BROWNFIELD, TEXAS, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 8, 1950

NUMBER 20

Two Big Christmas Events Set For Monday

Beginning at 4:30 p.m. Monday, December 11, Santa Claus complete, with sleigh and reindeer, will stage a parade in downtown Brownfield. The Terry County Sheriff's posse will lead the parade, which is being sponsored by the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce.

The parade will form at Third and Main streets, by the First Baptist church, and will proceed west on Main street to Tudor Sales company. The procession will turn south at Tudor's and go east down Broadway, turning north at Chisholm Grocery and circling the square. Santa Claus and the sleigh and reindeer will then stop on the courthouse square directly across from Chisholm's Grocery, where he will talk with the children and pass out bags of candy. Members of the Brownfield Junior Chamber of Commerce have donated 500 pounds of candy to be distributed to the kiddies on Monday. Owner of the sleigh and reindeer is Grady Carothers of Goldthwaite.

The annual Christmas Treasure Hunt sponsored by the Brownfield Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be held Monday, December 11, in conjunction with the Santa Claus parade which is scheduled for 4:30 p.m. that day. C. W. Denison, president of the Jaycees, made the announcement this week.

The treasure hunt is designed to show off store display windows which have been decorated by local merchants for the Christmas season, and to give the public a chance to see them. During the Santa Claus parade, tickets for the treasure hunt will be given out by members of the Jaycees, but the hunt will not begin until 6 p.m., Denison said.

Each merchant will have in their display windows some gift bearing a number, and the person holding the corresponding number will receive the gift from the merchant. There is no charge for participation in the hunt.

All merchants in Brownfield have been contacted and Denison said there is "practically one hundred per cent cooperation" on the part of the business people. The parade and treasure hunt will more or less officially open the Christmas season in Brownfield, Denison said. Mayor C. C. Primm said this week that it is hoped the Christmas lights will be up all over town by Monday.

New 1951 Chevrolet Here Tomorrow

New 1951 Chevrolet passenger cars and trucks will go on display simultaneously at 7,690 dealerships on Saturday, December 9. See them at Teague-Bailey Chevrolet Co., at Broadway and Fourth streets.

Announcement of the showings by W. E. Fish, general sales manager of the company, was coupled with an estimate that more than 10,000,000 people will inspect the latest series during the introductory period. "Reports from the field indicate one of the most successful showings in our history," said Fish. "Not only have we found widespread interest in the new model features, but dealers are working on elaborate programs in connection with the event. In many centers showings will take on all of the aspects of a civic celebration."

"For the Chevrolet retail organization the presentation of the 1951 series will come as a climax to its greatest year. Sales during 1950 will establish a new record and once again will top all competition by a substantial margin."

Company Under New Ownership

Lloyd O. Turner has announced that he has sold the Panhandle Refining Company to R. D. (Dude) and C. V. (Cub) Newsom. The new owners will operate the business under the name of Newsom Oil Company at the same location, 802 W. Main.

In an advertisement in this issue of the Herald, Turner and the new owners explain the change in ownership.

District FFA Contests Here

District contests of chapters of Future Farmers of America will be held at the Brownfield high school at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, December 12, according to Lester Buford, sponsor of the local chapter.

In the FFA quiz contest to be held, members of the Brownfield senior team who are trying out for the team are John Burrows, Dennis Beadles, Edwin Garnett, and Byron Wise. Trying out for the junior team are Earl Brown, Van Perry, John Burnett, Doyle Hudgins, and Lavon Hudgins. Since a team is composed of three members, eliminations will be held Monday to determine team members.

The contest quizzes will concern information on local, state and national organizations, the proceedings of the last convention, Roberts Rules and Orders, and parliamentary procedure. The local boys have been studying this material for the past two weeks, Buford said.

Also to be held Tuesday will be farm demonstrations. The senior team for Brownfield is composed of Jerrell Rowden, Charles Bartley and Sidney Allen. Their subject will be "Treating Hogs With Benzine Hexachloride for Mange and Lice." A junior team demonstration will be given on "Making Concrete Blocks For Walks."

Winners of the district contest will go to regional contests in Sour, and winners of the regional contests will go to state contests in March, 1951. Schools included in this district, other than Brownfield, are Meadow, Wellman, Plains, New Home, Tahoka, Post, Wilson, and O'Donnell.

Other committee members are Pearce Warren, vice chairman; Riley D. Jones, member; Roy Golden, first alternate; Martin L. Sullivan, second alternate.

B. M. Tuttle of the Johnson community was chairman for the convention, and R. J. Purcell of the Pleasant Valley community acted as secretary.

Delegates and alternates present at the convention were A. L. McCoy, Meadow; E. D. Whitaker, Chalk; W. L. Benton, Union; Roy Barrier, Pool; D. B. Oliver, Wellman; T. J. McQueen, Leahy; Walter Chenaunt, Tokio; Tuttle, and Purcell.

Composing the committee in charge of arrangements and program for the party are A. G. (Toby) Greer, John Hill, John Portwood, and Skeet Robinson.

Western Bad Man To Be Here In Person

Jack Ingram, Western actor, will appear in person at the Ritz Theatre, for both matinee and night performances, on Thursday, December 14, according to information received from Sammy Jones, manager of the Jones Theatre here.

Ingram is a veteran of hundreds of movies and is noted for having played more "bad man" roles in Western movies than any actor in Hollywood. He also has the distinction of being killed in more movies than any other actor, Jones said.

Showing at the Ritz December 14 will be "The Texan Meets Calamity Jane," in which James Allison and Ingram play.

Three Receive Gifts From Firms

Three Terry counties received gifts from three business firms in Brownfield who held formal openings on December 2. The firms are E. & W. Radio Service, owned by Jerry Ellis and Ocie Wilson; the Imperial Battery Co., owned by Johnny Benson; and the Brownfield Boot & Shoe Shop, owned by Harley Jolly.

Miss Nelda Parker of Brownfield received as a gift an Imperial battery from Benson; Jim Massengill of route one received a leather billfold and belt from Jolly, and Howard Griffin of Meadow received ten dollars in radio service from Ellis & Wilson. The gifts were presented in conjunction with Saturday's formal opening ceremonies.

The owners of the three businesses would like to thank the public for the beautiful floral offerings and for their cooperation in helping to make their opening a success.

Lee Shults Rites Held Here Thursday

Last rites were conducted at 2 p.m. Thursday in the First Baptist church for Lee Shults, 68, who died in the home of a son, Carroll Shults, at 10:15 p.m. Tuesday, following a heart attack.

Services were conducted by B. H. Baldwin, minister of the Union Baptist church, assisted by Fred Stump, minister of the First Baptist church of Brownfield. Interment was in Terry County Memorial cemetery, under the direction of Brownfield Funeral Home.

Shults moved to Terry county in 1929 and in 1944 moved to Carlsbad, N. M., where he had made his home until a few weeks ago, when he returned to Brownfield. He was a retired farmer.

Survivors include his wife; four daughters, Mrs. Earl Hughlett and Mrs. J. L. Bass, both of Brown-

FURR'S NEW SUPER MARKET DESTROYED

Brownfield has not suffered too many destructive fires in its history, thanks to carefulness of the pioneers, and the alertness of its fire department in he days since Brownfield has been incorporated. The first real destructive fire here was in 1913, when the Brownfield Mercantile Co. and the Masonic Hall burned at the present location of the Bargain store.

The next would be the Portwood Motor Co., last year. But the fire that started in the new Furr store at Fifth and Cardwell, at approximately 4 p.m. last Sunday was the daddy of all. Proudly the town as well as the company attended the formal opening of the store one month ago. The opening of this ultra modern store was a gala occasion in Brownfield. Now it is rubble and ashes.

This was the newest of the 55 Furr stores in West Texas and New Mexico, of which Roy Furr of Lubbock is president and owner. The new store had more than 12,000 feet of floor space, built-in wall shelving, ultra modern lighting and a public address system. Some of the personnel were in the store Sunday afternoon, including the manager, Ralph Harding, when the lights blinked twice, and a search for the trouble located the fire in the ceiling and roof.

The fire department responded instantly with both trucks and more than 20 men, but the fire had a good headway, was difficult to get at, and the wind was howling outside. The flames were battled for three long hours until the roof and ceiling fell in. Mr. Furr stated that the firm would rebuild as soon as possible.

It was estimated that the building is totally ruined. While some of the walls still stand, they are warped and dangerous to try to rebuild. Loss on the building will run around $80,000, the fixtures about $50,000, and the stock loss was placed at $35,000, a total of some $165,000.

The Furr's have leased the former Handy-Andy store, Broadway at First, until a new building on the burned site can be erected.

In a statement to the papers this week, Roy Furr of Lubbock, president of Furr's, Inc., said that he would like to express his sincere appreciation to the Brownfield volunteer fire department and to members of the police force for their fine effort and hard work in trying to save the new Furr's Super Market, which was totally destroyed by fire Sunday afternoon.

