The Terry County Herald

Not Neutral—Not On The Fence—A Paper With An Opinion And A Purpose

VOLUME 44 BROWNFIELD, TERRY COUNTY, TEXAS FRIDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1948 NUMBER 19

The Herald has grown with this section from strictly a ranch country. This area now consists of thriving towns and cities, supported by scientific farming and stock farming, augmented by huge oil fields, with the nation's largest known oil reserves.

This is the architect's drawing of the new First Presbyterian Church which is estimated to cost about $80,000.00, including furnishings. The contractor's bids will be received December 15th. The building is to be built on the corner of Broadway and Avenue

D across the street from the proposed new $750,000 high school building.

Herbert Bell Now A Gentleman of Leisure

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bell of Marshall, Texas, their daughter, Mrs. Vaughn Davis and son Herbert and daughter, Leatrice, of Mineral Wells, were here over the Thanksgiving holidays, visiting their son and brother, Milton Bell, as well as Herbert's brother, W. A. Bell and family. During the time, Herbert as usual paid the Herald a call to chew the fat for awhile.

After working in the purchasing department of the Texas & Pacific railroad for some 25 or 30 years, Herbert was recently put in the retired list and is now at leisure to spin around the countryside, and make the best of it for the rest of his life. But we'll bet a dime to a doughnut that a man that has been as active as Herbert all his life will either find some hobby that suits him or get as restless as a rat in a yellow jacket nest.

But right now, the new of retirement has not worn off, and he is having a whale of a time. He told us about a trip that he and some 140 other retirees were given by the T&P recently, when they were carried out to El Paso and wine, dined and entertained. Don't get that "wined" part wrong; we don't know that he even drinks; just an expression. Anyway, he stated the Pullman cars were conveniently parked, where they could retire and sleep or rest any time they wished while in El Paso.

We wish now we had gone to work for some railroad instead of buying a country weekly. Which reminds us that our daughter-in-law's pa, Sack Taylor of Denison will soon come up for the retirement period by the MK&T. He is already as restless as an alley cat. What will he be then?

Strength Ceilings Lifted For National Guard

Strength ceilings on National Guard units, imposed when enlistments ballooned before passage of the Selective Service law, have been lifted on both Army and Air Force units, the Adjutant General was informed by telegram today from the National Guard Bureau.

Ceilings will not be re-imposed until the end of the Government fiscal year, June 30, 1949, or until strength over the nation reaches 341,000, whichever comes first.

The Texas ceiling was 13,069. The present strength is 12,711. In order to assure full attendance at summer camp in 1949, and to furnish replacements for personnel lost by attrition, the Bureau feels that each unit should be permitted to enlist up to its ability.

Ceilings were lifted on certain types of air units last October. The present ruling relieves pressure on all force units.

The Adjutant General has informed all unit commanders that they may recruit up to full tables of organization strength as rapidly as possible. If other states increase strength rapidly, a ceiling may be re-imposed on Texas in order not to exceed the 341,000 national figure.

County Supt. Lee Fulton reports that $22,870 aid on school bus transportation has been received by his office. It will be divided among the four schools of the county as follows: Brownfield, $7,870; Meadow, $5,375; Union, $3,900 and Wellman, $5,725.

Maids & Matrons Club To Hold Christmas Bazaar

The Maids and Matrons Study Club will hold a Christmas Bazaar on December 11 in the display rooms of the Tudor Sales Co. The bazaar will offer a variety of attractive gifts, baked goods, fancy work and other novelties. The public is cordially invited. The bazaar will open at 10 a. m.

Many of you are familiar with the work of this club. Since 1906 they have sponsored a public library, and have taken a lead in all worth while projects for the betterment of city and community and donated to all welfare programs.

The free library is now located in the basement of the court house and is supervised by Miss Olga Fitzgerald. The Maids and Matrons are now working on a project to construct a club house in conjunction with the Alpha Omega club. The proceeds from this bazaar will be used for the Club house fund and library. The club will be glad to accept any donations for the bazaar, such as dressed fryers, hens, canned goods, or baked goods, or fancy work from their friends in the community.

A complete miniature model of the proposed club house will be on display at the bazaar. The structure is to be built in colonial style, with columns at the entrance and a wide porch. The tentative measurements for the main room are 24x48, and for the kitchen 12x18.

The club house will be located on lots at the corner of Club and Broadway. The corner lot was donated to the club by Mr. A. M. Brownfield, and half of the adjoining lot was donated by Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Tarpley. The building will be called the Seleta Jane Brownfield Memorial Club House.

Cotton Destroyed At Wellman Gin
Lost our notes on the Wellman Co-op Gin fire last week and this is being reported some two weeks late. Some ten bales of cotton that had been loaded on a truck was destroyed Saturday night the 20th. The truck was also quite badly damaged.

A fire truck from Brownfield made a run to the little city, but as Wellman has no waterworks, there was little they could do. However, volunteers worked to save the truck and cotton if possible.

Maroney's Did Not Sell or Lease Pens
The Herald was somewhat in error last week in reporting that the Coy Maroney's had sold or leased their pens and feeding operations. The reason we gathered that conclusion was that they had sold the elevator and leased the packing plant to Gore Brothers.

Mrs. Maroney stated to a reporter this week that it had caused quite some confusion as people had called looking for some of the Gore's, etc. She stated that the Western Stockyards feeding operations had been retained by them. The elevator was sold and the packing plant leased.

We are glad to make these corrections, and to remind one and all that mention in the Herald, even if in error, is read by the people.

C. L. (Abe) Lincoln, fifth division membership chairman of the American Legion stated recently that the local post, Howard-Henson stands 8th in Texas in membership. Seven large city posts stand ahead of Brownfield.

Plains Hard Hit On School Building Loss

The people of this entire section were sorry to learn the great misfortune to our neighboring town, Plains, Sunday morning early, when a fire gutted their high school building. The fire was discovered about 4 A. M. we understand, and had already gained much headway. So far as the Herald can find out, the cause of the fire has not been determined. Loss around $40,000.

The fire department here was called, but just as a fire truck was backing out to make the run to Plains, the call was canceled, as it was then believed that with wind in opposite direction, the new $100,000 building now under construction, was not endangered. A lot of very costly equipment in the school rooms, auditorium and gym were destroyed. Only three typewriters were saved.

