Although it is not compulsory, Mayor C. C. Primm asks that everyone who can, not open their businesses until 11:00 A. M., Friday, July 8, in observance of the clean-up campaign. Everyone is asked to spend that time in cleaning up their premises in an effort to stamp out the flies and mosquitoes and their breeding places.

If anyone is interested in "hiring out" to clean up vacant lots or alleys or yards, if you will leave your names with the Herald office, we can notify persons who need help.

Goodpasture Grain Prepared To Help Farmers

John Luckie, of the Goodpasture Grain called us recently to state that they are prepared with the poison and dusting planes to help the farmers in their fight against this year. They have the dust in most any combination for different insects. Mr. Luckie stated that there were already more insects in fields than most farmers suspected.

Of course we do not have boll weevils here, or very few pink boll worms, but we do have the flea hoppers, and of wet years the boll worms when the bolls form. But the plagued flea hopper gets in his work the minute the first square forms. Better call on this firm if in trouble.

Mr. Luckie stated that wheat was still coming in some, but that they had storage capacity for all that comes in.

DOLLAR DAY TO BE JULY 11TH

Clean-Up to Start July 6th

YOAKUM RANCHER DIES OF HEART ATTACK

To his many friends all over the area, the death by heart attack of E. P. Stanford, Wednesday, who ranches west of Denver City, came as a shock. It appears that he went out on the ranch, and seems to have just gotten out of his car about 3 P. M., when the fatal attack came. The body was discovered about 7 P. M.

One reason we so regretted his death is that we had promised so many times to go out there and see his irrigation system, orchard and trees. Mr. Stanford had been ill for some time, and had just returned from central Texas where he underwent treatment and was thought to be better.

The Brownfield Funeral Home stated that funeral arrangements were incomplete, but that services would be held at Plains Methodist church with burial in Plains cemetery. Survivors are his wife and two sons, E. P. Jr. of Deer Park, Wash., and Hershell, of Plains. Two sisters and four brothers also survive.

Entire City Asked To Aid In 3-Day "Fight On Filth"

Mayor C. C. Primm has declared a clean-up campaign, to be effective July 6, 7, and 8, in which the entire city and the outskirts are to be cleaned up and rid of flies and mosquitoes and their breeding places. He has asked full co-operation of each and every individual in Brownfield. Several civic organizations have pledged their support, and are already working with their committees to that end.

Mayor Primm stated that if the people will only stack all their garbage and other debris in their alley near their trash cans, city trucks will come around on the 6, 7, and 8 to pick it up.

Special appeals are being made to clean up all vacant lots and alleys and clear them of all weeds. It is hoped that the city officials can get access to some mowing machines, or that individuals who have these machines can rent them to the people who desire to clean up their vacant lots.

It has been announced that special inspectors will be on the job within a few days, inspecting all outhouses. The mayor asks that anyone who has outhouses on their premises provide, and use, lime and DDT on the buildings.

Walter Breedlove, sanitation engineer, stated that the prime factor involved in really cleaning up Brownfield, is ridding the city of all outhouses, and every effort will be made to do so. It is also necessary to eliminate all open sewers and cesspools in the city, as they are one of the main breeding places for flies and mosquitoes.

As far as the individual is concerned, Mr. Breedlove suggests that spraying your own shrubbery and premises daily and getting and using covered garbage containers will be a great help. It will only take a few minutes each day to spray your shrubs, air conditioners, screens and out-buildings, with any DDT solution bought in a drug store, grocery store, feed store, poultry house, or anywhere it is sold.

Several merchants in Brownfield handle covered garbage cans and will be glad to order more if their supplies run out.

Due to heavy rains this year, insects are more prevalent than they have been for several years, and with flies and mosquitoes being responsible for so many diseases, it is imperative that they be kept at a minimum. Already many cases of diarrhea have been reported, and Brownfield can be hit with any sort of epidemic a day's time. The time to stop an epidemic is before it gets started.

Mayor Primm, therefore, issues an appeal to the citizens of Brownfield to act immediately in cleaning up the city.

REPORTS REAL HEAT IN SOONER CAPITOL

M. V. (Hiram) Walker was up to Oklahoma City last week, presumably in the interest of his used car lot. After his return, we met him on the streets, and like all local guys, we made the usual assembly line remark about the heat.

"We people here in Brownfield don't know anything about heat. If you happened to be in Oklahoma City, you wouldn't have that shirt buttoned to the neck, and a tie on. Brownfield is like it was air conditioned alone side of the Oklahoma capitol," he remarked.

C. OF C. PLANS TO IMPROVE PARK

Ed Mayfield, chairman of the Parks and Recreation Committee in the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce, announces that he and his committee have adopted as their program for the immediate future the addition of more tables and seats and more playground equipment in Coleman Park.

Plans are going forward, and it is hoped that the new program will soon be effected.

JAYCEES NEARLY BACK TO NORMAL AFTER RODEO

Dr. W. A. Roberson presided at his first meeting as president of the Brownfield Jaycees when they met Monday noon at the Esquire.

Members voted not to meet next Monday, which is July 4.

Reports were made by various committee chairmen, and a committee was appointed to be in charge of the double header baseball game between the Bears and Sundown July 4th.

Another resolution voted on and passed, was to carry out plans to have Santa Claus, his sleigh, and his reindeer for the annual Jaycee Christmas party.

Mayor C. C. Primm appealed to the club for support in the coming clean-up campaign to be held July 6, 7, and 8.

Members voted to help sod the football field Wednesday, June 29, after coach Tracey Kellow asked for their aid.

Mrs. Roy Wicker underwent emergency appendectomy Monday and is reported to be doing fine.

C. K. WILMETH, TOKIO, DIES IN CROSBYTON

Mr. Wilmeth had been a resident of Terry county intermittently since 1925. He retired from farming four years ago.

He is survived by his wife, four daughters, Elnora, Bonnie, Jewell Juanelle and Vallie Sue; six sons, Woodrow, Elton, Mack, Bill, Thorne; two brothers, Mack Wilmeth, of Junction, and John of Ft Worth, and three sisters, Mrs. Della Turland of Hobbs, N. M., Mrs. Gertrude Jones of Albuquerque, N. M., and Mrs. Rilla Mobley of Oakland, Calif.

