The little 3-column, four-page Socialist "weakly" down there at Austin really came apart at the seams last week, taking for its text "free enterprise" in which it lambasted the American Petroleum Institute in general and Gen. Ernest O. Thompson, of the Texas Railroad Commission in particular. It seems that Thompson recently addressed the Institute and in turn, the API thought Gen. Thompson had done a great job both as regards Texas as well as the petroleum industry. So they gave Gen. Thompson a medal. Most of us are aware of the fact that the Railroad Commission of Texas, which also has charge of the oil business in Texas, have done a swell job in stopping waste of precious oil. During the Ranger boom, and even up to the time the big east Texas fields came in, the drillers would just let the gushers spout'er out for the edification of visitors, many of which had never seen an oil well. And they considered it good advertising. And the stuff was cheap—got down to some 15 or 20¢ a barrel for the crude. But today, at the behest of the Railroad Commission and endorsed by the oil people generally, the spouting has stopped. All the oil now wasted is just what is made in cleaning the well to put it on production. This little is run into the slush pit and burned, as it is impossible to salvage this small amount of oil from a lot of mud and water. Then in all new oil fields, there is more or less escaping natural gas, which is piped out a short distance from the wells and set afire. These flares burn day and night, and even in a medium sized oil field, would probably become dangerous to human life. But it is expensive sometimes to pipe this gas out and tie onto gas lines that are conveyors of fuel to cities and towns. Some of it is not wanted, as it is known as "sour" instead of "sweet" gas. So, in the past few years, refineries have been erected all over the oil fields of this section that take this gas, strip it of wet petroleum content and make a fine grade of gasoline out of it. The dry gas is then put back into the wells to lift the oil in the flowing wells. Then the little Socialist sheet goes on to lament the waste in the huge east Texas oil fields "under the Hoover administration," as if Herbert Hoover had a thing to do with oil conservation in Texas. Possibly the little radical sheet would have endorsed the idea of Hoover taking over the fields at that time from the rightful owners, instead of waiting till now for the great messiah of the little sheet, known as HST to most people, to take over Texas' own oil fields, for the benefit of school children all over the nation instead of just the Texas children, who rightfully own the tideland fields.

According to Congressional Representative, Hon. Paul Kilday, the Texas Bar Association has instituted for Texas to last through January of next year, what they term ROD month. In simple language this simply means, "Responsibilities, Obligations and Duties" of the citizens of Texas. John Ben Shepperd, Secretary of State, heads the Texas Bar American Citizenship Committee. During the month of January, a great effort will be made by the bar association of Texas to educate the people of Texas their duties to their state and nation. That they must stand ready at all times to defend the Constitution of Texas and the USA, and their rights under the constitution. There are a number of other great legal lights of Texas on the committee with Shepperd. One of the foremost things that ROD will take up with the citizenship is their right to vote, and to prepare themselves to cast a vote. Not only that, that just because they hold a right under the laws of Texas armed with a poll tax or exemption receipt, is no reason on earth for them to fail to use that privilege in each and every election, whether they think it important or not. Let us take the past state election on the five constitutional amendments, for instance. We believe we saw a statement to the effect that some 15 per cent of the voters of Texas took the trouble to vote. Just not interested, or did not understand the propositions, although a copy of the amendments in full were printed in each county in the state of Texas. There you have minority rule if there was ever an example of it. In other words, 250,000 voters in Texas had a say whether or not the amendments were approved or rejected, while the voice of some 1,750,000 other qualified voters was silent. Did you know, Mr. and Mrs. Reader, that is the way dictatorships are started? A few ambitious men who know the laziness and indifference of the average American voter, much below the average in Texas, have their own henchmen vote in spite of hades and high waters, and are elected over and over. With this encouragement, they finally reach the point that only their chosen crowd are even allowed to vote, and they are then dictators of that country. So, ROD not only will insist that voters qualify, but that they VOTE when the time comes to vote. The bar association is not trying to dictate which party you belong to, but they do insist that it is an important duty of citizens to both qualify and vote.

The Department of Public Relations, of the Santa Fe Railroad, in its last monthly report, gave us a rather gloomy all-over report of crop conditions and future prospects in Texas. That raging blizzard that hit the state on Nov. 1, and ranged as far south as Houston, was the bugger-bear that nipped many acres of tender vegetables. Then there was a great drop in the cotton crop, leaving the estimate of Nov. 8 at 4,300,000 bales, when about 5 million had been expected. Presumably the December 8 report will show further deterioration. On the other hand, hot dry weather up to the freeze matured a lot of grain sorghums, increasing greatly the yield of that grain. And corn harvest was a bit better than was expected earlier, the yield being some 46 million bushels. But the peanut yield dropped over 11½ million pounds. Conversely, rice took advantage of the warm weather and shot up the yield to 12¼ million 100-pound bags, and rice is not half bad eating when you are hungry, and they make the best open faced pies—custards—a man ever popped his lips over. Again on the bad side is that no portion of the state has the moisture content in the soil that it should have at this time of year, and unless we have rains before winter really sets in, it will grow worse instead of better. While the new wheat crop came up to a fairly good stand, deficiency of moisture to retard its making its own coverage would render it difficult to withstand severe winds, especially in western Texas. Still further clouding the situation is the continued drought and insect damage over the state, with slim prospects at this time to be bettered, and feeding high priced feed to animals of any kind is risky. If good rains came, and put some growth in the wheat, that would help out greatly in the livestock feeding proposition.

We often hear of people who refuse to take an oath of allegiance to our nation. And this is especially true if they are steeped in any way with socialism or its first cousin, communism. But our fighting boys, those noble lads that stand between the people of this nation and slavery don't fail to take an oath. But this oath is nothing unreasonable. Here is the new military oath: "(Name of person taking oath)—do solemnly swear that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the United States of America; that I will serve them honestly and faithfully against all their enemies whomsoever; that I will obey the orders of the President of the United States and officers appointed over me according to the regulations and the uniform code of military justice." The insertion of the word "honest" or "honesty" should not hinder one from taking the oath. It might even be a help to some that had not looked too well into the meaning of that little word, "honest." But if one, and this includes those who sympathize with Joe Stalin and his ilk, who "stand on their constitutional rights not to take an oath," let's examine one that the Encyclopedia Britannica says those in or out of the military, in Stalinland take. As stated above this applies to work-peasant and army, "to be honest, brave, disciplined and vigilant fighter, willing to defend the Soviet Motherland to the last breath, and not sparing my blood and my life itself. If by evil design I betray this solemn oath, let me suffer the severest punishment the Soviet law and the universal hatred and contempt of the workers." The same source said that Stalin himself took this oath in 1939, shortly before World War II.

