CLINE PADEN TO SPEAK AT CHURCH OF CHRIST

Cline Padon, evangelist of the Church of Christ of Frascati, Italy is to preach in services at the Crescent Hill Church of Christ, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 27-28-29.

Evangelist Padon is a former minister of the Crescent Hill church, and his many friends in Brownfield will want to hear him preach again. All sermons will be evangelistic in nature. The Sunday night service will be used to discuss the work of the church in Frascati, Italy, and its needs.

The Crescent Hill church has promised to erect a church building in this city during the next year. This lesson will be particularly interesting because of this fact.

Brother Padon was reared in the Monroe community of Lubbock county. He received his college education at Pepperdine in Los Angeles and Abilene Christian College. He has been supported in his work in Italy by the Crescent Hill church for the past four years.

He went to Italy in November, 1947, to investigate the possibilities of beginning the work of the church of Christ. After two months he returned to this country and after almost a year of preparation, during which time funds were raised to begin an orphan's home he and wife, with a group of 10 others returned to Italy in January, 1949.

Brother Padon has been preaching and teaching in Italy during the past two years. He is also the superintendent of Frascati Orphans' Home, where at present, 30 boys of Italy have a home. He preaches regularly for the churches in Frascati and Rome.

At the request of the churches in Italy, he returned to America in February for the purpose of raising funds for the erection of church buildings in some of the cities of Italy. For the past four months he has been engaged in this work. Brother Padon is to return to Italy in the near future, to take up his work again.

The Crescent Hill Church of Christ urges you to come every night of these meetings, and hear this devoted minister of Christ preach the gospel. He is humble, earnest and sincere in his presentation of the Lord's word.

New Owner Of The Anton News Calls

The Herald had as a caller this week, Afton Richards, who sold his Aspermont Star last week to Lowell C. Welch, an east Texas newspaperman, and in turn Richards has purchased the Anton News from his father, H. G. Richards, who has been publishing that paper for the past 20 or 25 years.

About six weeks ago, the elder Richards had to undergo some serious operations at a Littlefield hospital, and has not fully recovered. In fact it is quite uncertain when he would be able to resume publication of the News. And since this is the old family starter, where all the boys learned the printers trade, Afton bought out his father, including the building.

Afton was out in search of Linotype mats, smaller than his dad used, and while he had just barely reached our office, Afton had already gone from Anton to Lamesa, some 100 miles, then back here, 35 miles. But the Lamesa paper that advertised the Linotype mats had already sold them. Well, they put a price on them that really moved them.

Many in the Meadow section will remember Afton and family, as he ran the Meadow Star for several years. It was finally absorbed by the Ropes paper, and Afton bought the Aspermont Star. Many the time, when the Herald would get head over heels with work, Afton would slip down to Brownfield and help all he could. He has pulled us out of many tight spots.

After selling the Meadow paper, he purchased the Aspermont Star, including the building, and while he has added much machinery and modernized not a little, Afton informed us that he had made a nice profit on the paper when he sold out last week.

We hope to see more of Editor Afton now, as he is some closer, and we hope his dad gets OK after a long rest and treatment. By the way, the Richards farmed in Terry county before moving to Anton, out in the Johnson community. Some of the older settlers will remember them.

Afton Richards, we believe, and a twin brother of Afton, owns and edits the Rule Review over in Haskell county.

POSSE WINNERS AT LEVELLAND

The Terry County Sheriff's Posse, captained by Money Price, received a trophy as second place winners in the Levelland annual rodeo parade last week.

Portales, N. M. possemen received first place trophy, and Floydada placed third.

The Terry county group also were first place winners in the chuck wagon race staged the opening night of the rodeo.

Travis To Head Co. X-Ray Program

Announcement was made this week of the appointment of Virgil Travis, local gin man, as county-wide general chairman of the forthcoming mass chest X-ray program. Appointment was made by Harmon Howze, chamber of commerce president. The chamber is sponsoring organization for this year's program. Appointment of additional committeemen had not been made at time of announcement.

Dates of the 1951 program have been set for September 8, 10 and 11.

In making the announcement of the appointment of Travis to the chairmanship, Howze added that while more Terry countians had been X-rayed last year than ever before, the average was far below that of the state as a whole, and that it is the aim of the chamber of commerce in general and the committee in particular to surpass the state average.

Equalization Board To Set August 10th

Bill Aschenbeck, City Secretary, stated this week that the City Council sat recently as a Board of Equalization, and presumably some had their tax valuations raised. These taxpayers will be notified by card, Bill stated, and will have a chance August 10th to come before the Council and have a hearing on any protest.

