

McClain Goes To Bank

It was announced this week by Mr. J. O. Gillham, President of the Brownfield State Bank, that Mr. R. N. McClain, who has been Terry County Agricultural Agent for several years, has been employed by the bank and will begin his duties on January 1, 1947.

Mr. McClain will serve as Agricultural Advisor to the bank and his long experience in Agriculture and his college training make him well equipped for this position. According to Mr. Gillham, the bank will embark upon an elaborate program of soil conservation and diversified farming. Mr. McClain will stand ready at all times to advise with all farmers of the county with reference to their soil conservation and general farm program. He will be in a position to advise with any farmer desiring to be helped on his soil conservation, livestock, poultry and farming problems. Mr. Gillham made the following statement with reference to Mr. McClain's work with the bank.

"We have long realized that Terry county and adjoining counties have a soil conservation problem which must have the diligent attention of business men, bankers, and the farmer himself. Unless we start now doing something about conserving our soil through the proper handling of the land and diversifying of crops, we are going to awaken some time in the next ten or fifteen years and find that much of our good land has been ruined by wind erosion. This bank wants to render a real service to our entire trade territory and we are going to considerable expense in employing Mr. McClain to advise with our farmers on this very important problem. Another thing that we strongly believe in and which we intend to encourage in every way possible is the proper diversification of our farm program so that our farmers will have a steady income which will not be seasonal, but will be every month in the year. With this kind of a program we believe that within a few years we will be able to show to the world that Terry county is a real prosperous agricultural county. We hope that the farmers of this territory will feel free to call upon Mr. McClain at any time he can be of any possible service to them."

Mr. McClain made the following statement:

"I feel that my connection with the Brownfield State Bank is going to be a very pleasant one for me personally and I am challenged to do my best with the broad program which the bank has in mind. I want my friends of the county to feel free to call upon me any time I can be of any possible service to them and shall deem it a real privilege to help them with any problems they have. All of us at the Brownfield State Bank realize the need of a well balanced agricultural program for all of our farmers and want to do everything we can to help them to set up the proper program. I want my friends to feel free to come in and see me at the bank any time that they feel like it and I will be driving out to see you soon."

Mr. Gillham stressed the fact that the new agricultural program to be inaugurated by the bank will be free to all farmers of the territory and urged that everyone who needed Mr. McClain's service in any way to feel free to call upon him.

Texas Turkeys Tops In Quality

Twelve of the 33 highest quality breeding turkey flocks in the United States belong to Texas turkey breeders.

Of 33 turkey breeders in the United States who met the exacting advanced-breeding requirements of the National Poultry Improvement Plan during the 1945-46 season, twelve were Texas breeders, the Department of Agriculture has announced. The Texas Breeders who met the requirements numbered twice as many as any other state. Kansas had six of the top-notch flocks, and the remainder were distributed among Minnesota, Missouri, Oklahoma, New Hampshire, Maryland and Washington.

The requirements of the National Poultry Improvement Plan include trap-nesting pedigreeing and progeny testing. These procedures, which involve extensive records, are laborious, costly and time consuming but they have proved to be a valuable basis for the breeding of exceptionally high-quality turkeys, the Department of Agriculture explains. The advanced stages of the turkey improvement plan in which the Texas breeders took part are known officially as U. S. Register of Merit and U. S. Record of Performance, the former being tops. The National Poultry Improvement Plan is now in its third year of operation, and besides the

Cross Breeding In Dairy Herds, Bad Business

LUBBOCK, Dec. 26 — Under no circumstances should farmers and dairymen crossbreed purebred dairy animals, according to Prof. K. M. Renner, head of the department of dairy manufactures at Texas Technological College.

Improvement of dairy herds is perhaps the most important factor today in profitable production, the professor stated, pointing out that a few good animals will give more milk at less cost than a large number of poor cows.

Any good purebred cow is likely to produce milk more economically than a crossbreed, Renner emphasized.

Dairymen may make herds more profitable by keeping careful production records and getting rid of unprofitable animals, by proper feeding according to maintenance requirements, and by checking records when making purchases.

