HOYT WILLINGHAM KILLED IN PLANE CRASH TUESDAY

Funeral services will be held today (Friday) for Hoyt B. Willingham, 33, at 2 p. m. in the First Baptist church, with the Rev. Curtis Jackson of Lubbock officiating, assisted by the Rev. A. A. Brian.

A resident of Terry county for 15 years, Willingham was a member of the Baptist church, the Masonic lodge, the American Legion and the IOOF. He was a veteran of World War II.

He would like to invite all his friends and customers to come by and see him at this place of business.

DISTINGUISHED PSYCHOLOGIST TO BE GUEST OF LIONS

"This Complicated Age" will be the theme of a talk by E. C. House to be made at an inter-club meeting sponsored by the Brownfield Lions club Wednesday noon, October 12, according to W. T. (Bill) McKinney, chairman of the inter-club relations committee.

House, one of New York's leading psychologists, has spoken before Rotary clubs, Lions clubs, Kiwanis clubs, factory personnel, and many other organizations all over the United States for the past 30 years. An international lecturer and author, he is an advocate of community stability, a vital problem all over the world today.

The Lions club has extended invitations to members of the Rotary club, Jaycee and Chamber of Commerce to hear this well-informed speaker.

Newcomer Editors Predict Hard Winter

We have noted from their own weeklies as well as some publicity in the Lubbock dailies that some of the South Plains' newcomer editors are predicting a wet fall and a hard, cold winter. We can go along with them on the wet fall, but not necessarily the cold, bleak winter they are holding out for to their readers. We note that one of the old-timers, Editor Homer Steen, over at Floydada, is still holding his fire, although generally a great prognosticator.

Anyway, we have stayed it out 39 winters on the South Plains, and now going into the 40th. It has been our experience that two hard winters rarely follow each other. And we'll lay ten to your five that most everyone that has here last winter will allow that it was everything but a mild one. While many times we have had lower temperatures, especially in 1918 and 1933, than last winter, the cold spell held on longer than was ever known last winter, from January 1 to up in February without a break.

A succession of cold winters does not even hold good in the older states. For instance, while we were having a comparatively mild winter in 1947-48, east of the Mississippi was having one of the worst on record. Yet this past winter, it was uncommonly mild back in the old states, while we hovered over the fires to keep warm. That winter like to have spilt a lot of their blacktop roads for good.

So, we are taking a different view from the newcomer editors on their predictions. Of course, we know where it will place us. A newcomer is at liberty to do all the predicting he likes, but for an old-timer to do so is to place him in the fool class. So mote it be.

New Mexico Family Hurt In Accident

Four members of a Tatum, N.M., family were slightly injured early Tuesday morning near Plains when the automobile in which they were riding overturned.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Applegate and their son, James, and Mrs. Applegate's father, W. E. Campbell, of Fort Worth, were en route from Fort Worth to aTium when the accident occurred.

Mrs. Applegate, driver of the car, said that she fell asleep and the car ran off the side of the road, hitting a soft shoulder and overturning.

A passing motorist brought the family to Treadaway-Daniell hospital where they were treated and released.

Church Cards To Run Irregularly

Since we are making no charge for church cards that have been running in The Herald during the spring and summer, we took them with the understanding that they might be left out of the paper at any time we were crowded for space.

This was during the slack season for advertising, the cards often filled space that would have had to be filled with something perhaps less important. But the fall advertising season is now here, and we'll have need of all space possible.

Since the ads were run free for the accommodation of the several churches of the area, we feel at liberty to do this. When and if the slack season comes again, we shall pick up where we left off. Thanks a lot and we were glad to be of help.

Of course this does not mean that we will not take currently important church news.

Give Both Old And New Address, Please

Some of those who write in to get a change in address neglect to give the old as well as the new address. With more than 3,000 card index subscribers, it throws a burden on the clerk to ferret out the name, whereas, if she knew the old address, a minute or two is all the time it would take to make the change.

All subscribers are now "zoned" here in town as well as those "hat go out of town. If we know the location of the old address, we go to the card index of that zone and find the name of the reader instantly.

From now on, we urge readers to give both the old and the new address, otherwise we may not be able immediately to give you the service you wish. Better still, the postoffice will furnish you a card that has all the information needed on it. All you have to do is fill in the blanks, place a 1-cent stamp thereon, and mail.

Clouds That Wander Through The Sky

Sunday morning after most of the clouds rolled by, we sat in our back yard under a tree watching the thin layers of fast-floating clouds as they sailed through the sky. Finally there were just a few patches of them. But it brought back to mind some 60 years of the past, yesterday, and a poem in the old McGuffey second reader that went something like this:

"Clouds that wander through the sky, Sometimes low and sometimes high,

In the darkness of the night Or the warmer sunshine bright." Of interest to us was a skirt of clouds to the west, at that time just among and above the nearby treetop. It looked as wispy as the finest spun silk. At that time the bulk was drifting to the northeast from the southwest.

Once in awhile a small portion would dart out from the main body like an arrow and string out in the sky to either disappear or all at once drifted back and again attach itself to the main body. Finally, the whole cloud began to move in direct opposite course it had been traveling.

About that time we noted that the smoke in a trash-burning barrel in the alley, that had been drifting east, had also completely changed its course. We are neither a climatologist or meteorologist, but we wondered if the same change in wind direction takes place far above the earth's surface as on the ground.

INDUSTRIAL APPRECIATION DAY AT EUNICE, N.M.

Invitations have gone out from Eunice (N.M.) industrial appreciation to various oil and allied industries operating in that area to gather at that city September 24. It is said the responses to the invitations have been gratifying. A big barbecue, (at 5 p. m. New Mexico time, 6 p. m. Texas time), will be served.

Along with oil interests, the area newspaper staffs have been invited. The main reason for the celebration is the recent completion of the ten-million-dollar Gulf-Skelley gasoline plant.

Salvation Army Lauds Advisory Committee

Captain W. Thomas Gregory, commanding officer of the Salvation Army in this area with headquarters at Lubbock, commended members of the Salvation Army advisory committee of Brownfield for the splendid work they have accomplished since the committee was organized January 1 of this year. Members of the committee are Clovis Kendrick, treasurer; John J. Kendrick, the Rev. J. Preston Murphy, W. Graham Smith and Paul Campbell.

During the first eight months of operation the committee rendered the following services in Brownfield: two telegrams sent to verify residence; four rent orders given; three individuals provided overnight lodging; 48 individual meals supplied; 19 individuals provided transportation; one fuel order given; 32 new garments given; six new pairs of shoes given; three persons provided hospitalization and medical treatment; nine medicine orders given; one optician's services provided; and 37 grocery orders given.

The above services were made possible by the weekly contributions of the citizens of Brownfield to the Salvation Army lassies who make the rounds selling the organization's publications and receiving free-will offerings. Captain Gregory expressed appreciation for the fine way in which the citizens of Brownfield have supported the work of the Salvation Army.

It was emphasized again by the treasurer of the committee, Clovis Kendrick, that all money collected in Brownfield is deposited in the First National bank in Brownfield and is disbursed by the members of the Salvation Army advisory committee.

"The Army would also like to inform the public," Gregory said, "that all Salvation Army workers have been issued official identification cards and are instructed to carry them at all times while on duty. These cards are issued by the Lubbock headquarters and endorsed by the commanding officer. If at any time, you are doubtful as to the identity of any worker representing the Salvation Army, please ask to see their identification cards. They will be glad to show them to you. This is done for your protection as well as the protection of the worker."

NOTICE TO PARENTS:

We earnestly ask your full cooperation in keeping your children from using the Cub football stadium as a playground. Besides the great danger of children injuring themselves in falls from the stadium and goal posts, replacement of broken and marred equipment is very costly.