During their session recently, the City Council also extended the usual discounts that has been in vogue for the past several years, to those who wish to pay their taxes early. The plan is as follows:

Those paid in October, 3 percent discount; those paid in November 2 percent, and those in December 1 percent. If you wait to pay in January 1952, the rate will be without discount.

At their meeting, the City Council set a tax rate of 95c on the $100 valuation, and that folks is about the cheapest rate in this area, and one of the cheapest in Texas. Most city taxes run from $1.25 to $2.50 and above, on the $100 valuation.

BROWNFIELD YOUTH IN PLAINVIEW CLINIC

Donald Morris, 17-year-old Brownfield youth, is under treatment in the West Texas Polio center at the Plainview Hospital and Clinic Foundation for bulbar polio.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Morris of Brownfield, the youth was admitted at 1 p. m. Tuesday in serious condition. He became ill Saturday afternoon, and his condition became worse Monday night. He was placed under an oxygen tent at the center.

Young Morris was carried to Plainview Tuesday by Brownfield Funeral Home ambulance, with Roy B. Collier driving.

Admittance of the youth brought to 13 the number of patients under treatment for poliomyelitis here, although there are no iron lung cases at present.

Boll Worms In Much Of The Cotton Says Foy—Three Meetings Are Called

Terry County Agent, Jim Foy, stated this week that there are quite a few boll worms in each field inspected in the county, especially east of Brownfield, and Floydada placed third.

The first one will be held at the Needmore Gin at 9:30 a. m.; the 2nd at Western Cottonoil Co. here in town at 11 a. m. The third will be held at the Foster Gin at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

These meetings will be in charge of Harry Harvey, assistant entomologist of this 16 county area. Farmers are urgently invited to attend one or more of these meetings next Monday.

In order to get the farmers of this county well informed on worms and insects, and the kind of poison to use in each case, there will be three meetings of farmers in designated places next

FEDERAL SHARE OF OLD AGE PENSIONS ENLARGED

Dallas Banker To Head USO Drive

BEN WOOTEN

Ben Wooten, Dallas banker, today was named campaign chairman of the forthcoming $700,000 fund appeal for the USO in Texas.

Selection of Wooten to head the state-wide campaign was announced by Attorney General Price Daniel, chairman of the Texas United Defense Fund committee.

"Each county has a vital interest in maintaining home-ties with its young men and women in military service," Wooten said, "and each will be asked to assume its proportionate share of the USO budget to assure that morale in the Armed Forces is maintained on a high level."

Local campaigns throughout the state will coincide with the regular Community Chest campaigns during October and November.

"Regardless of what happens in Korea, as long as Russia continues the cold war and millions of our youths are engaged in the defense of our freedom, there will be a need for the familiar home-away-from-home services of the USO," Wooten said.

LANGS ATTEND FUNERAL OF NEPHEW

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Lang were in Whitharald Monday to attend the funeral of Jerry Don Redding, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Redding. Mrs. Redding is the former Miss Pauline Lang of this city, the daughter of Mrs. Myra Lang, and a niece of Leonard Lang; she is also a sister of Mrs. Carl Peters, city.

Others attending from here were Hub King, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Peters, Mrs. W. E. Patton and Runey, and Mesdames Myra Lang, Marion Norris and Marie Kirk.

Mrs. Rose Baldwin and son, Larry of El Paso, are here for a visit with Mrs. F. L. Baldwin.

Attorney General Named Head UDF

PRICE DANIEL

Attorney General Price Daniel today was named chairman of the Texas United Defense Fund Committee.

Daniel accepted the appointment at the request of the Community Chest leaders of the state who are sponsoring the organization to raise funds for the USO in Texas.

"Thousands and thousands of our Texas young men and women are in uniform defending our freedom around the globe," Attorney General Daniel said in accepting the assignment. "The job lies in our hands to give them the reassuring certainty that—at home or overseas—people of their home towns are vitally concerned with their well-being."

The USO and its familiar services have been called back into action to provide a home-tie with the American Armed Forces which now are on duty in every hemisphere. Secretary of Defense George C. Marshall has called the USO "an integral part of the defense effort." The program of civilian aid to the men and women in uniform has the firm backing of top government leaders, and its efforts will be closely coordinated with the national defense program.

The national goal this year is $18,624,854. Texans will be called on to subscribe their proportionate share of the national goal.

Fast Drivers Run Red Light

Visitors to Plains have been known to grumble about the stop light on highway 380. They wondered why such a light is needed in a little saved-off town like this. Well, having to stop at this light is just the penalty against you for your fast driving through town. If care had been practiced in driving through town the light would never have been put.

