$1108.23 Collected Thus Far In March Of Dimes

Mr. Milton Bell, chairman of the March of Dimes, announced Feb. 3 that $1108.00 had been raised during the drive. This does not include the money gathered in the coin jars, or cards, as they have not yet been collected.

The funds collected so far include $220.11 from the house to house canvass, $140.57 from the President's Ball at the Legion Hall, $398.00 from business donations, and $349.55 from the women's activities.

Mr. Bell wishes to extend his thanks to all of those who worked on the various activities, to the merchants for their co-operation, and to everyone for their generous donations.

Brownfield Starts On New City Census

Four paid workers started out Monday on a new city census for Brownfield. The census is a joint undertaking of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce and eight Brownfield churches.

The 1940 census showed Brownfield with a population of 4,009. Estimates of the population now range from 7,500 to as high as 9,000.

David Nicholson, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, is chairman of the census committee and other members are: Rev. A. A. Briap, pastor of the First Baptist church; Rev. H. L. Thurston, pastor of the First Methodist church, and Jimmy Wood, minister of the Crescent Hill Church of Christ.

Rev. J. Preston Murphy, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, is treasurer of the program, financed by the chamber and churches. Other participating churches are: Church of the Nazarene, West Side Baptist church, South Side Baptist church, and First Christian church.

Names of the various members of each family, their ages, home ownership status, vocation, church membership or preference and other data will be compiled in the census.

Johnny Haynes Gives Oven To Legion

Johnny Haynes owner and operator of the Haynes Bakery has donated a large oven to the American Legion Post here. The oven will be installed in the kitchen at the Legion Hall immediately.

This oven will be of great value to the post, and to all organizations that make use of the Legion Hall. It will accommodate barbecue for a considerable crowd and large scale baking. It also will provide an excellent means of keeping dinners hot.

The Legion wishes to extend their thanks to Mr. Haynes for his generosity.

Mr. and Mrs. Gay Price and daughter Francis, attended the Fat Stock show at Fort Worth, Monday. They were also accompanied by their son, Donald, who is attending college at Crisco.

Seven South Plains Men To Go To Washington

Judge Homer Winston, and Mr. Jess McWhorter will leave Friday Feb. 4 for Washington D. C. They will be accompanied by five other south Plains men. They will meet with the senate sub-committee dealing with cotton and grain sorghum allotments, for 1950 and 1951. They hope to retain high floor prices for cotton and grain sorghum commodities, during the coming three years.

Judge Winston reports that the group will probably remain in Washington until around Feb. 22. He will have a complete report on their activities on his return.

American Legion To Build Scout Hut

The Legion at their meeting Thursday, Jan. 27, voted to build the American Legion Boy Scout troop 74 a $3,500 hut. The exterior of the structure will be stucco and measure 30 by 40 feet.

The building will contain one large room and two small patrol rooms. The main room will be lined with knotty pine and have a 30 ft. stone, wood-burning fire place across one end.

The hut will be constructed on the 2 and one-half acre plot owned by the Legion, which lies directly north of the Legion Hall. It is hoped that other boy scout troop sponsoring organizations will follow the example of the Legion. Mr. Sam Privitt, commander of the local post, informed us the Legion is anxious to have other troop huts constructed on the same location.

Work on the hut for troop 74 will begin as soon as bids have been considered and the weather permits.

Meteorite Thought To Have Fallen In Terry

E. R. Cornelius of Lamesa, a member of the Texas Observers, an organization for the study of meteorites, called at the Herald office this week and informed us that a fairly large meteorite is thought to have fallen someplace in the vicinity. According to scientific calculation the meteorite should have fallen someplace in western Terry or eastern Yoakum counties. The meteorite was seen between sunset and dark, on Sunday, January 30.

Mr. Cornelius is interested in getting information concerning the meteorite. Anyone who saw anything in the sky on Sunday resembling a meteorite, or heard detonations sounding like an explosion at approximately dusk on Sunday are requested to contact Mr. Cornelius by mail at Lamesa.

A hen that lays 200 eggs a year puts about 14 times as much calcium into the eggs as she does her body.

Court Of Appeals Affirms School Bond Election

The State Court of Appeals in Amarillo affirmed the recent Brownfield school bond election last week. Contestants state they will file a motion for rehearing and appeal to the State Supreme Court.

Judge Lewis B. Reed, Saturday Jan. 29 held a hearing in Brownfield, on the injunction against the school trustees in regard to the sale of bonds. The injunction was not granted.

Typhoid Serum Offered Students

offered in all schools of Terry County to all students at request of parent to the Health Department.

This inoculation is being required for entrance to all Scout or Youth Camps of any kind, also adults should avail themselves of this protection especially so if tips are planned for where they will be drinking milk or water of unknown or questionable quality.

To avoid reaction by giving smaller doses study has been made and it is found that protection will be had and less reaction if given in smaller doses. The serum is to be given in a series of three (half the usual amount) doses, then half dose each year as a booster or reinforcing dose.

Anyone absent from school on date of clinic or otherwise fails to get inoculation they may get them at the clinic at the court house on written request of parent Saturday mornings or Wednesday afternoon.

Patch test for tuberculosis is being offered to all freshmen and seniors in all schools in the county. The test will be available to those of any age on request at the clinic in the court house Saturday morning or Wednesday afternoon.

The majority of people show no reaction at all. Even if two red spots appear after the tape is removed, it does not mean that active tuberculosis is present. It simply indicates that further examination by means of x-ray and physical examination should be done. Unsuspected cases are thus detected and the early treatment of the disease, so important in tuberculosis, is made possible.

Local Lads Win At Fat Stock Show

According to Tuesday's Star-Telegram, Rufus Brian of Plains, had won a prize for having the champion Duroc barrow, and Bob Harlan of Tokio had the reserve champion. Congratulations, boys.

By the way we don't suppose the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show and rodeo has ever had such a mess of miserable weather to put up with as they have this year.

In every part of the nation more than 2,200,000 boys and their adult leaders, will observe Boy Scout Week, Feb. 6th to 12th, marking the 39th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America. The theme of the celebration is "Adventure—that's Scouting!" This year the movement is emphasizing the fun and fellowship its members get out of the game of Scouting. More high adventure is planned in the out-of-doors. Their adventure in citizenship will find Scouts emphasizing civic service activities, emergency service training and world Scouting relationships. During Boy Scout Week, Scouts, their parents and countless communities will honor the volunteer adult leaders of the nation's 70,000 Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Senior Units. Above is the official poster marking the Scout birthday.

Boy Scouts To Sponsor Show

The American Legion Boy Scout Troop 74 has managed, through the facilities of the Recruiting Service, to obtain several actual combat films made of the most significant and exciting phases of the last war. These films are to be shown at the Rio Theatre Feb. 10 starting at 7:15 P. M. through the co-operation of Mr. Hiram Parks. These films which make up a full hour show include the dramatic "Operation's Crossroads" which is about the Atomic Bomb Tests at Bikini. They also include the D-Day landings and several amphibious landings in the Pacific. Altogether they will add up to a more factual exciting and entertaining show than anything to come out of Hollywood. A nominal charge will be made which will be turned over to the local Boy Scouts to help carry on their civic and humanitarian activities. This is one show that you don't want to miss. Don't forget the date, February 10, 7:15 at the Rio Theatre.

Amarillo And Pampa Play Here Friday And Saturday

Friday night, Feb. 4 the Cubs will meet the vaunted Amarillo Sandies in the high school gym, and they will take on the Pampa Harvesters Saturday night.

The Cubs will enter both games as the definite underdogs to which they have previously lost to both teams.

At present the basketball standing for this district are: Lubbock, lost 1, won 5; Pampa, lost 1, won 4; Amarillo, lost 2, won 4; Brownfield lost 3, won 1; Borger, lost 3, won 1; Plainview, won 5.—Cub's Den.

Hospital Addition To Open Soon

We were lucky enough to have a conducted tour through the new addition to the Treadaway-Daniel hospital which will open in the very near future. We hardly know how to begin to describe this beautiful and extremely modern building.

The building has been equipped and furnished with the latest in hospital fixtures. The unit contains 20 additional rooms, a diet kitchen, and one of the most complete nurseries in West Texas. The west entrance, which will be the main entrance, opens into a large reception room, equipped with rest rooms and an adjoining receptionist office.

One of the most striking features of the new unit is its beauty. The attractive interior decoration, and colorful, and comfortable furnishings should be conducive to a quick recovery. Not only are the furnishings attractive, but they are designed for the greatest utility.

An official opening will be held in the coming weeks. We urge everyone to see this worthwhile addition to our community.

Council Will Vote Feb. 9th On Health Unit

C. C. Primm, Mayor pro-tem informs us that the city council will vote Feb. 9 on the proposed Health Unit. The county commissioners have already voted to accept one-third of the cost of the unit, and the Federal government will take care of another third. Before the construction of the unit can be decided upon the council must agree to have the city of Brownfield accept another third of the cost.

The total cost of the unit will be $60,000.00. It will service five counties.

Jaycees Have Regular Luncheon Meeting

The Jaycees had their regular luncheon meeting at the La Mecca Cafe, on Monday Jan. 31. It was decided at the meeting that the organization would give $75.00 to the Girl Scouts to apply on their club house. Preliminary plans for the Club Calf show to be held the first week in April, were discussed. A drive for membership was discussed, to get younger, active men interested in the work. Plans were approved to show the Texas Prison Films to the Lions Club on Feb. 9. Officials and others interested will be invited.

The meeting was presided over by Johnny Kendrick, president. Twenty members were present.

Public Urged To Participate In Foodhandlers School

Dale Scott And Lyle Shelton Reach Golden Gloves Finals

The boxing team trained by Sonny Walls, and Bobby Jones, and sponsored by the Brownfield Boys Club, has made an excellent showing at the regional matches for the Golden Gloves in Lubbock.

Five boys have taken part in the bouts at Lubbock. Eddie Courtney and J. O. Shaddock lost in their first matches on Tuesday night. R. F. Riley won his first bout Tuesday night and was defeated on Wednesday night.

Joe Dale Scott and Lyle Shelton will take part in the finals on Thursday night. Scott won his first fight Tuesday night by a knock-out in the second round after 27 seconds. He is reported to pack the wallop of a young mule. He won Wednesday night by default. Lyle Shelton, 127 lbs. appears to be a terrific scrapper. He won his bouts Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday nights by decision. Tuesday night he tangled with Livesly, a Plainview boy, who stood almost a head taller than Shelton, outreached him. Lyle, however, started an offensive in the first round and carried it through all three rounds. He defeated Goetz, a Lubbock fighter Wednesday night.

All the Brownfield boys showed the results of concentrated training. Shelton will meet Bo McClure of Olton in the final bouts, and Scott will be matched with Jimmy Hall of Lubbock.

Boy Scout Week Starts Feb. 6th

The Annual Boy Scout Week will start Sunday, February 6, and continue through Saturday Feb. 12. Scout Week celebrates the 39th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America, who were incorporated in Washington, D. C. Feb. 8, 1910.

The theme for this year's Scout Week will be "Adventure—that's Scouting." Sunday will be observed as Scout Sunday. Ralph Bailey scoutmaster of the Rotary Troop informs us that definite plans have not yet been made for Scout Week activities in Brownfield, but services for the Scouts will be held at the First Christian church on Sunday and other activities, including a banquet will take place the coming week.

Women's Committee Clears $361.65 For March of Dimes

The woman's committee, headed by Mrs. Walter Hord, cleared $361.65 on their projects for the March of Dimes. The committee sponsored a benefit card party at the Legion Hall on Jan. 23, and an invitation dance at the Brownfield Country Club on Jan. 29.

$179.85 was made on the card party and $181.80 on the dance. Another group of women under the direction of Mrs. Milton Bell made a house to house canvass, and the funds taken from that are not included here.

BULLETIN

Bill Aschenbeck, city secretary reports that the total amount issued on the building permits for 1948 was $1,187,337.00. This figure clearly indicates to what extent our city is growing, and shows the continued high rate of building in Brownfield. This complete tabulation includes all buildings, commercial, and residential, and all additions to old buildings.

Branches of trees and shrubs that have been split off by the weight of ice should be pruned off. All splintered and rough edges should be smoothed off before wound paint is applied.

Tax Collectors Report Good Collections

During conversations this week with the school, city and the county and state tax collectors, all reported pretty good collections up to the dead line, Monday night at midnight. In fact the school reported 89 per cent, the city 85 and the state and county at least 90 per cent.

A clerk at Virgil Burnett's office of the Brownfield Consolidated Independent school district, said they felt sure that 89 per cent had been paid, possibly a bit more when final check is made. Like all the collection offices, the past few days has been so busy that little time for a thorough checking was next to impossible.

She stated that beginning Tuesday, there was a penalty of 1 1/2 per cent with 3 per cent for March and 4 1/2 per cent for April. There will be a gradual raise as the year drags on up to 8 per cent with interest. They use the same formula for penalty and interest as that used by the State government at Austin.