Here we have the low down from a lady writer, Edna Lonigan, a contributor to Spotlight in a recent issue. She says the Republicans think they are going to win in 1952, but the Fair Deal leaders already know in 1951 how they are going to win the elections next year. In the first place, they have two million Federal employees carefully distributed over the United States, and they have a hundred billion (B) dollars operating fund. They are skillfully placed so as to fill every niche the planners have made. With a constant flow of Federal money into their paws, the writer of the article figures that few will be willing to bite the hand that is feeding them. This flow of money often silences possible influential opposition in high places, such as governors of states and state legislators. The above writer even believes that those doctors who are connected with the many hospitals that receive federal funds, are soft peddling, at least, any opposition that they may honestly have. Then as one writer in a recent issue of the Dallas News states, the cities and towns will berate the waste and mismanagement of the Washington planners, yet have one hand stuck out to receive any new grants that may come their way. Frankly folks, we have read editorials in some of the dailies that lambasted the extravagance of the government, and maybe in the same issue have one suggesting that federal funds might be obtained to help out on the airport, or to make their little creek navigable. Then there are a raft of payments, according to Mrs. Lonigan, from ECA and other sources to help on the home front. One grant was recently reported earmarked for Burma to the tune of $1,500,000, that was turned over to an American engineering firm and New Deal economists to make "surveys." Every federal check is supposed to be so well baited that the fly on it will catch the sucker when they take a chance on a nibble. In conclusion, the lady reasons that every subsidized section of American life—political, economic, intellectual—becomes in effect a satellite of the central government, bereft of any dissenting opinion. And this leaves our nation wide open for a dictatorship, if you ask us. And that is just what we will have if people don't wake up and declare that they think more of their liberty and independence than they do a few paltry dollars as fish bait in front of their eyes.

Forty-eight pounds of warfarin bait killed 306 rats in a two-week period on a Northeast Texas poultry farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Lang left Tuesday morning for a visit in Arkansas. They planned to visit Mrs. Lang's cousin, Mrs. J. H. Willard, at New Blaine, near Little Rock. Mrs. Lang has not seen Mrs. Willard in about 30 years. They also planned to take a trip through the Ozarks, and visit Mr. and Mrs. Craig Lewis in Fort Smith. Mrs. Lewis is the former Miss Judy Barrow. They will return home this weekend, stopping for "fish" at Possum Kingdom Dam, and be guests of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Cruce at their cabin.

Visitors last weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Noble, 801 Tahoka road, were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Cooper of Tullia; and their son, Don Noble, who is a freshman student at the University of Texas. Don did not have Thanksgiving holidays until this weekend. Robert Noble Jr., who was recently inducted in the armed forces, is now stationed at Fort Ord, Calif. Another son is attending the University of Eastern New Mexico at Portales, and he observed Thanksgiving on Nov. 22.

Note of Thanks

"Fight Cancer With Knowledge," the slogan of the American Cancer Society which the local committee has tried so hard to accomplish during the month of November, when the cancer films, "Traitors Within" and "Breast Self-Examination," was shown to approximately 700 Terry Countians.

The greatest factor of its huge success goes to Mrs. Lewis Simmonds, Terry County Health Nurse, who ran the projection, and was untiring in her many hours of labor. Much credit also goes to Mrs. Wayne (Red) Smith who arranged the showings with the various organizations, and Mrs. Tribby Kincaid, publicity chairman, who wrote articles for local publication, and Dr. Silby who made several meetings, discussing and answering questions. May I express my whole-hearted thanks to the Brownfield News, Terry County Herald and Station KTFY, without whose cooperation our hands would have been tied.

"Breast Self-Examination" was received with much approval by the women of the county. The proof of such success was ascertained by women's organizations calling, requesting to see the film, and by enthusiastic discussions and questions. Except for skin and certain mouth cancer, breast cancer is the easiest kind for a woman herself to suspect. Yet, 50,000 cases develop every year, and within five years, more than half of the patients die—because the disease was not discovered in time. If breast cancer were suspected earlier by women themselves, at least 80 per cent of the patients could be saved by surgery. Mrs. Dallas D. Denison, wife of the Methodist minister, pretty well summed up the appreciation of the Terry County women when she said, "If we had more instructions from films like these, there would be less malignancy and far less suffering because it is an educational process

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

I am going today to get the jump on Uncle Harry—he waits until January to give congress and us citizens his report on the "State of the Nation." I am skeptical about waiting on him—we may be in such a mess by that time that it will be like attempting to unscramble an omelet—and which is not easy.

I like this country—it don't please me to see it drift and toss, with no anchor—to take on the appearance of just another country—not the America of our grandpa and grandpa. With all our experimenting and devious and sweet plans and with Sambo in an every deal, you will not venture down onto Main Street—unless you have not been around much and are still a sucker—and expect to find everybody pleased and happy. Nobody is particularly happy anymore. We have no more food in the ice box, than of yore—we have doubts about our future security when it is in the hands other than our very own—we don't know what to think, or what is next.

So I say this, don't wait until January to hear Uncle Harry's alibi—get agitated and perturbed now. Your congressman and senator is home now—he will listen, if you talk turkey. Don't leave everything to me.

Yours with the low-down,
JO SERRA.

Winn Wants a Mail Box Name Plate

Although his paper does not expire till February, W. E. (Willie) Winn called and had us renew his paper for another year, as he wanted one of our name plates for his rural mail box. Willie remarked that it was his 31st renewal over the years. Before that time he read his dad's Herald. His dad was the late W. D. Winn, who was commissioner of Precinct 3, for many years.

But the conversation ran back to that starter 31 years ago. He and Miss Deffie Black, daughter of the late Uncle George and Mrs. Black, had married. At that time, 1920, there were not too many people here in Terry county, and so as a starter for the newlyweds, we always gave a year's subscription to the Herald. Well, we could easily afford it those days.

In the first place, print paper such as the Herald is published on, cost less than a third of the present price; the postage on them in the county was free, and that was where most of them went as well as now. We had about 2,236 people in 1920 in the county. Lastly, we did most of the work in those days getting out the paper.

If we hired a man, $45 or $50 a month was big wages. It will pay for about four days of labor now. But we are glad we started a lot of young couples off on the right foot back in those days, with a gift of the Herald one year.

MARRIAGE LICENSES AND DIVORCE SUITS

Evidently as cooler weather approaches, there is better harmony in the households of Terry, as only one suit for divorce was filed with the District Clerk. On the other hand, there were three marriage licenses issued by the County Clerk, two being Latin couples, as follows:
Nicoles Guirrez Cordoba and Miss Maria Luisa Navarro; Frank Henderson and Miss Joan Evans. Nlevo Gonzales and Miss Elia Gomez Zapata; Elijah Samuel Advertise in the Herald.

About 200,000 American die each year from cancer, 8,000 of whom are fellow Texans. One-fourth of these victims die needlessly because they did not check with their doctor in time. These "Educational films" were shown so that at least part of this one-fourth might be saved from certain death. One of the most startling facts of cancer is that it kills almost as many men each year as women, although publicly speaking, it is generally considered a "woman's disease." So men must, as well as women, be on guard at all times for danger signals.

