Main and Third. His work for the church here could hardly have been better climaxed, and while his going away is regretted by both he and the church, the results of his work showed more plainly than words could do.

At the conclusion of his sermon, a small portion of which was taken with his expectations, the rest largely with the missionary work of Paul and others of the early gospel ministers, ten responded for baptism and several to put in membership or renew their relationship with the church. Three others came forward at the night service for baptism, thirteen in all. Dinner was served on the grounds, and participated in by most all, except some that were not present the Sunday before, and made no preparations. Singing was enjoyed in the afternoon, as well as fellowship, one with another.

Cline will attend the George Pepperdine Christian college at Los Angeles, and commute to the University of Southern California, L.A. where he will take Italian language course. The two institutions are only seven miles apart, and he will carry his car. He is a graduate of Abilene Christian college.

Brother Cline is so constituted that he can take the jovial as well as the serious side of life, and his close friends have been ribbing him plenty. Being rather dark complexioned, some have told him that no one would be able to tell him from the other daogoes in a few years.

Others added such cracks as, "hope you learn to core in spaghetti on your fork," while others advised him to learn to sing, "Yes We Have No Bananas Today."

The prayers as well as the good wishes of the church as well as his many friends go with him in his work as a missionary to Italy. Eight others have decided to go with him to northern Italy near the Swiss border, including a married brother. An effort will be made to enlist 20 in all. The church here will support Cline in his work.

John Chisholm and wife are here for a two week visit with his dad and mother and other relatives, as well as relatives of the Mrs. We don't know whether John looks more natural sitting back in his old hardware store, or at the Grill, sipping coffee. They own a grocery at Oroville, Calif.

Jim Graves, who has been attending school in Illinois the past year, returned with his wife early this week. Jim has not decided just yet where he will locate.

Alton Freeman, county attorney of Gaines county, is undergoing medical treatment in the Treadaway-Daniell hospital here this week.

Brownfield Building Activities Continue

Coy Maroney, manager of the Western Stockyards here, has begun construction on some large grain storage bins, of concrete material, across the railroad just east from Gore's elevator.

The Co-Ops have moved and rearranged some of the buildings, and have begun construction of the large grain elevator on their present site. Goodpasture is progressing with construction of the huge addition to his present plant. "Boots Cafe" is being moved just across the street north from the present location. Chisholm's Hatchery and feed and seed store has moved to their new building, at corner of Fifth and Tate.

McWilliams Furniture is busy renovating and remodeling the interior of the building on the south side vacated by Chisholm, and will occupy it, as well as the one he is in now, with a full line of furniture. Jno. B. King is building three large lathe, and a large grass pot house, to be an all-weather house, for flowers and plants, at his large nursery in the southeast part of town.

The First National Bank's elaborate remodeling job is nearing completion. The Red Newton implement house on Lubbock road will be occupied soon. Mr. Rinn is hauling hundreds of loads of dirt filling in some lots on the north side of the lake in the north central part of town, which calls to mind the City has under advisement, plans to drain this lake.

The school authorities are moving in a school building from Tokio, placing same just west of the gym, to be used for a band room. The Bowman Automobile building at the corner of Fourth and Broadway is being finished up. Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Co. are finishing their large brick store rooms just west of the present yards.

Though building permits are at a low, there is several nice dwellings under construction, and many additions and remodelings continue.

Farm Bureau Has Meeting

A meeting of some twenty representatives of the Terry County Farm Bureau, met Friday afternoon in the court room. H. R. Winston presided. Bill Tillson, a district director, attended and Romie E. Edwards, a State organizer, addressed the meeting. The main feature was to increase the membership.

It is thought the high price of farm produce has caused many members to relax in vigilance but it was pointed out it is necessary to have strong membership to press retention of their present status.

Committees were appointed to wage a membership drive. An editorial in last weeks Terry County Herald was read with approval, to the meeting.

Lions To Stage Annual Carnival

The Lions club will stage their annual carnival, Oct. 10th, 11th and 12th. They have engaged Mr. Raine, local resident who has full equipment, to furnish all rides, etc.

Mr. Raine has spent the summer in south Texas, enjoying good business, and only consented to return because this is his home town, and he has shown with the Lions before. The Lions proceeds will be used in their usual benevolent civic improvements.

EXHIBIT

Tokio Home Demonstration club will have their exhibit of "Year Round Handmade Gifts" in the show windows of the Copeland Hardware, September 28.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Roberts of Seagraves were guests of the Stricklins, Monday night.

Chisholm Hatchery In New Home

Joe Chisholm completed the moving last week of his hatchery from the old location on the south side of the square to his new building on the corner of Fifth and Tate streets.

Due to the fact that the completion of the building is being held up awaiting the installation of plate glass, Joe is delaying the final arranging of his merchandise and equipment until the entire building is ready for occupancy. At the present, the business is being conducted in the rear portion of the building.

This building was planned and built for the express purpose of housing a hatchery business. When completed, the front part of the building will be the display room for feeds and poultry remedies, seeds, brooders, etc. The south half of the rear portion will be the incubator room and the north half will be the breeder room.

Permanently settling in Terry county in 1921, the Chisholm family moved to Brownfield and opened a feed, seed and grocery store on the east side of the square in 1923. In 1926, they moved to larger quarters on the south side of the square. The hatchery was opened in 1930.

Beginning on a very modest scale as a 15,000 chick hatchery, Joe now has enough incubator space to take care of 64,000 eggs at one hatch. The hatchery operates under the approval of the Texas-U. S. Baby Chick association.

Ohioans Call On The Herald Saturday

A very pleasant and appreciated call on the Herald was made late last week by Dr. H. Hansburger and son, Frederick, of Columbus, Ohio. We have known the Hansburgers so long that they now seem to belong here. When we took charge of the Herald in June 1909, the doctor's father was a subscriber, and so far as we know, they have never let their subscription expire.

They have some good property in Terry, and although not used to long drouths in their section, they have not lost confidence in old Terry to make a good strong comeback, and it will.

It was their intention to see the caverns at Carlsbad, N. M., while in this section.

Program Honoring Service Men At Johnson

Rev. J. N. Hester was in this week and stated that quite a nice program had been prepared and would be rendered next Sunday morning at the Johnson church. The program will begin at 11 A. M. A similar program will be given at Pool, beginning at 7:30 P. M., Sunday.

Among the features of the program will be an address by County Attorney, H. B. Virgil Crawford, roll call, flag salute and unveiling of the honor roll. A silent prayer will honor the Gold Star men. Everyone invited.

