

MEMORIAL PLAQUE TO WAR DEAD DEDICATED HERE MONDAY

In special ceremonies conducted last Monday afternoon, Armistice Day, by the American Legion and joined in by many citizens in the Court yard, the Bronze Memorial Plaque, with the names of Terry County boys who lost their lives in World War I and II, was dedicated to their memory.

County Judge H. R. Winston acted as Master of Ceremonies. H. B. Virgil Crawford read their names and delivered the address. The Rotary Quartette sang two numbers. Taps was sounded, with Larry Miller the bugler. The flag was lowered in traditional manner.

The plaque, sponsored by the American Legion, and procured by public subscription, to be erected soon in a permanent place in the court house corridor, is as follows:

"This Memorial, dedicated by the citizens of Terry County, Texas, to perpetuate the memory of our valiant defenders of freedom, who made the supreme sacrifice, in World War I and II."

World War I, Birney B. Brown, Emmett Horton, Roy Cardwell, William G. Howard, Alonzo C. Dumas, J. H. Posey.

World War II, Earnest R. Austin, Buster Cook, Cecil B. Brown, Clifford L. Bruce, Charles D. Bowden, James M. Burleson, W. C. Bumgardner Jr., Irby C. Carrigill, Deluvino M. Chaves, Robert C. Cox Jr., Alvis B. Clemmer, Loran V. Davidson, Jess William Dooley, Miles E. Evans, Allen S. Freeman, David C. Gray, James H. German, Arvel J. Glover, Mariano A. Rev. Huckabee Reports On Conference is to be the subject of Rev. Huckabee's sermon for Sunday morning at the First Methodist church. In commenting on this sermon subject Rev. Huckabee said, "We try to be practical and help serve the needs of the people of our church and community to the best of our knowledge and ability. Some confusion doubtless exists in the minds of some as to the gospel we preach and 'Another Gospel.' This time, at least, we hope to make the message plain.

"The recent conference at Pampa adopted goals for the short seven months year, which, when translated into terms of the Brownfield church mean:

1. 50% increase in church attendance.
2. 10% increase in Sunday School enrollment and attendance.
3. 23 additions to the church on profession of faith and 32 by certificate.
4. 72 sign cards as proportionate givers, 36 of whom shall agree to tithe.
5. An increase of 20% in the total contributions to religion and the work of the church.

How do the above goals translate into terms of the Gospel preached by Paul and Christ? This question we will attempt to answer Sunday morning, Sunday evening at 7:30 there is to be a gospel sing-song and a short earnest sermon. You are invited. The stewards are to meet and plan and organize for the new year's work on next Wednesday evening in Fellowship Hall."

Rev. and Mrs. S. M. Duncann, formerly of the Owenwood Methodist Church in Dallas, spent Sunday night as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Dickson, of Gomez, enroute to their new pastorate in Littlefield.

Christmas Seal Sale Opens Nov. 25

The 40th annual Christmas Seal Sale will open Monday, Nov. 25, and will continue until Dec. 25. Funds raised through the sale of Seals will be used to support the tuberculosis control programs of the 2,900 associations affiliated with the National Tuberculosis Association.

These voluntary associations are located in every state, the District of Columbia and U. S. territories and are carrying on programs planned to meet the specific needs in their area.

Of the money raised in the 1946 Seal Sale, 95 per cent will be spent in the state where it was contributed and five per cent will be sent to the National Association to support the services which it performs on a nationwide basis to further the campaign against the disease.

Many See New Kaiser, Frazer Cars

Several hundred people called last Saturday at the Terry County Motor Company on West Broadway to see the new Frazer and Kaiser Specials on display there. While somewhat similar in appearance, the Frazer has more luxurious appointments and sells for a slightly higher price. It is widely believed that Kaiser will at a later date place a lighter car in the low-price field.

Terry Redford, local dealer, plans to put his parts and service departments in operation at the earliest possible date.

Roy Furr Loses Father

At this very late moment, we take this means of expressing our regrets and sympathy to Mr. Roy Furr of Lubbock, over the loss of his father in Amarillo, recently. His death came after the issue of the first, and with the first of the month rush, was forgotten last week.

Mr. Furr started in the grocery business in a modest way over on the Denver railroad many years ago, began to spread, and the Furr stores, with several in both Amarillo and Lubbock, and others scattered over northwest Texas, one being in Brownfield.

Arnett Bynum Making A Good Grain Crop

Arnett Bynum, who is farming the old Bynum place just north-east of the city, announced last week that he is making a good grain crop on the place this year, and that while the hog population is smaller on the place, he is still in the business.

He has sold all those large brood sows that looked like small cows, replacing them with younger and smaller brood sows. Arnett stated that with high priced grain, the large ones were consuming so much, that they did not produce enough pigs to pay off. And they had to be petted and pampered like children, almost.

Teague Motor Co. In New Location

The Teague Motor Company, De Soto-Plymouth dealers, are now in their new location at Broadway and Seventh. This is the former location of the Ross Motor Company. Sammy Teague, owner, states he is very well pleased to be so much better situated than formerly.

The Teague Motor Company has a nice stock of De Soto parts and a well-staffed service department.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gibson, Jr., of Odessa, spent the weekend here visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Sullivan and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gibson, Sr., and friends. Mr. Gibson is recuperating from a serious case of tonsillitis.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Huddleston were in Levelland Sunday to visit Mr. Huddleston's brother's wife, Mrs. A. H. Huddleston, who is a patient in the Levelland hospital.

Winston Reports On W. T. C. C. Meeting

Judge H. R. Winston attended the annual meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, at Abilene, last week, which was represented by 3,000 delegates from all of West Texas. The purpose of the meeting was to outline goals for the coming year, principally legislative.

Winston, who addressed the meeting, reports quite a skirmish over the proposition of repealing the 4c gasoline tax refund to non-highway users, mostly farmers, and to set up a separate State agency to take this money, several million dollars, prorate to lateral roads, rural schools, and soil conservation, laudable purposes. But he points out that 70 per cent of the refund is made to West Texas, and a greater part of this to the South Plains area, because of such extensive tractor farming, as against the mule power of small East Texas farms, hence, like the road bond assumption, would be a tax on West Texans to support East Texas roads and schools, etc. Until we get redistricting that section, as usual, control legislation. However on a final vote, the delegates voted it down, by 2642 to 368. Every county on the Plains, and deep west Texas voted against it, except Dawson.

The meeting also voted to re-allocate the funds derived from State school lands, giving the University and A. & M. 40 per cent, and the balance to be divided equally among all other State schools. As it is now the University of Texas get two-thirds and A. & M. one-third of these funds amounting to many millions annually. As a result of oil development on these lands in West Texas, the University now has the largest permanent fund of any school in the nation. Though these two schools receive millions annually from oil revenues, still each legislature appropriates over two million dollars to each, and less than one million to Texas Tech, a west Texas college of the same rank.

Winston also stated they had the help of the State and Interstate airways people, who also "don't use the highways."

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Redford were in Amarillo Thursday of last week to get their first Frazer car. It is on display at the Terry County Motor Co.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Finley, of Floydada, Mrs. Herman Chesshir and Mrs. D. C. Flowers spent the Armistice holiday in the home of Mrs. C. W. Avari, of Meadow.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Gore spent the weekend in Decatur visiting friends and relatives.

Stanolind Pipelines Being Extended

Officials of the Stanolind Pipeline Co., serving west Texas and Oklahoma, with district headquarters here, announced many extensions of their line for both crude and refined products is now under way. They now have a 16 inch line from the Slaughter and Wasson fields to Drumwright, Oklahoma, and are soon to extend this line to accommodate various fields in Gaines, Andrews, Ector and Winkler counties. They have under construction a 20-inch line from Drumwright, Okla., to Whiting, Indiana, and expect early next year to extend finished products lines to St. Paul and Minneapolis, as well as other laterals from Wyoming and Colorado fields. Their line to Whiting, Ind., will soon have a capacity of 250,000 barrels daily. Their lines are soon to carry 35,000 barrels daily from west Texas fields.

The West Texas headquarters here, in the Brownfield State Bank building, is headed by Manager P. L. Chapman, and about 100 employees in this district.

Cubs Meet Pampa In Final Home Game

With the loser doomed to the District 1-AA cellar, Saturday afternoon will find the Brownfield Cubs and the Pampa Harvesters slugging it out, each endeavoring to shove the other into that unenviable position. Game is called for 2:30 P. M.

While the Cubs have been winless all season, no one can truthfully say that they have been "licked." For the most part, they have looked good even in defeat. Their poorest showing was against the Levelland Lobos. Had the team broken into the win column more often, no doubt several Cub linemen would be strong contenders for all-state honors.

The Harvesters have been a more or less "in-and-out" team all season. Losing heavily to a strong Borger team, they bounced back and fought the rugged Fort Worth North Side Steers to a standstill, being nosed out by only one point. Rumors from the Pampa camp have it that several Harvesters are on the injured list, but they nevertheless will be able to field a strong team.

Tickets for the game are now on sale at the court house lobby. A number of choice seats are still available.

Mr. and Mrs. Buster Jenkins and Miss LaVerne Watson spent the weekend in Carlsbad.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ferguson and children, Betty and Bobby, spent the weekend and holiday in Austin visiting Mrs. Ferguson's mother, Mrs. Myrtle Gerst.

Here And There Out California Way

Evidently they have some Texans or Old South people around Glendale, Arizona, who still like their Brown Mule tobacco. Walter Holden ran a grocery for some time here, until he sold out recently. He says one guy bought 25 pound of BM from them, and Walter declared it was as hard as a flint as it had been in stock for years. The buyer either had good teeth, or soaked the plugs in the hoss trough.

While down at Tijauna, we saw Bing Crosby's race track, but didn't see any of his "plugs" his fellow comedians rib him to much about. Also saw what was said to be the longest bar in the world—a block long—but there was plenty of room at the bar the day we were there. We imagine their heavy run is at night.

The wife stood in a line for the first time in her life one day at Redlands—for the novelty, she said. We have an idea she thought it was a nylon line, but it turned out to be a meat line, and she got a huge roast which suited the rest of us better than nylons.