But now since a number of people have been running the red light in violation of the law and defying the deputy sheriff, there will be some arrests one of these days, and in all probability another stop light will be hung farther down the street near the school.

As soon as the driver of the car passes are red light he steps on the gas and drives as fast as his car will go down through town.

We hope the deputy sheriff will run down a few of these smart fellows and make them pay a fine. —Yoakum County Review.

LOCAL MAN FINED FOR LIQUOR VIOLATION

Upon entering a plea of guilty Saturday afternoon, E. G. Tubbs, a resident of the west part of the city, was assessed a fine of $1,750 and costs for the unlawful possession and selling of alcoholic beverages in a dry area.

TWO WELLS FINISHED IN ADAIR POOL LAST WEEK

In The New City Hall By Sept. 1—Maybe

Got Mayor C. C. Primm still enough for some few minutes this week to ask a few questions. The Mayor, who is also Primm Drug owner, is usually plunging the line-hopping counters—or making an end run—through another passage way, and only an ante-lope can keep up with him. We can't even do so with our fast Tennessee walking stick.

But C. C. says they hope to move into the new $175,000 city hall, fire and police station—yes, and jail, about Sept. 1st or soon thereafter. Petitions are now being put in, and all outside being practically finished, so that inclement weather will not delay matters.

As to the big engine installation, the Mayor refused to hazard a guess. A month? Maybe six weeks. He says the man who is installing it, has to have every measurement and level to a gnat's bristle. A piece of machinery as big and heavy as that must be put down exactly right and perfectly level for maximum results.

Survivor Insurance Shows Increase

The number of old-age and survivors insurance beneficiaries in the 18 county South Plains area administered by the Lubbock social security office increased 26 percent in the first six months after amendments to the Social Security Act became effective last September.

Increase in the amounts being paid was even more substantial, jumping 220 percent from $31,000 to $68,000 monthly, according to John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock office.

Hutton said that as of August 31, 1950, it was estimated that 3000 persons were receiving $81,000 monthly in these insurance payments in the area. The tabulation recently completed shows that as of February 28, 1951, there were 2542 men, women and children in the area receiving $68,291 monthly. The manager pointed out that the reason for the proportionately greater rise in the amount of payments was that the new law, effective last September, not only made many additional persons eligible for payments but also very substantially increased the general level of benefits.

Hutton called attention to the fact that this Federal insurance program provides not only old-age insurance but protection for the family in case of the breadwinner's death.

These payments are from the Federal program of insurance, supported by the worker and his employer with payroll taxes, and have no reference to the State-operated public assistance programs, which are also sponsored by the Social Security Act.

CAR REGISTRATIONS FOR LAST WEEK

Over at the Tax Assessor-Collector's office last week, 10 new cars were registered to Saturday night as follows:

Wells P. Rollins, Chevrolet; W. B. Reynolds, Buick; Gus Roush, Sr., Chevrolet; W. W. Cooper, Mercury and Wade G. Moriarty, Buick.

Pat McMillian, Buick; John W. Bell, Plymouth; F. G. Yale, Ford; Placid Oil Co., Pontiac and Kyle Graves, Nash.

Not to mention the shallow part of the Adair oil field, the deep reef pool is becoming quite extensive, and seemingly much of the area is blessed with oil in both strata, the 5000 and 8000 plus depths. Reports last week were to the effect that two more wells were brought in, one an extreme north outcrop, and the other on extreme south edge.

There is some two miles of the shallow pool, developed several years ago on the Terry county side of the line, while it extends quite some distance down in Gaines county, perhaps to the Cedar Lake area. But so far all the deep wells have been found on the Terry county side of the line. These wells are good producers, around 600 barrels or better per day, and all so far are flowing wells. We believe there are now some 15 of the deep wells.

It appears that the Anderson well some six miles southwest of town hit the reef where it was too thin to make a producer. The Standind Company have asked permission to go on down to some 12,000 feet. It remains to be seen whether they will later try to develop some kind of a well in the some 50 to 75 feet of reef lime. They may be trying for the Devonian. There was a bit of show in the reef.

It seems that the Cowan well drilled by Texas Co., north Meadow is not showing anything, yet the company is still trying to find some pay, but the last test had no show. In the meantime, there is another Scales well in the Wellman pool in the process of being finished. Boy, ain't them Scales lucky?

A report was out last week that another test is to be made near the Mound Lake pool in northeast Terry. We believe there are some three producers out there, but all wells drilled since that time have been out quite some distance from the pool, and all dusters. As we understand it, the new prospect is not too far from some of the producers, perhaps to the south.