STOP RELIEF! . . . World War I food czar, ex-President Herbert Hoover, as he called for an immediate stoppage of relief supplies to Yugoslavia. He termed that nation's shooting down of American planes, "a poor token of gratitude."

FOOTBALL TONIGHT Brownfield vs. Midland

We have never registered high as a smart boy or man. Indeed sometimes we wonder if we are not on the sorter dumb side of the IQ. The fact that our ideas and ideals don't run along with the majority in our profession leads us to that conclusion.

For instance, all the sport writers in the dailies that reach us as well as the sport commentators over radio, have almost been in tears for the past week, apparently, just because the St. Louis Red Birds took the lead over the Brooklyn Dodgers. Why? You tell yourself. That is one of the mysteries of life.

If it just happened to happen in 1946, we would not be so confused, but this is the case year in and year out. If the Brooklyn club has a losing streak, the fans of the writing-radio fraternity seem to take fever and chills.

This also goes for Notre Dame football team. Did all the newsmen and radio men graduate at Notre Dame? Hardly. But if you want one of these guys to sound like his best friend has passed on, just let some other team beat Notre Dame.

Is it a religious question? Is it a political one? If you can figure out the matter, you are smarter than the Old He. And we might add that these sportsmen (?) like to have had a duck fit last year when both St. Louis teams won.

County Agent Has Supply Of Johnson Grass Poison

At present time chemical treatment of Johnson grass is probably the best method of eradication. Both calcium and sodium chlorate have been found to be effective. However the calcium chlorate is the safer to use because sodium chlorate is "quite combustible and should be handled with great care."

According to R. N. McClain, County Agent, the Calcium Chlorate should be applied at the rate of at least one pound per gallon of water. One gallon of the solution is required for 100 square feet of space when the grass is in the boot or bloom stage and before seed mature for best results. The first requisite of course is a thorough job of spraying. After spraying do not disturb the roots by plowing for as long as possible, preferably for a period of about six months.

An adequate supply of calcium chlorate is now on hand and can be had by contacting the County Agent.

Local Ladies Open New Flower Shop

Two of our local ladies have opened a new flower shop, which they designate as Broadway Floral, at 801 East Broadway. The Herald hastens to congratulate those ladies who have branched out for themselves, and knowing them as we do, we feel safe in saying that the Broadway Shop will soon be known far and wide.

These ladies are Mrs. Joe Price and Mrs. N. L. Mason. The latter has had quite a lot of experience already. Read their opening announcement in this issue, and when in need of flowers, call No. 362-J.

LEGION AUXILIARY TO MEET

The American Legion Auxiliary will meet Thursday night, Sept. 26, at the Legion Hall. This is the same time and place the Legionnaires will meet, but meetings will be held separately.

Everyone eligible is urged to attend.

Texas has thirty-eight state parks.

There has been so many hotel fires in the past few months that people in general are beginning to wonder why? So far as we know, no one up to this time has hazarded a guess, except perhaps carelessness. And the word "carelessness" may cover most of the trouble, just as it does fires in other buildings, including homes. But is it the owners? Hardly, as right now hotels are doing everything else except lose money for the owners. Is it the management? Perhaps partly true, as the hiring and firing of help is largely left to them, and as they want to show the stockholders as much profit as possible, they in turn get just as cheap help as possible. Perhaps in some cases the help depend largely on liberal tips by hotel patrons, and are looking less to where waste is piled, or oily rags stored. They are too busy chasing tips. Therefore, fires and more fires. Now this is just the guess of a common run of the mine country editor. What is your guess?

Our government up at Washington seem to have a tongue in each end of the State Wagon, and the teams pulling in opposite directions. Pres. Truman seems to be worse rattled than a school boy making his first Friday afternoon speech to the class. Comrade Wallace seems to be sabotaging what Byrnes, Connally and Vandenberg are trying to do at the peace conference. In a speech at Madison Square Garden in New York, Comrade Wallace told the reds, pinks and fellow travelers that he wished to turn Stalin and his Russia loose with no bolts barred on the rest of the world, or words to that effect. As a ward politician with the Pendergrass machine in Kansas City, HST seemed to be at home, but it looks like he is a pig in the poke in Washington. His chance as a successor of himself at the White House in 1948 gets dimmer and dimmer. Mr. Truman inherited a lot of headaches from FDR, but he just don't seem to be able to dodge falling timber like Franklin D.

Yes, the present administration at Washington, like its predecessor, is for the common man—providing the common guy is organized. The unorganized part of the common herd is left to root hog or die. We know that a lot of the new deal measures are OK, and approved by most people. But, they are trying to feed out too much line. They are trying to govern the USA by bureau instead of law and constitution. Here is the situation as we see it. If it happens to be the unorganized majority, say like the farmer or small business men, they are told to kill the pigs and calves, and plant just so many acres in this or that, or else. The small business man must account for every penny on stuff he sells that bear a ceiling, or has a priority. If they don't there is a nice long rest in a jail, and a heavy fine or both. But Messrs. Lewis, Murray & Company tell the government where to head in. They belong to an organized minority, and that of course is another story. The common everyday citizens is getting rather fed up on this, and if we preserve the country millions of our boys fought for and a quarter million died to preserve, the rest of us better wake up from our Rip Van Winkle nap and prepare to vote at every opportunity. Otherwise we may be preparing ourselves to be serfs and peons to a few people, many of whom were born elsewhere, and don't know who Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Jackson and Lincoln were, and care less.

The idea that the GI has any more priority to buy stuff than anyone else seems to be just so much more bunk put out at Washington by the goody, goody boys that promised the boys who went into the service just about everything. We have found that out of late when one of this firm applied to buy some needed machinery, and the salesman suggested that an application from an ex-GI would help in early delivery. All papers sent us was duly executed, and we thought that was the last of it, but lo and behold, here comes another long questionnaire from the big boys up at Washington, wanting to know why we needed the machinery and how bad, and if what we had would run at all. To fill the bill one would almost have to swear a lie, by stating that the machinery was fixing to collapse, and that our livelihood depended on the new machinery. The quizzical gentleman was informed that most anyone with a G. Washington hand press and a shirttail full of type can eek out an existence now. That is just the reason that a lot of good people are willing for all those bureaus to be closed air tight and see if those who manage them now, can get out and make an honest living themselves.

