Not Neutral—Not On The Fence—A Paper With An Opinion And A Purpose

Best Advertising Medium

The Herald subscription list is a splendid blend of town and rural readers, folks who can and do pay for their papers—they do not ask or want it donated to them. Many 30 and 40 year continuous subscriptions.

The Herald has grown with this section from strictly a ranch-country. This area now consists of thriving towns and cities, supported by scientific farming and stock farming, augmented by huge oil fields, with the nation's largest known oil reserves.

VOLUME 46

BROWNFIELD, TEXAS

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1950

NUMBER 14

Two Bond Issues To Be Voted On Next Month

The voters of the Brownfield school district will soon be privileged to pass on a bond issue of $300,000 for additional classroom repairs and a new negro school building. At the same time, they will vote to cancel $200,000 bonds voted two years ago to build a new high school, that cannot be used for the purposes now required, and not used on the new high school.

Among the improvements anticipated will be seven classroom rooms, two rest rooms and a teachers' lounge at the Randal school. Addition of twelve classroom rooms, two rest rooms and a teachers' lounge to the old high school building. To build a new negro school building and purchase a site for another elementary school building.

The school board hopes that the new bond issue will not increase valuations, or the rate more than 10c on the $100 dollar valuation during the year 1951. And if the oil play is as good as now anticipated, the rate may be decreased.

Supt. S. P. Cowan stated that the school was badly overcrowded, and that the enrollment had increased by more than 326 since school opened last month. The school bond election will be Tuesday, November 14th.

Courthouse Bond Election 7th

As stated in these columns last week, the taxpaying voters of Terry county will be called on to say whether or not the present almost unbearably crowded conditions will be taken care of by adding an addition to the present courthouse, about one-half the size of the present building.

We believe we had our say about this matter last week, and we are of the same mind today. If Brownfield and Terry county want to go forward, we must act the part of being modern, and get our county offices out of little old cubbyholes. Election, Tuesday, Nov. 7th—general election day.

We shall have a final rejoinder about this matter next week. But we know the school board has fully studied the school problem, and the commissioners the problems at the courthouse, and if the additional school room and courthouse were not needed, these men would not recommend their building.

You're A Stranger In Brownfield But Once

Eleven new folks, some with a wife, some families perhaps, while others are single persons. But all of them are given a hearty greeting to mighty good town and community, and we hope your stay is long and pleasant.

Most of the new folks have an address that was handed in to the Herald, but for good reason, we are not publishing their present address here in town, but the former address, except in one case.

Here's the new people: Robert E. Armstrong, Mexia; Ike Bayliffe, Colorado City; Roy M. Cass, and John R. Elzey, both of Snyder; Mr. and Mrs. Gallally, no former address; J. L. Lively, Palestine; Douglas H. James, Snyder; L. D. McCartney, Duncan, Okla.; Wilton B. Smith, Snyder; C. A. Strong, Ranger and Luther M. Tindall, Oakland, Calif.

NOTICE

Friday night and Saturday, Oct. 27 and 28, all persons over 65 years old will be admitted free at the Rialto Theatre to see "Car-boc Trail," the Jones Theatre management announced.

The Oil Situation In Terry County Is Still Encouraging

The reef oil situation is still looking good in this area, and if and when some offsets to the Cotten well are brought in, the situation will be vastly improved. But thousands of people are betting that there will be two or more big reef pools in Terry county, and are planking down their dollars based on that promise.

In fact you meet new people every day, perhaps several of them. Of course the most of them are looking for some place to stay. A room, an apartment or a house. But scattered among these are some that are looking for real estate for sale. Some don't go into details just what they want, and we do not quiz them as that is out of our line. We refer them to our real estate dealers.

Three New Wells Past Week

In last week's paper, we believe we informed the reader that Magnolia Petroleum Co., had a well, No. 1 Scales, an east offset of the Anderson-Pritchard No. 1 Beaver, the discovery well of the Wellman pool. This well was given an official pronation test this week at 2200 barrels per day, 43.2 gravity oil.

In the meantime, it would seem that the Beaver No. 3, south offset of the discovery, is going to make a fine well, much better than the discovery, which was rated 2280 barrels of high grade oil. Some think No. 3 will go close to 4000 barrels per day.

United Nations Flag Flies In Brownfield

Tuesday was the first time many of us here in Brownfield ever saw the United Nations flag, except a picture. The flag was flown by its sponsors, the County Home Demonstration clubs, side by side with the Stars and Stripes, both about the same height from the ground, on the northwest corner of the courthouse square.

It was flown from the pole that had been used for the Texas flag. There has been some controversy over the flying of the UN flag, mostly on the Pacific coast, but some reported in some parts of Texas. So far as we know, none developed here. Most people understand that the Stars and Stripes is still the national flag, while the UN flag is international.

RITES CONDUCTED FOR H. P. PENDERGRASS

Herman Porter Pendergrass, 56, a resident of Meadow since 1922, died in the local hospital Friday evening after a month's illness. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon in the Meadow Church of Christ, with Elder O. D. Dial reading the last rites.