It was reported here this week that by doubling up in the remaining old building, and perhaps using some church buildings, school work will be carried on until the new building is finished. The burned building was only about three years old.

A Near Hardeman County (Tenn.) Reunion

Sam Jackson and wife from Tipton, Oklahoma, were here last week, visiting his son-in-law and daughter. Both Sam and his wife were born and reared in Hardeman county, Tennessee in the vicinity of Middleton. We have gone to school with Mrs. Jackson, but did not know Sam very well until the fall of 1902, when we both picked cotton in Fannin county. That is, Sam was a picker; we were a picker—at that job.

We had hardly got down to old times when in walked Phillip Rogers, another native or Hardeman. He was well acquainted with Sam's brother, but they did not remember seeing each other before. By the way, Mrs. Jackson has a brother, Elliott Harris, who has been living in Brownfield several years. Sam is one of the Tillman county, Oklahoma county commissioners.

This jam session was between 11 and 12 noon. Ed Thompson, another Hardemanite walked in about 2 P. M. Ed left Tennessee when about three years old, and does not remember much about the old state. But he has a lot of kin back there yet, and talks of going back some time.

Most all Hardemanites are good folks, including yours truly.

We Sure Took A Whaling This Week

There is a mad gal over in Yoakum county in the general latitude of old Sligo that jumped all over us this week—by mail. And we can't blame her in the least. We met up with her at her banking place earlier in the fall when she paid two bucks to keep 'er coming. We joked her then that we would probably forget the matter—and did.

So-o-o, the mailing list conductor found no credits, and promptly eliminated her from the list. She threatens that if our paths cross in the near future, if we fail to get her back on the list, there will be some front page stuff for the dailies. Maybe an historical incident.

We sure got her back on the list and how. Not only that but mailed copies that she had missed. We are tickled to get out that light.

Do Your Christmas Mailing Early Urges Postmaster

Postmaster James H. Dallas today appealed to local residents to plan to mail all Christmas greeting cards and gift packages "just as early in December as possible."

An even heavier flood of Yuletide mail is expected this Christmas than during the record-breaking 1947 holiday season, when the local post office cancelled 178,637 pieces of mail.

"If you postpone mailing to the last minute this year," the Postmaster warned, "you risk disappointing your friends. Your holiday messages and gifts may be caught in the rush and perhaps not delivered until after Christmas."

All packages should be mailed before December 10 to assure delivery before Christmas Day, he said. Christmas cards for out-of-State delivery also should be mailed by December 10 and cards for local addresses should be in the collection boxes at least a week before December 25.

"We would appreciate it if people would stop in next week and purchase the extra stamps they're going to need," the Postmaster said. "This is one phase of Christmas shopping that everyone can complete early and thus avoid the last-minute crowds at post office windows."

The Postmaster pointed out that parcel post packages cannot be accepted unless stoutly wrapped, and advised shoppers to lay in supplies of heavy cardboard, sturdy outer paper, heavy cord and printed Fourth-Class labels. Packages are limited to 70 pounds in weight, and must not measure more than 100 inches in length and girth combined. The address should be repeated inside the outer wrappings.

Local Bank Defers Building Till Spring

A short conversation with President J. O. Gillham and Vice-President Leo Holmes the past week revealed the fact that as winter has begun, there will be no operations toward building their new bank structure until warm weather is here again.

From their standpoint this is a very practical view. In warm weather building can go on without loss of work hours, a vital part to figure in structural costs.

Perhaps much of the materials will be assembled before the winter is gone. Mention was also made that there had been a slight drop in the price of at least some building materials. Perhaps there will be others before actual building operations start in the spring. At least most of us hope so, and feel sure that building material men will all go along on this attitude.

At least we can state that there is no prospect in sight at this time that the building will not be erected as planned next year. Perhaps it would have already been under way, but most architects are prone to add this and that brace-and, and that and 'tother gadget, to make the cost unduly high.

Of course the Brownfield State Bank and Trust Co., want a nice building, but the are many things that can be eliminated from the first plan and leave a very beautiful and convenient building.

Mrs. P. A. Nowlyin and father, E. J. Cooper of Tahoka are visiting relatives in Compton, Calif. Mrs. Cooper, who is visiting there will return home with them.

Local Red Cross is asked to locate a man by the name of Herman H. Wrede who used to reside at 510 E. Main St. here. His daughter, a nurse in Germany has lost trace of her father.

Lubbock To Test For Deep Water

Fearing that increased domestic use as well as wholesale irrigation might finally, in the future, exhaust our "inexhaustible" supply of underground water, Lubbock has decided to make a deep test at its own expense. This 2,000 feet deep water test, which is estimated to cost from 8 to 10 thousand dollars, will be watched with interest by this entire section.

We have often wondered why oil well drillers and geologists do not have some kind of record about the water formations up to 2000 feet or more. But we suppose that after they bring in their shallow well of the usual depth of around 100 feet and get what water they need for drilling purposes, that is all the water they want to see. It's oil they are after.

While we will have to depend on our memory which is none too good, we wish to tell about a well drilled here by the Santa Fe in 1917. They were seeking a well for their tank and tower. That was long before they began to use city water. At that time our residence was less than 100 yards from the drilling operations, so we passed it often going to or coming from town, and learned the names of the driller and his crew very well.

As we remember it now, the usual 100 feet water was cased off, and the driller was instructed to drill on in quest of water in abundance and if possible softer than the top strata. At around 360 feet he struck plenty water—but here is the rub. While it was a bit softer than the 100 feet strata, it contained a count of several grains of salt per gallon.

Now salt in water, even if just a bit, is not good for locomotive engines, and the well was plugged back to the original strata, and finished. We have an idea that the Santa Fe railroad has the official results in some of their files. Evidently then there was no way to eliminate that salt, which one could not detect by tasting, nor do we know that any way has been found to this day to do so.

Note: In the first paragraph of this article we used the word "inexhaustible" water in quotations. That was the one big word the "land agents" of "that time put over the "prospector."

We Shouldn't Have Income Taxes

One of the staff of the Herald submitted this week a list of the many things the average business man of a town is supposed to contribute toward in putting them over. After duly considering the list, it is a wonder that any business man has enough left after taxes, chuck and overalls, gas and electricity, to pay an income tax, providing he has one.

