FIFTH ANNUAL JAYCEE 3-DAY RODEO TO START HERE NEXT THURSDAY

Final plans are being completed for the fifth annual Brownfield Junior Chamber of Commerce rodeo, which will start next Thursday, May 22, and continue through

Cicero Smith to Do Vast Yard Improving

About six weeks ago, Fred Smith, manager of the local yard of Cicero Smith, as well as district manager, informed the Herald that their firm here was in for some rather extensive improvement. This was to come about as soon as Mr. Johnson, owner, of Fort Worth came out and approved the plans. Mr. Smith promised to give us the go-ahead green light as soon as approval was known.

Mr. Smith stated at that time he had informed Mr. Johnson he believed that it would take some $40,000 to do the job, and that Mr. Johnson had said for him to use up to $50,000 if it took that amount to complete the designs Mr. Smith had in mind. Late last week, the plans were approved, and a permit was received from the city to go ahead with construction. Being in the fire zone, this construction will have to be as near fireproof as possible.

At that time there was some talk of moving the offices to front Fifth street, but this idea was abandoned, and the offices of the firm will remain as they have since the yard was built back about 1920, with the offices fronting the west.

The old studding on the south will be moved to the alley, and covered and sided with some fireproof or semi-fireproof material and a high tile firewall.

As we understand it, the south-side will be rebuilt of fireproof materials with the offices on the west constructed of tile, brick and steel, giving a pleasing effect.

Large show windows will adorn the offices, which will be air conditioned. Work is already under way digging the foundation for the firewall on the northside, next to the alley. The other work will start soon, and rushed to completion as fast as possible.

Various construction men will be given contracts on the building, with Mr. Smith as general superintendent of construction.

Saturday night, May 24, according to Hub King, general chairman of the event.

Officially opening the rodeo will be the big parade, beginning at 5 o'clock next Thursday afternoon. Tess Fulfer of the Terry County Sheriff's Posse is in charge of the parade, and several sheriff's posses from other towns have accepted invitations to participate. Fulfer, who is also float chairman, stated that the parade would be one of the best ever staged in Brownfield.

Performances will begin each night at 8 o'clock. Admission for regular tickets is $1.50, and reserve tickets are sold for $1.75. Reserve seat tickets may be purchased at the Brownfield Coffee Shop, Robert L. Noble Insurance Co., and Griggs & Goble. Persons having box seats on the south side of the arena are to take their own chairs. Those with reserve tickets for the south side are asked to enter the grounds just south of the park. A sign will be placed there for direction. All other persons attending are asked to enter the north gate. Members of the Jaycees will help in parking of cars.

Registering of contestants will start Monday at the Brownfield Hotel, and deadline for registering is next Thursday.

All next week has been declared "Western Week", and residents of Brownfield appearing on the streets without some western regalia will be fined $1 by the Jaycees, general chairman King said.

A "Western Week" Square Dance will be given at the Veteran's Hall on Wednesday night, May 21, preceding the rodeo, sponsored by the Circle and Square Dance Club of Brownfield. Walt Gering and his musical entertainers of Lamesa will furnish the music for this dance. Dances are scheduled at the Veteran's Hall, each night after rodeo performances.

Jaycees are working each night at the grounds in preparation for the big rodeo, which promises to be the "biggest and best." Stock will be used belonging to Bob Estes of the Lone Star Ranch.

Leave your "old grey bonnet" at home, and don those Western Togs, 'cause it's Rodeo Time in Brownfield!

Jaycee Rodeo—May 22-23-24

Commencement At Wellman May 16

Commencement exercises for members of the graduating class at Wellman High school will be held tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the school gymnasium.

Roy Bass of Lubbock will be guest speaker.

Valedictorian of the class this year is Mary Jo Caldwell, and salutatorian is James Willis. Awards will be made by Principal R. C. Brackett, and Supt. J. T. Bryant will award diplomas.

Immediately after the graduating exercises, the seniors will leave for Colorado Springs, Colo., and will be gone five days.

Other members of the class are: Louise Ballard, Patsy Hyman, Jack Hamm, Ray Nell Liles and Doyle Welcher.

Let's Kill the Red Spiders in Town

James King of the King Nurseries here, issued a warning Tuesday to residents in Brownfield that the "Red Spiders" would eventually kill shrubs if special care is not given junipers and arborvitae.

The "Red Spiders" form a web in the shrubs, and the web is detected if the shrub looks dirty, King said. "A good temporary relief is to spray the shrubs with a garden hose with a strong stream of water once per day for three days—then dust them with sulphur," he added. Sulphur will kill the insects.

The "Red Spiders" have been detected all over town, King said, and it would be a shame for Brownfield residents to let the shrubs die. "Of course, the best remedy for the 'siege' is a good rain," the nurseryman said, "as the rain would wash the webs from the shrubs."

Parts For Autos For Races to Be Here Soon

All the parts for cars to be entered in the Junior Auto Races are to be here within the next few days, according to F. N. Martin, Lions Club committee chairman. The race, the first of its kind to be staged in Brownfield, will be July 26. Terry county boys 11 to 15 years of age are eligible to enter, and officials soap box derby rules will be followed. Martin also said to watch for announcements for a meeting of the boys and their sponsors which will be in the near future. The announcement will be made in the local schools.

Attend the Annual Jaycee Rodeo May 22-23-24

HEY, BOYS ON WHEELS!

Be sure and watch the Herald for notice telling you when you can pick up the Reflecta-Tapes for your bicycles!

The Maids and Matrons Study Club is sponsoring the project, with the intention of having all bicycles equipped with tape that will reflect at night, when caught in the headlight beams of approaching cars.

This is for your safety—so be ready in the near future to get your Reflecta-Tapes!

Proclamation

WHEREAS, the great pioneers of the South Plains considered western clothes appropriate for any occasion; and

WHEREAS, these fine pioneers were courageous, free thinking citizens who founded this great section of Texas on honesty and hard work, it behooves us, the citizens of Brownfield, to dress and imitate these pioneers to the best of our ability; and

WHEREAS, the Junior Chamber of Commerce rodeo is to be held May 22, 23 and 24; and WHEREAS, unity of effort is required in advertising for the promotion of this rodeo;

THEREFORE, I, Homer W. Nelson, Mayor of the City of Brownfield, Texas, do hereby designate May 19 through the 24, as Western Week, being sponsored by the Brownfield Junior Chamber of Commerce and call upon the citizens of Brownfield to take an active part in this program to help insure its success.

Signed: HOMER W. NELSON, Mayor of the City of Brownfield, Texas.

Churches To Dismiss For Baccalaureate Sermon

Most of Brownfield churches will be dismissed Sunday evening for the baccalaureate services for high school seniors, which will be held at the high school auditorium.

Sunday morning, Rev. Boyd Pearce, a student at Baylor University, Waco, will preach at the First Baptist Church.

At Calvary Baptist Church, Rev. Cooley a retired Baptist minister, will preach. Rev. Jones W. Weathers of First Baptist Church and Rev. Jack Pearce of Calvary Baptist are attending the Southern Baptist convention in Miami, Fla.

See the page advertisement in this week's Herald for the baccalaureate services and commencement programs.

Preacher S. A. Ribble was in last week late to jaw a bit, have some job work done, and get his name on our regular mailing list. Thanks a lot.

Ray Schmidt, one of our candidates, came in and got his name on our regular mailing list, last week.

Pre-School Children Urged to Attend Clinic And Receive Immunizations Today, Friday

A pre-school clinic will be held today and tomorrow, May 15 and 16, at the South Plains Health Unit, east end of Main street, Brownfield, for all children who will enroll in school for the first time in September.

Physical examinations will be given to each child; also, immunizations for diphtheria, whooping cough and smallpox will be given.

Scouts Attend Initiation Ceremonies at Post

Seven Brownfield Boy Scouts took part in initiation ceremonies at Camp Post last week, when about 50 Scouts from Nocona lodge of the South Plains Council participated.

Johnny Cloud assisted with the initiation into the Order of the Arrow, and Jackie Stockton and Lewis Chambliss received the "Ordeal Honor." Receiving the "Brotherhood Honor" were Jerry Bailey, Jerry Don Brown, Max Black, Dale Crockett and Earl Davis.

Cecil Hill, scoutmaster of troop 74, accompanied the youths from Brownfield.

Call Meeting of the Farm Association

The Terry County Farm Association has served notice that there will be a called meeting of the organization in the District Courtroom at the Courthouse at 8 p. m., Thursday, May 15. The order for the meeting was signed by J. T. Fulford, President.

The object of the meeting will be information about the procuring and using Mexican Nationals for any and all farm work. So it is very urgent that you farmers attend this meeting if you expect to use this kind of labor during the year.

Young Is Winner in District 4-H Contest

Warren Young of the Pool community won in tractor maintenance at the District 4-H Club contest in Lubbock Saturday, and will represent this area at the state contest at Texas A&M College June 9 and 10th.

For the first time this year, tractor driving was included in this particular contest, according to County Agent Jim Foy. Plans are being made for a "Tractor Rodeo" to be held in Terry County in the late summer, when 4-H Club boys will enter contests in tractor driving, Foy said.

Four Terry County 4-H Club members will enter the district rifle contest in Lubbock Saturday.

Young farms with his mother, Mrs. Ethel Young, in the Pool community, and is a graduate of the Meadow High school. He won first place in the 1951 county cotton growing contest, and second place in the district.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Thurman and son, William E., and wife of Edmonson, Texas, visited Mrs. Thurman's sister, Mrs. J. R. White, of Vernon. They also visited a daughter and family, Mrs. W. T. Sanner of Velma, Okla., last week.

Junior High School Band Has Picnic

Forty-seven members of the Junior High school band and their instructor, Fred Smith, went to MacKenzie State Park in Lubbock last Friday for a picnic.

Have news? Call the Herald.

Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Montana, who live west of Seagraves, were in shopping this week, and dropped in to renew. Almost a crop failure the past two years, these good people stated. Better luck for 1952, we hope.

Pre-School Children Urged to Attend Clinic

If the child has not had them and the parents wish to have them given at this time. It is necessary for the child to have their smallpox vaccination and whooping cough and diphtheria immunizations before enrolling in school. This service to the child and to the parents is a Public Health Service rendered by your local Health Department in order to help control communicable diseases among the children.

Parents whose children were not listed in the census and who did not receive a letter from the Health Department, are invited to bring their child to the Health Unit either Thursday or Friday of this week.

The Jessie Randal PTA will assist with this pre-school clinic. Whooping cough and diphtheria shots require three doses, given one month apart, so parents can readily see how important it is that children start these immunizations as soon as possible, in order to have them completed before the start of school in September, according to Mrs. Viola Simmonds, county health nurse.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jones and daughter, Jana, 303 West Buckley, returned home Friday night after a business trip to Oklahoma.

E. S. Tankersley dropped in to settle for his announcement fee as a candidate for Commissioner, Precinct No. 1, and to renew his herald.

OUTSTANDING STUDENTS IN HIGH SCHOOL RECOGNIZED IN A SPECIAL HONOR ASSEMBLY MONDAY MORNING

By WYNELLE WEBB

Outstanding students of Brownfield High school during the past school year were recognized in a special Honor Assembly at 9 a. m. Monday in the auditorium. The assembly was sponsored by the high school student council, and program chairman was Jerry Anderson, vice president of the council this year, who will serve as president next year.