NICK'S CAFE UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

Dr. Wayne C. Hill and Ivon S. Hill purchased Nick's Cafe from A. R. Nicholson and D. C. Brady this week. The establishment will be managed by Ivon Hill, 29, who comes to Brownfield from Los Angeles, Calif. The new owners state that there will be no change in present personnel and they will continue to serve the same good food. The cafe will start opening at 6 a.m. and close at midnight.

ADDITIONAL PRIZE ADDED BY CITY DRUG

Added to the prize list by City Drug is a choice of Remington, Schick or Sunbeam electric razor if a man wins, or a choice of $25 worth of DuBarry cosmetics if a woman wins.

Civic pride is a way of life. It is the quality of living that is expressed in good schools, the good farms, the progressive business and industry, the friendly neighborhood, the proud community.

Being a way of life it must come from within the people; it is nourished by knowledge and grows as an obligation in human relations.

Funeral Services Held For M. E. Dumas

Funeral services for M. E. Dumas, 68, of Plains, who died Sunday night in the local hospital, were held in Plains at the First Baptist church Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mr. Dumas had been a resident of Plains since 1912, where he had been in general insurance and abstracting business until his recent illness.

Survivors include his wife; three sons, Ed, Jr., of Plains, Charlie of Seminole, and Duane of Andrews, three daughters, Jannella of Plains, Mrs. Della Whisenant of Andrews and Mrs. Nancy Houston of Phoenix, Ariz. One brother, Henry Dumas of Kern, N. M., and two sisters, Miss Elizabeth Dumas and Mrs. Minnie Patterson of Seagraves.

Most people understand that the Stars and Stripes is still the national flag, while the UN flag is international.

Right now hopes are high that the 52 nations, other than Russia and her satellites, who are really supporting United Nations, will be able in the future to guarantee the peace and freedom of all nations, and that the aggressor nations will be afraid to attack any of them.

With this ray of hope, organizations such as the HD clubs of Texas, schools and other institutions, flew the new flag of world freedom in many nations of the world. At the same time, General Clay dedicated the Freedom Bell over in Berlin, and its tones were heard even behind the iron curtain, and throughout the civilized world where people listen to their radios.

E. O. Reeves has been added to the personnel of Griggs-Goble Furniture Co.

Mr. Reeves was formerly employed with White Auto and Furniture in Childress. He and his wife will live here.

McGowan Doubling Capacity of Building

Without a consultation or even asking our permission, that law firm of Joe J. McGowan and son, Billie Joe have added another 50 feet to their law and abstract office on the west side of the square, going back a full 100 feet. We thought the place looked peculiar when we'd peek in to yell some insult but only late last week really discovered the addition.

Recently, it will be remembered if you read the Herald closely, they have added another partner to their firm, in the person of Mr. Robert L. Trimble. There was no place for a desk for Mr. Trimble, nor was there room for the expansion of the employee personnel. When the new part is finished, this will be an office second to none.

But we'll tell you more about the fine arrangements when the new building is completed, probably this week, and the new furniture arrives. Found one 8x10 dark cubbyhole, which Joe Sr. says will be his office.

Anyway, we recall when Joe as a young man, just finishing law school and came to Brownfield along with the railroad to grow up with the town. Another young lawyer came, but the going was too tough for him and he headed back down below the caprock.

Joe stuck it out, got married, and reared a fine son, if we do say it. And we do not suppose that Joe regrets waiting in the lean years for the better days ahead. He served two or three terms as Mayor of Brownfield back in the twenties.

MORSON TRAILER PARK TO OPEN SOON

Brownfield will soon have one of the most modern trailer camps when the Marson Camp will be completed within the next 45 days, according to Sam Privitt and Dick Kendrick.

The new camp will be located on the Tahoka highway just east of the Marson apartment house and will accommodate 50 trailers. It will be close to the schools and also on the school bus line. The camp will have bath facilities, one of the most modern laundry rooms and will have a play park for the children.

NOTICE

Rugs made from scraps by the HD club women of Terry county will be shown in the educational exhibit, placed in the Ford implement house on east side of square, Saturday, Oct. 28. The public is invited to attend this showing.

W. R. McDuffie, president of the First National Bank, announces the addition of Dennis Q. Lilly as vice-president in charge of the agricultural department, to the panel of new officers listed last week.

Mr. Lilly needs no introduction to the people of this area, as he has lived in Brownfield for 16 years. He has been with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Farmers Home Administration.

He has a wife and four children, Hugh Tucker of Marble Falls, Gayle, who is Mrs. R. L. DeBusk of Rails, and Ann and Peggy who are at home.

Grain Co. Building Huge Warehouse

Driving in over the Plains highway the other day, we noted that a building was going up just south of the long line of grain elevators at the Grady Goodpasture Grain & Milling location. So, we dropped by to ask a few questions about the matter.

