VOLUME 45

BROWNFIELD, TEXAS, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1949

NUMBER 16

Governor Allan Shivers, right, is pictured at the State Capitol Building in Austin with F. L. Kuykendall, Chairman of the Austin Baylor Stadium Campaign, as he made purchase of bonds to help the completion of the 40,000 seat project. Governor Shivers proclaimed December 2 as Baylor Day, marking the close of Baylor's $1,500,000 campaign.

Business to 'Close Shop' Armistice

All businesses in Brownfield will be closed all day Friday, November 11, according to members of the local Chamber of Commerce.

This announcement is the result of a survey made by the chamber in the spring of this year, to determine what holidays the merchants will observe by closing their stores.

Other holidays which will be observed by closing the stores will be Thursday, November 24, which is Thanksgiving day, and the Monday following Christmas day. Businesses will not be closed, however, the day following New Year's day.

These closing dates were determined as a result of the spring survey, as well as a recent survey, David Nicholson, secretary of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce, said Wednesday.

Glenna Faye Winston Wins Tech Honor

Glenna Faye Winston, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Homer Winston, was chosen from a group of five candidates to represent Texas Technological College at the annual Sun Festival to be held in El Paso January 2. Curtis Sterling, president of the Student Council made the announcement Tuesday.

Miss Winston will receive an all-expense trip to the festival, with transportation paid by the student council of Tech, and other expenses paid by the festival association.

A senior journalism major at Tech, this 21 year old brunette has been head girl cheer leader at the college for the past two years. She was the 1947 Brownfield Harvest Queen, and was a Tech beauty in 1947 and 1949, with her picture appearing in the college yearbook, La Ventana, both years.

Miss Winston is also a member of Theta Sigma Phi, national honorary journalism fraternity for women, and the Forum, a scholastic campus organization for senior students. She is a graduate of Brownfield High School.

Deputy Sheriff at Meadow Is Robbed

Deputy Sheriff Elmer McCutcheon of Meadow returned from the Meadow-Ropesville football game last Thursday night, to discover that $500 which he had hidden in a can in a clothes closet in his home, had been stolen. The money was receipts from sales made at his Cosden wholesale business in Meadow.

Local investigating officers said Wednesday that, although there were several suspects in been made in solving the burglary case, so far no progress had glary.

Larger Gas Line To Wellman

West Texas Gas Company officials announced today that construction crews have started installing approximately 10 miles of 6 5/8 inch natural gas transmission pipe line between Wellman and Seagraves. The large line will replace 3 1/2-inch pipe which is now in use.

Approximately 14 miles of 6 5/8-inch pipe was used to replace the same amount of 3 1/2-inch between Brownfield and Wellman this spring. The present construction work is a continuation of the early 1949 installation work.

The new line will connect with the line installed early this spring and also with the 7-inch line between West Texas Gas Company's Tahoka Compressor station and Brownfield. The 7-inch line was installed in 1948 and replaced approximately 10 miles of 4-inch transmission line.

The new line is expected to be completed within the next three weeks.

LEGION WILL SPONSOR ARMISTICE DANCE
The American Legion, Post 269, of Brownfield is sponsoring an Armistice dance Thursday night. The music will be furnished by Clyde Miller and his orchestra from Clovis, New Mexico. The dance will start at 8:30 o'clock and will be at the American Legion hall on the Seagraves highway.

BUILDING PERMITS OFF 9 PERCENT
AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 10.—Texas building permits issued in September fell 9 percent from August, to a level 8 percent above September a year ago, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

After adjustment for seasonal variation, the Bureau's index of building permits stepped up 9 percent from August to 718 percent of the prewar (1935-39) level. A year ago, the index stood at 683.

CORRECTION
A news article last week stated that Patsie Scales of Wellman is the 1949 gold star girl of Terry county. This is a mistake, says Helen Dunlap, County Home Demonstration Agent. Patsie is not in the gold star contest this year. We are sorry this mistake happened, says Miss Dunlap.

Lubbock Man Injured In Accident Monday

Ira Lynn Duke, 31, of Lubbock received painful cuts and bruises on the head and neck when the 1948 Studebaker, which he was driving struck a calf early Monday morning on the Wellman farm to market road.

Also injured in the accident was Duke's oldest daughter, Dean. His other three children, the only other occupants in the car, were only shaken up.

Formation of B-25's To Salute Brownfield

Mayor C. C. Primm received notice this week that a formation of 18 B-25s from the Reese Air Force Base at Lubbock, will fly over Brownfield at approximately 11:11 today (Friday). They will also make a complete circle and salute other towns in the area.

The Reese Air Force Base was formerly known as Lubbock Army Air Field, but was recently reactivated and named for a flyer who lost his life in the last World War. Lt. James O. Umphries asked Mayor Primm if there were any objections.

"None whatever," Mr. Primm stated. "Glad to have the boys give us a salute on Armistice Day," and so informed Lt. Umphries. Primm is an ex-serviceman of the late unpleasantness, himself.

JANE WIER SELECTED AS ONE OF BEAUTIES
Lubbock, Nov. 10.—Jane Wier, junior at Texas Technological College from Brownfield, has been selected as one of the 16 coeds for the beauty section of the 1950 student yearbook, La Ventana.

The 16 finalists were chosen from 46 entrants and will be narrowed to a field of eight for the full-page beauty section. Editor Roy Grimes said. Last year, Cartoonists Al Capp made the final selections.

Miss Wier is majoring in sociology at Tech. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Wier, 406 E. Broadway, Brownfield.