Furr's opened today (Friday) at 7 a.m. in its temporary location on the Lubbock highway, in the building formerly occupied by the Handy-Andy food store.

In his statement, Furr also expressed his thanks to the people of Brownfield and Terry county for their cooperation and asks their indulgence in the operation of the store in its temporary quarters. "Of course," he said, "we will be operating in a much smaller space and our service may not be as good as before, but we will do our very best under the circumstances."

A new super market will be constructed on the original site, at the corner of South Fifth and West Cardwell streets, as soon as possible, Furr said. "Until the new building is completed, we ask our customers to bear with us in operating under our same policy but in cramped quarters," he said.

The newest of the chain of 55 Furr food stores in Texas and New Mexico, the Brownfield store was opened November 2 with one of the largest crowds in the history of Brownfield in attendance at the formal ceremony.

Ralph Harding, manager of the Brownfield store, said that the fire was detected at about 4 p.m. Sunday when some of the lights in the store began to flicker. The master switch was turned off and the alarm given, but the fire had made too much headway to be stopped. Members of the volunteer department battled the blaze for more than three hours, but with the high winds fanning the flames, the building was completely gutted. Officials estimated the loss at between $175,000 and $200,000.

The store contained 12,420 sq. feet of floor space and was built by Robert E. Maxey, Lubbock contractor.

Green Hut Grocery Store Is Now Open

The Green Hut Grocery store, located at 202 S. First street, is now open for business, according to the owners, S. Yandell and Drew Hobby. The building was formerly occupied by Chisholm Grocery.

Both Yandell and Hobby are experienced grocers, Yandell having been in the grocery business since 1937, and Hobby having ten years experience. Yandell formerly owned and operated the Little Super Market on North Fifth street, and Hobby operated a grocery store previously in the present location.

In an advertisement in this issue of the Herald, the owners of the Green Hut invite both old and new customers to patronize them and take advantage of their grocery specials.

Lee Shults Rites Held Here Thursday

BHS BAND WILL ATTEND CLINIC

Members of the Brownfield High School band will attend a clinic to be held at Texas Tech college, Saturday, December 9, according to Harold Mulkey, band director.

The Brownfield High School chorus attended a choral clinic at the college last Saturday. Plans are being made now for a Christmas concert to be given by the high school band on December 18.

Money Price Named Captain Of Posse

Money Price was selected Captain of the Terry County Sheriff's posse at a meeting held at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Esquire Restaurant. He succeeds Tess Fuller.

Other officers elected at the Monday meeting were V. G. Simmons, lieutenant; Frank Szydlowski, secretary-treasurer; C. R. Lackey, corral boss; and Luther Jones, wrangler.

New directors named were Foss Winn, Max Entjken; Clyde Truly, Noah Lemley, Tess Fuller, and Alfred Gore.

Members also discussed plans for attending ceremonies and participating in the inaugural parade to be held in Austin January 16.

Other business included the group voting to buy and present a piano to Girls Town, near Whiteface, for Christmas.

field, Mrs. R. W. Hudson of Colorado Springs, Colo., and Mrs. Jack Lovell of Grand Prairie; three sons, Carroll of Brownfield, Billie of Abilene, and Coy Shults of Grand Prairie; three sisters, Mrs. J. F. Johnson of Tyler, Mrs. S. L. Houston of Sunset, and Mrs. Tiff Covington of Bowie; and three brothers, J. P. of Gladola, N. M., Clyde of Carrizo, N. M., and Bill Shults of Tatum, N. M.

Last Rites Held For Mrs. G. A. Rich

Last rites were held Saturday in Wellman for Mrs. G. A. Rich, 63, who died in Dallas the previous Thursday. Services were held in the Wellman Baptist church, with LaVerl Kite, pastor of the Wellman church, officiating.

Mrs. Rich, a resident of Wellman since 1934, had been ill for some time. She died in an ambulance while enroute from Terrell, where she had been visiting a daughter, to Brownfield. She was a native of Franklin county.

Survivors include her husband; seven daughters, Mrs. Maxine Brackett of Wellman, Mrs. Tommie Orthman and Mrs. Ora Belle Yocum, both of Fort Sumner, N. M., Mrs. Audie Carter of Terrell, Mrs. Edith Emerson of Denver, Colo., Mrs. Leota Standifer of Seminole, and Mrs. Annie Lou Babb, of Florence, Colo.; three sons, M. H. and T. G. Rich, both of Wellman, and Jack Rich of Fort Sumner; and twenty-six grandchildren.

Interment was in Terry Memorial cemetery, under the direction of Brownfield Funeral Home.

Basketball Season Tickets On Sale

Season tickets for Brownfield high school basketball games are now on sale at Plains Liquefied Gas company and the high school. It has been announced. Price of the tickets is $4.80 for adults.

Coach Paris Nowell's cagers will tangle with the state champion Canyon high school five in the new high school gym here, tonight (Friday) at 7:30.

Although the new gym is not entirely completed, Nowell said that the game tonight will be played there. The new gym boasts almost four times as much light power and three times the seating capacity of the old gym; Nowell said.

"Now that we are able to take care of a large crowd of spectators, we hope the town people will come out and root for our boys," Nowell said.

In a game played with Canyon last week, the local boys lost a 45-52 tilt.

MOVIE BOX OFFICES OPENING EARLIER

Effective this week, box offices at the Rialto, Rio, and Ritz theatres will open at 6:30 p.m. daily except Sunday, with the feature starting at 6:45 p.m.

The box office at the Rig Drive-In theatre will open at 6:10 p.m. daily and the feature will start at 6:20 p.m. The changes in opening hours were announced by Sammy Jones, manager of the Jones Theatres in Brownfield.

Are We Ready For A Paid Fire Department?

(An Editorial)

A few people, at least those interested especially, have asked us to write an editorial this week on the possibility of a paid fire department. Not that they or any one has any fault to find with our present voluntary setup. No one could possibly find any criticism of the Vols. in their quick response to fire calls, or their willingness to combat a blaze after they reach it, sometimes even to the point of risk of death or injury.

Nor does anyone think what we may say will convince anyone for or against a paid fire department. Their idea, as well as that of the writer, is just to put the matter before the people and get their reaction. Indeed, some have talked of this matter before the greatest conflagration in our little city's history hit us Sunday. The people realize that this and other big fires could greatly hike insurance rates in Brownfield.

Indeed, the great conflagration of Sunday afternoon left the town rather stunned. As stated above, no one doubts for a minute the intestinal fortitude of the volunteer men who piled three streams of water on that raging Furr blinding fire Sunday afternoon. But it was a huge building; the flames had a good start in the top of the building, and the wind was simply a gale. The firemen had men. Perhaps they do, as there with. But many stayed on that roof plying streams of water till ordered off.

Frankly, we do not know whether or not the city carries insurance on its voluntary firemen. Personally they do, as there is a state law governing carrying insurance for private firms with three or more employees. If these voluntary firemen lose their lives in saving or protecting the property of others, they become heroes in the sight of the community. But what about their families? Some of them are bread winners that could ill be spared by a wife and one or several children.

There Are Several Angles

Here is one angle in the matter. Can our little city afford a paid fire department? How much will it cost? This is something to be figured out by experts on fire risks. We have no idea about the matter, but not long ago we had a personal talk with Earl Wilson, fire chief at Brownwood. Many here remember that Earl used to live here, and was at one time manager of the Brownfield Ice Co. At that time, about a year ago, Earl stated to us that Brownwood only had a partially paid department. It was presumed, he stated, that the paid section could care for small or residential fires, grass fires, etc. But a second or third alarm brought out the volunteers.

But, according to the census this year, Brownwood had 20,000 population to our 6,160. Here is another thing we must consider whether we wish to do so or not. Already this year, more than $1,600,000 of new building has been built or under way in Brownfield. The town no longer occupies about one section of land. The city stretches almost three miles from northeast to southwest, and some two miles east and west. But the builders of this property came here with the expectation that their property would be protected, or the best of our ability, and of course they stand ready to share the expense.

With new oil wells coming in now almost weekly, we shall have to expect them more frequently next year, and of course the building here in town will also hit a faster pace. So, in conclusion, we offer this suggestion.

Let Mayor C. C. Primm get the insurance men of the town together, along with insurance adjusters, and call in whatever other help they may think they need, and go over this matter of a paid or partially paid fire department.

Personally, we are in favor of any kind of improvement, providing the majority think it is needed, or can be handled without a burden to the property owners.

SCHOOLS OUT FOR CHRISTMAS DEC. 21

S. P. Cowan, superintendent of Brownfield schools, has announced that all local schools will be dismissed at 2 p.m. Thursday, December 21, for Christmas vacation.

School sessions will resume at 9 a.m. Tuesday, January 2, Cowan said.