Your cooperation will be greatly appreciated. /signed/ Brownfield School Board

Community Campaign Opened By Insurance Company Here Today

Plans for a community campaign in Brownfield are being announced today for the reserve life insurance hospitalization plan of the Reserve Life Insurance company of Dallas, according to Bill Meeks of Lubbock, district office manager. This company is an old-time legal reserve stock insurance company.

The enrollment campaign will include a county-wide canvass of residents of Terry county by company representative. Each representative will carry identification cards, assuring residents that they are being visited by an authorized member of the company.

Company officials have pointed out that the reserve hospital plan is widely renowned and endorsed, because the plan is strictly non-assessable, and for its many liberal benefits. Thousands have received cash payments for hospital expenses, home nursing care, maternity expenses, surgical fees and doctor and ambulance care.

Meeks, and several members of his staff, will be in Brownfield Monday, September 26, to launch this campaign, which will be carried on for a limited time.

Company officials are interested in hiring local men to serve as representatives.

Designed As Meeting Place For Mexicans Of Brownfield Area

David Nicholson, secretary of the Brownfield chamber of commerce, announced this week that the Mexican center, located at 216 N Sixth street, will be open for business Saturday, September 24.

Mose Garcia, who has lived in Terry county for some time, will be manager and operator of the cafe.

The building, a 25x75 foot brick and tile structure, is designed to be a general meeting place for Mexicans in Brownfield and Terry county. It houses a cafe and rest rooms which will be strictly for Mexicans. The cafe will seat 70 persons. There is adequate parking space for trucks around the building.

Built by E. D. Ballard, the building has been leased to the chamber of commerce for six years. It is one of the most modern buildings of its type in West Texas.

Equipped with a counter that will seat 20-odd persons, and booths which will seat between 40 and 50 persons, there is room at the back of the cafe to set up more tables and chairs.

The members of the chamber have worked with the local health unit in complying with sanitary measures. The kitchen is equipped with a large vent over the cooking range and an exhaust fan, and has a floor drain. All the equipment to be used in the kitchen is adequate to care for large crowds. It is one of the best equipped cafe kitchens in West Texas, Nicholson declared.

Leonard Lang, chairman of the agriculture committee for the local chamber of commerce, and his committee members, W. B. (Red) Tudor, Herman Chesshir, Money Price, Alvin Forbus and Tess Fulfer, were instrumental in making this center possible for Brownfield.

H. B. Virgil Crawford is president of the Brownfield chamber of commerce. First vice president is George Wade and A. M. Muldrow is second vice president.

Rev. Allen Speaker At Baptist Conference

A state denominational budget of ten million dollars will be the main item of discussion when Baptists of this area meet Friday, September 16, for the annual conference of the Brownfield association. The Meadow Baptist church will be headquarters for the meet.

Andrew Q. Allen, state Sunday school secretary for the Baptist general convention, will present the address on the ten-million-dollar budget, which comes up for approval at the statewide Baptist convention in El Paso in November.

For the first time, the state executive board will ask the convention to adopt a budget only half of which will go for state missions, the other half for worldwide causes.

Representatives from the 24 churches in this association will report on the progress of their various organizations and will make plans for the coming year. Mr. Allen will urge the individual churches represented to follow the convention example by designating 50 per cent of their budgets for worldwide causes.

The Baptist churches in this association have a total membership of 5,901.

Jaycees To Support Trial Amendment

The constitutional amendment authorizing trials without the necessity of a jury in lunacy cases, to be submitted to the voters of the state in November, has the full support of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce, it was announced recently in Dallas.

Jim Mahon, chairman of the Jaycee's mental health committee, made the announcement after conferring with E. M. Kirkpatrick, Jr., of Baytown, president of the Texas Jaycees. Mahon said that the committee "will work for the passage of the amendment with every facility at our command."

Texas is the only state in the union which still requires mandatory jury trial in cases for the commitment of mental patients to state hospitals. Experts in the field of mental health regard the elimination of mandatory jury trial as the first step in placing proper emphasis on the medical nature of mental illness. These experts state that the present Texas jury trial system frequently aggravates the mental disorder, thus reducing the patient's chance for recovery.

Present practices with respect to "trial" of the mentally ill have been strongly criticized in that they cause an unwarranted stigma to attach to mental illness, thereby discouraging many persons from seeking hospitalization for themselves or members of their family until too late for effective treatment.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By Reynolds Knight
NEW YORK, Sept. 12—Barring serious strikes, the auto industry is virtually assured of registering this year a new all-time high in production. One must go back 20 years to find the previous peak figure—the 5,358,420 vehicles produced in 1929.

Americans not only are buying more cars and trucks and buses, they're also using them at the highest rate in history. It's estimated that motor travel this year will reach some 425 billion vehicle miles—25 billion more than last year and 92 billion above the year 1941.

With this steady uptrend in postwar use of motor vehicles has come a continued rise in the many types of employment that result from production, sales, servicing and commercial use of motor vehicles. The estimate is that more than nine million persons—two and a half million more than in 1941—now have found employment in these occupations.

Establishment of a new peak for automobiles in use this year-end (around 43 and a half million vehicles) will have occurred, incidentally, just 40 years after the peak of horse travel. It was in 1909 that horses and mules reached an all-time high of 26 million animals traveling over U.S. roads and streets.

CHRISTMAS SALES—Early indications of Christmas retail volume this year are optimistic. If the dollar volume does not exceed 1948, at least the retailers' sales and merchandising efforts will show more aggressiveness. In the case of Christmas cards, for example, retailers are getting under way at a record early date.

Take Care of Yourself

(The Ulcer Mystery)
By Glen R. Shepherd, M.D.
Peptic ulcer is a part of the American way of life; we have more such ulcers than the people of any other nation.

The emotional tension resulting from competitive working against the frustration of man-made obstacles has been offered as a part explanation for Americans' susceptibility to peptic ulcers.

The reason it is called a peptic ulcer is because the ulcer occurs in either the stomach or first part of the small intestine, where the peptic or digestive activity of the stomach juice is greatest.

Not all the story of just how an ulcer starts is proved beyond doubt. Normally, the lining of the stomach and duodenum are not hurt by the digestive juice. For the lining is protected by a thick sticky material called mucin as well as by the fact that the living cells are alive and able to fight off the action of any juice that gets through the mucin. But if a small part of the wall blanches, for instance, because of a lessened blood supply temporarily, it is more vulnerable to the action of the juice. Then, as the first few lining cells are injured, the defenses crumble just as they did when France's Maginot line was penetrated. The ulcer remains because of continued irritation from the acid digestive juice.

Just why one small part of the stomach or duodenal lining should blanch and thus be exposed to attack is not known. That the blood vessels and the secretion of acid juice are under nervous control has been well established. One part of the unconscious nervous system lessens the blood supply and the acidity of the juice while the other part of the autonomic system does the opposite. Smoking, coffee and liquor will also stimulate the production of a more acid juice.

The idea behind treatment for peptic ulcer is to eat only very bland foods. These are liquids at first which will not irritate the ulcer by scraping it or by stimulating the production of a strongly acid juice. In fact, the milk and cream diet so often used gives the acid stomach juice something to sink its teeth into beside the ulcer. Together with the diet, special substances which will not only neutralize the acid but not be absorbed into the blood are used.

For this reason, baking soda is not used, for not only does it neutralize stomach acid, it can also alter the acid-base balance of amounts.

For best results, the ulcer victim must lessen his emotional tension. It blanches his stomach lining and stimulates production of the blood if it is eaten in large more acid juice. Such continuing emotional tension is probably the cause of many recurrences after the ulcer has healed.