The organized boys in the big cities were the loudest in demanding that ceiling prices be restored by OPA. They were, and now the meat shops are bare, and they are yelling their fool heads off for something to be done. What? You tell us.

We Never Miss The Water Till The Well Goes Dry

Brownfield, Texas Lubbock, Texas

NOTE to Editor Paul Holcomb of the State Observer, a political sheet printed in Austin and sent every editor in the state free: Don't feel so down-hearted about your radical new dealing Rainey's defeat. After all, if you can't take it, quit. The kind of stuff you printed on Jester ought to be outlawed by the State libel laws. Also, we wonder what happened to H. B. Fox, editor of the Granger News, following the election. Fox sent out many columns of publicity for Homer Rainey before the first primary and tried to fool his brother editors into believing he was "best writer this side of New York." Phooey.—Lorenzo Tribune.

Also, the saw manufacturer up at Denison who sent us the doctor's sermons printed on the front page of his saw house organ for months before the campaign opened, what became of his Saw News?

Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord Ashenbeck, of Maryland, are here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Ashenbeck.

Wayne Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Rogers, has been promoted to Cpl. and has been transferred to the photograph dept. at Camp Lee, Va.

many more years. Pappy John was here and as lively as a cricket when we landed here 37 years ago. He is still active for a man of his age, yet he came out here from east Texas because he could live only a short time, his doctors told him. But he recovered. He not only has been a great help in the Methodist church, but the schools, clubs and society in general, and his good advice has been sought by old and young, and it has always been good.

Brownfield has been blessed with many fine citizens, some of which we still miss, although gone from us for some time. To just mention two, take Uncle Jimmie Green and Cam Sears. They are missed badly because they were seen on the streets day after day, and they always had a cheery word for every one.

Then there was some of the old pioneer ladies, whose hands prepared our great picnic feasts in the early days, and who ministered to the sick before there were any hospitals and nurses, and who comforted the bereaved. Those ladies will never be forgotten by we who were here in the early days.

Yes, it is hard to give up these old friends, but we who have a hope in the hereafter can believe that they are resting from their labors, and we know that their works do follow them.

Who Deserves Your - - ADVERTISING DOLLARS

Generally speaking the merchants and business men of Brownfield are all good advertisers, but some seem to think that other kinds of advertising is the best. Here is just a few things for such people to ponder and figure out for themselves.

1st. Is it your newspaper that boosts for your county and your community, year in and year out; tells of your crops and your improvements, your aspirations and how your children are doing in school or college? OR IS IT THE BILLBOARD?

2nd. Is it your newspaper that tells the sad story of the departure of your loved ones, or your trials and tribulations in sickness, and about your neighbor's help? OR IS IT THE RADIO?

3rd. Is it your home town paper that tells the story of the wedding and many receptions of your son or daughter when they wed? OR IS IT A CIRCULAR?

4th. Is it the old home paper that tells about the fine stock of the community, the crops, the church, club and society news? OR IS IT THE SHOWS?

Yes, it is your business to spend your dollars in any advertising you like. But just suppose you didn't have a paper? And did you know that the newspapers of Brownfield have quite a heavy weekly payroll and that you get your share of it? It's practically all spent in Brownfield.

Mayor Appoints A Zoning Board

Under the zoning law recently adopted by the city, which restricts various sections to residents, or business only, and puts safeguards around it, a board is set up to adjust it, to hear complaints, and be a court of appeals, and in many instances they may, if they deem best, modify restrictions.

Persuant to the ordinance, Mayor Frank Jordan has appointed to this board, J. B. Knight, as chairman, J. J. Kendrick, D. S. Neal, James H. Dallas and Prentiss Walker, to serve for two years.

Jim Jackson was also appointed building inspector.

Decisions

Men and nations gain or lose by the quality of decisions they make. Founders of this remarkable republic made a wise decision long ago, in favor of personal self-reliance and individual government. America is great today because so many smart people were left free to do as much as they could, as well as they knew how, and gain as much of a reward for themselves as they were able.

Not all Americans are models of progress and success but they all have benefited more or less from the achievements of those who did have the immortal spark. You can't pick successful men before they try, but more men of outstanding talent are sure to come to light where everyone is allowed to do his best. A large number of thinkers at work always adds up to more for everybody.

Not Luck at All

People may orate about America's greatness coming from her vast natural resources. The resources exist all right but the redskins had them before Columbus came and didn't know the use of a wheel. Some people boast of this nation's blue-blood heritage. It was good. Our forebears, in large part, came from Europe. That was probably the smartest thing most of them ever did.

America's economic system is what made America great. It is a system of liberty giving every man the right to pick what he wants and go after it hammer-and-tongs, get it if he can and enjoy it to the extent of his capacity, so long as it does not trespass the rights of somebody else. It is a sprightly and dynamic economy, quickly adjustable to changing times and conditions.

What Developed?

Limitless opportunity and keen competition have borne a rich harvest. Our farmers live better than the peagee of some foreign lands. Our laborers have more than workers elsewhere ever have had at any time. America has 7% of the world's population and 80% of the world's automobiles. We send more children to high school and college than all the rest of the world combined.

During the last two years of World War II, from a started start in December, 1941, America made more war materials than all her allies and her foes put together. An American carpenter can buy more with his pay for a day's work than any other carpenter anywhere—2½ times as much as the carpenter in Germany or France. And the same goes in all trades; the butcher, the baker and the street-car conductor.

How It Works

Freedom of opportunity fires everybody to try; thus men of great genius come to light and the whole nation benefits. Then competition between men of special ability stimulates them to zealous effort in turning out products of excellence at fair prices to develop and hold profitable markets. This enables America's middle class to enjoy luxuries unknown to run-of-mine kings.

Mass production for volume sales demands fine and expensive tools. Buying this machinery calls for capital investment—averaging $6,000 per industrial job in the United States. The thing that made America great was a decision to be free: Free to work, free to think, free to earn, free to save and free to invest and make a profit. It is called Free Enterprise and it's too valuable to lose.

Bumper crops of apples, plums, peaches, and grapes are now available, giving homemakers an opportunity to have money on food bill by preserving these and other fruit and garden crops.

Among the foods that are expected to be plentiful in October are potatoes, onions, lemons, fall apples, pears, canned citrus juices, celery, and turkeys.

International food shipments required to maintain emergency diet in hunger-ridden countries during 1946-47 are expected to be smaller than for the last 12 months ending July 13.