Wellman FHA Chapter Attends Area Sessions

The Wellman chapter of Future Homemakers of America closed their week's observance of National Future Homemakers of America week by going to the district meeting held in Jayton on Saturday November 5.

Those who made the trip by bus were Robbie Currie, Margaret Jean Phillips, Velman Jean Bruce, Betty L. Briscoe, Mary Jo Caldwell, Louise Ballard, Cherry Lee Johnson, Joyce Lynn Bryant, Delphene Wright, and Miss Willie Mae Hines, chapter sponsor. Charles Jackson, English teacher at Wellman, was the bus driver.

J. S. Hines, superintendent of Jayton schools, welcomed the 677 Future Homemakers from Area II.

Highlights of the day's program were given by Miss Esther Sorenson, supervisor of vocational Homemaker Education in Area II. Miss Sorenson made a trip to Europe during July and August of 1949. She brought back many interesting pictures of her trip, and these were shown with her interesting discussion.

Each chapter member felt that it was worth the trip just to see and hear these events.

Joyce Lynn Bryant was Wellman representative to the House of Delegates meeting that was held in the afternoon. At this meeting, it was decided that the spring meeting would be held in Lubbock.

All enjoyed the barbecue dinner that Jayton served to the chapter members, for this style meal was well adapted to the beautiful fall day that made the meeting ideal for this time of year.

Folks Get Killed Off at Big Rate
Each issue of your favorite daily looks somewhat alike. While there may be world news that tells of a hinted threat coming out of Moscow to all capitalistic countries, or that the Reds in China are holding American state department representatives, or that the Greek insurgents have been run out, along with that is the frightful toll of American lives on the highways and in airplanes.

Yes, there is the big headlines day in and day out. "Car sideswiped by big truck, two dead, several hurt seriously." "Two cars smash head on on the highways," and on and on. Then there is the account of the big airliner that crashed, or the single seater that fell and burned. And so the toll grows day in and day out. Everybody seems in a big hurry to get nowhere in particular, and they expect the other driver to them the right-of-way.

As far as the air is concerned, the buzzards can have it for all we care, but we do use the highways, and we sometimes get up to 50 per if the road is straight and little traffic. But if we have to pass another car, we are dead sure we have plenty of space in front ahead of an oncoming car.

Many of the accidents are caused by overtime driving. We read of one incident in a booklet received this week. A writer for the Chicago Tribune took a long truck trip to see for himself. He did not say he was a newspaper reporter; he was merely a thumb-er. But he got the story of why a big truck sometimes swerves across the highway and causes a wreck.

The reporter traveled and interviewed several. One big guy got 5.5c per mile and $5 per day expenses. He was driving a 16 ton van of dressed turkeys from San Francisco to Chicago. He stopped at a roadside place in Iowa to coffee up. He'd then been driving 36 hours and had 20 hours more to go, if the traffic didn't get too heavy, and without sleep.

The driver stated that he might be ordered to go on to New York, which he dreaded, as traffic would be heavy and little mileage made. Now draw your own conclusions.

Farm Bureau to Convene Nov. 15

Texas Voters Scrap Most Amendments

If the last session of the legislature can get any comfort from the returns of Tuesday's election, they are welcome to it. Just two of the amendments, district court proceedings and rural fire prevention were ahead but close, and there was a small majority against lunacy trials by county judges, sans jury.

All the other seven seemed to be hopelessly snowed under, especially the raise in pay, and yearly sessions of the legislature, which was running behind 3 to 1. Even women jurors seemed to be lost, as a big lot of the city votes were in, and rural votes seemed stacked against the measure.

In the race for the newly created board of education, Boulter was leading Rankin slightly. Mr. Boulter seemed to be supported by the teacher association, and was expected to greatly outdistance Rankin, but a lot of people had another notion.

And HST was greatly enthused about the New York elections, which went as most all had predicted. However, we can't see where he got much comfort in New Jersey contests, or his old pal, Curley of Boston, whom Harry S. pardoned after the Boston Mayor was convicted of his second fraud against the government.

Leonard Lang has charge of the barbecue for the convention.

The annual Terry County Farm Bureau convention and barbecue will be held at Veterans Hall, beginning at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 15, according to H. R. Winston, president of the association.

Delegates to the state convention, beginning November 21, at Dallas will be selected at the convention. Also, anyone wishing to make resolutions to be presented at the state convention may do so at that time.

Herbert L. King, secretary of the organization and also head of the membership campaign, hopes to be able to report a membership of 580 members at the time of the convention.

King's team captains working in the county's rural districts are B. M. Tuttle, Fletcher Smith, Tress Key, Roy Barrier, J. M. Trussell, W. J. Carter, Bill Blackstock, A. B. Buchanan, Curtis Hulise, Grady Davis, Loyd Dawson, Tom Cornett, Harry Cornelius, Earl McNeil, Roy Wicker, Jr., Harmon Scales, J. R. Thomas, Victor Herring, Fred Turner, R. D. Jones, Sr., Herman Chesshir, J. L. Lyon, H. L. Holleman, W. A. Lindsey, Jimmy Thomason, R. S. Rowden, Pete Golden, Milton Addison, Jess McWhirter, W. G. McDonald, and Chester Gore.

CUB SCOUT DEN 6 HAD PICNIC FRIDAY

Cub Scout Den 6 met November 4 at Coleman Park for a picnic given by den mother, Mrs. Herman Chesshir.

Sandwiches, cookies, potato chips, and colas were served to Mike Smith, Joe Cloud, Kenneth Baldwin, Jimmy Rogers, Glen Chesshir, Charles Simpson, and Joe Allen Colbert.