The cutting of a nerve to the stomach, the vagus, which carries stimulating messages from an anxious brain to the acid-making cells of the stomach would seem ideal. This is called a vagotomy operation. But after using it in thousands of cases during the past three years, doctors now save this operation for those cases which don't recover satisfactorily with diet and antacids.

If the ulcer occurs in certain parts of the stomach, or if it starts bleeding and will not stop under medical treatment, surgical removal of the stomach is necessary.

JUNKER CLIQUES MUST NOT RULE GERMANY AGAIN

Lubbock, Sept.—Western Germany has learned that the Junker led military cliques which ruled pre-war Germany must never be returned to power. Lt. Col. Willard White, recently appointed professor of military science and tactics at Texas Technological college, said today.

Colonel White returned to the United States from his post at Nuremberg, Germany, last spring. He will have charge of reserve officers' training corps instruction here in infantry, engineers and signal corps branches.

"The people of Germany have seen their mistake, and if they had been treated in 1919 as they have been since World War II, there would have been no second war," Colonel White said.

Before his assignment to Nuremberg, he went with his regiment in 1942 to northern Canada. The regiment built the Fort Churchill air base on Hudson Bay. Later, Colonel White was commander of the 1269th combat engineers in southern France and the invasion of Germany.

with window and counter displays. At least one card producer, Hallmark greeting card company, has started the biggest advertising and promotion campaign in history for its 1949 Christmas cards, urging early buying and a "go to a store" theme. In turn, the Christmas card retailers have taken steps to expand selling space, train their new sales crew, and contact their customers personally earlier than ever before. Christmas card sales, thanks to such methods, have shown successive increases every year since the war. Retailers of other lines for the holiday season have similar plans afoot, so it is not unreasonable to suppose that shoppers will spend nearly as much this year as in the record year of 1948.

Spare The Gas And Save The Child

Texans were urged to "Spare the gas and save the child" in a statewide September campaign, launched by the Texas safety association against traffic accidents to school-age children.