Although published before, these danger signals, and you the general public remembering some, are the main objective of this entire program. Having acquainted yourself thoroughly with the seven danger signals, go immediately to your doctor if you have any of the signals. The seven danger signals are:

- (1) Any sore that does not heal
- (2) A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere
- (3) Unusual bleeding or discharge
- (4) Any change in a wart or mole
- (5) Persistent indigestion or difficulty in swallowing
- (6) Persistent hoarseness or cough
- (7) Any change in normal bowel habits.

Stricklinly Speaking

By Old He

The Old He still likes trees. The only time they seemingly become a wart on our complacent countenance is when the doggone leaves began to fall, and we realize that it is going to take some muscle and energy to rake them up and get them put some place where they won't show. And there is no rugs in the yard to sweep them under.

But a lady said to us the other day that she always liked to watch the leaves fall. Evidently she has more energy stored up than we, as we can't enjoy the sailing of the brown and yellow leaves through the air for thinking of the work it creates. Who was that old poet who said of fall or autumn, that it was the "saddest of the year?" We have an idea that he had in mind finding a rake with a handle that would fit his hands.

Speaking of trees, there is always an article in Texas Forest News about some famous old tree in Texas that attracts our attention. The last one was about some old chestnut trees over in Red River County, near Annona, that were brought from Mississippi as sprouts 75 years ago by the late C. L. Walters. One of them is now 14 feet in circumference, and all bear chestnuts. In view of the fact that most chestnut trees east of the Mississippi were killed early this century of blight, it is believed that these trees are at least crossed with the Japanese chestnut, which is said to be immune to blight, according to botanists.

Going on from the trees, in a way we kinder feel sorry for the man from Tullia that was hi-jacked up at Pittsburg, Pa., of $10,500. Especially for his wife, as the amount was a lifetime savings of the couple. From there on we kinder lose interest. We always figure that those who carry that much cash do it for show, and they usually make the show to the wrong person.

Way back during that period of the settlement of the west, the new settlers had no other alternative than to carry their cash along with them. There were no banks where they were going, and precious few where they came from. In our youth there was only one bank in Hardeman county, Tennessee, that one at the county seat. There are two there now, and four others scattered over the county.

Now days with banks everywhere, there is absolutely no need to carry large sums of money. Check books, or better still, travelers checks can be used instead. They are no good to a hi-jacker.

Uh-hu, we found out who was really the boss up there at Smyer in the Clarence A. Wilhite home. He didn't stop at $3.00, but to be sure to get the Herald started up again, he sends in 4 bucks. Said the Mrs. had been on his neck ever since he let the Herald expire. Anyway, the Wilhites will read the Herald for the next 16 months, as we just didn't want to send one of his batskins back. Thanks, C. A.!

Then away up there in Hanover, Ohio, county of Lick, comes a plaint from a long time and valuable reader, D. W. Weaver, who recently renewed but is not getting the Herald of late. We'll do our best to get 'er started again, D. W., and sorry of the mishap.

Well, here comes the shootin' again. We have been notified by a "western" publication, the Range Riders Western, that Will C. Brown, smiling clerk over at the PO is to have another story in their January issue.

Of course he has changed his writer name from what he usually goes by here in old Brown. It is Wm. Collins Brown, as author of the story. And the rootin' tootin' story will be, "Six-Guns at Sundown." Maybe the scene was laid at Sundown, just over in Hockley county? Read and see. You owe us one coupa Arbuckle, William.

Sometimes we are led to wonder who is right and who's wrong, or if all are wrong up there at Washington. As one illustration, we'll take that about some 5 thousand UN soldiers, mostly US, being slain while POW's of the Red Chinese and North Koreans. At first the whole story was denied at the Pentagon, then in a few days they came out with the statement that it was not 5 thousand, but 8 thousand. Whom shall we believe? And does anyone up there know which way we're headed?

And down at old Cowtown one of the churches staged a real showoff with no admission charge recently. It was over their pastor. Some said no, some said yes on his retention. Fists flew and mouths yap-yapped. Several policemen were called in, and several leaders technically arrested and carried to the police station, and the wrangling kept up even there until they were threatened with a lockup.

Such antics are a reflection on

We Hate to See Riley Carlton Go

Riley Carlton, who has been in charge of Soil Conservation Service here for the past eight years, is leaving Brownfield, to take a similar job at Pecos, Texas. Riley's family has never lived here, as they had a home in Lubbock, but he will either buy, build or rent in Pecos as that is too far to make weekly trips home to see the family.

During his stay here, Riley has made many friends, among the farmers of the area, as well as the business and professional men of the town. He has always taken a full share of anything for the betterment of the community in general. Also he has done much as a leader of the SCS to put over the idea of conserving the precious soil of the area, which his work covers.

The good will and wishes of the entire community go with Riley in his new location, and we trust a man of equal ability replaces him here.

the church in general, and a lot of pastors are not worth rioting or even quarreling over. The article read like it was a white race church, but somewhat off-brand from the usual run of that particular denomination.

And here goes our Santa Letter:

Dear Santa: We have found a pipe that we like at Nelson Pharmacy, and we hope that you can persuade Homer without too much wrangling, to have you to put in our sox Christmas morning. If I find what I want in some of the rest of the stores—and we will—will add a postscript to this later. Hope you do not run into a sandstorm like is blowing today, and good luck, old friend,

The Old He.

Now speaking of Santa Letters off the cuff, as they say up on the Potomac, we want to print as many letters from the little fellows as possible this Christmas, but we are not soliciting letters from whole school rooms, just to practice them up on English composition, and many of which are "wise" to the Santa Claus matter.

But we do want the letters from the pre-school little fellows who know in their little hearts there as a great old chum known to them as Santa Claus.

Story Behind the Old Wagon Wheel

Back in the 1930ties, there was a very popular song called "The Old Spinning Wheel in the Parlor." A bit later we believe, there was still another about a Wagon Wheel, Up at the Purtell Clothiers, there is an old farm wagon wheel that has a nice niche in the office. It is nicely shellacked, and it is sometimes used in an advertising display in the windows.

Anyway, Kenneth Purtell's stepdad, A. C. Holcombe, purchased the old iron wheel wagon way back in 1918, soon after the Purtells landed in Terry county, and settled on their farm just south of Gomez. That old wagon wheel has hauled many a bale of cotton, according to Kenneth, as well as maize and bundle stuff to the barn. Jokingly, Kenneth stated that he expected the State Bank would some day own the old wagon, as it was mortgaged to them so much. And that the old location of the bank is a good place for the old wheel to take up its abode.