Jaycees Are Losing Pillows at Games

Too many rented pillows are being carried home with the football fans from games at Cub Stadium, it was learned at regular Jaycee meeting Monday noon at the Esquire Restaurant. The Jaycees rent the pillows at each game, but expect them to be left in the stands after the game is over.

If you have any of these pillows in your possession, please return them to Lewis Simmonds or DeWitt Stafford, or take them out to the next game and leave them at the stadium.

TWO SLIGHTLY HURT IN CAR ACCIDENT

Two persons were hospitalized, but not seriously injured, at about midnight Monday when the 1934 Ford, driven by Harold Wayne Rushing of Lamesa struck a 1941 Pontiac driven by Jackie Johnson of Stephenville, broadside near the Lamesa-Seagraves highway Y.

Miss Johnson was making a turn on the highway when the accident occurred. She suffered an injured arm, and Bill Napper of Lamesa, an occupant of the Rushing automobile, received a broken nose.

Both cars were badly damaged, Amos Eagen, Texas Highway Patrolman, reported.

Miss LaVonne Clark of Midland visited in the home of Lee Glenn over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Patterson of Amarillo visited Mr. and Mrs. Dick Fallas Sunday.

PATSIIE MOORE WINS "ELECTRIC PRIZE" OF $25.00 WITH ESSAY ON ITS PROGRESS

Patsie Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Moore of Wellman, has won third prize of $25 in a state-wide Texas Electric contest, which is put on by all the electric companies in Texas, in co-operation with A & M college.

Patsie, who is 14 years old and an eighth grade student at Wellman, wrote her winning essay in the form of a comparison of the progress made in the past 50 years in washing clothes. She compared the task of washing clothes in her grandmother's time, when all water had to be carried from the well and heated in a big wash pot, to the task of washing clothes now, when a flip of the finger will switch on the machine.

Winner of first prize of $60 was Verlie Griggison of Lamb county. Second prize of $45 went to Barbara Bowers of Bailey county, and fourth prize of $20

Large Attendance at Lecture Series Here

Attendance at the lecture series conducted by E. C. House of New York City, noted lecturer and business analyst, averaged 134 each night according to David Nicholson, secretary of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce.

The lecture series included discussions on employer and employee relations, sales promotions, sales training and sales technique, and personal efficiency.

The Brownfield Chamber of Commerce sponsored the lecturer.

Area Towns Are Really Going In High

Last Sunday afternoon was as pretty autumn day as one rarely sees in any country or climate. Not a cloud in sight, and the sun was warm. It was such a combination that makes one, after a week's work, want to get out and see something different. It came into our mind that we had not been over $7 from Tahoka to Lamesa via O'Donnell since the Brownfield-Lamesa highway was paved.

So, the Old He and wife lit a shuck for Tahoka around 3 p.m. We did not drive like we were headed for a "give away program," but pulled down so that we could see the roadside crosses, the pastures and the fat cattle grazing in wheat fields. It was a trip to thrill those who love to watch crops grow, mature and in process of harvesting. And we are not saying Terry has the best cotton all over, but in some areas it will match much of the delta cotton in the Mississippi valley—and it is not irrigated.

But we were a couple or three weeks behind the harder lands in crops gathering. While we did not go down into the gin district of Tahoka, from the looks of smoke, the gins seemed to be fired up and running. We met one truck load coming this way, evidently to the West Point gin, as like the Terry gins, it had caught up over night. So we headed south and were soon at O'Donnell, which we had not visited for several years, as it is off our beaten path.

Business As Usual In O'Donnell
We don't know how many gins O'Donnell has; evidently six or seven, and they were running full blast as if it were Monday instead of Sunday. The streets of the hustling little city were packed with trucks, cars and people. Business was on as usual. Sunday didn't seem to be any holiday over there. However, we (Continued on back page)

Seminole Man Joins Crawford Business

Kenneth Howe, formerly of Seminole where he was in the plumbing business for a year, has recently moved to Brownfield and will be associated with Tom Crawford Plumbing and Electric company.

Howe will be in charge of the plumbing department for Crawford's firm, which has recently been added to the business. For further information, we refer you to an advertisement found on another page of this issue of the Herald.

PLAINS MAY HAVE YOUNGEST POST COMMANDER
Dears Sirs:

Recently I noticed an article in a newspaper stating that a man twenty-four (24) years old is thought to be the youngest Legion Post Commander in Texas.

However, since our Commander, Clayton Lovelace, was installed this past August at the age of twenty-two (22), we believe him to be the youngest Legion Commander in Texas.

Married, and the father of two children, he has been Veterans' Administrator of Yoakum County for the past two years. (Name withheld by request)

MEADOW BOY NAMED TECH SOPH FAVORITE

Lubbock. — John Shinn, Meadow, has been chosen as "Sophomore Boy Favorite" at Texas Technological college.

Shinn was elected in a campus wide poll and will be honored by the 1950 student yearbook, La Ventana, and will be included in the class section with a half-page photograph.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Shinn, Route 1, Meadow.

A lot of good people, consumers in the main, and that includes a lot of farm people in this area, wonder why butter stays so high, when so much of it is produced? More produced than at any time since the close of War II. According to a Jackson, Miss., daily, the government now has in storage 80 million pounds of butter, and still is going strong. For instance, of the 147 million pounds produced so far this year, more than half of it has been taken over by the government and put in storage. What the government will eventually do with this butter is a mooted question. When it becomes old and as the darkey would put it, "ransom," the butter may be sold to soap makers, or dumped in the ocean. But, the consumers, which includes most all the people, know they are having to pay high prices, and they should, if they read, know they are being taxed to maintain higher prices. In the meantime the congress of the USA keeps the high tax on oleo, the only substitute for butter, in order to keep the banking accounts of the producers in the butter states at an all time high. And every working man in the land knows that a huge levy of withholding taxes is taken from his wages to maintain the barons of the butter states in the style which they expect.