We were informed that this building will be a warehouse, 100x400 feet, to augment the storing of the huge grain crop this year. Eleven more elevators 105 feet high and some 30 feet across the top were added as storage this year.

Two blocks north of the plant, on a block of land in the 1st addition to Brownfield, there are three warehouses that were built last year, each 80x140. And this year, steel tanks such as oil companies use for oil storage, are being put down on the block near the warehouse mentioned above.

Old Grady is playing the dickens with that sharp decline that slopes off into Lost Draw, and is transforming it into commercial purposes. Just a bit further down, the big concrete mixing plant was built this year.

They are having to go down into the draw with bulldozers and find dirt to level up under the floor for the new warehouse.

Miss Mary Ballard is in Dallas and Fort Worth this week attending market for the Go're Shop.

Furr's New Store To Hold Formal Opening

The management of the new Furr store located in the 300 block of south Fifth street, will be in the new store and ready for business Friday and Saturday, Nov. 3 and 4th. But as this is written, they have not fully decided just what date will be termed as Formal Opening Date.

Business as usual will be transacted this weekend at the old location on the south side of the square. But Monday through Thursday of next week, the store will be closed while they move to the new location. Keep this fact in mind. Pictured below is an architect's sketch showing the new Furr building as it will appear upon its completion.

This store was a raw piece of land the first of this month, when the bulldozers began leveling it. Today, it is a beautiful brick, tile and steel building with dimensions of some 105x118 feet. Work was carried on in two or three shifts part of the time to complete as soon as possible.

Be sure to watch for the formal opening date, as it will be worth your time to call. There will be a floor show, gifts for all as well as refreshments for all callers.

Death of Mr. Shewmake Was Purely Accidental

R. D. Shewmake, Jr., was in late last week, and requested us to make a bit further explanation of the death of his father week before last, which happened on the Homer Winston farm in north Gaines county. He said they were fearful the way the article appeared that some would say that Judge Homer Winston did not know anything about a tractor, and his father's death was caused by carelessness on the part of Winston.

R. D. Jr. went on to explain that his dad was standing on a small platform on the axle of the tractor, when he stepped off to get on the platform of the combine the tractor was pulling. That was when his dad's foot slipped, and he was run over by the wheel of the combine, several feet to the rear of the driver of the tractor, and not possible for the driver to see unless he looked back over his shoulder.

We might also add that Judge Winston told us personally that Mr. Shewmake had worked for him on his farm for years, and that he loved him like a brother. The Shewmake family do not blame Judge Winston in the least for their dad's death; others should not.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Johnson and children, Janet and Ralph, Jr., of El Paso, were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Clements.

GERMAN JOKES BLAST STALIN

BERLIN—(P)—People in Soviet-occupied Eastern Germany can't do anything against the Russians or the Communists. So at least they think up new anti-Russian jokes every day. The latest:

An East Zone policeman on patrol saw a little girl standing in front of a huge cardboard portrait of Generalissimo Stalin. She was extending a handful of grass toward him. When the policeman asked the girl what she was doing, she replied: "My father says things won't get better until Stalin bites the grass." This is the German expression for biting the dust.

Recently, Ketter was hurt in another traffic accident. His left leg was shattered in almost the same place. Dr. Harold Norris says he believes resetting the bone straightened the angle of Ketter's leg.

A Few Crops Seen Sunday Afternoon

In order to get waked up late Sunday afternoon the writer and wife took a small sashay jaunt in a part of the county we had not seen in some time. Crossing the railroad a mile out of town, we took in through the Kelly Sears Sawbuck section, and on west to the road south of Gomez, thence south to highway 62, and back in home. Not a long drive, but an interesting one. Saw some mighty good crops on the route, but found a place or two that had banged up badly, and while they will make some feed, the cotton will be light in that part of the county. Fortunately, the area of the hail was not extensive.

Saw lots of wheat too, and it is looking as flourishing as a green bay tree, and in some instances had cattle and other livestock grazing on it. Only untoward incidences was that some of the farmers had some unruly pups that insisted on chasing our old car for some distance away from their home.

When they finally stopped and decided to go back home, they always looked well pleased as if they thought that doggone jitney would never bother them again.

FLYING NEWS AND VIEWS

By EDWIN E. DUNCAN

The only pilot from Brownfield to attend the airport dedication at Borger last Wednesday was Robert Stone, who made the trip in the Cruiser. Robert, only 16 years of age, was the youngest pilot to fly to the all-day affair, and as a result was awarded a beautiful Live-Blade razor for that honor. He reports the program and the new airport were something of which Borger can be proud.

It certainly looks like the air age is here. At least there has been a great change over some of the old methods of several years back. For example, a rancher over at Jal, N. M., recently decided that he should go in quest of some new grazing land for his herd. Thirty or forty years ago he might have climbed onto his faithful old pony, or more recently he might have fired up his Ford and started out. But Monday morning was different for F. J. Medeira. He simply climbed into his Cessna 170 and began his aerial search. Brownfield was one of the many stops he made during the day.

