200,000 freshmen can't be wrong!

We believe that something has happened in 1950 that you should take to heart.

Ever since this year's Buicks were introduced, their big bulge in sales has come from people who traded other makes of cars for this bounteous beauty.

The total is more than 200,000.

That's 200,000 "freshmen" added to the roll call of Buick owners-200,000 people who must have sized up the current version of the cars they owned, and decided that Buick offered more thrill, more comfort, more satisfaction for the money.

Beyond that, of course, there were other hundreds of thousands who already owned a Buick and bought a new one this year. But we're speaking here of new owners only.

We can name many reasons for this landslideincluding Fireball power-an incomparable rideand Dynaflow Drive.*

We can remind you that the Buick SPECIAL, SUPER and ROADMASTER just about blanket the range of a car-owner's aspirations - matching prices with many sixes in the lower brackets-matching distinction with the finest in the fine-car field.

We might add that Buick prices are doubly attractive-since their list prices include many features customarily on the "extra" list.

But why try to spell out all the reasons Buick wins in a showdown comparison? The proof of the pudding is in this great car itself. Better come in-look it over-and find out what an unbeatable buy it is. *Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost SUPER and SPECIAL models

Cotton Plaids Are Picked for 1950-51

MAGIC nylons, silky synthetic fabrics and eye-catching rayon blends all have their place in the modern fashion world but for all around usefulness, old-fashioned Dame Cotton still holds her place in Milady's limelight.

And so small wonder that the all-cotton wardrobes displayed by the National Cotton Council in New York have been fetching "ohs" and "ahs" from fashion fans everywhere.

"Scotch, please," seemed to be the request of the NCC pattern creators when they designed the chic scoop-neckline dress, at right, for their 1950-51 collection of winter fashion pieces.

Featuring a reversible tuxedo coat with black velveteen on one side that contrasts pleasingly with the Galey and Lord's metallicstriped plaid on the reverse side (right), the dress is ideal for "after dark" occasions requiring sophisticated glamor.

Scotch plaid patterns are twice-blessed choices in that they can be used in both cocktail costumes and casual "around the house"

Furthermore, pleasing cotton plaids can be obtained with warm colors that will ward off Old Man Winter's cold breath at scotchthrifty prices.

Local People Attend

Dr. and Mrs. Gordon E. Richardson of Brownfield attended a meeting of the South Plains Optometric Society which was held Thursday evening, November 9, at the Hilton Hotel in Lubbock. Dr. Louis R. Hill of California, 28sociate director of Ethics and economics of the Optometric Extension Program was guest speaker of the evening.

According to Dr. Hill, the careful study of growing children has revealed that much can be done to prevent visual handicaps in later years. The schools are having trouble teaching children to read, stated Dr. Hill, because of the visual handicaps that the children develop, such as astigmatism, suppressions, amblyopias and the like. The great authority on school environment, Dr. Darell Boyd Harmon, has shown that school rooms, old fashioned seating, blackboards and misplaced

HOW TO PLAN A HOME LAUNDRY ADVANCE STUDY AVOIDS GUESSWORK

When you start to plan an all-electric home laundry for your new home or to remodel your present one, laundry specialists name three points you should consider: (1) the location in the house - basement, first floor or second floor; (2) function of the room-will it be a laundry solely, a general utility room or a com-bination kitchen-laundry?; (3) the arrangement of appliances, counters and cabinets for efficient 'assembly line" washday opera-

Advance planning before you build will make the most effective use of available space and avoid guesswork and makeshift installations which later cost you needless stair climbing, heavy bundle lifting, pleasant surroundings and even peace of mind.

In the interests of better home planning, Hotpoint, Inc., the industry's newest leader in the production of automatic washers and dryers, has studied installations in hundreds of homes and talked with architects, builders, gineers. Here points you will experts say on bathroom so that both rooms want to take up as you plan for future workless washdays. Architectural style of house, room size, and plumbing have an important bearing on location, of course, and in many small one and two story homes. the basement continues to be the only space available for the laundry. First floor laundries, however, have been voted for by 70 per cent of women planning changes, according to recent Hotpoint surveys, and they believe this location will eventually supercede the basement entirely. The post-war emphasis on the basementless "ranch" house has a direcs bearing on this view. Tre elimination of stair climbing has been a strong factor in influencing women in favor of the first floor, particularly those with as a planning center, with desk large families who must do laun- and household account files, or dry several times a week. comes from the second floor. Since all soiled clothes and linens, excepting table linens, are changed on the second floor and clean clothes are stored in bedroom bureaus or upstairs closets, the saving in stair climbing and clothes bundle carrying is considerable.

While the second floor laundry is thought "revolutionary" by many families, it may well become the standard home laundry of the future in two story structures. The laundry equipment weighs approximately 600 pounds which means no unusual structural problems for the builder or remodeler. Modern washers do not require bolting to the floor. A fluid drive mechanism on one new washer, for example, eliminates vibration. Best location for the second floor laundry usually is near the can be served by one set of plumbing connections. A utility room arrangement in the basement or on the first floor makes possible a combined laundry and heating unit layout. In farm homes, a first floor utility room is no innovation. The utility room has served many a a place to hang outdoor clothes, a room for canning, a storage center for extra kitchen supplies. In suburban homes it might double for a sewing and ones being remodeled, an extra

Appliances should be located so that doors do not swing into positions blocking use of the devices or cabinets. If no dryer will be incorporated in the laundry center, and clothes must be hung in the yard, an outside entry to the room is advisable. The automatic washer and the electric water heater should be put as close together as possible to eliminate long pipe runs between the two for the hot water. The size of water heater needed depends upon a number of factors: hot water requirements, size of family, automatic equipment in use (such as a dishwasher in addition to the clothes washer), geographical location. Hotpoint the industry's largest maker of electric water heaters, reports models available in capacities from 30 to 82 gallons to meet family needs and pocketbooks. Whether a portable or cabinet rotary ironer is best depends upon space limitations.

Laundry engineers recommend an assembly line order of laundry equipment with appliances arranged from dryer and then the ironer. Modern laundry equipment can fit into as little as five feet of wall space. However, home laundry engineers say that the ideal arrangement is to have a base cabinet between the washer and dryer and another between the dryer and ironer. Counter space on the opposite side of the sink from the washer is also advisable. A utility room arrangement allows space for use of accessory equipment such as a clothes hamper on wheels, portable rack for hanging ironed clothes, sewdries, of course, linoleum or rubber tile is advisable. A combination kitchen-laundry may alter appliance arrangement to some extent depending upon location of the kitchen equipment. Laundry appliances can be integrated with the kitchen devices bar or a low partition.