One of the most interesting true stories that we have read recently concerned a German boy, Ernst Hermann Tauchen, who spent a full year here in the United States a guest of a family in Indiana. He was just one of the 576 German boys and girls who are being brought to the United States on an exchange basis, with some family, to attend the schools and churches, and in this instance to help around the farm. This particular boy could not qualify as a displaced person, although his old home seems to have been eastern Germany, now of course occupied by the Reds. These boys range from 15 to 18, and the movement seems to have been sponsored by the Church of the Brethren, both in Germany and the USA. Upon arrival, with badly worn clothing that were fast becoming too small for this growing youth, he was received with open hands and hearts by the Lantz family, where he was in a brief time, to learn to speak some English and get a large raft of democracy in real practice. To brief the booklet as much as possible, he was unduly surprised to find so much on the tables in the way of food. He was carried to town and fitted out with a new suit as well as shoes, work clothes and other clothing needs. In school he was greeted by the other pupils as an equal and made friends fast. Even the local pastor of the church, the Lantz family attended called at the residence to personally greet the new arrival, and the superintendent of the school and one of the teachers had a personal talk with Ernst. This too, was astonishing, as ministers and teachers in Germany are something apart from the common herd, and has a little to do with them as possible. The youth was soon attending the school functions and enjoying the games, and his first Sunday at church, his face went red when the minister publicly greeted him. White he could understand little English, he knew the minister referred to him, as all eyes turned in his direction. But they were friendly eyes. So he was being called upon to tell something of conditions in Germany, and what he thought of the schools and society in the USA. Suddenly it hit him like a rock between his eyes: "So, these are the people that the German youth had been taught to hate." As desirous as he and the Lantz family were for his time to be extended another year it could not be arranged. To our notion, however, this plan will do more toward teaching the nations of western Europe democracy as it is practiced in the USA, than all the Marshall Plans, and all the Voice of America can ever hope to do.

Just why people cannot see eye to eye is a moot question, and has been since the time of Cain and Able. One of them was a stockman and the other a farmer, and they disagreed over the kind of sacrifice to make to Jehovah, and from that dispute was launched the first murder ever recorded on earth. And today, many of us are Democrats, other Republicans, Socialists, Farm Labor, Communists and what have you. Even the Jewish race, whom most people regard as the most united of all the races, were divided into camps of Pharisees and Sadducees as well as lesser groups in the time of Christ. In this connection, maybe you noted a few months ago in Chicago that there was some trouble between the health authorities and a religious sect when the former took a child from a family to give it a blood transfusion to save the child's life, according to the opinion of physicians. Anyway, to brief this story, a good lady who evidently belongs to this particular religious sect brought us a pamphlet to read, giving their side of the argument. The contention of the sect went back to Genesis where the children of Israel were forbidden to eat blood of animals or anything, perhaps. We may have misunderstood the argument, but we arrived at the conclusion that this religious body, in question gets the idea that eating blood and a blood transfusion amounts to the same thing. To us, however, the eating of blood, raw or cooked, and having a blood transfusion is as far apart as the poles. The only idea we get of eating blood, which is repugnant to most folks, is to satisfy a craving appetite. A blood transfusion, on the other hand, is used to prolong a life that may be hanging in the balance. One goes into the stomach, while the other goes into the veins. But other people have other ideas, just like the very religious woman in north Alabama last week that let a rattlesnake bite her. Her brethren told her if she permitted medical attention, she would lose her soul in hell. She was dead in four hours. It seems to us if there ever was a case of tempting God, that was one of them. We are no great Bible scholar, but we believe the Lord helps those who help themselves.

For the past few weeks the press, both daily and weekly have taken up the fine and cry against drunken driving of fast automobiles. And in Lubbock, a negro was apprehended and fined for driving a team haphazard down the street while he was in an inebriated condition. The fact that several have been killed in this vicinity of late, when some of the drivers had been drinking, and had intoxicants in their cars brought on newspaper demands for law enforcement. The first case of this kind this year happened about six weeks ago near the Westpoint gin just over in Lynn county. A driver with a raft of liquor came out of a farm-market road without stopping. Some were killed and most of the others injured when the car collided with another on highway 380. Then there was another bad wreck near Ropes last week, in which a Lubbock man admitted he had been drinking beer he bought at Carlsbad, N. M. The Seminole Sentinel tells us of a report that came in there of persons weaving from one side of the road to the other, north of Seminole, on the Seagraves highway. Patrolmen stopped the three, two men and a woman luckily before they hit another car and killed themselves and people in the other car. The Sentinel went on to say that in 90 percent of cars coming from Hobbs, N. M., from 11 p. m. to 2 a. m., nightly were driven or occupied by people who were drinking. Other places are telling us of heavy fines imposed on DWI cases. Most sober people agree that something must be done. The courts and juries must get hard-boiled and even if the principals involved are friends and neighbors, not to let that deter them in their determination to stop highway slaughter. Let all keep in mind that sentence you often see while driving along Texas highways: "If you drink, don't drive; if you drive, don't drink."