We understand the flying businessmen, farmers, etc., have brought so much business into Plainview that the Chamber of Commerce of that city has stationed a car at the airport especially for their convenience in getting into town. The Chamber of Commerce in Brownfield has as yet not taken any steps along that line, but visiting pilots at the local airport never have to worry about transportation into town as it is always promptly provided.

Speaking of transportation from airport to town, I've run into complications more than once when landing at the Lubbock airport. However, here lately I have worked out a system that so far has yet to fail. An aunt of mine has a home in the new addition just to the south of the Lubbock airport, and usually while making my traffic pattern I pass directly over her house. Three or four burps of my engine will attract her attention and by the time I have landed and tied my plane down, she is usually at the airport in her car waiting for me. (Incidentally, fellows, it would be useless for you to try burping your motor in that neighborhood unless you are flying a Cessna 120 with a certain license number.)

J. J. Handley, Jr., and Robert Stone flew to Plainview Sunday afternoon in Handley's Paer. They report a pleasant visit with Alfred Cornbeise of Brownfield, who is attending Wayland and is an instructor and mechanic at the airport there.

Among the flying farmers from Lamesa and that vicinity who came to Brownfield Sunday afternoon were Maurice Morris in his Clipper, Arvel Brown in his cruiser, and Mr. Nance in his Vagabond. These flyers all have their own private landing strips.

Major Terrell J. Davis, C. A. P., of Breckenridge, flew up to Brownfield Sunday with a friend in a Cub Coupe to pick up a Piper Cruiser he had recently purchased from R. E. Coleman, Sr., of Denver City.

N. B. Hunt, representing the Hunt Oil Co., of Dallas, was in Thursday in a Cessna 195.

The second Annual Air Tour, in progress this week, passed through this area Monday when the group flew from Big Spring to Lubbock and on to Plainview. The tour began in Temple on October 21 and will be completed Saturday, Oct. 28 in Eagle Pass.

The past week the airport runways have been put to several uses other than for what they were originally intended. One of the uses was as a testing grounds for the hot-rod car built by the boys at Portwood Motor Co. Another was the flying of model airplanes Sunday afternoon. Although the model pilots were on a runway not being used by the big planes, some of the boys in the bigger jobs had their fun buzzing the models and their pilots. However, judging from the number of cars down on the runway, the noisy little buzzers certainly drew their share of the Sunday afternoon sight seers.

Terry To Have Another Field Day

On account of the fact that a late very destructive hail hit the County Experiment farm last year, the Field Day was called off. But we have been on and around the farm enough this year to find they have an average or above average crop in prospect. There is going to be to something more than just crops to look at, too, as soil conservation is to be one of the main aims of the day. As most people know, the County Experiment farm consists of some mixed lands as well as some that were real sandy. The latter has been mixed by deep breaking in that area. Those ugly old mounds of sand on the north half have been leveled, some terraced, where needed, and presently a fine stand of wheat is growing on some of this land. Hugh Porterfield is in charge of the farm, and will head the conducted tour of the farm.

Field Day this year is being sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, the Soil Conservation services, and County Agent James Foy. Those that make the trip will be privileged to see some of the popular pasture grasses that are now being propagated and grown here in Terry and adjoining counties, as well as some of the legumes that are being turned under to enrich the soil.

Some one stated recently that if we allow our soil to blow or wash away, we are doomed to starve here in big old Texas and America. And that is careless and indifferent to soil erosion just because we have a new country with rich top soil, is sentencing the children that are coming on to a life of privation. The best inheritance that we can will our offsprings is a rich, productive soil.

Then too, the visitor out at the Experiment Farm Nov. 10, will see a number of different varieties of cotton as well as sorghum grains growing near each other, and can better select the variety suited to his particular farm.

We believe there were some 300 cars that made the trip in 1948. We hope there will be that many or more this time. It will be well worth your time, and as Nov. 10 comes on Friday, it will not be difficult for town people to get off for the afternoon or day.

Let's begin to talk up Field Day, November 10th.

WISHES HE STILL OWNED THE LAND SOUTH OF TOWN

Hadn't seen Mr. Stoneman since Meek was a pup until Tuesday afternoon getting his afternoon Arbuckle at the Grill. He now lives out in the Ruidoso section of New Mexico.

Mr. Stoneman stated that he once owned some land out south of town, and with oil found in that region, he wishes he still had it.

Albert E. Nicholson, senior at the Texas A & M college, has been promoted to Lt-Colonel in the cadet corps. He was also rated as a "distinguished military student."

And while we are asking questions, we'll ask one that so far as we know, no collarite has yet answered: "Does anyone in Texas or the United States believe for one minute that Mr. Truman and his Supreme Court would have coveted the tidelands of California, Louisiana or Texas had there been no oil found under them? And here's another for the voter-straight boys. Why hasn't HST and his nine old hired boys said a word about taking the tidelands of any state east of Louisiana on the gulf coast, or any of the several on the Atlantic Coast? And you "middle of the roaders," and "right-it-out in the party" boys can take the cork under and come up with an answer to the above if you like. While we are conducting a quiz program, it is open for all to take a crack at.