Bobbie Bingham is valedictorian of the 1952 senior class, who is honor student with a grade average of 95.0. Salutatorian is Chris Burda, who is second in the class with a grade average of 93.

Miss Bingham is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bingham, 512 East Hill, and has attended the local high school the past four years. Chris is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Burda, 415 South Second street, and has been president of the senior class. Bobbie was student council representative from the senior class.

Honor Assembly opened with the student body singing the "Star Spangled Banner," led by Mr. Harold Mulkey, and then the Pledge to the Flag led by Jerry Anderson. Jerry Bailey led the student body in prayer.

John J. Kendrick presented American Legion Awards to the school and the 8th grade was recognized by Jerry Anderson.

Next on the program was Chris Burda, senior class president and chairman of the clubs committee, introduced representatives of the different clubs. First was Janelle

Penny Knox Critically Burned Sunday Morning

Penny Knox, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Knox of Brownfield, was critically burned near Saint Jo Sunday morning when her dress was ignited by a lighted candle.

Mr. and Mrs. Knox and their four children were visiting at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Henley, six miles north of St. Jo.

The Knox family had been sleeping in a cabin on the farm and the parents went to the Henley house nearby before breakfast Sunday morning, leaving all four children asleep.

The youngsters located some matches and a candle and were playing with them when Penny backed into the candle and received burns on her back.

She is in a hospital at Gainesville.

Girl Scouts Selling Holland's Magazine

One-half of the proceeds from the sale of Holland's magazines will be used by the Girl Scout Council for improvements of the Girl Scout Little House and the grounds, according to an announcement this week. Members of Girl Scout troops are selling the magazines, and the girl with the most sales will receive a tennis racket as a prize.

Members of the council wish to express appreciation to the Alpha Omega Study Club for the placing of venetian blinds on windows in the Girl Scout Little House.

The grounds are being landscaped and lights will be installed in the yard, and a barbecue pit will be built near the Little House.

Attend Florists Meet in Lubbock

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hoy attended a meeting of the South Plains Florists Association at the Hilton Hotel in Lubbock on Monday, May 5. Presentation of the $25 cash award to a high school student for drawing the best insignia design for the association was made to Donnie Edwards of Lubbock, at a dinner at 8 p. m.

Sixty-one persons from the area attended, according to Mrs. Hoy, who is secretary-treasurer for the association. J. L. Chisholm of Lubbock is president.

Dewey Ross of the Brownfield Floral contacted the local schools to see if students from here would like to enter the contest, but due to the fact there is no art class in local schools, Brownfield did not have an entry in the contest.

Mrs. E. P. Bish visited her brother-in-law and a niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Kennedy, in Plainview Sunday.

South Plains Agriculture Improvement Field Day Planned Here For July 31

Eleven counties will be represented at the Annual South Plains Agriculture Improvement Field Day, to be held here on Thursday, July 31, co-sponsored by the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce, and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, according to Herbert Chesshir, president of the local organization.

Date for the event was scheduled at a meeting of the board of directors Monday night, and plans were discussed for the day's program.

Implement dealers from the entire area and specialists from several agriculture schools are expected to participate. Demonstrations will be given on crop dusting and tractor maintenance. Warren Young, who won the district 4-H Club contest in tractor maintenance at Lubbock Saturday, will give a demonstration on tractor driving. Representatives of the agriculture department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will attend.

The local Chamber of Commerce directors approved plans for an agricultural workers conference to be held here regularly, with representatives from Terry, Yoakum, Gaines and Dawson counties attending. Dates for the conference has not been set.

Improvements of highways 62 and 51 were also discussed by the directors.

When we consider the progress our nation has made, too often we only think of the great cities and the teaming farms now operated by machinery. And they, too, must be considered. But when we remember the hardships of the hardy pioneers, who began to leave the shores of the east coast and spread out into the primeval forests and prairies of the west, we cannot but admire the determination, and oft time apparent audacity of the makers of our country. Today, if one wishes to visit the Atlantic coast, he may make the journey leisurely in two days just beyond the mighty Mississippi, or three to the Atlantic coast, over paved highways all the way. Or the trip may be made in about the same time by train or bus, and in less time if night travel is used. And by airplane, for those not afraid to use that method, just in a few hours. But when our ancestors started west, a very different aspect confronted them. In the first place they either went in horse or ox drawn wagons, and there were no roads. The ox came in handy to remove the underbrush and in some instances larger trees so that the wagon caravans could move on. And a rainy spell meant that they must go into camp. Therefore the journey through the wilderness might require weeks, even months. What the road engineers and builders have done even in the last 25 years is marvelous. Now you may go most any place you wish over a well paved highway, many of them three and four lane thoroughfares, or will be in the next few years. With wider and straighter highways, one person leaving say Dallas for Austin, and at the same time another party at Austin decides to go to Dallas, according to the authorities the chances are very slim that the two cars will collide somewhere between the two cities. With the newest ideas of highway construction now under way, with a four-lane divided highway, the chances of colliding head-on with an oncoming car are slim.

Steep grades are being eliminated as much as possible, as well as sharp curves. But despite good roads and good cars, neither of which is to blame, there are too many wrecks, the fault of the driver in every instance. The Texas Safety Association, in their program for safer Texas, urges you not to fall into the false feeling of security when you drive on our good streets and highways. Everything is being done for you that can be done—but safety is up to you.

And you say, "it can't happen here." Well, we have before us a picture in the current issue of West Texas Press Association, that well illustrates that it can happen here, or for that matter, anywhere in Texas or the USA. Recently, at a press conference, President Truman frankly stated that if he thought it necessary, he could take over the press and radio, and suppress them. At the time, you may have had your own idea of that. But since then, he has seized private property, the steel mills, and may in the not dim distant future take over the oil companies, if the strike continues. But back to the picture in question, it shows the front view of the Lampasas, Texas, Dispatch, with two armed soldiers standing guard in front, and a sign over the door which says, "closed by order of the military." Of course most of us have been reading of "Operations Long Horn" down in that section in the vicinity of Fort Hood, and it was just a part of the maneuvers. But underneath the picture it says, "It Did Happen Here—When the Aggressor force of 'Exercises Long Horn, captured' the city of Lampasas, one of the first acts was to close the office of the Lampasas Dispatch. Such realistic scenes, made not only the publisher, Ward Lowe, but the entire city appreciate that the maneuvers were not 'for keeps.' Just the same, the way things are moving now at Washington, such scenes may become frequent, and will be realistic. This writer has never been terribly afraid that the comics or fellow travelers will take over the nation. What we fear is that it will be done by and of the authority up at Washington. That we are fast drifting into a dictatorship is as clear as the nose on a man's face. Unless there is a clean sweep made up at Washington, and that means anyone that the present administration can control, we are headed for a dictatorship just as fast as a pack of hounds in sight of the fox they are chasing. There is no improvement to be expected just because Truman is retiring, if he can dictate who the next president will be. It will still be the same old run-around. The first thing we know the kids can't change their wad of chewing gum from one cheek to the other without a specific order from a bureau. Let's have a change. Frankly, that bunch are no more Democrats than Stalin, Franco or Peron are, and you folks who pay the bill should have them moved out of the White House, lock, stock and barrel.

A strange howl has gone up from the camp of the "loyal" Democrats, guess that is what they want to be called. They have been firing round after round into the ranks of what they term "Dixiecrats" and "Texas Regulars" for the past several months, contending that they, the D&TR's now led by Governor Shivers, are seeking to wreck the Democratic party. It would seem that the shoe is on the other foot today. The Trumanocrats are no longer in the majority, with the exception of San Antonio where there is a great deal of Latin influence, generally lead by some maverick and in this case was a Maverick. Maverick, is a true dealer, and a former congressman. But was defeated by a good Democrat some four years ago. Anyway, Maverick and his crowd pulled a fast one on the Shivers bunch by the rush it method, just as they tried it in other places, but failed. Even down at Austin where it seems that every other man has some kind of a federal job, the regular Democrats controlled the convention, and of course the Trumanocrats walked out and held a rump convention. In a number of the larger counties these minorities walked out, and rumped, the very thing they had been condemning the Texas Regulars and Dixiecrats as they call them, for doing the past several years. But they don't think the shot fits them. The same thing will happen at the State convention at San Antonio. And in all probability the rumpers will send a delegation to the National convention at Chicago in July that the National Democratic convention will seat. But if another Truman or stooge is nominated, we herewith predict that tens of thousands men and women who have voted the Democratic ticket all their lives, will march to the polls come the first Tuesday in November, and scratch their nominee. Most Texas folks are tired of the conditions they have lived under for some 10 years, and they are for a change—any change. They know the present bosses are not Democrats as the South has known Democrats for the past century. They are tired of stealing, grafting and cheating, muddling, and giving men of questionable character authority to tell citizens what they may or may not do. But back to the "loyalists:" Do they want the tidelands taken from our Texas school children, after it has belonged to them more than a century, without question? Do they want a law that would leave the people no say whom they would employ? If they happened to want a white man or woman for a certain job, some bureaucrat could step in and give them a Negro, Mexican or Chinese. Or, on the other hand, should the employer want a Negro, they could step in and tell you to take a Chinaman or nothing. Do Texas people want to remain loyal to such a condition that Truman and his cohorts would ram down our throats? Think, folks. Let the majority rule. That is true Democracy.

One reason for the confusion of the American people is the fact that they have no government by bureau and directives. And, let us add here that a confused people are easy prey to socialism, or worse, its first cousin, communism. The advocates of a big, centralized government 1500 miles away, are a prey to dictatorships, whether they mean to be so, or not. And such a government by directives, will divide the people. That is its natural consequence. One group with some reason decided that another group is being favored by the bureau. We find that the city man is somewhat angered by the rising cost of food, when he learns that the farmer is paid a parity on farm products. Then, again maneuvering of farm products can cause shortages. Take the potato. Two years ago, the government was buying them up by the millions of bushels, and storing them. When they began to rot and spoil, the government practically gave them away—not as food—but to be fed to hogs or put on land as fertilizer. Today, you may be able to buy a potato when you enter your grocery store, and then you may not

If so, they are generally small, culls. Of course you can buy the little peewee varieties. And then, the old farmer hits the ceiling when he learns that what he has to buy has advanced in price, because the city mechanic has had his pay raised, and the manufacturer then has to have a rakeoff to meet the cost of higher wages, and/or materials. All of us can remember back in the days when the little pigs and calves were killed off to hike prices. And we got a hike with a vengeance, and many of us not able to meet the old price. If you have found the man that can clarify the matter, you should bring him to the front where all of us can see him. He might prove to be the Solomon or the Moses to lead us out of the wilderness. But it is the business of the bureaus to keep the argument going. If all were agreed, soon the bureaus and directives would be without office. As long as the groups disagree, the bureaucrats have a lead pipe cinch on their jobs. Let us take the US Congressman for example. Every now and then, you will hear or read about one that is giving some one half Columbia for waste of the people's money. Maybe, he, himself is head of some bureau or committee on expenditures. Then Congressman Peterdix will come back with a blast at the committee that Congressman Steward has the chairmanship of. So, it proves to be just another chain letter outfit, to which there is no end. In the meantime, Mr. John Q. Public puts up the dough to keep this or that going, employing more and more floor walkers or rest room sitters.