MAN ARRESTED IN CATTLE THEFT

Within an hour after being notified by Kansas state authorities last Wednesday, Sheriff O. H. Murray arrested a young man in a local cafe. The man, charged with cattle theft, was in the rodeo company.

He was held in custody until Kansas State Police came after him Friday.

NEAR 10 INCHES RAIN IN MAY AND JUNE

So far the rainfall for the months of May and June have been 9.78 inches, and while this is far above normal, it nothing like equals the rainfall of May 1941, which was more than 12 inches. The two months, however, nearly equal the annual fall of last year, and June is not gone.

To say the least, we have an excellent bottom season that with some showers along should mature a good crop. The wheat harvest is almost over.

RODEO GOES 'OVER BIG' THIS YEAR WITH PUBLIC

Since landing in Terry county 40 years ago, we have seen many and sundry rodeos. Of course in the early days here, they did not have that name, but usually were in connection with picnics and barbecues, and went under the name of Bronco Riding. Then there was the goat roping in those days, because there was a law then forbidding the roping of cattle. Too many cattle were crippled on ranches while the boys practiced for the "events" at the barbecue. Then there was the "Tournament," the game in which the fast rider with the spear, would see how many rings he could get on the rounds.

As stated above, we have seen many such events come and go. But at best only a small portion of the people seemed to be interested until this year. True, those who like to ride or rope; those who have in past or present worked on ranches, or had near kin who did, seemed to get a thrill out of the pastime. This year there was a nearer unanimous support of the rodeo than we have ever seen. And this enthusiasm seemed to have leaked out to other communities, so that they, too would wish to visit Brownfield during the Jaycee Rodeo.

The parade was a thrill from every angle. It was not only colorful, but well arranged and managed. It seems that there was a part for everyone, and each and all was at his post to demonstrate. Not only were the riders decked out in the gayest of rodeo regalia, but the floats from many of the local stores were works of art, and as they moved through the down town streets in the mile long parade, there were many "Oh's" and "Ah's!" The affair brought (Continued on Page 8)

STORES TO BE CLOSED IN OBSERVANCE OF JULY 4TH

In observance of Independence Day, the stores will all be closed Monday, July 4th. Lots of people have planned trips out of town; some a quiet fourth at home. Also, there is to be a double header baseball game played here with Sundown that a number have planned to attend. Whatever you have planned for you and your families—be careful.

ROTARIANS PLANNING FOR '49 FESTIVAL

Several members of the Brownfield Rotary Club met Monday night at 8 P. M. at the Esquire in a call meeting of the general Harvest Festival Committee to discuss plans for the festival.

It was agreed that the festival will be held on Wednesday, October 1, of this year, C. G. Griffith, general chairman, announced.

No definite plans have been made, but committee chairman and their assistants were appointed. Harmon Ohwze will serve as assistant chairman to Griffith this year.

Watch this paper for the further developments at to prizes, queen candidates, program, etc., for the festival.

LOCAL SCOUT TROOP RETURNS FROM CAMP

Scoutmaster Cecil Hill and Assistant Scoutmaster Dale Hill, and Charles Bandy spent part of the time at camp with the scouts. Johnny Cloud assistant scoutmaster, acted as senior patrol leader, and was in charge of Troop 14 activities. Roscoe Treadaway and Billy Thompson were patrol leaders in charge of patrols.

Other scouts attending camp were Robert Strickland, Dale Corbett, Curtis Stockton, John Holmes, Ronnie Daniell, Macky Greer, Ronnie Swan, James Austin, Vernon McKinney and Jerry Paden.

The scouts were busy during the day on regular schedules studying for different merit badges. Most of troop 14 qualified for the following merit badges: Indian Lore, Marksmanship, Swimming, Archery, and Pioneering. Johnny Cloud and Roscoe Treadaway received merit badges in Life Saving.

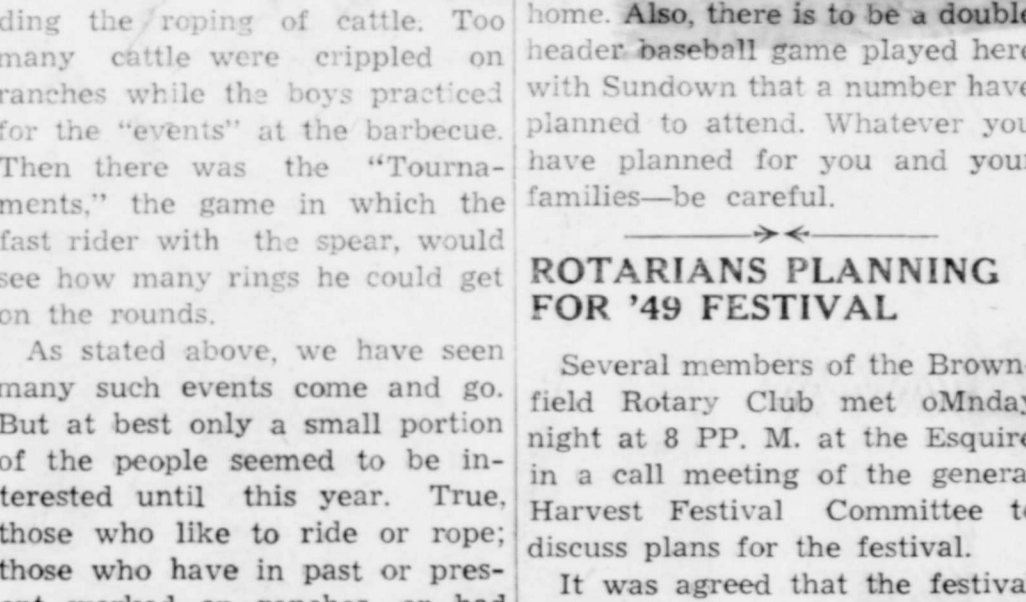

The trophy given to the troop that had the best area, as to neatness and cleanliness, each morning, was received by troop 14 three times. Another time, the troop tried for first, and this record made it possible for them to win the trophy. There were eight other troop at camp during the week.

Troop 14 was called on to give an Indian dance at the closing night of the camp, and they were greatly complimented.

Scoutmaster Hill and his assistant, Cloud, were called out of the 120 campers present to be candidates for the Order of the Arrow. They completed their work and were initiated into the order Sunday night. The order of the Arrow is an honor lodge in the Boy Scouts, and only a few people have membership in the order.