MEADOW SENIORS TO PRESENT PLAY

The senior class of Meadow High School will present a play entitled "Excuse Me, Please," at 7:30 p.m. tonight (Friday), in the Meadow high school auditorium. Admission will be 25c, 35c and 50c, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Preliminary Plans In Making For Show

Committees have been recommended and will be turned over to members of the Brownfield Junior Chamber of Commerce at its regular luncheon meeting on Monday, December 11, for the annual club boys calf show sponsored by the Jaycees.

Ninety-four FFA and 4-H club calves are being fed in Terry county now in preparation for the show, and of that number, some 75 will probably be shown. More than 50 hogs are also being fed, and approximately 50 more are expected to be shown at the annual show next spring.

Fourteen Area Men Will Be Inducted

Fourteen area men will leave for Amarillo by bus Friday, December 15, to be inducted into the Army, according to Mrs. Joyce Glick, clerk for local board 116, which serves Terry, Yoakum and Hockley counties.

The men to be inducted are Wallace Calvin Bartlett, Meadow; Nuel Wayne Holleman and Asa Calvin Oliver, both of Brownfield; Reese Burnell Askew of O'Donnell; Samuel Jason Fowler of Whitharrel; William Burton Love of Denver, Colo.; Glen Coker Rutherford of Anton; Hobert Donald Gross of Flevelland; Charles Lester Williams of Tokio; Charles Jack Johnson of Levelland; Gerrell Gene Gillespie of Levelland; Herbert Anderson Dean of Fort Worth; and Kenneth Harold Spradley of Anton.

Mrs. Glick said that the next induction call will be for 14 men on January 11.

Harred Reelected Terry PMA Chairman

Hugh H Harred was reelected chairman of the 1951 Production and Marketing Administration committee for Terry County, to administer PMA programs, at the county convention held November 28.

Other committee members are Pearce Warren, vice chairman; Riley D. Jones, member; Roy Golden, first alternate; Martin L. Sullivan, second alternate.

B. M. Tuttle of the Johnson community was chairman for the convention, and R. J. Purcell of the Pleasant Valley community acted as secretary.

Delegates and alternates present at the convention were A. L. McCoy, Meadow; E. D. Whitaker, Chalk; W. L. Benton, Union; Roy Barrier, Pool; D. B. Oliver, Wellman; T. J. McQueen, Leahy; Walter Chenaunt, Tokio; Tuttle, and Purcell.

Any erroneous reflection upon the standing of any individual, business or corporation will be gladly corrected if brought to the attention of the publishers.

Progress toward any goal is almost always reached through organized effort and not singly. Of course, one man may be successful in a business or on a farm, or in rearing a fine family. But in a business way, he has to have customers; a farmer must have buyers for his products, and even in rearing a family, we must have the aid of the organizations we call schools and churches, if a good, well balanced job is made of the affair of family raising. Just so, with tuberculosis, polio and many other diseases. Until there was such a thing as a huge organization usually termed an anti-tuberculosis association, little progress was made in the treatment or eradication of that disease, but in the last fifty years great strides have been made in the war on TB until, instead of standing near the top, it is low on the list as a killing disease, that often spread through an entire family. Although organized efforts against polio "March of Dimes," is not as old as the TB associations, it is nevertheless making great strides, not only for the alleviation of those who already have the disease, but in new modes of treatment. While there is no known cure, medical science is making great strides against polio through an organized fight. But right now we have before us the campaign of raising funds to fight tuberculosis, the sale of Christmas Seals, and the sale of these beautiful little Christmas reminders is the means of obtaining money to carry on the fight against tuberculosis that is liable to attack any member of a family from 15 years of age on up. Much of these funds thus raised is used in furthering the knowledge of physicians as well as the public about the disease, and in teaching the public the know-how in protecting themselves. In the past few years the x-raying of the lungs of school children as well as adults, has pointed the finger of suspicion to a case that had not become apparent to the individual or his family, and means of treatment to arrest the case at its start and before it is troublesome or even apparent. No doubt you've received a supply of these Seals that were mailed by the local organization of Texas Tuberculosis Association. Use them, or as many as you can, but don't return them, but rather return the money, to the local organization, return address of which will be found on the envelope sent you. In case you don't know, Mrs. Ruth Huckabee is the secretary. She is also one of the cashiers at the First National Bank.

As most of us know, the FEPC was designed by President Truman and his leaders, primarily to help the negroes. Not that they had any particular love for the negro as a race, but bloc votes help up north, where the negro is generally confined to large areas of the big cities, like Harlem in New York, and the South Side of Chicago. It made no difference with the administration whether or not the employer wished to hire whites, negroes, Indians or Chinese, the law was designed for the employer to hire those he did not want, and if he had a supreme court that was not hobbled they would toss any such law out the window as being unconstitutional. But the law makes the negro race a must, and it is therefore discriminatory toward other races. Let us suppose that a factory was using all negro employees. Does the FEPC force the employer to hire some whites, some Indians (red men), or some Chinese (yellow race)? To our notion it would take a federal cop on every corner to enforce the law, and it would cause more race trouble than anything that has ever happened in the United States. As we stated above, the law was mostly designed to handle bloc votes in the north, and was mostly supported by congressmen, both Democratic and Republican, from northern and big city districts. To carry the let us examine the last vote in congress that killed the matter for the time. Democratic votes against, 118, mostly from the South joined by 103 Republicans making 221 votes. For the FEPC was 178, mostly northern Democrats and some Republicans. With these facts before them, how can any Southern white man contend that the present Democratic setup is better for them?

Mother Finds Washer Vital Tool

Babies are subject to change without notice.

But the washing machine handles these crises of the cribset even more easily. Modern mothers, in their crusade for cleanliness, consider the washing machine of vital importance in this campaign. The washer has proved essential to the morale, health and happiness of the American home. And it makes bringing up baby, American plan, the safest and happiest on earth. It is easy to keep up with the quick turnover in baby's wardrobe with the washing machine. Baby's clothes should be washed one day, or at least every other day if they are to be kept sweet smelling and pretty.

As a rule, baby clothes do not need a long washing or pre-soaking. However, an occasional item will be easier to wash when it has been soaked.

The best way to take care of wet diapers and sleeping garments is to put them to soak immediately after use in a container half full of cold water to which two tablespoons of borax have been added. A two-gallon enamel pail with a cover is the best container to use. Diapers may be kept in this manner and washed every other day. However, they should not be kept longer than this before washing in the washing machine.

Washing baby's cotton wrappers, knit shirts, and flannel nighties is easy in the washing machine. They are washed in the same manner as any other cotton. In time, flannellette will take on a pebbly appearance but this does not mar its softness and warmth or the attractive appearance it keeps through a long life.

Baby's tiny dresses and slips will stay fresh and dainty and like new through many launderings in the washing machine.

Clean clothes for the baby are readily provided by that essential domestic tool, the washing machine, which has become a vital necessity to cleanliness, health and morale.

Baby's wool or part-wool blankets can be washed with complete safety in the washing machine. Blankets should be washed fairly often and always in lukewarm water and rinsed thoroughly in the same temperature water.

Woolens should never be soaked, bleached or boiled. If there are soiled spots which do not wash out easily, use a soap jelly made from a mild soap. Then rinse it out immediately since soap applied directly can harm the wool. Always use a mild soap thoroughly dissolved in softened water. Woolens should be dried away from excessive heat or sunshine.

Always remove the stains from baby's clothes while they are still fresh and before the garment is washed. Old stains may have to be bleached with an appropriate bleach. Milk stains should be rinsed in cold water, then sponged with carbon tetrachloride before washing in the washing machine.

the congress and legislatures of the states better have a peep into some of these "endowment" arrangements. The majority is getting pretty well fed up on carrying the tax load for the minority.

Following the trend of the oil business in the United States and Texas has been very interesting and withal enticing sideline. Those who have studied the matter recall that back during or just after World War I, the demand became so great that oil production was hiked to one million barrels per day. And the oil experts were telling us that the known reserves in the entire United States was placed at only 6,500,000,000. It looked at that time as if oil production and reserves would come to a head in the not too distant future and we'd have to find something else to propell the old jitney. Thirty odd years later the production has risen to 35 billion barrels, or six times the known reserves at that time, and we're still going strong. In the meantime, better methods of removing oil from the ground and the elimination of waste has come about. This condition has not been brought about by the timid soul. It was the venturesome type of individual, or association of them, large and small, who staked their knowledge against failures, such as dry holes, cave-ins, etc. That is the answer to the reason we are taking more oil and gas from the earth, and at the time time uncovering more reserves. Despite the greatly increased demand, there is still plenty of oil and gas for all, and more being found daily—thanks to American enterprise and inventiveness.

Rev. Ed Tharp was down this week from Lubbock, and called on the Herald. Ed stated that he ran into a man recently that was rather pessimistic about deep breaking. Said he told the gentleman that deep breaking and good cultivation was paying off on his farm west of town to the tune of $47.50 per acre in rents, this year.