Here you are, and if you are smart, you'll probably think of a half dozen or more to add to the list:

Polio arthritis, cancer, T. B., Heart campaigns, Salvation Army, Red Cross, Boy and Girl Scouts, Boys Town, Poppy Sales, Churches, Lodges, Chamber of Commerce and Jaycees, school clubs and what have you.

Sure, they are allright, but have you ever tried to compile a list of the things you contribute toward?

Advertising City And Terry County

David Nicholson, manager of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce, compiled a small but accurate folder, which has come from the press of the Herald in a two color job. Only a thousand of them were printed, as it was considered an emergency job. A more extended booklet or folder will come later.

This is the first work of its kind that has been put out by the local chamber since before the war, as during the conflict it was thought best to dispense as far as possible with any advertising that might bring additional settlers to bid for the already short housing supply.

Mr. Nicholson in a short concise way, answers just about all the questions a settler or prospective one would wish to know, both about the city and county, and the trade area surrounding our city.

The only trouble with the folder was that the cuts were small as well as not up to par in quality. We hope the next job has better quality cuts whether or not the Herald gets the printing job.

Newest Cancer Treatment To Be Discussed

Newest methods of detection and treatment of cancer will be demonstrated for Texas doctors at the third annual meeting of the American Cancer Society, Texas Division, in Houston Dec. 5 and 6.

Members of the Society from throughout the state will attend scientific and lay sessions featuring the two-day meeting, according to Frank C. Smith of Houston, president of the Division.

Speakers will emphasize the need for every doctor's office to be a cancer detection center and will describe the part volunteer men and women are playing in the state's expanding cancer control program.

A presentation for all present by nationally known specialists will describe the present and future of medical control of cancer, will emphasize that much cancer can be cured with what is now known, and will explore some of the possibilities which present-day research holds.

Dr. E. W. Bertner of Houston, executive committee chairman, said that actual patients will be presented during one of the professional meetings. Conditions will be similar to those in a typical cancer clinic, and representatives of 10 Texas tumor clinics which receive support from the Society will act as the medical staff for this demonstration. All Texas physicians, dentists and nurses are being invited to attend.

Awards for outstanding service to Texas cancer patients will be presented during the annual dinner, and business sessions will also be held. An open public meeting presenting some of the outstanding speakers will be held at the Houston YMCA Dec. 6 at 8 p. m.

Says Dave Will Not Die of Heart Stroke

Met Dave Beasley up at the State Bank corner recently, and he subject came up of mutual friends being carried off by heart strokes of late. Quite solemnly Dave says: "Well, you can't never tell. It may be old Dave or old Jack next."

Half a block down the street later over a cuppa coffee, the remark was repeated to Dave's neighbor and friend, L. R. Riney. "None, Dave won't die of a heart stroke; he ain't got one," says Riney.

We feel sure we'll have to print some nasty crack Dave says about L. R. next time he's in town.

All Miss Out On Oil Field Terms

As last week's Herald came out on the eve of a big holiday, more people were thinking in the terms of turkey than oil field palaver. Two of them that were nearest correct will be given a year's and a six month's subscription. Evelyn Collins Box 534 city, was judged to have the nearest correct answers, although she missed "barefoot." Mrs. D. L. Hinson, Box 581 missed "spud in," and "barefoot."

So those who tried may see their mistakes, we are printing the questions again this week, along with the answers, according to best authority on oil field jargon. In the meantime we are starting the Herald to these two ladies and hope they like to read it.

QUESTIONS:
"The ROUGHNECKS followed the TOOL PUSHER's instructions and went ON TOUR early. The well they had just completed was a DUSTER and they had to SKID the RIG to a new location earmarked by an OIL SMELLER as offering something better than a STRIPPER. As the crew rigged up at the new location, they speculated whether the new hole would be drilled by SWIVEL-NECKS or ROPE CHOCKERS. But no matter who did the job, there wouldn't be much LAZY BENCH time unless the well they were to SPUD IN was completed BAREFOOTED."

ANSWERS:
"The Helpers on the drilling crew followed the Foreman's instructions and went To Work early. The well they had just completed had turned out to be Dry and they had to Move the drilling Rig to a new location which had been marked by a Geologist as a favorable location for a Good Producing Well. As the crew Set Up at the new location they wondered whether it would be drilled by the Rotary method or the Cable Tool method. But no matter who did the job, there would be little Time for Rest unless the well they were about to Start would require no Steel Casing."

Shelton's Occupying New Addition
Shelton's Ready-to-Wear is now occupying the new addition to their building. Mrs. Joe Shelton owner and manager informs us that there will be no formal opening at the present time. With Christmas fast approaching they have moved in without entirely completing the work, and probably will have to wait until after the first of the year to finish.

Your reporter visited Shelton's and was greatly impressed with what has been done. The space has been almost doubled, and many new display cases and enclosed racks have been added, also two dressing rooms. Mrs. Shelton cordially invites all her old and new friends to come and see the improvements.

S. W. White Moves Back To Meadow

After sojourning for the last two years in the Lometa country stock farming, the S. W. White family has moved back to the old farm near Meadow. He was in to see us last week to get his paper changed, and expressed no regrets on his move. The only thing was that it has been unduly dry in that area, as well as in this section, or more so, and he says there is no grass and little feed.

However, S. W. says that he had a nice time down there; met a lot of good folks, and sold out without loss, but made very little in the deal or from crops or livestock while down there.

Well, the Whites burned no bridges, and we feel sure they found the latch string on the outside when they got back to Meadow.

Tibet has no railroads and no highways.

Lea county, New Mexico has always been noted for its fine cattle. At a recent auction sale a Junior bull was purchased by a Roswell man for $4,500.

The Christmas season will be officially opened in Brownfield tonight at 7:30 when the local merchants unveil their windows to the public and display their Yuletide decorations. City officials announce that the lights will be up in time for the program.

The following merchants will take part in the Junior Chamber of Commerce's Treasure Hunt; Jack Hamilton Tire and Electric, Nelson Jewelry, Lewis Home and Appliance, Southern Auto Stores, Western Boot and Shoe Shop, Heron and Sons.