Of late we have heard much about the crowded condition of our hospitals for the insane, and in some instances, mismanagement or cruelty to the patients. Very few committed to one of these institutions ever go home cured. State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox, in a late press release, makes a startling statement that fifty per cent of the people in all hospital beds today are filled by people suffering from mental or nervous diseases. He then goes on to tell us that the fast life of the present civilization is exacting a terrific toll, and are responsible for a lot of the present day illness among people. He names a lot of such disease and causes. One, paralysis, is caused by a condition of the brain, and in many instances, the so-called social diseases are at the seat of the trouble. He then names the excessive use of alcohol as the cause of a large amount of mental disorders, and alcohol combined with the social diseases accounts for about one-fifth of the hospitalized mental cases. But he goes on to tell us that any improper living will take its toll. Some of these he mentions are insufficient sleep, and a mania for keeping up with all the functions of the community, if it takes all the day, and the biggest part of nights. Nature demands that it have a square deal in your life, or you pay for it in misery and woe. This reminds us of an article we read recently. A man from a hustling, bustling oil town in this area had but recently made a trip back through middle and southern Mississippi and Alabama. He found they were leisurely plowing their fields with one mule or horse hitched to a bull-tongue plow. Occasionally he would see a negro with a fishing pole on his shoulder, plodding along toward the creek or river, that you almost had to set up a stake to tell they were moving. He finally asked an intelligent citizen if those people were ever bothered with stomach ulcers. "They never heard of the disease," was the answer. So, it seems that you can't live a fast life without paying the fiddler.

Miss Norma Newman, who will graduate from Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene in June, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Newman, 621 North First, last weekend. Miss Newman will assume duties as church secretary of the First Baptist Church here after her graduation.

You can swing it if you try

HAve you, by any chance, been casting eyes at a Buick, and promising yourself that someday you will take the Big Step and have one all your own?

Let us whisper something to you. The "big step" isn't big at all.

We know that's true, because such a high percentage of present Buick owners traded in a car tagged as belonging in "the low-priced field."

So why not set your sights on this star performer?

Why not enjoy big-car comfort — big-car power — big-car prestige for your money?

There's one of these lively lovelies waiting for you to come in and try it.

Get the feel of its mighty Fireball 8 Engine, that's a gas-saving high-compression valve-in-head. You could pay $300 to $400 more for a car that doesn't match its horsepower.

Get the feel of Dynaflo Drive*, that lets you ride relaxed — feeds a silken flow of power — and at the same time cuts down on upkeep costs, by protecting the engine, the rear end, and even the tires, from driving strains.

Get the feel of a ride that cost a million dollars and more for controls of end-sway and side-roll and vertical "throw"—for X-bracing the frame and V-bracing the torque-tube keel—for a total of 15 ride-engineering features.

One thing you'll know for sure when you've tried it. This car wasn't "built to a price." It's a Buick through and through.

But the fact remains that — when you check the price of a Buick SPECIAL against the price tags on so-called "low-priced cars" — you'll find out you can swing it if you really want to.

And brother, will that make your family happy!

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series. †Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster only.

ONLY BUICK PROVIDES THEM ALL

- DYNAFLO DRIVE* — great boon to easier driving, proved on more than a million Buicks.
- FIREBALL 8 ENGINE — of valve-in-head design, makes high compression count for more.
- NEW WIDE-BAND BRAKES — for smoother, more positive control.
- MILLION DOLLAR RIDE — with 4-wheel coil springing and road-leaky torque-tube.
- TOP-CAPACITY TRUNKS — more luggage room than ever in most models.
- NEW TWO-TONE INTERIORS — in most models, grace Buick's Body by Fisher.
- SWEEPSPAR STYLING — adds gleaming smartness to all models.
- Plus These, Too, On ROADMASTER — AIRPOWER CAREBURETION — with highest horsepower in Buick history. MORE MILES PER GALLON . . . POWER STEERING† — grabbly eases parking and turning, without losing that firm feel . . . SILENCE — so complete you can speak in whispers under way.

Yes sir!
Your long distance calls go through much faster when you call by number!

WHEN time means money, alert businessmen save—and profit—by using long distance telephone service.

At home, long distance service shortens the miles separating families and loved ones—sometimes in emergency—more often on holidays, birthdays and anniversaries.

When time is important, long distance service saves time, adds a personal touch no other communication affords. And when you call by number, service is even faster—often twice as fast!

Keep a list of the out-of-town numbers you call most frequently. Place your long distance calls by number. It will pay you—in time.

Mackey Dropped in For Renewal, Chat

J. B. Mackey, one of Terry's best farmers, whose fine farm lays in the Needmore community, getting his mail on route one, Meadow, dropped in to boost his time another year and just chat a bit. The conversation drifted of course to erosion, and what may be done about it. As his section is in the harder land area of Terry, erosion has not been too bad, but worse than common this year.

He believes that deep breaking even in the harder land will help and especially so in the sandier soils of the area. And of course he goes along with the best soil conservation methods, such as cover crops. For a long time we had wanted to ask Mr. Mackey about his family origination, as we had known a Mackey family in Tennessee since Heck was a pup.

But his family seems to have come down through Alabama, but originated in the Carolinas. Much of his time before coming to Terry county, was spent in the Hillsboro section, and this side of the Brazos in central west Texas.

No Minimum Wage To Mexican Nationals

At a meeting of the representatives of the Department of Labor of both the USA and Mexico, recently at Miami, Fla., a tentative agreement for this year was reached to expire December 31, 1953. Secretary Tobin of the USA would not agree to a minimum wage of 75 cents per hour for Mexican Nationals, despite the pressure from Union labor.

In the first place, Tobin did not think that wage scales could be set by executive order, but rather by legislation. Besides he would not agree to any wage that might be more than is paid for farm help that employ citizens of the USA. Of course the Mexican government wanted the old plan and conditions, wherein the Nationalists would draw two or three times as much wage as they would get in their own country.

But all this will be discussed next week when the Terry County Farm Association meets.

A fifth bridge was recently completed between Miami and Miami Beach.

Mother's Day Gone, Look What's Coming

Most people hereabouts, classified as young or middle aged, either were with their mother Sunday, or sent something that would be dear to the lady who brought them into this world, who nourished, cajoled, persuaded or threatened them until she made fairly respectable folks of them. The word, "Mother," always has something in and about it to bring out the best in children.

Not all of us were fortunate enough to have a mother until we were adults. Pardon us if we get a bit personal. The writer lost his mother when he was only eight years of age. But fortune smiled on us enough that we had a sister-in-law, the wife of our oldest brother, that came as near taking the place of mother to us it was possible. Then our wife was guided most of her life by a step-mother. And to this day, she does not like to hear one use the word "step-mother" in a disparaging way. Mother's Day is gone for another year.

Something Else Coming Up

Do not draw the idea that the close of school and the graduating exercises are in the same category with Mother's Day." Nor would we try to compare that other event at hand with the sacred day we devote to the mothers of the land. We mean of course, the rodeo. But since the passing of Mother's Day for another year, leaving perhaps many sweet memories, we are confronted with other things to think and do something about.

Most of us have already gotten one or more invitations from some student here at home, or other places, who will graduate from high school or perhaps a college or university. This reminds us that the time has arrived in the lives of these young people—to commence other adventures in this life, for that is what commencement means, we are told.

Anyway, these young men and women are our future dependents for carrying on the work where we older people have had to lay them down. Have they had sufficient or efficient training? Have we done all we could to make their days in the school-rooms pay off? Have we provided the best of teachers and materials to work with? That has been our part of the bargain. Let's hope we have spared nothing to hamper the aims and ambitions of these young folks.

As to the rodeo, some like them, and a few don't. But we never heard a person that did not personally like them condemn those who do. Some people like football; others like baseball better, and so we go. It is just a matter of choice what kind of recreation and amusement we like or don't like.

And like the students, there is a school of rodeoism, we might say. As a general thing, while experts and professionals may have

A gold emblem was received at the State Meet which was held at Texas A&M May 2, by the local FFA chapter livestock judging team. The gold emblems were given to the 15 top teams competing in the livestock judging. There were 78 teams entering this particular part of the meet. Among the other 15 top teams were Lubbock, Amarillo and Lamesa. Members of the judging team were Dicky Green, Tommy Winn, and Byron Wise. They were accompanied by Mr. Lester Buford, the local Agriculture instructor.

At the District Meet held in Tahoka Wednesday, May 7, a check was made of the boys who are applying for the Lone Star Farmers degree and American Farmers degree. The Brownfield chapter had eight degree applications which will be entered in the area competition June 2 and 3 at Odessa. These applicants are Dennis Beadles, Royce Kelly, Lanny Webb, Byron Wise, Adrian Hinson, Ray Latham, Glenn Reed, and Richard Ridgeway. Glenn Reed was selected to compete against District boys for the District Lone Star Farmers degree at Odessa June 2.

Carlton Brady, Brownfield Chapter Sweetheart, will compete against the nine District Sweethearts of which one will be selected to represent Area II at the State FFA Convention which is to be held in Dallas the first part of July.

Byron Wise was elected vice-president of the District Chapter. He is also president of the local FFA Chapter.

At the local chapter meeting which was held Monday night, the boys voted to go to the Colorado River for their annual summer encampment. Approximately 30 boys will leave May 25 and stay five days.

Orville Miller, the retiring president, read a letter of appreciation from W. C. Latham for being elected honorary member of the chapter. Orville also gave the results of the contest at Texas A&M.

Mr. Buford reported that Ven-Hicks, the new Agriculture teacher who is taking Mrs. Hensley's place June 1, will visit the department today. He will also visit the 8th grade boys in West Ward in regard to their taking Ag next year. Hicks is a graduate of Texas Tech and has been working on his master's degree since mid-term. His home is in Brownwood; he is 25 years old and single.

Jack Stricklin, Jr. left Friday morning for Denison, after his wife and the two small fry. They had been at Denison visiting the parents and grandparents for the past three weeks and the folks here at home were very anxious to see them.

Newspapers Don't Make All Mistakes

If you have an idea that the newspapers make all the mistakes, take another invoice, brother. They make many, too many, perhaps. Nothing grieves a publisher more than to see a glaring mistake in the columns of his paper. Something that he especially wanted to stand out, and read sensibly. But the regular newspaper does not make all the mistakes by a jug-full.

For instance in the magazine, West Texas Publisher, official organ of the West Texas Press Association, in the current issue, we found an item that stated that Publisher Forrest Weimhold of Levelland, was a candidate for State Senate. On the other hand, Weimhold was a candidate for State Representative of the new 98th district. Since the magazine was written, Weimhold has withdrawn from the race.

Then there was the matter of the Church of Christ meeting in the home of this editor, when it was first organized in Brownfield. Instead, they met in the old school building west of the railroad, and later in the district courtroom, until their building was erected in 1918, at Main and Third. The Ladies Bible class did, however, meet at our home for perhaps the first time.