And while talking about that "fighting it out in the party" program that we hear so much about, we have never heard one of these guys tell anyone how this is to be done, not a one of them. The leaders of the Democratic party, so-called at Washington, or in the north, do not deem it necessary to explain this phase of their policies. And they suffer no back talk from the polarstar. They try to explain that northern Democrats are more sympathetic to the south than Republicans. They failed to explain why they think so. On the other hand the records show that Republicans vote more nearly with the southern congressmen and senators than do the northern Democrats, especially on state-rights propositions, such as FEPC, tidelands, unlimited debate, etc. Truman's biggest backing comes from almost solid support of left-wing northerners. It is true that he gets some backing from the more radical element of the GOP, such for instance as Martin of Massachusetts. Some one will have to give the Herald a better reason than any yet advanced by southern apologists of the administration, how the south, the home of true Democracy, is ever going to get anything but Cracked Deal from those now running the party of the donkey. We do not have a great deal of use for the word "liberal" or for that matter, "conservative." Some one has invented a new one lately that suits us much better, which they designate, "constructive."

General Ike Eisenhower does not open that big old, rather common looking mouth of his that something intelligent and worth while does not come out—something sensible and worth while to the nation. As a sample, in a recent speech at Denver, he said, among other things: "It would do no good to defend our liberties against Communistic aggression, and lose them to our greed, ignorance and shiftless reliance on bureaucracy and the Federal treasury." On the other hand, he strenuously advocated the tightening of our belts, and to step up the production of bullets and not particularly more butter to be stored in caves to rot. To quit thinking about business as usual, and that our action in Korea is something much worse than just "police action" for political reasons, for the election coming up. It is war, and won at the cost of thousands of the flower of our young manhood, who are worth more than all the politicians in Washington. The do-gooders, with huge money bags, must be stopped in their tracks and our war production efforts stepped up from 17 to 30 or more billion dollars, in order to try to stave off World War III. We are all glad that the Sneate Banking Committee had the foresight to write in to one the huge defense appropriations lately the proviso that Mr. Truman nor none of his bunch will have any right to sidetrack any of these funds in some kind of a Brannanizing plan. The use of these funds were absolutely forbidden in any kind of support plans. The congress is learning that the administration is somewhat like a little boy; it cannot be turned loose with a big fat purse to spend as it may wish.

One of our exchanges was recently telling us about the east Texas farmers roaring and ranting last spring on being cut back deep on their cotton planting after gradually getting back into production after being practically out for a number of years during war time, raising food products mostly. And now, so the exchange goes on to say, they are miffed because they are not allowed to plant the hoss lot, potato patch and garden in cotton. Well, to our notion, the farmers in east, north and south Texas have a right to roar if they wish—all the rest of us ache when not suited. We might add that west Texas farmers are right now up in the air against the ukase to stop all cotton exports. HST says we need all the cotton here at home, in warehouses, caves, etc., we suppose, like the 'aters, eggs, butter and powdered milk, to rot and spoil. And while about it, we have an idea that neither Messrs. Truman or Brannan ever saw many cotton fields, except from the pullman windows. They know just as much about the cotton business as we know about the maple syrup business up in Vermont, and that's exactly nothing. Many of our local farmers are fast waking up to the fact that it is not worth the "payments" they get to be forever pushed around.

Most of us are still wondering why President Truman made his trip to Wake Island, if not for political reasons. Mr. Truman is commander in chief of all armed forces, and as such, he could have ordered Gen. MacArthur to come, not to Wake, not to Pearl Harbor, or San Francisco, but to Washington for a consultation. Was HST afraid that if MacArthur came to the USA that parades in his honor would be put on in various cities, and detract from the possibility of the Democrats winning the election next month? Has Mack failed to deliver the goods in either Pacific campaign in War II, the occupation of Japan or subduing the Reds in Korea? Does he need any advice on campaigns from an artillery captain? Why all the waste of time and money the nation needs so badly, and for which the people are subjected to insufferable taxes? Truman says he and Mack were already agreed on Korea and Formosa. Another noticeable thing was the meeting place. This little island that one could almost spit across, was valiantly defended by Marines during the war—the boys that HST recently put his foot in his mouth about. The Marines held the island despite all the h-1 the well armed Japs could deliver. Well maybe, HST decided he would meet a lot of yokels in the west and mid-west by bowing, grinning and waving his fedora, and harvest a few doubtful votes. Even the casual reader knows that it was the blunders both diplomatically and in war preparedness that caught Uncle Sam with his trousers down in the campaign against the Reds that we almost lost in Korea, and now against Red China in Indonesia. But back to elections. One of the high moguls gave it out Sunday that HST would be a candidate for re-election, as if everyone didn't know that he had been a candidate since his inauguration in 1948.