Building Permits Slowed In Fall

Bill Aschenbeck, collector for the city stated he felt sure they had collected 85 per cent of taxes, but that they had been so overrun with work the last few days that he could not be certain as to the amount.

Asked about Brownfield building permits for 1948, Bill stated that along in the summer he felt sure we would run over the million dollar mark. But the last quarter of the year was light, he believed on account of continued drought and a light crop. He will give us the full figures as soon as this tax collecting is off his hands. He feels like it will run between eight and nine hundred thousand dollars.

County-State Collection 90%

Herbert Chesshir State and County collector said he was sure his collection would run 90 per cent perhaps a bit more. He was still getting in some checks mailed before dead line. Penalty and interest started Tuesday.

Poll tax collections were a bit better than was at first expected. The amount paid was 2453 compared to 3606 last year. That is pretty good he and the writer think for an off year, and bad weather conditions.

B. F. Shipley Takes Over Kaiser—Frazer Agency

Mr. B. F. Shipley has purchased the building at 814 West Broadway, occupied by the Baldwin Motor Co. and has taken over the Kaiser - Frazer agency formerly operated by Mr. Fred Baldwin. Mr. Shipley will continue to sell Oliver Farm implements at his new location. He has had the Oliver agency here for the past two years, which has until now, been located at 407 Lubbock Highway.

The building at 814 West Broadway will provide much more parts space, and a larger and more complete shop. Mr. Shipley informs us that his repair shop will be adequately equip to care for both tractors and automobiles. He urges his old and new customers to visit him at his new place of business.

Roy Collins of Tech College visited his mother Mrs. Fred Smith over the week end. He also visited in Big Spring.

The Texas State Department of Health and the South Plains Health Unit are conducting a Foodhandler's School at the high school auditorium from 21 February 1949 to 26 February 1949 in Brownfield.

Motion pictures, slides, demonstrations and informative short talks on: Importance of the foodhandlers job; Protecting the foodhandlers health; Sanitary measures prevent food waste; Sanitation—the key salesman; Job efficiency pays dividends; are the programs features.

Admission is free to all foodhandlers and the general public. The public is encouraged to attend each class because they are a part of the sixty-five million people eating out daily, and because, millions more trade at markets, groceries, bakeries and other food establishments each day.

Dr. Frank P. Miller, Director of the South Plains Health Unit, stresses the importance that the position of the foodhandlers have in the general health of the community. He quotes, "That over 25% of the communicable diseases occur due to disease germs entering the body through the mouth."

C of C Board Meets Jan. 27

The Chamber of Commerce board met Thursday night Jan. 27 at the Esquire Restaurant. Hiram Parks, the president, presented George Wade with a Stetson hat, as a special award for bringing in the most memberships during the recent drive. The hat was given by Paul Campbell of Cobb's Dept. Store.

Plans were made for a joint meeting to be held with the Lions on March 2. At this meeting H. J. Dollinger, assistant manager of the C of C in Dallas, will speak. A contest was approved on courtesy and politeness which will go into effect in the near future.

The local C of C will sponsor the Health School to be held by the South Plains Health Unit this month. A plan for finding possible irrigation water was accepted to be used for the farmers throughout the country.

The election of seven new directors will take place this month, to be followed by election of new officers for the year. Ballots are being mailed this week.

Murphy May Takes Magnolia Agency

Murphy May, son of the late Tom May, has taken over the Magnolia Agency in Brownfield, formerly operated by his father. Mr. Murphy May, has been with Magnolia for six years, and three years prior to the war, and three years since his discharge from the Air Corps. He has been in charge of the Magnolia Agency at Seagraves.

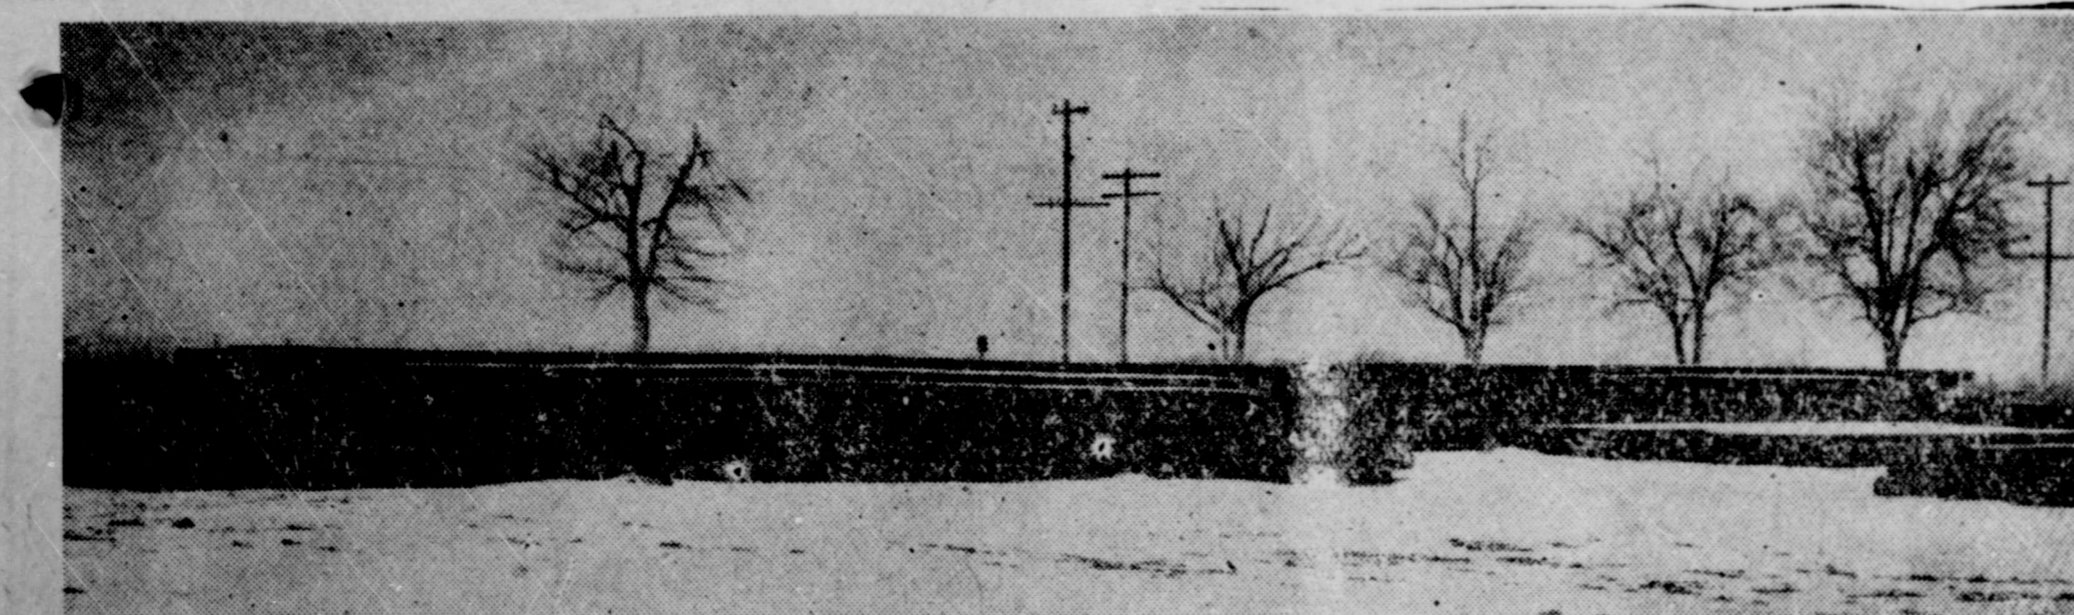

Murphy May is well known in Brownfield, having grown up here, and attended Brownfield schools. He served in the Pacific theatre during the war with the Army Air Corps, and was discharged with the rank of captain.

Mr. May and his wife will move here from Seagraves as soon as they find a home.

Sheriff Murry Takes Negro To Pen

Sheriff Ocie Murry left Monday morning to take George Jackson to the State Pen at Huntsville. Jackson, a negro, was convicted on two charges the early part of the month. He burglarized nine Brownfield businesses, but was only tried for two of the burglaries, the robbing of the Brownfield News, and the Newton Implement Co. He was sentenced two years and four years respectively.

Sheriff Murry will stop over in Fort Worth to attend the Fat Stock Show on his return from Huntsville.

A pretty picture to South Plains gas users is this stack of 6-inch line now in the West Texas Gas Company main line yards at Lubbock, part of a 13-mile string to be laid in the very near future between Brownfield and Wellman. This additional safeguard against the threat of acute gas shortage, which presented itself several times last winter, replaces a 3-inch line already laid between these two points, and will be of great benefit to users in Brownfield, Seagraves, Seminole, Meadow and Ropes. In addition to making extensive pipe line replacements throughout its entire system, the West Texas Gas Company has greatly augmented its supply of natural gas by taking additional supplies from the El Paso Natural Gas Company.

What's Back Of Car Accidents

CHICAGO—(AP)—Are you troubled with anachoresophobia? If you do a lot of driving you probably are.

Dr. W. A. Eggert, chief physiologist for Lumbermen's Mutual Casualty Company, says this tongue twister—meaning reluctance to back up—contributes to thousands of automobile accidents each year.

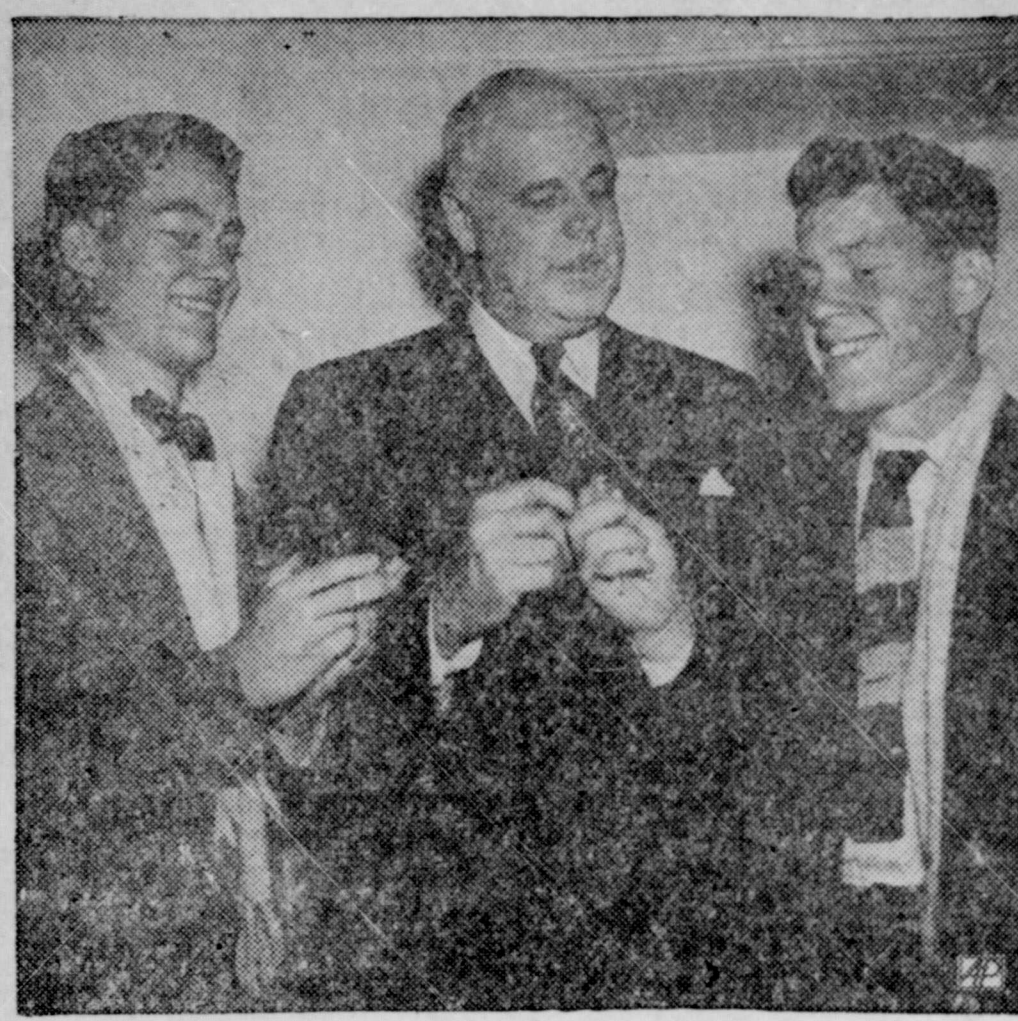

In analyzing claims paid by the company on commercial vehicles in nine major industries, Dr. Eg-gart found that improper backing caused 25 per cent of the accidents—more than any other two driving errors combined.

Next in line were inattention, 13 per cent; and speeding, 10 per cent.

"Most of us today are in such a hurry that we resent the idea of backing up," said Dr. Eggert, "and unless we are trained drivers, we tend to think about where we are going next—even while backing—instead of concentrating on the job at hand."