The last time we visited the Wilson ranch over at Hemet, late afternoon Bill and Jessie carried us over to the natural mountain amphitheatre where Ramona is staged each year the last of April and the first of May. The little cities of Hemet and San Jacinto are co-sponsors of this show each year. It is well seated with concrete seats, and has a large stage, and a big parking ground nearby where thousands of people can be cared for. The Wilsons of course have seen the play many times, but they say they get a real thrill each time they see it, as local people play all parts, Anglo-Americans, Spanish and Indians. Those who read fiction will remember that the story was written by Helen Hunt Jackson. Those in our crowd soon found the acoustics to be fine, as one sitting 50 yards from the huge stage can distinctly hear every word said in ordinary tone on the stage. The thrilling part comes when the Indians in full war paint rise from every rock on the mountain side and charge the white settlement. Ramona is a must with us if we are ever out there at that time of year. The play is staged in the afternoons, and Hemet and San Jacinto high school boys and girls play the parts.

One Sunday afternoon, a trip was made to Mission Inn at Riverside. This is a hotel and museum all under one roof, some three or four stories high and covers an entire block. There are exhibits of rare articles from every country on earth, we guess, that cost mil-

County Ag. Committee To Hold Election

Farmers in Terry County will receive notices within the next few days about annual elections of community and county farmer-committees, Mr. Pearce Warren, chairman of the County Agricultural Committee, stated.

Each of the county's ten farming communities will elect three committeemen and two alternates, as well as a delegate to the county convention where a three man county committee will be elected.

Mr. Warren said that approximately 1500 farmers are eligible to vote in the elections this year. Eligible farmers are those who are participating in the 1946 Agricultural Conservation Program or who have a contract with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation. This includes owners, operators, tenants, and sharecroppers on farms where the conservation or the sugar program is being carried out. Because of the community property laws in Texas, the wife may vote if the husband is eligible whether he be landlord, tenant or sharecropper.

In announcing the elections, Mr. Warren urged that all farmers who are entitled to go to the polling places in the community and vote. Since the committeemen are responsible for developing, adapting, and administering national farm programs to meet local problems and needs, it is important that the men elected really represent the choice of the majority of the farmers in the community.

The voting procedure has been changed this year in that farmers will be mailed a ballot which he may return to the county office before the election day.

The county and community committeemen will meet Friday, Nov. 15, and the election place and date will be set, also a nominating committee will be selected who will in turn select the names to be placed on the ballot in each community.

Ross Motor Company Expanding

Immediately after moving into his new location at the corner of Broadway and Eighth, C. E. Ross, owner of the Ross Motor Company, started construction of a 50x80 foot tile and stucco addition to his new 60x100 foot building. The addition will house the implement department.

Ross is dealer for Pontiac cars and GMC trucks as well as Minneapolis-Moline farm implements. He has an extensive line of parts and an excellent service department.

lions of dollars, and you would have to be a sight more youthful and sry that the Old He to do that place in one afternoon or several of them. A lady leads the way and lectures in the most important halls about what it contains, and as it is a run-and-go crowd following her, you may fall by the wayside, and find yourself lost in the corridors and halls. But one thing the people of Riverside and Riverside county don't like, is that the place has never paid one cent state or county taxes, although it has a guest section that is always full. It seems that under California laws as long as a building is under construction it cannot be taxed, and the owners claim that they are building something each year—and probably are.

Very few of us like to think too much about a cemetery. That's about the last place most of us wish to land. But Redlands has the prettiest cemetery way up on a level ledge in the mountains that we ever laid eyes on. The sexton or caretakers and landscapers who planned and laid out that cemetery, had an eye for the beautiful. It outshines the imagination of the painter. In our life we have seen many well kept cemeteries, including several national and many hundreds of pri-

Emergency Loans To Be Made To Farmers

Terry County farmers who are unable to obtain operating loans from local banks, cooperative lending agencies or other responsible sources in their communities may seek assistance from the Federal government through the recently created Farmers' Home Administration, according to Dennis Q. Lilly, supervisor for FHA.

FHA combines in one agency the functions formerly carried on by the Farm Security Administration and the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Division of the Farm Credit Administration, Mr. Lilly said. It assumed responsibility for their programs on November 1.

The new agency's facilities are available only to farmers who are unable to obtain financing at interest rates not exceeding five percent from banks and other lending agencies in their communities. Eligibility of applicants is passed upon by a local committee of Terry County Farmers, who certify, among other things, that the applicant is not able to obtain credit elsewhere.

The production and subsistence loans made by the Farmers' Home Administration are of two types, Mr. Lilly said annual loans and adjustment-type loans.

Adjustment-type loans are similar to the "rehabilitation" loans formerly made by the Farm Security Administration. They are based on improved farm and home management plans worked out jointly by the borrower family and FHA supervisors. These plans call for home production of feed and of the family living as nearly as possible; for several sources of cash income for the farm, and improved soil conservation practices and the best land utilization. The loans may be made for farm operations, for purchase of additional livestock and modern tools and equipment for the farmer, and canning or other needed equipment for the farm home—in fact for anything needed to put the farm and home plan into operation. The loans are accompanied by on-the-farm assistance in farm and home management problems provided by FHA supervisors. Repayment may be made over a period of up to five years.

Annual loans are operating loans made without a farm and home management plan, but must be repaid within 12 months. They are similar to the type of loans formerly made by the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Division of the Farm Credit Administration.

The loans bear five percent interest. Borrowers indebted to the Farmers' Home Administration for five years may not obtain further credit until their indebtedness has been paid in full.

Editor Troy Morris of the Ropes Plainsman, was a pleasant caller at the Herald office the past weekend, but he failed to bring his Tomcat along with him. Sometimes we half suspect that Troy is spoofing the people about his smart tomcat. Perhaps the cat was out of hand as usual, and was not at home when Troy left.

Talking about asking President Truman to resign sounds just a bit silly to us. Twice in our memory two presidents have found themselves confronted with an opposition party congress, Woodrow Wilson and Herbert Hoover, and we sort of think the same happened under the administration of Grover Cleveland, but we were too young at that time to care or remember anything about it. But no one, Democrat or Republican, so far as we can remember asked either of these men to resign. When the Democratic convention at Chicago in 1944 nominated HST as the running mate of FDR, they felt pretty sure that FDR would not live out his term, and they were willing for Harry Truman to fill out that term or they would not have nominated him. And, conversely, had Dewey and Bricker been elected in 1944, no one would have thought but that Bricker could and would be able to fill out the unexpired term of Dewey had he died or resigned. The only trouble is, the Herald believes with the latter arrangement, Gov. Bricker was the stronger and better qualified man of the two for president, and that the Republicans therefore had the cart before the horse. But that was their funeral. But we have never heard of a succeeding vice-president being asked to resign when congress turned out itself. Silly boy!

Whatever else in the way of criticism you may have for the Brownfield Cubs, you can't accuse them of letting any team run up a big score on them. While they may feel a bit shy about approaching the other team's goal posts, they are very jealous of their own, and don't want the strangers monkeying around it.

Yea, Bo! the latest miner strike talk vs. the government is a hot potato, but the election is now over, and in two months another congress will take over. Right now the coal mines of the nation are being operated by the navy department. And both the government and Dictator John Lewis and his cohorts want the owners to take over. But the owners don't seem to want them, just yet. Frankly the owners know that Lewis' miners will strike the moment the owners take over, and with a big increase in wages following, and another hike or two in the price of coal, the owners are too well aware what will happen. They are smart enough to figure that coal can get just so high, and then people will install oil or gas heating arrangements just as fast as they can. At that point, the miners will have killed their goose that has laid their golden egg.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer down Austin way, sent out some advice to hunters. When we began reading the article, we felt sure that he was going to advise the inexperienced hunter from the cities not to shoot at just anything they saw move in the brush, as it might be a cow, hog, sheep, goat or horse — maybe a mere man. But it was about ticks that you might contact on your hunt. He advised that they immediately be removed, gently but firmly, (so as not so squ-oosh them) and get yourself all hot and bothered with tick fever. After carefully reading the article we just wondered if any hunter was so enthused in his hunting as to let a seed tick gnaw on him until the hunting season was over? Local hunters are hereby handed this professional advice free of all charge.

During this year this editor has traveled quite a little bit, and in these rambles we have visited the gulf coast of our own state; got within 200 miles of the Atlantic coast in North Carolina, and of late to the Pacific coast. During that time we have tried at state highway headquarters as well as filling stations and received many maps of various states, but none compare to the Texas State Highway Department map. And while we are about it, let us also state that no state we have visited compare with Texas in marking highways so the stranger may easily follow them—not even California, and we'll have to admit it stands about second.

BIG CLASS FRESHMEN

Laborers leaders of Texas should beware. In the last session of the legislature a drastic anti-labor constitutional amendment was proposed. Sixty members of the House voted against the amend. These were branded as CIO friends. Probably the accusation was unjust to some extent, as many people do not wish to see the state take an anti-union stand unless it is absolutely forced to do so. It is interesting to note that of the 60 who voted against the amendment, 20 did not run for re-election, and 24 were defeated at the polls. This leaves only a few of the original pro-union legislators to carry on the fight. The amendment will be proposed again in January. There are 83 new members of the House. This makes a clear majority of the 150 who are without legislative experience. Some of these members were elected on an anti-union platform. Some were elected by a strong labor vote. This all adds up to the fact that the people are getting pretty fed up on the numerous strikes, and labor may pay a terrible price for its arrogance. —Canyon News.

Petrillo has a new racket. In order to have music at funerals in cities, where he controls musicians, the family of the deceased must pay a standby fee for union musicians, whether the union musicians are used or not. We are very, very grateful that our lot was cast in a small town where people have the right to do rational things without the interference of union racketeers. This racket of Petrillo is the worst form of graft that we have yet seen. Under the petting of the Roosevelt and Truman administrations the labor bosses can do as they please and there is no one to put a stop to their unreasonable demands. Just fancy, if you please, a funeral in Canyon the family of the deceased having to pay tribute to a little fat squab like Petrillo, and there being on one in the whole nation to protect them from this unjustifiable racket! —Canyon News.

Behind the Scenes in American Business

— By Reynolds Knight —

NEW YORK, Nov. 11—One of the bright spots in the present business picture is the unfilled demand for durable goods and the necessity for new home construction. The steel industry, now operating at 91½ per cent of capacity, reflects the heavy demand for automobiles, refrigerators and other so-called durable goods. Officials estimate that the steel industry will not catch up with demand until about the middle of 1947. Home construction still has much ground to cover. Just what effect high prices will have on demand is problematical. Some economists think that durable goods purchases will be limited by the high prices, but others believe a sufficient market exists, even at present price levels to absorb production for some months. They point out that the automobile industry in its best prewar year sold only 5,000,000 new automobiles, or one for every 26 people in the country.