Probably a lot of people in the south will be surprised that many strong Democratic papers in that area, are fearful that Senator Arthur Vandenberg, of Michigan, liberal Republican, will have to retire. In fact the senator hints as much, since his major lung operation. There is no question, north, south, east or west that Sen. Vandenberg is badly needed at the nation's capitol. He was a great help in a non-political way to the administration during and following the late war. And while a member of the opposition party, he has been the balance wheel that kept the Republican party from going backward into its old time isolationism. He has done a lot toward crushing such in his own party. He has been a great help to the State Department, especially, and lined up with his old yokefellow, Sen. Tom Connally of Texas, he has proved a great help to his nation when most needed. Now the nation needs Vandenberg.

When the congress meets again in January, they will have a request for more and more taxes from President Truman, in order to carry out the Truman-CIO program. In a recent press conference the president stated: "We have to have more money to run the government. Period." More money was spent by the government last year than there was from 1917 through 1920, and that included the spending of the first world war. And was 3 1/2 billion more than during the first five years of the Roosevelt administration. And the most expensive of FDR's peace time years, 1940, was only one-third of that spent last year. "We must have more federal taxes," Truman has announced. But still another power in the US Senate George of Georgia, has another idea: "I think the way to meet the deficit is less spending." And that is the idea of a lot of powerful men in congress. What is probably worrying more people than the knowledge that Russia now has the A-bomb, is what in blazes are we going to do if a real depression hits this land of the free and home of the brave, with a debt of 252 billion dollars, and a growing deficit each year. No business firm on earth could stay in business with reckless spending of more than is being taken in by the firm. And the government is or should be a business institution.

With conditions as they are in this quarrelling old world, it is indeed regrettable that men of talent and efficiency find that they cannot work harmoniously with the left wing element in the Truman cabinet. These men are resigning as fast as possible to re-enter private business, as much as the government needs them. One of the latest to go was Dr. Nourse, a very level headed business and professional man, who found that working with such ilk as Walgren, Olds and their stripe was out of the question. Many conservative writers, not biased by politics, pronounce HST the most obstinate president to occupy the White House. Many are saying that he believes in government by crony. And the presidential advisers have no influence in trying to get him to co-operate with congress on some things at least. He is as headstrong as one of his Missouri mules.

Some folks like to find fault with the ministers. Indeed, we have seen folks that didn't like any of them, just as some think all editors are a pretty low kind of parasite. But when we know the ministers better, we find they are just about like other folks, good, average and indifferent. Some say most preachers have a one track mind. Could it be too much study of one subject matter, or do people themselves make a molehill into a mountain? Even so, a few ministers appear to go a long way in stretching the meaning of the scriptures, and perhaps make something out of it that the inspired writers never thought to convey. Our attention was called to some comment on Matt. 24, 38-41 recently. The minister contended that this was a picture showing a lot of red soda pop, and real estate men. This he said indicated a near approach to the end of time. How he got red soda pop and land agents mixed up in these passages of scripture is your guess as well as ours. But for that very reason or similar ones, ministers often get a lot of unjust criticism. Read the above and see what you find. We did, and while we are not a very efficient Bible student, we saw no cold drinks or real estate promoters in it.

Editor Jackson of the Slaton Slatonite brought out a good thought in one of his editorials last week, which we wish to pass along. He stated that it was a great privilege to live at Slaton, and then he told us why. He admitted we have sandstorms, once in awhile too much rain and in a lot of instances too little rain. But, he continues, we do not have so much unrest, bickerings and strikes. He might have added that sometimes labor is hard to get. Just now not enough to go round in this farming section of the south Plains. Not because laborers do not want to work. And they are not striking a lot of the time when none but the leaders have any idea why they strike. Out here maybe the boss and his hands belong to the same church, lodge, or club, and you'd probably guess wrong if you, a stranger, tried to point out which was employer and employee. And you'd have just as hard time telling the children of the boss from the children of the hands at Sunday school or on the school play grounds. Yes, it is a great privilege to live on the South Plains.

Over at Anton, they are having quite a row over an old elm tree. It has even reached city court, according to the Anton News. The old tree was highly prized by a lot of old timers, but was in the way of a service station driveway. First men were seen boring holes in it supposedly to poison the tree, then one morning it was found sprawling in the street, having been cut down during the night despite "woodman spare that tree" warnings. Reminds us of an incident here in the early period of Brownfield. One old timer had planted some catabas on the north side of the square, but when sidewalks were built, they being wider than the old timer figured, the concrete walk had to be built around them. So, one night the trees were felled by use of a saw by another old timer. Anyway, there was bad blood between the two for years.

A warning is going out all over the United States for people, ex-service men particularly, to get rid of souvenir weapons they brought back from Europe. The campaign got under way when a man up in New Jersey ran amuck and killed thirteen innocent people. A lot of people reported in the press have been killed by these supposedly "unloaded" guns. One child was recently reported to have been killed by an old Civil War relic that was supposed not to have been loaded for many years. Well, you may say you're not going batty. The asylums are full of people who had just such a thought. If you have children, better play safe and get rid of your war relics.