Well, us boys and gals will not have to try to describe our operation to our friends in the future. Just tell them when it will be shown on television. Actual scenes in the operating room, folks.

And it is stated that while the new Jewish high court may not review the case, some are ready to admit that the Israelites made a mistake in saying their country would be re-established co-jointly with the arrival of the promised Messiah.

Banks are being robbed all over the country of thousands of dollars some even up into the hundreds of thousands. In addition to that, many business places are being burglarized nightly. A few years in jail or the pen don't seem to cure these pilferers.

Some 15 or 20 years ago the Texas bankers association offered a reward of $5,000 for each dead bank bandit, and while that reward for limber robbers was on-there were very much fewer robberies. But some Texas court held that it was agin' the law. So is robbery.

Most all the nation's bowls want champion football teams to play in them, but the American Legion Post down at Alice has through there might ought to be a consolation game between teams that has not won a game this year or for two or three years, the longer the better. Such teams will this winter be invited to play a Re-trieve Bowl game at Alice.

This is Wednesday and after three day of nice sunshine, it is cloudy, drizzling and freezing again. Somebody about like the daddy of this stuff will sure be glad when the roses bloom again.

Fact is we have been kinder juberous of the weather. Although we have had three days of sunshine, there was patches of snow around. The old saying is "It is laying there waiting for another snow."

And the ground has been frozen so hard that the water from the melted snow and ice cannot sink in the ground. Just stands there as water in day time and ice by night.

Milk production takes a licking during bad weather because many herds do not have adequate shelter protection. A simple two- or three-sided shed will do the job in most cases, and your cows will pay for them in a year or two.

CHERRY DRINKS IN FEBRUARY

ANY day that has a special significance offers an excuse for a social gathering. Washington's Birthday is no exception, affording an opportunity for pretty table decorations and attractive food decorations. Teen-agers particularly like to entertain on holidays and part of the fun is the planning of their own decorative schemes and refreshments.

Simple food is always best. Sandwiches, or one hot dish and a layer cake, cherry trimmed, served with a good beverage will suffice. The cake and drinks alone may do.

Delicious and healthful drinks can be produced quickly and with ease if the refrigerator is well stocked with pale dry ginger ale and canned fruit juices. Ginger ale combines perfectly and adds a delicious tang to almost any fruit juice. Half and half is a good rule to follow in figuring proportions for fruit juice and ginger ale mixtures. Canned fruits, mashed or sieved, and their syrups can be used in delightful drinks, too as well as jams and jellies. Here's one that depends on jam for its lovely color and on the ginger ale for sparkle and zip.

Cherry Ginger Sparkle
2 tablespoons cherry jam
1/4 cup milk
Pale dry ginger ale

Combine jam and milk; beat. Pour into tall glass and fill glass with pale dry ginger ale. Milk and ginger ale should be very cold. Serves 1.

Cherry Ripe
1 cup canned black cherries chopped
Few drops almond extract
1 egg white
2 teaspoons sugar
Nutmeg
Pale dry ginger ale

Combine pitted chopped cherries and almond extract. Beat egg white and sugar together and fold in cherry mixture. Divide into 4 glasses. Fill glasses with ice cold pale dry ginger ale. Sprinkle with nutmeg. Serves 4.

Sometimes Its Lucky To Have Kin Folks

In times past we have heard people remark that the reason they were way out where they were, and all their kin way back where they are, is that they wanted to get away from them—they could do better off to themselves. And there was too much fussing when he lived around where they were at.

While since grown we have lived away from where most of our kin lives, the reason given above did not fit our case. It was just that we felt we could do better where we live. Now for instance this week, it would be as hard as the dickens to get anyone to climb up and saw broken limbs from our trees that the ice storm cracked. It was no trouble whatever to get our cousin, Phillip Rogers to take the job.

This plan especially fitted in as Phillip and wife had a son Gary Lynn, weight 7 1/2 pounds born at the local hospital Monday about six. Well to be near Faybelle and the new born son, it fitted in nicely for him to do our tree work. So you see we think it is nice to have kin folks around when other hands are hard to get.

Hits Discord

Accordionist Dick Contino, 18-year-old winner of Horace Heidt's $5000 nationwide talent contest, is shown in Hollywood after he announced that he wants to be released from his contract with Heidt on the grounds that it turned him into a "slave laborer." To Heidt's charges of ingratitude, Contino reportedly answered that the band leader rushed him into signing a contract he didn't understand.

Dental Health Day February 7th

Observance of the first National Children's Dental Health Day on February 7th has been approved and commended to Texans by an official Memorandum signed by Governor Beauford H. Fester.

The dental health of children is of prime importance to their general well-being, and Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, says that every child should be under the regular care of a competent dentist from the time he is thirty months of age.

"Much can be done in the way of tooth decay prevention by dentists of today," Dr. Cox said, "and studies are underway at present which may lead to still further advances in the control of dental cavities. Two Texas cities with almost identical fluorine constant in their city water supplies are being used in one experiment. Sodium fluoride is being added to the supply of one city, and the results in the reduction of dental caries checked against that of the city whose water supply is not treated.

"This experiment has been in progress only 29 months and it is too early to establish a positive evaluation, but the results checked so far have demonstrated a decided tendency to caries reduction in the city where sodium fluoride is added to their drinking water."

Early training of children in good dental hygiene will materially aid them in keeping their teeth and gums in good condition, and their regular visits to the dentist will enable him to make any corrections as soon as they are needed.

756 Youths In Area Cerebral Palsy Victims

Based on population and incidence of cerebral palsy as indicated by surveys in several states, approximately 756 children in 51 counties in this area have cerebral palsy, a report compiled at Lubbock Cerebral Palsy Treatment center shows.

The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce estimate of 500,000 population in the 51 counties in this area was used as basis for the calculation of number of cerebral palsied children. Surveys made in several states have indicated an annual increment of seven cerebral palsied children per 100,000 population. Of those, one dies before age of six years.

The report, prepared by Miss Esther E. Snell, director, shows that 106 children have been registered to date. Fifteen of those have not been diagnosed and 17 have been found to have illness other than cerebral palsy.

Forty per cent of the parents taking children to the treatment center are farmers. Fifteen other occupations are represented, including a dentist, three college students, salesmen, plant foreman, a grocer, welder, and others. Sixty per cent of the population in the counties covered by the report were farmers in 1940.

Three of the 74 children had illness or injuries from nine to 36 months after birth which resulted in cerebral palsy. Parents of the remaining 71 children knew their child had some handicap at average age of 4.8 months. The average age at which children were seen at the clinic was 8.4 years.

Thirty children appeared normal at birth and 44 showed some abnormal condition. Fourteen were diagnosed as having cerebral palsy within the first week.

At time of registration at the treatment center, 61 children were able to roll over, 51 sat alone, 38 stood alone, 33 walked alone, 35 fed themselves, 24 dressed themselves, 36 had speech which was intelligible and 34 attended school.

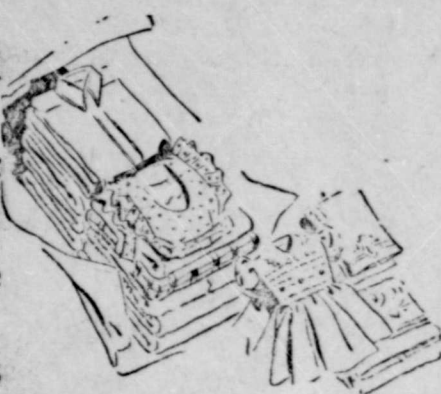

Doctors who will conduct a treatment center were announced Monday at the clinic next Monday at the treatment center. They are Dr. M. E. Sadler of Amarillo and Dr. Edward T. Driscoll of Plainview.

Things Already Better In Italy

These items are not so much for the particular church news that it gives but more for general news, as some of those going to Italy were well known, particularly Joe Chisholm, and he has friends in all churches and perhaps some with no church affiliation. The last report stated that no rain had fallen, but it was cold there at the little town of Frascati a few miles from the city of Rome.

Joe, in his last letter, stated that the large building of the Frascati Orphan Home, the walls and roof of which were rather badly bombed, was about repaired, and a new roof is being put on. The large building will accommodate some 50 boys upstairs and the small one 10, leaving all the ground floor of the large building for school and work rooms, as well as living quarters for the workers and instructors. They are also putting in a heating unit.

He also stated that the Italian people where they are presently staying are learning more about how to prepare food like Americans like it. But like all Europeans they can't make coffee fit to drink. They had 113 present at services last Sunday, Tuesday the 26th, he stated that 80 people had been given clothing.

On the humorous side, there was one young man who was a prisoner of the American army during the war, and he felt they had treated him so well, he brought a bottle of wine to toast the new comer Americans. Of course his offer was courteously rejected.

Another Woman's Angle

"On my honor I will do my best; To do my duty to God and my country, and to obey the Scout Law; To help other people at all times; To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight."

These significant words made up the oath taken by all boy scouts. They are representative of the attitude, and ideals of the American Boy Scouts.

This coming week this fine organization is celebrating its 39th anniversary. The Brownfield Boy Scouts will have a program of activities planned for scout week, including church services, a banquet and possibly a day during which the scouts will occupy the city offices, and fine traffic violators. If any of us can work or co-operate with the scouts during their weeks activities let us do so.

We are not very well versed on sport subjects, but we have none the less been taking an active interest in the Brownfield boys who have been boxing in the Golden Glove regional fights at Lubbock. Since we have not been able to attend all the fights, we have been closely following the reports in the papers. It amuses us and somewhat irritates us to note with what lack of grace and good will the Lubbock sportswriters concede the victory of a Brownfield boy over a Lubbock contestant. We feel a lot of natural local pride when our boys are victorious, and have been particularly enthused about the fine fights little 127 lb. Lyle Shelton has made. We note that the Lubbock writers found the usual excuses to explain why Lyle, a Brownfield boy, won over a Lubbock fighter last night.

Anyone who has owned a dog and loved a dog and lost a dog, know the unhappiness caused by the disappearance of a beloved pet. Dr. and Mrs. John R. Turner, former residents of Brownfield, who have recently returned and are living in the Pleasant Valley community, have reported to us the loss of Mack, their scotty, a family pet for thirteen years.

Mack is a spry little fellow in spite of his thirteen years and a lot of gray whiskers. He chases rabbits with all the enthusiasm of a young pup. He disappeared about dark Sunday from the Turner's pasture, probably in pursuit of a speedy rabbit. When the Turners tried to find him to return to the house he could not be located.

They are offering a $10.00 reward for the return of their pet, but the reward should be a minor matter compared to the satisfaction of returning Mack to his owners.

Let's all co-operate with the census takers who are making their rounds this week. A complete and adequate census will be beneficial to Brownfield in various ways. The Chamber of Commerce will have a clear and correct picture of the employment situation, the percentage of owned and rented houses and basis for planning improvements necessary for Brownfield's growth. The churches will have an accurate record of membership and church preference. We will all have the advantage of knowing exact statistics concerning our community.

Dr. Turners Finally Return To Terry

It has taken them some years to accomplish the task, but Dr. Turner and wife have finally returned to Brownfield and Terry County to make this their permanent home. When they moved to South Texas some six years ago, the doctor did so thinking this altitude not good for him. Perhaps it was too much work here—during war years—and not the climate to blame.

In the meantime they traded their residential property here for the W. P. Forbes fine farm in the Pleasant Valley community. Also, during the time they were away, they spent some time as health official at Midland. Last year as they could not get possession of their place here, they moved to one of their farms in western Louisiana.

They had not been there long until he was offered a fine position as the health officer in a North Carolina county, and moved there. This year they could get possession of their farm here. Dr. Turner practiced medicine here some 12 or 15 years. Welcome back home.

Stolen Car Recovered

Arlie Miller of Brownfield had his car stolen Sunday night while it was parked beside the Portwood Motor Co. The car was recovered about 5:30 Monday afternoon in Hobbs. The license plates had been changed.

Another car, a blue 1946 Chevrolet was stolen in Hobbs shortly before Miller's car was found, and it is supposed that the thieves exchanged cars. According to reports they are a trio, a man and two women.

FFA Boys Have Chilly Visit At Stock Show

The Brownfield FFA Boys who attended the Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth report that they had a chilly trip. The boys spent their first night in the gym and claim they almost froze to death. The second night they spent in a much warmer school room.

One of the most interesting features of their tour was a visit at Swift and Co. Saturday morning the boys saw a special performance of the rodeo. Most of the boys later saw the rodeo again, and saw it on television. The boys visited the live stock exhibits and during their spare time played basket ball.—Cub's Den.

Our New Linotyper Learning Fast

Since our regular man at the keyboard of the linotype, Lester W. (Blacky) Bownds decided to farm this year, we decided to make one out of Gene Walker, who had been taking lessons under Bownds for several months. We want to say that Gene has been gaining fast in speed.

Gene's great handicap is that he is a poor speller, but he is now reading more and studying spelling in order to meet this very necessary requirement. Let us add this: Gene really loves machinery, and he has little trouble along that line, as he soon finds any bug that might be hindering production, or normal action of machinery he is operating.

