

County HD Clubs Have All Day Meeting

The Terry County H. D. Club members held an all day meeting at the courthouse on February 26, for the purpose of studying the program of work for the year of 1949 recommended by the following state committees: Marketing, 4-H, Legislative, Recreation, and Educational. These recommendations were read and studied.

The Legislative committee gives recommendations for action and study of the county, state, national, and international affairs. At the county level, the Gilmer-Aiken report on schools from the standpoint of both taxation and administration was used as an example. In regard to state legislative work, farm roads system was discussed. On the national level, members were advised to resist efforts to have co-operatives to pay both individual and corporation in income tax, to continue efforts to have freight rates equalized over the nation, and to continue to urge congress to introduce bills which would extend benefits of social security, old age, and survivors benefits to farmers and farm workers. At an international level, members were urged to encourage the extension of overseas aid, and to study UNESCO, the educational, social and cultural organizations of the United Nations.

A covered luncheon was served to members of the Pleasant Valley, Wellman, Harmony, Union, Needmore, and Meadow Clubs.

Attend Family Reunion

Mrs. C. R. Steven and grandson Kenneth Wayne attended a family reunion in Durant, Okla. last week. 44 members of her family were present, and together for the first time in 19 years. On her return Mrs. Stevens visited with a sister in Wheeler County. She returned to Brownfield with her brother W. D. Burnett and his family, and they spent several days here before returning to their home Phoenix, Ariz.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION CLASSES HEAR LECTURE ON CARD DISPLAYS

On Thursday, Feb. 24, Mr. Bohanan of the University of Texas gave a talk on show card writing and merchandise display to the Distributive Education classes of Brownfield High School. Mr. Bohanan, who has just finished a week's course on commercial display for the merchants of Brownfield, is with the Distributive Educational Department at Austin.

His lecture dealt mainly with work covered in the field of commercial art. He gave the students helpful information about plans for a college program. He offered vocational guidance for their plans after graduation.

Another Woman's Angle

The social calendar for this coming week offers a variety of entertainment to the women of Brownfield. The Delphin Study club will hold their Benefit Bridge at the country club on Friday, March 11. Here is a chance for a pleasant afternoon of bridge with your favorite foursome and an opportunity to assist the women of the club in their drive for funds for the Federated Club House.

Mrs. J. M. Teague will review the "Bold Gallilean" in the first of a series of book reviews sponsored by the Women's Guild of the First Presbyterian Church. This program will be presented at 8:00 p. m. in the church building on March 9th. The proceeds will go to the church building fund.

The book of Mrs. Teague's choice deals with the life and times of Christ. It is written in the clear, simplicity of the beautiful language of the bible. The virile, human sides of Christ's character are depicted as well as His divinity. This review should be well worth hearing.

The ladies of the Brownfield Country Club are reminded that their monthly luncheon will be held at the country club on Wednesday, March 9 at 1:00 p. m. Those women are members but have not attended these meetings are urged to attend. This luncheon offers an enjoyable monthly diversion, and an opportunity to learn about the women's activities, and help on their projects.

We wish that we might have attended the joint luncheon held by the Chamber of Commerce, Jaycee, Lions, and Rotary Clubs this week. Mr. Dollinger the guest speaker is reported to have given an exceptionally fine talk on the work of the Chamber of Commerce, particularly emphasizing the need for active interest in local, state, national, and international affairs among business men in America. The time for complacency, and indifference in past. We must stand up for our belief in the American Way of Life.

We believe that this same thought holds true in regard to the women of America, the housewives, mothers, and businesswomen. We women cannot afford to become complacent. We should study current problems, civic events, political affairs with intelligent interest, and having studied them let our views be heard.

Mrs. Griggs Honored With Pink And Blue Shower

Mrs. J. C. Criswell, and Mrs. Herman Chesshir were hostesses at a pink and blue shower honoring Mrs. Jack Griggs in the home of Mrs. Criswell on Tuesday morning, March 1.

Twenty guests called and were served coffee and do-nuts from a refreshment table decorated in pink and blue motif. The table was centered with a vase shaped like a baby bottle filled with pink flowers, and with a tiny cradle hanging from pink and blue ribbon streamers.

WAR BRIDE CHERISHES FREEDOM

The freedom enjoyed and taken for granted by so many Americans is a priceless jewel to Gaida Miller of Canton, O. Seeing her country of Latvia overrun twice within a few years, first by the Germans and then by the plundering Russians; seeing her family vanish; knowing the heartbreak of forced labor camps, — all these have taught an appreciation of the freedoms in the country where she came as a war bride of ex-C. I. Gilbert Miller.