Corn Is Still U. S. Top Crop

Schenectady — Of the four plants that are strictly American, corn dominates our agriculture, according to Jared van Wageningen, Jr., 75-year-old farmer, philosopher and writer of Lawyersville, N. Y. He spoke here over WGY on the General Electric Farm Paper of the Air Program.

"In the United States for every bushel of wheat we grow, we have three bushels of corn; and for every dollar that wheat brings, corn brings two dollars," Mr. van Wageningen pointed out. "Corn makes up 80 per cent of all the grain that goes into the production of meat. Most of the wheat is sold into the world markets, but 80 per cent of the corn never leaves the farm where it is grown."

Naming the four plants that America contributed to our farm economy, Mr. van Wageningen said: "One of these is the tomato, which only within the past 100 years has come into wide general use. Another was the potato, which on being taken to Europe promptly overran most of that continent and attained a more important place there than it has ever had with us. The third new introduction was tobacco. The last of the group, the plant which in importance far outranks all the others combined, is the imperial corn."

National Cotton Picking Contest Oct. 3

Blytheville, Ark. — Texas entries in the National Cotton Picking Contest here Oct. 3 will stand to "lose their citizenship in the Lone Star State" if they get beaten again this year, C. Hohn, state farm labor supervisor for Texas, has written contest officials.

"If the Texas boy lets a fellow from Arkansas beat him, he will never be able to come back to Texas," he wrote. "Please don't come and cry on my shoulder when the Texas boy walks off with the honors."

The contest, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Blytheville, has grown to nationwide prominence. It emphasizes quality picking. Hence, the person who picks the most cotton may not necessarily win first prize. Cleanliness of the cotton picked and the completeness with which the picker's row is stripped of all mature cotton are given equal credit with the total weight picked.

Last year, 154 persons entered the contest. This year, more than 300 are expected on the basis of entries already in, according to William Wyatt, contest chairman. Deadline for entrance is midnight, Oct. 2. The contest starts at 10 a. m. the next day and lasts two hours. There are $2500 in prizes, including awards for the best women pickers, although women are also eligible for the open contest.

"STOPPER" LAMP LIGHTED 1893 WORLD'S FAIR

To demonstrate the advantages of alternating current in transmitting electric power, George Westinghouse, who was born a hundred years ago this year, contracted to light Chicago's 1893 World's Fair. But rival stymied and with less than a year to go, Westinghouse invented a "stopper" lamp, built a factory to produce it, and completed the lighting task at a profit, even though his bid had been a million dollars below that of his rivals.

CUPID ON THE DOUBLE

George Westinghouse, who was born a hundred years ago this year, set a courtship record for the socially-staid Civil War era. The 20-year-old Westinghouse, about to launch his first company, met his future wife by chance on a train, told his family that night he was going to marry her, secured a formal introduction through his minister, and after a few "approval" visits to the family of Marguerite Erskine Walker married her on August 8, 1867, five months after their "chance" spring meeting.

Search For County Histories Is Urged

Dallas, (Special) — A search of bookshelves and attics for local histories and biographical compilations of Terry County was urged by Judge Tom L. McCullough, president of Dallas Historical Society, in announcing a Centennial-of-Statehood project for the Hall of State at Dallas.

"The reference library in this majestic, $1,200,000, state-owned shrine of Texas history wants a copy of every book, pamphlet, and special edition of newspapers dealing with the history of the county, and its towns, churches, families, and organizations," Judge McCullough declared, in inviting citizens of the county to participate in the search.

"The items sought are not available from book dealers, and many of them are long out of print. Only through the co-operation of citizens who are interested in the preservation and dissemination of the history of their county can the Hall of State hope to locate the desired materials," he pointed out. "In the Hall of State, the general public will have access to them for reference use."

Full information about available materials on the county should be sent to Director Herbert Gambrell, Hall of State, Dallas 1, Texas. He stresses that pamphlets, locally printed histories of all kinds, and anniversary editions of newspapers are especially desired.

A special exhibition of county histories will be shown in the Hall of State during the State Fair of Texas in October, if the response to this appeal should justify it. The Hall of State, in the center of the Fair Park, will be open daily to visitors, free of charge.

Food Handling Laws To Be Enforced

Because of the recent anxiety concerning outbreaks of polio and other diseases Dr. Frank P. Miller, Director of the South Plains Health Unit, requests that all persons considering entering cafe and grocery business consult the unit personnel for instructions concerning the State Laws and Rules and Regulations pertaining to the construction and operation of food establishments, including grocery stores, cafes and fountains.

For the past several months educational campaigns have been conducted among cafe, grocery store and fountain operators as extensive as limited personnel would permit. However, recent surveys have shown many violations of regulations and a tendency toward a disregard for regulations has been indicated by the fact that cafes and other establishments have been found in operation on a shoe string basis where the safe conduct of a food establishment was impossible because of the lack of proper housing, toilet facilities and sterilization equipment.

Since these items are of such great importance to the health of our public it becomes necessary that the change from education to enforcement on these violations will be effective in the future.

The director also points out to the general public that their cooperation in this matter by avoiding unclean food establishments and insisting that their food and drink be served in properly cleaned utensils will also be of benefit in the control of diseases known to be spread from unclean establishments. He also commends the operators of those places where cleanliness, safe food and clean utensils are evident.

Mr. and Mrs. Olan Herring and children spent the weekend visiting friends and relatives in Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Herring returned last week from Seannas, Missouri, where he had received medical treatment for a month.

Among those seen skating Saturday night were: Patsy Garner, Betty and Leroy Holmon, Mary Jo, Juanita and Tommy Hadaway, Farrell, Glenn, Victor and Yvonne Herring, Gertrude and Joe Brock, R. G. Nutt, Bill Lewis, Nathalene Golden, and Joyce and Doris Lewis.

The Health Nurse was visiting our school again Tuesday. She plans to vaccinate pupils for smallpox and diphtheria next Tuesday, Sept. 24. Those who have not yet been immunized for these diseases are requested to please see the health nurses next Tuesday.

Several good neighbors took their tractors last Tuesday afternoon and plowed Mrs. J. E. Young's crop for her.

The reporter thanks everyone in the community for their splendid support in contributing news. If you have any news please get it to the first grade on Monday of each week if possible. The news is sent in each Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Loy Lewis went to Levelland to meet their son, Craig, who is a student at Eastern New Mexico college. Victor Herring, who is also a student there, spent the weekend with homefolks. Mr. and Mrs. Victor B. Herring took them back to school Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Williams, of Brownfield, and Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Armstrong of Lubbock, spent the weekend in Cisco.

