

CURTIS IS CO-ORDINATOR FOR LOCAL SCHOOLS

John B. Curtis, principal of the East Elementary School in Levelland, has been named Curriculum Co-ordinator for the Brownfield Public Schools. He and Mrs. Curtis arrived in Brownfield Saturday, September 27 and began full time work Monday, September 29.

Bureau Official To Speak Here

Terry County Farm Bureau members are all urged to be present at the Esquire Restaurant, Tuesday night, October 14th at 7:30 p. m., for dinner and future plans for the organization.

Guest speaker will be Mr. George Lane of Dallas, chairman of the organization committee of the Texas Farm Bureau, who will help outline plans for the campaign.

The annual banquet will be held October 30th at the American Legion Hall.

Every farm and ranch family in Terry County will be invited to become affiliated with the Terry County Farm Bureau during the week of October 14-20, Judge Leonard Lang of Brownfield said today. With 47 workers representing the four percent of this county contacting friends and neighbors during membership enrollment week Leonard Lang is confident that Terry county will exceed its quota which has been set at 800 members.

October 14-20 has been designated as Farm Bureau Membership Enrollment Week throughout Texas, Judge Lang said, and Terry county in cooperation with 179 other county Farm Bureau organizations in the simultaneous statewide membership program.

These community workers have been selected to head the membership work in their respective communities:

Precinct 1—Whitt F. Coor, Raymond Buckner, Earl Cornett, Earl McNeil, Vic Herring, James Thurman, Hubert Beaird, T. I. Foster.

Precinct 2—Odell Valentine, A. L. McCoy, J. T. Fulford, D. C. Flowers, Weldon Mason, Tom Pettigrew, Lloyd Dawson, J. D. Oliver.

parted in an overall curriculum study in the Levelland schools.

The Brownfield School System is entering an overall Curriculum Development Program. It has as its origin approximately 35 teachers and administrators enrolled in a Human Development Course at Texas Tech. In this course teachers study better methods of detecting and solving student problems. The Brownfield school curriculum study when completed will furnish guides for the teachers that take a child from the first grade by a series of carefully planned learning experiences through the 12th grade. It will be a step by step process from one grade to the other, yet "dove-tailed", in that each will slightly overlap to prevent any skips or breaks in the child's experiences. The guides will also eliminate unnecessary re-teaching.

Mr. Curtis states that he is enjoying a high degree of co-operation, interest, and enthusiasm among both teachers and parents, and is looking forward to a successful program.

SCHOOL TAX OFFICE IN COURTHOUSE

The School Tax Office is now located in the Courthouse instead of the IOOF building.

Mr. Simms called our attention to the fact this week that quite a few elderly people had gone to the old location where the steps are quite steep, and then on to the courthouse and had to climb more steps. When you go to the new office on the second floor of the courthouse, go up the stairs at the east end of the building and the tax collector's office is just in front of you.

Local Men Buy Co-Op. Grain Elevator

Our good friend, Jess McWherter, was in last week to get an announcement of a recent transaction in which he and Paul Blackstock and Milton Addison had purchased the former Farmers Co-Op. Elevator. While the new company will be incorporated under the laws of Texas, Jess did not state who was president, vice-president, etc., and we neglected to ask him.

Anyway, the new firm will be known as Farmers Grain Elevator, Inc., and Johnny C. Criswell will be the manager. They not only will buy your grain, but will make necessary tests of it, for moisture, etc.

Mr. McWherter stated that the top market prices for your grain will be paid at all times. Their motto will be, "An Elevator Owned by Farmers."

Temporay Officer Start By-Laws Work

Temporary officers of the Brownfield Citizen's Traffic Commission were named and instructed to draw up a set of by-laws for adoption, when members of the commission met Thursday at 7:30 p. m., at the Esquire Restaurant. Mrs. Story Wade, chairman of the Lubbock commission, was a special guest, and answered questions concerning the aspects of organization.

Morgan Copeland heads the officers' group as temporary chairman, and other temporary officers elected were: Earl Jones, first vice-chairman; Mrs. V. L. Patterson, second vice-chairman; Miss Margaret Goza, secretary-treasurer.

Approximately 25 persons attended the meeting. The Commission will meet again Oct. 16, at 7:30 p. m.

Eisenhower Club Organized Here

Al Muldrow of this city, as many already know, is chairman of the Eisenhower for President organization of this the 28th Senatorial District of 11 counties. He was elected for the place at a recent meeting at Lubbock, and it was agreed to make Brownfield the district headquarters. Offices for the organization have been opened in a building on the south side of the square.

Mr. Muldrow was in to see us Tuesday, and stated that he would be a very busy man for the next month. He had visited Levelland the night before in the interest of the organization there, and was to go to Andrews that night to form an organization, and to Morton, Wednesday night. Muldrow stated that there was much enthusiasm among the Ike for President folks, and there is a lot of them, and not ashamed to say so.

While Lubbock agreed for the district headquarters of the organization to come to Brownfield, home of the chairman, of the $20,000 to be raised for campaigning for Ike, Lubbock agreed to take on half of the amount, $10,000.

Tuesday afternoon, the county organization was perfected here at a meeting at the headquarters. L. L. Bechtol was elected county chairman, and Mrs. E. C. Davis, Co-Chairman. Mrs. Marie Johnson, who is District Secretary, agreed to help out in the secretarial work on the county level.

CUBS TAKE LOBOES 19-6

By Jack Lucas

The Cubs made it twice in a row this week when they caught the Monahans Loboos by surprise after they had a 6-0 lead.

The visitor's only touchdown came in the opening period on a pass from quarterback Arlon Nelms to end Dave Hughes, but the conversion try by Kenneth Reamey was blocked by Cub end Jerry Bailey.

The Cubs got rolling when Jerry Brown, quarterback, gathered in the kickoff and was nearly gone before he was caught. After two first downs, the quarter ended with the ball on the visitor's ten. Two plays later, from the 10, Billy Thomason crossed around left end for a score. Swan smashed over for the extra point.

Joe Sharp intercepted a pass and coved to the 40 but this drive stopped, and minutes later, Loman Jones intercepted another pass and carried it to the 30. With 10 seconds to go in the first half, Quarterback Brown's passing arm came through and hit Stockton on the goal line. Stockton made a beautiful catch, snagging the ball from two defenders and falling over for the score.

After the second half opened, Jerry Bailey recovered a fumble and four plays later Swan went off tackle for the last score. That was the scoring for the night with neither team being able to get another mark in the final period.

The Cubs couldn't get moving at all in the last quarter and Monahans had the ball most of the time, but the Cub defense held.

Friday night, the Cubs have another strong 8-AA contender when they venture to Seminole to test the Indians. The Indians are boasting a 4-0 winning record and the Cubs will be doing their best to mar the Indian's record and boost their own 2-2-0 mark.

Farmers needing cotton pullers should contact Mr. Hamilton at the County Agent's Office in the courthouse.

EXCITEMENT MOUNTING AS FESTIVAL NEARS

Excitement is mounting with the Sixth Annual Harvest Festival set for just two weeks from today. An assortment of prizes totaling approximately $8,000 in value has been pledged by the Brownfield merchants, and interest is increasing in the Queen's contest. Festival Day will be Oct. 23.

Standings in the Queen's race will be released for the first time on Thursday, Oct. 16, according to Newell A. Reed, ticket chairman, who explained that he feels a fairer running count for each contestant will be possible if class sponsors and other persons having stubs for tickets which have been sold are notified in advance of the first tally. He urged all individuals having ticket stubs to turn them in to him immediately.