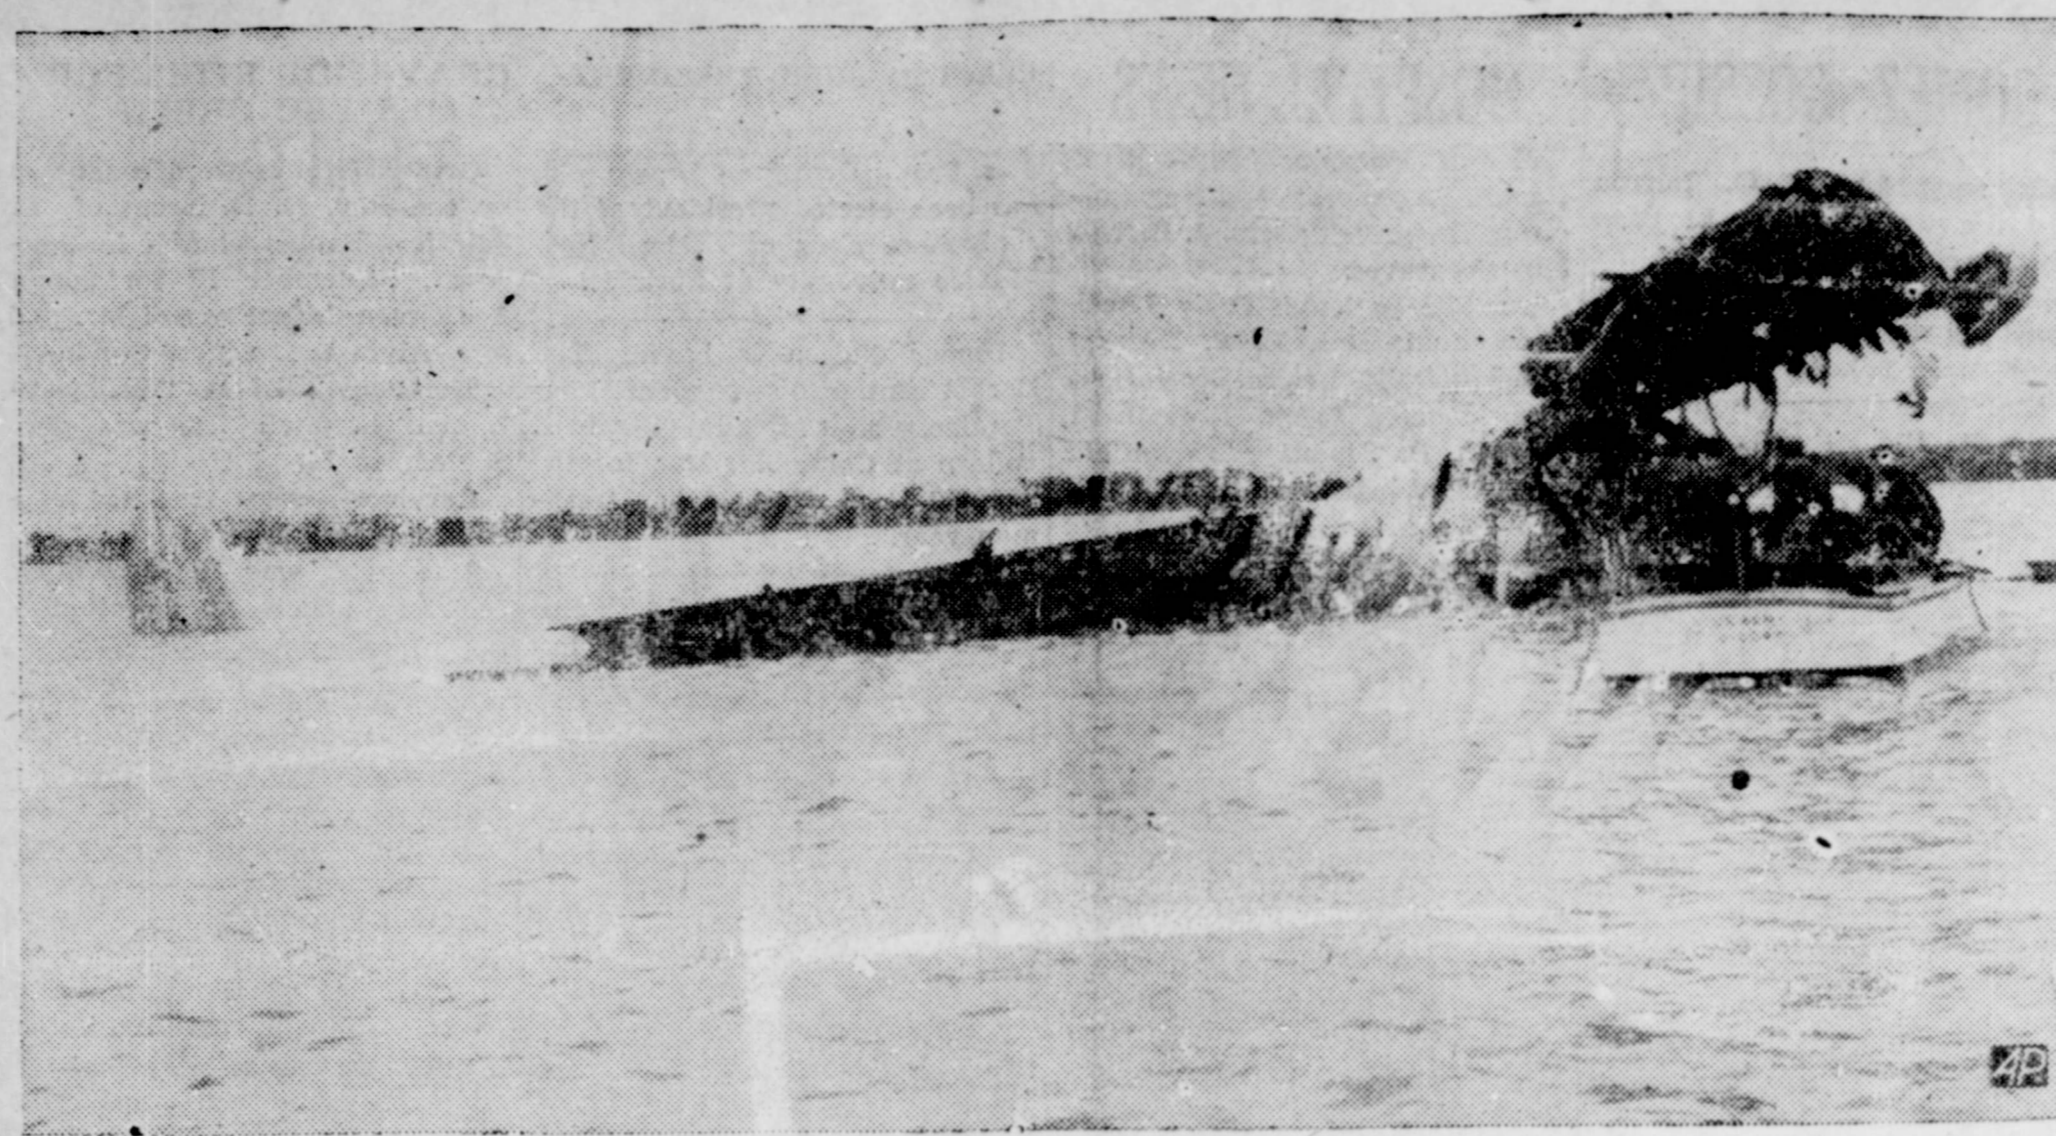

"No matter how much safety education a child has had drilled into him," said George Clarke, managing director of the safety association, "the fact remains that it's largely up to the motorist whether the child lives or dies."

The association pointed out that home training and school safety lessons are extremely valuable in impressing youngsters with the dangers of playing in the street and crossing between intersections. But on the other hand, the association warns, a child in the heat of play forgets quickly and easily the lessons that he has learned, so the bulk of the responsibility falls upon the driver. Clarke told motorists they can save child life by following these rules:

1. Regard every child on the street as a flashing 'caution' sign.
2. In school zones, residential districts and near playgrounds, be especially watchful for children and expect the unexpected at all times.
3. Give bicycles a wide berth. Inexperience, a poor sense of balance, holes in the road, or just sheer childish absent-mindedness can place the rider directly in your path without warning.
4. In residential districts, particularly, be on the alert at all driveways and intersections for tricycle riders, skaters and scooter riders.

The Texas safety association is sponsoring the school safety campaign as part of a continuing traffic safety program in cooperation with the Texas Congress of Parent Teachers and other groups.

Stricklinly Speaking
By Old He

Well, well, well, it is just 92 more days till Christmas. Do your shopping early.

Sometimes we wonder if Anglo-American names sound as silly—almost as vulgar—to southern and eastern Europeans as their names do to us. We hope not.

Saw one the other day that would make a bunch of Smith, Jones and Brown boys snicker, if off to themselves. Showed it to another person in the office. Says they: "If I had a name that sounded like that, I'd get it changed—and quick."

The person mentioned was a citizen of the USA, and perhaps where he lives, nothing would be thought of it. But in the south, such a name is a laugh—it sounded vulgar.

And speaking of the foreign-born, there are places in the north and east where teachers in the public schools have a hard time making parents of pupils understand rules and regulations owing to the fact that the older men and women of foreign extraction wish to hang on to the old language of their childhood. Such a story appeared in the current issue of Collier's.

Mrs. C. Y. Douglass was in from the farm this week and while waiting for other shoppers she came in with, dropped in and said she wanted to tell us how much she liked our column, and other matters, such as crops and trips we wrote about.

They bought what is usually known as the old Montana farm in the Harmony community, and stated that they had been having a time with it the past few years, as it is very sandy. They have had 40 acres of it deep-broken and have a good crop on that part and a fair one on the rest this year. But they may have more deep-broken. Mr. Douglass is an oil well pumper and gauger in the Sundown field.

We have been reading a lot of late about Britain's dollar shortage, and have decided they don't have a doggone thing on us. In fact, a lot of us here in America have had just such an experience. Another thing, a lot of us today don't exactly have a dollar language.

Many of us have been poor (pronounced pore) all our lives. Seems as if we inherited the malady. Some of us call it hard-up, some call it broke and sometimes even a bigger word, bankrupt. Most of us Americans have no Santa Claus to appeal to, and have to work harder, longer hours. Uncle Sam won't loan us money.

Speaking of financial condition, it is said that not more than one person in five knows how to spell "nickel." Most of us transfer the last two letters. But people know what you mean, as most of our change consists of nickels and pennies.

Two more of the older residences have been moved of late. The late residence of Mrs. Cleve Williams has been moved from a site near the Bowman Motor Co., to the north part of town.

Then there was the old Kemp Lumber Co. office just west of Piggly Wiggly on Broadway, built soon after the railroad came here, but of late used as a nurse's home until the hospital built the new one. Someone stated it was moved out of town. The site is to be used for business property.

It is said that any man can handle a dominating woman, but it takes something few men have to get away from a clinging vine. Note to the Old Apostle at Clarendon: Above swiped from Imperial magazine.

A news item reports that the new chairs have wider seats and curving backs. This also goes for the new autos. Designers just trying to keep up with the wider and curvier human forms.

One of the hard lessons that weekly publishers have to learn apprentice helpers is not to get ads of similar businesses next to or one above the other, like different makes of cars, oils, gas, insurance or what have you. To do so is likely to call for an ache from a good customer.

Homer Nelson tells this one: A soft drink company had a nice ad on a page of a newspaper telling in glowing terms the refreshing, invigorating feeling that comes from a bottle of the drink. Nearby was another small ad that simply said: "Hadn't you rather drink Four Roses?"

Word comes from the larger cities of east and central Texas that the West Texas farmers are being swindled by advancing money to would-be "cotton pickers" who have to meet some "expenses" before they leave. Police are warning farmers to keep their money in their pockets until the pickers are in their fields.

A columnist tells us that if the price and identification tags were removed, not one woman in ten could tell the cost of the dress, or where it came from.

Thorne Smith of the Herald mechanical department, after seeing a picture of a girl wearing what is purported to be the first wrist watch ever made in Texas, remarked that it was not true. He had seen one down at Odessa made by a jeweler there.

What was probably meant was the first made in a real watch

TO THE CITIZENS OF TERRY COUNTY

We have had a number of inquiries about paying your 1949 poll tax. We will issue a 1949 poll tax to anyone wishing to pay his poll tax, beginning October 1. If the amendment house bill carries, which will be voted on November 8, it will not do away with the payment of the poll tax. It will only change the law as to the requirement of a person to have a poll tax receipt in order to vote. The act provides that the secretary of state shall administer the law if it becomes effective, and the tax assessor-collector will be the registrar of voters.

From the information we have received from Austin, there will be a 50-cent fee for registration, but there will be no refund to anyone paying a $1.75 poll tax between October 1 and the time this amendment is voted on. However, the poll tax receipt will serve as a registration fee.

This information is given you as a courtesy of this office.

DAVIS & HUMPHRIES OWNERS & OPERATORS

TEXAS TODAY

By Dave Creavens
Associated Press Staff

OLYMPIA, Wash., Sept. (AP)—Texas is not the only big, prosperous state facing a financial crisis. Despite a heavy sales tax that ticks three cents out of every dollar spent on ordinary purchases and six cents on luxury items, the staff of Washington is having money troubles.