AIR CONDITIONING—Southern textile mills, pushing forward a modernization and expansion program involving approximately $200,000,000 next year will make the heaviest investments in air conditioning equipment ever made by the industry in a single year. "Leaders in the industry realize that they must prepare for a period of keen competition after the end of the sellers' market," Haines explains. "The day of guesswork in operations is over. Experience has proved to mill operators that they can step up production efficiency by holding humidity and temperature at precise levels and progressive owners are using this means of reducing the margin of waste to the lowest possible level."

BITS O' BUSINESS—Meat decontamination appears to have been the signal for a general price decline in other foods. Meat prices in New York are now half what they were at the time of the Truman speech. Eggs are 15 cents a dozen cheaper; butter six to eight cents a pound less, cheese five cents lower, and fish is off ten per cent to 15 per cent . . . Manufacturers' inventories keep climbing. They are now nearly $19 billion, twice what they were in the prewar year of 1939 . . . Agriculture Department is combining dehydration and freezing of foods in west coast tests. Only half the moisture is removed from the food before it is frozen. It is said to preserve taste which suffered under the full dehydration process. The combined process is called "dehydrofreezing" . . . Reluctant buying is hitting the mail-order houses, which find their sales slumping at a time when they should be moving up with the early holiday trade.

GLYNNA FAYE ROSS AND RUFUS FRANKS EXCHANGE VOWS

On Wednesday evening, Nov. 6 at 6:30 P. M. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ross, their daughter, Glynna Faye became the bride of Rufus E. Franks, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Franks, Rev. A. A. Brian, assisted by Rev. A. J. Franks, brother of the groom, read the single ring ceremony.

Vows were exchanged before the fireplace which was decorated with white mums and fern, with tapers in floor candelabra, white mums in floor standards and palms flanking it. The candles were lighted by Miss Carolyn Harris and Mrs. Y. E. Douglas.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Frances Rambo sang, "Because" and Mrs. J. E. Smith played, "Roses of Picardy." Wagner's "Bridal Song from Lohengrin" was played as the wedding march and Liebestraum, by Liszt during the ceremony.

La Rue Ross was her sister's maid of honor and wore a blue wool dress with gold trim. Her corsage was white chrysanthemums.

J. E. Smith served as best man. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of winter white with gold trim and a halo of gold net in her hair. She wore brown accessories and carried a white Bible topped with pink camellias. For something old, she wore a cameo pin belonging to her mother's sister and something borrowed was a pair of gold earrings belonging to her sister, La Rue.

The bride's mother wore black with black accessories and a corsage of peach gladiolas.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony. A three tiered wedding cake, wreathed with small clusters of white chrysanthemums tied with white satin bows and flanked with white tapers in crystal holders centered the refreshment table, which was laid with a white cut-work cloth. An arrangement of white mums in a setting of white satin and wedding bells decorated the buffet.

Thirty-one guests including friends from Lubbock, registered in the bride's book.

After a short wedding trip to Ruidoso the couple will be at home in Brownfield for the present. For traveling the bride chose a suit of brown and aqua birds-eye sharkskin with brown accessories.

Mrs. Franks is a graduate of the Brownfield High School and

Coal For The World

A healthy American coal industry is important, not only to the United States, but to the welfare of the entire world. That is the story which recent export figures tell.

We have been shipping some 2,000,000 tons a month to other countries, and experts forecast that this foreign demand will last for seven or eight years. On only two previous occasions, when British miners were on strike, has so much of our coal been sent abroad.

Two factors are primarily responsible for the world's appetite for American coal. First, mines in the war zones are still below normal production. Second, the enormous job of rebuilding war-torn Europe demands an abnormally large supply.

On top of that, England, once a major coal exporter, is now shipping little outside her borders. Socialization of her coal industry, which was one of the first moves made by the Labor government when it came to power, has not increased coal output. Instead, production has tended to decline, miners are as dissatisfied as ever, and this "great experiment" has proven largely a failure.

So, as the world looks to America for much coal, conditions in our coal industry become a matter of international importance. Should ever-recurring labor difficulties damage coal production, many other countries will suffer. If we are to continue to produce enough coal for ourselves and others, the industry must be kept healthy and permitted to go ahead without governmental hindrance or shutdowns.

READ HERALD WANT ADS

A $38,000 Kit Of Tools

We all hear a great deal about the importance of the worker. It's time an occasional good word was uttered on the subject of the importance of the investor.

An advertisement recently run by a large California oil company casts an interesting light on the investor's role in our national life. Each employe of this oil company, the advertisement points out, has "a $38,000 kit of tools." In other words, that much money has been invested to keep each employe working in the company's offices, refineries, service stations, pipe lines, drilling rigs and so on.

That money was not furnished by a few enormously rich men, who receive a big annual return on their capital. It was, instead, furnished by 34,000 people called stockholders. These are the people who own the company—and who provide the tools. Their dividends, last year, averaged $137 per stockholder—which is hardly riches.

This oil company is typical of American industry in all fields. Some concerns are bigger and some are smaller—but practically all of them represent the combined savings of thousands or hundreds of thousands of ordinary, every-day Americans like yourself. These Americans are the real capitalists in this country—and that term includes every man with a bond, a share of stock, an insurance policy or a bank deposit.

High Prices No Friend Of Retailers

Retail distributors, through no fault of their own, have fallen into an unenviable position. Price controls have been largely abandoned. Dammed up rises in costs are now battering through the channels of production. Retailers have no choice but to let the flood move on to consumers. They are in the position of "personally" introducing the public to the tragic reality of inflation.

There are a few things in these tumultuous days that retailers hope the consumers will keep in sight. Probably most important is the fact that progressive retailers are opposed to rising prices as wholeheartedly as any one. Modern distributors operate on a high-volume, low-price basis. This is particularly true of chain stores which supply life's necessities to millions.

Another thing to remember is that in the long competition in the free market is the only sure road back to stability and plenty. The United States has a highly competitive retail distribution system. Chains, supermarkets, independents and others are working to get their share of the business. Under these circumstances resistance by retailers to unjustified price increases is automatic and relentless.

These favorable factors cannot control inflation. But they mean that consumers will get as fair a break as possible—far better than ever before under like conditions in the history of this or any other country.

Ship Ahoy
Up-stream from Niagara Falls a short distance, the weather-beaten hulk of a wrecked yacht lay for years in mid-channel. I saw it once, clinging precariously to the rough, stone river-bed while the swift current lashed violently at its decaying sides. A Canadian, native of Welland County, told me the story of the derelict, a thriller if I ever heard one, and worth repeating. Several miles up the river, this comfortable little craft rode at anchor one night in quiet water. The skipper and some guests were sleeping peacefully on board when, by some unexplained circumstance, the boat came loose from her moorings. Nobody waked for a long time. The boat drifted with the current, which was not fast at first but gradually gained speed as it neared the falls.

Start Investigation.
The keel was grinding on the nodulated rock bottom before the boat's unsteady motion roused any of the sleepers. Then they all got active at once. Most of them had no idea what to do first. Some actually began accusing one another and trying to fix the blame for losing the anchor—this, with the thundering cataract in plain hearing, destruction only a few seconds away.

The skipper was a man of action and presence of mind. While his guests suffered panic, he went below and blasted a hole in the hull with dynamite. The crippled craft took on water fast and settled to bottom in the swift stream. Then it lodged! Days like months passed before the handful of frightened people could be brought ashore but no lives were lost. Quick action saved them.

Paying the Price
Certainly the skipper loved his boat and hated to sacrifice it. He wished something might have waked him a mile up stream where life and property both could have been saved, but he paid the price of survival. America's ship of state is, this very day, drifting down a channel toward a cataract, the same channel through which Italy, Germany, France and England passed before us.

Numberless weak vessels have plunged helplessly over Niagara to a destruction nobody ever has lived to describe. Just so, many helpless peoples have been swept through revolution to dictatorship because they could not help themselves. Even recently England blasted the sturdy keel of a self-governing nation. The people are safe but their long-cherished liberty is damaged. Figuratively, England's freedom hangs precariously in rough current.

We Can Save All
The United States of America has drifted far but our engines are still in condition and the boat is not out of control. Still there is time for our leaders to save, not only our people from revolution, but the personal freedom our forefathers fled monarchs and despots to obtain and fought desperately to keep. The way to ruin is via central planning, government-management, -direction, -control, -ownership. Government ownership is full concentration of authority—a pretty name for despotism. The trend is unmistakable, the tragic course is familiar. It is time to turn back under power toward individual liberty: freedom of faith, freedom of speech, the right to own property and the right to buy and sell. While we have the only seaworthy yacht on the river, it's time for quick action.

Farm Income 53 Cents Per Hour in 1943

American farm operators in a recent year received an average net income of $2250, as compared with the $2543 in wages earned by workers in steel mills, according to figures released by the American Iron and Steel Institute and the United States Department of Agriculture. During the base year of 1943, workers in steel mills worked an average of approximately 2240 hours, while farm workers averaged more than 3900 hours during the same period. The farmers' income in 1943 figures out to an average of about 53 cents per hour of work, compared with slightly less than $1.14 per hour paid in the same year to the man working in a steel mill. The net income of about 5,400,000 farm operators was made possible by an investment in land, buildings, machinery and equipment in excess of $36,000,000,000, of which more than 3 billion dollars represents an investment in labor-saving machinery and equipment. Farm requirements for machinery and tractors are mounting and will approximate 736 million dollars in 1946, according to estimates.

An abundant turkey crop for 1946 promises that the nation will observe Thanksgiving in the established tradition. But not every family will dine on a gobbler chosen "on the hoof." Pretty Marlyss Pascoe, of Detroit, Mich., made use of her selection by driving her new Chevrolet out to Shady Valley Farms, one of the largest turkey farms in the country, where Orville M. Felmic assisted in the selection.

G.I.s SOLVE DENAZIFICATION PROBLEM . . . In the Bremen area of the American zone of occupation in Germany, where denazification is the top project of military officials, 10 American G.I.s, who fought the war the hard way, have come forth with their own denazification projection. Headed by Sgt. Patrick J. Moriarty, a red-headed Irishman from Shakopee, Minn., the G.I.s have formed an American youth club for German boys between the ages of 10 and 17. More than 3,000 applications from German boys were received.