Kenneth stated that his mother and stepfather now live here in town on South Fifth. Kenneth's own father died when he was a six months old baby, and he has nothing mean to say about step fathers, as he had a good one that tried to bring him up in the way he should go.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hailey of Tulsa, Okla., are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bush, 409 Taboka road. Mrs. Hailey is Mr. Bush's mother, and they plan to visit here until after the Christmas holidays.

Two Old Timers Gone From Us

When we arrived in Terry county in 1909, we soon learned of a widow lady by the name of Mrs. Frank Duffau. She had lost her husband some two years before that time. Everyone was a friend to this kind, gentle lady. But in a year or two she left the farm out in the Pleasant Valley section, and went up in some of the mid-northern states, Nebraska, we believe. She temporarily made her home with her brother, Henry Witt, on the north.

There she met R. H. McCormack and they were married. About 1915, they moved back to Terry county, but made their home in Brownfield. Mr. McCormack was a retired railroad man, but a carpenter as well. Among the first houses he built here was for the writer, a five room home in the first addition, northwest of the square in 1916, just before the advent of the railroad.

Mrs. McCormack will be greatly missed by her many friends, old and new. Notice of her death elsewhere.

Elsewhere in this paper will appear an article about the death and funeral notice of another old timer. J. H. Eubanks, one of the best citizens Terry county ever had. He came here when Brownfield and Terry county were in the making, and helped to finish the job. He was true to his church, community, friends and his family.

For many years he carried the mail on one of the routes out of Brownfield. And we have been informed by many people on his route, that J. H. Eubanks would a lot of times go beyond his call of duty to accomodate some of the patrons of his route, providing the things he did were not a violation of postal laws.

The Herald joins the many friends of the Eubanks family in deep sympathy for them in this their sad hour.

Make Your House Cleaning Easier

COLLEGE STATION.— House cleaning and the energy it requires can be minimized, say home management specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Hard surfaced floors are easier to clean than fabric floor covering, and therefore are recommended for areas of the house receiving heavy traffic.

Warfarin Leaflet Now Available

COLLEGE STATION.— Warfarin, the new rat and mouse poison, has enabled a northeast Texas poultryman to make a considerable saving in chicken feed.

Rats were eating an average of 32 pounds of feed per day, worth $1.60 if valued at five cents a pound.

Information on controlling rats with warfarin is given in a new publication prepared cooperatively by the Fish and Wildlife Service of the U. S. Department of Interior and the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

Fertilizer Supplies For 1952 Crops

COLLEGE STATION.— Farmers are urged to order and accept delivery now on the fertilizers that will be needed to produce the 1952 crops.

The total tonnage of fertilizers available in 1952 probably will exceed the 1951 supply but chances are very good that farmers will have trouble getting the grade and type they want when it is needed.

The demand for fertilizers on the other hand is expected to increase about 20 per cent. Farmers who take delivery now will be helping solve the storage and shipping problems and at the same time will be sure they have the fertilizers they need for 1952.

Warfarin can be obtained in the concentrate or the ready-to-use form from local drug, feed and insecticide stores.

LIVABLE, 2-STORY FARMHOUSE

House Plan No. 30

Are you interested in building a two-story home? If so, you will be interested in this Farm & Ranch Plan N. 30.

We have tried to provide lots of those housewife pleasures, comfort and convenience, in the arrangement of the kitchen and workroom area.

All three bedrooms provide spacious living and have an abundance of closets. The two hall closets will serve as ample storage for linens and cleaning supplies.

entire house with ordinary space heaters. Every room is easily accessible to a chimney.

Everyone enjoys lounging in a spacious, well ventilated and lighted area on a typical southern summer day.

If you do not need a basement, the space under the stairs could easily be made into a small powder room or used for additional storage space.

For those who would like a basement, we suggest that the workroom be replaced by a small stoop at the kitchen door.

Greenbug Situation Not Dangerous

COLLEGE STATION.— Small grain fields are not likely to be damaged by an early build-up of the greenbug population this fall.

Dr. Ralph L. Hanna, entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, points out that the weather was extremely hot last summer, a condition which is unfavorable to greenbug survival.

Surveys were made by the experiment station and the U. S. Department of Agriculture between July 15 and September 1 to obtain information on summer survival of greenbugs.

If a heavy infestation of greenbugs should occur, parathion and metacide are the best insecticides available, says Dr. Hanna.

Although high winds and low temperatures often make effective application of greenbug insecticides difficult, Dr. Hanna says timely and careful application of parathion and metacide will kill up to 90 per cent of the greenbugs.

If conditions continue to be favorable for greenbugs, the population will build up again after the insects are poisoned.

At Least 5 Texas Hunters Killed

AUSTIN.—The Chief Clerk of the Texas Game and Fish Commission has been killed during the 1951 hunting season.

The chief clerk said a partial report on seasonal casualties "may serve as a reminder to hunters to be more careful."

The chief clerk said two of the five fatalities were caused by self-inflicted wounds. One was killed while taking his shotgun from a car.

The other fatal shootings involved: A 17-year-old boy mistaking a 30-year-old man for a wild turkey and shooting him through the head.

A 13-year-old boy jumping up in front of another young duck hunter's shotgun.

A rifle discharged while being taken from an automobile by one man, with the bullet striking another.

WIND HITS CORN

DES MOINES, Ia.—(AP)—Hervey Hazen, Iowa chairman of the Production and Marketing Administration, says early reports indicate "tremendous amounts" of corn are on the ground as a result of recent high winds.

The storm was the most damaging to the corn crop since the bad wind storm in October, 1949, during which so much of the crop, already seriously weakened by corn borers, was knocked over.

Hidalgo, Cameron, Willacy and Starr counties—produced 624,328 bales of cotton in 1951.

GMC Trucks Going Into Defense Service

PONTIAC, Mich.—The GMC Truck and Coach division of General Motors has since June 1950 completed or contracted for approximately $30,000,000 worth of regular commercial trucks for the armed services and other government agencies involved in national defense, it was announced by Roger M. Kyes, vice president of General Motors and general manager of the division.

This has enabled hundreds of outside suppliers to share in the defense work, which involves nearly 9,000 truck units of all sizes and types, without the necessity of obtaining new tooling equipment, Kyes said.

TRITE AND TRUE!

The driver is safer when the roads are dry; the roads are safer when the driver is dry.—Santa Fe Magazine.

The trucks and highway tractors already delivered or being assembled include pickups, stakes, dumps, water tankers, gas tankers, ambulances, vans, buses, wreckers, panels and subbans.

This defense production has been done and is being carried on GMC's regular commercial assembly lines and is in addition to the production on the GMC military 6 by 6 tactical vehicle which started in October.

Series Of Showers For Elaine Tucker

Miss Elaine Tucker, bride-elect to Jimmie D. Rogers, was named honoree at a miscellaneous shower Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 27, at the home of Mrs. Gerald Paden at Meadow.