HEALTHY SCHOLASTICS DO THE BEST WORK

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 10—The schools of Texas have been in session for several weeks. The routine screening tests by teachers and nurses or the physical examinations of the children by physicians have been completed. They are complete so far as the nurse, teacher, or examiner is concerned, but the "follow-up" to correct any abnormal conditions disclosed is yet to be done. To make these screening tests and the follow-up examinations of the greatest value, the needed care for correction of defects should be available. This is the responsibility of the parents of each child in order that a maximum of health may be his lot, declared Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Health is a cardinal attribute of living. With the best health a child may have, he will do his best work, will have joy in play, and will grow to be the most efficient citizen he is capable of being. The future of our country is in the hands of these children who are now in school.

Through the check made each year in the schools the gross defects may be learned, and a more detailed examination may be made by the family physician, with treatment for correction of these defects as he finds necessary.

Immunization against the disease, for which known protection is available, should be given all children unless their physician finds contraindication. Your physician is your best friend and guardian of your health.

HE DIDN'T APPRECIATE OUR SINGING, MUCH

Tuesday, Nov. 1, our little grandson, Robert Andrew was all of two years of age, and he had spent the night with his grandparents. As usual he was up betimes, and sashaying around the house. We tried out singing, "Happy Birthday Little Robert," but he was not interested in our "fine baritone" voice, or our intentions to entertain him.

He just continued to search through the house for something he had not discovered before.

Low Down From Hickory Grove

Some gent once said that the only law that would get his okay was one to repeal a flock of existing laws. Some of my literary friends must tell me the gent's name—I have forgotten—but he was a wise hombre, I know that.

To administer the laws of this land of the free, our nation oozes with court houses, judges, juries, lawyers. Every citizen, if he is to stay out of jail, needs a lawyer at his elbow. Even if you stay home, never venture out, you can get into trouble by just neglecting to report to the income-tax man that you received an extra buck and a half income for a bushel of apples you sold down at the store at the corner last year.

There are laws in front of us, behind us, on all sides. In just this year in one state, California, it has something around 1600 brand new laws, the paper says. And one new law they have there is a mislabeled "Aged and blind aid" law that has since turned out as a delusion and a snare—on account of the fine print nobody read at the time—and unless it is repealed the State itself will go busted and on relief. And the aged and blind, instead of being helped, will be in distress.

So, other States, if they will dust off their hearing aids and listen close, can take heed of the dire task that those Native Sons there have on their hands.

A gentleman who had just returned from a trip through the South was being questioned about the country by a young lady. One of her questions was, "And what sort of plant is the Virginia Creeper?"
"That's not a plant, my dear," was the response. "It's a railroad."

HEN 21 YEARS OLD STILL LAYS EGGS
LINCOLN, Neb.—(AP)—A hen old enough to vote is claimed by Pearl Halferty, a stock feeder for a railroad.
He said the 21 year old hen is the last survivor of a flock of 50 roosters and 48 hens he bought in 1928. She still lays an egg now and then, he said.

Club Women Will Have Style Show Saturday

A county coat and suit show will be held in the First Presbyterian church next Saturday afternoon, November 12, beginning at 2. This is the announcement made by Miss Helen Dunlap, county home demonstration agent.

The leaders which were trained in tailoring work last spring will wear suits, coats and dresses which they tailored in the home as a result of a tailoring course given during March and April.

Miss Mary Routh, State Extension Specialist in Clothing instructed leaders from Yoakum and Terry counties in training schools held in Brownfield. These leaders instructed other leaders each time they received a lesson. The leaders in Terry county, who received these instructions from Miss Routh are: Mrs. H. R. Fox, Wellman; Mrs. D. D. Qualls, Meadow; Mrs. J. H. Massingill, Pleasant Valley; Mrs. W. J. Moss and Mrs. Lillian Doak, Meadow.

Besides the leaders taking part in this style show are the children for whom they made garments as a result of the tailoring course.

The public is invited to attend this style show. All taking part will receive prizes, but the garments will not be judged.

LOCAL PEOPLE ATTEND SEAGRAVES HOMECOMING

Mr. J. L. Newsome and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stricklin, Jr., were among those from Brownfield attending the Seagraves High School Homecoming Thursday and Friday of last week.

Mr. Stricklin and Mr. Newsome are graduates of the class of '32.

The two-day affair was highlighted with a huge parade Friday afternoon and climaxed with a football game Friday night between the Seagraves Eagles and the Tahoka Bulldogs. Former students were registered at the Homecoming Cottage, where a reception was held following the parade.

Members of the class of '32 gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Doak Hearne Friday afternoon and had a most enjoyable time talking over former days.

MRS. KELLY HOSTESS TO TOKIO HD CLUB

The Tokio Home Demonstration Club met Wednesday, Nov. 2, in the home of Mrs. A. F. Kelly.

Plans were made for the November social meeting and Christmas party to be combined in one, as everybody is so busy harvesting. It will be held Friday night, December 9, at the Tokio school house for all the club members and their families.

Mrs. G. C. Perry gave a demonstration on making bead mats. Recreation was led by Mrs. Kelly.

Refreshments were served to eight members and two visitors, Mrs. Chenault and Mrs. A. L. Hicks.

FALL SEASON DANCE

The Texas State Society opened its fall season with a dance and card party at historic Gabby's Tavern in Alexandria, Va. It was in this building that Washington took over command of colonial forces. The four-story red brick building, well preserved, is now owned by the Alexandria American Legion post.

Leah Jackson, field director of the midwestern area of the American Red Cross, was in Brownfield on business last week.