Wellman 4-H Club Celebrates "Achievement Day"

In observance of National 4-H Club Achievement Week, November 2-10, members of the Wellman 4-H Clubs, accompanied by Mrs. Clyde Heafner, sponsor, Miss Helen Dunlap, County Home Demonstration Agent and Mrs. Addie Wade; visited as many girls as possible, last Tuesday. They especially tried to see the work of the girls whose demonstrations were not movable, such as gardens and poultry.

Linnie D. Hawkins, the garden demonstrator, showed some string beans gathered from vines she kept over from the summer. They are now bearing food for the table. Before leaving her home, Linnie D. was presented a silver medal by Miss Dunlap in recognition for her having received first place in her group, in the county dress revue last summer. This medal was a prize awarded by the American Viscose Corporation in cooperation with extension service.

Robbie Currie showed her forty-seven turkeys raised this year that are now almost ready for market. At the time she began the work last spring, she had four turkey hens. She and her grandmother sold part of the eggs as well as some of the young poult; besides raising this young flock. In addition to the turkeys, Robbie helped to raise a flock of white wyandotte chickens; thirty-five of which are her own.

Not only has Robbie helped to produce food, but she has assisted in the preservation of it as well.

She canned one bushel of pears by herself, in addition to sharing the work in all the fruit and vegetable canning done in the home this year.

Robbie has taken part in sewing for herself and the home. From feed sacks, she made kitchen curtains and a lunch cloth to match. With another sack she made an apron and later made a dress for a small child.

Beth Golden, a garden demonstrator, has had tomatoes from her garden all summer and fall. Last Tuesday, she showed the visitors a dish pan of them, which she gathered a few days before, fearing that frost would destroy them. Beth told the guests that she gave away tomatoes during the year, and once traded tomatoes for beans to can. She showed them eleven pints which she canned recently.

Since Margaret Phillips does not have space for very much garden, her work consisted mostly of canning and sewing. She made a pair of pajamas of plain-sacks and trimmed them with a figured sack. She helped her mother to plant a spring and fall garden on a plot of ground in the back yard. From the surplus and other vegetables and fruits obtained, she and her mother preserved one hundred quarts this summer.

Peggy Jones assisted her mother with all the home canning, besides learning to sew for herself and a younger sister. Although she is ten years old, and this is her first year as a club member, Peggy has made four garments for her sister and herself.

Patsy Ann Moore, eleven years of age, canned twenty-nine quarts of food all by herself, besides assisting with all the home canning. In sewing, she made six cotton dresses and renovated one. She made twelve pieces of household linens such as dresser scarfs and pillow slips.

Wanda Crews showed the visitors her fall garden consisting of turnips and string beans. They are serving these vegetables on their table every few days. She helped can one hundred quarts of fruits and vegetables and prepared forty chickens for the frozen food locker.

Juanice McBeth showed the girls a turnip patch that is now furnishing greens and fresh turnips for her family. She has a row of beans that furnish fresh string beans for the table. While Mrs. McBeth was in school during the summer, Juanice and her older sister did all the laundry, cooking and housework for the family. Another duty of Juanice's all year has been to do the milking twice a day.

Betty Jo and Anna Zo Dean tried growing lima beans on the fence. At present the vines are covered with pods with beans ready to use. Collards, mustard and kale growing in the back yard, will soon be ready to serve. They have helped to can sixty quarts of vegetables besides helping with the home sewing.

The Terry County 4-H club girls are members of the largest voluntary youth organization in the world. In 1945, there were 81,511 boys and girls enrolled in 4-H clubs in Texas. The first 4-H club in the United States was organized in 1908 in Jack County by Tom Marks, the county agent.

In 1945, the 45,939 girls enrolled in 4-H club work in Texas had the following accomplishments: They canned 1,308,706 quarts of foods; served 1,007,197

ACTIVITIES OF GIRL SCOUT TROOP 2

Troop 2 met Oct. 31 at the Presbyterian Church at 5 o'clock and hiked to the home of their leader, Mrs. Vivian Forbus where they enjoyed a party. Games and bobbing for apples furnished diversion. After refreshments of cookies and punch the Scouts and their invited guests enjoyed a trip through a haunted house in the country.

The troop met Nov. 8th at the Presbyterian Church for an investiture ceremony in which the girls said the Scout promise and laws and received their Scout pins. Mrs. Bishop furnished the music during the ceremony. Games and refreshments of cookies and spiced tea were enjoyed by twenty-five girls.

L. O. Greenfield, Jr., spent the weekend in Waco with his brother, Keller, who is a student at Baylor University.

meals; made 115,201 garments; improved 5,883 rooms; planted 10,682 orchards and grew 8,004 poultry flocks.

Lt.-Colonel Chapman Married In El Paso

Mrs. W. V. Chapman, who with her husband, ran a dry goods store here several years ago, passed through Sunday on her way home at Quitaque. She was accompanied by her son-in-law and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Buford Davenport, and their little daughter, Vicki, all of Abernathy. Mr. Davenport is the editor of the Abernathy Review, and produces a very interesting paper.

The party had attended the marriage of their son and brother, Lt.-Col. Wilson Chapman to Miss Mary Carmel McGovern of El Paso. The ceremony was performed in one of Biggs Field chapels by a chaplain. Col. Chapman is leaving soon for the Philippines, where he will be stationed.

Perhaps some of those who were here in the 20ties will remember Wilson Chapman, as he played at least one year on the Cub football team. The Chapman family had many friends here, who will be wishing Wilson and his new bride a happy journey through wedded bliss.

NOTICE TO MAIDS AND MATRONS CLUB MEMBERS

The covered dish luncheon will be held in the Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church, Tuesday, Nov. 19th at twelve o'clock. Mmes. Joe McGowan and E. C. Davis will be hostesses.

STRICKLINS ENTERTAIN CALIFORNIA RELATIVES

The Stricklin families, seniors and juniors, have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wilson of Hemet, Calif., since Sunday. They having left for home Wednesday. Mrs. Wilson is a sister of Mrs. Stricklin.

The Wilsons are large fruit growers of the San Jacinto valley area, both citrus and otherwise, and he is considered an expert on soils. Bill said there is no question about the soil in this area—it is very fertile. All you need is the water on it. The Wilsons water some 1200 acres with wells similar to the ones used in this section.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Trigg and Buddie, the dog, came up from Brownwood to be with the Wilsons while here. They returned home Thursday.

LOOKING AHEAD

by GEORGE S. BENSON
President—Harding College
Scary, Arkansas

Proved by Use

Inventors and builders of machines speak a forceful language. Once I heard an engineer discussing a new invention his firm was about to manufacture and sell. "It's fit to use," he said, "but not perfect. We'll sell a few hundred of them and work the bugs out." In other words—with a great many people using the thing, he could learn from their complaints how to make it better.

Sometimes the first model of a device is too complicated. In other instances, it might need attachments to make it serve its purpose better. As Don Quixote remarked, "The test of the pudding is in the eating." Practical service to the public is the final proof of an invention's worth. In service, defects come to light; in service, improvements are suggested.

Usage Will Tell

Now I want to point out that this principle is just as rightly applied to governmental devices as to mechanical ones. In service is precisely where statesmen find out how good their theories are. If a law or a system proves to be a nuisance, the public will be quick to discover it, and if they are permitted to express themselves, will say so readily.

This is why advocates of this and that brand of Socialism avoid telling the history of socialistic experiments. Most of them have come to such dismal ends. In theory they are very pretty but in service they don't work. Accordingly that's why I go before meetings week after week and talk about the high standard of living in America. The American system actually works.

Revised Early

Fathers of this republic, back in the 1770's when they wrote and ratified the Constitution of the United States, certainly did not imagine that they were drawing up the specifications of a perfect state. They understood from the beginning that they would have to try it out in service and "work the bugs out." It was a grand piece of work but it has been changed—and improved.

Framers of the Constitution expected changes soon, and they came. The first addition to their masterpiece was added in less than a year after its ratification by the 13th state. Even these statesmen's supporters did not consider their work flawless. It is not flawless yet, but there are two things about it: It is the best form of government ever devised, and subject to change now, as it was then.

A Flexible Plan

America's economic system, free private enterprise, the only one compatible with our Constitution as it stands, can lay no just claim to any dreamer's idea of perfection. To prevent the strong, the shrewd and the rich from taking advantage of the weak, the trusting and the poor, many restraints on business have been made into laws. Here is the system's virtue: It can be changed.

Private enterprise is not new. It is far advanced in that process of government based on usage. When adopted in America, it was fit to use, and it grew better for 150 years. It has nurtured a society where the poorest citizen is relatively rich in contrast to the exploiters of dictators. Here everybody has freedom, time of his own, comforts of living and, above all, opportunity unlimited.

SANTA FE CARLOADINGS

Santa Fe Railway System car-loadings for the week ending November 9, 1946 were 24,896, compared with 25,206 for the same week in 1945. Cars received from connections totalled 12,898 as compared with 11,549 for the same week in 1945. Total cars moved were 37,794 compared with 36,755 for the same week in 1945. The Santa Fe handled a total of 40,898 cars in the preceding week of this year.

Sulfa Drugs Tried For Bangs Disease

Austin — The use of sulfonamides in the treatment of Bangs disease in cattle is being experimented with in the University of Texas Clayton Brucellosis Laboratory, under the direction of Dr. V. T. Schuhardt, bacteriologist. Dr. Schuhardt and his associates have found that sulfonamides often alleviate acute symptoms of brucellosis, but frequently do not cure, as indicated by the relatively high rate of relapse after treatment.

Sulfapyridine was found to be the most effective of eight sulfonamides used in treatment of mammary gland permeability.

Continued experimentation will be carried on at the University, to discover the full usefulness of sulfapyridine.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Proffitt and son, Mack, spent the weekend in Seymour visiting relatives.

Three Hundred Billion In The Red

The war has been over more than a year, the country is undergoing a spending boom, employment is at an all-time high, tax revenues are unprecedented for peacetime—and the budget remains unbalanced. There, in a nutshell, is the discouraging fiscal picture as it exists in this nation today.

We are demonstrating an extraordinary irresponsibility so far as our national credit—on which the credit of every individual and every business must ultimately depend—is concerned. It is true that the President has ordered some reductions in the Federal establishment, and that minor cuts have been made. But almost nothing has been done in the direction of real economy.

This is a suicidal policy for a country with a $300,000,000,000 public debt. It is a policy whose consequences must be more inflation, more dollar depreciation—and, if it is not checked, ultimate bankruptcy. Government economy now means infinitely more than saving a few million or billion dollars. It means the preservation of our institutions and our way of life.