Lowe's Studio, Shelton's Ready to Wear, Copeland Hardware, St. Clair's Variety, J. C. Jones Co., Cave's Variety Store, Alexander-Gosdin Drug, Latham's, Cobb's Dept. Store, Fox Paint and Paper Supply, Duchess Style Shop, Wilgus Corner Drug, Farm and Home Appliance, J. B. Knight Furniture,

Former Resident Buried Here Tuesday

Funeral services for John W. Chisholm, 50, former resident of Terry county were held at 2:30 P. M. Tuesday in the Crescent Hill Church of Christ.

James Black, Sterling City minister officiated, assisted by Jimmy Wood Church of Christ minister here. Burial was in Terry County Memorial cemetery under the direction of the Brownfield Funeral home.

Mr. Chisholm died unexpectedly of a heart attack Thursday in his home in Oroville, Calif., where he had been in the grocery business for the last two years.

In Terry county where he moved from Lubbock in 1918, he had been a farmer, groceryman and farm implement dealer.

Survivors include the widow; three daughters, Mrs. Jim Proctor of Waukegan, Ill., Mrs. Curtis Christian of Oroville and Miss Theresa Chisholm of Los Angeles; the parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Chisholm of Brownfield; five sisters, Mrs. Jack Latham of Oroville, Mrs. Luther Harrell of Cross Plains, Mrs. O. L. Walton of Brownville, Mrs. Lanious Williams of Los Angeles and Mrs. H. B. Boston of Brownfield; and four brothers, Richard of Long Beach, Sam of Los Angeles and Henry and Joe of Brownfield.

Aside from large crowds of local people who attended the funeral, many from other sections of Texas and other states including both friends and relatives, were here for the funeral. John had a host of friends.

John was born in Sherman, Texas, Oct. 20, 1898. He was married to Miss Laura Hyman, December 24, 1922.

School Bond Election Contest To Be Heard

As most of the readers are probably aware, the contest over the school bond election here, last May has been appealed to the 7th Court of Civil Appeals at Amarillo. The issue was for $750,000, and carried by 30 odd votes, but in the District trial court here before Judge Louis B. Reed, some seven for it was thrown out as illegal, and one against was thrown out for the same reason.

The Civil court is expected to hear the case in January, at which time they will either sustain or reject the opinion of the lower court. In the meantime, there has been a suit filed by professors of the recent hike in school taxes. This suit will come before Judge Reed next week, we understand, and the trial set for a later date perhaps.

Lea county, New Mexico has always been noted for its fine cattle. At a recent auction sale a Junior bull was purchased by a Roswell man for $4,500.

This week a friend, H. P. French brought in an article taken from some journal that he takes that reminds us vividly of some of the bonding that has been going on at the nation's capital for years. It seems that lately a lot of the war time B-29's have been taken out of their cellophane and put back into service either as training ships, or for emergencies. Some of them needed repairs and new part. But it was found that all tools, dies and jigs for these ships had been destroyed by orders of the then authorities at Washington soon after V-J day. The Boeing plant at Wichita Kansas is now engaged in making the new B-47 stratoljet bomber. The management of this huge plant stated that they were the principal makers of the B-29, and after receiving orders to destroy dies, tools, etc., they stalled for two weeks. Then the order from still higher ups came to get busy and destroy the stuff. Well, that higher up was the then Secretary of Commerce, Henry Wallace, whom you will remember ran for President of the United States this year on the Stalin ticket. We quote the concluding part of the article: "Along with the jigs and fixtures, we cut up with welding torches, we threw away the whole pipeline full of parts. Cut up 16 B-29's in the final assembly bays and all the parts for a hundred or more in pieces that went back to raw materials." And there are still a few so-called Americans that think Wallace is one.

And up at Washington they are again talking of peacetime OPA and rationing. Anything to create a scare and put millions of people back in line for ration cards, etc. And while some laws might be passed to pull down some things, it will hurt some one in the long run. Somebody has to pay for some one else's loss. It has to be made up some way or another. There could be a law passed to have eggs sold at 25c per dozen, or a good suit of clothes at say, $20. But you might ask the first farmer you meet if he can feed present high priced feed, pay for present high priced labor and sell eggs at 25c per dozen. And we might add that no manufacturer would make a good suit now to sell for $20, as in doing so he would go bankrupt. Someone, somewhere has to take the rap when rationing comes. And we might add that rationing in the best friend the black marketeer has. What goes up together must come down the same way. That includes the raw materials, labor and the makers. It is rather hard to expect any reductions now with huge government spending. That always spells inflation—not deflation.

Pugilist Joe Louis is a negro that has never been given to the sensational side of anything. Rather is on the extreme conservative side. He is not given to boasting or overstatements. In an interview, this modest negro prize-fighter, liked by both white and black, north and south, revealed some things to a New York Times reporter that will be a shock to many of the folks in the north, and especially to the race segregationists. The interview was about Joe's boyhood in his native Alabama. Yes, he remembered that his family was very poor, and so was a lot of white families in his neighborhood. He had played with some white boys, calling their names, as a child. No mention was ever made by them or he about the different color of their skins, or one being better than the other. They were just children and all liked to play. He never heard of any lynchings in that section of the state of Alabama. What a let down for the Society for the Advancement of the Colored Race. Not a word in their favor.

And in a passing shot at the late political campaign, there may have been a reason that so many country weekly newspapers in the north, middle west and Pacific states turned from Dewey to Truman. Early last summer a national advertising company, who represented the National Republican Campaign Committee, so they said, sent a request to all the smaller weeklies like the Herald, requesting advertising rates. And they intimated that considerable advertising would come to the papers. Of course all the weeklies hastened to comply and wait for the mazzuka to roll in. The big let down came in October, when proofs of some large mats were received. The papers were to get out and get enough local sponsors to pay for the ads. To further rub it in, the mats would cost the papers just $28. The paid advertising went to the magazines, large dailies but principally to radios. Gov. Dewey had few friends among the country weeklies at the windup of the campaign. If nothing had ever been said about advertising, he would have had more friends. This incidence was one of the biggest boners the GOP organization permitted to be made.