Chamber Expresses Thanks For Band

The Chamber of Commerce wishes to express its thanks to the many business and individuals who contributed to the fund to send our band to the State Fair of Texas, at Dallas. We feel that it was an honor for our band to be the one selected to go to Dallas and participate in the State Fair.

Almost all businesses and numerous individuals did their part to help the band. Approximately $4650 was given to help pay expenses and help pay for the two chartered buses.

The Chamber of Commerce is taking this opportunity of expressing its thanks and appreciation to all who contributed to us for the school band, which will represent Brownfield at the State Fair in Dallas.

Postal Receipts Show Gain In Local P. O.

Recently we saw a statement in some of the dailies that Brownfield showed a loss from last year in postal receipts. But according to a statement mailed us this week by Postmaster Joe Shelton, it was the other way about. The dailies must have gotten some other sow by the ear.

Postal receipts here for the month of September was $5,827.39, compared to only $4,803.37 in August this year, an increase of $1,023.82. And receipts for the same quarter, ending Sept. 30th, this year, compared with last year, was $18,227.14 and $15,450.34, a gain of 17.9 percent.

But, according to Mr. Shelton, the increase would not have been this much if there had not been an increase in postal rates. The showing is an increase of 11 percent, when in reality, taking the postal rate increase in consideration, it is only a 6.9 percent increase.

Anyway, we are glad we have an increase instead of a decrease.

Church Of Christ Reopened In Rome

Cline R. Paden of Brownfield, evangelist for the American-led Church of Christ in Rome, Italy, reopened that church in Rome for Sunday services under terms of the Italian Treaty of Friendship with the United States. A congregation of 45 Italian prayed and sang hymns Sunday morning representing what Paden described as a "normal turnout."

He had feared that some of the church members might stay away from services, after the experience of the two previous Sundays, when Italian police blocked the church doors and banned services.

The ban lasted nearly three weeks before being lifted Friday after conferences between the United States and Italian governments. No mention of the ban trouble was made during the services conducted by Paden Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wagner recently spent a week at Blanco, Texas, with Mr. Wagner's brother and family.

Members of the Rotary Club sponsoring organization for the annual Festival, have voted this year to allow local clubs and civic groups to put up concession stands on Festival day at Cub Field, providing they abide by all health rules and clean up the area afterwards. Persons interested in having such concessions should see John Hill, Lee Brownfield or C. G. Griffith as soon as possible.

Plans for the biggest and best parade in Festival history are shaping up, but the parade committee urged that any club, merchant or individual interested in entering floats or displays in the parade to contact Elmer Brownlee or Griffith at once. Anyone needing professional float materials may still obtain them, but the committee needs to know just what fittings are necessary to complete orders.

Candidate in the year's Queen contest are Misses Betty Cabiness, Joanne Shelton and Freda Anthony. Joanne and Freda are both senior students at Brownfield High school, and Betty is a sophomore.

Freda, a majorette with the high school band; is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Anthony, 409 East Hill, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shelton are the parents of Joanne, who is head cheerleader of the Cub Pep Squad. Betty's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Byron Cabiness, 711 East Lake.

Plan Now To Enter Festival Parade

Plan now to attend the Harvest Festival parade; let's make it the best we have ever had. Everybody invited to enter.

The parade committee consists of Ike Bailey, information about entering trailers; Johnny Portwood, convertible cars; C. E. Ross, cars; Fred Smith, high school bandmaster, all bands pep squads, etc.; Dr. E. C. Davis, Sheriff's Posses; Robert Bowers and Clarence Griffith, floats; Ross Black, J. L. Newsum, L. L. Bechtol, A. W. Turner and Bill McGowan, general, E. G. Brownlee, chairman of committees, stated.

When you have decided to enter, call 56-R or write E. G. Brownlee, care of Courthouse, or C. G. Griffith, and tell what you are entering. They need to know this in order that you can be placed in the parade. They will also send you a sheet showing what section you are in, thereby making it easier for you to find your place.—Parade Committee.

Most people know that the Truman-Acheson crowd tried to make a mountain out of a molehill over the Nixon disclosures. We have also learned that it was not the idea of the Democratic National party to make these disclosures, but instead, was the New York Post, presently edited by one James Wechsler, who admits that he was for three years a member of the Young Communists League, and presently employs many on his paper who at least bear a pinkish hue. But the youthful Vice-Presidential nominee really came clean, at least two million Americans thought so, and either sent telegrams or letters to that effect. And when two million busy Americans take the time out to swamp the mails or Western Union, you have something, Bud. To the thinking of a vast lot of Americans, if the T-A bunch was just half as morally clean, we would have a much better governed nation. One big mogul among the "Dealers" even went so far as to state that only rich men—millionaires—should seek high governmental offices, as the cost of the campaign was prohibitive of a comparatively poor man making the race. Now, wouldn't that be a pretty come-off for a democracy? Let us all hope and pray that the time may never come in our Republic that it is impossible for a poor man or woman, or one of moderate means, to seek any office in this great country of ours. If that day ever really arrives, the rich and powerful will govern this land of ours, and the poor or middle class will not even have a look in. One of the things that particularly struck those of us in the lower money brackets, was the fact that Nixon had to borrow $500 on his life insurance policy to keep up the payments on his home, as none of the $18,000 could be used for his own private use. Therefore we are not afraid of Dick Nixon. Many of us poor but honest folks have had to work many schemes such as this to keep the mare going. And when we did, we didn't consider ourselves dishonest. In fact, if we had not made every effort possible to meet our financial obligations, we would have on the other hand, considered ourselves dishonest.

The First National Bank of Boston, came out with some information that all those who think only of dollars and cents presently, and nothing about the huge debt that is piling up against us, should read and ponder. We won't go back too far, just 1929, when the federal spending money assessed against the taxpayers, just about equaled the annual income of the people of California. But by 1939, however, with the elect and spend regime of FDR going full tilt, the federal spending had expanded to equal the incomes of all the Pacific coast state, the mountain state, and all of north and South Dakota, and 42 percent of Nebraska. Then came "war prosperity" and the federal expenditures jumped to equal the income of every state west of the Mississippi river, as well as those of the State of Mississippi and half that of Alabama. In other words, the state and local, plus federal taxes equal 75 percent of the incomes of every non-governmental employee of the United States. In a single year the federal government now spends more money than the United States spent from 1789 through 1925, a period of 125 years, and it just keeps getting higher and higher. A fearful price to pay for waste and extravagance, as well as "honest and dishonest graft" in the government. We are running a cut this week in the Herald that will illustrate the huge amount our government is spending at home and abroad, much of the latter creating enemies instead of friends.