Messrs Glen Akers, Prentice Walker, Clovis Kendrick and Evert Latham spent several days at Possum Kingdom Dam, enjoying fishing.

HERE'S HOW THEY PICK IT

Vanguard of completely mechanized cotton farming, the four giant machines pictured above are typical of the more than 100 mechanical pickers which will aid in harvesting the crop in various sections of the Cotton Belt this fall. The National Cotton Council reports that one of the pickers can harvest more cotton in a few minutes than a hand picker would remove from the field in an entire day. Expanded use of machine pickers will be a big factor in lowering the cost of cotton production.

Beer Elections In Lubbock And Gaines

Elections will be held throughout both Lubbock and Gaines counties on October 5, to see whether or not beer will be sold in these counties. Both are dry at present, though Gaines county was wet up to about three years ago. Lubbock county has never allowed the sale of any alcoholic drink, legally.

We are hereby sticking out our chin, and you may take a swing if you like. You may differ from us both as to a guess or the way you might vote. Both counties will remain dry by at least 2 to 1 majority.

Major Wilson Banks Here On Visit

Got to see Major Wilson Banks just a few minutes one day last week. While his dad and mother are now making their home in Plainview, Wilson, being almost reared in Terry, near Gomez, just had to come "home." If our memory serves us aright, Wilson got into the air force prior to Pearl Harbor, and not only made himself very useful to Uncle Sam in other ways, but was a big help in training other air fighters.

But he is just the same, nice, jovial human that he was as a country farm boy, and now as a high officer in Uncle Sam's air forces. And he seems just as anxious to grin and grasp the hand of the old timer, and to meet the new comer to Terry. Major Banks is now located at March Field in California.

SHE'S NO SAD SACK!

Smiling, pretty Ann Kennedy of Jackson, Miss., wears a bathing suit made of feed sacks, and who could look nicer? Ann will start her first year this Fall at Mississippi State College for Women, where cotton will be popular in campus fashions.

Paul Hudson Says The Peas Ready To Pull

Paul Hudson of the Tokio community was in last week trying to get the Old He out to his farm to pick peas, as he announced he had 40 acres ready for harvest, and was looking for hands. We stalled by saying we had no sack. While he did not say so, we imagine that his peas are going to canneries.

Those lucky enough to get their peas up in June, and July, and Paul was one of them, now have a fair harvest ready, and will make some good clear money on them, as they are little trouble. Many, however, just lay in the dry ground until the big rains of late August came, and it is doubtful if they ever make.

By frost, however, the vines may be large enough that they will provide a kind of cover crop, and be fine for rejuvenating the soil for another crop. Thousands of acres of land lay idle in Terry this year, and will be rich next year. But Lord have mercy how many trillions of grass burs and what have you.

As stated in these columns last week, many thousands of acres of this fallow land will be seeded to wheat, either for winter pastures, or harvest next spring if seasons are right.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Wheat were in Lubbock Monday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. K. B. Sadler spent the weekend in Plainview. Mrs. Sadler's mother, Mrs. M. L. Wheeler, returned with them for a weeks visit.

Plains Section Gets A Heavy Rain

P. G. Stanford, Plains attorney, and who is always an optimist, come wet or dry years, was in Saturday, and informed us that they had a gully washer and trash mover over at Plains, Friday night. Brownfield got a little better than a third inch.

We noted after leaving Seagraves Sunday, that the rain of Friday night was much heavier toward and into Seminole. We understand the rain was also heavier west and northwest of Brownfield.

Farm Bureau To Fight Tractor Gas Tax

Waco, Texas, Sept. 13—J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, Friday came to the defense of the farmers of Texas by taking issue with Senator G. C. Morris of Greenville who was quoted in the press as advocating taxing of tractor gasoline to raise revenue for road building purposes when he appeared before the Texas Government Institute in session at Waco.

Ired over the Senator's statement that "farmers would relinquish their return on gasoline taxes if they were told that the money would be used to their betterment," the Farm Bureau president declared that farmers were becoming leary of "being told" by outside interests what is to their betterment and then being handed the bill to pay for it by being singled out for a special tax.

"It will not be a simple matter to tell farmers that it will be to their betterment to tax tractor gasoline," he said. "It is becoming a rather monotonous story with always the same ending—the farmer pays for building other highways while he stays in the mud. Farmers were 'told' that Texas would receive thirty million dollars of the federal appropriation to build farm-to-market roads, but in the final analysis the

Consumption Of Cotton Linters Show Increase

Austin — The consumption of both cotton and linters at Texas mills during July was considerably above the levels of June 1946 and July 1945, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

July cotton consumption of 17,567 running bales represented a 6.1 per cent gain over June, whereas the consumption of linters (2,502 bales) jumped 32.4 per cent from the previous month's figure. Compared with July 1945, cotton consumption was up 9.4 per cent this July, and consumption of linters was up 43.6 per cent.

Behind the Scenes in American Business

By John Craddock

NEW YORK, Sept. 16 — The strike of truck drivers last week blocked the flow of commerce in and out of New York City and threatened the food supply of nearly 10 million people in the metropolitan area. It focussed once again the attention of the nation on the crippling effect of strikes on business. Other strikes earlier this year in most of the basic industries stopped producing units for various periods, delayed delivery of many products which people needed and added substantially to business costs. There is little doubt but that labor unsettlement has been at least a contributing factor in the recent break in stock market prices. Business cannot close shop for a prolonged period without having an adverse effect on the nation's economy.

Neither can costs and prices rise steadily without running into the law of diminishing return. If out of the business recession which now seems to be forecast, management and labor can develop a formula for settling wage differences without work stoppages, they will have formed a basis for a new prosperity which would be fundamentally much sounder than that of recent years.

Not So Bad After All

Fort Sam Houston, Texas — In order to correct a misunderstanding on the part of the public which resulted from reports concerning venereal disease rates in the Army, Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright's Fourth Army headquarters today issued an explanation of the statistical method of reporting such cases.

For example, a report emanating from Frankfurt, Germany, on August 4 stated that the European Theater's venereal disease rate in July was the highest in the history of the American Army and that in the month more than one out of every four men in the occupation forces was infected with venereal disease. Both statements were incorrect.

The European Theater rate for July was reported as 287 per thousand per annum. This represents an incidence of one new case in 181 men per week rather than one in four. This is not the highest rate in the Army's history. The rate after World War I reached a level in Europe three times as high.