Bownds, when he left, promised to drop down and help out any time we got sorter snowed under. He is helping out this week, and giving a much needed lift to the other hands.

Gas Officials Visit Brownfield

Herman F. Heath, former West Texas Gas Co. manager here, but now superintendent of city plants at Lubbock, was down this week looking over the situation here. He was accompanied by Mr. Bill McCarroll, advertising manager for the company. They paid the Herald a pleasant call.

Mr. Heath informed us that due to bad weather all this month they failed to get in all the larger pipe lines from mTahoka to Brownfield, or the larger line from here to Seagraves and Seminole.

When these lines are completed, he stated, there will be no further fear of gas shortage in this area.

Some folk seem to take an unusual delight in cussing truck drivers they see along the highways. Perhaps they don't even know their name or where they belong, that don't matter. And we'll admit there are some warts among them; there are road hogs among all drivers. But the biggest hate toward truck drivers in general and none in particular is that they take a certain pace, especially if empty, and with lots of passing on the other side of the stripe, it is rather hard sometime to pass them. On the other hand, we have had them, especially in the old states where hills were long and steep, wave us to go by long before we could see over the hill. Perhaps we had been moving along in low gear since we were half way up the hill, behind a heavily loaded truck. These trucks being long, and their cab high, were able to see over a rise much sooner than we, and many of them waved for us to pass as soon as they were able to see that everything is clear over the top of the hill. Not many of them are trying to keep you behind them on purpose. Truth is they may not even be thinking of that part. They may just be trying to get somewhere or maybe home the same as you. We know that those they drive for, are more than anxious that their drivers show due courtesy at all times.

For the past several years it seems that ice storms are getting worse in all parts of the country. As a consequence, they are becoming expensive not only to those with trees but especially to electric power, telephone and telegraph companies, as they both break under the weight of ice on them or by falling forest trees and limbs. Of course such as we wonder if there is not some remedy, and the first thing we think of is to cable the lines in copper, aluminum or lead, and put them underground instead of above between cities. Of course this might not work with high voltage power lines. But when one begins to think of the year after year, over and over again expense, the uninitiated begin to wonder if there is no permanent remedy. You can't keep people from thinking even if there is not much sense in their thinking.

There has been more freakish weather this winter than we have ever seen here or elsewhere that we have lived. First, there was an unusual number of sandstorms the last half of November and practically all of December. Now we have plenty sandstorms usually in March and maybe in April. Then in January it really began to let down the moisture, in one form or another, mostly the worst form, ice and sleet, but moisture just the same. And last Saturday, we thought we were catching hail Columbia from the very north pole itself. Later we found that it really eased by us, for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday were mostly fair and warmer. At the same time, most of central and north Texas, even almost to the gulf were getting real weather and just above or below zero, with from five to nine inches of snow. That was certainly a bad deal to people who are hardly used to freezing weather. At least 13 Texans died from the cold, mostly from lack of warm clothing or with insufficient heat and open houses. To our notion, the winter of 1949 will be talked of for years.

With an abundance of deep moisture and the usual rains in the spring, lots of cotton will evidently be planted in Terry county and area this spring. And before any seed are put in the ground, the Herald believes the farmers should have a mass meeting and decide on the best and most suited seed for the area, as they are doing with cotton and wheat in various sections, all plant the same varieties. This could be arranged cooperatively, so that other seed a farmer might have would nearly if not wholly cover the cost of the seed to be planted in the area. The manager of the Terry county experimental farm out west of town, experimented with a number of different varieties of cotton last summer, and undoubtedly, he would be able to give the farmers some valuable information along this line.

"Trends in the Crosbyton Review calls attention to the fact that those with red circles around their names on the front page of the Review are in arrears. As our paper had no red circle, we feel that we will have the pleasure of reading this very interesting paper for awhile yet.

A number of cities and towns in this area, as well as in other parts of the country have stopped the practice of putting the Boy Scouts in the city-county offices during National Scout Week. It has been found that too many times Scouts become over enthusiastic in "law enforcement," and have put a bad taste in the mouth of business men and others who really support the effort and Scouting in particular. Personally we believe that that very thing has happened right here in Brownfield. We believe that a much better way could be found for the general public to show their appreciation of this great organization. For one, the business men could stage a banquet with good speakers on Scouting present. And a good program by the Scouts themselves might be worked up. Nothing should be allowed to happen during Scout week that might tend to make or widen a breach between the Scouts and the stable business and professional men of the town.

The AF of L, the CIO and railroad unions of the United States have refused to have anything whatever to do with the Russian labor cry of "let world labor unite." They realize that in the long run there is a "nigger in the woodpile" somewhere, and that the best friends of labor are not found in Soviet Russia or any of its satellites, but in free democracies. American labor doesn't like the word "proletariat." The American laborer, whether organized or not believes he is just as good as the next guy, and that the amount of money one has cuts no ice. And the American workman has just as many votes in national affairs as the stuffed shirts on the bet street or even the president of the USA. And they have read enough for themself to know there is no freedom of labor in Russia.

We cannot help from offering a word of praise to the utility companies, their linemen and construction men, who have worked long and trying hours in the bitter cold to keep communications open and at the disposal of the public. Here in our town, we have our own power and lights, and not having to come from great distances, we have had no power or light trouble to speak of. But we have had our share of telephone and telegraph troubles. But no one can complain that the company and their workmen were not on the job trying to keep the circuit open. We take our utilities too much for granted. In other words the whole thing is illustrated by the old saying, "you never miss the water till the well runs dry." Right here in our city, linemen were so busy trying to keep up communication between cities that they were unable to handle local lines that were down, but perhaps the next door neighbor's phone was still working. To help, the phone company permitted anyone who wished to call in a local electrician to splice your broken connection with the pole in the alley.

Our new State Senator, Kilmer B. Corbin offered him maiden resolution recently, to make January 31, or FDR's birthday a legal holiday in Texas. One great trouble with his resolution, according to some of the more mature men, was that it accused most everyone at Washington prior to 1932 of being thieves and grafters. He was reminded that such a resolution would take in such men as John Nance Garner, Tom Connally, and a number of other top notch Texans. After the resolution was pared down to just about cover Franklin D. Roosevelt and the legal holiday, the resolution passed.

To our notion, Progressive Farmer made no mistake in naming Don Jones of the Lubbock Experimental station "the man of the year." If there is a man in this state or nation that has put in more hours or that has been more beneficial to agriculture in Texas, and especially the South Plains, than Don Jones, we have not heard of him. One of the greatest steps that he has more or less successfully figured out for this area, is mechanized harvesting of cotton.

It seems that Editor Earnest Joiner of Ralls Banner is getting some real action over in Crosby county in forcing the settlers to pay their poll taxes on an off year. He got up a petition to call an election to legalize beer about April, and already has more than the required number of legal voter signatures to the petition. So the good hefty dries are making tracks through the snow to the courthouse, or to the Banner office to get their poll tax receipts to vote. Apparently it makes no difference with Joiner how the election goes, but it appears that the last dry election they had was rather messed up down at Austin and a lot of bootleggers have been getting by pretty handy on this loophole in the past election. This one, he hopes, clears that up.

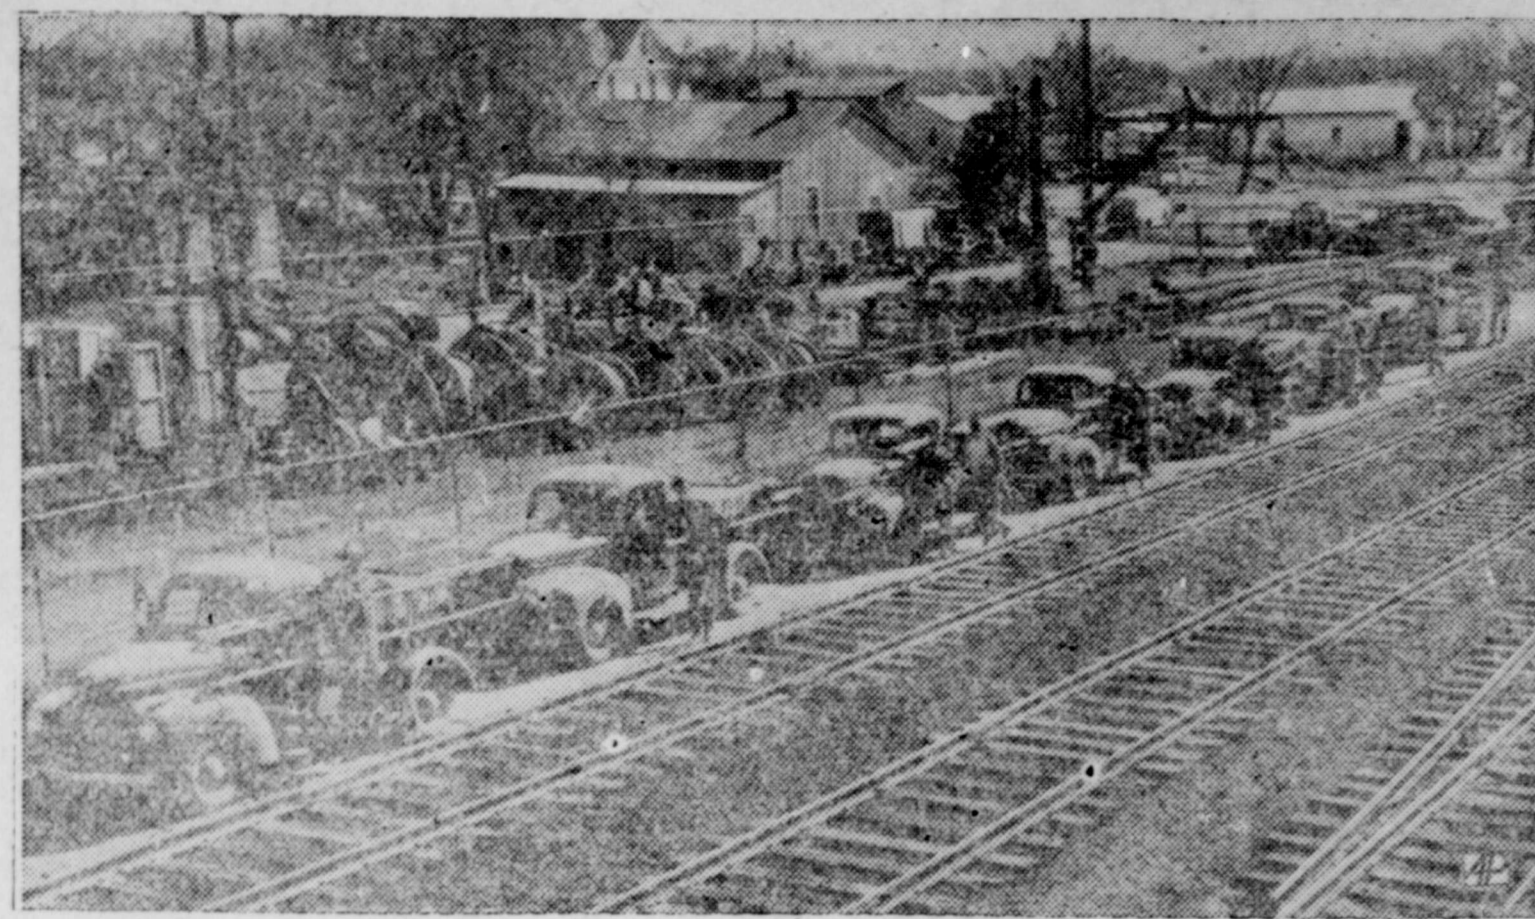

Reduction In Health Hazards

Every citizen of Texas should be greatly interested in the overall health picture in the State as indicated by the morbidity report just released by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, showing the years totals on communicable diseases.

Comparing the 1948 figures with the totals of 1947, a great reduction is shown in some of the major health hazards. For instance in 1947 there were 1,125 cases of diphtheria, while in 1948 the total had dropped to 924. This was 924 cases too many, since none of them need have occurred if the persons had been immunized. This same statement applies to smallpox, in which the total dropped from 15 cases to 4. Vaccination would have prevented the incidence of even one case of smallpox. Typhoid fever remained at a comparative standstill with 317 cases being reported in 1947 and 318 in the past year. These typhoid cases could also have been prevented by immunization.

The results of malaria and typhus control work throughout the State is reflected in the total number of cases for 1947 and 1948. Malaria dropped from 4,729 to 3,557 and typhus was cut nearly in half with the total falling from 610 to 344.

Dysentery continues to be a serious problem in public health in Texas. The incidence of this disease jumped from 15,863 in 1947 to 20,920 during the past year. Influenza dropped off from 116,564 to 76,823, and mumps was

Castor Oil For Boots

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 31—Here's some good news for the youngsters. Castor oil is one of the best oils to use for keeping boots shape. The kids will agree that boots make a better use for castor oil than stomachs.

Castor oil—as well as neat's foot oil and cod liver oil—helps keep the water out of leather. And that's just what folks are looking for this time of year during the damp, rainy weather.