Some interesting material came Recently, the Saturday Evening Post ran an interesting article on "The America We Lost." Text for the editorial was taken from an article by an Italian-American, now Professor of Romance Philosophy at Columbia University. This university instructor came to America from his native Italy many years ago, and his remarks should be pondered by all of us who love America and what it once stood for. To quote Dr. Pei, briefly, "When I first came to America 44 years ago, I learned a new meaning of the word, liberty—freedom from government." He was just fresh from a country of octopus bureaucracy, and the slightest thing one wished to do was gone over with a fine tooth comb by some Sherlock Holmes. The Dr. stated that America back 44 years ago was a land that made one want to open his lungs and breath deep from the liberty-laden air, and freedom to seek out his own way of life without molestation. What a change from the land of his birth where life itself was not even secure! We might state right here that these words from this former alien is of far greater import, as they are in a much better position than we natives to make comparisons. But men like Dr. Pei can see that America under present dominance is making rapid transition to the 19th century model of European countries. And these people, like all of us, are asked to believe this is progress. We were given a glorious heritage of freedom by our founding fathers, when we were given the opportunity to be our own masters. But we have followed leaders to the left until we are fast becoming a race of spineless mankind, seeking a security that we only can give to ourselves and our offspring. But perhaps it is not too late to recover some of the ground we have lost by listening to the braying asses, and turn our backs on their philosophies which carried too far, has made a large section of the world a slave camp.

If the common herd is not becoming alarmed by the rapid takeover by the powers that be in Washington, at least the thinking people of Texas are, and this includes the Texas Water Conservation. This coming week, representatives of this association from all over Texas, will meet at Mineral Wells, for a three-day session, beginning Monday. Seeing the federal government jump in and grab our tidelands, has put many people who have made a study of the water question, set up and take notice. Among the other evidence of federal seizure, will be a film, showing how the US government is trying to seize the water rights of 14,000 Californians in the Santa Margarita river basin. And just before you say, "It can't happen here," those 14,000 people out there say that it can happen, or will as soon as the tidelands grab of Texas, California and Louisiana is successfully taken over. This film has an introduction by well known Cecil B. DeMille, and was produced by Charles M. Peters. The film was inspired by a writer on the Los Angeles Times, who took the part of the farmer in the battle between the farmers and the government. And that same old excuse, "paramount rights", as used in the tidelands steal, is being used to grab control of these water rights. The president of the TWCA, Judge Guy C. Jackson, says he "wishes it were possible for every Texan to see that film. And that if anyone doubts in the least that there is a threat to our water rights it would be forever eliminated, after seeing the film. The film will be shown in various Texas cities after the convention, it was stated by Judge Jackson.

Stricklin Speaking

By OLD HE

We note that Editor Troy Morris of the Ropes Plainsman, got his weekly Tom Cat story mixed up last week with a classified ad, in which some farmer wanted to sell 160 acres of irrigated land. Have to wait until next week to see which won out, the cat, or the farmer.

Had an invitation from the Chance Vought Aircraft Co., of Dallas, inviting us to see the very latest in fighter planes made down there, the F7U Cutlass, one of those tailless, backsweeping wing affairs known as jets, that jet through the air at a jillion feet a second—or minute, maybe.

And the writer of the article, Mr. F. O. Detweiler, says one will be on display at the Fair Grounds, with some one on hand to answer questions. He also stated that 50,000 Texans are now employed in the aviation industry, standing second only to California. But Mr. Detweiler didn't send any rail or bus fare.

Had a letter and a check from Miss Gertrude Rasco, over at Memphis, Texas, to her day, saying she was still teaching piano, and that was exactly what she did here in Brownfield several years ago.

And she goes on to state that she enjoys the stuff we write, as well as the news about Brownfield and its folks. She believes that all of us should deeply meditate on what is best for our home counties, our state and nation that we might be able to cast an intelligent vote.

Along this line, we might mention the fact that back in the good old days when a man offered you a dollar to a doughnut, he was giving you a 100 to 1 shot. Now it is even money.

Yep, America is a land of plenty—owe plenty, spend plenty, tax and waste plenty.

Speaking of plenty, a cry goes up from all over the land of insufficient school buildings and equipment. It is stated that with the money the USA has given away, every school building in the USA could be replaced and equipped with the most modern facilities.

We see by the papers that Dagwood and Blondie are to be at Odessa during the Oil Show. If Dagwood will promise to pull one of those "kiss or miss" stunts that he uses when trying to catch his bus, when late, and he always is, we believe we'll mortgage the family cow and go down and see the sight.

While visiting his relatives back in Kentucky recently, Fred Smith and wife took time out one Saturday night to drive down to Nashville, Tenn., to see the Grand Ole Opry put on, in person. To begin with Mrs. Smith is a niece of our wife, and that fact privileges us to say about what we like.

Anyway, we knew in advance they were going to have seats at the old Ryman auditorium, and as usual we listened in.

Well sir, we thought sure we heard Fred give one of his hal' haws! and when Minnie Pearl came on, we thought we heard Ida giggle, but it is hard to distinguish one giggle from thousands of others.

When they returned home, they reported that while one might like just the radio version, to actually see as well as hear it, is well worth the trip and expense to attend this nationally famous show on WSM at Nashville.

Had a good feed of fried chicken and steak out at the Phillip Rogers farm Thursday night. Now you can call it dinner if you like, as it was a main feed, topped off by ice cream, but we are so old fashioned it is still supper around 6 or 7 p. m., to us. Anyway, Faybelle is a swell cook, and all enjoyed the repast.

His mother, Mrs. Will Rogers was to leave Saturday for the first leg of her trip back to Tennessee, Phillip and family carrying her as far as Arlington, where she will visit a daughter, then another daughter at Paris and on home.

But one of the funny things of the evening, was a remark the Jr. Editor made on our return from the Rogers farm. As that was the opening day of the Gore Barbecue Pit, we had strained a point or two and bought some barbecued beef, pork and chicken. So, Jr. remarked that he had eaten more meat that one day than any one day in quite some time. Same here.

We have before us a sheet of instructions from the Postoffice Dept., concerning cards and letters as well as packages for relatives overseas. Christmas cards or letters, regular mail, should be sent by Nov. 15, and air mail not later than Dec. 1, to insure delivery on time.

Matches or lighter fluid cannot be mailed and in some places cigarettes cannot be sent. Best bet is to ask at the postoffice for one of those sheets of paper containing instructions.

Strong stress is placed upon the container for the stuff you send. And to be sure, it is not worth while to go to a lot of expense on presents, and send the stuff in a frail package that will be wrecked with heavy holiday mail before it reaches our coasts, much less overseas.

Metal, wooden, or strong plywood boxes are recommended, well wrapped with heavy wrapping paper, and strong cords for strings. Plan now, not at the last minute, on the package you will send that boy of yours.

Mr. Tighe Woods, the new price control dictator, like to have gotten out of control in his meeting with some 350 housewives at Denton, Texas. And we understand he had about such a reception all over the nation. These good ladies have had a hard time making salaries meet the high cost of living. And instead of Tighe telling them, they told him.

Subject of this quiz show was: Why have controls as long as prices and wages keep advancing? And there were many other questions not immediately answered. It was said that the food controller(?) was real glad to get away from that bunch of ill-pleased housewives.

Over at Raton, N. M., in the mountainous section, too many trucks burned out the brakes and by the time they hit the town, these monsters made the natives hurry for cover. Now they have a trap, marked "For Runaway Trucks, Only," which leads off to another steep hill, where they may get the vehicles stopped. Now,

Four More Get In Under The Wire

Four more of our readers got in under the wire before the hike in price. Others reported elsewhere. They were:

Hugh Hulse, Grand Prairie; Sam Chisholm, Lubbock; Mrs. W. S. Crowder, Memphis, Texas; and Uncle Jimmie O'Connor, that 97-year-old-boy, and ex-Sparta, Tennessee of this city. This was Uncle Jimmie's 30th time to renew.