The sewing device consists of two electrodes between which a high-frequency electric current passes and bonds plastics with a seam as strong as the material itself. . . . BITS 'O BUSINESS — Perhaps the most important question in the minds of business men is whether commodity prices and eventually retail prices will decline following the drop in the stock market. Many people think they will not. Many people felt the same way after the first world war in 1920, so it might be a good idea to record what happened then. The stock market began to decline in November 1919. In May, 1920, (six months later) commodity prices reached a new high. However, they slumped sharply from that point. From $3.50 a bushel in May 1920, wheat dropped to $1.58 in November of that year; corn plummeted from $2.17 to 57 cents; cattle dropped from $19 a hundredweight to $12. . . . Washington prophets think meat price ceilings may be dropped by election day. . . . The unemployment insurance fund amounted to $5.7 billion at the end of July, which is a sharp contrast to the $980 million of 1940. Heavy payments into the fund during the high-wage war years account for the present high total.

It Keeps The Dogs Away

The other day someone gave us a book, and, not being disposed to look a gift-book between the covers, we took it home. It was a best seller, so we sat down in an easy chair and prepared for a comfortable evening's reading. Just then, Peggy, our spaniel, came into the room. Peggy is really a gentleman dog but our baby named him and so we let the name stick. Peggy came up and sniffed the book. What do you think he did? He clamped down his little tail, dropped his head and sneaked out of the room, stopping at the door just long enough to glance back out of the corner of his left eye with a reproachful look which said just as plainly as language: "Boss, I didn't think it of you!"

We opened the book and then understood what was the matter with Peggy. We took the book out in the back yard and threw it in the garbage can. We have been having a lot of trouble with that garbage can. The neighbors' dogs come over, nudge the top off and try to find something which is not too mature for a dog's appetite. It is an awful nuisance. They scatter the garbage about in a very discouraging way.

Now, however, we have no trouble with the garbage can. Our neighbors' dogs come over and advance with high tail until they get within about ten feet of the can, then they stop, take an unbelieving sniff, reverse ends and get out as though a mad tomcat were after them. We have given strict orders to the garbage man that he is to put the book back in the can to keep the dogs away.

Of course you don't believe this story, which is just as well since there isn't a word of truth in it, but no doubt you get the point.—Clip Sheet.

This information was released from the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas. Dallas led the state, with total permits of $2,899,377, followed by Austin, Fort Worth, San Antonio, and Houston—all of which issued permits in excess of $1,000,000 during July.

Third Of Cars In Dangerous Driving Condition

Austin — Approximately one out of every three cars on Texas' streets and highways is being operated with dangerous mechanical defects which are placing thousands of lives in jeopardy, it was announced today by the Texas Safety Association.

This condition was revealed by the Police Traffic Safety Check conducted from May 15 to June 30 under the direction of the International Association of Chiefs of Police. More than 38 thousand vehicles were examined by police in Texas. Of these, 37.2 per cent, more than one-third, had obvious and hazardous defects.

Faulty lights, both front and rear, accounted for approximately one-third of the total defects reported by type, and inadequate windshield wipers were the next commonest type.

A total of 38,565 vehicle checks, primarily of vehicles involved in traffic violations or accidents, were made. Of this number, 14,378 had one or more defects. The total number of defects reported by type was 29,249—almost one dangerous defect for every car examined.

Defects reported by type and the percentages of each to the total number of defects are:

Rear and stop lights, 4,654, 16 per cent; Front lights, 4,654, 16 per cent; Windshield Wipers, 4,087, 14 per cent; Brakes, 3,556, 12 per cent; Horns, 2,553, 9 per cent; Tires, 2,288, 8 per cent; Others 7,457, 25 per cent.

Other defects include obscured or broken glass, lack of rear vis-

Stevenson Quiet On U. S. Senate Race

Austin — Gov. Coke R. Stevenson believes it's too early to be talking about running for the United States Senate.

The governor remarked at his press conference that Mayor Gus Mauermann of San Antonio told him at a dinner there Tuesday night that he would make a good senator, and that the audience "elected" him.

Stevenson then was asked: "How about that Senate business in 1948?" and he replied: "It's entirely too early to talk about it. Very recent political history shows that it doesn't pay to announce too far in advance."

According to the Texas Safety Association, 219 persons have been killed by drinking drivers for the first six months of this year; 50 per cent of the drivers had no driver's license. If you drink, it's your own business. But if you drink and then drive an automobile, then it's everybody's business, says the Association. You may not care about your own life, but a lot of people care about theirs.

ion mirror, worn-out muffler, bad steering and other miscellaneous defects.

The most common listed reasons for police contacts with motorists in order of frequency, were as follows: speed, stop sign violations, accidents, signal light violations, right of way violations, improper signals and reckless driving.

The program had as its slogan, "Check Your Driving — Check Your Car—Check Accidents." Emphasis was deliberately placed on driving and stressed the necessity for keeping cars in top mechanical condition.

Under Texas Skies

Devoted to a better understanding of the Lone Star State
By A. Garland Adair, Vice-Chairman Centennial Commission

Vol. III Austin, Texas No. 2

RURAL DEVELOPMENT—GOAL OF CENTENNIAL

The future well-being of Texas is dependent primarily upon a sound economy and the happiness of our rural communities. The life of our rural communities must be attractive—economically, socially, spiritually, and physically, so that our people will be drawn to the land.

A most inspirational thought on behalf of the success of the Statehood movement was sounded recently when Lieut. Col. Wakefield remarked, "The Centennial Commission's well-thought-out plan of commemorating the Hundredth Anniversary of Texas as a State by recognizing in a practical way a generation of Texans who have acquitted themselves no less gloriously than the men of San Jacinto and the Alamo is most commendable."

Lt. Col. Paul L. Wakefield, Chief of the Veterans Personnel Division, State Selective Service Headquarters and Chairman of the Veterans Committee of the Board of Directors of the Texas Centennial of Statehood Commission. He was one of the three U.S.-Texas Centennial Commissioners for the 1936 Texas Centennial of Independence.

During World War II, Texas furnished some 800,000 servicemen and servicewomen to the various branches of the Armed Forces. As of August 1st this year 662,955 of these Texans had returned as veterans to their home communities throughout the state. If our farm and ranch communities are to be peopled by happy citizens, those communities must enjoy the modern conveniences and attractive features which the urban citizen now enjoys.