Gee Gee's Chit Chat

Congratulations to Richard Young and all the fine youngsters whom he has molded into his high school band, pep squad, and junior band. If you attended the football game between Brownfield and Midland last week, you doubtless saw the junior band—52 strong—make its debut. of the trousers and on the cuffs and lapels of the jackets, these kids really did their stuff, marching behind drum major Herbaleta Singleterry and majorettes Patricia Truly and Ann Griggs. The junior band performed at half-time with the senior band and the pep squad, making one of the best half-time shows ever seen on Cub field.

Also, congratulations go to Glenna Winston, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Homer Winston, for copying another honor at Texas Tech. Glenna was chosen, over four other candidates, to represent Texas Tech at the annual Sun Festival in El Paso January 2. Among other honors this lovely brunette won are 1947 Harvest Queen crown, and the spot as head girl cheer leader at Texas Tech for the past two years.

Looking on the unlovely side for a minute, Sheriff Ocie Murry and his deputies really had a run for their money this past week end. Over a 24 hour period, some 58 drunks were enjoying the hospitality of the county jail. When asked where he put them all, Murry said it was a little like stacking cordwood. But, I guess, the drunks were so well anesthetized that they probably didn't care.

Have you noticed the sign tacked to the back of the cash register in the Brownfield Coffee Shop? If not, do so, it might be a golden opportunity just for YOU.

And have you noticed Collins' window display this week? Mrs. Harvey Gage and Mrs. Jack Browder turned out a beaut of an Armistice Day window, even down to pinning 1949 poppies on the dresses the mannequins are wearing. The center of attraction, of course, is swaths of red, white, and blue satin streaming from the top of the window down to a white satin-covered table on which the Air Medal, the Distinguished Service Cross are displayed. Completing the scene is Collins' gold star flag pinned to the right side of the back wall.

Still on the subject of Armistice Day, wherever you go on Friday, BE CAREFUL. This day will be celebrated all over the nation, symbolizing the ceasing of killing. Be sure that you observe it to a T.

That's what we said -

PRICED LIKE A SIX!

PARDON us if we appear persistent on one point.

But we still find people who look over this new Buick SPECIAL, admire its style, its room, its handy but impressive size, and say:

"It's wonderful! Too bad it's too rich for my blood!"

That's our point—How do you know?

Have you gone to see this car—and learn how very much there is in it?

Have you got the actual delivered price figures—including the equipment you want—and matched them against others?

Have you worked out down payment, trade-in, monthly installments? Have you weighed this against the longer period of years you'll be happier with this Buick—and Buick's established high level of resale values?

Some surprising things show up when you do this.

You find you can raise your standard of car travel—step up to Buick levels of style, comfort, handling, ride, power—more easily than you think.

You may even discover you can start enjoying the velvety luxury of Dynaflo Drive® right now instead of waiting until this revolutionary new principle spreads to others, as it's sure to do!

That's why we keep pointing out—this wonderful value-in-head straight-eight, with all its standout looks and qualities, is priced like a six! Actually lower than many.

So do something about it, will you? Take a sharp pencil, see your Buick dealer, replace guesses with facts—and we think you'll see the light and place that order!

TEXAS TODAY

By Dave Cheaven
Associated Press Staff
AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 10.—(P)—Texas is trying a new angle of attack on knotty legislative problems.

It has joined 22 other states in setting up a legislative council to pre-digest major laws before starting them on the formal road to enactment.

Backers of the plan hope it will result in a more orderly process of lawmaking. They hope it will eliminate some of the haphazard legislation and lawmaking blunders that have marred many past sessions.

Eventually, it may supplant the custom of setting up a wide variety of interim committees to study proposed legislation and bring it before the lawmakers. The theory is that one such committee including both senate and house members, reinforced by a technical staff of researchers, can operate more efficiently and with less expense than several such bodies.

The Texas legislative council was told at its first meeting that this has been true in Kansas, where the idea of unified between-session research was pioneered in 1933.

The speaker was Frederic H. Guild, a tart-tongued little man who admitted he might be correctly addressed as "Doctor—but not as 'Professor.'" He is the director of research for the Kansas council. His salary is $8,500 a year and he said this was a little embarrassing because it was more than the governor of Kansas got until the chief executive's salary was raised recently.

Guild told the Texas council that the idea of such legislative research agencies had been a hobby of his for many years as a member of the American Political Science Association. He admitted bias in favor of the notion of letting unbiased research dig up all the facts on which to base legislation and governmental policy, letting the chips fall where and on whom they may.

Texans in Washington

By Tex Easley
AP Special Washington Service
WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—(P)—Texans played leading parts in the long running first session of the 81st Congress.

Speaker Sam Rayburn of Bonham guided the House of Representatives keeping it at least two steps ahead of the Senate from the opening day of the session in January until adjournment the night of Oct. 19.

In fact, senators still were giving out with oratory when Rayburn banged his gavel and adjourned the House.

Before the echo of his gavel's sound had died, chairman Codley (D-N. C.) of the House Agriculture committee leaped to his feet to say three young women of his staff were on hand to sing a tribute to Speaker Rayburn and to lead the vacation-bound congressmen in some farewell melodies.

With that the three secretaries—one from Texas began to sing "The Eyes of Texas." Rayburn grinned and broke out in song, then waved to the entire house to stand for the Texas "national anthem."

Throughout the chamber the Texas members were leading the chorus, and enough other members knew the words to make the song ring out into the corridors and foyer.

Other Texas with leading roles in the work of the House were Reps. Bob Poage of Waco, who handle farm bills; George Mahon of Lubbock and Colorado City, who steered the $15,000,000,000 (B) military appropriations measure to passage, and Albert Thomas of Houston who handled the civilian agency funds.