Training Union Held Here December 4

"Choose You This Way" was the theme of a Training Union "M" night of the Brownfield Baptist Association, held at 7:30 p.m. Monday, December 4, at the Calvary Baptist church. Jack Pearce, minister of the church, announced the following program:

Praise service, Gerald Nelson, educational director of the First Baptist church; Scripture, Rev. C. E. Strickland, New Home Baptist church; announcements and recognition, Stanley Miller, First Baptist church; department conferences, "Working Together in Training"; general assembly, with special music by Amalio Garcia of the Mexican Baptist church, and Alton Webb of the Gomez Baptist church; message by J. L. Hardin, business manager of Wayland College.

Leaders of the department conferences will be Mrs. W. D. Pierson of the First Baptist church, primary; Bill Phillips of Calvary Baptist church, junior; William Conlee of West Side Baptist church, intermediate; Lille Ragsdale, Tahoka First Baptist church, young people; and Bill Cope, First Baptist church, adults.

GEIGER COUNTERS AID SEARCH FOR NEW OIL

Experiments are being conducted in the use of Geiger and other radiation counters in the search for new oil pools. Instruments which measure the penetration of various rock formations by radioactive materials will help scientists determine the composition of the formation. Radiation measurements also may make it possible for oil searchers to determine whether a porous formation contains oil or water, either fresh or salt. Exploration and measurement with radiation counters may indicate the efficiency of other methods now used to locate oil reserves.

Neches River Dam "B" Spillway Completed

The Neches river flows through the recently completed Dam "B" spillway recently completed near Jasper in East Texas. While the gated spillway section was under construction army engineers rerouted the Neches river via a diversion channel. The spillway is 336 feet long, contains six control gates, each 25 feet wide and 40 feet high. A 6,867-foot long earthen dam, not yet completed will flank the spillway structure.—(AP) Photo from U. Wonder What McCormick Is Thinking Now

A few weeks ago an old time subscriber and his family were down from Columbus, Ohio, and called on the Herald. We also mentioned that an oil well—hope—is being drilled on the McCormick two section holdings out northeast of Brownfield.

The weather was a bit nippy while the McCormicks were here, and Mr. Mack in true Chamber of Commerce style, told us of the springlike weather they were having up there. Over the past weekend, they have had about 20 to 30 inches of snow in Ohio, and the worst blizzard in many years.

The area covered most of the middle west, as it is called, and into the New England states. We wonder what friend McCormick's reaction is to that kind of weather. It is really sunny here in Terry today, and people about the streets in their shirt sleeves.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

The citizens of this grand land had a knock at its opportunity door 5 years ago when we had just finished polishing off Japan and Germany. If we had seized opportunity by the forelock then, we would now be in the driver's seat—Russia would not be elbowing us around. But what happened? The army and the navy came home—they had finished a grand job. They turned the paper work—the writing of the peace—over to the home folks. The home folks turned it over to the bossmen in Washington. Through ignorance or shady loyalty, the crew there bowed low to Russia—after you, Mr. Stalin they said. Uncle Joe, knowing his way around, took over. And what we were fighting for—freedom for the little guy and the big guy, 50-50—was a gone gosling.

And now for five years we have been floating down the river, rudderless and anchorless. We have not brought ourself to believe that we could really have boss-men in office who would steer us completely away from our American style—sell us down the river—direct us down the road to Socialism. I am talking about the situation up to now—or to be more accurate, up to Tuesday, November seventh.

But today, any guy left there on the government payroll, if he persists in not seeing the light, his days are numbered. "Awakening day," I call it—November seventh.

King Ranch Bluestem Stands Drought

King ranch blue stem grass stands droughty conditions well because it is a deep rooted plant. This is the conclusion arrived at by Felix Meier of Gillespie Co.

C. A. Stone, county agent of Gillespie county, reports that Meier planted K. R. bluestem on his ranch three years ago. He scattered the seed by hand on open ground, along diversion terraces, and down in draws. A few of the seed sprouted and the plants made seed the following summer.

In September of this year, lots of small seedlings could be found in the seeded areas, and several of the old plants were in full seed. Meier says he also found that K.R. bluestem produces seed three times a year.

Many of the plants on Meier's ranch produced their seed with the seed stalk flat on the ground, because cattle, deer and sheep kept nibbling on the green forage all during the spring and summer. A. H. Walker, range specialist for the Texas A. & M. extension service, says that this is characteristic of K.R. bluestem. It will produce seed under very heavy grazing conditions. However, Walker points out that K.R. bluestem, like all grasses, does better when it is not continuously and closely grazed.

GRASS CONTROL

Des Moines, Iowa (AP)—A burligally on the Guy Hensley farm near Paton, once deep enough to hide a tractor, has now been brought so well under control it could be farmed.

Ward Schilling, operating the 280 acre farm, used reed crazy grass to control the erosion. The grass had been doubling itself every year. Schilling says he doesn't plan to farm it, however, nor the surrounding upland. The upland has been eroding too severely to be cropped, he said. He will use the section for pasture. The grass, which grows in clumps from two to eight feet in height, makes fine pasture and hay.

Most of the foot trouble among children results from their wearing outgrown and badly fitted shoes.

Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their pocketbooks

There's been a lot of talk in recent weeks about "the buying power of the dollar"—past, present and future. We can't foretell the future—but we can tell you this right now: You'll look a long way before you'll find a car that offers as much for the money as you can get in a 1959 Buick. Close to half a million of these cars have been built and sold this year. Close to half a million people have checked their features and prices against the field—and decided they'd better buy Buick. As to prices—they start down below some sixes. And whether you price the SPECIAL, the SUPER or the ROADMASTER, you'll find, on a cents-per-pound basis, that few other cars can touch them for value. And this is for sure! When it comes to performance—ride—the way they handle and hold the road—and thrifty use of fuel and oil—Buicks have never been finer. That's another way of saying that coil springs on all four wheels—Dynaflow—torque-tube drive—and Buick's high-compression, high-economy Fireball power produce an out-of-this-world combination. So if you want your dollars to do extra duty—the time to act is now. Look at the price tags—look at the features—sample the power and thrill that you get for your money—and you'll know what we mean. *Dynaflow Drive is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

ONLY BUICK HAS Dynaflow— AND WITH IT GOES:

HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) • NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD forefront, taper-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights • WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube • WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with Body by Fisher.

FURR'S Open For Business In
Our Temporary Location
201 S. 1st.....Formerly
Handy Andy Food Store

We would like to express our sincere appreciation to the Brownfield Fire Department and to the members of the police force for their fine effort and hard work in trying to save our new Furr's Super Market, which was totally destroyed by fire Sunday afternoon.

We are now open and ready for business in our temporary location at 201 South First, formerly Handy Andy's Food Store.

We wish to beg your indulgence in our service, as we will be in a much smaller space, but we will do our very best to serve you in every way possible. We still offer you the same low prices throughout the store and a complete line of fresh meats, vegetables and groceries daily.

We will rebuild as soon as possible in the same location on the corner of South Fifth and West Cardwell streets.

We wish to again thank you for your splendid reception of the opening of our new store and welcome you to visit us in our temporary location.

Many Attend Opening Of Bank

The Yoakum County State Bank at Denver City held its formal opening November 25, with a large crowd of persons attending.

Deposits for the first day reached $500,000, with the first deposit being made by L. P. Bennett, pioneer Yoakum county rancher, whose son, G. H. Bennett, is vice president of the bank.

The bank's charter was presented to J. O. Gillham, president of the new bank and also president of the Brownfield State Bank and Trust Company, by Gene Williams, departmental examiner of the State Department of Banking.

Other officers of the new bank are Bruce Zorns and Leo Holmes, vice presidents and also vice presidents of the Brownfield State Bank and Trust Company; and D. P. Moorehead, cashier. Moorehead, former employee of the Brownfield bank, has moved to Denver City to work in the new bank.

Directors of the new bank are W. L. Olivo, Cecil A. Bickley and Olin C. Cox.

Hosiery Expensive Clothing Item

More money is spent for hosiery than for any other one item in the clothing budget. Mary Routh, extension clothing specialist of Texas A. & M. College, says the reason may be due to the fact that not enough attention is given to the size and kind of hosiery bought nor to proper care and laundering.

She says hosiery, just the same as any other wearing apparel, should be selected for the occasion or for a particular use and different type hose should be used with different costumes. For example, she says, ultra sheer hose should be reserved for special dress occasions because they are too fragile for everyday use. Sheer hose, on the other hand, are suitable for both dress and general wear, but are out of place on people who are active in sports and the like. Heavier weight hose are appropriate for household, active sports and winter wear.

Price alone, says Miss Routh, is not a guide to hosiery quality. Some medium and low priced hose may have the wearing qualities sought while, other higher priced hose may give poor service because durability was sacrificed for sheerness by the manufacturer.