Correct Memorable Passage
The memorable passage is: "Cultivated mind is the guardian genius of Democracy, and while guided and controlled by virtue, the noblest attribute of man. It is the only dictator that freeman acknowledges, and the only security which freeman desires."

It was made by Mirabeau B. Lamar as the second elected President of the Republic of Texas in his first message to Congress in 1822.

Respectfully submitted,
(Signed) V. F. TAYLOR, Attorney,
Smithville, Texas.

Tech College Registers Over 5000 Students

Lubbock — Almost three thousand veterans, joining with other students from over the state and nation, sent enrollment figures soaring over the five thousand mark during registration last weekend at Texas Technological College, an increase of some 1800 over last spring.

Although school officials, student groups and civic leaders are making every effort to make residences available, hundreds of other prospective students did not enroll because they could not find rooms or apartments.

More than 150 veterans are living temporarily in barracks at Lubbock Army Air field, several miles west of town.

Incomplete registration figures show men students outnumbering women by a ratio of almost three to one.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

I been reminiscin'. Been trying to recall how bad things really were 20 or so years ago, like we hear so many pop-off that we don't ever want to go back to same. And summing up my deduction! I am in favor of going back. Back to when you could have a rasher of bacon with your corn-cakes—also maple syrup—also butter—also peace and tranquility versus raucous alley bands and wispy "economics" soapboxes.

The era of baloney, you might call today. They say how we should avoid the old kind of days. But we are still ailing and experimenting with bigger medicine—have a cure for every symptom. And our blood pressure keeps rising—like the taxes. And all the time, all we been needing to do is to go back to the old ways. Like up there in Toronto, a feller had a stiff neck and ringin' in his ears. The doctors took out his tonsils—then his teeth—then his appendix. He kept on having a stiff neck and ringing in his ears. Then, he happened to need a new shirt—he still had 3 bucks left. He asked for a size 16, but the shirt man said you need a 17—don't you know, he says, that a tight neckband will give you a stiff neck and ringin' in the ears. The gent took a 17 — started sleepin' nights again—charged his teeth and tonsils to experience.

COTTONSEED AT TEXAS MILLS SHOW INCREASE

Austin — Cottonseed received at mills in Texas during July 1946 was more than 40 times as much as the June 1946 figure, the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas reports. This figure was 25 per cent more than the corresponding figure for July 1945.

Stocks at the end of July 1946 were 392.9 per cent above the June 1946 figure; however they were 31.9 per cent less than in July 1945.

JO SERRA

Mr. and Mrs. George Bragg, both from pioneer Terry county families, but now living in Lubbock, where he is a prescription druggist, sent in their three bucks for another year of the Herald, this week.

Motorists, how about being honest with yourself and doing a little self-analysis of your own driving? The Texas Safety Association thinks it might help you to become a better and safer driver. Have you had several accidents since you've been driving a car? Do you frequently go on a fender bender? Have you had quite a few "lose shaves on the highway"? If so, who is to blame? It's probably your own fault. Good drivers don't get into tight places—they stay out of them! Remember — your driving record is your best credential.

How much energy does it take to move your foot a couple of inches and press that little button that dims the lights of your car? No; much—and that's why the Texas Safety Association wonders why there are so many drivers who fail to make that small effort for courtesy and safety on the highways. Always use the lower beam when meeting a car. Use it all the time in cities. Don't blind the other fellow. Show your brightness behind the wheel!

Retailers And The Black Market

The head of a large retail trade association recently wrote Paul Porter, the present OPA administrator pledging unqualified cooperation in controlling prices. One sentence in the letter said: "Now that the Congress has spoken, the job of all of us is to join in carrying out the law."

That has been the attitude of the vast majority of established retailers, chain and independent, since price control began. A great many of these retailers differ with provisions of the law and policies laid down by OPA. But, once the law goes on the books, they do everything possible to make it work.

All the talk about black markets has tended to cast an unjustified shadow over the retail industry. It is true that an enormous volume of goods moved through black market channels—and will continue to so move until supply catches up with demand. It is also true that a very small percentage of established retail stores were ever involved in the black market tie-up. The majority of these stores sold what goods they had at legal prices—and when they couldn't

Veterans' News

Officials in the Dallas Branch Office of the Veterans Administration are making strenuous efforts to help every disabled veteran seeking education to get into the crowded schools of the Southwest this fall.

All schools in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi have been contacted within recent days and urged by VA to give preference to disabled ex-soldiers when classes are enrolled late in September.

General Bradley, Veterans Administrator, has taken a personal interest in helping disabled veterans to finish their schooling and has directed that every resource to this end be used.

A list of schools in the Southwest which have indicated they are able to give preference to disabled veterans is now being compiled by VA.

Nearly 10,000 disabled veterans of Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi were in training or enrolled in schools at the beginning of August. This is more than seven times the total number—1,252—enrolled a year ago.

VA's loan guarantee officers had some words of advice this week for veterans who want to start small businesses on a GI loan. One experienced loan officer summed it up this way—

"If you are thinking about going into business for yourself, Mr. Veteran, walk—don't run—to your bank or lending agency for that GI loan. And before that—think things out carefully.

"There are many indications that this is an especially good time to start a small business, and it is understandable that many veterans should want to start right now.

"The G. I. Bill made it relatively easy for them to get capital. But it takes more than capital to make a success of a small business. It takes experience, good judgement, and a lot of hard work.

"There is always an element of risk. A large percentage of small business fail within a year. In most cases, that is due to lack of preparation on the part of the new owners.

"Veterans should get the advice of trusted and experienced business men before such a venture. They may give you valuable advice.

"Bear in mind that this loan benefit is available to veterans for ten years from the official end of the war. And that date hasn't been set as yet."

NEGRO LEGION POST GETS CHARTER

Sixteen Negro ex-servicemen were named charter members of a newly organized American Legion post in ceremonies held in the Allen-Houston hall here Wednesday night.

The charter was presented under the sponsorship of the Allen-Houston post by R. L. Price, local service officer, and 19th district vice commander, T. B. Garnett, Negro commander, accepted the charter for the new organization.—Dawson County Courer.

Former tenants, laborers and sharecroppers who are buying farms with Farm Security Administration loans are 59 per cent ahead of schedule in their payments.

GI Question And Answer Department

Q. What amount of guaranty may be issued on behalf of any one eligible veteran?

A. Up to $4,000 on real estate or up to $2,000 on personal property or business loans, and not more than 50 per cent of any loan may be guaranteed.