COCHRAN-YOAKUM-TERRY—
SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Blue Panicum
Description: A deep-rooted, perennial bunchgrass that forms good sized, tough crowns by means of thick, short, bulbous rhizomes. It may reach a height of seven feet under best growing conditions. Inroduced from Australia.

Uses: Hay and pasture. Good seed producer. Has possibilities for use in crop rotations. Pasture use should be on a deferred or rotation basis.
Trials: Blue panicum has been grown successfully in Terry and Yoakum counties under irrigation and dryland conditions.
Vitality of Seed: Three or more years. After harvest dormancy, 1 to 2 months.
Climatic and Soil Adaptations: Does well on clays, clay loams, and fine sandy loams. Not very successful on sands low in organic matter.
Planting Time: Spring, after killing frost danger is past.
Planting Rate: 1 to 1½ pounds per acre in 36 inch rows.
Covering Depth: ¼ to ¾ inch.
Planting Method: Plant in 36 inch rows. Will volunteer readily.
Cultivation: Cultivate as for other crops when planted in rows.
Harvesting: For seed production, cut with binder, thresh with combine when seed material is cured in shock; For Hay, Mow just as the seed head starts out of the boot; For Grazing, Blue Panicum can be grazed much in the same manner as sudangrass.

Just Cooled Our Heels Under the Caprock

Thursday, 1st, the daughter and our grandbaby, Sara Beth, and the dog, Rover, came up to spend the weekend with Pop and Mammy and the other orphans, Jack Jr. and Jack T. Their hubby and daddy was to spend the weekend in Austin attending the state high school principals and curriculum organization. And as the state track meeting was scheduled at the same time and place, they got to see it.

Anyway, as it was Sunday, and a fairly pretty afternoon with the wind not too brisk, the Old He, wife and Jr. decided to go with Sallie as far as Lamesa. She had been complaining of a cold, and that was quite a drive for she and the little dumpling alone. We had the old 40ty to return in. Still early when Lamesa was reached, so we just hauled off and went on to Snyder. And all of us enjoyed the outing and supper before returning home.

In spots around Lamesa and out as far as Key near the caprock, and at Snyder, a lot of rain last week, and water still standing. Otherwise grass in that area and especially through Borden county still looks like the dead of winter. In some places with more rain than others, grass beginning to show up. East of Lamesa a lot of the land had been planted.

Herman who is Junior High principal at Snyder, along with the high principal and curriculum director at Snyder, were in the party from that city. Herman stated that he got some good ideas from talks of school men in other towns that for one reason or another, are crowded like the oil towns. But he especially enjoyed the State High school track meet.

Arrived home by around 9 p.m., a bit tired, but without a single mishap, as the old 40ty purred along at around 50 per. After some reading and 10 p. m., news-cast, to bed and to sleep.

Old Lense Price Still Help Brand Calves

It would be expected that a guy as old as Lense Price and the Old He would be ready to settle down, and quit playing he is a cowboy. But old "Red Hat" Price still thinks he is one of the boys. Lense got the "Red Hat" stuff attached to his name when he worked on the old J.A. ranch up in Hall and Donley counties way back some 40 odd years ago.

Few people know about his cowboy name in this area, so please don't tell him you saw it in the Herald. But last week, he got out on the Bill Pool ranch and helped to brand some 200 calves. He showed us a pretty large skinned place on his ankle where one of the calves kicked him.

By the way, Lense planted a small area of cotton last week after the rains, which he says is coming up, but he doubts there is enough deep moisture to keep it alive, unless more rain soon.

The Co. Democratic Convention as I Saw It

The wise and witty Benjamin Franklin, who was the author of many a compromise in the constitutional Convention, pointed to a picture on the wall during the closing hours of the convention—a convention that had been in session from May until September, and said: "I have often wondered if the artist who drew that picture, meant it for a sunrise or a sunset. But now I clearly see that it was meant for a glorious sunrise." And a glorious sunrise it proved to be.

No doubt the aroused interest in the county precinct and county political conventions will mean a glorious sunrise for a renewal of Jeffersonian Democracy. There is a lot of good fightin' room in the state of Texas, and brother, there is going to be some fightin' going on. From the very beginning to the end of our convention it was a fight—a friendly one—between the Trumancrats and the Shivercrats. It takes a person with nerve to defend the Truman administration, and nerve is always present when a bunch of Texans get to talking politics.

The viewpoints of the Trumancrats and the Shivercrats are about as dissimilar as that of Jeffersonian and Hamiltonian viewpoint. But it seemed to us that the Shivercrat-Jeffersonian Democrats were in the majority. A statement was made, and no one disputed it, that "Eugene V. Debs, the great Socialist leader of 40 years ago, was a conservative, compared to what we have today under Truman."

One look at the three delegates that were chosen to attend the State Convention at San Antonio, ought to convince anyone that Truman Socialism really took a beating in Terry county. If we Jeffersonian Democrats will line up with our efficient Governor, and help him in his fight to defeat "creeping Socialism," then maybe we can retain ownership of our tidelands without having to vote a Republican ticket.

Pappy O'Daniel, in referring to the tidelands grab, called it "Legal Loot." If we must choose between loyalty to Texas and loyalty to the so-called Democratic party, what are we going to do, vote 'er straight, or vote for the best interests of the school girls and boys of Texas?

—A Jeffersonian Democrat.

AT THE CHURCHES

Crescent Hill Church of Christ
T. J. Finley, Minister

The church which meets at Lubbock Road and Oak St. is certainly the church at work. This week several of the women of the church are working with clothing preparing it for distribution among the needy and making more room for clothing yet to be given. The members of the Crescent Hill Church as a whole are always ready and willing to be of service to other people and to help make their life upon earth more pleasant and happy.

Services were well attended last Sunday and many relatives and friends of people in the church were her visiting from many places. Brother Finley spoke at both services and at the morning hour admonished the audience to return to God and His word for pure religion.

Since it is only a matter of a few days until vacation Bible School begins plans are being made now for the teachers, materials, etc., for the school. In fact, the materials have already arrived which includes the buttons to wear, the diplomas to be given for successful work and all in all it looks like the children are going to enjoy their association and work together.

Herbert Bell And Wife Here Visiting

Saturday morning, Herbert Bell of Marshall dropped in for a chat. He and Mrs. Bell are up for a visit with their son, Milton, and family. Milton, is an assistant cashier at the Brownfield State Bank and Trust Co. Herbert stated that as it was Saturday, Milton left rather early for his job, and the women folks just slept on. So, he got hungry, came to town to appease his appetite, and decided to visit among his old friends.

Got to talking about the year or two when Herbert and family moved out here when the kids were all small. In fact, we believe that Milton was born in Terry County. Herbert bought a farm in south Terry. It was an extremely dry year, possibly 1917, and he made just 400 pounds of seed cotton. Herbert don't believe it has rained in south Terry since then.

He informed us that they have just about quit trying to raise cotton in the Marshall section, just a few thousand bales last year. They have gone to cattle, mostly whitefaced. We might add that this is true all through Louisiana, except the delta section of that State and Mississippi, and we understand several other old south states.

Anyway, Herbert went back to his old job with the Tay & Pay railroad, and is now on the retired list—a gentleman of leisure.

By the way, someone must have thought that the minister at the church we attend had been a bit critical in some of his sermons; that he was coming down on sin in high places too hard. From the drift of his sermon Sunday, that was what we gathered. But he made it very clear that he would continue to preach the Bible as he saw it.

Guests in the A. B. Carpenter home were Mrs. Chas. Compton and daughter of Lamesa, and Capt. Elmer L. Kimball of Reece AFB, Lubbock. Mrs. Compton is a sister-in-law of Mrs. Carpenter, and Capt. Kimball is Mr. Carpenter's brother-in-law.

Mrs. J. H. Morris visited her son, Buck and family, in Odessa last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Williams and family spent Sunday in Whitharral visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Buck Grant.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hawkins are building a new house in the south part of town.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. O. Aldridge visited her nephew, Marion Carlson, and family in Hobbs, N. M., Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. F. R. Pickens visited her sister, Mrs. Marshall Bufkin and family in Hobbs, N. M., Friday.

Mrs. Odis Lusk presented her pupils in a piano recital at the school auditorium Tuesday evening.

FFA Boys to State

Wallace Randolph, vocational agriculture instructor, and six FFA boys went to College Station last week to take part in the state agriculture contest on Friday and Saturday, May 2 and 3.

The boys won the right to go to the state meet in a contest held in Lubbock, by being one of the first three teams in the area.

The boys who went were Leland Campsey, Doyle Rowland, Charles Phillips, James Ellis, Cecil Wood, and Euel Dean Strickland. Doyle Rowland was a gold medal winner in Lubbock judging, being high in his class.

Fine Arts Club Meets

The Fine Arts Club met Thursday evening, May 1, in the home of Mrs. Gene Bennett, with Mrs. Matt Williams as co-hostess. A delicious turkey dinner was served to 18 members.

The club presented the outgoing president, Mrs. L. D. Smith,

Stricklinly Speaking

By OLD HE

Much has been written, talked and perhaps preached in the past few months about the State School for Girls at Gainesville. Some maintain that you have to get tough with a bunch of tough girls, and in some cases the punishment has to be rather severe. There is a committee of six men and women appointed by the governor, known as the State Youth Development Council, that makes a study of this as well as the boys reform school at Gatesville.

These men and women have devoted much study on how best to carry out the aims of punishment by confinement, as well as to prepare the inmates for a better life after they leave the institutions. But according to a recent statement, one fact stands out: "In nearly every case the parents have been neglectful or indifferent, which led to the youthful seeking and finding bad companions and engaging in bad conduct. One is almost the inevitable result of the other." It was further found that some ten per cent caused all the trouble in the institutions.

It is said the Mexican practice "Buen Vecino" (Good Neighbor) policy much more than we. Apparently our "good neighbor policy" is more talk than effort. At least three different organizations below the Rio Grande practice the good neighbors policy, and not like Topsy, not just allowed to grow. There are the Armed Service, the Education Ministry, and presently 200,000 Mexico City, children alone, are taking English in the schools in order to prepare themselves to be good neighbors.

Travelers who have recently returned from that country tell us that it is far easier to find someone who speaks English down in Mexico City than you might imagine. And if you ask a citizen where some place is located, if he feels the least bit doubtful that you will find the place, he leaves his business and personally shows you the place. Would we do that here north of the Rio Grande?

Some foolishness: A Major Dilemma—overweight and still hungry. The most used alibi: "I don't remember." Those women who believe in fair play between the sexes with a place-setting of silver. Mrs. Smith presented our new president, Mrs. Gene Bennett, with a beautiful corsage.

Mrs. Wallace Randolph gave a very interesting talk on "Opera in the Americas."

This was the last meeting of the club year. Members will entertain their families with a picnic at the park on May 24.

VISIT THEIR MOTHER

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Lay went to Coahoma Sunday where they spent Mother's Day with Mrs. Smith's and Mrs. Lay's mother, Mrs. J. A. Roberts. Dr. and Mrs. John P. Andrews and son, John Collins of Plainview accompanied the group to Coahoma. Mrs. Andrews is Mrs. Smith's daughter, and John Collins visited his grandparents here several days last week.

too often are mannish in their looks and behavior. What's the use of retiring a big shot on pension unless you send along a secretary to do the nasty chores for him?