The Old Apostle of the Donley County Leader up there at Clarendon, has a persistent habit of trying to make folks remember something that they are trying to forget. Recently in one of his off-side tirades, he reminded all us mortal born 30 or 40 years too early about the time when the butcher would throw in a big mess of liver because the customer paid him $1.50 for a smoked ham. Why in heck can't he leave a sleeping lion sleep? Aint there enough complaint of HCL without bringing up the long forgotten if not forgotten days?

The Old He missed out on the turkey for Thanksgiving. But the daughter-in-law had a whaling good feast of a fat hen and all the trimmings, such as giblet gravy, dressing, cranberries, celery, etc. Turkey is famous mostly for its name and what it signifies to Thanksgiving Day. In reality a good fat hen is better meat any day. Anyway, about three weeks earlier we had a turkey dinner while her parents were here visiting. An dbe Sears and McLeroy families talk like they might have one for us Christmas.

Why Democratic Socialism Breaks Down

By Dr. Willford I. King

For months, France has been on the verge of revolution. Similarly, the Italian Government has stood in constant dread of overthrow by an uprising of Communists. And even proud Britannia has, ever since the close of World War II, been compelled to subsist in part on American bounty.

By contrast, the Russian government is today apparently stronger and more menacing than at any time in the past, despite the fact that for thirty years wishful thinkers in conservative circles have been predicting its overthrow or collapse. What is it that thus differentiates the Soviet regime from the present government of France, Italy and Great Britain?

Assuredly the difference does not lie in the respective natures of their economic systems. All of their regimes are now basically socialistic—the state in each case operating or controlling the major industries. All have marked communistic characteristics, exemplified by such manifestations as confiscation of large incomes, rent controls, and rationing. Yet, in Russia, the government maintains undisputed sway throughout its territory, and is apparently increasing production, while the governments of France and Italy are in precarious positions, and the British are unable either to support themselves or to keep their currency on a sound basis. Evidently the three nations last mentioned have a common weakness not shared by Russia. What is it?

The answer seems to be clear cut. The weakness of France, Italy and Britain is the weakness of democracy. This statement will doubtless shock those who believe that democracy is the remedy for all national ills. Therefore this sweeping assertion about the weakness of democracy calls for analysis. Let us look at the facts.

Control of industry by government is the very essence of soc-

Tom Bingham Here On Visit

Tom Bingham was up the past week from his nice home near Quemado, Texas. He was visiting his dad and mother, Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Bingham, and Tom says they are just about as spry as most folks half their age.

Tom tells us that he has just about quit the building and concrete business. What he does now is for accommodation, or for his own family. The boys work his irrigated farm. His vegetables were damaged quite a bit during the late freeze.

He can tell you quite a bit about "wet backs" as he is right near the border. Texas Latins, he says want $1.50 per hour for farm labor, but the "wet backs" will work for 50c per hour and like it, as it is much more than they get across. And they have access to any and all vegetables grown on the place.

He finds that Mexicans as a whole are honest, friendly folks. He says he never locks anything when he leaves the farm, and never misses anything to amount to anything.

By the way, we mentioned that was one section of Texas we had never visited. Tom says: "Come down sometime, and maybe I can find a stray goat to eat."

If the Federal Government takes the oil-bearing tidelands away from the states, as President Truman and the Democratic party has pledged in the platform that it will do, then there will be a decided decrease in the public school funds in Texas and Louisiana, which will have to be made up from some other source. This shortage will afford another argument and demand for the Federal Government to furnish the additional needed funds. And so, that is what the Federal Government will promptly do. And it will not be doing that long until it will be dictating how those Federal Funds are to be used by the state or local authorities. And that will give the racial-equality maniacs and politicians in other parts of the country an added opportunity to cry out against segregation in the public schools. Then we will see white and colored pupils attending the same schools and white and colored teachers teaching the same schools. Mix up the funds and we will mix up the folks—it's a sure bet—Tahoka News.

SWAP IN-LAWS BE HAPPY!

LONDON (AP)—Marriage going on the rocks because you have to live with your in-laws?

Then swap with another couple and live with their in-laws.

Ninety-six young couples at suburban Hendon say it works.

They're doing it until they can find homes of their own.

This way, says W. F. Gow, of the local housing committee—which organized the exchange—everybody's happier. Young couples feel they're "independent tenants" instead of "being in the way," have fewer domestic tiffs through mothers-in-law butting in, and take better care of the furniture.

The water area of the United States, exclusive of the Great Lakes is 45,259 square miles.

The most eastern point in the United States is West Quoddy Head, a Maine cape.

ialism. Every socialistic government then take the responsibility for fixing wages, and also the prices of industrial products. Most of the voters are wage earners. Therefore, to maintain itself in power, the government must keep the support of the wage earners. Obviously the wage workers always want higher wages, and government has no alternative except to yield to their demands.

The Low Down Hickory Groves

Now folks, the election is over—we have picked the Captain—also the crew. Some of the crew are clear of eye—some are of 22 gauge and sneaked in under the tent as the big, free, outdoor exhibition took place at the Main Entrance. But buy-and-large, the crew is average, I reckon, and being on our payroll now, it is up to every mother's son of us to tell the guy we elected just exactly what we want done. So take your pen in hand.

If 51 people of each 100 says to their man there, we want to go like England—have the Govt. be the Big Cheese—make everybody more or less a drone—then that is what we will have. But if 51 of each 100 say, nix—we want to see the Govt. brought back to the style that our great grandpa and George Washington gained for us, then we will have that kind of Govt.

It is that simple. Congressmen are alert to votes—can detect 'em, day or night, via postcard, telegram, or how. So don't go around blaming Congress—blame your own self if this Nation goes into bedlam—you didn't write and lay down the law to your man there on the meandering Big River. Those guys are not as simple as some of 'em sometimes seem—they just haven't heard from you. Yours with the low down, JO SERRA.

Serpentine With Split Personality

STOCKHOLM—(AP)—An adder with one wicked and one gentle head is living on the dale in the Stockholm Forestry Institute.

The snake was just a babe when it was found in September and its protector Dr. Goesta Notini fears that it will die in spite of careful nursing. If it survives it will be an interesting object of study for animal psychologists.

The two heads react very differently. The right head attacks quickly and fiercely when teased, but the left one tries to escape. Both heads have fully developed poison fangs.