Nena Roberson, associate extension clothing specialist of Texas A. & M. College, says if you put the oil on with a soft cloth very lightly and evenly and rub it in well, the shoes will take a good shine when dry. However, if too much oil is applied, the shoes will not take a good polish. Let the shoes stand from 12 to 24 hours after putting on the oil before you put the polish on. That's time enough for letting them absorb all the oil.

For water proofing work shoes and boots, you'll need neat's foot oil. Be sure the shoes are clean and dry before you start. Put the neat's foot oil on with a soft cloth and rub the shoes thoroughly with the palm of your hand. Make sure the grease soaks in well where the sole joins the upper. This is one place where the water soaks in very readily.

Then dry shoes in a warm place but not a hot one, says Miss Roberson. A shine box is handy all in one place, and a place to rest the shoes while the shining job is in progress.

Turn the shine job over to the

Get Out The Tools

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 31—Got your garden tools ready? Better get them out and sharpen up the shovels and hoes. It's time to do a little work in the garden. It isn't planting time quite yet, but there's a bit of spading to do.

J. F. Rosborough, extension horticulturist of Texas A. & M. College, says that most garden soils should be prepared for spring planting in January or early February. If you prepare the soil deep, there's a good chance you'll catch a large amount of winter moisture that will be needed for the garden. And if you have a few low spots in the garden area where the water stands a little longer after a wet spell than normal, then you've got a drainage problem on your hands. With these spring rains coming up, it would be a good idea to get these drainage problems out of the way as soon as possible.

Compost or barnyard fertilizer will prove helpful where it is applied. It'll take about a wagon load for an average size home garden, spread along in the row. If you can't get either of these materials, then you'd better check up on the commercial fertilizers if the soil is sandy and there's a good water supply.

Just before—or at planting time three to five pounds of 5-10-5 commercial fertilizer should be applied for every 100 feet of row. Give the fertilizer a little time to break down and become available to the plants.

Then take a hoe and open up the furrow.

And you're ready to plant the seed.

A very interesting change is coming over the thinking of modern men with respect to Christianity. In all reverence, and with the profoundest respect, they are discovering that Jesus Christ is the greatest efficiency expert of all time. It will not be long, I predict, until the most enlightened leaders of labor and of business will realize that Jesus Christ is a very necessary partner in their endeavors.

A businessman told me he had occasion to call in an efficiency expert to find out what was interfering with the efficient operation of his business. The efficiency expert put his finger on a certain man and said, "Get rid of him." The man was discharged and the efficiency of the business increased one hundred and fifty percent.

This was very interesting, but it seemed to me that this businessman had not properly solved his problem. All he had done was to get rid of it. If he had a machine that was not working satisfactorily he would have it fixed. He had a man who was not working right but he did not know how to correct him, nor did he make any effort to find out how to do so. Instead, he just cast him out.

Another business had a man who was causing trouble. This company, too, brought in an efficiency expert, who referred to himself as a "human engineer." He brought his Christian insights to bear upon this individual with the result that the inefficient employee showed a decided improvement. In fact, his efficiency increased four hundred percent. The efficiency of the business increased in proportion.

The general public would be astounded to know how many, many times businessmen in perplexity refer employees to the minister. They say, "We have done all we can with this man, or this woman. Won't you apply the rehabilitation of spiritual techniques? He is sensitive, jealous, difficult. We are not sure of his honesty; we cannot entirely depend upon him. Fix him up, won't you, so we can use him? Please show him how to realize and release his real abilities." So, the requests come to us ministers from business and industry. Recently I received an invitation to address a national convention of a great industry. The letter of invitation said in part, "More and more we are realizing the tremendous importance of the human equation in our industry. We have to do something about people to increase their efficiency. So, we want you, a minister, who deals in human efficiency, to speak to the leaders in our industry."

While reading the Bible the other day I had a curious experience. The last sentence in the last column of a page in the Gospel of Matthew read as follows, "Follow me and I will make you." On turning over the page, I found, of course, that the sentence went on to read, "fishers of men." The whole sentence is true. So is the fragment of this sentence, because this is one of the greatest truths ever promulgated, namely, get a man to follow Jesus Christ truly, wholeheartedly and completely, and no matter how miserable he previously has failed, he will acquire the great art of knowing and releasing himself. Jesus Christ will "make" him. Yes, you can attain the maxi-

Jesus Fulfilled All That Was Promised By Prophet Isaiah

JESUS began His ministry at home, which was the proper and natural place to begin, but also the most difficult.

His saying, "A prophet is not without honor, save in his own country," and "A man's foes shall be those of his own household," express a truth widely exemplified in human experience. How many men of genius have had to win their way and fame against the strong opposition of parents, who designed them for something else!

Jesus, of course, did not have the embarrassment of the average youth, who rises to preach in his own home town.

But to preach in Nazareth, nevertheless, was not easy for the Master. His own brothers, as we know from John 7:1-5, did not believe in Him, or His professed mission, although at least two of them later became earnest Christians and leaders in the church.

The favor with which His fellow townsmen had viewed Him soon disappeared as Jesus announced that mission and ministry; and, with the blindness and prejudiced zeal that have been the curse of the otherwise religiously earnest, all through the history of religion, they not only rejected Him, but they sought to throw Him from the brow of a nearby hill and kill Him.

Jesus must have sensed these dangers, for "He knew what was in man." But He dared to face them, and to declare in the place where He was brought up, the consciousness of the mission and ministry to which He had been called, to fulfill the prophecy of Isaiah, "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because He hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; He hath sent me to heal the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovery of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised, to preach the acceptable year of the Lord."

In teaching, preaching, and healing He fulfilled all that a great prophet had declared of God's plan and purpose.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Morris of Lovington, N. M., spent the week end in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Morris. Donna Sue accompanied them home.

Miss Mary Ballard, co-owner of the Gore Fashion Shop, returned last Thursday by plane from Dallas and Fort Worth, where she attended market.

LEADERS OF FIREMEN'S UNION

NEEDLESS EXTRA ENGINE CREW

LEADERS OF ENGINEERS' UNION

This is a diesel ... a modern locomotive that means better service to you.

Leaders of two unions think it's a feather-bed ... a "make work" grab that means less service to you.

● Leaders of unions representing railroad engineers and firemen seek to force railroads to add extra, needless men on diesel locomotives. This is sheer waste—a "make-work" program which would mean fewer improvements and higher costs—for YOU!

Railroads use modern diesel locomotives because they are one of the means of giving faster, better service to you.

Two men compose the crew of a diesel. They occupy a clean, comfortable cab at the front. The engineer handles the throttle. The fireman sits and watches the track ahead. With no coal to shovel, he has practically nothing else to do.

No Benefit To You

Now the leaders of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen want to use the diesel locomotive as a means of forcing a feather-bedding scheme on the railroads. The extra men they propose to add to the diesel crews are not needed. There is no work for them.

The union leaders are fighting among themselves about which union should furnish these extra, needless men. The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers have even threatened a strike. You may not be interested in this dispute of these two unions, but you would be vitally concerned if these groups succeed in putting through this feather-bedding scheme, because it would mean a slowing up of the improvement program of the railroads—of which the diesel is the outstanding symbol. Diesel crews are among the highest paid railroad employees—real aristocrats of labor! Their pay is high by any standard. Granting of these demands, therefore, would mean that the railroads would be paying out millions in unearned wages to those in the very highest pay brackets.

We'd Like To Spend This Money On You

You know how much the diesel has meant to you in increased speed, comfort and convenience. The railroads have many more of them on order for even greater improvement in service to you. But needless drains of money, such as this present demand of the unions for needless men on diesels, reduce the ability of the railroads to spend money on better service for you.

Proud as the railroads are of the diesel, it is only a small part of their improvement program. Since the War, literally billions of dollars have been spent on improvement of tracks and stations, on new passenger and freight cars, as well as on diesel locomotives, and on the many other less conspicuous details of railroading that contribute to improved service.

Feather-Bedding Means Less Service To You

But brazen feather-bedding schemes like the one now proposed would, if successful, divert large sums of money from our present improvement programs. Even worse, they make improvements like the diesel worthless, by making the cost of their operation prohibitive. These demands are against YOUR interests—as well as those of the railroads. They are schemes to "make work". Neither you nor the railroads should be forced to pay such a penalty for progress.

That's why the railroads are resisting these "make work" demands to the last ditch—and why they are telling you about them.

VALENTINE PARTY DRINKS

EVERY girl looks for a message from her favorite swain on Valentine's Day and the miss who is the recipient of numerous messages is happy indeed. And every girl loves to have a Valentine party or be invited to one.

Of great importance to the success of a party is the beverage served. The younger crowd is a thirsty crowd. They like drinks to have zip, to be of good flavor and of the right temperature. A favorite drink is pale dry ginger ale. Thoroughly chilled, it is deliciously tangy and thirst quenching. Party drinks can be made by mixing ginger ale with fruit juices, fresh or canned. A tall glass of pale dry ginger ale combined with a large tablespoon of vanilla ice cream is a pleasing drink to bring forth praise.

For a special party drink for Valentine's Day you might use frozen strawberries (if fresh berries are not available at a reasonable price) and pale dry ginger ale in either one of these combinations.

Strawberry Rickey
1 1/2 cups sieved frozen strawberries
Juice of 2 limes
Pale dry ginger ale

Combine strawberries and lime juice and divide among four tall glasses. Add ice cubes and fill glasses with chilled pale dry ginger ale. Serves 4.

Strawberry Honey
1 cup sieved strawberries
Juice of 2 oranges
2 teaspoons honey
1/2 cup ginger ale

Combine strawberries, orange juice and honey. Divide among four large glasses. Add ice cubes and fill glasses with pale dry ginger ale. Stir gently. Serves 4.

Pensions Versus Bonus

Bonuses for military service are one thing, pensions are another. In Congress, Chairman Rankin of the House Veterans Affairs Committee has ordered top-priority hearings on the committee bill to pay $60 a month to all veterans of World Wars I and II, starting at age 60. It provides disability pensions ranging from $20 to $120 per month for disability not connected with military service.

Statistically, the committee bill is astronomical. About 18 million veterans would be eligible for the pensions, 3,550,000 of them within ten years, the balance as they reached 60. The cost would be about a billion bucks the first year, reaching around three billion in five years. This latter figure is expected to represent the peak, as old veterans would be dying off as new ones became eligible.

Also before the committee is a Rankin-sponsored bonus bill for World War II veterans, with the cost estimated from $15 to $40 billion. This bill is backed by the VFW, and the limit for any individual veterans would be $3,500 for service within the U. S. and $4,500 for foreign service.

Rankin refuses to say when he will call the bonus bill up for consideration, if ever.

The pension and the bonus legislation are, in a very real sense, inimical to each other. For the veterans, it poses this question: Would you prefer to have $3,500 or $4,500 now, or $60 per month for the balance of your life starting at age 60?

It doesn't seem possible to have both; for the national debt and the tremendous expenditures necessary to keep the country in a constant posture of defense don't permit of such extravagance.

Since only one proposal has much chance of passage at this time, and since the pension idea

Air Force To Hold Eight Cadet Classes A Year

The U. S. Air Force is increasing its Aviation Cadet Training Program from three classes to eight classes a year. Sgts. Carnes and Dobbins said here today.

Carnes explained that the effect of the change would be to shorten the waiting time between classes for young men who qualify but who have not been accepted because a class was filled.

The annual enrollment will be larger than for any previous peacetime year, but the size of each class will be reduced.

The next class, beginning April 4, will initiate the expanded program. It will be limited to approximately 600 cadets. Classes of similar size will follow at approximately six-week intervals. There were 1300 students enrolled in the October class—the last under the March-July-October class system.

Men accepted for Air Force Aviation Cadet training must be between the ages of 20 and 26 1/2 years, with two years of college education or the ability to pass an equivalent examination, and must possess high moral, physical, and personal qualifications.

Sgt. Dobbins explained that the Aviation Cadet Program provides 12 months of flying, academic and military training. Graduates receive pilots' wings, a commission as a second lieutenant in the Air Force Reserve and assignment to three years of active duty.

West Texans Must Preserve Water Rights

ABILENE, Jan. 31— Every municipality in West Texas this week has been urged to take steps to perpetuate domestic water rights, following a meet at Amarillo of the WT Chamber of Commerce water rights committee, which is opposed to the passage of the proposed water code of the Texas Water Conservation Ass'n., which seeks to repeal recovery provisions of the WTCC-Wagstaff-Woodward bill.

Citing lack of rainfall and running streams in West Texas, a letter authorized the Amarillo committee meeting, which was presided over there by Mayor Lawrence Hagy, gives notice that every effort will be made to defeat any measure without protection of the recovery right of water for domestic uses, over inferior uses, principal of which would be the generation of hydro-electricity.

West Texas cannot subscribe to and must forever oppose parts of Section 13, as outlined in your revision of the surface water code, the letter said. "We refer to the following clause in Sec. 13: utilization of such water turned into it must not diminish the waters already therein, to which others have acquired rights," the letter said.