They have been talking up here in the northwest of a special session of the legislature to levy new taxes — talk quite reminiscent of home to a traveling Texan.

The Olympia correspondent of the Tacoma News-Tribune recently had this to say:

"The probability is, in the opinion of most observers in state government, that unless business and revenues take a tail spin in the months ahead, the cuts that can be made will carry over into next summer at least, and then the state will run on its promises to pay for the remainder of 1950." The writer had been talking about cuts that could be made, under the state's fiscal system, without a special session. Then came this observation:

"The next legislature will then have to face the facts, and either curtail Washington state's generosity in providing for everyone, or make up its mind as to what kind of new taxes it will pile onto those who are earning."

Curtailed of the budget for education and social security were seen as the key to the situation, with educators complaining they had already been cut enough. Education was trimmed back by the legislative session recently, and it was thought that the result would be more crowded schools and slashed teaching forces.

Washington has a beautiful capitol.

The state office buildings here are constructed around a central structure called the legislative building, which houses the two branches of the legislature and the governor's office. Facing it is a stately courts building. Other departmental buildings and the governor's mansion are grouped nearby under a scheme that shows someone planned with good taste in housing state offices.

The grounds are beautifully landscaped, taking full advantage of flowers that bloom in gorgeous colors in this climate.

Workmen are still repairing the capitol dome that was badly damaged by the severe earthquake several months ago, and other buildings on the grounds are now sheathed with scaffolding while masons replace fallen stones.

Visitors to the Washington capitol are given a hearty state welcome. A uniformed guide hands over an official highway map and a directory of state parks beautifully illustrated. It shows you just where to go to find Pacific beaches or mountain streams. If asked, the guide will tell you all he knows about the fishing.

Included in the handout for tourists are two free post cards to send the folks back home. You get everything but a postage stamp, and maybe that omission is just a reflection of the condition of the state's treasury.

WELLMAN 4-H CLUB MEETS
The Wellman 4-H clubs met under the trees September 12. The younger group will meet as one club this winter.

The new officers are Marjorie Seales, president; Jo Frances Earp, vice president; Juanda Crews, secretary; Nila Rich, recreation leader; and Patsy Moore, junior leader and reporter.

The Gold Star nominees are Jo Marie Crowder and Donna Weldon. They will be judged Saturday, September 17. The judges are Mrs. Kellie Sears, Marjorie Seales and Patsy Moore.

Miss Helen Dunlap, home demonstration agent, met with the group but gave no demonstration. —Patsy Moore, reporter.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—Miss America of 1949, Jacque Mercer of Phoenix, Ariz., receives the first of the major prizes awarded following her triumph in the annual "Miss America" pageant here. The 18-year-old student accepts the keys to a new Nash Ambassador sedan from E. M. Christie, eastern sales executive of Nash Motors. Nash is a sponsor of the pageant's $25,000 scholarship fund, $5,000 of which goes to "Miss America" and the rest to 15 runners-up.

Economic Highlights

Business Week, in one of its recent issues, declared, "The six-month slide in business has ended. It's evident that a vigorous upward movement is underway. The real question becomes: Is business going to climb back onto the upward slating plateau of full employment it occupied from mid-1946 until the end of 1948? Or are we seeing nothing more than a brief rally, after which business activity will again begin to sag? Whether or not it's just a rally or a real recovery, the upturn has now gained so much momentum that it is hard to see how it can fail to carry through most of the remaining months of 1949."

The magazine goes on to point out that the year-end will be a crucial period. At that time, according to the forecasts, exports will drop, automobile sales, which have been a very important factor in keeping business and employment in many fields at high levels, will probably slacken to some degree, and spending by industry will be down. The hope is that the low in spending in these directions will be made up by an increase in others.

At any rate, Business Week cites a number of signs which indicate that business is now pulling out of the spring slump. Steel production has again risen. Electric power output, always one of the best business barometers, has also gained. So have rail shipments of manufactured articles. Textiles, which were deep in the doldrums a while back, show new life. And things seem to be looking up in the appliance industries.

Consumer income, during the first half of this year, was well ahead of last. And so was consumer spending. In that first half, retail sales were two per cent under the same period last year, but, Business Week says, this was "only because of price drops. Far from being frightened into retrenchment, consumers actually spent a larger proportion of their incomes than in the last half of 1948."

Personal savings are at record or near-record levels. This means that the public at large has the means to buy pretty much what it wants. It is probably true that, once prices started downward, many people deferred purchasing in the hope of really substantial drops. If the experts are correct, these hopes will probably not be fulfilled. Only very small price declines as a general rule, are expected for the next six months or so. New wage demands, if successful, and continued record-breaking government spending, might reverse the trend and cause price increases. The experts have been wrong in the past, but it is worth recording that most of them are optimistic now.

CORPORATION CHARTERS GRANTED IN TEXAS

AUSTIN, Tex.—Charters were granted 318 firms with a capitalization of $6,133,000 in July, 1949, the University of Texas bureau of business research has reported.

In June, 297 corporations were formed with a capitalization of $3,722,000 and 341 charters with a capitalization of $9,071,000 were issued in July, 1948.

Merchandising businesses received 56 charters in July of this year; construction, 49; manufacturing, 39; real estate, 29; oil, 13, and banking and finance, 5.

New corporations, with a capitalization of $5,000 to $100,000, totaled 167 in July. Seven charters were issued to corporations with a capitalization of more than $100,000. Corporations with a capitalization of less than $5,000 totaled 79 in July.

State Health Officer Of Contracting Malta Fever From Animals

AUSTIN, Tex.—Undulant fever or Malta fever, a disease contracted from cattle, goats or sheep which are infected with contagious abortion, is being reported sporadically throughout Texas and the nation, according to Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer. This indicates Malta fever to be a public health problem and the attendant need of more general recognition by the public to the disease.

Undulant fever is so called because of the wave-like variations in temperature. The symptoms include rise in temperature, loss of weight and strength, chills, sweats and joint pains. The disease has a rather low mortality rate, but important because symptoms may persist for a number of weeks or even months before normal health and strength are restored.

In Texas, the goat, horse and cows are the usual spreaders of this disease. The germs of undulant fever enter the body through the mouth or skin. Therefore, care should be used in handling animals known to be infected and dairy products from the same sources should be used in handling animals known to be infected, and dairy products from the same sources should be pasteurized, if used. More men acquire this disease than women, and adults seem more likely to have it than children. More cases are found in the rural areas than in the cities.

The true prevention of undulant fever is based upon the detection of the disease in livestock and the elimination of infected stock from the herds. Dairy herds should be tested for bacillus abortus. This is a task that cannot be accomplished in a short time. Pasteurization of milk will prevent the spread of the disease from this source.