Got a book recently from the Shell Oil Co., at Midland, that at first glance reminded us of the books kids get from Santa Claus, as the front and back were printed in rather loud colors. A rather large book, outside measurement, 10x11 inches.

But the volume was rammed and jammed with information about the oil business a lot of which we don't know. But the book tells the tale in understandable language to the lay oil man, from the efforts of the geologists in finding a likely place to drill, on down through the drilling, and the oil movement into pipelines, and into the refineries.

An interesting story, well told, and we thank the Shell Co. for the volume that will be added to our small library.

Next comes some information from Western Union Telegraph Co. According to this company, the union employees now on strike want the government to take over and run the WU. It seems that the government already has some 56 cities in the US fairly well covered by their "teletypewriter" system, and lots of people in reach of these government facilities, without thinking perhaps, consider them just jimdandy. But here is the hitch.

When the government teletypewriter system reaches the end of their rows, they expect Western Union to take over, and carry their messages to the hinterland sections. And there is a lot of mistakes sometimes in these government messages, and the recipients raise old billy with the WU instead of the government.

Then there is the question of taxes. The government pays none. The WU pays millions of dollars in taxes. If this information is straight, we would advise the union telegraphers to read up some while they are out on strike, and see how some of the socialist countries are getting along. For our part we want none of it.

And while we are talking about the government, we imagine few if any people who like to do business with bureaucratic restrictions, didn't exactly cry when they heard that as of May 7, Regulation W went out of the door, and we hope will stay out.

Most firms that do an installment business predict that business in that line, that has kindly been on the drag, will now pick up.

Mrs. R. A. Hightower Is Honored With Bridal Shower At Wellman On May 9

Mrs. H. A. Hightower, the former Miss Nora Mae Kerby, and daughter of Mrs. H. E. Truitt of 809 South Fourth Street, Lamesa, was honored with a bridal gift shower, Friday afternoon, May 9, at the Wellman school cafeteria.

The table was laid with a lace cloth, and for the centerpiece, a beautiful four-tiered cake was placed on a silver spiral tier with pastel tapers descending from the cake. The cake was baked by Mrs. R. J. Rowden, a third grade room mother at Wellman. Pastel shades were used in the color scheme with yellow predominating. The floral arrangement was of yellow and white carnations.

The hostesses were Mrs. W. H. Carmichael, Mrs. R. J. Rowden, Mrs. D. B. Oliver, Mrs. Steve Goza, Wellman elementary teachers, and others. Miss Oleta Goza presided at the register, and the following assisted with serving refreshments: Mesdames J. T. Bryant, Goza, Chas. Jackson, D. B. Oliver, Rowden and Carmichael.

A personalized guest book containing names of guests, a list of Mrs. Hightower's third grade students, and names of hostesses was presented the honoree by the elementary faculty. The satin-covered, hand-painted book was resigned by Mrs. J. L. Lanious, sister of the bride and Wellman first grade teacher.

Mrs. Hightower has been teaching third grade at Wellman during the present school term, and this is the second time she has been a member of the school faculty.

Hosts of friends join with the hostesses in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Hightower success, happiness, and prosperity. After the Wellman school closes for the year on May 16, Mrs. Hightower will be at home in O'Donnell where her husband is employed.

Dorothy Hadaway, L. R. Davis Wed

DOROTHY HADAWAY

Miss Dorothy Jean Hadaway became the bride of Leaford Ray Davis in a ceremony read at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Leonard Campbell, 604 North Third street, at seven o'clock last Friday evening. Rev. A. J. Franks, pastor of Northside Baptist Church, officiated, with the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hadaway, 1007 South Eighth, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Davis, 1021 South Third.

The bride wore a navy suit with white accessories, and carried a white Bible topped with red roses and rosebuds, with split white carnations and white satin streamers.

Mrs. Campbell was her sister's matron of honor, and she wore a navy blue dress with white accessories, and a white carnation corsage.

Cecil R. Davis of Brownfield was his brother's best man.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was given in the Campbell home. Guests registered in a bride's book, at which Miss Wanda Hadaway, another sister to the bride, presided. A three-tiered wedding cake and punch were served from a table covered with a white linen cloth. Napkins were engraved with "Dorothy and Leaford." Mrs. Lee Crabtree and Miss Wanda Crabtree presided at the refreshment table.

Thirty-eight guests attended the wedding and reception.

A graduate of the Wellman High school, the bride is employed as secretary to the county agent and home demonstration agent. Mr. Davis attended Brownfield High school and is employed by the Sudday Contracting Company.

The couple returned to Brownfield Monday after a wedding trip to Ruidosa and Carlsbad, N. M.

LOCAL WOMEN GUESTS IN LUBBOCK THURSDAY
Mrs. L. Nicholson of Lubbock, formerly of Brownfield, entertained with a luncheon and bridge party last Thursday in Lubbock, and several from Brownfield were guests. Also on the guest list was Mrs. O. L. Peterman of Lubbock, who formerly lived here.

The group attended a luncheon at the Hilton Hotel at 1 p. m., before going to Mrs. Nicholson's to play bridge. From Brownfield were Mesdames R. L. Bowers, Roy Wingerd, Money Price, Ike Bailey and Ned Self.

WMU CIRCLES HAVE MISSION STUDY

First Baptist Women's Missionary Union circles met Monday afternoon for a Mission Study.

The Janelle Doyle Circle and Lottie Moon Circle met at the church at 4 o'clock, with 11 members present. Mrs. Malcolm Parker taught the lesson on "Backside O' Nowhere" by Catherine Manley and Dr. Roberta Cox Edwards.

"Neighru of India" by Cornelia Spencer was taught by Mrs. James Fitzgerald at a meeting of the Lucille Reagan Circle at the home of Mrs. Henry Fugit, 1301 East Broadway. Twelve members were present.

The Bagby Circle met at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. E. C. Davis, 501 East Broadway, with seven members present. Mrs. R. D. Shewmake led the lesson from the book "Ghandi" by Jeanette Eaton.

"Backside O' Nowhere" was discussed by Mrs. D. L. Patton when she was hostess to members of the Blanche Groves Circle at her home, 906 East Oak. Five members were present.

Members of the Loyce Glass Circle met in the home of Mrs. W. L. Bandy, 302 East Cardwell, at four o'clock with five members present. Mrs. I. M. Bailey taught the lesson on "Cry, My Beloved Country" by Allen Paton.

Next Monday afternoon all circles will meet at the church for the Royal Service program, led by the Lottie Moon Circle. The program, "The Multitudes Need Christian Homes," will start at 3:30 o'clock. The Lois Glass Circle will serve refreshments.

INTERMEDIATE BAPTIST GIRLS HAVE PICNIC

Members of the 13-year old girls' Sunday School class of First Baptist Church enjoyed a picnic at Coleman Park Tuesday afternoon of last week, after school. Mrs. W. N. Lewis is teacher of the class and accompanied them to the park.

Those attending were: Frances Floyd, Jo Beth Dumas, Clara Jo Ray, Margaret Sue Coward, Wilma Donaldson, Carolyn Burnett, Bobbie Jean Twigg, Carolyn Arthur and Joy Faye Martin.

ATTEND DISTRICT MEET

Rev. and Mrs. Dallas D. Denison and Mesdames E. F. Latham, R. J. Purtell, J. H. Carpenter, Ida Belle Walker, G. S. Webber, B. L. Thompson, Joe Johnson and U. D. Gorton attended a district meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church in Slaton Friday. The all-day meeting was held in the new First Methodist Church in Slaton, and representatives attended from about 30 churches in the Lubbock district.

Girls' Auxiliary Has Focus Week

This week, May 11 through May 17, is G. A. Focus Week for the Girls' Auxiliary of the First Baptist Church. The girls, under the direction of Miss Jenelle Thompson and her assistant, Mrs. La Nelle Jones, began the week by delivering invitations which they had made the week before. The invitations are in the shape of octagons and are green, decorated with white and gold, the colors of the G. A.'s. Monday evening at 7 o'clock the girls met and planned the Mother-Daughter Banquet.

Tuesday was "Good Neighbor Night," and the girls met at 6:30 p. m. at the church and made favors for patients in the local hospital.

The regular meeting on stewardship was held Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock.

The Mother-Daughter Banquet is to be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Mistress of Ceremonies will be Janelle Thompson. Invocation is to be given by Miss Lillie Ragsdale and the welcome by Mrs. La Nelle Jones. Miss Kay Sydzloski will sing a solo and a reading will be given by Mrs. James Fitzgerald. A talk, "Our G.A.'s," will be given by Mrs. W. A. Wolf and the program will close with the benediction by Mrs. Dorman Dumas.

The menu consists of tomato cocktail, fried chicken, combination salad, mashed potatoes, green beans, iced tea, hot rolls, cake and ice cream. The Blanche Grove and Bagby Circles will serve.

Members of the G.A.'s are Clara Jo Ray, Royda Dumas, Jo Beth Dumas, Betty Clayborn, Mary Dorsett, Mary Louise Riley, Francis Floyd and Betty Daniell.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Nelson and daughter, Donna Sue, visited Mrs. Nelson's mother, Mrs. W. P. Inman, and her sister, Mrs. Gerald Walton, at Snyder on Mother's Day and attended church services at the Snyder First Baptist Church.

WSCS HAS WORLD OUTLOOK PROGRAM

Mrs. A. E. Proctor was leader for the monthly World Outlook program for the Faith Circle of the Women's Society of Christian Service Monday at 3 p. m. in the sanctuary at the First Methodist Church. The group sang "This Is My Father's World" as the opening song, followed by a scripture and prayer by Mrs. Proctor.

"For the Beauty of the Earth" was sung as a solo by Mrs. D. D. Denison, and Mrs. J. H. Carpenter discussed "Providing Christian Homes." Mrs. Denison told of interesting events at the Methodist General Conference she and Rev. Denison recently attended in San Francisco, Calif.

Another song "Happy the Home" was sung by the group before Mrs. Joe Johnson talked on "Training Christian Leaders for Schools." Mrs. Ida Belle Walker discussed "Rural Work," and Mrs. Glen Harris' subject for discussion was "Christian Community." An Altar Pledge Service was led by Mrs. Proctor, and was closed with a prayer by Mrs. G. S. Webber.

Others attending were Mesdames B. L. Thompson, Jess Smith, Jim Griffith, R. L. Cornelius, Ben J. Hill, U. D. Gorton, Anna Hare and Miss Maude Bailey.

MRS. MASON HOSTESS TO KOLONIAL KLUB

Mrs. N. L. Mason was hostess to members and guests of the Kolonial Kard Klub Friday afternoon, and games were enjoyed at the LaMecca Cafe.

Soft drinks were served during the games, and prizes were an apron, hand lotion purse dispenser, and stationery notes. Refreshments of cherry pie a la mode and iced tea were served.

Guests were Mrs. Jack Hamilton and Mrs. Bob Wells. Members attending were Mesdames A. A. Sawyer, Money Price, E. C. Davis, Walter Hord, Mon Telford, and A. J. Stricklin Sr.

Gift Party Honors Grace P. Woods

A gift party and tea honored Mrs. Grace P. Woods from 7 until 9 o'clock Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Newell Reed, 702 East Lons.