Veterans' News

Veterans studying under the GI Bill who want to transfer to another school at the end of the fall semester should notify the Veterans Administration at least 30 days before they intend to make the change.

To enroll at a new school, VA explained, the student veteran needs a supplemental certificate of eligibility. He also needs a statement from his present school showing that his progress there is satisfactory.

A student veteran may obtain a supplemental certificate of eligibility by applying to the VA regional office which has this file.

Veterans who have appointments for authorized by the Veterans Administration are urged to appear at the appointed time.

VA said veterans should make every effort to keep their medical or dental examinations at the time specified. These examinations are set on a regular schedule.

Broken appointments also result in unnecessary delays in medical and dental care to all veterans of the surrounding area and reduces the number of veterans who can be served by VA.

If an appointment cannot be kept VA should be notified in advance.

German Pigs Invade Switzerland

Schaffhausen, Switzerland (AP) Switzerland is fighting desperately against a German invasion.

The invaders are wild pigs. Hordes of wild pigs from the Black Forest are fleeing from the attacks of hungry Germans and frontier.

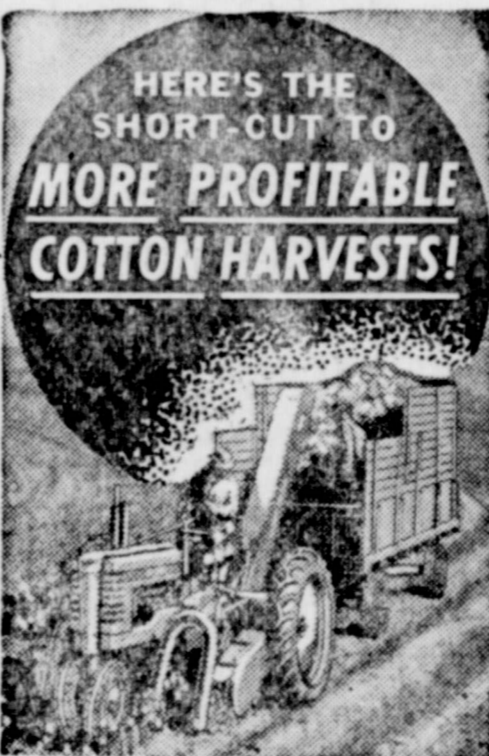

Swiss farmers complain that in the agriculture districts of the canton of Schaffhausen north of the Rhine River, the German pigs have done incalculable damage to crops.

Since meat is not rationed in Switzerland, the townspeople have little incentive to roam the hills in search of edible wild pork.

Demands for vigorous Swiss action to wipe out the invaders are being made by rural communities in the canton of Schaffhausen. The question even threatens to become a political issue in the cantonal assembly of Schaffhausen, where non-government deputies are accusing the cantonal government of negligence in protecting Swiss territory against the pig-invasion.

For the last two years we have been coming home from Tennessee and telling W. B. (Red) Tudor about a cousin of his who runs a grocery, filling station and post office at Brownfield, Mississippi. Last Saturday night Lt. Col. Tudor with the army air force located on the Pacific coast was through here and spent the night with Red and Mrs. Tudor. They Do It Every Time

The preacher had just concluded a hot, scathing sermon on the sin of swearing. He had stated several times that he knew one of his hearers that day was guilty.

The service ended. The worshippers one by one filed out the back door.

The first to go was a woman never suspected of using foul language. With a red and angry face she exclaimed, "I shall never darken this door again!"

Before the astonished preacher could recover from this blast, another said, "Well, brother, if I had known you was about last week I'd been somewhat more careful of my language."

A third said, "I think you might at least have come to me privately about it rather than telling it to the whole church."

A fourth remarked angrily, "I was never so embarrassed in all my life."

Then came the real culprit—the one at whom the preacher aimed all his remarks. With a bland and cherubic smile, he grasped the preacher's hand and pumped vigorously. "Brother," he boomed, "that's what I call real preaching. You certainly poured it on them today."—Swiped.

1. Of all the Packards built—since 1899—over 50% are still in service.

needs of the new Packard Eights are the lowest in Packard's 49 years of precision manufacturing!

That's just part of the value story behind this sleek new Packard.

Construction To Start Soon On Presbyterian Church Building

Last Sunday marked the beginning of the Presbyterian church's building campaign. The campaign will continue through Sunday and will be extended if necessary. The finance committee is composed of: W. Graham Smith, Chairman, and Mrs. Lee O. Allen, Lal Copeland, James H. Dallas, Sawyer Graham, Phil P. Gaaech, Frank Gorton, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Klofanda, John B. King, Mrs. Tom May, A. M. Muldrow, Sam Privett, J. M. Teague, jr., Mrs. Frank Wier and Bruce Zorns.

Reverend J. Hoyt Boles, executive for the Synod of Texas of the Presbyterian church, preached the sermon at the morning service last Sunday. A dinner was served in the church after the service for the finance committee by the Women's Guild. After the dinner the finance committee went out in two's to call upon the church membership.

The new First Presbyterian church which is to be started soon will be of "modern gothic" design with a high-pitched roof and towering spire, topped with a cross. The building will contain a sanctuary seating a congregation of 160 or more, and an overflow room for 40 more people. There will be 10 Sunday school class rooms, accommodating 150 pupils of all age groups, and an assembly room with a stage for special programs. This assembly room will also serve as a recreation room for youth gatherings and Scout meetings, and as a dining hall seating 100 at tables. A completely equipped kitchen is convenient for preparing church dinners. Near the nursery there will be a church parlor with a wood-burning fireplace for the Young Adult Bible class and for informal gatherings.

The chancel in the sanctuary will be divided, with the choir-loft on one side, and the organ console and pulpit on the other. The Lord's Table will be in the center at the back of the chancel. The table will sit in front of a background of beautiful wood work with an open Bible engraved upon it. The interior of the sanctuary will feature a natural wood ceiling extending to the peak of the roof with exposed oak beams. Provision has been made for the pipes for the organ at the rear of the sanctuary above the narthex or vestibule. The 48-foot tower will contain chimes. There will be a pastor's study, a church office, closets for church supplies, a large storage room, and space for the central heating unit. There will be only one floor level, a few inches above the ground. The building committee which is responsible for planning the entire building program for the church is composed of: J. M. Teague, jr., chairman; Bruce Zorns, A. M. Muldrow and W. Graham Smith.