GADGETS TO CHECK COWS TROUBLE WITH THE HEAT

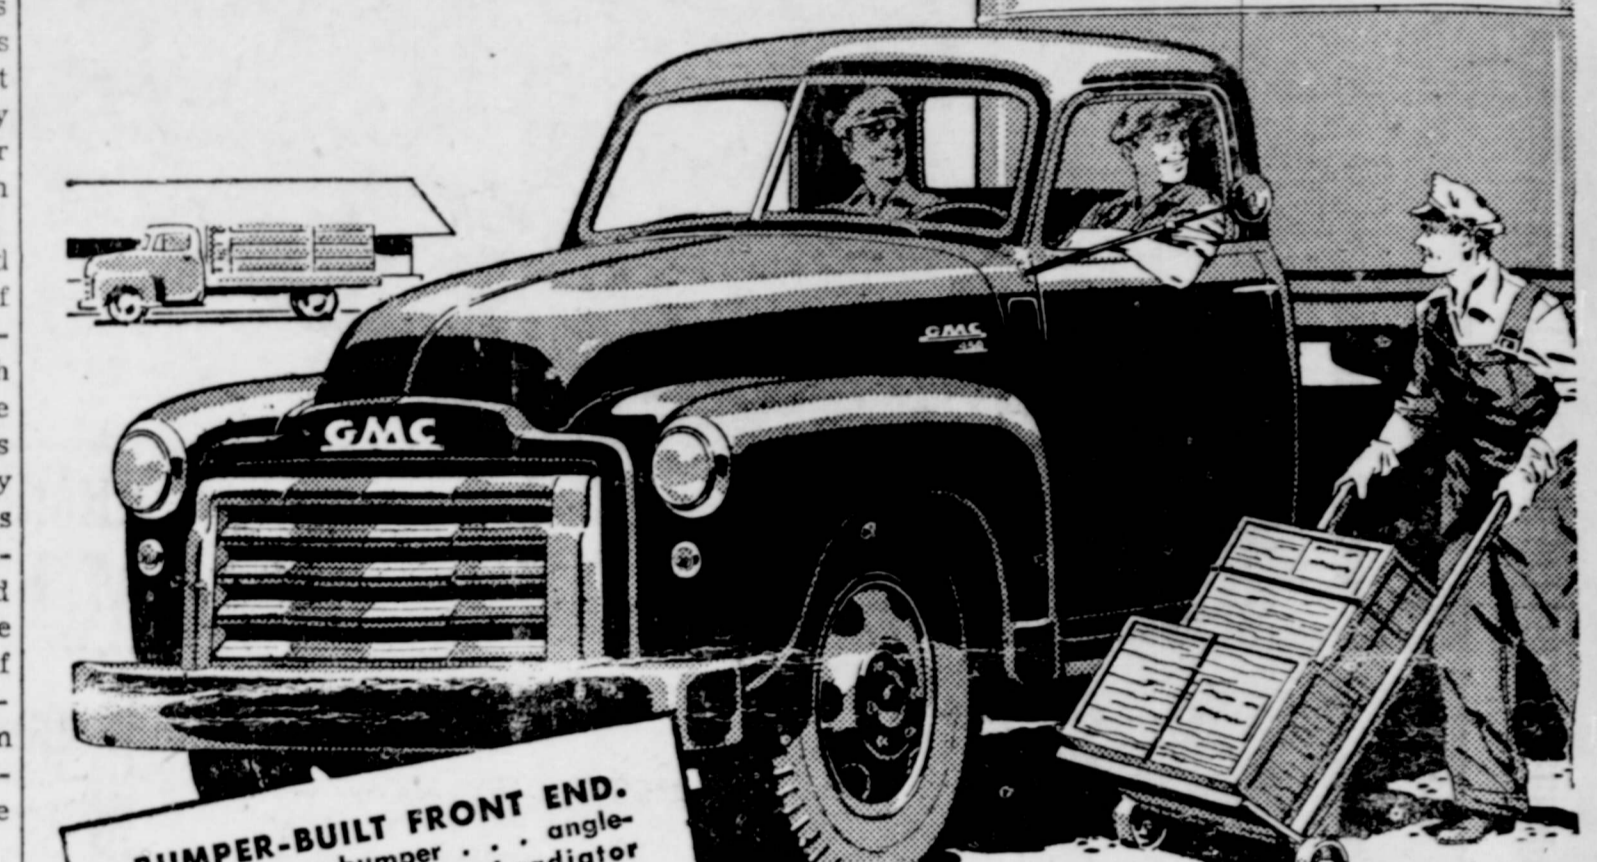

DAVIS, Calif.—(AP)—Cows, too, have trouble with the heat. University of California scientists are studying the problem. They have constructed two miniature weather stations to find out how hot it gets in corrals in the Imperial valley.

The idea is to find out how much shade and moisture can help cattle under extreme heat. Cattle in the valley feed normally in the morning during hot weather. But when the sun begins to get hot, they seek shade until driven out to forage by hunger. Prof. F. A. Brooks of the college of agriculture experiment station says the new weather recording gadgets weigh less than a 100 pounds. They will record air temperature, relative humidity, air velocity, soil temperature and the rate of evaporation.

WHY THE MISSOURI PACIFIC RAILROAD STRIKE?

Over twenty years ago, the Congress of the United States passed the Railway Labor Act. It was hailed by union leaders as a model for the settlement of labor disputes.

THE LEADERS OF THE Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, Order of Railway Conductors, and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen on the Missouri Pacific Railroad have refused to avail themselves of the peaceful means provided by this Act for settling their disputes. They insist that they be the sole umpire of their own disputes over the meaning of contracts.

There is no Need for Strikes

With all of the available methods for the interpretation of contracts, there is no need for a strike or even a threat of a strike, but the leaders of these railroad unions have ignored the ordinary procedures established by law and insist upon imposing their own interpretations of their contracts by means of a strike.

The wheels have stopped rolling on the Missouri Pacific. They may stop rolling on other railroads at any time. Recently the Wabash Railroad was forced to discontinue operation for several days under similar circumstances.

What are These Strikes About?

These strikes and strike threats are not about wage rates or hours. They result from disputes over the meaning of existing contracts. They cover claims for a full day's pay for less than a day's work, or for payments for services performed by others who were fully paid for the work done.

President Truman's Board Condemns Strike

There is an established legal method for handling disputes involving existing written contracts—just as there is such a method of settling any contract dispute which you may have in your daily life.

The President of the United States appointed a Fact Finding Board to investigate and adjust the Missouri Pacific dispute. This Board reported, in part, as follows:

" . . . it is with a deep sense of regret that we are obliged to report the failure of our mission. It seems inconceivable to us that a coercive strike should occur on one of the nation's major transportation systems, with all of the losses and hardships that would follow, in view of the fact that the Railway Labor Act provides an orderly, efficient and complete remedy for the fair and just settlement of the matters in dispute. Grievances of the character here under discussion are so numerous and of such frequent occurrence on all railroads that the general adoption of the policy pursued by the organizations in this case would soon result in the complete nullification of the Railway Labor Act. . . ."

Obviously the railroads cannot be run efficiently or economically if the leaders of the unions ignore agreements or laws.

Provisions of the Law which are Disregarded

There are five ways under the Railway Labor Act to settle disputes over the meaning of contracts:

- 1—Decision by National Railroad Adjustment Board.
- 2—Decision by System Adjustment Board for the specific railroad.
- 3—Decision by arbitration.
- 4—Decision by neutral referee.
- 5—Decision by courts.

The Missouri Pacific Railroad has been and is entirely willing to have these disputes settled in accordance with the requirements of the Railway Labor Act. Regardless of this fact, the union leaders have shut down that railroad.

Innocent Bystanders Suffer Losses and Hardships

There are about 5,000 engineers, firemen, conductors and trainmen on the Missouri Pacific. They are known as "operating" employees, and are the most highly paid of all employees on the nation's railroads, but their strike action has resulted in the loss of work to 22,500 other employees of the Missouri Pacific. In addition, they have imposed great inconvenience and hardship upon the public and the communities served by that railroad.

The Railway Labor Act was designed to protect the public against just such interruptions of commerce.

If these men will not comply with the provisions of the law for the settlement of such disputes, then all thinking Americans must face the question, "What is the next step?"

Fuel Conservation For Your Tractor

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. — Farm tractor operators should be interested in making every gallon of fuel that goes into the farm tractor fuel tank work for him, says W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer of Texas A&M college. Tests and reports indicate that a lot of gasoline is being wasted and in most instances you can do something about it.