Mrs. Woods and the Rev. E. H. Crandall, associate pastor of First Methodist Church, Lubbock, will be married early in June in an informal ceremony. Mrs. Woods, who resides at 704 East Lake, has been a resident of Brownfield about five years, and is a former teacher in the public schools. She has taught music this year in Brownfield and Plains.

Hostesses for the bridal shower and tea with Mrs. Reed were Mesdames G. S. Webber, Perry Mosley, D. S. Sampson, Roy Herod, Harvey Gage, Minerva Chesher, Fred Bucy, Mary Ruth Nelson, and Miss Maudie Bailey.

About 100 guests were invited, and during the calling hours, soft music was played on a record player. Beautiful spring flowers decorated the entertaining rooms, and an arrangement of yellow mums was on the refreshment table. Lime punch, angel food cake squares, nuts and mints were served from the table covered with a maderia cut-work cloth. Tall tapers burned in crystal holders and crystal appointments were used.

Guests registered in an attractive bride's book, and many lovely gifts were received, including a set of china.

Edgar Self of Collins Department Store was in Dallas the first of this week, attending the shoe market.

ATTEND EASTERN STAR SCHOOL IN LUBBOCK

Mrs. Mollie Goodpasture of Brownfield, district deputy grand matron, was one of the officers participating in the Eastern Star school Lubbock on Monday, May 5, at Masonic Hall.

Mrs. J. W. Nelson, worthy matron of the Brownfield chapter 783, was one of the pages at the school, and made the presentation of gifts to grand officers from worthy matrons in section four.

About 25 members of the local chapter attended the schools.

A luncheon for members was given at noon, and in the evening, Mrs. Flora Best Boone of Littlefield, worthy grand matron, worthy grand patrons, and grand officers were honored at a banquet.

The Texas membership of Order of Eastern Star is composed of more than 110,000 members and more than 700 chapters.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Stallings, who have farmed a number of years west of town, recently moved to their new home in town, 315 East Reppeto.

Have You Heard?

—By Margaret Coward—

Mrs. W. H. Kirby of Cotton Center, who attended the P-T-A conference here recently as a member of a standing committee on Rural Service, is the former Katherine Bennett of the Bennett Ranch in Yoakum County, where she was reared. Her father, L. P. Bennett, makes his home with Mrs. Kirby.

It was on the Bennett Ranch that the first oil well in this area proved a producer, back in the early part of 1936. Mrs. Kirby's brother is Gene Bennett, at the Yoakum County State Bank in Denver City.

At local florists there are Polyantha Roses growing in pots, with lovely red blooms. The roses can be transplanted in the yard, and will make beautiful flowers that will grow from year to year.

We will miss Carolyn Grine in O. R. Douglas' office at the school next year. She and her husband, Norman, are moving to Odessa about June 1st, and truly we believe that Brownfield's loss will be Odessa's gain. Norman will work with an oil company in Odessa.

Mr. and Mrs. David Flatt plan to go to Monterrey, Old Mexico, as soon as school is out, for a short vacation, and they will accompany friends from Albuquerque, N. M. Mrs. Flatt is physical education

Goal For Vacation Bible School is 400

A goal of 400 has been set for the annual vacation Bible School, which will be held at the First Baptist Church, starting May 26, and continuing through Wednesday night, June 4, Miss Lillie Ragsdale, superintendent, announced this week.

All Bible School workers are urged to meet at the church for a study of the Vacation Bible School guide, this morning. A covered dish luncheon will be served at noon, and there will be departmental meetings this afternoon, Miss Ragsdale said.

Preparation day will be next Friday, May 23, instead of May 24, as previously announced, when all those to attend the Bible School will enroll. The actual school will start Monday, May 26.

The nursery group will have organized work for the first time, Miss Ragsdale said. Superintendents who have accepted places of responsibility are: Mrs. Homer Nelson, nursery three; Mrs. Wayne Smith, beginner I; Mrs. F. G. White, beginner II; Mrs. Wayne Hill, primary I; Mrs. Clemmie Hamilton, primary II; Mrs. G. D. Dodson, junior I; Miss Terry Lou Moorhead, junior II; and Mrs. Carl Elliott, intermediate.

Pianist will be Miss Juanelle Greenfield, and general secretary will be Mrs. Jim Jones. Commencement exercises will be held on Wednesday night, June 4. A picnic is planned for Thursday morning, June 5, for all those attending the school.

CATHY BILBREY HAS 5th BIRTHDAY PARTY

Cathy Bilbrey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glyn Bilbrey, 112 North Second street, celebrated her fifth birthday Friday afternoon, May 9.

Howard Farrar won first prize for pinning the tail on a donkey, and Donna Douglas received the booby prize. Cathy received a table full of nice gifts.

Devil's food cake and orange sherbet were served to the following: Margaret Ann and Dickie Mulkey, Carolyn and Howard Farrar, Donna Douglas, Diane Cooper, Charlotte Ann Campbell, Jimmy Murphy, Stephen Teague, Duane Harris, Juaneva Smith, Neva Lois

Ray, Rod Moore, Mary Fitzgerald, Linda Pierson, Sherron Taler and the honoree, Cathy Bilbrey.

Mrs. Gracie Jordan of Waxahatchie is visiting in the home of her sister, Mrs. Frank Weir, 406 East Broadway. She plans to stay about three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hogue visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Warren, in Levelland on Mother's Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Heath of Lubbock visited Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hogue and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Heath.

In the boys' club will be Patrick McBurnett, Stevie Teague, Arlie Waddell, Craig Collier, Eddie Thompson, Horace Burnett and Howard Farrar.

In the Pre-School Girls' chorus will be Linda Bess Hicks, Barbara Newsom, Sahnia Morris, Glenda Bounds, Ann Blackstock, Elaine Flache, Dwayne Harris, Joyce Yost, Jane Weiss, Carolyn Farrar, Charlotte Ann Campbell, Judy Burnett, Diane Redford, Emily Risinger, Sally Sue Addison, and Linda Beth Geron.

Piano and voice pupils who are school students, to participate in the recital are: Ganelle Cornett, Earlene Cornett, Jerry Don Roedler, R. E. Spain, Bennie Spain, Wayne Wise, Edith Cornett, Barbara Knox, Linda Marie Pennington, Carol Ann Crawford, Maxine Green, Cordell Green, Betty Cornet, Maxine Beadles, Glenn Sargent, Carolyn Cary, Mary Jo Gilley, Gail Cottrell, Laverne Burroughs, Alta Merritt, Alton Meritt and Patsy Hulse.

HAYRIDE, PICNIC FOR PRESBYTERIAN YOUTH

Members of the Senior young people's class of First Presbyterian Church enjoyed a hayride to the John Givens ranch, southeast of town Tuesday night, where they played games and had a wiener roast.

Mrs. Tom Keenan is teacher of the class and about 40 young people attended.

Last Friday night approximately 20 young people went to Lubbock for a swimming and skating party, before they had a picnic in the park.

Accompanying the group on both occasions were Rev. and Mrs. Keenan, Mrs. J. M. Teague and Mrs. R. H. Casstevens.

WCS HOPE CIRCLE AT BRISCOE HOME

The Hope Circle of the Women's Society of Christian Service met last Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. W. T. Briscoe 804 East Lons.

Mrs. Bernarr Smith, circle chairman, presided during a business meeting, and Mrs. Claude Nixon was program chairman. Program topic was "What Thou Hast In Thy Hand."

After the meeting adjourned, the hostess served cakes and coffee to the following members: Mesdames Tim Faulkenberry, R. W. Baumgardner, Marvin Fletcher, J. D. Mitchell, Bob Collier, Nixon and Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee O. Allen, 703 East Cardwell, visited her mother, Mrs. Robertson, at Lorenzo last Sunday.

WOMENS SERVICE GUILD IN MEETING MONDAY

Mrs. Frank Weir led the program for the Women's Service Guild at the First Presbyterian Church Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Subject for the program was "Christian Education."

The devotional, "Christ the Intercessor," was led by Mrs. E. L. Hamilton.

The Guild plans to serve the Eastern Star Mother-Daughter Banquet.

Hostess was Mrs. Tom Keenan, who served ice cream, cake roll and cold drinks after the meeting. Attending were Mesdames R. H. Casstevens, Lal Copeland, W. B. Brown, J. S. Carter, L. E. Hamilton, Tom Keenan, James King, John King, A. M. Muldrow, J. M. Teague and Frank Weir.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Neal and daughter of Lubbock visited his mother, Mrs. Ruby Neal, and his sister, Mrs. W. N. Lewis, and family Sunday afternoon.

A visitor in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Rogers, 1001 Lubbock Road, on Saturday and Sunday, May 3 and 4, was their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Wayne Smith of New Orleans, La. Mrs. Smith is the former Miss Dorothy Smith, who taught homemaking in high school here last term.

Farm Costs Go Up And Going Higher,

Farmers will need all the breaks they can get in turning out the high-level production needed this year, Victor L. Cade of Lubbock, member of the State Production and Marketing Administration Committee, said this week.

"Only a part of the price consumer pays in the market place goes to the farmer, and out of that he must meet increasing production expenses," Cade stated.

"According to Department Agriculture reports, farmers' total production expenses in 1952, for the country as a whole, will average about 5 or 6 per cent higher than in 1951 and the highest on record."

Such costs have risen in almost every year since 1938, Cade pointed out, as both cost rates and quantities of items used in production have increased.

Here is the situation regarding specific farm production-expense items:

Farm wage rates for 1952 probably will average 5 to 10 per cent higher than in 1951.

Prices of new machinery and motor vehicles probably will be six or eight per cent higher.

Feed prices are running about nine per cent higher.

Fertilizer prices this spring probably will average 4 or 5 per cent higher than last fall.

Prices paid by farmers for building and fencing materials are continuing to average about five per cent higher than in 1950.

Tax rates on farm real estate and personal property may average three or four per cent higher.

Interest rates on farm loans are slightly higher than a year ago, and debts outstanding at the beginning of 1952 were considerably larger than a year earlier.

Home Business Center of the Family

COLLEGE STATION. — Farming and ranching are two of the world's most important enterprises. The home is the hub of the business activities and if the households are not organized much time may be lost looking for mislaid addresses, receipts, deeds and many other items that have been pigeon holed.

Gladys Darden, home management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says many letters, records and other business are neglected for lack of a convenient place to work. The 1951 annual report shows that county Extension agents assisted 22,829 rural families to keep farm and home records and suggested organized places where such records can be filed and "paper work" done.

The location of business centers can be a personal choice. Some people prefer the living room, some the kitchen, and some the privacy of the bedroom. Where the farm or ranch enterprise is on a large scale, a separate room may be needed and furnished with standard office equipment.

Any family can have a business center. However, Miss Darden says, there are a few essentials necessary for any center. There should be ample and comfortable writing space, a chair with a back support and a good light. Current records and supplies should be in reach with storage for inactive files. Keep accessories to the minimum but have all that are needed such as, account book, blotters, ink, pencils, desk calendar, erasers, stationery, postcards, stamps and a waste basket.