Recently the Rev. Robert H. Sweeney, president of the University of Portland gave a very interesting address to the student body. He pointed out the fact that two men in that number of universities in Germany were responsible for the propagation of the doctrine of Hegel and Marx in that twice defeated country in the past century. He went on to state that no teacher would ever be permitted to teach either the doctrine of totalitarianism or communism while he was head of the institution. The main aim of the student, he pointed out, was to "learn to live, and not just learn to make a living." As we understand the matter, Dr. Sweeney is a Catholic and the U. of P., a Catholic institution, as he was referred to in the article as "father." This is indeed a refreshing attitude, in view of the fact that in many institutions these days, young folks are taught a strange political economy, one that is distinctly adverse to the doctrine that has been handed down heretofore, and that made this nation great. They forget that it was the work, planning and economy of the founding fathers of the nation and our schools, that made such schools as Portland University possible in which some of the modern ideas is taught that the nation owes them a living, instead of being the support of the nation. Would that more of our schools, from primary to the universities would bear down more on "rugged individualism."

The biggest windmill in the world, producing electricity experimentally, is on "Granpa's Knob," a peak in the Vermont mountains.

HOW BONERS ARE BORN
KHARTOUM, Anglo-Egyptian Sudan—(P)—The Official Sudan Monthly Record entered a red-faced apology for its report on "anti-natal" clinics proposed for Port Sudan. After a correspondent pointed out that such clinics would make unnecessary a projected mid-wifery school there, the record said it regretted the error—that "ante-natal" was, of course, intended.

PEPPER FETCHES BOOM PRICES
SINGAPORE —(P)—Malayan black pepper is fetching boom prices in Europe owing to a world shortage and insufficient production to cope with demand.
There is a steady demand from London, New York, Hamburg and Holland. Recently a substantial cargo of urgently needed black pepper was flown to Hamburg.

Stricklinly Speaking

By Old He
Editor Jackson of the Slaton Stationite was taking squirrels, cats or otherwise to a cleaning last week. He closed his tirade against the bushy tails with this reminder: "I'd rather have a couple of rhinoceroses" Was that a liberal right, Bro. Jackson? Or should you have had two of three sees on the end of the name, rhinorecercees? Answer me that?

Some strange things are coming out of old socialistic England these days. Last week, we believe on the same day, we cut two articles from two of our favorite dailies about the doings over there.
No. 1 stated that one farmer had hired a man for years at a stipulated $2.80 per week, $1.95 in tobacco, and the other 95c in money (U. S. equivalent.) Both were satisfied, but the authorities heard about the matter and hailed the farmer into court and made him dig up a lot of back pay. Now the hired man is afraid he'll not get his 'bacca and 85c from this on. That is socialism in England, and it is working to that same standard here in America.

No. 2 was a case in which a pushcart merchant was fined because his scales were found wrong. He had not been giving his customers 14 or 15 ounces on his scales. They were wrong the other way around, and the pushcart merchant had been losing an ounce on each bill he sold at 17 ounces to the pound. This was added to the article about Kenneth Walker, the pushcart merchant:

"When a planned society goes into planning high, the going can get a bit thick now and then. But the legal mind rides high and hard. In a planned society, Kenneth Walker is a bad citizen. Obviously."

Well, we see by the papers and hear by the radio that it will cost from 2 to 5 billion dollars to rehabilitate Korea following the end of the war. And we guess this will include the aggressor part, north Korea. Further, Uncle Santa Claus will be expected to stand the gaff. Plague on both their houses.

Well, times change, but usually there is always one guy that gets the bill for the feed. He is termed a regular guy.

Then we are reminded that new methods are somewhat different from the old way. When a lad we used to carry the old nag to the blacksmith shop to have some new shoes fitted. The blacksmith did not suggest that you buy a new bit for the bridle, or that the old mare's fetlocks or bangs be trimmed. He just shod old Moll and let it go at that.

But now days when you drive your vehicle in to have the spark plugs cleaned, a half dozen other things affecting the old bus will be suggested at so much per. If you get by for less than 50 bucks you are a good evader, and should get by the draft, easy.

All of us live to learn. Grandma was real sore because the kids and other femes of the community teased her a bout a shiner, she received by "running into" a door knob. She then raised a rucus with the wrong dame about the matter and got another shiner. Some people are never satisfied.

And speaking of rukuses, reminds us that Deputy Sheriff Cliff Jones told a reporter for this sheet that in a raid the Sheriff's department had arrested 16 of the local gambling fraternity, all prominent citizens, and offered to give the names if we wanted to print them.

We deferred the matter, but if there is another raid, we are going to print the names of the participants if it takes all the capital letters we have in the office. Grown men have no more right to break the law than the teenagers. And most of us are all on their necks if they deviate in the least from the path of righteousness.

Heard Ben Guill, Republican candidate for Congress of the 18th district over the Amarillo radio Monday night, but his speech sounded more like an old time Democrat than anything we have heard in moons. In fact, the GOP and the Raw Dealers have shifted, the GOP to where the Democrats were 20 years ago, and the Raw Dealers to the Socialist position of that time.