The United States is Latvia, enlarged many times, according to Gaida, for her country had a democratic government patterned closely after that of the U. S. Telephones, radios, electrical appliances and many of the other conveniences which Americans enjoy, with the exception of automobiles, were common to them. However her country had nothing to compare with giant industries like the Timken Roller Bearing Company where both she and her husband work. "In Eastern Europe there are no benefits for the working people as are taken for granted here," says Mrs. Miller.

The Gomez H. D. Club met Thursday, February 24, in the home of Mrs. Jack Mason. The hostess was given gold band iced tea glasses by the members.

"The Eye of Texas" was chosen as the club song and "Texas Our Texas" was the song chosen to be sent to the council for the county song. Plans were made for the use of the $5.00 given the club by the council. These plans will be kept secret, as each club has also been given $5.00, and there will be a contest to see how much can be made from its use. Following the business meeting a program on "Care of the Feet" was given by one of the members, Mrs. Kelly eSars.

Only one of the thirteen members was absent at the Thursday was a guest.

Recommendation

This is word from those people who nominated and now support Hiram Parks to be Mayor of Brownfield. With the thought that there might be others who would like an opportunity to make a choice for this important office it has thus been provided with the two candidates from which we may make our choice. We pick Hiram Parks by reason of his known talents and ability and upon a record of success sufficient to indicate a fair and capable administration of the duties that fall to a Brownfield Mayor. We recommend him to your serious consideration as a man who will with interest and activity apply himself to the demands of this office and in harmony with the Commissioners provide us with thoughtful logical and progressive city government.

Ten little Motorists

An interesting little jingle is going the rounds of newspapers, which are continually preaching the gospel of safety in the highways. Here it is: Ten Little Motorists driving in line, one tried to pass the rest—then there were nine. Nine Little Motorists, sadly I relate, one jumped a traffic light—then there were eight. Eight Little Motorists, young and not so deft; one tried to show his skill—and seven were left.

Seven Little Motorists, touring the sticks; one failed to dim his lights—and then there were six. Six Little Motorists, very much alive; one did not see a train—then there were five. Five Little Motorists, speeding to the shore, one skidded in the rain—then there were four. Four Little Motorists, coming from a tea; one faced about to chat—then there were three. Three Little Motorists (this is sad but true); one slumbered from fatigue—then there were two. Two Little Motorists, racing just

An Interesting Letter From Alaska

Had a letter from Miss Hazel Goldston while we were out of town, with the first order for a change in her address since she has been a resident of Alaska. Remark that she would not at this time gave us a headache by having her Herald come air mail. Thanks a lot Hazel! While Anchorage is not her address, she is now working in the postoffice at that place. We also found that she had been working in the PO Dept. since she has been up there. Likes her new location better than Santa Claus or Big Timber Lodges. The very idea of not liking the place where Santa is supposed to live. Anyway, she sent some clippings from the Anchorage daily paper, and evidently from reading it, the moose up there must have heard of the hay airlift in the northwest. Anyway a young bull moose was not altogether sa-tified with the farmers' hay crops and so plowed into town. After some quite excitable times with people trying to dodge the enraged he-moose on the icy streets, a policeman had to shoot the animal. Thus was ended the career of one of the animals from which Teddy Roosevelt named his third party in 1912.

OLD TIME "DRUMMER" CALLS ON HERALD

The Old He was quite a bit surprised when Frank Phillips, manager of Carpenter Paper Co., Lubbock, walked in with the regular salesman of this district, J. Porter Giles, Tuesday. It really seemed like old times. Frank related to others that when he began calling on us about 1922, and would suggest that we did not have enough print paper to last long, we'd put up some kind of argument that we had plenty. Seems strange now for a paper salesman to want to sell a guy more paper. Even so, Frank assured us that it had again reached that point. You can get all the newsprint you can pay for. It's high. We began to buy paper from Phillips 27 years ago, when he represented Tayloe Paper Co., of Fort Worth, and later bought by Carpenter Paper Co. When the Carpenter Co. opened a branch wholesale house at Lubbock some 15 years ago, Frank Phillips was made manager.

ONE OF THE GREATEST

AND MAKE MONEY

Yes, Mr. Farmer, it will work wonders—if you will take advantage of the opportunities.