Another case of just doodling away the tax money of the people is that of the St. Lawrence Waterway and Power project. It is just about as much needed as a cow needs a side-saddle, and a Congressman from New Jersey says it will cost untold millions, and would be definitely inflationary. It is just another big idea of the Queer Dealers to spend and spend and that the railroads and truck lines are well able to move all the commerce that originates near its proposed source to its mouth. That its two dams and 15 locks would be highly vulnerable to a bombing attack. Such severe damage could be inflicted as to stop traffic for a long period, and the destruction of the dams would make the canal useless for the duration of a war. The congressman added "that it was just one more political project that should be shelved and forgotten."

According to Saturday dailies, the State Department hinted that the United States might have to move in troops in the near East, particularly Iran and Lebanon to keep the Communists from grabbing off a lot of oil fields in that area. Congress should see that nothing like this happens, if it is on its toes. Some have suggested the possibility that some of the troops now on the way over to Europe could be diverted to the near east. In the first place, the quarrel is between Iran and England, and we should keep our big mouth out of it. However, we shall have to agree with some of the metropolitan dailies, that Iran stands to regret the move she has taken, as the government of that country knows nothing about the oil business. And this might be said of any other government, including our own. Frankly we don't want to see our nation, in the name of the UN become involved in any police action. But to carry the idea of governments running the oil business a bit further, let's take a case nearer home, and we'll soon see that oil does not just produce itself. Remember back in 1938, when Mexico expropriated the oil industry of that country, a country that was at that time producing 193 million barrels of oil a year? Not a new find of oil has happened in that country since, and their yearly production has dropped to 72 million barrels. So, maybe Iran is going to find that it takes real oil people to run oil fields. It takes technicians, managers, engineers and other experts. Politicians and slave labor does not get the job done.

Harking back a good many years ago, we find this quotation from Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes: "I find pleasure in paying my taxes. With them I buy civilization." Since that time not only have conditions, but purposes have changed. Little of the money we put into taxes these days really go for serving what make for true civilization. More and more of it goes to buy the machines of war that will kill the people of another nation, and destroy their property. Some of the implements of war today, might even eliminate civilization. But with the world in its present condition, its distrust of other peoples, no nation seems to be able to do otherwise than prepare for the worst. We are told that we must sacrifice and save and pay more and more taxes. But except a small minority, the government does not tell us that it, too, must sacrifice by eliminating every non-essential that is not necessary. The idea of business as usual must be abandoned, they tell us, but there is no noticeable difference in their idea of politics as usual. If Justice Holmes, were alive today, we wonder what his reaction would be?

Many are quoting this one from a Dakota farm paper: "There is one kind of scrap that people can mix into without fighting, but without which this country cannot fight a war." The Dakota

ATTEND SCHOOL

Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Daniell left Saturday for Abilene, where their son, Ronnie, will attend summer band school. Also accompanying them to Abilene to attend the school were Beth White, Jo Ann Zant, Ethelene Bucy, and Billy Mack Herod.

Perry Cowan, former Brownfieldite and now living in Temple, will also attend the school. He is the son of the former Brownfield school superintendent, S. P. Cowan, and Mrs. Cowan.

Farmer was of course talking about scrap metal, millions of tons of which must be used in the production of new and badly needed steel. It seems that when wars come, scrap iron for some reason always gets scarce, and we remember there were "scrap drives" during War II. We also remember that years ago that there was a huge cesspool in the rear of where the Bargain Center now stands. It was abandoned when sewerage was put in. So, the Herald dropped an old worn out job press in that cesspool. But scrap collectors dug down there and got that several hundred pounds of iron and steel out. Of course the farmers are not asked to give their scrap iron away. Not right to do that. But they are asked to please gather up all the old scrap machinery they do not need on the farm, and no longer usable, and bring it in and sell it to scrap dealers. Steel plants must use so much scrap iron in every pound of new steel they produce. We don't know why, but it is the truth. And the steel appetite for scrap is very acute today.

An Old Pioneer Drops In On Us

A long, tall guy, about our age, dropped in on us late last week, whose mug looked familiar, but it had been years since we saw the owner of the mug. Turned out to be Lynn Adams, of the late Uncle Jake Adams and wife, who in the early days of Terry, had a ranch down in southwest Terry. He is a first cousin of Will Adams, another pioneer.