During the speech, Guill stated that the RD element whipped most of the Texans in line to keep from over-riding the Truman veto of the tidelands steal. One hundred four Republicans present voted to over-ride, and some 20 odd Democrats, among them 10 Texans present. So the record is clear as to whom is stealing a billion dollars or more from Texas school children.

Truth and Consequences, N. M., is once again just plain old Hot Springs, New Mexico, changed about a year ago by a vast majority of voters, supposedly as an advertising stunt in a radio program. A District Judge held that, "the TRUTH of the matter is the election was illegally held, and as a CONSEQUENCE, the town is Hot Springs again."
Probably that fact won't bother the natives too much, except the postoffice force. They want the people to make up their minds, as frequent changes is a headache to them.

We read a very interesting article one night recently, entitled, "The Strange Death of Abraham Lincoln." The article was not written by a Southerner but by a northern man, and the pamphlet printed in Indiana. The burden of all evidence dug up was that Booth was not the assassin, nor was it he who was killed in a barn in Virginia.

That President Andy Johnson had boasted he would be the president—if Lincoln died—that he was drunk the day of Lincoln's second inauguration, as well as the night Lincoln was shot at Ford's theatre. And that Secretary of War Stanton lent no help from the army in finding the murderer; was very dumb and non-communicative until he learned that a man, supposed to be Booth, had been killed.

We read an article along the same line several years ago, which leads one to conclude that Southern sympathizers had nothing whatever to do with the assassination, as they have always maintained. Lincoln was for readmitting the South into the union as soon as possible. Most of his cabinet was for making the South the serf of industrial north, and this included Vice-President Andrew Johnson, as well as Stanton.

Veep Barkley is out busily advising voters not to change "hosses" in midstream. Where have we heard that one before? And would it apply two years hence? This leads the Paris News to ask, "are we always in midstream or the ocean?"

Harold Carpenter and family were here Sunday from Hobbs, N. M., as guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Carpenter.

THERE'S a change of the year for your Buick, too, stalwart as it is! Hot summer driving has taken its toll—in played-out lubricants, spark timing that may have slipped off a notch or two over the many miles, a carburetor that would probably give you better mileage and snag if it were properly adjusted now for fall driving.

Point is—your Buick will feel a lot friskier in the trying days to come if you let your Buick dealer get those summer kinks out of its system now! Just drive in—say you want (1) a fall tune-up and (2) a regular Lubricare—and see how much rewarded you are, for a small fee!

Do it this week, will you? Before the rush, you can be served more promptly.

Service Office News

C. L. Lincoln

Veterans Going Back Into Service
WW II veterans enlisting, or recalled to service in the armed forces, should be advised by service officers to immediately notify the VA if they are receiving compensation or subsistence allowance, because a veteran is not entitled to receive compensation or subsistence allowance from the VA at the same time he is drawing pay for active duty in the armed force. If the veteran fails to notify the VA of his return to active duty and continues to receive such payments, the VA is required to seek recovery of the illegal payment.

Veterans returning to service should make certain that their NSLI policies do not lapse and to be certain he can mail the premium the month following his return to active duty to the VA district office handling his policy, along with a notification that future premiums will be paid by allotment from service pay and immediately make arrangements to have his respective branch of service deduct the necessary amount of premiums from his service pay.

Spanish-American Vet Bill

Congress overwhelmingly voted to override President Truman's veto of the bill to grant outpatient treatment to all Spanish-American War veterans and the bill is now Public Law 791.

This law makes Spanish-American War veterans eligible for outpatient treatment at VA hospitals as well as for treatment by more physicians on a fee basis, even though their disabilities and diseases of that war's veterans

"service connected," for the purpose of outpatient treatment. Members of the armed forces who fought in the Boxer Rebellion and in the Philippine insurrection also qualify for this outpatient or clinic treatment under this new law.

Another NSLI Dividend to Come

The VA has announced that veterans can expect a second NSLI dividend on the anniversary dates of their policies in 1951. However present plans for starting payment on January 1, 1951, may be disrupted, if the budget bureau slices away very much of the money requested to cover the administrative expenses of the dividend.

According to VA its dividend division is now greatly overloaded with about 8,000 applications a day, compared to about 1,000 a day before the Korean war began.

Remarriage of a Widow

Generally, when a widow remarries she loses all right to any pension benefits on her own account. If she has been in receipt of additional pension or compensation benefits on account of a minor child, benefits for the child are held in abeyance pending the evidence of remarriage, the name and address of the person then having custody, the child's income in non-service connected cases, and the subsequent appointments of a fiduciary, either guardian or custodian, to receive payments. Insurance installment checks may be held in abeyance or remarriage until the change in name and address over the payee's signature have been recorded. Certified copy of the marriage certificate should be furnished promptly to insure expeditious action. In this connection, it should be noted that generally a remarried widow loses her right to any gratuitous insurance. A remarried widow is not entitled to any check addressed to her as the unmarried widow and any such check should be returned to the Disbursing Officer of the Treasury Division who issued them.