"Under this clause, as we see it, our West Texas municipalities can wholly be prohibited from obtaining additional water supply.

"Another point of omission we are concerned about in the proposed code is the failure anywhere in the bill to extend the rights to a city to recover water heretofore appropriated for inferior use. This right definitely exists in our present law in Art. 7472. The fact is that in Sec. 160 of your bill this right is definitely and expressly repealed.

Repealing this provision, together with Sec. 13 provision, makes mockery of any and all provision you refer to as preserving the traditional rights of domestics to water."

The letter, signed by John D.

WINTER FANS

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 1— "Many families do not realize that portable electric fans can be used in the winter as well as the summer," Mrs. Bernice Clayton, extension home management specialist of Texas A. & M. College, points out. "Usually at the end of summer, the fans are put away until warm season. But actually they can be put to use in several ways during the winter months."

For instance, a house that is improperly insulated is usually unevenly heated, cooler at the floor than near the ceiling. A fan placed near the heater or heating unit, aimed at an adjacent wall toward the ceiling and set at a slow speed, will circulate the warm air around the room.

Another winter use for an electric fan is for drying clothes indoors. Winter weather sometimes makes it difficult to dry clothing even in the house. "Set a fan at one end of the line of clothes," Mrs. Clayton says, "and it will speed the drying process. Or use it to dry coats and overshoes soaked by rain or snow."

Portable electric fans can be used at any season of the year to carry off cooking odors from the kitchen. "If your home does not have a large ventilating fan in the wall or window, you may face a portable fan toward a slightly open window and allow it to run while foods with strong odors are cooking. The odors will go out the window," Mrs. Clayton concludes.

Push-Button Economy Reaches Dairy Barn

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP)— It's all done by levers in Oklahoma A and M's new $248,000 barn. Milkers stand in a pit. The cows walk in the milking machine is attached. Cows are milked in 3 minutes. The milk goes into a glass tank on the wall. It is automatically weighted and then, at the pull of a lever, goes woosh, down a pipe to the cooling room.

There are places in the big barn for 1,000 tons of hay and 4,000 bushels of grain. Four silos hold 600 tons. There are quarters for eight attendants and the dairy herd.

Mitchell, president, and D. A. Baneen, general manager of WTCC, was authorized by the water rights committee meeting and was addressed to J. E. Sturrock, general manager of the Texas Water Conservation Assn.

The meeting also authorized committee members to take whatever steps necessary in the organized efforts in Austin and elsewhere to defeat the proposed legislation. At the same time, however, the letter praised other features of the bill as being worthy of passage.

The Low Down Hickory Grove

I been reading where the Govt. says us taxpayers must dig up some more millions for more dams. For Hungry Horse dam, 24 million. For the Missouri, 87 million. For Central Valley, 63 million. And for a dozen more—all in the big millions. And who knows where they are or what they will do to people who live elsewhere. Somebody is going to take more than a ho-hum interest—put their foot down—or this nation will get up some morning and the Govt. will be such a big affair that all the average citizen can do is go over in the corner and be quiet.

But I see one good omen. The paper says that the taxpayers in 20 states are getting together to see how-come they are the goat and must dig up taxes to build Govt. powerhouses in some far away state—and where, soon as the Govt. power plants get running will start competing with these same states for business. 'Taint fair, these 20 states say—it is getting them, coming and going. A good omen, I call it—this waking up. Now, 28 more states can take note—get off the dime—read Uncle Harry's budget figures and cut-out the ho-hum.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA.

Dividing the Spoils

that uses its Head!

THIS is the husky thrill-producer you find filling the bonnet of any 1949 Buick.

Look it over and you'll observe, among other things, that it is a valve-in-head straight-eight.

In simple language, this means that years ago Buick engineers lifted the valves from the side of the cylinder and put them on top—with some immediate advantages.

Such an engine "breathes" better. Gets a full, even charge on every intake—exhausts spent gases more easily—enjoys extra power, life and ginger.

And in such engines, compression ratios are relatively easy to establish. To step them up, the head is merely brought closer to the piston—no extra problems are presented getting fuel in and exhaust out.

Thus Buick power can—and has—kept pace with progress in fuels. Compression ratios suit gasolines actually available—and there's no waiting for tomorrow's gasolines to get full performance.

There are other things to notice about this engine.

It's a Fireball power plant—uses a special and exclusive type of piston that gets more good out of each fuel charge.

And it speaks with soft, new quiet. Self-setting valve lifters automatically keep valves properly seated, ending tappet noises for good.

With gasolines getting better, the swing to valve-in-head design will undoubtedly grow stronger. But that is what Buick has had all along—a power plant that uses its head to give extra lift and thrill.

That's enough reason to see your Buick dealer now, with or without a car to trade, to get your order in.

Soil Conservation News

Moisture, moisture everywhere in the CYT Soil Conservation District. Farmers are very encouraged over moisture conditions. Their hopes are much better than along in late November and Dec. 1948. From best available rerecords for these two counties, the rainfall averages around 3 1/2 inches and the penetration is reaching down to the subsoil. Moisture going down to the subsoil for storage is the best part about all of this moisture these past three weeks. Moisture held where it falls is very effective. WEST TEXAS GAS COMPANY COMPLETED ALL 1948 PROJECTS ON SCHEDULE... 1949 EXPANSION PROGRAM IS STARTING

(Following are the projects which we reported to our customers in July, 1948, that we planned to complete in 1948.)

NEW FACILITIES TO BE INSTALLED ON PIPE LINE SYSTEM 1948

1. Near Turkey Creek Compressor Station will be installed a 300 horsepower booster compressor. Main plant is 2,350 horsepower.
2. At McSpadden Compressor Station: three more 400 horsepower compressors, increasing capacity to 2,850 horsepower.
3. At Plainview Compressor Station: one more 300 horsepower compressor, increasing capacity to 2,400 horsepower.
4. At Littlefield Compressor Station: one 80 horsepower compressor, to increase capacity to 350 horsepower.
5. Between Littlefield Compressor Station and Whittaral: nine miles of 6 1/2-inch pipe will replace 3 1/2-inch pipe.
6. From Littlefield to point of intersection with new El Paso Natural Gas Company line: ten and one-half miles of 8 1/2-inch pipe will replace 4 1/2-inch pipe.
7. At Tahoka Compressor Station: one more 300 horsepower compressor, to increase capacity to 780 horsepower.
8. Between Tahoka and Brownfield: ten miles of 6 1/2-inch pipe will replace 4 1/2-inch pipe.

TWO NEW SOURCES OF SUPPLY ARRANGED

We have signed an agreement with El Paso Natural Gas Company to purchase from that company at two points. Barring unforeseen contingencies, this gas, which will benefit all towns on our system, will be available by November 1, 1948.

1948 PROGRAM COST 2 1/4 MILLION

Last winter we experienced an unusually heavy demand on our gas system... a demand which briefly exceeded the capacity of our transmission facilities. At that time we told the people we serve that we would make every effort possible to correct this situation before the next winter.

Certain definite projects were required to increase capacity. Some had already been planned... others were added. We reported to our customers via the newspapers what projects we planned to carry out in 1948. In the panel at left is a re-listing of those 1948 projects.

We are happy to say all of the expansion and improvement projects so reported to our customers were actually completed during 1948... on schedule. West Texas Gas Company invested about $2,280,000 during the year in these improvements and additional facilities.

In November, we began purchasing substantial quantities of gas at Amherst and at Umbarger from El Paso Natural Gas Company. These new supplies of gas will directly or indirectly benefit all towns served by us.

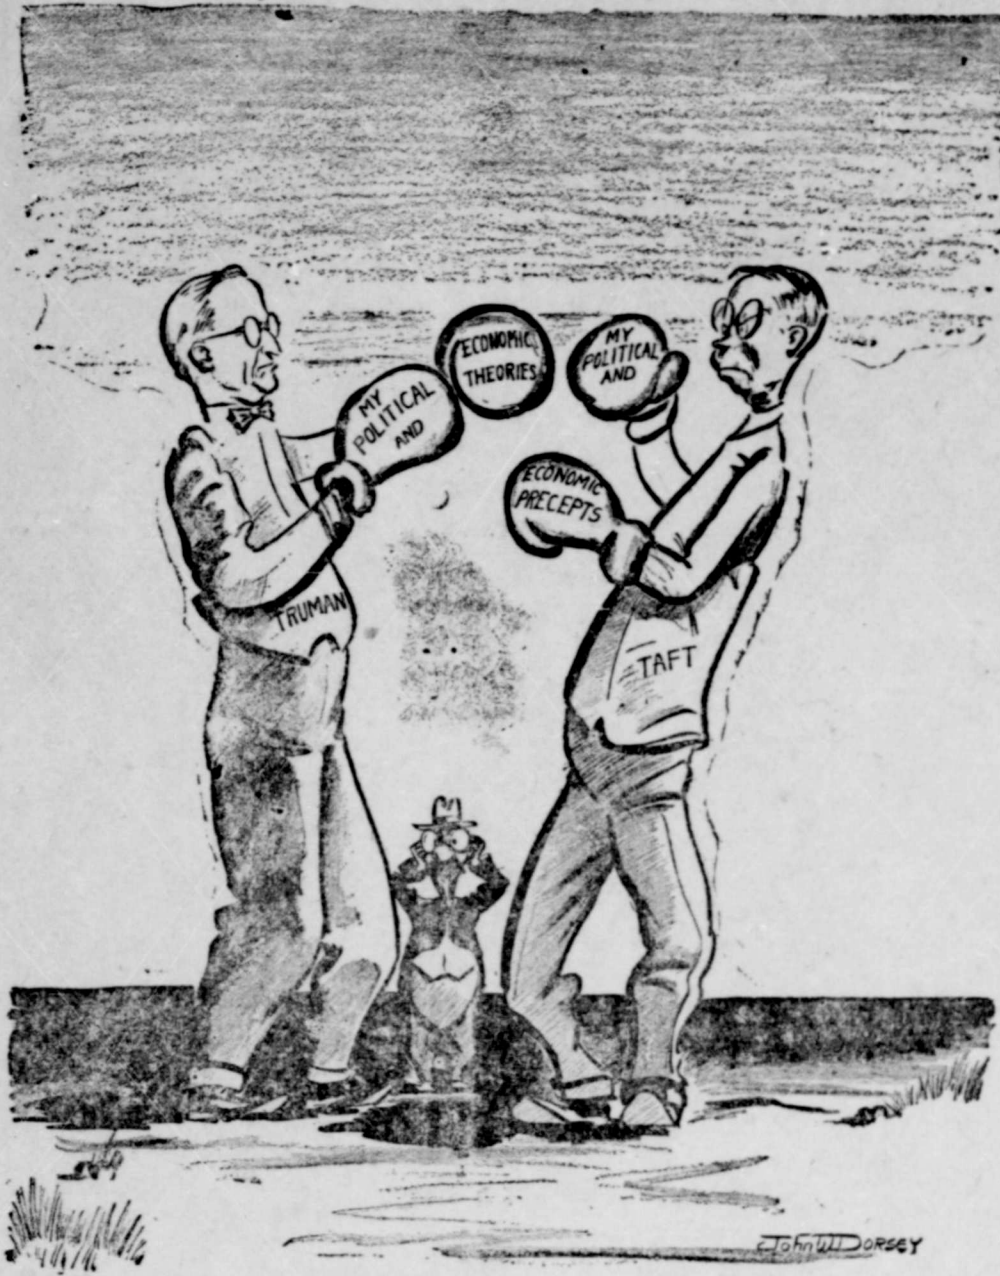

2 1/4 MILLION MORE IN 1949

Already our 1949 expansion program is beginning. Preliminary work is under way now for one important project. It is estimated that we will invest another $2,250,000 or more during 1949 in additional facilities and improvements. Thus, in the two years of 1948 and 1949 we will have invested about four and one-half million dollars in order that we may provide a dependable, efficient and economical gas service to our customers.

HELPING BUILD WEST TEXAS SINCE 1927

During late 1946 and part of 1947 under District planning over 150 miles of terraces were built so with the fine season in the ground it would be well for each landowner who has a terrace system to first plow and build up his terraces. Terraces properly maintained about every third year will be more effective in holding future rainfall.

According to the best compiled rain data covering a period of 38 years locally, the year of 1949 should start getting wet to very wet towards fall. If you recall 1941 was a very wet year and since 1941 the growing seasons have become drier. The average dry cycle is on an average of from 5 to 7 years before it starts to return to a wet year. The cycle is right for 1949 so prepare new terraces. Contour any fields that won't take terraces. In wet years, prepare for drouthy years that are sure to come sooner or later.

Plan your pasture or improved pastures now before you start farming. Decide which field you want to put into pasture, prepare the land for August and September seeding, get your seed mixture figured out and around April or May(give a good reliable seed dealer your order for future delivery to reach you at the time for drilling in your mixtures of grasses and legumes.