Mr. and Mrs. Tarzan Closslin returned Sunday from a fishing trip near Abilene. They were gone several days.

PLAINS CELEBRATING OPENING OF HER NEW COURTHOUSE JULY 4

The grand opening of the new $260,000 courthouse at Plains is going to be celebrated in keeping with the importance of this beautiful new building. C. C. Lovelace, chairman in charge of the big celebration, called us from Plains Tuesday, and wants it understood that everyone is invited to come and help with the celebration.

July the 4th has been chosen as the day of the grand opening, as it is a holiday, and a lot of people will not be working. The celebration will open about 5 o'clock P. M., with a basket picnic. Everyone is urged to bring a well filled picnic basket of food.

Following the feast, the American Legion post will take charge with a bingo game at their hall, and we have been informed that someone will take home a registered whiteface Hereford bull.

Plains really has a swell courthouse, and every Yoakumite is proud of it.

Cornerston Of Enterprise

The president of the National Board of Fire Underwriters recently dealt with the service to the nation his industry has been rendering. The fire insurance industry has met the strain of record fire losses which came at a time when the costs of doing business were higher than ever before. It has fully discharged every obligation to its policyholders, and has fulfilled an all-important function in the national economy. It has saved legions of people from financial disaster. Last year, in return for this, it earned an underwriting profit of four per cent. In 1947, it sustained an underwriting loss of five per cent, and over a five-year period the loss averaged 2.5 per cent.

Fire insurance is something we take for granted. It is interesting to speculate on what would happen if that protection didn't exist. No man could safely put his money into a business, a home, or any other kind of property—a fire might wipe him out in a matter of minutes. No ship could put to sea without the owners risking ruin. If a factory burned, there would be no money to replace it, and thousands of people might be thrown permanently out of work. And in a great conflagration, such as that which razed San Francisco in 1906, the extent of economic disaster would be incalculable.

Here is why fire insurance is one of the cornerstones of enterprise. For a very moderate cost, anyone who desires it can make sure that he will get his money back if fire hits his possessions. Few institutions have contributed more to the development of the nation than fire insurance. Few are as important.

Farmers Who Are "Twins" To Profit More

Every farmer suspects that he "should be twins" to get all of his work done. It is a fact, says A. L. Ward, educational director, National Cottonseed Products Association, that the cotton grower who is a "twin", by being a livestock producer also, profits more. "By using the feed products of his cotton crop—cottonseed meal, or cake, and hulls—the cotton farmer gets added value from his cottonseed, his grains and pastures, and his time and labor", Ward says.

Cottonseed hulls, which compare in feeding value to average grass hays, can now be brought in many areas for less than it costs to put up hay, and cottonseed meal also is relatively cheap compared with other feeds or with the value of meat and dairy products. "The abundance and low cost of cottonseed feed products offers an opportunity for many cotton Belt farmers to increase their income through fattening livestock for home use and sale, and through dairy production," Ward commented. "It also is an opportunity for reducing costs of producing livestock and dairy products through wider use of these feeds in better-balanced rations."

Lettuce—like many vegetables, loses its flavor and food value if kept too long, even in the refrigerator. Add salad dressing just before serving in order to not wilt the leaves.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sherrin have returned from a vacation spent in Corpus Christi. Mr. Sherrin is a city employee and Mrs. Sherrin is "Dell," a nurse in the local hospital.

Proposal To Dam Canadian River

A number of Panhandle and South Plains towns are taking quite a lot of interest in a series of meetings held recently in that area, the last one being at Plainview. At the last meeting a report of an engineer was received, and it was believed that the dam and piping to various towns could be built for some 85 million dollars.

These towns, which include, Pampa, Borger, Amarillo, Plainview, Littlefield, Levelland, Lubbock, Tahoka and Lamesa, decided to ask Gene Worley, congressman from the Amarillo district to try to get the project before congress with government sponsoring.

Brownfield was invited to send delegates to some of the first meetings, which they did, but as up to now this city has had no indications of present or future water shortage, they have taken little interest in the movement.

With four wells, none off the townsite ranging in volume from 350 to 1500 gallons of water a minute, so far Brownfield has seen no reason to join the movement officially. The water proposition, on the other hand, has been quite acute with some of the towns mentioned in the past

Texas Retail Sales—Preliminary

AUSTIN — Texas retail sales slipped 3 per cent from April to an estimated $413 million in May, a 1 per-cent decline from May, 1948, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

May sales by durable goods stores in Texas rose 7 per cent over May 1948 to lead nondurable goods sales which dipped 6 per cent during the same period.

Automotive stores with a 22-per-cent climb presented the only gain over May 1948 among durable goods stores and filling stations sales gained 3 per cent for the only May-to-May increase in nondurable goods stores.

Jewelry store sales, down 19 per cent in May from the previous year, showed the heaviest decline in either durable or nondurable goods store sales, hardware stores and lumber and building materials dealers following with 15-per-cent decreases.

Chalking up a 1 per-cent increase over April, durable goods stores again exceeded nondurable goods store sales which dipped 6 percent in May.

Advances registered over April were lumber and building materials, 16 per cent; jewelry, 14 per cent; furniture and household appliances both 11 per cent; and farm implement dealer and hardware stores, 9 per cent.

Showing the greatest gain over April, May sales by filling stations were up 13 per cent, drug stores and eating and drinking places trailing with gains of 2 and 1 percent respectively.

Hog-Tied Railroads

Fortune has published an article called "The Coming Crisis in Transportation," which deals with many facets of the complex common-carrier problem. In one section, it says that government and labor must stop treating the railroads "as the monopoly they no longer are. It means that they must be allowed to abandon hopelessly unprofitable operations. It means they must be allowed to market their product—to set rates quickly and boldly. . . . All this means nothing less than a radical revision of the Interstate Commerce Act, which for a half century has hog-tied and hamstringed the rails with its intricate windings of restrictions and protocol."

In an editorial based on the Fortune piece, the St. Paul Dispatch says, "There is logic to the argument that the railroads should have greater freedom in adapting themselves to a completely changed situation." The underlying trouble with our whole transportation policy is that it is as obsolete as the ox-cart. In its fundamental principles, it was designed for the era when the railroads were the only form of land transportation. Their only competition was water shipping, which was slow and uncertain, and was confined to a limited number of ports and a few canals. With the development of both commercial and private transportation by highway and air, the change has been revolutionary.