Fine animals are inclined to be nervous, and must have careful treatment and proper housing. If they are to produce well. Herds

Hearing On Bus Line Favorable

Brownfield was represented at a railway commission hearing conducted in Lubbock Tuesday, at which Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma Coaches presented application for certificate to operate a daily passenger line between Lamesa and Hereford via Brownfield, Levelland and Littlefield.

Assurance Given
Delegates from Hereford, Dimmitt, Littlefield, Levelland, Brownfield and Lamesa presented evidence favoring daily bus service between the towns.

It was said that after hearing all the evidence in the case, the commission examiner, Charles D. Matthews, gave assurance to the delegates that he was certain the permit would be issued.

Jess Levens, president of the applicant company, said the TM N&O would be prepared to launch this service as soon as the permit was granted, adding that the company had 46 new buses ordered. He said he preferred to start the service with new buses predicting that plans would be in readiness for the new schedules to begin about Jan 15. or Feb. 1.

Income Tax Time Coming Soon

Thousands of Texas farm and ranch operators must soon bring out their pencils and record books and start figuring income tax reports.

All farmers with a gross income of $500 or more are required to file a return. C. H. Bates, farm management specialist of the Texas A and M College Extension Service, reminds the farmer that he has this choice in paying income tax: he can file a declaration of his estimated net income by January 15, followed by a final return by March 15, or, he can make a final return by January 15, in which case he does not have to file a declaration.

While a record number of farmers will pay income taxes for 1946, the average tax bill will be less than in 1945, due to a reduction in rate and the combination of the normal tax and surtax levies, Bates says. Farm income taxes should average about 17 per cent less than in 1945 predicts the farm management specialist.

A change in the tax law permits deduction, as a business expense, on reasonable wages paid by a father to a minor dependent actually employed on the farm or ranch.

Under certain conditions, only 50 per cent of receipts from sale of breeding cattle may be taxable. Bates advises farm operators to consult their county agricultural agents for information on this point or contact an Internal Revenue deputy.

The tax reporting job will be greatly simplified for operators who have kept record books through the past year, Bates says. The Texas Farm Record Book, which is available at Texas A and M College for a small cost, is a complete and simple form with spaces for recording all necessary items for income tax reports.

SOIL CONSERVATION MEN RETURN FROM STATE MEETING

Jay Barrett, chairman and W. G. McDonald, supervisor of Cochran-Yoakum-Terry Soil Conservation district returned the 11th from the Texas State meeting of Soil Conservation Districts at Austin.

Mr. Barrett reports a very enthusiastic meeting and said it was surprising what a change there had been in the trend of farming in the past five years. From the reports from the different delegates at the meeting, especially worn out forms of East Texas, they are turning most of their attention to rebuilding their soils and trying to get them to produce as they used to.

In West Texas they are trying to conserve what they have and at the same time make it better.

Mr. Barrett also said that the Supervisors of this District are trying to get a U. S. Experiment Station established somewhere in the District and as Terry County is practically in the center of a certain body of land, they have hopes of getting it here. This body of land, composed of Cochran, Yoakum, Terry and Gaines counties, as well as parts of a number of counties joining them, have a different proposition from any experiment station already established. Representatives of the Board have visited the State Stations at Lubbock, Spur, Big Spring, Chillocothe and the U. S. Station at Amarillo but none of them have the same propositions

West Texas Gets Hi-way Commissioner

Governor-Elect Beauford Jester announced last week, the appointment of Fred Wemple, prominent merchant of Midland, as West Texas' member of the Texas Highway Commission for ensuing term, taking the place of Reuben Williams of Ft. Worth.

Wemple, a present member of State Board of Education, has for many years been active in good roads movements in West Texas.

Sharp declines in prices received by farmers for cotton, corn and poultry products lowered the general price level of farm products 3.7 per cent from mid-October to mid-November.

We have, over most of this body of land, a sandy soil overlaid with a clay subsoil at a depth of from five to 20 inches. No other station has that.

They have had considerable encouragement from Congressman and officials of the Agricultural Department in Washington as well as some of the State Experiment Station representatives.

Mr. Barrett said they had strong hopes of getting the Station but expected they would need the assistance of a good many before they were through.