Lynn visits Will as often as possible, as the later is unable to be about himself, having been confined to his home for the past several years. So, Lynn does all the visiting, and he tells us that Cousin Will is always tickled pink when he makes his calls, to spend a few days with him.

If our memory in the passing of 42 years does not play whack with us, when we arrived in Terry back in 1909, Lynn was either the cashier or bookkeeper for the First State Bank, of Gomez, and held the job until the bank was moved to Plains in the fall of that year, and became the First State Bank of Plains. Lynn then went back on the ranch. Uncle Jake, we believe was serving Terry county as Commissioner Precinct No. 4 at that time. But when Uncle John Santa Fe came through Terry in 1917-18, a lot of the ranches and a few farms southwest of Brownfield were purchased by the Santa Fe Land Co., and offices for its sale as farms opened at Seagraves in 1918. The Adams farms and ranches were sold, and the family scattered. Uncle Jake and his fine pioneer wife passing on a few years later. Anyway, this writer sure enjoyed the call of Lynn, who informed us that one of his brothers Merlin was dead, and Dale still survives. Or maybe it was the other way. Lynn was the youngest of the children, and now resides at Wortham, right where Navarro, Limestone and Freestone counties corner. And he has been doing quite well for himself.

The Lazy J Ranch's 1950 Ford F-3 Express with POWER PILOT was one of more than 5,000 Fords in the nationwide, 50-million-mile Ford Truck Economy Run.

George Stephens of the Lazy J Ranch says: "The low cost my Ford Truck showed in the Economy Run speaks for itself. I get regular service checkups from my Ford Dealer." *Address furnished on request

"My ranch 'workhorse' runs for only 2 2/3¢ a mile!"

Ranch owner George Stephens proved for himself, in the big Economy Run, just how little it costs to run his Ford Truck!

"The Lazy J's Ford Express did itself proud in the Ford Truck Economy Run," says Stephens. "Daily records kept during the entire six months show that our Ford Truck ran up a total of 5,109 miles. My out-of-pocket expense for gas, oil, maintenance and repairs was exactly $123.51 ... about a $20 bill each month ... only 2 2/3 cents a mile!"

The Ford Truck POWER PILOT carburetion-ignition system is one reason why Ford Trucks cost so little to run, in ranch work or any work. The POWER PILOT gives you the most power from the least gas. In the low-price field, only Ford has it!

GOVERNOR PROCLAIMS FARM SAFETY WEEK

Governor Allan Shivers on July 26 signed a proclamation designating the week of July 22 as Farm and Ranch Safety Week in Texas. President Harry S. Truman has also designated this same period as National Farm Safety Week.

Governor Shivers' proclamation pointed out that the continued high rate of avoidable accidents on farms and ranches are causing deaths and injuries among the rural residents. Such accidents he said cause an economic burden that is one of the primary social and economic problems in the state.

Governor Shivers urges all members of families to join in a continued drive to reduce hazards, and to adopt practices that will lead to fewer accidents on the farms and ranches as well as in the rural homes of the state. He says, "I am also asking that all organizations and persons interested in farm and ranch life promote the use of safe practices through their educational programs."

The State Farm and Ranch Safety Committee headed by J. Walter Hammond, president, Texas Farm Bureau Federation, is commencing a drive during the week that will continue through the year, aimed at making every rural Texan accident conscious. The committee members believe that safety is the individual responsibility of every citizen and not until all practice safety in their daily living can the accident toll be reduced.

E. C. Martin, state agricultural leader of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, reports that county extension workers are encouraging both adults and 4-H club members to practice safety in connection with all farm and home operations. He points out that time lost on Texas farms from accidents can mean the difference between success and failure for the family involved. The labor shortage now faced by Texas and U. S. agricultural producers is of tremendous importance to the general well-being of the state and nation and the present situation can be further complicated if the continued high rate of farm accidents continue.

Days lost from work not only puts the family behind in its work but also causes a heavy drain on the family bank or savings account. Martin concludes that unless Texans do their share to cut the accident rate that at least one rural Texan will be buried each day as a result of some type of farm or home accident. The problem is big enough to challenge the action of every Texan and who knows, the life you save may be your own.

1/2 Million 4-H'ers Helping Reduce Farm Accidents

A recent survey of 2,000 farm accidents shows that 248 involve machinery. In other types, more farm people are injured by falls—476—than in any other kind of accident.

FARM FOLKS, as a general rule, give little thought to safety until a member of their family or a neighbor is hurt or killed, or fire destroys their home or barn. Then they start doing something about safety.