The ideal is a modern transportation policy, based on the obvious realities of the present, present, which will allow every kind of carrier to perform maximum service, under the same kind of conditions and regulations and laws. That's a large order, and it's high time Congress got to work on the job of filling it.

First Rodeo Booster Trip Made Monday

Monday inaugurated the first of the two booster trips, advertising the Junior Chamber of Commerce Rodeo, which started yesterday, and will be concluded tomorrow. The trip was made in two chartered Texas, New Mexico-Oklahoma buses, presided by a pilot car and a sound truck loaned by a bakery for the occasion. The Jaycees are a determined lot, and they used every means to put over the fact that Brownfield is prepared to give the visitors here this week, a run for his money in the way of entertainment.

Seven towns in Texas were visited and two in New Mexico. Sunday was the first stop, then in order, Levelland, Morton and Plains in Texas, entering New Mexico at Bronco, with stops at Tatum and Lovington, the later being the county seat of Lea county, where an hour was spent, including lunch. Leaving Lovington around 2 P. M., Texas time, the cities of Denver City Seminole and Seagraves were visited back on the Texas side.

Much the same program was rendered at each stop. While the program of music by the high school band under direction of Richard Young was being rendered, a number of fast walkers such as Tess Fulford, Virgil Crawford, Slick Collins Tracey Cary and others were distributing placards and circulars, matches and other advertising matter. And these boosters didn't fail to use their tongues to tell about the rodeo.

Then there was Crawford Taylor to handle the sound equipment, and let us state right here that Crawford is no snide as a Emcee. He speaks clearly as well as using plenty volume, so that no one has to guess what he said. The band concerts were also swell, and Dr. W. A. Roberson helped out a lot in these as director, as the cornet section was a bit light, and Young was the stand-in part of the time. And four young ladies who could really twirl, gave extra kick to the programs.

Still another feature was the tenor singing of Pat Ramseur, who lives in the Tokio section. He has one of the best tenor voices we ever heard, and his rendition of "Irish Eyes are Smiling" made one think of the late John McCormack, famous Irish tenor. This young man works for "Mayor" Lee O. Allen, has been encouraged by Mr. Allen, and should be encouraged by others as well.

While the main burden of the trip was to advertise the 2nd annual Jaycee Rodeo in its new $25,000 arena and stadium, the bunch was full of pep, and between stops, innocent jokes were cracked, songs rendered, and much razzing of each other.

While most of the town visited have shown rapid growth in the past year or so, this was particularly true of Levelland, Tatum and Seminole. But we must hand it to Plains for the number of real nice and costly public buildings it has according to size. And this goes particularly of their courthouse and school buildings. But the most surprising growth was that of Tatum, N. M. It seems almost as large again than a bit more than a year ago, thanks, perhaps for Ulysses Sawyer's oil wells and agricultural and ranching development. Strong shallow wells to irrigate, have also added greatly to the development of the Lovington, N. M., area.

Good crops were seen all along the route except where they were either blown or washed out recently by high winds and heavy rains.

TILDEN TRIO

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Chicago's Tilden Tech high school will be prominent in Notre Dame football this fall. Bill Gay, one of the heroes of last year's 14-14 Southern California tie, is expected to play left half. Mike Swistowicz figures as the first string fullback and Ralph McGehee has a good chance to win a starting tackle position. All three are Tilden grads.

Old Dobbin Being Replaced By Tractors

A short drive over Terry county quickly reveals the fact that in the past ten years, there has been a radical change in farm power. While this section being comparatively level, large fields and no stumps, took to the tractor long before the less favorable areas. But ten years ago there were still a lot of horses or mule teams in Terry county.

But the change has been radical all over the nation, even in the hillier and small farm areas of the old states, and the tractor is almost supreme in the large delta rice and cotton farms of the Mississippi river, between Little Rock and Memphis. Leads one to wonder what we are going to do with all this machinery after the oil plays out. Not for long, however, as we have the utmost confidence in the know how and get-up-and-go of the American inventors (with apology to Russia.)

Lets have just a bit of statistics. There are now 3,250,000 tractors on America's 5,600,000 farms, an increase of 2 million in the past nine years. And considering we were in a war about four years of that time, that is going some, brother. And Old Dobbins have been replaced in some of the gardening area, as the little dinky tractor can almost turn on a dime.

It is little wonder that America has the most and best food in the world, and that its people eat better than any where else on earth (again with apologies to Russia.)

HEAVEN'S ON EARTH FOR TRAPPED BOY

BRISBANE (AP)—It must have seemed a pretty murky sort of heaven.

The "angels" were hot and sweaty. Instead of fluffy white clouds, there was only damp brown earth. But it was good enough for 12-year-old William Ryan.

William had been digging a tunnel in a creek bank. But the tunnel caved in and William was buried underneath. He couldn't breathe properly and his mouth got plugged up with dirt. He fainted. His rescuers dug him out and revived him.

William opened his eyes and looked at their anxious faces bending over him.

"Is this heaven?" he asked.

REPLANTING NOT CONFINED TO TERRY COUNTY

There has been a lot of replanting in Terry county this year, partly from high winds and some from heavy rains. But this condition is not confined to this area, not by a long shot. Even in Tennessee many have had to plant twice this year, which is rather unusual there.

A letter was received the past week from the Bill Lyles of Lubbock. They have fine irrigated farm in the Monroe section. The letter stated that Bill was planting the third time this year. Many fields in east and central Texas are badly washed recently.

Tuesday afternoon of last week when we came in from Tennessee the fine farm section from Post to within five miles of Tahoka was flattened, and at that late hour after the big rains Monday night, the bar ditches were running like mill races.

When one chooses farming as an avocation, they are just gambling with the weather and insects. One year it so dry it is hard to get the stuff to come up and the next year perhaps it will wash out. The life of the farmer is anything but a beautiful dream of full barns, fat stock and a nice bank account.

"If occasionally, or with regularity, you are disgusted with the Hesperian, you are not any more so than the publishers and the people who work in the office. The makers of the paper start each day and week with the thought that this is going to be the newspaper that is positive proof of editorial sagacity and of the printers art. By the time the gods of mischance and ill fortune get through working on the printer he issues a newspaper with which he is heartily disgusted. When he gets a call from some person indicating displeasure he is ready to agree with anything that is said. This is the truth, so help us."—Floydada Hesperian

This above fits our case "perfectly." And especially here of late, with short mechanical help. We have found so many errors of late that they don't fret us like as of yore. And likely the readers, if any, are getting used to our mistakes, or have become good guessers of what we meant to say.