Had you thought of it—for weeks you may be busy and talk to very few farmers in this section. You may be in the scene at top: have something to sell, something to buy or trade, yet your neighbors don't need it. But over a few miles out on the other side of this trade territory there is a man perhaps wanting just what you have to sell, or may have what you want to buy or trade for

In a few words, here's an opportunity to change the top scene into a great auction event merely by use of a HERALD CLASSIFIED AD. You can go ahead with your work, yet "talk to thousands of farmers at the same time."

EVER HEAR OF GUARANTEED ADVERTISING?

Just to show you what you can do with a Classified Ad, the Herald wants you to send one in—advertise anything you like. Some other farmer wants what you have, or has what you want. You must get results — you must sell what you advertise, or find what you are trying to buy or trade for, or the Classified Ad doesn't cost you ONE PENNY—nothing. If you buy, sell, or trade by use of the Classified Ad, then come in and pay for it. If you do not buy, sell, or trade, no questions asked. You owe nothing; nothing is on our books against you; you will never get a bill. WE THINK YOU'RE HONEST.

This offer applies to actual dirt farmers or active ranchers only. Practically all farmers now get the Herald, and we know if there is someone wanting what you have to sell, the Herald will find them. If you want to buy, and it's to be had in the area, you'll find it. If you want to trade, you'll find a trader.

You name it, and send in the Ad—a stove, a cow, hogs, feed, seed, any kind of farming equipment, household furniture, harness, tools, chickens, wagon, a dog or an elephant—the HERALD's great new all-over the area circulation will find you a deal if there is one.

Just remember—NO RESULTS, NO PAY. We leave the bookkeeping up to YOU.

Demonstrators Say Improving Homes

Landscaping and the women's home demonstration clubs, in Brownfield and Terry County, as well as over the wide expanse of Texas went long way last year. There were over 20 thousand women enrolled as demonstrators who improved their own home lawns. Of this number, more than 1,300 gave demonstrations and assisted in conducting training meetings for their clubs. The leaders assisted in making 34 study tours to Experiment Substations, and they opened their own homes and helped conduct 351 Achievement Day Tours to see neighbors' accomplishments. Sadie Hatfield, extension landscape gradening specialist of Texas annual report that 65 tours were also made to homes of garden club members. Control of insects and plant disease were among the landscaping program conducted. Other accomplishments for the year included teaching their neighbors how to prune trees and shrubs, build barbecue pits and outdoor living room furniture, and arrange flowers. The demonstrators say they learned more than the people they taught, reports Miss Hatfield. Not only were they benefited materially, but here are the figures to show the actual number of yard improvements made. There were nearly 4,500 outdoor living rooms arranged and furnished, over 2,300 drives and 2,700 walks built. And nearly 29,300 shrubs and trees were grown from seeds and cuttings. Not all of the 20,000 demonstrators who enrolled reached demonstration status, says Miss Hatfield, but 669 achieved that honor during this year.

Cross Country In Less Than 4 1/2 Hours

The YB-49 probably passed over or near the area of Brownfield recently when it crossed the continent in 4 hours and 25 minutes. This is the famous "flying wing". But very unlikely any one here knew anything about the matter. In fact we guess the plane was miles above the earth. It carried a full crew and made the trip of 2,298 miles at the rate of 511 miles an hour.

Believes Poll Tax Should Be Retained

There is doubt in the legislature about repealing the poll tax law. Something more than $2,000,000 will be lost to the schools and state in case the tax is repealed. Personally we believe the poll tax law should be retained and that the prerequisite to voting be kept on the law books. But we believe that this poll tax should be collected when other taxes are paid. We do not feel that there is any discrimination as to races in this tax, but it is purely a revenue raising idea and every one should pay this tax or not be permitted to vote. A person must be a qualified citizen before he is acceptable as a candidate and that means he must be a tax payer. The same thing should be required of the person who wants to elect the candidate. This poll tax is a very small sum and can be paid by any citizen in Texas. There are some people who pay no other than the poll tax and we believe this is one way to make such support the schools and state — Yoakum County Review.

Behind The Scenes

By Reynolds Knight NEW YORK, Feb. 28—The changing sales conditions of 1949 are beginning to have their effect on producers. More and more, manufacturers are looking at the retail level as a guide to their operations. A good example of what needs to be done can be found in the automobile industry which schedules its output on the basis of sales estimates. These estimates, from dealers all over the land, are revised every ten days and plant operations are governed accordingly. With the auto industry, this is a matter of necessity. Each week enough material to fill 105 miles of freight cars flows into the assembly plants. If that material cannot be converted promptly into finished cars on their way to buyers, it can soon pile up with consequent losses all along the line.