On the state side: The veteran Tom Connally successfully piloted the administration's foreign program, as chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee.

Lyndon B. Johnson, although a new member, gained considerable recognition in conducting several hearings and led the successful fight for rejection of the nomination of Leland Olds for reappointment of the Federal Power Commission.

Baylories in Washington are plugging the drive of the University for funds to build a new stadium in Waco. Connally and Poage head the list of notable alumni here. One of Poage's assistants, Houston Clinton, Jr., class of '49 in law, handled the "kick-off" banquet launching the local drive.

The first major league baseball game to be televised was Brooklyn vs Cincinnati August 26, 1941.

CAPTURED GERMAN SCIENCE AIDS U. S.

ANTLANTIC CITY.—(P)—The United States is just beginning the reap the benefits from the huge amount of scientific information captured from the Germans after World War II," says Col. Harry A. Kuhn, U. S. A. (retired), president of the Armed Forces Chemical Association.

"The government so far has released more than 100,000 reports with data on synthetic fuels, jet missiles, chemical warfare agents and other subjects, but it will take years to evaluate all the information," he told the American Chemical Society.

Some of the more important German developments were the Fischer-Tropsch process for making synthetic oil from coal; the manufacture of high concentration hydrogen peroxide; production of white carbon black; the fire-fighting fuel chlorobromomethane; a synthetic substitute for mica, and new insecticides.

The Rugged Way
"I don't wonder at some poor wives having to help themselves out of their husband's pockets," said Mrs. Jones to Mrs. Green, as the two ladies were holding a confab on the troubles of husbands.

"I can't say I like them underhand ways myself," replied Mrs. Green. "I just turn my man's breeches upside down and help myself off the carpet."

FARM QUESTION BOX

ED W. MITCHELL

General Electric Station WGY

- Q. Please tell me the name of the paint which contains DDT to paint a bedroom and kitchen. How does this paint affect mosquitoes and flies?
- A. I guess you mean the Carbola with DDT in it. The DDT is effective for several months if not exposed to weather and gives flies and spiders nervous prostration, when they come into contact with it.
- Q. I have an old silo and we always have quite a lot of spoilage around the doors and on one side. Will using one of these patent preparations for making silage keep do any good in stopping that spoilage?
- A. No. Most of all of those preparations are either lactic acid bacteria cultures, or liquid phosphoric acid, and help if silage is made of alfalfa or other legume or immature corn that lacks enough carbohydrate and sugar to feed bacteria and develop enough acid to preserve the silage. Your loss is obviously due to lack of packing and air leaks, so packing Kraft silo paper over leaky areas and tramping silage thoroughly and having it green or wet enough to pack well is the answer to your problem. Try and tighten up that old silo as well as you can.
- Q. We have a terrific growth of purslane (wild portulaca) in our vegetable garden, which we can't seem to control. What are the characteristics of this weed and how, other than spraying, can we eliminate it? In your opinion does going through a garden with a Rototiller after weeds are pulled disturb weed seeds and induce more to grow or does it keep weeds under control?
- A. Purslane is an annual, propagated by seeds. The seeds can live up to thirty years in the soil, so there is always plenty of new seedling every time you cultivate. Purslane is very resistant to herbicides and the only practical control, I know, is to kill it with shallow hoeing. The rotary hoes are good because they do not cut deep and stir up many new seeds.
- Q. Please tell me the best way to grow strawberries; some tell me to let the runners grow, others don't.
- A. You have to let the runners grow and start new plants if you want any amount of berries. The plants you set are "mother" plants and their strength goes to runners and new plants. Thin an space runner plants to about a foot apart and depend on them for your crop the following year.
- Q. Can you tell me how to make a "self-feeder" for hogs?
- A. Yes. Build a shallow box and over that set a V-shaped hop or with the point of the V separated about two inches so the feed will fall through and over that hinge a wide top board to keep out the rain.
- Q. Can you please give me pamphlets on how to care for sage; how and when to trim it back?
- A. We have no booklet on sage, but the care and use of it is simple: keep picking off the growing tips; dry them in the sun or a slow oven and store them in airtight cans. In the fall, prune the bushes back to about eight to ten inches tall and cover with loose straw for a mulch.

Pork Is Fine Food But Better Watch

AUSTIN, Texas.—"Please pass the pork" is a familiar sentence around many dinner tables these days, as cold weather approaches. A juicy roast pork or pork chops are dishes that can't be beat, according to many connoisseurs of meat. However, pork can be dangerous if it isn't cooked long enough. So be sure that pork passes the test of thorough cooking before you put it on the table. Otherwise, trichinosis may result, said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Trichinosis is a big word, but the disease is easy to prevent. All you need to do is cook the meat until the pink color turns to white. When the change of color occurs, the meat is safe to eat. Farmers who raise hogs for sale as meat, and who feed them garbage, should cook the garbage first, or the meat may become contaminated. If butchered pork is stored at a temperature of five degrees above zero Fahrenheit, for 20 days, trichinosis parasites should die if there are any.

If a person eats a pork chop, for example, that contains trichinae, they are swallowed in the form of tiny capsules. In the intestines these capsules develop and discharge minute worms which are carried by the bloodstream to various parts of the body... settling in muscles.

GIs IN GERMANY TO HAVE COLLEGE

WASHINGTON.—(P)—Seven University of Maryland professors have left for Germany to set up the first full-time college training program for American military and civilian personnel.

The school will offer a course leading to a bachelor of military science and tactics degree. Its credits also can be applied toward degrees to be received in other colleges.