And to the South Plains Monument Co., Lubbock, goes the "honor" of being the first out of area subscriber to pay the new price, four bucks per year. Thanks a lot to all of you.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors who were so kind and considerate of us during the illness and passing of our husband, father and brother, W. T. Briscoe. Especially we thank those who prepared food for the many lovely floral offerings. May the Father's blessings abide with each of you.

The W. T. Briscoe family.

the newspaper over there is advocating a "sleepy driver trap." They would lead off to soft feather beds that would receive the plunging truck softly. Then there was one for drunk drivers, "free drinks ahead." This would plunge the driver off in a cold pool of water, with plenty coffee and aspirin.

Still another trap for the speed crazy, that would lead him out on a circular track, where he could whiz along until his gas gave out. And for the cut in and out jitterbug drives, a series of dark tunnels, that would finally wind up somewhere down in Carlsbad Caverns.

Well, the time is here for the busy sports headline writers, such as the Bison trampled the Tigers; the Cate trounced the Mice; the Steers maul the ponies; the Coyotes edge out the Perrots, and so on ad infinitum. Yep, the football season is on full tilt.

Pioneer Lady Passes

Funeral services were read Monday afternoon at 2:30, October 6, for Mrs. J. M. Young, 74, a pioneer resident, who passed away at her home in Tokio, Sunday, after a prolonged illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Young came to Terry county in 1926 from Winthrop, Ark. Friends and neighbors of the Youngs say Mrs. Young was a wonderful mother, loved her Lord, and did good unto all. While not a member of the Nazarene church, she was a faithful attendant at all services until her health failed her about two years ago.

Survivors are her husband, three daughters, Mrs. Derah Gauldin, who resides with her parents at Tokio; Mrs. Catherine Hubbard, Seagraves; Mrs. Beulah Hubbard, Tahoka; and four sons, George W., of Kansas City, Mo.; Paul and Robert, both of Brownfield; and Joe of Littlefield; thirteen grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. All children attended the services with the exception of George, who was unable to attend.

Services were conducted at the Nazarene Church with Rev. John R. Ferguson, pastor, officiating. Burial was in the Terry County Memorial Cemetery with Brownfield Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

An all-out tax program leaves the taxpayer all-in.

G. I. QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q — May I attend a foreign school under the new Korean GI Bill?

A — Yes, so long as you meet the eligibility requirements of the new law, and so long as the school is an approved institution of higher learning. VA has the right to deny or discontinue a veteran's foreign training, if it finds that the training is not for the best interest of the veteran or the Government.

Q — A veteran and his wife were both killed in an automobile accident. He had a $10,000 National Service Life Insurance, with his wife as beneficiary. What happens to his insurance?

A — The proceeds of his insurance policy would normally be paid, in one sum, to his estate.

Q — How much can a veteran borrow on his permanent National Service Life Insurance policy? Also, what's the annual interest charged on such loans?

A — A veteran may borrow up to 94 percent of the reserve value of his policy if the policy has been in force for a year or more. The interest rate is four percent per year.

Q — I am a World War II veteran, and I expect to get my degree in Business Administration, which I studied under the GI Bill. After I finish, may I take a course in accounting at a business school? Would such a course be considered a "normal progression" from my Business Administration training? The July, 1950, GI cut-off date applied to me, by the way.

A — You would not be permitted to take the accounting course under the GI Bill. The reason is that completion of your Business Administration course is not a prerequisite to enrollment in the second course.

Q — I'm trying to get a GI loan to buy a house. Can you tell me where to inquire?

A — You should try all the sources where people normally obtain loans—banks, building and loan associations, insurance companies, public and private lending agencies, or individuals in a position to make such loans.

CRESCENT HILL CHURCH OF CHRIST

T. J. Finley, Evangelist

Services were well attended last Sunday. Brother Finley spoke at the morning hour on "Jesus and The Sinful Woman". In the evening, two young men of the congregation spoke on the work in which they had been engaged in Canada. Orville Miller spoke on the church in Moosejaw and Glen Paden, Jr., spoke on the church in Rosetown. These cities are located in the province of Saskatchewan in Canada. All enjoyed these two reports very much. Linda Hudson also of this congregation, went to Canada to help carry out a missionary effort in Saskatchewan, Saskatchewan. The church paid their expenses to Canada.

The ladies class reported thirty-eight in attendance last time and some new members were added to the class roll. They are now studying the persecutions of early preachers, such as Peter and John. This all serve to remind them of the recent infringement upon our rights to preach the Gospel in Italy.

The most recent news from Italy is the reopening of the churches which had been closed by the Italian government. This is until further word can be received from Italy as to the disposition which their government makes of the request by the church for permanent recognition. It is hoped that this will follow soon.

Heavy-Duty Roads Like Romans' Via

THE POUNDING destruction of heavy traffic on modern highways has caused the revival of some of the basic engineering principles used 2,000 years ago in construction of the famous roads of ancient Rome.

Most renowned road in the Roman system, which at its peak totaled some 50,000 miles, was the 42-mile Via Appia (Appian Way), leading from Rome southeastward to Brundisium (modern Brindisi) and its port of Hydruntum (Otranto), in the heel of the Italian boot.

A recent survey by American engineers showed that the Appian Way is in better condition than many modern highways and streets. In other parts of the ancient Roman empire traces of once fine roads can be found—from Britain's Scottish border to Egypt and Syria.

The Roman roads owed much of their longevity and quality to careful, painstaking construction and to the engineering principle of building extremely deep, heavy foundations. Some of the roads are more than 40 inches from their base of large, hand-laid and fitted stones to the top of the pavement.

Breakup of thin pavements under heavy traffic led engineers back to the Roman theories. But now great machines do everything from basic excavation to final finishing. In Roman times the work was done by hand, with slave and military labor. Foundation and surface paving blocks were laboriously fitted together.

It would probably cost more than $500,000 a mile to reproduce the hand-built Roman road today.

The excellent basic construction principles of the Roman roads are returning to use, but other features would rule the ancient highways out for modern traffic. Because they were used largely by foot soldiers and comparatively slow moving wagons and chariots, some grades were extremely steep—much too steep for easy negotiation by modern wheeled vehicles.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Mrs. Fannie Smith, Stanford, Ky.: I remember the good old times when my grandma baked sweet potatoes and corn bread in the old Dutch oven in front of the fireplace. She would cover the top of the lid with fire coals.

From C. S. Wyatt, Metamora, Ind.: I remember when I had to grit, or grate, ears of corn on a piece of tin, punched full of holes and nailed on a board, to make meal for bread.

From Mable Cox, Larkspur, Calif.: I remember when we had sarsaparilla and no root beer. First bicycle I ever saw had large and small wheel and first ones with same-sized wheels were called "safeties." The first washing machine was the vacuum tin funnel full of holes and on a stick for plunging up and down through the clothes. I made one by nailing a perforated tin can on a broom handle. Also made lye soap and hominy.

From W. A. Morton, Checotah, Okla.: The back of our dirt-floor log hut was covered with deer hides. You could buy dry salt meat for two cents a pound.

From Mrs. S. C. Shore, Richmond, Ind.: I remember my dad deciding that coffee above 25 cents a pound was too high and bringing home a 100-lb. sack of green coffee. I remember how good the house smelled when mama roasted it in bread pans in the old wood stove.

From Bertha Andrews Phillips, Randolph, Wis.: I remember the "Old Oaken Bucket" and its windlass well.