If possible, have a filing cabinet and a filing system with headings that relate to important activities of the home and farm. A few suggested headings for current files are: account books, addresses, automobile, bank deposit slip, bank statements, cancelled checks, equipment instructions, food records, income tax returns, insurance information, letters, tax forms and lists of materials kept in a safety deposit box. A key to the files aids in locating material quickly.

Miss Darden says that she has observed that business activities in any household run more smoothly after the organization of business centers.

HOUSE OF The MONTH

In this space, you'll find "The House of the Month" with full descriptions. This series is made possible by area firms listed here . . . See them to help you with your Home Furnishing Problems.

IT'S BIGGER THAN YOU THINK

HOUSE PLAN No. 44

Farm and Ranch House Plan No. 5244 has plenty of conveniently arranged space for all of the family activities.

The workroom and kitchen are served by the same plumbing lines that serve the bathroom. In fact, all of the utilities needed to make a complete home are located in the area only 19 ft. by 24 ft.

The dining-everyday living area is designed with one "window" wall to make it an especially bright and airy spot. When the sliding doors are opened, the two areas will give a sense of spaciousness and will accommodate your largest group of guests. The living room is located so that it can be closed up when not in use.

Each bedroom has more than adequate closet space—note the closets in the master bedroom. The closet for the front bedroom is designed with sliding door on both sides so that it may serve the bedroom and also can be used for the visitors' coats.

The back entrance into the workroom allows the field hands convenient access to the bathroom to wash up before entering the rest of the house.

The wide overhanging eaves were designed for your comfort. They will keep the sun off the walls in summer and will prevent your having to close the windows during light showers. In addition, they keep the rain off the walls and thus lower maintenance costs.

This home will be very attractive if done with casement windows and asbestos siding or double-coursed sidewall shingles.

Eat More Texas Fried Chicken

On Monday, May 12, Governor Shivers proclaimed the balance of May as Eat More Chicken Month.

Commercial broiler growing in Texas has expanded rapidly in recent years becoming a major source of farm income. Currently Texas is the third largest commercial broiler growing area in the nation. Between a million and one-quarter and a million and one-half broiler chicks are started each week.

Good fried chicken is always a very tasty, appetizing and nutritious meal. Today, chicken is one of the most economical meats that the housewife can serve the family or guests. This has been made possible by the use of the "Assembly Line" production methods and feeds that produce a pound of meat on much less feed than a few years ago.

Join Governor Shivers' Eat More Chicken Campaign and do it today. Buy broilers for use immediately and stock your cold storage freezer. It will be easy on the budget and the entire family will say, Yum, yum, please pass the Texas fried chicken."

Santa Fe Carloadings

Santa Fe carloadings for week ending April 12, 1952, were 23,908 compared with 23,197 for the same week in 1951. Cars received from connections totaled 12,446 compared with 13,381 for same week in 1951.

Total cars moved were 36,354 compared with 36,578 for same week in 1951. Santa Fe handled a total of 37,633 cars in preceding week of this year.

When you make a snowball the pressure of your hands causes the snowflakes, which are crystals of ice, to melt at a few points where they touch. After you let go, the pressure is released and the water refreezes, joining the crystals tightly together.

Approximately 25 million cows contributed to U. S. milk production in 1951.

Warning to Watch For Screwworms

COLLEGE STATION. — Surveys made in Texas by the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, in cooperation with other state agencies, show that the mild winter has permitted the screwworm to overwinter as far north as Crockett, Schleicher, Menard and Lampasas counties. However, the number of reported cases is not numerous, says A. C. Gunter, entomologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

He points out that there is danger ahead for the livestock producers unless they treat infected animals at once and avoid using practices that may leave wounds on the animals. Recent rains over much of the state have produced favorable weather conditions for the pest and stockmen are warned to be on the alert. The destruction of the worms before they mature will not only stop further injury to the animals but will help reduce future infestations.

To prevent and cure infection caused by the screwworm, Gunter recommends the use of EQ-335, a medicine which was developed through BEPQ research. EQ-335 is applied to the wound as a smear. It contains lindane, a chemical insecticide, which has a lasting effect as a screwworm killer. One application per week, except in severe cases, is sufficient. This is a time saver because other medicines must be applied twice per week. Another big advantage for EQ-335, says Gunter, and it stems from Lindane's residual killing power—is its ability to kill female screwworm flies that attempt to feed or lay eggs in the wound.

Livestock producers are urged to carefully examine all animals before shipment and again when they are unloaded. This is very important since many cattle are now being shipped from Texas to pastures in other states. All scratches, sores or wounds of any type that might possibly be infected by the worms should be treated for screwworm eggs might be present and thus would be shipped with the livestock to the new areas.

Screwworms can increase very rapidly in number if allowed to do so, says Gunter. As weather conditions become favorable, the pest will move northward at the rate of 25 to 35 miles a week.

Stopping the worms before they get started will head-off lots of trouble later, says the entomologist and at the same time, the use of prompt control and preventive measures will increase the market value of animals and add tons of meat to the nation's meat supply.

Plan Now For That Big Cleaning Job

COLLEGE STATION. — Use your head and save your feet on house cleaning day. Plan the job to do away with back-tracking for utensils and supplies.

The home management specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service say it's not so much the work as the walking that wears the homemaker out on house cleaning jobs. Plan the job in advance. Arrange all supplies needed on a wheel cart or table. This can be wheeled from place to place as the work is done.

The specialists suggest a cart with two shelves on which can be carried two buckets, one with water for washing and the other for rinsing. There will also be plenty of room for all the small items needed for most cleaning jobs such as soap, brushes, cloths and sponges. The hand vacuum cleaner may even fit in some place.

Lifting and stooping can be eliminated by using a cart because the needed equipment will be in ready reach and at a convenient level for handling, say the specialists.

Other good suggestions for work simplification in the home may be obtained from the local county home demonstration agent. Ask her for C-252, House Cleaning Made Easier and L-79, Simplify Your Work.

WRITING WESTERNS IS HOBBY.—William C. (Bill) Brown, Brownfield assistant postmaster, is shown at his typewriter as he pounds out another "western" for a pulp magazine. Brown took up writing about the West's "golden era" as a hobby, has found it a profitable business. He became interested in the "old West" when, as a child, he sat at his grandfather's knee to hear first-hand tales of the cowboy and his hardships. The elder Brown was a former cattle trail driver and member of early-day Texas Rangers.

4-H Club Members to Receive Gilts

Registered gilts were awarded 4-H Club boys and one 4-H Club girl this week, through two programs in the county, sponsored separately by the Brownfield State Bank and Trust Company, and the Sears Foundation of Lubbock, according to Jim Foy, county agent.

For the 1952-53 projects, those receiving gilts are Robert Conley, Arnold Buford and Harold Cole, all of Brownfield 4-H Club; Darrell King of Gomez; and Robert Womack, Bill Adams, Jerry Bradley and Robert Baldwin, all of Wellman. These boys are getting the gilts through the Sears Foundation. Through the Brownfield State Bank, Edgar A. Ferrick of Wellman, Nancy Howard of Pool and Dewey Cole of Brownfield are receiving gilts. These youths are customers or prospective customers of the bank, Foy said. Each will turn back a choice gilt to the program next year, to be awarded another club member.

The Sears program works in a similar way, the county agent said. Boys who received gilts last year through the bank were Ernest Hyman, Wayne Wise and Billy Gill, Brownfield, and Eddie Young, Elvick Duncan of Pool, and Hillman Briscoe of Gomez. In the 1951-52 program sponsored by the Sears Foundation, the following boys received gilts, J. C. Chambliss, Robert Lee Petty, Dixon Latham, Jack Brown, Tommy Faight, Jerry Hinson and Leon Willis.

Pvt. Robert L. Noble Jr., will arrive this week for a furlough and will visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Noble Sr., 801 Tahoka Road. He has been in training at Fort Ord, Calif.

Saturday to Be Big Day at Reese Field

The Reese Air Base has asked us to say that Saturday, the 17th, will be the big annual event at the base again this year. Thousands were on hand last year to watch the maneuvers, and even more are expected this year. Civilian visitors will not only see all the latest equipment used by the army air force, but will also see the maneuvers in the air.

Open House will be from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m., and designated as Armed Force Day. Films will also be shown at the base theatre. Jet as well as regular planes will be shown. There will also be band concerts and formation flying. The Herald thanks the officials for a special invitation to attend.

Rites Held at Southland For Mrs. Dick Mathis

Funeral services were held at 3 p. m. Sunday at the Southland Methodist Church for Mrs. Dick Mathis, 33, who died at her home here last Friday night.

Rev. C. D. Damron, pastor, officiated at the services in Southland. Burial was under the direction of the Brownfield Funeral Home. Mrs. Mathis formerly lived at Southland and Sundown, and was a member of the Eastern Star at Southland.

She is survived by her husband and three children, Ronnie Dick, Bonnie Lou and Ava Marie, all of Brownfield; her father, J. O. Daniell of Sundown; and two sisters, Miss Louise Daniel of Sundown and Mrs. Gladys Jennings of Burkett, Texas.

Miss Jean Craig, student at Texas Tech in Lubbock, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Craig Sr., here Sunday.

Meadow Seniors to Have Commencement

Commencement exercises for the Meadow Senior class will be held tomorrow night in the high school auditorium, and Delbert Downing, manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, will speak.

Jo Ann Fulford is honor student of the class, and will give the valedictory address. Mildred Flowers will give the salutatory address. Awards will be presented by Terry Redford, and diplomas will be awarded by Supt. H. E. Barnes.

Baccalaureate services were held Sunday night in the Meadow Baptist Church. Dean Brookshire, minister of the Plainview Church of Christ, was the speaker.

TO BAPTIST CONVENTION

Rev. and Mrs. Jones W. Weathers and daughter, and Mesdames Gladys Moorhead, E. V. Riley, Era Moorhead, E. D. Yeatts and Doll Fowler are in Miami, Fla., where they are attending the annual Southern Baptist Convention. They will return home the first of next week.

The theme for the convention this year is "Magnifying the Church," and Dr. E. D. Gray of New Orleans, La., is convention president. On Wednesday morning, the convention sermon was preached by Rev. Ramsey Pollard of Tennessee.

Rev. and Mrs. Jack Pearce of the Calvary Baptist Church are also attending the convention in Miami, Fla., and they plan to return home on May 23.

New Choir Director At Presbyterian Church

Cecil Bolton of Lubbock has assumed the duties of organist and choir director of the First Presbyterian Church here, according to an announcement Monday made by the Rev. Tom Keenan, pastor.

Bolton, who has a music studio in Lubbock, holds a bachelor of music degree from the University of Mississippi and has studied at the American Conservatory of Music, Chicago, and Julliard School of Music, New York, and did work on his doctorate at Columbia University.

Announcement is made that choir rehearsals will be held each Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, instead of Wednesday evenings.

Miss Lillie Ragsdale visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Noble in Tahoka last Friday and Saturday.

GM Tops in Safety

General Motors has been awarded the highest honor of the National Safety Council—its award for distinguished service to safety—because its nearly half million employees in 1951 had the best safety record in the 44-year history of the company. Of all employees, 99.6 per cent went through the entire year with no time lost because of an occupational illness or on-the-job accident. Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council (center) is shown presenting the award to David T. Mould, GM safety director, as H. W. Anderson, (left) vice-president in charge of personnel staff of GM, looks on.