By gearing its output to sales, the industry also saves the public billions of dollars yearly. Distribution costs on most manufactured items run from 50 to 57 per cent of retail price in normal times. The distribution costs of autos is only 25 per cent of retail price. SERVICE YEAR—another business man who recognizes that 1949 calls for extraordinary efforts is Joyce C. Hall, largest publisher of greeting cards in America. His advice to both manufacturers and retailers: make 1949 a "service year" for customers if you hope to find a place in the developing buyer's market.

Hall each year outlines his company's program in an employee message which incorporates his personal and recommended resolutions for the year. Hall's resolutions include: "Eliminate red tape—the thing one is so critical of in government; maintain a proper budget and a constant eye on costs of all materials; keep on the lookout for folks capable of greater responsibilities; think of 1949 as a service year by spending more time with your customers."

THINGS TO COME—You remember the lock-nut developed during the war. The same makers are bringing out a lock nail. It's of non-rusting stainless steel, developed particularly for asbestos shingling. The last blow of the hammer causes a locking foot to be drawn up behind the shingle. A pencil-like reading device for the blind is under development. It scans Braille, and the letters are translated electronically into sound through earphones. Nylon, which has gone from stockings to a hundred other uses, is now being featured for the bristles of a new carpet sweeper. A new farm machine that acts like a huge vacuum cleaner will soon be introduced to help farmers store forage. It can swallow up 20 tons of hay an hour, and later blow it out anywhere you want it. Retail dealers will be interested in a new chemicalized shield to put over fluorescent tubes and filter out the ultra-violet rays which now cause some materials to fade. Product of the week: a whistling tooth brush. When Junior finishes brushing his teeth, he can put the handle of the brush in his mouth and blow a loud triumphant toot.

WARTIME LEVIES—The war over, but taxes linger on. There seems to be little hope for any reduction in income taxes, but such excise taxes as those on luggage, admissions, toilet preparations and transportation tickets are under attack. The tax on railroad was originally placed to discourage wartime travel as well as to raise revenue. But now it is discouraging travel just when road after road is reporting falling traffic. And the excise tax on liquor is so high that it is beginning to defeat its purpose as a revenue measure by leading to bootlegging, an activity which pays no tax at all. Democratic Representative John D. Dingell, a member of the House Ways and Means Committee, is proposing legislation to reduce the federal tax on liquor from $9.00 to the prewar rate of $6.00 a proof gallon, declaring that a bootlegger can produce alcohol at a price as low as 50 cents a gallon tax-free. Taxes on fur coats and other luxury items are a factor in the current sales slump in those lines, according to leading retailers.

BIT O' BUSINESS—Not only are chocolate bars getting bigger—they are also getting cheaper. Three of the largest manufacturers have just reduced their prices to the retailers, a further reflection of lower cocoa prices. The railroads were severely scolded by their leading magazine, Railway Age, last week. Seems at one of the big expositions in Philadelphia which drew 17,000 out-of-town visitors, four railings had booths and representatives soliciting business all through the week, whereas not one railroad bothered to set up a booth at the show in an effort to get business. Supply of aluminum as well as of steel is easing. Says Iron Age: "The gray market in steel is a dead dodo". The Department of Agriculture thinks the nation's citrus fruit crop has been cut about 13 per cent by this season's wintry weather in normally tropical sections. Soon the government will again be placing rigid limits on the planting of corn, wheat, cotton, and rice.

Landscape Specialist of A. & M. Says Any Kind Of Trees Can Be Grown Here

Terry County tree lovers will probably turn quite a bit of interest toward the remark that "Trees can be grown without irrigation in any county in Texas." And Mrs. Sadie Hatfield, extension landscape gardening specialist of A & M College of Texas, continued: "That goes for shade trees, windbreaks and ornamentals."

But she admits there's a trick to it. The secret of success is in properly collecting and storing rain water in the soil for the trees to use. Terraces and contours should be constructed so as to collect and hold the moisture which falls throughout the year. And the terraces may be built any time you can get around to it.

Soil is the most natural, the easiest and the best place to keep water for growing trees in the Panhandle, the plains, and in all the drier regions of Texas, says Miss Hatfield.

She goes on to say it is true that three or four acres of soil may be needed to produce one acre of trees, because it's necessary to take rainwater from nearby soil in order to give a tree—or a group of trees—as much as two or three times the annual rainfall of a semi-arid region.

That's where terracing and contouring come into the picture. These practices, long recommended by county agriculture agents, can bring about a diversion of water in almost any area selected for trees.