Poor Vision Slows Up The Student

AUSTIN — Poor eyesight can make a child "slow" in school. Uncorrected visual defects can cause a normally bright youngster to dislike school, fall behind in his classes and become self-conscious about playing sports and games, says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

A child will rarely complain about poor vision. It may be blurred, he may see double, yet in three cases out of four, he will not tell anyone because he does not know how well he should see. That is why it is so important for parents and teachers to know the symptoms of eye trouble. An intelligent child may be victimized by poor vision both at school and with his playmates.

Too often a youngsters' eyes are neglected because no one knows that they will need care, Dr. Cox points out. For this reason, visual tests should be continued throughout the child's school career.

Some of the symptoms which may mean that a youngster has eye trouble are:

1. Rubs eye often to brush away blur.
2. Becomes irritable when doing close work.
3. Blinks more than usual, stumbles or trips over small objects.
4. Is over-sensitive to light; can't play games requiring distance vision.
5. Red-rimmed, encrusted or swollen eye lids.

When any of these symptoms are present, those responsible for the child's condition should have his eyes examined at once. Early correction will save many days of unpleasantness and possibly blindness.

Oldest Texas School Had To Close Up

SAN FELIPE, (AP)—San Felipe, where the first English school in Texas was believed to have opened some 120 years ago, doesn't have a school this year.

New laws closed its doors. The school simply did not have a high enough daily average attendance to keep operating under the Gilmer-Aikin public school laws.

So the San Felipe children are going this year to Sealey to school. Time was when San Felipe was one of the most important towns in Texas — the Texas of Indians and struggling colonists. Stephen F. Austin laid out San Felipe on the Brazos River, down in what is now Southeast Texas, as the capital of his colony in the 1820's.

Trends In Food Conservation

College Station — This is the day of trends, and the family food supply is keeping step with the general tendency to change and improve. Self-sufficiency, in providing meats, fruits and vegetables for the family table, has always been the tendency for farm and ranch families in Texas. The methods of preserving these foods have definitely changed and improved during the past decade.

Louise Mason, foods and nutrition specialist for the Agricultural Extension Service of Texas A. & M. College, says canning still retains a major portion of the food preservation budget, but freezing is catching up.

Home freezers came into use immediately after the last war, and consistently have increased in numbers since. The specialist says Extension Service reports show more families are helped each year in improving their food conservation by freezing. At the mid-century mark there were approximately 5,000 more home freezer owners than in 1949. This figure had climbed to nearly 33,000 by 1951 with many more thousands using community frozen food lockers. The 1951 report showed two and a half million quarts of fruits, vegetables and meat canned, plus nearly 400,000 quarts of pickles and relishes. The same report estimates that in addition more than 24 million pounds of vegetables, fruits, meat and poultry were frozen.

Miss Mason says, "Another measure of the increase is shown by the demand for the bulletin, FRO-

Schools Should Have Health Program

AUSTIN — Every school should have a definite school health program. Situations such as, the kind of drinking water, arrangements for the school lunch, lighting, seating, ventilation and cleanliness of the schoolroom, and the personal practices of the teachers and children are the basis of the school health program, said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Every school has tremendous opportunities to promote the health of its pupils and of its community. From early childhood to early manhood and womanhood, most children are enrolled in schools and are under the supervision of school staffs for a substantial part of the day for approximately half the days of the year. The conditions under which they live in school, the help which they are given in solving their health problems, the ideals of individual and community health which they are taught and the information and understanding that they acquire of themselves are factors which operate to develop attitudes and behavior conducive to healthy, happy and successful living.

Schools alone, however, cannot enable children to attain all the desirable goals of individual and community health. Considering the magnitude and multitude of diverse and continuing efforts that must be made to satisfy the health needs of children, many people and groups, in addition to schools and health departments, should be interested in promoting health.

Parents have a prime responsibility. Physicians, dentists, nurses, social and welfare workers, organizations, such as medical, dental, nursing societies, and voluntary health agencies should lend their support to local and state health departments in their effort to secure better health not only for school children but the community as a whole.

For maximum egg production, a hen needs from 12 to 14 hours of light each day. The use of artificial lights in the laying house is a practice that will pay dividends during the next few months.

What Our Exchanges Are Saying - Doing

The Crosbyton Review wanted to know if its readers noticed the new "masthead" of their paper? We did. In fact, as we started to tear the wrap off the half hidden masthead, we just about decided that we were mailing ourself one of our own papers. But we found some difference, though similar type.

And over at Sembo, the City Council is having it "round and round with the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., over the hike in rates. The phone people say they must have enough to pay expenses and lay by a bit of kale. From what we gathered the rate finally agreed on was $8.00 per month on business phones. The company wanted $9.00. Old rate, $6.50.

The Anton News last week let out a terrific blast at the GOP and Nixon in particular, the target being the $18,000 given him for traveling and other expenses by well wishers in California. But what Editor Afton Richards studiously forgot, was to mention the much larger slush fund of Sweet Adlai. But perhaps the News readers saw it in some other paper.

While down in old Jones county, the Hamlin Herald tells us that the first emergency cattle feed had arrived, and found to be satisfactory. Mostly hay, we took it.

And in the vast ramblings of Col. Eee Eye Hill, of the Tahoka News, (that man never stays home) the latest exploration being Colorado, he tells us that he saw quite a sizeable river, which he supposed emptied into the Rio Grande. But finally ran to some vast sand beds at the foot hills, where the river sank — and he though perhaps surfaced again in the form of springs, further south.

For many years, we have seen the reports of the water engineers that the deep, sheet water we have underground here on the South Plains, fell on the surface here on the Plains and sank up. Now these birds have a fine education, and no doubt are good theorizers. But we don't believe enough rain falls years like the last three to sink two feet, much less 150 feet.

Besides there is a bunch of caliche a few inches to a few feet under the ground that no water has penetrated since Noah sailed his ark. We have seen graves dug in the old cemetery after long wet spells, and what we call wet years, but that caliche was as dry as a bleaching bone on the desert.

Now our idea would not be considered in the Raspberry College at Podunk, but we have always had one and still do, that the melted snow and ice that forms the rivers up in the east Rockies, such as Mr. Hill saw, sink into the sand at the foot hills, and finally

Chaplain Turner Has The Answer

FORT HOOD, (AP)—They tell grippers in the Army: "See the chaplain and get your card punched." That's wry-type humor, son.

But Maj. A. J. Turner, Fort Hood Chaplain, gave the old saw new teeth and not only mollified disgruntled soldiers sometimes but also gets them to read the Bible.

Back in 1952, Maj. Turner says, "I got to thinking about the complaints of servicemen and the joking comeback their buddies would make of 'tell it to the chaplain!'"

"K. P. Duty," "Overworked," "Restricted" and "Outranked," he had these printed on pocket sized cards with matching Biblical references. Since then he has distributed more than 100,000 cards.

A soldier who's low on mail can check his card, turn to Proverbs 25:25, and read: "As cold waters to a thirsty soul so is good news from a far country."

The answer to "Overworked" is in John 9:4: "I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is the day: the night cometh when no man can work."

And in case reading the scripture isn't enough, Maj. Turner has this invitation printed in the center of the cards:

"This is to certify that you are entitled to consult with me for any, or all, of the complaints contained on this card."

wind up way underground down here on the South Plains. Not enough surface water reaches down 100 to 150 feet out here, to give a gnat a drink, if really thirsty.

Speaking of water, reminds us that over at Plains, they are having quite a stew over the drinking water, according to the Yoakum County Review of that city. After the city put in a water system, it seems that a lot of the householders used their old abandoned wells for sewer disposal, and the water of the city system is badly contaminated.