Hostesses with Mrs. Paden were Mesdames J. C. Finley, W. A. Bartlett, Lee Walker, Jessie McCoy, Cecil Williams, Earl Norman, Ben Finley, Preston Hester, Ann Renfro, Thurel Swinson, Arlene Terrell and Ronald Weaver, all of Meadow.

With Miss Tucker, the honoree, were her aunt, Mrs. Dennis Q. Lilly, Mrs. T. L. Rogers, mother of bride-groom to be of Meadow, cousins of the bride-elect, Misses Peggy and Ann Lilly, and her grandmother, Mrs. J. L. Tucker of Abilene.

About 50 guests were invited to the informal affair. Refreshments were served from a table covered with an imported cut-work cloth. Decorations carried out the "winter wonderland" theme, with a color scheme of blue and silver. A miniature bride and groom stood in "snow" near a tiny sleigh, and the scene was reflected in mirror, across which were placed small musical notes. Punch, cakes and mints were served.

A large array of gifts were displayed attractively, with a display on a table centered with a large bouquet of green and brown autumn leaves, and yellow mums.

Lubbock Shower Honors Miss Tucker

Miss Ann Hintz, 4018 Forty-first street, Lubbock, entertained

Around The Corner — And Down The Street

By Margaret Bandy Coward

Most of the club women in Brownfield remember a "candle campaign" a few years ago . . . when the federated clubs in Texas were asked to find used candles around the home, package them, and send to Korea. Many of the local women sent candles across the waters.

When Mrs. Bill McKinney, president of the Alpha Omega Study club, was in Denton recently to attend the General Federation of Women's Clubs, she heard an address by Mrs. John L. Whitehurst, former president of GFWC, who is now in civil defense work in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Whitehurst complimented the response for candles received from club women, and she told of her stay in Korea where she observed and worked with women. She said that too many of the Korean women could not read and write . . . Many were learning, and the candles were used for lights at night for them to study, after a long, hard day's work in fields, and caring for their families. So anxious are the Korean women to learn to read and write, they would take the wax that was left when a candle burned out—mold it with other wax for more candles.

Local club women admitted they sent candles, then just forgot about them . . . never thinking that their little "lights from Brownfield" might aid in helping women halfway across the world!

The imported cloth that covered the serving table at the home of Mrs. Gerald Paden, Meadow, Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 2, when Miss Elaine Tucker was honored with a miscellaneous shower, came from Italy, and truly must be a beautiful cloth. Mr. Paden's brother, Cline Paden, Church of Christ minister, brought the cloth from Italy when he returned about a year ago, after doing special work for the church there.

Hope to visit Mr. and Mrs. A. J. (Jewel) Bell one of these days. Their new home must really be complete in every way. According to one of the hostesses at the Open House held in the Bell home Sunday afternoon, the large den has all that a den should have in it . . . including bunk beds for the six grandchildren—all boys! Mrs. Bell says she usually sleeps in the den with the grandchildren when they are visiting her.

We can dream, can't we! It did cheer us up a bit at noon Tuesday while the awful West Texas rain was coming in "grains," to hear the melodious voice of Bing Crosby on the nickelodeon, singing, "I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas!"

FOUND — One pair of black suede gloves last Saturday, in front of the Herald office—ladies gloves. Owner may call by the office for them.

A clever idea for pictures of couples celebrating Golden Wedding anniversaries . . . We noticed in an Abernathy paper the picture of a couple and their first child, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Barron and daughter, Eva. The picture was made in about 1900, and the baby is now Mrs. Jack Wright, Seagraves. Why not run "then and now" pictures! The above mentioned couple was celebrating their 57th wedding anniversary.

Miss Doris Mahaffey and Miss Dorothy Hadaway, were having more fun entertaining Miss Mahaffey's niece, Miss Dixie Lynn Mahaffey, Monday morning in the county home demonstration agent's office! They were decorating a Christmas tree, and Dixie Lynn was "squealing" with delight every time they placed an icicle on the tree! It is a pretty tree. Dixie Lynn is returning to her home in Texarkana tomorrow . . . Incidentally, Miss Hadaway works mornings in Miss Mahaffey's office, afternoons in county agent Jim Foy's office.

Another building Brownfield residents should be proud of—the Girl Scout Little House—and the active Brownie and Girl Scout

Old Fashioned Sing Song Honors Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Montgomery who are moving to San Angelo were named honorees at an old-fashioned sing-song at the home of Mrs. Anna Belle Barrow, 405 North Fifth street, Wednesday night, after the regular prayer service at the Crescent Hill Church of Christ.

Members of the Sunday School class taught by Joe Chisholm at the church attended, and they presented Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery with a satin comfort.

BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR TONY BEARDEN

Tony Bearden was honored on his eighth birthday on Saturday, Dec. 1, with a party at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bearden, 102 West Tate.

Cake and ice cream were served and the group went to the Ri-alto theatre where they saw "Lost Continent."

troops this year are taking such pride in keeping the house "for company." It is worth any one's time to visit the Little House. There you will find a complete kitchen, which needs some curtains—an office in which is located a kiln for ceramics for the Girl Scouts—and a large room for various meetings and entertainments. The Scout emblem is above the windows, made out of thumb tacks—clever idea . . . tacks are green. But the floor needs refinishing and a furnace needs to replace the "old leaky" gas stove!

Leaders of the Brownie Troops met recently at LaMecca Cafe and planned a clean-up campaign—each troop keeps the Little House for one week. There are six troops, and the girls are cooperating nicely, says the Girl Scout organizational chairman, Mrs. J. D. Akers. The Girl Scout association is completing a sidewalk from the front of the house to the street, to make it more convenient. A landscaping job is included in the plans for beautification of the building.

MR., MRS. M. PRICE HAVE DINNER-DANCE

Mr. and Mrs. Money Price entertained friends with a dinner-dance at the Country Club at 7 p. m., Wednesday, Nov. 28.

The Christmas motif was carried out in the table decorations. Red tapers in crystal holders flanked a Santa Claus pulling a sleigh. A turkey dinner was served to the following couples:

Messrs. and Mesdames Jack Bailey, Roy Wingerd, Harold Crites, Sam Privitt, Leo Holmes, Bill Williams, E. C. Davis, Tobe Howze, R. N. McClain, and the host and hostess.

Bridge and dancing were enjoyed following the dinner.

and served Christmas cakes and coffee.

The club discussed the recent appearance of the Lubbock Community Choir in Brownfield, and wish to express their appreciation for residents in this area who helped in making the program the success that it was. The 40 singers offered beautiful choral numbers, including "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise," "He Should Feed His Flock" from Handel's Messiah; "Lord Hear Our Prayer" from Verdi's "Orthello"; "Without a Song" from Vincent Youman's "Great Day"; Mexican folk song, "Carmencita," and a variety of other numbers.

On December 18 a Christmas party will be given for the club at the home of Mrs. Grace Woods, and the next regular meeting is scheduled for Tuesday night, January 15.