Among the trees which are being grown successfully—and have been grown for more than 10 years by landscape garden demonstrators in the Panhandle and on the plains are black walnut, red cedar, osage orange or bois d'arc, green ash, desert willow, hackberry and honey locust, says Miss Hatfield.

Also grown in these and the drier regions of the state are the jujube, mulberry, Russian olive, salt cedar, wild plum and Chinese elm.

There's a trick to it, but trees can be grown in any Texas county.

Drouth Broken On West Texas Ranches

The drought is broken! These words, echoed from far down at the Texas A. & M. college, Extension Service, have brought new hope and cheer to the ranchmen of Terry County and Western Texas. Ranging farther west, rains have been favorable, and moisture penetration from the Terry county to San Angelo section has been good. Around San Angelo depth was moist as much as 16 to 18 inches.

A. H. Walker, extension range specialist of Texas A. & M. College, says ranchmen are pleased with range prospects, and many are thinking now of restocking their ranges. With livestock prices good and the number low, ranchmen figure they can't lose.

But Walker says they can lose if they are not careful. The drought and overgrazing have severely reduced the stand of the better grasses and heavy grazing this spring will keep grass from coming back.

Perennial grasses must build their top growth each year from plant food stored in the roots, and the better grasses, already weak, can't stand too much heavy grazing.

The poorest condition pastures should be rested this spring and summer. This will give the desirable grasses a chance to make a

BIBLE COMMENT

FOR MARCH 6

Parables of Jesus Were Unique in Quality and Truth

THE use of stories to point, or illustrate, truth is about as old as man's effort for expression. It has been widely prevalent in both ancient and modern times; and it has been in secular, as well as in sacred, literature.

The use of the parable was not unique with Jesus. There were many parables in the Old Testament. The parable was a natural incident of oriental imagery and figures of speech. What was unique in the parables of Jesus was their supreme quality as stories.

The parable is usually thought of as an imaginary tale. That's how the dictionary defines it. Why it would be less a parable, if the incidents that it relates had happened in real life, is difficult to understand. The Parable of the Prodigal Son would have been as much of a parable if it had happened just as Jesus told it in the case of an actual father and son.

But on the other hand its use and the truth that it had to declare did not depend on being literal. It might have been any father and any son. Jesus told it to make plain in the picture of that loving father the love of God the Father, and His readiness to receive and forgive His wayward children.

I suppose that outside of the Bible the most famous parables are the Fables of Aesop. Aesop wrote much of animals, but he really had in mind people, to whom he was offering wisdom.

It is noticeable that the parables of Jesus were of people. They were not of animals or imaginary beings. They were true to life. They were what might have happened, and what does happen.

Moreover, what the parables of Jesus relate might happen in any time or place. They are as true to life today as they were to the life of the day when Jesus uttered them.

It is this element of timelessness that has made the parables of Jesus such living expressions of truth. How different it would have been if Jesus had put in labored philosophical discourses the truth that He put in simple, effective stories.

Two Trips down To Brownwood in Month

Talk about Rambling Rufus the Rhymer, but the Old He has just about reached the point of breaking some kind of record. Our trips are kinder domestic, as it were. Now you take Charles Guy, and if he don't get off to Nu Yawk, Sheeowgo or San Franmacisco, he ain't made a trip. It takes a lot of dough to make those long tours and stop at the swank hotels, and we ain't got the price. Wish we did.

But this last trip was all on Bill Lyle of Lubbock. The only mazuka we had to put out was the round trip to Lubbock. Reached there about mid-morning, and we four, Bill and the Old He and wives left for Brownwood an hour later, after Bill came in from milking the cows out at the Monroe farm. Ate lunch, and a good one at Snyder; filled up the car and bought some more stuff at Anson and on and on over the hills and through the ales.

Just a word about Bill's driving. He does not start out to break some kind of speed record. Indeed some would say that he is a slow driver. He takes a speed of just above 50 on good straight roads way from traffic, and holds it. And when a few hours have spun by, Bill is away to H and gone down the road. If our president can use SOB in his public addresses, maybe that should license us to use the letter H. and get through the mails.

At this point we might take up the dampness of west Texas. They had a young flood at Snyder, and there had been more or less rain all the way to Brownwood, including a severe electrical storm at Anson. So we found out why it was hard to get the Hillbilly Hit Parade the night before. Even the flat broken land had water standing over it, and the rows were full if bedded, and it also stood over the pastures and Meadows. They have every prospect for a bumper at and wheat crop in that section of the country, as well as on the plains, where a stand was left.