The First Presbyterian church of Brownfield was organized September 17, 1916, with thirteen charter members. Among these charter members Mr. and Mrs. John B. King and Mr. J. D. Miller are still members of the church. Reverend John B. Kerr, a Presbyterian Sunday School Missionary living at Snyder, rendered invaluable assistance in bringing Presbyterians together. The church records contain these words about his work prior to 1916. "This man of God was truly a Pioneer Preacher of the Gospel of Christ and was an ever welcome guest in the homes of those Christian people who rarely had an opportunity to attend Sunday School or Church." Mr. Kerr covered this vast territory by mule power, driving them to an open-top buggy, and visiting the ranch people from once to twice a year.

Early in 1917 a church site, about seventy-five yards southeast of the lot on which the present church was built, was secured. This property was sold because it was believed to be too far from the town. In May of 1918 the lots where the church now stands were purchased. Continuing from the church records we read: "We now felt ourselves strong enough, in faith if not in finances to undertake a building program. The congregation raised what money they could, by donations, box suppers, and church dinners served on court days. Finding ourselves still short of funds to construct the building as planned, we made application to the Church Erecton Fund, and after some delay, received a grant of $750.00." The Church sanctuary was completed in 1919.

Until 1938 the church was unable to secure a full-time resident minister. In that year the Reverend Fred Walker became pastor of the church, and during his ministry the present church building was completed. In 1941 the church sanctuary was repaired, and the next year the Sunday School wing was added—the work being done largely by the donated labor of the members and friends of the church.

The present minister, Reverend J. Preston Murphy, has been serving the church since October 1944. Outstanding among the members for long and faithful service have been Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dallas. Mr. Dallas was elected Sunday School Superintendent even before the church was built and acted in that capacity for approximately twenty-five years. He passed away last January. Mrs. Dallas has been pianist for thirty-one years.

The church now has a membership of 130, with 18 on the official boards and 10 teachers in the Sunday School.

Franks of Brownfield, in the home of the groom's parents at 8 o'clock Sunday morning. Rev. A. J. Franks, father of the groom and pastor of the North Side Baptist church, officiated at the double ring service.

A large floral arrangement of pink and white carnations, fern and sweet peas decorated the table before which the couple exchanged their vows.

The bride wore a light blue dress with gray accessories, and carried out the tradition of "something old, something new, something borrowed, and something blue," by carrying on old linen handkerchief belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. A. W. Early, wearing a new dress, borrowing a white prayer book from her sister, Jean Mixon, and wearing a pair of blue garters. She also carried a penny in her shoe for good luck. The Bible she carried was covered with a corsage of pink carnations, and sweet peas with white satin streamers.

Miss Jean Mixon, sister of the bride was maid of honor. She wore a light pink suit with a pale blue blouse and black accessories and carried a corsage of white carnations. Billy Franks, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

Mrs. Franks was a 1947 graduate of Woodson high school, and has been employed by the Johnson Implement Co., during the past year.

Still A Lot Of Coronado's Children

When Prof. Frank Dobie wrote "Coronado's Children," he likely unintentionally started another look for Spanish Gold. However, we are of the opinion that a lot of this gold and precious stone talk remains in the minds of some of the searchers. In fact no section of the southwest that the Spanish Conquistadores visited, so far as is known in history, is noted for gold past or present, unless he visited California. Many believe Coronado got no further than western New Mexico.

Of the two cases of continued search after some three centuries, that we are now acquainted with, one of them was a recluse of Stonewall county. He was said to be a college graduate of Illinois, and for some time an instructor. He and wife came to Stonewall county in 1920, built a dugout house on top Lookout Mountain, and proceeded to live the frugal pioneer life. The wife tired of that kind of existence, and after a few years went back to Illinois, and presumably died. However, her husband continued to live in Texas and hunt for buried treasure. He was kind and gentle, and unlike most hermits was kind to visitors, animals, birds, etc., and is said to have kept his dugout clean and sanitary. He also provided food and water containers for the birds thereabouts. He is said to have found some treasure, enough for a living or else he had money from some source. Recently he became ill, however, and was a patient with pneumonia at the Aspermont hospital.

One night his nurse found the old gentleman dead. He had stuffed his nose and mouth with cotton, and corded a stout rope about his neck. The body was carried back to his beloved Lookout Mountain, and buried in a grave he had already prepared under some of the scrub oaks near his dugout. The above is a short digest of a long story about the old fellow in the Sunday Abilene News-Reporter. It was interesting.

Digging on the Stricklin Farm
When the writer came to Texas in 1900, or 48 years ago, we found that a certain family near Grandview in Johnson county were or had been digging on the then Needham Thompson place. Uncle "Need" was the father of Ed of the Harmony community, this county. About 1903, Mr. Thompson sold the farm to our brother, Meeks Stricklin, who still owns it. To begin with, there was a huge rock in the bed of a branch of Chambers creeks that runs through the place from northwest to southeast. This rock, having a wide trench cut crosswise in it, became locally known at the "Star Rock." This boulder is some 12 feet across and perhaps four feet thick, and weighs tons. But an extra high rise in the creek moved it a few feet a few years ago.

Now for some reason or other, the family mentioned above have implicitly believed that treasures lie buried near that rock. The third generation of that family we will not name, are now the explorers. For years and years neither Mr. Thompson or our brother made any charges other than to laugh when not talking to the people. But recently the diggers have made a yearly lease of $100 for 100 square yards, and our brother is to get 10 per cent of any treasures found.

While down there recently, we did not take the trouble to even go up there, although not more than 300 yards from his home. But they are said to be using bulldozers in removing the earth and rocks. And the leases now talk of something very much more precious than gold. In the meantime Meeks just continues to milk his cows, gather the eggs and pick up the pecans on the place. That's in his line, he says. But we hope they strike it rich. Maybe we can borrow some money.

G I QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q While living in Canada, I converted my National Service Life Insurance to a permanent plan. Now I learn that because of Canada currency controls, I cannot send enough money out of the country to cover my premiums. What can I do about this?

A There have been a number of similar cases. You should contact the currency control office of the country in which you now reside, and if you cannot make a satisfactory arrangement you should go to the nearest U. S. consulate and explain your problem.