It is said there is a 30,000 bacteria count to 20 drops of water, when there should be only 4 to 20 drops of water. Survey was made by a water engineer, and analysis made for purity. Well, to our notion, that would be about the only way to get water from the surface down through a thick layer of caliche and the granite-like caprock to the sheet water about 150 feet below the surface.

We've always heard that the prairie dog went to water with one or two holes in a colony. But if you have noticed, they always make a bank of dirt around the top of the hole to keep out surface water.

Behind The Scenes

By REYNOLDS KNIGHT

NEW YORK — By 1960 there will be 15,500,000 person 65 years of age or over in the United States, compared with 11,000,000 in 1950 and only 3,000,000 at the turn of the century. How will this rising tide of oldsters affect the economy?

According to John Forrest, financial editor of the "New York Times," and Evelyn Colby, a close student of retirement plans, there will be mass slow-down by this group from an active business life to an idle one of coupon clipping or cashing Social Security checks. Not, at least, if Forrest and Colby have their way, for they outline scores of careers in their new book "Ways and Means to a Successful Retirement" that will help the aged to keep tuned up, contented and productive. The book is just off the presses of B. C. Forbes and Sons Publishing Company.

Besides surveying the economics of the problem, Forrest dwells at considerable length on psychological factors. Since only 13 out of 100 persons will have more than $5,000 in liquid assets at retirement, and maximum Social Security payments now amount to only $80, many will need to keep working. Moreover, the inner drives that carried these people through a lifetime can't accept the idea of sudden idleness. Suggestions for less strenuous and more interesting careers form much of the text. The field of opportunities and the financial budgeting necessary to make the twilight years harmonious are exhaustively treated. It's a book that many who are beginning to consider retirement will find stimulating as well as profitable reading.

Betty Jean Holmes Weds Dave Sanford In Double Ring Ceremony At Church

In a double ring ceremony read Sunday at 4 p. m., in the First Methodist Church, Miss Betty Jean Holmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Holmes, became the bride of 2nd Lt. Jessie Dave Sanford, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Sanford of Beaumont.

Rev. R. N. Huckabee performed the ceremony before an altar banked with bronze chrysanthemums and greenery and lighted by cathedral tapers.

Mrs. Roy Herod, organist, accompanied Pat Ramsour and he sang "The Pledge," "Smilin' Through" and "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi."

The bride wore a gown of ivory tulle with a wide band of Atencion lace. Lace from the bodice extended into a princess panel extending the full length of the dress and spread into bands across the front, joining the long train. The bodice featured long sleeves and a sculptured waistline.

Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a tiara-type cap of embroidered iridescent beads and seed pearls. The bride carried a bouquet of white spider chrysanthemums showered with white velvet tubing and ribbon.

Maid of honor was Miss Judy Griffin of Brownfield, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Bill Gorby, Mrs. Robert Lee Craig, and Misses Eleanor Miller, Norma Jo Boyd, Carolyn Harriss and Joy Holman.

Dresses worn by the bridal attendants, were fashioned identically in shades of shrimp turquoise and magnolia. Designed with strapless bodices topped by small satin boleros with roll collars and three-quarter sleeves, the frocks had full-skirts of net over taffeta. Head dresses were of matching velvet bands with a flower at one side. They carried bouquets of bronze spider chrysanthemums.

Candlelighters were Misses Mary Ann Holmes, sister of the bride, and Dee Anna Tiernan, wearing similar dresses of deep turquoise. They each carried an ivory candle with a bronze chrysanthemum.

Serving as best man was 2nd Lt. Dave Hudack, and ushers were A. C. William Caspek, 2nd Lt. Ronnie Spencer, 2nd Lt. Robert Cady, Capt. Leo A. Fitzgerald, Robert Lee Craig, and 2nd Lt. Dwight Arthur. All are stationed at Sandia Air Force Base, Albuquerque, N. M., with the exception of Mr. Craig.

At a reception held in the home of the bride's parents, 702 East Tate, immediately after the ceremony, the couple was assisted in receiving by their parents, members of the bridal party, Mrs. Bill Boyd, sister of the bridegroom, and Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Mound, aunt and uncle of the bridegroom.

Piano selections were played throughout the reception hour by Mr. and Mrs. Newell Reed. Mrs. Looe Miller greeted guests at the door, and Mrs. Mound presided at the bride's book.

Attendants bouquets decorated the mantel in the living room, and two large baskets of bronze spider chrysanthemums were placed by the fireplace and piano. The bride's table was laid with a floor length cloth of magnolia satin and featured crystal appointments. The bride's bouquet was placed on one corner of the table, and ivory tapers burned in triple candleholders. The double wedding ring cake was decorated in ivory confection.

Mesdames J. D. Miller, J. O. Gillham, J. B. Knight, R. L. Harriss, Jerrell Price and Miss Scharlyn Daniell assisted in the dining room. Presiding over the display of gifts were Mesdames Al Muldrow, H. B. Thompson, and Mon Telford.

For a wedding trip to San Antonio, the bride chose a navy suit with accessories of light blue and navy.

The bride is a graduate of Brownfield High School, attended Stephens College in Missouri and was graduated from Southern Methodist University in 1952. She was a member of Delta Chi Delta sorority, Delta Psi Kappa, and the Modern Dance Club.

The bridegroom attended Beaumont High School and Lamar College and was a member of Sigma Chi fraternity. He is now stationed at Sandia Air Force Base.

EDITORS IN DALLAS

Last week we noted in the dailies that only four south plains papers were represented at the Panhandle South Plains Fair Association at Lubbock, last Saturday.

Knowing the weakness of most newspaper men for a free feed, we wondered why no more than some four papers were represented. Sunday's Dallas News told us. There were 2,000 newspapermen, radio and television folks at the Dallas Fair banquet.

A. J. and Mrs. Lloyd, old time Terryites, are up from Kerrville, during the harvesting of the crop on their place in the Gomez section. Mr. Kempson is working their land. A. J. stated that the hill country is very pretty, presently, as they recently had some good rains.

Finance Drive For Girlstown, U. S. A. Is Headed Locally By George Wade

George Wade has been named local chairman of a finance drive being conducted for Girlstown USA, located between Sundown and Whiteface. Working as committee members with Wade are J. O. Gillham, Johnny Kendrick and Homer Nelson.

At a meeting of members of civic clubs from Midland, Brownfield, Levelland and Lubbock, held recently at Girlstown, the group voted to begin construction of a $150,000 dining-kitchen unit as soon as the laundry now being constructed is completed.

Wade said, "We plan to try to raise that money and the $15,000 for the laundry by the end of the year." In describing the facilities and activities of the nation's only Girlstown, Wade stressed the extreme need for funds to enlarge the town. At present, 57 girls make their home there, but 700 applications from 47 states are on file, and the Tenth Anniversary Goal is 500 girls by March 13, 1959.

As the first and only Girlstown in America, it is operated with the purpose of exerting increasing force in the prevention of juvenile delinquency, Wade went on to explain that although the physical dimensions of Girlstown cover 1,425 fertile acres near Whiteface, its character molding dimensions are limited only by the support its patrons give to assure its growth and expansion.

Incorporated under a state charter and with federal approval, Girlstown is financed and developed through a simple partnership plan, rather than by a board of directors or stockholders. Partnerships are activated by giving to Girlstown, and are recognized as income tax deductions.