Cynical politicians regard retrenchment as bad business in an election year. The nation, on the other hand, should see retrenchment in its true light—as a necessity if every dollar of savings, in life insurance, war bonds, or other investments, even the dollar itself, is not to become worthless.

OVER 350 MILLION BUSHELS OF WHEAT GROUND

Austin — Wheat grindings of Texas mills totaled 3,634,000 bushels in August 1946, representing a decrease of 4 per cent from July and 12 per cent less than the amount ground in August of last year, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Wheat flour produced totaled 1,677,000 sacks, compared with 1,705,000 sacks manufactured in August 1945. Production of flour was also 4 per cent less than reported in July, 1946.

The Price Level In The Free Market

Many of the questions raised in President Truman's nationwide talk on price control will be the subject of warm controversy far into the future. But the President's action in immediately eliminating all meat controls, and promising the rapid decontrol of other commodities, has met with the approval of leading members of both parties, the editors of the principal newspapers, economists of many faiths, and those millions of Americans who realize that the sooner the free market is reestablished the sooner many of our difficulties will be adjusted on a basis of facts rather than politics.

These people are not in favor of speculation and all-the-traffic-will-bear prices. But they know that rigid OPA controls served to drive commodities ranging from T-Bone steaks to shingle nails into black market—where extortionate prices that can be paid by only the relative few are charged. They know that they have imposed a burden on the honest manufacturer, farmer and storekeeper. And they know that an artificially low price is meaningless—because the consumer can't get the goods. All he sees is empty shelves and showcases.

No one knows where the price level will ultimately establish itself. But, in a free market, that level will be based on competitive factors, the cost of production, and business overhead. And merchants with goods to sell will be doing everything possible to hold down prices to attract patronage.

VETS SHOW HIGH AVERAGE AT U. OF T.

Austin, Texas — Male veterans at the University of Texas passed 81.8 per cent of the hours registered for in the 1945-46 Spring Semester, the Registrar's office reports. This figure compares with 73 per cent for male non-veterans.

The report covered male students in all colleges and schools of the University except the Law School and Graduate School.

Texas Schools Crowded, Teachers Inexperienced

The Texas State Teachers Association has just completed a survey among city and county school superintendents to determine the condition in the public schools of Texas. Replies were received from 1,033 superintendents representing 35,874 teaching positions or about 78 percent of the total in Texas. The turn-over in the teacher personnel in the public schools for this year is the greatest in our history. 9,272 teachers or more than 25 percent were new in their job when school opened this fall.

Of the teachers included in the survey, 5,736 were listed with sub-standard qualifications which represents 1 out of each 6 in the state. Superintendents reporting stated that they had in their school systems 2,157 classes with a student enrollment of 40 or more. The national standard for enrollment is 27 students in high school classes and 30 in elementary classes. This over-crowded condition has resulted from the shortage of teachers and, in many instances, a lack of adequate classrooms.

Today, Texas needs at least 9,000 qualified teachers to relieve our over-crowded classrooms, to add to the curriculum many subjects that have been eliminated during the war years, and to replace sub-standard personnel.

Superintendent Charles M. Rogers of Amarillo, retiring president of the Texas State Teachers Association commented that: "Today if our public schools could employ immediately all of the students in the colleges and universities of Texas that are preparing to be teachers, we would not relieve our great short-

Social Security Manager To Be Here Nov. 21

Elliott Adams, Manager of the Social Security Administration at Lubbock, Texas will be in Brownfield, Thursday, November 21, at 9:00 a. m. at the Post Office for the purpose of answering any questions regarding Social Security benefits or Social Security Account number cards.

Recent amendments to the Social Security Act provide for Old-age and Survivors Insurance payments to thousands of formerly ineligible survivors of discharged World War II veterans.

These amendments, long postponed by Congress, provide protection to survivors if:

The veteran dies within three years after discharge.

He had at least 90 days of active service in the armed forces after September 16, 1940.

He was not dishonorably discharged, and

The survivors are not eligible for payments from the Veterans Administration. Proceeds from National Service Life Insurance policies are not counted as payments from the Veterans Administration.

The amendment does not provide for payment to live veterans or to their dependents, and it does not provide for benefits to survivors of servicemen who died while on active duty.

age. I am sure that we do not have in our Texas institutions of higher learning 9,000 people today who are preparing to become teachers. We must raise salaries in Texas high enough to encourage those now in college to enter teaching as their chosen profession. I cannot see any other solution to the problem."

Montgomerys Write About Golden Gate Park

After reading in a local California paper about a famous trained seal dying that swallowed more than 500 indigestible coins, Mrs. Orveda Montgomery writes of their visit to the Golden Gate and other parks and museums. The article follows:

To The Herald:
The above clipping was sent in by Mrs. Orveda Montgomery. Yes, we visited the Golden State Park one Sunday afternoon, Husband and I, Edith, Thomas, Mrs. Leroy Green and baby, also Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Townsend and Brenda Marlene.

This park is a very nice place to go to see the many wonderful sights there. We saw these seals that are mentioned here and thought it was a grand sight to watch them plunge through the water. Later we read this about the death of one of the seals. Many of you perhaps have visited the park and know about what there is there to be seen by the thousands of people that visit this park.

The nice Science Hall that has wonderful old time paintings, clothing worn by some of our great ladies back in George Washington's and Abraham Lincoln's days, furniture and house furnishings, old time clocks, some very ancient, some collected far and near. Guns of every description, and every size, and of every age. Guns used in every war down the line, the date written on each gun when used and what war it was used in. You can walk in the hall for hours looking and enjoying the many odd and rare sights. The aquarium where the many fishes are kept is a pretty sight. Fish of every kind, size and color all named and where they were collected.

There are snakes and alligators. Then there is the great museum where the stuffed and mounted birds, wild and tame, are kept. They have a collection of all kinds of wild animals, stuffed and

Commander Griffith, honor guest at American Legion Day at the State Fair of Texas, congratulated Col. Phinney on the "brilliant job" USO has been doing. "Morale is as important in peace as in war and we still have more than 100,000 Texans in service and in hospitals who need USO services next year," Governor-Nominate Jester said, pledging his support to the drive, led by Gov. Coke Stevenson, Texas USO general chairman, to raise the Texas USO quota of $800,000.

Miss Beverly Balfanz, of Abilene, spent the weekend here with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Hamilton and sons visited with Mrs. Hamilton's mother in Goldthwaite and Mr. Hamilton's parents in Winters over the weekend.

Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Davis and son, Earle, and houseguests, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Peterson, spent the weekend in El Paso and Juarez.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Worsham and son Jerry, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Quinton, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hailey and Mrs. Jessie Machen spent the weekend and holiday in Seymour visiting relatives.

We have gathered strawberries and walnuts lately which was an interesting occupation. We hope to be seeing our friends at home in Brownfield in two or three weeks.

Mrs. Eva Burnett, of San Bernardino, Calif., is here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Whitley.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Acker, of Dimmitt, Texas, were weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Szydoski.

Mr. Jeff Riggs, of the Happy community received word Sunday that his son had been injured in an automobile accident in Midland and left immediately to go to him.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Black, of Seminole were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wright Thursday of last week.

Mr. J. B. Worsham and Mr. "Lefty" Kizer were in Oklahoma City the latter part of last week to get Mr. Worsham's new Buick.

NEW YORKER MAYOR OF HAMBURG... Max Brauer, who became an American citizen last year while lecturing under auspices of Federal Council of Churches of Christ, has been chosen as mayor of Hamburg.

Both Propositions Carry In Thursday's Election

The special election held Thursday of last week was even lighter in number of votes than the General election Tuesday. Both propositions carried in the county by a big percentage.

The amendment to the constitution authorizing the State to purchase and re-sell land to Veterans, up to twenty five million dollars, carried in the county 240 for to 40 against.

The allocation of county funds carried 290 for to 41 against.

The first amendment provides the State authority to issue bonds to purchase farms and small ranches, not to exceed $5,000 to anyone, and resell or advance the money to buy same, for Veterans only. It is estimated to handle ten thousand units.

The second proposition, of allocating the county funds, was a local affair. The constitution allows the Commissioners' Court to levy, certain rates, for the Jury, Road and Bridge, Public Buildings, and General Fund of the county, but does not authorize the court to transfer these funds from one to the other. Evolution in civic progress has greatly changed much of our "constitutional times." For instance the Jury has an annual surplus, because litigation does not require near as much Jury duty as of yore. The Road and Bridge fund is largely taken over by the highway department. The general fund is nearly all time exhausted. The only way to balance this up is either by transfer of funds, or raise valuations of property, and the latter would greatly increase taxes to the state. County officials in the know, strongly advocated this change which was possible only by vote of the people. And they responded.

The State amendment providing for aid to veterans in buying land, while noble in purpose, we hope will be carried out judiciously, because of inflated values, and

Mr. Harvey Gage, Rev. A. J. Franks and Mr. Parrish left early Monday morning on a hunting trip near Artesia, New Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Ned Self were in Dallas the first of the week for she shoe convention.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Brown and family, of Roswell, spent the weekend in the home of Mrs. Brown's sister, Mrs. V. A. Bynum and Mr. Bynum.

... with your Own Machine!

TWO SAMPLES OF GRAIN tell a story of interest to every farmer who knows his oats. One is plumper, brighter, weighs more per bushel.

The heavier kernels below illustrate the results of harvesting at the right time with your own All-Crop Harvester... the harvester originally designed and still priced to permit individual ownership by every farm regardless of size.