This year it is particularly important that every farm family should do something about practicing safety, because even though there is a shortage of labor on farms, and new equipment is hard to get, food production must be boosted. That means the present manpower and machinery on farms must be guarded against accidents.

An average of 47 farm people are accidentally killed every day.

Helping to reduce rural casualties are a half million boys and girls taking part in the National 4-H Farm and Home Safety Program. More than $10,000 in awards for the best records of accident prevention and education are being provided by General Motors for the seventh consecutive year.

The program is directed by the Cooperative Extension Service.

HOUSE OF THE WEEK

In this space, you'll find "The House of the Week" with full descriptions. This series is made possible by area firms listed here... See them to help you with your Home Furnishing Problems.

TAILOR-MADE FOR CHANGES

Many farm families have wanted to add to their homes but they discovered, too late, that it couldn't be done without making major alterations in the framing. This house is designed to eliminate that extra expense; the floor plans can be developed step-by-step, thus enabling you to adjust your income and your building plans to conform to each other.

Each step has been planned so that your house will be attractive at all times, as convenient as possible and will not require any structure or framework changes when you are ready to make the alterations that you decide are necessary.

For instance, in every case, windows in the original house are replaced by doors in the new addition. The window sizes were selected so the windows could be removed and the doors set in their places. The lines of the room have been kept as simple as possible, thus eliminating any tearing out of its parts when your addition is made.

The back porch and utility room are optional. Ample provision is made for chimneys to heat the living room, bedroom and dining room. The dining room chimney does double duty, since the kitchen stove pipe goes through it, thus saving the cost of another chimney and eliminating smoke from the stove going into the chimney.

Waste lines are divided in two groups. One carries wash water from the kitchen and washroom, and can be disposed of with a grease trap and tile line. When the bathroom is added, this will reduce the size of the septic tank and disposal area.

You can obtain blueprints for this TERRY COUNTY HERALD FARM AND RANCH Plan No. 4802 and a handy list of materials by which you can figure your construction cost accurately. Send $1 to Building Editor, FARM AND RANCH-SOUTHERN AGRICULTURIST, Dept. L-193, Nashville, Tenn. Order by number — Plan No. 4802. Blueprints are adequate for any farm carpenter or for any farmer handy with tools.

CASTOR OIL REPORT

NEW DELHI.—(AP)—India consumes its entire annual output of 25,000 tons of castor oil but exports about 100,000 tons of castor seeds after meeting an internal requirement of 6,000 tons, official sources here said.

Texas Cotton Growers Guides

Texas cotton growers were asked to plant 11,600,000 acres to cotton this year compared to 7,948,000 acres planted to cotton last year. This called for an increase of 65 per cent. It was explained that cotton was in short supply and was badly needed in the defense effort.

How well the farmers of Texas responded to the request from their Government is shown in report of July 1 of the United States Department of Agriculture's Crop Reporting Board which estimates that 13,125,000 acres of Texas farm lands are now growing cotton. This is 86 per cent increase above last year's acreage.

Not only have Texas farmers exceeded the acreage guide but they are using every effort possible to bring the crop to maturity. A widespread concentrated effort has been made to control insect damage with effective results.

The acreage of cotton in cultivation in the United States is estimated at 29,510,000 acres, an increase of 58.5 per cent above the 18,613,060 acres in cultivation a year ago.

New Rat Poison Recommended

Excellent results in warfarin bait rat control demonstrations are reported by John B. Williams, Leon county agricultural agent.

About 425 pounds of the new rat poison had been sold to rural people of Leon county in May. Warfarin is a relatively safe rat killer, which prevents clotting of blood and causes the rodents to slowly bleed to death of internal hemorrhages.

F. L. Thompson, Sr., of Leona put out five pounds of the warfarin bait, and 33 rats were picked up at this one place.

Ben Boone of Jewett says the buzzards have been sitting on the fence posts at his barn since he put out five pounds of the slow-acting poison.

With four pounds of the rat bait Jodie Vann, Leon county commissioner, completely cleaned out his barn and outbuildings.

Thus far, only one dissatisfied user of warfarin has been reported in Leon county. Although this person could not find a single dead rat around his home, his close neighbor has seen many dead rats at his place.

County Agent Williams thinks the sick rats are leaving the dissatisfied farmer's barn and going to the neighbor's place to die.

The Crescent Hill Church of Christ invites you to hear CLINE PADEN of Frascati, Italy, as he preaches the gospel for 3 days, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, 27, 28 and 29 of July. Services will be at 8:00 o'clock each evening. He will speak at the 11:00 hour on Sunday morning, also... We want our friends and neighbors to hear him in every service. He is looking forward to meeting friends of Brownfield again. Be sure that you come.