Others attending were Mesdames Livingston, Clemmie Hamilton, Bill Cope, Grace Wood, Sampson, Bucy, Minnie Williams, Griffith and Wynn, and Misses Creola Moore and Maude Bailey.

Mrs. Williams and Miss Bailey were hostesses for the evening.

At a regular meeting of Girl Scout Troop 8 on Wednesday, Nov. 28, the following officers were elected: Rita Lou Goodpasture, president; Ann Lindley, vice president; Judith Glenn, secretary and reporter; Cheri Clements, treasurer.

Frances Steen presided at the meeting, and business was discussed. Laws and promises were made. Eleven members and their leaders, Misses Laura Hightower, Mabel Moorhead and White, attended.

Brownie Troops 11, 12 Have Tea for Mothers

Twenty-one members of Girl Scout Brownie Troops 11 and 12 entertained with a tea at the Girl Scout Little House from 3:30 to 4:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, honoring their mothers and special guests.

Brownies, in their uniforms, greeted guests at the door, and served punch and cookies from a table covered with a white madras cloth. The serving table was centered with an attractive arrangement of pyracantha in a black hat, made of construction paper, with a white hat band. Mints were in individual miniature hats, made by the girls. Also on the table were two turkeys made of potatoes, with "real turkey feathers." Tall green tapers completed the table arrangement. On the piano was a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums and pyracantha.

Brownies made invitations that were sent to their mothers and guests, under the supervision of their leaders, Mrs. Pete Crump and Mrs. J. W. Eastham. The invitations carried out the "Girl Scout green" and were decorated with white spatter painting, showing the Girl Scout emblem as solid green.

Judy Moore, president of the Troop presided at the tea, and each Brownie introduced her mother. The program included a reading by Vicki Norris, and a piano selection by Carolyn Cary.

Brownies attending were Judy Moore, Ann Eastham, Vicki Norris, Louise Chambliss, Bobby Gail Warren, Betty Darnell, Creda Gayle Gore, Marken Frazier, Linda Leatrice Teague, Yvette Karr, Viola Grace Barrett, Irita Morgensen, Joan Tarpley, Georganna Fitzgerald, Martha Nelson, Mary K. Livingston and Carolyn O'Dell Cary.

Mr., Mrs. O. E. Day Have Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Day celebrated their golden wedding anniversary with their many friends and relatives at their home, 815 North A street, on Saturday night, Nov. 17.

Mr. and Mrs. Day were married Nov. 17, 1901 in Bowie County, Texas. They have lived in Brownfield since 1937. They have five children, all of whom were present for the occasion.

Their sons and daughters are: D. L. Day of Georgetown, W. E. of Dallas, J. C. of Hamilton, and H. E. of Brownfield; and Mrs. W. H. Brown Jr., of Levelland.

Mr. and Mrs. Day left on Sunday morning, Nov. 18, with their son from Dallas for a two weeks' vacation, and they planned to visit their former home in Bowie County.

Maids and Matrons Study Medical Science

"Great Jumps in Medical Science" was the topic for discussion at the regular meeting of the Maids and Matrons Study Club Tuesday afternoon at Seleta Jane Brownfield clubhouse, and Mrs. E. O. Nelson was program chairman.

"The Blood Plasma That Anyone Can Give" was discussed by Mrs. Money Price, after which Mrs. Nelson showed samples of blood plasma. Mrs. A. J. Stricklin Sr. told of "New Drugs for Rheumatism," and Mrs. Nelson discussed "There Is a Cure for Brain Strokes."

During a business session, at which Mrs. Looe Miller, president, presided, Vernon Townes, chairman of the Community Chest program' being planned for Brownfield, discussed the possibilities, and asked the club their opinion, also they are to let him know by the next meeting of the club if members are willing to work with the Community Chest.

Mrs. Eunice Jones was hostess, and she served hot cranberry punch and fruit cake. Plate favors were attractive tiny crocheted holly wreaths; the wreath was green, with small beads representing the holly, tied with red ribbon and centered with a very small bell.

Attending were Mesdames R. H. Casstevens, W. A. Bell, A. W. Butler, Barton Evans, Leo Holmes, E. F. Latham, W. F. McCracken, E. B. McBurnett Jr., Miller, Nelson, Price, Gaster Spencer, Frank Weir, Stricklin, M. G. Tarpley, J. M. Teague, F. G. White, Otis B. Larner and Jones.

HERE'S NEWS FROM WELLMAN

(Intended for Last Week)

Recently our school system added the CPEA to the school. This message from Mr. J. T. Bryant, superintendent of the Wellman schools, will help to explain it.

C. P. E. A.
Are you hearing so much about the CPEA that you are wondering what it is?

The Cooperative Program in Educational Administration for the Southwest is a five-year development and research undertaking for which the University of Texas has received a grant from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation. Its overall purpose is to improve school leadership. The chairman of the University Program Committee is Dr. L. D. Haskey, Dean of the College of Education. The Coordinator of the Program is Dr. Roy M. Hall, from Syracuse University.

Answers to the following questions concerning the Administration are to be sought:

1. What are his responsibilities?
2. What are his problems?
3. What understanding does the public have of these problems?
4. What activities does the Administrator carry on in his effort to meet his responsibilities?
5. What contacts and relationships does he and does he not have?
6. Are the Administrator's responsibilities and activities changing?
7. What are the roles and functions of school boards, and lay groups?
8. What are the earmarks of a good Administrator?

Fourteen schools in the State of Texas have been chosen to help answer the questions listed above. These schools are called cooperation centers and are chosen from different sections of the State and to represent as many types and sizes of schools chosen are: Littlefield, Sanger, Edgewood, Irving, Harlingen, Woodville, Pasadena, Welmar, Alvin, Glen Rose, Wellington, Hill County, Tyler and Wellman. These fourteen were chosen from a list of 646 who were considered at first.

We are working through Texas Tech as a coordinating center under the leadership of Dr. John Carroll and Ted Edwards of the educational department there.

Each school is to choose certain outstanding first three year period. Wellman has chosen "Remedial Reading" and "School-Community Relations" as our special projects.

The committee to steer this program are the superintendent, the principals, the vocational teachers, the business manager, the visiting teacher, the president of the school board, and some community leaders. Notes on our projects are sent in weekly to Texas Tech.

The ladies of the congregation prepared the noon meal for the ACC a capella chorus last Wednesday. This chorus sang at the high school on Wednesday afternoon at 1:30, and also sang a medley of Christmas carols to be broadcast later over KTFY. All enjoyed their visit very much.

Several of the members of the Crescent Hill congregation have been attending the Lubbock Bible School conducted each Monday afternoon at 7 p. m. at the Broadway Church of Christ. One Way to Make A Lot of Money

Got one of our slick mags Tuesday, and started a perusal of the thing. And folks, if you want to know something, these big slicks are just about 90 per cent advertising, and the other ten per cent is rot as reading matter, so far as we are concerned. For our part, we wouldn't give one issue of the Pathfinder or any other news magazine for a load of the BIG name magazines.