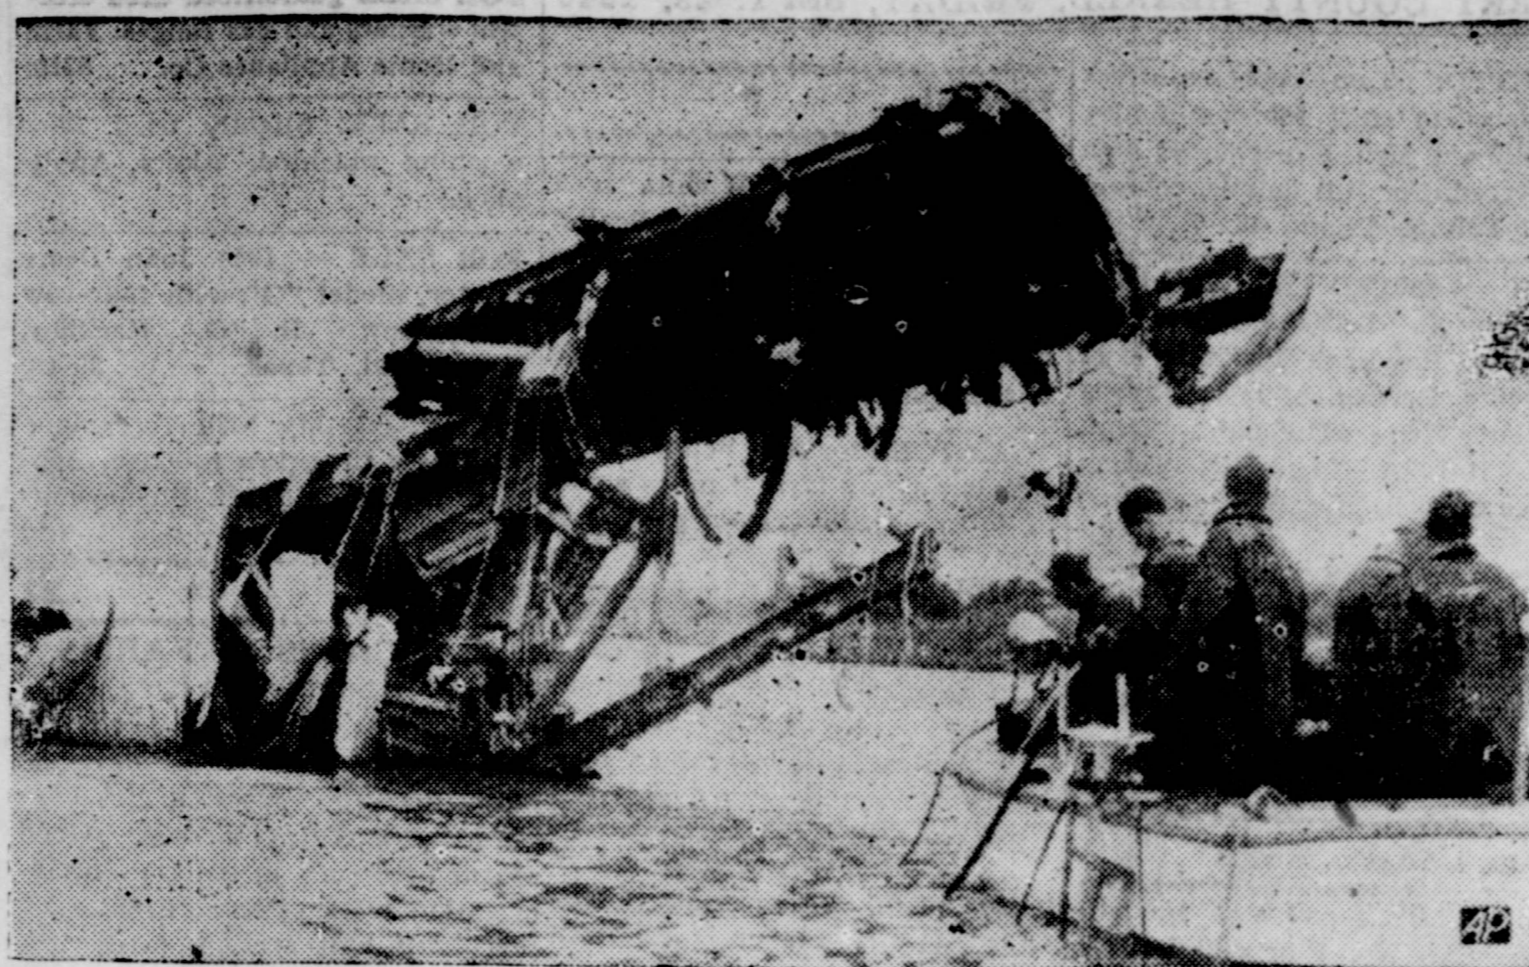

Ulich says there are about 240,000 farm tractors in the state and a conservative estimate indicates that each tractor burns about 900 gallons of gasoline per year. Tests show that about ten per cent of this is wasted. A little simple arithmetic and you have 21,600,000 gallons of wasted fuel. Now this is the amount of gasoline that it not working for the farmers of Texas. Figure a little further and see what this is costing you in dollars and cents—that amount will help pay the taxes or might even buy the wife a new dress. Anyway, it's a lot of gasoline. It would fill 2,160 tank cars—each holding 10,000 gallons and that in turn would make up 21 trains—each of more than 100 cars, one mile long. Much of this loss, says Ulich, can be avoided if the farm tractor is properly maintained and operated. An elevated and shaded tank for storage is much better than barrels that set out in the sun. Always stop the engine before filling the tank, and, adds Ulich, leave room in the tank for expansion—don't get it too full.

COMBINATION COTTON PICKER CABIN-GRANARY

A house some 12x20 was erected across Sixth on the Cicero Smith property recently which drew our curiosity somewhat. Knowing that nothing of a permanent nature not fireproof could be built there, we inquired.

We found that it met the idea that we had in mind. A combined cotton picker cabin and granary.

18th Annual Prison Rodeo Starts Oct. 2

The 18th edition of the "Biggest Prison Show on Earth," the Texas prison rodeo, will open in Prison stadium, Huntsville, Sunday, October 2, at 2 p.m. It will be held each Sunday during the month, and on Wednesday, October 19, French Robertson, rodeo chairman of the prison board, announced today.

According to the Abilene board member, plans are already made for the greatest rodeo in the history of the annual event. Livestock and inmate performers will be up to their usual neck-breaking standards of savagery and wildness with many new acts and performers already signed up.

Among the old-timers who will again be associated with the rodeo are Albert Moore, returning for his 16th year as manager of the show which he developed into the fastest, wildest rodeo in the world; Roy Dillon, the familiar "voice" who is regarded as many as the best rodeo announcer in the entire southwest, will again be on hand to emcee the show.

Pickers Doubtful Over Tall Cotton

J. H. Mackey, young farmer of the Red Onion section of southeast Terry, was in last week and informed us that he had a bunch of cotton pickers out at his field recently, and after examination, there seemed to be some doubt whether or not they wanted to pick or rather pull cotton in a field where the stalk was waist high, instead of as usual, just a bit more than knee high.

After Mackey walked away, Gus Pollard of the Union community, and the writer continued the conversation. We suggested that we believed that a lot of cotton stalks this year were too large for the usual mechanical harvester used out here, but that the pickers used in the Mississippi delta might work, if obtainable.

Gus gave two reasons why he thought the harvester would not work, after examining several fields in his community. First, he said, "the limbs of the stalks are so large close to the ground that the harvester would be inclined to extract them, roots and all."

"Another thing, too, to make matters worse," Pollard continued, "We have had so much rain this season that there are no tap roots to cotton to amount to anything, making he plant very easy to pull up, roots and all. With so much rain lately, a large stalk can easily be pulled up by hand."