CLINE PADEN

Johnnie Sutterfield of Littlefield, a former Brownfield resident, is visiting Jack Stricklin III, this week.

Stricklinly Speaking

By Old He

President W. G. Volmer of the Texas & Pacific Railway, sent us a little pamphlet recently that contained the "Four Pillars of Freedom." They are WORK, SAVE VOTE and PRAY. Defined separately, they follow:

"Let's WORK hard and earnestly at the task of strengthening ourselves spiritually, morally and economically.

"Let's SAVE our free American way of life, no matter what the sacrifices may be.

"Let's VOTE at every election for people who place the welfare of their country above their personal political welfare.

"Let's PRAY for the wisdom and the courage to do our duty as good Americans, faithful to God and to our country."

Not bad. In fact they are commendable.

George Cleveland was over from his Yoakum county cow-pasture one day last week. George gets "contraryair and contrary-air." Offered him a coke. "Nope, don't drink anything except water." "What, no milk," says we? "Nope milk is for 'wimmen' and children." But he had a package he had just purchased at the pharmacy that looked suspiciously like medicine, but we bet the big dope would have said it was for the 'wimmen' and children.

Well the Luther Cruces came in from their secondary home down on Possum Kindom lake last week, and did they present us a nice fish—still alive. Gosh! It was good, and Luther says he caught it with his own "little" hands and hooks.

Without any preliminaries, and with the son and family to help out on the fish, the Mrs. remarked with some astonishment that we had two funerals that morning. The fish and a horned toad some one had accidentally cut with a hoe. We don't kill these little reptiles on purpose as they are fine buggers and wormers.

Maybe some of our readers missed the AP dispatch last week from a small city in Arkansas. One of the natives was still driving his 1917 model T, but with a grunt and groan, it gave up the ghost on a highway. Soon a man with a 1951 model came along, and offered to tow the car to the next town.

So the old T was tied on, and here they went. By the time they reached a cross road, they were fairly leaving the land, but the highway patrolman got the license No. and the model of the low-car. He phoned ahead to the next town that a model so and so with license so and so had passed like a blue streak, making at least 80 or 90 mph. Then he added, "brother, you won't believe this part of the story, but there was an old model T trying to pass it."

And talking about Fords, the Ford Motor Co. claims to have started the first fast moving assembly line in their Highland Park, Mich., plant in 1914.

Assembly lines and mass production is what has made American manufacturing great.

The stewed one was trying to fit his key into a lamp post, when a passing policeman remarked to him that apparently no one was at home. "Mus' be, thers a light upstairs," replied the inebriated one.

And a father explained to his son that "a traitor in politics means anyone who goes over to the opposition."

Speaking of sons, one mother was heard to regretfully remark that her ambition was for her offspring to be president, but Tommy wants to be a policeman.

Then there was the one about the Texan who always carries his "kit of brags." He had just finished explaining to the Californian that Texas had 365 days of sunshine per year. The golden state man had sorter doubted the assertion but the Texan assured him that it was a very conservative estimate.

Editor Hale of the Yoakum County Review, Plains, has a new car. Will W. J. please tell us how he managed? Our old 1940 model is getting quite decrepid.

Then there was the old farmer who had a son who wanted to go off to college and learn obstetrics. He "lowed: "Yeah, and just about the time you spend all that time and money learning about obstetrics, some smart fellow will come along and find a cure for it.

They tell us that some of the boys in these parts are carrying "Truman nickels." They had the head of a jackass on one side, and the rear end of the same animal on the reverse side.

This week we are starting into Vol. 47, No. 1. This means that the Herald has been in existence for 47 years, and like the Irishman's watch, kicking like 'ell for 48. If from year to year was counted, we should have entered our 47th last December, as the Terry County Voice was established at Gomez in December, 1903.

But the next year, 1904, the county seat proposition was fought out in a tug of war battle between Gomez and Brownfield, the latter at that time consisting of one lone little store, and a lot of streets layed out on a plat, but not recognizable on the prairie. But soon the Commissioners Court let the contract for a new $2500 wooden courthouse, and Brownfield was off.

Editor Long then moved his print shop to Brownfield, and in a short while sold out. In the meantime with this that and the other buying and selling the little 4 page five column newspaper, so many issues were lost, that some of the owners, we believe Judge Spencer or the Neill Brothers changed the name from "Voice" to "Herald."

Anyway, when the present owner came straggling along in January 1909, it had belonged to one Neill H. Bigger for some two years, and who had never made a payment on it, or even the interest. So, on June 1, 1909, the present owner, by borrowing most of the money for the first note of $350 off an elder brother, plus