But we got to noting the number of liquor ads as we turned through the thing hastily—and that's all the reading we give it. We sometimes wonder why in heck we ever spent about five bucks for a subscription to it. Particularly we noted the liquor ads, and there were so many that we made a count and found:

Three 1/2 page ads; five full page ads, and three double page spreads of whiskey ads, a total of 14 1/2 pages. There were two full pages of beer ads and one of brandy. In addition some page cigaret ads. Way back a generation ago, the Saturday Evening Post charged $10,000 for a page ad. Presumably the price is much greater now, perhaps $20,000 or more for their circulation.

So, if this is true, that magazine (not the S. E. Post, it don't carry liquor ads) had at the least calculation around $350,000 worth of liquor advertising alone. And while we are not radical about the matter either way, to our notion these big liquor and beer firms are advertising themselves face to face with another round of national prohibition by the shortest route they could possibly choose.

One of these big liquor distilleries you know, stresses "The Man of Distinction," always raising his glass in a toast, with a bunch of friends joining in and a partly filled bottle near. The last issue of the Methodist Board of Temperance Clippings had a good illustration of the Man of Distinction, but sorter in reverse.

One man sitting at a table, with shirt and tie disarranged, and pouring from his 4/5th, plus a hangover look. Just to the rear was a nicely dressed young man with a glass in his hand, with the wording, "I drink water." Now which would you take to be "the man of distinction?"

Services For Mrs. McCormick Sunday

Funeral services for Mrs. Rommie McCormick, 77, were held at 2 p. m. Sunday at the First Baptist church, with Rev. Jones Weathers, pastor, officiating. Burial was in the Terry County Memorial cemetery under the direction of the Brownfield Funeral Home.

Mrs. McCormick passed away at 4:20 a. m. Wednesday, Nov. 28, in the home of her brother, Henry Witt, in Farmington, N. M. She and her husband had gone to Farmington several months ago, thinking the climate there might improve her health. On Nov. 21, she fell and broke her hip, and the shock was too much for her nerves.

She was born Mary Frances Witt, February 9, 1874, at Greenville, Ala. She moved to Texas in September, 1894, and was married to Frank Duffau in 1897. Mr. Duffau died in 1907. In 1913 she was married to Mr. McCormick, and they had been residents of Brownfield since that time. She became a Christian when she was a girl, and a member of the First Baptist church here for many years.

Her husband and brother and several nieces and nephews survive.

Czech Professor To Write Book

AUSTIN.—A former Czechoslovak statesman will use copies of documents now hidden by the "iron curtain" to write a book on Russian foreign policy.

He is Dr. Eduard Taborsky, associate professor of government at the University of Texas. Taborsky was secretary to former Czech President Eduard Benes 1929-45, and after World War II, served as envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Sweden. He resigned the diplomatic post in 1948, when Czechoslovakia became a Russian satellite.

For his book, "Dr. Bene: Between East and West," Taborsky will draw upon his own diaries and upon copies of letters and memoranda in the Czech archives. The archives were seized by the Communists in 1948.

Dr. Taborsky's papers were in London and Stockholm, out of reach of Soviet officials. Since no one in the free world knows what has happened to the originals, Taborsky believes the documents he has may be the only copies still in existence.

An Appeal To Drive Carefully

CHICAGO.—The National Safety Council appealed to the nation to keep the millionth traffic death from being a tragic Christmas present to some American family.

At the present rate of traffic deaths, the millionth victim is expected to die the third week of December—almost at the height of the Christmas season.

"It is bitterly ironic that the gaiety and festivity of the Christmas season should provide the backdrop for one of the most tragic events in the nation's motor vehicle history," said Ned H. Dearborn, president of the council. "And it must come as a shock to realize that in only 50 years the lives of almost 1,000,000 men, women and children have been squandered in one of the most senseless and deplorable wastes of modern times.

"But even more shocking than the toll itself is the inescapable fact that few American feel any real personal concern over this problem. Since the approximate date of the millionth death was announced more than eight months ago, there has been no slowness in the rate of fatalities. Mr. Millionth's fate is approaching right on schedule. Personal concern—and only personal concern and responsibility—can turn a red stop light on death as it speeds down our highways and streets."

Mr. Dearborn said that the Christmas-New Year's holiday season is the peak accident period of the year and the time when traffic accidents present the most acute problem. Heavier travel and the festive spirit of the season always add to the normal winter hazards of bad weather, slippery roads and added hours of darkness.

"These increased hazards call for extra care and caution on the part of both pedestrians and drivers," he said, "especially if we are going to prevent the millionth traffic death from occurring during the Christmas season.

"Don't let death take your holiday—or anyone else's."

Sidney Allen Is Honored Student in D. E.

I'm sure you all are interested in our D. E. students, and the things in which they participate. Each week we are going to tell you about one of the D. E. students. Our honored student this week is Sidney Allen. I'm sure you all know Sidney even though he attends school only in the mornings.

Sidney is employed at Allen's Motor Supply. When asked why he took the course Sidney answered "I took the course because I wanted to work and learn something about Auto Parts business. After I finish school I will be ready to go into full-time employment."

"The D. E. program will help me in the future because when I get out of high school I will already know something about selling and buying. This will help one in any business."

"We study many interesting things in D. E. Most of all how to meet people, personality traits, and other vitally important things to one in making one's business. We also develop on how to

D. E. is offered only to Juniors and Seniors. If you have already planned on the designated work you want to do after high school, this course can mean very much to you.

Sidney's father has been much in favor of his taking D. E. Mr. Allen believes that Sidney can take over the work after school very well.

Janet's Jabber

During the past few days I have acquired a bit of gossip that I'm sure you would be interested in. If I step on anyone's toes I hope you will excuse my ignorance.

One day last week I went into a world history class to speak to the teacher. To my surprise I noticed that two students were conversing. Being nosy like I am, I inquired as to what was going on. I finally found the verdict to be: Clyde Trotter was trying to brown nose Norma Butler. Oh well, it happens to best of people!

The bell rang just as I left the room and immediately the halls were one big stampede of BHS students. The first thing that caught my eye was Rita Apollonais walking down the hall with a big grin spread from ear to ear. Wondering why all the smiles I decided to investigate. I discovered that she had just seen Robert Constancio. That's what love does to a person.

Just as I was going to my locker Merlin Speed passed by with his mind up in the clouds. I could tell by the sparkle in his eyes that he was thinking about Maurreen Webb.

I wanted to hang around the halls awhile longer but the clock was ticking away and I had but one minute to get to my fifth period class. I was on my way when I overheard two girls gabbing about something which appeared to be very interesting. As I said, I had to hurry, but I caught these few words as I ran by: "I just don't understand why he never see Jack Stricklin with girls any more? I wish he would give us a chance!"