Miss Routh says hosiery buyers should become familiar with the terms used to designate quality in the finished product. First quality in hosiery, indicates a stocking without flaws or irregularities.

CATTLE AND CAR PRICES ARE COMPARED

Do you think you are really paying more for a new automobile today than you did ten years ago?

Returning from a series of dealer meetings in the west, David A. Wallace, president of the Chrysler Division of Chrysler Corporation, brought back striking evidence that a new car today costs less than half its 1940 price in terms of real wealth out in the cattle country.

Buying a new Chrysler after driving his herd to market, one Westerner found that it took the proceeds from the sale of nine head of cattle to pay for his new car. When he bought his previous Chrysler back in 1940, the cattleman reports that it took the proceeds from the sale of 24 head of cattle to cover the cost of the car then.

You will probably get a very very pleasant surprise, Wallace suggests, if you compare the number of 1950 paychecks required to cover the price of your new car today with the number of your 1940 paychecks that were required to pay for your 1940 model ten years ago.

SCS Helps Farmers With Pastures

The information below was in the form of a personal letter to the Herald. It makes good reading matter, so here goes:

Dear Mr. Stricklin: To keep key leaders like yourself properly informed about just one phase of the CYT Soil Conservation District Program, consisting of Terry and Yoakum counties, which is served by this office we want to submit for your consideration some figures.

This information concerns the establishing of irrigated and dry land improved pastures here the past few years. As you perhaps realize already, the need for more and better grass is great. The economy of pasture in our over-all agricultural program is recognized. We have already done enough work along these lines to know that grass can be established and good results obtained. More livestock fits into a better balanced agriculture and I feel over a period of years the need for more livestock will be quired. It is along this long-range view planning we have endeavored to work.

Now for a look at results in stressing a grass program.

Seeding & Establishing of Pasture (Irrigation and dry land)

Year	Acres Estab.
1947	41
1948	409
1949	206
1950	1166

The above was accomplished by the use of one grass drill, which was bought and loaned to this district by the West Texas Cottonseed Oil Mill of Brownfield back in July of 1947.

Now our work load for seeding of grass alone for 1951 is a grand total of 11,968 acres, so if favorable moisture conditions prevail next year, our possibilities will be great. However, next year I hesitate to think of trying to establish 11,968 acres of grass with one grass drill.

We of the service certainly do appreciate your cooperative efforts in assisting us to work with the landowners here in the district.

If at any time we can, at this office, be of further assistance in helping landowners establish any conservation practice, then advise each farmer to see us. We are here to serve landowners in conserving the soil and moisture resources.

Attended District Meeting At Canyon

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Griggs attended a regular cabinet meeting of District 2-T Lions clubs in Canyon Sunday.

Members of the Canyon Club were hosts at the meeting, and the wives of members were entertained with a luncheon at Cousins Hall and a theatre party. Among the business discussed by the Lions at the meeting was the district 2-T Lions queen contest to be held at the district meeting at the Ned Smith hotel in Hereford in April.

Convention plans are being put into shape, Griggs said, and a little International convention is being planned for members of Districts 1-T and 2-T and the New Mexico districts to be held in El Paso in 1952.

Santa Claus Parade Slated For Brownfield December 11

Sleigh bells will tinkle, reindeer with big antlers will prance and pant, their ankles popping in rhythm with the bells, when Santa Claus comes to town December 11th at 4:30 p.m. for the big parade sponsored by Brownfield Chamber of Commerce.

Many who never saw a reindeer in their lives will be on hand. They'll see Dancer and Prancer, Donder and Blitzen—in person, very much alive, that is. And fresh from the frozen Arctic Circle, brought straight to Texas for the benefit of both children and grownups.

Grady Carothers, Goldthwaite ranchman, is inside the Arctic Circle rounding up Santa's sleigh team. When they come to Brownfield for the parade it will be quite a show and all free.

The four reindeer will come wearing red leather harness with bright trimming, and the children can tell which is Dancer, which is Blitzen, which Prancer, for each will have his name spelled out on his bright harness.

Santa's sleigh will be a colorful vehicle, too. It will be bright red and silver with green trim with the words "Merry Christmas" spelled out in the decorations.

The white whiskered friend of all children will have a new suit made by expert tailors. No imported or second hand clothes for the ruddy, happy gentleman. This suit set him back a lot of money, but he strives to look his best when he comes to our city.

No expense has been spared by Santa's helpers to make this visit the most enjoyable occasion of this or any other year.

Take those four reindeer. They've been whisked thousands of miles from the far north in Alaska. Grady Carothers has made three trips to Alaska in as many years to help Santa Claus, but it took him two years of trying before he could arrange to bring out reindeer, in the first place.

He had to travel by bus, boat, rail, airplane and dogsled to reach the cold Arctic coast area where the reindeer herds feed on reindeer moss in the snow. Carothers had to sleep out on the snow after he lassoed the reindeer. All around them were howling wolves trying to slip up and kill the tethered deer. This year's trip alone required seven weeks.

Each year a reindeer sheds those huge antlers—and promptly grows a new set. They grow at the rate of half an inch a day, and in 90 days a reindeer will have grown himself a brand-new set of horns. Up in the Arctic the reindeer use these antlers for snow plows, to push drifts out of their way.

It's natural, Carothers says, for a reindeer to breathe with his mouth open and tongue lolled out like a dog when he's pulling a sleigh. The antlered natives of the Far North have been equipped by nature for life in the Arctic. Hair protects the ends of their noses, between their hooves and all parts of their bodies.

Uncle Sam is mighty particular about reindeer, and that's way it took Carothers two years to arrange to bring the first ones out.

The Eskimos are particular, too, but now they know Carothers and Santa will take good care of the reindeer while they're in Texas. Their native food is a lichen called reindeer moss, but down here they fare just fine on breakfast food. Rolled oats, that is, with a little mixed grain and a little peanut hay.

Eskimos help Carothers round up and train the wild reindeer slipped off the farm to retire and take it easier in town. He will never take a receipt. "No, I don't want one, but I am not going to pay you again."

elves, and finally they learn to draw Santa's bright sleigh.

Then they're ready for the big Santa Claus parade.

The Chamber of Commerce invites all children of this area to come downtown for the Santa Claus parade.

Carothers will help Santa Claus and will return to Texas from the Arctic Circle to be on hand for this big show.

J. E. Spears is another one of our old time subscribers who has slipped off the farm to retire and take it easier in town. He will never take a receipt. "No, I don't want one, but I am not going to pay you again."

Annual Dairymen's Short Course Dec. 7-8

K. R. bluestem, like other grasses, does better when it is not continuously and closely grazed.

Texas livestock producers are losing millions of dollars annually because they are not controlling the lice that infest their animals. Only about 30 per cent of the cattle in Texas are treated to control these parasites.

The annual Dairymen's Short Course will be held at Texas A. & M. College on December 7-8.

One of the heaviest expenditures in the clothing budget goes for hosiery. The reason may be due to the fact that not enough attention is given by the buyer to the size and kind of hosiery bought nor to proper care and handling.

The important thing to remember about building farm fences is to build a good one. The use of posts treated with a preservative, well braced corner posts and the use of quality fencing plus a good construction job, will add years to the life of the fence.

Failure to provide farm livestock and poultry with the protection and feed they need during the winter months may mean the difference between a profit or loss for the producer.

Tech Crop Team Wins Honors

Crops judging team from Texas Technological College placed second in two national contests, the National Intercollegiate Crops contest at Kansas City and the Annual Collegiate Crops Judging contest at Chicago.

Tech's team lost the Kansas City meet by 54 points. Edgar Hawkins, Lameza, was second high scorer. Victor Herring, of Brownfield, placed fifth and Jack Greathouse, Floyd, N. M., was tenth.

At the Chicago contest, Herring placed second in total points. In the identification phase of the contest, Herring and Robert Kral, Sweetwater, tied for first place. Horace Mitchell, Winters, was the other team member.

Judd Morrow, assistant professor of agronomy, was an official judge at both contests.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Lackey spent the weekend in Muleshoe and Morton.

Mr. and Mrs. Vic Atwood and David spent Tuesday with her mother, Mrs. E. C. Bennett, in Divide.

It seems that the second producer in the Paul Cobb pool over in Yoakum county is assured at a total depth of 6,087 feet. It is the No. 3, and will have a daily production of some 200 barrels.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. Jih Lewis had a stroke last Saturday. She makes her home here with her sister, Mrs. Lence Price, six miles north of town. They were all getting ready to come to town when the Prices heard a noise in the bath room and found Mrs. Lewis on the floor and unconscious. An ambulance was called and she was brought to the hospital. Bedside reports are that she is still very poorly.