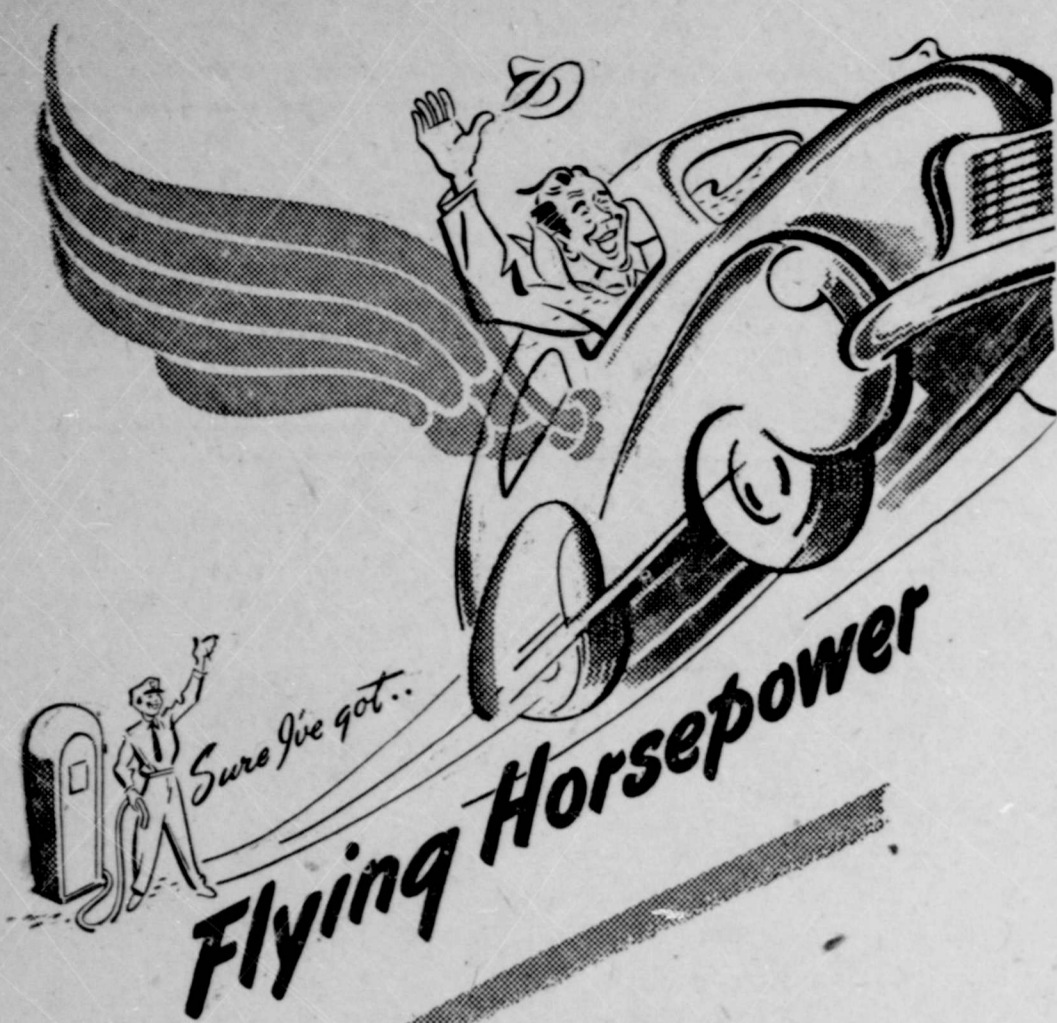

Instead of cutting on the green side with a binder before the grain is properly filled out... instead of waiting indefinitely for a threshing crew or custom combine with your crop exposed to weather and insects... you can choose the precise moment when your crop has reached the peak of maturity and quality.

- TAILORED TO YOUR FARM
1. Designed for the individual family farm.
 2. It's your machine — harvest when you're ready.
 3. The original one-man "power take-off" harvester.
 4. Low first cost permits independent ownership.
 5. Permits crop diversification — harvests over 100 different crops.
 6. Fits any acreage — one machine or a fleet.
 7. Simple to operate — fewer parts — low upkeep.
 8. Your service problems are answered — experienced dealers — ample repair stocks.

Southern Industry To See Big Expansion

Col. T. H. Barton, Eldorado, Arkansas, oil executive, believes that the agricultural South stands on the threshold of the greatest industrial expansion in the history of the United States.

The Colonel says "there has been a certain awakening in recent years by the South to its industrial potentialities. Thousands of new plants and factories of varying sizes and descriptions have sprung up in answer to the demand of a nation crying for greater production."

"This area abounds in natural ingredients for prosperity. Favorable year-round weather conditions and an adequate supply of skilled labor combine with the newly-acquired 'know-how' in production to give southern business all the requisites for industrial expansion."

Every real American will hope that Colonel Barton is right. Wherever in this country the economy lags, it acts as a brake on the prosperity of all the country. If the war taught us one lesson, it is that only the economy of competitive production gives us a high level of prosperity.

In other words, let's don't plow under any more pigs.

HARMONY HD CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. TOWNZEN

A covered dish luncheon and all day meeting was held in the home of Mrs. R. E. Townzen November 7, with Miss Dunlap and eleven members present.

The house was called to order by our president, Mrs. Jewel Bell. Roll call was answered "The Courtesy My Family Practices." After a business meeting and a report given of what the club members have finished this year in their upholstering, yard improvements and fruit and vegetables canned, Miss Dunlap gave a talk on our next meeting we are to have, November 21, at Mrs. A. Kissingers. All be sure and come to our next meeting, as we have a lot to do. Our social will be at Mrs. Bill Harrold's November 15th. The ladies quilted two quilts for Mrs. Townzen.

Dairy Cows Should Have Sheds

Lubbock — Farmers may help prevent the customary winter drop in milk production by providing sheds for dairy cattle and by keeping the herd's drinking water well above freezing, according to N. C. Fine, associate professor of animal husbandry at Texas Technological College.

The best temperature for water in cold weather is about 40 degrees Fahrenheit. If cows are unprotected from the weather and if they must waste body heat warming the water they drink, they burn up nutrients that should be available for milk production.

Because milk is 87 per cent water and cows' bodies are from 70 to 80 per cent water, dairy cows require more water than any other farm animal. Commercially built stock tank heaters, some of which run on electricity, may be purchased when available for about $25.

Reports on Wednesday from all over the nation indicated a "new deal" has come to Congress. It will be another kind of new deal, which most of us have been praying for during the past year or so. It will mean the final death of many New Deal bureaus in Washington. The best part of the victory for the Republicans, from our standpoint, is that labor leaders will get their sails trimmed. The new congress will undoubtedly be conservative from a labor viewpoint. Maybe we can repeal that Wagner Act now and get rid of these costly strikes. — Lorenzo Tribune.

Sumac Sorghum Show Big Yield

Lubbock — Yield of sumac sorghum recently harvested on the farms of Texas Technological College varied from four tons per acre on non-irrigated land to as much as 15 tons per acre on an irrigated plot. A total of 995 tons of silage was produced from 148 acres.

Trench silos have an advantage over hay stacks as a means of storing feed because silage will keep for years without rotting or being exposed to rats, birds and weather, it was pointed out by Dean W. L. Stangel of the Agriculture division.

An additional trench silo was recently dug on the Tech farm at a cost of 45¢ per ton storage space. Cost of harvesting and ensiling this year's crop varied from 83¢ to $1.25 per ton.

Hunters Urged To Use Precautions

Austin, Texas — With hunting season now open, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, is urging that all hunters or other persons spending time in wooded areas use all possible precautions against being bitten by ticks which may infect the victim with relapsing fever. He further advises that when a tick is found, it be removed from the body as soon as possible and that care be taken not to crush the ticks in handling them.

"Tick-bite fever is contracted, Dr. Cox explained, "either from the bite of infected ticks or by absorbing the infectious material through breaks of scratches in the skin." According to Dr. Cox, the disease does not spread from person to person by direct contact but only through the bite of an infected tick or body louse. Prompt removal of the insect is of the utmost importance.

Relapsing fever, commonly called tick-bite fever, is characterized by sudden onset, intense headache located in the front part of the head and pains in the back and limbs. The fever lasts from three to five days before slowly declining. The temperature will then remain normal for about a week when the fever repeats itself. There may be three, four, or even more such relapses, which accounts for the name of the disease.

Dr. Cox said that the wearing of suitable clothing so as to prevent ticks getting next to the skin

Defend All—Or Lose All

In a new book entitled "Collectivism Challenges Christianity," published by the Light and Life Press of Winona Lake, Indiana, Verne Paul Kaub says: "There can be no political liberty without economic liberty—and neither can exist except through religious freedom which has its highest expression in Christianity. "Destroy one—the others are imperiled."

"Foster all, and all grow and prosper, grow toward larger freedom, larger liberty, a more nearly perfect social system."

This idea of the indivisibility of all liberties is thoroughly supported by the lessons of world history. We have certainly had abundant proof of it in the late, tragic years. The technique of the dictator states has always been the same. First, and inevitably, the state moves in on the church, and the final and most basic liberty dies. And only war or revolution can bring these liberties back. The principle is simple—there can be no halfway freedom. We will defend all freedoms—or we will lose them all.

"You are not past hope mentally if you can remember that you have forgotten something, even if you can't recall what it is."

Veterans' News

Dietitians arranging meals for the 7,500 veteran-patients in the 11 Veterans Administration hospitals of Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi can sympathize with housewives about rising food prices.

It now costs VA 14.9 per cent more to buy food for a patient than it did in April of this year, a survey by the VA dietetic division shows.

Nine of the hospitals reported increases in per-patient food costs since April. One hospital reported its food costs up 50 per cent.

Two of the larger hospitals showed reductions in food costs, but the decreases were slight.

GI Joe and GI Jane have gone back to school in a big way.

Veterans Administration says nearly as many veterans have applied for World War II education and training as served in the armed forces during World War I.

By September 30th a total of 4,549,654 of the nation's World War II veterans had asked for school, college or job training benefits.

This is an increase of more than 133,000 over the August 31 figure.

More than 18,700 veterans of Dallas branch area have financed home loans with the aid of government guarantees provided under the GI Bill.

Slightly more than 1,200 have financed farm loans and 2,527 have gone into business via VA-guaranteed loans.

Total value of all three types of loans is $111,437,062.

Currently, veterans of the Dallas area are consuming GI loans at the rate of 1,000 per week, compared with 174 per week in January of this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Reagan Peeler, of Sundown, are in Rochester, Minn., where Mr. Peeler is receiving medical treatment at Mayo's Clinic.

GI Question And Answer Department

Q. If the lender demands some security, can I use the bonds I get for my terminal leave as security for a G. I. loan?

A. No.

Q. Can I use the bonds I get for my terminal leave to pay premiums on my G. I. insurance?

A. Yes. The Act of Congress provides that the veteran may assign his bonds to the Veterans Administration to pay insurance premiums. An amount equal to the insurance premiums on United States Government Life Insurance or National Service Life Insurance will be deducted from the face value of the bond plus interest each month.

Q. Can terminal leave bonds be used in payment of premiums after the insurance has been converted?

A. Yes.

Q. I am a totally disabled veteran and rated as in need of regular aid and attendance. Can I use my wife or daughter as an attendant?