Good Buy—all around

FRIENDS gather, look over that long Bonnet and wish they had as much Fireball life as you have here.

They size up the broad windshield and narrow corner posts—and don't have to be told how these things step up "see-power."

They appraise the smart styling, the roomy interiors, the usability of luggage space—and agree you've made a buy.

But don't stop, please, with letting them look. Invite them in and introduce them to some of the special pleasures you'll know as a Buick owner.

Show them, for instance, how completely different Dynaflo Drive is, with every mile cushioned by flowing oil and none of the rigid harshness of direct-drive cars.

Let them sample the matchless Buick ride, with all four wheels cradled on soft, coil springs and low-pressure tires made still easier-riding by extra-wide rims.

†Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER models.

Point out how solid this Buick feels. That's what you get from husky frames, low-swing weight, and power delivered through a torque-tube instead of the rear springs.

For the truth is, this Buick's a bargain on much, much more than you can see.

It's a big buy on the solid goodness a demonstration quickly makes plain. On increasingly favorable delivery dates. On attractive price. On the kind of "deal" your Buick dealer makes.

That's why we keep saying "Better see your Buick dealer—and get that order in promptly!"

Most of us have heard that old saw that related that an old cow always figured that the grass in the neighboring pasture was just a bit greener than in her own pasture, and would break down the strongest fence in her quest for other pasture grass. You know that people are somewhat in the same boat? We do not mean to imply that they want greener grass—heavens forbid—although the scientists now say that it contains a whole of a lot of vitamins. But they do get a notion that they can save 50c on a bill of groceries or $1.00 on a few dry goods by driving some 40 miles. In the first place, they don't save on the bills, and in the second place, they are out that much wear and tear on the car, and maybe a lot of traffic headaches. Before going away, check the prices at home, and compare with other places. Shop Brownfield first.

According to the Yoakum County Review, Plains, our good neighbor to the west is to enjoy natural gas heat if a hamstringing doesn't break, before snow flies again. It is almost a mystery why they have not had this great modern convenience before now, when enough natural gas is flared and burned daily in Yoakum county to heat New York city. However, they have been rather far from any gas lines. Now the big inch line of the El Paso National Gas Co., passes within ten miles of Plains, and so they'll hook on. It would be hard for a family that had always burned natural gas in the home to go back to coal and wood, and worst of all, carrying out the ashes daily. Congratulations.

Soil conservation, and the rebuilding and fertilization of the lands of this nation, has gotten out and beyond the interest of farmers, county agents and the soil experts. It has reached the place where it concerns every man, woman and child in America. It is either to take an interest or some of these days will be likened unto Europe, not make enough food to feed ourselves. In that case, from whence would we import food? There are no more new agricultural countries outside the north and south American continents and Australia to amount to anything. Soil conservation has even reached the interest of the pulpit, according to an article in a recent issue of Western Crop and Stock, a monthly magazine published at Lubbock. One minister who has devoted much time to the matter came out recently with a statement that it was easy to figure the solidarity of the church if you note the condition of the soil in the church area. He went on to state that where soil conservation is most practiced in the South, memberships are twice as great and the per capita income twice as high as the poor-soil regions. Where erosion and worn out soil predominates, the membership, he stated, was at a low ebb, and the income of the families pitifully low. This old earth was given to man by a loving Father, and he who does not take care of his soil suffers for his negligence. It might even be shown that the inhabitants of Ninevah, Babylon, Sodom and Gomorrah who were wiped from the earth, sinned by wasting the soil as much as their lack of morality.

More and more lectures by sales experts are taking effect on the smaller towns and cities as well as the metropolitan areas. The effect of these talks, that our merchants slip out lots of times at night to go some distance to hear, is having radical effect on merchandising of both the chain and independent stores. All are adopting the better method of buying and selling and keeping their stock neat and clean. This day and time one rarely hears the old set expression from a business man, that "everybody knows me; why advertise?" That was the general rule 50 years ago, less frequent 25 years ago, and heard very little 10 years ago. Your writers calls to mind an old time merchant in a small Alabama town 50 years ago, who was already an old timer then. This old timer still carried bulk gun powder and shot, when not one in ten thousand used the old muzzle-loader gun. He was born 30 years too late.

Just why the so-called "luxury" tax is kept on transportation is one that we common run of the mine folks down here in Texas can't understand. We kinder understood why the tax was put on during the war. It was thought it might discourage people who wanted to go no where in particular, to leave as much room as possible for service men who were traveling from one training camp to another, and the trains, buses and airlines had all they could do to carry them. But the war is over; there are a lot of vacant seats in trains and buses. Sometimes they are about half loaded. In the meantime, the government is subsidizing the airlines, and they are not carrying the common herd. It is the wealthy or well-to-do that use the airlines. The government is helping in the construction of costly airfields and buildings in the larger and sometimes smaller cities. Is this right?

Over in old Virginia, a private power company made application to the "powers" that be in Washington to build a 2220 foot power dam across a river in that state. The Secretary of the Interior objected, saying the army engineers could do a better job. In other words, the socialistic minded secretary wants to lam a lot of taxes on all the people over the USA to build a power dam in Virginia. These government projects don't pay any taxes themselves to city, county, state or nation. The Virginia News-Leader terms it just another case of government determination to destroy private enterprise.

The Herald had an offer last week from a columnist in Amsterdam, Holland for a weekly column on European affairs. The price was low enough, one buck a week, but if the Herald can manage by hook or crook to do the doings of the immediate area up in a rag, we figure we have accomplished the purpose of which the Herald was started way on toward a half century ago, and thus hit the jackpot. So, we will leave Europe and the rest of the world to dailies and news magazines.

Henry McLemore, who writes a column occasionally for the Dallas News, is one of the many who dreams to hunt for birthday and wedding presents for those he knows or has known in times past. And he wonders why some other month would not be just as good as June to marry, although he admits that was his month to jump from the frying pan into the fire. He also wonders why coffee percolators suddenly had to have more chromium on them than a battleship, with a cost in proportion, or that a bread toaster has to be one of these spring board affairs that sends the toast several feet in the air, butters it in transit, and brings the toast to a three point landing in the diner's plate.