Fresh Chevrolet Styling Imparts Lower Lines

The Styleline De Luxe four-door sedan is one of lower appearance. Radiator grilles have been simplified models introduced by Chevrolet as its passenger field, the decorative body moulding lowered and car line for 1951. Notable in this picture are the rear fender crowns raised. Models also offer added design improvements which accentuate a longer, safety.

The Oil Business Develops Some Puzzlers

Reports on some of the oil wells have us lay oil field fraternity up a stump again this week. We can take it or leave it. But we wish the real drillers and "rough-necks" would simplify their language so the uninitiated might at least get heads or tails. The idea of having a "Christmas tree" out in the oil fields—but that is what they call a series of crooked pipes joints, etc., they set over a flowing well when it is finished. But here goes at a trial balance.

Let's first take the North Adair-Wolfcamp section, some 12 miles just a bit southwest of Brownfield. It seems that the Amerada No. 6 Hicks, 1 1/2 miles southeast of the discovery, has struck salt water. Whether or not they encountered any oil above the water, plaintiff failed to state.

Anyway, the drillers seem to have orders to carry this well on down to 13,000 feet, and see what they can find.

In the same field the Amerada No. 2 W. O. Miller, was finished up as a producer, flowing around 1100 barrels of oil per diem. Wells in this field are between 8000 and 9000 feet. The well flowed some basic sediments and a bit of other junk along with the oil, but it was washed with 500 barrels of acid, so should be fairly clean and sanitary now.

Nothing to report in the Wellman field this week, except the drills are going down on several offsets of the discovery. Elsewhere we made a report of a telephone conversation with a Wellman lady to the "Oil Editor" of the Herald. She reports that a driller says "that's oil in that that west offset of the discovery." Glad to change our report from a duster to some kind of a producer.

And Joe Johnson looked kinder sick the first of the week, although he still carried a smile. The well on his place was plugged—abandoned—discontinued, a couple of miles north of the Mound Lake 2 well pool. But we learn that the well on the McCormick holdings, northwest of the pool, is still looking good.

Union Oil Companies, a half mile southeast offset of the discovery, is going to be a pretty good producer. It is some 23 feet low to the No. 1 Christova Stitt, which was a stronger well than the discovery. It is drilling in the reef at 9,925 feet.

Four miles northeast of the Brownfield pool, the Christmann-Welborn No. 1 is now down some 9,600 feet last report, and looking favorable to hit the reef at fairly even height to the discovery. In the same area, another well being drilled by Wilshire is also running a bit low. It is supposedly within 300 feet of the reef.

The Phillips Petroleum well, west offset of the discovery, which we mentioned as drilling into water, have attempted to ease off the cement to dry to attempt a completion. Both oil and water were found in this well.

The test this week disclosed plenty drillers' mud, slush, better than 3000 feet of oil, and last but not least, plenty of water. But the production depth through the reef didn't seem to be as thick as the discovery. It was some 225 feet in the No. 1 Cotten.

Here's our guess, after trying to do this crossword puzzle: This salt water was evidently near the bottom of the well. It will be cased off, and some kind of a producer will be made. But the oil field language in this instance left us wondering whether it would be a flowing well or a pumper.

This Weeks Oil News

Owing to a last minute rush of unexpected ads last week, our oil reports still holds good. While it will not be news to most people, hereabouts, it perhaps will be to those living at some distance.

This week it looks like the Joe J. McGowan No. 1, Honolulu and Did Monday Seem Natural To You?

Yes sir, Bo, every old timer and some of the new timers that have spent many years anywhere in West Texas, had the some word Monday when you met them on the street or in a business house. While each wiped the sand from their eyes, the word was, "say, it seems natural today, don't it?"

Oh, or course for several days the Weatherman had made half a stab at putting on a Sandyandy, but there was not enough powder behind the effort. But Monday, the old boy turned himself loose, and she ripped and roared and fell pellmell over the landscape. Paper and Russian thistle (we're going to change the name of those thistle. Even a thistle deserves a better name) were lined up on the east side of the buildings three feet deep in places.

Some one dared us to write up that sandstorm, and we took the dare, hook, line and sinker. But we have seen much worse ones. Remember Thanksgiving 1926?

EIGHT TERRY MEN INDUCTED IN ARMY

Eight Terry county men left by bus for Amarillo Thursday, Nov.

Anyway, it was fairly good as a winter-spring beginner.

But if you were a bit surprised at the sandstorm, neighbor, how about snow being on the ground when you woke up Tuesday morning? We'll have to confess that we were. We didn't think there was that much moisture between the Rockies to the Mississippi river.

30th, to be inducted into the Army. All the men, and several more from Yoakum and Hockley counties, were registered with local board No. 116, which serves the three counties.

Terry county men who left Thursday were Tommy Carriger of Meadow, Doyle Crowder of Wellman, and John Todd, Elbert Hinkle, Travis Swink, Billy Wade, Ray Wallace and Billy Franks, all of Brownfield.

Brownfield In District Seven Under New Interscholastic League System

Texas Interscholastic League officials announced last week the most drastic reorganization of high school football in the 30 year history of the league.

Under the new setup, Brownfield will be in district 7, class AA, along with Littlefield, Leveland, Morton and Muleshoe. Prior to the change, Brownfield was in district 4, Class A, with the above named schools and Tahoka, Slaton and Post. Under the new system, Tahoki, Slaton, Post, Spur and Falls will be in district 6, class AA.

The new six conference system that will produce four state schoolboy football champions each year instead of two and kill the unpopular City Conference, was announced by TIL officials Wednesday of last week.

Rodney J. Kidd, the league's director, and Dr. Rhea Williams, the athletic director, said the new setup was designed to equalize competition. They described it as complete, from the bottom up, reclassification, based primarily on enrollment.

Under the new setup, there are thirty-two districts in Class AA, thirty-two in class A, and thirty-six in B. Class B will play only to regional championships in football, but will be one of five basketball champs to be determined henceforth in the annual state basketball tournament.

Class AA includes all schools with enrollments of 200 through 449. Class A is made up of schools with enrollments between 115 and 199, and Class B is composed of schools with enrollments up to 115 students.

In addition, schools with enrollments slightly under the limits can be voted into a higher classification by unanimous consent of all members of the district it asks for membership.

Under the new system, Meadow Plains, Roseville, and Wellman, along with Whitharrel, Cooper (Lubbock), and Frenship (Wolfforth), are in Conference B, Region I.

The new system will go into effect September, 1951.

GAS SEEN AS GIANT

Berkeley, Calif. (AP)—Natural gas may soon be more important than oil in the United States says James J. Parsons of the University of California. He estimates that six trillion cubic feet were taken from the ground in 1949. Known gas reserves are bigger than oil reserves, he says.

In 1949 the marketed production of gas increased 12 per cent with eight per cent reduction in cost and 26 per cent reduction in cost.

CALL WRONG PLAY EVERY TIME

George Peck has given out a cartoon for this week that hits the politics in the tenderest spot it has. The political planner is represented to have called every play wrong and has given the police State the advantage in every particular. May be the average person will deny this but let him consider. What is it we can now do without calling upon the Federal government for permission. Too long our cotton crop has been turned over to the government to sell; the acreage has been limited to each planter; everything of a public nature must be authorized by some federal representative such as broadcasting, rent control, etc. Then you can not buy things for your home, or a new car on time without a regulatory interference. Even the second hand automobile dealer is hard hit by this selling control. It seems he will be forced out of business.

So, Mr. Planner, where is the freedom of which you are constantly bragging? You have called so many wrong plays that it is now doubtful if our country will ever recover from your errors.—Yoakum County Review.

Becoming Oil Center Despite Late Start

The South Plains heretofore has not included itself in the term "oil rich West Texas." However, this area, although its oil development has only started, has been producing its share of West Texas crude for a number of years.

Included below is a list of counties in the area with proven oil reserves, the number of barrels produced in each during 1949 and the year oil was discovered in that county:

County	Barrels of oil	Year 1st well
Andrews	30,783,187	1950
Borden	239,510	1949
Cochran	6,278,362	1936
Dawson	1,366,613	1937
Gaines	12,517,632	1936
Garza	2,596,730	1926
Hale	2,359,760	1946
Hockley	17,503,303	1937
Kent	11,490	1946
King	769,084	1943
Lamb	240,022	1945
Lubbock	52,178	1941
Scurry	5,235,175	1923
Terry	508,290	1940
Yoakum	17,691,966	1935

Next year Lynn county will be added to the list. Also the production figures in Scurry, Kent, Terry, Hockley and Borden counties will show decided increases for 1950 over 1949, due to the intensive development going on in those counties.—Lubbock Avalanche.

INDIAN CLAIMS RIGHT TO HUNT

Dartmouth, Canada (AP)—An elderly Micmac Indian is appealing his conviction for hunting deer illegally on the basis of a 198 year old treaty.

A copy of a treaty, signed by the governor, says in part, "It is agreed that the said tribe of Indians shall not be hindered from, but have free liberty of hunting and fishing as usual."