So, it looks like if there is not one headache for the old farmer another appears on the scene.

Banker Predicts 11 Million Dollar Crop

The Old He likes to pass the time of day with good-natured J. O. Gillham, president of the Brownfield State Bank and Trust Co. We do not always agree politically, but we always respect each other's opinions along that line. Then too, J. O. always has a good soft chair opposite his side of the desk and we always have "droopy."

7 Million Cotton—4 Million Feed
 One thing we wanted to find out was the knock-off of almost a month on the new bank building. Lack of steel for the second floor, as this floor will be concrete, explains Mr. Gillham. But the contractors will finish the floor this week and go on with brick work on the second story. We hope to have a roof on before cold weather, Gillham stated.

Like the writer, Mr. Gillham likes good crops and fine stock. He made the prediction that if nothing now foreseen happens, Terry county will harvest a 7 million dollar cotton crop, and a feed crop that will run around 4 million dollars.

Personally, we don't think he has his sights too high, if present prices maintain. Very conservative estimate, we think.

Have You A Picture You're Proud Of?

ABILENE, Sept. — Somewhere in West Texas someone has made an outstanding photograph which is being sought by the West Texas chamber of commerce for publicity purposes. The organization has announced the first annual "All West Texas" photographic contest, in connection with the museum of fine arts.

The contest will be open to both professionals and amateurs. The prizes will be 4x5 Graphic cameras in both classes, for pictures made in West Texas during 1949. The contest will close September 30, and judging will be by members of the WTCC staff.

The contest is being conducted with the cooperation of the local chambers of commerce in 132 West Texas counties, and entry blanks are available from the manager.

MORE DANGEROUS TO DRIVE IN RURAL AREAS

Choose up sides, for here's some ammunition in the age-old country-versus-city controversy:

Driving a car is more than twice as dangerous in rural areas as in city areas, according to the 1949 edition of the National Safety Council's statistical yearbook, "Accident Facts."

Of the 32,000 motor vehicle deaths in 1948, 21,500 occurred in rural areas and 10,500 in urban areas. The mileage death rate was 10.8 deaths per 100,000,000 vehicle miles in rural areas, and only 5.3 in urban areas.

There were about twice as many urban pedestrian deaths as rural—6,200 compared with 3,650—but there were more than four times as many rural non-pedestrian motor vehicle deaths as urban—17,850 compared with 4,300.

Gee Gee's Chit Chat

With harvest festival only about a month away, the lack of enthusiasm on the part of the people in general and the Rotarians in particular, is simply amazing. The festival is the main project of the Rotary club, and has been for the previous two years, and yet there are only two candidates for the harvest queen race and only a handful of tickets have been sold. With the many, many generous contributions that the Rotarians have made to the community and will continue to make, it seems that the least we can do is to support them in this project.

This year, the program committee, headed by James Harley Dallas, has lined up the finest program that the festival has ever had. This year, we will have more cause than ever to celebrate a bountiful harvest. This year, the Rotary club is operating under more obligations than they have ever had before. Come on, everybody. Let's get behind them for a change. And that goes for you Rotarians, too. This is your party, you know. Or are you willing to be put back into the "doddering old men" class that you used to be known as?

The Men's Community Glee club meets regularly every Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the high school. Richard Young, director, says that there is a dire need for tenors in the club. With the organization of a woman's glee club this week, Young hopes to be able to announce that the mixed voices of both groups will present part of the Messiah for an Easter program. Tenors who are interested in becoming a member of the men's group are asked to contact Young or Dr. W. A. Roberson.

Superintendent S.P. Cowan and members of the school board ask that we please urge parents to cooperate in keeping their children off the Cub football grounds. Since citizens of Brownfield have exerted so much time and effort in rejuvenating the grounds, we feel that parents will want to cooperate fully with school officials in seeing that their children find other places to play. COLOR! COLOR!

Is this the color I should wear? Do I look sallow in this yellow-green?

Such questions are being asked by the third-year Wellman Home-making class, since they are selecting their fall materials to make suits and dresses.

Before deciding, the homemaking class made a trip to Brownfield Monday, September 12. They visited Latham's, Cobbs' and the Fair stores to see what materials were available and which suited the personality of each. Just Some More Nonsense

We are led to wonder if everyone up in old Donley county are trying to sell out and leave. Last week about two pages of the Leader were filled with sheriff sales. But we didn't see Jaycee Estlack's paper listed.

And there is that man Luther Cruce and wife. We just can't keep track of them. They live just across the street from us, and one day they will wave at us and the next the house is closed as tight as a beer joint in Lubbock. They are off to Possum Kingdom. That couple really live the life of Riley. Or was his a pleasant life?

We note in the Ralls Banner that the negro bootlegger who killed the sheriff of Crosby county more than two years ago is to have his third trial at Silverton. In the meantime, the ex-sheerif is very dead. Of course, the same court of criminal appeals at Austin that will not let a man be electrocuted unless it is plainly stated that the victim was "drowned in water" or stomped to death "with the foot" has held up the negro's death sentence twice before on some fool technicality. The negro is a consciousness murderer if anyone interfered with his unlawful pursuit, and he should have had the hot seat two years ago. Make the most of the above, Editor Morris.

The Cubs went down in very embarrassing defeat last Friday night, fighting hopelessly. We can't seem to win in athletic contests the last few years, but we betide the town that challenges "Browny" on a beautiful girl contest.

The senior Heralds went down to Big Spring last Friday to bring the elder brother, J. T. Stricklin, and wife to hit a bus for Fort Worth. We spent the night with relatives at Coahoma. They are ginning right along in that section. In fact, they'd had just a shower or two down there, and both gins were or had been busy. Cotton open almost to the top of stalks, and they have good crops. As usual, we were delightfully entertained.

We note that a number of South Plains editors are predicting a wet fall and a very cold winter. We will go along with the idea of a wet fall, but not necessarily an unusually cold winter. After 40 of them on the plains, we have noted that rarely two come consecutively. And last winter was a rough one by any man's thermometer.

ISRAELI ADOPT NEW NAMES

TELAVIV, Israel — (AP) — New Hebrew names have been adopted by 17,000 people in Israel during the past year. Authorities in the new state have been encouraging the idea. It is thought especially appropriate for officials and employees of the government.

David Ben Gurion, the premier, has a Hebrew name that he adopted as a youth. It means "David, son of Gurion." It also has a historic significance. Joseph Ben Gurion was a leader in the Jewish revolt against Rome in 66 A.D.

SEE and HEAR OLSEN and JOHNSON'S FIREBALL FUN-FOR-ALL every Thursday on Television

Tune in HENRY J. TAYLOR, ABC Network, every Monday evening.

Guess who's losing sleep over this one?

FOR years, folks have talked about the "low-priced three" in the car business.

For a generation these have been the same three cars, unchallenged for position simply because they were lowest priced.

But take a look at the beauty pictured here and ask yourself:

How would you like to sell against it, with its wealth of Buick features?

How would you like to compete with it when it wears a price tag any new-car buyer can reach, gives you straight-eight performance for less than many sixes?

Truth is, this one sets a lot of standards that are going to be hard to match.

This styling is certainly something to start other designers tossing in their sleep.

This handy size—a dream in traffic, yet generous in interior room—is a "must" for cars yet to come.

The lift of high-pressure Fireball power—the level-going comfort of the Buick ride—the luxury of Dynaflo Drive, here optional at modest extra cost—all these are wanted things others just can't overlook.

So why not do the obvious thing and go see the car that's causing sleepless nights in Detroit?

Study its smartness, test its room and comfort, try its handling, note the precise figures of its delivered prices.

You can do all that on a single trip to your Buick dealer's—and make your selection of a wide choice of equipment and colors at the same time.