Girlstown is the fulfillment of a dream of its founder and director, Miss Amelia Anthony, who visualized a home for homeless girls, where the basic principles of life might be learned in a kindly environment and where Christian fundamentals might be instilled in young lives through example and teaching. Miss Anthony expressed the present desperate need for funds, and urged anyone wishing to see just what Girlstown is to drive out anytime it is located about 37 miles from Brownfield. In illustrating the tremendous responsibility resting on the officials of the Girlstown project, Miss Anthony explained that when the town opened on March 13, 1949, they had six girls to take care of. Now 57 girls reside at the town, ranging in age from eight weeks to 18 years.

A float representing Girlstown will be entered in this year's Harvest Festival parade. Financial statement for the home will be run next week.

A SHARE OF GOSSIP

By Le Page Nelson

AFTER 16 years Emily Stark was going to leave her husband. She sat alone in her bedroom waiting for him to come home. Tonight she would tell him. To-night everything would be settled, and tomorrow she would go off with Chester Moore. Itly she thought of Chester. He was pleasant and tall and genial. And rich. Otherwise there was nothing particularly impressive about him. He lacked the fire and drive of John, her husband.

Vindictively she thought how sick to death she was of men of John's type. Of John. He had been too occupied with his work, with building up his business.

Suddenly her mind leaped to Haidee Pearson. Curious why she should think of Haidee. Then a voice went deep in her throat and told her that Haidee was the cause, the real cause, of her and John separating. If she hadn't seen them together that night at the Flamingo Club, if she had heard no whispered gossip, she and John would have kept on drifting—drifting until he made the first move that would break things off. That was why she was going to tell him tonight.

She couldn't stand having him be the first to breach the subject. The telephone on her bedside table shrilly interrupted her thoughts. "This is the city hospital, Mrs. Stark. Your son, Robert, has been in an accident. You'd better get down here as quickly as you can."

Emily's heart stopped beating, then began again, pounding wildly, terror racing through her blood. "Is he—is he—?" she couldn't finish the sentence.

The voice came back cool and reassuring. "There's no need for immediate worry, Mrs. Stark. He's asking for you and his father."

"Oh!" She dropped the phone, whirled, stopped. John was standing in the doorway. She stared at him wildly.

"What is it? What's happened?" He took hold of her shoulders and shook her. "Has something happened to Robert?"

"Yes. He's had an accident. He's at the City Hospital."

Without a word he turned and went out. She caught up a wrap and followed him downstairs.

"The car's out front," he told her. He had his hat and coat on, was holding the door. John got behind the wheel. The machine leaped down the drive. He drove fast, but not recklessly. His face was a cold, inscrutable profile. Emily wanted to talk, wanted to say something. "John, is it our fault? We haven't been very good parents. Oh, John, he mustn't die!"

"He won't die," said John. "We won't let him die." She felt closer to him then than she had in years. "A nurse admitted them to the hospital room. Robert was conscious, waiting. His handsome boyish face lighted at sight of them.

"Dad! Mother! Gee, I thought you'd never come."

Tears came into the boy's eyes. "I—I'm all right. At first I was glad it happened. I thought, well, if I died, then things wouldn't matter any more." He looked from one to the other of them. "But now—it's different. You're here—together. I'm all right now."

Emily tried hard to swallow the lump that came into her throat and couldn't. So she put her head down on the pillow beside her son's and cried. After a while she stood up. John was waiting for her at the door.

A doctor entered the room. "Is he—will everything be all right, doctor?"

The doctor went over to the bed and looked at Robert and then came back to the two by the door. "He'll be all right—now. For awhile we were worried. He didn't seem to want to recover."

Outside, John and Emily walked slowly down the corridor. Neither spoke, nor looked at the other. At the end of the corridor was a small conservatory. It was empty and they entered.

"Emily, I guess we haven't been good parents. I guess things have been happening that we never dreamed about."

"Yes," Emily said. "Yes, John. I—I feel so ashamed and guilty."

He took her hand and held it awkwardly. "There! Now there's no need to blame yourself. It was as much me—I guess I'm to blame all around."

"John! You're no more to blame than I. Even if you and Haidee Pearson—" She broke off, biting her lip, regretting the impulse that had made her mention Haidee's name.

John's eyebrows went up. For a moment the lines about his mouth hardened. Then he smiled. "A man has his pride too, you know. Haidee was the best I could do on such short notice."

Emily looked up quickly. "You—mean—?"

He nodded. "I couldn't see you getting all the gossip. I figured I deserved a little."

LATIN-AMERICAN ARRESTED IN NARCOTICS CASE

A Latin-American, Rafael Casca Garcia, was arrested here Thursday by Texas Range W. E. Renfrow, and is being held for the Deputy U. S. Marshal of Corpus Christi, on a warrant charging violation of federal narcotics act, involving a quantity of marijuana. Garcia, it was reported, is free on bond pending action in a state felony case in Corpus Christi. Renfrow searched Garcia's car, but was unable to find any contraband.

Features Scheduled At Gaines Co. Fair

SEMINOLE — A pioneer reunion, parade, exhibits, carnival and homecoming football game are scheduled for Oct. 10 and 11 here during the Gaines County Fair.

A free barbecue is planned for the old timers at noon, Oct. 11 during the annual meeting of the Gaines County Pioneers Association.

Johnny Sartin of Seagraves is president of the group. Other officers are: Scott Doss, first vice-president; R. W. Pittman, second vice-president; and Mrs. Reeves Cothes, secretary, all from Seminole.

Rodeo performances, sponsored by the Seminole Sheriff's posse, are scheduled for 3:30 p. m., Oct. 10, and 3 and 8 p. m., Oct. 11. A. C. Ward, local rancher, is producing the rodeo and furnishing the stock.

A parade at 1:30 p. m., Oct 10 will open the celebration.

The high school homecoming queen, Miss Joan Webb, will be crowned at 10:30 a. m., Friday, and will be presented at halftime during the night football game between Seminole and Brownfield. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Webb.

L. H. McElroy, county agent, is general superintendent of the fair.

A caravan of fair boosters will visit Denver City, Lovington, Tatum, Plains, Morton, Levelland, Brownfield, Tahoka, O'Donnell, and Lamesa Monday; and Andrews, Midland, Odessa, Monahans, Kermit, Jal, Eunice and Hobbs, N. M., Tuesday.

Ruidoso To Put On Annual Aspencade

Ruidoso, over in the mountains of New Mexico, which has for the past decade or so, been a favorite weekend or longer resort for the hot tired and bothered of this area, has come up with a new one. It will be called the Annual Aspencade, in which riders, hay wagons, Sheriff's Posse and what have you will ride around and up in the mountains.

It will include the Apache Indian Reservation, and other interesting places in the vicinity. Of late years, Ruidoso has, as has many other New Mexico places, projected into winter as well as summer resorts. Skiing is one of the latest phases of the winter programs.

We understand the Sheriff's Posse from Brownfield will attend, leaving here the 11th. Getting too cold for us here, much less up in the mountains. So, the other fellow can go if he wishes.

Mid-morning let-down is largely psychological and not attributable to a breakfast high in starches and sugar.

Scout Rally To Be Held October 11

Dr. C. C. Schmidt, chairman of the Council's Camping and Activities Committee announced that a rally for all Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorer Scouts and their leaders would be held in Lubbock on Saturday, October 11th.

All Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorer Scouts and their leaders will gather at the Arnett-Benson Theater on College Avenue at 1:00 P. M., Saturday afternoon, October 11. Following the showing of the motion picture film "Room for One More", information will be given to all of the Council Units on the distribution of the "Liberty Bell Get Out the Vote Reminders". All South Plains Scouts will cooperate with the other Scouts in the Nation in the distribution of the Liberty Bell Get Out the Vote Doorknob Hangers which will be placed on every home in America on Saturday, November 1. Scouting, of course, is non-political but it does give the boys an opportunity to remind other people of one of the duties of the citizen — that being to vote.

The afternoon program will terminate about four in the afternoon and the various Scouting groups will have the opportunity to make industrial tours and visits within the City of Lubbock. Each of the Packs and Troops will make their own arrangements for the Saturday evening meal—many planning to bring sack lunches and hold picnics in the parks of the City.

The boys and their leaders will gather at 7:00 P. M., at the gym on Texas Tech Campus and will go in a body to the Texas Tech Texas Western Football Game.

The rally program will be followed up by the big Council Round-Up of all Scouts and Explorers, to be held at Camp Post and Camp Haynes on Friday night, November 22th. All Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorer Scouts and their leaders are requested to make reservations immediately at the Council's Office, 2109 Avenue X in Lubbock, where they may obtain the tickets to the afternoon and evening programs.

We can be thankful that for the most part American youth are depending goal lines, rather than border lines.

JONES BOYS GET TOGETHER IN MCKENZIE PARK

Enjoying a picnic in McKenzie State Park at Lubbock Saturday were the Jones families of five brothers and one sister. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Buster Jones and J. O. Jones of Hollis, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. R. Bell, of Tulsa, L. J. Jones, Sr., of Morton, L. J. Jones, Jr., and family, Earl T. Jones and family, Woodrow Jones and family, Carol Jones and family and Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Jones, all of Brownfield.

Oil Progress Week In Levelland

Our efforts to get the local business men, even those engaged in the oil business, interested in a celebration of Oil Progress Week, was nil, or almost so. That will, of course, be next week. This, despite the fact that oil boosted the taxable valuations of Terry county more than five million dollars last year, or at least had a large share of the boost.

Anyway, there will be an area celebration at Levelland next Monday with floats and parade, bands and what have you, and they are inviting people from Brownfield and area to join them in the celebration. If you wish to enter a float, get in touch with Bob J. Roberson, Dentist, who is chairman of the float committee.

The Old He and family were glad to have the Snyder bunch, Herman, Sallie and little Sara Beth Trigg up over the weekend. Herman was sorter under the weather, but we enjoyed his visit. Even the little dog, Rover, seems to enjoy coming up for a visit with Pop and Mammy.

Fall Egg Production Increased With Lights

College Station — Egg prices have steadily climbed since the summer slump in egg production started two weeks ago. It is a situation that happens just about every year, says W. J. Moore, poultry husbandman for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, but good flock management can help overcome some of the trouble.

A practice that will pay dividends during the fall and winter is the use of lights in the laying house. For maximum production, a hen needs 12 to 14 hours of light each day, says Moore.

He recommends that lights be used from about the middle of September until spring. The light he adds must fall on the birds, feeders and waterers for best results. It makes no difference whether morning or evening lights are used; however, the more common practice is to use morning lights because of convenience.

In using morning lights, the recommended procedure is to turn the lights on about 30 minutes before daylight in the fall of the year as the days begin to get short, and to turn them on a little earlier each morning as the days get shorter.

When evening lights are used, the lights are turned on in the late afternoon before dark and are allowed to burn until the birds receive their 12 to 14 hours of light per day. Moore cautions poultrymen to dim the evening lights a few minutes before turning them off so the hens will have time to get on the roosts. Large light bulbs are not necessary. Moore recommends the use of two 25 to 40 watt bulbs for each 400 feet of floor space.

POWER STEERING* on the Roadmaster and Super

You'll discover this about a Buick: The more you drive it, the more you like it; the longer your trip, the louder your praise. That's what people tell us. And we'll tell you why. You can drive a Buick three, four, five hundred miles in a single day, and feel fresh enough to keep right on going. You can romp up high hills, cruise straightaways, ease through traffic-tangled towns, clock off hour after hour of relaxed and pleasurable driving—and be no more tired than a neighborhood jaunt would make you. How come this comfort-rich ground-covering ability in a Buick?

There's the ease of deep, soft seats for one thing—and plenty of move-about room for arms, legs, shoulders.

There's Dynaflo Drive* taking all the chore out of driving, and giving your whole ride a satiny smoothness without trace of jerkiness or driving tension.

There's a hoofful of thrilling, tireless power from a high-compression, valve-in-head Fireball 8 Engine that whips out miles like a tarpon reels off line.

There's the soft, steady, solid, swerve-free going of a coil-spring-cushioned ride that's well worth the million-plus dollars it cost to engineer.

There's all this and more—much more—that makes your heart grow fonder of this trim and thrifty traveler.

But words can't do justice to a Buick in motion. Only you can.

When will you come sample this experience yourself?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series. †Optional at extra cost.

Sign-Up For 1953 ACP Progressing

In the two weeks since PMA community committeemen began making farm-by-farm visits in connection with 1953 Agricultural Conservation Program 325-farm have been visited on which the community committeemen have made reports to the county office. One community committeeman, Mr. Darrel Lewis, has completed his community and several others have indicated that they will complete their work in the next few days. The chairman, Mr. Wiley D. Jones, stated that the County Committee thinks that all the community committeemen should complete their work during the month of October.

In each of Terry County's nine agricultural communities, the elected PMA community committeemen are visiting each farm, checking the major conservation needs and determining how the program can best be used to meet these needs.

The chairman explains that this is one of the steps being taken to protect and improve the country's soil and water resources as a means of keeping pace with the Nation's increasing population. The assistance available for 1953 Agricultural Conservation Program operations will be directed to the most needed conservation on each farm cooperating in the program.

According to the chairman, by concentrating on the most needed conservation on each farm it is expected to speed up conservation work in Terry county and obtain more conservation for each dollar of program available.

Because of the drought, perennial pastures have taken a terrific beating and livestock should not be permitted to graze them until the plants have had a chance to come back.

COACH BREAKS LEG IN CUB PRACTICE

Coach L. G. Wilson, 505 East Stewart, was temporarily put out of "coaching commission" this week when he received a broken leg Tuesday about 4 p. m., during a Cub practice session.

He had his arm drawn back to pass when one of the players tackled him, and as he fell he twisted his ankle, breaking fibia or small bone in his right leg. The ankle had been sprained when Wilson played end for the Abilene Christian College team.

Although he is confined to bed at his home, he plans to be up and around on crutches this week, and the coach has already said he is going to Seminole to see the game between the Cubs and Indians, unless the doctor forbids him to. Wilson expects to be back at his coaching duties next week, although most of his coaching directives will have to be from the sidelines for awhile.

WELLMAN FUTURE HOMEMAKERS

The Wellman Future Homemakers met for a regular meeting in the homemaking lab, Friday Oct. 3.

Girls and countries represented were Mary Alice Moore, Italy; Laura Sue Burnett, Japan; Glenda Oliver, Mexico; Peggy Dean, Germany; Beverly Rogers, Hawaii; Rudene Rich, Canada; Carlotta Bullock, England. Pictures were made during the program by Mary Lou Bass, chapter photographer.

After the program a business meeting was held.