The Gran Chaco of Paraguay is still in the Wild West stage.

NEW BATHING SUITS FRET AUSTRALIANS

Sydney (AP)—Australian migrants from Europe who appear on Sydney's beaches in French style bathing costumes, or undress in the open are causing beach inspectors concern.

Inspectors say, in most cases they have been accustomed to such habits.

Some lead carbonate crystals have the brilliance of diamonds but are not hard enough to be used in jewelry.

Miss Bradley Wed To Mr. Lawrence

The wedding of Miss Wynona Bradley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bradley of Brownfield, and Doyle Lawrence, son of Mrs. Fred Ballard of Las Cruces, N. M., took place in the home of the bride's parents at 209 E. Buckley at 9 a.m. Sunday, December 3.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Jimmy Wood, minister of the Gescent Hill Church of Christ.

Miss Peggy Bradley, sister of the bride, was her only attendant. She wore a salmon wool suit with powder blue accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

The bride wore a navy blue suit with navy blue accessories, and a corsage of red rosebuds. For something old, she wore a watch given her by the groom. Her suit was new and blue. She wore earrings belonging to her cousin, Dohleta Pearson, for something old, and she had a lucky penny in her shoe.

R. A. Bradley, brother of the bride, attended the groom.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony. The bride's table was laid with a white cutwork cloth belonging to Mrs. Tom May. Tall white tapers and the wedding cake, topped with white wedding bells graced the table.

Mrs. Irene Flint, aunt of the groom, presided over the coffee service and Miss Peggy Bradley served cake and coffee in antique cups and plates. Pictures were taken by Bill Almon of Lowe's Studio.

Mrs. Shirley Moore registered approximately twenty-six guests from Amarillo, Dell City, Cahuillo, Lubbock, Las Cruces and Brownfield.

The couple received congratulations by telephone from Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Mortenson (Happy and Jenny) of Washington, D. C.

After a brief wedding trip to El Paso and points in New Mexico, the couple will reside at 202 E. Cardwell.

The bride as a graduate of Brownfield High School, and the groom graduated from El Paso High School. He is employed as an engineer by Gulf Oil Corporation here.

State Secretary Addressed Group

Andrew Allen, state Baptist Sunday school secretary, addressed a large group of members of the First Baptist church at a recognition banquet held for officers and Sunday school workers Friday, December 1, at the church.

W. N. Lewis was toastmaster at the banquet, and entertainment included several selections by a women's trio composed of Mrs. Grady Goodpasture, Mrs. Gerald Nelson, and Mrs. W. B. Cope. Ruth Huckabee was accompanist. The general theme of discussion was the need for more and better Sunday school workers.

Gerald Nelson, educational director of the church, recognized the workers, and Fred Stumpp, minister of the church, expressed appreciation to the workers.

The banquet was served by Beth White, Parlee Nelson, Mary Lynn Miller, Peggy Joyce Stumpp, Mary Moore, Willa Johnson, Junelee Greenfield, Patsy Lewis, Sandra Bailey and Betty Hudson.

Among the officers and workers attending were Messrs. and Mrs. Stumpp, Nelson, A. W. Turner, W. B. Cope, C. E. Ross, Lewis, T. G. Sexton, Odell Sears, S. W. Miller, Henry Newman, Wayne Smith, C. W. Powell and Bill Neal; Mesdames J. T. Auburg, Carl Johnson, Jim Jones, Andrew Cooper, Hubert Colbert, D. L. Patton, Jerry Dumas, R. L. Noble, E. L. Jackson, Dorman Dumas, Clemmie Hamilton, F. G. White, Frank Dyemartin, W. E. Latham and A. L. Stell; Messrs. Stanley Miller, Lester Buford, E. B. McBurnett, Sr., and J. E. Smith; and Miss Bonnie Chapell, church secretary.

Gee Gee's Chit Chat

Well, everybody has dispensed with Thanksgiving, at least most of us have, and can now concentrate on the joyous Yuletide season. All the store windows are taking on a frosty, glittery look, and shoppers are beginning to bustle around. A few Santa Claus letters are beginning to dribble into this office and, when I get enough of them together, I'm thinking of delivering them myself. If I can find a pair of snowshoes, that is. So let's get those letters coming this way, please. I love to read them. It gives me a few more items to ask for sometimes.

On the subject of asking for things, I, as chairman of the Red Cross in Terry county, receive many requests from various service organizations at Christmas for names of needy families. There are many organizations and clubs who make up Christmas baskets to distribute to families who otherwise would not have any Christmas at all. I would appreciate any of you who know of families like these contacting me so that I may add those names to my list. It will mean making many little children and their families happy, so please give me all the information you have concerning the families.

The Lions Club Boy Scout troop this year is in charge of mending toys to add to some of the above named baskets. Tess Fulfer has offered the use of the basement of the Esquire Restaurant as a collection base for those broken toys, so, if you have any mechanical toys that are not entirely beyond repair, please take them to the Boy Scout hut, located on E. Broadway, or to the Esquire.

Roaming down the street the other day, I happened to glance in Aker's Appliance window and, for the first time in I can't remember when, I didn't notice the woman turning her head at me. (Not Jewell—the one in the window). If you haven't stopped by to see the lovely table in the window, all set up with snowy linen and that luscious Castleton china and Seneca crystal, then do so. It almost makes you want to trade your husband off for a newer model just so you can get another "swindle" party.

On down the street and into Charlie Price's place, where I had a jolly time cranking up all of his musical toys and decorations. All I have to say is that if the mechanical toys and things keep going at such a galloping pace, the kids will have to take a special course in mechanics when they're in kindergarten.

When I was stomping around the Melody Music Mart this week, Marie and Nan Chessir were all astute about the Treasure Hunt. They wouldn't tell me exactly what their window decoration was to be, but they thought it was clever as the devil. I sure want to see it—it'll probably look like the devil.

Well, the old fellow with the long white beard is scheduled to be in Brownfield at 4:30 p.m. Monday, December 11, complete with sleigh and reindeer. This parade of Santa Claus will officially open the Christmas season in this city, and will be followed up Monday night with the "unveiling" of store windows and the annual Jaycee Treasure Hunt. You sure don't want to miss it, even if you have to wade snow up to your neck. Who knows but what one of the "treasures" will be a neck scarf?

"White Christmas" has already appeared on all the juke boxes in town, and I guess it's okay for us to dream of one. We'll probably come nearer having a rousing good sandstorm on December 25, however.

You've heard the old saying, "you can take the girl out of the country, but you can't take the country out of the girl." Well, I guess it still goes. Quite a turn-about from the usual procedure, who should be shopping in Brownfield last week but two city slickers from Lubbock, former Brownfield residents, Vivian Parks and Dorothy Kirschner. According to these two gals, not only did they keep body and soul together better by avoiding that Lubbock shoppers' crush, but they found many things here in Brownfield that can't be found in Lubbock. Regular little walking chambers of commerce, huh?

Which reminds me. Where the devil are Brownfield's Christmas lights? Everybody else has 'em. Why don't we? And, little city fathers, if you put them up before this comes out in print, one thousand red, white and blue pardons.

Speaking of rough stuff, how about the new Texas Interscholastic League football setup for the coming year? Pretty sharp, huh? I asked coach Toby Greer how he liked it, and he likes it fine. He feels that his football boys, who are mostly sophomores this year, will really be in there and giving district 7-AA teams a run for their money. And I, for one,

Simple Rules For Christmas Safety

TRAFFIC

1. Use extra care for the extra holiday hazards.
2. Put the Christmas spirit of "good will" into your attitude toward drivers and pedestrians.
3. Don't let Christmas packages obstruct your vision when walking.
4. Don't drive if you drink—and vice versa.
5. Start in time and take it easy. Allow for winter weather and extra holiday traffic.

HOME

1. Check your home for anything that might cause an accident.
2. Keep your Christmas tree in water and away from flames.
3. Use electric tree and window lights—no lighted candles ever. Don't leave tree lights on when you are out of the room for a considerable time.
4. Check your electrical connections for shorts and worn-out wires.
5. Keep flimsy Christmas decorations and wrappings away from the fireplace.

SAYS HE WAS DISMISSED

Dr. J. M. Stephens is shown at his office in Brownville, Texas, after he said he was "dismissed" from the staff of the Catholic Mercy Hospital in Brownville for sterilizing a maternity patient. He said he was stopped from completing the operation by a Sister who walked into the operating room while he was closing the incision. He said the Sister ordered him to untie the fallopian tubes he had closed in the sterilization process and he complied. (AP Photo.)

NAME CRUSADE CHAIRMAN FOR CANCER SOCIETY
Temple (Special)—George E. B. Peddy, Houston attorney, who has long been prominent in Texas cancer affairs, will serve as state cancer crusade chairman for the 1951 membership and fund-raising campaign of the American Cancer Society, Texas Division. His selection was announced by Dr. G. V. Brindley of Temple, chairman of the executive committee of the Texas cancer organization.