Q. If part of the guaranty has been used, how is the remaining guaranty computed?

A. To compute the used guaranty, subtract the amount of realty loan from $4,000. The sum remaining is the amount of realty guaranty available, or half that amount is the sum of personal property or business loan guaranty available.

Q. Are there any circumstances under which the guaranty may exceed 50 per cent of the loan?

A. Yes. Where a Federal Agency has made or is to make a guaranteed or insured loan for any of the eligible purposes, and the veteran needs a fully guaranteed second loan. This second loan may be fully guaranteed if—

(a) the amount involved is not in excess of the veteran's available guarantee, and

(b) the loan is not in excess of 20 per cent of the purchase price or cost.

Q. May several veterans use the guaranty to acquire property jointly?

A. Yes, but the total amount guaranteed may not exceed 50 per cent of the loan or the total entitlement for guaranty of the veterans, whichever is lesser. No loan may be guaranteed to exceed 50 per cent except a loan secondary to one made, guaranteed or insured by a Federal Agency.

Q. May a lender require security, in addition to the property being purchased, if the lender is not satisfied with the loan without additional security?

A. Yes. This is a matter between the veteran and the lender. The VA does not object to its being given if the veteran is willing to give it.

Q. Is the guaranty or insurance privilege of a veteran restored to its original amount when the in-

Outstanding Service By Alcoholics Anonymous

There are today about 12,000 Alcoholics Anonymous. The oldest, in point of membership, have been sober eight to ten years. Of those sincerely wishing to stop drinking, about 50 per cent did so at once. About 25 per cent stopped after a few relapses. Most of the other members have improved.

There are no membership requirements, no fees, no dues, no positions taken on controversial questions, no evangelism.

Alcoholics Anonymous is a synthetic idea embodying nothing new. It has adopted wholly the principles of both medicine and religion.

But the members, as healers, have one great advantage. They are drinkers who have recovered. A drunkard meeting one of the A. A. members for the first time in years thinks himself understood. For the first time he feels safe. This, the spokesman declared, is the advantage that the A. A. members have over doctors and clergymen.

The drinker who wants to reform is told both the medical and the religious side of the reasons.—From a report to the Medical Society of the State of New York, May 9, 1944.

A Warning About Scarlet Fever

Austin — The State Department of Health has just issued a warning in regard to scarlet fever, as the number of cases usually increases during the fall months. The majority of deaths from this disease occur from October through February.

Scarlet fever is a very contagious and serious disease. Grown people may contract it, but children under 15 years are especially apt to have it, if exposed. It is especially dangerous for children under 5 years, and Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, warns mothers to "not let your children take any chances with scarlet fever. Call the doctor as soon as the first symptoms appear."

If your children has contracted scarlet fever, the first signs you may notice are that he seems tired, restless and out of sorts. Usually, there is a sore throat, chills, vomiting, or convulsions and fever. His skin is dry and hot. His tongue is furred, and, under this white covering, it is red and swollen. In ordinary cases, these early signs are followed in a day or two by a rash. Little flat red points, close together, appear first on the neck and chest and soon the rash, very red in color, spreads over most of the body.

The doctor is required by law to report the case to the local health officer. Do your part by following carefully the quarantine instructions which the health officer will give you, since a severe or fatal case of scarlet fever may develop from contact with some one who has only a light attack. Children who have had scarlet fever, or who have been exposed, must not return to school until permission is given by the health officer and physician.

BAND NEWS

The band is showing some splendid work this week. We are getting a snappy routine for the football game coming up Friday. The band did not play for the game last Friday, because of the rain, but it did march at the half.

We hope to have a good program worked up for the game this coming Friday with Midland. It will be quiet a surprise for the people if we pull it off good. We will have many hand stunts worked up for the games we will play for this season. We are still working hard and trying to get in better marching shape. We are going to try to have some forty or forty-two marching this week.

We had a band concert Saturday on the band stand. It seemed to be a success as far as the music went. We will have one more Saturday concert this year, but you will hear lots from the band at the football games and elsewhere.

Our high school orchestra is needing a vocalist. Anyone who wishes to try out for vocalist may come up and pick out the song you wish to sing in the tryout. We may play a concert in the bandstand one more week. The orchestra will play for assembly and other places over the country this year. Before long we should have a snappy band and also orchestra.—Reporter.

Our "Nationalized" Coal Industry

Harold L. Ickes, who was Secretary of the Interior during the Roosevelt administrations and is now a newspaper columnist, recently wrote a trenchant article on the coal situation. In it, he said: "The Congress has never passed a bill looking to the nationalization of the coal industry and the people have never even considered such a policy. But it makes no difference to John L. Lewis, thanks to whose influence we have in effect nationalized the coal industry . . .

"It does not seem to bother him that, as a result of the settlement of the last coal strike, the price of bituminous has gone up from 58 cents to $1.40 a ton, while anthracite, which is burned almost exclusively in the homes, will cost the consumer nearly $1.25 a ton more."

Mr. Ickes then wrote a brief history of the coal dispute, and concluded: "His (Mr. Lewis') demands upon the coal operators will be more exorbitant than ever. "All of which means that the operators, and hence the consumers, will have to pay through the nose . . ."

This of course has been done in the hallowed name of gains for labor. The beating the consumer takes is never mentioned by Mr. Lewis or other members of the top labor hierarchy. Nor is the fact that once coal prices are forced to a certain level, coal will be unable to compete with other forms of energy such as oil and gas. Then the major users of coal will employ a cheaper substitute—and the breadlines will begin to form in the mining states.

Here is an issue that goes far beyond what happens to the coal industry. It directly affects the very foundation of our form of government. It is tied in inextricably with the problem of inflation and dollar depreciation. On those grounds, a good many Americans will agree with the Portland Oregonian when it said, in an editorial commenting on Mr. Ickes' column "Consumers . . . are going to pay through the nose to keep the coal mines in operation—unless government reverses horse and rider and puts a bridle on Mr. Lewis for a change."

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank everyone from the depth of our hearts for the liberal donations, and for every kindness shown in this our time of sickness and need. May God bless you richly.

At present he is at Nederland, where he is manager of the 5 & 10 cent store.

TENSENESS IN TRIESTE . . . The politically tense situation in Trieste, bone of contention between Italians and Yugoslavs, snapped when a hand grenade explosion put a period to pro-Italy demonstration protesting international administration of the disputed zone. Ten persons were wounded in the explosion. The photograph was snapped at the height of the turmoil, as a policeman tried to subdue one of the demonstrators.