The suit instituted by the government against railroads to recover some three billion dollars which they contend were overcharges during the war look a bit fishy at this late date. And every-

LOCAL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TAKES STAND ON CLEAN-UP

In a called meeting of the Health and Safety Committee of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce, Tuesday at 3:30 at the Brownfield Coffee Shop, it was decided to support Mayor C. C. Primm's proposed clean-up week to the fullest extent.

A resolution was adopted to begin immediately their work in the campaign, and sub-committees were appointed by chairman E. B. McBurnett. The following selected:

Garbage and Trash: Jack Stricklin Jr. and C. L. Hafer; Vacant lots: C. E. Ross and Frank Ballard; Spraying: Cliff Jones and J. D. Stafford; Privies: Herbert Chesshir and Charles Didway and Bob Harris. More members will be called upon to help the above.

Walter Breedlove, Sanitation Engineer for Terry County, stated that the main object of the clean-up drive should be to rid the city of its out houses and open sewers. The only way to do this is to completely eliminate them and tie each home onto a sewer.

Mr. Breedlove told the committee that the two main things the people, as individuals, can do is to do their own spraying daily around their premises, such as shrubbery, garbage cans, etc. The second thing that citizens one knows that the government not only got a priority, but concessions over private shippers, big and little during the war, and handicapped as they were, the railroads did a jam up job during that unpleasantness. The rail lines admit that they made a profit of five percent during the war years. Who didn't make that much or more? Now is it right to wipe out these profits the first in many years before the war, or some of the years since the shooting stopped? The rail lines are paying us nothing. As a usual thing they are poor to indifferent advertisers. We just like to see the railroads, along with their tens of thousands of stockholders make a bit of money clear, as well as other industries.

themselves can do is to provide themselves with covered garbage cans and use them. He says that Brownfield is not the only city that does not have an ordinance calling for covered garbage cans, but that it is one of the main things that people can provide themselves with to cut down on flies.

Mr. McBurnett stated that within a few days, inspectors will be sent out through the city to inspect every out house in town. Of course, it will be impossible for everyone with outhouses on their premises to tie onto the sewer immediately, and, in some cases, impossible for many people to tie on. Mr. Breedlove suggests that persons who own outhouses use lime and DDT in those out-houses constantly, in order to keep down flies, and in order to pass their inspections.

With several lumber yards and plumbers and one bank offering an improvement plan, whereby people will be able to finance tying onto the city sewer, it is hoped that people will take advantage of the facilities and that Brownfield will be able to escape any epidemics of diseases caused by flies.

The committee, along with Mayor Primm, asks the full cooperation of every citizen in the clean-up drive.

!! Drive Carefully this Fourth !!

Stricklinly Speaking

(Delayed)

Well here we go again, but just how far down on a column we get this week will depend a lot on our old think apparatus.

We forgot to mention that Johnnie Kendrick was the official counterupper on our bus to see that none strayed off or got lost on our trip to points in New Mex on our booster trip last week. And he did not use an adding machine, even if he is a banker.

While about the matter you won't get any word usages back in good old 10csee that they are we use to use. Just got one going over patched up and all of us sweat again. They read what we write back there and we don't mean maybeso.

A pleasant manner is one of the best ideas of salesmanship. In fact it is very essential. You can't sell the other fellow if given to the mulligrubs.

School may be out for the term, but so far as the time of the band student is concerned it runs right on. They, too are for the town and community. And that goes double for their instructor, Richard Young.

In fact, if you will just look around this burg, you'll find a raft of young men and women who devote their time and money to see that Brownfield and trade area gets the publicity it deserves. It's not just to get their name before the public, or to be classed as "outstanding." They love their town and community.

A writer says: "In ordering a Martini, did anyone ever omit to say DRY?" Never ordered any, but it looks wet in a bottle to us.

The street paving program is still being pushed, and we hope a lot of it is done this summer and fall. And while we're at it, we would love to see some weed cutting done on vacant lots and blocks over town. This is where our present crop of mosquitoes are coming from.

A paragrapher states that some people make more and more money and have less and less to show for it. Who asked that guy to classify us.

As Mary Ann's dad was too busy to chronicle her birth in these columns, her granddad had to do the job up in the usual style. Even though we may be accused of too much family stuff, we are going to tell you about our youngest grandson's haircut.

Evidently Master Robert fell in with the "western" idea that now prevails, or was scared of the bearded customers. Anyway, he absolutely refused to be their customer. So his mama had to do the job, and it looked like a sample of the old bowl job said to be put out by mountain folks.

Rather portly and past middle aged people just don't look in place riding a bicycle.

The Tuesday papers of last week spilled the beans that the good old summer time made its official advent that afternoon promptly and without ceremony at exactly 12:03 P. M. Undoubtedly most of us thought summer was here at least unofficially all the week.

Another very useful citizen is David Nicholson, Secretary-Manager of the Chamber of Commerce. That's his official duties, but he fits right in with the Jaycees, or anywhere for that matter.

Well, we got down a lot further than we thought when we started, but this will hold the three readers for this week.

Where's the Old-Fashioned Fourth?

What ever happened to that good, old-time holiday when we used to watch the brightly uniformed band stride up Main Street playing a Sousa march, with the red-faced tuba player bringing up the rear? What ever became of those baseball games they used to play under the blazing sun, with a leg of beer on third base as standard equipment? Why don't we hear those speeches any more—those stirring orations so proudly proclaiming "the glory that is America"—before a straw-batted crowd, while the kids played tag and drank too much lemonade? And the fireworks that used to produce a chorus of "a-a-ah's"—they, too, have faded. For the Fourth of July parades and ball games can be seen on television; an automobile radio gives you a choice of oratory as you speed toward a cool resort. Skyrockets are insignificant compared to a war movie. No, the "Glorious Fourth" just ain't what it used to be.

THOSE INSECTS MAY BE SMALL

College Station—Those tiny insects in your grain bin may be small, but they do a tremendous lot of damage to stored grain. That's the word from the USDA Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine.

The first place to start getting rid of them is right inside the bin itself. By doing a good job of bin cleaning, and afterward spraying with 5 per cent DDT before the newly harvested grain is put in, you can go a long way toward killing out the hold-over infestation. Also, you're giving the new grain a chance to escape damage.