While the weather was cloudy and murky all the time we were down there, we had a nice time. Lots to eat, and we actually got caught up on our sleep. The Lyles also had a great time visiting his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Snider. Mr. Snider has been connected with one of Brownwood banks for years. Sunday, a lot of his kin came up from Brady, and they almost had a family reunion. If those people down there have a lot of sunshine between this and mid-April, we predict the land will be dry enough to plant. As for the dogs, Buddie and Rover they were proud to see us and share the food and fire with us. However, when they drive out, they seldom carry but one of them, as the two bark too much if another dog is sighted long the streets or highways.

Our wife remarked when we got home that she enjoyed the trip better than any she ever made down there. She didn't have to drive, and could look around and the two ladies being on the back seat gossiped to their heart's content. Only trouble was that we went over two highways that Bill had never driven over, and he had both a front and back seat driver.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle had never been out to Lake Brownwood. A trip put there with the Stricklins and Sallie Trigg, was greatly enjoyed, and Bill indicated he'd like to wet a hook there some time.

Boy we've got this off our chest and killed a mite of space.

Buildings To Be Named For Heroes

FORT BLISS—Six handsome buildings at this Post, site of the Army's Antiaircraft Artillery and Guided Missile Center, will be named in honor of as many Antiaircraft Artillery officers and enlisted men in ceremonies to be held at an early date.

Each building will be named for a AAA man who distinguished himself on the field of battle or in Antiaircraft Artillery development. A bronze tablet bearing the man's name and record of achievement will be set into the wall of the three-story building named for him. Each building will be identified by an appropriate sign, in addition to the plaque.

Military personnel of the Antiaircraft and Guided Missiles Branch of the Artillery School in whose area of the Post the buildings are located were requested several weeks ago to nominate men in whose honor the buildings should be named. Nominations are being considered by a selection committee, headed by Lt. Col. Chas. F. Heafy.

Growing plants without soil is a method known by several names, some of which are soilless culture, water culture, chemical gardening, hydroponics and tank farming.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Nelson arrived here Sunday from Prescott, Arkansas to make their home.

Gluten Meal Feed Discussed

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 28.—Gluten meal and gluten feed obtained from grain sorghums as by-products from the extraction of starch may soon be available in significant quantities for feeding livestock.

According to information from Dr. J. C. Miller and Fred Hale, of the department of animal husbandry, and Dr. Carl M. Lyman, of the department of biochemistry and nutrition, all of Texas A. & M. College, some work has been done in the past on the use of corn gluten feed and corn gluten meal as feeds for swine. However, there are no reports on the use of sorghum gluten feed and meal.

In the fall of 1947 and the summer of 1948, feeding trials were conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station to study the value of sorghum by-products as pig fattening rations. The first experiment was made up of 40 Duroc pigs, averaging 79 pounds each, and divided into four lots of 10 pigs each.

The ration in each lot was composed of whole grain milo and a protein supplement which was fed free choice in self feeders. Each group of 10 pigs also had free access to a mineral mixture containing 80 pounds of ground limestone and 20 pounds of salt. The sorghum by-products were used as part of the protein mixture. The protein mixture in the check lot consisted of 50 pounds of meat scraps, 30 pounds of soybean oil meal and 20 pounds of dehydrated alfalfa leaf meal.

In place of 30 pounds of soybean meal in the check lot, one lot contained 30 pounds of sorghum gluten meal, and another had 30 pounds of sorghum gluten feed. The third had 40 pounds of gluten meal replacing the 30 pounds of soybean meal and 10 pounds of meat scraps in the protein supplement.

The same ration was used in the summer of 1948, only in this test the pigs were fed separately rather than in groups.

The results of these tests indicated that the protein supplement for fattening hogs may contain up to 30 percent of sorghum gluten meal. Also they found that gluten feed is not as good as the gluten meal in hog fattening rations.

The group of pigs getting the soybean meal as 30 percent of the protein mixture made 10 percent greater daily gains than did the pigs fed the sorghum by-products. Since grain sorghum by-pro-

Coleman Park Gets Its Share Of Damage

Earl McCulloch, of the street and park department of the city, called us Wed. night, and stated that he and the crew were giving the Coleman Park a face lifting, as they figured the possibility that ice storms are over for the season.

The writer drove through the park and found that the "wrecking" crew in just about to see the light of day, but all the brush has not been hauled out at the time we were there. As many of the trees as possible not too badly damaged, were left for shade, but some had to be "dehorned" pretty close, as they were badly torn up.