I got permission from my teacher to go to study hall to buy some paper. I was surely glad I went during fifth period, because I saw Jackie Wade watching James Watson hopefully.

I had to return to class so I could do no more snooping until later that day.

School was finally out and I happily started out to the car. I was slowed down by a group of girls who were discussing the question as to whether Melvin Talley is true to Mary Sue Travis or just bashful around girls. I could tell they wanted a chance with him.

Reaching my destination, the car, I discovered a sophomore girl coming toward me with a worried look on her face. She asked me, blushing a little, if I could keep a secret. Naturally I said yes as I was dying of curiosity. She wanted to know why Delbert Bradley won't go with girls any more. I guess she was rather surprised at my not knowing the answer. Maybe some of you know.

Well, still trying desperately to get away from the school house I got into my car. As I have donkey ears, I heard Star George telling one of her friends that Lin Earbee moved across the aisle in last period study hall to sit by her. Oh, such things a person can overhear!

When I got home I decided to make a list of some of the cute couples that go together. Here is the list in case you are also a gossip: James Barnes and Veda Ritchey, Peggy Stewart and Glen Reed, Macky Hord and Patsy Teague, Jack Lucas and Herbie Singletary, Doris Hammer and Charlotte Jones, Nicky Greer and Janie Dickson, Ted Hardy and Karen White.

While I'm mentioning couples I can't pass up the steadies: Betty Daniel and Brian Brady, Vir-lene Sharp and Doug Forbes, E. V. Murphy and Royda Dumas, Gloria Angus and Dale Travis.

That night I decided to take in a movie. I was standing at the ticket box and although I'm not sure, I believe I saw Mary Tuttle and Joe Blanton together. Speaking of Tuttle, I've heard that Doris Tuttle is going with Danny Cabe from Wellman.

It took me a comparatively short time to be seated as I just didn't see any couples to gossip about. Two or three kids came up and asked me to drop the hint that John O'Dell and Toni Akers would make a darling couple!

About the only other incident occurring during the course of my stay was the grand entrance of Patsy Kay Rogers and Doyle Bradley. The funny thing was this: They hadn't been seated more than five minutes when in walked Doyle's mother and sister. Supposedly not trusting him, they sat right across the aisle. It was too dark to tell whether he still held Patsy's hand or not.

So that I could be sure and see all the couples that came in I saw the show several times. When I finally left, everyone else had gone home. Oh, pardon me! The

Twenty per cent of the proceeds from the program given for Junior High will go to the Student Council of Junior High which is being organized. FFA NEWS

In the County Gilt Show Max Miller had the grand champion gilt with the two first and one third place. His prize money totaled $37.00.

FFA is making plans to construct pens on 3 acres of land that was purchased by the school for the club use. This setup will be mainly for the town boys who have livestock as their projects. It is located north of the high school. The boys are building a stand for their water tank and assembling a redwood water tank to be put up at the windmill on the two acres.

Those boys who will keep their calves and hogs are Glen and Jerry Paden, Verlin Brewer, Phil Addison, Dewey Bradley, John Holmes, Wayne Caperton, Ray Cargil, Bob Kuman, Howard and Joe Swan, and others who have not placed their projects.

The FFA is going to construct a feedhouse, install a grain mill, and build pens on their property.

The FFA will hold their next meeting December 10 for the purpose of nominating and electing a FFA sweetheart. This meeting will be planned by Orville Miller, Richard Ridgeway and Claud Cyfert.

Editorial

An organization usually has a purpose or a definite goal toward which its activity is directed. The purpose of an organization may vary from popularizing some type of hobby to the promotion of school spirit.

The Student Council of Brownfield High and as far as that goes, Student Councils over the entire breadth and length of the United States direct their activities toward a goal.

The Student-Council's goal can not be very well summarized into one definite item. It involves an agenda that includes practically everything that a student body would like to see accomplished. We might say the Student Council attempts to make a school perfect in all respects.

Working year in and year out, the Student Council handles all affairs from finance to the promotion of school spirit. The work which is accomplished in a school year, without a doubt, equals the work done by the average laborer who receives payment for his labor. But the members of the Council do not receive payment for their untiring work within the school. Because of the efforts for which they are not rewarded, I think the student body should give the Student Council a great big hand. We can't very well congregate and give applause physically, but by little gestures commending its work we can do. So let us, the student body, show the Student Council of Brownfield High we appreciate its work and hope it will in future times continue unceasingly its invaluable work within the school!

School Buses Should Be Ordered Now

The following letter came to the office of county superintendent E. G. Brownlee, this week, regarding the necessity of the early requisition of school buses for the 1952-53 term:

"To all school superintendents: The time to requisition school buses for the 1952-53 school year has arrived.

"The uncertainty of next year's production schedule on chassis and steel for civilian consumption makes early requisitions extremely important.

"Placing your requisition now should assure you a favorable price and delivery by September, 1952.

"All requisitions received by December 14, 1951, will be grouped into one bid, proposal which will be opened early in January. This first group purchase should develop the low price for next year's buses.

"Should your requisition be based on an anticipated need which does not develop, you are authorized to request cancellation. It is the responsibility of each school to provide adequate supporting information to the board of control when requesting such cancellation.

"If you are not able to submit your requisition by December 14, it will be handled in the next group in January.

"Vendors will deliver complete school buses to the school bus inspection station, New Boston, Texas. Chassis-only and carryalls will be delivered direct to the requisitioning school.

"Prompt action on your part now may eliminate many transportation problems later.

Very truly yours,
State Board of Control
By O. W. Patton, Asst. Purchasing Agent."

At Last, Tahoka Road To Be Re-Paved

If there is a section of paving in this area that has gone to the bad, it is 380 from Brownfield east some 13.04 miles, which goes into Lynn county some two miles. The good news comes that the Texas Highway Commission, at a setting on the 11-12, will let contracts on this section of road, as well as some 453 miles over the state.

At the contract letting, there may be as much as $6,000,000 spent, according to an AP report from Austin. This 13.04 miles in Terry and Lynn will carry a contract for grading, flexible base and a three course surface treatment.

The contractors, unknown at this time, will likely start operations in the spring. This paving is badly worn, and bumpy where attempts at repairing holes have been made.

The annual "M" night or Mobilization night's program will include a praise service, led by Melvin Newman of Lakeview, accompanied at the piano by Miss Jamie Dixon of Gomez. A film, "Christ Speaks to His Churches" will be shown before a message by Rev. T. L. Nipp of Gomez.

All training union members in the association are urged to attend, and visitors are invited, according to Mr. Miller.

Tuesday night a meeting of the Baptist Associational Training Union officers was held at the local First Baptist church, when Rev. James Frost of Dallas, assistant training union director of the state of Texas, was guest speaker.