Dr. H. G. Johnston, head of the Texas A. and M. College Department of Entomology, says these tiny insects get one out of every eight bushels of farm stored grain in Texas. Missouri loses one bushel in ten, according to 1948 figures. But in that same year, the national loss average to insects was one in twenty. So, Texas is practically at the top of the "high loss" list.

Entomologist point out that grain losses can be lowered quite a bit by harvesting the grain as soon as it's dry enough for safe storage and by storing it in weather-tight bins that have been made insect free by a thorough cleaning and spraying.

Then, after you've got all the grain in storage, check it now and then to see if the bugs are getting into it. If they are, fumigate with a mixture of ethylene dichloride and carbon tetrachloride at the rate of 3 to 6 gallons per 1,000 bushels, depending on how tight the storage bin is, Dr. Johnston says.

Stored grain insects take 300 million bushels of the nation's total production every year. That much grain is worth a lot at today's prices. So Texas has a long way to go in cutting down her share of the 300 million bushels the insects get, he concludes. But in that same year, the national loss average to insects was one in twenty.

VETERANS NEWS

Veterans can obtain an examination without cost in re-instating their National Service Life Insurance, at the V. A. Clinic in Lubbock.

All veterans with proof of dependents that is filed with the V. A., will not have his compensation payments reduced because of him being hospitalized in a veterans hospital.

One year is given the veteran in which to prove that he has a wife, child or dependent parent, this is very important where the veteran remains in the hospital longer than six months.

Regardless of how long a veteran may remain a hospital with proofs of dependents his compensation payments are not reduced. When the estate of a hospital incompetent single veteran reaches the sum of $1500.00 his payments are discontinued.

A veteran who is receiving a special allowance for aid and attendance loses, that allowance stops the day he enters a Veterans hospital, whether he has proof of dependents of record or not. The reason for this is when in the hospital he does not have to bear the expense himself. On day of his discharge the aid and allowance is restored to him.

Affidavits of ex-comrades in the service is very important to a veteran in obtaining evidence of injury or disease receive. All evidence must have knowledge of the facts involved and be definite. In many cases the veterans are paid as much as $138.00 per month for life, on the strength of evidence presented by physician and laymen, or ex-comrades who served with the disabled veteran.

Recently the radio has reported that the V. A. will pay the N. S. L. Insurance sooner than expected. It now appears that they will be making payments by the 1st of Sept. 1949. Your county service officer urges all veterans to drop by his office and sign the form letter that will procure a status of account on your insurance, that is if you do not have this information at this time.

If you joined the services in another state, or had more than one policy, or do not have your certificate number, it will be necessary to have this information in order for you to receive the dividends that will be paid all veterans of War II.

literally hundreds of people to Brownfield that possibly were never here before.

Then there were the performances. True, a few of them were commonplace, even mediocre, but the vast majority of them showed skill and a willingness to take a chance. Good time was made, and the vast throngs in the stadium let it be known that they approved in a great way.

There was a large crowd on hand for the opening performance, but the dust was terrific, and the arena was wet down the last two nights. The storm on Thursday night trimmed the crowd to an estimated 1700. More than 3500 people saw the Saturday night performance.

Everyone here seemed to be glad that they had any part or share in these events. The Junior Chamber of Commerce deserves the highest praise for bringing these performances to Brownfield for the amusement and recreation of the people. Also, the Rotarians and Lions gave their unanimous support from beginning to end.

And there were individuals, many of them, men and women, who sacrificed time and money in advertising and lending their assistance to the best parade and show ever brought to Brownfield.

Gee Gee's Chit Chat

"I shot an arrow in the air, It fell to earth, I knew not where But now I know, my tale is done, Because, you see, it hit someone."

The moral of this little poetic gem is: if the arrow fits wear it. Well, the second annual Jaycee rodeo has come and gone, and it was a huge success. The crowd Friday night was a little spare, but the performance was great. Even the Jaycees, in spite of the hard work it took, enjoyed the rodeo.

And speaking of the Jaycees, they are really a go-getting concern. We don't believe there was a single one who shirked their duties during the rodeo. All of them pitched in and made a special effort to see that it went over. Some of them worked a little harder, maybe, because their responsibilities were greater, but the whole thing went off like clockwork. It would be a job to congratulate them all individually so we think we will laud the whole bunch. It was a swell show, boys.

We are still harping on the clean-up campaign. We have so many mosquito bites that it's a full time job just scratching them. Let's get to work and eliminate them, please!

Thanks to the Chamber of Commerce for going ahead with plans to establish a center for our Mexican laborers in Brownfield. It is something that should have been done long ago, and we feel that it will be a success from start to finish.

We're mighty happy to hear that the Rotarians are getting started on their plans for this year's Harvest Festival. In spite of the fact that they've only had one meeting, so much was accomplished that they shouldn't have to have too many meetings. Of course, no plans are definite, but if everything pans out, this one should prove the biggest and best ever. Keep watching this paper for further developments, because we plan to keep a close watch on the Festival.

If you ever get disgusted with the inadequacies of your own "figger", all you have to do is go over to McWilliams Furniture and take a look at Bill Wetsel, the world's fattest man. Believe us, you'll feel (and look) like a string bean beside him.

We always like to have newcomers to Brownfield, and we understand that the Chamber of Commerce plans to show their appreciation. John Kendrick head of the Service committee, and his committee have proposed a hostess greeter service in Brownfield to assist newcomers in becoming acquainted and to help them in every way. Sounds like a wonderful idea, and we sure hope the program can go into effect soon.

With the Fourth of July coming up and everyone racing madly out of town to celebrate, we hope that you will all be especially careful, where ever you go and what ever you do. You know, it's not necessarily yourself you have to watch—it's the other fellow. So be careful with your driving, your swimming, your firecrackers, and everything else you do. We hate to knock the Brownfield Funeral Home out of any business, but we love our friends.

Bill Wetsel (above), of Clayton, New Mexico, who is the world's fattest man, has been in McWilliams Furniture Store this week representing Spring Air mattresses, and will be there through Saturday. Mr. Wetsel told this reporter that he had been fat since he was two years old, but only begin making big gains in his weight after a bout of typhoid fever in 1917. He tips the scales at 627 pounds, and is definitely the largest man we have ever seen.