And as Earl stated in his telephone conversation, the grass is coming, creeping everywhere, as the old poem went, especially in the better protected locals. Another month of such weather as we have had in the past two or three weeks, ducts are low in lysine, it may be a better practice to replace a part of the grain with these by-products rather than use them in the protein supplement when feeding the grain and protein supplement free choice in self feeders, these men report.

Mrs. Captola Dumas came home for a few days this week, she is staying in Plainview with her little daughter who has polio.

and there will be lots of grass. Maybe there is a groundhog around here after all?

The city officials have promised lights for the park this year, but of course the weather so far has hindered greatly. Maybe by the time they are really needed, and this will be a great improvement.

A. B. Buchanan was in from Gomez one day last week and promised an article on the much more auction sales of milk cattle at the Plainview Dairy Show this year. Mr. Buchanan, a prominent local Guernsey dairy breeder, and we know an article from him will be much more widely read than if we tried to write it. Hurry it up. A. B. The show is this month.

Valve-in-Head- and Fireball too!

White sidewall tires, as illustrated, available at extra cost.

It seems that valve-in-head engine design is becoming quite the thing, now that gasolines are stepping up in octane rating and higher compression ratios begin to be worth while.

Well, that's dandy as far as Buick is concerned.

For more than forty-five years, Buick engineers have been working with, developing and learning all about valve-in-head engine design.

So quite some time ago Buick applied a principle, possible only in valve-in-head design, which still remains a Buick exclusive.

It is Fireball design—and it's an interesting engineering story.

It comes from a specially shaped piston, designed to roll each fuel charge into a compact, whirling, ball-shaped mass. It goes a step beyond high-compression ratios, because it means better mixing of fuel—and so better burning.

Result: More good from each fuel charge. A touch more life, pep, ginger. More of that happy, satisfying feel of power and zip that give Buick its good name as a performer.

So remember, as more and more cars climb on the valve-in-head bandwagon, that Buick is still calling the tune. Still ahead in knowledge and experience and development of a principle that has always been recognized for its greater basic efficiency.

With self-setting valve lifters adding new quiet and washing out tappet noise, it's plain that "Buick's the buy!" on engine design as in other ways.

Come satisfy yourself on that score—and get a firm order in either with or without a car to trade.

Machinery And Supplies Outlook

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 28—Farm machinery prices are still climbing. They have gone up continuously for the past eight years, and right now are at a record high.

That's the report from W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer of Texas A. & M. College. He says that in last September, prices were 62 percent higher than in 1940, and 15 percent higher than in September of 1947.

As for this year, farm machinery and motor fuel prices are expected to remain high. And, as things look now, he says, farmers will have to continue to buy tractors and tractor equipment on a seller's market through this year, even through there was a record production last year. This production will probably continue in 1949.

Cement, nails and paint supplies look favorable. Reports are that the cold weather and seasonal building slump have made cement more available. This is an item short in supply. If any farmers have been looking for this material and are fixed so they can use it now, this should be a good time to check up on local stocks, suggests W. S. Allen, extension agricultural building engineer of Texas A. & M. College.

The nail supply is building up somewhat at this time, and paint of pre-war quality is now available. Allen warns prospective buyers to beware of low quality, as such types don't have the carrying agents and pigments that make for long-lasting coats of paint, he says.

Pup With the 'Loving Eyes'

"Skippy," a toy French poodle which was named the "dog with the most loving eyes" in a New York pet show, is fed by an admirer, Arleen Sajecki. Holding the "lovable" mutt for the operation is his master, Tommy Killean, 14, of New York.

STRICKLINLY SPEAKING

In some places at least investigators have found that the old one about city firemen playing checkers and dominoes to while away the time between fires, is ancient. In one Massachusetts town it was found that the firemen were "hooking" rugs.

The Old Apostle in the Clarendon Leader, informs us that Sampson, the Biblical character, was the first man to demonstrate the pulling power of advertising. He took two columns and brought down the house.

Hi-ho-hum! Just a bit more of this warm weather and you may bring out the seed catalogs.

The County-Wide News at Littlefield says a firm has opened a fog business. Which reminds us that old Mother Nature has had plenty of that going on of late. But what was meant was poison fog, probably smog from Calif., to kill the bugs and worms.

General Motors has announced reductions on all their cars from $10 on the Chevrolet to $65 on the Cadillac. If the down trend lasts long enough, some of us poor but proud folks may be able to buy a car.

Its all a matter of height. While further from Dallas-Ft. Worth than Brownwood, Bangs is several hundred feet higher, and they can get the FM and television programs. They pass high over Brownwood.