In accepting the chairmanship, Mr. Peddy said, "Cancer is still one of our most menacing health problems. It is still unconquered. Last year almost 8,000 Texans died of the disease, most of them needlessly. We must make a vital effort year after year to stem the march of this disease, and we can do this best through the American Cancer Society's annual Crusade. I urge every Texan to join the 1951 Cancer Crusade."

G. I. QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q. I was the common-law wife of a World War I veteran who died recently. If I meet income requirements, would I be eligible for a VA pension?

A. You may be eligible provided a valid common-law marriage was established. File a claim with the VA, and at that time your entitlement will be determined.

Q. I expect to enter a VA hospital shortly for treatment of a 40 per cent service-connected disability, and I understand I'll have to remain there for two or three months. Is there any way my family can get financial help from VA while I am hospitalized?

A. VA has no funds specifically available for such purposes. However, after you have been in the hospital 21 days or more for treatment of the service-connected condition, VA will pay you 100 per cent disability rating, which you will continue to receive thereafter for as long as you remain hospitalized for such treatment.

Q. I am planning to buy a home with a GI loan, and am ready to make a down payment. What happens to my down payment in case a VA loan guaranty cannot be accomplished?

A. Unless you make certain a clause is inserted in the purchase contract stating that payments are to be returned to you if the loan cannot be obtained, you may lose your down payment.

Q. Does the new law enabling Spanish-American War veterans to get outpatient medical care without regard to service connection, also apply to dental care?

A. Spanish-American War veterans may be eligible for full dental care in VA clinics or from hometown dentists with VA approval.

Committee System Used By PMA

College Station—Warfarin, a new rat killer released by the University of Wisconsin Research Foundation, appears to be one of the most effective poisons available for the control of rats and mice.

The active ingredient of the new poison is coumarin, a compound found in sweet clover which affects the clotting of blood, says J. E. Poore, assistant district leader for the Rodent Control Service. Rats that have eaten warfarin baits for several days become less active, develop internal hemorrhages and slowly bleed to death.

Poore says that one advantage of warfarin over many of the other rat poisons is that it is odorless and tasteless. Rats will continue to eat the bait until they die without detecting the presence of the poison. Another advantage lies in the safety with which it can be used on the farm. Warfarin is poisonous to all warm blooded animals, but the amount recommended for controlling rats and mice is so small that there is little danger of farm animals or people being poisoned accidentally.

Even though warfarin is considered an extremely safe rodent poison, Poore warns that the usual precautions should be taken to prevent accidental poisonings on the farm.

For the poison to be effective, it is necessary for rats to eat warfarin baits over a period of five or more successive days. Grain or cereal type bait, which are not readily eaten by cats and dogs may be mixed with the poison, thus reducing the possible danger of poisoning these farm pets.

Warfarin is now on the market under the trade names of various chemical companies. Poore cautions that the warfarin bait should be mixed according to the manufacturer's instructions.

According to Poore, mixed bait can be secured in 100 pound lots from the Rodent Control Service at San Antonio. Rodent control service fieldmen and county agricultural agents and representatives of other public service organizations can order the new poison.

Behind The Scenes

BY REYNOLDS KNIGHT

New York, Nov. 20—So far as civilians are concerned, the soft war is over. With the elections over the way, many government controls that were considered bad politics prior to November 7th are now being pushed vigorously.

Full steam is being put behind demands for an excess profits tax. Another annoying piece of business, for small as well as large businessmen, is the necessity to fill out detailed forms on inventories and shipments of critical materials. Some of these reports will have to be filled out monthly, and this is not going to please staffs already overburdened with red tape and unproductive work.

Business leaders hope that private enterprise will not be too severely handicapped, for a reasonably prosperous civilian economy is needed to pay the cost of the mobilization effort. When an acute housing shortage developed after World War II, it was private enterprise that jumped into the breach, building homes at a record rate to relieve a human as well as an economic sore spot. Many a thoughtful statesman will not want to discourage enterprise in this field, for the housing situation is still one of the more serious of our domestic deficiencies.

THINGS TO COME—A steel-alloy tower that scrubs contaminated air with high pressure water, clearing factory air of dust and exhaust gases. . . A sun lamp that weighs only ten ounces and can fit in your pocket. . . A varnish that protects electrical units, preventing them from cracking in cold weather. . . A new house-insulating fibre made of chips of Douglas fir. . . A binocular that not only brings distant events closer to you, but photographs them on 16 mm. film. . . A new cereal called Corn Pops.

ICELANDIC SANTA CLAUS IS AMERICAN

Reykjavik, Iceland. (AP)—To many Icelandic children Santa Claus is an American. This is particularly true in and around the Keflavik airport which is operated by Americans. During the war American soldiers held Christmas parties for the local children with big successes and the habit was kept by the civilians who took over the base.

GETS VOTERS

Swift Current, Sask. (AP)—The Civic Voters Association donated $35 in prizes to school pupils making the closest estimate of the number of civic votes cast. A contestant had to prove his parents voted, and the result was nearly 1,000 more votes than usual.

OFF AGAIN, ON AGAIN, GONE AGAIN FLANAGIN

To be strictly brief about the matter, almost as much so as the man Flanagan who had a derailed train, the Brownfield High Cubs have closed the football season, and are now ready to take on a few basketball teams from the area. Their first game of the season was played this week with the Sundown quintette.

The first three games of the season will be played away from home, as the Cubs are waiting to move into the new high school gym for their home games.

The Cubs football bunch showed great improvement in the late season, as they were mostly green hands to start with. Some writer recently said of his home team, "we always have a great team, for next year." We will leave that alibi for later estimates.

MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED

Three marriage licenses were issued by the county clerk of Terry county, week ending Nov. 25th, as follows:

Bobbie Day Davis and Mrs. Jesse Lee Womack; Petronilo Herrera and Rumaoldo DeLeon; Catarina Sanchez and Christina Rodriguez.

The British Act of Union joined England and Scotland in 1707.

Frequent Causes Of Sinus Trouble

Among the most frequent causes of sinus trouble are infections of the nose and throat like the common cold, influenza, measles, scarlet fever, whooping cough and diphtheria says Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer. Exposure and chilling of the skin, poor diet, fatigue, allergies, infected teeth or tonsils enlarged adenoids or other nasal obstructions also may cause sinus infection.

Blowing the nose violently, diving or swimming with the nose under water may force infectious material into the sinuses. Frequent use of sprays, oils and antiseptics in the nose may injure the mucous membrane and bring on sinus infection.

General resistance to sinus infection can be built up by observing the rules for good physical and mental health. Get plenty of rest, good food and exercise. Protect your body from sudden changes in temperature and from exposure to extreme cold or heat. Don't expose yourself to infections, since colds and other infections of nose, throat and chest are often forerunners of sinus trouble.

Rest in bed and medical care for respiratory ailments are wise precautions against complications.

The New Comers Are Still Coming

The Herald welcomes quite a list of new folks that had arrived in Brownfield up to week ending November 25th, to make this their home. The source of our information does not maintain that those mentioned are the only folks to arrive. They are just those that the reporter heard about, probably through their application for rooms, apartments or houses.

However, the Herald alone has three newcomers in that time that might be added to the list, the latest being Vern Watkins and wife from Snyder, floorman.

Others are as follows: Mrs. Imground, Sundown; Vance M. Diskill, Sundown; Millard H. Martin, Maple; Homer Pottis, Hillsboro; Homer Stout, Kansas City, Kansas; George D. Martin, Big Spring.

Week ending Nov. 25th, the following had moved from Brownfield to other places: Lester Short to Post, Texas, and Ike Bayliffe to Norman, Okla., John Labourcade to San Antonio.

Plans Being Made For 1951 Festival

At a meeting held at the Esquire Restaurant November 30, plans were made by a committee for the 1951 Harvest Festival, sponsored by the Brownfield Rotary Club.
 C. G. Griffith, club president, announced that James Harley Dallas will be the general chairman of next year's festival. Other committee chairmen are: advertising, David Worley; queen, A. M. Muldrow; prize, Sam Privitt; program, Everett Latham; float, John Portwood; ticket, Bruce Zorns; parade, Murphy May; Hallowe'en, Lee Brownfield; public address system, Tommy Hicks, and stage, C. L. Aven, Jr.
 The committee chairmen, along with the Rotary Club board of directors, met and outlined plans for a better than ever festival for 1951, Griffith said.
 Committee chairmen will meet soon and set up their full committees. Contacts are now being made for the program, and the committees have great plans to entertain Brownfield and its trade area in 1951.
 The date for all future harvest festivals has been set for the 3rd Thursday in October.
 Mrs. Marshall Loyd of San Angelo is visiting this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Langford, and other relatives.