A. It is not necessary for a veteran who is so rated to hire an outside person to attend him. He would receive the increased amount irrespective of who attends him.

Farm Federationists To Meet In Dallas

Dallas — Plans are nearing completion for the annual meeting of the Texas Federation of Farm Cooperatives to be held November 18 at the Jefferson Hotel in Dallas, according to Donald W. May, of Amarillo, chairman of the program committee.

Speakers for this meeting include Dr. Raymond W. Miller, president of the American Institute of Cooperation, Washington, D. C.; Walter L. Bradley, chairman American Society of Accountant's committee on cooperatives, Buffalo, N. Y.; Dr. William A. Nielander, professor of Business Administration, University of Texas, Austin; and J. D. Previtt, vice-director, Texas A & M College Extension Service, College Station.

The newly appointed executive secretary of the Federation, Geo. B. Blair, will be presented at this meeting.

Plan for the coming year's activities will be formulated and the mechanics for the executions of these plans will be set up when the delegates convene at Dallas on November 18.

JAPAN UNDERGOING GREATEST CHANGE IN PAST 2000 YEARS

Claiming that Japan is undergoing more change than she has known in the past 2,000 years, the Rev. Mrs. Tamaki Uemura, one of the trio of East Asians who addressed members of the North Texas State College, student body recently, in Denton, declared that Japanese students "are absorbing knowledge like thirsty soil."

Also speaking to the NTSC group were Dr. Josefa Ilano, woman physician from Manila, and Miss Hsiang Foh-Mei, dean of the Mary Farnham School for Girls in Shanghai. Rev. Uemura, a pastor of the Tokyo congregation of the Church of Christ, pointed out that Japan's system of education is undergoing great changes and that the young people of the United States could aid Japan materially by setting good examples in sending teachers and corresponding with Japanese people.

In A Democracy People Change Rulers

History repeats itself. When one political party fails to merit the confidence of the people, it is then that the people vote one party out, and the other party in. This is as it should be, and that is one advantage of the two party system.

It is a great privilege to be able to vote one party in power, but a greater privilege than that is to be able to vote that same party out of power if and when it fails to merit the confidence of the people.