We note that a character down at Snyder whose middle handle is (Chicken) has been arrested for having booze for sale. Back in the early part of this decade his arrest was almost weekly.

Kansas paper tells us that the legislature is holding up legal liquor in that state, voted last fall. Some accuse the law-makers of wanting to use up their high priced bootleg stuff before they allow legal sales.

Perhaps many Herald readers enjoy the Roark Bradford stories appearing occasionally since 1927 in Colliers. They are just simple folks stories of colored people down in the Little Bee Bend section of Louisiana. Altogether he has written more than 100 of these stories. The last of them appeared in the issue of Feb. 26, this year.

Reason is not that Collier doesn't want more of them—they do. But Bradford died in November, a casualty of the African campaign in the US Navy.

March came in like a lamb, thus backing up what the groundhog had to say Feb. 2. Spring is just around the corner. A big corner, perhaps.

A cartoon illustrated a Commie writer and propagandist. They were in a deep brown study on what next to tell the proletariat that the Russians had invented, and not the hated Americans or English. The writer suggested the "lie detector." Suggestion proved a fizzle.

The Tharps Move To Lubbock

The many friends of Rev. and Mrs. Ed Tharp regret that after many years as resident of Brownfield, it became necessary for them to move to Lubbock. One thing to be near his doctor, we understand. Rev. Tharp has been on the superannate list of the Methodist church for several years.

He served several years as pastor here, during which time he bought a couple of Terry county farms, and after his retirement from the pulpit, he built a home here. He ordered his paper to follow him to his new home.

Archie Lowmore, owner of the Star Tire Store, attended a meeting of all Star Tire men in the district at the Hilton Hotel in Lubbock on Wednesday, Feb. 23.

Economic Highlights

Happenings That Affect the Dinner Pails, Dividend Checks and Tax Bills of Every Individual National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare.

U. S. News & World Report has published a summary of President Truman's social security plan, including estimates of what the cost would be now and in the future.

The program provides for government care and aid to individuals every step of the way from the cradle to the grave. Compulsory health insurance would pay the costs of birth, and during childhood medical and dental service would be provided. Federal grants to states would pay part of the cost of schooling, and if a child were orphaned the government would assume the financial responsibility. After the child grew up and went to work, the government would guarantee him disability assistance, extending up to a lifetime pension, if he were injured on the job, and unemployment payments if he were out of a job. He and his family would obtain medical care under the compulsory insurance system, and good subsidies would be given low income groups. When he reaches the retirement age of 65 he would be entitled to a life pension. At death, his funeral expenses would be met, at least in part, by a government check. Finally, his widow would be pensioned.

What would this all-inclusive cost? As planned now, the maximum income to be subject to the payroll tax would be $4,800. Men in that income bracket would be assessed $264 a year, by 1955, to pay the social security bill, and the employer would contribute an equal amount, for a total of $528. This would come on top of income and all other taxes.

At present the payroll tax is 3 1/2 percent. According to U. S. News, it would have to be increased to 11 percent by 1955 and to 18 percent by 1990. There is always a possibility that estimates would have to be revised materially upward.

It is clear—whether or not one approves the program—that this concept of social security involves great changes in our philosophy if government and in our economic system. The government would be given vast powers that it never had before. The effect of the program on individuals was expressed by the News in these words: "The trend... is toward a leveling of incomes, with a rising floor under the minimum income a family can receive, and a lower and lower ceiling on the maximum earnings an individual is permitted to keep." Those who want cradle-to-the-grave social security believe that trend is necessary and right. Those who oppose it feel that it would be dangerously destructive to enterprise and initiative. That is the basic problem Congress must decide.

Johnny Bingham was here from Lubbock Tuesday on business. He has moved up there to put his two sons in Tech college, and we would have bet he did not have a child old enough to be in high school. But he has a daughter that is married, he said, and he is now grandpa. How time passes!

4-Point Safety

LITERALLY, "tomorrow" has little place in the world of Security for the average family — except to reap the things sown in yesterdays, yesteryears. Today is what counts.

We know there are numberless family heads who plan to start making their "Security Plans" tomorrow. Good idea, but a late beginning. A few dollars deposited in a Savings Fund with us each week, each month, or each payday, is the best method of carrying out a SECURITY PROGRAM.

Put your four-point Safety Program to work NOW. The man who derives his livelihood from daily work has a good chance to save part of his regular wages — it is a debt he owes his family for the FUTURE. Interest on your dollars puts you ahead for final attainment of INDEPENDENCE.