Hazardous Adventure

Romance and mountaineering form the twin themes of RKO Radio's remarkable drama in color by Technicolor, "The White Tower," which co-stars Glenn Ford, Valli, Claude Rains and Oscar Homolka.

Ford is cast as an American flier, Miss Valli as an Italian girl, Rains as a French intellectual and Homolka as a Swiss guide. These four, with an elderly Englishman and a young German, decide to climb The White Tower a forbidding peak which has resisted all efforts to scale its heights.

In the perilous struggle to reach the top, each climber finds his true worth, and the dramatic tension of the plot is enhanced by the striking color photography. The entire company spent three weeks on the icy slopes of Mont Blanc in the French Alps filming the scenes.

Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Lloyd Bridges, June Clayworth and Lotte Stein head the featured cast.

Holland once had about 8,000 windmills but only about 1,300 now.

'Prince of Peace' Is Answer To Plea For Better Movies

Comments among local residents who witnessed a special advance screening of "The Prince of Peace" recently, were high in praise of the unusual film. Many among the specially invited audience thought the film was one of the most timely and informative as well as entertaining, to be released from Hollywood so far. "It definitely answers the need for better and more wholesome film fare" was the comment most often heard. All agreed that "The Prince of Peace" is a film every man, woman and child in Brownfield should see.

This film, which has been breaking boxoffice records from coast to coast ever since its release to the general public in 1949, opens at both the Rig Drive-in and Rio theatres on Tuesday, Oct. 31.

"The Prince of Peace" is a story woven around the world famous Lawton, Okla., Easter pageant which annually draws crowds of over 300,000 people. They come from all over the world to see this unusual and breathtakingly beautiful religious spectacle which has fast become America's most famous passion play. The picture was filmed in the summer and fall of 1948, following that year's Easter pageant which was seen by close to 500,000 people. The tremendous cast in the film numbering over 3,000 people, most of whom are native Oklahomans who portrayed the same roles in the year's pageant, give the picture an unusual realism. All who take roles in the pageant scenes are natives of the "Sooner State."

The role of Jesus is played by a bank teller, Millard Coody. Mr. Coody gives the role great emotional depth and sincerity. Darlene Bridges, a housewife and mother, of Lawton, portrays the Virgin Mary with inspiration and reverence. The film is rich in color and costume of Biblical times, and the musical background throughout the movie is an inspiration in itself.

NEEDMORE HD CLUB MET OCT. 12 WITH MRS. SETTLES

The Needmore HD club met in the home of Mrs. Dock Settles. All members were present. We served dinner to the women touring the county, also a visitman from Tahoka.

After going to see several of our members outstanding work, our business meeting came to order. Plans were made for our Thanksgiving supper. Also our adopted girl was discussed.

Our day was well spent and very enjoyable.

We were proud of our visitor, Mrs. W. H. Wagner.

Dudley Repp Jr., was down last week, and was a pleasant caller at the Herald office. Partly reared here, and attending school while his dad was compress superintendent, Jr. was a general favorite. His mother also was once Society Editor of the Herald.

The better half landed on us with all both feet last week when in welcoming the McDuffies back to Brownfield, we skipped the daughter, Miss Christine. While now a married lady, we are sorry we failed to include her in the welcoming writup.

We have his instruction to draft on him from this on when his paper-nears the expiration day, as his parents, brothers, etc. still live here, and he and family until some 15 years ago.

CARD OF THANKS
Mrs. George Tiernan wishes to thank her many friends for the lovely gifts, flowers and the party which made her 80th birthday a happy one.

To The Citizens Of Terry County:
It has been and will continue to be the policy of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce to participate in any worth while project or civic program that will benefit the citizens of Terry county and make Terry county a better place to live and do business.
We believe that a majority of the citizens of this county want to see progress and have faith in the future of Terry county, and our decision to support the School Bond issue and the County Court-house Bond issue was based on those beliefs, plus a thorough investigation of the present and anticipated future needs of its schools and county government.
Every citizen of Terry county has a task to perform and an obligation to his government, schools and fellow citizens to fulfill.
We are all conscious of our daily tasks, and they usually are many and frequently quite annoying, however, we have a much larger task toward which we strive. Sometimes we call it a goal, but more often than not we do not visualize clearly the principle object of our tasks, and as we have stated before our task should be to make Terry county a better place to live and do business.
Finding our task is not in itself easy, meeting our obligations may be more difficult and inconvenient, but these are things that we must do if we are to call ourselves a good citizen and a worth while member of the human race.
We came on this earth not to just enjoy its advantages and opportunities which have been prepared for us. We have come here to add something ourselves and leave the world and our community a little richer and better off because we have passed this way.
Officers & Directors of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce.

CARD OF THANKS
We would like to thank our many friends for their kindness and lovely flowers during the illness and death of our dear husband and father. May God bless each of you.