Q I am a World War II veteran and would like to know if my wife is entitled to VA hospitalization? A If she is an ex-service woman she will be entitled to hospitalization in her own right, but being the wife of a veteran will not itself make her eligible for VA hospitalization.

Q After my discharge from World War II I surrendered my $10,000 National Service Life Insurance converted policy for the cash value. I have re-enlisted and want insurance again. Am I eligible?

A Yes. Application for a new NSLI policy may be made while you are in active service.

Q I have a service-connected disability rated at 20 percent. Am I entitled to an increase because of dependents?

A No. Your disability must be rated 60 percent or more before additional compensation for dependents is payable.

ACE OF UNBEATEN TEAM— Ted Scown (above) leads a merry touchdown parade as Sul Ross State College of Alpine, Texas, heads into the stretch of an undefeated, untied season. ## STRICKLINLY SPEAKING

Some food prices have dropped says the Bureau of Labor Statistics—glory be—and perhaps enough to offset the rising cost of clothing. Some drop is reported in building material.

The big insurance companies are the leaders in safety movements, and there is a reason. The officials of these companies are out to make some dividends for their stock holders. Too many death claims can cancel all dividends.

There is another important reason. Death always hurts other members of a family, friends and neighbors. The seriously hurt have to endure suffering, and perhaps steep hospital bills.

It has been announced that there is a new and deadly remedy for cockroaches and ants. One application is said to do the work for six months. Bring on the remedy, Mr. Dealer.

Also you may look for a new housing bill from the 81 congress. It ought to be good, there has been enough trials.

Now they've started a new one on the Arkansawyers down at Fort Worth. A native of the Ozarks was at the court house down there seeking naturalization papers. The clerk informed him that they were obtained at the Federal court house, then asked him if he were an alien. "Yep, I'm from Arkansasaw," he stated.

Note to Homer Nelson: You might pass that one around the natives there in Prescott.

That driver up north who is suing city police for not arresting him for DWI, before he had a wreck, may soon be accusing the officers of funneling the liquor down his gullet.

Henry Ford II, stated recently that a fourth round of wage hikes is inevitable. Then added that prices would go up to meet the new wage demand. Logically prices cannot very well be lowered when materials and wages are hiked.

And then there are some major industries that cannot hike prices without consulting the government. The railroads for instance has to ask freight or passenger hikes of the Interstate Commerce Commission. And what they may do about the matter is anybody's guess.

Some of the so-called luxury industries, the movies for one, are reporting a drop in receipts. It is said their box office ticket sales are off from last year, and even a few months ago. Then there is the headache of foreign exchange money rates, and a lessening of exports to many countries for that reason.

We passed compliments this week with R. H. (g-- d--) McCormack when he remarked that as we got older, our game limb got crooked. We told him that his old pan got more homelier—if possible. Ta! tah!

The Commies are not about to agree to anything. Americans who think the Russies are "peace loving" are just light under the lid.

It will be interesting to watch how our Congressman, George Mahon votes when the "civil rights" program of Truman comes up. And that goes for other southern congressmen who believed "in fighting the battles out inside the party." We'll see what we see.

Presidents are not supposed to be elected to serve any special group, bloc or clique—but all the people. A stranger from some foreign country hearing some people talk would think our presidents were elected to serve a certain class of citizens.

No group of people is more conscious of the dangers of inflation than our retail merchants. And he's on the job to try to stop it if possible, more than any other group.

A dangerous period faces the

More About Our Who's Who Tech Students

Edd C. McLeRoy, senior agriculture student, and Edgar Self, senior business administration student, both of Brownfield attending Texas Technological college, have been chosen in a group of 27 students to represent the college in "Who's Who Among American Colleges and Universities."

Students are considered on basis of scholarship, character, leadership, prospects for future success and service to the college.

Outstanding among McLeRoy's campus activities are: Offices: President, Block and Bridge Club; Vice-president, agriculture club; Member: Block and Bridge; Aggie Club; Future Farmers of America; Texas Tech Rodeo Association; Tech War Veterans association.

farmer. Most of us oldsters remember back following the other war, when prices were high, there were some who not only went in debt for more land, but some even mortgaged the old farmstead to buy more land. In some cases they not only lost the new place, but the old home place as well. Bankers and investment brokers are advising farmers to put their surplus money in government bonds. Hedge against the day certain to arrive.

Just One Of Our Bad Habits

For many years we have had a habit of nicknaming friends. In fact we don't nickname anyone that we do not dearly like. For instance, any of our friends that has the name Bill or Will, it is usually "Billie in the Low Ground" after an old hoedown fiddle tune. We call Ed Thompson Edgar Allen Poe Thompson. Cy Tankersley was always "Cyrus the Great," and on and on ad infinitum.

In fact we have most of the boys who work in the shop nicknamed. A long while back we ran a column in the Herald written by a man way up in the mountain, Tech Chamber of Commerce; Charter member Honorary Agricultural club; Student Council; Wing Counsellor, Dorm III; Junior Livestock Judging Team, Denver; Junior Judging Team, Oklahoma City; American Royal Senior Judging Team, Kansas City; International Judging Team, Chicago; Chairman, Tech Homecoming committee; Veterinarian's Assistant; High Individual at Kansas City in Wool Judging Contest.

Outstanding among Self's campus activities: Offices, Treasurer, Centaur club; Athletic Director, Centaur club; vice-president, centaur. Member: Phi Eta Sigma; Centaur Club; Student Council; Publications committee; Men's Inter-Club Award; Highest grade point average, Centaur club.

tains of Kentucky, called the "Hogwallow News." One of the characters in that column was Luke Mathusala. After Luther Harrel moved to Brownfield and started a barber shop, we called him that instead of his real name.

We remember that it used to gripe his little daughter not a little bit and she would retaliate by calling us Old Jack Strickline. But we little suspected that her dad thought anything of the matter until he was here this week attending the funeral of his brother-in-law, John Chisholm.

He confided to the Junior Editor that he didn't exactly like the name. Guess we'll have to call off our dogs on nicknaming people. We always considered Luther, or Luke as most people called him, a friend. The habit does us no good, and if it hurts the feelings of anyone, we'll quit it right off.