A woman in Clayton makes all of his clothing, with the exception of his shoes, socks, and hats. He is 56 years of age and stands 5 feet, 8½ inches. The Spring Air Mattress Co. gave Mr. Wetsel one of their mattresses and box springs, and guaranteed it for 15 years. He reports that the mattress still holds its shape well, although until he got it, he wore out a mattress a year. Everyone is invited to go to McWilliams' store and talk with Mr. Wetsel.

Now is the time to make grocery buying really a pleasure. Good fresh vegetables make summer mealtime eating a pleasure. Come in or call 316-J.

SUMMER COOLERS TO THE FORE

LONG delicious drinks, refreshing and cooling, will have great popularity in the home for months to come. On almost any warm weather occasion the tinkle of ice in glasses, the sparkle of a jewel-like drink, is welcome by guests and members of the family.

It is always possible to produce a palatable beverage quickly if you see to it that your party and refrigerator can provide the ingredients. Canned or bottled fruit juices, citrus fruits and other fresh fruits as they arrive in the markets, should be on hand for drink-making as well as for eating. Liquid flavorings and extracts make wonderful sodas. And, of course, several bottles of pale dry ginger ale and sparkling water kept in the refrigerator are "musts" for good summer beverages. Ginger ale and sparkling water add zest to any fruit juice.

self, ginger ale is a fine refresher, and for individual drinks you might keep the smaller sized bottles in your refrigerator. With a plentiful stock of drink ingredients on hand, refreshments are easily served in just a matter of a few minutes. Grape juice and sparkling water in half and half proportions is a good old standby. A half glass of loganberry juice, a tablespoon of lemon juice and the glass filled with ginger ale—try that for a cooler.

Here's another you will like.

West Coast Nectar
1 cup loganberry juice
1 cup grapefruit juice
Pale dry ginger ale

Combine loganberry and grapefruit juices. Divide among four tall glasses. Add ice cubes and fill glasses with chilled pale dry ginger ale. Stir gently to mix.

LOSES HIS HOME AND FURNITURE

Joe Gordy, who lives over in Gaines county, on one of the Seagraves rural routes, was in Saturday, and informed us that he had recently had the misfortunes of a disastrous fire that destroyed his home and furniture.

He inserted an ad for furniture for a bed room and living room, as he thought perhaps some one might be selling out to move, and would give him a chance to buy.

DR. MARSHALL CALLS ON THE HERALD

Dr. J. W. Marshall, President of Wayland college at Plainview, addressed the Rotarians and Rotary Anns here Friday the 17th and while we were not privileged to hear the address, we have been told that it was one of the best this civic club has heard since its organization.

Dr. Marshall made the rounds of the town, unescorted, Saturday forenoon, and among the places visited he called at the Herald office. He stated that he had been in and through Brownfield before, but had never been privileged to call on and get acquainted with the people. He extended a pressing invitation to any and all who happen to be in Plainview to visit the college.

He has been with the institution two years, after it was made a senior college. The first year there was no graduates, as it was their third year of college work. There was a graduating class this year. Wayland is a Baptist college.

A clean kitchen stove looks and cooks better than one having a thick film of grease, film of food, dust and rust. Cleanliness is important for full, even, efficient heat. A clean range also helps keep the kitchen free of unpleasant odors and smoke.

A thorough grain bin cleaning is important to keep out the insects. Before storing any grain harvested this year, clean out and spray your grain bin to kill the insects that are already there, and keep the rest out while the grain is in storage.

The best time to cut hay and get the most out of it is before it is mature and has become coarse and stemmy. For instance, sudan and johnson grass are most nutritious if cut as soon as the first seed heads begin to form.

LAWN MOWER IN A VACUUM

ALTUS, Okla. (AP)—It stopped traffic—but using an electric vacuum sweeper did the trick in cleaning up R. W. Moore's front lawn.

Moore decided to try the sweeper after his dog, Rip, scattered feathers over the front lawn. All the feathers were quickly gathered by the sweeper, but not before a gallery of neighbors and passers by had collected.

Graham bread took its name from Sylvester Graham, an American lecturer on temperance and food reform, who advocated bread made of wheat flour in which all the wheat kernel except the husk is used.

—with Charlie Brooks—

REWARD FOR REALISM: A former court reporter in New York called Hoyt Allen, director of CBS' "Perry Mason", to say that he has suddenly become an ardent "Perry Mason" fan. He listened to the show for the first time during the recent court trial scene, and was amazed to hear a show that followed court procedure so faithfully.

Small wonder! Erle Stanley Gardner, creator of the "Perry Mason" character, is himself an able lawyer, and an acknowledged expert on criminal law, often being called in on unusual or particularly puzzling cases. Irving Wendig, who writes original radio scripts especially for the CBS program, has also studied criminal law extensively, and used to be a crime reporter in the City News Bureau (Chicago).

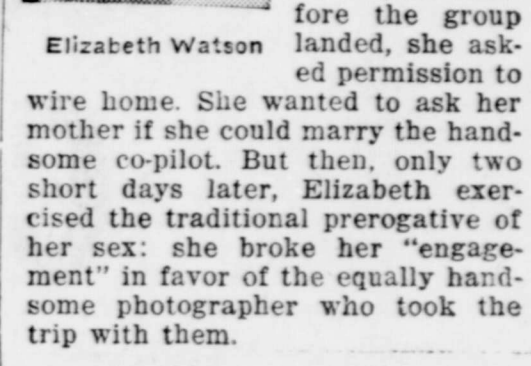

"Perry Mason" as played by John Larkin

After a recent telecast of NBC's "Who Said That?", guest Paul Winchell, the famed ventriloquist, started to put Jerry Mahoney, his saucy dummy, away in an aluminum suitcase. Apparently unseen by Winchell, a small girl had come out of the audience and was gapping at Jerry. "Wait a minute!" shouted the dummy. "Don't put me away yet, there's a girl over here I want to see."

Mutual's "Juvenile Jury" kids are just back from a short ski vacation in Ste. Adele, Quebec. They were all thrilled by the plane trip, but the two stories we liked best were about six-year-old Elizabeth Watson.

The plane had been in the air only a few minutes, when Elizabeth's small voice piped up: "Mr. Pilot... have we passed Mars yet?" Before the group landed, she asked permission to wire home. She wanted to ask her mother if she could marry the handsome co-pilot. But then, only two short days later, Elizabeth exercised the traditional prerogative of her sex: she broke her "engagement" in favor of the equally handsome photographer who took the trip with them.