The school will be set up in cooperation with information and education authorities of the armed services. It will be known as the University of Maryland-European Command College of Special and Continuation Studies.

where after a period of time they become calcified and die.

What are the symptoms of trichinosis? Stomach upsets and muscular pains, a feeling of chilliness, sore throat, and sometimes considerable fever, are some of the signs. An acute attack of the illness lasts about one or two weeks. The disease has a low death rate, but recovery is fairly slow.

GI Questions and Answers

Q—I have an unused certificate of eligibility which I obtained from VA about a year ago. May I use it to enter a school under the GI bill this coming January, even though I understand VA is issuing new types of certificates?

A—Yes. But before you use your certificate, check with your VA regional office to make certain the school and course are those you are permitted to enroll in under the law.

Q—How much can I borrow on my converted National Service Life Insurance policy which has been in force under the permanent plan for a little over a year?

A—You may borrow up to 94 percent of the cash value of your insurance and still keep it in force. Loan application forms may be secured from your VA office.

Q—I am taking vocational training under Public Law 16 for disabled veterans and find it difficult to progress as rapidly as others taking the same course. What happens if I fail my course?

A—Generally, VA will take special steps to enter you in another course in which there is

"LAKA DA MON" OK BUT SOME TROUBLE

A few weeks ago Trends wrote a little article on the difficulties one could expect to face in securing Mexican Nationals to assist in the cotton harvest. Although enjoying the money which these nationals take back with them, the Mexican government seems to be placing every obstacle in the path of their coming to Texas.

We came across a Crosby county man this week who has been trying for six weeks to get a load of the "brascheres" from Mexico. He thinks he is approaching the end of all the red tape, as he has been given a date to come to the border after the men. But here's the list of items he has to take with him: one rubber stamp with name and address of applicant, two date stamps, one rubber stamp with "$1.50 or prevailing rate," 75 sets of onion skin paper, one-third box of carbon paper, one stamp pad and 10 indelible pencils. If he uses all that material up before he gets his Mexicans, there's still a lot of red tape before him.—Crosbyton Review.

TIME TO RID CATTLE OF PARASITES

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 10.—There is no profit in feeding the external parasites on cattle. This is the time of the year when you can get control of the ticks and lice that will take your profits if they are not controlled, says James A. Deer, assistant extension entomologist of Texas A&M College.

Cattle that are free of parasites have a better appearance, are healthier and more productive than cattle that have to use their own methods and energy to combat the insect pests. Healthy and contented cattle turn the feed and roughage they consume into meat and the mother cows kill produce stronger, healthier calves next spring.

Lice bother the cattle more in the winter and early spring when the hair is long and the best time to treat the cattle for these pests is the fall of the year. Deer says use 8 pounds of 50 per cent wettable DDD powder to 100 gallons of water and treat twice. The second treatment should come two weeks after the first. This second treatment will take care of the lice that hatch after the first treatment. In the case of dairy cattle, methoxychlor should be substituted for DDT and it can be used exactly the same as the DDT, says Deer. These control methods can be used either as sprays or dips.

Cattle will make better gains during the winter months if they are kept free of the external parasites and they will come out of the winter in much better condition says Deer.

NO HOME FOR ITALIAN COIN COLLECTION

ROME—(AP)—The Italian Ministry of Education has inherited one of the world's most valuable collection of coins, but says it cannot find a home for it. It is the 120,000-piece collection of the late King Victor Emmanuel III, who left it behind when he abdicated in 1941. He began collecting coins when he was a boy, and became a leading authority on numismatics.

Right now, it is closed up in 28 steel cabinets and 12 cases in the cellars of the Quirinale, former royal palace and home of the Popes which is now occupied by the president of Italy.

WINDY CITY PROUD OF PHONES

CHICAGO—(AP)—The first direct long distance telephone line between the United States and Alaska was opened recently. Mayor Martin H. Kennedy of Chicago spoke with Gov. Ernest Gruening of Alaska, at Juneau, beginning with this message:

"Hello, Governor. It's good to hear your voice; this equipment was built right here in Chicago."

The first radio network started operation in 1926. It was NBC.

Area Towns—

did not note much if any cotton pulling in the fields, but did note any number of grain binders on our rounds. The Latin folks just don't seem to take to working on Sunday, although they go in big for holidays, bull fights and elections on Sundays.

The little city of O'Donnell has a fine trade territory that covers a section of Lynn, Dawson and Terry counties, as it is situated in the southwest part of Lynn. It also enjoys some trade from the northwest portion of Borden county. But its trade is mostly Lynn in which it is situated, and Dawson county, the line of the two counties being in the southern part of the town.

While some fields showed a once over, some of them were as white as a snow bank. Some that had been pulled for a week or two were whitening up again, and perhaps will have to have the cotton harvester finish the job. There is also a world of grain still in the fields, but combines were going full blast Sunday.

At Lamesa, we did not go into the gin section, but turned across to the Brownfield highway by their new high school building, as we had never been nearer it than the Brownfield-Lamesa highway. It is a beauty, and we believe by next term, Brownfield will have a similar building. Out in that area of north Lamesa, is where most of the residential building has taken place in the past year or two, and some real palatial homes are built or under construction. But Lamesa is woefully behind Brownfield when it comes to paving, as little paving is in evidence in this new area.

At Pumpkin Center, Welch, Union and Brownfield, the gins appeared to be idle, as the cotton was not opening like the other section visited. This thought came to mind: Are the farmers afraid the pullers will leave their cotton in the fields, the reason some are having it gathered before all opens? And right here we might add that it is feared that a lot of the rank cotton will not open.

But if it does, some of it will