GLEN CARY RECEIVES DISCHARGE FROM ARMY

Glen Cary was recently discharged from the army, and is now at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Cary, 921 East Tate. A Master Sergeant, Cary had been in the army three years and four months, and was in Korea 17 of those months. He arrived in the states last January, and was discharged at Fort Ord, Calif. He enlisted in the armed forces while he was attending Junior College at Kilgore, and he plans to continue his college work this next year, probably enrolling in Texas University, Austin.

Mesdames Fred Smith, Bernard Lay and A. J. Stricklin Sr., went to Coahoma Monday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Wolf, 87 years of age, who passed away Sunday. No direct relation to either party, but an old friend. Mrs. Wolf's daughter however, married a brother of Mrs. Stricklin, and an uncle of Mesdames Smith and Lay.

Shivers, Daniel Get Some Competition

The wheels of the political gods were working overtime last week. For some time the "loyal" Democrats have been trying to boost someone to take on Gov. Allan Shivers. So, former district judge, Ralph W. Yarborough of Austin, has decided to be the Tru-Deal candidate for governor. We also heard that a lady down in south Texas, also a new-dealer, has a hankering for the job as governor.

Then there is Lindsey Beckworth, presently a congressman from deep east Texas, and a Truman handpicked lad no doubt, yearns to eliminate Atty. General Price Daniel from becoming US Senator from Texas, to replace Tom Connolly, who is to retire. Already we have on hand some of the releases from Beckworth (not printed at government expense), in which he is making an effort to get an increase in veterans compensation. Yeah, the veterans vote pretty heavy in Texas.

But from this distance, it appears to the Herald that, Yarborough and Beckworth are for the new, true, square, queer or raw deal, and against taking any steps to retain Texas tidelands for our school children. And, perhaps, that they stand for the FEPC and all the socialist stuff the brain-trusters can devise.

We are persuaded that Yarborough will remember that he was also ran on Saturday night, July 26, and that Mr. Beckworth will wish he had stayed on his job as congressman, if possible.

Turning Back the Time

By A. J. S.

This week we are going to let a Lubbock attorney fill most of this space. This contribution is by J. E. Vickers, who, when the old 72nd Judicial District was created, was appointed by the then Gov. O. B. Colquitt as its first District Attorney. The late W. R. Spencer was appointed District Judge. At the next regular election time, of course Vickers had an opponent, as well as Judge Spencer. So, we'll just have to tell a story on Vickers.

Vickers, Neill H. Wright and a youthful banker, C. D. Lester, dropped into the Herald office one day and Wright proceeded to interview Lester for the Herald, giving quite a verbose statement of what he thought of Brownfield and vicinity, as well as its future possibilities. We were asked to publish the interview in the next issue. But before leaving town, Neill H. secretly dropped back into the office and had us change the interview from Lester to Vickers.

Lester was quite a modest young man, was the reason Wright wished the switch. Of course they were eager for different reasons to see the Herald when it reached Lubbock, but when Atty. Vickers read the switched interview, his feathers fell. He knew it was a Neill H. Wright trick. But most of us had to put up with a lot of heavy kidding in those days, that you could hardly get by with now days.

Here is the letter from J. E. Vickers of May 9, mentioned above. He is senior member of the law firm of Vickers, Vickers & Corbin: LUBBOCK, TEXAS May 9, 1952

Dear Jack:

I enjoyed your article, "Turning Back the Time" which appeared in the Herald issue of May 8th. This article was so good that I am sending it to Will Ed Harris at Carrizo, where he is at present resides.

The name of the old gentleman you referred to as the game warden was "Taylor." Immediately after investigating the game violations at Brownfield, he had a similar investigation of antelope killing in the Lubbock vicinity with about as ludicrous results as was his interview with J. R. Hill, who after boasting of his prowess in shooting prairie chicken, turned the tables by proclaiming himself "the biggest liar in Terry County."

Jack and Jim Robinson, A. G. Atkins, C. A. Rush and the writer had been on an antelope hunt in the northwest part of Lubbock County with excellent results—a total of eight antelope to account for our prowess as hunters. Taylor heard about this and called on the J. P. to conduct a Court of Inquiry. R. A. Soudwer was then County Attorney. Atkins was called as a witness over his strenuous protests "that he didn't want to testify;" however, after learning that the Criminal Code exempted from prosecution one who was required to testify concerning a violation of the game laws, he reached the conclusion and so testified upon the hearing substantially as follows:

"I was on the front seat banging away as fast as I could every time I shot it looked like a 'goat' fell. I am sure I shot as many as eight times; so it is my conclusion that I must have killed all of them."

This broke up the inquiry with everybody giving a big guffaw and "ha ha." For many years thereafter Mr. Atkins was referred to by his friends as "goat killer." He was then manager of the McAdams Lumber Company, and still resides in Lubbock.

I always enjoy the reminiscences of the Old He—none other than old Jack himself.

Best wishes.

Sincerely,

J. E. VICKERS

TWO OF A KIND

The new elevator man went to his boss and asked to have the day off to help his wife with the housecleaning.

"Jim, I am always glad to grant any reasonable request," said the boss, "but your wife has phoned and said she would not need you."

"Mr. Jones," replied Jim, "there are two persons in this building who handle the truth loosely, and I am one of them. I'M NOT MARRIED!" Santa Fe Magazine.

Have news? Call the Herald.

Candidate for Court of Criminal Appeals

Well, we have a heck of a lot on the political side of the ledger last week, some of which is rather funny, if you ask us. Fun, that is, to those who may not give a heck one way or the other. Maybe as serious as the dickens to those directly involved. But we aint had so much fun since the cow jumped over the moon.

To begin with, Hal Houston, formerly of Houston, and maybe a kinsman of our patriot, Sam, wants to be an Associate Justice of the Seventh Court of Civil Appeals. Houston presently lives in south Amarillo in the Randall county part. Amarillo being near the south line of Potter county, the city has spread over in Randall county, and nearly outvotes the rest of that county combined—Canyon, the county seat, included. He wants the place of Jim Lumpkin, who is not seeking re-election.

Aside from that, there were lots of mad people in Texas last Saturday p. m., and we hope they did not let the sun go down on their wrath. But they evidently did, as they were still barking Sunday and Monday. To begin with, Gov. Shivers and his slick running organization dumped the "Loyal to Truman Democrat" right out in midstream in most places, and promise to repeat Tuesday of this week.

The GOPers convention was even funnier. While the "Loyal" Democrats accused the Republicans and Dixiecrats of loading the conventions of the Democrat Party, the Old Standpat bunch of GOPers who have run things in Texas too long, accuse the Democrats of loading their conventions. Yet these same people could not have been at two different conventions at the same time.

For one thing, the GOP organization at Lubbock had on hand 1500 people whom the bosses of years and years past thought were Democrats. Reason: Nearly all of them "Liked Ike." On the other hand, only about 800 people took the trouble to attend the Democratic precinct conventions in Lubbock.

But one of the most laughable situations occurred in a small town down in Dallas county. The GOP convention was to meet at the home of an old line Republican, who was the precinct chairman. Some 29 people attended, and when a vote was taken, 27 of those present were for Eisenhower. The meeting was being held on the lawn, so the man and his wife then went inside their home in the living room, and held a rump convention.

The only conclusion we can draw is that unless the Democrats trot out someone the people have confidence in, and Ike Eisenhower is nominated by the Republicans, the Demmys won't know they held an election.

Among the Readers of the Herald

(Delayed)

Since last issue, we have added some six new readers to the Herald, one of them was Charles W. Gibson of route five. Then we got one reader, our only one we believe from Florida, Wm. E. Kader. Mr. Kader lives at Sanford in that state. Then S. M. Caswell of route two Seagraves, got on the list, followed by Aubrey Culp, one of our fine teachers, and M. S. Skains, of Roswell, N. M. We believe the Skains were former residents here.

Then Riley W. Carlton and his son, from Pecos, dropped in for a short chat and to get on the mailing list. Riley was formerly with the US Soil Conservation Service here, and holding a similar position at Pecos. He stated that he liked Pecos, as it was a fast growing town, and a lot of cotton under irrigation in that section. But he liked to never gotten a home for his family to move down.

And among the readers, we had quite an experience this week, a good lady dropped in and announced with a profusion of apologies that she thought their paper must be more than a year in arrears. She had asked her husband that morning if he had been paying. He didn't remember. We found that their paper was paid to February, 1954, and missed out on getting the long green.

Other renewals were R. H. Castberry, Meadow; J. D. Miller, city; W. M. Coor, Welch; F. F. Bozeman, Spring Lake; A. A. Slaughter, Rt. 1, Seagraves, for three years; and Sam Gossett, candidate for Sheriff, Meadow.

Hansbergers Are Long Time Readers

Recently we had a letter from Dr. H. F. Hansberger, dentist of Columbus, Ohio, enclosing the wherewithal for another year of the Herald. In the letter Dr. Hansberger stated, "We enjoy the Herald, and think we are among your oldest subscribers. I have to make a visit in your part of Texas some time this year, and I sure will call and say hello to you."

Dr. Hansberger is right about their old timer ship as readers. The late Henry Hansberger was a reader when we took over the paper 43 years ago, and he or his successors have never allowed the paper to expire. And the letter reminded us of a long past incident. Way back in the "teens" the farmers of the area got to raising lots of turkeys, and one fall they were fearfully cheap. In fact, we stated in the Herald that one could have a Thanksgiving turkey for as little as $1.75. In about a week, we received two dollars from Mr. Hansberger stating that the money was for a Thanksgiving treat to the editor and family.

Sure hope that we are about the office or home when the doctor calls, as we would regret to miss his visit.

Visitors Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jenkins, 1207 Center street, were her mother, Mrs. Emma Bates of Littlefield, and his brother-in-law and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Carter and daughter, Sandra, of Hobbs, N. M., and another daughter, Mrs. Jackie Pettigo, of San Francisco, Calif.

EISENHOWER AND SOCIALISM

Where does Eisenhower stand on the issue of Socialism vs. Free Enterprise?
Listen to Ike himself!

Inaugural address, Columbia Univ., October 12, 1948

"A paternalistic government can gradually destroy, by suffocation in the immediate advantage of subsidy, the will of a people to maintain a high degree of individual responsibility. And the abdication of individual responsibility is inevitably followed by further concentration of power in the state."

Speech to Columbia students, September 28, 1949

"I should think that the best example of (perfect security) would be a man serving a lifetime in a federal prison."

American Bar Association address, St. Louis, September 6, 1949

"The American system... can and does... prevent or correct abuses springing from the unregulated practice of a private economy. In specific cases local governments have with almost unanimous approval provided needed public services so that extraordinary power over all citizens of the community might not fall into the hands of a few."

Red Cross speech, Chicago, February 28, 1949.

"As a soldier and a plain citizen of this greatest of all nations, I carry the conviction that when we support the Red Cross we vindicate individual responsibility and combat degradation of the individual to a state ward and dependent. We demonstrate the mighty effectiveness of voluntary effort and we silence those who preach, 'Only government can do this job'... In short, we demand reprobation; we support freedom."

Pennsylvania produced two million tons of bituminous coal in 1950. In 1950 the state's output was 102,500,00 tons.