You farmers throughout the District watch your crop yields on fields that were properly chiseled prior to the beginning of the coming in of moisture the early part of this month. Already soil tests show a deeper penetration of the moisture in fields that were not chiseled. Crop yields will in all probability be as good or better than flat broken land.

It pays to hold moisture where it falls. Don't let moisture run off your fields like it did in many places in 1948.

Mr. W. A. Bynum, who farms the East half of Section 104, Block T, made application for soil conservation planning through the District program. Mr. Bynum is planning a coordinated conservation program on his farm by installing a sprinkler irrigation system whereby pasture and alfalfa will be used for hog pasture and to build up his soil.

Up on the Levelland highway and out towards the Northwest going to the Poole community is one of the fastest developing irrigation sections of Terry county. Among a few of the farmers who have drilled good wells, or are going to drill are: Lloyd McCallister, W. W. Marchbanks has drilled his second well, J. Fred Bucy has drilled his second well, Messrs. O. E. Franklin, D. R. Smith, W. F. Terry, L. M. Waters, Henry V. Mallon, W. M. Watson, P. R. Cates, L. M. Lang, A. A. Miller, C. L. Johnson and many more who have requested the Soil Conservation Program to assist in planning ditches, row directions and the planning of suitable crops according to good land use.

Many of the new irrigation farms starting out for the first time in 1949 will plan better crop rotation, and will use some types of legumes to help maintain soil fertility.

Yoakum County is another part of the CYT District and out there this year Miss Anita Fields, H. F. Barnes, Joe Curry, Olen Edwards, W. F. Strickland, A. E. Johnson and several others have requested assistance in planning conservation practices on their farms.

Marvin Allen, Roy Barrier, E. H. Parrar, W. H. Watson, Odell Lowe, P. E. Askew all are planning to install irrigation systems when the weather gets dry enough.

During the dusty days last November and December fields where combined milo had been harvested did not blow as easily as the old cotton stubble. So the sandier soils should be cropped continuously to grain sorghums. The high stubble from milo gives a pretty fair land cover as a protection against blowing.

Home gardens this year should fit pretty well into each conservation farm program.

Henry E. Bates, who farms Section 45, Block 4X or about one mile east of the Needmore gin recently completed a fine terrace system of about 12 miles of broad base terraces. His cropping system will follow good land use. The CYT District program assisted Mr. Bates in the planning of terraces.

In normal farming years, prepare for the drouthy years. Get land easy to blow away tied down with protective grass cover, increase the land's water holding capacity, enrich the soil so it will hold more moisture. Part or all of these practices will help hedge against the dry year.

Your Soil Conservation District Program, with headquarters in the Post Office Building, Brownfield, will assist you in better land use. Apply to this office for assistance. This office has trained engineering, soil and agronomy technicians who will gladly help you with your soil and moisture problems.

All landowners within the District should become Conservation farmers, a conservation farmer being one who farms the conservation way because it is part of him, because he understands that it is good for the land.

Good old home cured ham and country sausage would be mighty fine eating these cold mornings. So how about a few hogs to fatten out this next fall?

Shade and some adapted varieties of fruit trees have a place in a good conservation farming program. During February is an excellent time to set out shade trees around the farmstead. Shade trees planted for wind breaks are very useful.

During these long, cold, snowy days is a fine time to read over accumulated farm magazines. You might pick up some excellent ideas about a new grass, a new breed of poultry or some idea that could be useful on your farm. Did you see that article in a recent magazine about the bush type of sweet potato that is a heavier producer than the vine variety? With bush type you can cultivate your sweet potato rows right up to harvest time. Keep down weeds that usually use up so much needed moisture during the growing season. The bush type does away with so much heavy vine growth at harvest time. There are many new ideas, methods and ways given in our worthwhile farm magazines. Yes another source of timely information is the various daily radio programs around 6 to 7 A. M. each week day. Try them some time for your own mutual benefit and entertainment during these cold frosty mornings.

YOU can live after an atomic bomb blast if you know what to do, one scientist says. What we're afraid of is that we'll lose our head.

Behind the Scenes in American Business

NEW YORK, Jan 31—Why does a retail store lose customers? Writing in the latest issue of Dun's Review, Professor N. H. Comish, of the University of Oregon, unveils some startling answers. The professor based his conclusion on thousands of interviews with retail customers, mostly in the small towns of Oregon.

While high prices stood well up among the things customers do not like, prices were not nearly as important as "indifference of clerks" as a reason for not buying. Poor salesmanship stood out above everything else as the principal reason people boycott one store and try another.

"Poor salesmanship will do more to drive your customers away than high prices, poor quality, or any other thing," says Professor Comish. Only prompt, pleasant and courteous clerks can sell goods that won't come back to customers who will.

TRUSTED EMPLOYEES—The postwar period has brought a number of problems to retailers. Because of the labor shortage, merchants have had to content themselves with almost anyone in need of a job. This has resulted in more than poor salesmanship; it has resulted in an alarming increase in retail losses through thefts of all kinds. Fidelity bond losses in the merchandising field have increased sharply since the end of the war, according to Paul Brown, of Lumbermens Mutual Casualty Company, and the upward trend is continuing. Principal causes of this increase in losses among retailers is the inability of employers to screen applicants as thoroughly as formerly. Brown cited an example. A merchant hired a comptometer operator, later gave her $10,000 to deposit in the local bank. She walked off with the money. In apprehending her, the police discovered she had once served a year in jail for passing a bad check in the very same store that entrusted her with the $10,000. Curiously enough, Brown reports, fidelity losses in the financial and industrial classifications have shown no great increase over prewar levels.

THINGS TO COME—New gadgets for the housewife are coming thick and fast. A new griddle carries a meter that measures heat, tells you what temperatures you need for pancakes, bacon, ham and other foods. . . . A new four-slice "pop-up" toaster enables you to give your toast whatever shade of brown you want—A new pressure cooker, six quarts in size, automatically maintains a maximum of 15 pounds of pressure, and you don't have to douse it in cold water to drop the pressure. That's done by tilting the value—An alert manufacturer has rushed into the market with a new record player that will play at three speeds, thus taking any one of the new-speed-and-size records that are now making life so complicated for jitterbugs and other devotees of music—still reaching for the Yankee dollar, the British are invading our markets with a new trailer coach, so you can live in Florida with a British accent—For changing tires at night, there's a new lamp that throws light on your work while an attachment blinks a warning red signal at the rear of your car.

SCHOOL AND FACTORY—Educational institutions are finding an increasing number of fields in which they can cooperate with industry, to the benefit of all. A recent example was a national contest sponsored by the Beaux-Arts Institute of Design, New York, in cooperation with the tile industry. The competition called for design of an elementary school showing clay tile uses and drew entries from 364 students throughout the United States. Thirty-two outstanding New York architects judged the contest, which was won by a University of Illinois student, William P. Craig. The competition benefited students by enabling them to compare the merits of their own solutions with the work of others throughout the country. At the same time, it afforded the tile industry an opportunity to bring information on clay tile to the attention of future architects who in a few years will be planning the nation's new factories, commercial and public buildings.

BITS O' BUSINESS—The consumer's dollar is getting bigger in purchasing power. So says the Department of Labor Statistics, which notes that the current drop in the cost of living may remove one of the arguments labor has been using to demand higher wages. The Department experts labor to ask for more money for different reasons now. You can hear inflation cracking all over the country. Oil prices dropped again last week, while coca is now what it was a year ago. Retail selling, for only about a half of meat prices average 13 per cent to 26 per cent below last September's levels. But what is one man's price in another man's income. So, soon you can expect some of those whose prices are dropping to begin complaining about the hardships they are undergoing. That's human nature. As a consumer, you will welcome the lower prices; as a producer, you will look upon them as a conspiracy against an adequate income for you and your family.

Mrs. C. T. Davenport returned to her home in Marlow, Okla., Monday after a two week visit in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Andrew Cooper and family.

AUSTIN, Jan. 31—Enlisted men of the Organized Reserve Corps who meet the specifications below are now eligible to volunteer and will be accepted for a period of 21 months continuous active duty, Colonel Oscar B. Abbott, Executive for the Texas Military District announced here today.

Enlisted reservists without dependents will be accepted on active duty in their present Organization Reserve Corps grade. Those with dependents will be accepted on active duty only if they are in the first three grades.

Applications can be obtained from the local instructor's office and will be submitted through that office. Reports of medical examination and history will accompany the applications.

As this is the first time that extended active duty has been open to enlisted reservists and this tour of duty is a substitute for the draft under the Selective Service Law, it is expected that many reservists throughout the State will take advantage of this opportunity, Colonel Abbot concluded.

member that "put both hands to work" doesn't apply to electrical appliances.

An Exception To The Rule

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 31—An efficient homemaker puts both hands to work—a lot more work is one with a lot less effort.

But there is an exception to that rule—and that exception is when it comes to electrical equipment.