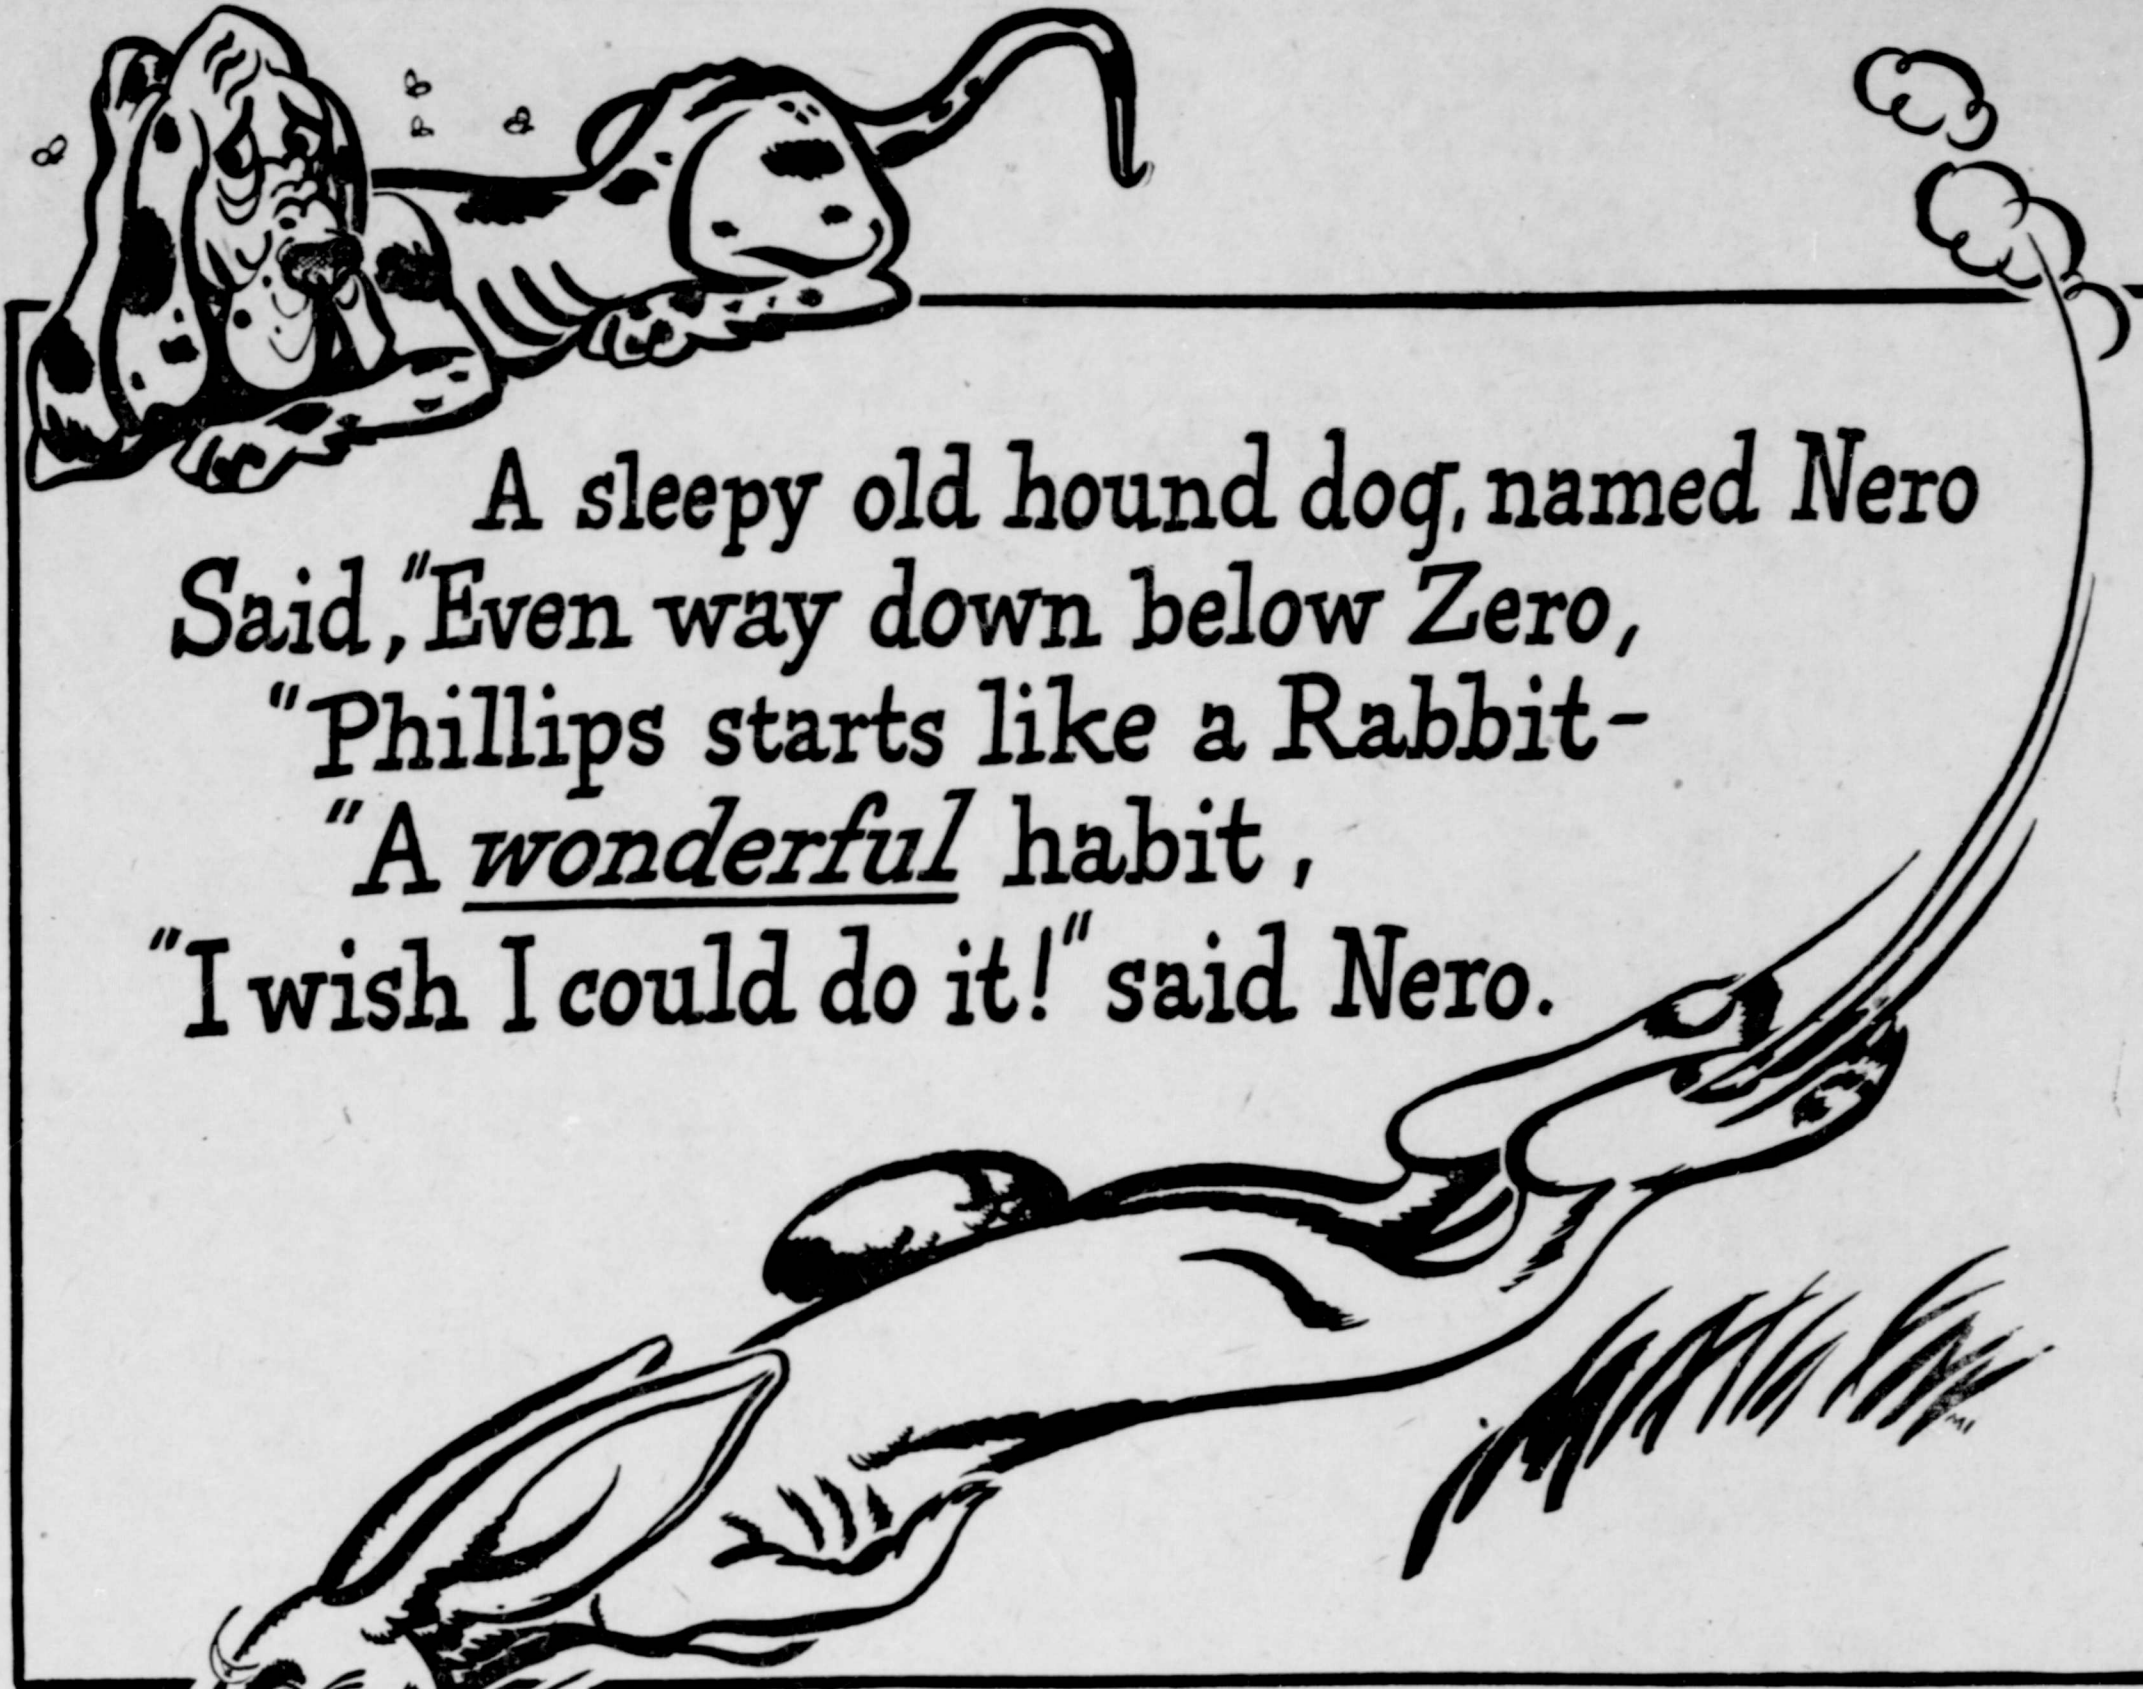

It is wonderful to live in a state and in a county where a Democrat can jump from one political party to another and still be a Democrat. It can be truthfully said of the American people that they never have fired a good president, and they are not going to do so. No doubt we will have a different president after the '48 election. Yet the voters are not going to fire a good president.

Will Rogers once said of Pres. Harding, that his greatest fault was that he trusted his friends, and the boys in the back room proved his undoing. It is to be regretted that a certain politician who is helping to direct the affairs of this great nation, continues his connection with the corrupt Pendergast political machine. His stubborn loyalty to his early benefactors may result in his undoing. The American people favor clean politics, and our country is not going "red." It is going Republican. We have made wonderful progress under Republican administrations, and we can do so again. We are headed for a new era, not a new error. There are no new errors any more, as they have all been used.

Don't forget that neither political party has a copyright on honesty, efficiency, prosperity, sobriety and progress. Neither does any party have a copyright on depressions, panics, dishonesty, reactionarism and isolationism. We are bound to progress. Not because of the Kansas City Pendergast political machine, but in spite of it.—An Optimistic Democrat.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

This country is champing at the bit to get goin'. Everybody is wanting something—automobiles—sewing machines—sheets ice-boxes. And with all this business in the offing—and wages higher than a cat's back—there are more and more pickets. Guys marching back and fourth—and a sorry looking lot—and demanding this and that.

Something is haywire in Denmark. There is confusion in the land. I been lookin' under the covers to see what is there—and who—and why we are on dead-center. And, you know, she don't look so complicated after all. And to boil it down—and in a nut shell—and in a few words, it is too much Govt. in our diet. That is what I deduct from my research. With 2 million more than normal on Uncle's Sambo's back and payroll, it is not hard to savvy that some odd dishes will be cooked up — and the soup foozled.

We would go to town again if the Govt. would keep its nose out of farming, and business, etc.—and its foot off the brake. Also start being just the umpire again, and not try to play first, second, and third base and be the pinch hitter, head usher and umpire all at the same time.

WHICH WAY?

There is no point in arguing whether or not this country can afford a $300,000,000,000 debt. We've got it. The real point is what we are going to do about it. Only two courses are open to us.

We can keep up public spending at the present rate, let the budget remain unbalanced and further depreciate the dollar. This will make a future depression inevitable and imperil the war bonds, savings accounts, and insurance policies of all the people.

Or we can tighten our belts, cut government costs to the limit, start regular debt retirement procedures—and eventually pull out with a sound dollar and a solvent nation.

The choice rests with the people themselves.

Long And Serious Consideration

By George Peck

"But We Gave It Long and Serious Consideration." Those are the exact words of President Truman in his radio address to the nation on Monday evening, October 14, 1946.

The President was enumerating the several proposed remedies to alleviate the meat shortage situation, as a prelude to announcing finally the only real solution—to remove all controls on meat and let the tried-and-proven law of supply and demand put meat once again on the tables of Mr. and Mrs. America. Said the President: "Some even suggested that the government go out on the farms and ranges and SEIZE THE CATTLE FOR SLAUGHTER. This would indeed be a drastic remedy. BUT WE GAVE IT LONG AND SERIOUS CONSIDERATION. We decided against the use of this extreme wartime emergency power of government. It would be wholly IMPRACTICABLE BECAUSE THE CATTLE ARE SPREAD THROUGHOUT ALL PARTS OF THE COUNTRY."

What a statement to come from the lips of our Chief Executive, who just a year and a half ago swore to uphold the Constitution! I listened in utter horror—hoped that my ears had deceived me—but the following morning the newspapers confirmed that the President really had said, "WE GAVE LONG AND SERIOUS CONSIDERATION" to seizing the cattle, and had given as the only reason for abandoning the idea that it was "IMPRACTICABLE."

The President knows that Article IV of the Bill of Rights says: "The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated . . ."

How much better it would have been, how much more reassuring if the President had said:

"There were some who deigned to suggest that your government should go out on to the farms and ranches and seize the cattle. WE DID NOT GIVE THIS PROPOSAL ONE SECOND'S CONSIDERATION. Even though your Chief Executive could use his wartime emergency powers as a pretext for taking such a drastic dictatorial action, the fact remains that this nation is not now at war."

"As your President I am sworn to preserve the Constitution. I mean to keep that oath. Cattle owners may not be showing the proper attitude in withholding their cattle from the market. Two wrongs, however, do not make a right and I cannot commit the second wrong by violating the Constitution which I have sworn to uphold.

"We know that the rank and file of the American people puts a value on its freedoms and rights far beyond a full stomach, even of meat. Seizure of the cattle now would establish a dangerous precedent. It would be the entering wedge for seizing other personal property in the future, using real or imaginary emergencies as an excuse, until all property rights would be lost to the individual. Then America, the cradle of liberty, would have degenerated into a totalitarian dictatorship. No real American resires such an unhappy fate to befall this nation, and, therefore, as previously stated, we gave this proposal no consideration whatsoever."

But the President didn't say that. He said, "WE GAVE LONG AND SERIOUS CONSIDERATION" and "we decided against" because "IT WOULD BE IMPRACTICABLE."

This writer has been accused of seeing a Communist under every bed, of grossly exaggerating the infiltration of communistic ideologies in high places at Washington. But here we have the alarming announcement from the very highest place that "LONG AND SERIOUS CONSIDERATION" was given to seizing private property. Well, there may not be a Communist under quite every bed in the land, but I suggest that you take a peek under yours before you climb into it each night—just in case.

TRUE RICHES

A Negro man was slowly rambling down a dejected pike road in Mississippi. His clothes were worn out and patched in a hundred places, his toes stuck out of his shoes, and his hat had holes in it like a shrimp net. He was whistling a joyful Blues, with a blissful smile of his face.

A white man saw him pass, and called after him to stop. "Rastus, do you want to make a quarter?" "Naw suh, boss, thank 'ee. Not today. I got a quarter."

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ross left Wednesday evening for a business trip to San Antonio.

MODERN EVOLUTION

One day two young friends of Charles Darwin decided to play a joke on the great scientist. The boys took the wings of a butterfly, the legs of a grasshopper, the head of a beetle, and the body of a centipede, and carefully glued them together. Placing the fake insect in a box, they called on Mr. Darwin.

"Mr. Darwin," they said, "we caught this bug in a field. Can you tell us what it is?"

The scientist examined the insect carefully and then asked, "Did it hum when you caught it?"

"Yes," replied the boys. "Then," said Darwin, with a twinkle in his eye, "it must be a humbug."

"The little Negro boy who, after having been allowed to play with a group of white boys, went rushing home to his mammy in tears saying, 'them white boys done licked all the 'lasses off my bread and then called me Nigger.'"

THERE'S ALSO A LINEUP FOR TELEPHONE SERVICE... BUT YOU CAN'T SEE IT!

Today you line up for meat, bread, butter, nylons, shirts, and many other scarce items. You wait patiently for these things, because you can see the line of people ahead of you. At times of peak traffic, telephone service is often slow, particularly long distance service . . . but you cannot see the long line of other calls ahead of yours. We ask you to try to visualize this telephone line-up . . . it will help you to better understand our situation.