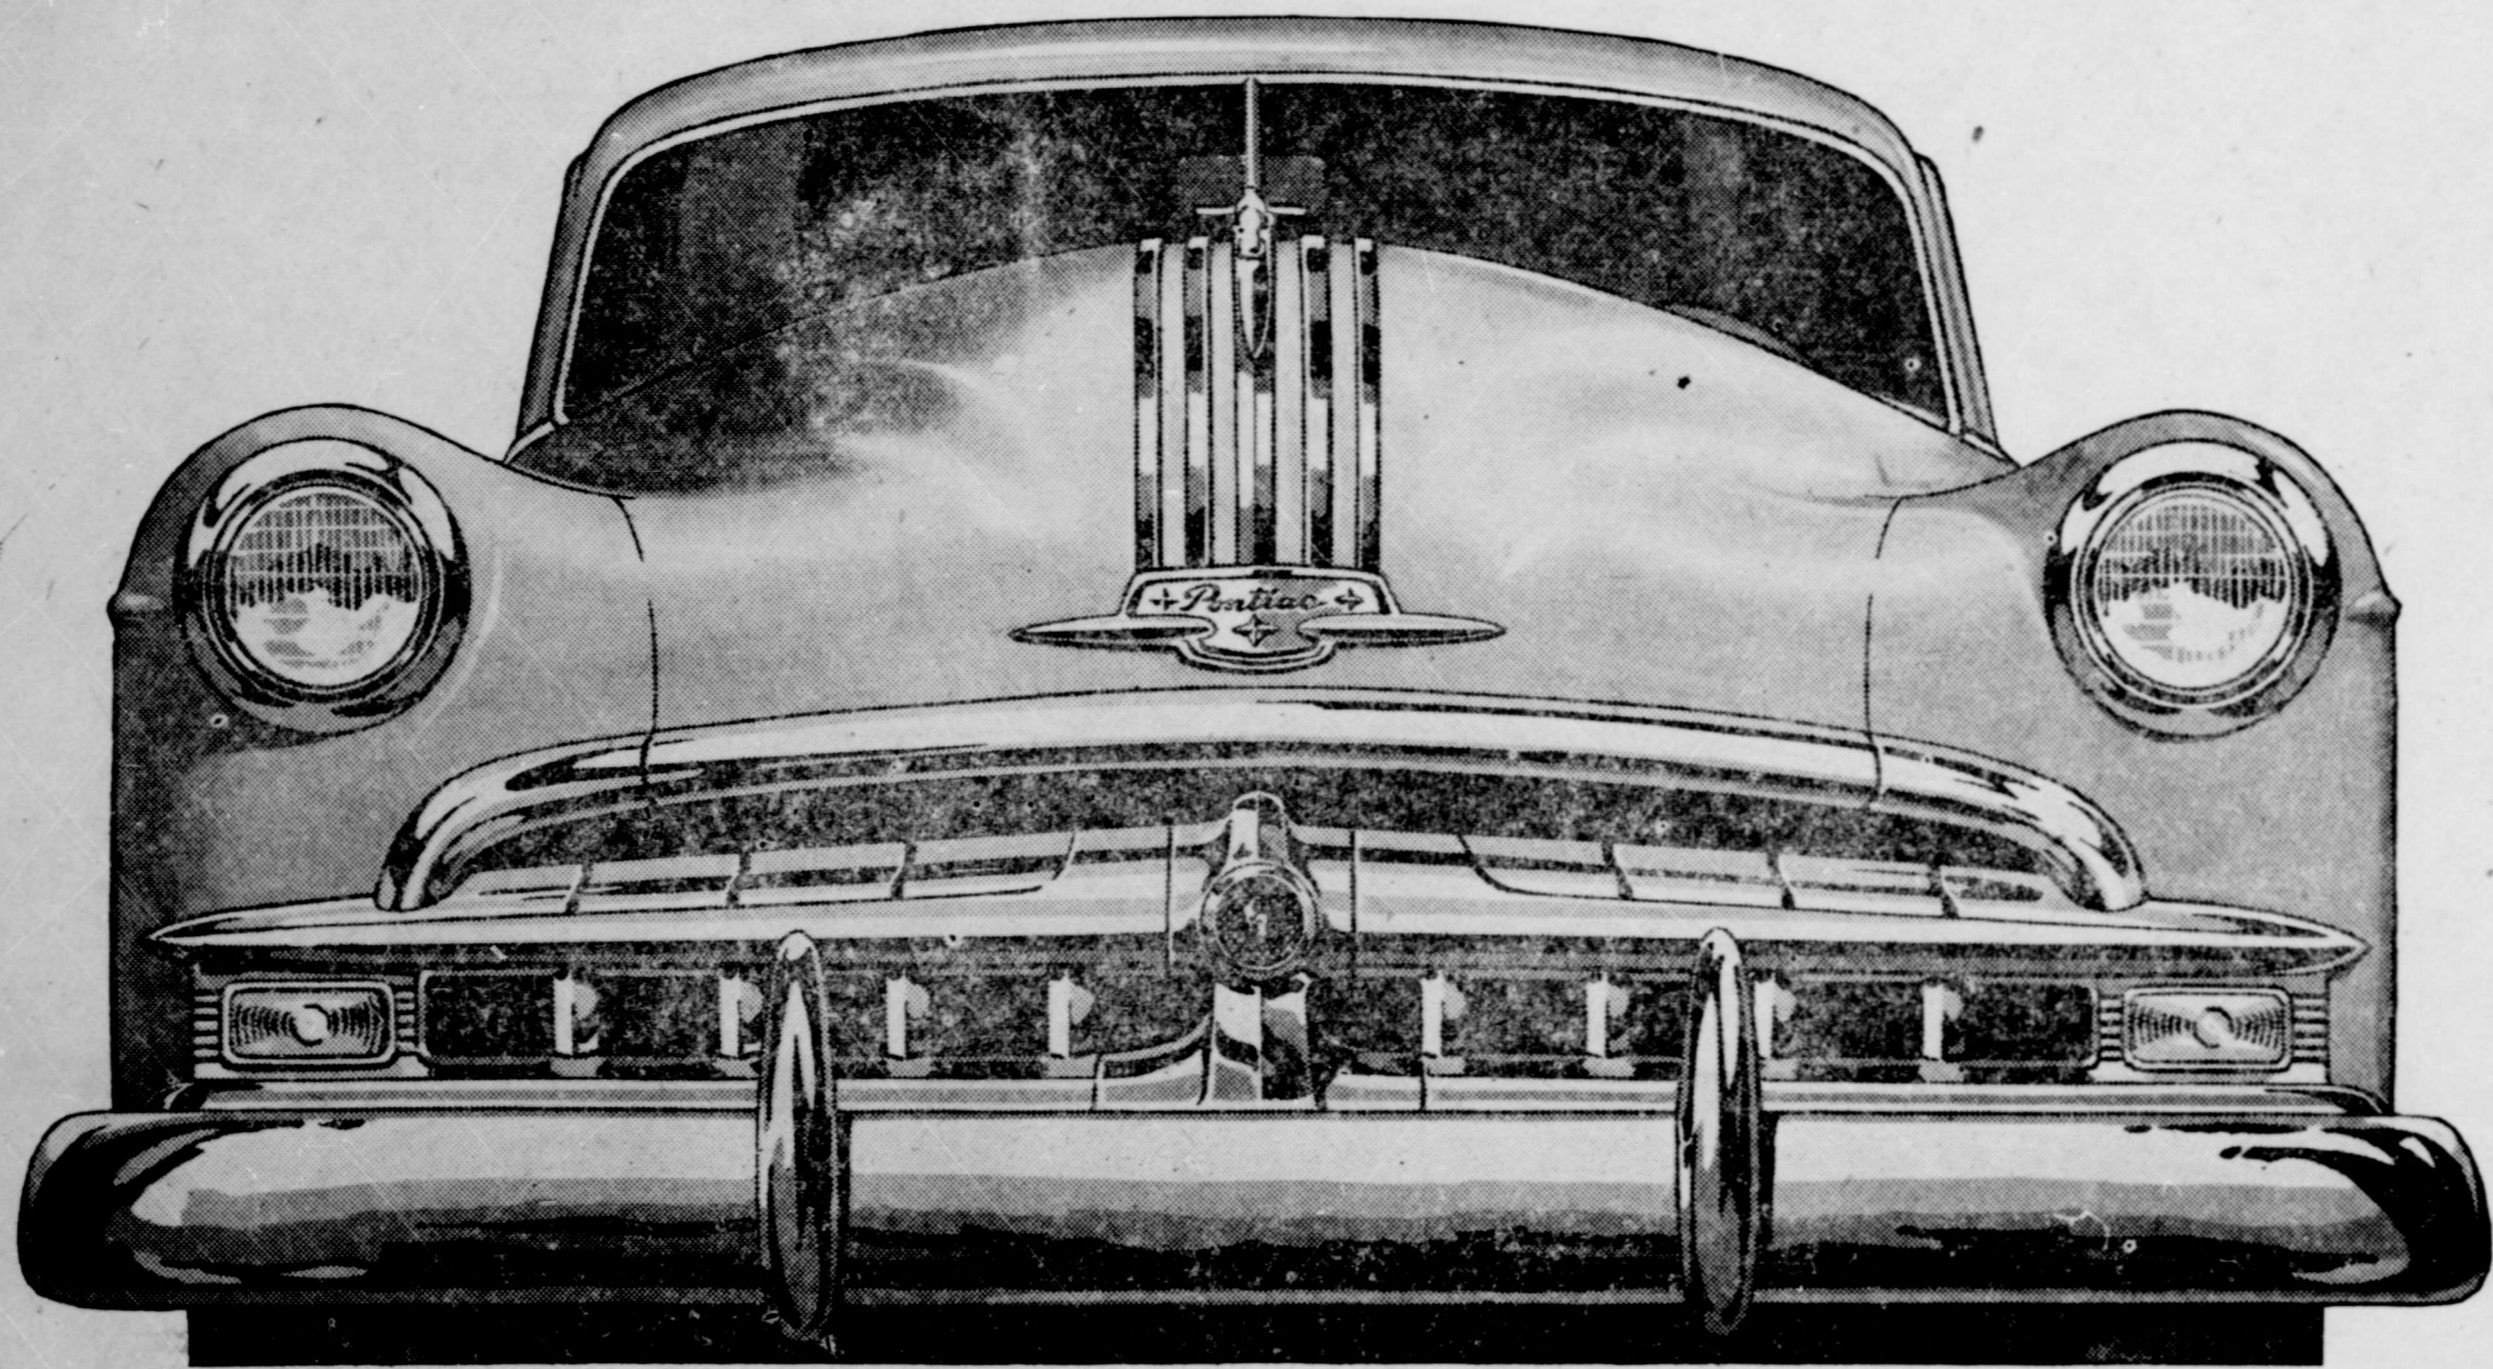

Mrs. Bernice Clayton, extension home management specialist of Texas A. & M. College, points out that, for safety's sake, one hand is better than two when handling any electrical appliance or changing a fuse. If the appliance is worn otherwise defective, causing a short circuit, there is always danger of shock. But there is less chance of severe shock if one hand is free—or is not touching anything else.

The Rural Electrification Administration of the USDA gives an example of a two-handed hazard: Running a vacuum cleaner with one hand and moving a metal lamp with the other—if either of these appliances happens to have a loose wire or other defect, the current may run through your body.

The REA also warns that special care must be taken in the bathroom and kitchen, because electricity travels through water. Be

Pontiac Has Two "New Looks" For 1949

This is the four door deluxe Pontiac sedan in the Streamline series. Forward thrust has been gained by lowering the hood. Body contour is in the modern manner and yet unmistakably Pontiac. Added safety is compounded by reduced pillars and a curved windshield whose gleaming sweep has been increased nearly six inches. Both Pontiac Streamliner and Pontiac Chieftain lines use a 120 inch wheelbase and Hydra-Matic transmissions optional at extra cost.

Panhandle - Plains Museum Receives Donations

A large collection of rare and beautiful silver was given to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum January 1 by Judge James D. Hamlin of Farwell. Judge Hamlin has given numerous gifts of art to the museum in the past. The exhibit will be on display for several weeks until other exhibits are moved to make room.

The collection includes toddy ladders with whalebone handles, forks made in Dublin in 1790, marrow scoops, pistol handle knives and forks, muffineer for powdered sugar and other spoon sets.

There are two tall Sheffield candlesticks, a silver chamber candlestick, and snuffer and a Sheffield chamber candlestick and snuffer, Waterford glass of five pieces and stand dated London, 1784. Besides cream pitchers, tea caddy, mustard containers and loving cup dated London, 1790, there are two vinaigrettes made in 1785 and 1730, wine strainers and doolers, snuff box, a Sheffield plate milk jug dated 1775.

Included in the donation was a collection of bells. One bronze bell, on a teakwood frame, was made of ancient metallic ore during the Han dynasty, 206 B. C. to 208 A. D. It was a temple piece for musical instruments.

Other bells in the collection are an Egyptian cow bell dated 1500; a Burma Buddhist bell, 1700; Spanish monastery bell, 1600; early Spanish monastery bell, 1500; bronze monastery bell from Flanders, 1520; Italian Renaissance ecclesiastical bell designed as a church steeple with a cross, 1450.

GI QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. My husband, a World War II veteran, holds a bad conduct discharge. Is he entitled to benefits under the GI Bill?

A. Since your husband holds neither an honorable nor a dishonorable discharge for the armed services, it will be necessary for him to ask his nearest VA office for a decision as to whether he was discharged under conditions other than dishonorable. He also may apply to the Army or Navy for revision of discharge.

Q. Is my aunt, the daughter of a Civil War veteran, eligible for pension? She and her mother were dependent on the veteran at the time of his death. The widow received a pension until her death, leaving her daughter, aged 75.

A. Unless your aunt was permanently helpless by reason of physical or mental disability prior to having reached the age of 16, she could not now qualify for pension based on her father's service.

Q. Is there any time limit to the duration of a business loan?

A. Yes. A non-real estate business loan must be repaid in 10 years or less; real estate loans may run up to 25 years.

Q. Am I eligible for a GI loan to buy a share in a going business in another city?

A. You are eligible if you devote your personal labor or supervise the business either on a full-time or part-time basis.

Little Red School House, African Style

Among topics now being studied by the U.N. Trusteeship Council at Lake Success is the first report from one of its own regular Mission to areas under U.N. Trusteeship system. The report concerns Rwanda-Urundi and Tanganyika and covers all phases of native life, including health, economics, social welfare and schools (above).

REPEATING

History is being repeated according to Hon. Ralph Gwinn, congressman from N. Y. who states: The temptation of people in power to tamper with prices and production seems to be a very ancient human game. In the laws of the King of Babylon, 2286-2245 B. C., we find wage controls for threshers, boatmen, stone cutters, etc., and regulated also were the rental of cows in milk, calves, oxen, wagons freight and passenger boats. All this was the cause of much trouble. Every child of history knows of the power of Rome at the beginning of the Christian Era.

At first the people had freedom but in 301 A. D., Emperor Diocletian decided to maintain his popularity by price control and he therefore issued his imperial edict fixing prices in the whole of the empire which included Western Europe and Northern Africa. Violators of the price control were punishable by death. Well, a situation was developed which was as tragic as it was prophetic, so Gwinn concludes his interesting remarks.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence McWilliams returned Friday from Dallas where they consulted doctors at the House and Patterson clinic.

Small Cities Should Try For Industries

If your town is in the 1700 to 7500 population bracket or thereabout, chances of securing an industry are good. The 1700-7500 bracket is pointed out as one of the most sought after by the industry of the United States.

Important industrial location factors will soon be available to the industry. Forms have been prepared and are being sent to the towns by the Management Engineering Department through the Engineering Experiment Station, Texas A and M College.

When the forms have been filled in and returned to the Management Engineering Department they will reveal to industry the available locating factors to be found in the towns. This information will be made available to inquiring industries.

The forms have been prepared after an exhaustive study in the requirements of industry in choosing a location for a plant. Factors considered by a manufacturer in search for a suitable location will vary with the different industries.

"However, it has been found that most industries are interested in such factors as nearness to market for the materials and the produce," says R. W. Downward of the Management Engineering Department. "Power cost, availability of labor, labor conditions, rates, climate, transportation facilities, water and sewer facilities, housing facilities, building and warehouse facilities, taxes, banking facilities, social facilities such as churches, schools and places of recreation are other important factors." Downward points out. These forms will be of much assistance to cities in evaluating local conditions and determining whether or not they are in a position to attract new industries," Downward says. "This is an opportunity for the cities to make their local advantages known to industry, since many inquiries are being received. The assistance of all chambers of commerce in preparing the forms was sought and given the Management Engineering Department.

"The past several years have witnessed a gradual realization of the part of communities that movements in industry are not regulated entirely by chance," Downward points out. "Communities have discovered that industry chooses locations according to certain very definite location factors, and that those far-sighted enough to make data on these location factors available to industry have developed industrially more rapidly than the others."

Gene Langford, who was seriously injured in an accident at his service station last month, has been released from the local hospital. He will still have to remain in bed, but will be cared for at home.
